1. Organization and Nature of Business

Overview

Aclaris Therapeutics, Inc. was incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware in 2012. In 2017, Confluence Life Sciences, Inc. (now known as Aclaris Life Sciences, Inc.) ("Confluence") was acquired by Aclaris Therapeutics, Inc. and became a wholly owned subsidiary thereof. Aclaris Therapeutics, Inc. and its wholly owned subsidiaries are referred to collectively as the "Company."

The Company is a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company focused on developing novel drug candidates for immuno-inflammatory diseases. The Company's proprietary KINect drug discovery platform combined with its preclinical development capabilities allows the Company to identify and advance potential drug candidates that it may develop independently or in collaboration with third parties. In addition to identifying and developing its novel drug candidates, the Company is pursuing strategic alternatives, including identifying and consummating transactions with third-party partners, to further develop, obtain marketing approval for and/or commercialize its novel drug candidates. The Company also provides contract research services to third parties enabled by its early-stage research and development expertise.

Liquidity

The Company's condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the basis of continuity of operations, realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the ordinary course of business. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, the Company had cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities of $187.0 million $161.4 million and an accumulated deficit of $769.3 million $787.7 million. Since inception, the Company has incurred net losses and negative cash flows from its operations. Prior to the acquisition of Confluence Life Sciences, Inc. (now known as Aclaris Life Sciences, Inc.) ("Confluence") in 2017, the Company had never generated revenue. There can be no assurance that profitable operations will ever be achieved, and, if achieved, will be sustained on a continuing basis. In addition, development activities, including clinical and preclinical testing of the Company's drug candidates, will require significant additional financing. The future viability of the Company is dependent on its ability to successfully develop its drug candidates and to generate revenue from identifying and consummating transactions with third-party partners to further develop, obtain marketing approval for and/or commercialize its development assets or to raise additional capital to finance its operations. The Company will require additional capital to complete the clinical development of zunsemetinib (ATI-450), ATI-1777, ATI-2138 and ATI-2231, to develop its preclinical compounds, drug candidates and to support its discovery efforts.

Additional funds may not be available on a timely basis, on commercially acceptable terms, or at all, and such funds, if raised, may not be sufficient to enable the Company to continue to implement its long-term business strategy. The Company's ability to raise additional capital may be adversely impacted by potential potentially worsening global economic conditions caused by a variety of factors including geopolitical tensions, rising interest rates, the closure of financial institutions and inflationary pressures. If the Company is unable to raise sufficient additional capital or generate revenue from transactions with potential third-party partners for the development and/or commercialization of its drug candidates, it may need to substantially curtail planned operations. The Company's failure to raise capital as and when needed could have a negative impact on its financial condition and ability to pursue its business strategies.

In accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Subtopic 205-40, Disclosure of Uncertainties about an Entity's Ability to Continue as a Going Concern, the Company has evaluated whether there are conditions and events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that its condensed consolidated financial statements are issued. As of the report date, the Company does not believe that substantial doubt exists about its ability to continue as a going concern. The Company believes its existing cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities are sufficient to fund its operating and capital expenditure requirements for a period greater than 12 months from the date of issuance of these condensed consolidated financial statements.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with GAAP. The condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company include the accounts of the operating parent company, Aclaris Therapeutics, Inc., and its wholly owned subsidiaries. All intercompany transactions have been eliminated. Based upon the Company's revenue, the Company believes that gross profit does not provide a meaningful measure of profitability and, therefore, has not included a line item for gross profit on the condensed consolidated statement of operations.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of expenses during the reporting periods. Significant estimates and assumptions reflected in these financial statements include, but are not limited to, contingent consideration and the valuation of stock-based awards. Estimates are periodically reviewed in light of changes in circumstances, facts and experience. As of the date of issuance of these financial statements, the Company is not aware of any specific event or circumstance that would require an update to its estimates, assumptions and judgments or revise the carrying value of its assets or liabilities. Actual results could differ from the Company's estimates.

Reclassifications

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year's financial statement presentation.

Concentration of Credit Risk and of Significant Suppliers

Financial instruments that potentially expose the Company to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities. The Company holds all cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities balances at three accredited financial institutions, the majority of which are in amounts that exceed or are not subject to federally insured limits. The Company does not believe that it is subject to unusual credit risk beyond the normal credit risk associated with commercial banking relationships.

There have been no changes to the Company's significant accounting policies from those disclosed in the annual report.

Contingent Consideration

The Company initially recorded records a contingent consideration liability at fair value on the date of acquisition related to future potential payments resulting from the acquisition of Confluence based upon significant unobservable inputs including the achievement of development, regulatory and commercial milestones, as well as estimated future sales levels and the discount rates applied to calculate the present value of the potential payments. Significant judgement was is involved in determining the appropriateness of these assumptions. These assumptions are considered Level 3 inputs. Revaluation of the contingent consideration liability can result from changes to one or more of these assumptions. The Company evaluates the fair value estimate of the contingent consideration liability on a quarterly basis with changes, if any, recorded as income or expense in the condensed consolidated statement of operations.

The fair value of contingent consideration is estimated using a probability-weighted expected payment model for regulatory milestone payments and a Monte Carlo simulation model for commercial milestone and royalty payments and then applying a risk-adjusted discount rate to calculate the present value of the potential payments. Significant assumptions used in the Company's estimates include the probability of achieving regulatory milestones and commencing commercialization, which are based on an asset's current stage of development and a review of existing clinical data. Probability of success assumptions ranged between 17% and 41% 40% at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024. Additionally, estimated future sales levels and the risk-adjusted discount rate applied to the potential payments are also significant assumptions used in calculating the fair value. The discount rate ranged between 9.3% 7.4% and 10.4% 8.3% depending on the year of each potential payment.

Revenue Recognition

The Company accounts for revenue in accordance with ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Under ASC Topic 606, revenue is recognized when a customer obtains control of promised goods or services in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services.

