These nuts are sold under our Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand and Southern Style Nuts brand names and under a variety of private brands. Segment Reporting We operate in a single reporting unit and operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut related products through three distribution channels. See Part II, Item 8 â€" â€œFinancial Statements and Supplementary Dataâ€ for our net sales, net income and total assets. c. Narrative Description of Business (i) General We are one of the leading processors and distributors of tree nuts and peanuts in the United States. We manufacture and market the Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand and Southern Style Nuts brand names and manufacture and distribute numerous private brands as well, including private brand snack bars. Through a deliberate strategy of focused capital expenditures and complementary acquisitions, we have built a generally vertically integrated nut processing operation that enables us to control almost every step of the process for pecans, peanuts and walnuts, including procurement from growers, shelling, processing, packaging and marketing. Vertical integration allows us to enhance product quality and, in most crop years, purchase inshell pecans, peanuts and walnuts from growers at lower costs as opposed to purchasing these nut meats from other shellers. We believe that our business model typically works to our advantage in terms of cost savings and provides us with better insight into crop development. 2 Â Our brands are some of the most well-recognized in the packaged food industry. In recent years, we have developed Fisher recipe nuts as the leading brand in the category through strong marketing campaigns, merchandising, and promotional support. We have increased distribution and launched innovation with our Orchard Valley Harvest and Fisher snack nut brands in many retailers. We have also expanded into new channels with Southern Style Nuts and Squirrel Brand. Our branded and private brand products are sold through the major distribution channels to significant buyers of nuts, including food and other retailers (both brick and mortar and e-commerce), commercial ingredient users and contract manufacturing customers. Selling through multiple distribution channels allows us to generate multiple revenue opportunities for the nuts we process. For example, pecan halves could be sold to food retailers under our Fisher brand, and pecan pieces could be sold to commercial ingredient users. We process and sell all major nut types consumed in the United States, including peanuts, pecans, cashews, walnuts and almonds (our major nut types). These are sold in a wide variety of innovative packaging, which provides our customers a complete nut product offering. (ii) Principal Products Our principal products are raw and processed nuts and snack bars. Including trail and snack mixes, these products accounted for approximately 92% of our gross sales for both fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023 and 94% fiscal 2022. The nut product line includes almonds, pecans, peanuts, black walnuts, English walnuts, cashews, macadamia nuts, pistachios, pine nuts, Brazil nuts and filberts. Our nut products are sold in numerous package styles and sizes, and we offer our nut products in a variety of different styles and seasonings. The snack bar product line includes chewy, fruit and grain, sweet and salty, dipped, crunchy, energy, fiber and nut bars. We sell our products domestically to retailers and wholesalers as well as to commercial ingredient and contract manufacturing customers. For more information about our revenues in our various distribution channels, see Part II, Item 8 â€" â€œFinancial Statements and Supplementary Dataâ€. We acquire all of our peanuts and walnuts directly from domestic growers. The majority of our pecans are acquired from domestic growers with the remainder acquired from growers in Mexico. We purchase the balance of our raw nuts from importers, trading companies and domestic processors. Furthermore, we manufacture and market peanut butter in several sizes and varieties. We also market and distribute, and in many cases process and manufacture, a wide assortment of other food and snack products. These other products include salad toppings, dried fruit and chocolate and yogurt coated products sold to retailers and wholesalers. Recipe ingredients are sold to retailers, wholesalers and commercial ingredient customers. Additionally, bulk food products are sold to commercial ingredient users. Moreover, an assortment of sunflower kernels, pepitas, snack mixes, almond butter, cashew butter, candy and confections, corn snacks, chickpea snacks, sesame sticks and other sesame snack products are sold to retail supermarkets, mass merchandisers and commercial ingredient users with a wide variety of toppings for ice cream and yogurt sold to commercial ingredient users. (iii) Customers and Channels We sell our products to approximately 240 customers through the consumer, commercial ingredient and contract manufacturing distribution channels. The consumer channel supplies nut-based and snack bar products, including consumer-packaged products, to retailers in the United States including supermarket chains, wholesalers, supercenters, internet retailers and other retail outlets. We sell products through the consumer channel under our brand names, including the Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand, Southern Style Nuts and Just the Cheese brands, as well as under our customersâ€™ private brands. The commercial ingredient channel supplies nut-based products to other manufacturers to use as ingredients in their final food products such as bakery, confection, cereal and ice cream. This produces nut-based products that are customized to the specifications of chefs, national restaurant chains, foodservice distributors, fast food chains, institutions and hotel kitchens. We sell products through the commercial ingredient channel under our Fisher brand and our customersâ€™ private brands. Our contract manufacturing channel primarily processes and packages nut and fruit-based snacks for other food manufacturers under their brand names and in accordance with their specifications. We are dependent on a few significant customers for a majority of our total net sales, particularly in the consumer channel. Net sales to Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. accounted for approximately 39% of our net sales for fiscal 2024, 36% of our net sales for fiscal 2023 and 35% of our net sales for fiscal 2022. Net sales to Target Corporation accounted for approximately 13% of our net sales for fiscal 2024, 15% of our net sales for fiscal 2023 and 14% of our net sales for fiscal 2022. No other customer accounted for more than 10% of net sales for any period presented. (iv) Sales and Distribution We market our products through our own sales department and through a network of approximately 60 independent brokers, independent distributors and suppliers, including group purchasing organizations. We distribute products from each of our principal facilities. The majority of our products are shipped from our facilities by contract and common carriers. 3 Â We operate a retail store at our Elgin headquarters. This store sells Fisher snack and recipe products, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand, Southern Style Nut and Just the Cheese products, bulk foods and other products, produced by us and other vendors directly to consumers. (v) Marketing Marketing strategies are developed for each distribution channel and focus primarily on branded products. Branded consumer efforts concentrate on building brand awareness, developing, identifying and introducing new products, attracting new customers and increasing distribution and consumption in the snack nut, recipe nut and produce categories. Private brand and commercial ingredient channel efforts are focused on category management, new product identification and introduction, brand awareness and merchandising support. A significant portion of our branded marketing efforts are focused on compelling consumer campaigns that include advertisements (e.g., online video, social and influencer activations and partnerships, search engine marketing and media partnerships), product sampling and coupon offers. Our integrated marketing efforts for the Fisher brand include partnerships with chefs, influencers and media partnerships. Additionally, shipper display units and other point of sale promotions are utilized in retail stores in an effort to gain additional temporary product placement and to drive sales volume. We work with third-party information agencies, such as Circana (formerly IRi), to monitor the effectiveness of our marketing and measure product growth in comparison to our competition and the product category. Commercial ingredient trade promotion typically includes periodically attending regional and national trade shows, trade publication advertising and one-on-one marketing efforts. These promotional efforts highlight our processing capabilities, broad product portfolio, product customization and packaging innovation. Through participation in several trade associations, funding of industry research and sponsorship of educational programs, we support efforts to increase awareness of the health benefits, convenience and versatility of nuts as both a snack and a recipe ingredient among existing and future consumers of nuts. We also manufacture trail mixes and snack bars that are designed to give our customers and their families options in their snacking choices that range from healthy to indulgent. We expect to contine increasing our participation and funding with trade associations and groups to focus on sustainability efforts while continuing to partner with farmers to further mitigate climate and other environmental risks. (vi) Competition Our nuts, snack bars, and other snack food products compete against products manufactured and sold by numerous other companies offering branded and private brand products in the snack food industry, some of whom are substantially larger and have greater resources than us. In the nut industry, we compete with, among others, Hormel Foods Corp. (Planters brand), Diamond brand and numerous regional snack food processors. In the snack bar industry, we compete with, among others, General Mills (Nature Valley brand), Frito Lay (Quaker brand), Mondelez (Clif brand), Kellonova (Nutragrain brand), Mars (Kind brand) as well as regional snack bar manufacturers. Competitive factors in our markets include price, product quality, customer service, breadth of product line, brand name awareness, method of distribution, sales promotion, category management, service level compliance and innovation. The combination of our generally vertically integrated operating model with respect to pecans, peanuts and walnuts, our product quality, product offering, brand strength, innovation, distribution model and our focus on nut, snack bar and nut related products generally enable us to compete in each of these categories; however there can be no guarantee that our products will continue to be competitive with many of our larger competitors. See Part I, Item 1A â€" â€œRisk Factorsâ€. (vii) Raw Materials and Supplies We purchase nuts from domestic and foreign sources. In fiscal 2024, all of our walnuts, almonds and peanuts were purchased from domestic sources. We purchase our pecans from the southern United States and Mexico. Cashew nuts are imported from Vietnam and certain West African countries. For fiscal 2024, approximately 28% of the dollar value of our total nut purchases was from foreign sources. Competition in the nut shelling industry is driven by shellersâ€™ ability to access and purchase raw nuts, to shell the nuts efficiently and to sell the nuts to processors. We shell all major domestic nut types, with the exception of almonds, and are among a few select shellers who further process, package and sell nuts to the end-user. Raw material pricing pressure and the high cost of equipment automation have previously contributed to a consolidation among shellers across all nut types, especially peanuts and pecans. As discussed, we are generally vertically integrated with respect to pecans, peanuts and walnuts. Unlike our major consumer distribution channel competitors who purchase nuts on the open market, we purchase a substantial portion of our pecans, peanuts and walnuts directly from growers. 4 Â Due, in part, to the seasonal nature of the industry, we maintain significant inventories of peanuts, pecans and walnuts especially in the second and third quarters of our fiscal year. Fluctuations in the market price of pecans, peanuts and walnuts and other nuts may affect the value of our inventory and thus may also affect our gross profit and gross profit margin. See Part I, Item 1A â€" â€œRisk Factorsâ€. We purchase other inventory items and packaging materials such as roasting oils, seasonings, plastic jars, labels, wrappers, boxes, stand-up bags and composite and clear-plastic cans from other third parties. Material costs, including tree nuts, peanuts, other commodities, packaging and other edible ingredients represented approximately 72% of our total cost of sales for fiscal 2024. (viii) Trademarks and Patents We market our products primarily under name brands, including the Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand, Southern Style Nuts and Just the Cheese brand names. Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand, Southern Style Nuts and Just the Cheese are registered as trademarks with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office as well as in various other foreign jurisdictions. We do not own any trademarks for any private brands. Those trademarks are owned by the respective private brand customer. Our trademarks are important as they provide our customers with information about the quality of our products. However, registration and use of our trademarks in foreign jurisdictions may be subject to certain risks in addition to other risks generally related to our intellectual property. See Part I, Item 1A â€" â€œRisk Factorsâ€. We also own several patents of various durations. For the foreseeable future, we expect to continue to renew those trademarks that are important to our business as well as expand registration of our trademarks into new jurisdictions. We intend to protect our intellectual property rights vigorously. (ix) Human Capital As of June 27, 2024, we had approximately 1,800 full-time employees. We recognize that, in order for our company to be successful, our employees must be healthy, well-trained and motivated to do their best every day. Therefore, we relentlessly focus on attracting, retaining and effectively engaging our employees. The key aspects of our human resources program and objectives are as follows: Health and Safety: As a producer, manufacturer and processor of nuts, nut-related products and snack bars, we are subject to extensive food and employee safety laws and regulations. We place a high priority on employee health and safety as part of our continuous improvement culture. Our total occupational injury rate remains in line with the food manufacturing industry average. We continue to enhance our safety programs by investing in systems and controls focused on injury and accident prevention, as well as risk elimination. During fiscal 2024, we continued focusing on refining our programs, including lock-out tag-out, forklift training and emergency evacuation, which help us to reduce safety risks, along with enhancing machine guarding on our manufacturing lines to increase employee safety. We believe properly prioritizing risks and addressing the most critical safety matters helps us to be proactive in building a sustainable safety culture. Diversity, Equity and Inclusion: We recognize that our business is stronger and more successful when supported by a diverse workforce. Our goal is to maintain and promote diversity among our employees, foster an inclusive and equitable environment where differences are celebrated and provide adequate support to achieve our goal. In fiscal 2024, our Diversity, Equity and Inclusion council organized various events facilitated through our Employee Resource Groups. Our leadership team also completed equity training to learn inclusive communication strategies to further advance equity and inclusion in the workplace. Training, Development and Promotion: We believe that training, developing and promoting our employees is an important part of our vibrant employee culture. These measures enhance our performance and are an important component of maintaining employee satisfaction. We offer training to our employees on a variety of subjects related to professional development, workplace fundamentals, business, computer applications and industry specific subjects such as our Nutology-101 courses. In fiscal 2024, 34 employees participated in our Leadership Development program. As a result of the program many participants were able to move into roles of increasing responsibility with us. In fiscal 2024, approximately 15% of our employees received promotions and a promotion-related salary increases. We also conduct annual mandatory training for all employees covering topics such as food safety, workplace safety and various regulatory and compliance related subjects. Our mentorship program pairs emerging talent with executive leadership, which is designed to broaden talent networks, increase exposure to cross-functional initiatives and build leadership competencies. In fiscal 2024, we introduced our new leadership competency matrix, highlighting a variety of skills, capabilities and behaviors, that is designed to help us develop impactful leaders and better measure leadership effectiveness. 5 Â Employee Engagement: In fiscal 2024, we continued to focus on employee engagement and retention. We believe that credible leadership drives engagement and promotes retention. Therefore, we purposefully continue to emphasize the importance of being an effective leader and offer various leadership training courses to our management team. In fiscal 2024, all people managers had an annual goal of being an inclusive and engaging leader, which was measured by the leadership engagement score obtained through the annual employee engagement survey. Additionally, we periodically conduct employee surveys to monitor employee satisfaction, engagement and concerns. Employee Rewards: Through our Sanfilippo Value Added (â€œSVAâ€) and Total Team Performance (â€œTTPâ€) incentive programs, we provide annual cash bonus opportunities to motivate and reward our employees, as well as align their interests with those of our stockholders. Employees participate in the SVA or TTP program, not both. Approximately 17% of our employees participate in the SVA program and approximately 67% participate in the TTP program. In addition, approximately 15% of our employees received special discretionary bonuses, primarily related to our acquisition, integration and optimization of the Lakeville snack bar business. In addition to the SVA and TTP incentive programs, we offer annual sales incentives to our sales and marketing employees and annual monetary leadership awards to our top performers across all functions. We are also proud to offer a comprehensive and competitive benefits package designed to meet the diverse needs of our employees at every stage of life, which includes a company-sponsored healthcare program, a student loan repayment program, a 401(k) program with a generous company matching contribution and a non-qualified deferred compensation plan to provide executives with the opportunity to accumulate assets for retirement on a tax-deferred basis. In fiscal 2024, we enhanced our 401(k) program by introducing a Roth 401(k) option. We continue to closely monitor the competitiveness of our compensation programs. In fiscal 2024, more than 92% of our employees received wage adjustments. Codes of Conduct; Oversight of Concerns: We maintain codes of conduct and ethics policies designed to promote ethical conduct of our employees and agents. We have also implemented a robust program to address employee concerns and complaints, which includes an anonymous incident reporting system, periodic employee surveys and suggestion boxes that can result in monetary awards. Our employees are made aware of such reporting system through various communication methods, including assurances against retaliation. We regularly monitor best practices in this area to ensure our policies and practices are updated as appropriate. (x) Seasonality Our business is seasonal. Demand for peanut and tree nut products is highest during the last four months of the calendar year. Peanuts, pecans and walnuts, three of our principal raw materials, are primarily purchased between September and February and are processed throughout the year until the following harvest. Demand for snack bars is the highest during our first fiscal quarter. As a result of this seasonality, our personnel requirements rise during the first half of our fiscal year. Our working capital requirements generally peak during the third quarter of our fiscal year. (xi) Government Regulations, Operating Hazards and Uninsured Risks The sale of food products for human consumption involves the risk of injury to consumers as a result of product contamination or spoilage, including the presence of shell fragments, foreign objects, insects, foreign substances, pathogens, chemicals, mycotoxins and other hazards, or agents or residues introduced during the growing, storage, handling, processing or transportation phases. We (i) maintain what we believe to be rigid quality control standards and food safety systems that is evident in our annual Safe Quality Food (â€œSQFâ€) certification at each manufacturing facility; (ii) generally inspect our nut and other food products by visual examination, screening, metal detectors or electronic monitors at various stages of our shelling and processing operations; (iii) work with the United States Department of Agriculture (â€œUSDAâ€) in its inspection of peanuts shipped to and from our peanut shelling facilities; (iv) maintain robust environmental pathogen programs; (v) seek to comply with the Nutrition Labeling and Education Act by labeling each product that we sell with labels that disclose the nutritional value and content of each of our products and (vi) assure compliance with the United States Food and Drug Administration (â€œFDAâ€) Food Safety Modernization Act (â€œFSMAâ€) through our comprehensive Food Safety Plans which include following Current Good Manufacturing Practices and control biological, chemical and physical hazards through our Process, Sanitation, Allergen and Supply Chain Preventive Controls. However, no assurance can be given that some nut or other food products sold by us may not contain or develop harmful substances. In order to mitigate this risk, we strive to select high-quality nut and ingredient suppliers as well as maintain product liability and contaminated product insurance at amounts we believe are adequate in light of our operations. A portion of our annual capital expenditure budget is allocated for compliance with government-mandated food safety standards. Compliance with food safety standards and other government regulations may have an impact on our operations and earnings, particularly if we fail to satisfy such standards or regulations and our products are recalled, harm our consumers or harm our Companyâ€™s reputation and standing as a leader of branded and private brand nut, snack bars, and other snack products. See Part I, Item 1A â€” â€œRisk Factorsâ€. 6 Â Item 1A â€” Risk Factors We face a number of significant risks and uncertainties, and therefore, an investment in our Common Stock is subject to risks and uncertainties. The factors described below could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. While each risk is described separately, some of these risks are interrelated and it is possible that certain risks could trigger the applicability of other risks described below. Also, the risks and uncertainties described below are not the only ones that we face. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or risks we view as not rising to the level of being material, could also potentially impair our business, results of operations and financial condition. Investors should consider the following factors, in addition to the other information contained in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, including Part II, Item 7 â€” â€œManagementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations â€” Liquidity and Capital Resourcesâ€ before deciding to purchase our Common Stock. Industry Risks We Have Limited Ability to Control the Availability or Cost of Raw Materials and this May Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Results of Operations, Cash Flows and Financial Condition The availability and cost of raw materials for producing our products are subject to crop size and yield fluctuations caused by factors beyond our control. These materials include peanuts, pecans, almonds, cashews, walnuts, pine nuts and other nuts, dried fruits and seeds, cocoa, as well as vegetable oils and other products used in the manufacture of our products. The factors beyond our control include adverse weather conditions, natural disasters (including floods, droughts, frosts, earthquakes and hurricanes), changing climate patterns, plant diseases, foreign currency fluctuations, trade agreements, tariffs and embargos, import/export controls, prices of other crops, labor shortages, inflationary conditions, political change and unrest, sanctions, revised sourcing regulations, armed hostilities, such as those in Ukraine and in the Middle East, changes in global customer demand, pandemics and disease, changes in government agricultural programs, federal and state government mandates related to the preceding or otherwise and purchasing behavior of certain countries, including China and India. Additionally, any determination by the USDA or other government agencies may also reduce the supply of edible nuts and other raw materials used in our products and could (among other things) cause our costs to increase significantly. These determinations include, but are not limited to, that certain pesticides, herbicides or other chemicals used by growers have left harmful residues on portions of the crop, negatively impact the environment, cause or may cause adverse health consequences, any portion of the crop has been contaminated by aflatoxin or other agents, or any future raw material or product recalls for other reasons. Because these raw materials are commodities, their prices are set by the market and can therefore fluctuate quickly and dramatically due to varied events, such as those described above. Furthermore, we are not able to hedge against changes in nut commodity prices because no appropriate futures, derivative or other risk-sharing market for these commodities exists nor can we create such a market. Consequently, in order to achieve or maintain profitability levels, we attempt to increase the prices of our products to reflect the increase in the costs of the raw materials that we use. However, we may not be successful in passing along partial or full price increases to our customers, if at all. In addition, even if we are successful in passing across partial or full price increases, we may not be able to do so in a timely fashion. Our ability to raise prices and the timing of any price increases is often dependent upon the actions of our competitors, some of whom are significantly larger and more diversified than we are or own farms which produce the raw materials. We have observed rapid inflation with respect to packaging and other products used to manufacture and package our products and general inflationary conditions that are difficult to predict, and we may not be able to pass along such inflationary increases to our customers or may not be able to do so in a timely fashion. Additionally, any such product price increase that we are able to pass along to our customers may ultimately reduce the demand for, and sales of, our products as customers reduce purchases, buy lower priced products or lower margin products. Alternatively, if the prices of any raw materials significantly decrease, and we have inventories of such materials on hand, we may be unable to reduce product prices without adversely impacting our gross margins or our customers will not pass along price decreases, which could impact overall demand. Any competitors who purchase such material on the open market or own the farms which produce the raw materials may be able to reduce prices in a more timely manner, and we could lose market share to such competitors. We are also subject to risks associated with purchasing a majority of our pecans, peanuts and walnuts directly from growers, including the risk of purchasing such products from growers at costs that later, due to altered market conditions, prove to be above prevailing market prices at time of sale. Accordingly, because we purchase a majority of our pecans, peanuts and walnuts directly from growers during harvest season and shell and process these nuts throughout our fiscal year, there is a possibility that, after we acquire these nuts, market conditions may change. Depending on these changing market conditions, we may be forced to sell these nuts at reduced prices relative to our acquisition cost. Any one or more of the foregoing aspects may have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. 7 Â Moreover, fluctuations in the market prices of nuts may affect the value of our inventories, margins and profitability. We enter into fixed price commitments with a portion of our commercial ingredient customers and certain other customers. The commitments are for a fixed period of time, typically three months to twelve months. Such commitments with a term of six months or more represented approximately 2% of our annual net sales in fiscal 2024. Sometimes we enter into fixed price commitments with respect to certain nut products before fixing our acquisition costs in order to maintain customer relationships or when, in managementâ€™s judgment, market or crop harvest conditions so warrant. To the extent we do so and our fixed prices are not properly aligned with our acquisition costs, these fixed price commitments may result in reduced or negative gross profit margins, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. We Operate in a Competitive Environment Which Could Materially and Adversely Affect our Financial Condition and Results of Operations We operate in a highly competitive environment. The principal areas of competition are, among others, brand recognition, taste, flavor, quality, packaging, price, nutrition, advertising, promotion, convenience and service. Our principal products compete against food and snack products manufactured and sold by numerous regional, national and international companies, some of which are substantially larger and have greater resources than us, such as Hormel Foods Corp. (Planters brand) Mondelez (Clif brand) and Kellonova (Nutragrain brand), among others. Most of our competitors that sell and market the other top branded snack nut products and snack bars have committed more financial, marketing and other resources to such brands when compared to the resources available to or spent by us on our brands. Additionally, many food retailers, supercenters, mass merchandisers and internet retailers have continued to emphasize their own private brand offerings as a key part of their strategy and may develop or expand their own private brand nut and nut product offerings and private brand snack bar offerings, to the exclusion of our branded products or private brand products, particularly in an uncertain economic environment or due to inflationary conditions. Other smaller competitors may be able to focus on faster-growing, niche markets that we are unable to market effectively to or otherwise sell to due to our size, operations, marketing strategy or perceptions regarding our Company. Additionally, certain food retailers and internet retailers may seek to invest in companies serving certain niche markets and/or offer shelf space, added promotional activity or other marketing efforts in exchange for ownership in such companies, which we are unable to offer to such food retailers or internet companies. Recent consolidation and mergers and acquisitions activity in the nut and snack food market has resulted in price competition as part of such consolidation or mergers and acquisitions activity. Many of our competitors buy their nuts on the open market and are thus not exposed to the risks of purchasing inshell pecans, peanuts, walnuts and other nut types directly from growers at fixed prices that later, due to altered market conditions, may prove to be above prevailing market prices. We also compete with other shellers in the commercial ingredients market and with regional processors in the retail and wholesale markets. In order to maintain or increase our market share, we must continue to price our products competitively and spend on marketing, advertising, new product innovation and shelf placement and slotting fees. This may cause a decline in gross profit margin if we are unable to increase sales volume or otherwise reduce our costs, which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Significant Private Brand Competitive Activity Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Sales and as a Result Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations Some customer buying decisions, including some of our largest private brand customers, are based upon a periodic bidding process in which a single, successful bidder is assured the right to sell the selected product or products to the food retailer, supercenter, mass merchandiser or internet retailer until the next bidding process to the exclusion of other bidders. Our sales volume may decrease significantly if our bids are too high and we lose the ability to sell products through these channels, even temporarily. Alternatively, we risk reducing our margins if our bids are successful, but below our desired price points. In addition, our margins could be further reduced if commodity prices or other input prices subsequently rise and customers are unwilling or unable to accept price increases. The nut and snack food industry has experienced consolidation and significant mergers and acquisitions activity in recent years. If certain of our competitors elect to reduce prices in order to increase sales or market share, our market share could decrease and this could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Many food retailers, supercenters, mass merchandisers and internet retailers have sought to develop or expand their private brand offerings in recent years. Should any of our significant customers elect to introduce or expand their private brand programs, and we do not participate in such programs, including due to undesirable margins or selling prices, our sales volume and margins could be negatively impacted. This is because the private brand programs would directly compete against our branded products or exclude our private brand or branded products due to shelf space or other concerns. Any of these outcomes may materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. 8 Â Changing Consumer Preferences and Demand Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations Our financial performance depends in part on our ability to anticipate and offer products to our customers that appeal to their preferences. Consumer preferences can quickly change based on a number of factors beyond our control. These preferences may include, but are not limited to, preference for branded or private brand products, options to purchase such products and the format, and various quantity or volume sizes of such products. If we fail to anticipate, identify or react quickly to these changes and are unable to develop and market new and improved products or otherwise offer products that meet consumer preferences, demand for our products could suffer. In addition, demand for our products could be affected by consumer concerns regarding the labeling, packaging, manner of preparing our products or concerns with respect to the health effects of nutrients or ingredients in any of our products or the overall sustainability or impact of our products on the environment. The development and introduction of new products and packaging or alteration of existing products and packaging requires substantial research and development, testing and marketing expenditures, which we may be unable to recover fully if the new products do not achieve the necessary commercial success. New product introduction also results in increased costs, including from the use of new manufacturing techniques, capital expenditures, new raw materials and ingredients, additional labor and consulting expenses, development or revision of packaging and labeling and additional marketing and trade spending. Consumers are also purchasing food products with increasing frequency outside traditional retail supermarkets, including via the Internet. If we are unable to provide customers with our products outside traditional retail supermarkets, supercenters and club stores, demand for our products could suffer and/or we will be unable to grow our business. Reduction in demand as a result of changing consumer preferences or inability to provide consumers with products they demand, or in the manner they demand, could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. We are Subject to Customer Pricing Pressures and Retail Consolidation Trends Which Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations As the retail grocery trade continues to consolidate and our retail customers grow larger, become more sophisticated, use data for purchasing decisions and obtain more purchasing power, our retail customers are demanding lower pricing, especially private brand customers, and increased free or discounted promotional programs. Further, these retail customers may begin to place a greater emphasis on the lowest-cost supplier in making purchasing decisions, especially during periods of increased or variable raw material acquisition costs or rapid inflation. An increased focus on the lowest-cost supplier could reduce the benefits of some of our competitive advantages, which include a focus on customer service, innovation, production capacity, category management and quality. As the retail environment consolidates, many customers are reducing inventories or focusing on a limited number of brands (often the number one or number two brand by market share) or a limited number of products or SKUs in making purchasing decisions. In addition, certain customers in the retail channel, such as dollar stores and other discount sellers, have become increasingly sophisticated and may demand similar pricing to retail grocery customers. As part of the retail consolidation trend, diversified companies with substantial Internet presences have increased their food offerings or purchased retail supermarkets to expand their grocery business, particularly as such companies focus on food delivery direct to consumers. Such companies have substantial pricing power and may focus on their products to the exclusion of our products. If we fail to respond to these trends, our sales volume growth could suffer, and it may become necessary to lower our prices and increase promotional support of our products. Any of these factors would materially and adversely affect our gross profit and gross profit margin and could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Food Safety, Allergy and Product Contamination Concerns Could Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations If consumers in our principal markets lose confidence in the health or safety of nut and snack bar products, particularly with respect to peanut and tree nut allergies, food borne illnesses, processes, ingredients and packaging used in the manufacturing process or other food safety matters, this could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Individuals with nut allergies may be at risk of serious illness or death resulting from the consumption of our nut and snack bar products, including consumption of the products of our customers which in turn contain our products as an ingredient. Notwithstanding our existing food safety controls, we process peanuts and tree nuts on the same equipment, and there is no guarantee that our other products will not be cross-contaminated. Concerns generated by risks of peanut and tree nut cross-contamination and other food safety matters, including food borne illnesses, may discourage consumers or our customers from buying our products, cause production and delivery disruptions or result in product recalls. Product safety issues concerning the products we manufacture, distribute and sell, and also concerning similar products not manufactured, distributed or sold by us, may materially and adversely affect demand for products in the nut industry as a whole, including products without actual safety problems. Decreases in demand for products in the industry generally could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. In addition, the cooling system at our Elgin, Illinois facility utilizes ammonia. If a leak in the system were to occur, there is a possibility that the inventory in cold storage at our Elgin, Illinois facility could be destroyed which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. 9 Â Product Liability, Product Recalls, Product Labeling and Product Advertising Claims May Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Results of Operations and Cash Flows We face risks associated with product liability claims, product recalls and other liabilities in the event: (i) our food safety and quality control procedures are ineffective or fail, (ii) we procure products or packaging from third parties that are or become subject to a recall, regardless of whether or not our food safety and quality control procedures are ineffective or fail, (iii) our products or packaging cause injury or become adulterated or misbranded, (iv) our products are determined to be promoted or labeled in a misleading fashion or do not contain required labeling or notices, (v) government authorities test our products and determine that they contain a contaminant or present a food safety risk, (vi) our products are tampered with, (vii) one of our competitors is subject to claims, recalls or other liabilities involving products similar to ours or (viii) federal, state or other government agencies or courts determine that our products could pose health risks or contain potentially harmful chemicals or other substances. In recent years, the food industry has been a target of litigation over product labeling and advertising, including nut and snack bar products. Such litigation may result in significant costs to defend and resolve. In addition, we do not control the labeling of the products of our customers that contain our products as an ingredient. A product recall of a sufficient quantity or significant adverse publicity, a significant product liability judgment against us, a significant advertising-related liability or other safety concerns (whether actual or claimed) could impact our products in a number of ways. These impacts could include unavailability of our product for a period of time, re-labeling or re-packaging products, loss of consumer confidence in our products and exposure to liabilities in excess of any insurance we maintain for such events, including to our private brand customers. As customers request revised and more sophisticated packaging, our packaging solutions may result in manufacturing defects or errors in the manufacture of such packaging, which could cause us to recall the products despite having proper food safety protocols. If these kinds of events were to occur, they would have a material adverse effect on the demand for our products, subject us to costly recalls or withdrawals, require us to spend significant amounts to change our operations to remedy such issues, and, consequently, could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and cash flows. Increased Production, Materials, Transportation and Insurance Costs Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations Our results are dependent on controlling a variety of costs. In the past we have experienced variability in transportation costs due to additional demand in shipping by a variety of market participants, a general shortage of drivers due to health and safety concerns, and increased fuel costs and federal regulations, which require increased monitoring of driving time using electronic monitoring technology. In addition to transportation costs, we have experienced (and may continue to experience) increased commodity or raw material costs, increased packaging material prices, higher general water, energy and fuel costs, increased labor costs as well as increased insurance costs, such as for property and workersâ€™ compensation insurance. Maintaining the prices of our products, initiating price increases (including passing along price increases for commodities used in our products) and increasing the demand for our products (especially when prices for our products are decreasing due to commodity price decreases), all of which are important to our plans to increase profitability, may be materially and adversely affected or undermined by such increases in production and operation costs. Material and sustained increases in any of the foregoing costs could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Technology Disruptions, Failures or Breaches, Hacking Activity, Ransomware Attacks or Other Cybersecurity Events Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations We depend on information technology to maintain and streamline our operations, including, among other things, (i) interfacing and communicating with our locations, customers and suppliers, (ii) complying with financial reporting, legal and tax regulatory requirements, (iii) maintaining logistics, inventory control and monitoring systems, (iv) providing us with real-time feedback about our business and (v) allowing continuity of operations. Like other companies, our information technology systems or information technology systems of our customers, vendors, counterparties and other third party providers may be vulnerable to a variety of interruptions due to events beyond our control, including natural disasters, terrorist attacks, government-sponsored or affiliated cyberattacks, telecommunications failures, outages during replacement or upgrades, computer viruses, phishing activity, hardware failures, cloud-based technology outages, power outages, hackers, social engineering attacks, loss or theft of hardware, ransomware attacks, cyber risks and other security issues. We have technology security initiatives, cyber insurance and disaster recovery plans in place to mitigate our risk to these vulnerabilities, but these measures may not be adequate, particularly as the global dependence on technology grows, the sophistication of cyber threats increase. Moreover, if we are unable to prevent security breaches or disclosure of non-public information, we may suffer financial damage, in addition to litigation or remediation costs or penalties because of the unauthorized disclosure of confidential information belonging to us or to our customers, consumers, or suppliers. If we were subject to a ransomware attack, we may be required to pay ransom in amounts that could be material to our financial condition. 10 Â In addition, we have outsourced several information technology support services and administrative functions to third-party service providers. We may outsource other functions in the future to achieve cost savings and efficiencies. If the service providers to which we outsource these functions do not perform effectively, we may not be able to achieve the expected cost savings and may have to incur additional costs to correct errors made by such service providers. Depending on the function involved, such errors may also lead to business disruption, processing inefficiencies, the loss of or damage to intellectual property through security breach, the loss of sensitive data through security breach, or otherwise. While we or any third-party service provider have not experienced any significant disruption, failure or breach impacting our information technology systems, any such disruption, failure or breach could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Increases in Labor Costs or Work Stoppages or Strikes Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations As the number of our employees has grown, personnel costs, including the costs of medical and other employee health and welfare benefits, have increased. These costs can vary substantially as a result of an increase in the number, mix and experience of our employees and changes in health care and other employment-related laws. There are no assurances that we will succeed in reducing future increases in such costs, particularly if government regulations require us to change our health and welfare benefits, government regulations impose additional monitoring and compliance expenses, or we need to attract and retain additional qualified personnel or provide extra compensation due to other reasons. Increases in personnel costs can also be amplified by low unemployment rates, increased inflation, our preferences among workers in the labor market and general tight labor market conditions in any of the areas where we operate. Our inability to control such costs could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Although we consider our labor relations to be good, if a significant number of our employees engaged in a work slowdown, or other type of labor unrest, it could in some cases impair our ability to supply our products to customers. This event could result in reduced sales, and may distract our management from focusing on our business and strategic priorities. Any of these activities could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. The Impact of Changing Climate Patterns Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operation We have observed a number of changing climate patterns in the U.S. and internationally. These changing climate patterns have caused weather patterns to change, and we have experienced severe droughts, floods, frosts, hurricanes, tornadoes, cold and warmer temperatures, adverse air conditions and other previously abnormal natural events. These weather events could impact the ability of our growers and producers to consistently provide us with the quality and quantity of nut and nut related products or other raw materials that we require, and in turn, cause the prices of certain nuts and raw materials to increase or change in unpredictable ways. Any long-term changes in climate patterns could prevent growers from growing or harvesting nuts or other raw materials in previous quantities, or at all, as many nut products require particular soil, water and climate conditions in order to grow or have acceptable yields. Because we (and our growers) cannot predict, change or insure against changing climate patterns, our ability to react to these changes is limited. If we and our growers and producers cannot adapt to changing climate patterns, our financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. We and our Customers, Suppliers and Transport Partners Face Various Risks Related to Epidemics, Pandemics and Similar Outbreaks of Infectious Diseases which May Have a Material Adverse Effect on our Business, Financial Condition, Liquidity and Results of Operations The COVID-19 pandemic of 2020 and 2021 caused significant disruptions in both the U.S. and international economies, including in the geographic areas where our products are manufactured and sold, and the geographic areas from which our supply inputs are obtained. Similar disease outbreaks in the future, may decrease demand for our products or certain of our products (or within certain distribution channels) due to limitations on the ability of consumers and other customers to purchase our products at retailers or other points of sale or due to the adverse impact on the economy as a result of such disease outbreaks. In addition, there is no guarantee that our current production operations (or current or customary production levels) would continue in the event of an infectious disease outbreak. If a significant percentage of our workforce, or the workforce of our customers, suppliers or transportation providers, are unable to work because of illness, government restrictions or exposure to an infectious disease, our ability to manufacture, sell and transport our products could be materially impacted. 11 Â Business Risks Negative Consumer Perception About Our Company, Our Values and Practices or our Branded or Private Brand Products Could Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations Our ability to develop, maintain and continually enhance consumer perceptions about our Company and our branded products is critical to improving our operating and financial performance. The value of our Company and our branded products is largely based on the degree to which consumers react and respond positively to our operations and our brands. Positive views of our Company and our brand value could diminish significantly due to a number of factors, including (i) consumer perception that we have acted in an irresponsible or reckless manner, (ii) negative perception about the actions or values of our Company, our management or large stockholders, (iii) adverse publicity about our products and Company operations (whether actual or fictitious), (iv) product recalls or failure to maintain the quality of our products, (v) the failure of our products to deliver consistently positive consumer experiences, (vi) concerns about food safety, allergies, or the availability of our products, (vii) concerns about the sustainability of our operations and products, or (viii) the actual impact or perceptions about the impact that our operations or products have on the environment. Customer, vendor, stockholder and government views on our sustainability and environmental practices and values can change quickly due to events beyond our control and we may not be able to effectively change or communicate our practices and values to avoid negative perceptions. In addition, our success in enhancing the value of our Company and our branded products depends on our ability to adapt to a rapidly changing media environment. We increasingly rely on social media and online advertising campaigns as well as advertising outside of traditional print and television channels. Negative posts or comments (whether actual or fictitious) about us or the type of products we produce, market or sell on online social networks, product review sites, message boards or similar online activity could seriously impact consumer demand for our products. We are subject to a variety of legal and regulatory restrictions on how we market and advertise our products. These restrictions may limit our ability to respond as the media and communications environment continues to evolve. If we do not react appropriately or effectively, then our product sales, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. We are Dependent Upon Certain Significant Customers Which Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition, Cash Flows and Results of Operations We are dependent on a few significant customers for a large portion of our total net sales, particularly in the consumer channel. Sales to our five largest customers represented approximately 66%, 64% and 63% of net sales in fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022, respectively. As discussed in â€œItem 1- Businessâ€, sales to Wal-Mart and Target represented a majority of such sales to our five largest customers. There can be no assurance that all significant customers will continue to purchase our branded or private brand products in the same quantities, same product mix or on the same terms as in the past, particularly as increasingly powerful retailers demand lower pricing, different packaging, larger marketing support or payments for retail space, establish private brands or request other terms of sale which negatively impact our profitability or sales. Many of our largest customers emphasize sales at physical locations and a significant shift to Internet sales may impact the amount and types of products they purchase from us. A loss of one of our largest customers, a material decrease in purchases by one of our largest customers, the inability to collect a receivable from or a significant business interruption at one of our largest customers would result in decreased sales and would materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. We are Dependent on Certain Key Personnel and the Loss of Any of Their Services or Our Inability to Attract, Retain and Motivate a Qualified and Diverse Workforce Could Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Results of Operations Our future success will be largely dependent on the personal efforts of our senior operating management team. We believe that the expertise and knowledge of these key members of management in the industry, and in their respective fields, is a critical factor to our growth and success. Although some of our officers own significant amounts of our Class A Stock, these individuals have not entered into any employment or non-compete agreements with us, nor do we have key officer insurance coverage policies in effect. The departure of any of these individuals or their inability to perform their duties due to illness, disability, injury or other similar events could have a material adverse effect on our business and prospects and that in turn would have a material adverse effect on our results of operations. Our success is also dependent upon our ability to attract, retain and motivate a qualified and diverse workforce, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to do so, particularly during times of increased labor costs or labor shortages. 