Recent Accounting Standards The Company's management does not believe there are any recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting pronouncement if currently adopted would have a material effect on the Company's unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements. Basis of Presentation The accompanying unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements are presented in U.S. dollars in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") for financial information and pursuant to the rules and regulations of the SEC. Accordingly, certain disclosures included in the annual financial statements have been consolidated condensed or omitted from these unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements as they are not required for interim financial statements. In the opinion of management, the unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements reflect all adjustments, which include only normal recurring adjustments necessary for the fair statement of the balances and results for the periods presented. Operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected through December 31, 2024 or any future periods. The accompanying unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements and notes thereto included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K filed by the Company with the SEC on March 29, 2024. Principles of Consolidation The accompanying unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Emerging Growth Company The Company is an "emerging growth company," as defined in Section 2(a) of the Securities Act, as modified by the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012 (the "JOBS Act"), and it may take advantage of certain exemptions from various reporting requirements that are applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies including, but not limited to, not being required to comply with the independent registered public accounting firm attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, reduced disclosure obligations regarding executive compensation in its periodic reports and proxy statements, and exemptions from the requirements of holding a nonbinding advisory vote on executive compensation and shareholder approval of any golden parachute payments not previously approved. Further, Section 102(b)(1) of the JOBS Act exempts emerging growth companies from being required to comply with new or revised financial accounting standards until private companies (that is, those that have not had a Securities Act registration statement declared effective or do not have a class of securities registered under the Exchange Act) are required to comply with the new or revised financial accounting standards. The JOBS Act provides that an emerging growth company can elect to opt out of the extended transition period and comply with the requirements that apply to non-emerging growth companies but any such election to opt out is irrevocable. The Company has elected not to opt out of such extended transition period, which means that when a standard is issued or revised and it has different application dates for public or private companies, the Company, as an emerging growth company, can adopt the new or revised standard at the time private companies adopt the new or revised standard. This may make comparison of the Company's unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements with another public company which is neither an emerging growth company nor an emerging growth company which has opted out of using the extended transition period difficult or impossible because of the potential differences in accounting standards used. Concentration of Cash Balances The Company has significant cash balances at financial institutions which throughout the year regularly exceed the federally insured limit of $250,000. Any loss incurred or a lack of access to such funds could have a significant adverse impact on the Company's financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023. 00 Use of Estimates The preparation of unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and expenses and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Trust Account Initially, the Company's portfolio of investments was comprised of U.S. Treasury securities, within the meaning set forth in Section 2(a)(16) of the Investment Company Act, with a maturity of 185 days or less, or investments in money market funds that invest in U.S. government securities and generally have a readily determinable fair value, or a combination thereof. When the Company's investments held in the Trust Account are comprised of U.S. government securities, the investments are classified as trading securities. When the Company's investments held in the Trust Account are comprised of money market funds, the investments are recognized at fair value. Trading securities and investments in money market funds are presented on the balance sheets at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Gains and losses resulting from the change in fair value of these securities are included in interest income and unrealized gain on investments held in Trust Account in the accompanying consolidated condensed statements of operations. The estimated fair values of investments held in the Trust Account are determined using available market information. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company, acting as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company's liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the First Extension Amendment Proposal described above (see Note 1). Financial Instruments The fair value of the Company's assets and liabilities, which qualify as financial instruments under the FASB ASC Topic 820, "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures," approximates the carrying amounts represented in the balance sheets. Fair Value Measurements Fair value is defined as the price that would be received for sale of an asset or paid for transfer of a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. GAAP establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). These tiers include: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 1, defined as observable inputs such as quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical instruments in active markets;</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 2, defined as inputs other than quoted prices in active markets that are either directly or indirectly observable such as quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets or quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active; and</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 3, defined as unobservable inputs in which little or no market data exists, therefore requiring an entity to develop its own assumptions, such as valuations derived from valuation techniques in which one or more significant inputs or significant value drivers are unobservable.</td></tr></table> In some circumstances, the inputs used to measure fair value might be categorized within different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In those instances, the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the fair value hierarchy based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the carrying values of cash, accounts payable, accrued expenses and due to related party approximate their fair values due to the short-term nature of the instruments. The fair value of investments held in Trust Account was determined using quoted prices in active markets. Offering Costs Associated with the Initial Public Offering Offering costs consisted of legal, accounting, underwriting and other costs incurred that were directly related to the Initial Public Offering and that were charged to Class A ordinary shares subject to redemption upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. Offering costs were allocated to the separable financial instruments issued in the Initial Public Offering based on a relative fair value basis, compared to total proceeds received. Offering costs associated with the Class A ordinary shares issued were charged against the carrying value of the Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. The Company classifies deferred underwriting commissions as non-current liabilities as their liquidation is not reasonably expected to require the use of current assets or require the creation of current liabilities. Class A Ordinary Shares Subject to Possible Redemption The Company accounts for its Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption in accordance with the guidance in ASC 480. Class A ordinary shares subject to mandatory redemption (if any) are classified as liability instruments and are measured at fair value. Conditionally redeemable Class A ordinary shares (including Class A ordinary shares that feature redemption rights that are either within the control of the holder or subject to redemption upon the occurrence of uncertain events not solely within the Company's control) are classified as temporary equity. At all other times, Class A ordinary shares are classified as shareholders' deficit. The Public Shares feature certain redemption rights that are considered to be outside of the Company's control and subject to the occurrence of uncertain future events. Accordingly, as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, 3,300,016 and 3,690,831 Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption are presented at redemption value as temporary equity, outside of the shareholders' deficit section of the Company's balance sheets. 330001636908310pt;font-style:italic;font-weight:bold;margin:0pt 0pt 12pt 0pt;">Income Taxes FASB ASC Topic 740, "Income Taxes" prescribes a recognition threshold and a measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. For those benefits to be recognized, a tax position must be more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. There were no unrecognized tax benefits as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023. The Company's management determined that the Cayman Islands is the Company's only major tax jurisdiction. The Company recognizes accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, there were no unrecognized tax benefits and no amounts were accrued for the payment of interest and penalties. The Company is currently not aware of any issues under review that could result in significant payments, accruals or material deviation from its position. There is currently no taxation imposed on income by the government of the Cayman Islands. In accordance with the Cayman Islands' income tax regulations, income taxes are not levied on the Company. Consequently, income taxes are not reflected in the Company's unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements. The Company's management does not expect that the total amount of unrecognized tax benefits will materially change over the next twelve months. 000000 Net Income Per Ordinary Share The Company has two classes of shares: Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares. Income and losses are shared pro rata between the two classes of shares. Net income per ordinary share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted-average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the periods. Accretion associated with the Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption is excluded from earnings per share as the redemption value approximates fair value. The following table reflects the calculation of basic and diluted net (loss) income per ordinary share (in dollars, except per share amounts): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:100%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:56.66%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.92%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:8.42%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.92%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:8.42%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.92%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:8.42%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:56.66%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="11" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:41.85%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> For the Three Months Ended June 30, </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:56.66%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="5" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:20.18%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 2024 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="5" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:20.18%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 2023 </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:56.66%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.35%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Class A </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.35%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Class B </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.35%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Class A </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.35%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Class B </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:56.66%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"><p style="font-family:'Times New

Recent Accounting Standards The Company's management does not believe there are any recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting pronouncement if currently adopted would have a material effect on the Company's unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements. Note 3 — Initial Public Offering On March 2, 2021, the Company consummated its Initial Public Offering of 14,950,000 Public Shares, including the 1,950,000 Public Shares as a result of the underwriters' full exercise of their over-allotment option, at an offering price of $10.00 per Public Share, generating gross proceeds of $149.5 million, and incurring offering costs of approximately $8.8 million, inclusive of approximately $5.2 million in deferred underwriting commissions. For more information on the Waiver related to a portion of the deferred underwriting commissions that the Company received on August 8, 2022 and the partial liquidation of the Trust Account in connection with the adoption of the First Extension Amendment Proposal, the Second Extension Amendment Proposal and the related redemptions of Class A ordinary shares, also see Note 1 above. 1495000019500001014950000088000005200000 Note 4 – Related Party Transactions Founder Shares On January 4, 2021, the Sponsor paid $25,000 to cover for certain expenses on behalf of the Company in exchange for issuance of 3,737,500 Class B ordinary shares, par value $0.0001 (the "Founder Shares"). In February 2021, the Sponsor transferred an aggregate of 90,000 Founder Shares to the Company's independent directors. The Sponsor agreed to forfeit up to 487,500 Founder Shares to the extent that the over-allotment option was not exercised in full by the underwriters, so that the Founder Shares would represent 20.0% of the Company's issued and outstanding ordinary shares (excluding the Private Placement Shares) after the Initial Public Offering. The underwriters fully exercised the over-allotment option on March 2, 2021; thus, these 487,500 Founder Shares were no longer subject to forfeiture. The initial shareholders agreed, subject to limited exceptions, not to transfer, assign or sell any of their Founder Shares until the earlier to occur of (A) one year after the completion of the initial Business Combination and (B) subsequent to the initial Business Combination, (x) if the closing price of the Company's Class A ordinary shares equals or exceeds $12.00 per share (as adjusted for share sub-divisions, share capitalizations, reorganizations, recapitalizations and the like) for any 20 trading days within any 30-trading day period commencing at least 150 days after the initial Business Combination, or (y) the date on which the Company completes a liquidation, merger, share exchange, reorganization or other similar transaction that results in all of the Public Shareholders having the right to exchange their ordinary shares for cash, securities or other property. For more information on how the transfer restrictions will be amended in connection with the Proposed Adagio Business Combination (as defined below) and the execution of the Investor Rights Agreement (as defined below), also see Note 5. Private Placement Shares Simultaneously with the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the Company consummated the Private Placement of 499,000 Private Placement Shares, at a price of $10.00 per Private Placement Share to the Sponsor, generating gross proceeds of approximately $5.0 million. The Private Placement Shares are not transferable or salable until 30 days after the completion of the initial Business Combination. Certain proceeds from the Private Placement Shares have been added to the proceeds from the Initial Public Offering held in the Trust Account. The Sponsor and the Company's officers and directors agreed, subject to limited exceptions, not to transfer, assign or sell any of their Private Placement Shares until 30 days after the completion of the initial Business Combination. Related Party Loans On March 2, 2021, the Sponsor agreed to loan the Company an aggregate of up to $300,000 to cover for expenses related to the Initial Public Offering pursuant to a promissory note (the "Note") and the Company subsequently reclassified the outstanding amount due to the Sponsor as borrowing under the Note. This loan was non-interest bearing and payable upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. The Company borrowed approximately $161,000 under the Note and fully repaid the Note upon closing of the Initial Public Offering. Subsequent to the repayment, the loan facility was no longer available to the Company. In addition, in order to finance transaction costs in connection with a Business Combination, the Sponsor, affiliates of the Sponsor, or the Company's officers and directors may, but are not obligated to, loan the Company funds as may be required ("Working Capital Loans"). If the Company completes a Business Combination, the Company may repay any Working Capital Loans that may have been extended to the Company by the Sponsor, affiliates of the Sponsor, or the Company's officers and directors out of the proceeds of the Trust Account released to the Company. Otherwise, the Working Capital Loans may be repaid only out of funds held outside the Trust Account. In the event that a Business Combination does not close, the Company may use a portion of the proceeds held outside the Trust Account to repay any Working Capital Loans but no proceeds held in the Trust Account would be used to repay such Working Capital Loans. Except for the terms of the First Convertible Promissory Note, the Second Convertible Promissory Note, the Third Promissory Note and the Fourth Convertible Promissory Note, each as further described below, the terms of such Working Capital Loans have not been determined and no written agreements exist with respect to any other loans between the Company and the Sponsor, affiliates of the Sponsor, or the Company's officers and directors. The Working Capital Loans would either be repaid upon the consummation of a Business Combination, without interest, or, at the lenders' discretion, up to $1.5 million of such Working Capital Loans may be convertible into shares of the post Business Combination entity at a price of $10.00 per share. The shares would be identical to the Private Placement Shares. Except as described below, as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company had no other outstanding borrowings under Working Capital Loans. On November 7, 2022, the Company issued an unsecured convertible promissory note (the "First Convertible Promissory Note") to the Sponsor, pursuant to which the Company borrowed $120,000 (the "First Convertible Working Capital Loan") from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes. Such loan may, at the Sponsor's discretion, be converted into Class A ordinary shares, par value $0.0001 per share, of the Company (the "Working Capital Shares") at a conversion price equal to $10.00 per Working Capital Share. The terms of the Working Capital Shares will be identical to those of the Private Placement Shares that were issued to the Sponsor in connection with the Initial Public Offering. The First Convertible Working Capital Loan will not bear any interest and will be repayable by the Company to the Sponsor, if not converted or repaid on the effective date of a Business Combination involving the Company and one or more businesses. The maturity date of the First Convertible Working Capital Loan may be accelerated upon the occurrence of an Event of Default (as defined under the First Convertible Promissory Note). The Company granted customary registration rights to the Sponsor with respect to any Working Capital Shares, which shall constitute "Registrable Securities" pursuant to that certain Registration and Shareholder Rights Agreement, dated March 2, 2021, by and among the Company, the Sponsor and the other parties thereto (the "Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement"). Further, each newly issued Working Capital Share shall bear the same transfer restrictions that apply to the Private Placement Shares, as contemplated by the Letter Agreement, dated February 25, 2021, by and among the Company, the Sponsor and the other parties thereto (the "Letter Agreement"). As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, there were $120,000 of borrowings outstanding under the First Convertible Promissory Note. On February 28, 2023, the Company issued a non-interest bearing, unsecured convertible promissory note to the Sponsor in connection with the First Extension Amendment Proposal, pursuant to which the Company may borrow up to $1,680,000 from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes and the funding of the deposits that the Company is required to make pursuant to its Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association (as amended following the adoption of the First Extension Amendment Proposal at the Company's extraordinary general meeting of shareholders on February 28, 2023) and following the request of the Sponsor in connection with an optional monthly extension of the time period during which the Company may consummate a Business Combination (the "Second Convertible Promissory Note"). Up to $1,380,000 of the amounts loaned under the Second Convertible Promissory Note will be convertible at the option of the Sponsor into Working Capital Shares. This working capital loan outstanding pursuant to the Second Convertible Promissory Note (the "Second Working Capital Loan") will not bear any interest and will be repayable by the Company to the Sponsor to the extent the Company has funds available outside of the Trust Account and if not converted or repaid on the effective date of a Business Combination. The maturity date of the Second Convertible Working Capital Loan may be accelerated upon the occurrence of an Event of Default (as defined under the Second Convertible Promissory Note). The Company granted customary registration rights to the Sponsor with respect to any Working Capital Shares issued pursuant to the Second Convertible Promissory Note, which shall constitute "Registrable Securities" pursuant the Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement. Further, each newly issued Working Capital Share shall bear the same transfer restrictions that apply to the Private Placement Shares, as contemplated by the Letter Agreement. On April 18, 2023, June 2, 2023, July 6, 2023, August 2, 2023 and September 5, 2023, the Company withdrew an additional $400,000, $140,000, $140,000, $140,000 and $165,000, respectively, from the Second Convertible Promissory Note (see Note 1). As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, $1,585,000 were drawn under the Second Convertible Promissory Note. On September 27, 2023, the Company issued an unsecured promissory note to the Sponsor (the "Third Promissory Note"), pursuant to which the Company may borrow $900,000 from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes and to fund the deposits required to be made into the Company's trust account in connection with the monthly extensions of the time period during which the Company may consummate a business combination in accordance with the Company's amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, as amended during the shareholder meeting on February 28, 2023. This working capital loan outstanding pursuant to the Third Promissory Note (the "Third Working Capital Loan") will not bear any interest. In the event that the Company does not consummate a Business Combination, the Third Promissory Note will be repaid from funds held outside of the Trust Account or will be forfeited, eliminated or otherwise forgiven. The maturity date of the Third Working Capital Loan may be accelerated upon the occurrence of an Event of Default (as defined under the Third Promissory Note). On October 2, 2023, November 2, 2023 and December 2, 2023, the Company approved the fifth, sixth and seventh one-month extension of the Business Combination Period, respectively. In connection with such extensions of the Business Combination Period to January 2, 2024, the Company drew an aggregate amount of $420,000 from the Third Promissory Note. As provided for in the Company's amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, the Company deposited the extension funds into the trust account that was established by the Company in connection with its Initial Public Offering. The Company also drew an aggregate of $50,000 under the Third Promissory Note for working capital purposes. As of June 30, 2024, $900,000 was drawn under the Third Promissory Note. On February 8, 2024, the Company issued an unsecured convertible promissory note to the Sponsor (the "Fourth Convertible Promissory Note"), pursuant to which the Company may borrow $1,000,000 from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes and to fund the monthly deposits required to be made into the Trust Account in order to extend the time period during which the Company may consummate a Business Combination (the "Fourth Working Capital Loan") in accordance with the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association. The Fourth Working Capital Loan will not bear any interest. In the event that the Company does not consummate a Business Combination, the Fourth Convertible Promissory Note will be repaid from funds held outside of the Trust Account or will be forfeited, eliminated or otherwise forgiven. The maturity date of the Fourth Working Capital Loan may be accelerated upon the occurrence of an Event of Default (as defined under the Fourth Convertible Promissory Note). Any Working Capital Shares issuable upon conversion of the Fourth Convertible Promissory Note will not be registered under the Securities Act and will be issued in reliance on the exemption from registration requirements thereof provided by Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. As of June 30, 2024, $540,000 was drawn under the Fourth Convertible Promissory Note. On February 13, 2024, the Company and the Sponsor entered into an amendment to the Second Convertible Promissory Note, pursuant to which the total principal amount up to $1,680,000 of the amounts loaned under the Second Convertible Promissory Note will be convertible at the option of the Sponsor into Working Capital Shares upon the completion of a Business Combination. On February 13, 2024, the Company and the Sponsor also amended and restated the Third Promissory Note to provide that the total principal amount loaned under the Second Convertible Promissory Note will be convertible at the option of the Sponsor into Working Capital Shares upon the completion of a Business Combination. On June 28, 2024,the Company issued an unsecured convertible promissory note (the "Fifth Convertible Promissory Note") to the Sponsor, pursuant to which the Company may borrow $150,000 (the "Working Capital Loan") from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes and the funding of the deposits required to be made into the Company's trust account in connection with the monthly extensions of the time period during which the Company may consummate a Business Combination (as defined below) in accordance with the Company's amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, as amended from time to time. Such loan may, at the Sponsor's discretion, be converted into the Company's Class A ordinary shares, par value $0.0001 per share (the "Working Capital Shares"), at a conversion price equal to $10.00 per Working Capital Share. Upon the closing of the Business Combination on July 31, 2024 (see Note 5), all issued and outstanding First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Convertible Promissory notes (discussed above and collectively referred to as the "Convertible Notes"), including any accrued and unpaid interest thereon, were fully converted into shares of New Adagio common stock and, or, Warrants in accordance with the terms of each Convertible Note, subject to adjustment, based on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the applicable bridge notes agreement and applicable subscription agreements. Administrative Support Agreement Commencing on the date that the Company's registration statement relating to its Initial Public Offering was declared effective through the earlier of consummation of the initial Business Combination and the Company's liquidation, the Company agreed to reimburse the Sponsor for office space, secretarial and administrative services provided to the Company in the amount of $10,000 per month. The Company incurred approximately $0 and $30,000 in general and administrative expenses in the accompanying unaudited condensed statements of operations for the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. The Company incurred approximately $30,000 and $60,000 in general and administrative expenses in the accompanying unaudited condensed statements of operations for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company had $0 and $210,000, respectively, included in due to related party on the condensed balance sheets.

The holders of these securities are entitled to make up to three demands, excluding short form demands, that the Company registers such securities. In addition, the holders have certain "piggyback" registration rights with respect to registration statements filed subsequent to the Company's completion of its Business Combination. However, the Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement provides that the Company will not permit any registration statement filed under the Securities Act to become effective until termination of the applicable lock-up period, which occurs (i) in the case of the Founder Shares, in accordance with the Letter Agreement, the Company's initial shareholders entered into and (ii) in the case of the Private Placement Shares, 30 days after the completion of the Company's Business Combination. The Company will bear the expenses incurred in connection with the filing of any such registration statements. See below for information on the Investor Rights Agreement that was executed in connection with a proposed Business Combination and that will replace the Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement in connection with the closing of the proposed Business Combination. Underwriting Agreement The Company granted the underwriters a 45-day option from the final prospectus relating to the Initial Public Offering to purchase up to 1,950,000 additional Public Shares to cover over-allotments at the Initial Public Offering price less the underwriting discounts and commissions. On March 2, 2021, the underwriters fully exercised the over-allotment option. The underwriters were paid an underwriting discount of $0.20 per Public Share, or approximately $3.0 million in the aggregate, paid upon the closing of the Initial Public Offering. In addition, $0.35 per Public Share, or approximately $5.2 million in the aggregate will be payable to the underwriters for deferred underwriting commissions. The deferred fee will become payable to the underwriters from the amounts held in the Trust Account solely in the event that the Company completes a Business Combination, subject to the terms of the underwriting agreement. On August 8, 2022, the Company received the Waiver from one of the underwriters. In connection with the Waiver, the underwriter also agreed that (i) the Waiver is not intended to allocate its 50% portion of the deferred underwriting commissions to the other underwriter that has not waived its right to receive its share of the deferred underwriting commissions and (ii) the waived portion of the deferred underwriting commissions can, at the discretion of the Company, be paid to one or more parties or otherwise be used in connection with an initial Business Combination. During the period ended September 30, 2023, the Company derecognized approximately $2.6 million of the deferred underwriting commissions and recorded an adjustment to the carrying value of the shares of Class A ordinary shares subject to redemption. Upon the closing of the Business Combination on July 31, 2024, as discussed below, the Company was granted the option to issue shares in lieu of a cash payment for transaction expenses and deferred fees incurred by its underwriter, within 60 days of the closing, as of the filing, the Company has not effectuated this option. At Closing the Company incurred an additional transaction closing fee of $1,268,875. The Company's total costs due to the underwriter was $3,885,125 at closing. Business Combination Agreement On February 13, 2024, the Company, ListCo, Aja Merger Sub 1, a Cayman Islands exempted company ("ARYA Merger Sub"), Aja Merger Sub 2, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Adagio Merger Sub"), and Adagio Medical, Inc. ("Adagio") entered into a business combination agreement (the "Business Combination Agreement"), in connection with a proposed business combination (the "Proposed Adagio Business Combination"), which contains certain customary representations, warranties, and covenants by the parties thereto. As further described in the Business Combination Agreement, the closing of the Proposed Adagio Business Combination (the "Closing") is subject to certain customary conditions and risks. The Business Combination Agreement provides, among other things, for the consummation of the following transactions: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times',serif;font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times',serif;font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">1.</td><td style="padding:0pt;">ARYA Merger Sub will merge with and into the Company (the "ARYA Merger") and Adagio Merger Sub will merge with and into Adagio (the "Adagio Merger" and, together with the ARYA Merger, the "Mergers"), with the Company and Adagio surviving the Mergers and, after giving effect to such Mergers, each of the Company and Adagio becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of ListCo, on the terms and subject to the conditions in the Business Combination Agreement;</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times',serif;font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times',serif;font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">2.</td><td*

(iii) each share of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, of Adagio (the "Adagio Preferred Stock") that is issued and outstanding will be automatically converted into shares of Adagio Common Stock and each such share of Adagio Preferred Stock will be cancelled; (ii) the definition of the term "Fully Diluted HoldCo Closing Capitalization" as provided in the Business Combination Agreement was expanded to include the number of pre-funded warrants outstanding immediately after the Company Merger Effective Time that each represented the right to purchase HoldCo Shares; (iii) (a) the aggregate share reserve under the Key Employee Incentive Plan (as defined in the Business Combination Agreement) should be up to the Key Employee Incentive Plan Maximum Amount, which was the aggregate number of HoldCo Shares equal to the product obtained by multiplying (A) the quotient of (x) fifteen percent (15)% divided by (y) thirty-five percent (35)% by (B) the Aggregate Incentive Equity Pool, which was the aggregate number of HoldCo Shares equal to (x) the Aggregate HoldCo Share Reserve (as defined hereunder) minus (y) the Fully Diluted HoldCo Closing Capitalization, and (b) the aggregate share reserve under the HoldCo Incentive Equity Plan (as defined in the Business Combination Agreement) should be equal to the Incentive Equity Plan Maximum Amount plus an increase as provided in the Business Combination Agreement, which Incentive Equity Plan Maximum Amount was the aggregate number of HoldCo Shares equal to the product obtained by multiplying (A) the quotient of (x) twenty percent (20)% divided by (y) thirty-five percent (35)% by (B) the Aggregate Incentive Equity Pool; and (iv) following the Closing, ListCo's name would be changed to "Adagio Medical Holdings, Inc." (or such other name mutually agreed to by ARYA and Adagio). As defined in the Amendment No. 1, "Aggregate HoldCo Share Reserve" meant the aggregate number of HoldCo Shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing (i) the Fully Diluted HoldCo Closing Capitalization by (ii) sixty-five percent (65)%. Sponsor Letter Agreement Concurrently with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, the Company, the Sponsor, each holder of Class B ordinary shares (the "Other Class B Shareholders" and with the Sponsor, the "Class B Shareholders"), including the Company's directors and officers (together with the Class B Shareholders, the "Insiders"), ListCo and Adagio entered into a letter agreement (the "Sponsor Letter Agreement"), pursuant to which, among other things, (i) each Class B