To determine revenue recognition in accordance with ASC Topic 606, the Company performs the following five steps: (i) identify the contract(s) with a customer, (ii) identify the performance obligations in the contract, (iii) determine the transaction price, (iv) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and (v) recognize revenue when (or as) performance obligations are satisfied. At contract inception, the Company assesses the goods or services promised within a contract with a customer to identify the performance obligations, and to determine if they are distinct. The Company recognizes the revenue that is allocated to each distinct performance obligation when (or as) that performance obligation is satisfied. The Company only recognizes revenue when collection of the consideration it is entitled to under a contract with a customer is probable.

Under ASC Topic 606, the Company elected to apply the "right to invoice" practical expedient when recognizing contract research revenue and as such, recognizes revenue in the amount which it has the right to invoice. ASC Topic 606 also provides an optional exemption, which the Company has elected to apply, from disclosing remaining performance obligations when revenue is recognized from the satisfaction of the performance obligation in accordance with the "right to invoice" practical expedient.

The overall $0.6 million decrease $2.8 million increase in the fair value of the contingent consideration liability during the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 was primarily due to the removal of changes in estimated sales levels from zunsemetinib (ATI-450) for moderate to severe hidradenitis suppurativa following the Company's decision to cease pursuing this indication, as well as higher discount rates resulting from higher risk-free rates and changes in credit spreads being applied to potential payments relative to prior periods. This decrease was partially offset by an increase in the probability of success of ATI-2138, as well as the passage of time, for certain drug candidates.

We are developing zunsemetinib, an investigational oral, novel, small molecule selective MK2 inhibitor, as a potential treatment for rheumatoid arthritis also provide contract research services to third parties enabled by our early-stage research and psoriatic arthritis. MK2 is a key regulator of pro-inflammatory mediators including TNF α , IL1 β , IL6, IL8, IL17 and other essential pathogenic signals in chronic immuno-inflammatory diseases, as well as in oncology. As an oral drug candidate, we are developing zunsemetinib as a potential alternative to injectable anti-TNF/IL1/IL6/IL17 biologics and JAK inhibitors for treating certain immuno-inflammatory diseases. Zunsemetinib has been adopted as the nonproprietary name for ATI-450. development expertise.

Moderate to Severe Rheumatoid Arthritis

In December 2021, we initiated a Phase 2b randomized, multicenter, double-blind, parallel group, placebo-controlled, dose-ranging trial to investigate the efficacy, safety, tolerability, pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics of multiple doses (20 mg and 50 mg twice daily) of zunsemetinib in combination with methotrexate in subjects with moderate to severe rheumatoid arthritis (ATI-450-RA-202). This trial consists of a 12-week treatment period and a 30-day follow-up period and has completed enrollment of 251 subjects in the United States and in multiple countries in Europe. The primary endpoint is the proportion of subjects achieving ACR20 at week 12. We expect topline data in November 2023.

Moderate to Severe Psoriatic Arthritis

In June 2022, we initiated a Phase 2a, randomized, multicenter, double-blind, placebo-controlled trial to investigate the efficacy, safety, tolerability, pharmacokinetics, and pharmacodynamics of zunsemetinib (50 mg twice daily) in subjects with moderate to severe psoriatic arthritis (ATI-450-PsA-201). This trial consists of a 12-week treatment period and a 30-day follow-up period and seeks to enroll approximately 70 subjects in the United States and in Poland. The primary endpoint is the proportion of subjects achieving ACR20 at week 12. We expect topline data in the first half of 2024.

Moderate to Severe Hidradenitis Suppurativa

In December 2021, we initiated a Phase 2a, randomized, multicenter, double-blind, placebo-controlled trial to investigate the efficacy, safety, tolerability, pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics of zunsemetinib (50 mg twice daily) in subjects with moderate to severe hidradenitis suppurativa (ATI-450-HS-201). In March 2023, January 2024, we announced that the study did not meet its primary or secondary efficacy endpoints. We do not plan to further pursue this indication.

ATI-1777, an Investigational Topical "Soft" JAK 1/3 Inhibitor

We are developing ATI-1777, an investigational topical "soft" JAK 1/3 inhibitor, as a potential treatment for mild to severe atopic dermatitis. "Soft" JAK inhibitors are designed to be topically applied and active in the skin, but rapidly metabolized and inactivated when they enter the bloodstream, which may result in low systemic exposure.

In May 2022, we initiated a Phase 2b, multicenter, randomized, double-blind, vehicle-controlled, parallel-group trial to determine the efficacy, safety, tolerability, and pharmacokinetics of ATI-1777 in subjects with moderate to severe atopic dermatitis (ATI-1777-AD-202). In April 2023, we expanded the patient population to include patients with mild disease. In this trial, we are exploring multiple concentrations undertaking a strategic review of twice daily treatment with ATI-1777 and a single concentration of once daily treatment with ATI-1777. This trial consists of a 4-week treatment period and a 2-week follow-up period and has completed enrollment of 250 patients, including adults and children as young as 12 years old, across the United States. The primary endpoint is the percentage change from baseline in EASI score at week 4. We expect topline data around the end of 2023.

ATI-2138, an Investigational Oral Covalent ITK/JAK3 Inhibitor

We are developing ATI-2138 is an investigational oral covalent ITK/JAK3 inhibitor as a of interleukin-2-inducible T cell kinase, or ITK, and Janus kinase, or JAK, 3 for the potential treatment for of T cell-mediated autoimmune diseases. The ITK/JAK3 compound interrupts T cell signaling through the combined inhibition of ITK/JAK3 pathways in lymphocytes.

In October 2022, September 2023, we submitted an IND for ATI-2138 for the treatment of ulcerative colitis, which was allowed by the FDA in November 2022. In December 2022, we initiated a announced positive results from our two-week Phase 1 placebo-controlled, randomized, multiple ascending dose, (MAD) or MAD, trial of ATI-2138 (ATI-2138-PKPD-102). ATI-2138-PKPD-201 was designed to investigate the safety, tolerability, pharmacokinetics, or PK, and pharmacodynamics of ATI-2138 in healthy volunteers (ATI-2138-PKPD-102), volunteers. The study trial enrolled 60 healthy subjects volunteers across 6 dosing cohorts ranging from 10 to 80 mg of total daily doses, with eight active volunteers receiving ATI-2138 and two volunteers receiving placebo controlled per in each arm. Preliminary data Data from the trial demonstrated that ATI-2138 was generally well tolerated at all doses tested in the trial and had dose proportional pharmacokinetics. PK. Additionally, ATI-2138 demonstrated a dose-dependent inhibition of both ITK and JAK3 exploratory pharmacodynamic biomarkers, with near maximal inhibition achieved at the 30 mg total daily dose. No serious adverse events were reported.