12 Â Our Products are Processed at a Limited Number of Production Facilities and any Significant Disruption at any of Our Production Facilities or Disruption with a Third-Party Supplier Could Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations Our products are shelled, manufactured or otherwise processed at our various production facilities. However, certain nut and nut-related products, including the shelling of peanuts, walnuts and pecans and processing and packaging of certain other products, are conducted only at a single location. If any of these production facilities experience a disruption for any reason, including a work stoppage, power failure, fire, pandemic, terrorism, cyberattack, labor event or weather or climate related condition or natural disaster, this could result in a significant reduction or elimination of the availability of some of our products. In addition, a dispute with, or disruption at, a significant third-party supplier, service provider, distributor or customer may impact our ability to produce, package, market, transport and sell our products. If we were not able to obtain alternate production, shelling or processing capability in a timely manner or on satisfactory terms, this could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. Inability to Identify, Manage and Integrate Acquisitions and Joint Ventures Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations As part of our strategy, we have and intend to make capability related acquisitions and investments in and enter into strategic relationships with established products and growth-stage companies to take advantage of our manufacturing and supply chain expertise and diversify our product line, such as our acquisition of the Lakeville facility in the 2024 fiscal year. However, we may be unsuccessful in managing or integrating completed acquisitions, joint ventures, or investments, identifying additional acquisitions or joint ventures, or negotiating favorable financial or other terms with third parties which are attractive or advantageous to grow or otherwise supplement our existing business. In addition, the identification, negotiation and completion of any acquisition, joint venture, or investment may divert managementâ€™s attention from ordinary business matters, require a number of one-time or ongoing advisory costs, result in the loss of employees or customers of our business or the acquired business, involve the assumption of unknown and potentially significant liabilities or result in impairment charges or write-downs if the assumptions underlying the purchase are not satisfied or operating performance suffers. Due to various uncertainties inherent in such activities, we may be unable to achieve a substantial portion of any anticipated benefits or cost savings from previous acquisitions, joint ventures, or investments or other anticipated benefits in the timeframe we anticipate, or at all. Any inability to realize the anticipated benefits from any of the foregoing could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Regulatory and Legal Risks We are Subject to Government Regulation Which Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Results of Operations We are subject to extensive regulation by the FDA, the USDA, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (â€œEPAâ€) and other state, local and foreign authorities in jurisdictions where our products are manufactured, processed or sold. We are also subject to Californiaâ€™s Proposition 65, which requires that clear and reasonable warnings be given to consumers who are exposed to certain chemicals deemed by the state of California to be dangerous. Among other things, these regulations govern the manufacturing, importation, processing, packaging, storage, distribution, advertising and labeling of our products. Our manufacturing and processing facilities and products are subject to periodic compliance inspections by federal, state, local and foreign authorities. We are also subject to environmental regulations governing the discharge of air emissions, water and food waste, the usage and storage of pesticides, and the generation, handling, storage, transportation, treatment and disposal of waste materials. Amendments to existing statutes and regulations, adoption of new statutes and regulations, increased production at our existing facilities as well as our expansion into new operations and jurisdictions may require us to obtain additional licenses and permits and could require us to adapt or alter methods of operations at costs that could be substantial. Due to changing climate patterns and concerns over the environmental impact or sustainability of our products, we may be subject to additional governmental regulations focused on how we produce or source raw materials for our products. Compliance with applicable laws and regulations may be time-consuming, expensive or costly to us in different ways and could materially and adversely affect our results of operations. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations could subject us to civil remedies, including fines, injunctions, recalls or seizures, as well as possible criminal sanctions, or other litigation and claims, which could materially and adversely affect our results of operations. Specifically, governmental policies affecting the agricultural industry, such as taxes, tariffs, duties, subsidies, incentives and import and export restrictions on agricultural commodities and commodity products, can influence the planting, location and size of certain crops, whether commodity products are traded, the volume and types of imports and exports, and the viability and volume of production of certain of our products. In addition, international trade disputes, sanctions and armed hostilities can adversely affect commodity trade flows by limiting or disrupting trade between countries or regions. Future government policies may adversely affect the supply of, demand for, and prices of our products, restrict our ability to do business in its existing and target markets, and negatively impact our revenues and operating results. 13 Â The FSMA gives the FDA expanded authorities over the safety of the national food supply, including increased inspections and mandatory recalls, as well as stricter enforcement actions, each of which could result in additional compliance costs and civil remedies, including fines, injunctions, withdrawals, recalls or seizures and confiscations. The FSMA further instructed the FDA to develop new rules and regulations, including the performance of hazard analyses, implementation of preventive plans to control hazards, and foreign supplier verification provisions, mitigation strategies to protect food against intentional adulteration, sanitary transport of food and food traceability. We currently have food safety plans which build upon established food safety principles of â€œhazard analysis and critical control pointsâ€ (â€œHACCPâ€) procedures and developed food defense plans that address concerns as a result of FSMA. HACCP is a management system in which food safety is addressed through the analysis and control of hazards from raw material production, procurement and handling, to manufacturing, distribution and consumption of the finished product. We are a publicly traded company and subject to changing rules and regulations of federal and state governments as well as other regulatory entities. These entities, including the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, the SEC, the Department of Justice and the Nasdaq Global Select Market, have issued a significant number of new and increasingly complex requirements and regulations over the last several years and continue to develop additional regulations and requirements in response to laws enacted by Congress or otherwise. In addition, many states are enacting laws and issuing rules and regulations that may conflict with the laws of other states or require specific actions in response to those laws, rules and regulations. Our efforts to comply with these requirements have resulted in, and are likely to continue to result in, an increase in expenses and a diversion of managementâ€™s time from other business activities. Failure to comply with any law or regulation could subject us to civil or criminal remedies, including fines and injunctions, which could materially and adversely affect our results of operations. Operational, Legal, Economic, Political and Social Risks of Doing Business in International Markets and Other Foreign Countries May Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Results of Operations Approximately 28% of the dollar value of our total nut purchases for fiscal 2024 were made from foreign countries. We purchase our cashews from Vietnam and certain West African countries and some of our pecans from Mexico. We also purchase sunflower oil and certain other ingredients that are sourced from Ukraine. To this extent, we are exposed to various risks inherent in international markets, including increased governmental ownership and regulation of the economy, greater likelihood of inflation and adverse economic conditions, governmental attempts to control inflation, such as setting interest rates and maintaining wage and price controls, supply reduction into the United States from increased demand in foreign countries, international competition, compliance with, and subjection to, foreign laws, including our ability to protect our intellectual property, such as our brands, compliance with U.S. laws and regulations related to conduct in foreign countries, such as the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, currency exchange rates, potential for contractual defaults or forced renegotiations on purchase contracts with limited legal recourse, foreign countriesâ€™ response to the aftereffects of COVID-19, tariffs, quotas, duties, import and export restrictions, sanctions, armed hostilities and other barriers to trade that may reduce our profitability or sales and civil unrest, armed hostilities and significant political instability. The existence of risks in international markets and other foreign countries could jeopardize or limit our ability to purchase sufficient supplies of cashews, pecans and other imported raw materials and limit our ability to make international sales, and may materially and adversely affect our results of operations by increasing the costs of doing business overseas. Litigation Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations We have been the subject of litigation and investigations in the past, and we may become the subject of litigation and investigations in the future, which may include lawsuits or claims related to contracts, intellectual property, product recalls, product liability, the marketing and labeling of products, employment matters, wage and hour matters, environmental matters, debt obligations or other aspects of our business. Plaintiffs or regulatory bodies could seek recovery of very large or indeterminate amounts, and the magnitude of the potential loss relating to lawsuits and investigations is difficult to estimate accurately. Additionally, many of our customer contracts require us to indemnify and assume the defense of any third-party claim against the customer, increasing the risk of litigation related to our operations or products. Regardless of whether any claims against us are valid, or whether we are ultimately held liable, such litigation and investigations may be expensive to defend and may divert time, money and management attention away from our operations and negatively impact our financial performance. We maintain insurance in amounts we believe to be adequate based on our business operations. However, we may incur claims or liabilities for which we are not insured, that exceed the amount of our insurance coverage or that our insurers may raise various objections and exceptions to coverage. A judgment or settlement for significant monetary damages or requiring other significant changes to our business or assets could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Any adverse publicity resulting from allegations or investigations may also adversely affect our reputation and the reputation of our products, which in turn could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations or result in serious and adverse operational consequences. 14 Â Inability to Protect Our Intellectual Property or Avoid Intellectual Property Disputes Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations We consider our intellectual property rights, particularly and most notably our brand trademarks (such as our Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand, Southern Style Nuts and Just the Cheese trademarks), but also our patents, trade secrets, know-how copyrights and licensing agreements, to be a significant and valuable aspect of our business. We attempt to protect our intellectual property rights through a combination of patent, service mark, trademark, copyright and trade secret laws, as well as licensing agreements, third-party nondisclosure and assignment agreements and policing of third-party misuses of our intellectual property both domestically and internationally. Our failure to obtain or adequately protect our trademarks, products, new features of our products, or our trade secrets and technology, or any change in law or other changes that serve to lessen or remove the current legal protections of our intellectual property, may diminish our competitiveness and could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. In addition, we may be unaware of intellectual property rights of others that may cover some of our technology, brands or products. Any disputes regarding patents or other intellectual property could be costly and time-consuming and could divert the attention of our management and key personnel from our business operations. Third-party claims of intellectual property infringement might also require us to enter into costly license agreements. We also may be subject to significant damages or injunctions against development and sale of certain products if found to be liable for infringing activity. Any such activities could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Financial Risks Certain of Our Stockholders Possess a Majority of Aggregate Voting Power in the Company and Stockholders within The Sanfilippo Group Have Pledged Shares of their Class A Stock, Which May Make a Takeover or Change in Control More or Less Difficult and Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations As of August 21, 2024, Jeffrey T. Sanfilippo, Jasper B. Sanfilippo, Jr., Lisa A. Sanfilippo, John E. Sanfilippo and James J. Sanfilippo (the â€œSanfilippo Groupâ€) own or control Common Stock (one vote per share) and Class A Stock (ten votes per share on all matters other than the election of Common Stock directors) representing approximately a 50.6% voting interest in the Company. As of August 21, 2024, Michael J. Valentine (the â€œValentine Groupâ€) owns or controls Common Stock (one vote per share) and Class A Stock (ten votes per share on all matters other than the election of Common Stock directors) representing approximately a 23.8% voting interest in the Company. In addition, the Sanfilippo Group and the Valentine Group as holders of the Class A Stock are entitled to elect seven Class A Directors, which represents 70% of our entire Board of Directors. As a result, the Sanfilippo Group and the Valentine Group together are able to direct the election of a majority of the members to the Board of Directors. In addition, the Sanfilippo Group is able to exert certain influence on our business, or take certain actions, that cannot be counteracted by another stockholder or group of stockholders. The Sanfilippo Group is able to determine the outcome of nearly all matters submitted to a vote of our stockholders, including any amendments to our certificate of incorporation or bylaws. The Sanfilippo Group has the power to prevent or cause dividends, or a change in control or sale of the Company, which may or may not be in the best interests of other stockholders, and can take other actions that may be less favorable to other stockholders and more favorable to the Sanfilippo Group, subject to applicable legal limitations, which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. The Way in Which We Measure Inventory May Have a Material Adverse Effect on Our Results of Operations We physically acquire our inshell nut inventories of pecans, peanuts and walnuts from growers and farmers in large quantities at harvest times, which are primarily during the second and third quarters of our fiscal year, and receive nut shipments in bulk truckloads. The weights of these nuts are measured using truck scales at the time of receipt, and inventories are recorded based on those measurements. The nuts are then stored in bulk in large warehouses to be shelled or processed throughout the year. Bulk-stored nut inventories are relieved through continuous high-speed bulk weighing systems as the nuts are shelled or processed or on the basis of calculations derived from the weight of the shelled nuts that are produced. While we perform various procedures periodically to confirm the accuracy of our bulk-stored nut inventories, these inventories are estimates that must be periodically adjusted to account for positive or negative variations in quantities and yields, and such adjustments directly affect earnings. The quantities of each crop year bulk-stored nut inventories are generally shelled out over a ten to fifteen-month period, at which time revisions to any estimates, which historically averaged less than 1.0% (but it cannot be guaranteed to continue under this level) of inventory purchases, are also recorded. The precise amount of our bulk-stored nut inventories is not known until the entire quantity of the particular nut is depleted, which may not necessarily occur every year. Prior crop year inventories may still be on hand as the new crop year inventories are purchased. The majority of bulk-stored nut inventories at June 27, 2024 will be processed during the first half of fiscal 2025 and any adjustment to our bulk stored nut inventory quantity will be recorded at that time. There can be no assurance that any bulk stored nut inventory quantity adjustments will not have a material adverse effect on our results of operations in the future. 15 Â Item 1B â€” Unresolved Staff Comments None. Item 1C â€” Cybersecurity Overview and Leadership The Company maintains a company-wide risk management system focused on detecting, identifying, defending against and mitigating the impact of cybersecurity risks in order to guard our information technology systems and protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of our information technology processes and data. Our Board of Directors (the â€œBoardâ€) is responsible for the oversight of cybersecurity risks, including through the delegation of certain cybersecurity oversight authority to the Audit Committee of the Board. The Companyâ€™s information security function and management team is led by our Vice President of Information Technology and Cybersecurity, who has approximately 38 years of experience in the information technology area and holds the CISM certification, and our Senior Director of Information Technology Infrastructure and Cybersecurity, who has approximately 25 years of experience in the information technology area and holds CISSP, CCSP, CISM, and OSCP certifications. The information security team is responsible for monitoring, managing and assessing cybersecurity risks and threats on a day-to-day basis. In particular, the information security team monitors, assesses and mitigates threats and is responsible for improving and strengthening the Companyâ€™s cybersecurity environment. As discussed below, the information security team works with nationally recognized third parties and licenses various cybersecurity tools and products to assist with assessing and managing cybersecurity risks. The information security team regularly interacts and discusses cybersecurity matters with our Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Chief Operating Officer and General Counsel as part of our company-wide risk management system. The information security team has plans and processes in place to escalate certain cybersecurity issues to senior management and the Board or the Audit Committee, including for consideration of whether, when and how to publicly disclose any material cybersecurity event. In addition, we maintain insurance to help reduce our exposure from potential losses should a cybersecurity incident arise. The information security team undertakes or engages in the following practices and activities, among others, as part of the Companyâ€™s risk management system: â€¢updating of software and hardware (including firmware) for vulnerabilities and required patches; â€¢regular employee training and education to identify and avoid cybersecurity risks and threats at each level of the organization; â€¢developing, implementing and testing incident response and information recovery plans to assess and respond to cybersecurity threats and incidents; â€¢collaborating with our internal audit function and other internal teams for the testing of cybersecurity controls and procedures; â€¢identifying and managing cybersecurity risks presented by third parties, including cybersecurity vendors, cybersecurity software and hardware providers, other vendors and customers, service providers and other parties with access to the Companyâ€™s systems and data; as well as the systems of third parties that could adversely impact our operations or business in the event of a cybersecurity incident affecting those third-party systems; â€¢overseeing threat intelligence systems and notification procedures; and â€¢maintaining technology solutions for cybersecurity prevention and defense, including outside firewalls, multifactor authentication systems, separate intrusion prevention and detection systems, anti-virus and anti-malware products and remote access controls. 16 Â Use of Third Parties The Company has engaged, and intends to continue to engage, nationally recognized third parties to assist the Company in assessing, among other things: â€¢emerging cybersecurity risks; â€¢threat identification; â€¢threat neutralization; â€¢cybersecurity environment testing; â€¢penetration testing; â€¢phishing and social engineering methods; and â€¢best practices for continued compliance and training. We also have engaged a nationally recognized third party to assist with a tabletop exercise to test our readiness in respect to certain of the preceding events and risks. When risks or threats are identified to the Company by a third party, the information security team is responsible for assessing the risk or threat and determining a course of action to mitigate the risk or neutralize the threat. Impact of Cybersecurity Events While no previous cybersecurity incidents have materially affected the Company, a cybersecurity incident could have a material impact on the Companyâ€™s results of operations and financial condition. As described above under â€œItem 1Aâ€™Risk Factors â€œTechnology Disruptions, Failures or Breaches, Hacking Activity, Ransomware Attacks or Other Cybersecurity Events Could Materially and Adversely Affect Our Financial Condition and Results of Operationsâ€ a material cybersecurity incident could disrupt our business, lead to the loss of data or cause us to suffer financial damage, in addition to litigation or remediation costs or penalties. Governance Overview The Board oversees cybersecurity risk through multiple methods. The Audit Committee of the Board has been delegated certain cybersecurity oversight responsibility and, among other things, receives quarterly updates and presentations from the information security team regarding the Companyâ€™s cybersecurity environment, cybersecurity risks and threats, cybersecurity projects the Company has implemented and plans to implement and other cybersecurity developments, and such committee reports to the full Board after each meeting. In addition to these quarterly reports to the Audit Committee, the information security team provides a presentation to the Board at least annually regarding the same topics covered with the Audit Committee. In addition, members of the Companyâ€™s internal audit team have certain responsibilities with respect to projects designed to test the Companyâ€™s cybersecurity controls and improve the overall cybersecurity environment. The Company also has a Risk Assessment Committee composed of selected members of senior management. Member(s) of the information security team are members of this Risk Assessment Committee (which occur at least quarterly) to address cybersecurity risks and discuss cybersecurity threats to the Company. Member(s) of the information security team have the opportunity to present at the Risk Assessment Committee meetings and raise issues and concerns regarding cybersecurity. The minutes of Risk Assessment Committee meetings are provided to the Board and the General Counsel discusses with the Board the matters addressed at the applicable Risk Assessment Committee meeting. Item 2 â€” Properties We own or lease five principal production facilities and lease a warehouse near our Elgin facility. Our primary processing and distribution facility is located at our Elgin, Illinois site which also houses our primary manufacturing operations and corporate headquarters (the â€œElgin Siteâ€). The remaining principal production facilities are located in Bainbridge, Georgia; Selma, Texas; Gustine, California and Lakeville, Minnesota. In addition, we operate a retail store at the Elgin Site. We believe that our facilities are generally well maintained and in good operating condition. a. fiscal 2007. See Note 8 â€”â€œLong-Term Debtâ€ of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements. (2)The Elgin Office Building (part of the Elgin Site) was acquired in April 2005. Approximately 65% of the Elgin Office Building is currently vacant. Approximately 29% of the rentable area has not been built-out. The vacant portion of the office building may be leased to third parties; however, there can be no assurance that we will be able to lease the unoccupied space. Further capital expenditures will likely be necessary to fully lease the remaining space. (3)On September 29, 2023, the Company purchased the facility in Lakeville, Minnesota from TreeHouse Foods, Inc. (â€œSellerâ€). (4)On April 23, 2024, the Company executed a 7.5 year lease for this warehouse, which commenced in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024. The warehouse is located near the Elgin Site. b. Manufacturing Capability, Utilization, Technology and Engineering Our principal production facilities are equipped with modern processing and packaging machinery and equipment. The Elgin Site was designed to our specifications with what we believe to be state-of-the-art equipment. The layout is designed to efficiently move products from raw storage to processing to packaging to distribution. The Elgin Site was designed to minimize the risk of cross contamination between tree nuts and peanuts. As currently configured, we believe the Elgin Site can accommodate an increase in production capacity of 15% to 20% of our current capacity, however certain production lines are at full capacity, and finished good storage space is nearing full capacity during peak shipping periods. The Huntley warehouse facility will allow us to accommodate increases in future demand and alleviate storage space constraints at the Elgin Site. The Selma facility is used for our automated pecan shelling, packaging, bulk packaging, warehousing and distribution operations. The facilityâ€™s pecan shelling production lines currently have the capacity to shell in excess of 90 million inshell pounds of pecans annually. During fiscal 2024, we processed approximately 20 million inshell pounds of pecans at the Selma facility. The quantity of pecans processed varies depending on the amount of inshell nuts purchased due to, among other things, commodity acquisition cost risk, the size and cost of the crop, the impact of international demand and expected demand based on our current sales forecast. The Bainbridge facility is located in the largest peanut producing region in the United States and is used for nut purchasing, peanut shelling, peanut butter production and distribution. This facility takes direct delivery of farmer stock peanuts and cleans, shells, sizes, inspects, blanches, roasts and packages them for sale to our customers. The production line at the Bainbridge facility is almost entirely automated and has the capacity to shell approximately 120 million inshell pounds of peanuts annually. During fiscal 2024, the Bainbridge facility shelled approximately 76 million inshell pounds of peanuts. The Lakeville facility is used for manufacturing and packaging snack bars. This facility produces chewy, fruit and grain, sweet and salty, dipped, crunchy and fiber bars along with loose granola. We believe the Lakeville facility can accommodate an increase in production capacity of 15% to 20% of its current capacity, however certain production lines are at full capacity and there is no available physical space for additional capacity. The Gustine facility is used for walnut shelling, pasteurization, processing, bulk packaging, warehousing and distribution. This facility has the capacity to shell in excess of 60 million inshell pounds of walnuts annually. During fiscal 2024, the Gustine facility shelled approximately 32 million inshell pounds of walnuts. The quantity of walnuts shelled will vary depending on the amount of inshell nuts purchased due to, among other things, commodity acquisition cost risk, the size and cost of the crop, the impact of international demand, and expected demand based on our current sales forecast. 18 Â Item 3 â€” Legal Proceedings We are a party to various lawsuits, proceedings and other matters arising out of the conduct of our business. Currently, it is managementâ€™s opinion that the ultimate resolution of these matters will not have a material adverse effect upon our business, financial condition, results of operation or cash flows. The holders of Common Stock are entitled to elect 25% of the total members of the Board of Directors, rounded up to the nearest whole number, and the holders of Class A Stock are entitled to elect the remaining directors. With respect to matters other than the election of directors or any matters for which class voting is required by law, the holders of Common Stock are entitled to one vote per share while the holders of Class A Stock are entitled to ten votes per share. Our Class A Stock is not registered under the Securities Act of 1933 and there is no established public trading market for the Class A Stock. However, each share of Class A Stock is convertible at the option of the holder at any time and from time to time (and, upon the occurrence of certain events specified in our Restated Certificate of Incorporation, automatically converts) into one share of Common Stock. Our Common Stock is quoted on the NASDAQ Global Select Market and our trading symbol is â€œJBSSâ€. The graph below compares our cumulative five-year total stockholder return on our Common Stock with the cumulative total returns of the Russell 2000 Consumer Staples Index and the Russell 2000 Index. The graph tracks the performance of a $100 investment in our Common Stock, in each index (with the reinvestment of all dividends) from June 27, 2019 to June 27, 2024. Â * $100 invested on 6/27/19 in stock or 6/30/19 in index, including reinvestment of dividends.Indexes calculated on month-end basis. As of August 21, 2024 there were 43 holders and 16 holders of record of our Common Stock and Class A Stock, respectively. 22 Â Under our Restated Certificate of Incorporation, the Class A Stock and the Common Stock are entitled to share equally on a share for share basis in any dividends declared by the Board of Directors on our common equity. Our current financing agreements, as amended and restated on September 29, 2023, allow us to make up to four cash dividends or distributions of our stock in any fiscal year in an amount not to exceed $100 million in the aggregate per fiscal year. See Part II, Item 7 â€” â€œManagementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations â€” Liquidity and Capital Resources â€” Financing Arrangements.â€ In January 2017, our Board of Directors adopted a dividend policy under which it intends to pay a regular annual cash dividend on our Common Stock and Class A Stock. The Board of Directors contemplated that the regular annual dividend would be declared around the conclusion of the Companyâ€™s fiscal year and paid in the first quarter of each fiscal year. We have paid or declared an annual dividend each year since 2017. The Board of Directors will review the dividend policy regularly and any future annual or special dividends (whether such are paid and, if so, the amount and timing of payment) will be at the discretion of the Board of Directors, after taking into account a variety of factors, including cash flows, borrowing availability under our Credit Facility, and earnings and financial position of the Company. There can be no assurance that dividends will be declared or paid in the future. Pursuant to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation, any dividends paid on our Common Stock must be equivalent to the dividends paid on our Class A Stock. and Results of Operations The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements and the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements. Our fiscal year ends on the final Thursday of June each year, and typically consists of fifty-two weeks (four thirteen-week quarters). However, the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 consisted of fifty-three weeks with our fourth quarter containing fourteen weeks. Additional information on the comparability of the periods presented is as follows: â€¢References herein to fiscal 2025 are to the fiscal year ending June 26, 2025. â€¢References herein to fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022 are to the fiscal years ended June 27, 2024, June 29, 2023 and June 30, 2022, respectively. As used herein, unless the context otherwise indicates, the terms â€œweâ€, â€œusâ€, â€œourâ€ or â€œCompanyâ€ collectively refer to John B. Sanfilippo & Son, Inc. and our wholly-owned subsidiary, JBSS Ventures, LLC. We are one of the leading processors and distributors of peanuts, pecans, cashews, walnuts, almonds and other nuts in the United States. These nuts are sold under our Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand and Southern Style Nuts brand names and under a variety of private brands. Additionally, with our acquisition of certain snack bar assets in the second quarter of fiscal 2024, and our internally developed nutrition bar products, we offer our private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars. We market and distribute, and in most cases, manufacture or process, a diverse product line of food and snack products, including nutrition bars, snack bars, peanut butter, almond butter, cashew butter, candy and confections, snack and trail mixes, sunflower kernels, dried fruit, corn snacks, chickpea snacks, sesame sticks, other sesame snack products and baked cheese snack products under our brand names, including Just the Cheese, and under private brands. We distribute our products in the consumer, commercial ingredients and contract manufacturing distribution channels. Our Long-Range Plan defines our future growth priorities. The Long-Range Plan focuses on growing our private brand business across key customers, as well as transforming Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest and Squirrel Brand into leading brands while increasing distribution and diversifying our portfolio into high growth snacking segments. We will execute on our Long-Range Plan by providing private brand customer value-added solutions based on our extensive industry and consumer expertise with innovative products such as our newly developed product line of private brand nutrition bars which we introduced during fiscal 2023, and expanding our snack bar capabilities. We will grow our branded business by reaching new consumers via product expansion and packaging innovation, expanding distribution across current and alternative channels, diversifying our product offerings and focusing on new ways for consumers to buy our products, including sales via e-commerce platforms. Our Long-Range Plan also contemplates increasing our sales through product innovation and targeted, opportunistic acquisitions, such as our acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand completed during fiscal 2023 and our acquisition of certain snack bar assets from Seller in September 2023. The assets acquired from Seller included inventory, a manufacturing facility and related equipment located in Lakeville, Minnesota, and product formulas (the â€œLakeville Acquisitionâ€). The Lakeville Acquisition expanded our ability to produce private brand snack bars and allows us to provide our private brand customers with a complete snack bar portfolio. We will continue to focus our promotional and advertising activity to invest in our brands to achieve growth. We intend to execute on an omnichannel approach to win in key categories including recipe nuts, snack nuts, trail mix, snack bars and other snacking categories. We continue to see e-commerce growth across our branded portfolio and anticipate taking various actions with the goal of maintaining that growth across a variety of established and emerging e-commerce platforms. We continue to face the ongoing challenges and/or regulations specific to our business, such as food safety and regulatory matters, the maintenance and growth of our customer base for branded and private brand products and varying consumer demand for nut and nut-related products and snack bars in a challenging snack food environment. Inflation and Consumer Trends We face changing industry trends as consumers' purchasing preferences evolve. Due to the continued inflationary environment, we have seen higher selling prices at retail which recently have started to moderate for some products and decrease for other products. These higher prices across our categories and the broader food market, coupled with an actual or potential economic downturn and tightening of consumer finances due to inflation, reduced government support through programs such as SNAP or a variety of other macroeconomic reasons, are causing consumers to purchase fewer snack products. We have seen this through the decline in the recipe, snack nut and snack bar categories since fiscal 2023 and during fiscal 2024, as consumers shift their preferences to private brands or lower priced nuts or snack bars or purchase snack products outside the snack nut, trail mix and snack bar categories. With the inflationary environment, we are also seeing signs of consumers shifting to more value-focused retailers, such as mass merchandising retailers, club stores and dollar stores, not all of which we distribute or sell to. We have responded by focusing on our strengths, including our knowledge of the snack and trail nut categories, product innovation and judicious use of trade spending and pricing actions. 25 Â Supply Chain and Transportation In fiscal 2024 we faced periodic supply chain challenges related to certain raw material shortages, extended lead-times, supplier capacity constraints and inflationary pressures. While we do not have direct exposure to suppliers in Russia, Ukraine or Israel, the conflicts in these regions could continue to result in volatile commodity markets, supply chain disruptions and increased costs. Global supply chain pressures have eased compared to fiscal 2023, but we continue to see negative impacts related to macro-economics, geo-political unrest, growing political instability and climate-related events. Overall packaging and ingredient inflation appears to be leveling off compared to fiscal 2023 but is expected to remain above historical levels. While we have seen stabilization in truckload capacity and volume at U.S. ports and improvements with driver hiring, there are still warehouse and dock staff shortages and fuel and energy concerns due to continued unrest abroad coupled with persistent inflation. Freight rates decreased in fiscal 2024 and fuel costs stabilized. We have seen continued trucking company bankruptcies which may cause continued instability in the transportation industry in fiscal 2025 as capacity outweighs demand. While there are indicators of transportation cost improvement, and despite our mitigation of some of the transportation shortages, we may continue to face an unpredictable transportation environment. There is no guarantee that our mitigation strategies will continue to be effective, that any transportation capacity easing will continue or that transportation prices will return to more normalized levels. Our most significant ingredient requirements include cocoa products, dried fruits, sweeteners, vegetable oils, oats, flour and dairy. Many of these materials and costs are subject to price fluctuations from several factors, including fluctuating commodity markets, market conditions, demand for raw materials, weather, growing and harvesting conditions, climate change, energy costs, currency fluctuations, supplier capacities, governmental actions, import and export requirements (including tariffs), and on-going political instability and other factors beyond our control. We have remained agile by proactively identifying risks, modifying inventory plans and diversifying our supplier base to mitigate risk of customer order shortages and maintain our supply chain. We continue to proactively manage our business in response to the evolving global economic environment and related uncertainty and intend to take steps to mitigate impacts to our supply chain. If these supply chain pressures continue, or we cannot obtain the transportation and labor services needed to fulfill customer orders, such shortages and supply chain issues could have an unfavorable impact on net sales and our operations in fiscal 2025. Furthermore, record cocoa prices have been fueled by speculation of a short crop in calendar 2024. Unprecedented high cocoa prices have led to a volatile market and will continue in fiscal 2025. Cocoa production was down significantly in Ghana and Ivory Coast due to a combination of inclement weather and crop disease. Despite higher cocoa prices, consumption remained strong, leading to predictions of a large production deficit. Additionally, as costs increase due to these issues or due to overall inflationary pressures, there is an additional risk of not being able to pass (in part or in full) such potential cost increases onto our customers or in a timely manner. If we cannot align costs with prices for our products, our operating performance could be adversely impacted. Climate Change Impacts Climate change may have a long-term adverse impact on our business and results of operations. Global average temperatures are gradually increasing due to increased concentration of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases, which is projected to contribute to significant changes in global weather patterns, an increase in severity of natural disasters, and changes in agricultural productivity adding to price volatility. Changing weather patterns may limit the availability or increase the cost of natural resources and commodities, including cocoa, grains, sweeteners, and vegetable oils used to manufacture our products. Similar to other commodity dependent businesses, extreme weather events from climate change can have an unfavorable impact on our business. Floods, hurricanes, wildfires, tornadoes, blizzards, droughts, mudslides, poor air quality and extreme temperatures can affect our ability to obtain adequate (or acceptable quality) inputs, including fruit and nut materials, and our ability to manufacture products in our facilities. These extreme weather events can also have an adverse impact on the transportation industry and supply chains upon which we rely. Climate change can also result in unfavorable impacts that are unique to our business, especially for normal crop development. Below are some examples of essential weather conditions that must be present for normal development of the crops from which we derive the major raw materials we use in our products. â€¢Almonds, pecans and walnuts require a minimum of approximately 200, 250 and 700 chilling hours, respectively, during the winter to allow for an adequate amount of dormancy time so the trees can rest. â€¢Peanuts require adequate rainfall or access to water for irrigation for the period starting about 7 weeks after planting and ending about 15 weeks after planting. â€¢Cashews require a minimum of approximately 2,000 hours of sunlight per year. Sunlight is especially critical during the flowering period. 26 Â â€¢Almonds require bees for pollination. For bees to pollinate effectively during the bloom period, temperatures cannot be less than about 55 degrees Fahrenheit, winds cannot exceed about 15 MPH, and there must be little or no rainfall during that period. â€¢Cranberries require adequate snow and ice coverage during the winter to protect vines from freezing. â€¢Raisins require hot days (about 93 â€“ 100 degrees Fahrenheit) and cool nights (about 55 â€“ 65 degrees Fahrenheit) during the growing season for optimum quality and sugar levels. The non-occurrence of these weather conditions and other essential weather conditions can result in smaller crops, crop failures, or quality failures, which can lead to increased acquisition costs and supply shortages. Should climate changes significantly alter weather patterns, some of these needed input products may not be available at all, which would have a material adverse impact on our business. Annual Highlights â€¢Our net sales for fiscal 2024 increased $67.1 million, or 6.7%, to $1,066.8 million compared to fiscal 2023. â€¢Gross profit increased $2.5 million, while our gross profit margin, as a percentage of net sales, decreased to 20.1% in fiscal 2024 from 21.2% in fiscal 2023. â€¢Total operating expenses for fiscal 2024 increased $7.5 million, or 6.2%, to $129.0 million. Operating expenses, as a percentage of net sales, was 12.1% of net sales in both fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023. â€¢Diluted earnings per share decreased approximately 4.6% compared to last fiscal 2023. â€¢Our strong financial position allowed us to pay cash dividends totaling $34.8 million during fiscal 2024. â€¢The total value of inventories on hand at the end of fiscal 2024 increased $23.6 million, or 13.7%, in comparison to the total value of inventories on hand at the end of fiscal 2023. This increase is primarily due to $21.8 million of additional inventory associated with the Lakeville acquisition. We have seen acquisition costs for all major tree nuts except walnuts decrease in the 2023 crop year (which falls into our 2024 fiscal year). Results of Operations The following table sets forth the percentage relationship of certain items to net sales for the periods indicated and the percentage increase or decrease of such items from fiscal 2024 to fiscal 2023 and from fiscal 2023 to fiscal 2022. Â Â Percentage of Net Sales Â Â Percentage Change Â Â Fiscal2024 Â Â Fiscal2023 Â Â Fiscal2022 Â Â Fiscal 2024vs. 2023 Â Â Fiscal 2023vs. 2022 Â Net sales Â Â 100.0 % Â Â 100.0 % Â Â 100.0 % Â Â 6.7 % Â Â 4.6 % Gross profit Â Â 20.1 Â Â Â 21.2 Â Â Â 20.9 Â Â Â 1.2 Â Â Â 6.0 Â Selling expenses Â Â 7.8 Â Â Â 7.7 Â Â Â 8.0 Â Â Â 7.7 Â Â Â (0.1) Administrative expenses Â Â 4.5 Â Â Â 4.5 Â Â Â 3.9 Â Â Â 8.7 Â Â Â 18.4 Â Â Fiscal 2024 Compared to Fiscal 2023 Net Sales Our net sales increased 6.7% to $1,066.8 million for fiscal 2024 from $999.7 million for fiscal 2023. The increase in net sales was primarily due to the Lakeville Acquisition, which closed on the first day of our second quarter and increased net sales by approximately $119.8 million. Sales volume, which is defined as pounds sold to customers, increased 12.3%, also due to the Lakeville Acquisition. The Lakeville Acquisition increased our sales volume by 48.5 million pounds, or 15.7%, over fiscal 2023. Excluding the impact of the Lakeville Acquisition, net sales decreased 5.3% to $946.9 million, which was primarily attributable to a 3.3% decline in sales volume. In addition to the decline in sales volume, a 2.0% decrease in weighted average selling price per pound also contributed to the decline in net sales, primarily from decreased selling prices. 27 Â The following table summarizes sales by product type as a percentage of total gross sales. The information is based upon gross sales, rather than net sales, because certain adjustments from gross sales to net sales, such as promotional discounts, are not allocable to product type. Fisher branded products were approximately 62% and 64% of branded sales during fiscal 2024 and 2023, respectively, with Orchard Valley Harvest branded products accounting for the majority of the remaining branded product sales. Net sales in the consumer distribution channel increased $86.6 million, or 11.0%, and sales volume increased 18.0% in fiscal 2024 compared to fiscal 2023 primarily due the Lakeville Acquisition. Excluding the Lakeville Acquisition, net sales decreased $29.7 million, or 3.8%, and sales volume decreased 1.7%. Private brand sales volume increased 22.0% driven by the Lakeville Acquisition. Excluding the Lakeville Acquisition, private brand sales volume decreased 1.4% due to decreased consumer spending at two mass merchandising retailers. These sales volume decreases were partially offset by increased distribution of seasonal items at a grocery store retailer. Sales volume of Fisher recipe nuts decreased 9.1% due to lower customer demand across mass merchandising and grocery store retailers and less merchandising activity at several grocery store retailers. Sales volume of Fisher snack nuts decreased 14.0% due to lost distribution as a mass merchandising retailer and decreased sales volume at several grocery store retailers which was partially offset by an increase in e-commerce sales volume. Sales volume of Southern Style Nuts decreased 20.2% due to reduced distribution and fewer promotional programs at a club store customer. The above decreases in sales volume were partially offset by a 9.0% increase in sales volume for Orchard Valley Harvest primarily due to enhanced distribution at a major customer in the non-food sector and new rotational distribution at a club store customer. Net sales in the commercial ingredients distribution channel decreased 10.2% in dollars and sales volume decreased 1.9% in fiscal 2024 compared to fiscal 2023. Excluding the Lakeville Acquisition, sales volume decreased 3.2% due to competitive pricing pressure coupled with non-recurring peanut butter sales at a foodservice distributor that occurred in fiscal 2023 and a 5.8% decrease in sales volume of peanut crushing stock to peanut oil processors due to reduced peanut shelling. Net sales in the contract manufacturing distribution channel decreased 7.6% in dollars and sales volume decreased 6.2% in fiscal 2024 compared to fiscal 2023 primarily due to decreased peanut distribution by a major customer due to decreased consumer demand. Partially offsetting the sales volume decrease was an increase in granola processed in our Lakeville facility for a major customer. Excluding this granola volume, net sales decreased 10.5% and sales volume decreased 15.1%. 28 Â Gross Profit Gross profit increased 1.2% to $214.1 million in fiscal 2024 from $211.6 million in fiscal 2023. Excluding the Lakeville Acquisition, gross profit decreased approximately 0.4%, or $0.9 million. The decrease in gross profit was mainly due to decreased selling prices and reduced sales volume. Our gross profit margin, as a percentage of sales, decreased to 20.1% for fiscal 2024 from 21.2% for fiscal 2023 due to the higher net sales base from the Lakeville Acquisition, which was partially offset by lower commodity acquisition costs for all major tree nuts. Operating Expenses Total operating expenses for fiscal 2024 increased $7.5 million to $129.0 million. Operating expenses as a percent of net sales were 12.1% for both fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023. The increase is net of the $2.2 million net gain on bargain purchase that occurred in the second quarter of fiscal 2024 due to the Lakeville Acquisition. Selling expenses for fiscal 2024 were $82.7 million, an increase of $5.9 million, or 7.7%, over the amount recorded for fiscal 2023. The increase was driven primarily by a $2.2 million increase in advertising and consumer insight research expense, a $2.1 million increase in compensation-related expenses, a $1.7 million increase in outside distribution expense, which was primarily due to the Lakeville Acquisition, and an increase in consulting expenses of $0.4 million. These increases were offset by a $0.5 million decrease in freight expense due to lower freight rates. Administrative expenses for fiscal 2024 were $48.5 million, an increase of $3.9 million, or 8.7%, from the amount recorded for fiscal 2023. The increase was due to a $4.3 million increase in compensation-related expenses and an increase in charitable food donations of $0.8 million. These increases were partially offset by a $1.0 million loss on equity investment in fiscal 2023 that did not recur in fiscal 2024. Income from Operations Due to the factors discussed above, income from operations was $85.2 million, or 8.0% of net sales, for fiscal 2024, compared to $90.2 million, or 9.0% of net sales, for fiscal 2023. Interest Expense Interest expense was $2.5 million for fiscal 2024 compared to $2.2 million for fiscal 2023. The increase in interest expense was due to higher average debt levels, primarily due to the Lakeville Acquisition. Rental and Miscellaneous Expense, Net Net rental and miscellaneous expense was $1.3 million for both fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023. Pension Expense (Excluding Service Costs) Pension expense (excluding service costs) was $1.4 million for both fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023. Income Tax Expense Income tax expense was $19.7 million, or 24.6% of income before income taxes (the "Effective Tax Rate"), for fiscal 2024 compared to $22.5 million, or 26.4% of income before income taxes, for fiscal 2023 due to a decrease in state income tax expense. Net Income Net income was $60.2 million, or $5.19 per common share basic and $5.15 per common share diluted, for fiscal 2024, compared to $62.9 million, or $5.43 per common share basic and $5.40 per common share diluted, for fiscal 2023, due to the factors discussed above. Fiscal 2023 Compared to