Shareholder agreed to vote in favor of each of the transaction proposals to be voted upon at the meeting of the Company's shareholders, including approval of the Business Combination Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, (ii) each Class B Shareholder agreed to waive any adjustment to the conversion ratio set forth in the amended and restated memorandum and articles of association or any other anti-dilution or similar protection with respect to the Class B ordinary shares (whether resulting from the transactions contemplated by the Subscription Agreements (as defined below) or otherwise), (iii) each of the Insiders and the Company agreed to terminate the lock-up provisions contained in the Letter Agreement between the Company, the Sponsor and the other parties thereto, and to replace such lock-up provisions with the transfer restrictions included in the Investor Rights Agreement (as defined below), (iv) each Class B Shareholder agreed to be bound by certain transfer restrictions with respect to his, her or its shares in the Company prior to the Closing, (v) the Sponsor agreed that 1,147,500 shares of New Adagio Common Stock issued to the Sponsor will be subject to Share Trigger Price Vesting, and (vi) the Sponsor has agreed to irrevocably forfeit, surrender and transfer to the Company for no consideration 1,000,000 Class B ordinary shares, which will be issued by ListCo to the PIPE Investors, including the Perceptive PIPE Investor, as incentive shares. Adagio Stockholder Transaction Support Agreements Pursuant to the Business Combination Agreement, certain stockholders of Adagio entered into transaction support agreements (collectively, the "Adagio Transaction Support Agreements") with the Company and Adagio, pursuant to which such stockholders of Adagio agreed to, among other things, (i) vote in favor of the Business Combination Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby and (ii) be bound by certain other covenants and agreements related to the Proposed Adagio Business Combination. PIPE Financing (Private Placement) In connection with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, ListCo and the Company entered into Subscription Agreements (the "Subscription Agreements") with the Perceptive PIPE Investor and certain other investors (the "Other PIPE Investors," and, together with the Perceptive PIPE Investor, the "PIPE Investors"), pursuant to which the PIPE Investors committed financing valued at approximately $45,000,000, which includes (i) commitments by certain investors to subscribe for and purchase Class A ordinary shares in the open market and not to redeem such shares prior to the date the Closing occurs (the "Closing Date"), (ii) non-redemption commitments by certain investors that are shareholders of the Company, (iii) agreements to subscribe for and purchase shares of New Adagio Common Stock, (iv) the contribution of $23,000,000 of 2023 Bridge Financing Notes to ListCo pursuant to the terms of the Subscription Agreement executed by the Perceptive PIPE Investor, and (v) an additional cash investment by the Perceptive PIPE Investor of approximately $8.1 million (which amount may be reduced by up to approximately $1,070,575 subject to Additional Financing being raised prior to Closing), as described in more detail below (together, the "PIPE Financing"). In connection with the PIPE Financing, the PIPE Investors will also subscribe for (i) warrants to purchase shares of New Adagio Common Stock at $10.00 per share, subject to adjustment (the "Base Warrants") or (ii) a combination of Base Warrants and pre-funded warrants, each exercisable for one share of New Adagio Common Stock at $0.01 per share (the "Pre-Funded Warrants," and together with the Base Warrants, the "PIPE Warrants"). As provided for in the Subscription Agreements, the number of shares of New Adagio Common Stock and Base Warrants issuable to the PIPE Investors will depend on the redemption value of the Class A ordinary shares at Closing, the average per share price of the Class A ordinary shares purchased by certain PIPE Investors in the open market and the amount of interest on the 2023 Bridge Financing Notes that will have accrued and be unpaid at Closing and be contributed to ListCo in exchange for shares of New Adagio Common Stock. The shares of New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants to be issued pursuant to the Subscription Agreements have not been registered under the Securities Act and will be issued in reliance upon the exemption provided in Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. ListCo will grant the PIPE Investors certain registration rights in connection with the PIPE Financing. The PIPE Financing is contingent upon, among other things, the substantially concurrent Closing. The Company has concluded that the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants to be issued under certain of the Subscription Agreements (the "Open Market Subscription Agreements") that include an open market purchase and non-redemption obligation for subscribing investors (the "Open Market Investors") qualify as equity under ASC 815-40 ("Derivatives and Hedging-Contracts in Entity's Own Equity"); therefore, the Company will recognize the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants to be issued under such Open Market Subscription Agreements (such securities, the "Open Market PIPE Securities") by recording an entry to additional paid-in capital (APIC) in shareholders' equity in its balance sheet. In accordance with ASC 815-40-30-1, the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants will be recorded and measured at fair value (i.e., most often representative of proceeds received for equity-linked instruments; however, when estimating the fair value of the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants, the Company has followed the guidance in ASC 820 Fair Value Measurement. In connection with Open Market Investor's commitment to irrevocably subscribe for and agree to purchase from ListCo the number of Open Market PIPE Securities set forth on the signature page of the applicable Open Market Subscription Agreements, on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in such Open Market Subscription Agreements, which include, without limitation, the agreement not to redeem the Class A ordinary shares purchased in the open market prior to Closing, the Company will record an amount equal to the full fair value of the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants to be issued to the Open Market PIPE Investor in connection with the Closing. On July 23, 2024, the Perceptive Life Sciences Master Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the "Perceptive PIPE Investor") indicated an interest to increase its investment in the PIPE Financing by such amount that is necessary for the minimum unrestricted cash condition of the Contingent Investor to be met. Such additional subscription would be on the same terms as provided in the Subscription Agreement that the Perceptive PIPE Investor executed on February 13, 2024 and amended on June 24, 2024. The Closing occurred on July 31, 2024, New Adagio is required to have approximately $32,129,000 of available unrestricted cash for the Contingent Investor to fund its $7,500,000 commitment under the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement. Assuming that a maximum redemption scenario occurs, that no Additional Financing is raised prior to Closing and that transaction expenses payable at Closing are approximately $14.3 million (current estimate subject to change), the Perceptive PIPE Investor may, pursuant to such indication of interest, increase its new money commitment under the PIPE Financing by approximately $9 million, resulting in the issuance of approximately 1,080,000 additional shares of New Adagio Common Stock at Closing to the Perceptive PIPE Investor. Assuming such issuance of additional shares of New Adagio Common Stock to the Perceptive PIPE Investor in the maximum redemption scenario, the post-Closing ownership of the Perceptive PIPE Investor and the initial shareholders may increase by approximately 2.6%. Convertible Security Financing (Private Placement) In connection with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, certain investors, including the Perceptive PIPE Investor (the "Convert Investors"), executed a securities purchase agreement, dated February 13, 2024, with ListCo (the "Convertible Security Subscription Agreement"), pursuant to which ListCo issued on the Closing Date to the Convert Investors $20,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 13% senior secured convertible notes (the "New Adagio Convertible Notes"), which will be convertible into shares of New Adagio Common Stock at a conversion price of $10.00 per share, subject to adjustment (the "Conversion Shares"), and 1,500,000 warrants (the "Convert Warrants"), each Convert Warrant being exercisable on a cashless basis or for cash at a price of $24.00 per share, subject to adjustment (the "Base Convert Financing"). Such $20,000,000 of financing in the form of New Adagio Convertible Notes includes the Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment (as defined below) and includes the conversion of the 2024 Bridge Financing Notes (as defined below) into New Adagio Convertible Notes at Closing, subject in each case to Additional Financing (as defined below) being raised prior to Closing, as further described below. The New Adagio Convertible Notes will have a maturity of three years and nine months after Closing and interest will be payable in cash or compound as additional principal outstanding. The Perceptive PIPE Investor also purchased a $7,000,000 convertible promissory note of Adagio (the "2024 Bridge Financing Notes") pursuant to a note purchase agreement, dated February 13, 2024, by and among the Perceptive PIPE Investor, Adagio and ListCo (the "2024 Bridge Financing Notes Subscription Agreement"). On the Closing Date, pursuant to the terms of the 2024 Bridge Financing Notes and the 2024 Bridge Financing Note Subscription Agreement, the 2024 Bridge Financing Notes converted into $7,000,000 of New Adagio

Convertible Notes and 525,000 Convert Warrants, and the Perceptive PIPE Investor did not subscribe for an additional $5,500,000 of New Adagio Convertible Notes and 412,500 Convert Warrants, for a total of $12,500,000 in aggregate principal amount of New Adagio Convertible Notes and 937,500 Convert Warrants, on the same terms as the Convert Investors executing the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement (such commitment by the Perceptive PIPE Investor to purchase New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants, the "Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment," and the conversion of the 2024 Bridge Financing Note and purchase of New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants pursuant to the Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment as part of the Base Convert Financing, the "Convertible Security Financing"). Subject to the Company and New Adagio receiving any new financing or commitment for financing (any such financing, an "Additional Financing"), whether in the form of equity, debt or convertible debt, before the Closing Date, the Perceptive PIPE Investor did not request that on the Closing Date the 2024 Bridge Financing Note is repaid, the Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment is reduced or a combination of both. The New Adagio Convertible Notes and the Convert Warrants issuable in connection with the Convertible Security Financing have not been registered under the Securities Act and will be issued in reliance upon the exemption provided in Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. ListCo will grant the Convert Investors certain registration rights in connection with the Convertible Security Financing. The Convertible Security Financing is contingent upon, among other things, the substantially concurrent Closing. As set forth in the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, the closing of $7,500,000 of financing by an affiliate of an institutional investor (the "Contingent Investor"), in the Convertible Security Financing is conditioned on New Adagio having at least $48 million (as reduced by $2 million (prorated for partial months) for each calendar month anniversary from November 30, 2023 until the Closing Date) of available unrestricted cash on the Closing Date. Pursuant to the terms of the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, on the Closing Date, ListCo, certain of its subsidiaries (other than Adagio Medical GmbH, a company organized under the laws of Germany and an excluded subsidiary thereunder) (the "Subsidiaries") and the collateral agent (the "Collateral Agent") on behalf of the Convert Investors, will enter into a security and pledge agreement (the "Convert Security Document"), pursuant to which ListCo and the Subsidiaries will (i) pledge the equity interests in the Subsidiaries to the Collateral Agent, (ii) pledge all of their respective promissory notes, securities and other instruments evidencing indebtedness to the Collateral Agent, and (iii) grant to the Collateral Agent a security interest in and lien on all of their respective personal property and assets, including, among other items, all of their deposit accounts, chattel paper, documents, equipment, general intangibles, instruments and inventory, and all proceeds therefrom, in each case subject to customary exceptions, all as set forth in the form of the Convert Security Document. Additionally, pursuant to the terms of the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, on the Closing Date, the Subsidiaries will deliver a guaranty (the "Convert Guaranty") to the Collateral Agent pursuant to which the Subsidiaries will, jointly and severally, guaranty ListCo's obligation to repay the New Adagio Convertible Notes and all other obligations of ListCo under the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement and the New Adagio Convertible Notes and other related transaction documents, as set forth in the form of the Convert Guaranty. Any additional subsidiaries of ListCo formed or acquired after the closing date will be required to join the Convert Guaranty as additional guarantors. Convert Registration Rights Agreement The Conversion Shares, the Convert Warrants, the Convert Warrant Shares, the New Adagio Convertible Notes and any capital stock of ListCo issued or issuable with respect to the Conversion Shares, have not been registered under the Securities Act. In connection with the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, ListCo and the Convert Investors agreed to enter into a Registration Rights Agreement (the "Convert Registration Rights Agreement"), pursuant to which ListCo will be required to file a registration statement on Form S-3 or, if not available, Form S-1 (the "Convert Registration Statement") with the SEC to register for resale all of the Registrable Securities (as defined in the Convert Registration Rights Agreement), including the Conversion Shares, the Convert Warrant Shares and any shares issuable with respect to the New Adagio Convertible Notes, as soon as practicable, but in no event later than 45 days after the Closing Date. In the event that the number of shares registered for resale under the Convert Registration Statement is insufficient to cover all of the Registrable Securities, ListCo will amend the Registration Statement or file with the SEC a new registration statement to cover at least the Required Registration Amount (as defined in the Convert Registration Rights Agreement) as of the trading day immediately preceding the date of the filing of such amendment or new registration statement, as soon as practicable, but in any event not later than 15 days after the necessity therefor arises. If ListCo fails to file the Convert Registration Statement when required, fails to obtain effectiveness by SEC when required or fails to maintain the effectiveness of the Convert Registration Statement pursuant to the Convert Registration Rights Agreement, then as partial relief for the damages to any holder by reason of any such delay in or reduction of, its ability to sell the underlying shares of New Adagio Common Stock, ListCo will be required to pay each holder of Registrable Securities relating to such Convert Registration Statement an amount equal to one percent of such Convert Investor's original principal amount according to the timelines laid out in the Convert Registration Rights Agreement. The Convert Registration Rights Agreement also provides the parties with "piggy-back" registration rights, subject to certain requirements and customary conditions. Investor Rights Agreement Concurrently with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, the Company, ListCo, the Perceptive PIPE Investor, the Sponsor and the Other Class B Shareholders, and certain Adagio stockholders entered into an investor rights agreement (the "Investor Rights Agreement") pursuant to which, among other things, the Perceptive PIPE Investor, the Sponsor, the Other Class B Shareholders, certain Adagio stockholders and investors in the Convertible Security Financing will be granted certain customary registration rights. Further, subject to customary exceptions set forth in the Investor Rights Agreement, the shares of New Adagio Common Stock beneficially owned or owned of record by the Sponsor, the Perceptive PIPE Investor, certain officers and directors of the Company and New Adagio (including any shares of New Adagio Common Stock issued pursuant to the Business Combination Agreement or the PIPE Financing) will be subject to a lock-up period beginning on the Closing Date until the date that is the earlier of (i) 365 days following the Closing Date (or six months after the Closing Date, in the case of Olav Bergheim, John Dahldorf, Hakon Bergheim, Todd Wider, Michael Henderson and Leslie Trigg) or (ii) the first date subsequent to the Closing Date with respect to which the closing price of the shares of New Adagio Common Stock equals or exceeds $12.00 per share for any 20 trading days within any 30-trading day period commencing at least 150 days after the Closing Date. Pursuant to the terms of the Investor Rights Agreement, ListCo will be obligated to file a registration statement to register the resale of certain shares of New Adagio Common Stock within 45 days after the Closing, and ListCo is required at all times to maintain the effectiveness of such resale registration statement for the benefit of the holders party to the agreement. In addition, pursuant to the terms of the Investor Rights Agreement and subject to certain requirements and customary conditions, the certain Adagio stockholders, the Perceptive PIPE Investor and the Sponsor (including the Permitted Transferees (as defined therein) of the Perceptive PIPE Investor and the Sponsor) may demand at any time or from time to time, that ListCo file a registration statement on Form S-3 (or on Form S-1 if Form S-3 is not available) to register the securities of ListCo held by such holders. The Investor Rights Agreement will also provide holders party thereto with "piggy-back" registration rights, subject to certain requirements and customary conditions. The Registration and Shareholder Rights Agreement will be terminated in connection with the consummation of the Business Combination and replaced by the Investor Rights Agreement. Adoption of Second Extension Amendment Proposal On February 27, 2024, the Company held an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders in view of approving an amendment to the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association to extend the Termination Date from the Previous Termination Date to the Articles Extension Date and to allow the Company, without another shareholder vote, to elect to extend the Termination Date to consummate a Business Combination on a monthly basis for up to eleven times by an additional one month each time after the Articles Extension Date, by resolution of the Company's board of directors, if requested by the Sponsor, and upon five days' advance notice prior to the applicable Termination Date, until March 2, 2025 or a total of up to forty-eight months from the closing of the initial public offering, unless the closing of a Business Combination shall have occurred prior thereto (the "Second Extension Amendment Proposal"). In connection with the initial one-month extension from the Previous Termination Date to the Articles Extension Date, the Company made a deposit into the Trust Account of $111,000 and drew down on the Fourth Convertible Promissory Note to finance this deposit. In connection with any subsequent optional monthly extensions following the Articles Extension Date, the Sponsor is expected to make deposits of $111,000 per month into the Trust Account and borrow the necessary funds from the Sponsor in the form of convertible notes, as provided for in the amendment to the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association that was adopted on February 27, 2024. As contemplated by the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association, the holders of Public Shares were able to elect to redeem all or a portion of their Public Shares in exchange for their pro rata portion of the funds held in the Trust Account in connection with the Second Extension Amendment Proposal. On February 27, 2024, the Second Extension Amendment Proposal was adopted and 390,815 Public Shares were redeemed for an aggregate amount of approximately $4,358,804. Following the adoption of the Second Extension Amendment Proposal, the Company had 3,799,016 Class A ordinary shares, including 3,300,016 Public Shares and 499,000 private placement shares, and 3,737,500 Class B ordinary shares issued and outstanding. Following the approval of the Second Extension Amendment Proposal, the ordinary shares held by the initial shareholders represented 56.2% of the issued and outstanding ordinary shares (including Private Placement Shares). Non-Redemption Subscription Agreements In connection with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, ListCo and the Company entered into Non-redemption Subscription Agreements (the "Non-redemption Subscription Agreements") with certain other investors (the "Non-Redeeming Subscribed Investors") pursuant to which the Non-Redeeming Subscribed Investors committed financing valued at approximately $2,000,000, which includes ListCo is seeking commitments from interested investors to purchase in a private placement, contingent upon, and substantially concurrently with the closing of the Transaction, (i) shares (the "Shares") of ListCo's common stock, par value $0.0001 per share (the "Common Stock"), (ii) warrants, each representing the right to purchase shares of Common Stock and to be represented by a warrant and (iii) the Investor and its affiliates agree (a) not to sell or transfer any of the Non-Redeeming Subscribed Investors") the company's Shares prior to the closing of the Transaction and (b) not to redeem any Investor Company Shares prior to or in connection with the Transaction. On the Closing Date, Non-Redeeming Subscribed Investors shall deliver evidence reasonably satisfactory to ListCo that Investor continues to hold the Investor Company Shares and has not tendered such shares for redemption. The Company has concluded that the New Adagio Common Stock and Warrants ("Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants") issued under certain Non-redemption Subscription Agreements qualify as equity under ASC 815-40 ("Derivatives and Hedging-Contracts in Entity's Own Equity"). Consequently, the Company will recognize these Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants by recording an entry to additional paid-in capital (APIC) in shareholders' equity in its balance sheet. According to ASC 815-40-30-1, the Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants will be recorded and measured at fair value, usually represented by the proceeds received for equity-linked instruments. When estimating the fair value of these instruments, the Company follows the guidance in ASC 820, Fair Value Measurement. Regarding the Non-Redeeming Subscribed Investors' commitment to irrevocably subscribe and purchase the number of Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants listed in the Non-redemption Subscription Agreements, the Company agrees to the terms and conditions set forth in the agreements, including not redeeming the Class A ordinary shares purchased in the open market before closing. The Company will record an amount equal to the full fair value of the Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants to be issued to the Non-Redeeming Subscribed Investor at the closing. Approval of Business Combination Agreement On July 26, 2024, the Company held an annual general meeting of shareholders (the "Meeting") to consider and vote upon the Business Combination Proposal, the ARYA Merger Proposal, the Director Election Proposal and the Adjournment Proposal, each as more fully described in the definitive proxy statement/prospectus that the Company filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on July 12, 2024 (the "Proxy Statement"). The shareholders of the Company approved the Business Combination Proposal, the ARYA Merger Proposal and the Director Election Proposal. As there were sufficient votes to approve the Business Combination Proposal, the ARYA Merger Proposal and the Director Election Proposal, the Adjournment Proposal was not presented to shareholders. Consummation of Business Combination On July 31, 2024, Adagio announced the closing of its previously announced Business Combination with the Company and ListCo (the "Closing"). In connection with the Closing, ListCo changed its name to "Adagio Medical Holdings, Inc." (ListCo following the Closing, "New Adagio"). The shares of common stock of New Adagio began trading on August 1, 2024, under the ticker symbol "ADGM" on the Nasdaq Capital Market. Upon the consummation of the Business Combination, Adagio and the Company became the direct wholly-owned subsidiaries of New Adagio. In connection with the Business Combination, the combined company raised financing valued at approximately $84.2 million, which consisted of funds held in the Company's trust account, a concurrent equity and warrant private placement (including $29.5 million of bridge financing used by Adagio prior to closing and funds from the Company's trust account not redeemed) led by, among others, Perceptive PIPE Investor, RA Capital Management and RTW Investments, and a concurrent convertible security financing (including $7.0 million of bridge financing used by Adagio prior to closing) led by, among others, an institutional investor and Perceptive PIPE Investor. The Business Combination is expected to be accounted for as a forward-merger in accordance with U.S. GAAP. Under this method of accounting, ListCo is treated as the "accounting acquirer" and Adagio as the "accounting acquiree" for financial reporting purposes. Accordingly, the Business Combination is expected to be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. The acquisition method of accounting is based on FASB ASC 805 and uses the fair value concepts defined in ASC 820. As of the date the condensed consolidated financial statements are available to be issued, the Company is still in the process of analyzing the accounting impact of the Business Combination. 3P30DP45D19500000.230000000.3552000000.502600000P60D126887538851251O.0001110000001147500 24P20DP30D0.010.00 style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;font-weight:bold;margin:0pt 0pt 12pt 0pt;">Note 6 — Class A Ordinary Shares Subject to Possible Redemption The Public Shares feature certain redemption rights that are considered to be outside of the Company's control and subject to the occurrence of future events. There was a transfer of U.S. Treasury securities to cash during the year ended December 31, 2023, the amount held in trust are no longer fair valued. Level 1 instruments include investments U.S. Treasury securities with an original maturity of 185 days or less. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting, as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company's liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the First Extension Amendment Proposal described above (see Note 1). During the six months ended June 30, 2024, the Company entered into an Open Market Subscription Agreement and Non-Redemption Subscription Agreement, discussed in Note 5. The Company has concluded that the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants and Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants to be issued under certain of Open Market Subscription Agreements and Non-Redeeming Subscription Agreements that include an open market purchase and non-redemption obligation for Open Market Investors and Non-Redeeming Subscribed Investors qualify as equity under ASC 815-40 ("Derivatives and Hedging-Contracts in Entity's Own Equity"); therefore, the Company will recognize the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants to be issued under such Open Market Subscription Agreements and Non-Redeeming Subscription Agreements (such securities, the "Open Market PIPE Securities" and "Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants") by recording an entry to additional paid-in capital (APIC) in shareholders' equity in its Consolidated Condensed Balance Sheet and Subscription Agreement expense on its Consolidated Condensed Statement of Operations. In accordance with ASC 815-40-30-1, the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants and Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants will be recorded and measured at fair value (i.e., most often representative of proceeds received for equity-linked instruments; however, when estimating the fair value of the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants and Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants, the Company has followed the guidance in ASC 820 Fair Value Measurement. In connection with Open Market Investor's commitment to irrevocably subscribe for and agree to purchase from ListCo the number of Open Market PIPE Securities and Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants set forth on the signature page of the applicable Open Market Subscription Agreements, on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in such Open Market Subscription Agreements, which include, without limitation, the agreement not to redeem the Class A ordinary shares purchased in the open market prior to Closing, the Company will record an amount equal to the full fair value of the New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants to be issued to the Open Market PIPE Investor in connection with the Closing. The estimated amount of New Adagio Common Stock shares and PIPE Warrants to be issued on the Close of the Transaction as of the inception of the Open Market Subscription agreements mentioned above, are 219,877 and 183,493, respectively. The estimated amount Non-Redeeming Shares and Warrants to be issued on the Close of the Transaction as of the inception of the Non-Redeeming Subscription Agreements mentioned above, are 76,681 and 166,160, respectively. On July 31, 2024, Adagio announced the closing of its previously announced Business Combination with the Company and ListCo (the “Closing”). In connection with the Closing, ListCo changed its name to “Adagio Medical Holdings, Inc.” (ListCo following the Closing, “New Adagio”). The shares of common stock of New Adagio began trading on August 1, 2024, under the ticker symbol “ADGM” on the Nasdaq Capital Market. Upon the consummation of the Business Combination, Adagio and the Company became the direct wholly-owned subsidiaries of New Adagio (see Note 5).