Based on the positive results of this study, we will We plan to progress this program ATI-2138 into a Phase 2a proof of concept study in patients with ulcerative colitis. We anticipate initiation of this Phase 2a trial in early 2024, subjects with moderate to severe atopic dermatitis.

We are also exploring the potential of conducting a second proof of concept trial of ATI-2138 in an additional T cell-mediated autoimmune disease.

ATI-2231, an Investigational Oral MK2 Inhibitor

We are exploring the use of ATI-2231, an investigational oral MK2 inhibitor designed to have a long half-life, as a potential treatment for pancreatic cancer and metastatic breast cancer as well as in preventing bone loss in patients with metastatic breast cancer. We are also currently exploring options to use ATI-2231 as a potential treatment for immuno-inflammatory diseases. Lepzacinib, an Investigational Topical "Soft" JAK 1/3 Inhibitor

Lepzacinib, also referred to as ATI-1777, is an investigational topical "soft" JAK 1/3 inhibitor for the potential treatment of atopic dermatitis and other dermatologic conditions. "Soft" JAK inhibitors are designed to be topically applied and active in the skin, but rapidly metabolized and inactivated when they enter the bloodstream, which may result in low systemic exposure. Lepzacinib has been adopted as the nonproprietary name for ATI-1777.

In January 2024, we announced positive top-line results from our Phase 2b multicenter, randomized, double-blind, vehicle-controlled, parallel-group trial of lezacitinib in patients with mild to severe atopic dermatitis (ATI-1777-AD-202). ATI-1777-AD-202 was designed to evaluate the efficacy, safety, tolerability and PK of multiple concentrations (0.5%, 1% and 2%) of twice daily, or BID, treatment with lezacitinib and a single concentration (2%) of once daily, or QD, treatment with lezacitinib. The trial randomized 250 patients with mild, moderate or severe atopic dermatitis, including adults and children as young as 12 years old, across 30 clinical trial sites in the United States. The trial met the primary efficacy endpoint, the percent change from baseline in the Eczema Area and Severity Index, or EASI, score at week 4, with statistical significance for patients treated with lezacitinib 2% BID compared to patients treated with vehicle (69.7% versus 58.7% in the pooled vehicle group, $p=0.035$). In addition, a PK analysis showed minimal levels of exposure to lezacitinib. The mean steady state trough drug levels at week 4 were 0.319 ng/mL, representing 0.7% of IC50 for JAK 1/3 inhibition in whole blood. In total, 97% of lezacitinib plasma samples from dosed patients had concentrations below 1/10th of the IC50, and six samples (from five lezacitinib treated patients) of 570 samples analyzed had concentrations above 1/4 of the IC50. No meaningful safety findings were observed and lezacitinib was well tolerated.

We are supporting currently seeking a global development and commercialization partner for this program (excluding Greater China). In 2022, we granted Pediatrix Therapeutics, Inc. exclusive rights to develop and commercialize lezacitinib in Greater China.

Zunsemetinib, an Investigational Oral MK2 Inhibitor

Zunsemetinib, or ATI-450, is an investigational oral, novel, small molecule selective MK2 inhibitor for the potential treatment of metastatic breast cancer, or MBC, and pancreatic ductal adenocarcinoma, or PDAC. We plan to support Washington University in a first-in-human St. Louis in its investigator-initiated Phase 1a trial 1b/2 trials of ATI-2231 zunsemetinib in patients with advanced solid tumor malignancies. MBC and PDAC. We expect clinical development activities these trials to be initiated in the second half of 2023, primarily funded by grants awarded to Washington University.

Discovery Programs and KINect Drug Discovery Platform

We conduct small molecule drug discovery and preclinical development research including through KINect®, KINect, our proprietary drug discovery platform. We leverage our early research and development capabilities and Our KINect platform enables us to identify potential drug candidates that we may develop independently or through a unique combination of our proprietary chemical library of kinase inhibitors, our novel approaches to inhibitor modalities, our expertise in collaboration with third parties, structure-based drug design, and our custom kinase assays.

Intellectual Property Our focus has been on difficult to drug kinase targets that exhibit some level of clinical, genetic and/or pharmacological disease validation. Our approach involves the following mechanisms: (1) reversible and irreversible covalent inhibitors, (2) molecular glue/complex targeted inhibitors and (3) targeted protein degraders. These novel approaches are currently being utilized to prosecute additional validated, difficult to drug kinase targets with the goal of demonstrating potential platform utility.

Our success depends in large part upon our ability to obtain and maintain proprietary protection for our We are actively progressing several discovery programs focused on delivering the next wave of drug candidates from our KINect platform. Our discovery efforts center on targeting kinases that play pivotal roles in various inflammatory, autoimmune, and to operate without infringing the proprietary rights of others. We seek to avoid the latter by monitoring patents and publications that may affect our business, and to the extent we identify such developments, evaluating and taking appropriate courses of action. Our policy is to protect our proprietary position by, among other methods, filing patent applications on inventions that are important to the development and conduct of our business with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, or USPTO, and its foreign counterparts.

