estimate expected credit losses. Management believes that historical loss information generally provides a basis for its assessment of expected credit losses. Trade accounts receivable are written off after exhaustive collection efforts occur and the receivable is deemed uncollectible. Adjustments to the allowance for credit losses are recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.In the ordinary course of business, customers periodically negotiate extended payment terms on trade accounts receivable. Customary terms require payment within 30 to 45 days, with any terms beyond 45 days being considered extended payment terms. We participate in our customersâ€™ supply chain financing arrangements for certain of our accounts receivables in order to extend terms for the customer without negatively impacting our cash flow. These arrangements in all cases do not contain recourse provisions which would obligate us in the event of our customersâ€™ failure to pay. Receivables are considered sold when they are transferred beyond the reach of Kimball Electronics and its creditors, the purchaser has the right to pledge or exchange the receivables, and we have surrendered control over the transferred receivables. In the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023, we sold, without recourse, $169.0 million and $198.9 million of accounts receivable, respectively. For the three months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023, factoring fees were $0.5 million and $0.8 million, and $1.1 million and $1.7 million during the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Factoring fees are recorded in Non-operating income (expense), net on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for the three and six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024. Prior to fiscal year 2025, factoring fees were recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses.During the three months ended December 31, 2023, changes to the expected timing of payments from and risk of default for a customer resulted in the recording of an allowance for credit losses of $2.0 million in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Although the customer is not in bankruptcy and we will continue to pursue full recovery, an allowance was deemed necessary in consideration of the expected timing of payments and risk of default. The amount expected to be collected after twelve months is included in Other Assets, net on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet. At DecemberÂ 31, 2024, the noncurrent receivable associated with this customer in Other Assets, net of allowance for expected credit losses, totaled $2.7 million. The current portion of receivables from this customer is $2.6 million at DecemberÂ 31, 2024.Non-operating Income (Expense), net: Non-operating income (expense), net includes the impact of such items as foreign currency rate movements and related derivative gain or loss, fair value adjustments on supplemental employee retirement plan (â€œSERPâ€) investments, government subsidies, factoring fees, bank charges, and other miscellaneous non-operating income and expense items that are not directly related to operations. Prior to fiscal year 2025, factoring fees were recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Unusual or infrequently occurring items are separately recognized in the quarter in which they occur. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities, recorded in Other Assets, net and Other long-term liabilities, respectively, in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, are recognized for the estimated future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. These assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. We evaluate the recoverability of deferred tax assets each quarter by assessing the likelihood of future taxable income and available tax planning strategies that could be implemented to realize our deferred tax assets. If recovery is not likely, we provide a valuation allowance based on our best estimate of future taxable income in the various taxing jurisdictions and the amount of deferred taxes ultimately realizable. Future events could change managementâ€™s assessment.We operate within multiple taxing jurisdictions and are subject to tax audits in these jurisdictions. These audits can involve complex uncertain tax positions, which may require an extended period of time to resolve. A tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. We maintain a liability for uncertain income tax and other tax positions, including accrued interest and penalties on those positions. As tax positions are effectively settled, the tax liability is adjusted accordingly. We recognize interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in Provision for Income Taxes on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.The U.S. Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (â€œTax Reformâ€) was enacted into law on December 22, 2017, making broad and complex changes to the U.S. tax code, for which complete guidance may have not yet been issued. Tax Reform, in addition to other changes, required a one-time transition tax on certain unremitted earnings of foreign subsidiaries that is payable over an eight-year period. As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024, the remaining provision recorded for the one-time deemed repatriation tax was $3.3 million and $5.9 million, respectively, payable through fiscal year 2026. As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, the remaining deemed repatriation tax is short term and is recorded in Accrued expenses on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.With the expected capital gains generated from the sale of the Tampa property, a portion of our deferred tax asset allowances from past capital losses are now expected to be realized, and in the second quarter of fiscal year 2025, we reversed $2.4 million of these allowances, reducing our income tax expense. New Accounting Standards: Not Yet Adopted:In November 2024, the Financial Accounting Standards Board FASB issued guidance on Expense Disaggregation Disclosures, requiring more disclosure about the types of expenses presented in our expense captions. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026 and for interim periods within annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance can be applied prospectively or retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.In November 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, requiring additional, more detailed information about a reportable segment. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.10In December 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, intended to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance is to be adopted prospectively with the option to adopt retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.Note 2. Revenue from Contracts with CustomersOur revenue from contracts with customers is generated primarily from manufacturing services provided for the production of electronic assemblies, electronic and non-electronic components, medical devices, medical disposables, and precision molded plastics in automotive, medical, and industrial applications, to the specifications and designs of our customers. The following table disaggregates our revenue by end market vertical for the three and six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023. For the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023, approximately 98% and 96% of our net sales were recognized over time. The remaining sales revenues were recognized at a point in time when the customer obtained control of the products. The timing differences of revenue recognition, billings to our customers, and cash collections from our customers result in billed accounts receivable and unbilled accounts receivable. Contract assets on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets relate to unbilled accounts receivable and occur when revenue is recognized over time as manufacturing services are provided and the billing to the customer has not yet occurred as of the balance sheet date, which are generally transferred to receivables in the next fiscal quarter due to the short-term nature of the manufacturing cycle. Contract assets were $82.0 million and $76.3 million as of DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024, respectively.The Company may receive payments from customers in advance of the satisfaction of performance obligations primarily for material price variances, inventory purchases, tooling, or other miscellaneous services or costs. These payments are recognized as contract liabilities until the performance obligations are completed and are included in Advances from customers, if inventory related, and Accrued expenses, if not inventory related, on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, which amounted to $50.8 million and $43.1 million as of DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024, respectively. Our performance obligations are short term in nature and therefore our contract liabilities are all expected to be settled within twelve months. We also have deposits associated with inventory purchases classified as long term. See Note 5 - Inventories of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion.Note 3. Sale of GESFollowing approval by our Board of Directors, on July 31, 2024, we entered into a definitive agreement and closed on the sale of 100% of the equity interests in GES to Averna Test Systems, Inc., resulting in cash proceeds after costs to sell of $18.5 million, which is subject to additional purchase price adjustments. The pre-tax gain recognized on the sale in the first quarter of fiscal year 2025 was $1.3 million. In fiscal year 2024, following the Companyâ€™s decision to divest of GES, we classified the disposal group as held for sale and recognized $22.9 million in pre-tax impairment charges. 11The following table summarizes net sales and income (loss) before taxes on income for the disposal group:Three Months EndedSix Months EndedDecember 31December 31(Amounts in Thousands)2024202320242023Net Sales$â€”Â $12,513Â $2,075Â $22,798Â Income (Loss) Before Taxes on Income (1)$â€”Â $1,146Â $985Â $551Â (1) Includes gain on sale of $1.3Â million for the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024. Restructuring ActivitiesIn the three and six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024, we continued our restructuring efforts to align our cost structure with reduced end market demand levels, including resizing our workforce and taking specific cost actions, and recorded restructuring expense of $1.7 million and $4.0 million, respectively, which were primarily employee-related costs. The cumulative amount incurred since inception of these efforts beginning in fiscal year 2024 through DecemberÂ 31, 2024 was $6.4 million. We expect to continue executing these previously announced restructuring efforts over the remainder of the fiscal year and estimate between $0.5 million and $1.0 million of additional pre-tax restructuring charges.Additionally, on NovemberÂ 4, 2024, the Company announced that its Board of Directors has approved a plan to cease operations at our Tampa facility (â€œTampa Closure Planâ€), expected to be substantially completed by the end of the fiscal year. The decision was made to leverage capacity within our global footprint and streamlining the operating structure. We expect to incur approximately $6.5 million to $8.5 million in total exit costs, including most significantly $4.0 million to $5.0 million in employee termination benefits and $2.5 million to $3.5 million in logistical costs to transfer and validate programs at our other facilities. We expect these costs to be predominantly cash expenditures, and a majority are anticipated to be incurred over the remainder of fiscal year 2025. For the three and six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024, we recorded restructuring expense of $3.0 million for the Tampa Closure Plan.Accrued restructuring is recorded in Accrued expenses in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet. The changes in the Companyâ€™s accrued restructuring costs under the Tampa Closure Plan were as follows:(Amounts in Thousands)Severance and Termination BenefitsOther Exit CostsTotalBalance at JuneÂ 30, 2024$â€”Â $â€”Â $â€”Â Restructuring charges2,726Â 264Â 2,990Â Payments(93)(264)(357)Non-cash activityâ€”Â â€”Â â€”Â Balance at DecemberÂ 31, 2024$2,633Â $â€”Â $2,633Â Once Tampaâ€™s operations have ceased, we expect to sell the building and land, with the proceeds from the sale anticipated to exceed the exit costs. A majority of this inventory is associated with a customer who is remediating a recall and we do not expect the inventory to be consumed 12within the next twelve months. As of DecemberÂ 31 and JuneÂ 30, 2024, we have received deposits from this customer for this long-term inventory totaling $30.7Â million and $38.7Â million, respectively, which is included in Other long-term liabilities in our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The remaining inventory classified as long term is primarily related to other excess raw materials inventory we do not expect to consume or sell within twelve months. For a majority of these, we have arrangements with our customers to pay us carrying costs.Note 6. Commitments and Contingent LiabilitiesThe Company typically provides only assurance-type warranties for a limited time period, which cover workmanship and assures the product complies with specifications provided by or agreed upon with the customer. We maintain a provision for limited warranty repair or replacement of products manufactured and sold, which has been established in specific manufacturing contract agreements. We estimate product warranty liability at the time of sale based on historical repair or replacement cost trends in conjunction with the length of the warranty offered. Management refines the warranty liability regularly based on changes in historical cost trends and in certain cases where specific warranty issues become known. This product warranty liability and expense were immaterial during the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023.Note 8. On December 20, 2024, the Company entered into an amended and restated credit agreement (the â€œrestated primary credit facilityâ€) among the Company, the lenders party thereto, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N. A., as Administrative Agent, and Bank of America, N.A., as Documentation Agent. The restated primary credit facility adds a term loan borrowing facility that provides for term loan borrowings (â€œterm borrowingsâ€) of $100 million repayable in scheduled quarterly installments, scheduled to mature DecemberÂ 20, 2029. The terms for the revolving borrowings remain largely unchanged with a maturity date of MayÂ 4, 2027 and continue to provide for $300 million in borrowings, with an option to increase the amount available for borrowing to $450 million upon request, subject to the consent of each lender participating in such increase. This facility is maintained for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company, and pursuant to the restated primary credit facility, the Company is permitted to use the proceeds to refinance existing indebtedness. A commitment fee is payable on the unused portion of the credit facility at a rate that ranges from 10.0 to 25.0 basis points per annum as determined by the Companyâ€™s ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, as defined in the restated primary credit facility. Types of borrowings available on the restated primary credit facility include term loans, revolving loans, multi-currency term loans, and swingline loans. At December 31, 2024, all outstanding borrowings under the primary credit facility were Term