Fiscal 2022 The discussion of our results of operations for the fiscal year ended June 29, 2023 compared to the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 can be found in Part II, Item 7, â€œManagementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operationsâ€ in the Companyâ€™s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended June 29, 2023 and such discussion is incorporated by reference herein. 29 Â Liquidity and Capital Resources General The primary uses of cash are to fund our current operations, fulfill contractual obligations, pursue our Long-Range Plan through growing our branded and private brand programs, consummate and integrate business acquisitions, return cash to our stockholders through dividends, repay indebtedness and pay amounts owed under the Retirement Plan. Also, various uncertainties, including cost uncertainties, could result in additional uses of cash. The primary sources of cash are results of operations and availability under our Credit Facility. We anticipate that expected net cash flow generated from operations and amounts available pursuant to the Credit Facility will be sufficient to fund our operations for the next twelve months. Our available credit under our Credit Facility has allowed us to devote more funds to promote our products, increase consumer insight capabilities and promotional efforts, reinvest in the Company through capital expenditures, develop new products, pay cash dividends, consummate strategic investments and business acquisitions, such as the Lakeville Acquisition and the acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand in fiscal 2023, and explore other growth strategies outlined in our Long-Range Plan. Cash flows from operating activities have historically been driven by net income but are also significantly influenced by inventory requirements, which can change based upon fluctuations in both quantities and market prices of the various nuts and nut products we buy and sell. Current market trends in nut prices and crop estimates also impact nut procurement. The following table sets forth certain cash flow information for the last two fiscal years (dollars in thousands): Â Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â 2024 to 2023$ Change Â Operating activities Â $ 101,673 Â Â $ 124,655 Â Â $ (22,982) Investing activities Â Â (87,349) Â Â (24,287) Â Â (63,062) Financing activities Â Â (15,788) Â Â (98,835) Â Â 83,047 Â Total change in cash Â $ (1,464) Â $ 1,533 Â Â $ (2,997) Â Operating Activities. Net cash provided by operating activities was $101.7 million in fiscal 2024, a decrease of $23.0 million compared to fiscal 2023. The decrease in operating cash flow was due to changes in working capital, primarily for inventory compared to fiscal 2023. Net of the Lakeville Acquisition, inventory decreased $11.9 million in fiscal 2024 compared to a $32.2 million decrease in inventories in fiscal 2023. Total inventories were $196.6 million at June 27, 2024, an increase of $23.6 million, or 13.7%, from the inventory balance at June 29, 2023. The increase was primarily due to the $21.8 million of additional inventory associated with the Lakeville Acquisition, higher quantities of inshell pecans and walnuts on hand, and higher commodity acquisition costs for walnuts. This increase was partially offset by lower quantities of finished goods and pecan meats and lower quantities and commodity acquisition costs for peanuts and cashews. Raw nut and dried fruit input stocks, some of which are classified as work in process, increased 9.6 million pounds, or 19.4%, at June 27, 2024 compared to June 29, 2023. This increase was due to higher quantities of walnuts and pecans on hand due to increased procurement from a larger crop combined with softness in demand. The weighted average cost per pound of raw nut and dried fruit input stocks on hand at the end of fiscal 2024 decreased by 9.2% compared to the end of fiscal 2023, primarily due to higher quantities of inshell walnuts and pecans. As of June 27, 2024, there are known purchase obligations of $256.3 million which are expected to be settled during fiscal 2025. These purchase obligations primarily represent inventory purchase commitments; however, these amounts exclude purchase commitments under walnut purchase agreements due to the uncertainty of pricing and quantity. Additional contractual cash obligations include amounts owed for lease commitments and the payments to former officers under our Supplemental Employee Retirement Plan (â€œSERPâ€). We believe cash on hand, combined with cash provided by operations and borrowings available under the Credit Facility, will be sufficient to meet the cash requirements for all contractual cash obligations. See Note 4 â€” â€œLeasesâ€ and Note 15 â€” â€œRetirement Planâ€ of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information and future maturities. Investing Activities. Cash used in investing activities was $87.3 million in fiscal 2024. The Lakeville Acquisition net purchase price was $59.0 million. Capital expenditures accounted for a $28.3 million use of cash in fiscal 2024. Cash used in investing activities was $24.3 million in fiscal 2023. Capital expenditures accounted for a $20.7 million use of cash in fiscal 2023. The $3.5 million purchase price for the acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand also contributed to the increase in cash used for investing activities. 30 Â We expect total capital expenditures for equipment purchases and upgrades for fiscal 2025 to be approximately $31.0 million. This includes all capital expenditures needed for our newly leased facility in Huntley, Illinois, facility maintenance, food safety enhancements and expansion needs for our snack bar business. Absent any material acquisitions or other significant investments, we believe that cash on hand, combined with cash provided by operations and borrowings available under the Credit Facility, will be sufficient to meet the cash requirements for capital expenditures. Financing Activities. Cash used in financing activities was $15.8 million during fiscal 2024. We paid dividends totaling $34.8 million in fiscal 2024. We repaid $0.7 million of long-term debt during fiscal 2024. Partially offsetting this use of cash was a net increase in borrowings outstanding under our Credit Facility of $20.4 million during fiscal 2024 primarily due to the Lakeville Acquisition. See Note 7 â€” â€œRevolving Credit Facilityâ€ and Note 8 â€” â€œLong-Term Debtâ€ of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information and future maturities. Cash used in financing activities was $98.8 million during fiscal 2023. We paid dividends totaling $54.9 million in fiscal 2023. We repaid $3.2 million of long-term debt during fiscal 2023, $2.5 million of which was related to the Mortgage Facility (as defined below). There was a net decrease in borrowings outstanding under our Credit Facility of $40.4 million during fiscal 2023 primarily due to decreasing commodity acquisition costs and improved operating cash flows. Financing Arrangements On February 7, 2008, we entered into the Former Credit Agreement (as defined below) with a bank group (the â€œBank Lendersâ€) providing a $117.5 million revolving loan commitment and letter of credit subfacility. Also on February 7, 2008, we entered into a Loan Agreement with an insurance company providing us with two term loans for an aggregate amount of $45.0 million (as amended, the â€œMortgage Facilityâ€). The Mortgage Facility was repaid in full in the third quarter of fiscal 2023 and the related mortgages on our owned real property located in Elgin, Illinois and Gustine, California have been released. Credit Facility On March 5, 2020, we entered into an Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the â€œAmended and Restated Credit Agreementâ€) which amended and restated our Credit Agreement dated as of February 7, 2008 (the â€œFormer Credit Agreementâ€). The Amended and Restated Credit Agreement provided for a $117.5 million senior secured revolving credit facility with the same borrowing capacity, interest rates and applicable margin as the Former Credit Agreement and extended the term of the Former Credit Agreement from July 7, 2021 to March 5, 2025. The Amended and Restated Credit Facility is secured by substantially all of our assets other than machinery and equipment, real property and fixtures and matures on March 5, 2025. On May 8, 2023, we entered into the First Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the â€œFirst Amendmentâ€), which replaced the London interbank offered rate (â€œLIBORâ€) interest rate option with the Secured Overnight Financing Rate (â€œSOFRâ€). The First Amendment updated the accrued interest rate to a rate based on SOFR plus an applicable margin based upon the borrowing base calculation, ranging from 1.35% to 1.85%. On September 29, 2023, we entered into the Second Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the â€œSecond Amendmentâ€), which (among other things) increased the amount available to borrow under the Credit Facility to $150.0 million extended the maturity date to September 29, 2028 and allows the Company to pay up to $100 million in dividends per year, subject to meeting availability tests. At our election, borrowings under the Credit Facility currently accrue interest at either (i) a rate determined pursuant to the administrative agentâ€™s prime rate plus an applicable margin determined by reference to the amount of loans which may be advanced under the borrowing base calculation, ranging from 0.25% to 0.75% or (ii) a rate based upon SOFR plus an applicable margin. The terms of the Credit Facility contain covenants that, among other things, require us to restrict investments, indebtedness, acquisitions and certain sales of assets and limit annual cash dividends or distributions, transactions with affiliates, redemptions of capital stock and prepayment of indebtedness (if such prepayment, among other things, is of a subordinate debt). If loan availability under the borrowing base calculation falls below $25.0 million, we will be required to maintain a specified fixed charge coverage ratio, tested on a monthly basis, until loan availability equals or exceeds $25.0 million for three consecutive months. All cash received from customers is required to be applied against the Credit Facility. The Bank Lenders have the option to accelerate and demand immediate repayment of our obligations under the Credit Facility in the event of default on the payments required under the Credit Facility, a change in control in the ownership of the Company, non-compliance with the financial covenant or upon the occurrence of other defaults by us under the Credit Facility. As of June 27, 2024, we were in compliance with all covenants under the Credit Facility, and we currently expect to be in compliance with the financial covenant in the Credit Facility for the foreseeable future. At June 27, 2024, we had $124.4 million of available credit under the Credit Facility. If this entire amount were borrowed at June 27, 2024, we would still be in compliance with all restrictive covenants under the Credit Facility. 31 Â Selma Property In September 2006, we sold our Selma, Texas properties (the â€œSelma Propertiesâ€) to two related party partnerships for $14.3 million and are leasing them back. The selling price was determined by an independent appraiser to be the fair market value which also approximated our carrying value. The lease for the Selma Properties has a ten-year term at a fair market value rent with three five-year renewal options. In September 2015, we exercised two of the five-year renewal options which extended the lease term to September 2026. The lease extension also reduced the monthly lease payment on the Selma Properties, beginning in September 2016, to reflect then current market conditions. At the end of each five-year renewal option, the base monthly lease amounts are reassessed, and the monthly payments increased to $114 beginning in September 2021. One five-year renewal option remains. Also, we have an option to purchase the Selma Properties from the owner at 95% (100% in certain circumstances) of the then fair market value, but not less than the original $14.3 million purchase price. The provisions of the arrangement are not eligible for sale-leaseback accounting and the $14.3 million was recorded as a debt obligation. No gain or loss was recorded on the Selma Properties transaction. As of June 27, 2024, $7.1 million of the debt obligation was outstanding. 32 Â Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates Our financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The accounting policies as disclosed in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements are applied in the preparation of our financial statements and accounting for the underlying transactions and balances. The policies discussed below are considered by our management to be critical for an understanding of our financial statements because the application of these policies places the most significant demands on managementâ€™s judgment, with financial reporting results relying on estimation regarding the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Specific risks, if applicable, for these critical accounting policies are described in the following paragraphs. For a detailed discussion on the application of these and other accounting policies, see Note 1 â€” â€œSignificant Accounting Policiesâ€ of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements. Preparation of this Annual Report on Form 10-K requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of our financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates. See â€œForward-Looking Statementsâ€ below. Revenue Recognition The Company records revenue based on a five-step model in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification (â€œASCâ€) Topic 606. The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for the goods or services. We sell our products under some arrangements which include customer contracts that fix the sales price for periods, which typically can be up to one year for some commercial ingredient customers. We also sell our products through specific programs consisting of promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient users. We recognize revenue as performance obligations are fulfilled, which occurs when control passes to our customers. We report all amounts billed to a customer in a sale transaction as revenue, including those amounts related to shipping and handling. We reduce revenue for estimated promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others. These reductions in revenue are considered variable consideration and are recorded in the same period the related sales are recorded. Such estimates are calculated using historical averages adjusted for any expected changes due to current business conditions and experience. See Note 3 â€” â€œRevenue Recognitionâ€ below for additional information on revenue recognition. Retirement Plan In order to measure the annual expense and calculate the liability associated with our SERP, management must make a variety of estimates including, but not limited to, discount rates, compensation increases and anticipated mortality rates. The estimates used by management are based on our historical experience as well as current facts and circumstances. We use a third-party specialist to assist management in appropriately measuring the expense associated with this employment-related benefit. Different estimates used by management could result in us recognizing different amounts of expense over different periods of time. We recognize net actuarial gains or losses in excess of 10% of the planâ€™s projected benefit obligation into current period expense over the average remaining expected service period of active participants. The most significant assumption for pension plan accounting is the discount rate. We select a discount rate each year (as of our fiscal year end measurement date) for our plan based upon a hypothetical corporate bond portfolio for which the cash flows match the year-by-year projected benefit cash flows for our pension plan. The hypothetical bond portfolio is comprised of high-quality fixed income debt securities (usually Moodyâ€™s Aa3 or higher) available at the measurement date. Based on this information, the discount rate selected by us for determination of pension expense was 5.12% for fiscal 2024, 4.68% for fiscal 2023, and 2.89% for fiscal 2022. A 25-basis point increase or decrease in our discount rate assumption for fiscal 2024 would have resulted in an immaterial change in our pension expense for fiscal 2024. For our year end pension obligation determination, we selected discount rates of 5.45% and 5.12% for fiscal years 2024 and 2023, respectively. 33 Â Recent Accounting Pronouncements Refer to Note 1 â€” â€œSignificant Accounting Policiesâ€ of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for a discussion of recently issued accounting pronouncements. Forward-Looking Statements The statements contained in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, and in the Chief Executive Officerâ€™s letter to stockholders accompanying the Annual Report on Form 10-K delivered to stockholders, that are not historical (including statements concerning our expectations regarding market risk) are â€œforward-looking statements.â€ These forward-looking statements may be followed (and therefore identified) by a cross reference to Part I, Item 1A â€” â€œRisk Factorsâ€ or may be otherwise identified by the use of forward-looking words and phrases such as â€œwillâ€, â€œanticipatesâ€, â€œintendsâ€, â€œmayâ€, â€œbelievesâ€, â€œshouldâ€ and â€œexpectsâ€, and they are based on our current expectations or beliefs concerning future events and involve risks and uncertainties. We undertake no obligation to update publicly or otherwise revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or other factors that affect the subject of these statements, except where expressly required to do so by law. We caution that such statements are qualified by important factors, including the factors described in Part I, Item 1A â€” â€œRisk Factorsâ€ and other factors, risks and uncertainties that are beyond our control, that could cause results to differ materially from our current expectations and/or those in the forward-looking statements, as well as the timing and occurrence (or nonoccurrence) of transactions and other factors, risk, uncertainties and events which may be further subject to circumstances beyond our control. Consequently, results actually achieved may differ materially from the expected results included in these statements. Item 7A â€” Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk We are exposed to the impact of changes in interest rates, commodity prices of raw material purchases and foreign exchange. We have not entered into any arrangements to hedge against changes in market interest rates, commodity prices or foreign currency fluctuations. We are unable to engage in hedging activity related to commodity prices, because there are no established futures markets for nuts; therefore, we can only attempt to pass on the commodity cost increases in the form of price increases to our customers. A hypothetical 1% increase in material costs, without a corresponding price increase, would have decreased gross profit approximately $6.1 million for fiscal 2024. See Part I, Item 1A â€” â€œRisk Factorsâ€ for a further discussion of the risks and uncertainties related to commodity prices of raw materials and the impact thereof on our business. Approximately 28% of the dollar value of our total nut purchases for fiscal 2024 were made from foreign countries, and while these purchases were payable in U.S. dollars, the underlying costs may fluctuate with changes in the value of the U.S. dollar relative to the currency in the foreign country from where the nuts are purchased, or to other major foreign currencies such as the euro. We are exposed to interest rate risk on our Credit Facility, our only variable rate credit facility, because we have not entered into any hedging instruments which fix the floating rate or offset an increase in the floating rate. A hypothetical 10% adverse change in weighted-average interest rates would have had approximately a $0.2 million impact on our net income and cash flows from operating activities for fiscal 2024. 34 Â Item 8 â€” Financial Statements and Supplementary Data Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm (PCAOB ID 238) To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of John B. Sanfilippo & Son, Inc. Opinions on the Financial Statements and Internal Control over Financial Reporting We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of John B. Sanfilippo & Son, Inc. and its subsidiaries (the â€œCompanyâ€) as of June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, of stockholdersâ€™ equity and of cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended June 27, 2024, including the related notes (collectively referred to as the â€œconsolidated financial statementsâ€). We also have audited the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of June 27, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Controlâ€”Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO). In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended June 27, 2024 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also in our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of June 27, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the COSO. Basis for Opinions The Company's management is responsible for these consolidated financial statements, for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting, and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Managementâ€™s Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express opinions on the Companyâ€™s consolidated financial statements and on the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB. We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud, and whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audits of the consolidated financial statements included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. Our audit of internal control over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. Our audits also included performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinions. Definition and Limitations of Internal Control over Financial Reporting A companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the companyâ€™s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. 35 Â Critical Audit Matters The critical audit matter communicated below is a matter arising from the current period audit of the consolidated financial statements that was communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that (i) relates to accounts or disclosures that are material to the consolidated financial statements and (ii) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matter below, providing a separate opinion on the critical audit matter or on the accounts or disclosures to which it relates. Valuation of the Projected Benefit Obligation related to the Supplemental Employee Retirement Plan (SERP) As described in Note 15 to the consolidated financial statements, the Companyâ€™s projected benefit obligation related to the SERP is $26.9 million as of June 27, 2024. The SERP is an unfunded, non-qualified benefit plan that will provide eligible participants with monthly benefits upon retirement, disability or death, subject to certain conditions. Benefits paid to retirees are based on age at retirement, years of credited service, and average compensation. The most significant assumption related to the Companyâ€™s SERP is the discount rate used to calculate the actuarial present value of benefit obligations to be paid in the future. The principal considerations for our determination that performing procedures relating to the valuation of the projected benefit obligation related to the SERP is a critical audit matter are (i) the significant judgment by management to determine the projected benefit obligation and the significant assumption related to discount rate, (ii) the significant auditor judgment, subjectivity and effort in evaluating managementâ€™s significant assumption related to the discount rate, and (iii) the audit effort included the use of professionals with specialized skill and knowledge. Addressing the matter involved performing procedures and evaluating audit evidence in connection with forming our overall opinion on the consolidated financial statements. These procedures included testing the effectiveness of controls relating to the Companyâ€™s determination of the projected benefit obligation related to the SERP, including the control over the development of the significant assumption related to the discount rate. These procedures also included, among others (i) testing managementâ€™s process for determining the projected benefit obligation, (ii) evaluating the appropriateness of the valuation method, (iii) testing the completeness and accuracy of underlying data used in the valuation of the projected benefit obligation, and (iv) evaluating the reasonableness of the discount rate. Evaluating managementâ€™s assumption related to the discount rate involved evaluating whether the assumption used by management is reasonable considering the consistency with external market data. Professionals with specialized skill and knowledge were used to assist in evaluating the appropriateness of the valuation method and the reasonableness of the discount rate. /s/ PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP Chicago, Illinois August 21, 2024 We have served as the Companyâ€™s auditor since 1982. 36 Â JOHN B. products and baked cheese snack products under our brand names, including Just the Cheese, and under private brands. Our products are sold through three primary distribution channels, including food retailers in the consumer channel, commercial ingredient users and contract manufacturing customers. Management Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include reserves for customer deductions, the quantity of bulk inventories, the evaluation of recoverability of long-lived assets and the assumption used in estimating the annual discount rate utilized in determining the retirement plan liability. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Cash and Cash EquivalentsCash and cash equivalents include cash on-hand and may periodically include money market instruments that are highly liquid investments. Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value.Accounts Receivable Accounts receivable are stated at the amounts charged to customers, less allowances for doubtful accounts and reserves for estimated cash discounts and customer deductions. The allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated by specifically identifying customers that are credit risks and estimating the extent that other non-specifically identified customers will become credit risks. Account balances are charged off against the allowance when we conclude that it is probable the receivable will not be recovered. The reserve for estimated cash discounts is based on historical experience. The reserve for customer deductions represents known customer short payments and an estimate of future credit memos that will be issued to customers related to rebates and allowances for marketing and promotions based on agreed upon programs and historical experience. Inventories Inventories, which consist principally of inshell bulk-stored nuts, shelled nuts, dried fruit, processed and packaged nut products, snack bars and nutrition bars, are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. Net realizable value is defined as estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal and transportation. Inventory costs are reviewed at least quarterly. Fluctuations in the market price of pecans, peanuts, walnuts, almonds, cashews and other nuts and ingredients may affect the value of inventory, gross profit and gross profit margin. When net realizable values move below costs, we record adjustments to write down the carrying values of inventories to the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. The results of our shelling process can also result in changes to inventory costs, such as adjustments made pursuant to actual versus expected crop yields. We maintain significant inventories of bulk-stored inshell pecans, peanuts and walnuts. Quantities of inshell bulk-stored nuts are determined based on our inventory systems and are subject to quarterly physical verification techniques including observation, weighing and other methods. The quantities of each crop year bulk-stored nut inventories are generally shelled 42 Â out over a ten to fifteen-month period, at which time revisions to any estimates, which historically averaged less than 1.0% of inventory purchases, are also recorded. We enter into walnut purchase agreements with growers typically in our first fiscal quarter, under which they deliver their walnut crop to us during the fall harvest season (which typically occurs in our first and second fiscal quarters). Pursuant to our walnut purchase agreements, we determine the final price for this inventory after receipt and typically by the end of our third fiscal quarter. Since the ultimate purchase price to be paid is determined subsequent to receiving the walnut crop, we typically estimate the final purchase price for our first and second quarter interim financial statements based on crop size, quality, current market prices and other factors. Any such changes in estimates, which could be significant, are accounted for in the period of change by adjusting inventory on hand or cost of goods sold if the inventory has been sold. Changes in estimates may affect the ending inventory balances, as well as gross profit. There were no significant adjustments recorded in any of the periods presented. Property, Plant and Equipment Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Major improvements that extend the useful life, add capacity or add functionality are capitalized and charged to expense through depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense as incurred. The cost and accumulated depreciation of assets sold or retired are removed from the respective accounts, and any gain or loss is recognized currently in operating income. Depreciation expense for the last three fiscal years is as follows: Â Â Year EndedJune 27,2024 Â Â Year EndedJune 29,2023 Â Â Year EndedJune 30,2022 Â Depreciation expense Â $ 22,895 Â Â $ 18,746 Â Â $ 16,390 Â Â Cost is depreciated using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives: Â Classification Â Estimated Useful Lives Buildings Â 10Â to 30Â years Machinery and equipment Â 5Â to 10Â years Furniture and leasehold improvements Â 5Â to 10Â years Vehicles Â 3Â to 5 years Computers and software Â 3Â to 10Â years Â No interest costs were capitalized for the last three fiscal years due to the lack of any significant project requiring such capitalization. Business Combinations We use the acquisition method in accounting for acquired businesses. Under the acquisition method, our financial statements reflect the operations of an acquired business starting from the completion of the acquisition. The assets acquired and liabilities assumed are recorded at their respective estimated fair values at the date of the acquisition. Any excess of the purchase price over the estimated fair values of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. Segment Reporting We operate in a single reporting unit and operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut related products and snack bars through three distribution channels. Valuation of Long-Lived Assets and Other Intangible Assets We review held and used long-lived assets, including our rental investment property and amortizable identifiable intangible assets (e.g., customer relationships and brand names), to assess recoverability from projected undiscounted cash flows whenever events or changes in facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. When such events occur, we compare the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group to the carrying amount of the long-lived asset or asset group. The cash flows are based on our best estimate of future cash flows derived from the most recent business projections. If this comparison indicates there is an impairment, the carrying value of the asset is reduced to its estimated fair value. We did not record any impairment of long-lived assets for the last three fiscal years. 43 Â Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value in business acquisitions, which include customer relationships, brand names, formulas and non-compete agreements and are amortized over their estimated useful lives. Certain assets are amortized on a accelerated basis based on the timing of expected future benefits. See Note 6 â€" â€œGoodwill and Intangible Assetsâ€ below for additional information. Goodwill Goodwill currently represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets from our acquisition of Squirrel Brand, L.P. which closed in November 2017 and our acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand which closed in December 2022.Goodwill is not amortized, but is tested annually as of the last day of each fiscal year for impairment, or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate it is more likely than not that the carrying amount of the reporting unit is greater than its fair value. A significant amount of judgment is involved in determining if an indicator of impairment has occurred. Such indicators may include deterioration in general economic conditions, adverse changes in the markets in which we operate, increases in input costs that have negative effects on earnings and cash flows, or a trend of negative or declining cash flows over multiple periods, among others. The fair value that could be realized in an actual transaction may differ from that used to evaluate the impairment of goodwill. In testing goodwill for impairment, we have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events or circumstances leads to a determination that it is more likely than not (more than 50%) that the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If we elect to perform a qualitative assessment and determine that an impairment is more likely than not, we are then required to perform a quantitative impairment test, otherwise no further analysis is required. We also may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment and, instead, proceed directly to the quantitative impairment test. Under the goodwill qualitative assessment, various events and circumstances that would affect the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit are identified (similar to impairment indicators above). During fiscal 2024, we performed a qualitative impairment test which showed no indicators of goodwill impairment. Under the goodwill quantitative impairment test, the evaluation of impairment involves comparing the current fair value of our single reporting unit to its carrying value, including goodwill. We estimate the fair value using level 3 inputs as defined by the fair value hierarchy. The inputs used to estimate fair value include several subjective factors, such as estimates of future cash flows, estimates of our future cost structure, discount rates for our estimated cash flows, required level of working capital, assumed terminal value and time horizon of cash flow forecasts. Our market capitalization is also an estimate of fair value that is considered in our qualitative impairment analysis which is a level 1 input in the fair value hierarchy. If the carrying value of our single reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we recognize an impairment loss equal to the difference between the carrying value and estimated fair value. Elgin Rental Property In April 2005, we acquired property to be used for the Elgin Site. Two buildings are located on the Elgin Site, one of which is an office building. Approximately 65% of the rentable area in the office building is currently vacant. Approximately 29% of the rentable area has not been built-out. The other building, a warehouse, was expanded and modified for use as our principal processing facility and headquarters. The allocation of the purchase price to the two buildings was determined through a third-party appraisal. The value assigned to the office building is included in rental investment property on the balance sheet. The value assigned to the warehouse building is included in the caption â€œProperty, plant and equipmentâ€. The net rental expense from the office building is included in the caption â€œRental and miscellaneous expense, netâ€. See Note 4 â€" â€œLeasesâ€ below for additional information. Fair Value of Financial Instruments Authoritative guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (â€œFASBâ€) defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes observable and unobservable inputs used to measure fair value into three broad levels: Â Â Â Level 1- Quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets and liabilities. Level 2- Observable inputs other than quoted prices in active markets. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets. Level 3- Unobservable inputs for which there is little or no market data available. Â 44 Â The carrying values of cash, cash equivalents, trade accounts receivable and accounts payable approximate their fair values at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023 because of the short-term maturities and nature of these balances. The carrying value of our Credit Facility (as defined in Note 7 â€" â€œRevolving Credit Facilityâ€ below) borrowings approximates fair value at June 27, 2024 because interest rates on this instrument approximate current market rates (Level 2 criteria), the short-term maturity and nature of this balance. In addition, there has been no significant change in our inherent credit risk. The following table summarizes the carrying value and fair value estimate of our current and long-term debt, excluding unamortized debt issuance costs: Â Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Carrying value of current and long-term debt: Â $ 7,102 Â Â $ 7,774 Â Fair value of current and long-term debt: Â Â 6,496 Â Â Â 7,421 Â Â The estimated fair value of our current and long-term debt was determined using a market approach based upon Level 2 observable inputs, which estimates fair value based on interest rates currently offered on loans with similar terms to borrowers of similar credit quality or broker quotes. In addition, there have been no significant changes in the underlying assets securing our long-term debt. Revenue Recognition The Company records revenue based on a five-step model in accordance with ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for the goods or services. We sell our products under some arrangements which include customer contracts that fix the sales price for periods, which typically can be up to one year for some commercial ingredient customers. We also sell our products through specific programs consisting of promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient users. We recognize revenues as performance obligations are fulfilled, which occurs when control passes to our customers. We report all amounts billed to a customer in a sale transaction as revenue, including those amounts related to shipping and handling. We reduce revenue for estimated promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others. These reductions in revenue are considered variable consideration and are recorded in the same period the related sales are recorded. Such estimates are calculated using historical averages adjusted for any expected changes due to current business conditions and experience. See Note 3 â€" â€œRevenue Recognitionâ€ below for additional information on revenue recognition. Significant Customers and Concentration of Credit Risk The highly competitive nature of our business provides an environment for the loss of customers and the opportunity to gain new customers. We are subject to concentrations of credit risk, primarily in trade accounts receivable, and we attempt to mitigate this risk through our credit evaluation process, collection terms and through geographical dispersion of sales. Sales to two customers exceeded 10% of net sales during fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022. In total, sales to these two customers represented approximately 52%, 51% and 49% of our net sales in fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022, respectively. In total, net accounts receivable from these customers were 47% and 45% of net accounts receivable at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively. Marketing and Advertising Costs Marketing and advertising costs, including consumer insight research and related consulting expenses, are incurred to promote and support branded products primarily in the consumer distribution channel. These costs are generally expensed as incurred, recorded in selling expenses and were as follows for the last three fiscal years: Â Â Year EndedJune 27,2024 Â Â Year EndedJune 29,2023 Â Â Year EndedJune 30,2022 Â Marketing and advertising expense Â $ 15,705 Â Â $ 13,947 Â Â $ 13,964 Â Â 45 Â Shipping and Handling Costs Shipping and handling costs, which include freight and other expenses to prepare finished goods for shipment, are included in selling expenses. Shipping and handling costs for the last three fiscal years were as follows: Â Â Year EndedJune 27,2024 Â Â Year EndedJune 29,2023 Â Â Year EndedJune 30,2022 Â Shipping and handling costs Â $ 32,460 Â Â $ 30,918 Â Â $ 33,851 Â Â Research and Development Expenses Research and development expense represents the cost of our research and development personnel and their related expenses and is charged to selling expenses as incurred. Research and development expenses for the last three fiscal years were as follows: Â Â Year EndedJune 27,2024 Â Â Year EndedJune 29,2023 Â Â Year EndedJune 30,2022 Â Research and development expense Â $ 3,621 Â Â $ 3,362 Â Â $ 2,833 Â Â Stock-Based Compensation We account for stock-based employee compensation arrangements in accordance with the provisions of ASC Topic 718, Compensation â€" Stock Compensation, by calculating compensation cost based on the grant date fair value. We then amortize compensation expense over the vesting period. The grant date fair value of restricted stock units (â€œRSUsâ€) and performance share units (â€œPSUsâ€) is generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. Forfeitures are recognized as they occur, and excess tax benefits or tax deficiencies are recognized as a component of income tax expense. Income Taxes We account for income taxes using an asset and liability approach that requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been reported in our financial statements or tax returns. Such items give rise to differences in the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. A valuation allowance is recorded to reduce the carrying amount of deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the asset will not be realized. In estimating future tax consequences, we consider all expected future events other than changes in tax law or rates. We record liabilities for uncertain income tax positions based on a two-step process. The first step is recognition, where we evaluate whether an individual tax position has a likelihood of greater than 50% of being sustained upon examination based on the technical merits of the position, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. For tax positions that are currently estimated to have a less than 50% likelihood of being sustained, no tax benefit is recorded. For tax positions that have met the recognition threshold in the first step, we perform the second step of measuring the benefit to be recorded. The actual benefits ultimately realized may differ from our estimates. In future periods, changes in facts, circumstances, and new information may require us to change the recognition and measurement estimates with regard to individual tax positions. Changes in recognition and measurement estimates are recorded in results of operations and financial position in the period in which such changes occur. We recognize interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in the â€œIncome tax expenseâ€ caption in the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income. We evaluate the realization of deferred tax assets by considering our historical taxable income and future taxable income based upon the reversal of deferred tax liabilities. As of June 27, 2024, we believe that our deferred tax assets are fully realizable. Earnings per Share Basic earnings per common share are calculated using the weighted average number of shares of Common Stock and Class A Stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue Common Stock were exercised or converted into Common Stock or resulted in the issuance of Common Stock. 46 Â The following table presents the reconciliation of the weighted average shares outstanding used in computing basic and diluted earnings per share: Â Â Year EndedJune 27,2024 Â Â Year EndedJune 29,2023 Â Â Year EndedJune 30,2022 Â Weighted average number of shares outstanding â€" basic Â Â 11,615,255 Â Â Â 11,576,852 Â Â Â 11,537,699 Â Effect of dilutive securities: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Restricted stock units and performance stock units Â Â 72,291 Â Â Â 65,194 Â Â Â 56,250 Â Weighted average number of shares outstanding â€" diluted Â Â 11,687,546 Â Â Â 11,642,046 Â Â Â 11,593,949 Â Â There were no anti-dilutive awards excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share for any periods presented. Comprehensive Income We account for comprehensive income in accordance with ASC Topic 220, Comprehensive Income. This topic establishes standards for reporting and displaying comprehensive income and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements. The topic requires that all components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. This topic also requires all non-owner changes in stockholdersâ€™ equity be presented in either a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. This guidance also requires presentation by the respective line items of net income, either on the face of the statement where net income is presented or in the notes and information about significant amounts required under U.S. GAAP to be reclassified out of accumulated other comprehensive income in their entirety. For amounts not required to be reclassified in their entirety to net income, we provide a cross-reference to other disclosures that offer additional details about those amounts. Recent Accounting Pronouncements The following recent accounting pronouncements have not yet been adopted:In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07 â€œSegment Reporting (Topic 280)â€. The amendments in this update modify the disclosure requirements by expanding the disclosures required for reportable segments in annual and interim consolidated financial statements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. In addition, the amendments require that any entity that has a single reportable segment provide all the disclosures required either in this update or already existing in Topic 280. The amendments are effective public entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements.In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09 â€œIncome Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosuresâ€. The amendments in this update enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures primarily related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid by jurisdiction. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied prospectively, but may be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements. NOTE 2 â€” LAKEVILLE ACQUISITIONOn September 29, 2023, we completed the acquisition of certain snack bar assets from the Seller. The acquired assets include inventory, a manufacturing facility and related equipment located in Lakeville, Minnesota, and product formulas (the â€œLakeville Acquisitionâ€). The initial purchase price was approximately $61,546 in cash, subject to certain post-closing adjustments. Following the closing, we received payments from the Seller of $2,572 for purchase price adjustments related to the actual inventory and fixed assets acquired, for a revised purchase price of $58,974, net. The purchase price for the Lakeville Acquisition was primarily funded from borrowings under the Credit Facility (defined in Note 7 - Revolving Credit Facility below).The Lakeville Acquisition accelerates our strategy within the growing snack bar category and diversifies our product offerings. It also allows us to offer private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars, including fruit and grain, crunchy, protein, sweet and salty and chewy bars that complement internally developed nutrition bars. The Lakeville Acquisition has been accounted for as a business combination in accordance with ASC Topic 805, â€œBusiness Combinationsâ€.47 Â The following table summarizes the amounts allocated to the fair values of certain assets acquired at the acquisition date:Â Inventories $ 35,500 Â Property, plant and equipment Â 25,600 Â Identifiable intangible assets: Â Â Â Â Â Product formulas Â 850 Â Â Â Â Total assets acquired $ 61,950 Â Property, plant and equipment represent a manufacturing facility and related equipment located in Lakeville, Minnesota. The fair value for the property was primarily determined using a market approach. The fair values for the machinery and equipment were determined using a combination of the direct and indirect cost approaches, along with the market approach. All building and equipment assets are being depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated remaining useful lives as determined in accordance with our accounting policies.The product formulas asset represents the value of these formulas designed to replicate the taste, texture and appearance of branded snack bars. The fair value of the product formulas was determined using the income approach through a relief from royalty method analysis. We are amortizing formulas over a weighted average life of 5.4 years. There were no recognized or unrecognized material contingencies associated with the acquired business.The $61,950 fair value of the identifiable assets acquired exceeded the total purchase price of $58,974. Accordingly, this acquisition resulted in a bargain purchase and we recognized a gain of $2,226, net of taxes, which is reported in the caption â€œBargain purchase gain, netâ€ in our consolidated financial results for the year ended June 27, 2024. We believe the Lakeville Acquisition resulted in a bargain purchase gain because the Seller was motivated to divest such snack bars business, as its performance no longer supported the Seller's long-term growth targets.Net sales of $119,837 from the closing date of the Lakeville Acquisition on September 29, 2023 are included in our consolidated financial results for fiscal 2024. The closing date of the Lakeville Acquisition was on the first day of our second fiscal quarter. The Company also incurred acquisition-related costs of $856 for fiscal 2024 which are included in Administrative expenses. The following reflects the unaudited pro forma results of operations of the Company as if the Lakeville Acquisition had taken place at the beginning of fiscal 2023. This pro forma information does not purport to represent what the Companyâ€™s actual results would have been if the Lakeville Acquisition had occurred as of the date indicated or what such results would be for any future periods.Â Â Â Year EndedJune 27,2024 Â Â Year EndedJune 29,2023 Â Pro forma net sales Â $ 1,107,096 Â Â $ 1,164,597 Â Pro forma net income Â Â 57,878 Â Â Â 57,929 Â Pro forma diluted earnings per share Â $ 4.95 Â Â $ 4.98 Â These unaudited pro forma results have been calculated after applying our accounting policies and adjusting the results of the Lakeville Acquisition to reflect elimination of transaction costs and the bargain purchase gain and to record additional interest expense and cost of sales that would have been incurred, assuming the fair value adjustment to inventory had been applied from July 1, 2022, net of related income taxes in respect of pro forma net income and diluted earnings per share performance. The impact to the above pro forma information of incremental depreciation and amortization expense is insignificant and therefore excluded from the calculation of pro forma results.Since the Lakeville Acquisition, we continue to operate in a single reportable operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut-related products and snacks through three sales distribution channels. Revenues from the Lakeville Acquisition are primarily in our consumer distribution channel. NOTE 3 â€” REVENUE RECOGNITION We recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which we expect to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. For each customer contract, a five-step process is followed in which we identify the contract, identify performance obligations, determine the transaction price, allocate the contract transaction price to the performance obligations, and recognize the revenue when (or as) the performance obligation is transferred to the customer. 48 Â Nature of Products We manufacture and sell the following: â€¢branded products under our own proprietary brands to retailers on a national basis; â€¢private brand products to retailers, such as supermarkets, mass merchandisers, and specialty retailers, for resale under the retailersâ€™ own or controlled labels; â€¢private brand and branded products to the foodservice industry, including foodservice distributors and national restaurant operators; â€¢branded products under co-manufacturing agreements to other major branded companies for their distribution; and â€¢products to our industrial customer base for repackaging in portion control packages and for use as ingredients by other food manufacturers. When Performance Obligations Are Satisfied A performance obligation is a promise in a contract to transfer a distinct good or service to the customer and is the unit of account for revenue recognition. A contractâ€™s transaction price is allocated to each distinct performance obligation and recognized as revenue when, or as, the performance obligation is satisfied. The Companyâ€™s performance obligations are primarily for the delivery of raw and processed recipe and snack nuts, nut butters, trail mixes and snack and nutrition bars. Our customer contracts do not include more than one performance obligation. If a contract were to contain more than one performance obligation, we are required to allocate the contractâ€™s transaction price to each performance obligation based on its relative standalone selling price. The standalone selling price for each distinct good is generally determined by directly observable data. Revenue recognition is generally completed at a point in time when product control is transferred to the customer. For virtually all of our revenues, control transfers to the customer when the product is shipped or delivered to the customer based upon applicable shipping terms, as the customer can then direct the use and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from the asset at that point in time. Therefore, the timing of our revenue recognition requires little judgment. The performance obligations in our contracts are satisfied within one year, and typically much less. As such, we have not disclosed the transaction price allocated to remaining performance obligations for any periods presented. Significant Payment Terms Our customer contracts identify the product, quantity, price, payment and final delivery terms. Payment terms usually include early pay discounts. We grant payment terms consistent with industry standards. On a limited basis some payment terms may be extended; however, no payment terms beyond six months are granted at contract inception. The average customer payment is received within approximately 30 days of the invoice date. As a result, we do not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component because the period between our transfer of a promised good or service to a customer and the customerâ€™s payment for that good or service will be six months or less. Shipping All shipping and handling costs associated with outbound freight are accounted for as fulfillment costs and are included in selling expense. Variable Consideration Some of our products are sold through specific incentive programs consisting of promotional allowances, volume and customer rebates, in-store display incentives and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient customers. The ultimate cost of these programs is dependent on certain factors such as actual purchase volumes or customer activities and is dependent on significant management judgment when determining estimates. The Company accounts for these programs as variable consideration and recognizes a reduction in revenue (and a corresponding reduction in the transaction price) in the same period as the underlying program based upon the terms of the specific arrangements. 49 Â Trade promotions, consisting primarily of customer pricing allowances, merchandising funds and consumer coupons, are also offered through various programs to customers and consumers. A provision for estimated trade promotions is recorded as a reduction of revenue (and a reduction in the transaction price) in the same period when the sale is recognized. Revenues are also recorded net of expected customer deductions which are provided for based upon past experiences. Evaluating these estimates requires management judgment. We generally use the most likely amount method to determine the variable consideration. We believe there will not be significant changes to our estimates of variable consideration when any related uncertainties are resolved with our customers. The Company reviews and updates its estimates and related accruals of variable consideration and trade promotions at least quarterly based on the terms of the agreements and historical experience. Any uncertainties in the ultimate resolution of variable consideration due to factors outside of the Companyâ€™s influence are typically resolved within a short timeframe, therefore, no additional constraint on the variable consideration is required. Product Returns While customers generally have the right to return defective or non-conforming products, past experience has demonstrated that product returns have generally been immaterial. Customer remedies may include either a cash refund or an exchange of the returned product. As a result, the right of return and related refund liability for non-conforming or defective goods is estimated and recorded as a reduction in revenue, if necessary. Contract Balances Contract assets or liabilities result from transactions with revenue recorded over time. If the measure of remaining rights exceeds the measure of the remaining performance obligations, the Company records a contract asset. Conversely, if the measure of the remaining performance obligations exceeds the measure of the remaining rights, the Company records a contract liability. There was no contract asset balance for any periods presented. The Company generally does not have material deferred revenue or contract liability balances arising from transactions with customers. Contract Costs The Company does not incur significant fulfillment costs requiring capitalization. Disaggregation of Revenue Revenue disaggregated by distribution channel is as follows: Â Â Â For the Year Ended Â Distribution Channel Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â June 30,2022 Â Consumer Â $ 872,283 Â Â $ 785,646 Â Â $ 749,895 Â Commercial Ingredients Â Â 110,483 Â Â Â 123,094 Â Â Â 120,577 Â Contract Manufacturing Â Â 84,017 Â Â Â 90,946 Â Â Â 85,396 Â Total Â $ 1,066,783 Â Â $ 999,686 Â Â $ 955,868 Â Â NOTE 4 â€” LEASESWe lease warehouse space, equipment used in the transportation of goods in our warehouses and a limited number of automobiles. Our leases generally do not contain any explicit guarantees of residual value and, with the exception of the Huntley warehouse, generally do not contain non-lease components. Our leases for warehouse transportation equipment generally require the equipment to be returned to the lessor in good working order. Through a review of our contracts, we determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception and analyze the lease to determine if it is operating or finance. Operating lease right-of-use assets represent our right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent our obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease right-of-use assets and liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. As most of our leases do not provide an implicit rate, we use our incremental collateralized borrowing rate based on the information available at the commencement date in determining the present value of lease payments. Implicit rates are used when readily determinable. None of our leases currently contain options to extend the term. In the event of an option to extend the term of a lease, the lease term used in measuring the liability would include options to extend or terminate the lease if it is reasonably certain that the Company will exercise 50 Â that option. Lease expense for operating lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the respective lease term. Our leases have remaining terms of up to 7.6 years. It is our accounting policy not to apply lease recognition requirements to short-term leases, defined as leases with an initial term of 12 months or less. As such, leases with an initial term of 12 months or less are not recorded in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. We have also made the policy election to not separate lease and non-lease components for all leases. Lessor Accounting We lease office space in our four-story office building located in Elgin, Illinois. As a lessor, we retain substantially all of the risks and benefits of ownership of the investment property and under Topic 842: Leases we continue to account for all of our leases as operating leases. Lease agreements may include options to renew. We accrue fixed lease income on a straight-line basis over the terms of the leases. There is generally no variable lease consideration and an immaterial amount of non-lease components such as recurring utility and storage fees. Leases between related parties are immaterial. The Amended and Restated Credit Agreement provided for a $117,500 senior secured revolving credit facility (the â€œCredit Facilityâ€) with the same borrowing capacity, interest rates and applicable margin as the Former Credit Agreement and extended the term of the Former Credit Agreement from July 7, 2021 to March 5, 2025. The Credit Facility is secured by our accounts receivable and inventory. On May 8, 2023, we entered into the First Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the â€œFirst Amendmentâ€), which replaced the London interbank offered rate interest rate option with the secured overnight financing rate (â€œSOFRâ€). The First Amendment updated the accrued interest rate to a rate based on SOFR plus an applicable margin based upon the borrowing base calculation, ranging from 1.35% to 1.85%.On September 29, 2023, we entered into the Second Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the â€œSecond Amendmentâ€), which (among other things) increased the amount available to borrow under the Credit Facility to $150,000, extended the maturity date to September 29, 2028 and allows the Company to pay up to $100,000 in dividends per year, subject to meeting availability tests. At June 27, 2024 the weighted average interest rate for the Credit Facility was 8.06%. At June 29, 2023 there were no borrowings on the line of credit under the Credit Facility and thus no applicable interest rate on the borrowings. At June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, our unused letters of credit were $4,857 and $5,810, respectively. The terms of the Credit Facility contain covenants that require us to restrict investments, indebtedness, acquisitions and certain sales of assets, cash dividends, redemptions of capital stock and prepayment of indebtedness (if such prepayment, among other things, is of a subordinate debt). If loan availability under the Borrowing Base Calculation falls below $25,000, we will be required to maintain a specified fixed charge coverage ratio, tested on a monthly basis. All cash received from customers is required to be applied against the Credit Facility. The Bank Lenders are entitled to require immediate repayment of our obligations under the Credit Facility in the event of default on the payments required under the Credit Facility, a change in control in the ownership of the Company, non-compliance with the financial covenant or upon the occurrence of certain other defaults by us under the Credit Facility. As of June 27, 2024, we were in compliance with the financial covenant under the Credit Facility and we currently expect to be in compliance with the financial covenant in the Credit Facility for the next twelve months. At June 27, 2024, we had $124,437 of available credit under the Credit Facility, which reflects borrowings of $20,420 and reduced availability as a result of $5,143 in outstanding letters of credit. We would still be in compliance with all restrictive covenants under the Credit Facility if this entire amount were borrowed. NOTE 8 â€” LONG-TERM DEBT Long-term debt consists of the following: Â Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Selma, Texas facility financing obligation to related parties,Â Â Â due in monthly installments of $114Â including interest at 9.25%Â Â Â through September 1, 2026 Â Â 7,102 Â Â Â 7,774 Â Less: Current maturities Â Â (737) Â Â (672) Total long-term debt Â $ 6,365 Â Â $ 7,102 Â Â 54 Â In September 2006, we sold our Selma, Texas properties (the â€œSelma Propertiesâ€) to two related party partnerships for $14,300 and are leasing them back. The selling price was determined by an independent appraiser to be the fair market value which also approximated our carrying value. The lease for the Selma, Texas properties had an initial ten-year term at a fair market value rent with three five-year renewal options. In September 2015, we signed a lease renewal which exercised two five-year renewal options and extended the term of our Selma lease to September 18, 2026. At the end of each five-year renewal option, the base monthly lease amounts are reassessed, and the monthly payments increased to $114 beginning in September 2021. One five-year renewal option remains. Also, we currently have the option to purchase the properties from the lessor at 95% (100% in certain circumstances) of the then fair market value, but not to be less than the $14,300 purchase price. The financing obligation is being accounted for similar to the accounting for a capital lease, whereby the purchase price was recorded as a debt obligation, as the provisions of the arrangement are not eligible for sale-leaseback accounting. Aggregate maturities of long-term debt are as follows: Â Fiscal Year Ending Â Â Â June 26, 2025 Â Â 737 Â June 25, 2026 Â Â 809 Â June 24, 2027 Â Â 887 Â June 29, 2028 Â Â 972 Â June 28, 2029 Â Â 1,066 Â Thereafter Â Â 2,631 Â Â $ 7,102 Â Â NOTE 9 â€” INCOME TAXES The provision for income taxes is based entirely on income before income taxes earned in the United States, and is as follows for the last three fiscal years: Â For the Year Ended Â Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â June 30,2022 Â Current: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Federal Â $ 15,405 Â Â $ 18,393 Â Â $ 14,347 Â State Â Â 4,987 Â Â Â 5,215 Â Â Â 5,011 Â Total current expense Â Â 20,392 Â Â Â 23,608 Â Â Â 19,358 Â Deferred: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Deferred federal Â Â 209 Â Â Â (1,164) Â Â 1,519 Â Deferred state Â Â (913) Â Â 49 Â Â Â (968) Total deferred (benefit) expense Â Â (704) Â Â (1,115) Â Â 551 Â Total income tax expense Â $ 19,688 Â Â $ 22,493 Â Â $ 19,909 Â Â The reconciliations of income taxes at the statutory federal income tax rate to income tax expense reported in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income for the last three fiscal years are as follows: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â June 30,2022 Â Federal statutory income tax rate Â Â 21.0 % Â Â 21.0 % Â Â 21.0 % State income taxes, net of federal benefit Â Â 3.8 Â Â Â 4.9 Â Â Â 3.7 Â Section 162(m) limitation Â Â 1.4 Â Â Â 0.7 Â Â Â 0.6 Â Research and development tax credit Â Â (0.9) Â Â (0.3) Â Â (0.4) Bargain purchase gain Â Â (0.6) Â Â â€” Â Â Â â€” Â Share-based compensation Â Â (0.4) Â Â 0.1 Â Â Â (0.7) Uncertain tax positions Â Â 0.2 Â Â Â 0.1 Â Â Â 0.1 Â Other Â Â 0.1 Â Â Â (0.1) Â Â 0.1 Â Effective tax rate Â Â 24.6 % Â Â 26.4 % Â Â 24.4 % Â 55 Â Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the financial statement basis and the tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted statutory tax rates applicable to future years. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are comprised of the following: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Deferred tax assets (liabilities): Â Â Â Â Â Â Accounts receivable Â $ 417 Â Â $ 346 Â Employee compensation Â Â 2,343 Â Â Â 1,866 Â Inventory Â Â 460 Â Â Â 371 Â Depreciation Â Â (16,466) Â Â (14,303) Capitalized leases Â Â 1,115 Â Â Â 1,140 Â Goodwill and intangible assets Â Â 797 Â Â Â 1,474 Â Retirement plan Â Â 6,716 Â Â Â 7,004 Â Workersâ€™ compensation Â Â 1,663 Â Â Â 1,950 Â Share based compensation Â Â 1,780 Â Â Â 1,642 Â Research related expenditures Â Â 3,505 Â Â Â 1,549 Â Other Â Â 800 Â Â Â 553 Â Net deferred tax asset Â $ 3,130 Â Â $ 3,592 Â Â In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income of the character necessary during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities (including the impact of available carryback and carryforward periods), projected future taxable income and tax-planning strategies in making this assessment. If or when recognized, the tax benefits relating to any reversal of the valuation allowance will be recognized as a reduction of income tax expense. For the years ending June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, unrecognized tax benefits and accrued interest and penalties were $692 and $448. Accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions are not material for any periods presented. Interest and penalties within income tax expense were not material for any period presented. The total gross amounts of unrecognized tax benefits were $733 and $463 at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively. A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits is as follows: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â June 30,2022 Â Beginning balance Â $ 463 Â Â $ 390 Â Â $ 326 Â Gross increases â€” tax positions in prior year Â Â 146 Â Â Â 32 Â Â Â 1 Â Settlements Â Â (104) Â Â (36) Â Â â€” Â Gross increases â€” tax positions in current year Â Â 311 Â Â Â 127 Â Â Â 110 Â Lapse of statute of limitations Â Â (83) Â Â (50) Â Â (47) Ending balance Â $ 733 Â Â $ 463 Â Â $ 390 Â Â Unrecognized tax benefits, that if recognized, would affect the annual effective tax rate on income from continuing operations, are as follows: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â June 30,2022 Â Unrecognized tax benefits that would affect annual effectiveÂ Â Â tax rate Â $ 682 Â Â $ 439 Â Â $ 373 Â Â During fiscal 2024, the change in unrecognized tax benefits due to statute expiration was not material. We do not anticipate that total unrecognized tax benefits will significantly change in the next twelve months. We file income tax returns with federal and state tax authorities within the United States of America. Our federal tax returns are open for audit for fiscal 2021 through 2023. Our Illinois tax return is under audit for fiscal 2022. Our Illinois tax return for fiscal 2023 is open for audit. Our California tax returns for fiscal 2020 through 2023 are open for audit. No other tax jurisdictions are material to us. 56 Â NOTE 10 â€” COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES Litigation We are currently a party to various legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business. While management presently believes that the ultimate outcomes of these proceedings, individually and in the aggregate, will not materially affect our financial position, results of operations or cash flows, legal proceedings are subject to inherent uncertainties, and unfavorable outcomes could occur. Unfavorable outcomes could include substantial money damages in excess of any appropriate accruals, which management has established. Were such unfavorable final outcomes to occur, there exists the possibility of a material adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations and cash flows. NOTE 11 â€” STOCKHOLDERSâ€™ EQUITY Our Class A Common Stock, $.01 par value (the â€œClass A Stockâ€), has cumulative voting rights with respect to the election of those directors which the holders of Class A Stock are entitled to elect, and 10 votes per share on all other matters on which holders of our Class A Stock and Common Stock are entitled to vote, with the exception of election of the directors for which the holders of Common Stock are eligible to elect. In addition, each share of Class A Stock is convertible at the option of the holder at any time into one share of Common Stock and automatically converts into one share of Common Stock upon any sale or transfer other than to related individuals or certain other events as set forth in our Restated Certificate of Incorporation. Each share of our Common Stock, $.01 par value (the â€œCommon Stockâ€) has noncumulative voting rights of one vote per share. The Class A Stock and the Common Stock are entitled to share equally, on a share-for-share basis, in any cash dividends declared by the Board of Directors, and the holders of the Common Stock are entitled to elect 25%, rounded up to the nearest whole number, of the members comprising the Board of Directors. During fiscal 2017, our Board of Directors adopted a dividend policy under which it intends to pay an annual cash dividend on our Common Stock and Class A Stock during the first quarter of each fiscal year. NOTE 12 â€” STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION PLANS At our annual meeting of stockholders on November 2, 2023, our stockholders approved a new equity incentive plan (the â€œ2023 Omnibus Planâ€) under which awards of options and other stock-based awards may be made to employees, officers or non-employee directors of our Company. A total of 747,065 shares of Common Stock are authorized for grants of awards thereunder, which may be in the form of options, restricted stock, RSUs, stock appreciation rights (â€œSARsâ€), performance shares, PSUs, Common Stock or dividends and dividend equivalents. As of June 27, 2024, there were 691,107 shares of Common Stock that remained authorized for future grants of awards, subject to the limitations set below. Under the terms of the 2023 Omnibus Plan, the total number of shares of Common Stock with respect to which options or SARs may be granted in any calendar year to any participant may not exceed 500,000 shares (this limit applies separately with respect to each type of award). Additionally, for awards of restricted stock, RSUs, performance shares or other stock-based awards that are intended to qualify as performance-based compensation: (i) the total number of shares of Common Stock that may be granted in any calendar year to any participant may not exceed 250,000 shares (this limit applies separately to each type of award) and (ii) the maximum amount that may be paid to any participant for awards that are payable in cash or property other than Common Stock in any calendar year is $5,000. During fiscal 2017, the Board of Directors adopted an equity grant cap which further restricted the number of awards that could be made to any one participant or in the aggregate. The equity grant cap limited the number of awards to 250,000 awards to all participants and 20,000 awards to any one participant in a fiscal year. Except as set forth in the 2023 Omnibus Plan, RSUs have vesting periods of three years for awards to employees and one year for awards to non-employee members of the Board of Directors. PSUs have a vesting period of three years and performance goals that must be achieved in order to vest. We issue new shares of Common Stock upon the vesting of RSUs and PSUs. The fair value of RSUs and PSUs are generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. The fair value of RSUs and PSUs granted for the years ended June 27, 2024, June 29, 2023 and June 30, 2022 was $4,805, $4,769 and $4,065, respectively. 57 Â The following is a summary of RSU and PSU activity for the year ended June 27, 2024: Â Restricted Stock Units Â Shares Â Â Weighted-AverageGrant-DateFair Value Â Outstanding at June 29, 2023 Â Â 155,012 Â Â $ 67.87 Â Granted (a) Â Â 56,168 Â Â $ 85.55 Â Vested (b) Â Â (55,085) Â $ 69.68 Â Forfeited Â Â (621) Â $ 72.58 Â Outstanding at June 27, 2024 Â Â 155,474 Â Â $ 73.60 Â Â (a)Includes 8,031 PSUs (based on reaching target performance) with performance conditions for which the performance criteria had yet to be achieved. The PSUs vest three years from the grant date, with the number of shares earned (ranging from 0% to 200% of the target award) depending on the extent to which we achieve certain performance metrics measured over a three-year period. The final number of shares that will eventually be earned and vest (if any) has not yet been determined as of June 27, 2024.(b)The number of RSUs vested includes shares that were withheld on behalf of employees to satisfy statutory tax withholding requirements. At June 27, 2024 there were 25,800 RSUs outstanding that were vested but deferred. At June 29, 2023 there were 38,907 RSUs outstanding that were vested but deferred. The non-vested RSUs and PSUs at June 27, 2024 will vest over a weighted-average period of 1.3 years. The fair value of RSUs that vested for the years ended June 27, 2024, June 29, 2023 and June 30, 2022 was $3,838, $2,978 and $3,274, respectively. Refer to Note 19 â€” â€œSubsequent Eventâ€ below. 58 Â NOTE 14 â€” EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLANS We maintain a contributory plan established pursuant to the provisions of section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. The plan provides retirement benefits for all nonunion employees meeting minimum age and service requirements. We currently match 100% of the first three percent contributed by each employee and 50% of the next two percent contributed, up to certain maximums specified in the plan. Expense for the 401(k) plan was as follows for the last three fiscal years: Â Â Year EndedJune 27,2024 Â Â Year EndedJune 29,2023 Â Â Year EndedJune 30,2022 Â 401(k) plan expense Â $ 3,987 Â Â $ 2,746 Â Â $ 2,204 Â Â Starting in fiscal 2023 we now offer a non-qualified deferred compensation plan to provide executives with the opportunity to accumulate assets for retirement on a tax-deferred basis (the â€œPlanâ€). Participants in the Plan can defer up to 80% of their base salary and up to 100% of performance-based compensation. The compensation deferred under this Plan is credited with earnings and losses as determined by the rate of return of reference investments selected by the participants. Participants are fully vested in their respective deferrals and earnings. We may also make discretionary contributions, which vest three years from the crediting date, at full vesting age, or other events as defined and described in the Plan. We invest in corporate owned life insurance contracts (â€œCOLIâ€) on the lives of designated individuals that are held in a Rabbi Trust (â€œTrustâ€) to fund the Plan obligations. The Trust is the owner and beneficiary of such insurance contracts. Our promise to pay amounts deferred under this Plan is an unsecured obligation. Participantâ€™s benefits can be paid out as a lump sum or in annual installments over a term of up to 10 years. The COLI investments are recorded at cash surrender value. The cash surrender value of the life insurance contracts was $1,214 and $282 at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively, and are included in Other Long Term Assets in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets. The balances due to participants in the Plan were $1,261 and $304 as of June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively, and are included in the caption â€œOtherâ€ within Long Term Liabilities in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets. Matching contribution expense was $246 and $106 for the years ended June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively.Â Virtually all of our salaried employees participate in our Sanfilippo Value Added Plan (as amended, the â€œSVA Planâ€), which is a cash incentive plan (an economic value added-based program) administered by our Compensation and Human Resources Committee. We accrue expense related to the SVA Plan in the annual period that the economic performance underlying such performance occurs. This method of expense recognition properly matches the expense associated with improved economic performance with the period the improved performance occurs on a systematic and rational basis. The SVA Plan payments, if any, are paid to participants in the first quarter of the following fiscal year in which they are earned. NOTE 15 â€” RETIREMENT PLAN The Supplemental Employee Retirement Plan (â€œSERPâ€) is an unfunded, non-qualified benefit plan that will provide eligible participants with monthly benefits upon retirement, disability or death, subject to certain conditions. Benefits paid to retirees are based on age at retirement, years of credited service, and average compensation. We use our fiscal year end as the measurement date for the obligation calculation. Accounting guidance in ASC Topic 715, Compensation â€” Retirement Benefits, requires the recognition of the funded status of the SERP on the Consolidated Balance Sheet. Actuarial gains or losses, prior service costs or credits and transition obligations that have not yet been recognized are recorded as a component of â€œAccumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)â€. The following table presents the changes in the projected benefit obligation for the fiscal years ended: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Change in projected benefit obligation Â Â Â Â Â Â Projected benefit obligation at beginning of year Â $ 28,017 Â Â $ 29,511 Â Service cost Â Â 251 Â Â Â 801 Â Interest cost Â Â 1,400 Â Â Â 1,366 Â Actuarial gain Â Â (1,663) Â Â (3,007) Benefits paid Â Â (1,143) Â Â (654) Projected benefit obligation at end of year Â $ 26,862 Â Â $ 28,017 Â Â The accumulated benefit obligation, which represents benefits earned up to the measurement date, was $24,952 and $25,277 at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively. 59 Â Components of the actuarial (gain) loss are presented below for the fiscal years ended: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â June 30,2022 Â Actuarial Gain Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Change in assumed pay increases Â $ 1,418 Â Â $ (70) Â $ 1,698 Â Change in discount rate Â Â (1,138) Â Â (1,584) Â Â (8,184) Change in mortality assumptions Â Â â€” Â Â Â â€” Â Â Â 75 Â Other Â Â (1,943) Â Â (1,353) Â Â (979) Actuarial gain Â $ (1,663) Â $ (3,007) Â $ (7,390) Â The components of the net periodic pension cost are as follows for the fiscal years ended: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Â June 30,2022 Â Service cost Â $ 251 Â Â $ 801 Â Â $ 991 Â Interest cost Â Â 1,400 Â Â Â 1,366 Â Â Â 1,018 Â Recognized loss amortization Â Â â€” Â Â Â 28 Â Â Â 1,455 Â Net periodic pension cost Â $ 1,651 Â Â $ 2,195 Â Â $ 3,464 Â Â The most significant assumption related to our SERP is the discount rate used to calculate the actuarial present value of benefit obligations to be paid in the future. We used the following assumptions to calculate the benefit obligation of our SERP as of the following dates: Â June 27,2024 Â June 29,2023 Discount rate Â 5.45% Â 5.12% Average rate of compensation increases Â 6.11% Â 4.50% Bonus payment Â 45% - 115% of base, paid 4 of 5 years Â 45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years Â We used the following assumptions to calculate the net periodic costs of our SERP as follows for the fiscal years ended: Â June 27,2024 Â June 29,2023 Â June 30,2022 Discount rate Â 5.12% Â 4.68% Â 2.89% Rate of compensation increases Â 4.50% Â 4.50% Â 3.38% Mortality Â Pri-2012 white collar with MP- 2021 scale Â Pri-2012 white collar with MP- 2021 scale Â Pri-2012 white collar with MP- 2020 scale Bonus payment Â 45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years Â 45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years Â 45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years Â The assumed discount rate is based, in part, upon a discount rate modeling process that considers both high quality long-term indices and the duration of the SERP relative to the durations implicit in the broader indices. The discount rate is utilized principally in calculating the actuarial present value of our obligation and periodic expense pursuant to the SERP. To the extent the discount rate increases or decreases, our SERP obligation is decreased or increased, respectively. The following table presents the benefits expected to be paid in the next ten fiscal years: Fiscal Year Â Â Â 2025 Â $ 708 Â 2026 Â Â 979 Â 2027 Â Â 843 Â 2028 Â Â 1,729 Â 2029 Â Â 1,694 Â 2030 â€“ 2034 Â Â 9,236 Â Â At June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, the current portion of the SERP liability was $708 and $1,364, respectively, and recorded in the caption â€œAccrued payroll and related benefitsâ€ on the Consolidated Balance Sheets. 60 Â The following table presents the components of accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) that have not yet been recognized in net pension expense: Â June 27,2024 Â Â June 29,2023 Â Unrecognized net gain (loss) Â $ 1,623 Â Â $ (41) Tax effect Â Â (579) Â Â (163) Net amount unrecognized Â $ 1,044 Â Â $ (204) Â NOTE 16 â€” ACCUMULATED OTHER COMPREHENSIVE INCOME (LOSS) The table below sets forth the changes to accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) for the last two fiscal years. Item 9A â€” Controls and Procedures Disclosure Controls and Procedures Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer (â€œCEOâ€) and Chief Financial Officer (â€œCFOâ€), we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures, as such term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) promulgated under the Exchange Act, as of the end of the period covered by this Annual Report on Form 10-K. Based on this evaluation, our CEO and CFO concluded that, as of June 27, 2024, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by us in reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in SEC rules and forms and is accumulated and reported to our management, including our CEO and CFO, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Managementâ€™s Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as such term is defined in Exchange Act Rule 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f). Under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our CEO and CFO, we carried out an evaluation of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of June 27, 2024, based on the Internal Control-Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. Based on this evaluation, our management has concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of June 27, 2024. The effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of June 27, 2024 has been audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report contained in this Annual Report on Form 10-K. Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting There were no changes in internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the fourth fiscal quarter ended June 27, 2024 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting. Limitations on the Effectiveness of Controls Our management, including our CEO and CFO, does not expect that the Disclosure Controls and Procedures or our Internal Control over Financial Reporting will prevent or detect all errors and all fraud. A control, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the controlâ€™s objectives will be met. Further, the design of a control must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all internal controls, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Controls can also be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by management override of the controls. The design of any control is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions. Over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or deterioration in the degree of compliance with associated policies or procedures. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and may not be detected. Item 9B â€” Other Information Rule 10b5-1 Trading Arrangement During the three months ended June 27, 2024, none of our directors or officers (as defined in Rule 16a-1(f) of the Exchange Act) adopted, terminated or modified a Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement or non-Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement (as such terms are defined in Item 408 of Regulation S-K). It is subject to and qualified in its entirety by reference to our Restated Certificate of Incorporation (â€œRestated Certificateâ€) and our Amended and Restated Bylaws (the â€œBylawsâ€), each of which are incorporated by reference as an exhibit to the Annual Report on Form 10-K of which this Exhibit 4.1 is a part. We encourage you to read our Restated Certificate, our Bylaws and the applicable provisions of the Delaware General Corporation Law for additional information. Authorized Capital Shares Our authorized capital shares consist of 17,000,000 shares of Common Stock, 10,000,000 shares of Class A Stock, and 500,000 shares of preferred stock, $0.01 par value per share (â€œPreferred Stockâ€). The outstanding shares of our Common Stock and Class A Stock are fully paid and nonassessable. Voting Rights Pursuant to our Restated Certificate, so long as the total number of shares of Class A Stock outstanding is greater than or equal to 12.5% of the total number of shares of Class A Stock and Common Stock outstanding (see â€œConversion Rightsâ€ below), the holders of Common Stock voting as a class are entitled to elect such number (rounded to the next highest number in the case of a fraction) of directors as equals 25% of the total number of directors constituting the full board of directors of the Company (the â€œBoard of Directorsâ€). The holders of Class A Stock voting as a class are entitled to elect the remaining directors. With respect to all matters other than the election of directors or any matters for which class voting is required by law, the holders of Common Stock and the holders of Class A Stock will vote together as a single class, and the holders of Common Stock will be entitled to one vote per share of Common Stock and the holders of Class A Stock will be entitled to 10 votes per share of Class A Stock. Our Restated Certificate does not entitle holders of Common Stock to cumulative voting. However, solely with respect to the election of directors, the Restated Certificate entitles, but does not require, each holder of Class A Stock, in person or by proxy, to either (a) vote the number of shares of Class A Stock owned by such holder for as many persons as there are directors to be elected by holders of Class A Stock (â€œClass A Directorsâ€), or (b) cumulate said votes (by multiplying the number of shares of Class A Stock owned by such holder by the number of candidates for election as a Class A Director) and either (i) give one candidate all of the cumulated votes, or (ii) distribute the cumulated votes among such candidates as the holder sees fit. Dividend Rights The holders of Common Stock and Class A Stock are entitled to receive dividends, if any, as may be declared from time to time by the Board of Directors in its discretion out of funds legally available for the payment of dividends. When and as dividends are declared on any shares of Common Stock and Class A Stock, whether payable in cash, property or securities of the Company, the holders of Common Stock and Class A Stock will be entitled to share equally, share for share, in such dividends. Conversion Rights Each share of Class A Stock is convertible, from time to time at the option of the holder and automatically upon the occurrence of certain events, into one share of Common Stock. Our Common Stock has no conversion rights. Upon the sale, assignment, pledge or other transfer, other than a â€œPermitted Transferâ€ (as that term is defined in the Restated Certificate), of any shares or any interest in shares of Class A Stock to any person or entity, all such transferred shares of Class A Stock will be converted automatically into an equal number of shares of Common Stock. All outstanding shares of Class A Stock will be converted automatically into an equal number of shares of Common Stock upon the date on which the number of outstanding shares of Class A Stock constitutes less than 12.5% of the total number of outstanding shares of Common Stock and Class A Stock. Â Â Liquidation Rights Holders of Common Stock and Class A Stock will share ratably in all assets legally available for distribution to our stockholders in the event of dissolution. Other Rights and Preferences Our Common Stock has no sinking fund or redemption provisions or preemptive or exchange rights. Listing The Common Stock is traded on The Nasdaq Global Select Market under the trading symbol â€œJBSS.â€ Provisions in the Restated Certificate and the Bylaws The Restated Certificate and the Bylaws contain provisions that could make the Company a less attractive target for a hostile takeover and could make more difficult or discourage a merger proposal, a tender offer or a proxy contest. Such provisions include: â€¢a requirement that stockholder-nominated director nominees be nominated in advance of the meeting at which directors are elected and that specific information be provided in connection with such nomination; â€¢the ownership and the rights of Class A Stock held by the Sanfilippo Group and Valentine Group (as those terms as defined in our Definitive Proxy Statement filed from time to time with the Securities and Exchange Commission); and â€¢he ability of the Board of Directors to issue additional shares of Common Stock or Preferred Stock without the approval of stockholders. Preferred Stock The Preferred Stock may be issued from time to time in one or more series. The authority is expressly vested in the Board of Directors to establish and designate the series and to fix the rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions of any series of the Preferred Stock, including without limitation, those relating to any dividend rights and terms, conversion rights, voting rights, redemption rights and terms, liquidation preferences and sinking fund terms. Â Â EX-19 3 jbss-ex19.htm EX-19 EX-19 Exhibit 19 Â John B. Sanfilippo & Son, Inc. Insider Trading Policy Â Statement of Policy: Â It is the policy of JBSS that no director, officer or employee of JBSS or any of its associated companies (as defined below) may trade in JBSS securities (including, without limitation, Common Stock, stock options, puts, calls, etc.), or the securities of any suppliers, customers or other companies with which JBSS has business or contractual relationships or may be negotiating transactions, either personally or on behalf of others, using material, nonpublic information, or communicate such information to others (including family members) who use it or further communicate such information for trading in JBSS securities (or the securities of another company) in violation of law. This conduct is frequently referred to as "insider trading." Â Simply stated, it is a violation of the federal securities laws to trade on inside information, either directly or indirectly by communication of such information to others so they may trade on it. A violation may occur with even the smallest of monetary gains or even without a monetary gain. For purposes of this policy, the term â€œtradeâ€ or â€œtradingâ€ includes any transaction in JBSS securities. Â These restrictions apply to all JBSS and associated company personnel, regardless of their duties at JBSS or any associated company. Â An "associated company" is one that controls, is controlled by or is under common control with JBSS. Â JBSS may also determine that other persons should be subject to this policy, such as contractors or consultants who have access to material, nonpublic information about JBSS. Â Insider trading contradicts the high ethical standard JBSS has always promoted and encouraged. Insider trading also threatens one of JBSS' greatest assets -- its reputation for integrity and professionalism. Furthermore, under the Insider Trading and Securities Fraud Enforcement Act, insider trading could also expose the Company, as well as any violator, to potential civil and criminal liability, as well as having other adverse and far-reaching effects. Accordingly, compliance with the policy and procedures described in this policy is mandatory. A violation of these trading restrictions may result in dismissal. Â Â Â What is "Material Informationâ€? Â Information is "material" for federal securities law purposes when there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable investor would consider the information important in deciding to buy, sell or hold securities. What is â€œmaterialâ€ is a facts and circumstances test, so if you have questions with respect to whether any information is material, you should contact the General Counsel (â€œGCâ€) or in the GCâ€™s absence, the Chief Financial Officer (â€œCFOâ€). Â Examples of information that might be deemed "material" under certain circumstances include information about: Â â€¢The development of or market response to significant new products or product lines; â€¢The gain or loss of a substantial customer, expanded distribution with a new or existing substantial customer and/or a significant increase or decrease (or expected increase or decrease) in purchases by an existing customer; â€¢Significant capital investment plans; â€¢Financial results and projections of future earnings or losses or actual knowledge of earnings and losses; â€¢A major joint venture or other major business development; â€¢A major new contract (or the loss of a major contract) with new or existing customers; â€¢The possibility of recapitalization, securities offering or repurchase of shares of common stock of JBSS; â€¢Declaration of a dividend and the amount of the dividend; â€¢Changes in dividend policies or the declaration of a stock split; â€¢The existence, settlement or developments with regard to substantial litigation or claims; â€¢A potential sale, purchase or lease of significant property or assets; â€¢Changes in senior management; and â€¢The possible sale of the Company or acquisition of another company. Â Of course, this list is not exhaustive and may change depending on the timing and occurrence of various events. Â 1.What is "Nonpublic Information"? Â Information is "nonpublic" until it has been effectively communicated to the marketplace in a manner that makes it available to investors generally. Information is public once an official announcement has been publicized -- such as when it is included in an SEC filing, disseminated broadly in a press release via PR Newswire or similar service, or some other publication of general circulation -- and the public has had a sufficient time to evaluate the information. As a general rule, you should consider information to be nonpublic until at least two business days after it has been disseminated in a SEC filing, press release or publication of general circulation. Â 2.Who is an "Insider"? Â The concept of "insider" is broad, and includes, but is not limited to officers, directors, and employees of JBSS and associated companies. As a general rule, the federal securities laws prohibit any person from buying or selling JBSS securities (i.e. stock, bonds, debentures, puts, calls, options, etc.), or the securities of any other company, if, by virtue of his or her position with, or relationship to, JBSS, such person has 2Â Â knowledge of material, nonpublic information concerning JBSS or such other company. This prohibition extends to immediate family members and controlled affiliates of an employee who, under the federal securities laws, may be presumed to have the employee's knowledge. Certain individuals will be deemed â€œInsidersâ€ as set forth below. Â 3.Penalties for Insider Trading Â Penalties for trading in JBSS securities or the securities of any other company on material, nonpublic information, or communicating such information to others who trade on it, are severe, both for individuals involved in the unlawful conduct and for the Company itself. Pursuant to the Insider Trading and Securities Fraud Enforcement Act, a person can be subject to some or all of the following penalties even if he or she does not personally benefit from the violation. Â â€¢Civil injunctions; â€¢Treble damages; â€¢Damages claimed by a person who bought or sold the securities in question contemporaneously with the violation; â€¢Disgorgement of profits; â€¢Jail sentence of up to ten years, with an expressed Congressional policy that all violators should actually serve time in jail; â€¢Fines for the person who committed the violation of up to the greater of $1,000,000 or three times the profit gained or loss avoided (regardless of whether the person actually benefited); and â€¢Fines for JBSS or other controlling person who failed to properly supervise a violator, of up to the greater of $1,000,000 or three times the amount of the profit gained or loss avoided. Â Any person violating any provision of this policy statement can also expect to encounter serious sanctions from the Company, including possible dismissal. Â The SEC and Department of Justice have developed sophisticated programs to detect insider trading and have targeted individual investors who have used material non-public information to trade. Do not assume that you would escape detection by providing this information to a third party and that third party trades on the information. Â Procedures to Implement JBSSâ€™ Policy Against Insider Trading Â 1.Identifying Insider Trading Â JBSS has established the following procedure to assist its personnel in avoiding insider trading and to assist the Company in preventing, detecting and imposing sanctions against insider trading. All directors, officers and employees of JBSS and its associated companies must follow this procedure or risk serious sanctions, including possible dismissal, substantial potential monetary liability and criminal penalties. If you have any questions about these procedures, you should consult with the JBSS GC, or in the GCâ€™s absence, the CFO. Â Before communicating information about the Company or any other company (see description and examples of material, non-public information above) to outsiders, and before trading for yourself or others in JBSS securities or the securities of another company about which you may have inside information, ask yourself the following questions: Â 3Â Â (a)Is the information material? Is it information that a reasonable investor would consider important in making his or her investment decisions? For example, do you or would JBSS management consider it important? Is it information that might substantially affect the market price of the securities if generally disclosed? Â (b)Is the Information nonpublic? To whom has the information been provided? Has the information been effectively communicated to the marketplace, and has the market had sufficient time, and at least two business days after its broad, public dissemination to absorb the information? Â If, after considering the above, you believe that the information is material and nonpublic, or if you have questions as to whether the information might be material and nonpublic, and you still desire to trade in or communicate information to anyone other than those within JBSS who have a clear right or business need to know the information, you should do the following: Â Â (a)Report the matter immediately to the JBSS GC, or in the GCâ€™s absence, the CFO, who will in turn determine (among other things) whether and to what extent restrictions on trading and communication should be imposed; (b)Do not purchase, sell or otherwise trade in JBSS securities (or the securities of any other company about which you may have inside information) on behalf of yourself or others; (c)After the JBSS GC, or in the GCâ€™s absence, the CFO, has reviewed the matter, you will be advised whether (and when) you may trade in the JBSS (or other company) security or communicate the information about JBSS (or other company); and (d)Until you have been instructed that you may trade in the JBSS (or other company) security, or communicate the information about JBSS (or other company), do not disclose to anyone even the fact that you may not trade in the security or communicate any particular information. Â 2.Preserving the Confidentiality of Material, Nonpublic Information Â It is the duty of all directors, officers, and employees of JBSS and its associated companies to maintain the confidentiality of nonpublic information belonging or relating to JBSS or obtained through any relationship of confidence. Nonpublic information should be treated as confidential and confined to personnel who must have such information to carry out their duties, on a â€œneed to knowâ€ basis. This prohibition on the disclosure of nonpublic information applies specifically (but not exclusively) to inquiries about the Company which may be made by the financial press, investment analysts or others in the financial or investment community. It is important that all such communications on behalf of the Company be through an appropriately designated officer under carefully controlled circumstances. Unless you are expressly authorized to discuss matters regarding the Company by the GC or the CFO, if you receive any inquiries of this nature, you should decline to comment and refer the inquirer to the GC and the CFO. Â You should also take every practical step you can to preserve the confidentiality of such information, including the following: â€¢Restrict access to computer systems, individual communication devices and system control areas containing material, nonpublic information (e.g., your individual computer, any cloud systems you can access with your computer, any portable electronic device); â€¢Take care in forwarding or otherwise sending any electronic communications with information or documents relating to market sensitive or material, nonpublic information; 4Â Â â€¢Double-checking or taking steps to confirm the names and intended recipients of any electronic communications containing or relating to market sensitive or material, nonpublic information; â€¢Maintain secure passwords for all of your computers and portable electronic devices and change such passwords frequently; â€¢Comply with all policies of the Company regarding cybersecurity and artificial intelligence, including use of multi-factor authentication, alerting Company management about any potential phishing attempt and only using artificial intelligence programs approved by the Company in accordance with Company policies; â€¢Lock or otherwise secure offices, workrooms, file cabinets and other storage areas containing material, nonpublic information, and make certain that all documents containing such information are filed promptly; â€