With respect to our MK2 signaling pathway inhibitor development program, we own numerous issued patents and pending applications to novel MK2 pathway inhibitors, including our lead candidate zunsemetinib, and various methods of use that expire, or would expire, between 2031 and 2041, subject to any applicable patent term adjustment or extension that may be available in a particular country, oncology pathways. For example, we own two issued U.S. patents are progressing to development candidate selection a second generation ITK selective inhibitor for autoimmune indications. We intend to evaluate both internal and issued patents and pending applications in the European Union and other foreign countries directed to zunsemetinib and analogs thereof and certain methods of using the same. The U.S. patents expire in 2034 and any claims that may issue from the pending applications expire in 2034, subject to any applicable adjustment or extension. We own one allowed U.S. application and numerous pending patent applications in the European Union and other foreign countries directed to methods of treating inflammatory conditions, such as rheumatoid arthritis and psoriatic arthritis, by orally administering zunsemetinib, which, if issued, would each expire in 2041, subject to any applicable adjustment or extension. Further, we own one U.S. patent and numerous pending patent applications in the U.S., European Union and other foreign countries directed to certain methods of manufacturing zunsemetinib and crystal forms of zunsemetinib, which, if issued, would each expire in 2041, subject to any applicable adjustment or extension. We also own pending patent applications in the U.S., European Union and other foreign countries directed to ATI-2231, and methods of use, which, if issued, would expire in 2040, subject to any applicable adjustment or extension.

With respect to our "soft" JAK inhibitor external development program, we own numerous issued patents and pending applications in the U.S. and foreign countries to novel "soft" JAK inhibitors and various methods of use that expire, or would expire, between 2038 and 2042, subject to any applicable patent term adjustment or extension that may be available in a particular country. For example, we own issued patents in the U.S. and other foreign countries, as well as pending applications in the U.S. and foreign countries directed to various novel inhibitors of JAK1 and/or JAK3, options, including ATI-1777, and methods of using the same, which, if issued, would expire in 2038, subject to any applicable adjustment or extension. We also own pending applications in the U.S. and foreign countries directed to crystal forms of ATI-1777 and directed to methods of using ATI-1777 and topical formulations, which, if issued, would expire in 2041 and 2042, respectively, subject to any applicable adjustment or extension.

With respect to our ITK inhibitor development program, we own numerous issued U.S. patents and pending applications in the U.S. and foreign countries directed to novel inhibitors of ITK and methods of use that expire, or would expire, between 2035 and 2039, subject to any applicable patent term adjustment or extension that may be available in a particular country. For example, we own one U.S. patent and pending U.S., European Union and other foreign country applications directed to ATI-2138 and analogs thereof and methods of using the same, which, if issued, would expire in 2039, subject to any applicable adjustment or extension. strategic partnerships, for these assets.

Discontinued Programs

We were previously developing zunsemetinib as a potential treatment for various immuno-inflammatory diseases, including hidradenitis suppurativa, psoriatic arthritis, and rheumatoid arthritis. Following the results of the Phase 2 trials for these programs, we discontinued further development of our MK2 inhibitor programs in immuno-inflammatory diseases in 2023.

Financial Overview

Since our inception, we have incurred significant net losses. Our net loss was $87.0 million $16.9 million for the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and $86.9 million $88.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had an accumulated deficit of $769.3 million $787.7 million. We expect to incur significant expenses and operating losses for the foreseeable future as we advance our drug candidates from discovery through preclinical and clinical development. In addition, our drug candidates, even if they are approved by regulatory agencies for marketing, may not achieve commercial success. We may also not be successful in pursuing strategic alternatives, including identifying and consummating transactions with third-party partners, to further develop, obtain marketing approval for and/or commercialize our drug candidates. Furthermore, we have incurred and expect to continue to incur significant costs associated with operating as a public company, including legal, accounting, investor relations and other expenses. We also expect to add additional personnel, as needed, to support our operational plans and strategic direction. As a result, we will need substantial additional funding to support our continuing operations.

We have historically financed our operations primarily with sales of equity securities and incurring indebtedness in the form of loans from commercial lenders. In the near term, we expect to finance our operations through these and other capital sources, including potential partnerships with other companies or other strategic transactions. We may be unable to raise additional funds or enter into such other agreements or arrangements when needed on commercially acceptable terms, or at all. If we fail to raise capital or enter into such agreements as, and when needed, we may have to significantly delay, scale back or discontinue the development of one or more of our drug candidates.

Impact of Macroeconomic Conditions on Our Business

Unfavorable conditions in the economy both in the United States and abroad may negatively affect the growth of our business and our results of operations. For example, macroeconomic events, including rising inflation, the U.S. Federal Reserve raising interest rates the closure of financial institutions and the Russia-Ukraine war, geopolitical conflicts, have led to economic uncertainty globally. The effect of macroeconomic conditions may not be fully reflected in our results of operations until future periods. If, however, economic uncertainty increases or the global economy worsens, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be harmed.

Acquisition and License Agreements

License Agreement with Sun Pharmaceutical Industries, Inc.

In December 2023, we entered into an exclusive patent license agreement with Sun Pharmaceutical Industries, Inc., or Sun Pharma. Under the license agreement, we granted Sun Pharma exclusive rights under certain patents that we exclusively license from a third party. The patents relate to the use of deuruxolitinib, Sun Pharma's JAK inhibitor, or other isotopic forms of ruxolitinib, to treat alopecia areata or androgenetic alopecia. Under the license agreement, Sun Pharma has paid us an upfront payment, and has agreed to pay us regulatory and commercial milestone payments upon the achievement of specified milestones set forth in the agreement, and a mid single-digit tiered royalty calculated as a percentage of Sun Pharma's net sales. We have separate contractual obligations under which we have agreed to pay to third parties a portion of the consideration we may receive under the license agreement.

Upon execution of the agreement, we received an upfront payment of $15.0 million from Sun Pharma, a portion of which was payable to third parties.

License Agreement with Pediatrix Therapeutics, Inc.

In November 2022, we entered into a license agreement with Pediatrix Therapeutics, Inc., or Pediatrix, under which we granted Pediatrix the exclusive rights to develop, manufacture and commercialize lepacitinib in Greater China. Pediatrix has paid us an upfront payment, and has agreed to pay us development, regulatory and commercial milestone payments upon the achievement of specified milestones set forth in the agreement, and a tiered royalty ranging from a low-to-high single digit percentage of net sales of lepacitinib by Pediatrix in Greater China. A portion of consideration received from Pediatrix is payable to the former Confluence equity holders as described below under the caption "Agreement and Plan of Merger with Confluence."