Benchmark borrowings denominated in U.S. dollars.The interest rate on borrowings is dependent on the class, type and currencies of borrowings and will be one of the following options:â€¢any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in U.S. Dollars will utilize the Secured Overnight Financing Rate (â€œSOFRâ€) for one, three, or six-month tenors as elected, which is a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate for such business day published by the SOFR Administrator, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, on the immediately succeeding business day, plus ten hundredths percent (0.10%), plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Companyâ€™s ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; 14â€¢any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in Euros will utilize the Euro Interbank Offered Rate (â€œEURIBORâ€) in effect two target days prior to the advance (adjusted upwards to reflect bank reserve costs) for such interest period as defined in the agreement, plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Term Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Companyâ€™s ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; or â€¢the Alternate Base Rate (â€œABRâ€), which is defined as the highest of the fluctuating rate per annum equal to the higher of:a.Prime Rate in the U.S. last quoted by the Wall Street Journal, and if this is ceased to be quoted, the highest bank prime loan rate or similar loan rate quoted by the Federal Reserve Board;b.1/2 of 1% per annum above the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (NYFRB) Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); orc.1% per annum above the Adjusted SOFR Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility);plus the Revolving Commitment ABR spread which can range from 0.0 to 75.0 basis points based on the Companyâ€™s ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA. Under the restated primary credit facility, the ABR Spread and Benchmark Spread for term borrowings are the same as for revolving borrowings.The Companyâ€™s financial covenants under the amended primary credit facility require:â€¢a ratio of consolidated total indebtedness minus unencumbered U.S. cash on hand in the United States in excess of $15 million to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, determined as of the end of each of its fiscal quarters for the then most recently ended four fiscal quarters, to not be greater than 3.0 to 1.0, provided, however, that for each fiscal quarter end during the four quarter period following a material permitted acquisition, as defined in the Credit Agreement, the Company will not permit this financial covenant to be greater than 3.5 to 1.0 for each such fiscal quarter end, and,â€¢an interest coverage ratio, defined as that ratio of consolidated EBITDA for such period to cash interest expense for such period, for any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters, to not be less than 3.5 to 1.0. The Company had $0.4 million in letters of credit contingently committed against the primary credit facility at both DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024.(2) Concurrently on December 20, 2024 with its entry into the restated primary credit facility, the Company terminated its 364-day multi-currency revolving credit facility agreement (the â€œsecondary credit facilityâ€), which was entered into on January 5, 2024 and originally scheduled to mature on JanuaryÂ 3, 2025. The secondary credit facility allowed for borrowings up to $100.0 million, and the Company had no borrowings on the secondary credit facility at JuneÂ 30, 2024.(3) The Company also maintains foreign credit facilities for working capital and general corporate purposes at specific foreign locations rather than utilizing funding from intercompany sources. These foreign credit facilities can be canceled at any time by either the bank or us and generally include renewal clauses. Interest on borrowing under these facilities is charged at a rate as defined under the respective foreign credit facility. As a result of the GES divestiture that occurred on July 31, 2024, the Company no longer has the Vietnam credit facility, which allowed for borrowings up to $5.0 million.(4) The amount of long-term debt under credit facilities, less current maturities, reflects the revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility that the Company intends, and has the ability, to refinance for a period longer than twelve months in addition to the long-term portion of the term borrowings. The revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility matures on May 4, 2027. 15As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, the contractual maturities of the term borrowings on the primary credit facility were as follows:(Amounts in Millions)Contractual MaturitiesFiscal year:Remaining 2025$2.50Â 20265.00Â 20276.25Â 20287.50Â 20298.75Â Thereafter70.00Â Total$100.00Â The weighted-average interest rate on borrowings outstanding under the credit facilities at DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024 were 6.4% and 6.8%, respectively.Note 9. Fair ValueThe Company categorizes assets and liabilities measured at fair value into three levels based upon the assumptions (inputs) used to price the assets or liabilities. Level 1 provides the most reliable measure of fair value, whereas level 3 generally requires significant management judgment. The three levels are defined as follows:â€¢Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.â€¢Level 2: Observable inputs other than those included in level 1. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets.â€¢Level 3: Unobservable inputs reflecting managementâ€™s own assumptions about the inputs used in pricing the asset or liability.There were no changes in the inputs or valuation techniques used to measure fair values during the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024. For more information on inputs and fair valuation techniques used, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024.Recurring Fair Value Measurements:As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024, the fair values of financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis using the market approach are categorized as follows:Â December 31, 2024(Amounts in Thousands)Level 1Level 2TotalAssetsÂ Â Â Derivatives: foreign exchange contracts$â€”Â $1,803Â $1,803Â Trading securities: mutual funds held in nonqualified SERP5,547Â â€”Â 5,547Â Total assets at fair value$5,547Â $1,803Â $7,350Â LiabilitiesÂ Â Â Derivatives: foreign exchange contracts$â€”Â $3,609Â $3,609Â Total liabilities at fair value$â€”Â $3,609Â $3,609Â Â Â Â Â Â June 30, 2024(Amounts in Thousands)Level 1Level 2TotalAssetsÂ Â Â Derivatives: foreign exchange contracts$â€”Â $1,420Â $1,420Â Trading securities: mutual funds held in nonqualified SERP5,445Â â€”Â 5,445Â Total assets at fair value$5,445Â $1,420Â $6,865Â LiabilitiesÂ Â Â Derivatives: foreign exchange contracts$â€”Â $2,485Â $2,485Â Total liabilities at fair value$â€”Â $2,485Â $2,485Â 16We had no level 3 assets or liabilities at DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024, or any activity in Level 3 assets or liabilities during the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024.The nonqualified supplemental employee retirement plan (â€œSERPâ€) assets consist primarily of equity funds, balanced funds, bond funds, and a money market fund. The SERP investment assets are offset by a SERP liability which represents the Companyâ€™s obligation to distribute SERP funds to participants. See Note 11 - Employee Benefit Plans of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for further information regarding the SERP.Financial Instruments Not Carried At Fair Value:Financial instruments that are not reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets at fair value that have carrying amounts which approximate fair value include notes receivable and borrowings under credit facilities. There were no changes to the inputs and valuation techniques used to assess the fair value of these financial instruments during the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024. For more information on inputs and fair valuation techniques used, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024.The carrying values of our cash deposit accounts, trade accounts receivable, and trade accounts payable approximate fair value due to the relatively short maturity and immaterial non-performance risk.Note 10. Derivative InstrumentsForeign Exchange Contracts:We operate internationally and are therefore exposed to foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations in the normal course of business. Our primary means of managing this exposure is to utilize natural hedges, such as aligning currencies used in the supply chain with the sale currency. To the extent natural hedging techniques do not fully offset currency risk, we use derivative instruments with the objective of reducing the residual exposure to certain foreign currency rate movements. Factors considered in the decision to hedge an underlying market exposure include the materiality of the risk, the volatility of the market, the duration of the hedge, the degree to which the underlying exposure is committed to, and the availability, effectiveness, and cost of derivative instruments. Derivative instruments are only utilized for risk management purposes and are not used for speculative or trading purposes.We use forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges to protect against foreign currency exchange rate risks inherent in forecasted transactions denominated in a foreign currency. Non-designated foreign exchange contracts are also used to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risks related to intercompany balances and other balance sheet positions denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies. As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, we had outstanding foreign exchange contracts to hedge currencies against the U.S. dollar in the aggregate notional amount of $18.3 million and to hedge currencies against the Euro in the aggregate notional amount of 38.8 million Euro. The notional amounts are indicators of the volume of derivative activities but may not be indicators of the potential gain or loss on the derivatives.In limited cases due to unexpected changes in forecasted transactions, cash flow hedges may cease to meet the criteria to be designated as cash flow hedges. Depending on the type of exposure hedged, we may either purchase a derivative contract in the opposite position of the undesignated hedge or may retain the hedge until it matures if the hedge continues to provide an adequate offset in earnings against the currency revaluation impact of foreign currency denominated liabilities. The fair value of outstanding derivative instruments is recognized on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets as a derivative asset or liability and presented with Prepaid expenses and other current assets and Accrued expenses, respectively. When derivatives are settled with the counterparty, the derivative asset or liability is relieved and cash flow is impacted for the net settlement. For derivative instruments that meet the criteria of hedging instruments under FASB guidance, the gain or loss on the derivative instrument is initially recorded net of related tax effect in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss), a component of Share Ownersâ€™ Equity, and is subsequently reclassified into earnings in the period or periods during which the hedged transaction is recognized in earnings. The gain or loss associated with derivative instruments that are not designated as hedging instruments or that cease to meet the criteria for hedging under FASB guidance is reported immediately in Non-operating income (expense), net on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.Based on fair values as of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, we estimate that approximately $2.8 million of pre-tax derivative loss deferred in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss will be reclassified into earnings, along with the earnings effects of related forecasted transactions, within the next 12 months. Gains on foreign exchange contracts are generally offset by losses in operating income in the income statement when the underlying hedged transaction is recognized in earnings. Because gains or losses on foreign exchange contracts fluctuate partially based on currency spot rates, the future effect on earnings of the cash flow hedges alone is not determinable, but in conjunction with the underlying hedged transactions, the result is expected to be a decline in currency risk. The maximum length of time we had hedged our exposure to the variability in future cash flows was 12 months as of both DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024.17See Note 9 - Fair Value of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for further information regarding the fair value of derivative assets and liabilities and Note 6 - Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss) of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for the changes in deferred derivative gains and losses. Employee Benefit PlansDefined Contribution Retirement Plan:The Company maintains a trusteed defined contribution retirement plan which is in effect for substantially all domestic employees meeting the eligibility requirements. The Company matches 50% of eligible employee contributions up to 6%. The Company also provides a discretionary contribution determined annually by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Companyâ€™s Board of Directors. Total expense related to employer contributions to the domestic retirement plans was $1.0 million and $3.1 million for the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, respectively.The Company also maintains a supplemental employee retirement plan (â€œSERPâ€) for executives and other key employees which enables them to defer cash compensation on a pre-tax basis and restore amounts that would otherwise be payable under our tax-qualified retirement plans if the IRS did not have limits on includable compensation and maximum benefits. The SERP is structured as a rabbi trust, and therefore, assets in the SERP portfolio are subject to creditor claims in the event of bankruptcy. We recognize SERP investment assets on the balance sheet at current fair value. A SERP liability of the same amount is recorded on the balance sheet representing an obligation to distribute SERP funds to participants. As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.6 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.6 million were long term. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.4 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.4 million were long term. The SERP investment assets are classified as trading, and accordingly, realized and unrealized gains and losses are recognized in the Other Income (Expense) category on 18our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Adjustments made to revalue the SERP liability are also recognized in income as selling and administrative expenses and offset valuation adjustments on SERP investment assets. The change in net unrealized holding gains for the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023 was less than $0.1 million and $0.1 million, respectively.Defined Benefit Postemployment Plan:The Company established and maintains severance plans for all domestic employees and other postemployment plans for certain foreign subsidiaries. There are no statutory requirements for us to contribute to the plans, nor do employees contribute to the plans. The plans hold no assets. Benefits are paid using available cash on hand when eligible employees meet plan qualifications for payment. As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, total obligations under these plans were $7.0 million of which $6.2 million were long term and $0.8 million were short term. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, total obligations under these plans were $7.0 million of which $6.2 million were long term and $0.8 million were short term. Net periodic benefit costs were not material for the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023. Note 12. Stock Compensation PlansA stock compensation plan was created and adopted by the Companyâ€™s Board of Directors (the â€œBoardâ€) on September 20, 2023 and approved by our Share Owners at our 2023 Annual Meeting on November 17, 2023. The 2023 Plan allows for the issuance of up to 2.0 million shares and replaced our former 2014 plan. The shares under the 2023 Plan may be granted in the form of incentive stock options, non-qualified stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted awards, performance share awards, cash awards, and other equity awards. The Plan is a ten-year plan that terminates automatically on November 17, 2033. No award shall be granted pursuant to the Plan after such date, but awards theretofore granted may extend beyond that date.On October 20, 2016, the Board approved a nonqualified deferred stock compensation plan, the Kimball Electronics, Inc. Non-Employee Directors Stock Compensation Deferral Plan (the â€œDeferral Planâ€), which allows Non-Employee Directors to elect to defer all, or a portion of, their retainer fees in stock until retirement or termination from the Board or death. The Deferral Plan allows for issuance of up to 1.0 million shares of the Companyâ€™s common stock. For more information on the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024.During the first six months of fiscal year 2025, the following stock compensation was granted under the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan.Stock Compensation GrantedQuarter GrantedShares/UnitsGrant Date Fair Value (2)Long-Term Performance Shares (1)1st Quarter23,460Â $18.49Â Restricted Shares (3)1st Quarter152,917Â $18.49Â Long-Term Performance Shares (4)2nd Quarter207,344Â $21.89Â Unrestricted Shares (5)2nd Quarter26,192Â $19.09Â Deferred Share Units (6)2nd Quarter28,288Â $19.09Â (1) Long-term performance share awards were granted to key employees. These annual performance share awards were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. These awards granted in fiscal year 2025 will cliff vest at the third anniversary of the award date in fiscal year 2028.For these key employee awards, a number of shares will be issued to each participant based upon a combination of the Companyâ€™s profitability based on its operating income over the performance period as defined in the Companyâ€™s operating business plans for the applicable fiscal years and the Companyâ€™s growth based on a comparison of its three-year compounded annual growth rate (â€œCAGRâ€) with the Electronics Manufacturing Services Industryâ€™s three-year CAGR. The number of shares issued could be zero if minimum thresholds are not met up to a maximum of 125% if results on both measures exceed targets under the formula. (2) The grant date fair value is the weighted average stock price based on the dates of the grants.(3) Restricted shares were granted to leadership team members and other key employees. These restricted shares were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The contractual life of the restricted shares is three years, with one-third of the interest in the restricted shares vested after year one of the grant, another one-third after year two 19of the grant, and the final one-third after year three of the grant. Restricted shares are expensed over the contractual vesting period as earned. If the employment of a holder of restricted shares terminates before the RSU has vested for any reason other than death, retirement, or disability, the restricted shares not yet vested will be forfeited.(4) Long-term performance shares were granted to leadership team members. These annual performance share awards were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The awards granted in fiscal year 2025 will cliff vest in fiscal year 2028.Under these awards, a number of shares will be issued to each participant based upon a combination of the Companyâ€™s economic profit for fiscal years 2026 and 2027 as compared to the Board approved plan and the Companyâ€™s relative total shareholder return (rTSR) for the performance period as compared to a group of peer companies selected by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The number of shares issued could be zero if minimum thresholds are not met up to a maximum of 200% if results on both measures exceed targets under the formula.(5) Unrestricted shares were awarded to non-employee members of the Board as compensation for the portion of their annual retainer fees resulting from their elections to be paid in unrestricted shares in lieu of cash payment or deferred share units. Directorâ€™s fees are expensed over the period that directors earn the compensation. Unrestricted shares do not have vesting periods, holding periods, restrictions on sales, or other restrictions.(6) Deferred share units were awarded to non-employee members of the Board as compensation for the portion of their annual retainer fees resulting from their elections to receive deferred share units in lieu of cash payment or unrestricted shares. Directorâ€™s fees are expensed over the period that directors earn the compensation. Deferred share units are participating securities and are payable in common stock in a lump sum or installments in accordance with deferral elections upon a Directorâ€™s retirement or termination from the Board or death.Note 13. Business OverviewWe are a global, multifaceted manufacturing solutions provider. We provide electronics manufacturing services (â€œEMSâ€), including engineering and supply chain support, to customers in the automotive, medical, and industrial end markets. Our core competency is producing durable electronics, and we further offer contract manufacturing services for non-electronic components, medical disposables, drug delivery solutions, and precision molded plastics. Our manufacturing services, including engineering and supply chain support, utilize common production and support capabilities globally. We are well recognized by our customers and the industry for our excellent quality, reliability, and innovative service. CIRCUITS ASSEMBLY, a leading brand and technical publication for electronics manufacturers worldwide, has previously recognized us four times for achieving the Highest Overall Customer Rating in their Service Excellence Awards, and most recently, we received Highest Customer Ratings in seven service categories in 2024. The contract manufacturing services industry is very competitive. As a mid-sized player, we can expect to be challenged by the agility and flexibility of the smaller, regional players, and we can expect to be challenged by the scale and price competitiveness of the larger, global players. We enjoy a unique market position between these extremes which allows us to compete with the larger scale players for high-volume projects, but also maintain our competitive position in the generally lower volume durable electronics market space. We expect to continue to effectively operate in this market space; however, one significant challenge will be maintaining our profit margins. Pricing is competitive in the market as production efficiencies and material pricing advantages for most projects drive costs and prices down over the life of the projects. This characteristic of the contract electronics marketplace is expected to continue.The Worldwide Manufacturing Services Market - 2024 Edition, a comprehensive study on the worldwide EMS market published by New Venture Research (â€œNVRâ€), provided worldwide forecast trends through 2028. NVR projects the worldwide 21assembly market for electronics products to grow at a compound annual growth rate (â€œCAGRâ€) of 4.6% over the next five years, with the EMS industry projected to grow at a CAGR of 4.6%.We continue to monitor the current economic and industry conditions for uncertainties that may pose a threat to our future growth or cause disruption in business strategy, execution, and timing in the markets in which we compete. Net sales in the second quarter of the current fiscal year decreased 15% compared to the prior fiscal year second quarter, most significantly in our medical and industrial end market verticals. The decrease in sales to customers in the medical markets were largely driven by adjacent impacts with our major medical customer with the FDA recall and the wind down of other programs. The decrease in sales to customers in the industrial market were related to the sale of GES and declines in smart metering and public safety. We expect consolidated net sales to continue to lag when compared to fiscal year 2024, which we expect to continue through calendar year 2025, most significantly with the loss of a major automotive program by our customer that was unrelated to any issues with our workmanship, quality, or ability to produce the product, the expected consolidated net sales decrease from the divestiture of our GES business, and the adjacent impacts with our major medical customer with the FDA recall.We have a strong focus on cost control balanced with managing the future growth prospects of our business. We expect to make investments that will strengthen or add new capabilities to our package of value as a multifaceted manufacturing solutions company, including through our recently completed capacity expansions. Managing working capital in conjunction with fluctuating demand levels is likewise key. In addition, a long-standing component of our profit-sharing incentive bonus plan is its link to our financial performance, which results in varying amounts of compensation expense as profits change.To support our renewed strategic focus, we completed the divestiture of our GES business on July 31, 2024 and undertook restructuring efforts beginning in fiscal year 2024 to align our cost structure with reduced end-market demand levels. In addition, on November 4, 2024, the Company announced that its Board of Directors has approved a plan to cease operations at our Tampa facility, expected to be completed by the end of the fiscal year. The decision was another important step towards sharpening our strategic focus, while leveraging our global footprint and streamlining the operating structure. Production activities on existing customer programs will be transferred out of Tampa, with the majority of the work going to our plants in North America, primarily our newly expanded facility in Mexico and Jasper. We continue to maintain a strong balance sheet, which included a current ratio of 2.3, a debt-to-equity ratio of 0.4, and Share Ownersâ€™ equity of $537 million at DecemberÂ 31, 2024. Refer to the Future Liquidity section of Liquidity and Capital Resources below for further discussion of our liquidity. The continuing success of our business is dependent upon our ability to replace expiring customers/programs with new customers/programs. We monitor our success in this area by tracking the number of customers and the percentage of our net sales generated from them by years of service as depicted in the table below. While variation in the size of program awards makes it difficult to directly correlate this data to our sales trends, we believe it does provide useful information regarding our customer loyalty and new business growth. Selling and administrative expenses decreased both as a percent of net sales and in absolute dollars in the second quarter of fiscal year 2025 when compared to the second quarter of fiscal year 2024 as well as in the first half of the fiscal year, driven by cost reduction efforts, the classification of factoring fees, and decreased profit-sharing bonus expense and stock compensation expense driven by the decline in financial results. In the second quarter, the update of bonus and stock compensation performance metrics resulted in a substantial reduction to cumulative expense recorded. Both the second quarter and first half of fiscal year 2024 included a $2.0 million allowance for credit losses, which also contributed to the declines year over year.In the three and six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024, we recorded pre-tax restructuring expense of $4.7 million and $7.0 million, respectively, for employee-related costs as we undertook restructuring efforts to align our cost structure with reduced end market demand levels and incurred costs related to the Tampa closure in the second quarter.We completed the divestiture of GES on July 31, 2024 and recorded a gain on disposal of $1.3 million during the first quarter of fiscal year 2025. See Note 3 - Sale of GES of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.Other Income (Expense) consisted of the following:Three Months EndedSix Months EndedÂ December 31December 31(Amounts in Thousands)20242023202420232024Interest income$253Â $101Â $475Â $400Â Interest expense(4,241)(6,137)(9,033)(11,584)Foreign currency/derivative gain (loss)243Â 346Â (791)(328)Gain (loss) on SERP investments(69)484Â 276Â 307Â Factoring fees(517)â€”Â (1,053)â€”Â Credit facilities fees and bank charges(267)(182)$(530)(383)Other(158)54Â (331)(25)Other income (expense), net$(4,756)$(5,334)$(10,987)$(11,613)Interest expense has decreased in the three and six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 compared to the three and six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2023 due to lower borrowings on credit facilities and lower interest rates. Foreign currency/derivative gains (losses) result from net foreign currency exchange rate movements during the periods. The revaluation to fair value of the SERP investments recorded in Other Income (Expense) is offset by the revaluation of the SERP liability recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses, and thus there is no effect on net income. Prior to fiscal year 2025, factoring fees were recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.Our provision (benefit) for income taxes for the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023 was $(0.2) million, or (3.6)% of income before taxes on income, and $5.4 million, or 22.2% of income before taxes on income, 24respectively. The tax benefit in the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 is primarily the result of the valuation allowance reversal recorded in the second quarter associated with the expected capital gains from the sale of the Tampa property.Open orders were down 33% as of DecemberÂ 31, 2024 compared to DecemberÂ 31, 2023. The decrease in open orders from DecemberÂ 31, 2023 is primarily driven by reduced orders due to cancellation of a major automotive program, other automotive customer demand reductions, and medical customer demand reductions. Open orders at a point in time may not be indicative of future sales trends due to the contract nature of our business. Our open orders depend on the lead times from our customers, which have reduced since December 31, 2023 when parts were more constrained, which also contributed to the decline in open orders.Liquidity and Capital ResourcesWorking capital at DecemberÂ 31, 2024 was $397.6 million compared to working capital of $471.7 million at JuneÂ 30, 2024. The current ratio was 2.3 at both DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and JuneÂ 30, 2024. The debt-to-equity ratio was 0.4 at DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 0.5 at JuneÂ 30, 2024. Our short-term liquidity available, represented as cash and cash equivalents plus the unused amount of our credit facilities, some of which are uncommitted, totaled $280.3 million at DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and $220.1 million at JuneÂ 30, 2024.Cash Conversion Days (â€œCCDâ€) are calculated as the sum of Days Sales Outstanding (â€œDSOâ€) plus Contract Asset Days (â€œCADâ€) plus Production Days Supply on Hand (â€œPDSOHâ€) less Accounts Payable Days (â€œAPDâ€) and less Advances from Customers Days (â€œACDâ€). CCD, or a similar metric, is used in our industry and by our management to measure the efficiency of managing working capital. The following table summarizes our CCD for the quarterly periods indicated. Three Months EndedDecember 31, 2024September 30, 2024December 31, 2023Days Sales Outstanding656664Contract Asset Days191818Production Days Supply on Hand98100109Accounts Payable Days575665Advances from Customers Days18209Cash Conversion Days107108117We define Days Sales Outstanding as the average of monthly trade accounts and notes receivable divided by an average dayâ€™s net sales, Contract Asset Days as the average monthly contract assets divided by an average dayâ€™s net sales, Production Days Supply on Hand as the average of monthly gross inventory divided by an average dayâ€™s cost of sales, Accounts Payable Days as the average of monthly accounts payable divided by an average dayâ€™s cost of sales, and Advances from Customers Days as the average of monthly customer deposits divided by an average dayâ€™s cost of sales. Over the past several quarters, we have supported our customers through strategic inventory builds to mitigate parts shortages, which adversely impacted our PDSOH and CCD metrics. We have experienced customers push out deliveries and sales declines, which have negatively impacted our cash conversion days and working capital. We expect our CCD metrics to improve as we align our working capital with the lower sales levels.Cash FlowsThe following table reflects the major categories of cash flows for the first six months of fiscal years 2025 and 2024.Six Months EndedDecember 31(Amounts in Millions)20242023Net cash provided by (used for) operating activities$74.9Â $(17.9)Net cash used for investing activities(1.2)(24.4)Net cash (used for) provided by financing activities(97.3)38.9Â Cash Flows from Operating ActivitiesNet cash provided by operating activities for the first six months of fiscal year 2025 was driven by net income adjusted for non-cash items and changes in operating assets and liabilities. Net cash used by operating activities for the first six months of the prior year was driven by changes in operating assets and liabilities, partially offset by net income adjusted for non-cash item.25Net income adjusted for non-cash items provided cash of $28.1 million in the first six months of fiscal year 2025, while changes in operating assets and liabilities provided $46.8 million of cash in the first six months of fiscal year 2025, largely due to a decrease of accounts receivable, which provided cash of $45.5 million, and a decrease of inventory, which provided cash of $28.0 million. Partially offsetting cash provided by accounts receivable and inventory was a decrease in accrued expenses and taxes payable, which used cash of $27.1 million primarily driven by timing of profit-sharing incentive bonus and income tax payments. The cash used of $59.0 million from changes in operating assets and liabilities in the first six months of fiscal year 2024, is largely due to a decrease in accounts payable, which used cash of $42.5 million primarily driven by decreased inventory purchases due to lower sales, and a decrease in accrued expenses and taxes payable, which used $9.3 million primarily driven by timing of income tax and profit-sharing incentive bonus payments. Partially offsetting cash used by accounts payable and accrued expenses and taxes payable was an increase in advances from customers, which provided cash of $8.8 million. Partially offsetting the cash used from changes in operating assets and liabilities in the first six months of fiscal year 2024 was net income adjusted for non-cash items which provided cash of $41.1 million.Cash Flows from Investing Activities Net cash used by investing activities of $1.2 million in the first six months of fiscal year 2025 was largely due to capital investments of $20.0 million primarily to support new business awards and replacement of older machinery and equipment, partially offset by the $18.5 million of proceeds from the sale of GES. See Note 3 - Sale of GES of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for more information on the divestiture of GES.Net cash used for investing activities in the first six months of fiscal year 2024 included $24.5 million cash used for capital investments. The capital investments were primarily to support new business awards, facility expansions, and replacement of older machinery and equipment. Cash Flows from Financing ActivitiesFor the first six months of fiscal year 2025, net cash used for financing activities of $97.3 million resulted largely from net payments on our credit facilities of $89.8 million. For the first six months of fiscal year 2024, net cash provided by financing activities of $38.9 million resulted largely from net borrowings on our credit facilities of $40.3 million. Credit FacilitiesThe Company maintains a U.S. primary credit facility (the â€œprimary credit facilityâ€) scheduled to mature MayÂ 4, 2027. The primary credit facility provides for $300 million in revolving borrowings, with an option to increase the amount available for borrowing to $450 million at the Companyâ€™s request, subject to the consent of each lender participating in such increase. On DecemberÂ 20, 2024, the Company entered into an amended and restated credit agreement which resulted in the addition of a term loan borrowing, allowing for term loan borrowings of $100 million repayable in scheduled quarterly installments, and is scheduled to mature on DecemberÂ 20, 2029. This facility is maintained for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company. The Company terminated its 364-day multi-currency revolving credit facility (the â€œsecondary credit facilityâ€), which previously allowed for borrowings up to $100 million and had a maturity date of JanuaryÂ 3, 2025. We were in compliance with the financial covenants of the primary credit facility during the period ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024.Through the amendment of the primary credit facility, including adding a $100 million term loan borrowing, we were able to maintain our same total borrowing capacity even with the termination of the secondary credit facility. Additionally, we were able to secure our primary credit facilityâ€™s interest rate pricing for the $100 million term loan for five years, which is beyond the duration of our current primary credit facility. We also maintain foreign credit facilities for working capital and general corporate purposes at specific foreign locations rather than utilizing funding from intercompany sources. These foreign credit facilities can be canceled at any time by either the bank or us and generally include renewal clauses. As of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, we maintained foreign credit facilities at our Thailand operation, our China operation, our Netherlands subsidiary, and our Poland operation.See Note 8 - Credit Facilities of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for more information on our credit facilities, including the terms of the credit facilities such as interest, commitment fees, and debt covenants. 26Factoring ArrangementsWe participate in our customersâ€™ supply chain financing arrangements in order to extend terms for the customer without negatively impacting our cash flow. These arrangements in all cases do not contain recourse provisions which would obligate us in the event of our customersâ€™ failure to pay. Receivables are considered sold when they are transferred beyond the reach of Kimball Electronics and its creditors, the purchaser has the right to pledge or exchange the receivables, and we have surrendered control over the transferred receivables. In the six months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 and 2023, we sold, without recourse, $169.0 million and $198.9 million of accounts receivable, respectively. See Note 1 - Business Description and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for more information regarding the factoring arrangements.Future LiquidityWe believe our principal sources of liquidity from available funds on hand, cash generated from operations, and the availability of borrowing under our credit facilities, will be sufficient to meet our working capital and other operating needs for at least the next 12 months. The unused borrowings in USD equivalent under all of our credit facilities totaled $226.4 million at DecemberÂ 31, 2024. Additionally, accounts receivable factoring arrangements could provide flexible access to cash as needed. We expect to continue to prudently invest in capital expenditures, including for capacity expansions and potential acquisitions, that would help us continue our growth as a multifaceted manufacturing solutions company. At DecemberÂ 31, 2024, our capital expenditure commitments were approximately $17 million, consisting primarily of capital related to new program wins. We anticipate our available liquidity will be sufficient to fund these capital expenditures.We expect to continue our restructuring efforts, including the closure of our Tampa facility. We expect these restructuring efforts to be predominantly cash expenditures to be incurred over the remainder of fiscal year 2025. We estimate additional pre-tax restructuring charges between $5 million to $6 million, including $4 million to $5 million for Tampa exit costs. Once Tampaâ€™s operations have ceased, we expect to sell the building and land, with the proceeds from the sale anticipated to exceed the exit costs.We have purchase obligations that arise in the normal course of business for items such as raw materials, services, and software acquisitions/license commitments. In certain instances, such as when lead times dictate, we enter into contractual agreements for material in excess of the levels required to fulfill customer orders. In turn, material authorization agreements with customers cover a portion of the exposure for material that we must purchase prior to having a firm order.At DecemberÂ 31, 2024, our foreign operations held cash totaling $46.1 million. Most of our accumulated unremitted foreign earnings have been invested in active non-U.S. business operations, and it is not anticipated such earnings will be remitted to the United States. The Company continually evaluates its global cash needs. If such funds were repatriated or we determined that all or a portion of such foreign earnings are no longer permanently reinvested, we may be subject to applicable non-U.S. income and withholding taxes. Determination of the amount of any potential future unrecognized deferred tax liability on such unremitted earnings is not practicable and is recorded in the period when any foreign earnings are determined to be no longer permanently reinvested. The Companyâ€™s Repurchase Plan allows the repurchase of up to $120 million of our common stock. Purchases may be made under various programs, including in open-market transactions, block transactions on or off an exchange, or in privately negotiated transactions, all in accordance with applicable securities laws and regulations. The Repurchase Plan has no expiration date but may be suspended or discontinued at any time. The extent to which the Company repurchases its shares, and the timing of such repurchases, will depend upon a variety of factors, including market conditions, regulatory requirements, and other corporate considerations, as determined by the Companyâ€™s management team. The Company expects to finance the purchases with existing liquidity. The Company has repurchasedÂ $97.7 millionÂ of common stock under the Repurchase Plan through DecemberÂ 31, 2024.Our ability to generate cash from operations to meet our liquidity obligations could be adversely affected in the future by factors such as general economic and market conditions, lack of availability of raw material components in the supply chain, a decline in demand for our services, loss of key contract customers, unsuccessful integration of acquisitions and new operations, global health emergencies, and the related uncertainties around the financial impact, and other unforeseen circumstances. In particular, should demand for our customersâ€™ products and, in turn, our services decrease significantly over the next 12 months, the available cash provided by operations could be adversely impacted. Additional cautionary statements regarding our risk factors are contained in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024. 