Any disruption in the services provided by such third-party providers could adversely affect our business and subject us to liability.â€¢We rely on Internet infrastructure, bandwidth providers, data center providers, other third parties, and our own systems for providing our Solution to our users, and any failure or interruption in the services provided by these third parties or our own systems could expose us to litigation, potentially require us to issue credits to our clients, and negatively impact our relationships with users or clients, adversely affecting our brand and our business.3Part I. Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting PoliciesNature of operationsHealth Catalyst, Inc. (Health Catalyst) was incorporated under the laws of Delaware in September 2011. We are a leading provider of data and analytics technology and services to healthcare organizations. Our Solution comprises our cloud-based data platform, software analytics applications, and professional services expertise. Our clients, which are primarily healthcare providers, use our Solution to manage their data, derive analytical insights to operate their organization, and produce measurable clinical, financial, and operational improvements.Basis of presentation The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and the applicable regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) regarding interim financial reporting. Certain information and note disclosures normally included in annual financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP have been condensed or omitted. Therefore, these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with our audited consolidated financial statements and the related notes thereto as of and for the year ended DecemberÂ 31, 2023 included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K.Interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statementsThe accompanying interim condensed consolidated balance sheet as ofÂ JuneÂ 30, 2024, the interim condensed consolidated statements of operations for theÂ three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â andÂ 2023, our interim condensed consolidated statements of stockholdersâ€™ equity for theÂ three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, and our interim condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for theÂ six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â andÂ 2023Â are unaudited. Our condensed consolidated balance sheet as ofÂ DecemberÂ 31, 2023Â was derived from audited financial statements, but does not include all disclosures required by GAAP. Our interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a basis consistent with our annual consolidated financial statements and, in the opinion of management, reflect all adjustments, which include only normal recurring adjustments, necessary to state fairly the Companyâ€™s financial position, its operations and cash flows for the periods presented. The historical results are not necessarily indicative of future results, and the results of operations for theÂ three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year or any other period.Principles of consolidationThe condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Health Catalyst and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. Intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.Use of estimatesThe preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. On an on-going basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to revenue recognition, reserves for expected credit losses, useful lives of property and equipment, capitalization and estimated useful life of internal-use software, impairment assessments of goodwill, intangible assets, and other long-lived assets, fair value of financial instruments, deferred tax assets, stock-based compensation, contingent consideration, the period of benefit for deferred contract acquisition costs, the incremental borrowing rate used for operating leases, and tax uncertainties. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates.12HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Segment reportingOperating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is evaluated by the chief operating decision maker (CODM) in assessing performance and making decisions regarding resource allocation. We operate our business in two operating segments that also represent our reportable segments. Our segments are (1) technology and (2) professional services. The CODM uses Adjusted Gross Profit (defined as revenue less cost of revenue that excludes depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation expense, and certain other operating expenses) as the measure of our profit.Net loss per shareBasic net loss per share is calculated by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding. Diluted net loss per share is calculated by giving effect to all potentially dilutive common stock equivalents outstanding for the period, when dilutive. For purposes of this calculation, stock options, restricted stock units (RSUs), performance-based restricted stock units (PRSUs), convertible senior notes, restricted shares, and purchase rights committed under the employee stock purchase plan are considered to be common stock equivalents but have been excluded from the calculation of diluted net loss per share attributable to common stockholders as the effect is anti-dilutive.Revenue recognitionWe derive our revenue primarily from technology subscriptions and professional services. We determine revenue recognition by applying the following steps: â€¢Identification of the contract, or contracts, with a client;â€¢Identification of the performance obligations in the contract;â€¢Determination of the transaction price;â€¢Allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; andâ€¢Recognition of revenue when, or as, we satisfy the performance obligation.We recognize revenue net of any taxes collected from clients and subsequently remitted to governmental authorities.Technology revenueTechnology revenue primarily consists of subscription fees charged to clients for access to use our technology. We provide clients access to our technology through either an all-access or limited-access, modular subscription. The majority of our subscription arrangements are cloud-based and do not provide clients the right to take possession of the technology or contain a significant penalty if the client were to take possession of the technology. Revenue from cloud-based subscriptions is recognized ratably over the contract term beginning on the date that the service is made available to the client. Our subscription contracts generally have a three- or five-year term, of which many are terminable after one year upon 90 daysâ€™ notice.Subscriptions that allow the client to take software on-premise without significant penalty are treated as time-based licenses. These arrangements generally include access to technology, access to unspecified future products, and maintenance and support. Revenue for upfront access to our technology library is recognized at a point in time when the technology is made available to the client. Revenue for access to unspecified future products included in time-based license subscriptions is recognized ratably over the contract term beginning on the date that the access is made available to the client.13HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Professional services revenueProfessional services revenue primarily includes data and analytics services, domain expertise services, Tech-enabled Managed Services, and implementation services. Professional services arrangements typically include a fee for making full-time equivalent (FTE) services available to our clients on a monthly basis. FTE services generally consist of a blend of analytic engineers, analysts, and data scientists based on the domain expertise needed to best serve our clients. Professional services are typically considered distinct from the technology offerings and revenue is generally recognized as the service is provided using the â€œright to invoiceâ€ practical expedient. Contracts with multiple performance obligationsMany of our contracts include multiple performance obligations. We account for performance obligations separately if they are capable of being distinct within the context of the contract. In these circumstances, the transaction price is allocated to separate performance obligations on a relative standalone selling price basis. We determine standalone selling prices based on the observable price a good or service is sold for separately when available. In cases where standalone selling prices are not directly observable, based on information available, we utilize the expected cost plus a margin, adjusted market assessment, or residual estimation method. We consider all information available including our overall pricing objectives, market conditions, and other factors, which may include client demographics and the types of users. Standalone selling prices are not directly observable for our all-access and limited-access technology arrangements, which are composed of cloud-based subscriptions, time-based licenses, and perpetual licenses. For these technology arrangements, we generally use the residual method due to a limited number of standalone transactions and/or prices that are highly variable.Variable considerationWe have also entered into at-risk and shared savings arrangements with certain clients whereby we receive variable consideration based on the achievement of measurable improvements that may include cost savings or performance against metrics. For these arrangements, we estimate revenue using the most likely amount that we will receive. Estimates are based on our historical experience and best judgment at the time to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal of revenue recognized will not occur. Due to the nature of our arrangements, certain estimates may be constrained until the uncertainty is further resolved. Contract balancesContract assets resulting from services performed prior to invoicing clients are recorded as unbilled accounts receivable and are presented on our condensed consolidated balance sheets in aggregate with accounts receivable. Unbilled accounts receivable generally become billable at contractually specified dates or upon the attainment of contractually defined milestones. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the unbilled accounts receivable included in accounts receivable on our condensed consolidated balance sheets was $6.5 million and $4.7 million, respectively. We record contract liabilities as deferred revenue when cash payments are received or due in advance of performance. Deferred revenue primarily relates to the advance consideration received from the client. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the total of current and non-current deferred revenue on our condensed consolidated balance sheets was $56.4 million and $55.8 million, respectively.Deferred costsWe capitalize sales commissions and associated fringe costs, such as benefits and payroll taxes, paid to direct sales personnel and other incremental costs of obtaining contracts with clients, provided we expect to recover those costs. We determine that costs should be deferred based on our sales compensation plans when the commissions are incremental and would not have occurred absent the client contract. 14HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, $2.2Â million and $2.2 million, respectively, of deferred contract acquisition costs are expected to be amortized within the next 12 months and are included in prepaid expenses and other assets on the condensed consolidated balance sheets. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the remaining $2.9Â million and $3.3 million, respectively, of deferred contract acquisition costs are included in non-current other assets.Commissions paid upon the initial acquisition of a contract are amortized on a straight-line basis over an estimated period of benefit of four years. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis commensurate with the pattern of revenue recognition. The period of benefit was estimated by considering factors such as estimated average client life, the rate of technological change in our subscription service, and the impact of competition in our industry. As our average client life significantly exceeded the rate of change in our technology, we concluded that the rate of change in the technology underlying our subscription service was the most significant factor in determining the period of benefit for which the asset relates. In evaluating the rate of change in our technology, we considered the competition in our industry, our commitment to continuous innovation, and the frequency of product, platform, and technology updates. We determined that the impact of competition in our industry is reflected in the period of benefit through the rate of technological change. Amortization of deferred contract acquisition costs was $0.6Â million and $0.5Â million for the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $1.3Â million and $1.0 for the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is included within sales and marketing expense in the condensed consolidated statements of operations.We defer certain costs to fulfill a contract when the costs are expected to be recovered, are directly related to in-process contracts, and enhance resources that will be used in satisfying performance obligations in the future. These deferred fulfillment costs primarily consist of employee compensation incurred as part of the implementation of new contracts. Amortization of deferred fulfillment costs is included within cost of revenue in the condensed consolidated statements of operations. We periodically review these deferred costs to determine whether events or changes in circumstances have occurred that could impact the period of benefit. There were no impairment losses recorded during the periods presented.Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortizationCost of technology revenue primarily consists of costs associated with hosting and supporting our technology, including third-party cloud computing and hosting costs, license and revenue share fees, contractor costs, and salary and related personnel costs for our cloud services and support teams. Cost of professional services revenue primarily consists of salary and related personnel costs, travel-related costs, and independent contractor costs. Cost of revenue in the interim condensed consolidated statements of operations excludes costs related to depreciation and amortization.Cash and cash equivalentsWe consider all highly liquid investments purchased with a remaining maturity of three months or less at the time of acquisition to be cash equivalents.Short-term investmentsOur investment policy limits investments to highly-rated instruments. We classify and account for our short-term investments as available for sale securities as we may sell these securities at any time for use in our current operations or for other purposes, even prior to maturity. As a result, we classify our short-term investments, including securities with contractual maturities beyond twelve months, within current assets in the condensed consolidated balance sheets. 15HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Accounts receivableAccounts receivable are non-interest bearing and are recorded at the original invoiced amount less an allowance for credit losses based on the probability of future collections. Our allowance is based on our estimate of expected credit losses for outstanding trade accounts receivables and unbilled receivables. We determine expected credit losses based on historical write-off experience, an analysis of the aging of outstanding receivables, client payment patterns, the establishment of specific reserves for clients in an adverse financial condition, and our expectations of changes in macroeconomic conditions, including high interest rates and high inflation, that may impact the collectability of outstanding receivables. We reassess the adequacy of the allowance for credit losses each reporting period. The following table presents a rollforward of the allowance for credit losses (in thousands):Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023202420232023(unaudited)(unaudited)Allowance for credit losses at the beginning of period$6,500Â $3,800Â $4,105Â $2,300Â Provision for expected credit losses1,033Â 13Â 3,438Â 1,527Â Less: Write-offs, net of recoveries(933)(13)(943)(27)Allowance for credit losses at the end of period$6,600Â $3,800Â $6,600Â $3,800Â LeasesWe determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception. Operating leases are included in operating lease right-of-use (ROU) assets and operating lease liabilities in our condensed consolidated balance sheets. We have adopted the short-term lease recognition exemption policy. All of our leasing commitments are classified either as operating leases or otherwise qualify as short-term leases with lease terms of 12 months or less.ROU assets represent our right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent our obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease ROU assets and liabilities are recognized at the commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. As our lease contracts do not have a readily determinable implicit rate, we use our incremental borrowing rate based on the information available at the commencement date to determine the present value of lease payments. The incremental borrowing rate is the estimated rate incurred to borrow on a collateralized basis over a similar term and amount equal to the lease payments in a similar economic environment.The operating lease ROU asset also includes any lease payments made and excludes lease executory costs. Our lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that we will exercise the applicable option. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Variable costs related to our leased office space, such as maintenance and utilities based on actual usage, are not included in the measurement of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, but are expensed as incurred.Property and equipmentProperty and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs that do not extend the useful life or improve the related assets are expensed as incurred. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The estimated useful life of each asset category is as follows:Computer equipment2-3 yearsFurniture and fixtures3-5 yearsLeasehold improvementsLesser of lease term or estimated useful life16HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Computer software2-5 yearsCapitalized internal-use software costs2-5 yearsWhen there are indicators of potential impairment, we evaluate the recoverability of the carrying values by comparing the carrying amount of the applicable asset group to the estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset group over the remaining useful life of the primary asset, plus any terminal value, in the asset group. If the carrying amount of the asset group exceeds those estimated future net cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized based on the amount by which the carrying value of the long-lived assets exceeds the fair value of the assets.Intangible assetsIntangible assets include developed technologies, client relationships, client contracts, and trademarks that were acquired in business combinations and asset acquisitions. Intangible assets also include the purchase of third-party computer software. The intangible assets are amortized using the straight-line method over the assetsâ€™ estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life of each asset category is as follows:Developed technologies3-10 yearsClient relationships and contract backlog2-7 yearsComputer software licenses1-5 yearsTrademarks1-5 yearsGoodwillWe record goodwill as the difference between the aggregate consideration paid for a business combination and the fair value of the identifiable net tangible and intangible assets acquired. Goodwill includes the know-how of the assembled workforce, the ability of the workforce to further improve technology and product offerings, client relationships, and the expected cash flows resulting from these efforts. Goodwill may also include expected synergies resulting from the complementary strategic fit these businesses bring to existing operations. Goodwill is assessed for impairment annually on October 31 or more frequently if indicators of impairment are present or circumstances suggest that impairment may exist. Our first step in the goodwill impairment test is a qualitative analysis of factors that could be indicators of potential impairment. Judgment in the assessment of qualitative factors of impairment may include changes in business climate, market conditions, or other events impacting the reporting unit. Next, if a quantitative analysis is necessary, we compare the fair value of the reporting unit with its carrying amount, including goodwill. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds its carrying amount, the goodwill of the reporting unit is not considered impaired. Performing a quantitative goodwill impairment test includes the determination of the fair value of a reporting unit, which requires management to use significant judgment and estimation. The significant estimation is primarily due to the judgmental nature of the inputs to the valuation models used to measure the fair value of the reporting units, as well as the sensitivity of the respective fair values to the underlying significant assumptions. Typical methods to derive the fair value of reporting units include using the income or market approaches. The significant assumptions used to form the basis of the estimates include, among others, the selection of valuation methodologies, estimates of expected revenue, including revenue growth rates, and operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rates, and the selection of appropriate market comparable companies. Many of these significant assumptions are forward-looking and could be affected by future economic and market conditions. If a quantitative analysis is necessary, we typically engage the assistance of a valuation specialist in concluding on fair value measurements in connection with determining the fair values of our reporting units. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we would recognize an impairment charge for the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the reporting unitâ€™s fair value. There was no impairment of goodwill for the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023.Â 17HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Business combinationsThe results of businesses acquired in a business combination are included in our condensed consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition. Purchase accounting results in assets and liabilities of an acquired business generally being recorded at their estimated fair value on the acquisition date. Any excess consideration transferred over the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed is recognized as goodwill.We perform valuations of assets acquired and liabilities assumed on each acquisition accounted for as a business combination in order to record the tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on our best estimate of fair value. Determining the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed requires management to use significant judgment and estimates including the selection of valuation methodologies, estimates of future revenue and cash flows, discount rates, and selection of comparable companies. Significant estimation is required in determining the fair value of the client-related intangible assets and technology-related intangible assets. The significant estimation is primarily due to the judgmental nature of the inputs to the valuation models used to measure the fair value of these intangible assets, as well as the sensitivity of the respective fair values to the underlying significant assumptions. We typically use the income approach or cost approach to measure the fair value of intangible assets. The significant assumptions used to form the basis of the estimates included the number of engineer hours required to develop technology, expected revenue including revenue growth rates, rate and timing of obsolescence, royalty rates and earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) margin used in the estimate for client relationships, and backlog. Many of these significant assumptions were forward-looking and could be affected by future economic and market conditions. We engage the assistance of valuation specialists in concluding on fair value measurements in connection with determining fair values of material assets acquired and liabilities assumed in a business combination. For the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024, we expensed $2.1 million and $2.5Â million, respectively, of transaction costs associated with business combinations. There were no transaction costs associated with business combinations during the six months ended June 30, 2023. The costs were expensed as incurred and are included in general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations.Contingent consideration liabilitiesOur acquisition consideration in business combinations may include an estimate for contingent consideration that will be paid if certain earn-out performance targets are met. The resulting contingent consideration liabilities are categorized as a Level 3 fair value measurement because we estimate projections during the earn-out period utilizing unobservable inputs, including various potential pay-out scenarios based on billings and revenue-related earn-out targets. Changes to the unobservable inputs could have a material impact on our condensed consolidated financial statements.We generally value the expected contingent consideration and the corresponding liabilities using the Monte Carlo method or Black-Scholes model based on estimates of potential payment scenarios. Probabilities are applied to each potential scenario and the resulting values are discounted using a rate that considers weighted average cost of capital as well as a specific risk premium associated with the riskiness of the earn-out itself, the related projections, projected payment dates, and volatility in the fair value of our common stock. The fair value of the contingent consideration is remeasured each reporting period.The portion of the contingent consideration liabilities that will be settled in shares of our common stock is classified as a component of non-current liabilities in our condensed consolidated balance sheets, while the portion to be paid in cash is classified as a component of current liabilities. Changes to the contingent consideration liabilities are reflected as part of general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations.18HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Advertising costsAll advertising costs are expensed as incurred. For theÂ three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â andÂ 2023, we incurredÂ $0.3 millionÂ andÂ $1.0 million of advertising costs, respectively, and $3.7 million and $1.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Development costs and internal-use softwareFor technology products that are developed to be sold externally, we determined that technological feasibility is reached shortly before the products are ready for general release. Any costs associated with software development between the time technological feasibility is reached and general release are inconsequential. We capitalize certain development costs incurred in connection with our internal-use software. These capitalized costs are primarily related to the software platforms that are hosted by us and accessed by our clients on a subscription basis. Costs incurred in the preliminary stages of development are expensed as incurred as research and development costs. Once an application has reached the development stage, internal and external costs, if direct and incremental, are capitalized until the software is substantially complete and ready for its intended use. We also capitalize costs related to specific upgrades and enhancements when it is probable the expenditures will result in additional functionality. Capitalized costs are recorded as part of property and equipment. Maintenance and training costs are expensed as incurred. Internal-use software is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life with amortization included in depreciation and amortization expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. Stock-based compensationStock-based awards, including stock options, restricted stock units, performance-based restricted stock units, and restricted shares are measured and recognized in our condensed consolidated financial statements based on the fair value of the award on the grant date or, when applicable, the modification date. The grant date fair value of our stock-based awards is typically determined using the market closing price of our common stock on the date of grant; however, we also consider whether any adjustments are required when the market closing price does not reflect certain material non-public information that we know but is unavailable to marketplace participants on the date of grant. We record forfeitures of stock-based awards as the actual forfeitures occur. For awards subject to performance conditions, we record expense when the performance condition becomes probable. Each reporting period we evaluate the probability of achieving the performance criteria, estimate the number of shares that are expected to vest, and adjust the related compensation expense accordingly. For awards subject to market conditions, we estimate the fair value as of the grant date using a Monte Carlo simulation valuation model which requires the use of various assumptions, including historic stock price volatility and risk-free interest rates as of the valuation date corresponding to the length of time remaining in the performance period. Stock-based compensation expense for awards with market conditions is recognized over the requisite service period using the accelerated attribution method and is not reversed if the market condition is not met.Stock-based compensation expense related to purchase rights issued under the 2019 Health Catalyst Employee Stock Purchase Plan (ESPP) is based on the Black-Scholes option-pricing model fair value of the estimated number of awards as of the beginning of the offering period. Stock-based compensation expense is recognized using the straight-line method over the offering period.The measurement date for non-employee awards is the date of grant. The compensation expense for non-employees is recognized, without changes in the fair value of the award, in the same period and in the same manner as though we had paid cash for the services, which is typically the vesting period of the respective award.19HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Restructuring costsWe define restructuring costs as expenses directly associated with restructuring activities. Such costs include severance and related tax and benefit expenses from workforce reductions, impairment of discontinued capitalized software projects, and other miscellaneous charges. We record team member-related severance costs when there is a substantive plan in place and the related costs are probable and estimable. For one-time termination benefits for team members (i.e., no substantive plan or future service requirement), the cost is recorded when the terms of the one-time termination benefits are communicated to the impacted team members and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Income taxesDeferred income tax balances are accounted for using the asset and liability method and reflect the effects of temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of our assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates expected to apply when taxes are actually paid or recovered. In addition, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded for net operating loss (NOL) and tax credit carryforwards. A valuation allowance is provided against deferred tax assets unless it is more likely than not that they will be realized based on all available positive and negative evidence. Such evidence includes, but is not limited to, recent cumulative earnings or losses, expectations of future taxable income by taxing jurisdiction, and the carry-forward periods available for the utilization of deferred tax assets.We use a two-step approach to recognize and measure uncertain income tax positions. The first step is to evaluate the tax position for recognition by determining if the weight of available evidence indicates it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon audit. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount, which is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. We do not currently accrue interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits within the provision for income taxes because the impact would be immaterial due to our net operating losses and tax credit carryforwards. Significant judgment is required to evaluate uncertain tax positions.Although we believe that we have adequately reserved for our uncertain tax positions, we can provide no assurance that the final tax outcome of these matters will not be materially different. We evaluate our uncertain tax positions on a regular basis and evaluations are based on a number of factors, including changes in facts and circumstances, changes in tax law, correspondence with tax authorities during the course of an audit, and effective settlement of audit issues. To the extent that the final tax outcome of these matters is different than the amounts recorded, such differences will affect the provision for income taxes in the period in which such determination is made and could have a material impact on our financial condition and results of operations.Fair value of financial instrumentsThe carrying amounts reported in our condensed consolidated balance sheets for cash, receivables, accounts payable, and current accrued expenses approximate fair values because of the immediate or short-term maturity of these financial instruments. The carrying value of operating lease liabilities and convertible senior notes approximate fair value based on interest rates available for debt with similar terms at JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023. Money market funds and short-term investments are measured at fair value on a recurring basis. Fair value is estimated by applying the following hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value into three levels and bases the categorization within the hierarchy upon the lowest level of input that is available and significant to the fair value measurement:â€¢LevelÂ 1- Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.20HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)â€¢LevelÂ 2- Observable inputs other than quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.â€¢LevelÂ 3- Inputs that are generally unobservable and typically reflect managementâ€™s estimate of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.All of our financial instruments are valued using quoted prices in active markets or based on other observable inputs. For Level 2 securities, we use a third-party pricing service which provides documentation on an ongoing basis that includes, among other things, pricing information with respect to reference data, methodology, inputs summarized by asset class, pricing application, and corroborative information. Our contingent consideration liabilities are categorized as a Level 3 fair value measurement because we estimate projections during the earn out period utilizing various potential pay-out scenarios.Foreign currencyThe functional currency of our international subsidiaries is generally their local currency. We translate these subsidiariesâ€™ financial statements into U.S. dollars using month-end exchange rates for assets and liabilities and average exchange rates for revenue and expenses. We record translation gains and losses in accumulated other comprehensive loss in stockholdersâ€™ equity. We record foreign exchange gains and losses in interest and other expense, net. Our net foreign exchange gains and losses were not material for the periods presented.Recent accounting pronouncements not yet adoptedIn November 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued ASU No. 2023-07, Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures (Topic 280). This ASU updates reportable segment disclosure requirements by requiring disclosures of significant reportable segment expenses that are regularly provided to the CODM and included within each reported measure of a segmentâ€™s profit or loss. This ASU also requires disclosure of the title and position of the individual identified as the CODM and an explanation of how the CODM uses the reported measures of a segmentâ€™s profit or loss in assessing segment performance and deciding how to allocate resources. The ASU is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Adoption of the ASU should be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the provisions of this ASU and expect to adopt them for the year ending December 31, 2024.In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures (Topic 740). The ASU requires disaggregated information about a reporting entityâ€™s effective tax rate reconciliation as well as additional information on income taxes paid. The ASU is effective on a prospective basis for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. This ASU will result in the required additional disclosures being included in our consolidated financial statements, once adopted. We are currently evaluating the provisions of this ASU and expect to adopt them for the year ending December 31, 2025.21HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)2. Business CombinationsThe business acquisition discussed below is included in our results of operations from the date of acquisition.2024 Acquisition of Carevive Systems, Inc.On May 24, 2024, we acquired Carevive Systems, Inc. (Carevive), a leading oncology-focused health technology company centered on understanding and improving the experience of patients with cancer. We accounted for the acquisition of Carevive as a business combination. Oncology providers and life science researchers use Careviveâ€™s flagship platform and/or Carevive data in routine clinical practice for treatment care planning, clinical trial screening, care coordination, remote patient monitoring, and/or post-treatment care. The acquisition consideration transferred was $22.1 million and was comprised of estimated net cash consideration of $18.6 million, Health Catalyst common shares with a fair value of $2.6 million, and contingent consideration based on certain earn-out performance targets for Carevive during an earn-out period ending on June 30, 2025, with an initial fair value of $0.9 million. The purchase resulted in Health Catalyst acquiring 100% ownership in Carevive. The resulting goodwill from the Carevive acquisition was fully allocated to the technology reporting unit and is not deductible for income tax purposes. The preliminary allocation of the consideration transferred is subject to potential adjustments. Balances subject to adjustment are primarily tax-related matters, including the tax basis of assets acquired and liabilities assumed. During the measurement period, we may record adjustments to the provisional amounts recognized in our initial accounting for the acquisition. We expect the allocation of the consideration transferred to be final within the measurement period (up to one year from the acquisition date). There were no measurement period adjustments recorded during the three months ended June 30, 2024. 22HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Pro forma financial information has not been presented for the Carevive acquisition as the impact to our consolidated financial statements was not material. The amount of revenue attributable to the acquired business of Carevive was not material to our consolidated statement of operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024. Income (loss) information for Carevive after the acquisition date through JuneÂ 30, 2024 is not presented as the Carevive business was integrated into our operations immediately following the acquisition and is impracticable to quantify.In addition to the purchase price, we agreed to make cash retention payments in an aggregate amount of up to $1.8 million to continuing Carevive team members, a portion of which is variable based upon the achievement of earn-out performance targets. The retention payments are generally subject to vesting based upon continued employment over a required service period. Such amounts are recorded as post-combination compensation expense and recognized on a straight-line basis over the relevant vesting terms. During the three months ended June 30, 2024, we recognized compensation expense of $0.8 million related to these retention payments.2023 Acquisition of Electronic Registry Systems, Inc.On OctoberÂ 2, 2023, we acquired Electronic Registry Systems, Inc. (ERS), a cloud-based provider of clinical registry development and data management software based in Cincinnati, Ohio. We accounted for the acquisition of ERS as a business combination. ERS provides cancer registry compliance and informatics services to enable customers to achieve their cancer center clinical and business objectives with a goal of improving cancer care for every patient, including through its CRStar platform. The acquisition consideration transferred comprised of net cash consideration of $11.4 million. The purchase resulted in Health Catalyst acquiring 100% ownership in ERS.An additional 175,901 shares of our common stock subject to a restriction agreement (restricted shares) were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement. The vesting of these restricted shares was originally subject to eighteen months of continued employment with cliff vesting upon the eighteen-month anniversary of the acquisition close date. The value of these restricted shares was originally scheduled to be recognized as post-combination stock-based compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the vesting term, but due to workforce reductions made as part of the 2023 Restructuring Plan (as defined below), the ERS restricted shares fully vested in February 2024, resulting in an acceleration of the related stock-based compensation expense. Refer to Note 13-Stock-Based Compensation for additional details related to our stock-based compensation.The following table summarizes the preliminary acquisition-date fair value of consideration transferred and the identifiable assets purchased and liabilities assumed as part of our acquisition of ERS (in thousands):Assets acquired:Accounts receivable$478Â Prepaid expenses and other assets73Â Client relationships5,300Â Developed technology3,100Â Trademarks100Â Total assets acquired9,051Â Less liabilities assumed:Accrued and other current liabilities78Â Deferred revenue2,251Â Total liabilities assumed2,329Â Total assets acquired, net6,722Â Goodwill4,670Â Total consideration transferred, net of cash acquired$11,392Â The acquired intangible assets were valued utilizing either an income approach or a cost approach as deemed most applicable, and include client relationships, developed technology, and trademarks that will be amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of seven years, four years, and two years, respectively. 23HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)The resulting goodwill from the ERS acquisition was fully allocated to the technology reporting unit and is deductible for income tax purposes. During the measurement period, we may record adjustments to the provisional amounts recognized in our initial accounting for the acquisition. These impairment charges were derived from the difference between the carrying value and the fair value of the relevant asset groups. The fair value of these asset groups was estimated using a discounted cash flow analysis of the office space designated for subleasing and included certain unobservable (Level 3) inputs, including the anticipated future sublease terms and rates.Level 3 fair value measurementsThe Carevive acquisition consideration included an initial estimate for contingent consideration based on certain revenue-based earn-out performance targets for Carevive during an earn-out period that ends on June 30, 2025. The Carevive contingent consideration is capped at $10 million and will be paid in cash to the extent achieved. We value Careviveâ€™s expected contingent consideration and the corresponding liability using the Black-Scholes valuation method based on estimates of potential pay-out scenarios. The outstanding contingent consideration liability is categorized as Level 3 fair value measurements and is remeasured as of each reporting period. The aggregate intrinsic value of the revenue-based earn-out contingent consideration liability is zero based on a point estimate of our internal forecasting of the ultimate earn-out that will be earned as of JuneÂ 30, 2024. The terms of the leases provide for rental payments on a graduated scale, options to renew the leases (one to five years), landlord incentives or allowances, and periods of free rent. We subleased portions of our corporate headquarters to various sublessees with subleases commencing at various dates between 2021 and 2024.Components of lease expense (income) are summarized as follows (in thousands):Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023202420230perating lease expense$666Â $777Â $1,294Â $1,574Â Short-term lease expense31Â 25Â 64Â 41Â Sublease income(339)(189)(654)(627)Total$358Â $613Â $704Â $988Â We also incur immaterial variable costs related to our leased office space, such as maintenance and utilities based on actual usage, which are not included in the measurement of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, but are expensed as incurred.During the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, we identified asset impairment indicators for multiple of our corporate office spaces designated for subleasing. We performed a recoverability test of the relevant asset group, comprised of operating lease ROU and other related assets, and determined that the carrying value of this asset group was not fully recoverable. As a result, we measured and recognized total impairment charges of $2.2 million and $2.7 million during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, representing the amount by which the carrying value exceeded the estimated fair value of this asset group. The impairment charges were recorded as part of general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. During the six months ended June 30, 2024, $1.5 million of the impairment charge was allocated to ROU assets and the remaining $0.7 million was allocated to leasehold improvements, while during the six months ended June 30, 2023, $2.0 million of the impairment charge was allocated to ROU assets and the remaining $0.7 million was allocated to leasehold improvements.During the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024, we subleased parts of the first and fourth floors of our corporate headquarters. We classified these subleases as operating leases. The initial subleases have lease terms of 60 to 90 months. We performed a recoverability test of the relevant asset groups, comprised of operating lease right-of-use and other related assets, and determined that the carrying value of these asset groups were fully recoverable. 29HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)10. Convertible Senior NotesConvertible senior notesOn AprilÂ 14, 2020, we issued $230.0Â million in aggregate principal amount of 2.50% Convertible Senior Notes due 2025 (Notes), in a private placement to qualified institutional buyers exempt from registration under the Securities Act (Note Offering). The net proceeds from the issuance of the Notes were approximately $222.5Â million, after deducting the initial purchasersâ€™ discounts and offering expenses payable by us.The Notes are governed by an indenture (the Indenture) between us, as the issuer, and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee. The Notes are our senior, unsecured obligations and accrue interest payable semiannually in arrears on April 15 and October 15 of each year, beginning on October 15, 2020, at a rate of 2.50% per year. The Notes will mature on April 15, 2025, unless earlier converted, redeemed, or repurchased. The Indenture does not contain any financial or operating covenants or restrictions on the payments of dividends, the incurrence of indebtedness, or the issuance or repurchase of securities by us or any of our subsidiaries. On or after April 20, 2023, we may redeem, for cash, all or a portion of the Notes, at our option, if the last reported sale price of our common stock has been at least 130% of the conversion price then in effect for at least 20 trading days (whether or not consecutive), including the trading day immediately preceding the date on which we provide notice of redemption, during any 30 consecutive trading day period ending on, and including, the trading day immediately preceding the date on which we provide notice of redemption at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Notes to be redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. No sinking fund is provided for the Notes.The Notes have an initial conversion rate of 32.6797 shares of our common stock per $1,000 principal amount of Notes (which is equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $30.60 per share of our common stock). Following certain corporate events that occur prior to the maturity date, we will increase the conversion rate for a holder who elects to convert its Notes in connection with such corporate event. Additionally, upon the occurrence of a corporate event that constitutes a â€œfundamental changeâ€ per the Indenture, holders of the Notes may require the Company to repurchase for cash all or a portion of their Notes at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Notes plus accrued and unpaid interest.Holders of the Notes may convert all or any portion of their Notes at any time prior to the close of business on October 14, 2024, in integral multiples of $1,000 principal amount, only under the following circumstances:â€¢During any calendar quarter commencing after the calendar quarter ended on June 30, 2020 (and only during such calendar quarter), if the last reported sale price of our common stock for at least 20 trading days (whether or not consecutive) during a period of 30 consecutive trading days ending on, and including, the last trading day of the immediately preceding calendar quarter is greater than or equal to 130% of the conversion price on each applicable trading day;â€¢During the five business day period after any five consecutive trading day period (the measurement period) in which the trading price as defined in the Indenture per $1,000 principal amount of Notes for each trading day of the measurement period was less than 98% of the product of the last reported sale price of our common stock and the conversion rate on each such trading day; â€¢If we call such notes for redemption, at any time prior to the close of business on the scheduled trading day immediately preceding the redemption date; orâ€¢Upon the occurrence of specified corporate events described in the Indenture.On or after October 15, 2024, until the close of business on the second scheduled trading day immediately preceding the maturity date, holders may convert all or any portion of their Notes at the conversion rate at any time irrespective of the foregoing circumstances. Upon conversion, holders will receive cash, shares of our common stock or a combination of cash and shares of common stock, at our election.30HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, the conditions allowing holders of the Notes to convert were not met. The Notes are therefore not currently convertible. In addition, in connection with the initial purchasersâ€™ exercise in full of their option to purchase additional Notes, on April 9, 2020, we entered into additional capped call transactions (together with the Base Capped Calls, the Capped Calls) with each of the option counterparties. We used approximately $21.7 million of the net proceeds from the Note Offering to pay the cost of the Capped Calls and allocated issuance costs. The Capped Calls have initial cap prices of $42.00 per share, subject to certain adjustments. The Capped Calls are expected generally to reduce the potential dilution to our common stock upon any conversion of Notes and/or offset any cash payments we are required to make in excess of the principal amount of converted Notes, as the case may be, with such reduction and/or offset subject to the cap price. The Capped Calls are separate transactions that we entered into with the option counterparties, and are not part of the terms of the Notes. As the Capped Call transactions are considered indexed to our own stock and are considered equity classified, they were recorded in stockholdersâ€™ equity and are not accounted for as derivatives. The cost incurred in connection with the Capped Calls was recorded as a reduction to additional paid-in capital on our condensed consolidated balance sheets.11. Stock-Based Compensation In 2011, our board of directors adopted the Health Catalyst, Inc. 2011 Stock Incentive Plan (2011 Plan), which provided for the direct award, sale of shares, and granting of RSUs and options for our common stock to our directors, team members, or consultants. In connection with our initial public offering (IPO), our board of directors adopted the 2019 Stock Option and Incentive Plan (2019 Plan). The 2019 Plan provides flexibility to our compensation committee to use various equity-based incentive awards as compensation tools to motivate our workforce, including the grant of incentive and non-statutory stock options, restricted and unrestricted stock, RSUs, and stock appreciation rights to our directors, team members, or consultants.We initially reserved 2,756,607 shares of our common stock (2,500,000 under the 2019 Plan and 256,607 shares under the 2011 Plan) that were available immediately prior to the IPO registration date. The 2019 Plan provides that the number of shares reserved available for issuance under the plan will automatically increase each January 1, beginning on January 1, 2020, by 5% of the outstanding number of shares of our common stock on the immediately preceding December 31, or such lesser number of shares as determined by our compensation committee. The vesting of these PRSUs will be determined based on market-based targets for total shareholder return (TSR) achievement (weighted 25%) and financial performance targets for revenue growth rate achievement (weighted 25%) and Adjusted EBITDA margin achievement (weighted 50%). These PRSUs may vest in an amount up to the amount granted, subject to satisfaction of the pre-established targets. The number of PRSUs that will vest for the 2024, 2025, and 2026 vesting periods will be calculated as follows: (i) the market/performance achievement for the applicable vesting period, multiplied by (ii) approximately 33.33% of the PRSUs for each of the 2024, 2025, and 2026 vesting periods, each rounded to the nearest whole share.2023 Executive PRSUsDuring the six months ended June 30, 2024, certain named executive officers and other leadership team members were granted executive PRSUs with a three-year measurement period that include service conditions, performance conditions, and market conditions. The vesting of these PRSUs will be determined based on market-based targets for total shareholder return (TSR) achievement and financial performance targets for revenue growth rate achievement and Adjusted EBITDA margin achievement. Each of the three market and performance targets are weighted equally and these PRSUs may vest in an amount up to the amount granted, subject to satisfaction of the pre-established targets. The number of PRSUs that will vest in 2023, 2024, and 2025 will be calculated as follows: (i) the market/performance achievement for the applicable vesting period, multiplied by (ii) approximately 33.33% of the PRSUs for each of the 2023, 2024, and 2025 vesting periods, each rounded to the nearest whole share.The fair value of the market-based tranches included in the executive PRSUs were estimated on the date of grants using the Monte Carlo simulation valuation model with the following assumptions for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023:Six Months EndedJune 30, 2024Six Months EndedJune 30, 2023(unaudited)Expected volatility65.5%61.7%Expected term (in years)1-31-3Risk-free interest rate4.33% - 4.91%4.38% - 5.01%Expected dividendsâ€”â€”The following table sets forth the outstanding PRSUs, including executive PRSUs with market-based tranches, and related activity for theÂ six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024:Performance-based Restricted Stock UnitsWeighted Average Grant Date Fair Value(unaudited)Unvested and outstanding at JanuaryÂ 1, 2024188,533Â $12.99Â PRSUs granted445,000Â 9.45Â PRSUs vested(42,369)13.40Â PRSUs forfeited(65,487)12.77Â Unvested and outstanding at JuneÂ 30, 2024525,677Â $9.99Â During the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, we granted PRSUs with a weighted-average grant date fair value of $9.45 and $12.62, respectively, which represents the weighted-average closing price of our common stock on the grant date for performance-based tranches and the estimated grant date fair value using a Monte Carlo simulation valuation model for market-based tranches. 35HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)The total grant date fair value of PRSUs vested during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023 was $0.6 million and $4.8 million, respectively. The number of shares of common stock available for issuance under the ESPP will be increased on the first day of each calendar year beginning January 1, 2020 and each year thereafter until the ESPP terminates. The number of shares of common stock reserved and available for issuance under the ESPP shall be cumulatively increased by the least of (i) 750,000 shares, (ii) one percent of the number of shares of common stock issued and outstanding on the immediately preceding December 31, and (iii) such lesser number of shares of common stock as determined by the ESPP Administrator. As of JanuaryÂ 1, 2024, the number of shares of common stock available for issuance under the ESPP increased by 585,308 shares. The ESPP generally provides for six-month offering periods. The offering periods generally start on the first trading day after June 30 and December 31 of each year. The ESPP permits participants to elect to purchase shares of common stock through fixed percentage contributions from eligible compensation during each offering period, not to exceed 15% of the eligible compensation a participant receives during an offering period or accrue at a rate which exceeds $25,000 of the fair value of the stock (determined on the option grant date(s)) for each calendar year. A participant may purchase the lowest of (i) a number of shares of common stock determined by dividing such participantâ€™s accumulated payroll deductions on the exercise date by the option price, (ii) 2,500 shares, or (iii) such other lesser maximum number of shares as shall have been established by the ESPP Administrator in advance of the offering period. Amounts deducted and accumulated by the participant will be used to purchase shares of common stock at the end of each offering period. The purchase price of the shares will be 85% of the lower of the fair value of common stock on the first trading day of each offering period or on the purchase date. Participants may end their participation at any time during an offering period and will be paid their accumulated contributions that have not been used to purchase shares of common stock. Participation ends automatically upon termination of employment.The fair value of the purchase right for the ESPP option component is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes model with the following assumptions for the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023:Six Months Ended June 30,20242023(unaudited)Expected volatility55.5%99.4%Expected term (in months)66Risk-free interest rate5.24%4.77%Expected dividendsâ€”â€”During the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024, we issued 263,482 shares under the ESPP, with a weighted-average purchase price of $5.43. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, 1,791,984 shares were available for future issuance under the ESPP.36HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Restricted shares issued in connection with business combinationsAs part of the KPI Ninja acquisition that closed on February 24, 2022, 356,919 shares of our common stock were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement and are considered a stock-based compensation arrangement subject to a restriction agreement. The vesting of those shares was subject to continuous service with 25% vesting upon each six-month anniversary of the acquisition close date, with the final vesting date as of February 24, 2024. As part of the ARMUS acquisition that closed on April 29, 2022, 235,330 shares of our common stock were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement and are considered a stock-based compensation arrangement subject to a restriction agreement. The vesting of those shares was subject to eighteen months of continuous service with cliff vesting upon the eighteen-month anniversary of the acquisition close date, or October 29, 2023. As part of the ERS acquisition that closed on October 2, 2023, 175,901 shares of our common stock were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement and are considered a stock-based compensation arrangement subject to a restriction agreement. The vesting of those shares was originally subject to eighteen months of continuous service with cliff vesting upon the eighteen-month anniversary of the acquisition close date. However, due to workforce reductions made as part of the 2023 Restructuring Plan, the ERS restricted shares were fully vested in February 2024, resulting in an acceleration of the related stock-based compensation expense.As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, all of our previously issued shares of restricted stock are fully vested and there is no longer any related unrecognized compensation expense.14. Income TaxesThe tax provision for interim periods is determined using an estimate of our annual effective tax rate, adjusted for discrete items, if any, that arise during the period. Each quarter, we update our estimate of the annual effective tax rate, and if the estimated annual effective tax rate changes, we make a cumulative adjustment in such period. The quarterly tax provision and the estimate of our annual effective tax rate are subject to variation due to several factors, including variability in our loss before income taxes, the mix of jurisdictions to which such income or loss relates, changes in how we conduct business, and tax law developments. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, our estimated effective tax rate was (0.5)% and (0.2)%, respectively. The variations between our estimated effective tax rate and the U.S. statutory rate areÂ primarily due to our full valuation allowance. We consider all available evidence to evaluate the recovery of deferred tax assets, including historical levels of income, legislative developments, and risks associated with estimates of future taxable income. We have provided a full valuation allowance for our net deferred tax assets as of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, due to the uncertainty surrounding the future realization of such assets and the cumulative losses we have generated.We recognize tax benefits from uncertain tax positions when it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the position will be sustained upon examination. We believe that we have provided adequate reserves for income tax uncertainties in all open tax years. We do not anticipate material changes in the total amount of our unrecognized tax benefits within 12 months of the reporting date.15. Commitments and ContingenciesLitigationLiabilities for loss contingencies arising from claims, assessments, litigation, fines, penalties, and other sources are recorded when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Legal costs incurred in connection with loss contingencies are expensed as incurred.37HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)We are involved in legal proceedings from time to time that arise in the normal course of business. In the opinion of management, such routine claims and lawsuits are not significant, and we do not expect them to have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity, except as noted below. We were party to the proceedings set forth below.On December 21, 2020, Pascal Metrics, Inc. (Pascal Metrics) filed a complaint against the Company in the Delaware Chancery Court (as amended, Complaint) alleging that the Company misappropriated alleged trade secrets of Pascal Metrics and seeking monetary damages. The Complaint focused upon Patient Safety Monitor. On June 15, 2023, we entered into a settlement and mutual release agreement (Settlement Agreement) with Pascal Metrics and agreed to pay $18.8Â million without admission of any wrongdoing, resolving the litigation amongst the parties. The Settlement Agreement provided us with a broad intellectual property license of the alleged trade secrets that were the subject matter of the Complaint. The Complaint was dismissed with prejudice on June 20, 2023 and the settlement amount was paid on June 27, 2023. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 we recorded $9.6 million and $21.3 million, respectively, of litigation charges related to the Complaint that were recorded as part of general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. There were no similar litigation charges recorded during the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024.16. Deferred Revenue and Performance ObligationsDeferred revenue includes advance client payments and billings in excess of revenue recognized.Â For the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, 44% and 50%, respectively, of the revenue recognized was included in deferred revenue at the beginning of the period. Â For the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, 28% and 30%, respectively, of the revenue recognized was included in deferred revenue at the beginning of the period.Most of our technology and professional services contracts have a three- or five-year term, of which many are terminable after one year upon 90 daysâ€™ notice. For arrangements that do not allow the client to cancel within one year or less, we expect to recognize $310.4 million of revenue on unsatisfied performance obligations as of JuneÂ 30, 2024. We expect to recognize approximately 65% of the remaining performance obligations over the next 24 months, with the balance recognized thereafter. 