The Company was formed for the purpose of effecting a merger, share exchange, asset acquisition, share purchase, reorganization or similar business combination with one or more businesses (the “Business Combination”). The Company is an emerging growth company and, as such, the Company is subject to all of the risks associated with emerging growth companies. All activity for the period from August 24, 2020 (inception) through December 31, 2023 was related to the Company’s formation and initial public offering (the “Initial Public Offering”) described below, and since the Initial Public Offering, the search for a prospective initial Business Combination. The Company will not generate any operating revenues until after the completion of its initial Business Combination, at the earliest. The Company generates non-operating income in the form of income earned on investments or cash held in the Trust Account (as defined below) from the proceeds derived from the Initial Public Offering. The Company’s sponsor is ARYA Sciences Holdings IV, a Cayman Islands exempted limited company (the “Sponsor”). The registration statement for the Company’s Initial Public Offering was declared effective on February 25, 2021. On March 2, 2021, the Company consummated its Initial Public Offering of 14,950,000 Class A ordinary shares (the "Public Shares"), including the 1,950,000 Public Shares as a result of the underwriters' full exercise of their over-allotment option, at an offering price of $10.00 per Public Share, generating gross proceeds of $149.5 million, and incurring offering costs of approximately $8.8 million, inclusive of approximately $5.2 million in deferred underwriting commissions (see Note 5). On August 8, 2022, the Company received a waiver from one of the underwriters of its Initial Public Offering pursuant to which such underwriter waived all rights to its 50% share of the deferred underwriting commissions payable upon completion of an initial Business Combination. In connection with this waiver, the underwriter also agreed that (i) this waiver is not intended to allocate its 50% portion of the deferred underwriting commissions to the other underwriter that has not waived its right to receive its share of the deferred underwriting commissions and (ii) the waived portion of the deferred underwriting commissions can, at the discretion of the Company, be paid to one or more parties or otherwise be used in connection with an initial Business Combination. Simultaneously with the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the Company consummated the private placement ("Private Placement") of 499,000 Class A ordinary shares (the "Private Placement Shares"), at a price of $10.00 per Private Placement Share to the Sponsor, generating gross proceeds of approximately $5.0 million (see Note 4). Upon the closing of the Initial Public Offering and the Private Placement, $149.5 million ($10.00 per Public Share) of the net proceeds of the Initial Public Offering and certain of the proceeds of the Private Placement were placed in a trust account (the "Trust Account"), located in the United States, with Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting as trustee, and were invested only in United States "government securities" within the meaning of Section 2(a)(16) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act") having a maturity of 185 days or less or in money market funds meeting certain conditions under Rule 2a-7 promulgated under the Investment Company Act which invest only in direct U.S. government treasury obligations, until the earlier of (i) the completion of a Business Combination and (ii) the distribution of the Trust Account as described below. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting, as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company's liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal described below. For more information on the partial liquidation of the Trust Account in connection with the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal and the related redemption of Class A ordinary shares, see below. The Company's management has broad discretion with respect to the specific application of the net proceeds of the Initial Public Offering and the sale of Private Placement Shares, although substantially all of the net proceeds are intended to be applied generally toward consummating a Business Combination. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to complete a Business Combination successfully. The Company must complete one or more initial Business Combinations having an aggregate fair market value of at least 80% of the net assets held in the Trust Account (excluding the amount of deferred underwriting commissions and taxes payable on the interest earned on the Trust Account) at the time of the signing of the agreement to enter into the initial Business Combination. However, the Company will only complete a Business Combination if the post-transaction company owns or acquires 50% or more of the outstanding voting securities of the target or otherwise acquires a controlling interest in the target sufficient for it not to be required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act. The Company will provide the holders (the "Public Shareholders") of Public Shares, with the opportunity to redeem all or a portion of their Public Shares upon the completion of a Business Combination either (i) in connection with a shareholder meeting called to approve the Business Combination or (ii) by means of a tender offer. The decision as to whether the Company will seek shareholder approval of a Business Combination or conduct a tender offer will be made by the Company, solely in its discretion. The Public Shareholders will be entitled to redeem their Public Shares for a pro rata portion of the amount then in the Trust Account (initially anticipated to be $10.00 per Public Share, plus any pro rata interest earned on the funds held in the Trust Account and not previously released to the Company to pay income taxes). The per-share amount to be distributed to Public Shareholders who redeem their Public Shares will not be reduced by the deferred underwriting commissions the Company will pay to the underwriters (as discussed in Note 5). These Public Shares are classified as temporary equity upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering in accordance with the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 480, "Distinguishing Liabilities from Equity" ("ASC 480"). In such case, the Company will proceed with a Business Combination if a majority of the ordinary shares, represented in person or by proxy and entitled to vote thereon, voted at a shareholder meeting are voted in favor of the Business Combination. If a shareholder vote is not required by law and the Company does not decide to hold a shareholder vote for business or other reasons, the Company will, pursuant to the amended and restated memorandum and articles of association which the Company adopted upon the consummation of the Initial Public Offering and subsequently amended in connection with the adoption of Extension Amendment Proposal described below (as amended from time to time, the "Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association"), conduct the redemptions pursuant to the tender offer rules of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and file tender offer documents with the SEC prior to completing a Business Combination. If, however, shareholder approval of the transactions is required by law, or the Company decides to obtain shareholder approval for business or other reasons, the Company will offer to redeem shares in conjunction with a proxy solicitation pursuant to the proxy rules and not pursuant to the tender offer rules. Additionally, each Public Shareholder may elect to redeem their Public Shares irrespective of whether they vote for or against the proposed transaction or vote at all. If the Company seeks shareholder approval in connection with a Business Combination, the initial shareholders (as defined below) agreed to vote their Founder Shares (as defined below in Note 4) and any Public Shares they hold in favor of a Business Combination. In addition, the initial shareholders agreed to waive their redemption rights with respect to their Founder Shares, Private Placement Shares and Public Shares in connection with the completion of a Business Combination. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Company seeks shareholder approval of its Business Combination and does not conduct redemptions in connection with its Business Combination pursuant to the tender offer rules, the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association provide that a Public Shareholder, together with any affiliate of such shareholder or any other person with whom such shareholder is acting in concert or as a "group" (as defined under Section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act")), will be restricted from redeeming its shares with respect to more than an aggregate of 15% of the Class A ordinary shares, without the prior consent of the Company. The Company's Sponsor, officers and directors (the "initial shareholders") agreed not to propose an amendment to the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association (a) that would modify the substance or timing of the Company's obligation to provide holders of its Public Shares the right to have their shares redeemed in connection with a Business Combination or to redeem 100% of the Public Shares if the Company does not complete its Business Combination within the time period during which the Company is required to consummate a Business Combination pursuant to the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association (the "Business Combination Period"), or (b) with respect to any other provision relating to the rights of Public Shareholders, unless the Company provides the Public Shareholders with the opportunity to redeem their Class A ordinary shares in conjunction with any such amendment. If the Company has not completed a Business Combination within the Business Combination Period, the Company will (i) cease all operations except for the purpose of winding up; (ii) as promptly as reasonably possible but not more than ten business days thereafter, redeem the Public Shares, at a per-share price, payable in cash, equal to the aggregate amount then on deposit in the Trust Account, including interest earned on the funds held in the Trust Account and not previously released to the Company to pay its income taxes, if any (less up to $100,000 of interest to pay dissolution expenses), divided by the number of the then-outstanding Public Shares, which redemption will completely extinguish Public Shareholders' rights as shareholders (including the right to receive further liquidation distributions, if any); and (iii) as promptly as reasonably possible following such redemption, subject to the approval of the Company's remaining shareholders and its board of directors, liquidate and dissolve, subject in the case of clauses (ii) and (iii) to the Company's obligations under Cayman Islands law to provide for claims of creditors and the requirements of other applicable law. The initial shareholders agreed to waive their liquidation rights with respect to the Founder Shares and Private Placement Shares held by them if the Company fails to complete a Business Combination within the Business Combination Period. However, if the initial shareholders acquire Public Shares in or after the Initial Public Offering, they will be entitled to liquidating distributions from the Trust Account with respect to such Public Shares if the Company fails to complete a Business Combination within the Business Combination Period. The underwriters agreed to waive their rights to their deferred underwriting commissions (see Note 5) held in the Trust Account in the event the Company does not complete a Business Combination within the Business Combination Period and, in such event, such amounts will be included with the other funds held in the Trust Account that will be available to fund the redemption of the Public Shares. In the event of such distribution, it is possible that the per share value of the assets remaining available for distribution (including Trust Account assets) will be only $10.00 per share initially held in the Trust Account. In order to protect the amounts held in the Trust Account, the Sponsor agreed to be liable to the Company if and to the extent any claims by a third party (excluding the Company's independent registered public accounting firm) for services rendered or products sold to the Company, or a prospective target business with which the Company has discussed entering into a transaction agreement, reduce the amount of funds in the Trust Account to below the lesser of (i) $10.00 per Public Share and (ii) the actual amount per Public Share held in the Trust Account as of the date of the liquidation of the Trust Account if less than $10.00 per Public Share due to reductions in the value of the assets in the Trust Account, in each case net of the interest that may be withdrawn to pay for the Company's tax obligations. This liability will not apply with respect to any claims by a third party who executed a waiver of any right, title, interest or claim of any kind in or to any monies held in the Trust Account or to any claims under the Company's indemnity of the underwriters of the Initial Public Offering against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). Moreover, in the event that an executed waiver is deemed to be unenforceable against a third party, the Sponsor will not be responsible to the extent of any liability for such third-party claims. The Company will seek to reduce the possibility that the Sponsor will have to indemnify the Trust Account due to claims of creditors by endeavoring to have all vendors, service providers (excluding the Company's independent registered public accounting firm), prospective target businesses or other entities with which the Company does business, execute agreements with the Company waiving any right, title, interest or claim of any kind in or to monies held in the Trust Account. The Company has not asked the Sponsor to reserve for such indemnification obligations, nor has the Company independently verified whether the Sponsor has sufficient funds to satisfy its indemnity obligations and the Company believes that the Sponsor's only assets are securities of the Company. The Sponsor may not be able to satisfy those obligations. None of the Company's officers or directors will indemnify the Company for claims by third parties including, without limitation, claims by vendors and prospective target businesses. On February 28, 2023, the Company held an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders in view of approving an amendment to its Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association to extend the date (the "Termination Date") by which the Company has to consummate a Business Combination from March 2, 2023 (the "Original Termination Date") to June 2, 2023 (the "Previous Articles Extension Date") and to allow the Company, without another shareholder vote, to elect to extend the Termination Date to consummate a Business Combination on a monthly basis for up to nine times by an additional one month each time after the Previous Articles Extension Date, by resolution of the Company's board of directors, if requested by the Sponsor, and upon five days' advance notice prior to the applicable Termination Date, until March 2, 2024 or a total of up to thirty-six months after the Original Termination Date, unless the closing of a Business Combination shall have occurred prior thereto or the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association have been amended prior thereto in order to further extend the Termination Date (see Note 9) (the "Extension Amendment Proposal"). In connection with the initial three-month extension from the Original Termination Date to the Previous Articles Extension Date the Sponsor made an initial deposit into the Trust Account of $420,000 in exchange for the Second Convertible Promissory Note (as defined below). In connection with any subsequent optional monthly extensions following the Previous Articles Extension Date, the Sponsor made deposits of $140,000 per month into the Trust Account, as provided for in the amendment to the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association that was adopted on February 28, 2023. The Company approved one-month extensions on June 2, 2023, July 2, 2023, August 2, 2023, September 2, 2023, October 2, 2023, November 2, 2023 and December 2, 2023. In connection with the extensions on June 2, 2023, July 2, 2023, August 2, 2023, and September 2, 2023, the Company drew an aggregate amount of $560,000 from the Second Convertible Promissory Note in the principal amount of up to $1,680,000. In connection with the extensions on October 2, 2023, November 2, 2023 and December 2, 2023, the Company drew an aggregate amount of $420,000 from the Third Promissory Note (as defined below). The Company also drew additional funds under the Second Convertible Promissory Note and the Third Promissory Note in view of funding the Company's ongoing working capital (for more information see Note 4). As contemplated by the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association, the holders of Public Shares were able to elect to redeem all or a portion of their Public Shares in exchange for their pro rata portion of the funds held in the Trust Account in connection with the Extension Amendment Proposal. On February 28, 2023, the Extension Amendment Proposal was adopted and 11,259,169 Public Shares were redeemed for an aggregate amount of $115,071,882. Following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal, the Company has 4,189,831 Class A ordinary shares, including 3,690,831 Public Shares and 499,000 Private Placement Shares, and 3,737,500 Class B ordinary shares issued and outstanding. See "Note 9 - Subsequent Events" for more information on (i) additional redemptions in connection with the second amendment of the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association to further extend the time period the Company has to consummate a Business Combination following March 2, 2024, and (ii) additional draws under the Third Promissory Note to fund additional one-month extensions that were approved subsequently to the date of financial statements included herein on January 2, 2024 and February 2, 2024. Going Concern As of December 31, 2023, the Company had $20,191 in its operating bank account and working capital deficit of $12,276,486. The Company's liquidity needs to date have been satisfied through a contribution of $25,000 from Sponsor to cover for certain expenses in exchange for the issuance of the Founder Shares, the loan of approximately $161,000 from the Sponsor pursuant to the Note (as defined in Note 4), the proceeds from the consummation of the Private Placement not held in the Trust Account, the First Convertible Promissory Note and the Second Convertible Promissory Note. The Company fully repaid the Note upon closing of the Initial Public Offering. In addition, in order to finance transaction costs in connection with a Business Combination, the Sponsor, affiliates of the Sponsor, or the Company's officers and directors may, but are not obligated to, provide the Company Working Capital Loans (as defined in Note 4). As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, there were $2,175,000 and $120,000 of borrowings outstanding under the First Convertible Promissory Note, Second Convertible Promissory Note and Third Convertible Promissory Note (see Note 4 for additional information). The Company cannot provide any assurance that new financing along the lines detailed above will be available to it on commercially acceptable terms, if at all. Further, the Company has until the end of the Business Combination Period to consummate a Business Combination, but the Company cannot provide assurance that it will be able to consummate a Business Combination by that date. If a Business Combination is not consummated by the required date, there will be a mandatory liquidation and subsequent dissolution. In connection with the Company's assessment of going concern considerations in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 205-40, "Basis of Presentation - Going Concern," management has determined that the working capital deficit and mandatory liquidation and subsequent dissolution raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern until the earlier of the consummation of the Business Combination or the date the Company is required to liquidate. The financial statements do not include any adjustment that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern. The Company intends to complete its initial Business Combination before the mandatory liquidation date; however, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to consummate any Business Combination by the end of the Business Combination Period. No adjustments have been made to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities should the Company be required to liquidate after the end of the Business Combination Period, nor do these financial statements include any adjustments relating to the recovery of the recorded assets or the classification of the liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. Risks and Uncertainties Results of operations and the Company's ability to complete a Business Combination may be adversely affected by various factors that could cause economic uncertainty and volatility in the financial markets, many of which are beyond its control. The Company's business of pursuing and consummating an initial Business Combination could be impacted by, among other things, downturns in the financial markets or in economic conditions, export controls, tariffs, trade wars, inflation, increases in interest rates, supply chain disruptions, declines in consumer confidence and spending, the ongoing effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, including resurgences and the emergence of new variants, and geopolitical instability, such as the military conflict in the Ukraine or the conflict in Israel and Palestine. The Company cannot at this time fully predict the likelihood of one or more of the above events, their duration or magnitude or the extent to which they may materially impact the Company's business and its ability to complete an initial Business Combination. 1495000019500001014950000088000005200000.500.5049900010500000014950000001010.800.50100.151100000101010942000style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin:0pt 0pt 12pt 0pt;">Note 2 — Summary of Significant Accounting Policies Basis of Presentation The accompanying financial statements are presented in U.S. dollars in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") and pursuant to the rules and regulations of the SEC. Emerging Growth Company The Company is an "emerging growth company," as defined in Section 2(a) of the Securities Act, as modified by the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act of 2012 (the "JOBS Act"), and it may take advantage of certain exemptions from various reporting requirements that are applicable to other public companies that are not emerging growth companies including, but not limited to, not being required to comply with the independent registered public accounting firm attestation requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, reduced disclosure obligations regarding executive compensation in its periodic reports and proxy statements, and exemptions from the requirements of holding a nonbinding advisory vote on executive compensation and shareholder approval of any golden parachute payments not previously approved. Further, Section 102(b)(1) of the JOBS Act exempts emerging growth companies from being required to comply with new or revised financial accounting standards until private companies (that is, those that have not had a Securities Act registration statement declared effective or do not have a class of securities registered under the Exchange Act) are required to comply with the new or revised financial accounting standards. The JOBS Act provides that an emerging growth company can elect to opt out of the extended transition period and comply with the requirements that apply to non-emerging growth companies but any such election to opt out is irrevocable. The Company has elected not to opt out of such extended transition period, which means that when a standard is issued or revised and it has different application dates for public or private companies, the Company, as an emerging growth company, can adopt the new or revised standard at the time private companies adopt the new or revised standard. This may make comparison of the Company's financial statements with another public company which is neither an emerging growth company nor an emerging growth company which has opted out of using the extended transition period difficult or impossible because of the potential differences in accounting standards used. Concentration of Cash Balances The Company has significant cash balances at financial institutions which throughout the year regularly exceed the federally insured limit of $250,000. Any loss incurred or a lack of access to such funds could have a significant adverse impact on the Company's financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents as of December 31, 2023. As of December 31, 2022, the Company had no cash equivalents, aside from the cash maintained in the Trust Account (see Note 8). Use of Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires the Company's management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and expenses and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Trust Account Initially, the Company's portfolio of investments was comprised of U.S. Treasury securities, within the meaning set forth in Section 2(a)(16) of the Investment Company Act, with a maturity of 185 days or less, or investments in money market funds that invest in U.S. government securities and generally have a readily determinable fair value, or a combination thereof. When the Company's investments held in the Trust Account are comprised of U.S. government securities, the investments are classified as trading securities. When the Company's investments held in the Trust Account are comprised of money market funds, the investments are recognized at fair value. Trading securities and investments in money market funds are presented on the balance sheets at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Gains and losses resulting from the change in fair value of these securities are included in interest income and unrealized gain on investments held in Trust Account in the accompanying statements of operations. The estimated fair values of investments held in the Trust Account are determined using available market information. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting, as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company's liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal described above (see Note 1). Financial Instruments The fair value of the Company's assets and liabilities, which qualify as financial instruments under the FASB ASC Topic 820, "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures," approximates the carrying amounts represented in the balance sheets. Fair Value Measurements Fair value is defined as the price that would be received for sale of an asset or paid for transfer of a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. U.S. GAAP establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). These tiers include: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 1, defined as observable inputs such as quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical instruments in active markets;</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 2, defined as inputs other than quoted prices in active markets that are either directly or indirectly observable such as quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets or quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active; and</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 3, defined as unobservable inputs in which little or no market data exists, therefore requiring an entity to develop its own assumptions, such as valuations derived from valuation techniques in which one or more significant inputs or significant value drivers are unobservable.</td></tr></table> In some circumstances, the inputs used to measure fair value might be categorized within different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In those instances, the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the fair value hierarchy based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the carrying values of cash, accounts payable, accrued expenses and due to related party approximate their fair values due to the short-term nature of the instruments. As of December 31, 2022, the Company's investments held in Trust Account were comprised of investments in U.S. Treasury securities with an original maturity of 185 days or less and were recognized at fair value. The fair value of investments held in Trust Account was determined using quoted prices in active markets. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting, as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company's liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal described above (see Note 1). Offering Costs Associated with the Initial Public Offering Offering costs consisted of legal, accounting, underwriting and other costs incurred that were directly related to the Initial Public Offering and that were charged to Class A ordinary shares subject to redemption upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. Offering costs were allocated to the separable financial instruments issued in the Initial Public Offering based on a relative fair value basis, compared to total proceeds received. Offering costs associated with the Class A ordinary shares issued were charged against the carrying value of the Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. The Company classifies deferred underwriting commissions as non-current liabilities as their liquidation is not reasonably expected to require the use of current assets or require the creation of current liabilities. Class A Ordinary Shares Subject to Possible Redemption The Company accounts for its Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption in accordance with the guidance in ASC 480. Class A ordinary shares subject to mandatory redemption (if any) are classified as liability instruments and are measured at fair value. Conditionally redeemable Class A ordinary shares (including Class A ordinary shares that feature redemption rights that are either within the control of the holder or subject to redemption upon the occurrence of uncertain events not solely within the Company's control) are classified as temporary equity. At all other times, Class A ordinary shares are classified as shareholders' deficit. The Public Shares feature certain redemption rights that are considered to be outside of the Company's control and subject to the occurrence of uncertain future events. Accordingly, as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, 3,690,831 and 14,950,000 Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption are presented at redemption value as temporary equity, outside of the shareholders' deficit section of the Company's balance sheets. Income Taxes FASB ASC Topic 740, "Income Taxes" prescribes a recognition threshold and a measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. For those benefits to be recognized, a tax position must be more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. There were no unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2023 and 2022. The Company's management determined that the Cayman Islands is the Company's only major tax jurisdiction. The Company recognizes accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, there were no unrecognized tax benefits and no amounts were accrued for the payment of interest and penalties. The Company is currently not aware of any issues under review that could result in significant payments, accruals or material deviation from its position. There is currently no taxation imposed on income by the government of the Cayman Islands. In accordance with the Cayman Islands' income tax regulations, income taxes are not levied on the Company. Consequently, income taxes are not reflected in the Company's financial statements. The Company's management does not expect that the total amount of unrecognized tax benefits will materially change over the next twelve months. Net (Loss) Income Per Ordinary Share The Company has two classes of shares: Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares. Income and losses are shared pro rata between the two classes of shares. Net (loss) income per ordinary share is computed by dividing net (loss) income by the weighted-average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the periods. Accretion associated with the Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption is excluded from earnings per share as the redemption value approximates fair value. The following table reflects the calculation of basic and diluted net (loss) income per ordinary share (in dollars, except per share amounts):   <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:100%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:55.05%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.92%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.11%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td

Recent Accounting Standards The Company’s management does not believe there are any recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting pronouncement if currently adopted would have a material effect on the Company’s financial statements. Basis of Presentation The accompanying financial statements are presented in U.S. dollars in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”) and pursuant to the rules and regulations of the SEC. Concentration of Cash Balances The Company has significant cash balances at financial institutions which throughout the year regularly exceed the federally insured limit of $250,000. Any loss incurred or a lack of access to such funds could have a significant adverse impact on the Company’s financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. The Company had no cash equivalents as of December 31, 2023. As of December 31, 2022, the Company had no cash equivalents, aside from the cash maintained in the Trust Account (see Note 8). 00 Use of Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires the Company’s management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and expenses and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Trust Account Initially, the Company’s portfolio of investments was comprised of U.S. Treasury securities, within the meaning set forth in Section 2(a)(16) of the Investment Company Act, with a maturity of 185 days or less, or investments in money market funds that invest in U.S. government securities and generally have a readily determinable fair value, or a combination thereof. When the Company’s investments held in the Trust Account are comprised of U.S. government securities, the investments are classified as trading securities. When the Company’s investments held in the Trust Account are comprised of money market funds, the investments are recognized at fair value. Trading securities and investments in money market funds are presented on the balance sheets at fair value at the end of each reporting period. Gains and losses resulting from the change in fair value of these securities are included in interest income and unrealized gain on investments held in Trust Account in the accompanying statements of operations. The estimated fair values of investments held in the Trust Account are determined using available market information. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting, as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company’s liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal described above (see Note 1). Financial Instruments The fair value of the Company’s assets and liabilities, which qualify as financial instruments under the FASB ASC Topic 820, “Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures,” approximates the carrying amounts represented in the balance sheets. Fair Value Measurements Fair value is defined as the price that would be received for sale of an asset or paid for transfer of a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. U.S. GAAP establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). These tiers include: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 1, defined as observable inputs such as quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical instruments in active markets;</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td

style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 2, defined as inputs other than quoted prices in active markets that are either directly or indirectly observable such as quoted prices for similar instruments in active markets or quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are not active; and</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 3, defined as unobservable inputs in which little or no market data exists, therefore requiring an entity to develop its own assumptions, such as valuations derived from valuation techniques in which one or more significant inputs or significant value drivers are unobservable.</td></tr></table> In some circumstances, the inputs used to measure fair value might be categorized within different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In those instances, the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the fair value hierarchy based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the carrying values of cash, accounts payable, accrued expenses and due to related party approximate their fair values due to the short-term nature of the instruments. As of December 31, 2022, the Company's investments held in Trust Account were comprised of investments in U.S. Treasury securities with an original maturity of 185 days or less and were recognized at fair value. The fair value of investments held in Trust Account was determined using quoted prices in active markets. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting, as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company's liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal described above (see Note 1). Offering Costs Associated with the Initial Public Offering Offering costs consisted of legal, accounting, underwriting and other costs incurred that were directly related to the Initial Public Offering and that were charged to Class A ordinary shares subject to redemption upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. Offering costs were allocated to the separable financial instruments issued in the Initial Public Offering based on a relative fair value basis, compared to total proceeds received. Offering costs associated with the Class A ordinary shares issued were charged against the carrying value of the Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. The Company classifies deferred underwriting commissions as non-current liabilities as their liquidation is not reasonably expected to require the use of current assets or require the creation of current liabilities. Class A Ordinary Shares Subject to Possible Redemption The Company accounts for its Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption in accordance with the guidance in ASC 480. Class A ordinary shares subject to mandatory redemption (if any) are classified as liability instruments and are measured at fair value. Conditionally redeemable Class A ordinary shares (including Class A ordinary shares that feature redemption rights that are either within the control of the holder or subject to redemption upon the occurrence of uncertain events not solely within the Company's control) are classified as temporary equity. At all other times, Class A ordinary shares are classified as shareholders' deficit. The Public Shares feature certain redemption rights that are considered to be outside of the Company's control and subject to the occurrence of uncertain future events. Accordingly, as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, 3,690,831 and 14,950,000 Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption are presented at redemption value as temporary equity, outside of the shareholders' deficit section of the Company's balance sheets. 369083114950000 Income Taxes FASB ASC Topic 740, "Income Taxes" prescribes a recognition threshold and a measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of tax positions taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. For those benefits to be recognized, a tax position must be more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by taxing authorities. There were no unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2023 and 2022. The Company's management determined that the Cayman Islands is the Company's only major tax jurisdiction. The Company recognizes accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, there were no unrecognized tax benefits and no amounts were accrued for the payment of interest and penalties. The Company is currently not aware of any issues under review that could result in significant payments, accruals or material deviation from its position. There is currently no taxation imposed on income by the government of the Cayman Islands. In accordance with the Cayman Islands' income tax regulations, income taxes are not levied on the Company. Consequently, income taxes are not reflected in the Company's financial statements. The Company's management does not expect that the total amount of unrecognized tax benefits will materially change over the next twelve months. 000000 Net (Loss) Income Per Ordinary Share The Company has two classes of shares: Class A ordinary shares and Class B ordinary shares. Income and losses are shared pro rata between the two classes of shares. Net (loss) income per ordinary share is computed by dividing net (loss) income by the weighted-average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the periods. Accretion associated with the Class A ordinary shares subject to possible redemption is excluded from earnings per share as the redemption value approximates fair value. The following table reflects the calculation of basic and diluted net (loss) income per ordinary share (in dollars, except per share amounts):   <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:100%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:55.05%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.92%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.11%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.92%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"><div style="height:1pt;overflow:hidden;overflow-