27Fair ValueDuring the second quarter of fiscal year 2025, no level 1 or level 2 financial instruments were affected by a lack of market liquidity. For level 1 financial assets, readily available market pricing was used to value the financial instruments. Our foreign currency derivative assets and liabilities, which were classified as level 2, were independently valued using observable market inputs such as forward interest rate yield curves, current spot rates, and time value calculations. To verify the reasonableness of the independently determined fair values, these derivative fair values were compared to fair values calculated by the counterparty banks. Our own credit risk and counterparty credit risk had an immaterial impact on the valuation of the foreign currency derivatives. See Note 9 - Fair Value of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.Off-Balance Sheet ArrangementsAs of DecemberÂ 31, 2024, we do not have any material off-balance sheet arrangements.Critical Accounting Policies and EstimatesKimball Electronicsâ€™ Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These principles require the use of estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported and disclosed in the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and related notes. Actual results could differ from these estimates and assumptions. Management uses its best judgment in the assumptions used to value these estimates, which are based on current facts and circumstances, prior experience, and other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable. There have been no material changes to our critical accounting policies since our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024. For further information regarding our critical accounting policies, refer to â€œNote 1 - Business Description and Summary of Significant Accounting Policiesâ€ of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements and â€œCritical Accounting Policiesâ€ in the section entitled â€œManagementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operationsâ€ in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024. 28New Accounting StandardsSee Note 1 - Business Description and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information regarding New Accounting Standards.Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market RiskThere were no material changes in our exposure to market risks for changes in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates as compared to the fiscal year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024. Comprehensive disclosures of quantitative and qualitative market risk can be found in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024. Item 4. Controls and Procedures (a)Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures.Kimball Electronics maintains controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports that the Company files or submits under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the rules and forms of the Securities and Exchange Commission and that such information is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Based upon their evaluation of those controls and procedures performed, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of the Company concluded that the disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of DecemberÂ 31, 2024.(b)Changes in internal control over financial reporting.There have been no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024 that have materially affected, or that are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.29PART II. OTHER INFORMATION Item 1. Legal Proceedings We and our subsidiaries are not parties to any pending legal proceedings, other than ordinary routine litigation incidental to the business. The outcome of current routine pending litigation and claims, individually and in the aggregate, is not expected to have a material adverse impact on our business or financial condition.Item 1A. Risk FactorsWe are subject to various risks and uncertainties in the course of our business. A comprehensive disclosure of risk factors related to Kimball Electronics can be found in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended JuneÂ 30, 2024.Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of ProceedsOn October 21, 2015, our Board approved an 18-month stock repurchase plan (the â€œRepurchase Planâ€), authorizing the repurchase of up to $20 million worth of our common stock. Then, separately on each of September 29, 2016, August 23, 2017, November 8, 2018, November 10, 2020, and November 15, 2024 the Board extended and increased the Repurchase Plan to allow the repurchase of up to an additional $20 million worth of common stock with no expiration date, which brought the total authorized stock repurchases under the Repurchase Plan to $120 million. During the three months ended DecemberÂ 31, 2024, the Company repurchased $3.0 million of common stock under the Repurchase Plan. The name of this plan is the Kimball Electronics, Inc. 2024 Employee Profit Sharing Bonus Plan (the "Plan"). The purposes of the Plan are to (a) enable Kimball Electronics, Inc., an Indiana corporation (the "Company"), and any Affiliate to attract and retain the types of Employees who will contribute to the Company's success; (b) to motivate and reward eligible Employees and Consultants by creating a direct relationship between on the achievement of certain corporate, business unit, individual performance goals and individual bonus payouts; (c) to develop in Employees a sense of proprietorship and personal involvement in the development and financial success of the Company; and (d) to encourage Employees to devote their best efforts to the business of the Company, thereby advancing the interests of the Company and its Share Owners.1.2Â Â Â Â Eligible Award Recipients. The persons eligible to receive Awards are the Employees and Consultants of the Company and its Affiliates and such other individuals designated by the Committee who are reasonably expected to become Employees or Consultants after the receipt of Awards. 1.3Â Â Â Â Effective Date. The Plan is effective as of July 1, 2024 (the "Effective Date"), and shall remain in effect until it has been terminated pursuant to Section 10. 2.Â Â Â Â Definitions. The following terms shall have the following meanings:"Affiliate" means a corporation or other entity that, directly or through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with, the Company."Applicable Laws" means the requirements related to or implicated by the administration of the Plan under applicable state corporate law, United States federal and state securities laws, the Code, and the applicable laws of any foreign country or jurisdiction where Awards are granted under the Plan."Award" means an award granted pursuant to the Plan, the payment of which shall be contingent on the attainment of Performance Goals with respect to a Performance Period, as determined pursuant to Section 6.1 by the Committee."Base Salary" means the Participant's base salary actually earned during the Performance Period before (a) deductions for taxes or benefits and (b) deferrals of compensation pursuant to any Company or Affiliate-sponsored plans."Board" means the Board of Directors of the Company, as constituted at any time."Cause" means:(a) If the Participant is a party to an employment or service agreement with the Company or its Affiliates and such agreement provides for a definition of Cause, the definition contained therein; or(b) If no such agreement exists, or if such agreement does not define Cause: (i) the commission of, or plea of guilty or no contest to, a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude or the commission of any other act involving willful malfeasance or material fiduciary breach with respect to the Company or an Affiliate; (ii) conduct that brings or is reasonably likely to bring the Company or an Affiliate negative publicity or into public disgrace, embarrassment, or disrepute; (iii) gross negligence or willful misconduct with respect to the Company or an Affiliate; (iv) material violation of state or federal securities laws; or (v) material violation of the Company's written policies or codes of conduct, including written policies related to discrimination, harassment, performance of illegal or unethical activities, and ethical misconduct.The Committee, in its sole and absolute discretion, shall determine the effect of all matters and questions relating to whether a Participant has been discharged for Cause. "Code" means the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as it may be amended from time to time. Any reference to a section of the Code shall be deemed to include a reference to any regulations promulgated thereunder."Committee" means a committee of one or more members of the Board appointed by the Board (or if no Committee has been appointed, the Board itself) to administer the Plan in accordance with Section 3.3 and Section 3.4. "Company" means Kimball Electronics, Inc., and Indiana corporation, and any successor thereto. "Consultant" means any individual or entity which performs bona fide services to the Company or an Affiliate, other than as an Employee or Director, and who may be offered securities registerable pursuant to a registration statement on Form S-8 under the Securities Act."Continuous Service" means that the Participant's service with the Company or an Affiliate, whether as an Employee, Consultant or Director, is not interrupted or terminated. The Participant's Continuous Service shall not be deemed to have terminated merely because of a change in the capacity in which the Participant renders service to the Company or an Affiliate as an Employee, Consultant or Director or a change in the entity for which the Participant renders such service, provided that there is no interruption or termination of the Participant's Continuous Service; provided further that if any Award is subject to Section 409A of the Code, this sentence shall only be given effect to the extent consistent with Section 409A of the Code. For example, a change in status from an Employee of the Company to a Director of an Affiliate will not constitute an interruption of 2Â Â Â Â Continuous Service. The Committee or its delegate, in its sole discretion, may determine whether Continuous Service shall be considered interrupted in the case of any leave of absence approved by that party, including sick leave, military leave or any other personal or family leave of absence. The Committee or its delegate, in its sole discretion, may determine whether a Company transaction, such as a sale or spin-off of a division or subsidiary that employs a Participant, shall be deemed to result in a termination of Continuous Service for purposes of affected Awards, and such decision shall be final, conclusive and binding."Disability" means that the Participant is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment. The determination of whether an individual has a Disability shall be determined under procedures established by the Committee. The Committee may rely on any determination that a Participant is disabled for purposes of benefits under any long-term disability plan maintained by the Company or any Affiliate in which a Participant participates. "Participant" means as to any Performance Period, those Employees and/or Consultants who are designated by the Committee to participate in the Plan for that Performance Period. "Performance Criteria" means the performance criteria upon which the Performance Goals for a particular Performance Period are based, which may include any of the following, or such other criteria as determined by the Committee in accordance with Section 5.2: net earnings or net income (before or after taxes);basic or diluted earnings per share (before or after taxes); net revenues or net revenue growth;gross revenue;gross profit or gross profit growth;net operating profit (before or after taxes);return on assets, capital, invested capital, equity or sales;cash flow (including, but not limited to, operating cash flow, free cash flow, and cash flow return on capital);earnings before or after taxes, interest, depreciation and/or amortization (EBITDA);gross or operating margins;improvements in capital structure;budget and expense management; productivity ratios;3Â Â Â Â economic value added (including, but not limited to, economic profit) or other value-added measurements;share price (including, but not limited to, growth measures and total shareholder return);expense targets;margins;operating efficiency;working capital targets;enterprise value;environmental, social, and governance targets;safety record; andcompletion of acquisitions or business expansion.Such Performance Criteria may relate to the performance of the Company as a whole, a business unit, division, department, individual, or any combination of these and may be applied on an absolute basis and/or relative to one or more peer group companies or indices, or any combination thereof, as the Committee shall determine."Performance Goals" means the goals selected by the Committee, in its discretion, to be applicable to a Participant for any Performance Period. Performance Goals shall be based upon one or more Performance Criteria. Performance Goals may include a threshold level of performance below which no Award will be paid and levels of performance at which specified percentages of the Target Award will be paid and may also include a maximum level of performance above which no additional Award amount will be paid. "Performance Period" means the period for which performance is calculated, which unless otherwise indicated by the Committee, shall be the Plan Year. "Plan" means the Kimball Electronics 2023 Profit Sharing Bonus Plan, as hereafter amended from time to time. "Plan Year" means the Company's fiscal year, which commences on July 1 and ends on June 30. â€œPro-Rated Awardâ€ means an amount equal to the Award otherwise payable to the Participant subject to the Participantâ€™s Continuous Service for a Performance Period but in which the Participant was actively employed by the Company or an Affiliate for only a portion thereof, multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of calendar days the Participant was actively employed by the Company or an Affiliate during the 4Â Â Â Â Performance Period and the denominator of which is the number of calendar days in the Performance Period.â€œQualifying Terminationâ€ means a Participantâ€™s termination of Continuous Service due to death, Disability, or Retirement. In the case of a Participant's Disability, the termination of Continuous Service shall be deemed to have occurred on the date that the Committee determines that the Participant is Disabled. For the avoidance of doubt, a Participantâ€™s termination of Continuous Service for any other reason shall not constitute a Qualifying Termination.â€œRetirementâ€ means a Participantâ€™s termination of Continuous Service, for any reason other than death, after the Participant has attained either (1) the age of 55 after at least ten years of Continuous Service with the Company, or (2) the minimum retirement age under the governmental retirement system for the applicable country of the Participantâ€™s employment (age 62 in the United States)."Target Award" means the target award payable under the Plan to a Participant for a particular Performance Period, expressed as a percentage of the Participant's Base Salary. In special circumstances, the target award may be expressed as a fixed amount of cash. 3.Â Â Â Â Administration. 3.1Â Â Â Â Authority of Committee. The Plan shall be administered by the Committee or, in the Board's sole discretion, by the Board. Subject to the terms of the Plan, the Committee's charter and Applicable Laws, and in addition to other express powers and authorization conferred by the Plan, the Committee shall have the authority: (a)Â Â Â Â to construe and interpret the Plan and apply its provisions; (b)Â Â Â Â to promulgate, amend, and rescind rules and regulations relating to the administration of the Plan, including, without limitation, such procedures and subplans as are necessary or appropriate to permit participation in the Plan by employees who are foreign nationals or employed outside of the United States;(c)Â Â Â Â Â to authorize any person to execute, on behalf of the Company, any instrument required to carry out the purposes of the Plan;(d)Â Â Â Â Â to delegate its authority to one or more Officers of the Company with respect to Awards that either (1) are made generally to all Participants, or (2) do not involve "insiders" within the meaning of Section 16 of the Exchange Act;(e)Â Â Â Â Â to determine when Awards are to be granted under the Plan; (f)Â Â Â Â from time to time to select, subject to the limitations set forth in this Plan, those eligible Award recipients to whom Awards shall be granted; (g)Â Â Â Â to prescribe the terms and conditions of each Award, including, without limitation, the Performance Goals; the Performance Period(s); the medium of payment 5Â Â Â Â and vesting provisions; whether, to what extent, and under what circumstances Awards may be forfeited or suspended;(h)Â Â Â Â to amend any outstanding Awards, including for the purpose of modifying the time or manner of vesting, or the term of any outstanding Award; provided, however, that if any such amendment impairs a Participant's rights or increases a Participant's obligations under their Award or creates or increases a Participant's federal income tax liability with respect to an Award, such amendment shall also be subject to the Participant's consent;(i)Â Â Â Â to determine the duration and purpose of leaves of absences which may be granted to a Participant without constituting termination of Continuous Service for purposes of the Plan, which periods shall be no shorter than the periods generally applicable to Employees under the Company's employment policies;(j)Â Â Â Â to make decisions with respect to outstanding Awards that may become necessary upon a change in corporate control or an event that triggers adjustments to outstanding Awards;(k)Â Â Â Â to interpret, administer, reconcile any inconsistency in, correct any defect in and/or supply any omission in the Plan and any instrument or agreement relating to, or Award granted under, the Plan; and(l)Â Â Â Â to exercise discretion to make any and all other determinations which it determines to be necessary or advisable for the administration of the Plan. 3.2Â Â Â Â Committee Decisions Final. All decisions made by the Committee pursuant to the provisions of the Plan shall be final and binding on the Company and the Participants, unless such decisions are determined by a court having jurisdiction to be arbitrary and capricious.3.3Â Â Â Â Delegation by the Committee. The Committee, in its sole discretion, may delegate all or part of its authority and powers under the Plan to one or more directors and/or officers of the Company; provided, however, that the Committee may not delegate its responsibility to make Awards to executive officers. 3.4Â Â Â Â Agents; Limitation of Liability. The Committee may appoint agents to assist in administering the Plan. The Committee and each member thereof shall be entitled to, in good faith, rely or act upon any report or other information furnished to it or him by any officer or employee of the Company, the Company's certified public accountants, consultants or any other agent assisting in the administration of the Plan.3.5Â Â Â Â Indemnification. In addition to such other rights of indemnification as they may have as Directors, members of the Committee, officers, employees, or agents of the Company, and to the extent allowed by Applicable Laws, the Committee and any officers, employees or agents of the Company appointed by the Committee (â€œIndemnified Partiesâ€) to assist in administering the Plan shall be indemnified by the Company against the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, actually incurred in connection with any action, suit or 6Â Â Â Â proceeding or in connection with any appeal therein, to which any of the Indemnified Parties may be party by reason of any action taken or failure to act under or in connection with the Plan or any Award granted under the Plan, and against all amounts paid by the Indemnified Parties in settlement thereof (provided, however, that the settlement has been approved by the Company, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld) or paid by the Indemnified Parties in satisfaction of a judgment in any such action, suit or proceeding, except in relation to matters as to which it shall be adjudged in such action, suit or proceeding that the Indemnified Parties did not act in good faith and in a manner which such person reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Company, or in the case of a criminal proceeding, had no reason to believe that the conduct complained of was unlawful; provided, however, that within 60 days after the institution of any such action, suit or proceeding, the Indemnified Parties shall, in writing, offer the Company the opportunity at its own expense to handle and defend such action, suit or proceeding. 4.Â Â Â Â Eligibility and Participation. 4.1Â Â Â Â No Guarantee of Participation, Employment. Only eligible individuals who are designated by the Committee to participate in the Plan with respect to a particular Performance Period may participate in the Plan for that Performance Period. A Participant shall not have any right to any Award under the Plan until such Award has been paid to such Participant. An individual who is designated as a Participant for a given Performance Period is not guaranteed or assured of (a) continued employment by the Company or an Affiliate or (b) being selected for participation in any subsequent Performance Period. 4.2Â Â Â Â New Hires; Newly Eligible Participants. At the discretion of the Committee, a newly hired or newly eligible Participant will be eligible to receive a Pro-Rated Award. 5.Â Â Â Â Terms of Awards. 5.1Â Â Â Â Determination of Target Awards. Prior to, or reasonably promptly following the commencement of each Performance Period, the Committee, in its sole discretion, shall establish the Target Award for each Participant, the payment of which shall be conditioned on the achievement of the Performance Goals for the Performance Period. 5.2Â Â Â Â Determination of Performance Goals and Performance Formula. Prior to, or reasonably promptly following the commencement of, each Performance Period, the Committee, in its sole discretion, shall establish in writing the Performance Goals for the Performance Period and shall prescribe a formula for determining the percentage of the Target Award which may be payable based upon the level of attainment of the Performance Goals for the Performance Period. The Performance Goals shall be based on one or more Performance Criteria, each of which may carry a different weight, and which may differ from Participant to Participant.5.3Â Â Â Â Adjustments. The Committee is authorized to adjust or modify the calculation of a Performance Goal for a Performance Period in its sole discretion in connection with any one or more of the following events:7Â Â Â Â (a)Â Â Â Â asset write-downs;(b)Â Â Â Â significant litigation or claim judgments or settlements;(c)Â Â Â Â the effect of changes in tax laws, accounting standards or principles, or other laws or regulatory rules affecting reporting results;(d)Â Â Â Â any reorganization and restructuring programs;(e)Â Â Â Â extraordinary nonrecurring items as described in management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations appearing in the Company's annual report to shareholders for the applicable year or period;(f)Â Â Â Â acquisitions or divestitures;(g)Â Â Â Â any other specific unusual or nonrecurring events or objectively determinable category thereof;(h)Â Â Â Â foreign exchange gains and losses; and(i)Â Â Â Â a change in the Company's fiscal year.6.Â Â Â Â Payment of Awards.6.1Â Â Â Â Determination of Awards. (a)Â Â Â Â Following the completion of each Performance Period, the Committee shall determine the extent to which the Performance Goals have been achieved or exceeded. Subject to Section 6.1(c), if the minimum Performance Goals established by the Committee are not achieved, then no payment will be made. (b)Â Â Â Â To the extent that the Performance Goals are achieved, the Committee shall determine the extent to which the Performance Goals applicable to each Participant have been achieved and shall then determine the amount of each Participant's Award. (c)Â Â Â Â In determining the amount of each Award, the Committee may reduce or eliminate the amount of an Award if, in its sole discretion, such reduction or elimination is appropriate. 6.2Â Â Â Â Form and Timing of Payment. Except as otherwise provided herein, as soon as practicable following the Committee's determination pursuant to Section 6.1 for the applicable Performance Period, each Participant shall be paid a cash lump sum payment of their Award, less required withholdings. In no event shall such payment be made later than 2 1/2 months following the date the Committee determines that the Performance Goals have been achieved.6.3Â Â Â Â Deferral of Awards. The Committee may establish one or more programs to permit selected Participants the opportunity to elect to defer receipt of an Award that absent the election would entitle the Participant to payment of an Award. The Committee may 8Â Â Â Â establish the election procedures, the timing of such elections, the mechanisms for payments of, and accrual of interest or other earnings, if any, on amounts or other consideration so deferred, and such other terms, conditions, rules and procedures that the Committee deems advisable for the administration of any such deferral program in accordance with Applicable Law.7.Â Â Â Â Termination of Continuous Service. 7.1Â Â Â Â Continuous Service Requirement. Except as otherwise provided in Section 7.2, Awards are earned on the last day of the Plan Year; therefore if a Participant's Continuous Service terminates for any reason prior to that date, all of the Participant's rights to an Award for the Performance Period shall be forfeited.7.2Â Â Â Â Termination of Continuous Service Due to Qualifying Termination. If a Participant's Continuous Service is terminated by reason of the Participant's Qualifying Termination during a Performance Period, the Participant or their beneficiary will be paid a Pro-Rated Award. Payment of such Pro-Rated Award will be made at the same time and in the same manner as Awards are paid to other Participants for the Performance Period. In no event shall such payment be made later than 2 1/2 months following the date the Committee determines that the Performance Goals have been achieved.8.Â Â Â Â General Provisions. 8.1Â Â Â Â Forfeiture Events. A Participant's rights, payments and benefits with respect to an Award shall be subject to reduction, cancellation, forfeiture or recoupment upon the occurrence of certain events, in addition to applicable vesting conditions of an Award, as determined in the Committeeâ€™s sole discretion. Such events may include, without limitation, breach of non-competition, non-solicitation, confidentiality, or other restrictive covenants applicable to the Participant, a termination of the Participant's Continuous Service for Cause, or other conduct by the Participant that is detrimental to the business or reputation of the Company and/or its Affiliates.8.2Â Â Â Â Clawback. Notwithstanding any other provisions in this Plan, the Company may cancel any Award, require reimbursement of any Award by a Participant, and effect any other right of recoupment provided under the Plan in accordance with any Company policies that may be adopted and/or modified from time to time (â€œClawback Policyâ€). In addition, a Participant may be required to repay to the Company previously paid compensation, whether provided pursuant to the Plan or otherwise, in accordance with the Clawback Policy. By accepting an Award, the Participant is agreeing to be bound by the Clawback Policy, as in effect or as may be adopted and/or modified from time to time by the Company in its discretion (including, without limitation, to comply with Applicable Laws or stock exchange listing requirements). The action permitted to be taken by the Company under this Section 9.2 is in addition to, and not in lieu of, any and all other rights of the Board and/or the Company under Applicable Laws and shall apply notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Plan.9Â Â Â Â 8.3Â Â Â Â Unfunded Plan. Nothing contained in the Plan, and no action taken pursuant to its provisions, shall create or be construed to create a trust of any kind or a fiduciary relationship between the Company and any Participant, beneficiary, or legal representative or any other person. To the extent that a person acquires a right to receive payments under the Plan, such right shall be no greater than the right of an unsecured general creditor of the Company. All payments to be made hereunder shall be paid from the general funds of the Company and no special or separate fund shall be established and no segregation of assets shall be made to assure payment of such amounts except as expressly set forth in the Plan. The Plan is not intended to be subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (ERISA).8.4Â Â Â Â Compliance with Legal Requirements. The Plan and the granting of Awards shall be subject to all Applicable Laws, and to such approvals by any regulatory or governmental agency as may be required. 8.5Â Â Â Â Non-Transferability. A person's rights and interests under the Plan, including any Award previously made to such person or any amounts payable under the Plan may not be assigned, pledged, or transferred, except in the event of the Participant's death, to a designated beneficiary in accordance with the Plan, or in the absence of such designation, by will or the laws of descent or distribution. 8.6Â Â Â Â Withholding. The Company shall have the right to withhold from any Award, any federal, state or local income and/or payroll taxes required by law to be withheld and to take such other action as the Committee may deem advisable to enable the Company and Participants to satisfy obligations for the payment of withholding taxes and other tax obligations relating to an Award. 8.7Â Â Â Â Section 409A of the Code. It is intended that payments under the Plan qualify as short-term deferrals exempt from the requirements of Section 409A of the Code. In the event that any Award does not qualify for treatment as an exempt short-term deferral, it is intended that such amount will be paid in a manner that satisfies the requirements of Section 409A of the Code. The Plan shall be interpreted and construed accordingly. 8.8Â Â Â Â Expenses. The costs of administering the Plan shall be paid by the Company.8.9Â Â Â Â Severability. If any of the provisions of the Plan or any Award Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, whether in whole or in part, such provision shall be deemed modified to the extent, but only to the extent, of such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability and the remaining provisions shall not be affected thereby.8.10Â Â Â Â Plan Headings. The headings in the Plan are for purposes of convenience only and are not intended to define or limit the construction of the provisions hereof.8.11Â Â Â Â Non-Uniform Treatment. The Committee's determinations under the Plan need not be uniform and may be made by it selectively among persons who are eligible to receive, or actually receive, Awards. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Committee shall be entitled to make non-uniform and selective determinations, amendments, and adjustments, and Awards.10Â Â Â Â 8.12Â Â Â Â Other Compensation Arrangements. The adoption of this Plan shall not be construed as creating any limitations on the power of the Board or Committee to adopt such other compensation arrangements, subject to shareholder approval if such approval is required, as it may deem desirable for any Participant.8.13Â Â Â Â Notice. Any notice to be given to the Company or the Committee pursuant to the provisions of the Plan shall be in writing and directed to the Secretary of the Company at 1205 Kimball Boulevard, Jasper, IN 47546. 8.14Â Â Â Â Successors. The obligations of the Company under the Plan shall be binding upon any successor corporation or organization resulting from the merger, consolidation or other reorganization of the Company, or upon any successor corporation or organization succeeding to all or substantially all of the assets and business of the Company and its Affiliates, taken as a whole. 9.Â Â Â Â Amendment or Termination of the Plan. The Board or the Committee may, at any time, amend, suspend, or terminate the Plan in whole or in part. Notwithstanding the foregoing, rights under any Award granted before amendment or termination of the Plan shall not be impaired by any amendment or termination of the Plan unless (a) the Company requests the consent of the Participant and (b) the Participant consents in writing. 10.Â Â Â Â Choice of Law and Jurisdiction. The law of the State of Indiana shall govern all questions concerning the construction, validity and interpretation of this Plan, without regard to such stateâ€™s conflict of law rules. Without prejudice to any partyâ€™s right to seek emergency, injunctive, or conservatory measures of protection in connection with a breach or anticipated breach of the Plan at any time in a state or federal court of competent jurisdiction within the State of Indiana, the Company and Participants consent to and agree that the exclusive jurisdiction and venue for all matters arising out of or relating to this Plan, or the breach thereof, including any question regarding its existence, validity, or termination, shall be arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association in accordance with its Employment Arbitration Rules, and judgment on the award rendered by the arbitrator(s) may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof. The arbitration shall be held, and the award rendered accompanied by a reasoned opinion, in the English language.As adopted by the Board of Directors of Kimball Electronics, Inc. on August 12, 2024.11Â Â Â Â EX-10.3 3 exhibit103amendmentstothec.htm KIMBALL ELECTRONICS, INC. EXHIBIT 10.3 DocumentExhibit 10.3CERTIFICATE OF THE SECRETARY OFKIMBALL ELECTRONICS, INC., an Indiana corporationThe undersigned hereby certifies that he is the duly elected and qualified Secretary of Kimball Electronics, Inc., an Indiana corporation (the â€œCompanyâ€); that, as such, he is authorized to execute this Certificate on behalf of the Company, and further certifies that:1.Kimball Electronics, Inc. (the â€œCompanyâ€) directly or indirectly owns 100% of the interests of the Subsidiary.2.On November 19, 2024, the Companyâ€™s Retirement Planning and Advisory Committee, met, in relevant part, to consider amendments to the Companyâ€™s Supplemental Employee Retirement Plan. The meeting was properly noticed and a quorum of the RPAC was present and acting throughout.3.During the meeting, the RPAC adopted the following resolutions (collectively, the â€œRPAC Meeting Resolutionsâ€):WHEREAS, Kimball Electronics, Inc. (the â€œEmployerâ€) maintains the Kimball Electronics Supplemental Employee Retirement Plan (the â€œPlanâ€ or the â€œSERPâ€) for its certain of its employees who are eligible to participate in the Plan;WHEREAS, in accordance with Article 10, Employerâ€™s Chief Executive Officer has appointed Employerâ€™s Retirement Planning and Advisory Committee (â€œRPACâ€) as the SERP Committee for Plan purposes;WHEREAS, the RPAC has determined that it is in the best interests of Employer to amend the Plan; andWHEREAS, Article 11 of the Plan authorizes the RPAC to amend the Plan.NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the RPAC hereby amends the SERP effective November 1, 2024, as follows:A.References to â€œthe SERP Committeeâ€ in the Plan are replaced with â€œthe Retirement Planning and Advisory Committee.â€B.The last sentence of Article 2 is replaced in its entirety with the following:Commencing January 1, 2025, the Plan will be administered on a January 1 through December 31 calendar year basis (the â€œPlan Yearâ€).C.Article 4 is replaced in its entirety with the following, effective for deferral elections made on or after November 1, 2024. Deferral elections made on or before December 31, 2023 shall be administered under the terms of Article 4 in effect prior to November 1, 2024:a.Each Participant shall be entitled to make a written election to defer receipt of a designated whole percentage of cash compensation not to exceed 50% not later than December 31 of the year prior to the calendar year in which the service period related to such compensation commences. Unless an earlier date is specified in such written election, the election becomes irrevocable on December 31 of the year the election is delivered to the Retirement Planning and Advisory Committee. This written election shall include an election as to the form of payment following separation from service as provided in Article 6 and may include a designation of a beneficiary. Any beneficiary designation revokes all prior designations and shall apply to all of the Participantâ€™s accounts under this Plan. With respect to the 2025 Plan Year, salary deferrals under a Participant election submitted on or before December 31, 2023, effective for the salary or other compensation earned during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2024 through June 30, 2025, shall remain in effect through June 30, 2025 consistent with the terms of such fiscal year deferral election. Any deferral election submitted after November 1, 2024 and on or before December 31, 2024 for the 2025 Plan Year shall be applied with respect to compensation earned in 2025 in addition to the fiscal year election for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2025 and may provide, as permitted by the Retirement Planning and Advisory Committee, that deferrals will commence under such election with the first payroll period that begins on or after July 1, 2025.b.A Participant may elect to change their beneficiary designation at any time.D.Article 7 is amended to read in its entirety as follows, effective for deferral elections made on or after November 1, 2024. Deferral elections made on or before December 31, 2023 shall be administered under the terms of Article 7 in effect prior to November 1, 2024:ARTICLE 7. â€“ Retirement Plan â€œMake-Upâ€Employer contributions that would have been made to the Participantâ€™s account under the terms of the Companyâ€™s Retirement Plan but were not made due to the contribution limit under Internal Revenue Code Section 415, the compensation limit under Internal Revenue Code Section 401(a)(17) or as a result of the Participantâ€™s elective deferrals under this Plan that reduced the compensation taken into account for purposes of the employer allocations under the Retirement Plan may, in the sole discretion of the Retirement Planning and Advisory Committee, be credited to the Participantâ€™s account under this Plan. In the case of matching contributions, the amount credited under this Plan will be the matching contribution rate under the Retirement Plan applied to deferrals under this Plan and without regard to whether the Participant made the maximum elective deferrals under the Retirement Plan. The credit under this Article 7 will be made to and paid in accordance with the Participantâ€™s account established for the Plan Year in which the Retirement Planâ€™s plan year ends. If the Participant does not have a deferral election on file for the applicable Plan Year, any credit under this Article 7 will be paid in a lump sum under Article 6.0E.Article 13(g) is replaced in its entirety with the following:g.Â Â Â Â Indemnification. To the extent not covered by insurance, the Company shall indemnify the Retirement Planning and Advisory Committee, each employee, officer, director, and agent of the Company, and all persons formerly serving in such capacities, against any and all liabilities or expenses, including all legal fees relating thereto, arising in connection with the exercise of their duties and responsibilities with respect to the Plan, provided however that the Company shall not indemnify any person for liabilities or expenses due to that person's own gross negligence or willful misconduct.F.New Article 13(h) is inserted:h.Â Â Â Â Not an Employment Agreement. Nothing in the establishment or existence of the Plan is to be construed as giving any Participant the right to be retained in the employ of the Company or to be entitled to any right or benefit other than the benefits provided for herein.4.The RPAC Meeting Resolutions have not been modified, rescinded, or revoked and are at present in full force and effect as of the date hereof.IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand this 19th day of November, 2024.Â Â Â Â