17. Related PartiesWe have entered into arrangements with a client, Carle Health, and a member of the clientâ€™s executive leadership team began serving on our board of directors effective July 1, 2023 and currently serves on our board of directors. Subsequent EventsCredit AgreementOn July 16, 2024 (Closing Date), we entered into a credit agreement with Silver Point Finance, LLC, as administrative agent and collateral agent, and the lenders from time to time party thereto. The credit agreement provides a five-year term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of up to $225 million, consisting of an initial term loan in the aggregate principal amount of $125 million, which was funded in full on the Closing Date, and a delayed draw term loan facility in the aggregate principal amount of $100 million, which was undrawn as of the Closing Date. Borrowings under the credit agreement are expected to bear interest at a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate plus 6.5%. Commencing with the quarter ending on December 31, 2024, we are required to make quarterly principal payments in an amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate original principal amount, and the final maturity date of the term loans is July 16, 2029.The net proceeds from the initial term loan will be used, together with cash on hand, (i) to repurchase, repay, and/or pay amounts of cash due upon conversion of any or all of the Notes at any time on or prior to the maturity of the Notes and (ii) for working capital and general corporate purposes. The proceeds from the delayed draw term loan facility, if any, will be used to fund our inorganic growth strategy through permitted acquisitions (including deferred purchase price or similar arrangements related thereto) and to pay fees, costs, and expenses in connection therewith.We are required prepay the term loans upon the occurrence of certain events, and we may voluntarily prepay the term loans, in whole or in part, at any time, subject to certain notice requirements and prepayment amounts. Prior to July 16, 2028, such mandatory prepayments or voluntary prepayments are subject to a prepayment premium ranging from 1.0% to 3.0% plus a make whole amount depending on the year of such prepayment. We are also required to pay a commitment fee on the unutilized commitments under the delayed draw term loan facility ranging from 1.5% to 2.5% per year depending on the year and the unutilized delayed draw term loan. 41HEALTH CATALYST, INC.Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements(unaudited)Our obligations under the credit agreement and the other loan documents are required to be guaranteed by all of our present and future domestic and foreign subsidiaries, subject to certain exceptions (Guarantors). Upon the occurrence of an event of default, the administrative agent and the lenders may declare all outstanding obligations immediately due and payable and take such other actions as set forth in the credit agreement and the related loan documents, including proceeding against the collateral securing such borrowings.Lumeon Acquisition On August 1, 2024, we acquired Lumeon Ltd. Our Solution comprises our cloud-based data platforms, software analytics applications, and professional services expertise. Our clients, which are primarily healthcare providers, use our Solution to manage their data, derive analytical insights to operate their organization, and produce measurable clinical, financial, and operational improvements. We envision a future where all healthcare decisions are data informed.Highlights from the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 included:â€¢We recognized total revenue of $75.9 million and $73.2 million for the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $150.6 million and $147.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024, and 2023, respectively. The growth in revenue was primarily due to revenue from new clients and revenue expansion from existing clients, generally in Tech-enabled Managed Services. â€¢We incurred net losses of $13.5 million and $32.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $34.1 million and $65.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024, and 2023, respectively.â€¢Our Adjusted EBITDA was $7.5 million and $3.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $10.9 million and $7.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024, and 2023, respectively. See the section titled â€œKey Financial Metricsâ€”Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measuresâ€ below for more information about Adjusted EBITDA, including the limitations of such measure and a reconciliation to net loss, the most directly comparable measure calculated in accordance with GAAP.See the section titled â€œKey Factors Affecting Our Performanceâ€ for more information about important opportunities and challenges related to our business.Macroeconomic Environment and Strategic Operating PlanRecent macroeconomic challenges (including high levels of inflation and high interest rates) and the tight labor market continue to adversely affect workforces, organizations, governments, clients, economies, and financial markets globally. These factors have disrupted the normal operations of many businesses, including our business. These factors have also placed the national healthcare system under significant operational and budgetary strain.The health system end market, in particular, has experienced meaningful financial strain over the last couple of years, in which it has realized significant increases in labor and supply costs without a commensurate increase in revenue, leading to a deterioration in operating margins across many of our clients and prospective clients. We saw a decrease in pipeline demand in 2023 relative to the period prior due to the onset of these macroeconomic factors in 2022, as well as some elevated realized and anticipated down-sell and churn levels, primarily for the parts of our Solution that do not offer near-term, financial return on investment (ROI), such as our clinically-focused technology offerings and our more traditional consulting Professional Services. 43In recent quarters, we have been encouraged to have seen incremental improvements, including in the six month period ending June 30, 2024, and we are encouraged to see steadily improving and stabilizing operating margins for clients and prospective clients in our health system end market. With respect to other near-term implications of the macroeconomic environment, we anticipate improvement in our 2024 bookings metrics relative to 2022 and 2023 for both net new DOS Subscription Client additions and Dollar-based Retention Rate. As it relates to Dollar-based Retention Rate, execution on Tech-enabled Managed Services bookings in the second half of 2024 will have a meaningful impact on our Dollar-based Retention Rate for the 2024 year. We also anticipate that a higher proportion of our net bookings will occur in the second half of 2024 as compared to our historical average, largely due to the anticipated timing of our larger pipeline opportunities.Through June 30, 2024, our year to date net new DOS Subscription Client additions had a lower average starting annual recurring revenue (ARR) as compared to historical levels. We currently expect our average subscription revenue and non-recurring revenue for net new DOS Subscription Clients signed in the year ended December 31, 2024 (new 2024 DOS Subscription Clients) to be between an average range of $400,000 to $1,000,000, driven primarily by momentum in modular additions from Health Catalyst Ignite, such as Healthcare.AI and KPI Ninjaâ€™s Ninja Universe, Health Catalyst Igniteâ€™s interoperability platform, which resulted in subscription revenue that is significantly lower than subscription revenue derived from a contract that includes access to all of the DOS platform components and analytic applications. Our modular pricing, which can be lower than our historical averages, has enabled a higher volume of opportunities. This average dollar range is comprised of new 2024 DOS Subscription Clients with (i) average revenue in the expected average range or significantly above the expected average range noted above, driven by the size of the client organization and the bundle of technology and services included in their subscription and (ii) average revenue meaningfully below the low-end of the expected range noted above, driven by sales of stand-alone Health Catalyst Ignite module components, which provided greater deal certainty in a more challenging macroeconomic environment, and which we believe will provide an opportunity to expand our relationship with these DOS Subscription Clients in the future, including through cross-selling efforts.We have introduced Health Catalyst Ignite, our next-generation data and analytics platform, which benefits from significant scalability and modularity. We expect to migrate existing DOS Subscription Clients to this new platform over the next two to three years. Over the medium-term, we expect the migration to Health Catalyst Ignite to result in a technology gross margin tailwind; however, we expect a near-term headwind as clients are being migrated. We anticipate new DOS Subscription Clients in 2024 will be deployed directly onto Health Catalyst Ignite. Furthermore, given the modularity of Health Catalyst Ignite and migrations to its platform, we now primarily refer to DOS Subscription Clients as Platform Subscription Clients.We benefit from a highly recurring revenue model, in which greater than 90% of our revenue is recurring in nature, and a high level of technology revenue predictability, especially within our Platform Subscription Clients whose contracts, when sold as a bundle with our analytics applications, often have built-in, contractual technology revenue escalators.As previously described, within our professional services segment, a subset of clients have reduced their spend, while in the technology segment, a subset of modular clients and smaller platform clients have reduced their application and analytics spend. However, we anticipate our aggregate churn levels in 2024 to improve compared to 2023. Given the improved bookings performance of our TEMS offering in recent years, a higher proportion of our bookings in 2023 came from our professional services offering relative to 2022, as health systems looked for solutions to effectively address their near-term expense challenges. While this change in bookings mix will lead to lower professional services gross margin and Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin and Total Adjusted Gross Margin in future years, we expect that we will achieve improvements in net loss and Adjusted EBITDA as a result of the minimal incremental operating expense required to support our TEMS growth. We continue to anticipate that our adjusted operating expenses as a percentage of revenue will trend lower, largely due to our restructuring efforts and meaningful continued operating leverage.44We continue to proactively respond to the macroeconomic environment with a strategic operating plan that emphasizes our offerings and go-to-market approach in the areas where we have the most competitive differentiation and where clients are most likely to achieve measurable financial and operational ROI both in the near term and over time. We believe this focus will enable us to move forward in a position of continued competitive and financial strength. We will continue to refine this strategic operating plan and are continuing to make several investments in research and development, primarily in enhancing the capabilities within Health Catalyst Ignite, in order to maintain our position as a market-leading data platform over the long term.Key Financial MetricsWe regularly review a number of metrics, including the following key financial metrics, to manage our business and evaluate our operating performance compared to that of other companies in our industry:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023202420232023GAAP Financial Measures:(in thousands, except percentages)(in thousands, except percentages)Total revenue$75,902Â $73,213Â $150,625Â $147,081Â Gross

We discuss Adjusted Gross Profit, Adjusted Gross Margin, and Adjusted EBITDA in more detail below.Reconciliation of non-GAAPÂ financial measuresIn addition to our results determined in accordance with GAAP, we believe certain non-GAAP financial measures, including Adjusted Gross Profit, Adjusted Gross Margin, and Adjusted EBITDA, are useful in evaluating our operating performance. For example, we exclude stock-based compensation expense because it is non-cash in nature and excluding this expense provides meaningful supplemental information regarding our operational performance and allows investors the ability to make more meaningful comparisons between our operating results and those of other companies. We use this non-GAAP financial information to evaluate our ongoing operations, as a component in determining employee bonus compensation, and for internal planning and forecasting purposes. We believe that non-GAAP financial information, when taken collectively, may be helpful to investors because it provides consistency and comparability with past financial performance. However, non-GAAP financial information is presented for supplemental informational purposes only, has limitations as an analytical tool, and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for financial information presented in accordance with GAAP. In addition, other companies, including companies in our industry, may calculate similarly-titled non-GAAP measures differently or may use other measures to evaluate their performance, all of which could reduce the usefulness of our non-GAAP financial measures as tools for comparison. A reconciliation is provided below for each non-GAAP financial measure to the most directly comparable financial measure stated in accordance with GAAP. Investors are encouraged to review the related GAAP financial measures and the reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measures, and not to rely on any single financial measure to evaluate our business.45AdjustedÂ Gross Profit andÂ AdjustedÂ Gross MarginGross profit is a GAAP financial measure that is calculated as revenue less cost of revenue, including depreciation and amortization of capitalized software development costs and acquired technology. We calculate gross margin as gross profit divided by our revenue. AdjustedÂ Gross Profit is aÂ non-GAAPÂ financial measure that we define as gross profit, adjusted for (i) depreciation and amortization, (ii) stock-based compensation, (iii) acquisition-related costs, net, and (iv) restructuring costs, as applicable. We defineÂ AdjustedÂ Gross Margin as ourÂ AdjustedÂ Gross Profit divided by our revenue. We believeÂ AdjustedÂ Gross Profit andÂ AdjustedÂ Gross Margin are useful to investors as they eliminate the impact of certainÂ non-cashÂ expenses and allow a direct comparison of these measures between periods without the impact ofÂ non-cashÂ expenses, as well as certain other non-recurring operating expenses, and certain other non-recurring operating expenses. We present both of these measures for our technology and professional services business. We believe theseÂ non-GAAPÂ measures are useful in evaluating our operating performance compared to that of other companies in our industry, as these metrics generally eliminate the effects of certain items that may vary from company to company for reasons unrelated to overall profitability.The following is a calculation of our gross profit and gross margin and a reconciliation of gross profit and gross margin to our Adjusted Gross Profit and Adjusted Gross Margin in total and for technology and professional services for the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Three Months Ended June 30, 2024(in thousands, except percentages)TechnologyProfessional ServicesTotalRevenue$47,635Â $28,267Â $75,902Â Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization(16,067)(23,993)(40,060)Amortization of intangible assets, cost of revenue(4,583)â€”Â (4,583)Depreciation of property and equipment, cost of revenue(2,453)â€”Â (2,453)Gross profit24,532Â 4,274Â 28,806Â Gross margin51Â %15Â %38Â %Add:Amortization of intangible assets, cost of revenue4,583Â â€”Â 4,583Â Depreciation of property and equipment, cost of revenue2,453Â â€”Â 2,453Â Stock-based compensation391Â 1,349Â 1,740Â Acquisition-related costs, net(1)104Â 117Â 221Â Adjusted Gross Profit$32,063Â $5,740Â $37,803Â Adjusted Gross Margin67Â %20Â %50Â %_____(1)Acquisition-related costs, net include deferred retention expenses attributable to the Carevive, ARMUS, and KPI Ninja acquisitions.46Three Months Ended June 30, 2023(in thousands, except percentages)TechnologyProfessional ServicesTotalRevenue$47,324Â $25,889Â $73,213Â Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization(15,859)(23,579)(39,438)Amortization of intangible assets, cost of revenue(4,875)â€”Â (4,875)Depreciation of property and equipment, cost of revenue(2,297)â€”Â (2,297)Gross profit24,293Â 2,310Â 26,603Â Gross margin51Â %9Â %36Â %Add:Amortization of intangible assets, cost of revenue4,875Â â€”Â 4,875Â Depreciation of property and equipment, cost of revenue2,297Â â€”Â 2,297Â Stock-based compensation495Â 1,981Â 2,476Â Acquisition-related costs, net(1)71Â 101Â 172Â Adjusted Gross Profit$32,031Â $4,392Â $36,423Â Adjusted Gross Margin68Â %17Â %50Â %_____(1)Acquisition-related costs, net include deferred retention expenses attributable to the ARMUS and KPI Ninja acquisitions.Technology gross margin remained constant at 51% for the three months ended June 30, 2023 and 2024. Adjusted Technology Gross Margin decreased from 68% for the three months ended June 30, 2023 to 67% for the three months ended June 30, 2024. This year-over-year result was mainly driven by continued costs associated with transitioning a portion of our client base to Azure-hosted environments as well as from costs associated with migrating a subset of Platform Subscription Clients to Health Catalyst Ignite, partially offset by existing clients paying higher technology access fees from contractual, built-in escalators, without a corresponding increase in hosting costs. We expect Adjusted Technology Gross Margin to fluctuate and potentially decline in the near term, primarily due to additional costs associated with the ongoing transition of a small number of clients from our managed data centers or on-premise to third-party hosted data centers with Microsoft Azure as well as the migration of a subset of clients to Health Catalyst Ignite. The potential decline is also attributable to a small subset of modular clients reducing their subscriptions to our software analytic applications, which tend to be higher margin offerings.Professional services gross margin increased from 9% for the three months ended June 30, 2023 to 15% for the three months ended June 30, 2024. Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin increased from 17% for the three months ended June 30, 2023 to 20% for the three months ended June 30, 2024, primarily due to higher utilization rates and cost management efforts, driven in large part by the reduction in force that primarily occurred late in the fourth quarter of 2023 and early 2024. Our professional services are comprised of data and analytics services, domain expertise services, TEMS, and implementation services. The majority of our professional services revenue is generated from data and analytic services and domain expertise services, which are the highest gross margin professional services we provide. The delivery mix among all of our services in a given period can lead to fluctuations in our Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin.Total gross margin increased slightly from 36% for the three months ended June 30, 2023 to 38% for the three months ended June 30, 2024. Total Adjusted Gross Margin remained consistent at 50% for the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. We expect total Adjusted Gross Margin to fluctuate and decline in the near term, primarily due to anticipated growth in professional services, including TEMS.47The following is a calculation of our gross profit and gross margin and a reconciliation of gross profit and gross margin to our Adjusted Gross Profit and Adjusted Gross Margin in total and for technology and professional services for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Six Months Ended June 30, 2024(in thousands, except percentages)TechnologyProfessional ServicesTotalRevenue$94,601Â $56,024Â $150,625Â Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization(31,382)(47,195)(78,577)Amortization of intangible assets, cost of revenue(8,954)â€”Â (8,954)Depreciation of property and equipment, cost of revenue(4,967)â€”Â (4,967)Gross profit49,298Â 8,829Â 58,127Â Gross margin52Â %16Â %39Â %Add:Amortization of intangible assets, cost of revenue8,954Â â€”Â 8,954Â Depreciation of property and equipment, cost of revenue4,967Â â€”Â 4,967Â Stock-based compensation756Â 2,681Â 3,437Â Acquisition-related costs, net(1)169Â 208Â 377Â Restructuring costs(2)79Â 181Â 260Â Adjusted Gross Profit$64,223Â $11,899Â $76,122Â Adjusted Gross Margin68Â %21Â %51Â %_____(1)Acquisition-related costs, net include deferred retention expenses attributable to the Carevive, ARMUS, and KPI Ninja acquisitions.(2)Restructuring costs include severance and other team member costs from workforce reductions. Adjusted Technology Gross Margin decreased from 69% for the six months ended June 30, 2023 to 68% for the six months ended June 30, 2024. This year-over-year result was mainly driven by continued costs associated with transitioning a portion of our client base to Azure-hosted environments as well as from costs associated with migrating a subset of Platform Subscription Clients to Health Catalyst Ignite, partially offset by existing clients paying higher technology access fees from contractual, built-in escalators, without a corresponding increase in hosting costs. The potential decline is also attributable to a small subset of modular clients reducing their subscriptions to our software analytic applications, which tend to be higher margin offerings.Professional services gross margin increased from 10% for the six months ended June 30, 2023 to 16% for the six months ended June 30, 2024. Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin increased from 19% for the six months ended June 30, 2023 to 21% for the six months ended June 30, 2024, primarily due to higher utilization rates and cost management efforts, driven in large part by the reduction in force that primarily occurred late in the fourth quarter of 2023 and early 2024. Our professional services are comprised of data and analytics services, domain expertise services, TEMS, and implementation services. The majority of our professional services revenue is generated from data and analytic services and domain expertise services, which are the highest gross margin professional services we provide. The delivery mix among all of our services in a given period can lead to fluctuations in our Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin.In the fourth quarter of 2023, our board of directors approved workforce reductions as part of a restructuring plan intended to optimize our cost structure and focus our investment of resources in key priority areas to align with strategic changes (2023 Restructuring Plan). These reductions enabled significant improvement in our Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin in the first two quarters of 2024 compared to the fourth quarter of 2023. However we still expect Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin to fluctuate on a quarterly basis due to changes in the mix of services we provide, the amount of operational overhead required to deliver our services, and clients delaying or reducing services due to a potentially uncertain and challenging macroeconomic environment.Specifically, in the near term, we expect our mix of services to include more TEMS, which have minimal initial services gross margins that gradually increase over time as we drive efficiencies in service delivery through the use of our technology. As part of our TEMS contracts, we often re-badge existing health system team members within the applicable functional area as Health Catalyst team members. We often provide a client with a near-term discount relative to their existing costs for the scope of the TEMS opportunity, and we drive incremental gross margin over time by leveraging our technology and know-how to make processes more efficient and reduce the clientâ€™s labor costs. While there will be a headwind to gross margin from these TEMS in the near term, we believe this model will benefit our mid and long-term Adjusted EBITDA and profitability targets due to improved direct margin on these services over time, our ability to drive operating leverage with lower relative incremental operating expense investment required, and the fact that these contracts typically result in long-term technology subscription contract renewals or expansions. Total gross margin increased slightly from 37% for the six months ended June 30, 2023 to 39% for the six months ended June 30, 2024. Total Adjusted Gross Margin remained consistent at 51% for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. We expect total Adjusted Gross Margin to fluctuate and decline in the near term, primarily due to anticipated growth in professional services, including TEMS.49Adjusted EBITDAAdjusted EBITDA is a non-GAAP financial measure that we define as net loss adjusted for (i) interest and other (income) expense, net, (ii) income tax provision (benefit), (iii) depreciation and amortization, (iv) stock-based compensation, (v) acquisition-related costs, net, (vi) litigation costs, (vii) restructuring costs, and (viii) non-recurring lease-related charges. We view acquisition-related expenses when applicable, such as transaction costs and changes in the fair value of contingent consideration liabilities that are directly related to business combinations, as costs that are unpredictable, dependent upon factors outside of our control, and are not necessarily reflective of operational performance during a period. We believe that excluding restructuring costs, litigation costs, and non-recurring lease-related charges allows for more meaningful comparisons between operating results from period to period as these are separate from the core activities that arise in the ordinary course of our business and are not part of our ongoing operations. We believe Adjusted EBITDA provides investors with useful information on period-to-period performance as evaluated by management and a comparison with our past financial performance, and is useful in evaluating our operating performance compared to that of other companies in our industry, as this metric generally eliminates the effects of certain items that may vary from company to company for reasons unrelated to overall operating performance. Our Adjusted EBITDA improved year-over-year as a result of our revenue growth and cost reduction initiatives as well as the timing of some non-headcount expenses, including the change in timing of our Healthcare Analytics Summit (HAS) event. We generally expect annual Adjusted EBITDA to continue to improve going forward, although it may fluctuate from quarter to quarter as a result of the timing of non-recurring revenue and the seasonality of certain operating costs.The following is a reconciliation of our Adjusted EBITDA to net loss, the most directly comparable financial measure calculated in accordance with GAAP, for the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023.Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023202420232023(in thousands)(in thousands)Net loss$(13,516)$(32,613)$(34,103)$(65,803)Add:Interest and other (income) expense, net(2,361)(2,090)(4,699)(3,883)Income tax provision70Â 85Â 183Â 154Â Depreciation and amortization10,657Â 10,735Â 21,182Â 21,729Â Stock-based compensation8,966Â 14,629Â 19,804Â 28,513Â Acquisition-related costs, net(1)3,431Â 495Â 4,244Â 976Â Litigation costs(2)â€”Â 9,591Â â€”Â 21,255Â Restructuring costs(3)275Â â€”Â 2,088Â 2,055Â Non-recurring lease-related charges(4)â€”Â 2,681Â 2,200Â 2,681Â Adjusted EBITDA$7,522Â $3,513Â $10,899Â $7,677Â_____(1)Acquisition-related costs, net include third-party fees associated with due diligence and deferred retention expenses, and post-acquisition restructuring costs incurred as part of business combinations.(2)Litigation costs include costs related to litigation that are outside the ordinary course of our business. While these factors present significant opportunities for us, they also represent the challenges that we must successfully address in order to grow our business and improve our results of operations.â€¢Impact of challenging macroeconomic environment, including high inflation and high interest rates, and the tight labor market. Recent macroeconomic challenges (including the high levels of inflation and high interest rates) and the tight labor market continue to adversely affect workforces, organizations, governments, clients, economies, and financial markets globally, leading to an economic downturn and increased market volatility. They have also disrupted the normal operations of many businesses, including ours. Our health system end market is currently experiencing meaningful financial strain from significant inflation. In particular, they are experiencing increases in labor and supply costs without a commensurate increase in revenue, leading to significant margin pressure. This margin pressure could continue to decrease healthcare industry spending, adversely affect demand for our technology and services, cause one or more of our clients to file for bankruptcy protection or go out of business, cause one or more of our clients to fail to renew, terminate, or renegotiate their contracts, impact expected spending from new clients, negatively impact collections of accounts receivable, and harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition. It is not possible for us to predict the duration or magnitude of the adverse results of the challenging macroeconomic environment and its effects on our business, results of operations, or financial condition at this time.â€¢Add new clients. We believe our ability to increase our client base will enable us to drive growth. Our potential client base is generally in the early stages of data and analytics adoption and maturity. We expect to further penetrate the market over time as potential clients invest in commercial data and analytics solutions. As one of the first data platform and analytics vendors focused specifically on healthcare organizations, we have an early-mover advantage and strong brand awareness. Our clients are large, complex organizations who typically have long procurement cycles, which, as a result, may lead to declines relative to our historic pace of our new client additions, which included small clients.â€¢Leverage recent product and services offerings to drive expansion. We believe that our ability to expand within our client base will enable us to drive growth. Over the last few years, we have developed and deployed several new analytics applications, including PowerCosting (formerly known as CORUS), PowerLabor, Touchstone, Patient Safety Monitor, Pop Analyzer (formerly known as Population Builder), Value Optimizer, and others. Because we are in the early stages of certain of our applicationsâ€™ lifecycles and maturity, we do not have enough information to know the impact on revenue growth by upselling these applications and associated services to current and new clients.â€¢Impact of acquisitions. We have acquired multiple companies over the last few years, including Medicity in June 2018, Able Health in February 2020, Healthfinch in July 2020, Vitalware in September 2020, Twistle in July 2021, KPI Ninja in February 2022, ARMUS in April 2022, ERS in October 2023, Carevive in May 2024, and Lumeon in August 2024. The historical and go-forward revenue growth profiles of these businesses may vary from our core DOS Subscription Clients, which can positively or negatively impact our overall growth rate. For example, Medicity clients have generated a lower dollar-based retention rate than DOS Subscription Clients and we expect declining revenue from Medicity clients in the foreseeable future. As we integrate the teams acquired via our recent acquisitions, we have also incurred integration-related costs and duplicative costs that could impact our operating cost profile in the near term.â€¢Changing revenue mix. Our technology and professional services offerings have materially different gross margin profiles. While our professional services offerings help our clients achieve measurable improvements and make them stickier, they have lower gross margins than our technology revenue. For the six months ended June 30, 2024, our technology revenue and professional services revenue represented 63% and 37% of total revenue, respectively. Changes in our percentage of revenue attributable to Technology and Professional Services would impact future gross margin and Adjusted Gross Margin. 51Furthermore, changes within the types of professional services we offer over time can have a material impact on our professional services margin and Adjusted Professional Services Gross Margin, impacting our future gross margin and Total Adjusted Gross Margin. See the section titled â€œKey Financial Metrics â€“ Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measuresâ€ above for more information.â€¢Transitions to Microsoft Azure and migration to Health Catalyst Ignite. We incur hosting fees related to providing DOS through a cloud-based environment hosted by Microsoft Azure. We maintain a small number of clients that have deployed DOS on-premise. We are in the process of migrating clients who deployed DOS on-premise to Azure-hosted environments. The Azure cloud provides clients with more advanced DOS product functionality and a more seamless client experience; however, hosting clients in Azure is more costly than on-premise deployments on a per-client basis. We have also started migrating certain clients to Health Catalyst Ignite. These transitions have and will continue to result in higher cost of technology revenue and a reduced Adjusted Technology Gross Margin.Recent AcquisitionsLumeon Acquisition On August 1, 2024, we acquired Lumeon Ltd. (Lumeon), a digital health company dedicated to helping provider organizations mend broken care coordination processes through automated care orchestration, for preliminary consideration of approximately $37.5Â million in cash and $2.5Â million of our common stock, plus a potential recurring revenue-based earn-out of up to $25Â million that, if achieved, would be paid solely in cash. Given the recent timing of the closing of this business combination, we are in the process of identifying and measuring the value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed. We plan to disclose the preliminary purchase price allocation estimates and other related information in our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ending September 30, 2024.Carevive AcquisitionOn May 24, 2024, we acquired Carevive Systems, Inc. (Carevive), a leading oncology-focused health technology company centered on understanding and improving the experience of patients with cancer. We accounted for the acquisition of Carevive as a business combination. Oncology providers and life science researchers use Careviveâ€™s flagship platform and/or Carevive data in routine clinical practice for treatment care planning, clinical trial screening, care coordination, remote patient monitoring, and/or post-treatment care. The acquisition consideration transferred was $22.1 million and was comprised of net cash consideration of $18.6 million, shares of our common stock with a fair value of $2.6 million, and contingent consideration based on certain earn-out performance targets for Carevive during an earn-out period ending on June 30, 2025, with an initial fair value of $0.9 million. The purchase resulted in us acquiring 100% ownership in Carevive. ERS Corporation AcquisitionOn OctoberÂ 2, 2023, we acquired Electronic Registry Systems, Inc. (ERS), a cloud-based provider of clinical registry development and data management software focused on oncology with advanced data analytics expertise, for preliminary consideration of approximately $11.5 million in cash and 175,901 shares of our common stock that was originally subject to revesting over a period of 18 months.Components of Our Results of OperationsRevenueWe derive our revenue from sales of technology and professional services. For the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, technology revenue represented 63% and 65% of total revenue, respectively, and professional services represented 37% and 35% of total revenue, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, technology revenue represented 63% and 64% of total revenue, respectively, and professional services represented 37% and 36% of total revenue, respectively.52Technology revenue.Â Â Â Â Technology revenue primarily consists of subscription fees charged to clients for access to use our data platform and analytics applications. We provide clients access to our technology through either an all-access or limited-access, modular subscription. Most of our subscription contracts are cloud-based and generally have a three- or five-year term, of which many are terminable after one year upon 90 daysâ€™ notice. The majority of our DOS subscription contracts have built-in annual escalators for technology access fees. Also included in technology revenue is the maintenance and support we provide, which generally includes updates and support services.Professional services revenue.Â Â Â Â Professional services revenue primarily includes analytics services, domain expertise services, Tech-enabled Managed Services, and implementation services. Professional services arrangements typically include a fee for making FTE services available to our clients on a monthly basis. FTE services generally consist of a blend of analytic engineers, analysts, and data scientists based on the domain expertise needed to best serve our clients. From a revenue mix perspective, we anticipate that full-year 2024 professional services year-over-year revenue growth will slightly outpace technology year-over-year growth, driven by the heavier weighting of our Tech-enabled Managed Services bookings in the second half of 2022 and 2023, as well as the anticipated elevated churn levels, primarily for offerings that do not provide a near-term measurable financial ROI, such as some of our clinically-focused technology offerings and our traditional consulting professional services.Deferred revenueDeferred revenue consists of client billings in advance of revenue being recognized from our technology and professional services arrangements. We primarily invoice our clients for technology arrangements annually or quarterly in advance. Amounts anticipated to be recognized within one year of the balance sheet date are recorded as deferred revenue and the remaining portion is recorded as deferred revenue, net of current portion on our condensed consolidated balance sheets.Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortizationCost of technology revenue.Â Â Â Â Cost of technology revenue primarily consists of costs associated with hosting and supporting our technology, including third-party cloud computing and hosting costs, license and revenue share fees, contractor costs, and salary and related personnel costs for our cloud services and support teams.Although we expect cost of technology revenue to increase in absolute dollars as we increase headcount, cloud computing, and hosting costs to accommodate growth, and as we continue to transition clients to third-party hosted data centers with Microsoft Azure and migrate clients to Health Catalyst Ignite, our next generation data platform, we anticipate cost of technology revenue as a percentage of technology revenue will generally decrease over the long term. We expect cost of technology revenue as a percentage of technology revenue to fluctuate and potentially increase in the near term, primarily due to additional costs associated with transitioning a small number of clients from on-premise deployments to Microsoft Azure-hosted environments and migrating clients to Health Catalyst Ignite, our next generation data platform.Cost of professional services revenue.Â Â Â Cost of professional services revenue consists primarily of costs related to delivering our teamâ€™s expertise in analytics, strategic advisory, improvement, and implementation services. These costs primarily include salary and related personnel costs, travel-related costs, and outside contractor costs. We expect the 2023 Restructuring Plan to reduce future, ongoing cost of professional services revenue. We further expect that the future savings from the reduced headcount will be offset by continued growth in our professional services, including TEMS.53Operating expenseSales and marketing. Sales and marketing expenses primarily include salary and related personnel costs for our sales, marketing, and account management teams, lead generation, marketing events, including our HAS, marketing programs, and outside contractor costs associated with the sale and marketing of our offerings. We plan to continue to invest in sales and marketing to grow our client base, expand in new markets, and increase our brand awareness. The trend and timing of sales and marketing expenses will depend in part on the timing of our expansion into new markets and marketing campaigns. Our sales and marketing expenses may fluctuate as a percentage of our revenue from period to period due to the timing and extent of these expenses.Research and development. Research and development expenses primarily include salary and related personnel costs for our data platform and analytics applications teams, subscriptions, and outside contractor costs associated with the development of products. We have developed an open, flexible, and scalable data platform. We plan to continue to invest in research and development to develop new solutions and enhance our applications library. The 2023 Restructuring Plan increased our research and development expenses in the first quarter of 2024 due to severance costs, but we expect that the reduction in headcount will reduce future, ongoing research and development expenses. Our research and development expenses may fluctuate as a percentage of our revenue from period to period due to the nature, timing, and extent of these expenses.General and administrative. General and administrative expenses primarily include salary and related personnel costs for our legal, finance, people operations, IT, and other administrative teams, including certain executives. General and administrative expenses also include facilities, subscriptions, corporate insurance, accounting, directorsâ€™ fees, litigation costs, and the change in fair value of contingent consideration liabilities. Our general and administrative expenses may fluctuate as a percentage of our revenue from period to period due to the timing and extent of these expenses.Depreciation and amortization.