Requirement. The Company must recover Erroneously Awarded Compensation in compliance with this Policy, except to the extent that the conditions in clauses (a), (b) or (c) set forth below are met, and the Committee, or in the absence of such a committee, a majority of the independent directors serving on the Board, has made a determination that recovery would be impracticable. a.The direct expense paid to a third party to assist in enforcing this Policy would exceed the amount to be recovered. Before concluding that it would be impracticable to recover any amount of Erroneously Awarded Compensation based on expense of enforcement, the Company must make a reasonable attempt to recover such Erroneously Awarded Compensation, document such reasonable attempt(s) to recover, and provide that documentation to Nasdaq. b.Recovery would violate home country law where that law was adopted prior to November 28, 2022. Before concluding that it would be impracticable to recover any amount of Erroneously Awarded Compensation based on violation of home country law, the Company must obtain an opinion of home country counsel, acceptable to Nasdaq, that recovery would result in such a violation, and must provide such opinion to Nasdaq. c.Recovery would likely cause an otherwise tax-qualified retirement plan, under which benefits are broadly available to employees of the Company, to fail to meet 3Â Â the requirements of Sections 401(a)(13) or 411(a) of the Code and regulations thereunder. Disclosure in SEC Filings. The Company must file all disclosures with respect to this Policy in accordance with the requirements of the Federal securities laws, including the disclosure required by the Exchange Act and any applicable SEC filings. Â 11.Definitions and Rules. Unless the context otherwise requires, the following definitions and rules apply for purposes of this Policy: Â a.â€œErroneously Awarded Compensationâ€ means the amount of Incentive Compensation Received that exceeds the amount of Incentive Compensation that otherwise would have been Received had it been determined based on the restated performance metrics and/or restated financial statements in accordance with information. Â b.â€œExecutive Officerâ€ means an current or former officer of the Company as defined in the rules promulgated under Section 16 of the Exchange Act, including the Companyâ€™s president, principal financial officer, principal accounting officer (or if there is no such accounting officer, the controller), any vice-president of the Company in charge of a principal business unit, division, or function (such as sales, administration, or finance), any other officer who performs a policy-making function, or any other person who performs similar policy-making functions for the Company. Executive officers of the Companyâ€™s subsidiaries are deemed executive officers of the Company if they perform such policy making functions for the Company. Policy-making function is not intended to include policy-making functions that are not significant. Identification of an executive officer for purposes of Nasdaq Listing Rule 5608 would include at a minimum executive officers identified by the Company pursuant to 17 CFR 229.401(b) (Item 401(b) of Regulation S-K). Â c.â€œFinancial Reporting Measureâ€ means a measure that is determined and presented in accordance with the accounting principles used in preparing the Companyâ€™s financial statements, and any measure that is derived wholly or in part from any such measure. Stock price and total shareholder return are also Financial Reporting Measures. A Financial Reporting Measure need not be presented within the financial statements or included in a filing with the SEC. Â 4Â Â d.â€œIncentive Compensationâ€ means any bonus, cash or equity, that is granted, earned or vested based wholly or in part upon the attainment of a Financial Reporting Measure. Â e.â€œRestatementâ€ means an accounting restatement due to the material noncompliance of the Company with any financial reporting requirement under the securities laws, including any required accounting restatement to correct an error in previously issued financial statements that is material to the previously issued financial statements, or that would result in a material misstatement if the error were corrected in the current period or left uncorrected in the current period. Â f.Incentive Compensation is deemed â€œReceivedâ€ in the Companyâ€™s fiscal period during which the financial reporting measure specified in the Incentive Compensation award is attained, even if the payment or grant of the incentive-based compensation occurs after the end of that period. Â g.For purposes of determining the relevant recovery period, the date that the Company is required to prepare a Restatement is the earlier to occur of: Â i.the date the Board, a committee of the Board, or the officer or officers of the Company authorized to take such action if board action is not required, concludes, or reasonably should have concluded, that the Company is required to prepare a Restatement; or Â ii.the date a court, regulator, or other legally authorized body directs the Company to prepare a Restatement. Â 12.Transition. This Policy shall apply to Incentive Compensation Received by Executive Officers on or after October 2, 2023. Â 13.Applicable Law. This Policy shall be governed by the laws of the state of Delaware excluding any conflicts or choice of law rule or principle that might otherwise refer construction or interpretation of this Policy to the substantive law of another jurisdiction. Â 14.No Indemnification. Notwithstanding the terms of any (a) provision of the Companyâ€™s Restated Certificate of Incorporation (as amended, the â€œCertificate of 5Â Â Incorporationâ€), (b) Amended and Restated Bylaws (â€œBylawsâ€), (c) indemnification agreement entered into with the Company by any Executive Officer or (d) insurance policy maintained by or on behalf of the Company for the benefit of the Company or any Executive Officer, the Company shall not indemnify or reimburse (or cause to be reimbursed through any existing or new compensation arrangement) any Executive Officer against the loss of any Incentive Compensation, including any payment or reimbursement for the cost of third-party insurance or other indemnification arrangement purchased by any Executive Officer to fund any Clawback Requirement under this Policy. Â 15.Actions in Furtherance of Policy. Subject to requirements of applicable law, the Committee shall have the power, authority and all amounts paid by him or her in settlement thereof. The foregoing right of indemnification shall not be exclusive of any other rights of indemnification to which such individuals may be entitled as a matter of law or otherwise, or any power that the Company may have to indemnify them or hold them harmless. Â 16.Amendment, Termination. The Board may amend, modify or supplement any provision of this Policy at any time and from time to time in its sole discretion. The Board shall amend the Policy, to take effect retroactively or otherwise, as deemed necessary or advisable for the purpose of conforming this Policy to any applicable law or any rules, standards or interpretations adopted by a national securities exchange on which the Companyâ€™s securities are listed. Â 17.Non-Exclusivity. This Policy shall not be construed as creating any limitations on the power of the Board or Committee to adopt such other clawback or recoupment compensation policies, agreements or arrangements as it may deem desirable for any individual or enable the Company to pursue any remedies or rights that may be available to the Company under applicable law to recoup or clawback compensation of any type. Â 18.Application. For the avoidance of doubt, this Policy shall apply to any Incentive Compensation paid pursuant to or in accordance with the Companyâ€™s Sanfilippo Value-Added Plan and the Companyâ€™s 2023 Omnibus Incentive Plan. Significant Accounting Policies