License Agreement with Eli Lilly and Company

In August 2022, we entered into a non-exclusive patent license agreement with Eli Lilly and Company, or Lilly. Under the license agreement, we granted Lilly non-exclusive rights under certain patents and patent applications that we exclusively license from a third party. The patents and patent applications relate to the use of baricitinib, Lilly's JAK inhibitor, to treat alopecia areata. Under the license agreement, Lilly has paid us an upfront payment and regulatory and certain commercial milestone payments, and has agreed to pay us anniversary payments and other commercial milestone payments upon the achievement of specified milestones as set forth in the agreement, and a low single-digit royalty calculated as a percentage of Lilly's net sales of baricitinib for the treatment of alopecia areata. We have separate contractual obligations under which we have agreed to pay to third parties an amount equal to any regulatory and commercial milestone payments we receive under the Lilly license agreement, as well as a portion of the upfront consideration and a portion of the royalties we may receive under the license agreement.

During the three months ended March 31, 2024 and 2023, we recorded licensing revenue under this agreement of $1.7 million and $1.6 million from Lilly, respectively, a portion of which was payable to third parties.

Asset Purchase Agreement with EPI Health

In October 2019, we sold RHOFAD (oxymetazoline hydrochloride) cream, 1%, or RHOFAD, to EPI Health, LLC, or EPI Health, pursuant to an asset purchase agreement. In July 2023, EPI Health filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Through the bankruptcy process, EPI Health and its parent company, Novan, Inc., sold the RHOFAD assets to a third party, which excluded our asset purchase agreement with EPI Health and the outstanding amounts due. The sale was approved by the bankruptcy court in September 2023. As a result of the bankruptcy proceedings, all amounts that are due and outstanding by EPI Health have been fully reserved for as of March 31, 2024.

Agreement and Plan of Merger with Confluence

In 2017, we entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, or the Confluence Agreement, with Confluence Life Sciences, Inc. (now known as Aclaris Life Sciences, Inc.), or Confluence, Aclaris Life Sciences, Inc., our wholly owned subsidiary, or Merger Sub, and Fortis Advisors LLC, as representative of the equity holders of Confluence. Pursuant to the terms of the Confluence Agreement, Merger Sub merged with and into Confluence, with Confluence surviving as our wholly owned subsidiary.

Under the Confluence Agreement, we have agreed to pay the former Confluence equity holders aggregate remaining contingent consideration of up to $75.0 million based upon the achievement of specified regulatory and commercial milestones set forth in the Confluence Agreement. In addition, we have agreed to pay the former Confluence equity holders future royalty payments calculated as a low single-digit percentage of annual net sales, subject to specified reductions, limitations and other adjustments, until the date that all of the patent rights for that product have expired, as determined on a country-by-country and product-by-product basis or, in specified circumstances, ten years from the first commercial sale of such product. In addition to the payments described above, if we sell, license or transfer any of the intellectual property acquired from Confluence pursuant to the Confluence Agreement to a third party, we will be obligated to pay the former Confluence equity holders a portion of any consideration received from such sale, license, or transfer in specified circumstances.

Restructuring

In 2019, we entered into an asset purchase agreement with EPI Health, LLC, or EPI Health, pursuant to December 2023, our Board of Directors approved a reduction of our workforce by approximately 46%, which we sold the worldwide rights expect to RHOFAD (oxymetazoline hydrochloride) cream, 1%, be substantially completed by June 2024. This action was taken in order to streamline operations, reduce costs and preserve capital. As a result, we terminated certain employees, or RHOFAD, which included the assignment of certain licenses for related intellectual property assets (such transaction, the "Disposition").

Pursuant terminated employees, and gave notice to the asset purchase agreement, EPI Health paid us closing consideration of $35.2 million. In addition, EPI Health agreed additional employees, or noticed employees, who were asked to pay us (i) potential sales milestone payments of up provide transition services through termination dates ranging between one to $20.0 million in the aggregate upon the achievement of specified levels of net sales of products covered by the agreement, (ii) a specified high single-digit royalty calculated as a percentage of net sales, on a product-by-product and country-by-country basis, until the date that the patent rights related to a particular product, such as RHOFAD, have expired, provided, that with respect to sales of RHOFAD in any territory outside of the United States, such royalty shall be paid on a country-by-country basis until the date that the RHOFAD patent rights in the particular country have expired or, if later, 10 years thirteen months from the date of the first commercial sale of RHOFAD in such country and (iii) 25% of any upfront, license, milestone, maintenance or fixed payment received by EPI Health in connection with any license or sublicense of the assets transferred in the Disposition in any territory outside of the United States, subject notice was given. The terminated employees were entitled to specified exceptions. In addition, EPI Health agreed to assume our obligation to pay specified royalties and milestone payments under certain agreements with third parties.

On July 17, 2023, EPI Health filed a voluntary petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Through the bankruptcy process, EPI Health and its parent company, Novan, Inc., sold the RHOFADe assets to a third party. Under the sale agreement, our asset purchase agreement with EPI Health was not assumed by the buyer, and as a result, the buyer is not obligated to continue to pay us royalties or milestones on future sales of RHOFADe, nor is the buyer obligated to cure the outstanding amounts in default by EPI Health. The sale was approved by the bankruptcy court on September 12, 2023. As a result of the bankruptcy proceedings, we recorded an allowance for doubtful accounts resulting in $0.3 million of bad debt expense for the three months ended September 30, 2023, and $1.3 million of bad debt expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2023, representing all amounts that were due and outstanding by EPI Health.

License Agreement with Eli Lilly and Company

In August 2022, we entered into a non-exclusive patent license agreement with Eli Lilly and Company, or Lilly. Under the license agreement, we granted Lilly non-exclusive rights under certain patents and patent applications that we exclusively license from a third party. The patents and patent applications relate to the use of baricitinib, Lilly's JAK inhibitor, to treat alopecia areata. Under the license agreement, Lilly has agreed to pay us an upfront payment, regulatory and commercial milestone payments, anniversary receive cash severance payments and a low single-digit royalty calculated as a percentage of Lilly's net sales of baricitinib for the treatment of alopecia areata. We have separate contractual obligations under other benefits. The noticed employees are entitled to receive cash severance payments and other benefits, which we have agreed are contingent upon providing additional services to pay to third parties an amount equal to any regulatory and commercial milestone payments we receive under the Lilly license agreement, as well as a portion of the upfront consideration and a portion of the royalties we may receive under the license agreement. us.