Â Depreciation and amortization expenses are primarily attributable to our capital investment and consist of fixed asset depreciation, amortization of intangibles considered to have definite lives, and amortization of capitalized internal-use software costs.Interest and other income (expense), netInterest and other income (expense), net primarily consists of income from our investment holdings partially offset by interest expense. Interest expense is primarily attributable to the Notes. It also includes the amortization of discounts on debt and amortization of deferred financing costs related to our debt arrangements.Income tax provision (benefit)Income tax provision (benefit) consists of U.S. federal, state, and foreign income taxes. Because of the uncertainty of the realization of the deferred tax assets, we have a full valuation allowance for our net deferred tax assets, including net operating loss carryforwards (NOLs) and tax credits related primarily to research and development.As of DecemberÂ 31, 2023, we had federal and state NOLs of $602.6 million and $505.5 million, respectively, which will begin to expire for federal and state tax purposes in 2032 and 2023, respectively. Our existing NOLs may be subject to limitations arising from ownership changes and, if we undergo an ownership change in the future, our ability to utilize our NOLs and tax credits could be further limited by SectionsÂ 382 and 383 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). Future changes in our stock ownership, many of which are outside of our control, could result in an ownership change under SectionsÂ 382 and 383 of the Code. Our NOLs and tax credits may also be limited under similar provisions of state law.On August 16, 2022, the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 (IRA) was enacted and signed into U.S. law. The IRA includes provisions imposing a 1% excise tax on share repurchases in excess of the fair value of stock issuances, including compensatory stock issuances, that occur after December 31, 2022 and introduces a 15% corporate alternative minimum tax on adjusted financial statement income. We do not expect the tax provisions of the IRA to have a material impact on our condensed consolidated financial statements.54Results of OperationsThe following tables set forth our condensed consolidated results of operations data and such data as a percentage of total revenue for each of the periods indicated:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023(in thousands)(in thousands)Revenue:Technology$47,635Â $47,324Â $94,601Â $94,510Â Professional services28,267Â 25,889Â 56,024Â 52,571Â Total revenue75,902Â 73,213Â 150,625Â 147,081Â Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization shown below:Technology(1)(2)(3)16,067Â 15,859Â 31,382Â 30,586Â Professional services(1)(2)(3)23,993Â 23,579Â 47,195Â 47,156Â Total cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization40,060Â 39,438Â 78,577Â 77,742Â Operating expenses:Sales and marketing(1)(2)(3)12,745Â 16,397Â 31,803Â 34,966Â Research and development(1)(2)(3)13,884Â 17,590Â 28,755Â 34,672Â General and administrative(1)(2)(3)(4)(5)14,363Â 23,671Â 28,927Â 47,504Â Depreciation and amortization10,657Â 10,735Â 21,182Â 21,729Â Total operating expenses51,649Â 68,393Â 110,667Â 138,871Â Loss from operations(15,807)(34,618)(38,619)(69,532)Interest and other income (expense), net2,361Â 2,090Â 4,699Â 3,883Â Loss before income taxes(13,446)(32,528)(33,920)(65,649)Income tax provision70Â 85Â 183Â 154Â Net loss$(13,516)$(32,613)$(34,103)$(65,803)(1)Includes stock-based compensation expense, as follows:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023Stock-Based Compensation Expense:(in thousands)(in thousands)Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization:Technology$391Â $495Â $756Â $911Â Professional services1,349Â 1,981Â 2,681Â 3,755Â Sales and marketing2,452Â 5,458Â 6,442Â 10,900Â Research and development1,676Â 3,077Â 3,520Â 5,750Â General and administrative3,098Â 3,618Â 6,405Â 7,197Â Total$8,966Â $14,629Â $19,804Â $28,513Â 55(2)Includes acquisition-related costs (benefit), net, as follows:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023Acquisition-related costs (benefit), net:(in thousands)(in thousands)Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization:Technology$104Â $71Â $169Â $142Â Professional services117Â 101Â 208Â 202Â Sales and marketing523Â 101Â 587Â 202Â Research and development228Â 195Â 430Â 389Â General and administrative2,459Â 27Â 2,850Â 41Â Total$3,431Â $495Â $4,244Â $976Â (3)Includes restructuring costs, as follows:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023Restructuring costs:(in thousands)(in thousands)Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization:Technology$â€”Â $â€”Â $79Â $12Â Professional servicesâ€”Â â€”Â 181Â 434Â Sales and marketingâ€”Â â€”Â 449Â 1,205Â Research and developmentâ€”Â â€”Â 443Â 286Â General and administrative275Â â€”Â 936Â 118Â Total$275Â $â€”Â $2,088Â $2,055Â (4)Includes litigation costs, as follows:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023Litigation costs:(in thousands)(in thousands)General and administrative$â€”Â $9,591Â $â€”Â $21,255Â Total$â€”Â $9,591Â $â€”Â $21,255Â (5)Includes non-recurring lease-related charges, as follows:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023Non-recurring lease-related charges:(in thousands)(in thousands)General and administrative$â€”Â $2,681Â $2,200Â $2,681Â Total$â€”Â $2,681Â $2,200Â $2,681Â 56Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023Revenue:Technology63Â %65Â %63Â %64Â %Professional services37Â 35Â 37Â 36Â Total revenue100Â 100Â 100Â 100Â Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization shown below:Technology21Â 22Â 21Â 21Â Professional service32Â 32Â 31Â 32Â Total cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortization53Â 54Â 52Â 53Â Operating expensesSales and marketing17Â 22Â 21Â 24Â Research and development18Â 24Â 19Â 24Â General and administrative19Â 32Â 19Â 32Â Depreciation and amortization14Â 15Â 14Â 15Â Total operating expenses68Â 93Â 73Â 95Â Loss from operations(21)(47)(25)(48)Interest and other income (expense), net3Â 3Â 3Â 3Â Loss before income taxes(18)(44)(22)(45)Income tax provisionâ€”Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â Net loss(18)%(44)%(22)%(45)%Discussion of the Three Months Ended June 30, 2024 and 2023 RevenueThree Months Ended June 30,20242023$Â Change%Â Change(in thousands, except percentages)Revenue:Technology$47,635Â $47,324Â $311Â 1Â %Professional services28,267Â 25,889Â 2,378Â 9Â %Total revenue$75,902Â $73,213Â $2,689Â 4Â %Percentage of revenue:Technology63Â %65Â %Professional services37Â 35Â Total100Â %100Â %Total revenue was $75.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2024, compared to $73.2 million for the three months ended June 30, 2023, an increase of $2.7 million, or 4%. 57Technology revenue was $47.6 million, or 63% of total revenue, for the three months ended June 30, 2024, compared to $47.3 million, or 65% of total revenue, for the three months ended June 30, 2023. The decrease was primarily due to a $21.3 million decrease in litigation costs compared to those that occurred in the prior-year period and are out of the ordinary course of business, a $0.8 million decrease in stock-based compensation, and a $0.4 million decrease in lease-related impairment charges. These decreases were partially offset by a $2.5 million increase in acquisition-related costs and a $1.6 increase in salary and related personnel costs.General and administrative expense as a percentage of revenue decreased from 32% in the six months ended June 30, 2023 to 19% in the six months ended June 30, 2024.Depreciation and amortizationSix Months Ended June 30,20242023$Â Change%Â Change(in thousands, except percentages)Depreciation and amortization$21,182Â $21,729Â $(547)(3)%Percentage of total revenue14Â %15Â %Depreciation and amortization expenses were $21.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to $21.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2023, a decrease of $0.5 million, orÂ 3%. This decrease was primarily due to certain acquired intangible assets from our business combinations becoming fully amortized.Depreciation and amortization expense as a percentage of revenue decreased from 15% in the six months ended June 30, 2023 to 14% in the six months ended June 30, 2024.62Interest and other income (expense), netSix Months Ended June 30,20242023$Â Change%Â Change(in thousands, except percentages)Interest income$8,400Â 7,510Â $890Â 12Â %Interest expense(3,663)(3,638)(25)1Â %Other (expense) income(38)11Â (49)(445)%Total interest and other income (expense), net$4,699Â $3,883Â $816Â 21Â %Interest and other income (expense), net increased $0.8 million, or 21%, for the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the six months ended June 30, 2023. This change is primarily due to an increase in interest income on our short-term investments of $0.9 million, primarily due to higher market interest rates, without a commensurate increase in interest expense on our Notes.Income tax provisionSix Months Ended June 30,20242023$Â Change%Â Change(in thousands, except percentages)Income tax provision$183Â $154Â $29Â 19Â %Our income tax provision consists of current and deferred taxes for U.S. federal, state, and foreign income taxes. As we have a full valuation allowance on our net deferred tax assets, our income tax provision typically consists primarily of minimal state and foreign income taxes, which is the case for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.63Liquidity and Capital ResourcesAs of JuneÂ 30, 2024, we had cash, cash equivalents, and short-term investments of $308.3 million, which were held for working capital and other general corporate purposes, which may include acquisitions and strategic transactions. Our cash equivalents and short-term investments are comprised primarily of money market funds, U.S. treasury notes, commercial paper, corporate bonds, and U.S. agency securities. Since inception, we have financed our operations primarily from the proceeds we received through private sales of equity securities, payments received from clients under technology and professional services arrangements, borrowings under our loan and security agreements (including our Credit Agreement described below), our IPO, the Note Offering, and the Secondary Public Equity Offering. Our future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including our pace of new client growth and expanded client relationships, technology and professional services renewal activity, and the timing and extent of spend to support the expansion of sales, marketing, development, share repurchases, and acquisition-related activities. In the event that additional financing is required from outside sources, we may not be able to raise it on terms acceptable to us, or at all. If we are unable to raise additional capital when desired, our business, results of operations, and financial condition would be adversely affected.We believe our existing cash, cash equivalents, and marketable securities will be sufficient to meet our working capital and capital expenditure needs over at least the next 12 months, though we may require additional capital resources in the future. Share repurchase planDuring the third quarter of 2022, our board of directors authorized a share repurchase program to repurchase up to $40.0Â million of our outstanding shares of common stock (Share Repurchase Plan). During the six months ended June 30, 2024, there were no shares repurchased. During the six months ended June 30, 2024, we repurchased and retired 145,027 shares of our common stock for $1.8Â million at an average purchase price of $12.45 per share. The total remaining authorization for future shares of common stock repurchases under our Share Repurchase Plan is $29.8Â million as of JuneÂ 30, 2024.Convertible senior notesOn April 14, 2020, we issued $230.0Â million in aggregate principal amount of 2.50% Convertible Senior Notes due 2025, pursuant to an Indenture dated April 14, 2020, with U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee, in a private offering to qualified institutional buyers. We received net proceeds from the sale of the Notes of $222.5Â million, after deducting the initial purchasersâ€™ discounts and offering expenses payable by us. The Notes are senior, unsecured obligations and will accrue interest payable semiannually in arrears on April 15 and October 15 of each year, beginning on October 15, 2020, at a rate of 2.50% per year. The Notes will mature on April 15, 2025, unless earlier converted, redeemed, or repurchased. The Notes are convertible into cash, shares of our common stock, or a combination of cash and shares of our common stock, with the form of consideration determined at our election. The conversion rate is initially 32.6797 shares of our common stock per $1,000 principal amount of Notes (which is equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $30.60 per share of our common stock).Capped callsOn April 8, 2020, concurrently with the pricing of the Notes, we entered into privately negotiated capped call transactions (Base Capped Calls) with certain financial institutions, or option counterparties. In addition, in connection with the initial purchasersâ€™ exercise in full of their option to purchase additional Notes, on April 9, 2020, we entered into additional capped call transactions (Additional Capped Calls, and, together with the Base Capped Calls, the Capped Calls) with each of the option counterparties. We used approximately $21.6 million of the net proceeds from the Note Offering to pay the option premium cost of the Capped Calls. The Capped Calls have initial cap prices of $42.00 per share, subject to certain adjustments. The Capped Calls are expected generally to reduce the potential dilution to our common stock upon any conversion of Notes and/or offset any cash payments we are required to make in excess of the principal amount of converted Notes, as the case may be, with such reduction and/or offset subject to the cap price.64Refer to â€œNote 10â€”Convertible Senior Notesâ€ to our condensed consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for additional details regarding the private offering of the Notes and the Capped Calls.Credit AgreementOn July 16, 2024 (Closing Date), we entered into a credit agreement with Silver Point Finance, LLC as administrative agent and collateral agent, and the lenders from time to time party thereto (Credit Agreement). The Credit Agreement provides a five-year term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of up to $225 million, consisting of an initial term loan in the aggregate principal amount of $125 million, which was funded on the Closing Date, and a delayed draw term loan facility in the aggregate principal amount of $100 million, which was undrawn on the Closing Date. We have the option to draw up to $40 million under the delayed draw facility within six months after the Closing Date and up to an additional $60 million under the delayed draw facility within eighteen months after the Closing Date, in each case, subject to satisfaction of certain conditions, including a minimum liquidity threshold and a maximum recurring revenue ratio. Borrowings under the Credit Agreement are expected to bear interest at a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate (SOFR) plus 6.5%. Commencing with the quarter ending on December 31, 2024, we are required to make quarterly principal payments in an amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate original principal amount, and the final maturity date of the term loans is July 16, 2029.The net proceeds from the initial term loan will be used, together with cash on hand, (i) to repurchase, repay and/or pay amounts of cash due upon conversion of any or all of our Notes at any time on or prior to the maturity of the Notes and (ii) for working capital and general corporate purposes. The proceeds from the delayed draw term loan facility, if any, will be used to fund our inorganic growth strategy through permitted acquisitions (including deferred purchase price or similar arrangements related thereto) and to pay fees, costs, and expenses in connection therewith. Cash flowsThe following table summarizes our cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023:Six Months Ended June 30,20242023(in thousands)Net cash provided by (used in) operating activities$11,878Â $(17,154)Net cash provided by investing activities82,201Â 15,234Â Net cash provided by financing activities1,561Â 1,295Â Effect of exchange rate changes(21)2Â Net increase (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents$95,619Â $(623)Operating activitiesOur largest source of operating cash flows is cash collections from our clients for technology and professional services arrangements. Our primary uses of cash from operating activities are for employee-related expenses, marketing expenses, and technology costs.For the six months ended June 30, 2024, net cash provided by operating activities was $11.9 million, which included a net loss of $34.1 million. Non-cash adjustments primarily consisted of $21.2 million in depreciation and amortization, $19.8 million in stock-based compensation, $3.4 million from the provision for expected credit losses, and $2.2 million from lease-related impairment charges, reduced by $3.1 million in net interest income from the accretion of discounts on our short-term investments. 65For the six months ended June 30, 2023, net cash used in operating activities was $17.2 million, which included a net loss of $65.8 million. Non-cash adjustments primarily consisted of $21.7 million in depreciation and amortization, $28.5 million in stock-based compensation, and $2.7 million from lease-related impairment charges, reduced by $4.0 million in net interest income from the accretion of discounts on our short-term investments.Investing activitiesNet cash provided by investing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2024 of $82.2 million was primarily due to $158.2 million provided from the sale and maturity of short-term investments, reduced by $50.2 million in purchases of short-term investments, $18.7 million used to acquire Carevive, and $6.3 million of capitalized internal-use software development costs.Net cash provided by investing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2023 of $15.2 million was primarily due to $188.6 million provided from the sale and maturity of short-term investments, reduced by $165.2 million in purchases of short-term investments, and $6.4 million of capitalized internal-use software development costs.Financing activitiesNet cash provided by financing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2024 of $1.6 million was primarily the result of $1.4 million in proceeds from our ESPP. Net cash provided by financing activities for the six months ended June 30, 2023 of $1.3 million was primarily the result of $2.2 million in proceeds from our ESPP and $0.9 million in stock option exercise proceeds, reduced by $1.8 million in repurchases of common stock.Contractual Obligations and CommitmentsThere have been no material changes to the contractual obligations as disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed with the SEC on February 22, 2024 other than the new Credit Agreement entered subsequent to June 30, 2024 on July 16, 2024, as described in the Liquidity and Capital Resources section above and â€œNote 20â€”Subsequent Events.â€Refer to â€œNote 10â€”Convertible Senior Notesâ€, â€œNote 15â€”Commitments and Contingenciesâ€, and â€œNote 20â€”Subsequent Eventsâ€ to our condensed consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for additional information regarding our commitments and contractual obligations.Off-BalanceÂ Sheet ArrangementsAs of JuneÂ 30, 2024, we did not have any relationships with unconsolidated organizations or financial partnerships, such as structured finance or special purpose entities that would have been established for the purpose of facilitatingÂ off-balanceÂ sheet arrangements or other contractually narrow or limited purposes.Critical Accounting Policies and EstimatesOur managementâ€™s discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on our financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with GAAP. The preparation of these condensed consolidated financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, costs and expenses, and related disclosures. To the extent that there are material differences between these estimates and actual results, our financial condition or results of operations would be affected. We base our estimates on past experience and other assumptions that we believe are reasonable under the circumstances, and we evaluate these estimates on an ongoing basis. Critical accounting policies and estimates are those that we consider critical to understanding our historical and future performance, as these policies relate to the more significant areas involving managementâ€™s judgments and estimates.66Due to the high level of inflation, rising interest rates, and market volatility, amongst other factors, there has been uncertainty and disruption in the global economy and financial markets. We are not aware of any specific event or circumstance that would require updates to our estimates or judgments or require us to revise the carrying value of our assets or liabilities as of the date of issuance of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. These estimates may change as new events occur and additional information is obtained. Actual results could differ materially from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. We will continue to actively monitor the impact of the recent inflationary pressures, market volatility caused by bank failures, the challenging macroeconomic environment in general, and other factors on our estimates, including our expected credit losses, goodwill impairment assessments, and the fair value and/or recoverability of other assets.There have been no material changes to our critical accounting policies and estimates as previously disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed with the SEC on February 22, 2024. See â€œNote 1â€”Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policiesâ€ to our condensed consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for more information regarding the Companyâ€™s significant accounting policies.Recent Accounting PronouncementsSee â€œNote 1â€”Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policiesâ€ to our condensed consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for more information regarding recently issued accounting pronouncements.67Item 3.