0pt;">Note 3 — Initial Public Offering On March 2, 2021, the Company consummated its Initial Public Offering of 14,950,000 Public Shares, including the 1,950,000 Public Shares as a result of the underwriters' full exercise of their over-allotment option, at an offering price of $10.00 per Public Share, generating gross proceeds of $149.5 million, and incurring offering costs of approximately $8.8 million, inclusive of approximately $5.2 million in deferred underwriting commissions. For more information on the waiver related to a portion of the deferred underwriting commissions that the Company received on August 8, 2022 and the partial liquidation of the Trust Account in connection with the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal and the related redemption of Class A ordinary shares, also see Note 1 above. 1495000019500001014950000088000005200000 Note 4 — Related Party Transactions Founder Shares On January 4, 2021, the Sponsor paid $25,000 to cover for certain expenses on behalf of the Company in exchange for issuance of 3,737,500 Class B ordinary shares, par value $0.0001 (the "Founder Shares"). In February 2021, the Sponsor transferred an aggregate of 90,000 Founder Shares to the Company's independent directors. The Sponsor agreed to forfeit up to 487,500 Founder Shares to the extent that the over-allotment option was not exercised in full by the underwriters, so that the Founder Shares would represent 20.0% of the Company's issued and outstanding ordinary shares (excluding the Private Placement Shares) after the Initial Public Offering. The underwriters fully exercised the over-allotment option on March 2, 2021; thus, these 487,500 Founder Shares were no longer subject to forfeiture. The initial shareholders agreed, subject to limited exceptions, not to transfer, assign or sell any of their Founder Shares until the earlier to occur of (A) one year after the completion of the initial Business Combination and (B) subsequent to the initial Business Combination, (x) if the closing price of the Company's Class A ordinary shares equals or exceeds $12.00 per share (as adjusted for share sub-divisions, share capitalizations, reorganizations, recapitalizations and the like) for any 20 trading days within any 30-trading day period commencing at least 150 days after the initial Business Combination, or (y) the date on which the Company completes a liquidation, merger, share exchange, reorganization or other similar transaction that results in all of the Public Shareholders having the right to exchange their ordinary shares for cash, securities or other property. Private Placement Shares Simultaneously with the closing of the Initial Public Offering, the Company consummated the Private Placement of 499,000 Private Placement Shares, at a price of $10.00 per Private Placement Share to the Sponsor, generating gross proceeds of approximately $5.0 million. The Private Placement Shares are not transferable or salable until 30 days after the completion of the initial Business Combination. Certain proceeds from the Private Placement Shares have been added to the proceeds from the Initial Public Offering held in the Trust Account. The Sponsor and the Company's officers and directors agreed, subject to limited exceptions, not to transfer, assign or sell any of their Private Placement Shares until 30 days after the completion of the initial Business Combination. Related Party Loans On March 2, 2021, the Sponsor agreed to loan the Company an aggregate of up to $300,000 to cover for expenses related to the Initial Public Offering pursuant to a promissory note (the "Note") and the Company subsequently reclassified the outstanding amount due to the Sponsor as borrowing under the Note. This loan was non-interest bearing and payable upon the completion of the Initial Public Offering. The Company borrowed approximately $161,000 under the Note and fully repaid the Note upon closing of the Initial Public Offering. Subsequent to the repayment, the loan facility was no longer available to the Company. In addition, in order to finance transaction costs in connection with a Business Combination, the Sponsor, affiliates of the Sponsor, or the Company's officers and directors may, but are not obligated to, loan the Company funds as may be required ("Working Capital Loans"). If the Company completes a Business Combination, the Company may repay any Working Capital Loans that may have been extended to the Company by the Sponsor, affiliates of the Sponsor, or the Company's officers and directors out of the proceeds of the Trust Account released to the Company. Otherwise, the Working Capital Loans may be repaid only out of funds held outside the Trust Account. In the event that a Business Combination does not close, the Company may use a portion of the proceeds held outside the Trust Account to repay any Working Capital Loans but no proceeds held in the Trust Account would be used to repay such Working Capital Loans. Except for the terms of the First Convertible Promissory Note, the Second Convertible Promissory Note and the Third Promissory Note, each as further described below, the terms of such Working Capital Loans have not been determined and no written agreements exist with respect to any other loans between the Company and the Sponsor, affiliates of the Sponsor, or the Company's officers and directors. The Working Capital Loans would either be repaid upon the consummation of a Business Combination, without interest, or, at the lenders' discretion, up to $1.5 million of such Working Capital Loans may be convertible into shares of the post Business Combination entity at a price of $10.00 per share. The shares would be identical to the Private Placement Shares. Except as described below, as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had no other outstanding borrowings under Working Capital Loans. On November 7, 2022, the Company issued an unsecured convertible promissory note (the "First Convertible Promissory Note") to the Sponsor, pursuant to which the Company borrowed $120,000 (the "First Convertible Working Capital Loan") from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes. Such loan may, at the Sponsor's discretion, be converted into Class A ordinary shares, par value $0.0001 per share, of the Company (the "Working Capital Shares") at a conversion price equal to $10.00 per Working Capital Share. The terms of the Working Capital Shares will be identical to those of the Private Placement Shares that were issued to the Sponsor in connection with the Initial Public Offering. The First Convertible Working Capital Loan will not bear any interest and will be repayable by the Company to the Sponsor, if not converted or repaid on the effective date of a Business Combination involving the Company and one or more businesses. The maturity date of the First Convertible Working Capital Loan may be accelerated upon the occurrence of an Event of Default (as defined under the First Convertible Promissory Note). The Company granted customary registration rights to the Sponsor with respect to any Working Capital Shares, which shall constitute "Registrable Securities" pursuant to that certain Registration and Shareholder Rights Agreement, dated March 2, 2021, by and among the Company, the Sponsor and the other parties thereto (the "Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement"). Further, each newly issued Working Capital Share shall bear the same transfer restrictions that apply to the Private Placement Shares, as contemplated by the Letter Agreement, dated February 25, 2021, by and among the Company, the Sponsor and the other parties thereto (the "Letter Agreement"). As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, there were $120,000 and $120,000 of borrowings outstanding under the First Convertible Promissory Note, respectively. On February 28, 2023, the Company issued a non-interest bearing, unsecured convertible promissory note to the Sponsor in connection with the Extension Amendment Proposal, pursuant to which the Company may borrow up to $1,680,000 from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes and the funding of the deposits that the Company is required to make pursuant to its Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association (as amended following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal at the Company's extraordinary general meeting of shareholders on February 28, 2023) and following the request of the Sponsor in connection with an optional monthly extension of the time period during which the Company may consummate a Business Combination (the "Second Convertible Promissory Note"). Up to $1,380,000 of the amounts loaned under the Second Convertible Promissory Note will be convertible at the option of the Sponsor into Working Capital Shares. This working capital loan outstanding pursuant to the Second Convertible Promissory Note (the "Second Working Capital Loan") will not bear any interest, and will be repayable by the Company to the Sponsor to the extent the Company has funds available outside of the Trust Account and if not converted or repaid on the effective date of a Business Combination. The maturity date of the Second Convertible Working Capital Loan may be accelerated upon the occurrence of an Event of Default (as defined under the Second Convertible Promissory Note). The Company granted customary registration rights to the Sponsor with respect to any Working Capital Shares issued pursuant to the Second Convertible Promissory Note, which shall constitute "Registrable Securities" pursuant the Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement. Further, each newly issued Working Capital Share shall bear the same transfer restrictions that apply to the Private Placement Shares, as contemplated by the Letter Agreement. See Note 9 for information on the amendment to the Second Promissory Note that was adopted in connection with a proposed Business Combination. On April 18, 2023, June 2, 2023, July 6, 2023, August 2, 2023 and September 5, 2023, the Company withdrew an additional $400,000, $140,000, $140,000, $140,000 and $165,000, respectively, from the Second Convertible Promissory Note (see Note 1). As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, $1,585,000 and $0, respectively, were drawn under the Second Convertible Promissory Note. On September 27, 2023, the Company issued an unsecured promissory note to the Sponsor (the "Third Promissory Note"), pursuant to which the Company may borrow $900,000 from the Sponsor for general corporate purposes and to fund the deposits required to be made into the Company's trust account in connection with the monthly extensions of the time period during which the Company may consummate a business combination in accordance with the Company's amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, as amended during the shareholder meeting on February 28, 2023. This working capital loan outstanding pursuant to the Third Promissory Note (the "Third Working Capital Loan") will not bear any interest. In the event that the Company does not consummate a Business Combination, the Third Promissory Note will be repaid from funds held outside of the Trust Account or will be forfeited, eliminated or otherwise forgiven. The maturity date of the Third Working Capital Loan may be accelerated upon the occurrence of an Event of Default. On October 2, 2023, November 2, 2023 and December 2, 2023, the Company approved the fifth, sixth and seventh one-month extension of the Business Combination Period, respectively. In connection with such extensions of the Business Combination Period to January 2, 2024, the Company drew an aggregate amount of $420,000 from the Third Promissory Note. As provided for in the Company's amended and restated memorandum and articles of association, the Company deposited the extension funds into the trust account that was established by the Company in connection with its Initial Public Offering. The Company also drew an aggregate of $50,000 under the Third Promissory Note for working capital purposes. As of December 31, 2023, $470,000 was drawn under the Third Promissory Note. See Note 9 for information on the amendment to the Third Promissory Note that was adopted in connection with a proposed Business Combination and for information on the Fourth Promissory Note (as defined below) that was adopted subsequently to date of the financial statements included herein. Administrative Support Agreement Commencing on the date that the Company's registration statement relating to its Initial Public Offering was declared effective through the earlier of consummation of the initial Business Combination and the Company's liquidation, the Company agreed to reimburse the Sponsor for office space, secretarial and administrative services provided to the Company in the amount of $10,000 per month. The Company incurred approximately $120,000 and $120,000 in general and administrative expenses in the accompanying statements of operations for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had $210,000 and $90,000, respectively, included in due to related party on the balance sheets. 2500037375000.000190000487500O.20487500P1Y12P20DP30DP150D499000105000000P30DP30D300000161000150000010001style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin:0pt 0pt 12pt 0pt;">Note 5 — Commitments and Contingencies Registration Rights The holders of Founder Shares and Private Placement Shares, including Private Placement Shares that may be issued upon conversion of Working Capital Loans, are entitled to registration rights pursuant to the Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement. The holders of these securities are entitled to make up to three demands, excluding short form demands, that the Company registers such securities. In addition, the holders have certain "piggyback" registration rights with respect to registration statements filed subsequent to the Company's completion of its Business Combination. However, the Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement provides that the Company will not permit any registration statement filed under the Securities Act to become effective until termination of the applicable lock-up period, which occurs (i) in the case of the Founder Shares, in accordance with the letter agreement the Company's initial shareholders entered into and (ii) in the case of the Private Placement Shares, 30 days after the completion of the Company's Business Combination. The Company will bear the expenses incurred in connection with the filing of any such registration statements. See Note 9 for information on the Investor Rights Agreement that was executed in connection with a proposed Business Combination and that will replace the Registration and Shareholders Rights Agreement in connection with the closing of the proposed Business Combination. Underwriting Agreement The Company granted the underwriters a 45-day option from the final prospectus relating to the Initial Public Offering to purchase up to 1,950,000 additional Public Shares to cover over-allotments at the Initial Public Offering price less the underwriting discounts and commissions. On March 2, 2021, the underwriters fully exercised the over-allotment option. The underwriters were paid an underwriting discount of $0.20 per Public Share, or approximately $3.0 million in the aggregate, paid upon the closing of the Initial Public Offering. In addition, $0.35 per Public Share, or approximately $5.2 million in the aggregate will be payable to the underwriters for deferred underwriting commissions. The deferred fee will become payable to the underwriters from the amounts held in the Trust Account solely in the event that the Company completes a Business Combination, subject to the terms of the underwriting agreement. On August 8, 2022, the Company received a waiver from one of the underwriters of its Initial Public Offering pursuant to which such underwriter waived all rights to its 50% share of the deferred underwriting commissions payable upon completion of an initial Business Combination. In connection with this waiver, the underwriter also agreed that (i) this waiver is not intended to allocate its 50% portion of the deferred underwriting commissions to the other underwriter that has not waived its right to receive its share of the deferred underwriting commissions and (ii) the waived portion of the deferred underwriting commissions can, at the discretion of the Company, be paid to one or more parties or otherwise be used in connection with an initial Business Combination. During the year ended December 31, 2022, the Company derecognized approximately $2.6 million of the deferred underwriting commissions and recorded an adjustment to the carrying value of the shares of Class A ordinary shares subject to redemption. 3P30DP45D19500000.230000000.3552000000.500.502600000 Note 6 — Class A Ordinary Shares Subject to Possible Redemption The Public Shares feature certain redemption rights that are considered to be outside of the Company's control and subject to the occurrence of future events. Holders of Class A ordinary shares and holders of Class B ordinary shares will vote together as a single class on all matters submitted to a vote of the shareholders except as required by law. The Class B ordinary shares will automatically convert into Class A ordinary shares on the first business day following the consummation of the initial Business Combination at a ratio such that the number of Class A ordinary shares issuable upon conversion of all Founder Shares will equal, in the aggregate, on an as-converted basis, 20% of the sum of (i) the total number of ordinary shares issued and outstanding (excluding the Private Placement Shares) upon the consummation of the Initial Public Offering, plus (ii) the sum of the total number of Class A ordinary shares issued or deemed issued or issuable upon conversion or exercise of any equity-linked securities or rights issued or deemed issued, by the Company in connection with or in relation to the consummation of the initial Business Combination, excluding any Class A ordinary shares or equity-linked securities exercisable for or convertible into Class A ordinary shares issued, deemed issued, or to be issued, to any seller in the initial Business Combination and any Private Placement Shares issued to the Sponsor, members of the Company's management team or any of their affiliates upon conversion of Working Capital Loans. In no event will the Class B ordinary shares convert into Class A ordinary shares at a rate of less than one to one. 10000001000000004790000004790000000.00010.0001one vote4189831154490003690831149500002000000020000000.00010.000137375003737500one vote0.201 Note 8 — Fair Value Measurements The following tables present information about the Company's assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 and indicate the fair value hierarchy of the valuation techniques that the Company utilized to determine such fair value: December 31, 2022 <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:100%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:58.65%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.92%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:10.27%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.45%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:10.64%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.62%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:11.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:58.65%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:11.2%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Quoted Prices in </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:12.1%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Significant Other </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:13.59%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Significant Other </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:58.65%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:11.2%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Active Markets </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:12.1%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Observable Inputs </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:13.59%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Unobservable Inputs </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:58.65%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Description </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:11.2%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> (Level 1) </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-

Level 1 instruments include investments U.S. Treasury securities with an original maturity of 185 days or less. On February 27, 2023, the Company delivered an instruction letter to Continental Stock Transfer & Trust Company acting, as trustee, to liquidate the investments held in the Trust Account and instead to hold the funds in the Trust Account in cash in an interest-bearing demand deposit account until the earlier of the consummation of an initial Business Combination or the Company's liquidation. The Company is taking these steps in order to mitigate the risk that the Company might be deemed to be an investment company for purposes of the Investment Company Act following the adoption of the Extension Amendment Proposal described above (see Note 1). There were no transfers between levels of the hierarchy for the year ended December 31, 2022. Sponsor Letter Agreement Concurrently with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, the Company, the Sponsor, each holder of Class B ordinary shares (the "Other Class B Shareholders" and with the Sponsor, the "Class B Shareholders"), including the Company's directors and officers (together with the Class B Shareholders, the "Insiders"), ListCo and

Adagio entered into a letter agreement (the "Sponsor Letter Agreement"), pursuant to which, among other things, (i) each Class B Shareholder agreed to vote in favor of each of the transaction proposals to be voted upon at the meeting of the Company's shareholders, including the proposal to approve the Business Combination Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, (ii) each Class B Shareholder agreed to waive any adjustment to the conversion ratio set forth in the amended and restated memorandum and articles of association or any other anti-dilution or similar protection with respect to the Class B ordinary shares (whether resulting from the transactions contemplated by the Subscription Agreements (as defined below) or otherwise), (iii) each of the Insiders and the Company agreed to terminate the lock-up provisions contained in the certain letter agreement between the Company, the Sponsor and the directors and officers of the Company, and to replace such lock-up provisions with the transfer restrictions included in the Investor Rights Agreement (as defined below) and to waive the adjustment or anti-dilution protections contained in the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association, (iv) each Class B Shareholder agreed to be bound by certain transfer restrictions with respect to his, her or its shares in the Company prior to the Closing, (v) the Sponsor agreed that 1,147,500 shares of New Adagio Common Stock issued to the Sponsor will be subject to Share Trigger Price Vesting, and (vi) the Sponsor has agreed to irrevocably forfeit, surrender and transfer to the Company for no consideration 1,000,000 Class B ordinary shares, which will be issued by ListCo to the PIPE Investors, including the Perceptive PIPE Investor. Adagio Stockholder Transaction Support Agreements Pursuant to the Business Combination Agreement, certain stockholders of Adagio entered into transaction support agreements (collectively, the "Adagio Transaction Support Agreements") with the Company and Adagio, pursuant to which such stockholders of Adagio agreed to, among other things, (i) vote in favor of the Business Combination Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby and (ii) be bound by certain covenants and agreements related to the Proposed Adagio Business Combination. PIPE Financing (Private Placement) In connection with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, ListCo and the Company entered into Subscription Agreements (the "Subscription Agreements") with the Perceptive PIPE Investor and certain other investors (the "Other PIPE Investors," and, together with the Perceptive PIPE Investor, the "PIPE Investors"), pursuant to which the PIPE Investors committed financing valued at approximately $45,000,000, which includes (i) commitments by certain investors to subscribe for and purchase Class A ordinary shares in the open market and not to redeem such shares prior to the date the Closing occurs (the "Closing Date"), (ii) non-redemption commitments by certain investors, (iii) the contribution of $23,000,000 of 2023 Bridge Financing Notes to ListCo, and (iv) an additional cash investment by the Perceptive PIPE Investor of approximately $8.1 million (which amount may be reduced by up to approximately $1,070,575 subject to Additional Financing being raised prior to Closing), as described in more detail below (together, the "PIPE Financing"). In connection with the PIPE Financing, certain PIPE Investors will also be issued warrants to purchase shares of New Adagio Common Stock at $10.00 per share, subject to adjustment (the "Warrants") and/or Pre-Funded Warrants (as defined below). As provided for in the Subscription Agreements, the number of shares of New Adagio Common Stock and Warrants issuable to the PIPE Investors will depend on the redemption value of the Class A ordinary shares at Closing, the average per share price of the Class A ordinary shares purchased by certain PIPE Investors in the open market and the amount of interest on the 2023 Bridge Financing Notes that will have accrued and be unpaid at Closing and be contributed to ListCo in exchange for shares of New Adagio Common Stock. In connection with the PIPE Financing, certain PIPE Investors also committed to purchase pre-funded warrants, which are exercisable for a nominal exercise price of $0.01 (the "Pre-Funded Warrants," and together with the Warrants, the "PIPE Warrants"). The shares of New Adagio Common Stock and PIPE Warrants to be issued pursuant to the Subscription Agreements have not been registered under the Securities Act and will be issued in reliance upon the exemption provided in Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. ListCo will grant the PIPE Investors certain registration rights in connection with the PIPE Financing. The PIPE Financing is contingent upon, among other things, the substantially concurrent Closing. Convertible Security Financing (Private Placement) In connection with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, certain investors, including the Perceptive PIPE Investor (the "Convert Investors"), executed a securities purchase agreement, dated February 13, 2024, with ListCo (the "Convertible Security Subscription Agreement"), pursuant to which ListCo issued on the Closing Date to the Convert Investors $20,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 13% senior secured convertible notes (the "New Adagio Convertible Notes"), which will be convertible into shares of New Adagio Common Stock at a conversion price of $10.00 per share, subject to adjustment (the "Conversion Shares"), and 1,500,000 warrants (the "Convert Warrants"), which will be exercisable on a cashless basis or for cash at a price of $24.00 per share, subject to adjustment (the "Base Convert Financing"), and will expire on the seventh anniversary of the Closing. Such $20,000,000 of financing in the form of New Adagio Convertible Notes includes the Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment (as defined below) and includes the conversion of the 2024 Bridge Financing Notes (as defined below) into New Adagio Convertible Notes at Closing, subject in each case to Additional Financing (as defined below) being raised prior to Closing, as further described below. The New Adagio Convertible Notes will have a maturity of three years and nine months after Closing and interest will be payable in cash or compound as additional principal outstanding. As described above, in connection with the execution of the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, the Perceptive PIPE Investor also purchased a $7,000,000 convertible promissory note of Adagio (the "2024 Bridge Financing Notes") pursuant to a note purchase agreement, dated February 13, 2024, by and among the Perceptive PIPE Investor, Adagio and ListCo (the "2024 Bridge Financing Notes Subscription Agreement"). On the Closing Date, pursuant to the terms of the 2024 Bridge Financing Notes and the 2024 Bridge Financing Note Subscription Agreement, the 2024 Bridge Financing Notes will convert into New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants, and the Perceptive PIPE Investor will subscribe for $5,500,000 aggregate principal amount of New Adagio Convertible Notes and 937,500 Convert Warrants, on the same terms as the other Convert Investors executing the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement (such commitment by the Perceptive PIPE Investor to purchase New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants, the "Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment," and the conversion of the 2024 Bridge Financing Note and purchase of New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants pursuant to the Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment as part of the Base Convert Financing, the "Convertible Security Financing"). Subject to the Company and New Adagio receiving any new financing or commitment for financing (any such financing, an "Additional Financing"), whether in the form of equity, debt or convertible debt, before the Closing Date, the Perceptive PIPE Investor may request that on the Closing Date the 2024 Bridge Financing Note is repaid, the Perceptive Convertible Note Commitment is reduced or a combination of both. The New Adagio Convertible Notes and the Convert Warrants issuable in connection with the Convertible Security Financing have not been registered under the Securities Act and will be issued in reliance upon the exemption provided in Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. ListCo will grant the Convert Investors certain registration rights in connection with the Convertible Security Financing. The Convertible Security Financing is contingent upon, among other things, the substantially concurrent Closing. Pursuant to the terms of the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, on the Closing Date, ListCo, certain of its subsidiaries (other than Adagio Medical GmbH, a company organized under the laws of Germany and an excluded subsidiary thereunder) (the "Subsidiaries") and the collateral agent (the "Collateral Agent") on behalf of the Convert Investors, will enter into a security and pledge agreement (the "Convert Security Document"), pursuant to which ListCo and the Subsidiaries will (i) pledge the equity interests in the Subsidiaries to the Collateral Agent, (ii) pledge all of their respective promissory notes, securities and other instruments evidencing indebtedness to the Collateral Agent, and (iii) grant to the Collateral Agent a security interest in and lien on all of their respective personal property and assets, including, among other items, all of their deposit accounts, chattel paper, documents, equipment, general intangibles, instruments and inventory, and all proceeds therefrom, in each case subject to customary exceptions, all as set forth in the form of the Convert Security Document. Additionally, pursuant to the terms of the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, on the Closing Date, the Subsidiaries will deliver a guaranty (the "Convert Guaranty") to the Collateral Agent pursuant to which the Subsidiaries will, jointly and severally, guaranty ListCo's obligation to repay the New Adagio Convertible Notes and all other obligations of ListCo under the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement and the New Adagio Convertible Notes and other related transaction documents, as set forth in the form of the Convert Guaranty. Any additional subsidiaries of ListCo formed or acquired after the closing date will be required to join the Convert Guaranty as additional guarantors. Convert Registration Rights Agreement The Conversion Shares, the Convert Warrants, the Convert Warrant Shares, the New Adagio Convertible Notes and any capital stock of ListCo issued or issuable with respect to the Conversion Shares, have not been registered under the Securities Act. In connection with the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement, ListCo and the Convert Investors agreed to enter into a Registration Rights Agreement (the "Convert Registration Rights Agreement"), pursuant to which ListCo will be required to file a registration statement on Form S-3 or, if not available, Form S-1 (the "Convert Registration Statement") with the SEC to register for resale all of the Registrable Securities (as defined in the Convert Registration Rights Agreement), as soon as practicable, but in no event later than the Filing Deadline (as defined in the Convert Registration Rights Agreement). In the event that the number of shares registered for resale under the Convert Registration Statement is insufficient to cover all of the Registrable Securities, ListCo will amend the Registration Statement or file with the SEC a new registration statement to cover at least the Required Registration Amount (as defined in the Convert Registration Rights Agreement) as of the trading day immediately preceding the date of the filing of such amendment or new registration statement, as soon as practicable, but in any event not later than 15 days after the necessity therefor arises. If ListCo fails to file the Convert Registration Statement when required, fails to obtain effectiveness by SEC when required or fails to maintain the effectiveness of the Convert Registration Statement pursuant to the terms of Section 2(e) of the Convert Registration Rights Agreement, then as partial relief for the damages to any holder by reason of any such delay in or reduction of, its ability to sell the underlying shares of New Adagio Common Stock, ListCo will be required to pay each holder of Registrable Securities relating to such Convert Registration Statement an amount equal to one percent of such Convert Investor's original principal amount according to the timelines laid out in Section 2(e) of the Convert Registration Rights Agreement. Investor Rights Agreement Concurrently with the execution of the Business Combination Agreement, the Company, ListCo, the Perceptive PIPE Investor, the Sponsor, the Other Class B Shareholders and certain Adagio stockholders entered into an investor rights agreement (the "Investor Rights Agreement") pursuant to which, among other things, the Perceptive PIPE Investor, the Sponsor, the Other Class B Shareholders and certain Adagio stockholders and investors in the Convertible Security Financing will be granted certain customary registration rights. Further, subject to customary exceptions set forth in the Investor Rights Agreement, the shares of New Adagio Common Stock beneficially owned or owned of record by the Sponsor, the Perceptive PIPE Investor, certain officers and directors of the Company and New Adagio (including any shares of New Adagio Common Stock issued pursuant to the Business Combination Agreement or the PIPE Financing) will be subject to a lock-up period beginning on the Closing Date until the date that is the earlier of (i) 365 days following the Closing Date (or six months after the Closing Date, in the case of Olav Bergheim, John Dahldorf, Hakon Bergheim, Todd Wider, Michael Henderson and Leslie Trigg) or (ii) the first date subsequent to the Closing Date with respect to which the closing price of the shares of New Adagio Common Stock equals or exceeds $12.00 per share for any 20 trading days within any 30-trading day period commencing at least 150 days after the Closing Date. Adoption of Second Extension Amendment Proposal On February 27, 2024, the Company held an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders in view of approving an amendment to the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association to extend the Termination Date from March 2, 2024 (the "Previous Termination Date") to April 2, 2024 (the "Articles Extension Date") and to allow the Company, without another shareholder vote, to elect to extend the Termination Date to consummate a Business Combination on a monthly basis for up to eleven times by an additional one month each time after the Articles Extension Date, by resolution of the Company's board of directors, if requested by the Sponsor, and upon five days' advance notice prior to the applicable Termination Date, until March 2, 2025 or a total of up to forty-eight months from the closing of the initial public offering, unless the closing of a Business Combination shall have occurred prior thereto (the "Second Extension Amendment Proposal"). In connection with the initial one-month extension from the Previous Termination Date to the Articles Extension Date, the Company made a deposit into the Trust Account of $111,000 and drew down on the Fourth Promissory Note to finance this deposit. In connection with any subsequent optional monthly extensions following the Articles Extension Date, the Sponsor is expected to make deposits of $111,000 per month into the Trust Account and borrow the necessary funds from the Sponsor in the form of convertible notes, as provided for in the amendment to the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association that was adopted on February 27, 2024. As contemplated by the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association, the holders of Public Shares were able to elect to redeem all or a portion of their Public Shares in exchange for their pro rata portion of the funds held in the Trust Account in connection with the Second Extension Amendment Proposal. On February 27, 2024, the Second Extension Amendment Proposal was adopted and 390,815 Public Shares were redeemed for an aggregate amount of approximately $4,358,804. Following the adoption of the Second Extension Amendment Proposal, the Company had 3,799,016 Class A ordinary shares, including 3,300,016 Public Shares and 499,000 private placement shares, and 3,737,500 Class B ordinary shares issued and outstanding. Following the approval of the Second Extension Amendment Proposal, the ordinary shares held by the initial shareholders represented 56.2% of the issued and outstanding ordinary shares (including Private Placement Shares).