During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we recorded $8.3 million recognized severance expense of $2.5 million and $10.7 million in royalties, commercial milestones and anniversary milestones, respectively, from Lilly, a portion made cash payments of which is payable $3.0 million related to third parties. During each of the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, we recorded $17.6 million in upfront payment and regulatory milestones, respectively, from Lilly, a portion of which was payable severance to third parties. terminated employees.

License Agreement with Pediatrix Therapeutics, Inc.

In November 2022, we entered into a license agreement with Pediatrix Therapeutics, Inc., or Pediatrix, under which we granted Pediatrix the exclusive rights to develop, manufacture and commercialize ATI-1777 in Greater China. Pediatrix has agreed to pay us an upfront payment, development, regulatory and commercial milestone payments, and a tiered royalty ranging from a low-to-high single digit percentage of net sales of ATI-1777 by Pediatrix in Greater China. A portion of consideration received from Pediatrix is payable to the former Confluence equity holders as described above.

Upon execution of the agreement, we received an upfront payment of $5.0 million from Pediatrix, a portion of

Components of Our Results of Operations

Revenue

Contract Research

We earn revenue from the provision of laboratory services. Contract research revenue is generally evidenced by contracts with clients which are on an agreed upon fixed-price, fee-for-service basis and are generally billed on a monthly basis in arrears for services rendered.

Licensing

Licensing revenue primarily consists of upfront consideration, royalties and milestone payments earned pursuant to license and acquisition agreements with third parties, as described above.

Other

Other revenue consists of amounts earned from the sub-sublease of our office space, which was terminated during the year ended December 31, 2022.

Cost and Expenses

Cost of Revenue

Cost of revenue consists of the costs incurred in connection with the provision of contract research services. Cost of revenue primarily includes:

- employee-related expenses, which include salaries, benefits, and stock-based compensation;
- outsourced professional scientific services;
- depreciation of laboratory equipment;
- facility-related costs; and
- laboratory materials and supplies used to support the services provided.

Research and Development

Research and development expenses consist of expenses incurred in connection with the discovery and development of our drug candidates. These expenses primarily include:

- expenses incurred under agreements with contract research organizations, or CROs, as well as clinical trial sites and consultants that conduct our clinical trials and preclinical studies, and investigator-initiated trials;
- manufacturing scale-up expenses and the cost of acquiring and manufacturing active pharmaceutical ingredients and preclinical and clinical trial materials, including domestic technology transfer expenses;
- quality assurance and quality control costs;
- outsourced professional scientific development services;
- medical affairs expenses related to our drug candidates;

Table of Contents

- employee-related expenses, which include salaries, benefits, and stock-based compensation;
- expenses relating to regulatory activities, including filing fees paid to regulatory agencies; and
- laboratory materials and supplies used to support our research activities.

Research and development activities are central to our business model. Drug candidates in later stages of clinical development generally have higher development costs than those in earlier stages of clinical development, primarily due to the increased size and duration of later-stage clinical trials. We expect to continue to incur research and development expenses in the near term as we continue the clinical development of zusemetinib as a potential treatment for moderate to severe rheumatoid arthritis and moderate to severe psoriatic arthritis, ATI-1777 as a potential treatment for mild to severe atopic dermatitis and ATI-2138 as a potential treatment for T cell-mediated autoimmune diseases, and as we continue the development of our preclinical compounds drug candidates and discover and develop additional drug candidates, pursue our discovery programs. We expense research and development costs as incurred. Our direct research and development expenses primarily consist of external costs including fees paid to CROs, consultants, clinical trial sites, regulatory agencies and third parties that manufacture our preclinical and clinical trial materials and are tracked on a program-by-program basis. We do not allocate personnel costs or other indirect expenses to specific research and development programs.

The successful development of our drug candidates is highly uncertain. We cannot reasonably estimate or know the nature, timing and costs of the efforts that will be necessary to complete the remainder of the development of, or when, if ever, material net cash inflows may commence from any of our drug candidates. This uncertainty is due to the numerous risks and uncertainties associated with the duration and cost of clinical trials, which vary significantly over the life of a project as a result of many factors, including:

- the number of clinical sites included in the trials;
- the length of time required to enroll suitable subjects;
- the number of subjects that ultimately participate in the trials;
- the number of doses subjects receive;
- the impact on the recruitment, enrollment, conduct and timing of our clinical trials due to macroeconomic conditions;
- the duration of subject follow-up; and
- the results of our clinical trials.

Our expenditures are subject to additional uncertainties, including the preparation of regulatory filings for our drug candidates. We may obtain unexpected results from our clinical trials or other development activities. We may elect to discontinue, delay, or modify the development, including clinical trials, of some drug candidates or focus on others. A change in the outcome of any of these variables with respect to the development of a drug candidate could mean a significant change in the costs and timing associated with the development of that drug candidate. For example, if the FDA or other regulatory authorities were to require us to conduct clinical trials beyond those that we currently anticipate, or if we experience significant delays in enrollment in any of our clinical trials, we could be required to expend significant additional financial resources and time on the completion of clinical development.

General and Administrative

General and administrative expenses consist principally of salaries and related costs, including stock-based compensation, for personnel in executive, administrative, finance and legal functions. General and administrative expenses also include facility-related costs, patent filing and prosecution costs, professional fees for legal, auditing and tax services, investor relations costs, business development costs, insurance costs, and travel expenses and bad debt expense. expenses.

Licensing

Licensing expenses consist of third-party contractual obligations incurred under license and acquisition agreements with third parties, as described above.

Revaluation of Contingent Consideration

Revaluation of contingent consideration consists of changes in the fair value of our contingent consideration liability between reporting dates. dates, as described below.

Other Income, Net

Other income, net primarily consists of interest earned on our cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities.

Critical Accounting Estimates

This discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on our condensed consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. The preparation of our condensed consolidated financial statements requires us to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities in our condensed consolidated financial statements. We base our estimates on historical experience, known trends and events and various other factors that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. We evaluate our estimates and judgments on an ongoing basis. Our actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. There have been no material changes to our significant accounting policies and use of estimates as disclosed in the footnotes to our audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023 included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on February 23, 2023 February 27, 2024.