Â Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market RiskÂ We are exposed to certain market risks in the ordinary course of our business. Market risk represents the risk of loss that may impact our financial position due to adverse changes in financial market prices and rates. Our market risk exposure is primarily a result of fluctuations in interest rates but may include foreign currency exchange risk and inflation in the future.Interest rate riskWe had cash, cash equivalents, and short-term investments of $308.3 million as of JuneÂ 30, 2024, which are held primarily for working capital purposes. We do not make investments for trading or speculative purposes. Our cash equivalents and short-term investments are subject to market risk due to changes in interest rates. Fixed-rate securities may have their market value adversely affected due to a rise in interest rates, while floating rate securities may produce less income than expected if interest rates fall. Due in part to these factors, our future investment income may fluctuate due to changes in interest rates or we may suffer losses in principal if we are forced to sell securities that decline in market value due to changes in interest rates. However, because we classify our investments as â€œavailable for sale,â€ no gains or losses are recognized due to changes in interest rates unless such securities are sold prior to maturity or declines in fair value are determined to be other-than-temporary.As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, a hypothetical 100 basis point change in interest rates would not have had a material impact on the value of our cash equivalents or investment portfolio. Fluctuations in the value of our cash equivalents and investment portfolio caused by a change in interest rates (gains or losses on the carrying value) are recorded in other comprehensive income and are realized only if we sell the underlying securities prior to maturity.On April 14, 2020, we issued $230.0 million in aggregate principal amount Convertible Senior Notes due 2025 (Notes), in a private placement to qualified institutional buyers exempt from registration under the Securities Act (Note Offering). The Notes have a fixed annual interest rate of 2.50%, and, therefore, we do not have economic interest rate exposure on the Notes. However, the values of the Notes are exposed to interest rate risk. Generally, the fair value of our fixed interest rate Notes will increase as interest rates fall and decrease as interest rates rise. We carry the Notes at face value less unamortized discount on our condensed consolidated balance sheets, and we present the fair value for required disclosure purposes only. Subsequent to June 30, 2024, on July 16, 2024, we entered into the Credit Agreement consisting of a $125 million funded term loan and a delayed draw term loan facility in the aggregate principal amount of $100 million, which was undrawn as of the Closing Date. The maturity date of the term loans is July 16, 2029. The interest that accrues on outstanding principal of the term loans is payable in cash on a quarterly basis, which portion accrues at a floating rate equal to SOFR plus 6.5% per year. In the event that SOFR is unavailable, interest will accrue at a floating rate equal to the alternate base rate (as described in the Credit Agreement) plus 5.5% per year. Commencing with the quarter ending on December 31, 2024, we are required to make quarterly principal payments in an amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate original principal amount, and the final maturity date of the term loans is July 16, 2029.In addition to the floating interest rate, we are required to pay a commitment fee on the unutilized commitments under the delayed draw facility ranging from 1.5% to 2.5% per year depending upon the year and the unutilized delayed draw term loan.Interest rate risk also reflects our exposure to movements in interest rates associated with our borrowings. As of the time of this filing a hypothetical change in interest rates of 100 basis points would not have a material impact on the fair value of our outstanding debt.68Foreign currency exchange riskOur reporting currency is the U.S. dollar, and the functional currency of our international subsidiaries is typically their local currency. Our results of operations and cash flows are subject to fluctuations due to changes in foreign currency exchange rates, particularly changes in the Indian Rupee and Singapore Dollar. Due to the relatively small size of our international operations to date, our foreign currency exposure has been fairly limited and not material to our business. Accordingly, we have not instituted a hedging program. We are considering the costs and benefits of initiating such a program and may in the future hedge balances and transactions denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar as we expand our international operations.Today, our international sales contracts are generally denominated in U.S. dollars, while our international operating expenses are often denominated in local currencies. In the future, an increasing portion of our international sales contracts may be denominated in local currencies. Additionally, as we expand our international operations a larger portion of our operating expenses will be denominated in local currencies. Therefore, fluctuations in the value of the U.S. dollar and foreign currencies may affect our results of operations when translated into U.S. dollars.Inflation riskThe recent high inflationary environment has adversely affected workforces, organizations, governments, clients, economies, and financial markets globally, leading to an economic downturn and increased market volatility. It has also disrupted the normal operations of many businesses, including ours. Our health system end market is currently experiencing meaningful financial strain from significant inflation with increases in labor and supply costs without a commensurate increase in revenue, leading to significant margin pressure. Although we are unable to determine the exact impact of inflation on our clients and on our business, we continue to monitor and assess the impact of inflationary pressures on our business operations. If our costs, including labor costs, were to become subject to significant inflationary pressures on an ongoing basis, we may not be able to fully offset such higher costs by increasing fees for our Solution. Our inability or failure to do so could harm our business, results of operations, or financial condition.Item 4.Â Controls and ProceduresEvaluation of disclosure controls and proceduresWe maintain â€œdisclosure controls and procedures,â€ as defined in Rule 13aâ€“15(e) and Rule 15dâ€“15(e) under the Exchange Act that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized, and reported, within the time periods specified in the SECâ€™s rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by a company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive and principal financial officers, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as ofÂ JuneÂ 30, 2024. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures as ofÂ JuneÂ 30, 2024, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of such date, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.Changes in internal control over financial reportingThere was no change in our internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act) that occurred during the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting. 69Inherent limitations on effectiveness of controlsOur management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, believes that our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting are designed to provide reasonable assurance of achieving their objectives and are effective at the reasonable assurance level. However, our management does not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal control over financial reporting will prevent or detect all errors and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision making can be faulty and that breakdowns can occur because of a simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by management override of the controls. The design of any system of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions; over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or the degree of compliance with policies or procedures may deteriorate. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.70Part II. Other InformationItem 1.Â Legal ProceedingsWe are, and from time to time may be, party to litigation and subject to claims incident to the ordinary course of business. As our growth continues, we may become party to an increasing number of litigation matters and claims. The outcome of litigation and claims cannot be predicted with certainty, and the resolution of these matters could materially affect our future results of operations, cash flows, or financial position. We are not presently party to any other legal proceedings that in the opinion of management, if determined to adversely affect us, may individually or taken together have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results, financial condition, or cash flows.For information regarding a legal proceeding that was dismissed with prejudice on June 20, 2023, refer to â€œNote 15â€”Commitments and Contingenciesâ€ to our condensed consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q.Item 1A. Risk FactorsYou should carefully consider the following risk factors, in addition to the other information contained in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, including the section of this report titled â€œManagementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operationsâ€ and our financial statements and related notes. If any of the events described in the following risk factors and the risks described elsewhere in this report occurs, our business, operating results and financial condition could be seriously harmed. This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in the forward-looking statements as a result of factors that are described below and elsewhere in this report.Risks Related to Our Business and IndustryWe operate in a highly competitive industry, and if we are not able to compete effectively, our business and results of operations will be harmed.The market for healthcare solutions is intensely competitive. We compete across various segments within the healthcare market, including with respect to data analytics and technology platforms, healthcare consulting, care management and coordination, population health management, and health information exchange. Competition in our market involves rapidly changing technologies, evolving regulatory requirements and industry expectations, frequent new product introductions, and changes in client requirements. If we are unable to keep pace with the evolving needs of our clients and continue to develop and introduce new applications and services in a timely and efficient manner, demand for our Solution may be reduced and our business and results of operations will be adversely affected.We face competition from industry-agnostic analytics companies, electronic health record (EHR) companies, such as Epic Systems and Cerner, point solution vendors, and healthcare organizations that perform their own analytics. These competitors include large, well-financed, and technologically sophisticated entities. Some of our current large competitors, such as Optum Analytics and IBM, have greater name recognition, longer operating histories, significantly greater resources than we do, and/or more established distribution networks and relationships with healthcare providers. As a result, our current and potential competitors may be able to respond more quickly and effectively than we can to new or changing opportunities, technologies, standards, or client requirements. In addition, current and potential competitors have established, and may in the future establish, cooperative relationships with vendors of complementary products or services to increase the availability of their products or services to the marketplace. Current or future competitors may consolidate to improve the breadth of their products, directly competing with our Solution. Accordingly, new competitors may emerge that have greater market share, larger client bases, greater breadth and volume of data, more widely adopted proprietary technologies, broader offerings, greater marketing expertise, greater financial resources, and larger sales forces than we have, which could put us at a competitive disadvantage. 71Further, in light of these advantages, even if our Solution is more effective than the product or service offerings of our competitors, current or potential clients might select competitive products and services in lieu of purchasing our Solution. We face competition from niche vendors, who offer stand-alone products and services, and from existing enterprise vendors, including those currently focused on software products, which have information systems in place with clients in our target markets. These existing enterprise vendors may now, or in the future, offer or promise products or services with less functionality than our Solution, but offer ease of integration with existing systems and that leverage existing vendor relationships. Increased competition is likely to result in pricing pressures, which could negatively impact our sales, profitability, or market share.Our patient engagement, population health, and care coordination services face competition from a wide variety of market participants. For example, certain health systems have developed their own population health and care coordination systems. If we fail to distinguish our offerings from the other options available to healthcare providers, the demand for and market share of those offerings may decrease.Changes in the healthcare industry could affect the demand for our Solution, cause our existing contracts to be terminated, and negatively impact the process of negotiating future contracts.As the healthcare industry evolves, changes in our client and vendor bases may reduce the demand for our Solution, result in the termination of existing contracts or certain services provided under existing contracts, and make it more difficult to negotiate new contracts on terms that are acceptable to us. For example, the increasing market share of EHR companies in data analytic services at hospital systems may cause our existing clients to terminate contracts with us in order to engage EHR companies to provide these services. Similarly, client and vendor consolidation results in fewer, larger entities with increased bargaining power and the ability to demand terms that are unfavorable to us. If these trends continue, we cannot assure you that we will be able to continue to maintain or expand our client base, negotiate contracts with acceptable terms, or maintain our current pricing structure, and our revenue may decrease.General reductions in expenditures by healthcare organizations, or reductions in such expenditures within market segments that we serve, could have similar impacts with regard to our Solution. Such reductions may result from, among other things, reduced governmental funding for healthcare; a decrease in the number of, or the market exclusivity available to, new drugs coming to market; or adverse changes in business or economic conditions affecting healthcare payors or providers, the pharmaceutical industry, or other healthcare companies that purchase our services (e.g., changes in the design of health plans). In addition, changes in government regulation of the healthcare industry could potentially negatively impact our existing and future contracts. Any of these changes could reduce the purchase of our Solution by such clients, reducing our revenue and possibly requiring us to materially revise our offerings. In addition, our clientsâ€™ expectations regarding pending or potential industry developments may also affect their budgeting processes and spending plans with respect to our Solution.Macroeconomic challenges (including high inflationary and/or high interest rate environments, or market volatility caused by bank failures and measures taken in response thereto), the tight labor market, and any new public health crisis could harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.Recent macroeconomic challenges (including high inflationary and/or high interest rate environments), and the tight labor market continue to adversely affect workforces, organizations, governments, clients, economies, and financial markets globally and have disrupted the normal operations of many businesses, including our business. These factors have and could further decrease healthcare industry spending, adversely affect demand for our Solution, cause one or more of our clients to file for bankruptcy protection or go out of business, cause one or more of our clients to fail to renew, terminate, or renegotiate their contracts, impact expected spending from new clients, negatively impact collections of accounts receivable, and harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition. Further, the sales cycle for a new DOS Subscription Client, which we estimate to typically be approximately one year, could lengthen, as we experienced in 2022 and 2023, resulting in a potentially longer delay between increasing operating expenses and the generation of corresponding revenue, if any. 72We cannot predict with any certainty whether and to what degree the disruption caused by any new public health crisis, the high inflationary environment, rising interest rates, market volatility caused by bank failures and measures taken in response thereto, and reactions to any of the foregoing will continue and expect to face difficulty accurately predicting our internal financial forecasts. Further, it is not possible for us to predict the duration or magnitude of the adverse results of public health crises, and macroeconomic challenges (including the high inflationary and/or high interest rate environments), and their effects on our business, results of operations, or financial condition at this time. Further, market volatility as a result of future failures of financial institutions, similar to the failures of Silicon Valley Bank and Signature Bank, could lead to market-wide liquidity shortages, impair the ability of companies to access near-term working capital needs and create additional market and economic uncertainty. In the event of a failure of any of the financial institutions where we maintain our cash and cash equivalents, there can be no assurance that we would be able to access uninsured funds in a timely manner or at all. Any inability to access or delay in accessing these funds could adversely affect our business and financial position.We may be unable to successfully execute on our growth initiatives, business strategies, or operating plans, as well as cost reduction and restructuring initiatives.We are continually executing a number of growth initiatives, strategies, and operating plans designed to enhance our business, as well as some cost reduction and restructuring initiatives. We may not be able to successfully complete these growth initiatives, strategies, operating plans, and cost reduction and restructuring initiatives, and realize all of the benefits, including growth targets and cost savings, that we expect to achieve or it may be more costly to do so than we anticipate. A variety of factors could cause us not to realize some or all of the expected benefits. These factors include, among others, delays in the anticipated timing of activities related to such growth initiatives, strategies, operating plans, and cost reduction and restructuring initiatives, increased difficulty and cost in implementing these efforts, including difficulties in complying with new regulatory requirements and the incurrence of other unexpected costs associated with operating the business. For example, on October 31, 2023, our board of directors authorized the 2023 Restructuring Plan as part of a restructuring plan intended to optimize our cost structure and focus our investment of resources in key priority areas to align with strategic changes. The 2023 Restructuring Plan reduced our global workforce by approximately 10% during the fourth quarter of 2023 and the first quarter of 2024. We may incur additional expenses not currently contemplated due to events associated with the 2023 Restructuring, such as costs in connection with attrition beyond our intended reduction in force, the loss of institutional knowledge and expertise, or other unforeseen difficulties, delays, or other impacts on other areas of our liabilities and obligations, in each case which could result in losses in future periods or which could otherwise prevent us from realizing, in full or in part, the anticipated benefits and savings from the 2023 Restructuring Plan.Our continued implementation of the 2023 Restructuring Plan or any other programs may disrupt our operations and performance. As a result, we cannot assure you that we will realize these benefits. If, for any reason, the benefits we realize are less than our estimates or the implementation of these growth initiatives, strategies, operating plans, and cost reduction and restructuring initiatives adversely affect our operations or cost more or take longer to effectuate than we expect, or if our assumptions prove inaccurate, our business, financial condition, and results of operations may be materially adversely affected.If we fail to provide effective professional services and high-quality client support, our business and reputation would suffer.Our professional services and high-quality, ongoing client support are important to the successful marketing and sale of our products and services and for the renewal of existing client agreements. Providing these services and support requires that our professional services and support personnel have healthcare, technical, and other knowledge and expertise, making it difficult for us to hire qualified personnel and scale our professional services and support operations. The demand on our client support organization will increase as we expand our business and pursue new clients, and such increased support could require us to devote significant development services and support personnel, which could strain our team and infrastructure and reduce our profit margins. If we do not help our clients quickly resolve any post-implementation issues and provide effective ongoing client support, our ability to sell additional products and services to existing and future clients could suffer and our reputation would be harmed.73Our sales cycles can be long and unpredictable, and our sales efforts require a considerable investment of time and expense. If our sales cycle lengthens or we invest substantial resources pursuing unsuccessful sales opportunities, our results of operations and growth would be harmed.Our sales process entails planning discussions with prospective clients, analyzing their existing solutions, and identifying how these potential clients can use and benefit from our Solution. The sales cycle for a new DOS Subscription Client, from the time of prospect qualification to the completion of the first sale, we estimate to typically be approximately one year and in some cases has exceeded two years. We spend substantial time, effort, and money in our sales efforts without any assurance that our efforts will result in the sale of our Solution. In addition, our sales cycle and timing of sales can vary substantially from client to client because of various factors, including the discretionary nature of potential clientsâ€™ purchasing and budget decisions, the announcement or planned introduction of new analytics applications or services by us or our competitors, and the purchasing approval processes of potential clients. Further, the sales cycles of certain Solutions with a more limited operating history, such as TEMS, can be more difficult to predict and, at times, longer than our typical sales cycle. If our sales cycle lengthens, as we experienced in 2022 and 2023, or we invest substantial resources pursuing unsuccessful sales opportunities, our results of operations and growth would be harmed.Our Solution may not operate properly, which could damage our reputation, give rise to claims against us, or divert application of our resources from other purposes, any of which could harm our business and results of operations.Proprietary software development is time-consuming, expensive, and complex. Unforeseen difficulties can arise. We may encounter technical obstacles, and it is possible that we will discover additional problems that prevent our applications from operating properly. If our systems do not function reliably or fail to meet user or client expectations in terms of performance, clients could assert liability claims against us or attempt to cancel their contracts with us, and users of our software could choose to cease their use of our Solution. This could damage our reputation and impair our ability to attract or retain clients.Information services as complex as those we offer have, in the past, contained, and may in the future develop or contain, undetected defects, vulnerabilities, or errors. We cannot be assured that material performance problems or defects in our software or software provided by our vendors will not arise in the future. Errors may result from sources beyond our control, including the receipt, entry, or interpretation of patient information; the interface of our software with legacy systems or vendor systems that we did not develop; or errors in data provided by third parties. Despite testing, defects or errors may arise in our existing or new software or service processes following introduction to the market.Clients rely on our Solution to collect, manage, and report clinical, financial, and operational data, and to provide timely and accurate information regarding medical treatment and care delivery patterns. They may have a greater sensitivity to service errors and security vulnerabilities than clients of software products in general. Clinicians may also refer to our predictive models for care delivery prioritization, and to inform treatment protocols. Limitations of liability and disclaimers that purport to limit our liability for damages related to defects in our software or content which we may include in our subscription and services agreements may not be enforced by a court or other tribunal or otherwise effectively protect us from related claims. In most cases, we maintain liability insurance coverage, including coverage for errors and omissions. However, it is possible that claims could exceed the amount of our applicable insurance coverage or that this coverage may not continue to be available on acceptable terms or in sufficient amounts.In light of this, defects, vulnerabilities, and errors and any failure by us to identify and address them could result in loss of revenue or market share; liability to clients, clinicians, their patients, or others; failure to achieve market acceptance or expansion; diversion of development and management resources; delays in the introduction of new services; injury to our reputation; and increased service and maintenance costs. 