NOTE 1 — SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation and Consolidation and Description of Business

Our consolidated financial statements include the accounts of John B. Sanfilippo & Son, Inc., and our wholly-owned subsidiary, JBSS Ventures, LLC. Our fiscal year ends on the last Thursday of June each year, and typically consists of fifty-two weeks (four thirteen-week quarters). However, the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 consisted of fifty-three weeks with our fourth quarter containing fourteen weeks. The accompanying consolidated financial statements and related footnotes are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

We are one of the leading processors and distributors of peanuts, pecans, cashews, walnuts, almonds and other nuts in the United States. These nuts are sold under our Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand and Southern Style Nuts brand names and under a variety of private brands. Additionally, with our acquisition of certain snack bar assets from TreeHouse Foods, Inc. ("Seller") in the second quarter of fiscal 2024, and our internally developed nutrition bar products, we offer our private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars. We market and distribute, and in most cases, manufacture or process, a diverse product line of food and snack products, including nutrition bars, snack bars, peanut butter, almond butter, cashew butter, candy and confections, snack and trail mixes, sunflower kernels, dried fruit, corn snacks, chickpea snacks, sesame sticks, other sesame snack products and baked cheese snack products under our brand names, including Just the Cheese, and under private brands. Our products are sold through three primary distribution channels, including food retailers in the consumer channel, commercial ingredient users and contract manufacturing customers.

Management Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include reserves for customer deductions, the quantity of bulk inventories, the evaluation of recoverability of long-lived assets and the assumption used in estimating the annual discount rate utilized in determining the retirement plan liability. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on-hand and may periodically include money market instruments that are highly liquid investments. Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are stated at the amounts charged to customers, less allowances for doubtful accounts and reserves for estimated cash discounts and customer deductions. The allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated by specifically identifying customers that are credit risks and estimating the extent that other non-specifically identified customers will become credit risks. Account balances are charged off against the allowance when we conclude that it is probable the receivable will not be recovered. The reserve for estimated cash discounts is based on historical experience. The reserve for customer deductions represents known customer short payments and an estimate of future credit memos that will be issued to customers related to rebates and allowances for marketing and promotions based on agreed upon programs and historical experience.