Contingent Consideration

We initially recorded record a contingent consideration liability at fair value on the date of acquisition related to future potential payments resulting from the acquisition of Confluence based upon significant unobservable inputs including the achievement of development, regulatory and commercial milestones, as well as estimated future sales levels and the discount rates applied to calculate the present value of the potential payments. Significant judgement was is involved in determining the appropriateness of these assumptions. These assumptions are considered Level 3 inputs. Revaluation of our contingent consideration liability can result from changes to one or more of these assumptions. These assumptions are highly dependent on the outcome and timing of the development of certain of our drug candidates. We evaluate the fair value estimate of our contingent consideration liability on a quarterly basis with changes, if any, recorded as income or expense in our consolidated statement of operations. Any such changes could have a material impact on our financial results.

The fair value of contingent consideration is estimated using a probability-weighted expected payment model for regulatory milestone payments and a Monte Carlo simulation model for commercial milestone and royalty payments and then applying a risk-adjusted discount rate to calculate the present value of the potential payments. Significant assumptions used in our estimates include the probability of achieving regulatory milestones and commencing commercialization, which are based on an asset's current stage of development and a review of existing clinical data. Probability of success assumptions ranged between 17% and 41% on September 30, 2023 40% at March 31, 2024. Additionally, estimated future sales levels and the risk-adjusted discount rate applied to the potential payments are also significant assumptions used in calculating the fair value. The discount rate ranged between 9.3% 7.4% and 10.4% 8.3% depending on the year of each potential payment.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2023, we removed estimated sales from zunsemetinib for moderate to severe hidradenitis suppurativa following our decision to cease pursuing that indication. As a result of this, as well as due to higher discount rates resulting from higher risk-free rates and changes in credit spreads being applied to potential payments relative to prior periods, we recorded an overall decrease in contingent consideration of $0.6 million. This decrease was partially offset by an increase in the probability of success of ATI-2138, as well as the passage of time.

During the nine three months ended September 30, 2022, March 31, 2024 we did not modify any significant assumptions; however, recorded a charge to the contingent consideration liability, which was primarily due to higher discount rates resulting from higher risk-free rates changes in estimated sales levels and wider credit spreads being applied changes to potential payments relative to prior periods, we recorded an overall decrease in contingent consideration the probability of $2.4 million. This decrease was partially offset by increases as a result of the impact of the passage of time. success for certain drug candidates.

Zunsemetinib

The decrease in expenses for zunsemetinib during the three months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the three months ended September 30, 2022 was primarily due to a decrease in costs associated with clinical development activities for a Phase 2a trial in subjects with hidradenitis suppurativa, which initiated in December 2021 and was completed in early March 2023.

The increase in expenses for zunsemetinib during the nine months ended September 30, 2023, compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2022 was primarily due to higher costs associated with drug candidate manufacturing and costs associated with clinical development activities for a Phase 2b trial in subjects with rheumatoid arthritis, which initiated in December 2021 and several ancillary clinical trials. The increase was partially offset by a decrease in costs associated with clinical development activities for a Phase 2a trial in subjects with hidradenitis suppurativa, which initiated in December 2021 and was completed in early March 2023. Drug candidate manufacturing costs also decreased accordingly.

ATI-1777 Lepzacitinib

The decrease in expenses for ATI-1777 lepzacitinib during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 was primarily due to lower costs associated with drug candidate manufacturing and other preclinical development activities. Other income, net increased during the three and nine months ended September March 31, 2024 30, 2023 compared to the three and nine months ended September March 31, 2023 30, 2022, primarily due to higher interest income on investment portfolio balances.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Overview

Since our inception, we have incurred net losses and negative cash flows from our operations. Prior to our acquisition of Confluence, we did not generate any revenue. We have financed our operations over the last several years primarily through sales of our equity securities and incurring indebtedness in the form of loans from commercial lenders. We may engage in additional debt and equity financing transactions in order to raise funds. We may also receive royalties and milestone payments under existing license third-party licensing and acquisition agreements with third parties, agreements. In addition, to the extent we are able to consummate transactions with potential third-party partners to further develop, obtain marketing approval for and/or commercialize our drug candidates, we may receive upfront payments, milestone payments or royalties from such arrangements that would increase our liquidity.

Funding Requirements

We anticipate we will incur net losses in the near term as we continue the clinical development of zunsemetinib as a potential treatment for moderate to severe rheumatoid arthritis and moderate to severe psoriatic arthritis, ATI-1777 as a potential treatment for mild to severe atopic dermatitis and ATI-2138 as a potential treatment for T cell-mediated autoimmune diseases, continue the development of our preclinical compounds, and continue to discover and develop additional drug candidates. We may not be able to generate revenue from these programs if, among other things, our clinical trials are not successful, the FDA does not approve our drug candidates currently in clinical trials when we expect, or at all, or we are not able to identify and consummate transactions with third-party partners to further develop, obtain marketing approval for and/or commercialize our drug candidates.

Our primary uses of capital are, and we expect will continue to be, compensation and related expenses, clinical costs, external research and development services, expenses, laboratory and related supplies, legal and other regulatory expenses, and administrative and overhead costs. We expect to add additional personnel to support our operational plans and strategic direction. Our future funding requirements will be heavily determined by the resources needed to support the development of our drug candidates, candidates, without taking into account any potential business development activities resulting from our ongoing strategic review of our business.

As a publicly traded company, we incur and will continue to incur significant legal, accounting, and other similar expenses. In addition, the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, as well as rules adopted by the SEC and the Nasdaq Stock Market LLC, requires public companies to implement specified corporate governance practices that could increase our compliance costs.