The Company's technologies center on ultra-low temperature cryoablation ("ULTC") and pulsed field cryoablation ("PFCA"), designed to produce durable, contiguous, transmural lesions anywhere in the heart using the Company's proprietary consoles, catheters, and stylets. The Company received CE Marking in Europe for its iCLAS™ Cryoablation System and VT Cryoablation System in June 2020 and March 2024, respectively, and has commercially launched in the EU. The Company has not launched commercially in the U.S. but is working towards obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals to do so. The Company was incorporated in the state of Delaware on January 18, 2011, and is headquartered in Laguna Hills, California. Adagio Medical GmbH was formed in March 2020 and is a wholly-owned subsidiary that provides direct sales, distribution, marketing services, and clinical trial management in Europe. On February 13, 2024, ARYA Sciences Acquisition Corp IV, a Cayman Islands exempted company ("ARYA"), Aja HoldCo, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“ListCo”), Aja Merger Sub 1, a Cayman Islands exempted company (“ARYA Merger Sub”), the Company, and Aja Merger Sub 2, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Company Merger Sub”) entered into the business combination agreement (“Business Combination Agreement”) pursuant to which (i) ARYA Merger Sub will be merged with and into ARYA (the “ARYA Merger”), with ARYA surviving the ARYA Merger as a direct wholly-owned subsidiary of ListCo and (ii) Company Merger Sub will be merged with and into Adagio (the “Adagio Merger” and, together with the ARYA Merger, the “Mergers”), with Adagio surviving the Adagio Merger as a direct wholly-owned subsidiary of ListCo (the “Business Combination”). In connection with the consummation of the Business Combination, ListCo will change its name to “Adagio Medical Holdings, Inc.” (“New Adagio”). The Business Combination closed on July 31, 2024. See Note 17-Subsequent Events. Liquidity and Going Concern The Company has limited revenue and has incurred operating losses and negative cash flows from operations since its inception and anticipates that it will continue to do so for at least the next several years. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of $2.0 million and $1.4 million, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, net losses were $13.0 million and $17.2 million, respectively, and net cash used in operating activities was $13.7 million and $12.2 million, respectively. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $146.7 million and $133.6 million, respectively, and working capital deficit of $55.0 million and $42.0 million, respectively. Management does not believe the Company’s current cash and cash equivalents are sufficient to fund operations for at least the next 12 months from the issuance date of the condensed consolidated financial statements. Management believes that this raises substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. Management intends to mitigate the conditions and events that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern entity by (i) pursuing a public offering of its common stock or in a business combination (the “SPAC transaction”) with a Special Purpose Acquisition Company (the “SPAC”) to obtain additional capital and align the Company’s long-term operating strategy (refer to the Business Combination in Note 1-Organization and Description of Business for further detail), (ii) negotiate other cash equity or debt financing in the short-term, and (iii) continue to pursue the necessary regulatory approvals to launch commercially in the U.S. market. However, there can be no assurances that the current plans will generate any liquidity to the Company or be available on terms acceptable to the Company. On July 31, 2024, the Company announced the closing of its previously announced Business Combination with the Company and ListCo (the “Closing”) (see Note 1). As of July 31, 2024, substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern was alleviated due to the closing of a business combination. Strategic Realignment of Resources and Corporate Restructuring On December 1, 2023, the Company’s management approved a strategic realignment of resources and corporate restructuring (the “RIF”) designed to reallocate capital, conformant to its business focus for the next two years. As part of the RIF, the Company initiated a reduction in its current workforce of 20 employees, representing approximately 19% of the Company’s employees, which was completed on December 15, 2023. In compliance with the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, the Company has provided termination notices to affected employees and government authorities if required. The Company made no payment for severance or related benefit costs. Description of Restatement Error As permitted under ASC 825, Financial Instruments, (“ASC 825”), the Company elected the fair value option to account for the convertible promissory notes. In previously issued financial statements, the Company recorded adjustments to the fair value of these instruments, including related accrued interest in “Convertible notes payable, current” in the liabilities section of the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet as of June 30, 2024 with an offsetting entry to “Convertible notes fair value adjustment” in the Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations and Comprehensive Loss for the six months ended June 30, 2024. However, the Company also separately recorded amounts related to accrued interest on the convertible promissory notes in the “Other accrued liabilities” and “Interest expense” of the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet and Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations and Comprehensive Loss, respectively, effectively duplicating the impact to the liability and expense recording accrued interest related to the convertible promissory notes. As a result, the Company restated the financials by reducing the amount of accrued interest recorded in “Convertible notes payable, current” and “Convertible notes fair value adjustment” to relieve the impact of the duplicated recording. In the restated financials, the change in fair value of the convertible promissory notes, excluding amounts related to interest, is recorded in “Convertible notes fair value adjustment”, while amounts related to interest are recorded as interest expense in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The following tables summarizes the restatement adjustment on each financial statement line item affected by the restatement as of the dates, and for the periods, indicated (USD in thousands, except basic and diluted net loss per common share): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:100%;"><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:60.97%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.95%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:0.95%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> As Previously </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:0.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:0.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:0.37%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:60.97%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.95%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"><p style="font-family:'Times New

Any reference in these notes to applicable guidance is meant to refer to the authoritative United States generally accepted accounting principles as found in the Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) and Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”). Unaudited Interim Financial Information The accompanying interim condensed consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2024, the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the condensed consolidated statements of convertible preferred stock and stockholders’ deficit, and the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, and the related footnote disclosures are unaudited. These unaudited interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP and, in management’s opinion, on a basis consistent with the audited financial statements and reflect all adjustments which only include normal recurring adjustments necessary for the fair presentation of the Company’s financial position as of June 30, 2024 and its results of operations and comprehensive loss for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, and cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. The results for the six months ended June 30, 2024 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the year ending December 31, 2024 or any other interim period. Emerging Growth Company Status The Company is an “emerging growth company,” as defined in Section 2(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the “Securities Act”), as modified by the Jumpstart our Business Startups Act of 2012 (the “JOBS Act”). Section 102(b)(1) of the JOBS Act exempts emerging growth companies from being required to comply with new or revised financial accounting standards until private companies (that is, those that have not had a Securities Act registration statement declared effective or do not have a class of securities registered under the Exchange Act) are required to comply with the new or revised financial accounting standards. The JOBS Act provides that a company can elect to opt out of the extended transition period and comply with the requirements that apply to non-emerging growth companies but any such election to opt out is irrevocable. The Company has elected not to opt out of such extended transition period which means that when an accounting standard is issued or revised and it has different application dates for public or private companies, the Company, as an emerging growth company, can adopt the new standard at the time private companies adopt the new or revised standard. Principles of Consolidation The condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Adagio Medical, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Use of Estimates and Assumptions The preparation of the condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of revenue and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Segments Operating segments are defined as components of an entity for which separate financial information is available and that is regularly reviewed by the Chief Operating Decision Maker (“CODM”) in deciding how to allocate resources to an individual segment and in assessing performance. The Company’s CODM is its Chief Executive Officer. The Company has determined that it operates as one reportable segment, as the CODM reviews financial information presented on a consolidated basis for purposes of making operating decisions, allocating resources, and evaluating financial performance. Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, including its money market account, to be cash equivalents. All of the Company’s cash equivalents have liquid markets. Cash deposits held in accounts at each United States financial institution are insured up to $0.25 million by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”). Cash deposits held in accounts at each European Union financial institution are insured up to €0.1 million by the Deposit Guarantee Scheme. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts that, at times, may exceed the stated insured limits. Any loss incurred or lack of access to uninsured funds could have a significant adverse impact on the Company’s financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Management does not expect any losses on such accounts. Concentrations of Credit Risk and Off-Balance Sheet Risk Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents. The Company deposits its cash and cash equivalents with major financial institutions; however, at times, deposits may exceed the amount of insurance provided. The Company has not experienced any losses on its deposits since inception. As of June 30, 2024, $1.2 million of the Company’s cash was held with Silicon Valley Bank (“SVB”), and exceeded federally insured limits. On March 10, 2023, Silicon Valley Bank was closed by the California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation, which appointed the FDIC as receiver. On March 12, 2023, the Secretary of the Treasury, the chair of the Federal Reserve Board and the chairman of the FDIC released a joint statement related to the FDIC’s resolution of the Silicon Valley Bank receivership, which provided that all depositors would have access to all their money starting March 13, 2023. As of the issuance date of these financial statements, all cash deposited by the Company with SVB, now a division of First Citizens Bank and Trust Company, has been accessible by the Company.

Revenue Recognition The Company generates product revenue primarily from the sale of cryoablation catheters, stylets, esophageal warming balloons, and other accessories (collectively, the "Consumables") used with the Company's cryoablation consoles ("Consoles"). The Company sells its products directly to hospitals and medical centers. To a lesser extent, the Company also generates lease revenue from the implied rental of Consoles loaned to customers at no charge. The Company accounts for revenue earned from contracts with customers under ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). The core principle of ASC 606 is that a company should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company recognizes revenue from sales to customers applying the following five steps: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.15pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 1: Identify the contract with the customer.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.15pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table> <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 3: Determine the transaction price.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 5: Recognize revenue when, or as, the company satisfies a performance obligation.</td></tr></table> The Company's customer contracts generally have performance obligations that contain deliverables consisting of the Consumables and may also include Consoles loaned to customers. The Company evaluates each promise within a multiple-performance obligation arrangement to determine whether it represents a distinct performance obligation. The primary performance obligations in the Company's customer arrangements from which it derives revenue is the sale of the Consumables. When the Company loans the Console to the customer, it retains title to the Console at all times and does not require minimum purchase commitments from the customer related to any Consumables. In such cases, the Company invoices the customer for the Consumables based on customer orders received. Over time, the Company expects to recover the cost of the loaned Console through the customer's continued purchasing and use of additional Consumables. For these reasons, the Company has determined that part of the arrangement consideration for the Consumables is an implied rental payment for use of the Console. Therefore, the Company allocates the arrangement consideration between the lease components (i.e., the Console) and non-lease components (i.e., the Consumables) based on the relative estimated standalone selling price of each distinct performance obligation consistent with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606. Revenue allocated to the lease components was not material for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. Revenue from sales to customers of the Consumables is classified as revenue in the Company's condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The delivery of the Consumables are performance obligations satisfied at a point in time, when the control of the goods is transferred to the customer (i.e., FOB Shipping Point). Revenue is recognized when control is transferred to the customer in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to be entitled to in exchange for the product. Other Revenue Considerations Revenue is reported net of sales tax. The Company has made the accounting policy election not to recognize a separate performance obligation for the shipment of products to the customer but to account for it as fulfillment cost. The Company's contracts primarily include fixed consideration. The Company only includes estimated variable amounts in the transaction price to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved. Customers are generally required to pay within 30 days. Any incremental costs to obtain contracts are recorded as selling, general and administrative expense as incurred due to the short duration of the Company's contracts. The Company does not assess whether promised goods or services are performance obligations if they are deemed immaterial in the context of the contract with the customer. Additionally, the Company does not assess whether a contract has a significant financing component if the expectation at contract inception is that the period between payment by the customer and the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer will be one year or less. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, revenue was generated only from European markets. Inventory Inventory consists of raw materials, work-in-process, and finished products and is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. The method by which that amounts are removed from the inventory is first-in first-out ("FIFO"). Cost may include materials, labor, and manufacturing overhead. The carrying value of inventory is reviewed for potential impairment whenever indicators suggest that the cost of inventory exceeds the carrying value and management adjusts the inventory to its net realizable value. The Company also periodically evaluates inventory for estimated losses from excess quantities and obsolescence and writes down the cost of inventory to net realizable value at the time such determinations are made. Net realizable value is determined using the estimated selling price, in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs to complete and dispose. Inventory used in research and development activities is expensed when incurred. Property and Equipment Property and equipment are recorded at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation and amortization are provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, generally three to five years, or, in the case of leasehold improvements, over the remaining life of the lease term. Specifically, Consoles had a five-year useful life as of December 31, 2023, and effective on January 1, 2024, the useful life of Consoles was changed to three years to better reflect the estimated periods during which these Consoles will remain in service. The impact of the change in the estimated useful life of Consoles is not material to the six months ended June 30, 2024, nor to the future remaining life of the Consoles. Property and equipment includes equipment that is loaned to customers and located at customer premises. The Company retains ownership of the equipment held for evaluation by customers and has the right to remove the equipment if it is not being utilized according to expectations. Concentrations The Company had two suppliers exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable as of June 30, 2024, representing 82.0% of accounts payable. As of December 31, 2023, the Company had three suppliers exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable, representing 71.6% of accounts payable. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 45.3% and 55.0%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the six months ended June 30, 2024. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 29.2% and 37.6%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the six months ended June 30, 2023. Impairment of Long-Lived Assets The Company reviews long-lived assets, including property and equipment and finite-lived intangible assets, for impairment annually or whenever events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized when the asset's carrying value exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The amount of the impairment loss is determined as the excess of the carrying value of the asset over its fair value. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Company determined that there was no impairment of long-lived assets. Foreign Currency Translation and Transactions The assets, liabilities, and results of operations of Adagio Medical GmbH are recorded using the Euro as the designated functional currency, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which Adagio Medical GmbH operates. Consequently, transactions in currencies other than Euro are measured and recorded in Euro. Upon consolidation with the Company, its assets and liabilities are translated to U.S. Dollars at currency exchange rates as of the condensed consolidated balance sheet date and its revenues and expenses are translated at the weighted-average currency exchange rates during the applicable reporting periods. Translation adjustments resulting from the process of translating this entity's financial statements are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) in the condensed consolidated balance sheets and foreign currency translation adjustment in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. Leases The Company accounts for its lease property under ASC 842. Under this guidance, arrangements meeting the definition of a lease are classified as operating or financing leases, and are recorded on the condensed consolidated balance sheets as both a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, calculated by discounting fixed lease payments over the lease term at the rate implicit in the lease or the Company's incremental borrowing rate, which is the rate for collateralized borrowings based on the current economic environment, current borrowings, value of leases, currency in which the lease obligation is satisfied, rate sensitivity, lease term and materiality. Lease liabilities are increased by interest and reduced by payments each period, and the right-of-use asset is amortized over the lease term. For operating leases, interest on the lease liability and the amortization of the right-of-use asset results in straight-line rent expense over the lease term. Variable lease expenses are recorded when incurred. The Company determines whether a contract is or contains a lease at the inception of the contract. A contract will be deemed to be or contain a lease if the contract conveys the right to control and direct the use of identified property, plant, or equipment for a period of time in exchange for consideration. The Company generally must also have the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the property, plant, and equipment. The Company uses the implicit rate in the lease agreement, when readily available, or its incremental borrowing rate as the basis to calculate the present value of future lease payments at lease commencement. The incremental borrowing rate represents the rate the Company would have to pay to borrow funds on a collateralize basis over a similar term and in a similar economic environment. In calculating the right-of-use asset and lease liability, the Company elected to combine lease and non-lease components for its real estate leases. The Company adopted the policy election to exclude short-term leases having initial terms of 12 months from the initial recognition provisions of ASC 842. Refer to Note 10—Operating Leases for additional details. The Company's implied rental agreements for its consoles qualify as operating leases and as such, revenue is recognized in accordance with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Revenue allocated to the lease components were not significant for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023. Cost of Revenue Cost of revenue includes raw materials, direct labor, manufacturing overhead, shipping and receiving costs and other less significant indirect costs related to the production of the Company's products. Cost of revenue also includes the depreciation expense of Consoles loaned to the customers. Research and Development Research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries, consulting fees, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel directly engaged in research and development activities, clinical trial expenses, equipment costs, material costs, allocated rent and facilities costs, and depreciation. Research and development expenses relating to possible future products are expensed as incurred. The Company also accrues and expenses costs for activities associated with clinical trials performed by third parties as incurred. Selling, General and Administrative Selling, general and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel in executive, finance and other administrative functions, allocated rent and facilities costs, legal fees relating to intellectual property and corporate matters, professional fees for accounting and consulting services, marketing costs and insurance costs. The Company expenses all selling, general, and administrative costs as incurred. The incurred transaction costs are recorded in selling, general, and administrative costs. Accrued Transaction Costs In connection with the Business Combination, the Company accrued transaction costs, consisting primarily of legal, accounting and other professional fees, which were incurred and expensed as of June 30, 2024, but not yet paid. The accrued expenses are recorded in accrued transaction costs on the condensed consolidated balance sheets. Fair Value Measurements Fair value measurements are based on the premise that fair value is an exit price representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, the following three-tier fair value hierarchy is used in determining the inputs for measuring fair value: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 2—Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices for similar assets or liabilities that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 3—Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity and consist of financial instruments valued using pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies or similar techniques, as well as instruments for which the determination of fair value requires significant judgment or estimation.</td></tr></table> Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Management's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the asset or liability. The use of different assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on estimated fair values. Accordingly, the fair value estimates disclosed, or initial amounts recorded may not be indicative of the amount that the Company or holders of the instruments could realize in a current market exchange. The fair value of the convertible notes payable and warrant liabilities may be impacted by certain unobservable inputs, most significantly with regard to discount rates, expected volatility and historical and projected performance. Significant changes to these inputs in isolation could result in a significantly different fair value measurement. Fair Value Option for Convertible Notes As permitted under ASC 825, Financial Instruments ("ASC 825"), the Company elected the fair value option to account for the convertible promissory notes issued in October 2022 (the "October 2022 Convertible Notes"), April 2023 (the "April 2023 Convertible Notes"), November 2023 (the "November 2023 Convertible Notes"), February 2024 (the "February 2024 Convertible Notes"), May 2024 (the "May 2024 Convertible Notes"), and June 2024 (the "June 2024 Convertible Notes") in order to measure those liabilities at amounts that more accurately reflect the current economic environment in which the Company operates. The Company recorded the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, November 2023 Convertible Notes, February 2024 Convertible Notes, May 2024 Convertible Notes, and June 2024 Convertible Notes at fair value at issuance and subsequently remeasures them to fair value at the end of each reporting period. Changes in fair value are recognized as convertible notes fair value adjustment in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. As a result of applying the fair value option, direct costs and fees related to the issuance of the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, November 2023 Convertible Notes, February 2024 Convertible Notes, May 2024 Convertible Notes, and June 2024 Convertible Notes were expensed as incurred (i.e., not recognized as deferred costs). Refer to Note 4 — Fair Value Measurements for further detail. The change in fair value of the convertible promissory notes, excluding amounts related to interest, is recorded in "Convertible notes fair value adjustment", while amounts related to interest are recorded as interest expense in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. Recent Accounting Standards The Company's management does not believe there are any recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting pronouncement if currently adopted would have a material effect on the Company's unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements. Warrants The Company accounts for certain common stock warrants and pre-funded warrants outstanding as warrant liabilities at fair value, determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, on the condensed consolidated balance sheets in accordance with ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging ("ASC 815"). The Company evaluates its financial instruments to determine if such instruments are derivatives or contain features that qualify as embedded derivatives. The classification of derivative instruments, including whether such instruments should be recorded as liabilities or as equity, is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. Equity instruments that are initially classified as equity that become subject to reclassification are reclassified to a liability at the fair value of the instrument on the reclassification date. Derivative instrument liabilities are classified in the condensed consolidated balance sheets as current or non-current based on whether or not net-cash settlement of the derivative instrument could be required within 12 months of the condensed consolidated balance sheet date. Changes in fair value are recognized as warrant liabilities fair value adjustment in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The liability is subject to re-measurement at the end of each reporting period. See Note 9-Warrants for additional information related to the warrants. Term Loan The Company accounts for the term loan at residual value on the date of issuance. The expected life of the term loan is the contractual term ending on the maturity date. The Company classifies the term loan as current liabilities within twelve months of the maturity date or when otherwise due. Interest expense is recognized in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss over the contractual term of the loan. See Note 8-Debt for additional information related to the term loan. Convertible Preferred Stock The Company records convertible preferred stock at fair value on the dates of issuance, net of issuance costs. Upon the occurrence of certain events that are outside the Company's control, including a deemed liquidation event, holders of the convertible preferred stock can cause redemption for cash. Each share of preferred stock would automatically be converted into shares of common stock at the then effective conversion rate immediately upon the earlier of (i) the election of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, or (ii) the closing of the sale of the Company's common stock in a firm commitment, underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, with aggregate offering proceeds to the Company (before deduction for underwriters' discounts and expenses relating to the issuance) of at least $75.0 million and a public offering price per share equal to at least $67.83 (subject to adjustments for stock dividends, splits, combinations and similar events). As the preferred stock is considered to be contingently redeemable, the preferred stock has been classified outside of permanent equity. The preferred stock will be accreted to its redemption value if the deemed liquidation events are considered probable of occurring. Stock-Based Compensation The Company recognizes compensation expense for all stock-based awards issued to employees and non-employees based on the estimated grant-date fair value, which is recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period. The Company has elected to recognize forfeitures as they occur. The fair value of stock options is determined using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The determination of fair value for stock-based awards on the date of grant using an option-pricing model requires management to make certain assumptions including expected volatility, expected term, risk-free interest rate and expected dividends in addition to the Company's common stock valuation. Refer to Note 13-Stock-Based Compensation. Due to the absence of an active market for the Company's common stock, the Company utilized methodologies, approaches, and assumptions consistent with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Audit and Accounting Practice Aid Series: Valuation of Privately Held Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation to estimate the fair value of its common stock. In determining the exercise prices for options granted, the Company considered the fair value of the common stock as of the grant date. The fair value of the common stock is determined based upon a variety of factors, including the Company's financial position, historical performance and operating results, the Company's stage of development, the progress of the Company's research and development programs, the prices at which the Company sold its convertible preferred stock, the superior rights, preferences and privileges of the Company's convertible preferred stock relative to its common stock, external market conditions affecting the medical technologies industry, the lack of marketability of the Company's common stock, prospects of a transaction and market performance of peer companies. Significant changes to the key assumptions underlying the factors used could result in different fair values of the Company at each valuation date. Income Taxes Income taxes are recorded in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes ("ASC 740"), which provides for deferred taxes using an asset and liability approach. The Company recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the condensed consolidated financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the condensed consolidated financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse and include Net Operating Loss ("NOL") carryforwards and Research and Development ("R&D") tax credit carryforwards. Valuation allowances are provided if, based upon the weight of available evidence, it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The Company accounts for uncertain tax positions in accordance with the provisions of ASC 740. When uncertain tax positions exist, the Company recognizes the tax benefit of tax positions to the extent that the benefit would more likely than not be realized assuming examination by the taxing authority. The determination as to whether the tax benefit will more likely than not be realized is based upon the technical merits of the tax position as well as consideration of the available facts and circumstances. The Company adopted ASU 2019-12, Simplifying the Accounting for Income Taxes in the first quarter of 2021 and has recorded franchise taxes not based on income outside of income tax expense. The Company's practice is to recognize interest and/or penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. The Company had no accrual for interest and penalties on its condensed consolidated balance sheets and has not recognized interest and/or penalties in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. To date, there have been no interest or penalties charged in relation to the unrecognized tax benefits. Refer to Note 15-Income Taxes for additional details. Basis of Presentation The condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). Any reference in these notes to applicable guidance is meant to refer to the authoritative United States generally accepted accounting principles as found in the Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") and Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") of the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"). Unaudited Interim Financial Information The accompanying interim condensed consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2024, the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the condensed consolidated statements of convertible preferred stock and stockholders' deficit, and the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, and the related footnote disclosures are unaudited. These unaudited interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP and, in management's opinion, on a basis consistent with the audited financial statements and reflect all adjustments which only include normal recurring adjustments necessary for the fair presentation of the Company's financial position as of June 30, 2024 and its results of operations and comprehensive loss for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, and cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. The results for the six months ended June 30, 2024 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the year ending December 31, 2024 or any other interim period. Emerging Growth Company Status The Company is an "emerging growth company," as defined in Section 2(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the "Securities Act"), as modified by the Jumpstart our Business Startups Act of 2012 (the "JOBS Act"). Section 102(b)(1) of the JOBS Act exempts emerging growth companies from being required to comply with new or revised financial accounting standards until private companies (that is, those that have not had a Securities Act registration statement declared effective or do not have a class of securities registered under the Exchange Act) are required to comply with the new or revised financial accounting standards. The JOBS Act provides that a company can elect to opt out of the extended transition period and comply with the requirements that apply to non-emerging growth companies but any such election to opt out is irrevocable. The Company has elected not to opt out of such extended transition period which means that when an accounting standard is issued or revised and it has different application dates for public or private companies, the Company, as an emerging growth company, can adopt the new standard at the time private companies adopt the new or revised standard. Principles of Consolidation The condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Adagio Medical, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Use of Estimates and Assumptions The preparation of the condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of revenue and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Segments Operating segments are defined as components of an entity for which separate financial information is available and that is regularly reviewed by the Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") in deciding how to allocate resources to an individual segment and in assessing performance. The Company's CODM is its Chief Executive Officer. The Company has determined that it operates as one reportable segment, as the CODM reviews financial information presented on a consolidated basis for purposes of making operating decisions, allocating resources, and evaluating financial performance. 1 Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, including its money market account, to be cash equivalents. All of the Company's cash equivalents have liquid markets. Cash deposits held in accounts at each United States financial institution are insured up to $0.25 million by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC"). Cash deposits held in accounts at each European Union financial institution are insured up to €0.1 million by the Deposit Guarantee Scheme. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts that, at times, may exceed the stated insured limits. Any loss incurred or lack of access to uninsured funds could have a significant adverse impact on the Company's financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Management does not expect any losses on such accounts. 2500000100000 Concentrations of Credit Risk and Off-Balance Sheet Risk Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents. The Company deposits its cash and cash equivalents with major financial institutions; however, at times, deposits may exceed the amount of insurance provided. The Company has not experienced any losses on its deposits since inception. As of June 30, 2024, $1.2 million of the Company's cash was held with Silicon Valley Bank ("SVB"), and exceeded federally insured limits. On March 10, 2023, Silicon Valley Bank was closed by the California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation, which appointed the FDIC as receiver. On March 12, 2023, the Secretary of the Treasury, the chair of the Federal Reserve Board and the chairman of the FDIC released a joint statement related to the FDIC's resolution of the Silicon Valley Bank receivership, which provided that all depositors would have access to all their money starting March 13, 2023. As of the issuance date of these financial statements, all cash deposited by the Company with SVB, now a division of First Citizens Bank and Trust Company, has been accessible by the Company. 1200000 Revenue Recognition The Company generates product revenue primarily from the sale of cryoablation catheters, stylets, esophageal warming balloons, and other accessories (collectively, the "Consumables") used with the Company's cryoablation consoles ("Consoles"). The Company sells its products directly to hospitals and medical centers. To a lesser extent, the Company also generates lease revenue from the implied rental of Consoles loaned to customers at no charge. The Company accounts for revenue earned from contracts with customers under ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). The core principle of ASC 606 is that a company should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company recognizes revenue from sales to customers applying the following five steps: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.15pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 1: Identify the contract with the customer.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.15pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table> <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 3: Determine the transaction price.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 5: Recognize revenue when, or as, the company satisfies a performance obligation.</td></tr></table> The Company's customer contracts generally have performance obligations that contain deliverables consisting of the Consumables and may also include Consoles loaned to customers. The Company evaluates each promise within a multiple-performance obligation arrangement to determine whether it represents a distinct performance obligation. The primary performance obligations in the Company's customer arrangements from which it derives revenue is the sale of the Consumables. When the Company loans the Console to the customer, it retains title to the Console at all times and does not require minimum purchase commitments from the customer related to any Consumables. In such cases, the Company invoices the customer for the Consumables based on customer orders received. Over time, the Company expects to recover the cost of the loaned Console through the customer's continued purchasing and use of additional Consumables. For these reasons, the Company has determined that part of the arrangement consideration for the Consumables is an implied rental payment for use of the Console. Therefore, the Company allocates the arrangement consideration between the lease components (i.e., the Console) and non-lease components (i.e., the Consumables) based on the relative estimated standalone selling price of each distinct performance obligation consistent with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606. Revenue allocated to the lease components was not material for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. Revenue from sales to customers of the Consumables is classified as revenue in the Company's condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The delivery of the Consumables are performance obligations satisfied at a point in time, when the control of the goods is transferred to the customer (i.e., FOB Shipping Point). Revenue is recognized when control is transferred to the customer in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to be entitled to in exchange for the product. Other Revenue Considerations Revenue is reported net of sales tax. The Company has made the accounting policy election not to recognize a separate performance obligation for the shipment of products to the customer but to account for it as fulfillment cost. The Company's contracts primarily include fixed consideration. The Company only includes estimated variable amounts in the transaction price to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved. Customers are generally required to pay within 30 days. Any incremental costs to obtain contracts are recorded as selling, general and administrative expense as incurred due to the short duration of the Company's contracts. The Company does not assess whether promised goods or services are performance obligations if they are deemed immaterial in the context of the contract with the customer. Additionally, the Company does not assess whether a contract has a significant financing component if the expectation at contract inception is that the period between payment by the customer and the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer will be one year or less. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, revenue was generated only from European markets. Inventory Inventory consists of raw materials, work-in-process, and finished products and is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. The method by which that amounts are removed from the inventory is first-in first-out ("FIFO"). Cost may include materials, labor, and manufacturing overhead. The carrying value of inventory is reviewed for potential impairment whenever indicators suggest that the cost of inventory exceeds the carrying value and management adjusts the inventory to its net realizable value. The Company also periodically evaluates inventory for estimated losses from excess quantities and obsolescence and writes down the cost of inventory to net realizable value at the time such determinations are made. Net realizable value is determined using the estimated selling price, in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs to complete and dispose. Inventory used in research and development activities is expensed when incurred. Property and Equipment Property and equipment are recorded at cost, less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation and amortization are provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, generally three to five years, or, in the case of leasehold improvements, over the remaining life of the lease term. Specifically, Consoles had a five-year useful life as of December 31, 2023, and effective on January 1, 2024, the useful life of Consoles was changed to three years to better reflect the estimated periods during which these Consoles will remain in service. The impact of the change in the estimated useful life of Consoles is not material to the six months ended June 30, 2024, nor to the future remaining life of the Consoles. Property and equipment includes equipment that is loaned to customers and located at customer premises. The Company retains ownership of the equipment held for evaluation by customers and has the right to remove the equipment if it is not being utilized according to expectations. P5YP5Y Concentrations The Company had two suppliers exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable as of June 30, 2024, representing 82.0% of accounts payable. As of December 31, 2023, the Company had three suppliers exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable, representing 71.6% of accounts payable. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 45.3% and 55.0%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the six months ended June 30, 2024. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 29.2% and 37.6%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the six months ended June 30, 2023. 20.8230.7165100.4530.555100.2920.376 Impairment of Long-Lived Assets The Company reviews long-lived assets, including property and equipment and finite-lived intangible assets, for impairment annually or whenever events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized when the asset's carrying value exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The amount of the impairment loss is determined as the excess of the carrying value of the asset over its fair value. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Company determined that there was no impairment of long-lived assets. 00 Foreign Currency Translation and Transactions The assets, liabilities, and results of operations of Adagio Medical GmbH are recorded using the Euro as the designated functional currency, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which Adagio Medical GmbH operates. Consequently, transactions in currencies other than Euro are measured and recorded in Euro. Upon consolidation with the Company, its assets and liabilities are translated to U.S. Dollars at currency exchange rates as of the condensed consolidated balance sheet date and its revenues and expenses are translated at the weighted-average currency exchange rates during the applicable reporting periods. Translation adjustments resulting from the process of translating this entity's financial statements are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) in the condensed consolidated balance sheets and foreign currency translation adjustment in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. Leases The Company accounts for its lease property under ASC 842. Under this guidance, arrangements meeting the definition of a lease are classified as operating or financing leases, and are recorded on the condensed consolidated balance sheets as both a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, calculated by discounting fixed lease payments over the lease term at the rate implicit in the lease or the Company's incremental borrowing rate, which is the rate for collateralized borrowings based on the current economic environment, current borrowings, value of leases, currency in which the lease obligation is satisfied, rate sensitivity, lease term and materiality. Lease liabilities are increased by interest and reduced by payments each period, and the right-of-use asset is amortized over the lease term. For operating leases, interest on the lease liability and the amortization of the right-of-use asset results in straight-line rent expense over the lease term. Variable lease expenses are recorded when incurred. The Company determines whether a contract is or contains a lease at the inception of the contract. A contract will be deemed to be or contain a lease if the contract conveys the right to control and direct the use of identified property, plant, or equipment for a period of time in exchange for consideration. The Company generally must also have the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the property, plant, and equipment. The Company uses the implicit rate in the lease agreement, when readily available, or its incremental borrowing rate as the basis to calculate the present value of future lease payments at lease commencement. The incremental borrowing rate represents the rate the Company would have to pay to borrow funds on a collateralize basis over a similar term and in a similar economic environment. In calculating the right-of-use asset and lease liability, the Company elected to combine lease and non-lease components for its real estate leases. The Company adopted the policy election to exclude short-term leases having initial terms of 12 months from the initial recognition provisions of ASC 842. Refer to Note 10—Operating Leases for additional details. The Company's implied rental agreements for its consoles qualify as operating leases and as such, revenue is recognized in accordance with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Revenue allocated to the lease components were not significant for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023. Cost of Revenue Cost of revenue includes raw materials, direct labor, manufacturing overhead, shipping and receiving costs and other less significant indirect costs related to the production of the Company's products. Cost of revenue also includes the depreciation expense of Consoles loaned to the customers. Research and Development Research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries, consulting fees, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel directly engaged in research and development activities, clinical trial expenses, equipment costs, material costs, allocated rent and facilities costs, and depreciation. Research and development expenses relating to possible future products are expensed as incurred. The Company also accrues and expenses costs for activities associated with clinical trials performed by third parties as incurred. Selling, General and Administrative Selling, general and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel in executive, finance and other administrative functions, allocated rent and facilities costs, legal fees relating to intellectual property and corporate matters, professional fees for accounting and consulting services, marketing costs and insurance costs. The Company expenses all selling, general, and administrative costs as incurred. The incurred transaction costs are recorded in selling, general, and administrative costs. Accrued Transaction Costs In connection with the Business Combination, the Company accrued transaction costs, consisting primarily of legal, accounting and other professional fees, which were incurred and expensed as of June 30, 2024, but not yet paid. The accrued expenses are recorded in accrued transaction costs on the condensed consolidated balance sheets. Fair Value Measurements Fair value measurements are based on the premise that fair value is an exit price representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, the following three-tier fair value hierarchy is used in determining the inputs for measuring fair value: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:10pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 2—Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices for similar assets or liabilities that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:18pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 3—Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity and consist of financial instruments valued using pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies or similar techniques, as well as instruments for which the determination of fair value requires significant judgment or estimation.</td></tr></table> Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Management's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the asset or liability. The use of different assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on estimated fair values. Accordingly, the fair value estimates disclosed, or initial amounts recorded may not be indicative of the amount that the Company or holders of the instruments could realize in a current market exchange. The fair value of the convertible notes payable and warrant liabilities may be impacted by certain unobservable inputs, most significantly with regard to discount rates, expected volatility and historical and projected performance. Significant changes to these inputs in isolation could result in a significantly different fair value measurement. Fair Value Option for Convertible Notes As permitted under ASC 825, Financial Instruments ("ASC 825"), the Company elected the fair value option to account for the convertible promissory notes issued in October 2022 (the "October 2022 Convertible Notes"), April 2023 (the "April 2023 Convertible Notes"), November 2023 (the "November 2023 Convertible Notes"), February 2024 (the "February 2024 Convertible Notes"), May 2024 (the "May 2024 Convertible Notes"), and June 2024 (the "June 2024 Convertible Notes") in order to measure those liabilities at amounts that more accurately reflect the current economic environment in which the Company operates. The Company recorded the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, November 2023 Convertible Notes, February 2024 Convertible Notes, May 2024 Convertible Notes, and June 2024 Convertible Notes at fair value at issuance and subsequently remeasures them to fair value at the end of each reporting period. Changes in fair value are recognized as convertible notes fair value adjustment in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. As a result of applying the fair value option, direct costs and fees related to the issuance of the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, November 2023 Convertible Notes, February 2024 Convertible Notes, May 2024 Convertible Notes, and June 2024 Convertible Notes were expensed as incurred (i.e., not recognized as deferred costs). Refer to Note 4 — Fair Value Measurements for further detail. Recent Accounting Standards The Company's management does not believe there are any recently issued, but not yet effective, accounting pronouncement if currently adopted would have a material effect on the Company's unaudited consolidated condensed financial statements. Warrants The Company accounts for certain common stock warrants and pre-funded warrants outstanding as warrant liabilities at fair value, determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, on the condensed consolidated balance sheets in accordance with ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging ("ASC 815"). The Company evaluates its financial instruments to determine if such instruments are derivatives or contain features that qualify as embedded derivatives. The classification of derivative instruments, including whether such instruments should be recorded as liabilities or as equity, is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. Equity instruments that are initially classified as equity that become subject to reclassification are reclassified to a liability at the fair value of the instrument on the reclassification date. Derivative instrument liabilities are classified in the condensed consolidated balance sheets as current or non-current based on whether or not net-cash settlement of the derivative instrument could be required within 12 months of the condensed consolidated balance sheet date. Changes in fair value are recognized as warrant liabilities fair value adjustment in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The liability is subject to re-measurement at the end of each reporting period. See Note 9-Warrants for additional information related to the warrants. Term Loan The Company accounts for the term loan at residual value on the date of issuance. The expected life of the term loan is the contractual term ending on the maturity date. The Company classifies the term loan as current liabilities within twelve months of the maturity date or when otherwise due. Interest expense is recognized in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss over the contractual term of the loan. See Note 8-Debt for additional information related to the term loan. Convertible Preferred Stock The Company records convertible preferred stock at fair value on the dates of issuance, net of issuance costs. Upon the occurrence of certain events that are outside the Company's control, including a deemed liquidation event, holders of the convertible preferred stock can cause redemption for cash. Each share of preferred stock would automatically be converted into shares of common stock at the then effective conversion rate immediately upon the earlier of (i) the election of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, or (ii) the closing of the sale of the Company's common stock in a firm commitment, underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, with aggregate offering proceeds to the Company (before deduction for underwriters' discounts and expenses relating to the issuance) of at least $75.0 million and a public offering price per share equal to at least $67.83 (subject to adjustments for stock dividends, splits, combinations and similar events). As the preferred stock is considered to be contingently redeemable, the preferred stock has been classified outside of permanent equity. The preferred stock will be accreted to its redemption value if the deemed liquidation events are considered probable of occurring. 7500000067.83 Stock-Based Compensation The Company recognizes compensation expense for all stock-based awards issued to employees and non-employees based on the estimated grant-date fair value, which is recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period. The Company has elected to recognize forfeitures as they occur. The fair value of stock options is determined using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The determination of fair value for stock-based awards on the date of grant using an option-pricing model requires management to make certain assumptions including expected volatility, expected term, risk-free interest rate and expected dividends in addition to the Company's common stock valuation. Refer to Note 13-Stock-Based Compensation. Due to the absence of an active market for the Company's common stock, the Company utilized methodologies, approaches, and assumptions consistent with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Audit and Accounting Practice Aid Series: Valuation of Privately Held Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation to estimate the fair value of its common stock. In determining the exercise prices for options granted, the Company considered the fair value of the common stock as of the grant date. The fair value of the common stock is determined based upon a variety of factors, including the Company's financial position, historical performance and operating results, the Company's stage of development, the progress of the Company's research and development programs, the prices at which the Company sold its convertible preferred stock, the superior rights, preferences and privileges of the Company's convertible preferred stock relative to its common stock, external market conditions affecting the medical technologies industry, the lack of marketability of the Company's common stock, prospects of a transaction and market performance of peer companies. Significant changes to the key assumptions underlying the factors used could result in different fair values of the Company at each valuation date. Income Taxes Income taxes are recorded in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes ("ASC 740"), which provides for deferred taxes using an asset and liability approach. The Company recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the condensed consolidated financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the condensed consolidated financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse and include Net Operating Loss ("NOL") carryforwards and Research and Development ("R&D") tax credit carryforwards. Valuation allowances are provided if, based upon the weight of available evidence, it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The Company accounts for uncertain tax positions in accordance with the provisions of ASC 740. When uncertain tax positions exist, the Company recognizes the tax benefit of tax positions to the extent that the benefit would more likely than not be realized assuming examination by the taxing authority. The determination as to whether the tax benefit will more likely than not be realized is based upon the technical merits of the tax position as well as consideration of the available facts and circumstances. The Company adopted ASU 2019-12, Simplifying the Accounting for Income Taxes in the first quarter of 2021 and has recorded franchise taxes not based on income outside of income tax expense. The Company's practice is to recognize interest and/or penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. The Company had no accrual for interest and penalties on its condensed consolidated balance sheets and has not recognized interest and/or penalties in the condensed consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. To date, there have been no interest or penalties charged in relation to the unrecognized tax benefits. Refer to Note 15-Income Taxes for additional details. 00000 Note 4 — Fair Value Measurements The Company's financial instruments include its money market accounts (included as part of cash and cash equivalents), accounts receivable, accounts payable, common stock warrant liabilities, pre-funded warrant liabilities, and convertible notes payables. The recorded carrying amounts of cash and equivalents, accounts receivable and accounts payable approximates fair value due to their short-term nature. The convertible notes, common stock warrant liabilities, and pre-funded warrant liabilities are carried at fair value. Assets and liabilities recognized at fair value on a recurring basis in the condensed consolidated balance sheets consists of cash equivalents, common stock warrant liabilities, pre-funded warrant liabilities, and convertible notes payables. These items are categorized based upon the level of judgment associated with the inputs used to measure their fair values. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received from selling an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The following tables summarize the Company's financial instruments at fair value based on the fair value hierarchy for each class of instrument (in thousands): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:46.57%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.73%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.06%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.74%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.06%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.74%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.06%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Level 3 </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:46.57%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> June 30, 2024 (Unaudited) </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.73%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.06%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Level 1 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.74%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">   </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.06%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"><p style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:8pt;text-