Inventories

Inventories, which consist principally of inshell bulk-stored nuts, shelled nuts, dried fruit, processed and packaged nut products, snack bars and nutrition bars, are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. Net realizable value is defined as estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal and transportation. Inventory costs are reviewed at least quarterly. Fluctuations in the market price of pecans, peanuts, walnuts, almonds, cashews and other nuts and ingredients may affect the value of inventory, gross profit and gross profit margin. When net realizable values move below costs, we record adjustments to write down the carrying values of inventories to the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. The results of our shelling process can also result in changes to inventory costs, such as adjustments made pursuant to actual versus expected crop yields. We maintain significant inventories of bulk-stored inshell pecans, peanuts and walnuts. Quantities of inshell bulk-stored nuts are determined based on our inventory systems and are subject to quarterly physical verification techniques including observation, weighing and other methods. The quantities of each crop year bulk-stored nut inventories are generally shelled out over a ten to fifteen-month period, at which time revisions to any estimates, which historically averaged less than 1.0% of inventory purchases, are also recorded.

We enter into walnut purchase agreements with growers typically in our first fiscal quarter, under which they deliver their walnut crop to us during the fall harvest season (which typically occurs in our first and second fiscal quarters). Pursuant to our walnut purchase agreements, we determine the final price for this inventory after receipt and typically by the end of our third fiscal quarter. Since the ultimate purchase price to be paid is determined subsequent to receiving the walnut crop, we typically estimate the final purchase price for our first and second quarter interim financial statements based on crop size, quality, current market prices and other factors. Any such changes in estimates, which could be significant, are accounted for in the period of change by adjusting inventory on hand or cost of goods sold if the inventory has been sold. Changes in estimates may affect the ending inventory balances, as well as gross profit. There were no significant adjustments recorded in any of the periods presented.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Major improvements that extend the useful life, add capacity or add functionality are capitalized and charged to expense through depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense as incurred. The cost and accumulated depreciation of assets sold or retired are removed from the respective accounts, and any gain or loss is recognized currently in operating income.

Depreciation expense for the last three fiscal years is as follows:

Depreciation expense	$ 22,895	$ 18,746	$ 16,390

Cost is depreciated using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Classification	Estimated Useful Lives
Buildings	10 to 30 years
Machinery and equipment	5 to 10 years
Furniture and leasehold improvements	5 to 10 years
Vehicles	3 to 5 years
Computers and software	3 to 10 years

No interest costs were capitalized for the last three fiscal years due to the lack of any significant project requiring such capitalization.

Business Combinations

We use the acquisition method in accounting for acquired businesses. Under the acquisition method, our financial statements reflect the operations of an acquired business starting from the completion of the acquisition. The assets acquired and liabilities assumed are recorded at their respective estimated fair values at the date of the acquisition. Any excess of the purchase price over the estimated fair values of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill.

Segment Reporting

We operate in a single reporting unit and operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut related products and snack bars through three distribution channels.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets and Other Intangible Assets

We review held and used long-lived assets, including our rental investment property and amortizable identifiable intangible assets (e.g., customer relationships and brand names), to assess recoverability from projected undiscounted cash flows whenever events or changes in facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. When such events occur, we compare the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group to the carrying amount of the long-lived asset or asset group. The cash flows are based on our best estimate of future cash flows derived from the most recent business projections. If this comparison indicates there is an impairment, the carrying value of the asset is reduced to its estimated fair value.

We did not record any impairment of long-lived assets for the last three fiscal years.

Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value in business acquisitions, which include customer relationships, brand names, formulas and non-compete agreements and are amortized over their estimated useful lives. Certain assets are amortized on a accelerated basis based on the timing of expected future benefits.

See Note 6 — "Goodwill and Intangible Assets" below for additional information.

Goodwill

Goodwill currently represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets from our acquisition of Squirrel Brand, L.P. which closed in November 2017 and our acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand which closed in December 2022.

Goodwill is not amortized, but is tested annually as of the last day of each fiscal year for impairment, or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate it is more likely than not that the carrying amount of the reporting unit is greater than its fair value. A significant amount of judgment is involved in determining if an indicator of impairment has occurred. Such indicators may include deterioration in general economic conditions, adverse changes in the markets in which we operate, increases in input costs that have negative effects on earnings and cash flows, or a trend of negative or declining cash flows over multiple periods, among others. The fair value that could be realized in an actual transaction may differ from that used to evaluate the impairment of goodwill.

In testing goodwill for impairment, we have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events or circumstances leads to a determination that it is more likely than not (more than 50%) that the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If we elect to perform a qualitative assessment and determine that an impairment is more likely than not, we are then required to perform a quantitative impairment test, otherwise no further analysis is required. We also may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment and, instead, proceed directly to the quantitative impairment test.

Under the goodwill qualitative assessment, various events and circumstances that would affect the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit are identified (similar to impairment indicators above). During fiscal 2024, we performed a qualitative impairment test which showed no indicators of goodwill impairment.

Under the goodwill quantitative impairment test, the evaluation of impairment involves comparing the current fair value of our single reporting unit to its carrying value, including goodwill. We estimate the fair value using level 3 inputs as defined by the fair value hierarchy. The inputs used to estimate fair value include several subjective factors, such as estimates of future cash flows, estimates of our future cost structure, discount rates for our estimated cash flows, required level of working capital, assumed terminal value and time horizon of cash flow forecasts. Our market capitalization is also an estimate of fair value that is considered in our qualitative impairment analysis which is a level 1 input in the fair value hierarchy. If the carrying value of our single reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we recognize an impairment loss equal to the difference between the carrying value and estimated fair value.

Elgin Rental Property

In April 2005, we acquired property to be used for the Elgin Site. Two buildings are located on the Elgin Site, one of which is an office building. Approximately 65% of the rentable area in the office building is currently vacant. Approximately 29% of the rentable area has not been built-out. The other building, a warehouse, was expanded and modified for use as our principal processing facility and headquarters. The allocation of the purchase price to the two buildings was determined through a third-party appraisal. The value assigned to the office building is included in rental investment property on the balance sheet. The value assigned to the warehouse building is included in the caption "Property, plant and equipment".

The net rental expense from the office building is included in the caption "Rental and miscellaneous expense, net". See Note 4 — "Leases" below for additional information.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Authoritative guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes observable and unobservable inputs used to measure fair value into three broad levels:

Level 1-	Quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets and liabilities.
Level 2-	Observable inputs other than quoted prices in active markets. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets.
Level 3-	Unobservable inputs for which there is little or no market data available.

The carrying values of cash, cash equivalents, trade accounts receivable and accounts payable approximate their fair values at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023 because of the short-term maturities and nature of these balances.

The carrying value of our Credit Facility (as defined in Note 7 — "Revolving Credit Facility" below) borrowings approximates fair value at June 27, 2024 because interest rates on this instrument approximate current market rates (Level 2 criteria), the short-term maturity and nature of this balance. In addition, there has been no significant change in our inherent credit risk.

The following table summarizes the carrying value and fair value estimate of our current and long-term debt, excluding unamortized debt issuance costs:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023
Carrying value of current and long-term debt:	$ 7,102	$ 7,774
Fair value of current and long-term debt:	6,496	7,421

The estimated fair value of our current and long-term debt was determined using a market approach based upon Level 2 observable inputs, which estimates fair value based on interest rates currently offered on loans with similar terms to borrowers of similar credit quality or broker quotes. In addition, there have been no significant changes in the underlying assets securing our long-term debt.

Revenue Recognition

The Company records revenue based on a five-step model in accordance with ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for the goods or services. We sell our products under some arrangements which include customer contracts that fix the sales price for periods, which typically can be up to one year for some commercial ingredient customers. We also sell our products through specific programs consisting of promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient users. We recognize revenues as performance obligations are fulfilled, which occurs when control passes to our customers. We report all amounts billed to a customer in a sale transaction as revenue, including those amounts related to shipping and handling. We reduce revenue for estimated promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others. These reductions in revenue are considered variable consideration and are recorded in the same period the related sales are recorded. Such estimates are calculated using historical averages adjusted for any expected changes due to current business conditions and experience. See Note 3 — "Revenue Recognition" below for additional information on revenue recognition.

Significant Customers and Concentration of Credit Risk

The highly competitive nature of our business provides an environment for the loss of customers and the opportunity to gain new customers. We are subject to concentrations of credit risk, primarily in trade accounts receivable, and we attempt to mitigate this risk through our credit evaluation process, collection terms and through geographical dispersion of sales. Sales to two customers exceeded 10% of net sales during fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022. In total, sales to these two customers represented approximately 52%, 51% and 49% of our net sales in fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022, respectively. In total, net accounts receivable from these customers were 47% and 45% of net accounts receivable at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively.

Marketing and Advertising Costs

Marketing and advertising costs, including consumer insight research and related consulting expenses, are incurred to promote and support branded products primarily in the consumer distribution channel. These costs are generally expensed as incurred, recorded in selling expenses and were as follows for the last three fiscal years:

Marketing and advertising expense	$ 15,705	$ 13,947	$ 13,964

Shipping and Handling Costs

Shipping and handling costs, which include freight and other expenses to prepare finished goods for shipment, are included in selling expenses. Shipping and handling costs for the last three fiscal years were as follows:

Shipping and handling costs	$ 32,460	$ 30,918	$ 33,851

Research and Development Expenses

Research and development expense represents the cost of our research and development personnel and their related expenses and is charged to selling expenses as incurred. Research and development expenses for the last three fiscal years were as follows:

Research and development expense	$ 3,621	$ 3,362	$ 2,833

Stock-Based Compensation

We account for stock-based employee compensation arrangements in accordance with the provisions of ASC Topic 718, Compensation — Stock Compensation, by calculating compensation cost based on the grant date fair value. We then amortize compensation expense over the vesting period. The grant date fair value of restricted stock units ("RSUs") and performance share units ("PSUs") is generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. Forfeitures are recognized as they occur, and excess tax benefits or tax deficiencies are recognized as a component of income tax expense.

Income Taxes

We account for income taxes using an asset and liability approach that requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been reported in our financial statements or tax returns. Such items give rise to differences in the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. A valuation allowance is recorded to reduce the carrying amount of deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the asset will not be realized. In estimating future tax consequences, we consider all expected future events other than changes in tax law or rates.

We record liabilities for uncertain income tax positions based on a two-step process. The first step is recognition, where we evaluate whether an individual tax position has a likelihood of greater than 50% of being sustained upon examination based on the technical merits of the position, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. For tax positions that are currently estimated to have a less than 50% likelihood of being sustained, no tax benefit is recorded. For tax positions that have met the recognition threshold in the first step, we perform the second step of measuring the benefit to be recorded. The actual benefits ultimately realized may differ from our estimates. In future periods, changes in facts, circumstances, and new information may require us to change the recognition and measurement estimates with regard to individual tax positions. Changes in recognition and measurement estimates are recorded in results of operations and financial position in the period in which such changes occur.

We recognize interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in the "Income tax expense" caption in the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income.

We evaluate the realization of deferred tax assets by considering our historical taxable income and future taxable income based upon the reversal of deferred tax liabilities. As of June 27, 2024, we believe that our deferred tax assets are fully realizable.

Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per common share are calculated using the weighted average number of shares of Common Stock and Class A Stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue Common Stock were exercised or converted into Common Stock or resulted in the issuance of Common Stock.

The following table presents the reconciliation of the weighted average shares outstanding used in computing basic and diluted earnings per share:

Weighted average number of shares outstanding — basic	11,615,255	11,576,852	11,537,699
Effect of dilutive securities:
Restricted stock units and performance stock units	72,291	65,194	56,250
Weighted average number of shares outstanding — diluted	11,687,546	11,642,046	11,593,949

There were no anti-dilutive awards excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share for any periods presented.

Comprehensive Income

We account for comprehensive income in accordance with ASC Topic 220, Comprehensive Income. This topic establishes standards for reporting and displaying comprehensive income and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements. The topic requires that all components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. This topic also requires all non-owner changes in stockholders' equity be presented in either a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. This guidance also requires presentation by the respective line items of net income, either on the face of the statement where net income is presented or in the notes and information about significant amounts required under U.S. GAAP to be reclassified out of accumulated other comprehensive income in their entirety. For amounts not required to be reclassified in their entirety to net income, we provide a cross-reference to other disclosures that offer additional details about those amounts.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The following recent accounting pronouncements have not yet been adopted:

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07 "Segment Reporting (Topic 280)". The amendments in this update modify the disclosure requirements by expanding the disclosures required for reportable segments in annual and interim consolidated financial statements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. In addition, the amendments require that any entity that has a single reportable segment provide all the disclosures required either in this update or already existing in Topic 280. The amendments are effective public entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements.

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09 "Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures". The amendments in this update enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures primarily related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid by jurisdiction. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied prospectively, but may be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements.

Lakeville Acquisition

Business Combinations [Abstract]
Lakeville Acquisition

12 Months Ended
Jun. 27, 2024

NOTE 2 — LAKEVILLE ACQUISITION

On September 29, 2023, we completed the acquisition of certain snack bar assets from the Seller. The acquired assets include inventory, a manufacturing facility and related equipment located in Lakeville, Minnesota, and product formulas (the "Lakeville Acquisition"). The initial purchase price was approximately $61,546 in cash, subject to certain post-closing adjustments. Following the closing, we received payments from the Seller of $2,572 for purchase price adjustments related to the actual inventory and fixed assets acquired, for a revised purchase price of $58,974, net. The purchase price for the Lakeville Acquisition was primarily funded from borrowings under the Credit Facility (defined in Note 7 - Revolving Credit Facility below).

The Lakeville Acquisition accelerates our strategy within the growing snack bar category and diversifies our product offerings. It also allows us to offer private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars, including fruit and grain, crunchy, protein, sweet and salty and chewy bars that complement internally developed nutrition bars. The Lakeville Acquisition has been accounted for as a business combination in accordance with ASC Topic 805, "Business Combinations".

The following table summarizes the amounts allocated to the fair values of certain assets acquired at the acquisition date:

Inventories	$	35,500
Property, plant and equipment		25,600
Identifiable intangible assets:
Product formulas		850
Total assets acquired	$	61,950

Property, plant and equipment represent a manufacturing facility and related equipment located in Lakeville, Minnesota. The fair value for the property was primarily determined using a market approach. The fair values for the machinery and equipment were determined using a combination of the direct and indirect cost approaches, along with the market approach. All building and equipment assets are being depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated remaining useful lives as determined in accordance with our accounting policies.

The product formulas asset represents the value of these formulas designed to replicate the taste, texture and appearance of branded snack bars. The fair value of the product formulas was determined using the income approach through a relief from royalty method analysis. We are amortizing formulas over a weighted average life of 5.4 years.

There were no recognized or unrecognized material contingencies associated with the acquired business.

The $61,950 fair value of the identifiable assets acquired exceeded the total purchase price of $58,974. Accordingly, this acquisition resulted in a bargain purchase and we recognized a gain of $2,226, net of taxes, which is reported in the caption "Bargain purchase gain, net" in our consolidated financial results for the year ended June 27, 2024. We believe the Lakeville Acquisition resulted in a bargain purchase gain because the Seller was motivated to divest such snack bars business, as its performance no longer supported the Seller's long-term growth targets.

Net sales of $119,837 from the closing date of the Lakeville Acquisition on September 29, 2023 are included in our consolidated financial results for fiscal 2024. The closing date of the Lakeville Acquisition was on the first day of our second fiscal quarter. The Company also incurred acquisition-related costs of $856 for fiscal 2024 which are included in Administrative expenses.

The following reflects the unaudited pro forma results of operations of the Company as if the Lakeville Acquisition had taken place at the beginning of fiscal 2023. This pro forma information does not purport to represent what the Company's actual results would have been if the Lakeville Acquisition had occurred as of the date indicated or what such results would be for any future periods.

Pro forma net sales	$ 1,107,096	$ 1,164,597
Pro forma net income	57,878	57,929
Pro forma diluted earnings per share	$ 4.95	$ 4.98

These unaudited pro forma results have been calculated after applying our accounting policies and adjusting the results of the Lakeville Acquisition to reflect elimination of transaction costs and the bargain purchase gain and to record additional interest expense and cost of sales that would have been incurred, assuming the fair value adjustment to inventory had been applied from July 1, 2022, net of related income taxes in respect of pro forma net income and diluted earnings per share performance. The impact to the above pro forma information of incremental depreciation and amortization expense is insignificant and therefore excluded from the calculation of pro forma results.

Since the Lakeville Acquisition, we continue to operate in a single reportable operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut-related products and snacks through three sales distribution channels. Revenues from the Lakeville Acquisition are primarily in our consumer distribution channel.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from Contract with Customer [Abstract]
Revenue Recognition

12 Months Ended
Jun. 27, 2024

NOTE 3 — REVENUE RECOGNITION

We recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which we expect to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. For each customer contract, a five-step process is followed in which we identify the contract, identify performance obligations, determine the transaction price, allocate the contract transaction price to the performance obligations, and recognize the revenue when (or as) the performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

Nature of Products

We manufacture and sell the following:

- branded products under our own proprietary brands to retailers on a national basis;
- private brand products to retailers, such as supermarkets, mass merchandisers, and specialty retailers, for resale under the retailers' own or controlled labels;
- private brand and branded products to the foodservice industry, including foodservice distributors and national restaurant operators;
- branded products under co-manufacturing agreements to other major branded companies for their distribution; and
- products to our industrial customer base for repackaging in portion control packages and for use as ingredients by other food manufacturers.

When Performance Obligations Are Satisfied

A performance obligation is a promise in a contract to transfer a distinct good or service to the customer and is the unit of account for revenue recognition. A contract's transaction price is allocated to each distinct performance obligation and recognized as revenue when, or as, the performance obligation is satisfied. The Company's performance obligations are primarily for the delivery of raw and processed recipe and snack nuts, nut butters, trail mixes and snack and nutrition bars.

Our customer contracts do not include more than one performance obligation. If a contract were to contain more than one performance obligation, we are required to allocate the contract's transaction price to each performance obligation based on its relative standalone selling price. The standalone selling price for each distinct good is generally determined by directly observable data.

Revenue recognition is generally completed at a point in time when product control is transferred to the customer. For virtually all of our revenues, control transfers to the customer when the product is shipped or delivered to the customer based upon applicable shipping terms, as the customer can then direct the use and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from the asset at that point in time. Therefore, the timing of our revenue recognition requires little judgment.

The performance obligations in our contracts are satisfied within one year, and typically much less. As such, we have not disclosed the transaction price allocated to remaining performance obligations for any periods presented.

Significant Payment Terms

Our customer contracts identify the product, quantity, price, payment and final delivery terms. Payment terms usually include early pay discounts. We grant payment terms consistent with industry standards. On a limited basis some payment terms may be extended; however, no payment terms beyond six months are granted at contract inception. The average customer payment is received within approximately 30 days of the invoice date. As a result, we do not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component because the period between our transfer of a promised good or service to a customer and the customer's payment for that good or service will be six months or less.

Shipping

All shipping and handling costs associated with outbound freight are accounted for as fulfillment costs and are included in selling expense.

Variable Consideration

Some of our products are sold through specific incentive programs consisting of promotional allowances, volume and customer rebates, in-store display incentives and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient customers. The ultimate cost of these programs is dependent on certain factors such as actual purchase volumes or customer activities and is dependent on significant management judgment when determining estimates. The Company accounts for these programs as variable consideration and recognizes a reduction in revenue (and a corresponding reduction in the transaction price) in the same period as the underlying program based upon the terms of the specific arrangements.

Trade promotions, consisting primarily of customer pricing allowances, merchandising funds and consumer coupons, are also offered through various programs to customers and consumers. A provision for estimated trade promotions is recorded as a reduction of revenue (and a reduction in the transaction price) in the same period when the sale is recognized. Revenues are also recorded net of expected customer deductions which are provided for based upon past experiences. Evaluating these estimates requires management judgment.

We generally use the most likely amount method to determine the variable consideration. We believe there will not be significant changes to our estimates of variable consideration when any related uncertainties are resolved with our customers. The Company reviews and updates its estimates and related accruals of variable consideration and trade promotions at least quarterly based on the terms of the agreements and historical experience. Any uncertainties in the ultimate resolution of variable consideration due to factors outside of the Company's influence are typically resolved within a short timeframe, therefore, no additional constraint on the variable consideration is required.

Product Returns

While customers generally have the right to return defective or non-conforming products, past experience has demonstrated that product returns have generally been immaterial. Customer remedies may include either a cash refund or an exchange of the returned product. As a result, the right of return and related refund liability for non-conforming or defective goods is estimated and recorded as a reduction in revenue, if necessary.

Contract Balances

Contract assets or liabilities result from transactions with revenue recorded over time. If the measure of remaining rights exceeds the measure of the remaining performance obligations, the Company records a contract asset. Conversely, if the measure of the remaining performance obligations exceeds the measure of the remaining rights, the Company records a contract liability. There was no contract asset balance for any periods presented. The Company generally does not have material deferred revenue or contract liability balances arising from transactions with customers.

Contract Costs

The Company does not incur significant fulfillment costs requiring capitalization.

Disaggregation of Revenue

Revenue disaggregated by distribution channel is as follows:

	For the Year Ended
Distribution Channel	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022

Leases

Leases [Abstract]

Leases

12 Months Ended
Jun. 27, 2024

NOTE 4 — LEASES

We lease warehouse space, equipment used in the transportation of goods in our warehouses and a limited number of automobiles. Our leases generally do not contain any explicit guarantees of residual value and, with the exception of the Huntley warehouse, generally do not contain non-lease components. Our leases for warehouse transportation equipment generally require the equipment to be returned to the lessor in good working order.

Through a review of our contracts, we determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception and analyze the lease to determine if it is operating or finance. Operating lease right-of-use assets represent our right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent our obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease right-of-use assets and liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. As most of our leases do not provide an implicit rate, we use our incremental collateralized borrowing rate based on the information available at the commencement date in determining the present value of lease payments. Implicit rates are used when readily determinable. None of our leases currently contain options to extend the term. In the event of an option to extend the term of a lease, the lease term used in measuring the liability would include options to extend or terminate the lease if it is reasonably certain that the Company will exercise that option. Lease expense for operating lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the respective lease term. Our leases have remaining terms of up to 7.6 years.

It is our accounting policy not to apply lease recognition requirements to short-term leases, defined as leases with an initial term of 12 months or less. As such, leases with an initial term of 12 months or less are not recorded in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. We have also made the policy election to not separate lease and non-lease components for all leases.

The following table provides supplemental information related to operating lease right-of-use assets and liabilities:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	Affected Line Item in Consolidated Balance Sheet

The leases are scheduled to commence in the first quarter of fiscal 2025 with an initial lease term ranging from 3 to 6 years.

Lessor Accounting

We lease office space in our four-story office building located in Elgin, Illinois. As a lessor, we retain substantially all of the risks and benefits of ownership of the investment property and under Topic 842: Leases we continue to account for all of our leases as operating leases. Lease agreements may include options to renew. We accrue fixed lease income on a straight-line basis over the terms of the leases. There is generally no variable lease consideration and an immaterial amount of non-lease components such as recurring utility and storage fees. Leases between related parties are immaterial.

Leasing revenue is as follows:

Revolving Credit Facility [Abstract]
Revolving Credit Facility

NOTE 7 — REVOLVING CREDIT FACILITY

On March 5, 2020, we entered into an Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the "Amended and Restated Credit Agreement"), which amended and restated our Credit Agreement dated as of February 7, 2008 (the "Former Credit Agreement") with a bank group (the "Bank Lenders"). The Amended and Restated Credit Agreement provided for a $117,500 senior secured revolving credit facility (the "Credit Facility") with the same borrowing capacity, interest rates and applicable margin as the Former Credit Agreement and extended the term of the Former Credit Agreement from July 7, 2021 to March 5, 2025. The Credit Facility is secured by our accounts receivable and inventory.

On May 8, 2023, we entered into the First Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the "First Amendment"), which replaced the London interbank offered rate interest rate option with the secured overnight financing rate ("SOFR"). The First Amendment updated the accrued interest rate to a rate based on SOFR plus an applicable margin based upon the borrowing base calculation, ranging from 1.35% to 1.85%.

On September 29, 2023, we entered into the Second Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the "Second Amendment"), which (among other things) increased the amount available to borrow under the Credit Facility to $150,000, extended the maturity date to September 29, 2028 and allows the Company to pay up to $100,000 in dividends per year, subject to meeting availability tests.

At June 27, 2024 the weighted average interest rate for the Credit Facility was 8.06%. At June 29, 2023 there were no borrowings on the line of credit under the Credit Facility and thus no applicable interest rate on the borrowings. At June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, our unused letters of credit were $4,857 and $5,810, respectively. The terms of the Credit Facility contain covenants that require us to restrict investments, indebtedness, acquisitions and certain sales of assets, cash dividends, redemptions of capital stock and prepayment of indebtedness (if such prepayment, among other things, is of a subordinate debt). If loan availability under the Borrowing Base Calculation falls below $25,000, we will be required to maintain a specified fixed charge coverage ratio, tested on a monthly basis. All cash received from customers is required to be applied against the Credit Facility. The Bank Lenders are entitled to require immediate repayment of our obligations under the Credit Facility in the event of default on the payments required under the Credit Facility, a change in control in the ownership of the Company, non-compliance with the financial covenant or upon the occurrence of certain other defaults by us under the Credit Facility. As of June 27, 2024, we were in compliance with the financial covenant under the Credit Facility and we currently expect to be in compliance with the financial covenant in the Credit Facility for the next twelve months. At June 27, 2024, we had $124,437 of available credit under the Credit Facility, which reflects borrowings of $20,420 and reduced availability as a result of $5,143 in outstanding letters of credit. We would still be in compliance with all restrictive covenants under the Credit Facility if this entire amount were borrowed.

Long-Term Debt

NOTE 8 — LONG-TERM DEBT

Long-term debt consists of the following:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023
Selma, Texas facility financing obligation to related parties, due in monthly installments of $114 including interest at 9.25% through September 1, 2026	7,102	7,774
Less: Current maturities	(737)	(672)
Total long-term debt	$ 6,365	$ 7,102

In September 2006, we sold our Selma, Texas properties (the "Selma Properties") to two related party partnerships for $14,300 and are leasing them back. The selling price was determined by an independent appraiser to be the fair market value which also approximated our carrying value. The lease for the Selma, Texas properties had an initial ten-year term at a fair market value rent with three five-year renewal options. In September 2015, we signed a lease renewal which exercised two five-year renewal options and extended the term of our Selma lease to September 18, 2026. At the end of each five-year renewal option, the base monthly lease amounts are reassessed, and the monthly payments increased to $114 beginning in September 2021. One five-year renewal option remains. Also, we currently have the option to purchase the properties from the lessor at 95% (100% in certain circumstances) of the then fair market value, but not to be less than the $14,300 purchase price. The financing obligation is being accounted for similar to the accounting for a capital lease, whereby the purchase price was recorded as a debt obligation, as the provisions of the arrangement are not eligible for sale-leaseback accounting.

Aggregate maturities of long-term debt are as follows:

Fiscal Year Ending
June 26, 2025	737
June 25, 2026	809
June 24, 2027	887
June 29, 2028	972

Income Taxes

NOTE 9 — INCOME TAXES

The provision for income taxes is based entirely on income before income taxes earned in the United States, and is as follows for the last three fiscal years:

	For the Year Ended
	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022
Current:
Federal	$ 15,405	$ 18,393	$ 14,347
State	4,987	5,215	5,011
Total current expense	20,392	23,608	19,358
Deferred:
Deferred federal	209	(1,164)	1,519
Deferred state	(913)	49	(968)
Total deferred (benefit) expense	(704)	(1,115)	551
Total income tax expense	$ 19,688	$ 22,493	$ 19,909

The reconciliations of income taxes at the statutory federal income tax rate to income tax expense reported in the Consolidated Statements of Comprehensive Income for the last three fiscal years are as follows:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022
Federal statutory income tax rate	21.0%	21.0%	21.0%
State income taxes, net of federal benefit	3.8	4.9	3.7
Section 162(m) limitation	1.4	0.7	0.6
Research and development tax credit	(0.9)	(0.3)	(0.4)
Bargain purchase gain	(0.6)	—	—
Share-based compensation	(0.4)	0.1	(0.7)
Uncertain tax positions	0.2	0.1	0.1
Other	0.1	(0.1)	0.1
Effective tax rate	24.6%	26.4%	24.4%

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the expected future tax consequences of temporary differences between the financial statement basis and the tax basis of assets and liabilities using enacted statutory tax rates applicable to future years. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are comprised of the following:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023
Deferred tax assets (liabilities):
Accounts receivable	$ 417	$ 346
Employee compensation	2,343	1,866
Inventory	460	371
Depreciation	(16,466)	(14,303)
Capitalized leases	1,115	1,140
Goodwill and intangible assets	797	1,474
Retirement plan	6,716	7,004
Workers' compensation	1,663	1,950
Share based compensation	1,780	1,642
Research related expenditures	3,505	1,549
Other	800	553
Net deferred tax asset	$ 3,130	$ 3,592

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The ultimate realization of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income of the character necessary during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities (including the impact of available carryback and carryforward periods), projected future taxable income and tax-planning strategies in making this assessment. If or when recognized, the tax benefits relating to any reversal of the valuation allowance will be recognized as a reduction of income tax expense.

For the years ending June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, unrecognized tax benefits and accrued interest and penalties were $692 and $448. Accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain tax positions are not material for any periods presented. Interest and penalties within income tax expense were not material for any period presented. The total gross amounts of unrecognized tax benefits were $733 and $463 at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively.

A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits is as follows:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022
Beginning balance	$ 463	$ 390	$ 326
Gross increases — tax positions in prior year	146	32	1

Settlements	(104)	(36)	—
Gross increases — tax positions in current year	311	127	110
Lapse of statute of limitations	(83)	(50)	(47)
Ending balance	$ 733	$ 463	$ 390

Unrecognized tax benefits, that if recognized, would affect the annual effective tax rate on income from continuing operations, are as follows:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022
Unrecognized tax benefits that would affect annual effective tax rate	$ 682	$ 439	$ 373

During fiscal 2024, the change in unrecognized tax benefits due to statute expiration was not material. We do not anticipate that total unrecognized tax benefits will significantly change in the next twelve months.

We file income tax returns with federal and state tax authorities within the United States of America. Our federal tax returns are open for audit for fiscal 2021 through 2023. Our Illinois tax return is under audit for fiscal 2022. Our Illinois tax return for fiscal 2023 is open for audit. Our California tax returns for fiscal 2020 through 2023 are open for audit. No other tax jurisdictions are material to us.

Litigation

We are currently a party to various legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business. While management presently believes that the ultimate outcomes of these proceedings, individually and in the aggregate, will not materially affect our financial position, results of operations or cash flows, legal proceedings are subject to inherent uncertainties, and unfavorable outcomes could occur. Unfavorable outcomes could include substantial money damages in excess of any appropriate accruals, which management has established. Were such unfavorable final outcomes to occur, there exists the possibility of a material adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations and cash flows.

Stock-Based Compensation Plans

NOTE 12 — STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION PLANS

At our annual meeting of stockholders on November 2, 2023, our stockholders approved a new equity incentive plan (the "2023 Omnibus Plan") under which awards of options and other stock-based awards may be made to employees, officers or non-employee directors of our Company. A total of 747,065 shares of Common Stock are authorized for grants of awards thereunder, which may be in the form of options, restricted stock, RSUs, stock appreciation rights ("SARs"), performance shares, PSUs, Common Stock or dividends and dividend equivalents. As of June 27, 2024, there were 691,107 shares of Common Stock that remained authorized for future grants of awards, subject to the limitations set below. Under the terms of the 2023 Omnibus Plan, the total number of shares of Common Stock with respect to which options or SARs may be granted in any calendar year to any participant may not exceed 500,000 shares (this limit applies separately with respect to each type of award). Additionally, for awards of restricted stock, RSUs, performance shares or other stock-based awards that are intended to qualify as performance-based compensation: (i) the total number of shares of Common Stock that may be granted in any calendar year to any participant may not exceed 250,000 shares (this limit applies separately to each type of award) and (ii) the maximum amount that may be paid to any participant for awards that are payable in cash or property other than Common Stock in any calendar year is $5,000. During fiscal 2017, the Board of Directors adopted an equity grant cap which further restricted the number of awards that could be made to any one participant or in the aggregate. The equity grant cap limited the number of awards to 250,000 awards to all participants and 20,000 awards to any one participant in a fiscal year. Except as set forth in the 2023 Omnibus Plan, RSUs have vesting periods of three years for awards to employees and one year for awards to non-employee members of the Board of Directors. PSUs have a vesting period of three years and performance goals that must be achieved in order to vest. We issue new shares of Common Stock upon the vesting of RSUs and PSUs.

The fair value of RSUs and PSUs are generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. The fair value of RSUs and PSUs granted for the years ended June 27, 2024, June 29, 2023 and June 30, 2022 was $4,805, $4,769 and $4,065, respectively.

The following is a summary of RSU and PSU activity for the year ended June 27, 2024:

Restricted Stock Units	Shares	Weighted-Average Grant-Date Fair Value
Outstanding at June 29, 2023	155,012	$ 67.87
Granted [a]	56,168	$ 85.55
Vested [b]	(55,085)	$ 69.68
Forfeited	(621)	$ 72.58
Outstanding at June 27, 2024	155,474	$ 73.60

[a] Includes 8,031 PSUs (based on reaching target performance) with performance conditions for which the performance criteria had yet to be achieved. The PSUs vest three years from the grant date, with the number of shares earned (ranging from 0% to 200% of the target award) depending on the extent to which we achieve certain performance metrics measured over a three-year period. The final number of shares that will eventually be earned and vest (if any) has not yet been determined as of June 27, 2024.

[b] The number of RSUs vested includes shares that were withheld on behalf of employees to satisfy statutory tax withholding requirements.

At June 27, 2024 there were 25,800 RSUs outstanding that were vested but deferred. At June 29, 2023 there were 38,907 RSUs outstanding that were vested but deferred. The non-vested RSUs and PSUs at June 27, 2024 will vest over a weighted-average period of 1.3 years. The fair value of RSUs that vested for the years ended June 27, 2024, June 29, 2023 and June 30, 2022 was $3,838, $2,978 and $3,274, respectively.