Significant Accounting Policies	Business Description and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Business Description:

Kimball Electronics, Inc. (also referred to herein as “Kimball Electronics,” the “Company,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) is a global, multifaceted manufacturing solutions provider. We provide electronics manufacturing services (“EMS”), including engineering and supply chain support, to customers in the automotive, medical, and industrial end markets. We deliver a package of value that begins with our core competency of producing durable electronics, and we further offer contract manufacturing services for non-electronic components, medical disposables, and precision molded plastics. Our design and manufacturing expertise coupled with robust processes and procedures help us ensure that we deliver the highest levels of quality, reliability, and service throughout the entire life cycle of our customers’ products. We deliver award-winning service across our highly integrated global footprint, which is enabled by our largely common operating system, procedures, and standardization. We are well recognized by customers and industry trade publications for our excellent quality, reliability, and innovative service.

Basis of Presentation:

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements presented herein reflect the consolidated financial position as of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, results of operations for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, cash flows for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, and share owners’ equity for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023. The financial data presented herein is unaudited and should be read in conjunction with the annual Consolidated Financial Statements as of and for the year ended June 30, 2024 and related notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K. As such, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) have been condensed or omitted, although we believe that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. Intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated. Management believes the financial statements include all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring adjustments) considered necessary to present fairly the financial statements for the interim periods. The results of operations for the interim periods shown in this report are not necessarily indicative of results for any future interim period or for the entire fiscal year.

Revenue Recognition:

We recognize revenue in accordance with the standard issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”), Revenue from Contracts with Customers and all the related amendments. Our revenue from contracts with customers is generated primarily from manufacturing services provided for the production of electronic assemblies, components, medical devices, medical disposables, precision molded plastics, and automation, test, and inspection equipment built to customer’s specifications. Our customer agreements are generally not for a definitive term but continue for the relevant product’s life cycle. Typically, our customer agreements do not commit the customer to purchase our services until a purchase order is provided, which is generally short term in nature. Customer purchase orders primarily have a single performance obligation. Generally, the prices stated in the customer purchase orders are agreed upon prices for the manufactured product and do not vary over the term of the order, and therefore, the majority of our contracts do not contain variable consideration. In limited circumstances, we may enter into a contract which contains minimum quantity thresholds to cover our capital costs, and we may offer our customer a rebate for specific volume thresholds or other incentives; in these cases, the rebates or incentives are accounted for as variable consideration.