We believe our existing cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities are sufficient to fund our operating and capital expenditure requirements for a period greater than 12 months from the date of issuance of our condensed consolidated financial statements that appear in Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q based on our current operating assumptions. We will require additional capital to complete the clinical development of zunsemetinib, ATI-1777 and ATI-2138, to develop our preclinical compounds, drug candidates and to support our discovery efforts. Additional funds may not be available on a timely basis, on commercially acceptable terms, or at all, and such funds, if raised, may not be sufficient to enable us to continue to implement our long-term business strategy. Our ability to raise additional capital may be adversely impacted by potentially worsening global economic conditions caused by a variety of factors including geopolitical tensions, rising interest rates, the closure of financial institutions and inflationary pressures. If we are unable to raise sufficient additional capital or generate revenue from transactions with potential third-party partners for the development and/or commercialization of our drug candidates, we may need to substantially curtail our planned operations.

We may raise additional capital through the sale of equity or debt securities. In such an event, our stockholders' ownership will be diluted, and the terms of these securities may include liquidation or other preferences that adversely affect the rights of a holder of our common stock.

Because of the numerous risks and uncertainties associated with research and development of pharmaceutical drugs, we are unable to estimate the exact amount of our working capital requirements. Our funding requirements in the near term will depend on many factors, including:

- the number and development requirements of the drug candidates that we may pursue;
- the scope, progress, results and costs of preclinical development, laboratory testing and conducting preclinical and clinical trials for our drug candidates;
- the costs, timing, and outcome of regulatory review of our drug candidates;
- the extent to which we in-license or acquire additional drug candidates and technologies;
- the costs and timing of preparing, filing and prosecuting patent applications, maintaining and enforcing our intellectual property rights and defending any intellectual property-related claims;
- the impact on the timing of our preclinical studies, the recruitment, enrollment, conduct and timing of our clinical trials and our business due to macroeconomic conditions, including the Russia-Ukraine war;
- our ability to identify and consummate transactions with third-party partners to further develop, obtain marketing approval for and/or commercialize our drug candidates; and
- our ability to earn revenue as a result of licenses to, or partnerships or other arrangements with, third parties.

Leases

We occupied occupy space for our headquarters in Wayne, Pennsylvania under a sublease lease agreement which expired as of October 31, 2023, has a term through February 2029. We also occupy office and laboratory space in St. Louis, Missouri under a sublease agreement which has a term through June 2029. In February 2023, we added an additional 6,261 square feet of office and laboratory space in St. Louis, Missouri.

Table of Contents

Our aggregate remaining lease payment obligations obligation for these two spaces was $2.8 million $4.5 million as of September 30, 2023.

As of November 1, 2023, we occupy 11,564 square feet of office space for our headquarters in Wayne, Pennsylvania under a lease agreement which has a term that runs through March 2029. Total lease payment obligations for the life of the lease are $2.0 million March 31, 2024.

Agreement and Plan of Merger – Confluence

Under the Confluence Agreement, we have agreed to pay the former Confluence equity holders aggregate remaining contingent consideration of up to $75.0 million based upon the achievement of specified regulatory and commercial milestones set forth in the Confluence Agreement. In addition, we have agreed to pay the former Confluence equity holders future royalty payments calculated as a low single-digit percentage of annual net sales, subject to specified reductions, limitations and other adjustments, until the date that all of the patent rights for that product have expired, as determined on a country-by-country and product-by-product basis or, in specified circumstances, ten years from the first commercial sale of such product. In addition to the payments described above, if we sell, license or transfer any of the intellectual property acquired from Confluence pursuant to the Confluence Agreement to a third party, we will be obligated to pay the former Confluence equity holders a portion of any consideration received from such sale, license, or transfer in specified circumstances.

R&D Obligations

We enter into contracts in the normal course of business with CROs, contract manufacturing organizations and other service providers for clinical trials, preclinical studies and testing, manufacturing and other services and products for operating purposes. These contracts generally provide for termination upon notice, and therefore we believe that our non-cancelable obligations under these agreements are not material.

Segment Information

We have two reportable segments, therapeutics, and contract research. The therapeutics segment is focused on identifying and developing innovative therapies to address significant unmet needs for immuno-inflammatory diseases, diseases and earns revenue through licensing our intellectual property. The contract research segment earns revenue from the provision of laboratory services.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Interest Rate Risk

Our cash equivalents and marketable securities consist of money market funds, asset-backed debt securities, commercial paper, corporate debt securities, treasury bills, foreign government agency debt securities, and U.S. government debt securities and U.S. government agency debt securities. Our primary exposure to market risk is interest rate sensitivity, which is affected by changes in the general level of U.S. interest rates. Our marketable securities are subject to interest rate risk and will fall in value if market interest rates increase. However, due to the short-term nature and low-risk profile of our investment portfolio, we do not expect that an immediate 10% change in market interest rates would have a material effect on the fair market value of our investment portfolio. We have the ability to hold our marketable securities until maturity, and therefore we would not expect our operating results or cash flows to be affected to any significant degree by the effect of a change in market interest rates on our investments.

Foreign ~~currency risk~~ Currency Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in exchange rates. Our primary exposure to currency risk is foreign government agency debt securities. We do not enter into any derivative financial instruments to manage our exposure to foreign currency risk. Due to the conservative nature of our investment portfolio and other financial instruments, we do not believe an immediate 10% change in currency rates would have a material effect on the fair market value of our portfolio.

Inflation Risk

Inflation generally affects us by increasing our cost of labor. Although inflation has increased generally in the United States in recent months, we do not believe that inflation has had a material effect on our business, financial condition or results of operations during the ~~nine three~~ months ended ~~September 30, 2023~~ March 31, 2024.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Under the supervision of and with the participation of our management, including our ~~chief executive officer, who is our~~ principal executive officer, and ~~our chief financial officer, who is~~ our principal financial officer, we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of ~~September 30, 2023~~ March 31, 2024, the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. The term "disclosure controls and procedures," as set forth in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act, means controls and other procedures of a company that are designed to ~~provide reasonable assurance ensure~~ that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the rules and forms promulgated by the SEC. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ~~provide reasonable assurance ensure~~ that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to the company's management, including its principal executive and principal financial officers, ~~or persons performing similar functions~~, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives, and management necessarily applies its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, our chief principal executive officer and chief principal financial officer concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

(b) Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting identified in connection with the evaluation required by Rules 13a-15(d) and 15d-15(d) of the Exchange Act that occurred during the quarter ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