In the event of any sale of a new series or class of preferred equity securities by the Company following the termination of the Transaction with aggregate proceeds of at least $10.0 million (a "Qualified Financing"), the then-outstanding principal amount and any accrued and unpaid interest could be converted into either the Company's Series E Preferred Stock, or the shares to be issued and sold in the Qualified Financing, in each case in an amount that is equal to (I) the to be converted principal amount and any accrued and unpaid interest divided by (II) the price per share/unit equal to the lesser of (aa) 75% of the per share/unit price in such Qualified Financing and (bb) an amount equal to $24.0 million divided by the number of fully-diluted common stock (or unit) equivalents at the time of the Qualified Financing. In the event that the preferred equity security issued in the Qualified Financing bears a liquidation preference less than 120%, the Company will create a sub-series of such preferred security on identical terms to the security issued in the Qualified Financing, except that the aggregate liquidation preference of such sub-series will be an amount equal to 120% of the then-outstanding principal amount and accrued and unpaid interest under this note at the time of conversion.

As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the principal amount outstanding was $8.0 million and $5.0 million, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2024, the interest expense was $0.3 million. February 2024 Convertible Notes On February 13, 2024, the Company issued to Perceptive PIPE Investor a principal of $7.0 million convertible promissory note that matures upon the termination of the Business Combination Agreement in accordance with its terms. The February 2024 Convertible Notes accrues simple interest at eight percent (8.0%) per annum. In the event of the consummation of the Transaction, effective upon the closing of the Transaction, the February 2024 Convertible Notes will automatically be cancelled (or transferred to New Adagio) in connection with the issuance of New Adagio Convertible Notes (as defined below) to Perceptive PIPE Investor, pursuant to, and in accordance with, the note purchase agreement and the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement (as defined below), dated February 13, 2024, by and among New Adagio, ARYA, the Company and Perceptive PIPE Investor. Any interest accrued on the principal amount will be forfeited in connection with a cancellation (or transfer of the February 2024 Convertible Notes to New Adagio). Upon termination of the Transaction and prior to a Qualified Financing (as defined below), all of the then-outstanding principal amount of this note and any accrued and unpaid interest could be converted into an amount of shares of the Company's Series E Preferred Stock equal to the to be converted principal amount and any accrued and unpaid interest divided by the price per share/unit equal to $24.0 million divided by the Company's fully-diluted common stock equivalents at the time of the closing date of the conversion, provided that the Company shall cause the shares of Series E Preferred Stock issued upon conversion of this note to bear an aggregate liquidation preference amount equal to 120% of the then-outstanding principal amount and accrued and unpaid interest under this note at the time of conversion. In the event of any sale of a new series or class of preferred equity securities by the Company following the termination of the Transaction with aggregate proceeds of at least $10.0 million (excluding conversion of the October 2022 Convertible Notes, the April 2023 Convertible Notes, the November 2023 Convertible Notes, and the February 2024 Convertible Notes) (a "Qualified Financing"), the then-outstanding principal amount and any accrued and unpaid interest could be converted into either the Company's Series E Preferred Stock, or the shares to be issued and sold in the Qualified Financing, in each case in an amount that is equal to (I) the to be converted principal amount and any accrued and unpaid interest divided by (II) the price per share/unit equal to the lesser of (aa) 75% of the per share/unit price in such Qualified Financing and (bb) an amount equal to $24.0 million divided by the number of fully-diluted common stock (or unit) equivalents at the time of the Qualified Financing. In the event that the preferred equity security issued in the Qualified Financing bears a liquidation preference less than 120%, the Company will create a sub-series of such preferred security on identical terms to the security issued in the Qualified Financing, except that the aggregate liquidation preference of such sub-series will be an amount equal to 120% of the then-outstanding principal amount and accrued and unpaid interest under this note at the time of conversion. As of June 30, 2024, the principal amount outstanding was $7.0 million. For the six months ended June 30, 2024, the interest expense was $0.2 million. In connection with the Business Combination, certain investors entered a securities purchase agreement, dated February 13, 2024, with ListCo (the "Convertible Security Subscription Agreement"), pursuant to which ListCo will issue on the closing date to the certain investors ("Convert Investors") $20.0 million of 13% senior secured convertible notes (the "New Adagio Convertible Notes"), which will be convertible into shares of New Adagio common stock, and warrants (the "Convert Warrants"), each of which will be exercisable on a cashless basis or for one share of New Adagio common stock at $24.00 per share, subject to adjustment (the "Base Convert Financing"). The New Adagio Convertible Notes will have a maturity of three years and nine months after the closing and interest will be payable in cash or compound as additional principal outstanding. On the closing date, the February 2024 Convertible Notes will convert into New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants on the same terms as the other Convert Investors executing the Convertible Security Subscription Agreement (the conversion of the 2024 Bridge Financing Note held by the Perceptive PIPE Investor into New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants and purchase of New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants by the other Convert Investors in the Base Convert Financing, the "Convertible Security Financing"). Subject to ARYA and New Adagio receiving any new financing or commitment for financing, whether in the form of equity, debt or convertible debt, before the closing date, the Perceptive PIPE Investor may request that on the closing date the February 2024 Convertible Notes is repaid with the funds raised in connection with such Additional Financing instead of such 2024 Bridge Financing Note converting into New Adagio Convertible Notes and Convert Warrants. The New Adagio Convertible Notes, the Convert Warrants or any shares of New Adagio common stock issuable in connection with the Convertible Security Financing have not been registered under the Securities Act and will be issued in reliance upon the exemption provided in Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act. ListCo will grant the Perceptive PIPE Investor and the Convert Investors certain registration rights in connection with the Convertible Security Financing. The Convertible Security Financing is contingent upon, among other things, the substantially concurrent closing of the Business Combination. In the event of the consummation of the Transaction, this note shall automatically convert into the type of securities that are issued in the PIPE Financing in an amount equal to the then-outstanding principal amount and any accrued and unpaid interest, divided by the effective price of the securities sold in the PIPE Financing. Upon termination of the Transaction and prior to a Qualified Financing, all of the then-outstanding principal amount of this note and all other notes issued and any accrued and unpaid interest could be converted into an amount of shares of the Company's Series E Preferred Stock equal to the to be converted principal amount and any accrued and unpaid interest divided by the price per share/unit equal to $24.0 million divided by the Company's fully-diluted common stock equivalents at the time of the closing date of the conversion, provided that the Company shall cause the shares of Series E Preferred Stock issued upon conversion of this note to bear an aggregate liquidation preference amount equal to 120% of the then-outstanding principal amount and accrued and unpaid interest under this note at the time of conversion. As of June 30, 2024, the principal amount outstanding was $2.5 million. For the six months ended June 30, 2024, the interest expense was $2.7 thousand. SVB Term Loan On February 3, 2023, the Company entered into an agreement to obtain an initial term loan advance of $3.0 million and a right to issue a subsequent term loan advance of $2.0 million pursuant to the Loan and Security Agreement ("LSA") with Silicon Valley Bank ("SVB Term Loan"). The loans mature on January 1, 2025 and the Company must make monthly payments at a floating rate per annum equal to the greater of (1) seven percent (7.0%) and (2) the market prime rate plus one and one half of one percent (1.5%). In connection with the issuance of the SVB Term Loan, the Company issued liability - classified warrants with a fair value of $28.5 thousand to purchase 32,720 shares of common stock of the Company ("Initial Warrants"), and a contingent right, with a fair value of $7.1 thousand, to obtain an additional 16,360 shares of the common stock ("Additional Warrants") upon the nonoccurrence of the Interest Only Milestone. The Interest Only Milestone ("Milestone") refers to a specific condition that is met on or before April 30, 2023. To satisfy this Milestone, the Company must ensure that no event of default has occurred. If this condition is met, the Company must provide SVB (i) the intent for the sale of all capital stock of the Company, or (ii) an executed term sheet for a priced equity financing of at least $40.0 million from the sale of the Company's capital stock. The initial recognition of the warrant liabilities and the contingent right resulted in a discount of $35.6 thousand to the SVB Term Loan. The discount is being amortized to interest expense over the term of the LSA. As of June 30, 2024, the subsequent term loan advance of $2.0 million had not been drawn. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the outstanding principal of SVB Term Loan is $1.0 million and $1.9 million, respectively; and the unamortized debt discount is $9.7 thousand and $19.4 thousand, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the interest expense was $78.3 thousand and $0.1 million, respectively. Outstanding debt as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023 consists of the following (in thousands): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:top;width:70.39%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.16%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.76%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.36%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:13.59%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:top;width:70.39%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:10.93%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> June 30, 2024 </td><td

The leases have expirations ranging from July 2024 to June 2026, some of which include rent escalations or an option to extend the lease for up to three years per renewal. The exercise of lease renewal options is at the sole discretion of the Company. Where leases contain an option to renew, any period beyond the option date is only included as part of the lease term if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise the option. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company does not have any finance or short-term leases and has not entered into leases which have not yet commenced that would entitle the Company to significant rights or create additional obligations during the periods as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023. proceedings. At each reporting date, the Company evaluates whether or not a potential loss amount or a potential range of loss is probable and reasonably estimable under the provisions of the authoritative guidance that addresses accounting for contingencies. The Company expenses as incurred the costs related to such legal proceedings, if any. Note 12 — Mezzanine Equity and Stockholders' Deficit Authorized Shares The Company's Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation authorize the issuance of two classes of stock designated as common and preferred stock, each having a par value of $0.001 per share. The number of shares authorized as of June 30, 2024 is 11,534,892 consisting of 6,594,946 shares of common stock and 4,939,946 shares of preferred stock, designated as Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E preferred stock in the amounts included in the table below. Convertible Preferred Stock The Company classifies convertible preferred stock as temporary equity on the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets, as all such preferred stock is redeemable either at the option of the holder or upon an event outside the control of the Company. The requirements of a deemed liquidation event, as defined within its amended and restated certificate of incorporation filed in November 2020, are not entirely within the Company's control. In the event of such a deemed liquidation event, the proceeds from the event are distributed in accordance with the liquidation preferences, provided that the holders of preferred stock have not converted their shares into common stock. The Company records the issuance of preferred stock at the issuance price less related issuance costs. The Company has not adjusted the carrying value of outstanding preferred stock to its liquidation preference because a deemed liquidation event is not probable of occurring as of the end of the reporting period. The original issue price of Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E is $9.23, $13.04, $16.30, $20.16, and $22.61, respectively. The dividends shall not be cumulative. In the event that the dividend amount declared by the Board of Directors of the Company is insufficient to permit payment of the full aforesaid dividends, such dividends will be paid ratably to each holder of preferred stock in proportion to the dividend amounts to which each holder of preferred stock is entitled. After payment of the full amount of the aforesaid dividends, any additional dividends declared shall be distributed to the holder of common stock and preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock that would be held by such holder on an as-converted to common stock basis. No dividends on preferred stock or common stock have been declared by the Board of Directors as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023. Liquidation Preference In the event of liquidation of the Company, including a merger, acquisition, or sale of all or substantially all the assets of the Company, holders of preferred stock are entitled to receive an amount equal to the original issue price of each share of preferred stock held plus any dividends declared but not yet paid, prior to any distribution of assets or surplus funds of the Company to common stock shareholders. After payment has been made to the holders of the preferred stock of the full amounts to which they are entitled as noted above, the remaining assets would be distributed among the holders of the common stock pro rata based on the number of shares of common stock held by each holder. If, at the time of liquidation, the assets are insufficient to permit full payment of the liquidation preferences of the series listed in the order above, the assets must be distributed ratably among the holders of the series in proportion to the full preferential amount each such holder is otherwise entitled to receive in respect to such shares. Voting Rights So long as the shares of preferred stock that are convertible into at least 1,000,000 shares of common stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividends, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the common stock) are issued and outstanding, the holders of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, shall have the right to elect four members of the Board of Directors of the Company. The holders of common stock, voting as a separate class, shall have the right to elect one member of the Board of Directors. The remaining directors shall be elected by the holders of the common stock and the preferred stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to common stock basis. On all other matters, the holders of the preferred stock shall have full voting rights and powers equal to the voting rights and powers of the holders of common stock. Fractional votes by the holders of preferred stock shall not be permitted and any fractional voting rights shall be rounded to the nearest whole number. Conversion Rights Each share of preferred stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder, into shares of common stock without the payment of any additional consideration. The preferred stock shall be convertible into the number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of common stock which results from dividing the conversion price per share in effect for the preferred stock at the time of conversion into the per share conversion value. The initial per share conversion price of Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E is $9.23, $13.04, $16.30, $20.16, and $22.61, respectively. The initial conversion price is subject to adjustment for antidilution provisions, as defined. The per share conversion value of Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E is $9.23, $13.04, $16.30, $20.16, and $22.61, respectively. Each share of preferred stock shall automatically be converted into shares of common stock at the then effective conversion rate immediately upon the earlier of (i) the election of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, or (ii) the closing of the sale of the Company's common stock in a firm commitment, underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, with aggregate offering proceeds to the Company (before deduction for underwriters' discounts and expenses relating to the issuance) of at least $75.0 million and a public offering price per share equal to at least $67.83 (subject to adjustments for stock dividends, splits, combinations and similar events). Protective Provisions So long as there are at least 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock outstanding, the Company shall not (by merger, reclassification, amendment or otherwise), without first obtaining the approval of the holders of at least seventy percent (70%) of the then outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting separately as a class, to, among other things: (i) amend the certificate of incorporation or bylaws; (ii) adversely alter or change the rights, preferences or privileges of the preferred stock; (iii) increase or decrease the aggregate number of authorized shares of any class of the capital stock of the Company. So long as shares of Series E preferred stock that are convertible into at least 500,000 shares of common stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the common stock) are issued and outstanding, the Company shall not directly or indirectly (by merger, reclassification, amendment or otherwise), without first obtaining the approval of the holders of at least a majority of the voting power of the then outstanding shares of Series E preferred stock, voting separately as a class, to, among other things: (i) amend, alter, repeal or waive any provision of the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Company in a manner that adversely affects the holders of the Series E preferred stock in a manner different from any other series of preferred stock; (ii) create or authorize the creation of or issue any other security convertible into to exercisable for any equity security having rights, preferences or privileges senior to the Series E preferred stock; (iii) increase or decrease the authorized number of shares of Series E preferred stock. The maximum number of shares that can be granted under the 2012 Plan cannot exceed 1,255,000 shares. The 2012 Plan had a maximum 10-year term and as such, terminated in January 2022. 2022 Stock Incentive Plan In April 2022, the Board approved, in conjunction with the termination of the 2012 Plan, the 2022 Stock Incentive Plan (the “2022 Plan”), permitting ISOs and NSOs to employees, directors and consultants. The maximum number of shares granted under the 2022 Plan cannot exceed 203,855 plus any shares subject to stock options granted under the 2012 Plan that expired or were otherwise terminated without having been exercised in full, were forfeited, or were repurchased by the Company. The 2022 Plan is intended as the successor to and continuation of the 2012 Plan (thereafter both the 2012 and 2022 Plans are referred to as the “Stock Incentive Plan”). The Stock Incentive Plan provides a means whereby participants may purchase shares of common stock pursuant to ISOs or NSOs and such persons may be granted shares of common stock for consideration consisting of cash and/or past services rendered to or on behalf of the Company. ISOs may only be granted to employees. NSOs and stock purchase rights may be granted to employees and consultants. Generally, options awards only have service conditions that need to be met for the awards to vest, with the exception of grants to two non-employees that had performance obligations that were deemed to be immaterial. The stock options generally vest over four years and have a ten-year contractual term. The fair value of each employee and non-employee stock option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. As the Company lacks company-specific historical and implied volatility information required for valuation, the Company estimates its expected stock volatility based on the historical volatility of a publicly traded set of peer companies. Due to the lack of historical exercise history, the expected life term of ISOs that were granted after 2013 was determined using the “simplified method” provided by the Securities and Exchange Commission in Staff Accounting Bulletins Number 107 and 110. The expected life term of NSOs is determined either by using the “simplified method,” or by calculating the time to expiry from the grant date. The risk-free interest rate is determined by reference to the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant for time periods approximately equal to the expected term of the award. Expected dividend yield is zero as the Company has never paid nor does it expect to pay any cash dividend in the near future. Diluted net loss per common share excludes the potential impact of the Company's convertible preferred stock, common stock warrants, and common stock options because the Company's net losses would cause such shares to be anti-dilutive. Therefore, as the Company recorded net losses in the periods presented, basic and diluted net loss per common share are the same. The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted net loss per share attributable to common stockholders for the periods presented (in thousands, except share and per share data): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS Note 1 — Organization and Description of Business Adagio Medical, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary (the "Company") is a medical technology company focused on the development and commercialization of ablation technologies for the treatment of cardiac arrhythmias, including atrial fibrillation, atrial flutter, and ventricular tachycardia. The Company's technologies center on ultra-low temperature cryoablation ("ULTC") and pulsed field cryoablation ("PFCA"), designed to produce durable, contiguous, transmural lesions anywhere in the heart using the Company's proprietary consoles, catheters, and stylets. The Company received CE Marking in Europe for its iCLAS™