The following table summarizes compensation cost charged to earnings for all equity compensation plans and the total income tax benefit recognized for the last three fiscal years:

Compensation cost charged to earnings	$ 4,389	$ 3,565	$ 3,565
Income tax benefit recognized	1,097	891	891

At June 27, 2024, there was $5,003 of total unrecognized compensation cost related to non-vested share-based compensation arrangements granted under our stock-based compensation plans. We expect to recognize that cost over a weighted-average period of 1.3 years.

Employee Benefit Plans

NOTE 14 — EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLANS

We maintain a contributory plan established pursuant to the provisions of section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. The plan provides retirement benefits for all nonunion employees meeting minimum age and service requirements. We currently match 100% of the first three percent contributed by each employee and 50% of the next two percent contributed, up to certain maximums specified in the plan. Expense for the 401(k) plan was as follows for the last three fiscal years:

401(k) plan expense	$ 3,987	$ 2,746	$ 2,204

Starting in fiscal 2023 we now offer a non-qualified deferred compensation plan to provide executives with the opportunity to accumulate assets for retirement on a tax-deferred basis (the "Plan"). Participants in the Plan can defer up to 80% of their base salary and up to 100% of performance-based compensation. The compensation deferred under this Plan is credited with earnings and losses as determined by the rate of return of reference investments selected by the participants. Participants are fully vested in their respective deferrals and earnings. We may also make discretionary contributions, which vest three years from the crediting date, at full vesting age, or other events as defined and described in the Plan. We invest in corporate owned life insurance contracts ("COLI") on the lives of designated individuals that are held in a Rabbi Trust ("Trust") to fund the Plan obligations. The Trust is the owner and beneficiary of such insurance contracts. Our promise to pay amounts deferred under this Plan is an unsecured obligation. Participant's benefits can be paid out as a lump sum or in annual installments over a term of up to 10 years. The COLI investments are recorded at cash surrender value. The cash surrender value of the life insurance contracts was $1,214 and $282 at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively, and are included in Other Long Term Assets in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets. The balances due to participants in the Plan were $1,261 and $304 as of June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively, and are included in the caption "Other" within Long Term Liabilities in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets. Matching contribution expense was $246 and $106 for the years ended June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively.

Virtually all of our salaried employees participate in our Sanfilippo Value Added Plan (as amended, the "SVA Plan"), which is a cash incentive plan (an economic value added-based program) administered by our Compensation and Human Resources Committee. We accrue expense related to the SVA Plan in the annual period that the economic performance underlying such performance occurs. This method of expense recognition properly matches the expense associated with improved economic performance with the period the improved performance occurs on a systematic and rational basis. The SVA Plan payments, if any, are paid to participants in the first quarter of the following fiscal year in which they are earned.

Retirement Benefits [Abstract]
Retirement Plan

NOTE 15 — RETIREMENT PLAN

The Supplemental Employee Retirement Plan ("SERP") is an unfunded, non-qualified benefit plan that will provide eligible participants with monthly benefits upon retirement, disability or death, subject to certain conditions. Benefits paid to retirees are based on age at retirement, years of credited service, and average compensation. We use our fiscal year end as the measurement date for the obligation calculation. Accounting guidance in ASC Topic 715, Compensation — Retirement Benefits, requires the recognition of the funded status of the SERP on the Consolidated Balance Sheet. Actuarial gains or losses, prior service costs or credits and transition obligations that have not yet been recognized are recorded as a component of "Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)".

The following table presents the changes in the projected benefit obligation for the fiscal years ended:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023
Change in projected benefit obligation
Projected benefit obligation at beginning of year	$ 28,017	$ 29,511
Service cost	251	801
Interest cost	1,400	1,366
Actuarial gain	(1,663)	(3,007)
Benefits paid	(1,143)	(654)
Projected benefit obligation at end of year	$ 26,862	$ 28,017

The accumulated benefit obligation, which represents benefits earned up to the measurement date, was $24,952 and $25,277 at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively.

Components of the actuarial (gain) loss are presented below for the fiscal years ended:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022
Actuarial Gain
Change in assumed pay increases	$ 1,418	$ (70)	$ 1,698
Change in discount rate	(1,138)	(1,584)	(8,184)
Change in mortality assumptions	—	—	75
Other	(1,943)	(1,353)	(979)
Actuarial gain	$ (1,663)	$ (3,007)	$ (7,390)

The components of the net periodic pension cost are as follows for the fiscal years ended:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022
Service cost	$ 251	$ 801	$ 991
Interest cost	1,400	1,366	1,018
Recognized loss amortization	—	28	1,455
Net periodic pension cost	$ 1,651	$ 2,195	$ 3,464

The most significant assumption related to our SERP is the discount rate used to calculate the actuarial present value of benefit obligations to be paid in the future.

We used the following assumptions to calculate the benefit obligation of our SERP as of the following dates:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023
Discount rate	5.45%	5.12%
Average rate of compensation increases	6.11%	4.50%
Bonus payment	45% - 115% of base, paid 4 of 5 years	45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years

We used the following assumptions to calculate the net periodic costs of our SERP as follows for the fiscal years ended:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023	June 30, 2022
Discount rate	5.12%	4.68%	2.89%
Rate of compensation increases	4.50%	4.50%	3.38%
Mortality	Pri-2012 white collar with MP- 2021 scale	Pri-2012 white collar with MP-2021 scale	Pri-2012 white collar with MP-2020 scale
Bonus payment	45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years	45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years	45% - 110% of base, paid 4 of 5 years

The assumed discount rate is based, in part, upon a discount rate modeling process that considers both high quality long-term indices and the duration of the SERP relative to the durations implicit in the broader indices. The discount rate is utilized principally in calculating the actuarial present value of our obligation and periodic expense pursuant to the SERP. To the extent the discount rate increases or decreases, our SERP obligation is decreased or increased, respectively.

The following table presents the benefits expected to be paid in the next ten fiscal years:

Fiscal Year
2025	$ 708
2026	979
2027	843
2028	1,729
2029	1,694
2030 — 2034	9,236

At June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, the current portion of the SERP liability was $708 and $1,364, respectively, and recorded in the caption "Accrued payroll and related benefits" on the Consolidated Balance Sheets.

The following table presents the components of accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) that have not yet been recognized in net pension expense:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023
Unrecognized net gain (loss)	$ 1,623	$ (41)
Tax effect	(579)	(163)
Net amount unrecognized	$ 1,044	$ (204)

Accounting Policies [Abstract]

Basis of Presentation and Consolidation and Description of Business

Basis of Presentation and Consolidation and Description of Business

Our consolidated financial statements include the accounts of John B. Sanfilippo & Son, Inc., and our wholly-owned subsidiary, JBSS Ventures, LLC. Our fiscal year ends on the last Thursday of June each year, and typically consists of fifty-two weeks (four thirteen-week quarters). However, the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 consisted of fifty-three weeks with our fourth quarter containing fourteen weeks. The accompanying consolidated financial statements and related footnotes are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").
We are one of the leading processors and distributors of peanuts, pecans, cashews, walnuts, almonds and other nuts in the United States. These nuts are sold under our Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand and Southern Style Nuts brand names and under a variety of private brands. Additionally, with our acquisition of certain snack bar assets from TreeHouse Foods, Inc. ("Seller") in the second quarter of fiscal 2024, and our internally developed nutrition bar products, we offer our private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars. We market and distribute, and in most cases, manufacture or process, a diverse product line of food and snack products, including nutrition bars, snack bars, peanut butter, almond butter, cashew butter, candy and confections, snack and trail mixes, sunflower kernels, dried fruit, corn snacks, chickpea snacks, sesame sticks, other sesame snack products and baked cheese snack products under our brand names, including Just the Cheese, and under private brands. Our products are sold through three primary distribution channels, including food retailers in the consumer channel, commercial ingredient users and contract manufacturing customers.

Management Estimates

Management Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include reserves for customer deductions, the quantity of bulk inventories, the evaluation of recoverability of long-lived assets and the assumption used in estimating the annual discount rate utilized in determining the retirement plan liability. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on-hand and may periodically include money market instruments that are highly liquid investments. Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable are stated at the amounts charged to customers, less allowances for doubtful accounts and reserves for estimated cash discounts and customer deductions. The allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated by specifically identifying customers that are credit risks and estimating the extent that other non-specifically identified customers will become credit risks. Account balances are charged off against the allowance when we conclude that it is probable the receivable will not be recovered. The reserve for estimated cash discounts is based on historical experience. The reserve for customer deductions represents known customer short payments and an estimate of future credit memos that will be issued to customers related to rebates and allowances for marketing and promotions based on agreed upon programs and historical experience.

Inventories

Inventories

Inventories, which consist principally of inshell bulk-stored nuts, shelled nuts, dried fruit, processed and packaged nut products, snack bars and nutrition bars, are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. Net realizable value is defined as estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal and transportation. Inventory costs are reviewed at least quarterly. Fluctuations in the market price of pecans, peanuts, walnuts, almonds, cashews and other nuts and ingredients may affect the value of inventory, gross profit and gross profit margin. When net realizable values move below costs, we record adjustments to write down the carrying values of inventories to the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. The results of our shelling process can also result in changes to inventory costs, such as adjustments made pursuant to actual versus expected crop yields. We maintain significant inventories of bulk-stored inshell pecans, peanuts and walnuts. Quantities of inshell bulk-stored nuts are determined based on our inventory systems and are subject to quarterly physical verification techniques including observation, weighing and other methods. The quantities of each crop year bulk-stored nut inventories are generally shelled out over a ten to fifteen-month period, at which time revisions to any estimates, which historically averaged less than 1.0% of inventory purchases, are also recorded.

We enter into walnut purchase agreements with growers typically in our first fiscal quarter, under which they deliver their walnut crop to us during the fall harvest season (which typically occurs in our first and second fiscal quarters). Pursuant to our walnut purchase agreements, we determine the final price for this inventory after receipt and typically by the end of our third fiscal quarter. Since the ultimate purchase price to be paid is determined subsequent to receiving the walnut crop, we typically estimate the final purchase price for our first and second quarter interim financial statements based on crop size, quality, current market prices and other factors. Any such changes in estimates, which could be significant, are accounted for in the period of change by adjusting inventory on hand or cost of goods sold if the inventory has been sold. Changes in estimates may affect the ending inventory balances, as well as gross profit. There were no significant adjustments recorded in any of the periods presented.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Major improvements that extend the useful life, add capacity or add functionality are capitalized and charged to expense through depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense as incurred. The cost and accumulated depreciation of assets sold or retired are removed from the respective accounts, and any gain or loss is recognized currently in operating income.

Depreciation expense for the last three fiscal years is as follows:

Depreciation expense	$ 22,895	$ 18,746	$ 16,390

Cost is depreciated using the straight-line method over the following estimated useful lives:

Classification	Estimated Useful Lives
Buildings	10 to 30 years
Machinery and equipment	5 to 10 years
Furniture and leasehold improvements	5 to 10 years
Vehicles	3 to 5 years
Computers and software	3 to 10 years

No interest costs were capitalized for the last three fiscal years due to the lack of any significant project requiring such capitalization.

Business Combinations

Business Combinations

We use the acquisition method in accounting for acquired businesses. Under the acquisition method, our financial statements reflect the operations of an acquired business starting from the completion of the acquisition. The assets acquired and liabilities assumed are recorded at their respective estimated fair values at the date of the acquisition. Any excess of the purchase price over the estimated fair values of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill.

Segment Reporting

Segment Reporting

We operate in a single reporting unit and operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut related products and snack bars through three distribution channels.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets and Other Intangible Assets

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets and Other Intangible Assets

We review held and used long-lived assets, including our rental investment property and amortizable identifiable intangible assets (e.g., customer relationships and brand names), to assess recoverability from projected undiscounted cash flows whenever events or changes in facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. When such events occur, we compare the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group to the carrying amount of the long-lived asset or asset group. The cash flows are based on our best estimate of future cash flows derived from the most recent business projections. If this comparison indicates there is an impairment, the carrying value of the asset is reduced to its estimated fair value.

We did not record any impairment of long-lived assets for the last three fiscal years.

Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value in business acquisitions, which include customer relationships, brand names, formulas and non-compete agreements and are amortized over their estimated useful lives. Certain assets are amortized on a accelerated basis based on the timing of expected future benefits.

Goodwill

Goodwill

Goodwill currently represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets from our acquisition of Squirrel Brand, L.P. which closed in November 2017 and our acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand which closed in December 2022.

Goodwill is not amortized, but is tested annually as of the last day of each fiscal year for impairment, or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate it is more likely than not that the carrying amount of the reporting unit is greater than its fair value. A significant amount of judgment is involved in determining if an indicator of impairment has occurred. Such indicators may include deterioration in general economic conditions, adverse changes in the markets in which we operate, increases in input costs that have negative effects on earnings and cash flows, or a trend of negative or declining cash flows over multiple periods, among others. The fair value that could be realized in an actual transaction may differ from that used to evaluate the impairment of goodwill.

In testing goodwill for impairment, we have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events or circumstances leads to a determination that it is more likely than not (more than 50%) that the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If we elect to perform a qualitative assessment and determine that an impairment is more likely than not, we are then required to perform a quantitative impairment test, otherwise no further analysis is required. We also may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment and, instead, proceed directly to the quantitative impairment test.

Under the goodwill qualitative assessment, various events and circumstances that would affect the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit are identified (similar to impairment indicators above). During fiscal 2024, we performed a qualitative impairment test which showed no indicators of goodwill impairment.
Under the goodwill quantitative impairment test, the evaluation of impairment involves comparing the current fair value of our single reporting unit to its carrying value, including goodwill. We estimate the fair value using level 3 inputs as defined by the fair value hierarchy. The inputs used to estimate fair value include several subjective factors, such as estimates of future cash flows, estimates of our future cost structure, discount rates for our estimated cash flows, required level of working capital, assumed terminal value and time horizon of cash flow forecasts. Our market capitalization is also an estimate of fair value that is considered in our qualitative impairment analysis which is a level 1 input in the fair value hierarchy. If the carrying value of our single reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we recognize an impairment loss equal to the difference between the carrying value and estimated fair value.

Elgin Rental Property

Elgin Rental Property

In April 2005, we acquired property to be used for the Elgin Site. Two buildings are located on the Elgin Site, one of which is an office building. Approximately 65% of the rentable area in the office building is currently vacant. Approximately 29% of the rentable area has not been built-out. The other building, a warehouse, was expanded and modified for use as our principal processing facility and headquarters. The allocation of the purchase price to the two buildings was determined through a third-party appraisal. The value assigned to the office building is included in rental investment property on the balance sheet. The value assigned to the warehouse building is included in the caption “Property, plant and equipment”.
The net rental expense from the office building is included in the caption “Rental and miscellaneous expense, net”. See Note 4 — “Leases” below for additional information.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Authoritative guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes observable and unobservable inputs used to measure fair value into three broad levels:

Level 1- Quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2- Observable inputs other than quoted prices in active markets. For example, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in inactive markets.

Level 3- Unobservable inputs for which there is little or no market data available.

The carrying values of cash, cash equivalents, trade accounts receivable and accounts payable approximate their fair values at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023 because of the short-term maturities and nature of these balances.

The carrying value of our Credit Facility (as defined in Note 7 — “Revolving Credit Facility” below) borrowings approximates fair value at June 27, 2024 because interest rates on this instrument approximate current market rates (Level 2 criteria), the short-term maturity and nature of this balance. In addition, there has been no significant change in our inherent credit risk.

The following table summarizes the carrying value and fair value estimate of our current and long-term debt, excluding unamortized debt issuance costs:

	June 27, 2024	June 29, 2023
Carrying value of current and long-term debt:	$ 7,102	$ 7,774
Fair value of current and long-term debt:	6,496	7,421

The estimated fair value of our current and long-term debt was determined using a market approach based upon Level 2 observable inputs, which estimates fair value based on interest rates currently offered on loans with similar terms to borrowers of similar credit quality or broker quotes. In addition, there have been no significant changes in the underlying assets securing our long-term debt.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue Recognition

The Company records revenue based on a five-step model in accordance with ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for the goods or services. We sell our products under some arrangements which include customer contracts that fix the sales price for periods, which typically can be up to one year for some commercial ingredient customers. We also sell our products through specific programs consisting of promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient users. We recognize revenues as performance obligations are fulfilled, which occurs when control passes to our customers. We report all amounts billed to a customer in a sale transaction as revenue, including those amounts related to shipping and handling. We reduce revenue for estimated promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others. These reductions in revenue are considered variable consideration and are recorded in the same period the related sales are recorded. Such estimates are calculated using historical averages adjusted for any expected changes due to current business conditions and experience. See Note 3 — "Revenue Recognition" below for additional information on revenue recognition.

Significant Customers and Concentration of Credit Risk

Significant Customers and Concentration of Credit Risk

The highly competitive nature of our business provides an environment for the loss of customers and the opportunity to gain new customers. We are subject to concentrations of credit risk, primarily in trade accounts receivable, and we attempt to mitigate this risk through our credit evaluation process, collection terms and through geographical dispersion of sales. Sales to two customers exceeded 10% of net sales during fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022. In total, sales to these two customers represented approximately 52%, 51% and 49% of our net sales in fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022, respectively. In total, net accounts receivable from these customers were 47% and 45% of net accounts receivable at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively.

Marketing and Advertising Costs

Marketing and Advertising Costs

Marketing and advertising costs, including consumer insight research and related consulting expenses, are incurred to promote and support branded products primarily in the consumer distribution channel. These costs are generally expensed as incurred, recorded in selling expenses and were as follows for the last three fiscal years:

Marketing and advertising expense	$ 15,705	$ 13,947	$ 13,964

Shipping and Handling Costs

Shipping and Handling Costs

Shipping and handling costs, which include freight and other expenses to prepare finished goods for shipment, are included in selling expenses. Shipping and handling costs for the last three fiscal years were as follows:

Shipping and handling costs	$ 32,460	$ 30,918	$ 33,851

Research and Development Expenses

Research and Development Expenses

Research and development expense represents the cost of our research and development personnel and their related expenses and is charged to selling expenses as incurred. Research and development expenses for the last three fiscal years were as follows:

Research and development expense	$ 3,621	$ 3,362	$ 2,833

Stock-Based Compensation

Stock-Based Compensation

We account for stock-based employee compensation arrangements in accordance with the provisions of ASC Topic 718, Compensation — Stock Compensation, by calculating compensation cost based on the grant date fair value. We then amortize compensation expense over the vesting period. The grant date fair value of restricted stock units ("RSUs") and performance share units ("PSUs") is generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. Forfeitures are recognized as they occur, and excess tax benefits or tax deficiencies are recognized as a component of income tax expense.

Income Taxes

Income Taxes

We account for income taxes using an asset and liability approach that requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been reported in our financial statements or tax returns. Such items give rise to differences in the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. A valuation allowance is recorded to reduce the carrying amount of deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the asset will not be realized. In estimating future tax consequences, we consider all expected future events other than changes in tax law or rates.

We record liabilities for uncertain income tax positions based on a two-step process. The first step is recognition, where we evaluate whether an individual tax position has a likelihood of greater than 50% of being sustained upon examination based on the technical merits of the position, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. For tax positions that are currently estimated to have a less than 50% likelihood of being sustained, no tax benefit is recorded. For tax positions that have met the recognition threshold in the first step, we perform the second step of measuring the benefit to be recorded. The actual benefits ultimately realized may differ from our estimates. In future periods, changes in facts, circumstances, and new information may require us to change the recognition and measurement estimates with regard to individual tax positions. Changes in recognition and measurement estimates are recorded in results of operations and financial position in the period in which such changes occur.

We recognize interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in the "Income tax expense" caption in the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income.
We evaluate the realization of deferred tax assets by considering our historical taxable income and future taxable income based upon the reversal of deferred tax liabilities. As of June 27, 2024, we believe that our deferred tax assets are fully realizable.

Earnings per Share

Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per common share are calculated using the weighted average number of shares of Common Stock and Class A Stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue Common Stock were exercised or converted into Common Stock or resulted in the issuance of Common Stock.

The following table presents the reconciliation of the weighted average shares outstanding used in computing basic and diluted earnings per share:

Weighted average number of shares outstanding — basic	11,615,255	11,576,852	11,537,699
Effect of dilutive securities:
Restricted stock units and performance stock units	72,291	65,194	56,250
Weighted average number of shares outstanding — diluted	11,687,546	11,642,046	11,593,949

There were no anti-dilutive awards excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share for any periods presented.

Comprehensive Income

Comprehensive Income

We account for comprehensive income in accordance with ASC Topic 220, Comprehensive Income. This topic establishes standards for reporting and displaying comprehensive income and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements. The topic requires that all components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. This topic also requires all non-owner changes in stockholders' equity be presented in either a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. This guidance also requires presentation by the respective line items of net income, either on the face of the statement where net income is presented or in the notes and information about significant amounts required under U.S. GAAP to be reclassified out of accumulated other comprehensive income in their entirety. For amounts not required to be reclassified in their entirety to net income, we provide a cross-reference to other disclosures that offer additional details about those amounts.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

The following recent accounting pronouncements have not yet been adopted:

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07 "Segment Reporting (Topic 280)". The amendments in this update modify the disclosure requirements by expanding the disclosures required for reportable segments in annual and interim consolidated financial statements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. In addition, the amendments require that any entity that has a single reportable segment provide all the disclosures required either in this update or already existing in Topic 280. The amendments are effective public entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements.

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09 "Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures". The amendments in this update enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures primarily related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid by jurisdiction. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied prospectively, but may be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements.

Sanfilippo & Son, Inc., and our wholly-owned subsidiary, JBSS Ventures, LLC. Our fiscal year ends on the last Thursday of June each year, and typically consists of fifty-two weeks (four thirteen-week quarters). However, the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 consisted of fifty-three weeks with our fourth quarter containing fourteen weeks. The accompanying consolidated financial statements and related footnotes are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). We are one of the leading processors and distributors of peanuts, pecans, cashews, walnuts, almonds and other nuts in the United States. These nuts are sold under our Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand and Southern Style Nuts brand names and under a variety of private brands. Additionally, with our acquisition of certain snack bar assets from TreeHouse Foods, Inc. ("Seller") in the second quarter of fiscal 2024, and our internally developed nutrition bar products, we offer our private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars. We market and distribute, and in most cases, manufacture or process, a diverse product line of food and snack products, including nutrition bars, snack bars, peanut butter, almond butter, cashew butter, candy and confections, snack and trail mixes, sunflower kernels, dried fruit, corn snacks, chickpea snacks, sesame sticks, other sesame snack products and baked cheese snack products under our brand names, including Just the Cheese, and under private brands. Our products are sold through three primary distribution channels, including food retailers in the consumer channel, commercial ingredient users and contract manufacturing customers. Management Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include reserves for customer deductions, the quantity of bulk inventories, the evaluation of recoverability of long-lived assets and the assumption used in estimating the annual discount rate utilized in determining the retirement plan liability. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Cash and Cash Equivalents Cash and cash equivalents include cash on-hand and may periodically include money market instruments that are highly liquid investments. Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value. Accounts Receivable Accounts receivable are stated at the amounts charged to customers, less allowances for doubtful accounts and reserves for estimated cash discounts and customer deductions. The allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated by specifically identifying customers that are credit risks and estimating the extent that other non-specifically identified customers will become credit risks. Account balances are charged off against the allowance when we conclude that it is probable the receivable will not be recovered. The reserve for estimated cash discounts is based on historical experience. The reserve for customer deductions represents known customer short payments and an estimate of future credit memos that will be issued to customers related to rebates and allowances for marketing and promotions based on agreed upon programs and historical experience. Inventories Inventories, which consist principally of inshell bulk-stored nuts, shelled nuts, dried fruit, processed and packaged nut products, snack bars and nutrition bars, are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. Net realizable value is defined as estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal and transportation. Inventory costs are reviewed at least quarterly. Fluctuations in the market price of pecans, peanuts, walnuts, almonds, cashews and other nuts and ingredients may affect the value of inventory, gross profit and gross profit margin. When net realizable values move below costs, we record adjustments to write down the carrying values of inventories to the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. The results of our shelling process can also result in changes to inventory costs, such as adjustments made pursuant to actual versus expected crop yields. We maintain significant inventories of bulk-stored inshell pecans, peanuts and walnuts. Quantities of inshell bulk-stored nuts are determined based on our inventory systems and are subject to quarterly physical verification techniques including observation, weighing and other methods. The quantities of each crop year bulk-stored nut inventories are generally shelled out over a ten to fifteen-month period, at which time revisions to any estimates, which historically averaged less than 1.0% of inventory purchases, are also recorded. We enter into walnut purchase agreements with growers typically in our first fiscal quarter, under which they deliver their walnut crop to us during the fall harvest season (which typically occurs in our first and second fiscal quarters). Pursuant to our walnut purchase agreements, we determine the final price for this inventory after receipt and typically by the end of our third fiscal quarter. Since the ultimate purchase price to be paid is determined subsequent to receiving the walnut crop, we typically estimate the final purchase price for our first and second quarter interim financial statements based on crop size, quality, current market prices and other factors. Any such changes in estimates, which could be significant, are accounted for in the period of change by adjusting inventory on hand or cost of goods sold if the inventory has been sold. Changes in estimates may affect the ending inventory balances, as well as gross profit. There were no significant adjustments recorded in any of the periods presented. Property, Plant and Equipment Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Major improvements that extend the useful life, add capacity or add functionality are capitalized and charged to expense through depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense as incurred. The cost and accumulated depreciation of assets sold or retired are removed from the respective accounts, and any gain or loss is recognized currently in operating income. Depreciation expense for the last three fiscal years is as follows: <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:80.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"> <tr style="visibility:collapse;"> <td style="width:57.477%;"></td> <td style="width:1.399%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.776%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.399%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.776%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.399%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.776%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> </tr> <tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;text-align:left;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;"> Year Ended top:6pt;font-family:Times New Roman;margin-bottom:0;text-align:left;">We use the acquisition method in accounting for acquired businesses. Under the acquisition method, our financial statements reflect the operations of an acquired business starting from the completion of the acquisition. The assets acquired and liabilities assumed are recorded at their respective estimated fair values at the date of the acquisition. Any excess of the purchase price over the estimated fair values of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. Segment Reporting We operate in a single reporting unit and operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut related products and snack bars through three distribution channels. Valuation of Long-Lived Assets and Other Intangible Assets We review held and used long-lived assets, including our rental investment property and amortizable identifiable intangible assets (e.g., customer relationships and brand names), to assess recoverability from projected undiscounted cash flows whenever events or changes in facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. When such events occur, we compare the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group to the carrying amount of the long-lived asset or asset group. The cash flows are based on our best estimate of future cash flows derived from the most recent business projections. If this comparison indicates there is an impairment, the carrying value of the asset is reduced to its estimated fair value. We did not record any impairment of long-lived assets for the last three fiscal years. Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value in business acquisitions, which include customer relationships, brand names, formulas and non-compete agreements and are amortized over their estimated useful lives. Certain assets are amortized on a accelerated basis based on the timing of expected future benefits. See Note 6 — “Goodwill and Intangible Assets” below for additional information. Goodwill Goodwill currently represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets from our acquisition of Squirrel Brand, L.P. which closed in November 2017 and our acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand which closed in December 2022. Goodwill is not amortized, but is tested annually as of the last day of each fiscal year for impairment, or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate it is more likely than not that the carrying amount of the reporting unit is greater than its fair value. A significant amount of judgment is involved in determining if an indicator of impairment has occurred. Such indicators may include deterioration in general economic conditions, adverse changes in the markets in which we operate, increases in input costs that have negative effects on earnings and cash flows, or a trend of negative or declining cash flows over multiple periods, among others. The fair value that could be realized in an actual transaction may differ from that used to evaluate the impairment of goodwill. In testing goodwill for impairment, we have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events or circumstances leads to a determination that it is more likely than not (more than 50%) that the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If we elect to perform a qualitative assessment and determine that an impairment is more likely than not, we are then required to perform a quantitative impairment test, otherwise no further analysis is required. We also may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment and, instead, proceed directly to the quantitative impairment test. Under the goodwill qualitative assessment, various events and circumstances that would affect the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit are identified (similar to impairment indicators above). During fiscal 2024, we performed a qualitative impairment test which showed no indicators of goodwill impairment. Under the goodwill quantitative impairment test, the evaluation of impairment involves comparing the current fair value of our single reporting unit to its carrying value, including goodwill. We estimate the fair value using level 3 inputs as defined by the fair value hierarchy. The inputs used to estimate fair value include several subjective factors, such as estimates of future cash flows, estimates of our future cost structure, discount rates for our estimated cash flows, required level of working capital, assumed terminal value and time horizon of cash flow forecasts. Our market capitalization is also an estimate of fair value that is considered in our qualitative impairment analysis which is a level 1 input in the fair value hierarchy. If the carrying value of our single reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we recognize an impairment loss equal to the difference between the carrying value and estimated fair value. Elgin Rental Property In April 2005, we acquired property to be used for the Elgin Site, Two buildings are located on the Elgin Site, one of which is an office building. Approximately 65% of the rentable area in the office building is currently vacant. Approximately 29% of the rentable area has not been built-out. The other building, a warehouse, was expanded and modified for use as our principal processing facility and headquarters. The allocation of the purchase price to the two buildings was determined through a third-party appraisal. The value assigned to the office building is included in rental investment property on the balance sheet. The value assigned to the warehouse building is included in the caption “Property, plant and equipment”. The net rental expense from the office building is included in the caption “Rental and miscellaneous expense, net”. See Note 4 — “Leases” below for additional information. Fair Value of Financial Instruments Authoritative guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes observable and unobservable inputs used to measure fair value into three broad levels: <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:100.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"><tr style="visibility:collapse;"><td style="width:4.3%;"></td><td style="width:7.36%;"></td><td style="width:88.34%;"></td></tr><tr style="word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"><td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td></tr><tr style="height:10pt;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"><td style="vertical-align:top;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:top;"> Level 1 </td><td style="vertical-align:top;"> Quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets and liabilities. </td></tr><tr style="height:5.75pt;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"><td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td></tr><tr style="height:10pt;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"><td style="padding-left:0.1in;vertical-align:top;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:top;">

The carrying value of our Credit Facility (as defined in Note 7 — “Revolving Credit Facility” below) borrowings approximates fair value at June 27, 2024 because interest rates on this instrument approximate current market rates (Level 2 criteria), the short-term maturity and nature of this balance. In addition, there has been no significant change in our inherent credit risk. The following table summarizes the carrying value and fair value estimate of our current and long-term debt, excluding unamortized debt issuance costs: <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:70.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"> <tr style="visibility:collapse;"> <td style="width:66.993%;"></td> <td style="width:1.62%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:12.883000000000001%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.62%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:12.883000000000001%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> </tr> <tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;text-align:left;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;"> June 27,

In addition, there have been no significant changes in the underlying assets securing our long-term debt. Revenue Recognition The Company records revenue based on a five-step model in accordance with ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for the goods or services. We sell our products under some arrangements which include customer contracts that fix the sales price for periods, which typically can be up to one year for some commercial ingredient customers. We also sell our products through specific programs consisting of promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient users. We recognize revenues as performance obligations are fulfilled, which occurs when control passes to our customers. We report all amounts billed to a customer in a sale transaction as revenue, including those amounts related to shipping and handling. We reduce revenue for estimated promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others. These reductions in revenue are considered variable consideration and are recorded in the same period the related sales are recorded. Such estimates are calculated using historical averages adjusted for any expected changes due to current business conditions and experience. See Note 3 — “Revenue Recognition” below for additional information on revenue recognition. Significant Customers and Concentration of Credit Risk The highly competitive nature of our business provides an environment for the loss of customers and the opportunity to gain new customers. We are subject to concentrations of credit risk, primarily in trade accounts receivable, and we attempt to mitigate this risk through our credit evaluation process, collection terms and through geographical dispersion of sales. Sales to two customers exceeded 10% of net sales during fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022. In total, sales to these two customers represented approximately 52%, 51% and 49% of our net sales in fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022, respectively. In total, net accounts receivable from these customers were 47% and 45% of net accounts receivable at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively. Marketing and Advertising Costs Marketing and advertising costs, including consumer insight research and related consulting expenses, are incurred to promote and support branded products primarily in the consumer distribution channel. These costs are generally expensed as incurred, recorded in selling expenses and were as follows for the last three fiscal years:

space:pre-wrap;text-decoration:underline;font-size:10pt;font-family:Times New Roman;min-width:fit-content;">Research and Development Expenses Research and development expense represents the cost of our research and development personnel and their related expenses and is charged to selling expenses as incurred. We then amortize compensation expense over the vesting period. The grant date fair value of restricted stock units (“RSUs”) and performance share units (“PSUs”) is generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. Forfeitures are recognized as they occur, and excess tax benefits or tax deficiencies are recognized as a component of income tax expense. Income Taxes We account for income taxes using an asset and liability approach that requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been reported in our financial statements or tax returns. Such items give rise to differences in the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. A valuation allowance is recorded to reduce the carrying amount of deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the asset will not be realized. In estimating future tax consequences, we consider all expected future events other than changes in tax law or rates. We record liabilities for uncertain income tax positions based on a two-step process. The first step is recognition, where we evaluate whether an individual tax position has a likelihood of greater than 50% of being sustained upon examination based on the technical merits of the position, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. For tax positions that are currently estimated to have a less than 50% likelihood of being sustained, no tax benefit is recorded. For tax positions that have met the recognition threshold in the first step, we perform the second step of measuring the benefit to be recorded. The actual benefits ultimately realized may differ from our estimates. In future periods, changes in facts, circumstances, and new information may require us to change the recognition and measurement estimates with regard to individual tax positions. Changes in recognition and measurement estimates are recorded in results of operations and financial position in the period in which such changes occur. We recognize interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in the “Income tax expense” caption in the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income. We evaluate the realization of deferred tax assets by considering our historical taxable income and future taxable income based upon the reversal of deferred tax liabilities. As of June 27, 2024, we believe that our deferred tax assets are fully realizable.   Earnings per Share Basic earnings per common share are calculated using the weighted average number of shares of Common Stock and Class A Stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue Common Stock were exercised or converted into Common Stock or resulted in the issuance of Common Stock. The following table presents the reconciliation of the weighted average shares outstanding used in computing basic and diluted earnings per share: <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:80.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"> <tr style="visibility:collapse;"> <td style="width:57.431%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:11.162%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:11.162%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:11.242%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> </tr> <tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;text-align:left;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;"> Year Ended Comprehensive Income We account for comprehensive income in accordance with ASC Topic 220, Comprehensive Income. This topic establishes standards for reporting and displaying comprehensive income and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements. The topic requires that all components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. This topic also requires all non-owner changes in stockholders' equity be presented in either a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. This guidance also requires presentation by the respective line items of net income, either on the face of the statement where net income is presented or in the notes and information about significant amounts required under U.S. GAAP to be reclassified out of accumulated other comprehensive income in their entirety. For amounts not required to be reclassified in their entirety to net income, we provide a cross-reference to other disclosures that offer additional details about those amounts. Recent Accounting Pronouncements The following recent accounting pronouncements have not yet been adopted: In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07 "Segment Reporting (Topic 280)