The majority of our revenue is recognized over time as manufacturing services are performed as we manufacture a product to customer specifications with no alternative use and we have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date. The remaining revenue for manufacturing services is recognized when the customer obtains control of the product, typically either upon shipment or delivery of the product dependent on the terms of the contract, and the customer is able to direct the use of and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from the asset. We generally recognize revenue over time using costs based input methods, in which judgment is required to evaluate assumptions including anticipated margins to estimate the corresponding amount of revenue to recognize. Costs used as a basis for estimating anticipated margins include material, direct and indirect labor, and appropriate applied overheads. Anticipated margins are determined based on historical or quoted customer pricing. Costs based input methods are considered a faithful depiction of our efforts and progress toward satisfying our performance obligations for manufacturing services and for which we believe we are entitled to payment for performance completed to date. The cumulative effect of revisions to estimates related to net contract revenues or costs are recorded in the period in which the revisions to estimates are identified and the amounts can be reasonably estimated.

We have elected to account for shipping and handling activities related to contracts with customers as costs to fulfill our promise to transfer the associated services and products. Accordingly, we record customer payments of shipping and handling costs as a component of net sales and classify such costs as a component of cost of sales. We recognize sales net of applicable sales or value add taxes. Based on estimated product returns and price concessions, a reserve for returns and allowances is recorded at the time revenue is recognized, resulting in a reduction of net revenue.

Direct incremental costs to obtain and fulfill a contract are capitalized as a contract asset only if they are material, expected to be recovered, and are not accounted for in accordance with other guidance. Incidental items that are immaterial in the context of the contract are recognized as expense in the period incurred.

Trade Accounts Receivable:

The Company’s trade accounts receivable are recorded per the terms of the agreement or sale, and accrued interest is recognized when earned. Our policy for estimating the allowance for credit losses on trade accounts receivable includes analysis of such items as aging, credit worthiness, payment history, and historical bad debt experience. Management uses these specific analyses in conjunction with an evaluation of the general economic and market conditions to estimate expected credit losses. Management believes that historical loss information generally provides a basis for its assessment of expected credit losses. Trade accounts receivable are written off after exhaustive collection efforts occur and the receivable is deemed uncollectible. Adjustments to the allowance for credit losses are recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.

In the ordinary course of business, customers periodically negotiate extended payment terms on trade accounts receivable. Customary terms require payment within 30 to 45 days, with any terms beyond 45 days being considered extended payment terms. We participate in our customers’ supply chain financing arrangements for certain of our accounts receivables in order to extend terms for the customer without negatively impacting our cash flow. These arrangements in all cases do not contain recourse provisions which would obligate us in the event of our customers’ failure to pay. Receivables are considered sold when they are transferred beyond the reach of Kimball Electronics and its creditors, the purchaser has the right to pledge or exchange the receivables, and we have surrendered control over the transferred receivables. In the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, we sold, without recourse, $169.0 million and $198.9 million of accounts receivable, respectively. For the three months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, factoring fees were $0.5 million and $0.8 million, and $1.1 million and $1.7 million during the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Factoring fees are recorded in Non-operating income (expense), net on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024. Prior to fiscal year 2025, factoring fees were recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses.

During the three months ended December 31, 2023, changes to the expected timing of payments from and risk of default for a customer resulted in the recording of an allowance for credit losses of $2.0 million in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Although the customer is not in bankruptcy and we will continue to pursue full recovery, an allowance was deemed necessary in consideration of the expected timing of payments and risk of default. The amount expected to be collected after twelve months is included in Other Assets, net on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet. At December 31, 2024, the noncurrent receivable associated with this customer in Other Assets, net of allowance for expected credit losses, totaled $2.7 million. The current portion of receivables from this customer is $2.6 million at December 31, 2024.

Non-operating Income (Expense), net:

Non-operating income (expense), net includes the impact of such items as foreign currency rate movements and related derivative gain or loss, fair value adjustments on supplemental employee retirement plan (“SERP”) investments, government subsidies, factoring fees, bank charges, and other miscellaneous non-operating income and expense items that are not directly related to operations. Prior to fiscal year 2025, factoring fees were recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. The gain (loss) on SERP investments is offset by a change in the SERP liability that is recognized in Selling and Administrative Expenses.

Income Taxes:

In determining the quarterly provision for income taxes, we use an estimated annual effective tax rate which is based on expected annual income, statutory tax rates, and available tax planning opportunities in the various jurisdictions in which we operate. Unusual or infrequently occurring items are separately recognized in the quarter in which they occur.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities, recorded in Other Assets, net and Other long-term liabilities, respectively, in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, are recognized for the estimated future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. These assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. We evaluate the recoverability of deferred tax assets each quarter by assessing the likelihood of future taxable income and available tax planning strategies that could be implemented to realize our deferred tax assets. If recovery is not likely, we provide a valuation allowance based on our best estimate of future taxable income in the various taxing jurisdictions and the amount of deferred taxes ultimately realizable. Future events could change management's assessment.

We operate within multiple taxing jurisdictions and are subject to tax audits in these jurisdictions. These audits can involve complex uncertain tax positions, which may require an extended period of time to resolve. A tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. We maintain a liability for uncertain income tax and other tax positions, including accrued interest and penalties on those positions. As tax positions are effectively settled, the tax liability is adjusted accordingly. We recognize interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in Provision for Income Taxes on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.

The U.S. Tax Cuts and Jobs Act ("Tax Reform") was enacted into law on December 22, 2017, making broad and complex changes to the U.S. tax code, for which complete guidance may have not yet been issued. Tax Reform, in addition to other changes, required a one-time transition tax on certain unremitted earnings of foreign subsidiaries that is payable over an eight-year period. As of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, the remaining provision recorded for the one-time deemed repatriation tax was $3.3 million and $5.9 million, respectively, payable through fiscal year 2026. As of December 31, 2024, the remaining deemed repatriation tax is short term and is recorded in Accrued expenses on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

With the expected capital gains generated from the sale of the Tampa property, a portion of our deferred tax asset allowances from past capital losses are now expected to be realized, and in the second quarter of fiscal year 2025, we reversed $2.4 million of these allowances, reducing our income tax expense.

New Accounting Standards:

Not Yet Adopted:

In November 2024, the Financial Accounting Standards Board FASB issued guidance on Expense Disaggregation Disclosures, requiring more disclosure about the types of expenses presented in our expense captions. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026 and for interim periods within annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance can be applied prospectively or retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.

In November 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, requiring additional, more detailed information about a reportable segment. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.

In December 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, intended to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance is to be adopted prospectively with the option to adopt retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.

Revenue from Contract with Customer [Abstract]

Revenue from Contract with Customer

Revenue from Contracts with Customers

Our revenue from contracts with customers is generated primarily from manufacturing services provided for the production of electronic assemblies, electronic and non-electronic components, medical devices, medical disposables, and precision molded plastics in automotive, medical, and industrial applications, to the specifications and designs of our customers.

The following table disaggregates our revenue by end market vertical for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.

(Amounts in Millions)	Three Months Ended December 31 2024	Three Months Ended December 31 2023	Six Months Ended December 31 2024	Six Months Ended December 31 2023
Vertical Markets:
Automotive	$ 192.8	$ 200.2	$ 381.1	$ 412.7
Medical	84.0	108.1	173.8	210.5
Industrial	80.6	112.9	176.7	236.1
Total net sales	$ 357.4	$ 421.2	$ 731.6	$ 859.3

For the three months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, approximately 99% and 95% of our net sales were recognized over time as manufacturing services were performed under a customer contract on a product with no alternative use and we have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date. For the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, approximately 98% and 96% of our net sales were recognized over time. The remaining sales revenues were recognized at a point in time when the customer obtained control of the products.

The timing differences of revenue recognition, billings to our customers, and cash collections from our customers result in billed accounts receivable and unbilled accounts receivable. Contract assets on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets relate to unbilled accounts receivable and occur when revenue is recognized over time as manufacturing services are provided and the billing to the customer has not yet occurred as of the balance sheet date, which are generally transferred to receivables in the next fiscal quarter due to the short-term nature of the manufacturing cycle. Contract assets were $82.0 million and $76.3 million as of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, respectively.

The Company may receive payments from customers in advance of the satisfaction of performance obligations primarily for material price variances, inventory purchases, tooling, or other miscellaneous services or costs. These payments are recognized as contract liabilities until the performance obligations are completed and are included in Advances from customers, if inventory related, and Accrued expenses, if not inventory related, on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, which amounted to $50.8 million and $43.1 million as of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, respectively. Our performance obligations are short term in nature and therefore our contract liabilities are all expected to be settled within twelve months. We also have deposits associated with inventory purchases classified as long term. See Note 5 - Inventories of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion.

Disposal Groups, Including Discontinued Operations, Disclosure

Sale of GES

Following approval by our Board of Directors, on July 31, 2024, we entered into a definitive agreement and closed on the sale of 100% of the equity interests in GES to Averna Test Systems, Inc., resulting in cash proceeds after costs to sell of $18.5 million, which is subject to additional purchase price adjustments. The pre-tax gain recognized on the sale in the first quarter of fiscal year 2025 was $1.3 million. In fiscal year 2024, following the Company's decision to divest of GES, we classified the disposal group as held for sale and recognized $22.9 million in pre-tax impairment charges.

The following table summarizes net sales and income (loss) before taxes on income for the disposal group:

(Amounts in Thousands)	Three Months Ended December 31 2024	Three Months Ended December 31 2023	Six Months Ended December 31 2024	Six Months Ended December 31 2023

Income (Loss) Before Taxes on Income [1]	$ —	$ 1,146	$ 985	$ 551

(1) Includes gain on sale of $1.3 million for the six months ended December 31, 2024. Each period also includes allocated corporate overhead expenses.

Restructuring and Related Activities [Abstract]

Restructuring and Related Activities Disclosure

Restructuring Activities

In the three and six months ended December 31, 2024, we continued our restructuring efforts to align our cost structure with reduced end market demand levels, including resizing our workforce and taking specific cost actions, and recorded restructuring expense of $1.7 million and $4.0 million, respectively, which were primarily employee-related costs. The cumulative amount incurred since inception of these efforts beginning in fiscal year 2024 through December 31, 2024 was $6.4 million. We expect to continue executing these previously announced restructuring efforts over the remainder of the fiscal year and estimate between $0.5 million and $1.0 million of additional pre-tax restructuring charges.

Additionally, on November 4, 2024, the Company announced that its Board of Directors has approved a plan to cease operations at our Tampa facility ("Tampa Closure Plan"), expected to be substantially completed by the end of the fiscal year. The decision was made to leverage capacity within our global footprint and streamlining the operating structure. We expect to incur approximately $6.5 million to $8.5 million in total exit costs, including most significantly $4.0 million to $5.0 million in employee termination benefits and $2.5 million to $3.5 million in logistical costs to transfer and validate programs at our other facilities. We expect these costs to be predominantly cash expenditures, and a majority are anticipated to be incurred over the remainder of fiscal year 2025. For the three and six months ended December 31, 2024, we recorded restructuring expense of $3.0 million for the Tampa Closure Plan.

Accrued restructuring is recorded in Accrued expenses in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet. The changes in the Company's accrued restructuring costs under the Tampa Closure Plan were as follows:

(Amounts in Thousands)	Severance and Termination Benefits	Other Exit Costs	Total
Balance at June 30, 2024	$ —	$ —	$ —
Restructuring charges	2,726	264	2,990
Payments	(93)	(264)	(357)
Non-cash activity	—	—	—
Balance at December 31, 2024	$ 2,633	$ —	$ 2,633

Once Tampa's operations have ceased, we expect to sell the building and land, with the proceeds from the sale anticipated to exceed the exit costs.

Inventories

Inventories were valued using the lower of first-in, first-out ("FIFO") cost and net realizable value. Inventory components were as follows:

(Amounts in Thousands)	December 31, 2024	June 30, 2024
Finished products	$ 222	$ 141
Work-in-process	—	—
Raw materials	306,020	337,975
Total inventory	$ 306,242	$ 338,116

Additionally, as of December 31 and June 30, 2024, we have raw materials inventory totaling $44.3 million and $42.8 million, respectively, classified as long-term included in Other Assets, net in our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. A majority of this inventory is associated with a customer who is remediating a recall and we do not expect the inventory to be consumed within the next twelve months. As of December 31 and June 30, 2024, we have received deposits from this customer for this long-term inventory totaling $30.7 million and $38.7 million, respectively, which is included in Other long-term liabilities in our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. The remaining inventory classified as long term is primarily related to other excess raw materials inventory we do not expect to consume or sell within twelve months. For a majority of these, we have arrangements with our customers to pay us carrying costs.

Commitments and Contingent Liabilities

The Company typically provides only assurance-type warranties for a limited time period, which cover workmanship and assures the product complies with specifications provided by or agreed upon with the customer. We maintain a provision for limited warranty repair or replacement of products manufactured and sold, which has been established in specific manufacturing contract agreements. We estimate product warranty liability at the time of sale based on historical repair or replacement cost trends in conjunction with the length of the warranty offered. Management refines the warranty liability regularly based on changes in historical cost trends and in certain cases where specific warranty issues become known. This product warranty liability and expense were immaterial during the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.

(1) The Company maintained a U.S. primary credit facility which was scheduled to mature on May 4, 2027 that provided for $300 million in borrowings, and the Company had utilized this facility for revolving borrowings. On December 20, 2024, the Company entered into an amended and restated credit agreement (the "restated primary credit facility") among the Company, the lenders party thereto, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N. A., as Administrative Agent, and Bank of America, N.A., as Documentation Agent. The restated primary credit facility adds a term loan borrowing facility that provides for term loan borrowings ("term borrowings") of $100 million repayable in scheduled quarterly installments, scheduled to mature December 20, 2029. The terms for the revolving borrowings remain largely unchanged with a maturity date of May 4, 2027 and continue to provide for $300 million in borrowings, with an option to increase the amount available for borrowing to $450 million upon request, subject to the consent of each lender participating in such increase.

This facility is maintained for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company, and pursuant to the restated primary credit facility, the Company is permitted to use the proceeds to refinance existing indebtedness. A commitment fee is payable on the unused portion of the credit facility at a rate that ranges from 10.0 to 25.0 basis points per annum as determined by the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, as defined in the restated primary credit facility. Types of borrowings available on the restated primary credit facility include term loans, revolving loans, multi-currency term loans, and swingline loans.

At December 31, 2024, all outstanding borrowings under the primary credit facility were Term Benchmark borrowings denominated in U.S. dollars.

The interest rate on borrowings is dependent on the class, type and currencies of borrowings and will be one of the following options:

- any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in U.S. Dollars will utilize the Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR") for one, three, or six-month tenors as elected, which is a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate for such business day published by the SOFR Administrator, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, on the immediately succeeding business day, plus ten hundredths percent (0.10%), plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA;

- any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in Euros will utilize the Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR") in effect two target days prior to the advance (adjusted upwards to reflect bank reserve costs) for such interest period as defined in the agreement, plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Term Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; or
- the Alternate Base Rate ("ABR"), which is defined as the highest of the fluctuating rate per annum equal to the higher of:

  a. Prime Rate in the U.S. last quoted by the Wall Street Journal, and if this is ceased to be quoted, the highest bank prime loan rate or similar loan rate quoted by the Federal Reserve Board;

  b. 1/2 of 1% per annum above the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (NYFRB) Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); or

  c. 1% per annum above the Adjusted SOFR Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility);

  plus the Revolving Commitment ABR spread which can range from 0.0 to 75.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA. Under the restated primary credit facility, the ABR Spread and Benchmark Spread for term borrowings are the same as for revolving borrowings.

The Company's financial covenants under the amended primary credit facility require:

- a ratio of consolidated total indebtedness minus unencumbered U.S. cash on hand in the United States in excess of $15 million to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, determined as of the end of each of its fiscal quarters for the then most recently ended four fiscal quarters, to not be greater than 3.0 to 1.0, provided, however, that for each fiscal quarter end during the four quarter period following a material permitted acquisition, as defined in the Credit Agreement, the Company will not permit this financial covenant to be greater than 3.5 to 1.0 for each such fiscal quarter end, and,
- an interest coverage ratio, defined as that ratio of consolidated EBITDA for such period to cash interest expense for such period, for any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters, to not be less than 3.5 to 1.0.

The Company had $0.4 million in letters of credit contingently committed against the primary credit facility at both December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024.

(2) Concurrently on December 20, 2024 with its entry into the restated primary credit facility, the Company terminated its 364-day multi-currency revolving credit facility agreement (the "secondary credit facility"), which was entered into on January 5, 2024 and originally scheduled to mature on January 3, 2025. The secondary credit facility allowed for borrowings up to $100.0 million, and the Company had no borrowings on the secondary credit facility at June 30, 2024.

(3) The Company also maintains foreign credit facilities for working capital and general corporate purposes at specific foreign locations rather than utilizing funding from intercompany sources. These foreign credit facilities can be canceled at any time by either the bank or us and generally include renewal clauses. Interest on borrowing under these facilities is charged at a rate as defined under the respective foreign credit facility. As a result of the GES divestiture that occurred on July 31, 2024, the Company no longer has the Vietnam credit facility, which allowed for borrowings up to $5.0 million.

(4) The amount of long-term debt under credit facilities, less current maturities, reflects the revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility that the Company intends, and has the ability, to refinance for a period longer than twelve months in addition to the long-term portion of the term borrowings. The revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility matures on May 4, 2027.

As of December 31, 2024, the contractual maturities of the term borrowings on the primary credit facility were as follows:

(Amounts in Millions)	Contractual Maturities
Fiscal year:
Remaining 2025	$ 2.50
2026	5.00
2027	6.25
2028	7.50
2029	8.75
Thereafter	70.00
Total	$ 100.00

The weighted-average interest rate on borrowings outstanding under the credit facilities at December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024 were 6.4% and 6.8%, respectively.

Fair Value Disclosures [Abstract]

Fair Value Disclosures

Fair Value

The Company categorizes assets and liabilities measured at fair value into three levels based upon the assumptions (inputs) used to price the assets or liabilities. Level 1 provides the most reliable measure of fair value, whereas level 3 generally requires significant management judgment. The three levels are defined as follows:

- Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.
- Level 2: Observable inputs other than those included in level 1. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs reflecting management's own assumptions about the inputs used in pricing the asset or liability.

There were no changes in the inputs or valuation techniques used to measure fair values during the six months ended December 31, 2024. For more information on inputs and fair valuation techniques used, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2024.

Recurring Fair Value Measurements:

As of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, the fair values of financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis using the market approach are categorized as follows:

	December 31, 2024
(Amounts in Thousands)	Level 1	Level 2	Total
Assets
Derivatives: foreign exchange contracts	$ —	$ 1,803	$ 1,803
Trading securities: mutual funds held in nonqualified SERP	5,547	—	5,547

Trading securities: mutual funds held in nonqualified SERP	5,445	—	5,445
Total assets at fair value	$ 5,445	$ 1,420	$ 6,865
Liabilities
Derivatives: foreign exchange contracts	$ —	$ 2,485	$ 2,485
Total liabilities at fair value	$ —	$ 2,485	$ 2,485

We had no level 3 assets or liabilities at December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, or any activity in Level 3 assets or liabilities during the six months ended December 31, 2024.

The nonqualified supplemental employee retirement plan ("SERP") assets consist primarily of equity funds, balanced funds, bond funds, and a money market fund. The SERP investment assets are offset by a SERP liability which represents the Company's obligation to distribute SERP funds to participants. See Note 11 - Employee Benefit Plans of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for further information regarding the SERP.