*Cryoablation System in June 2020 and has commercially launched in the EU. The Company has not launched commercially in the U.S. but is working towards obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals to do so. The Company was incorporated in the state of Delaware on January 18, 2011, and is headquartered in Laguna Hills, California. Adagio Medical GmbH was formed in March 2020 and is a wholly-owned subsidiary that provides direct sales, distribution, marketing services, and clinical trial management in Europe. Liquidity and Going Concern The Company has limited revenue and has incurred operating losses and negative cash flows from operations since its inception and anticipates that it will continue to do so for at least the next several years. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of $1.4 million and $5.5 million, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, net losses were $36.6 million and $23.7 million, respectively, and net cash used in operating activities was $25.7 million and $22.4 million, respectively. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $133.6 million and $97.1 million, respectively, and working capital deficit of $42.0 million and $6.2 million, respectively. Management does not believe the Company's current cash and cash equivalents are sufficient to fund operations for at least the next 12 months from the issuance date of the consolidated financial statements. Management believes that this raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management intends to mitigate the conditions and events that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern entity by (i) pursuing a public offering of its common stock or in a business combination (the "SPAC transaction") with a Special Purpose Acquisition Company (the "SPAC") to obtain additional capital and align the Company's long-term operating strategy (refer to Note 18 — Subsequent Events for further detail), (ii) negotiate other cash equity or debt financing in the short-term, and (iii) continue to pursue the necessary regulatory approvals to launch commercially in the U.S. market. However, there can be no assurances that the current plans will generate any liquidity to the Company or be available on terms acceptable to the Company. If the Company is unable to maintain sufficient financial resources, its business, financial condition, and results of operations will be materially and adversely affected. The Company may be required to delay, limit, reduce or terminate its product discovery and development activities or future commercialization efforts. The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern and do not include adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty. This basis of accounting contemplates the recovery of the Company's assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. Strategic Realignment of Resources and Corporate Restructuring On December 1, 2023, the Company's management approved a strategic realignment of resources and corporate restructuring (the "RIF") designed to reallocate capital, conformant to its business focus for the next two years. As part of the RIF, the Company initiated a reduction in its current workforce of 20 employees, representing approximately 19% of the Company's employees, which was completed on December 15, 2023. In compliance with the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, the Company has provided termination notices to affected employees and government authorities if required. The Company made no payment for severance or related benefit costs. The Company made no payment of retention bonuses. *

* Note 2 - Restatement of Previously Issued Financial Statements The Company has restated the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023. This error does not impact the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2022. Description of Restatement Error As permitted under ASC 825, Financial Instruments, ("ASC 825"), the Company elected the fair value option to account for the convertible promissory notes. In previously issued financial statements, the Company recorded adjustments to the fair value of these instruments, including related accrued interest in "Convertible notes payables, current" in the liabilities section of the Consolidated Balance Sheet as of December 31, 2023 with an offsetting entry to "Convertible notes fair value adjustment" in the Consolidated Statement of Operations and Comprehensive Loss. However, the Company also separately recorded amounts relating to accrued interest on convertible promissory notes in the "Other accrued liabilities" and "Interest expense" accounts in the Consolidated Balance Sheet and Consolidated Statement of Operations and Comprehensive Loss, respectively, effectively duplicating the impact to the liability and expense in recording accrued interest relating to the convertible promissory notes. As a result, the Company restated the financials by reducing the amount of accrued interest recorded in "Convertible notes payables, current" and "Convertible notes fair value adjustment" to relieve the impact of this duplicate recording. In the restated financials, the change in fair value of the convertible promissory notes, excluding amounts related to interest, is recorded in "Convertible notes fair value adjustment", while amounts related to interest are recorded as interest expense in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The following tables summarizes the restatement adjustment on each financial statement line item affected by the restatement as of the dates, and for the periods, indicated (USD in thousands), except basic and diluted net loss per common share): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:100%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:63.78%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.79%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:1.05%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.94%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.62%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:1.05%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:8.74%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.62%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> <p style="font-family:'Times New*

Any reference in these notes to applicable guidance is meant to refer to the authoritative United States generally accepted accounting principles as found in the Accounting Standards Codification (“ASC”) and Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”). Emerging Growth Company Status The Company is an “emerging growth company,” as defined in Section 2(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the “Securities Act”), as modified by the Jumpstart our Business Startups Act of 2012 (the “JOBS Act”). Section 102(b)(1) of the JOBS Act exempts emerging growth companies from being required to comply with new or revised financial accounting standards until private companies (that is, those that have not had a Securities Act registration statement declared effective or do not have a class of securities registered under the Exchange Act) are required to comply with the new or revised financial accounting standards. The JOBS Act provides that a company can elect to opt out of the extended transition period and comply with the requirements that apply to non-emerging growth companies but any such election to opt out is irrevocable. The Company has elected not to opt out of such extended transition period which means that when an accounting standard is issued or revised and it has different application dates for public or private companies, the Company, as an emerging growth company, can adopt the new standard at the time private companies adopt the new or revised standard. Principles of Consolidation The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Adagio Medical, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Use of Estimates and Assumptions The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of revenue and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Segments Operating segments are defined as components of an entity for which separate financial information is available and that is regularly reviewed by the Chief Operating Decision Maker (“CODM”) in deciding how to allocate resources to an individual segment and in assessing performance. The Company's CODM is its Chief Executive Officer. The Company has determined that it operates as one reportable segment, as the CODM reviews financial information presented on a consolidated basis for purposes of making operating decisions, allocating resources, and evaluating financial performance. Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, including its money market account, to be cash equivalents. All of the Company's cash equivalents have liquid markets. Cash deposits held in accounts at each United States financial institution are insured up to $0.25 million by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC"). Cash deposits held in accounts at each European Union financial institution are insured up to €0.1 million by the Deposit Guarantee Scheme. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts that, at times, may exceed FDIC insured limits. Any loss incurred or lack of access to uninsured funds could have a significant adverse impact on the Company's financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Management does not expect any losses on such accounts. Concentrations of Credit Risk and Off-Balance Sheet Risk Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents. The Company deposits its cash and cash equivalents with major financial institutions; however, at times, deposits may exceed the amount of insurance provided. The Company has not experienced any losses on its deposits since inception. On March 10, 2023, Silicon Valley Bank ("SVB") was closed by the California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation, which immediately appointed the FDIC as receiver. SVB held $0.5 million of the Company's cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2023. The Company's full exposure was ultimately covered by the FDIC and no loss was incurred. Revenue Recognition The Company generates product revenue primarily from the sale of cryoablation catheters, stylets, esophageal warming balloons, and other accessories (collectively, the "Consumables") used with the Company's cryoablation consoles ("Consoles"). The Company sells its products directly to hospitals and medical centers. To a lesser extent, the Company also generates lease revenue from the implied rental of Consoles loaned to customers at no charge. The Company accounts for revenue earned from contracts with customers under ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). The core principle of ASC 606 is that a company should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company recognizes revenue from sales to customers applying the following five steps: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 1: Identify the contract with the customer.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 3: Determine the transaction price.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 5: Recognize revenue when, or as, the company satisfies a performance obligation.</td></tr></table> The Company's customer contracts generally have performance obligations that contain deliverables consisting of the Consumables and may also include Consoles loaned to customers. The Company evaluates each promise within a multiple-performance obligation arrangement to determine whether it represents a distinct performance obligation. The primary performance obligations in the Company's customer arrangements from which it derives revenue is the sale of the Consumables. When the Company loans the Console to the customer, it retains title to the Console at all times and does not require minimum purchase commitments from the customer related to any Consumables. In such cases, the Company invoices the customer for the Consumables based on customer orders received. Over time, the Company expects to recover the cost of the loaned Console through the customer's continued purchasing and use of additional Consumables. For these reasons, the Company has determined that part of the arrangement consideration for the Consumables is an implied rental payment for use of the Console. Therefore, the Company allocates the arrangement consideration between the lease components (i.e., the Console) and non-lease components (i.e., the Consumables) based on the relative estimated standalone selling price of each distinct performance obligation consistent with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606. Revenue allocated to the lease components was not material for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022. Revenue from sales to customers of the Consumables is classified as revenue in the Company's consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The delivery of the Consumables are performance obligations satisfied at a point in time, when the control of the goods is transferred to the customer (i.e., FOB Shipping Point). Revenue is recognized when control is transferred to the customer in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to be entitled to in exchange for the product. Other Revenue Considerations Revenue is reported net of sales tax. The Company has made the accounting policy election not to recognize a separate performance obligation for the shipment of products to the customer but to account for it as fulfillment cost. The Company's contracts primarily include fixed consideration. The Company only includes estimated variable amounts in the transaction price to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved. Customers are generally required to pay within 30 days. Any incremental costs to obtain contracts are recorded as selling, general and administrative expense as incurred due to the short duration of the Company's contracts. The Company does not assess whether promised goods or services are performance obligations if they are deemed immaterial in the context of the contract with the customer. Additionally, the Company does not assess whether a contract has a significant financing component if the expectation at contract inception is that the period between payment by the customer and the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer will be one year or less. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, revenue was generated only from European markets. Inventory Inventory consists of raw materials, work-in-process, and finished products and is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. The method by which that amounts are removed from the inventory is first-in first-out ("FIFO"). Cost may include materials, labor, and manufacturing overhead. The carrying value of inventory is reviewed for potential impairment whenever indicators suggest that the cost of inventory exceeds the carrying value and management adjusts the inventory to its net realizable value. The Company also periodically evaluates inventory for estimated losses from excess quantities and obsolescence and writes down the cost of inventory to net realizable value at the time such determinations are made. Net realizable value is determined using the estimated selling price, in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs to complete and dispose. Inventory used in research & development activities are expensed when incurred. Property and Equipment Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation and amortization are provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, generally three to five years, or, in the case of leasehold improvements, over the remaining life of the lease term. Specifically, Consoles have a five-year useful life. Property and equipment includes equipment that is loaned to customers and located at customer premises. The Company retains ownership of the equipment held for evaluation by customers and has the right to remove the equipment if it is not being utilized according to expectations. Concentrations The Company had three suppliers exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable as of December 31, 2023, representing 71.6% of accounts payable. As of December 31, 2022, the Company had one supplier exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable, representing 17.1% of accounts payable. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 45.0% and 54.3%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the year ended December 31, 2023. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 23.0% and 31.8%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the year ended December 31, 2022. Impairment of Long-Lived Assets The Company reviews long-lived assets, including property and equipment and finite-lived intangible assets, for impairment annually or whenever events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized when the asset's carrying value exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The amount of the impairment loss is determined as the excess of the carrying value of the asset over its fair value. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company determined that there was no impairment of long-lived assets. Foreign Currency Translation and Transactions The assets, liabilities, and results of operations of Adagio Medical GmbH are recorded using the Euro as the designated functional currency, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which Adagio Medical GmbH operates. Consequently, transactions in currencies other than Euro are measured and recorded in Euro. Upon consolidation with the Company, its assets and liabilities are translated to U.S. Dollars at currency exchange rates as of the balance sheet date and its revenues and expenses are translated at the weighted-average currency exchange rates during the applicable reporting periods. Translation adjustments resulting from the process of translating this entity's financial statements are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) in the consolidated balance sheets and foreign currency translation adjustment in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. Leases The Company accounts for its lease property under ASC 842. Under this guidance, arrangements meeting the definition of a lease are classified as operating or financing leases, and are recorded on the consolidated balance sheets as both a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, calculated by discounting fixed lease payments over the lease term at the rate implicit in the lease or the Company's incremental borrowing rate, which is the rate for collateralized borrowings based on the current economic environment, current borrowings, value of leases, currency in which the lease obligation is satisfied, rate sensitivity, lease term and materiality. Lease liabilities are increased by interest and reduced by payments each period, and the right-of-use asset is amortized over the lease term. For operating leases, interest on the lease liability and the amortization of the right-of-use asset results in straight-line rent expense over the lease term. Variable lease expenses are recorded when incurred. The Company determines whether a contract is or contains a lease at the inception of the contract. A contract will be deemed to be or contain a lease if the contract conveys the right to control and direct the use of identified property, plant, or equipment for a period of time in exchange for consideration. The Company generally must also have the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the property, plant, and equipment. The Company uses the implicit rate in the lease agreement, when readily available, or its incremental borrowing rate as the basis to calculate the present value of future lease payments at lease commencement. The incremental borrowing rate represents the rate the Company would have to pay to borrow funds on a collateralize basis over a similar term and in a similar economic environment. In calculating the right-of-use asset and lease liability, the Company elected to combine lease and non-lease components for its real estate leases. The Company adopted the policy election to exclude short-term leases having initial terms of 12 months from the initial recognition provisions of ASC 842. Refer to Note 10—Operating Leases for additional details. The Company's implied rental agreements for its consoles qualify as operating leases and as such, revenue is recognized in accordance with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Revenue allocated to the lease components were not significant for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022. Cost of Revenue Cost of revenue includes raw materials, direct labor, manufacturing overhead, shipping and receiving costs and other less significant indirect costs related to the production of the Company's products. Cost of revenue also includes the depreciation expense of Consoles loaned to the customers. Research and Development Research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries, consulting fees, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel directly engaged in research and development activities, clinical trial expenses, equipment costs, material costs, allocated rent and facilities costs, and depreciation. Research and development expenses relating to possible future products are expensed as incurred. The Company also accrues and expenses costs for activities associated with clinical trials performed by third parties as incurred. Selling, General and Administrative Selling, general and administrative consist primarily of salaries, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel in executive, finance and other administrative functions, allocated rent and facilities costs, legal fees relating to intellectual property and corporate matters, professional fees for accounting and consulting services, marketing costs and insurance costs. The Company expenses all selling, general, and administrative costs as incurred. Accrued Transaction Costs In connection with the expected Transaction (as defined in Note 8 — Debt), the Company accrued transaction costs, consisting primarily of legal, accounting and other professional fees, which was incurred and expensed as of December 31, 2023, but not yet paid. The accrued expenses are recorded in accrued transaction costs on the consolidated balance sheets. Fair Value Measurements Fair value measurements are based on the premise that fair value is an exit price representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, the following three-tier fair value hierarchy is used in determining the inputs for measuring fair value: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 2—Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices for similar assets or liabilities that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 3—Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity and consist of financial instruments valued using pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies or similar techniques, as well as instruments for which the determination of fair value requires significant judgment or estimation.</td></tr></table> Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Management's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the asset or liability. The use of different assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on estimated fair values. Accordingly, the fair value estimates disclosed, or initial amounts recorded may not be indicative of the amount that the Company or holders of the instruments could realize in a current market exchange. The fair value of the convertible notes payable may be impacted by certain unobservable inputs, most significantly with regard to discount rates, expected volatility and historical and projected performance. Significant changes to these inputs in isolation could result in a significantly different fair value measurement. Fair Value Option for Convertible Notes As permitted under ASC 825, the Company elected the fair value option to account for the convertible promissory notes issued in October 2022 (the "October 2022 Convertible Notes"), April 2023 (the "April 2023 Convertible Notes"), and November 2023 (the "November 2023 Convertible Notes") in order to measure those liabilities at amounts that more accurately reflect the current economic environment in which the Company operates. The Company recorded the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, and November 2023 Convertible Notes at fair value at issuance and subsequently remeasures them to fair value at the end of each reporting period. Changes in fair value are recognized as convertible notes fair value adjustment in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. As a result of applying the fair value option, direct costs and fees related to the issuance of the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, and November 2023 Convertible Notes were expensed as incurred (i.e., not recognized as deferred costs). Refer to Note 4 — Fair Value Measurements for further detail. The change in fair value of the convertible promissory notes, excluding amounts related to interest, is recorded in "Convertible notes fair value adjustment", while amounts related to interest are recorded as interest expense in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. Warrants The Company accounts for certain common stock warrants outstanding as warrant liabilities at fair value, determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, on the consolidated balance sheets in accordance with ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging ("ASC 815"). The Company evaluates its financial instruments to determine if such instruments are derivatives or contain features that qualify as embedded derivatives. The classification of derivative instruments, including whether such instruments should be recorded as liabilities or as equity, is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. Equity instruments that are initially classified as equity that become subject to reclassification are reclassified to a liability at the fair value of the instrument on the reclassification date. Derivative instrument liabilities are classified in the balance sheets as current or non-current based on whether or not net-cash settlement of the derivative instrument could be required within 12 months of the balance sheet date. Changes in fair value are recognized as warrant liabilities fair value adjustment in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The liability is subject to re-measurement at the end of each reporting period. See Note 9 — Warrants for additional information related to the warrants. Term Loan The Company accounts for the term loan at residual value on the date of issuance. The expected life of the term loan is the contractual term ending on the maturity date. The Company classifies the term loan as current liabilities within twelve months of the maturity date or when otherwise due. Interest expense is recognized in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss over the contractual term of the loan. See Note 8 — Debt for additional information related to the term loan. Convertible Preferred Stock The Company records convertible preferred stock at fair value on the dates of issuance, net of issuance costs. Upon the occurrence of certain events that are outside the Company's control, including a deemed liquidation event, holders of the convertible preferred stock can cause redemption for cash. Each share of preferred stock would automatically be converted into shares of common stock at the then effective conversion rate immediately upon the earlier of (i) the election of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, or (ii) the closing of the sale of the Company's common stock in a firm commitment, underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, with aggregate offering proceeds to the Company (before deduction for underwriters' discounts and expenses relating to the issuance) of at least $75.0 million and a public offering price per share equal to at least $67.83 (subject to adjustments for stock dividends, splits, combinations and similar events). As the preferred stock is considered to be contingently redeemable, the preferred stock has been classified outside of permanent equity. The preferred stock will be accreted to its redemption value if the deemed liquidation events are considered probable of occurring. Stock-Based Compensation The Company recognizes compensation expense for all stock-based awards issued to employees and non-employees based on the estimated grant-date fair value, which is recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period. The Company has elected to recognize forfeitures as they occur. The fair value of stock options is determined using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The determination of fair value for stock-based awards on the date of grant using an option-pricing model requires management to make certain assumptions including expected volatility, expected term, risk-free interest rate and expected dividends in addition to the Company's common stock valuation. Refer to Note 13 — Stock-Based Compensation. Due to the absence of an active market for the Company's common stock, the Company utilized methodologies, approaches, and assumptions consistent with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Audit and Accounting Practice Aid Series: Valuation of Privately Held Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation to estimate the fair value of its common stock. In determining the exercise prices for options granted, the Company considered the fair value of the common stock as of the grant date. The fair value of the common stock is determined based upon a variety of factors, including the Company's financial position, historical performance and operating results, the Company's stage of development, the progress of the Company's research and development programs, the prices at which the Company sold its convertible preferred stock, the superior rights, preferences and privileges of the Company's convertible preferred stock relative to its common stock, external market conditions affecting the medical technologies industry, the lack of marketability of the Company's common stock, prospects of a transaction and market performance of peer companies. Significant changes to the key assumptions underlying the factors used could result in different fair values of the Company at each valuation date. Income Taxes Income taxes are recorded in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes ("ASC 740"), which provides for deferred taxes using an asset and liability approach. The Company recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the consolidated financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the consolidated financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse and include Net Operating Loss ("NOL") carryforwards and Research and Development ("R&D") tax credit carryforwards. Valuation allowances are provided if, based upon the weight of available evidence, it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The Company accounts for uncertain tax positions in accordance with the provisions of ASC 740. When uncertain tax positions exist, the Company recognizes the tax benefit of tax positions to the extent that the benefit would more likely than not be realized assuming examination by the taxing authority. The determination as to whether the tax benefit will more likely than not be realized is based upon the technical merits of the tax position as well as consideration of the available facts and circumstances. The Company adopted ASU 2019-12, Simplifying the Accounting for Income Taxes in the first quarter of 2021 and has recorded franchise taxes not based on income outside of income tax expense. The Company's practice is to recognize interest and/or penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. The Company had no accrual for interest and penalties on its consolidated balance sheets and has not recognized interest and/or penalties in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively. To date, there have been no interest or penalties charged in relation to the unrecognized tax benefits. Refer to Note 15 — Income Taxes for additional details. Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments - Credit Losses (Topic 326) ("ASU l2016-13"). ASU 2016-13 sets forth a "current expected credit loss" model which requires the Company to measure all expected credit losses for financial instruments held at the reporting date based on historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable supportable forecasts. This replaces the existing incurred loss model and is applicable to the measurement of credit losses on financial assets measured at amortized cost, available-for-sale debt securities and applies to certain off-balance sheet credit exposures. ASU 2016-13 is effective for smaller reporting companies in 2023. The Company adopted the guidance on January 1, 2023, with no material impact on the consolidated financial statements. Basis of Presentation The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). Any reference in these notes to applicable guidance is meant to refer to the authoritative United States generally accepted accounting principles as found in the Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") and Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") of the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"). Emerging Growth Company Status The Company is an "emerging growth company," as defined in Section 2(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, (the "Securities Act"), as modified by the Jumpstart our Business Startups Act of 2012 (the "JOBS Act"). Section 102(b)(1) of the JOBS Act exempts emerging growth companies from being required to comply with new or revised financial accounting standards until private companies (that is, those that have not had a Securities Act registration statement declared effective or do not have a class of securities registered under the Exchange Act) are required to comply with the new or revised financial accounting standards. The JOBS Act provides that a company can elect to opt out of the extended transition period and comply with the requirements that apply to non-emerging growth companies but any such election to opt out is irrevocable. The Company has elected not to opt out of such extended transition period which means that when an accounting standard is issued or revised and it has different application dates for public or private companies, the Company, as an emerging growth company, can adopt the new standard at the time private companies adopt the new or revised standard. Principles of Consolidation The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Adagio Medical, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Use of Estimates and Assumptions The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, expenses and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities. These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of revenue and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Segments Operating segments are defined as components of an entity for which separate financial information is available and that is regularly reviewed by the Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") in deciding how to allocate resources to an individual segment and in assessing performance. The Company's CODM is its Chief Executive Officer. The Company has determined that it operates as one reportable segment, as the CODM reviews financial information presented on a consolidated basis for purposes of making operating decisions, allocating resources, and evaluating financial performance. 1 Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, including its money market account, to be cash equivalents. All of the Company's cash equivalents have liquid markets. Cash deposits held in accounts at each United States financial institution are insured up to $0.25 million by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC"). Cash deposits held in accounts at each European Union financial institution are insured up to €0.1 million by the Deposit Guarantee Scheme. The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts that, at times, may exceed FDIC insured limits. Any loss incurred or lack of access to uninsured funds could have a significant adverse impact on the Company's financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Management does not expect any losses on such accounts. 250000100000 Concentrations of Credit Risk and Off-Balance Sheet Risk Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents. The Company deposits its cash and cash equivalents with major financial institutions; however, at times, deposits may exceed the amount of insurance provided. The Company has not experienced any losses on its deposits since inception. On March 10, 2023, Silicon Valley Bank ("SVB") was closed by the California Department of Financial Protection and Innovation, which immediately appointed the FDIC as receiver. SVB held $0.5 million of the Company's cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2023. The Company's full exposure was ultimately covered by the FDIC and no loss was incurred. 500000 Revenue Recognition The Company generates product revenue primarily from the sale of cryoablation catheters, stylets, esophageal warming balloons, and other accessories (collectively, the "Consumables") used with the Company's cryoablation consoles ("Consoles"). The Company sells its products directly to hospitals and medical centers. To a lesser extent, the Company also generates lease revenue from the implied rental of Consoles loaned to customers at no charge. The Company accounts for revenue earned from contracts with customers under ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). The core principle of ASC 606 is that a company should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company recognizes revenue from sales to customers applying the following five steps: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 1: Identify the contract with the customer.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 3: Determine the transaction price.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Step 5: Recognize revenue when, or as, the company satisfies a performance obligation.</td></tr></table> The Company's customer contracts generally have performance obligations that contain deliverables consisting of the Consumables and may also include Consoles loaned to customers. The Company evaluates each promise within a multiple-performance obligation arrangement to determine whether it represents a distinct performance obligation. The primary performance obligations in the Company's customer arrangements from which it derives revenue is the sale of the Consumables. When the Company loans the Console to the customer, it retains title to the Console at all times and does not require minimum purchase commitments from the customer related to any Consumables. In such cases, the Company invoices the customer for the Consumables based on customer orders received. Over time, the Company expects to recover the cost of the loaned Console through the customer's continued purchasing and use of additional Consumables. For these reasons, the Company has determined that part of the arrangement consideration for the Consumables is an implied rental payment for use of the Console. Therefore, the Company allocates the arrangement consideration between the lease components (i.e., the Console) and non-lease components (i.e., the Consumables) based on the relative estimated standalone selling price of each distinct performance obligation consistent with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606. Revenue allocated to the lease components was not material for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022. Revenue from sales to customers of the Consumables is classified as revenue in the Company's consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The delivery of the Consumables are performance obligations satisfied at a point in time, when the control of the goods is transferred to the customer (i.e., FOB Shipping Point). Revenue is recognized when control is transferred to the customer in an amount that reflects the consideration the Company expects to be entitled to in exchange for the product. Other Revenue Considerations Revenue is reported net of sales tax. The Company has made the accounting policy election not to recognize a separate performance obligation for the shipment of products to the customer but to account for it as fulfillment cost. The Company's contracts primarily include fixed consideration. The Company only includes estimated variable amounts in the transaction price to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is resolved. Customers are generally required to pay within 30 days. Any incremental costs to obtain contracts are recorded as selling, general and administrative expense as incurred due to the short duration of the Company's contracts. The Company does not assess whether promised goods or services are performance obligations if they are deemed immaterial in the context of the contract with the customer. Additionally, the Company does not assess whether a contract has a significant financing component if the expectation at contract inception is that the period between payment by the customer and the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer will be one year or less. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, revenue was generated only from European markets. Inventory Inventory consists of raw materials, work-in-process, and finished products and is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. The method by which that amounts are removed from the inventory is first-in first-out ("FIFO"). Cost may include materials, labor, and manufacturing overhead. The carrying value of inventory is reviewed for potential impairment whenever indicators suggest that the cost of inventory exceeds the carrying value and management adjusts the inventory to its net realizable value. The Company also periodically evaluates inventory for estimated losses from excess quantities and obsolescence and writes down the cost of inventory to net realizable value at the time such determinations are made. Net realizable value is determined using the estimated selling price, in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs to complete and dispose. Inventory used in research & development activities are expensed when incurred. Property and Equipment Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation and amortization are provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, generally three to five years, or, in the case of leasehold improvements, over the remaining life of the lease term. Specifically, Consoles have a five-year useful life. Property and equipment includes equipment that is loaned to customers and located at customer premises. The Company retains ownership of the equipment held for evaluation by customers and has the right to remove the equipment if it is not being utilized according to expectations. P5YP5Y Concentrations The Company had three suppliers exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable as of December 31, 2023, representing 71.6% of accounts payable. As of December 31, 2022, the Company had one supplier exceed 10.0% of total accounts payable, representing 17.1% of accounts payable. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 45.0% and 54.3%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the year ended December 31, 2023. The Company's five and ten largest suppliers accounted for approximately 23.0% and 31.8%, respectively, of the Company's expenditures for the year ended December 31, 2022. 30.71610.1715100.450.5435100.230.318 Impairment of Long-Lived Assets The Company reviews long-lived assets, including property and equipment and finite-lived intangible assets, for impairment annually or whenever events or changes in business circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be fully recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized when the asset's carrying value exceeds the total undiscounted cash flows expected from its use and eventual disposition. The amount of the impairment loss is determined as the excess of the carrying value of the asset over its fair value. For the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company determined that there was no impairment of long-lived assets. 0 Foreign Currency Translation and Transactions The assets, liabilities, and results of operations of Adagio Medical GmbH are recorded using the Euro as the designated functional currency, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which Adagio Medical GmbH operates. Consequently, transactions in currencies other than Euro are measured and recorded in Euro. Upon consolidation with the Company, its assets and liabilities are translated to U.S. Dollars at currency exchange rates as of the balance sheet date and its revenues and expenses are translated at the weighted-average currency exchange rates during the applicable reporting periods. Translation adjustments resulting from the process of translating this entity's financial statements are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) in the consolidated balance sheets and foreign currency translation adjustment in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. Leases The Company accounts for its lease property under ASC 842. Under this guidance, arrangements meeting the definition of a lease are classified as operating or financing leases, and are recorded on the consolidated balance sheets as both a right-of-use asset and a lease liability, calculated by discounting fixed lease payments over the lease term at the rate implicit in the lease or the Company's incremental borrowing rate, which is the rate for collateralized borrowings based on the current economic environment, current borrowings, value of leases, currency in which the lease obligation is satisfied, rate sensitivity, lease term and materiality. Lease liabilities are increased by interest and reduced by payments each period, and the right-of-use asset is amortized over the lease term. For operating leases, interest on the lease liability and the amortization of the right-of-use asset results in straight-line rent expense over the lease term. Variable lease expenses are recorded when incurred. The Company determines whether a contract is or contains a lease at the inception of the contract. A contract will be deemed to be or contain a lease if the contract conveys the right to control and direct the use of identified property, plant, or equipment for a period of time in exchange for consideration. The Company generally must also have the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the property, plant, and equipment. The Company uses the implicit rate in the lease agreement, when readily available, or its incremental borrowing rate as the basis to calculate the present value of future lease payments at lease commencement. The incremental borrowing rate represents the rate the Company would have to pay to borrow funds on a collateralize basis over a similar term and in a similar economic environment. In calculating the right-of-use asset and lease liability, the Company elected to combine lease and non-lease components for its real estate leases. The Company adopted the policy election to exclude short-term leases having initial terms of 12 months from the initial recognition provisions of ASC 842. Refer to Note 10—Operating Leases for additional details. The Company's implied rental agreements for its consoles qualify as operating leases and as such, revenue is recognized in accordance with ASC 842, Leases and ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Revenue allocated to the lease components were not significant for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022. Cost of Revenue Cost of revenue includes raw materials, direct labor, manufacturing overhead, shipping and receiving costs and other less significant indirect costs related to the production of the Company's products. Cost of revenue also includes the depreciation expense of Consoles loaned to the customers. Research and Development Research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries, consulting fees, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel directly engaged in research and development activities, clinical trial expenses, equipment costs, material costs, allocated rent and facilities costs, and depreciation. Research and development expenses relating to possible future products are expensed as incurred. The Company also accrues and expenses costs for activities associated with clinical trials performed by third parties as incurred. Selling, General and Administrative Selling, general and administrative consist primarily of salaries, and employee-related costs (including stock-based compensation) for personnel in executive, finance and other administrative functions, allocated rent and facilities costs, legal fees relating to intellectual property and corporate matters, professional fees for accounting and consulting services, marketing costs and insurance costs. The Company expenses all selling, general, and administrative costs as incurred. Accrued Transaction Costs In connection with the expected Transaction (as defined in Note 8 — Debt), the Company accrued transaction costs, consisting primarily of legal, accounting and other professional fees, which was incurred and expensed as of December 31, 2023, but *not yet paid. The accrued expenses are recorded in accrued transaction costs on the consolidated balance sheets. Fair Value Measurements Fair value measurements are based on the premise that fair value is an exit price representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, the following three-tier fair value hierarchy is used in determining the inputs for measuring fair value: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:12pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 2—Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices for similar assets or liabilities that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.</td></tr></table><table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;margin-bottom:0pt;margin-top:0pt;table-layout:fixed;width:100%;border:0pt;"><tr><td style="width:18pt;"></td><td style="font-family:'Times New Roman','Times','serif';font-size:10pt;vertical-align:text-top;white-space:nowrap;width:20.25pt;padding:0pt;">●</td><td style="padding:0pt;">Level 3—Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activity and consist of financial instruments valued using pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies or similar techniques, as well as instruments for which the determination of fair value requires significant judgment or estimation.</td></tr></table> Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Management's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the asset or liability. The use of different assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on estimated fair values. Accordingly, the fair value estimates disclosed, or initial amounts recorded may not be indicative of the amount that the Company or holders of the instruments could realize in a current market exchange. The fair value of the convertible notes payable may be impacted by certain unobservable inputs, most significantly with regard to discount rates, expected volatility and historical and projected performance. Significant changes to these inputs in isolation could result in a significantly different fair value measurement. Fair Value Option for Convertible Notes As permitted under ASC 825, the Company elected the fair value option to account for the convertible promissory notes issued in October 2022 (the "October 2022 Convertible Notes"), April 2023 (the "April 2023 Convertible Notes"), and November 2023 (the "November 2023 Convertible Notes") in order to measure those liabilities at amounts that more accurately reflect the current economic environment in which the Company operates. The Company recorded the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, and November 2023 Convertible Notes at fair value at issuance and subsequently remeasures them to fair value at the end of each reporting period. Changes in fair value are recognized as convertible notes fair value adjustment in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. As a result of applying the fair value option, direct costs and fees related to the issuance of the October 2022 Convertible Notes, April 2023 Convertible Notes, and November 2023 Convertible Notes were expensed as incurred (i.e., not recognized as deferred costs). Refer to Note 4 — Fair Value Measurements for further detail. The change in fair value of the convertible promissory notes, excluding amounts related to interest, is recorded in "Convertible notes fair value adjustment", while amounts related to interest are recorded as interest expense in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. Warrants The Company accounts for certain common stock warrants outstanding as warrant liabilities at fair value, determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, on the consolidated balance sheets in accordance with ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging ("ASC 815"). The Company evaluates its financial instruments to determine if such instruments are derivatives or contain features that qualify as embedded derivatives. The classification of derivative instruments, including whether such instruments should be recorded as liabilities or as equity, is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. Equity instruments that are initially classified as equity that become subject to reclassification are reclassified to a liability at the fair value of the instrument on the reclassification date. Derivative instrument liabilities are classified in the balance sheets as current or non-current based on whether or not net-cash settlement of the derivative instrument could be required within 12 months of the balance sheet date. Changes in fair value are recognized as warrant liabilities fair value adjustment in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss. The liability is subject to re-measurement at the end of each reporting period. See Note 9 — Warrants for additional information related to the warrants. Term Loan The Company accounts for the term loan at residual value on the date of issuance. The expected life of the term loan is the contractual term ending on the maturity date. The Company classifies the term loan as current liabilities within twelve months of the maturity date or when otherwise due. Interest expense is recognized in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss over the contractual term of the loan. See Note 8 — Debt for additional information related to the term loan. Convertible Preferred Stock The Company records convertible preferred stock at fair value on the dates of issuance, net of issuance costs. Upon the occurrence of certain events that are outside the Company's control, including a deemed liquidation event, holders of the convertible preferred stock can cause redemption for cash. Each share of preferred stock would automatically be converted into shares of common stock at the then effective conversion rate immediately upon the earlier of (i) the election of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, or (ii) the closing of the sale of the Company's common stock in a firm commitment, underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, with aggregate offering proceeds to the Company (before deduction for underwriters' discounts and expenses relating to the issuance) of at least $75.0 million and a public offering price per share equal to at least $67.83 (subject to adjustments for stock dividends, splits, combinations and similar events). As the preferred stock is considered to be contingently redeemable, the preferred stock has been classified outside of permanent equity. The preferred stock will be accreted to its redemption value if the deemed liquidation events are considered probable of occurring. 7500000067.83 Stock-Based Compensation The Company recognizes compensation expense for all stock-based awards issued to employees and non-employees based on the estimated grant-date fair value, which is recognized as expense on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period. The Company has elected to recognize forfeitures as they occur. The fair value of stock options is determined using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. The determination of fair value for stock-based awards on the date of grant using an option-pricing model requires management to make certain assumptions including expected volatility, expected term,* risk-free interest rate and expected dividends in addition to the Company's common stock valuation. Refer to Note 13 — Stock-Based Compensation. Due to the absence of an active market for the Company's common stock, the Company utilized methodologies, approaches, and assumptions consistent with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Audit and Accounting Practice Aid Series: Valuation of Privately Held Company Equity Securities Issued as Compensation to estimate the fair value of its common stock. In determining the exercise prices for options granted, the Company considered the fair value of the common stock as of the grant date. The fair value of the common stock is determined based upon a variety of factors, including the Company's financial position, historical performance and operating results, the Company's stage of development, the progress of the Company's research and development programs, the prices at which the Company sold its convertible preferred stock, the superior rights, preferences and privileges of the Company's convertible preferred stock relative to its common stock, external market conditions affecting the medical technologies industry, the lack of marketability of the Company's common stock, prospects of a transaction and market performance of peer companies. Significant changes to the key assumptions underlying the factors used could result in different fair values of the Company at each valuation date. Income Taxes Income taxes are recorded in accordance with ASC 740, Income Taxes ("ASC 740"), which provides for deferred taxes using an asset and liability approach. The Company recognizes deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been included in the consolidated financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the difference between the consolidated financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates in effect for the year in which the differences are expected to reverse and include Net Operating Loss ("NOL") carryforwards and Research and Development ("R&D") tax credit carryforwards. Valuation allowances are provided if, based upon the weight of available evidence, it is more likely than not that some or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The Company accounts for uncertain tax positions in accordance with the provisions of ASC 740. When uncertain tax positions exist, the Company recognizes the tax benefit of tax positions to the extent that the benefit would more likely than not be realized assuming examination by the taxing authority. The determination as to whether the tax benefit will more likely than not be realized is based upon the technical merits of the tax position as well as consideration of the available facts and circumstances. The Company adopted ASU 2019-12, Simplifying the Accounting for Income Taxes in the first quarter of 2021 and has recorded franchise taxes not based on income outside of income tax expense. The Company's practice is to recognize interest and/or penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense. The Company had no accrual for interest and penalties on its consolidated balance sheets and has not recognized interest and/or penalties in the consolidated statements of operations and comprehensive loss for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively. To date, there have been no interest or penalties charged in relation to the unrecognized tax benefits. Refer to Note 15 — Income Taxes for additional details. 00000 Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments - Credit Losses (Topic 326) ("ASU l2016-13"). ASU 2016-13 sets forth a "current expected credit loss" model which requires the Company to measure all expected credit losses for financial instruments held at the reporting date based on historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable supportable forecasts. This replaces the existing incurred loss model and is applicable to the measurement of credit losses on financial assets measured at amortized cost, available-for-sale debt securities and applies to certain off-balance sheet credit exposures. ASU 2016-13 is effective for smaller reporting companies in 2023. The Company adopted the guidance on January 1, 2023, with no material impact on the consolidated financial statements. Note 4 — Fair Value Measurements The Company's financial instruments include its money market accounts (included as part of cash and cash equivalents), accounts receivable, accounts payable, common stock warrant liabilities, and convertible notes payables. The recorded carrying amounts of cash and equivalents, accounts receivable and accounts payable approximates fair value due to their short-term nature. The convertible notes and common stock warrant liabilities are carried at fair value. Assets and liabilities recognized at fair value on a recurring basis in the consolidated balance sheets consists of cash equivalents, common stock warrant liabilities, and convertible notes payables. These items are categorized based upon the level of judgment associated with the inputs used to measure their fair values. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received from selling an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The following tables summarize the Company's financial instruments at fair value based on the fair value hierarchy for each class of instrument (in thousands): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:65.41%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.16%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:7.98%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.16%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:8%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.87%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.16%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.5%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:65.41%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.15%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.17%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.87%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"><p style="font-