*”. The amendments in this update modify the disclosure requirements by expanding the disclosures required for reportable segments in annual and interim consolidated financial statements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. In addition, the amendments require that any entity that has a single reportable segment provide all the disclosures required either in this update or already existing in Topic 280. The amendments are effective public entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements. In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09 “Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures”. The amendments in this update enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures primarily related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid by jurisdiction. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied prospectively, but may be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements. Basis of Presentation and Consolidation and Description of Business Our consolidated financial statements include the accounts of John B. Sanfilippo & Son, Inc., and our wholly-owned subsidiary, JBSS Ventures, LLC. Our fiscal year ends on the last Thursday of June each year, and typically consists of fifty-two weeks (four thirteen-week quarters). However, the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 consisted of fifty-three weeks with our fourth quarter containing fourteen weeks. The accompanying consolidated financial statements and related footnotes are presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”). We are one of the leading processors and distributors of peanuts, pecans, cashews, walnuts, almonds and other nuts in the United States. These nuts are sold under our Fisher, Orchard Valley Harvest, Squirrel Brand and Southern Style Nuts brand names and under a variety of private brands. Additionally, with our acquisition of certain snack bar assets from TreeHouse Foods, Inc. (“Seller”) in the second quarter of fiscal 2024, and our internally developed nutrition bar products, we offer our private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars. We market and distribute, and in most cases, manufacture or process, a diverse product line of food and snack products, including nutrition bars, snack bars, peanut butter, almond butter, cashew butter, candy and confections, snack and trail mixes, sunflower kernels, dried fruit, corn snacks, chickpea snacks, sesame sticks, other sesame snack products and baked cheese snack products under our brand names, including Just the Cheese, and under private brands. Our products are sold through three primary distribution channels, including food retailers in the consumer channel, commercial ingredient users and contract manufacturing customers. Management Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates include reserves for customer deductions, the quantity of bulk inventories, the evaluation of recoverability of long-lived assets and the assumption used in estimating the annual discount rate utilized in determining the retirement plan liability. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Cash and Cash Equivalents Cash and cash equivalents include cash on-hand and may periodically include money market instruments that are highly liquid investments. Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value. Accounts Receivable Accounts receivable are stated at the amounts charged to customers, less allowances for doubtful accounts and reserves for estimated cash discounts and customer deductions. The allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated by specifically identifying customers that are credit risks and estimating the extent that other non-specifically identified customers will become credit risks. Account balances are charged off against the allowance when we conclude that it is probable the receivable will not be recovered. The reserve for estimated cash discounts is based on historical experience. The reserve for customer deductions represents known customer short payments and an estimate of future credit memos that will be issued to customers related to rebates and allowances for marketing and promotions based on agreed upon programs and historical experience. Inventories Inventories, which consist principally of inshell bulk-stored nuts, shelled nuts, dried fruit, processed and packaged nut products, snack bars and nutrition bars, are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. Net realizable value is defined as estimated selling prices in the ordinary course of business, less reasonably predictable costs of completion, disposal and transportation. Inventory costs are reviewed at least quarterly. Fluctuations in the market price of pecans, peanuts, walnuts, almonds, cashews and other nuts and ingredients may affect the value of inventory, gross profit and gross profit margin. When net realizable values move below costs, we record adjustments to write down the carrying values of inventories to the lower of cost (first-in, first-out) and net realizable value. The results of our shelling process can also result in changes to inventory costs, such as adjustments made pursuant to actual versus expected crop yields. We maintain significant inventories of bulk-stored inshell pecans, peanuts and walnuts. Quantities of inshell bulk-stored nuts are determined based on our inventory systems and are subject to quarterly physical verification techniques including observation, weighing and other methods. The quantities of each crop year bulk-stored nut inventories are generally shelled out over a ten to fifteen-month period, at which time revisions to any estimates, which historically averaged less than 1.0% of inventory purchases, are also recorded. We enter into walnut purchase agreements with growers typically in our first fiscal quarter, under which they deliver their walnut crop to us during the fall harvest season (which typically occurs in our first and second fiscal quarters). Pursuant to our walnut purchase agreements, we determine the final price for this inventory after receipt and typically by the end of our third fiscal quarter. Since the ultimate purchase price to be paid is determined subsequent to receiving the walnut crop, we typically estimate the final purchase price for our first and second quarter interim financial statements based on crop size, quality, current market prices and other factors. Any such changes in estimates, which could be significant, are accounted for in the period of change by adjusting inventory on hand or cost of goods sold if the inventory has been sold. Changes in estimates may affect the ending inventory balances, as well as gross profit. There were no significant adjustments recorded in any of the periods presented.ten to fifteen-month0.01 Property, Plant and Equipment Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Major improvements that extend the useful life, add capacity or add functionality are capitalized and charged to expense through depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense as incurred. The cost and accumulated depreciation of assets sold or retired are removed from the respective accounts, and any gain or loss is recognized currently in operating income. Depreciation expense for the last three fiscal years is as follows: <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:80.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"><tr style="visibility:collapse;"><td style="width:57.477%;"></td><td style="width:1.399%;"></td><td style="width:1%;"></td><td style="width:10.776%;"></td><td style="width:1%;"></td><td style="width:1.399%;"></td><td style="width:1%;"></td><td style="width:10.776%;"></td><td style="width:1%;"></td><td style="width:1.399%;"></td><td style="width:1%;"></td><td style="width:10.776%;"></td><td style="width:1%;"></td></tr><tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"><td style="vertical-align:bottom;text-align:left;"> </td><td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td><td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;"> Year Ended

</table>P10YP30YP5YP10YP5YP10YP3YP5YP3YP10Y0 Business Combinations We use the acquisition method in accounting for acquired businesses. Under the acquisition method, our financial statements reflect the operations of an acquired business starting from the completion of the acquisition. The assets acquired and liabilities assumed are recorded at their respective estimated fair values at the date of the acquisition. Any excess of the purchase price over the estimated fair values of the identifiable net assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. Segment Reporting We operate in a single reporting unit and operating segment that consists of selling various nut and nut related products and snack bars through three distribution channels. Valuation of Long-Lived Assets and Other Intangible Assets We review held and used long-lived assets, including our rental investment property and amortizable identifiable intangible assets (e.g., customer relationships and brand names), to assess recoverability from projected undiscounted cash flows whenever events or changes in facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. When such events occur, we compare the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset or asset group to the carrying amount of the long-lived asset or asset group. The cash flows are based on our best estimate of future cash flows derived from the most recent business projections. If this comparison indicates there is an impairment, the carrying value of the asset is reduced to its estimated fair value. We did not record any impairment of long-lived assets for the last three fiscal years. Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value in business acquisitions, which include customer relationships, brand names, formulas and non-compete agreements and are amortized over their estimated useful lives. Certain assets are amortized on a accelerated basis based on the timing of expected future benefits. 0 Goodwill Goodwill currently represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets from our acquisition of Squirrel Brand, L.P. which closed in November 2017 and our acquisition of the Just the Cheese brand which closed in December 2022. Goodwill is not amortized, but is tested annually as of the last day of each fiscal year for impairment, or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate it is more likely than not that the carrying amount of the reporting unit is greater than its fair value. A significant amount of judgment is involved in determining if an indicator of impairment has occurred. Such indicators may include deterioration in general economic conditions, adverse changes in the markets in which we operate, increases in input costs that have negative effects on earnings and cash flows, or a trend of negative or declining cash flows over multiple periods, among others. The fair value that could be realized in an actual transaction may differ from that used to evaluate the impairment of goodwill. In testing goodwill for impairment, we have the option to first assess qualitative factors to determine whether the existence of events or circumstances leads to a determination that it is more likely than not (more than 50%) that the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If we elect to perform a qualitative assessment and determine that an impairment is more likely than not, we are then required to perform a quantitative impairment test, otherwise no further analysis is required. We also may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment and, instead, proceed directly to the quantitative impairment test. Under the goodwill qualitative assessment, various events and circumstances that would affect the estimated fair value of our single reporting unit are identified (similar to impairment indicators above). During fiscal 2024, we performed a qualitative impairment test which showed no indicators of goodwill impairment. Under the goodwill quantitative impairment test, the evaluation of impairment involves comparing the current fair value of our single reporting unit to its carrying value, including goodwill. We estimate the fair value using level 3 inputs as defined by the fair value hierarchy. The inputs used to estimate fair value include several subjective factors, such as estimates of future cash flows, estimates of our future cost structure, discount rates for our estimated cash flows, required level of working capital, assumed terminal value and time horizon of cash flow forecasts. Our market capitalization is also an estimate of fair value that is considered in our qualitative impairment analysis which is a level 1 input in the fair value hierarchy. If the carrying value of our single reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we recognize an impairment loss equal to the difference between the carrying value and estimated fair value.0 Elgin Rental Property In April 2005, we acquired property to be used for the Elgin Site. Two buildings are located on the Elgin Site, one of which is an office building. Approximately 65% of the rentable area in the office building is currently vacant. Approximately 29% of the rentable area has not been built-out. The other building, a warehouse, was expanded and modified for use as our principal processing facility and headquarters. The allocation of the purchase price to the two buildings was determined through a third-party appraisal. The value assigned to the office building is included in rental investment property on the balance sheet. The value assigned to the warehouse building is included in the caption “Property, plant and equipment”. The net rental expense from the office building is included in the caption “Rental and miscellaneous expense, net”. See Note 4 — “Leases” below for additional information.20.650.29 Fair Value of Financial Instruments Authoritative guidance issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) defines fair value as the price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The guidance establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes observable and unobservable inputs used to measure fair value into three broad levels: <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:100.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"> <tr style="visibility:collapse;"> <td style="width:4.3%;"></td> <td style="width:7.36%;"></td> <td style="width:88.34%;"></td> </tr> <tr style="word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td> </tr> <tr style="height:10pt;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:top;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:top;"> Level 1- </td> <td style="vertical-align:top;"> Quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets and liabilities. </td> </tr> <tr style="height:5.75pt;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:middle;"> </td> </tr> <tr style="height:10pt;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="padding-left:0.1in;vertical-align:top;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:top;"> Level 2- </td> <td style="vertical-align:top;"> Observable inputs other than quoted prices in active markets. The carrying value of our Credit Facility (as defined in Note 7 — “Revolving Credit Facility” below) borrowings approximates fair value at June 27, 2024 because interest rates on this instrument approximate current market rates (Level 2 criteria), the short-term maturity and nature of this balance. The core principle of the guidance is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for the goods or services. We sell our products under some arrangements which include customer contracts that fix the sales price for periods, which typically can be up to one year for some commercial ingredient customers. We also sell our products through specific programs consisting of promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient users. We recognize revenues as performance obligations are fulfilled, which occurs when control passes to our customers. We report all amounts billed to a customer in a sale transaction as revenue, including those amounts related to shipping and handling. We reduce revenue for estimated promotion allowances, volume and customer rebates and marketing allowances, among others. These reductions in revenue are considered variable consideration and are recorded in the same period the related sales are recorded. Such estimates are calculated using historical averages adjusted for any expected changes due to current business conditions and experience. See Note 3 — “Revenue Recognition” below for additional information on revenue recognition. Significant Customers and Concentration of Credit Risk The highly competitive nature of our business provides an environment for the loss of customers and the opportunity to gain new customers. We are subject to concentrations of credit risk, primarily in trade accounts receivable, and we attempt to mitigate this risk through our credit evaluation process, collection terms and through geographical dispersion of sales. Sales to two customers exceeded 10% of net sales during fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022. In total, sales to these two customers represented approximately 52%, 51% and 49% of our net sales in fiscal 2024, fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022, respectively. In total, net accounts receivable from these customers were 47% and 45% of net accounts receivable at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively.20.100.100.100.520.510.490.470.45 Marketing and Advertising Costs Marketing and advertising costs, including consumer insight research and related consulting expenses, are incurred to promote and support branded products primarily in the consumer distribution channel. We then amortize compensation expense over the vesting period. The grant date fair value of restricted stock units ("RSUs") and performance share units ("PSUs") is generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. Forfeitures are recognized as they occur, and excess tax benefits or tax deficiencies are recognized as a component of income tax expense. Income Taxes We account for income taxes using an asset and liability approach that requires the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax consequences of events that have been reported in our financial statements or tax returns. Such items give rise to differences in the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities. A valuation allowance is recorded to reduce the carrying amount of deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the asset will not be realized. In estimating future tax consequences, we consider all expected future events other than changes in tax law or rates. We record liabilities for uncertain income tax positions based on a two-step process. The first step is recognition, where we evaluate whether an individual tax position has a likelihood of greater than 50% of being sustained upon examination based on the technical merits of the position, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. For tax positions that are currently estimated to have a less than 50% likelihood of being sustained, no tax benefit is recorded. For tax positions that have met the recognition threshold in the first step, we perform the second step of measuring the benefit to be recorded. The actual benefits ultimately realized may differ from our estimates. In future periods, changes in facts, circumstances, and new information may require us to change the recognition and measurement estimates with regard to individual tax positions. Changes in recognition and measurement estimates are recorded in results of operations and financial position in the period in which such changes occur. We recognize interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in the "Income tax expense" caption in the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income. We evaluate the realization of deferred tax assets by considering our historical taxable income and future taxable income based upon the reversal of deferred tax liabilities. As of June 27, 2024, we believe that our deferred tax assets are fully realizable.greater than 50%less than 50% Earnings per Share Basic earnings per common share are calculated using the weighted average number of shares of Common Stock and Class A Stock outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue Common Stock were exercised or converted into Common Stock or resulted in the issuance of Common Stock. This topic establishes standards for reporting and displaying comprehensive income and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements. The topic requires that all components of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. This topic also requires all non-owner changes in stockholders' equity be presented in either a single continuous statement of comprehensive income or in two separate but consecutive statements. This guidance also requires presentation by the respective line items of net income, either on the face of the statement where net income is presented or in the notes and information about significant amounts required under U.S. GAAP to be reclassified out of accumulated other comprehensive income in their entirety. For amounts not required to be reclassified in their entirety to net income, we provide a cross-reference to other disclosures that offer additional details about those amounts. Recent Accounting Pronouncements The following recent accounting pronouncements have not yet been adopted: In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07 "Segment Reporting (Topic 280)", The amendments in this update modify the disclosure requirements by expanding the disclosures required for reportable segments in annual and interim consolidated financial statements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. In addition, the amendments require that any entity that has a single reportable segment provide all the disclosures required either in this update or already existing in Topic 280. The amendments are effective public entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements. In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09 "Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures", The amendments in this update enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures primarily related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid by jurisdiction. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments will be applied prospectively, but may be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We are currently evaluating the impact of this update but do not expect it to have a material impact on our Consolidated Financial Statements. NOTE 2 — LAKEVILLE ACQUISITION On September 29, 2023, we completed the acquisition of certain snack bar assets from the Seller. The acquired assets include inventory, a manufacturing facility and related equipment located in Lakeville, Minnesota, and product formulas (the "Lakeville Acquisition"). The initial purchase price was approximately $61,546 in cash, subject to certain post-closing adjustments. Following the closing, we received payments from the Seller of $2,572 for purchase price adjustments related to the actual inventory and fixed assets acquired, for a revised purchase price of $58,974, net. The purchase price for the Lakeville Acquisition was primarily funded from borrowings under the Credit Facility (defined in Note 7 - Revolving Credit Facility below). The Lakeville Acquisition accelerates our strategy within the growing snack bar category and diversifies our product offerings. It also allows us to offer private brand customers a complete portfolio of snack bars, including fruit and grain, crunchy, protein, sweet and salty and chewy bars that complement internally developed nutrition bars.The Lakeville Acquisition has been accounted for as a business combination in accordance with ASC Topic 805, "Business Combinations". The fair value for the property was primarily determined using a market approach. The fair values for the machinery and equipment were determined using a combination of the direct and indirect cost approaches, along with the market approach. All building and equipment assets are being depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated remaining useful lives as determined in accordance with our accounting policies. The product formulas asset represents the value of these formulas designed to replicate the taste, texture and appearance of branded snack bars. The fair value of the product formulas was determined using the income approach through a relief from royalty method analysis. We are amortizing formulas over a weighted average life of 5.4 years. There were no recognized or unrecognized material contingencies associated with the acquired business. The $61,950 fair value of the identifiable assets acquired exceeded the total purchase price of $58,974. Accordingly, this acquisition resulted in a bargain purchase and we recognized a gain of $2,226, net of taxes, which is reported in the caption "Bargain purchase gain, net" in our consolidated financial results for the year ended June 27, 2024. We believe the Lakeville Acquisition resulted in a bargain purchase gain because the Seller was motivated to divest such snack bars business, as its performance no longer supported the Seller's long-term growth targets. Net sales of $119,837 from the closing date of the Lakeville Acquisition on September 29, 2023 are included in our consolidated financial results for fiscal 2024. The closing date of the Lakeville Acquisition was on the first day of our second fiscal quarter.The Company also incurred acquisition-related costs of $856 for fiscal 2024 which are included in Administrative expenses. The following reflects the unaudited pro forma results of operations of the Company as if the Lakeville Acquisition had taken place at the beginning of fiscal 2023. For each customer contract, a five-step process is followed in which we identify the contract, identify performance obligations, determine the transaction price, allocate the contract transaction price to the performance obligations, and recognize the revenue when (or as) the performance obligation is transferred to the customer. Nature of Products We manufacture and sell the following: • branded products under our own proprietary brands to retailers on a national basis; • private brand products to retailers, such as supermarkets, mass merchandisers, and specialty retailers, for resale under the retailers' own or controlled labels; • private brand and branded products to the foodservice industry, including foodservice distributors and national restaurant operators; • branded products under co-manufacturing agreements to other major branded companies for their distribution; and • products to our industrial customer base for repackaging in portion control packages and for use as ingredients by other food manufacturers. When Performance Obligations Are Satisfied A performance obligation is a promise in a contract to transfer a distinct good or service to the customer and is the unit of account for revenue recognition. A contract's transaction price is allocated to each distinct performance obligation and recognized as revenue when, or as, the performance obligation is satisfied. The Company's performance obligations are primarily for the delivery of raw and processed recipe and snack nuts, nut butters, trail mixes and snack and nutrition bars. Our customer contracts do not include more than one performance obligation. If a contract were to contain more than one performance obligation, we are required to allocate the contract's transaction price to each performance obligation based on its relative standalone selling price. The standalone selling price for each distinct good is generally determined by directly observable data. Revenue recognition is generally completed at a point in time when product control is transferred to the customer. For virtually all of our revenues, control transfers to the customer when the product is shipped or delivered to the customer based upon applicable shipping terms, as the customer can then direct the use and obtain substantially all of the remaining benefits from the asset at that point in time. Therefore, the timing of our revenue recognition requires little judgment. The performance obligations in our contracts are satisfied within one year, and typically much less. As such, we have not disclosed the transaction price allocated to remaining performance obligations for any periods presented. Significant Payment Terms Our customer contracts identify the product, quantity, price, payment and final delivery terms. Payment terms usually include early pay discounts. We grant payment terms consistent with industry standards. On a limited basis some payment terms may be extended; however, no payment terms beyond six months are granted at contract inception. The average customer payment is received within approximately 30 days of the invoice date. As a result, we do not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component because the period between our transfer of a promised good or service to a customer and the customer's payment for that good or service will be six months or less. Shipping All shipping and handling costs associated with outbound freight are accounted for as fulfillment costs and are included in selling expense. Variable Consideration Some of our products are sold through specific incentive programs consisting of promotional allowances, volume and customer rebates, in-store display incentives and marketing allowances, among others, to consumer and some commercial ingredient customers. The ultimate cost of these programs is dependent on certain factors such as actual purchase volumes or customer activities and is dependent on significant management judgment when determining estimates. The Company accounts for these programs as variable consideration and recognizes a reduction in revenue (and a corresponding reduction in the transaction price) in the same period as the underlying program based upon the terms of the specific arrangements. Trade promotions, consisting primarily of customer pricing allowances, merchandising funds and consumer coupons, are also offered through various programs to customers and consumers. A provision for estimated trade promotions is recorded as a reduction of revenue (and a reduction in the transaction price) in the same period when the sale is recognized. Revenues are also recorded net of expected customer deductions which are provided for based upon past experiences. Evaluating these estimates requires management judgment. We generally use the most likely amount method to determine the variable consideration. We believe there will not be significant changes to our estimates of variable consideration when any related uncertainties are resolved with our customers. The Company reviews and updates its estimates and related accruals of variable consideration and trade promotions at least quarterly based on the terms of the agreements and historical experience. Any uncertainties in the ultimate resolution of variable consideration due to factors outside of the Company's influence are typically resolved within a short *timeframe, therefore, no additional constraint on the variable consideration is required. Product Returns While customers generally have the right to return defective or non-conforming products, past experience has demonstrated that product returns have generally been immaterial. Customer remedies may include either a cash refund or an exchange of the returned product. As a result, the right of return and related refund liability for non-conforming or defective goods is estimated and recorded as a reduction in revenue, if necessary. Contract Balances Contract assets or liabilities result from transactions with revenue recorded over time. If the measure of remaining rights exceeds the measure of the remaining performance obligations, the Company records a contract asset. Conversely, if the measure of the remaining performance obligations exceeds the measure of the remaining rights, the Company records a contract liability. There was no contract asset balance for any periods presented. The Company generally does not have material deferred revenue or contract liability balances arising from transactions with customers. Contract Costs The Company does not incur significant fulfillment costs requiring capitalization. Disaggregation of Revenue Revenue disaggregated by distribution channel is as follows: <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:80.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"> <tr style="visibility:collapse;"> <td style="width:57.477%;"></td> <td style="width:1.399%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.776%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.399%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.776%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.399%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.776%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> </tr> <tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="10" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;"> For the Year Ended </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #ffffff03;text-align:left;"> </td> </tr> <tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> Distribution Channel </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;"> June 27,

Our leases generally do not contain any explicit guarantees of residual value and, with the exception of the Huntley warehouse, generally do not contain non-lease components. Our leases for warehouse transportation equipment generally require the equipment to be returned to the lessor in good working order. Through a review of our contracts, we determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception and analyze the lease to determine if it is operating or finance. Operating lease right-of-use assets represent our right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent our obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease right-of-use assets and liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. As most of our leases do not provide an implicit rate, we use our incremental collateralized borrowing rate based on the information available at the commencement date in determining the present value of lease payments. Implicit rates are used when readily determinable. None of our leases currently contain options to extend the term. In the event of an option to extend the term of a lease, the lease term used in measuring the liability would include options to extend or terminate the lease if it is reasonably certain that the Company will exercise that option. Lease expense for operating lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the respective lease term. Our leases have remaining terms of up to 7.6 years. It is our accounting policy not to apply lease recognition requirements to short-term leases, defined as leases with an initial term of 12 months or less. As such, leases with an initial term of 12 months or less are not recorded in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. We have also made the policy election to not separate lease and non-lease components for all leases. Lessor Accounting We lease office space in our four-story office building located in Elgin, Illinois. As a lessor, we retain substantially all of the risks and benefits of ownership of the investment property and under Topic 842, Leases we continue to account for all of our leases as operating leases. Lease agreements may include options to renew. We accrue fixed lease income on a straight-line basis over the terms of the leases. There is generally no variable lease consideration and an immaterial amount of non-lease components such as recurring utility and storage fees. Leases between related parties are immaterial. </table>184160008766000965000021000001175000001175000 NOTE 7 — REVOLVING CREDIT FACILITY On March 5, 2020, we entered into an Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the “Amended and Restated Credit Agreement”), which amended and restated our Credit Agreement dated as of February 7, 2008 (the “Former Credit Agreement”) with a bank group (the “Bank Lenders”). The Amended and Restated Credit Agreement provided for a $117,500 senior secured revolving credit facility (the “Credit Facility”) with the same borrowing capacity, interest rates and applicable margin as the Former Credit Agreement and extended the term of the Former Credit Agreement from July 7, 2021 to March 5, 2025. The Credit Facility is secured by our accounts receivable and inventory. On May 8, 2023, we entered into the First Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the “First Amendment”), which replaced the London interbank offered rate interest rate option with the secured overnight financing rate (“SOFR”). The First Amendment updated the accrued interest rate to a rate based on SOFR plus an applicable margin based upon the borrowing base calculation, ranging from 1.35% to 1.85%. On September 29, 2023, we entered into the Second Amendment to our Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (the “Second Amendment”), which (among other things) increased the amount available to borrow under the Credit Facility to $150,000, extended the maturity date to September 29, 2028 and allows the Company to pay up to $100,000 in dividends per year, subject to meeting availability tests. At June 27, 2024 the weighted average interest rate for the Credit Facility was 8.06%. At June 29, 2023 there were no borrowings on the line of credit under the Credit Facility and thus no applicable interest rate on the borrowings. At June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, our unused letters of credit were $4,857 and $5,810, respectively. The terms of the Credit Facility contain covenants that require us to restrict investments, indebtedness, acquisitions and certain sales of assets, cash dividends, redemptions of capital stock and prepayment of indebtedness (if such prepayment, among other things, is of a subordinate debt). If loan availability under the Borrowing Base Calculation falls below $25,000, we will be required to maintain a specified fixed charge coverage ratio, tested on a monthly basis. All cash received from customers is required to be applied against the Credit Facility. The Bank Lenders are entitled to require immediate repayment of our obligations under the Credit Facility in the event of default on the payments required under the Credit Facility, a change in control in the ownership of the Company, non-compliance with the financial covenant or upon the occurrence of certain other defaults by us under the Credit Facility. As of June 27, 2024, we were in compliance with the financial covenant under the Credit Facility and we currently expect to be in compliance with the financial covenant in the Credit Facility for the next twelve months. At June 27, 2024, we had $124,437 of available credit under the Credit Facility, which reflects borrowings of $20,420 and reduced availability as a result of $5,143 in outstanding letters of credit. We would still be in compliance with all restrictive covenants under the Credit Facility if this entire amount were borrowed.

The selling price was determined by an independent appraiser to be the fair market value which also approximated our carrying value. The lease for the Selma, Texas properties had an initial ten-year term at a fair market value rent with three five-year renewal options. In September 2015, we signed a lease renewal which exercised two five-year renewal options and extended the term of our Selma lease to September 18, 2026. At the end of each five-year renewal option, the base monthly lease amounts are reassessed, and the monthly payments increased to $114 beginning in September 2021. One five-year renewal option remains. Also, we currently have the option to purchase the properties from the lessor at 95% (100% in certain circumstances) of the then fair market value, but not to be less than the $14,300 purchase price. The financing obligation is being accounted for similar to the accounting for a capital lease, whereby the purchase price was recorded as a debt obligation, as the provisions of the arrangement are not eligible for sale-leaseback accounting.  <tr style="visibility:collapse;"> <td style="width:57.863%;"></td> <td style="width:1.281%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.764000000000001%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.281%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.764000000000001%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.281%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:10.764000000000001%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> </tr> <tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;text-align:left;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;"> June 27,

While management presently believes that the ultimate outcomes of these proceedings, individually and in the aggregate, will not materially affect our financial position, results of operations or cash flows, legal proceedings are subject to inherent uncertainties, and unfavorable outcomes could occur. Unfavorable outcomes could include substantial money damages in excess of any appropriate accruals, which management has established. Were such unfavorable final outcomes to occur, there exists the possibility of a material adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations and cash flows. NOTE 11 — STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY Our Class A Common Stock, $.01 par value (the "Class A Stock"), has cumulative voting rights with respect to the election of those directors which the holders of Class A Stock are entitled to elect, and 10 votes per share on all other matters on which holders of our Class A Stock and Common Stock are entitled to vote, with the exception of election of the directors for which the holders of Common Stock are eligible to elect. In addition, each share of Class A Stock is convertible at the option of the holder at any time into one share of Common Stock and automatically converts into one share of Common Stock upon any sale or transfer other than to related individuals or certain other events as set forth in our Restated Certificate of Incorporation. Each share of our Common Stock, $.01 par value (the "Common Stock") has noncumulative voting rights of one vote per share. The Class A Stock and the Common Stock are entitled to share equally, on a share-for-share basis, in any cash dividends declared by the Board of Directors, and the holders of the Common Stock are entitled to elect 25%, rounded up to the nearest whole number, of the members comprising the Board of Directors. During fiscal 2017, our Board of Directors adopted a dividend policy under which it intends to pay an annual cash dividend on our Common Stock and Class A Stock during the first quarter of each fiscal year.0.011010.0110.25 NOTE 12 — STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION PLANS At our annual meeting of stockholders on November 2, 2023, our stockholders approved a new equity incentive plan (the "2023 Omnibus Plan") under which awards of options and other stock-based awards may be made to employees, officers or non-employee directors of our Company. A total of 747,065 shares of Common Stock are authorized for grants of awards thereunder, which may be in the form of options, restricted stock, RSUs, stock appreciation rights ("SARs"), performance shares, PSUs, Common Stock or dividends and dividend equivalents. As of June 27, 2024, there were 691,107 shares of Common Stock that remained authorized for future grants of awards, subject to the limitations set below. Under the terms of the 2023 Omnibus Plan, the total number of shares of Common Stock with respect to which options or SARs may be granted in any calendar year to any participant may not exceed 500,000 shares (this limit applies separately with respect to each type of award). Additionally, for awards of restricted stock, RSUs, performance shares or other stock-based awards that are intended to qualify as performance-based compensation: (i) the total number of shares of Common Stock that may be granted in any calendar year to any participant may not exceed 250,000 shares (this limit applies separately to each type of award) and (ii) the maximum amount that may be paid to any participant for awards that are payable in cash or property other than Common Stock in any calendar year is $5,000. During fiscal 2017, the Board of Directors adopted an equity grant cap which further restricted the number of awards that could be made to any one participant or in the aggregate. The equity grant cap limited the number of awards to 250,000 awards to all participants and 20,000 awards to any one participant in a fiscal year. Except as set forth in the 2023 Omnibus Plan, RSUs have vesting periods of three years for awards to employees and one year for awards to non-employee members of the Board of Directors. PSUs have a vesting period of three years and performance goals that must be achieved in order to vest. We issue new shares of Common Stock upon the vesting of RSUs and PSUs. The fair value of RSUs and PSUs are generally determined based on the market price of our Common Stock on the date of grant. The fair value of RSUs and PSUs granted for the years ended June 27, 2024, June 29, 2023 and June 30, 2022 was $4,805, $4,769 and $4,065, respectively. The following is a summary of RSU and PSU activity for the year ended June 27, 2024:   <table style="margin-left:auto;border-spacing:0;table-layout:fixed;width:81.0%;border-collapse:separate;margin-right:auto;"> <tr style="visibility:collapse;"> <td style="width:66.98%;"></td> <td style="width:1.16%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:13.36%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:1.62%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> <td style="width:12.88%;"></td> <td style="width:1%;"></td> </tr> <tr style="height:8pt;background-color:#ffffff;word-break:break-word;white-space:pre-wrap;"> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;">Restricted Stock Units</td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;">Shares</td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #ffffff03;text-align:left;"> </td> <td style="vertical-align:bottom;"> </td> <td colspan="2" style="vertical-align:bottom;border-bottom:0.5pt solid #000000;text-align:left;">Weighted-

Participants in the Plan can defer up to 80% of their base salary and up to 100% of performance-based compensation. The compensation deferred under this Plan is credited with earnings and losses as determined by the rate of return of reference investments selected by the participants. Participants are fully vested in their respective deferrals and earnings. We may also make discretionary contributions, which vest three years from the crediting date, at full vesting age, or other events as defined and described in the Plan. We invest in corporate owned life insurance contracts (“COLI”) on the lives of designated individuals that are held in a Rabbi Trust (“Trust”) to fund the Plan obligations. The Trust is the owner and beneficiary of such insurance contracts. Our promise to pay amounts deferred under this Plan is an unsecured obligation. Participant’s benefits can be paid out as a lump sum or in annual installments over a term of up to 10 years. The COLI investments are recorded at cash surrender value. The cash surrender value of the life insurance contracts was $1,214 and $282 at June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively, and are included in Other Long Term Assets in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets. The balances due to participants in the Plan were $1,261 and $304 as of June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively, and are included in the caption “Other” within Long Term Liabilities in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheets. Matching contribution expense was $246 and $106 for the years ended June 27, 2024 and June 29, 2023, respectively. Virtually all of our salaried employees participate in our Sanfilippo Value Added Plan (as amended, the “SVA Plan”), which is a cash incentive plan (an economic value added-based program) administered by our Compensation and Human Resources Committee. We accrue expense related to the SVA Plan in the annual period that the economic performance underlying such performance occurs. This method of expense recognition properly matches the expense associated with improved economic performance with the period the improved performance occurs on a systematic and rational basis. The SVA Plan payments, if any, are paid to participants in the first quarter of the following fiscal year in which they are earned.10.030.500.02Expense for the 401(k) plan was as follows for the last three fiscal years: <p style="font-size:10pt;margin-top:0;font-family:Times New