Financial Instruments Not Carried At Fair Value:

Financial instruments that are not reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets at fair value that have carrying amounts which approximate fair value include notes receivable and borrowings under credit facilities. There were no changes to the inputs and valuation techniques used to assess the fair value of these financial instruments during the six months ended December 31, 2024. For more information on inputs and fair valuation techniques used, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2024.

The carrying values of our cash deposit accounts, trade accounts receivable, and trade accounts payable approximate fair value due to the relatively short maturity and immaterial non-performance risk.

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities Disclosure [Abstract]

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities Disclosure

Derivative Instruments

Foreign Exchange Contracts:

We operate internationally and are therefore exposed to foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations in the normal course of business. Our primary means of managing this exposure is to utilize natural hedges, such as aligning currencies used in the supply chain with the sale currency. To the extent natural hedging techniques do not fully offset currency risk, we use derivative instruments with the objective of reducing the residual exposure to certain foreign currency rate movements. Factors considered in the decision to hedge an underlying market exposure include the materiality of the risk, the volatility of the market, the duration of the hedge, the degree to which the underlying exposure is committed to, and the availability, effectiveness, and cost of derivative instruments. Derivative instruments are only utilized for risk management purposes and are not used for speculative or trading purposes.

We use forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges to protect against foreign currency exchange rate risks inherent in forecasted transactions denominated in a foreign currency. Non-designated foreign exchange contracts are also used to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risks related to intercompany balances and other balance sheet positions denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies. As of December 31, 2024, we had outstanding foreign exchange contracts to hedge currencies against the U.S. dollar in the aggregate notional amount of $18.3 million and to hedge currencies against the Euro in the aggregate notional amount of 38.8 million Euro. The notional amounts are indicators of the volume of derivative activities but may not be indicators of the potential gain or loss on the derivatives.

In limited cases due to unexpected changes in forecasted transactions, cash flow hedges may cease to meet the criteria to be designated as cash flow hedges. Depending on the type of exposure hedged, we may either purchase a derivative contract in the opposite position of the undesignated hedge or may retain the hedge until it matures if the hedge continues to provide an adequate offset in earnings against the currency revaluation impact of foreign currency denominated liabilities.

The fair value of outstanding derivative instruments is recognized on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets as a derivative asset or liability and presented with Prepaid expenses and other current assets and Accrued expenses, respectively. When derivatives are settled with the counterparty, the derivative asset or liability is relieved and cash flow is impacted for the net settlement. For derivative instruments that meet the criteria of hedging instruments under FASB guidance, the gain or loss on the derivative instrument is initially recorded net of related tax effect in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss), a component of Share Owners' Equity, and is subsequently reclassified into earnings in the period or periods during which the hedged transaction is recognized in earnings. The gain or loss associated with derivative instruments that are not designated as hedging instruments or that cease to meet the criteria for hedging under FASB guidance is reported immediately in Non-operating income (expense), net on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.

Based on fair values as of December 31, 2024, we estimate that approximately $2.8 million of pre-tax derivative loss deferred in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss will be reclassified into earnings, along with the earnings effects of related forecasted transactions, within the next 12 months. Gains on foreign exchange contracts are generally offset by losses in operating income in the income statement when the underlying hedged transaction is recognized in earnings. Because gains or losses on foreign exchange contracts fluctuate partially based on currency spot rates, the future effect on earnings of the cash flow hedges alone is not determinable, but in conjunction with the underlying hedged transactions, the result is expected to be a decline in currency risk. The maximum length of time we had hedged our exposure to the variability in future cash flows was 12 months as of both December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024.

See Note 9 - Fair Value of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for further information regarding the fair value of derivative assets and liabilities and Note 6 - Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss) of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for the changes in deferred derivative gains and losses.

Note 11. Employee Benefit Plans	6 Months Ended Dec. 31, 2024
Retirement Benefits [Abstract]
Postemployment Benefits Disclosure	Employee Benefit Plans

Defined Contribution Retirement Plan:

The Company maintains a trusteed defined contribution retirement plan which is in effect for substantially all domestic employees meeting the eligibility requirements. The Company matches 50% of eligible employee contributions up to 6%. The Company also provides a discretionary contribution determined annually by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Company's Board of Directors. Total expense related to employer contributions to the domestic retirement plans was $1.0 million and $3.1 million for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively.

The Company also maintains a supplemental employee retirement plan ("SERP") for executives and other key employees which enables them to defer cash compensation on a pre-tax basis and restore amounts that would otherwise be payable under our tax-qualified retirement plans if the IRS did not have limits on includable compensation and maximum benefits. The SERP is structured as a rabbi trust, and therefore, assets in the SERP portfolio are subject to creditor claims in the event of bankruptcy. We recognize SERP investment assets on the balance sheet at current fair value. A SERP liability of the same amount is recorded on the balance sheet representing an obligation to distribute SERP funds to participants. As of December 31, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.6 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.6 million were long term. As of June 30, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.4 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.4 million were long term. The SERP investment assets are classified as trading, and accordingly, realized and unrealized gains and losses are recognized in the Other Income (Expense) category on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Adjustments made to revalue the SERP liability are also recognized in income as selling and administrative expenses and offset valuation adjustments on SERP investment assets. The change in net unrealized holding gains for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 was less than $0.1 million and $0.1 million, respectively.

Defined Benefit Postemployment Plan:

The Company established and maintains severance plans for all domestic employees and other postemployment plans for certain foreign subsidiaries. There are no statutory requirements for us to contribute to the plans, nor do employees contribute to the plans. The plans hold no assets. Benefits are paid using available cash on hand when eligible employees meet plan qualifications for payment. As of December 31, 2024, total obligations under these plans were $7.0 million of which $6.2 million were long term and $0.8 million were short term. As of June 30, 2024, total obligations under these plans were $7.0 million of which $6.2 million were long term and $0.8 million were short term. Net periodic benefit costs were not material for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Note 12. Stock Compensation Plans	6 Months Ended Dec. 31, 2024
Share-Based Payment Arrangement [Abstract]
Disclosure of Compensation Related Costs, Share-based Payments	Stock Compensation Plans

A stock compensation plan was created and adopted by the Company's Board of Directors (the "Board") on September 20, 2023 and approved by our Share Owners at our 2023 Annual Meeting on November 17, 2023. The 2023 Plan allows for the issuance of up to 2.0 million shares and replaced our former 2014 plan. The shares under the 2023 Plan may be granted in the form of incentive stock options, non-qualified stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted awards, performance share awards, cash awards, and other equity awards. The Plan is a ten-year plan that terminates automatically on November 17, 2033. No award shall be granted pursuant to the Plan after such date, but awards theretofore granted may extend beyond that date.

On October 20, 2016, the Board approved a nonqualified deferred stock compensation plan, the Kimball Electronics, Inc. Non-Employee Directors Stock Compensation Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan"), which allows Non-Employee Directors to elect to defer all, or a portion of, their retainer fees in stock until retirement or termination from the Board or death. The Deferral Plan allows for issuance of up to 1.0 million shares of the Company's common stock. For more information on the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2024.

During the first six months of fiscal year 2025, the following stock compensation was granted under the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan.

Stock Compensation Granted	Quarter Granted	Shares/Units	Grant Date Fair Value [2]
Long-Term Performance Shares [1]	1st Quarter	23,460	$18.49
Restricted Shares [3]	1st Quarter	152,917	$18.49
Long-Term Performance Shares [4]	2nd Quarter	207,344	$21.89
Unrestricted Shares [5]	2nd Quarter	26,192	$19.09
Deferred Share Units [6]	2nd Quarter	28,288	$19.09

(1) Long-term performance share awards were granted to key employees. These annual performance share awards were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. These awards granted in fiscal year 2025 will cliff vest at the third anniversary of the award date in fiscal year 2028.

For these key employee awards, a number of shares will be issued to each participant based upon a combination of the Company's profitability based on its operating income over the performance period as defined in the Company's operating business plans for the applicable fiscal years and the Company's growth based on a comparison of its three-year compounded annual growth rate ("CAGR") with the Electronics Manufacturing Services Industry's three-year CAGR. The number of shares issued could be zero if minimum thresholds are not met up to a maximum of 125% if results on both measures exceed targets under the formula.

(2) The grant date fair value is the weighted average stock price based on the dates of the grants.

(3) Restricted shares were granted to leadership team members and other key employees. These restricted shares were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The contractual life of the restricted shares is three years, with one-third of the interest in the restricted shares vested after year one of the grant, another one-third after year two of the grant, and the final one-third after year three of the grant. Restricted shares are expensed over the contractual vesting period as earned. If the employment of a holder of restricted shares terminates before the RSU has vested for any reason other than death, retirement, or disability, the restricted shares not yet vested will be forfeited.

Note 1. Business Description and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Policies)	6 Months Ended Dec. 31, 2024
Accounting Policies [Abstract]
Basis of Presentation	Basis of Presentation:

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements presented herein reflect the consolidated financial position as of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, results of operations for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, cash flows for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, and share owners' equity for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023. The financial data presented herein is unaudited and should be read in conjunction with the annual Consolidated Financial Statements as of and for the year ended June 30, 2024 and related notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K. As such, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") have been condensed or omitted, although we believe that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. Intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated. Management believes the financial statements include all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring adjustments) considered necessary to present fairly the financial statements for the interim periods. The results of operations for the interim periods shown in this report are not necessarily indicative of results for any future interim period or for the entire fiscal year.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue Recognition:

We recognize revenue in accordance with the standard issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"), Revenue from Contracts with Customers and all the related amendments. Our revenue from contracts with customers is generated primarily from manufacturing services provided for the production of electronic assemblies, components, medical devices, medical disposables, precision molded plastics, and automation, test, and inspection equipment built to customer's specifications. Our customer agreements are generally not for a definitive term but continue for the relevant product's life cycle. Typically, our customer agreements do not commit the customer to purchase our services until a purchase order is provided, which is generally short term in nature. Customer purchase orders primarily have a single performance obligation. Generally, the prices stated in the customer purchase orders are agreed upon prices for the manufactured product and do not vary over the term of the order, and therefore, the majority of our contracts do not contain variable consideration. In limited circumstances, we may enter into a contract which contains minimum quantity thresholds to cover our capital costs, and we may offer our customer a rebate for specific volume thresholds or other incentives; in these cases, the rebates or incentives are accounted for as variable consideration.

The majority of our revenue is recognized over time as manufacturing services are performed as we manufacture a product to customer specifications with no alternative use and we have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date. The remaining revenue for manufacturing services is recognized when the customer obtains control of the product, typically either upon shipment or delivery of the product dependent on the terms of the contract, and the customer is able to direct the use of and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from the asset. We generally recognize revenue over time using costs based input methods, in which judgment is required to evaluate assumptions including anticipated margins to estimate the corresponding amount of revenue to recognize. Costs used as a basis for estimating anticipated margins include material, direct and indirect labor, and appropriate applied overheads. Anticipated margins are determined based on historical or quoted customer pricing. Costs based input methods are considered a faithful depiction of our efforts and progress toward satisfying our performance obligations for manufacturing services and for which we believe we are entitled to payment for performance completed to date. The cumulative effect of revisions to estimates related to net contract revenues or costs are recorded in the period in which the revisions to estimates are identified and the amounts can be reasonably estimated.

We have elected to account for shipping and handling activities related to contracts with customers as costs to fulfill our promise to transfer the associated services and products. Accordingly, we record customer payments of shipping and handling costs as a component of net sales and classify such costs as a component of cost of sales. We recognize sales net of applicable sales or value add taxes. Based on estimated product returns and price concessions, a reserve for returns and allowances is recorded at the time revenue is recognized, resulting in a reduction of net revenue.

Direct incremental costs to obtain and fulfill a contract are capitalized as a contract asset only if they are material, expected to be recovered, and are not accounted for in accordance with other guidance. Incidental items that are immaterial in the context of the contract are recognized as expense in the period incurred.

Trade Accounts Receivable

Trade Accounts Receivable:

The Company's trade accounts receivable are recorded per the terms of the agreement or sale, and accrued interest is recognized when earned. Our policy for estimating the allowance for credit losses on trade accounts receivable includes analysis of such items as aging, credit worthiness, payment history, and historical bad debt experience. Management uses these specific analyses in conjunction with an evaluation of the general economic and market conditions to estimate expected credit losses. Management believes that historical loss information generally provides a basis for its assessment of expected credit losses. Trade accounts receivable are written off after exhaustive collection efforts occur and the receivable is deemed uncollectible. Adjustments to the allowance for credit losses are recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.

In the ordinary course of business, customers periodically negotiate extended payment terms on trade accounts receivable. Customary terms require payment within 30 to 45 days, with any terms beyond 45 days being considered extended payment terms. We participate in our customers' supply chain financing arrangements for certain of our accounts receivables in order to extend terms for the customer without negatively impacting our cash flow. These arrangements in all cases do not contain recourse provisions which would obligate us in the event of our customers' failure to pay. Receivables are considered sold when they are transferred beyond the reach of Kimball Electronics and its creditors, the purchaser has the right to pledge or exchange the receivables, and we have surrendered control over the transferred receivables.

Non-operating Income (Expense), net

Non-operating Income (Expense), net:

Non-operating income (expense), net includes the impact of such items as foreign currency rate movements and related derivative gain or loss, fair value adjustments on supplemental employee retirement plan ("SERP") investments, government subsidies, factoring fees, bank charges, and other miscellaneous non-operating income and expense items that are not directly related to operations. Prior to fiscal year 2025, factoring fees were recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. The gain (loss) on SERP investments is offset by a change in the SERP liability that is recognized in Selling and Administrative Expenses.

Income Taxes

Income Taxes:

In determining the quarterly provision for income taxes, we use an estimated annual effective tax rate which is based on expected annual income, statutory tax rates, and available tax planning opportunities in the various jurisdictions in which we operate. Unusual or infrequently occurring items are separately recognized in the quarter in which they occur.

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities, recorded in Other Assets, net and Other long-term liabilities, respectively, in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, are recognized for the estimated future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. These assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. We evaluate the recoverability of deferred tax assets each quarter by assessing the likelihood of future taxable income and available tax planning strategies that could be implemented to realize our deferred tax assets. If recovery is not likely, we provide a valuation allowance based on our best estimate of future taxable income in the various taxing jurisdictions and the amount of deferred taxes ultimately realizable. Future events could change management's assessment.

Income Tax Uncertainties

We operate within multiple taxing jurisdictions and are subject to tax audits in these jurisdictions. These audits can involve complex uncertain tax positions, which may require an extended period of time to resolve. A tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. We maintain a liability for uncertain income tax and other tax positions, including accrued interest and penalties on those positions. As tax positions are effectively settled, the tax liability is adjusted accordingly. We recognize interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in Provision for Income Taxes on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.

New Accounting Standards

New Accounting Standards:

Not Yet Adopted:

In November 2024, the Financial Accounting Standards Board FASB issued guidance on Expense Disaggregation Disclosures, requiring more disclosure about the types of expenses presented in our expense captions. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026 and for interim periods within annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance can be applied prospectively or retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.

In November 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, requiring additional, more detailed information about a reportable segment. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.

In December 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, intended to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance is to be adopted prospectively with the option to adopt retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements.

Commitments and Contingencies Disclosure [Abstract]
Product Warranties	The Company typically provides only assurance-type warranties for a limited time period, which cover workmanship and assures the product complies with specifications provided by or agreed upon with the customer. We maintain a provision for limited warranty repair or replacement of products manufactured and sold, which has been established in specific manufacturing contract agreements. We estimate product warranty liability at the time of sale based on historical repair or replacement cost trends in conjunction with the length of the warranty offered. Management refines the warranty liability regularly based on changes in historical cost trends and in certain cases where specific warranty issues become known.

Note 9. Fair Value (Policies)	6 Months Ended Dec. 31, 2024
Fair Value Disclosures [Abstract]
Fair Value	The Company categorizes assets and liabilities measured at fair value into three levels based upon the assumptions (inputs) used to price the assets or liabilities. Level 1 provides the most reliable measure of fair value, whereas level 3 generally requires significant management judgment. The three levels are defined as follows: • Level 1: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities. • Level 2: Observable inputs other than those included in level 1. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets. • Level 3: Unobservable inputs reflecting management's own assumptions about the inputs used in pricing the asset or liability. There were no changes in the inputs or valuation techniques used to measure fair values during the six months ended December 31, 2024. For more information on inputs and fair valuation techniques used, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2024.
Fair Value of Financial Instruments Not Carried at Fair Value	Financial Instruments Not Carried At Fair Value: Financial instruments that are not reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets at fair value that have carrying amounts which approximate fair value include notes receivable and borrowings under credit facilities. There were no changes to the inputs and valuation techniques used to assess the fair value of these financial instruments during the six months ended December 31, 2024. For more information on inputs and fair valuation techniques used, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2024. The carrying values of our cash deposit accounts, trade accounts receivable, and trade accounts payable approximate fair value due to the relatively short maturity and immaterial non-performance risk.

~~XML 47 R33.htm IDEA: XBRL DOCUMENT~~

Note 10. Derivative Instruments (Policies)	6 Months Ended Dec. 31, 2024
Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities Disclosure [Abstract]
Derivatives	Our primary means of managing this exposure is to utilize natural hedges, such as aligning currencies used in the supply chain with the sale currency. To the extent natural hedging techniques do not fully offset currency risk, we use derivative instruments with the objective of reducing the residual exposure to certain foreign currency rate movements. Factors considered in the decision to hedge an underlying market exposure include the materiality of the risk, the volatility of the market, the duration of the hedge, the degree to which the underlying exposure is committed to, and the availability, effectiveness, and cost of derivative instruments. Derivative instruments are only utilized for risk management purposes and are not used for speculative or trading purposes.

We use forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges to protect against foreign currency exchange rate risks inherent in forecasted transactions denominated in a foreign currency. Non-designated foreign exchange contracts are also used to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risks related to intercompany balances and other balance sheet positions denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies. As of December 31, 2024, we had outstanding foreign exchange contracts to hedge currencies against the U.S. dollar in the aggregate notional amount of $18.3 million and to hedge currencies against the Euro in the aggregate notional amount of 38.8 million Euro. The notional amounts are indicators of the volume of derivative activities but may not be indicators of the potential gain or loss on the derivatives.

In limited cases due to unexpected changes in forecasted transactions, cash flow hedges may cease to meet the criteria to be designated as cash flow hedges. Depending on the type of exposure hedged, we may either purchase a derivative contract in the opposite position of the undesignated hedge or may retain the hedge until it matures if the hedge continues to provide an adequate offset in earnings against the currency revaluation impact of foreign currency denominated liabilities.

Derivatives, Reporting of Derivative Activity

The fair value of outstanding derivative instruments is recognized on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets as a derivative asset or liability and presented with Prepaid expenses and other current assets and Accrued expenses, respectively. When derivatives are settled with the counterparty, the derivative asset or liability is relieved and cash flow is impacted for the net settlement. For derivative instruments that meet the criteria of hedging instruments under FASB guidance, the gain or loss on the derivative instrument is initially recorded net of related tax effect in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss), a component of Share Owners' Equity, and is subsequently reclassified into earnings in the period or periods during which the hedged transaction is recognized in earnings. The gain or loss associated with derivative instruments that are not designated as hedging instruments or that cease to meet the criteria for hedging under FASB guidance is reported immediately in Non-operating income (expense), net on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.