In connection with the issuance of the SVB Term Loan, the Company issued liability - classified warrants with a fair value of $28.5 thousand to purchase 32,720 shares of common stock of the Company ("Initial Warrants"), and a contingent right, with a fair value of $7.1 thousand, to obtain an additional 16,360 shares of the common stock ("Additional Warrants") upon the nonoccurrence of the Interest Only Milestone. The Interest Only Milestone ("Milestone") refers to a specific condition that is met on or before April 30, 2023. To satisfy this Milestone, the Company must ensure that no event of default has occurred. If this condition is met, the Company must provide SVB (i) the intent for the sale of all capital stock of the Company, or (ii) an executed term sheet for a priced equity financing of at least $40.0 million from the sale of the Company's capital stock. The initial recognition of the warrant liabilities and the contingent right resulted in a discount of $35.6 thousand to the SVB Term Loan. The discount is being amortized to interest expense over the term of the LSA. As of December 31, 2023, the subsequent term loan advance of $2.0 million had not been drawn. As of December 31, 2023, the outstanding principal of SVB Term Loan is $1.9 million, and the unamortized debt discount is $19.4 thousand. For the year ended December 31, 2023, the interest expense was $0.2 million. <table The leases have expirations ranging from March 2024 to June 2026, some of which include rent escalations or an option to extend the lease for up to three years per renewal. The exercise of lease renewal options is at the sole discretion of the Company. Where leases contain an option to renew, any period beyond the option date is only included as part of the lease term if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise the option. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company does not have any finance or short-term leases and has not entered into any leases which have not yet commenced that would entitle the Company to significant rights or create additional obligations. The following table summarizes quantitative information of the Company's operating leases for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 (in thousands): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:72.67%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> . </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.07%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"></tr></table> The relative rights, terms, privileges, and restrictions granted to or imposed upon preferred stockholders are described below: Preferred Stock – Dividends Prior and in preference to any declaration or payment of any dividends to the holders of common stock, the holders of preferred stock shall be entitled to receive dividends out of any assets legally available therefor, at the rate of eight percent (8.0%) of the original issue price per share per annum. The original issue price of Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E is $9.23, $13.04, $16.30, $20.16, and $22.61, respectively. The dividends shall not be cumulative. In the event that the dividend amount declared by the Board of Directors of the Company is insufficient to permit payment of the full aforesaid dividends, such dividends will be paid ratably to each holder of preferred stock in proportion to the dividend amounts to which each holder of preferred stock is entitled. After payment of the full amount of the aforesaid dividends, any additional dividends declared shall be distributed to the holder of common stock and preferred stock in proportion to the number of shares of common stock that would be held by such holder on an as-converted to common stock basis. No dividends on preferred stock or common stock have been declared by the Board of Directors as of December 31, 2023 and 2022. Liquidation Preference In the event of liquidation of the Company, including a merger, acquisition, or sale of all or substantially all the assets of the Company, holders of preferred stock are entitled to receive an amount equal to the original issue price of each share of preferred stock held plus any dividends declared but not yet paid, prior to any distribution of assets or surplus funds of the Company to common stock shareholders. After payment has been made to the holders of the preferred stock of the full amounts to which they are entitled as noted above, the remaining assets would be distributed among the holders of the common stock pro rata based on the number of shares of common stock held by each holder.

* If, at the time of liquidation, the assets are insufficient to permit full payment of the liquidation preferences of the series listed in the order above, the assets must be distributed ratably among the holders of the series in proportion to the full preferential amount each such holder is otherwise entitled to receive in respect to such shares. Voting Rights So long as the shares of preferred stock that are convertible into at least 1,000,000 shares of common stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividends, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the common stock) are issued and outstanding, the holders of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, shall have the right to elect four members of the Board of Directors of the Company. The holders of common stock, voting as a separate class, shall have the right to elect one member of the Board of Directors. The remaining directors shall be elected by the holders of the common stock and the preferred stock, voting together as a single class on an as-converted to common stock basis. On all other matters, the holders of the preferred stock shall have full voting rights and powers equal to the voting rights and powers of the holders of common stock. Fractional votes by the holders of preferred stock shall not be permitted and any fractional voting rights shall be rounded to the nearest whole number. Conversion Rights Each share of preferred stock shall be convertible, at the option of the holder, into shares of common stock without the payment of any additional consideration. The preferred stock shall be convertible into the number of fully paid and nonassessable shares of common stock which results from dividing the conversion price per share in effect for the preferred stock at the time of conversion into the per share conversion value. The initial per share conversion price of Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E is $9.23, $13.04, $16.30, $20.16, and $22.61, respectively. The initial conversion price is subject to adjustment for antidilution provisions, as defined. The per share conversion value of Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E is $9.23, $13.04, $16.30, $20.16, and $22.61, respectively. Each share of preferred stock shall automatically be converted into shares of common stock at the then effective conversion rate immediately upon the earlier of (i) the election of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting as a separate class on an as-converted to common stock basis, or (ii) the closing of the sale of the Company's common stock in a firm commitment, underwritten public offering registered under the Securities Act of 1033, as amended, with aggregate offering proceeds to the Company (before deduction for underwriters' discounts and expenses relating to the issuance) of at least $75.0 million and a public offering price per share equal to at least $67.83 (subject to adjustments for stock dividends, splits, combinations and similar events). Protective Provisions So long as there are at least 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock outstanding, the Company shall not (by merger, reclassification, amendment or otherwise), without first obtaining the approval of the holders of at least seventy percent (70%) of the then outstanding shares of preferred stock, voting separately as a class, to, among other things: (i) amend the certificate of incorporation or bylaws; (ii) adversely alter or change the rights, preferences or privileges of the preferred stock; (iii) increase or decrease the aggregate number of authorized shares of any class of the capital stock of the Company. So long as shares of Series E preferred stock that are convertible into at least 500,000 shares of common stock (subject to appropriate adjustment in the event of any stock dividend, stock split, combination or other similar recapitalization with respect to the common stock) are issued and outstanding, the Company shall not directly or indirectly (by merger, reclassification, amendment or otherwise), without first obtaining the approval of the holders of at least a majority of the voting power of the then outstanding shares of Series E preferred stock, voting separately as a class, to, among other things: (i) amend, alter, repeal or waive any provision of the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Company in a manner that adversely affects the holders of the Series E preferred stock in a manner different from any other series of preferred stock; (ii) create or authorize the creation of or issue any other security convertible into to exercisable for any equity security having rights, preferences or privileges senior to the Series E preferred stock; (iii) increase or decrease the authorized number of shares of Series E preferred stock. consultants. The maximum number of shares that can be granted under the 2012 Plan cannot exceed 1,255,000 shares. The 2012 Plan had a maximum 10-year term and as such, terminated in January 2022. 2022 Stock Incentive Plan In April 2022, the Board approved, in conjunction with the termination of the 2012 Plan, the 2022 Stock Incentive Plan (the "2022 Plan"), permitting ISOs and NSOs to employees, directors and consultants. The maximum number of shares granted under the 2022 Plan cannot exceed 203,855 plus any shares subject to stock options granted under the 2012 Plan that expired or were otherwise terminated without having been exercised in full, were forfeited, or were repurchased by the Company. The 2022 Plan is intended as the successor to and continuation of the 2012 Plan (thereafter both the 2012 and 2022 Plans are referred to as the "Stock Incentive Plan"). The Stock Incentive Plan provides a means whereby participants may purchase shares of common stock pursuant to ISOs or NSOs and such persons may be granted shares of common stock for consideration consisting of cash and/or past services rendered to or on behalf of the Company. ISOs may only be granted to employees. NSOs and stock purchase rights may be granted to employees and consultants. Generally, options awards only have service conditions that need to be met for the awards to vest, with the exception of grants to two non-employees that had performance obligations that were deemed to be immaterial. The stock options generally vest over four years and have a ten-year contractual term. The fair value of each employee and non-employee stock option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. As the Company lacks company-specific historical and implied volatility information required for valuation, the Company estimates its expected stock volatility based on the historical volatility of a publicly traded set of peer companies. Due to the lack of historical exercise history, the expected life term of ISOs that were granted after 2013 was determined using the "simplified method" provided by the Securities and Exchange Commission in Staff Accounting Bulletins Number 107 and 110. The expected life term of NSOs is determined either by using the "simplified method," or by calculating the time to expiry from the grant date. The risk-free interest rate is determined by reference to the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant for time periods approximately equal to the expected term of the award. Expected dividend yield is zero as the Company has never paid nor does it expect to pay any cash dividend in the near future. The weighted average assumptions used to estimate the fair value of stock option granted during the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 are listed in the table below: <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:62.73%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:14.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:3.09%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.42%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.93%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:62.73%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:14.96%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Year ended </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:3.09%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.42%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Year ended </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.93%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:62.73%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:14.96%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> December 31, 2023 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:3.09%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.42%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> December 31, 2022 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.93%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:62.73%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Risk-free interest rate </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.85%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:14.96%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 3.69 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:3.09%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> % </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:15.42%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 2.98 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.93%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> % </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:62.73%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Expected dividend yield </td><td style="vertical-384000318000580004700044200036500 Note 14 — Net Loss Per Common Share Basic net loss per common share is computed by dividing net loss attributable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the period. Diluted net loss per common share excludes the potential impact of the Company's convertible preferred stock, common stock warrants, and common stock options because the Company's net losses would cause such shares to be anti-dilutive. Therefore, as the Company recorded net losses in the periods presented, basic and diluted net loss per common share are the same. The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted net loss per share attributable to common stockholders for the years presented (in thousands, except share and per share data): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:73.9%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"><div*

Deferred income taxes are provided for certain income and expenses which are recognized in different periods for tax and financial reporting purposes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are computed for differences between the consolidated financial statements and tax bases of assets and liabilities that will result in taxable or deductible amounts in the future based on enacted tax laws and rates applicable to the period in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income, and include NOL carryforwards and R&D tax credit carryforwards. Realization of the future tax benefits is dependent on the Company’s ability to generate sufficient taxable income within the carryforward period. Management assesses the available positive and negative evidence to estimate whether sufficient future taxable income will be generated to permit use of the existing deferred tax assets. A significant piece of objective negative evidence evaluated was the cumulative loss incurred over the three-year period ended December 31, 2023. Such objective evidence limits the ability to consider other subjective evidence, such as the Company’s projections for future commercialization. Management has concluded that it is more likely than not that the Company will not have sufficient foreseeable taxable income to allow for the utilization of the deferred tax assets; therefore, a full valuation allowance has been established to reduce the net deferred tax assets to zero at December 31, 2023 and 2022. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had federal NOL carryforwards of approximately $100.0 million and $84.8 million, respectively. $19.0 million of the federal NOL carryforwards will begin to expire from 2031. Due to the enactment of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, federal net operating losses generated beginning in 2018 are carried forward indefinitely. Therefore, the remaining federal NOL carry forwards of $81.0 million and $65.8 million as of December 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively, have an unlimited carryover period. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had state NOL carryforwards of $53.4 million and $53.4 million, respectively, which will begin to expire from 2031. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company had a NOL from Adagio Medical GmbH of $249.3 thousand and $138.7 thousand, respectively. The NOLs are carried forward indefinitely. As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, the Company also had net federal R&D tax credit carry-forwards of approximately $1.6 million and $1.6 million, respectively. The federal R&D tax credits will begin to expire in 2038. The Company had no state R&D credits. The Company’s tax attribute carryforwards may be subject to a substantial annual limitation due to ownership change limitations that may have occurred or that could occur in the future, as required by Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), as well as similar state and foreign provisions. These ownership changes may limit the amount of NOL and R&D credit carryforwards that can be used annually to offset future taxable income and tax, respectively. In general, an “ownership change” as defined by Section 382 of the Code results from a transaction or series of transactions over a three-year period resulting in an ownership change of more than 50% of the outstanding stock of a company by certain stockholders. The Company has not completed a study to assess whether an ownership change has occurred or whether there have been multiple ownership changes since the Company's formation due to the complexity and cost associated with such study, and the fact that there may be additional such ownership changes in the future. Any limitation may result in expiration of a portion of the NOL carryforwards or R&D tax credit carryforwards before utilization; however, such limitation, if any, would not have an impact on the Company's financial statement due to the full valuation allowance. The Company conducts intensive research and experimentation activities, generating R&D tax credits for federal purposes under Section 41 of the Code. The Company has performed a formal study validating these credits claimed in the tax returns. The following table summarizes the changes to unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2023 and 2022 (in thousands): <table style="border-collapse:collapse;font-size:16pt;height:max-content;margin-left:auto;margin-right:auto;padding-left:0pt;padding-right:0pt;width:80%;"><tr style="height:1pt;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:73.9%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.23%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.22%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:73.9%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Years ended December 31, </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:10.71%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 2023 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:10.7%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 2022 </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:73.9%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Balance at beginning of year </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> $</td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.23%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 321</td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"></td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">$ </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.22%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 321 </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:73.9%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Gross increases – tax positions during the year </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.23%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 200 </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.22%;border-bottom:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> — </td></tr><tr><td style="vertical-align:bottom;width:73.9%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> Balance at end of year </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;background:#cceeff;border-bottom:3px double #000000;border-top:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> $</td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.23%;background:#cceeff;border-bottom:3px double #000000;border-top:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 521</td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:2.33%;background:#cceeff;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"></td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:1.48%;background:#cceeff;border-bottom:3px double #000000;border-top:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;">$ </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;white-space:nowrap;width:9.22%;background:#cceeff;border-bottom:3px double #000000;border-top:1px solid #000000;margin:0pt;padding:0pt;"> 321 </td></tr></table> As of December 31, 2023, the Company has unrecognized tax benefits of $0.5 million of which $0.5 million will affect the effective tax rate if recognized when the Company no longer has a valuation allowance offsetting its deferred tax assets. The Company does not anticipate that there will be a significant change in unrecognized tax benefits over the next 12 months. The Company is subject to U.S. federal and various state tax as well as Germany tax jurisdictions. Since the Company formed in 2011, all filed tax returns are subject to examination. Generally, the tax years remain open for examination by the federal statute under a three-year statute of limitation; however, states generally keep their statutes open between three and four years. However, the Company's tax years from inception are subject to examination by the United States and various state taxing authorities due to the carry forward of unused NOLs and R&D credits. Enacted in December 2017, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 ("TCJA") amended Section 174 to require capitalization of all research and experimental ("R&E") costs incurred in tax years beginning after December 31, 2021. For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2022, R&E costs must be amortized over five years if the R&E activities are performed in the U.S., or over 15 years if the activities are performed outside of the U.S., beginning with the midpoint of the tax year in which the costs were paid or incurred. During 2023, the Company capitalized $15.5 million of R&E costs. The Company plans to refine the calculation for Section 174 and make an adjustment on the tax return.<p style="font-family:'Times New Roman',