Retirement Benefits [Abstract]

Investment

The Company also maintains a supplemental employee retirement plan ("SERP") for executives and other key employees which enables them to defer cash compensation on a pre-tax basis and restore amounts that would otherwise be payable under our tax-qualified retirement plans if the IRS did not have limits on includable compensation and maximum benefits. The SERP is structured as a rabbi trust, and therefore, assets in the SERP portfolio are subject to creditor claims in the event of bankruptcy. We recognize SERP investment assets on the balance sheet at current fair value. A SERP liability of the same amount is recorded on the balance sheet representing an obligation to distribute SERP funds to participants. As of December 31, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.6 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.6 million were long term. As of June 30, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.4 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.4 million were long term. The SERP investment assets are classified as trading, and accordingly, realized and unrealized gains and losses are recognized in the Other Income (Expense) category on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Adjustments made to revalue the SERP liability are also recognized in income as selling and administrative expenses and offset valuation adjustments on SERP investment assets.

(1) The Company maintained a U.S. primary credit facility which was scheduled to mature on May 4, 2027 that provided for $300 million in borrowings, and the Company had utilized this facility for revolving borrowings. On December 20, 2024, the Company entered into an amended and restated credit agreement (the "restated primary credit facility") among the Company, the lenders party thereto, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N. A., as Administrative Agent, and Bank of America, N.A., as Documentation Agent. The restated primary credit facility adds a term loan borrowing facility that provides for term loan borrowings ("term borrowings") of $100 million repayable in scheduled quarterly installments, scheduled to mature December 20, 2029. The terms for the revolving borrowings remain largely unchanged with a maturity date of May 4, 2027 and continue to provide for $300 million in borrowings, with an option to increase the amount available for borrowing to $450 million upon request, subject to the consent of each lender participating in such increase.

This facility is maintained for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company, and pursuant to the restated primary credit facility, the Company is permitted to use the proceeds to refinance existing indebtedness. A commitment fee is payable on the unused portion of the credit facility at a rate that ranges from 10.0 to 25.0 basis points per annum as determined by the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, as defined in the restated primary credit facility. Types of borrowings available on the restated primary credit facility include term loans, revolving loans, multi-currency term loans, and swingline loans.

At December 31, 2024, all outstanding borrowings under the primary credit facility were Term Benchmark borrowings denominated in U.S. dollars.

The interest rate on borrowings is dependent on the class, type and currencies of borrowings and will be one of the following options:

- any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in U.S. Dollars will utilize the Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR") for one, three, or six-month tenors as elected, which is a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate for such business day published by the SOFR Administrator, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, on the immediately succeeding business day, plus ten hundredths percent (0.10%), plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA;
- any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in Euros will utilize the Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR") in effect two target days prior to the advance (adjusted upwards to reflect bank reserve costs) for such interest period as defined in the agreement, plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Term Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; or
- the Alternate Base Rate ("ABR"), which is defined as the highest of the fluctuating rate per annum equal to the higher of:
  a. Prime Rate in the U.S. last quoted by the Wall Street Journal, and if this is ceased to be quoted, the highest bank prime loan rate or similar loan rate quoted by the Federal Reserve Board;
  b. 1/2 of 1% per annum above the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (NYFRB) Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); or
  c. 1% per annum above the Adjusted SOFR Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility);

  plus the Revolving Commitment ABR spread which can range from 0.0 to 75.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA. Under the restated primary credit facility, the ABR Spread and Benchmark Spread for term borrowings are the same as for revolving borrowings.

The Company's financial covenants under the amended primary credit facility require:

- a ratio of consolidated total indebtedness minus unencumbered U.S. cash on hand in the United States in excess of $15 million to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, determined as of the end of each of its fiscal quarters for the then most recently ended four fiscal quarters, to not be greater than 3.0 to 1.0, provided, however, that for each fiscal quarter end during the four quarter period following a material permitted acquisition, as defined in the Credit Agreement, the Company will not permit this financial covenant to be greater than 3.5 to 1.0 for each such fiscal quarter end, and,
- an interest coverage ratio, defined as that ratio of consolidated EBITDA for such period to cash interest expense for such period, for any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters, to not be less than 3.5 to 1.0.

The Company had $0.4 million in letters of credit contingently committed against the primary credit facility at both December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024.

(2) Concurrently on December 20, 2024 with its entry into the restated primary credit facility, the Company terminated its 364-day multi-currency revolving credit facility agreement (the "secondary credit facility"), which was entered into on January 5, 2024 and originally scheduled to mature on January 3, 2025. The secondary credit facility allowed for borrowings up to $100.0 million, and the Company had no borrowings on the secondary credit facility at June 30, 2024.

(3) The Company also maintains foreign credit facilities for working capital and general corporate purposes at specific foreign locations rather than utilizing funding from intercompany sources. These foreign credit facilities can be canceled at any time by either the bank or us and generally include renewal clauses. Interest on borrowing under these facilities is charged at a rate as defined under the respective foreign credit facility. As a result of the GES divestiture that occurred on July 31, 2024, the Company no longer has the Vietnam credit facility, which allowed for borrowings up to $5.0 million.

(4) The amount of long-term debt under credit facilities, less current maturities, reflects the revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility that the Company intends, and has the ability, to refinance for a period longer than twelve months in addition to the long-term portion of the term borrowings. The revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility matures on May 4, 2027.

As of December 31, 2024, the contractual maturities of the term borrowings on the primary credit facility were as follows:

(Amounts in Millions)	Contractual Maturities

Share-Based Payment Arrangement [Abstract]

Disclosure of Share-based Compensation Arrangements by Share-based Payment Award

During the first six months of fiscal year 2025, the following stock compensation was granted under the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan.

Stock Compensation Granted	Quarter Granted	Shares/Units	Grant Date Fair Value [2]
Long-Term Performance Shares [1]	1st Quarter	23,460	$18.49
Restricted Shares [3]	1st Quarter	152,917	$18.49
Long-Term Performance Shares [4]	2nd Quarter	207,344	$21.89
Unrestricted Shares [5]	2nd Quarter	26,192	$19.09
Deferred Share Units [6]	2nd Quarter	28,288	$19.09

(1) Long-term performance share awards were granted to key employees. These annual performance share awards were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. These awards granted in fiscal year 2025 will cliff vest at the third anniversary of the award date in fiscal year 2028.

For these key employee awards, a number of shares will be issued to each participant based upon a combination of the Company's profitability based on its operating income over the performance period as defined in the Company's operating business plans for the applicable fiscal years and the Company's growth based on a comparison of its three-year compounded annual growth rate ("CAGR") with the Electronics Manufacturing Services Industry's three-year CAGR. The number of shares issued could be zero if minimum thresholds are not met up to a maximum of 125% if results on both measures exceed targets under the formula.

(2) The grant date fair value is the weighted average stock price based on the dates of the grants.

(3) Restricted shares were granted to leadership team members and other key employees. These restricted shares were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The contractual life of the restricted shares is three years, with one-third of the interest in the restricted shares vested after year one of the grant, another one-third after year two of the grant, and the final one-third after year three of the grant. Restricted shares are expensed over the contractual vesting period as earned. If the employment of a holder of restricted shares terminates before the RSU has vested for any reason other than death, retirement, or disability, the restricted shares not yet vested will be forfeited.

(4) Long-term performance shares were granted to leadership team members. These annual performance share awards were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The awards granted in fiscal year 2025 will cliff vest in fiscal year 2028.

Under these awards, a number of shares will be issued to each participant based upon a combination of the Company's economic profit for fiscal years 2026 and 2027 as compared to the Board approved plan and the Company's relative total shareholder return (rTSR) for the performance period as compared to a group of peer companies selected by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The number of shares issued could be zero if minimum thresholds are not met up to a maximum of 200% if results on both measures exceed targets under the formula.

(5) Unrestricted shares were awarded to non-employee members of the Board as compensation for the portion of their annual retainer fees resulting from their elections to be paid in unrestricted shares in lieu of cash payment or deferred share units. Director's fees are expensed over the period that directors earn the compensation. Unrestricted shares do not have vesting periods, holding periods, restrictions on sales, or other restrictions.

(6) Deferred share units were awarded to non-employee members of the Board as compensation for the portion of their annual retainer fees resulting from their elections to receive deferred share units in lieu of cash payment or unrestricted shares. Director's fees are expensed over the period that directors earn the compensation. Deferred share units are participating securities and are payable in common stock in a lump sum or installments in accordance with deferral elections upon a Director's retirement or termination from the Board or death.

[1] The Company maintained a U.S. primary credit facility which was scheduled to mature on May 4, 2027 that provided for $300 million in borrowings, and the Company had utilized this facility for revolving borrowings. On December 20, 2024, the Company entered into an amended and restated credit agreement (the "restated primary credit facility") among the Company, the lenders party thereto, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N. A., as Administrative Agent, and Bank of America, N.A., as Documentation Agent. The restated primary credit facility adds a term loan borrowing facility that provides for term loan borrowings ("term borrowings") of $100 million repayable in scheduled quarterly installments, scheduled to mature December 20, 2029. The terms for the revolving borrowings remain largely unchanged with a maturity date of May 4, 2027 and continue to provide for $300 million in borrowings, with an option to increase the amount available for borrowing to $450 million upon request, subject to the consent of each lender participating in such increase.

This facility is maintained for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company, and pursuant to the restated primary credit facility, the Company is permitted to use the proceeds to refinance existing indebtedness. A commitment fee is payable on the unused portion of the credit facility at a rate that ranges from 10.0 to 25.0 basis points per annum as determined by the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, as defined in the restated primary credit facility. Types of borrowings available on the restated primary credit facility include term loans, revolving loans, multi-currency term loans, and swingline loans.

At December 31, 2024, all outstanding borrowings under the primary credit facility were Term Benchmark borrowings denominated in U.S. dollars.

The interest rate on borrowings is dependent on the class, type and currencies of borrowings and will be one of the following options:

- any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in U.S. Dollars will utilize the Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR") for one, three, or six-month tenors as elected, which is a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate for such business day published by the SOFR Administrator, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, on the immediately succeeding business day, plus ten hundredths percent (0.10%), plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA;
- any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in Euros will utilize the Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR") in effect two target days prior to the advance (adjusted upwards to reflect bank reserve costs) for such interest period as defined in the agreement, plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Term Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; or
- the Alternate Base Rate ("ABR"), which is defined as the highest of the fluctuating rate per annum equal to the higher of:

  a. Prime Rate in the U.S. last quoted by the Wall Street Journal, and if this is ceased to be quoted, the highest bank prime loan rate or similar loan rate quoted by the Federal Reserve Board;

  b. 1/2 of 1% per annum above the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (NYFRB) Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); or

  c. 1% per annum above the Adjusted SOFR Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility);

  plus the Revolving Commitment ABR spread which can range from 0.0 to 75.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA. Under the restated primary credit facility, the ABR Spread and Benchmark Spread for term borrowings are the same as for revolving borrowings.

The Company's financial covenants under the amended primary credit facility require:

- a ratio of consolidated total indebtedness minus unencumbered U.S. cash on hand in the United States in excess of $15 million to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, determined as of the end of each of its fiscal quarters for the then most recently ended four fiscal quarters, to not be greater than 3.0 to 1.0, provided, however, that for each fiscal quarter end during the four quarter period following a material permitted acquisition, as defined in the Credit Agreement, the Company will not permit this financial covenant to be greater than 3.5 to 1.0 for each such fiscal quarter end, and,
- an interest coverage ratio, defined as that ratio of consolidated EBITDA for such period to cash interest expense for such period, for any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters, to not be less than 3.5 to 1.0.

The Company had $0.4 million in letters of credit contingently committed against the primary credit facility at both December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024.

[2] The amount of long-term debt under credit facilities, less current maturities, reflects the revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility that the Company intends, and has the ability, to refinance for a period longer than twelve months in addition to the long-term portion of the term borrowings. The revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility matures on May 4, 2027.

[3] Concurrently on December 20, 2024 with its entry into the restated primary credit facility, the Company terminated its 364-day multi-currency revolving credit facility agreement (the "secondary credit facility"), which was entered into on January 5, 2024 and originally scheduled to mature on January 3, 2025. The secondary credit facility allowed for borrowings up to $100.0 million, and the Company had no borrowings on the secondary credit facility at June 30, 2024.

[4] The Company also maintains foreign credit facilities for working capital and general corporate purposes at specific foreign locations rather than utilizing funding from intercompany sources. These foreign credit facilities can be canceled at any time by either the bank or us and generally include renewal clauses. Interest on borrowing under these facilities is charged at a rate as defined under the respective foreign credit facility. As a result of the GES divestiture that occurred on July 31, 2024, the Company no longer has the Vietnam credit facility, which allowed for borrowings up to $5.0 million.

[1] Long-term performance share awards were granted to key employees. These annual performance share awards were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. These awards granted in fiscal year 2025 will cliff vest at the third anniversary of the award date in fiscal year 2028.

For these key employee awards, a number of shares will be issued to each participant based upon a combination of the Company's profitability based on its operating income over the performance period as defined in the Company's operating business plans for the applicable fiscal years and the Company's growth based on a comparison of its three-year compounded annual growth rate ("CAGR") with the Electronics Manufacturing Services Industry's three-year CAGR. The number of shares issued could be zero if minimum thresholds are not met up to a maximum of 125% if results on both measures exceed targets under the formula.

[2] The grant date fair value is the weighted average stock price based on the dates of the grants.

[3] Restricted shares were granted to leadership team members and other key employees. These restricted shares were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The contractual life of the restricted shares is three years, with one-third of the interest in the restricted shares vested after year one of the grant, another one-third after year two of the grant, and the final one-third after year three of the grant. Restricted shares are expensed over the contractual vesting period as earned. If the employment of a holder of restricted shares terminates before the RSU has vested for any reason other than death, retirement, or disability, the restricted shares not yet vested will be forfeited.

</td></tr></table> In determining the quarterly provision for income taxes, we use an estimated annual effective tax rate which is based on expected annual income, statutory tax rates, and available tax planning opportunities in the various jurisdictions in which we operate. Unusual or infrequently occurring items are separately recognized in the quarter in which they occur. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities, recorded in Other Assets, net and Other long-term liabilities, respectively, in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, are recognized for the estimated future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. These assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to reverse. We evaluate the recoverability of deferred tax assets each quarter by assessing the likelihood of future taxable income and available tax planning strategies that could be implemented to realize our deferred tax assets. If recovery is not likely, we provide a valuation allowance based on our best estimate of future taxable income in the various taxing jurisdictions and the amount of deferred taxes ultimately realizable. Future events could change management's assessment. We operate within multiple taxing jurisdictions and are subject to tax audits in these jurisdictions. These audits can involve complex uncertain tax positions, which may require an extended period of time to resolve. A tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. We maintain a liability for uncertain income tax and other tax positions, including accrued interest and penalties on those positions. As tax positions are effectively settled, the liability is adjusted accordingly. We recognize interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in Provision for Income Taxes on the Consolidated Statements of Income. The U.S. Tax Cuts and Jobs Act ("Tax Reform") was enacted into law on December 22, 2017, making broad and complex changes to the U.S. tax code, for which complete guidance may have not yet been issued. Tax Reform, in addition to other changes, required a one-time transition tax on certain unremitted earnings of foreign subsidiaries that is payable over an eight-year period. As of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, the remaining provision recorded for the one-time deemed repatriation tax was $3.3 million and $5.9 million, respectively, payable through fiscal year 2026. As of December 31, 2024, the remaining deemed repatriation tax is short term and is recorded in Accrued expenses on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. With the expected capital gains generated from the sale of the Tampa property, a portion of our deferred tax asset allowances from past capital losses are now expected to be realized, and in the second quarter of fiscal year 2025, we reversed $2.4 million of these allowances, reducing our income tax expense. New Accounting Standards: – Not Yet Adopted: In November 2024, the Financial Accounting Standards Board FASB issued guidance on Expense Disaggregation Disclosures, requiring more disclosure about the types of expenses presented in our expense captions. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2026 and for interim periods within annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance can be applied prospectively or retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements. In November 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, requiring additional, more detailed information about a reportable segment. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements. In December 2023, the FASB issued guidance on Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, intended to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. The guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted, and the guidance is to be adopted prospectively with the option to adopt retrospectively. We are currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of this guidance on our consolidated financial statements. Basis of Presentation: The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements presented herein reflect the consolidated financial position as of December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024, results of operations for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, cash flows for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, and share owners' equity for the three and six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023. The financial data presented herein is unaudited and should be read in conjunction with the annual Consolidated Financial Statements as of and for the year ended June 30, 2024 and related notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K. As such, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") have been condensed or omitted, although we believe that the disclosures are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. Intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated. Management believes the financial statements include all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring adjustments) considered necessary to present fairly the financial statements for the interim periods shown in this report are not necessarily indicative of results for any future interim period or for the entire fiscal year. Revenue Recognition: We recognize revenue in accordance with the standard issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"). Revenue from Contracts with Customers and all the related amendments. Our revenue from contracts with customers is generated primarily from manufacturing services provided for the production of electronic assemblies, components, medical devices, medical disposables, precision molded plastics, and automation, test, and inspection equipment built to customer's specifications. Our customer agreements are generally not for a definitive term but continue for the relevant product's life cycle. Typically, our customer agreements do not commit the customer to purchase our services until a purchase order is provided, which is generally short term in nature. Customer purchase orders primarily have a single performance obligation. Generally, the prices stated in the customer purchase orders are agreed upon prices for the manufactured product and do not vary over the term of the order, and therefore, the majority of our contracts do not contain variable consideration. In limited circumstances, we may enter into a contract which contains minimum quantity thresholds to cover our capital costs, and we may offer our customer a rebate for specific volume thresholds or other incentives; in these cases, the rebates or incentives are accounted for as variable consideration. The majority of our revenue is recognized over time as manufacturing services are performed as we manufacture a product to customer specifications with no alternative use and we have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date. The remaining revenue for manufacturing services is recognized when the customer obtains control of the product, typically either upon shipment or delivery of the product dependent on the terms of the contract, and the customer is able to direct the use of and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from the asset. We generally recognize revenue over time using costs based input methods, in which judgment is required to evaluate assumptions including anticipated margins to estimate the corresponding amount of revenue to recognize. Costs used as a basis for estimating anticipated margins include material, direct and indirect labor, and appropriate applied overheads. Anticipated margins are determined based on historical or quoted customer pricing. Costs based input methods are considered a faithful depiction of our efforts and progress toward satisfying our performance obligations for manufacturing services and for which we believe we are entitled to payment for performance completed to date. The cumulative effect of revisions to estimates related to net contract revenues or costs are recorded in the period in which the revisions to estimates are identified and the amounts can be reasonably estimated. We have elected to account for shipping and handling activities related to contracts with customers as costs to fulfill our promise to transfer the associated services and products. Accordingly, we record customer payments of shipping and handling costs as a component of net sales and classify such costs as a component of cost of sales. We recognize sales net of applicable sales or value add taxes. Based on estimated product returns and price concessions, a reserve for returns and allowances is recorded at the time revenue is recognized, resulting in a reduction of net revenue. Direct incremental costs to obtain and fulfill a contract are capitalized as a contract asset only if they are material, expected to be recovered, and are not accounted for in accordance with other guidance. Incidental items that are immaterial in the context of the contract are recognized as expense in the period incurred. Trade Accounts Receivable: The Company's trade accounts receivable are recorded per the terms of the agreement or sale, and accrued interest is recognized when earned. Our policy for estimating the allowance for credit losses on trade accounts receivable includes analysis of such items as aging, credit worthiness, payment history, and historical bad debt experience. Management uses these specific analyses in conjunction with an evaluation of the general economic and market conditions to estimate expected credit losses. Management believes that historical loss information generally provides a basis for its assessment of expected credit losses. Trade accounts receivable are written off after exhaustive collection efforts occur and the receivable is deemed uncollectible. Adjustments to the allowance for credit losses are recorded in Selling and Administrative Expenses on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. In the ordinary course of business, customers periodically negotiate extended payment terms on trade accounts receivable. Customary terms require payment within 30 to 45 days with any terms beyond 45 days being considered extended payment terms. We participate in supply chain finance programs for certain of our trade accounts receivables in order to extend terms for the customer without negatively impacting our cash flow. These arrangements in all cases do not contain recourse provisions which would obligate us in the event of our customers' failure to pay. Receivables are considered sold when they are transferred beyond the reach of Kimball Electronics and its creditors, the purchaser has the right to pledge or exchange the receivables, and we have surrendered control over the transferred receivables. Sale of GES Following approval by our Board of Directors, on July 31, 2024, we entered into a definitive agreement and closed on the sale of 100% of the equity interests in GES to Averna Test Systems, Inc., resulting in cash proceeds after costs to sell of $18.5 million, which is subject to additional purchase price adjustments. The pre-tax gain recognized on the sale in the first quarter of fiscal year 2025 was $1.3 million. In fiscal year 2024, following the Company's decision to divest of GES, we classified the disposal group as held for sale and recognized $22.9 million in pre-tax impairment charges. Accrued restructuring is recorded in Accrued expenses in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet. We maintain a provision for limited warranty repair or replacement of products manufactured and sold, which has been established in specific manufacturing contract agreements. We estimate product warranty liability at the time of sale based on historical repair or replacement cost trends in conjunction with the length of the warranty offered. Management refines the warranty liability regularly based on changes in historical cost trends and in certain cases where specific warranty issues become known. On December 20, 2024, the Company entered into an amended and restated credit agreement (the "restated primary credit facility") among the Company, the lenders party thereto, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Administrative Agent, and Bank of America, N.A., as Documentation Agent. The restated primary credit facility adds a term loan borrowing facility that provides for term loan borrowings ("term borrowings") of $100 million repayable in scheduled quarterly installments, scheduled to mature December 20, 2029. The terms for the revolving borrowings remain largely unchanged with a maturity date of May 4, 2027 and continue to provide for $300 million in borrowings, with an option to increase the amount available for borrowing to $450 million upon request, subject to the consent of each lender participating in such increase. This facility is maintained for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company, and pursuant to the restated primary credit facility, the Company is permitted to use the proceeds to refinance existing indebtedness. A commitment fee is payable on the unused portion of the credit facility at a rate that ranges from 10.0 to 25.0 basis points per annum as determined by the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, as defined in the restated primary credit facility. Types of borrowings available on the restated primary credit facility include term loans, multi-currency term loans, and swingline loans. As of December 31, 2024, all outstanding borrowings under the primary credit facility were Term Benchmark borrowings denominated in U.S. dollars. The interest rate on borrowings is dependent on the class, type and currencies of borrowings and will be one of the following options: •any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in U.S. Dollars will utilize the Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR") for one, three, or six-month tenors as elected, which is a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate for such business day published by the SOFR Administrator, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, on the immediately succeeding business day, plus ten hundredths percent (0.10%), plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; •any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in Euros will utilize the Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR") in effect two target days prior to the advance (adjusted upwards to reflect bank reserve costs) for such interest period as defined in the agreement, plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Term Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; or •the Alternate Base Rate ("ABR"), which is defined as the highest of the fluctuating rate per annum equal to the higher of: a.Prime Rate in the U.S. last quoted by the Wall Street Journal, and if this is ceased to be quoted, the highest bank prime loan rate or similar loan rate quoted by the Federal Reserve Board; b.1/2 of 1% per annum above the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (NYFRB) Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); or c.1% per annum above the Adjusted SOFR Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); plus the Revolving Commitment ABR spread which can range from 0.0 to 75.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA. Under the restated primary credit facility, the ABR Spread and Benchmark Spread for term borrowings are the same as for revolving borrowings. The Company's financial covenants under the amended primary credit facility require: •a ratio of consolidated total indebtedness minus unencumbered U.S. cash on hand in the United States in excess of $15 million to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, determined as of the end of each of its fiscal quarters for the then most recently ended four fiscal quarters, to not be greater than 3.0 to 1.0 provided, however, that for each fiscal quarter end during the four quarter period following a material permitted acquisition, as defined in the Credit Agreement, the Company will not permit this financial covenant to be greater than 3.5 to 1.0 for such fiscal quarter end; and •an interest coverage ratio, defined as that ratio of consolidated EBITDA for such period to cash interest expense for such period, for any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters, to not be less than 3.5 to 1.0. The Company had $0.4 million in letters of credit contingently committed against the primary credit facility at both December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024. (2) Concurrently on December 20, 2024 with its entry into the restated primary credit facility, the Company terminated its 364-day multi-currency revolving credit facility agreement (the "secondary credit facility"), which was entered into on January 5, 2024 and originally scheduled to mature on January 3, 2025. The secondary credit facility allowed for borrowings up to $100.0 million, and the Company had no borrowings on the secondary credit facility at June 30, 2024. (3) The Company also maintains foreign credit facilities for working capital and general corporate purposes at specific foreign locations rather than utilizing funding from intercompany sources. These foreign credit facilities can be canceled at any time by either the bank or us and generally include renewal clauses. Interest on borrowing under these facilities is charged at a rate as defined under the respective foreign credit facility. As a result of the GE5 divestiture that occurred on July 31, 2024, the Company no longer has the Vietnam credit facility, which allowed for borrowings up to $5.0 million.(4) The amount of long-term debt under credit facilities, less current maturities, reflects the revolving borrowings on the primary credit facility that the Company intends, and has the ability, to refinance for a period longer than twelve months in addition to the long-term portion of the term borrowings. On December 20, 2024, the Company entered into an amended and restated credit agreement (the "restated primary credit facility") among the Company, the lenders party thereto, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Administrative Agent, and Bank of America, N.A., as Documentation Agent. The restated primary credit facility adds a term loan borrowing facility that provides for term loan borrowings ("term borrowings") of $100 million repayable in scheduled quarterly installments, scheduled to mature December 20, 2029. The terms for the revolving borrowings remain largely unchanged with a maturity date of May 4, 2027 and continue to provide for $300 million in borrowings, with an option to increase the amount available for borrowing to $450 million upon request, subject to the consent of each lender participating in such increase. This facility is maintained for working capital and general corporate purposes of the Company, and pursuant to the restated primary credit facility, the Company is permitted to use the proceeds to refinance existing indebtedness. A commitment fee is payable on the unused portion of the credit facility at a rate that ranges from 10.0 to 25.0 basis points per annum as determined by the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, as defined in the restated primary credit facility. Types of borrowings available on the restated primary credit facility include term loans, revolving loans, multi-currency term loans, and swingline loans. At December 31, 2024, all outstanding borrowings under the primary credit facility were Term Benchmark borrowings denominated in U.S. dollars. The interest rate on borrowings is dependent on the class, type and currencies of borrowings and will be one of the following options: • padding-left:14.5pt">any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in U.S. Dollars will utilize the Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR") for one, three, or six-month tenors as elected, which is a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate for such business day published by the SOFR Administrator, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, or the immediately succeeding business day, plus ten hundredths percent (0.10%), plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; any Term Benchmark borrowing denominated in Euros will utilize the Euro Interbank Offered Rate ("EURIBOR") in effect two target days prior to the advance (adjusted upwards to reflect bank reserve costs) for such interest period as defined in the agreement, plus the Revolving Commitment Term Benchmark spread or Term Loan Term Benchmark spread which can range from 100.0 to 175.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA; or • padding-left:14.5pt">the Alternate Base Rate ("ABR"), which is defined as the highest of the fluctuating rate per annum equal to the higher of: a. padding-left:11.07pt">Prime Rate in the U.S. last quoted by the Wall Street Journal, and if this is ceased to be quoted, the highest bank prime loan rate or similar loan rate quoted by the Federal Reserve Board; b. padding-left:10.5pt">1/2 of 1% per annum above the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (NYFRB) Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); or c. padding-left:11.07pt">1% per annum above the Adjusted SOFR Rate (as defined under the restated primary credit facility); plus the Revolving Commitment ABR spread which can range from 0.0 to 75.0 basis points based on the Company's ratio of consolidated total indebtedness to adjusted consolidated EBITDA. The Company's financial covenants under the amended primary credit facility require: • padding-left:14.5pt">a ratio of consolidated total indebtedness minus unencumbered U.S. cash on hand in the United States in excess of $15 million to adjusted consolidated EBITDA, determined as of the end of each of its fiscal quarters for the then most recently ended four fiscal quarters, to not be greater than 3.0 to 1.0, provided, however, that for each fiscal quarter end during the four quarter period following a material permitted acquisition, as defined in the Credit Agreement, the Company will not permit this financial covenant to be greater than 3.5 to 1.0 for each such fiscal quarter end, and, • an interest coverage ratio, defined as that ratio of consolidated EBITDA for such period to cash interest expense for such period, for any period of four consecutive fiscal quarters, to not be less than 3.5 to 1.0. The Company had $0.4 million in letters of credit contingently committed against the primary credit facility at both December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024. (2) Concurrently on December 20, 2024 with its entry into the restated primary credit facility, the Company terminated its 364-day multi-currency revolving credit facility agreement (the "secondary credit facility"), which was entered into on January 5, 2024 and originally scheduled to mature on January 3, 2025. The secondary credit facility allowed for borrowings up to $100.0 million, and the Company had no borrowings on the secondary credit facility at June 30, 2024. (3) The Company also had facilities for working capital and general corporate purposes at specific foreign locations rather than utilizing funding from intercompany sources. These foreign credit facilities can be canceled at any time by either the bank or us and generally include renewal clauses. Interest on borrowing under these facilities is charged at a rate as defined under the respective foreign credit facility. style="margin-bottom:6pt;margin-top:6pt">We operate internationally and are therefore exposed to foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations in the normal course of business. Our primary means of managing this exposure is to utilize natural hedges, such as aligning currencies used in the supply chain with the sale currency. To the extent natural hedging techniques do not fully offset currency risk, we use derivative instruments with the objective of reducing the residual exposure to certain foreign currency rate movements. Factors considered in the decision to hedge an underlying market exposure include the materiality of the risk, the volatility of the market, the duration of the hedge, the degree to which the underlying exposure is committed to, and the availability, effectiveness, and cost of derivative instruments. Derivative instruments are only utilized for risk management purposes and are not used for speculative or trading purposes. We use forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges to protect against foreign currency exchange rate risks inherent in forecasted transactions denominated in a foreign currency. Non-designated foreign exchange contracts are also used to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risks related to intercompany balances and other balance sheet positions denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies. As of December 31, 2024, we had outstanding foreign exchange contracts to hedge currencies against the U.S. dollar in the aggregate notional amount of $18.3 million and to hedge currencies against the Euro in the aggregate notional amount of 30.8 million Euro. The notional amounts are indicators of the volume of derivative activities but may not be indicators of the potential gain or loss on the derivatives. In limited cases due to unexpected changes in forecasted transactions, cash flow hedges may cease to meet the criteria to be designated as cash flow hedges. Depending on the type of exposure hedged, we may either purchase a derivative contract in the opposite position of the undesignated hedge or may retain the hedge until it matures if the hedge continues to provide an adequate offset in earnings against the currency revaluation impact of foreign currency denominated liabilities. The fair value of outstanding derivative instruments is recognized on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets as a derivative asset or liability and presented with Prepaid expenses and other current assets and Accrued expenses, respectively. When derivatives are settled with the counterparty, the derivative asset or liability is relieved and cash flow is impacted for the net settlement. For derivative instruments that meet the criteria of hedging instruments under FASB guidance, the gain or loss on the derivative instrument is initially recorded net of related tax effect in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss), a component of Share Owners' Equity, and is subsequently reclassified into earnings in the period or periods during which the hedged transaction is recognized in earnings. The gain or loss associated with derivative instruments that are not designated as hedging instruments or that cease to meet the criteria for hedging under FASB guidance is reported immediately in Non-operating income (expense), net on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Based on fair values as of December 31, 2024, we estimate that approximately $2.8 million of pre-tax derivative loss deferred in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss will be reclassified into earnings, along with the earnings effects of related forecasted transactions, within the next 12 months. Gains on foreign exchange contracts are generally offset by losses in operating income in the income statement when the underlying hedged transaction is recognized in earnings. Because gains or losses on foreign exchange contracts fluctuate partially based on currency spot rates, the future effect on earnings of the cash flow hedges alone is not determinable, but in conjunction with the underlying hedged transactions, the result is expected to be a decline in currency risk. The maximum length of time we had hedged our exposure to the variability in future cash flows was 12 months as of both December 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024.See Note 9 - Fair Value of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for further information regarding the fair value of derivative assets and liabilities and Note 6 - Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss) of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for the changes in deferred derivative gains and losses.Information on the location and amounts of derivative fair values in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and derivative gains and losses in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income are presented below.Fair Value of Derivative Instruments on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets<table style="border-collapse:collapse;display:inline-table;margin-bottom:5pt;vertical-align:text-bottom;width:100.000%"><tr><td style="width:1.0%"></td><td style="width:16.919%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:1.0%"></td><td style="width:16.919%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:1.0%"></td><td style="width:0.762%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:1.0%"></td><td style="width:10.866%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:0.762%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:1.0%"></td><td style="width:7.703%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:0.762%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:1.0%"></td><td style="width:16.919%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:0.762%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td><td style="width:1.0%"></td><td style="width:7.710%"></td><td style="width:0.1%"></td></tr><tr><td colspan="3" style="padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="15" style="border-bottom:1pt solid #000000;padding:2px 1pt;text-align:center;vertical-align:bottom">Asset Derivatives</td><td colspan="3" style="padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="15" style="border-bottom:1pt solid #000000;padding:2px 1pt;text-align:center;vertical-align:bottom">Liability Derivatives</td></tr><tr><td colspan="3" style="padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="3" style="border-top:1pt solid #000000;padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="3" style="border-top:1pt solid #000000;padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="9" style="border-top:1pt solid #000000;padding:2px 1pt;text-align:center;vertical-align:bottom">Fair Value As of</td><td colspan="3" style="padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="3" style="border-top:1pt solid #000000;padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="3" style="border-top:1pt solid #000000;padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="9" style="border-top:1pt solid #000000;padding:2px 1pt;text-align:center;vertical-align:bottom">Fair Value As of</td></tr><tr><td colspan="3" style="padding:0 1pt"></td><td colspan="3" style="padding:0 1pt;text-align:center;vertical-align:bottom">December 31, *are classified as trading, and accordingly, realized and unrealized gains and losses are recognized in the Other Income (Expense) category on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Adjustments made to revalue the SERP liability are also recognized in income as selling and administrative expenses and offset valuation adjustments on SERP investment assets. The change in net unrealized holding gains for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 was less than $0.1 million and $0.1 million, respectively. Defined Benefit Postemployment Plan: The Company established and maintains severance plans for all domestic employees and other postemployment plans for certain foreign subsidiaries. There are no statutory requirements for us to contribute to the plans, nor do employees contribute to the plans. The plans hold no assets. Benefits are paid using available cash on hand when eligible employees meet plan qualifications for payment. As of December 31, 2024, total obligations under these plans were $7.0 million of which $6.2 million were long term and $0.8 million were short term. As of June 30, 2024, total obligations under these plans were $7.0 million of which $6.2 million were long term and $0.8 million were short term. Net periodic benefit costs were not material for the six months ended December 31, 2024 and 2023. The Company matches 50% of eligible employee contributions up to 6%. The Company also provides a discretionary contribution determined annually by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Company's Board of Directors. 1000000.0 3100000 The Company also maintains a supplemental employee retirement plan ("SERP") for executives and other key employees which enables them to defer cash compensation on a pre-tax basis and restore amounts that would otherwise be payable under our tax-qualified retirement plans if the IRS did not have limits on includable compensation and maximum benefits. The SERP is structured as a rabbi trust, and therefore, assets in the SERP portfolio are subject to creditor claims in the event of bankruptcy. We recognize SERP investment assets on the balance sheet at current fair value. A SERP liability of the same amount is recorded on the balance sheet representing an obligation to distribute SERP funds to participants. As of December 31, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.6 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.6 million were long term. As of June 30, 2024, both total investments and obligations under SERP were $5.4 million, of which $2.0 million were short term and $3.4 million were long term. The SERP investment assets are classified as trading, and therefore, realized and unrealized gains and losses are recognized in the Other Income (Expense) category on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Adjustments made to revalue the SERP liability are also recognized in income as selling and administrative expenses and offset valuation adjustments on SERP investment assets. 5600000 5600000 2000000.0 2000000.0 3600000 3600000 5400000 5400000 2000000.0 2000000.0 3400000 3400000 100000 100000 0 0 7000000.0 6200000 800000 7000000.0 6200000 800000 Stock Compensation Plans A stock compensation plan was created and adopted by the Company's Board of Directors (the "Board") on September 20, 2023 and approved by our Share Owners at our 2023 Annual Meeting on November 17, 2023. The 2023 Plan allows for the issuance of up to 2.0 million shares and replaced our former 2014 plan. The shares under the 2023 Plan may be granted in the form of incentive stock options, non-qualified stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted awards, performance share awards, cash awards, and other equity awards. The Plan is a ten-year plan that terminates automatically on November 17, 2033. No award shall be granted pursuant to the Plan after such date, but awards theretofore granted may extend beyond that date. On October 20, 2016, the Board approved a nonqualified deferred stock compensation plan, the Kimball Electronics, Inc. Non-Employee Directors Stock Compensation Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan"), which allows Non-Employee Directors to elect to defer all, or a portion of, their retainer fees in stock until retirement or termination from the Board or death. The Deferral Plan allows for issuance of up to 1.0 million shares of the Company's common stock. For more information on the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan, refer to our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended June 30, 2024. During the first six months of fiscal year 2025, the following stock compensation was granted under the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan. <table These annual performance share awards were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. These awards granted in fiscal year 2025 will cliff vest at the third anniversary of the award date in fiscal year 2028. For these key employee awards, a number of shares will be issued to each participant based upon a combination of the Company's profitability based on its operating income over the performance period as defined in the Company's operating business plans for the applicable fiscal years and the Company's growth based on a comparison of its three-year compounded annual growth rate ("CAGR") with the Electronics Manufacturing Services Industry's three-year CAGR. The number of shares issued could be zero if minimum thresholds are not met up to a maximum of 125% if results on both measures exceed targets under the formula. (2) The grant date fair value is the weighted average stock price based on the dates of the grants. (3) Restricted shares were granted to leadership team members and other key employees. These restricted shares were approved by the Talent, Culture, and Compensation Committee of the Board. The contractual life of the restricted shares is three years, with one-third of the interest in the restricted shares vested after year one of the grant, another one-third after year two of the grant, and the final one-third after year three of the grant. Restricted shares are expensed over the contractual vesting period as earned. If the employment of a holder of restricted shares terminates before the RSU has vested for any reason other than death, retirement, or disability, the restricted shares not yet vested will be forfeited. 2000000.0 1000000.0 During the first six months of fiscal year 2025, the following stock compensation was granted under the 2023 Plan and the Deferral Plan. <table