74Defects, vulnerabilities, or errors in our software and service processes might discourage existing or potential clients from purchasing services from us. Correction of defects, vulnerabilities, or errors could prove to be impossible or impractical. The costs incurred in correcting any defects, vulnerabilities, or errors or in responding to resulting claims or liability may be substantial and could adversely affect our results of operations.If we are not able to maintain and enhance our reputation and brand recognition, our business and results of operations will be harmed.We believe that maintaining and enhancing our reputation and brand recognition is critical to our relationships with existing clients and to our ability to attract new clients. The promotion of our brands may require us to make substantial investments and we anticipate that, as our market becomes increasingly competitive, these marketing initiatives may become increasingly difficult and expensive. Our marketing activities may not be successful or yield increased revenue, and to the extent that these activities yield increased revenue, the increased revenue may not offset the expenses we incur and our results of operations could be harmed. In addition, any factor that diminishes our reputation or that of our management, including failing to meet the expectations of our clients, or any adverse publicity surrounding one of our investors or clients, could make it substantially more difficult for us to attract new clients. If we do not successfully maintain and enhance our reputation and brand recognition, our business may not grow and we could lose our relationships with clients, which would harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.If we do not continue to innovate and provide services that are useful to clients and users, we may not remain competitive, and our revenue and results of operations could suffer.The market for healthcare in the United States is in the early stages of structural change and is rapidly evolving, including towards a more value-based care model. Our success depends on our ability to keep pace with technological developments, satisfy increasingly sophisticated client and user requirements, and sustain market acceptance. Our future financial performance will depend in part on growth in this market and on our ability to adapt to emerging demands of this market, including adapting to the ways our clients or users access and use our Solution. Although we have built several new software analytics applications in the last few years, we may not be able to sustain this rate of innovation and/or the new software analytics applications may not meet the evolving needs of our clients. Our competitors are constantly developing products and services that may become more efficient or appealing to our clients or users. As a result, we must continue to invest significant resources in research and development in order to enhance our existing services and applications, and introduce new high-quality services and applications that clients will want, while offering our Solution at competitive prices. If we are unable to predict user preferences or industry changes, or if we are unable to maintain and improve our Solution on a timely or cost-effective basis, we may lose clients and users. Our results of operations would also suffer if our innovations are not responsive to the needs of our clients, are not appropriately timed with market opportunity, or are not effectively brought to market, including as the result of delayed releases or releases that are ineffective or have errors or defects. As technology continues to develop, our competitors may be able to offer results that are, or that are perceived to be, substantially similar to, or better than, those generated by our Solution. This may force us to compete on additional service attributes and to expend significant resources in order to remain competitive.Our business could be adversely affected if our clients are not satisfied with our Solution.We depend on client satisfaction to succeed with respect to our Solution. Our sales organization is dependent on the quality of our offerings, our business reputation, and the strong recommendations from existing clients. If our Solution does not function reliably or fails to meet client expectations in terms of performance and availability, clients could assert claims against us, terminate their contracts with us or publish negative feedback. This could damage our reputation and impair our ability to attract or retain clients. Furthermore, we provide professional services to clients to support their use of our Solution and to achieve measurable clinical, financial, and operational improvements.75Any failure to maintain high-quality professional services, or a market perception that we do not maintain high-quality professional services, could harm our reputation, adversely affect our ability to sell our Solution to existing and prospective clients, and harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.If our existing clients do not continue or renew their contracts with us, renew at lower fee levels, or decline to purchase additional technology and services from us, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.We expect to derive a significant portion of our revenue from the renewal of existing client contracts and sales of additional technology and services to existing clients. As part of our growth strategy, for instance, we have recently focused on expanding our Solution among current clients, including Solutions with a more limited operating history, such as TEMS. As a result, selling additional technology and services is critical to our future business, revenue growth, and results of operations. Factors that may affect our ability to sell additional technology and services include, but are not limited to, the following:â€¢the price, performance, and functionality of our Solution;â€¢the availability, price, performance, and functionality of competing solutions;â€¢our ability to develop and sell complementary technology and services;â€¢the stability, performance, and security of our hosting infrastructure and hosting services;â€¢our ability to continuously deliver measurable improvements;â€¢health systemsâ€™ demand for professional services to augment their internal data analytics function;â€¢changes in healthcare laws, regulations, or trends; â€¢the business environment of our clients and, in particular, our clientsâ€™ financial performance and headcount reductions by our clients; andâ€¢the impact of macroeconomic challenges, including the impact of high inflationary and/or high interest rate environments, market volatility caused by bank failures and measures taken in response thereto, the tight labor market, and the impact of any natural disasters or public health emergencies, such as the COVID-19 pandemic, upon our clients.We generally enter into subscription contracts with our clients for access to our Solution. Many of these contracts have initial terms of one to three years. Most of our clients have no obligation to renew their subscriptions for our Solution after the initial term expires. Although we have long-term contracts with many clients, these contracts may be terminated by the client (generally, subject to providing us with prior notice before their term expires) for convenience or for certain specified reasons, including changes in the regulatory landscape, loss of certain third-party licenses, or breach of our contractual obligations, including poor performance by us in areas that include repeated failures by us to provide specified levels of service over certain performance periods. We expect that future contracts will contain similar provisions. If any of our contracts with our clients are terminated, we may not be able to recover all fees due under the terminated contract and we will lose future revenue from that client, which may adversely affect our results of operations.In addition, our clients may negotiate terms less advantageous to us upon renewal, which may reduce our revenue from these clients. Our future results of operations also depend, in part, on our ability to upgrade and enhance our Solution. If our clients fail to renew their contracts, renew their contracts upon less favorable terms, or at lower fee levels or fail to purchase new technology and services from us, our revenue may decline or our future revenue growth may be constrained.76Our results of operations have in the past fluctuated and may continue to fluctuate significantly, and if we fail to meet the expectations of securities analysts or investors, our stock price and the value of an investment in our common stock could decline substantially.Our results of operations are likely to fluctuate, and if we fail to meet or exceed the expectations of securities analysts or investors, the trading price of our common stock could decline. Moreover, our stock price may be based on expectations of our future performance that may be unrealistic or that may not be met. Some of the factors that could cause our financial performance and results of operations to fluctuate from quarter to quarter include:â€¢the extent to which our Solution achieves or maintains market acceptance;â€¢our ability to introduce new applications, updates, and enhancements to our existing applications on a timely basis;â€¢new competitors and the introduction of enhanced products and services from new or existing competitors;â€¢the length of our contracting and implementation cycles and our fulfillment periods for our Solution;â€¢the mix of revenue generated from professional services as compared to technology subscriptions;â€¢clients reducing or eliminating their spend with us in response to macroeconomic factors or otherwise;â€¢the financial condition of our current and future clients;â€¢changes in client budgets and procurement policies;â€¢changes in regulations or marketing strategies;â€¢the impact of macroeconomic challenges, including the high inflationary and/or high interest rate environments, market volatility caused by bank failures and measures taken in response thereto, and public health crises, such as the COVID-19 pandemic, on our clients, partners, and business;â€¢the amount and timing of our investment in research and development activities;â€¢the amount and timing of our investment in sales and marketing activities;â€¢technical difficulties or interruptions to our Solution, including related to updates to our technology or technology migrations;â€¢our ability to hire and retain qualified personnel;â€¢changes in the regulatory environment related to healthcare;â€¢regulatory compliance costs;â€¢the timing, size, and integration success of potential future acquisitions; â€¢unforeseen legal expenses, including litigation and settlement costs; andâ€¢buying patterns of our clients and the related seasonality impacts on our business.77Many of these factors are not within our control, and the occurrence of one or more of them might cause our results of operations to vary widely. For example, we have experienced, and expect that we will continue to experience, seasonality in the number of new clients that subscribe to our Solution; specifically, new clients (DOS Subscription Clients in particular) tend to subscribe to our Solution at higher rates in the second and fourth quarters of the year. Seasonality in our business may cause period-to-period fluctuations in certain of our operating results and financial metrics, and thus limit our ability to predict our future results. As such, we believe that quarter-to-quarter comparisons of our revenue and results of operations may not be meaningful and should not be relied upon as an indication of future performance.A significant portion of our operating expense is relatively fixed in nature in the short term, and planned expenditures are based in part on expectations regarding future revenue and profitability. Accordingly, unexpected revenue shortfalls, lower-than-expected revenue increases as a result of planned expenditures, and longer-than-expected impact on profitability and margins as a result of planned expenditures may decrease our gross margins and profitability and could cause significant changes in our results of operations from quarter to quarter. In addition, our future quarterly results of operations may fluctuate and may not meet the expectations of securities analysts or investors. If this occurs, the trading price of our common stock could fall substantially, either suddenly or over time.Our pricing may change over time and our ability to efficiently price our Solution will affect our results of operations and our ability to attract or retain clients.In the past, we have adjusted our prices as a result of offering new applications and services and client demand. For example, in the fourth quarter of 2018, we began to introduce new pricing for our Solution to new clients and, in 2015, we introduced our subscription model, in each case, the full effect of which we expected would be realized in future years. While we determine our prices based on prior experience, feedback from clients, and other factors and information, our assessments may not be accurate and we could be underpricing or overpricing our Solution, which may require us to continue to adjust our pricing model. Furthermore, as our applications and services change, then we may need to, or choose to, revise our pricing as our prior experience in those areas will be limited. Such changes to our pricing model or our inability to efficiently price our Solution could harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition and impact our ability to predict our future performance.If our Solution fails to provide accurate and timely information, or if our content or any other element of our Solution is associated with faulty clinical decisions or treatment, we could have liability to clients, clinicians, patients, or others, which could adversely affect our results of operations.Our Solution may be used by clients to support clinical decision-making by providers and interpret information about patient medical histories, treatment plans, medical conditions, and the use of particular medications. If our Solution is associated with faulty clinical decisions or treatment, then clients or their patients could assert claims against us that could result in substantial costs to us, harm our reputation in the industry, and cause demand for our Solution to decline. In addition, our analytics services may be used by our clients to inform clinical decision-making, provide access to patient medical histories, and assist in creating patient treatment plans. Therefore, if data analyses are presented incorrectly in our Solution or they are incomplete, or if we make mistakes in the capture or input of these data, adverse consequences, including death, may occur and give rise to product liability, medical malpractice liability, and other claims against us by clients, clinicians, patients, or others. We often have little control over data accuracy, yet a court or government agency may take the position that our storage and display of health information exposes us to personal injury liability or other liability for wrongful delivery or handling of healthcare services or erroneous health information.Our clinical guidelines, algorithms, and protocols may be viewed as providing healthcare professionals with guidance on care management, care coordination, or treatment decisions. If our content, or content we obtain from third parties, contains inaccuracies, or we introduce inaccuracies in the process of implementing third-party content, it is possible that patients, clinicians, consumers, the providers of the third-party content, or others may sue us if they are harmed as a result of such inaccuracies. We cannot assure you that our software development, editorial, and other quality control procedures will be sufficient to ensure that there are no errors or omissions in any particular content or our software or algorithms.78The assertion of such claims and ensuing litigation, regardless of its outcome, could result in substantial cost to us, divert managementâ€™s attention from operations, damage our reputation, and decrease market acceptance of our Solution. We attempt to limit by contract our liability for damages, have our clients assume responsibility for clinical treatment, diagnoses, medical oversight, and dosing decisions, and require that our clients assume responsibility for medical care and approve key algorithms, clinical guidelines, clinical protocols, content, and data. Despite these precautions, the allocations of responsibility and limitations of liability set forth in our contracts may not be enforceable, be binding upon patients, or otherwise protect us from liability for damages. Furthermore, general liability and errors and omissions insurance coverage and medical malpractice liability coverage may not continue to be available on acceptable terms or may not be available in sufficient amounts to cover one or more large claims against us. In addition, the insurer might disclaim coverage as to any future claim. One or more large claims could exceed our available insurance coverage. If any of these events occur, they could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, or results of operations.Although we carry insurance covering medical malpractice claims in amounts that we believe are appropriate in light of the risks attendant to our business, successful medical liability claims could result in substantial damage awards that exceed the limits of our insurance coverage. In addition, professional liability insurance is expensive and insurance premiums may increase significantly in the future, particularly as we expand our Solution. As a result, adequate professional liability insurance may not be available to our providers or to us in the future at acceptable costs or at all.Any claims made against us that are not fully covered by insurance could be costly to defend against, result in substantial damage awards against us, and divert the attention of our management and our providers from our operations, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations. In addition, any claims may adversely affect our business or reputation.Future litigation against us could be costly and time-consuming to defend and could result in additional liabilities.We may from time to time be subject to legal proceedings and claims that arise in the ordinary course of business, such as claims brought by our clients or vendors in connection with commercial disputes, litigation related to intellectual property, and employment claims made by our current or former employees. Claims may also be asserted by or on behalf of a variety of other parties, including government agencies, patients or vendors of our clients, or stockholders. Any litigation involving us may result in substantial costs, operationally restrict our business, and may divert managementâ€™s attention and resources, which may seriously harm our business, overall financial condition, and results of operations. Insurance may not cover existing or future claims, be sufficient to fully compensate us for one or more of such claims, or continue to be available on terms acceptable to us. A claim brought against us that is uninsured or underinsured could result in unanticipated costs, thereby reducing our results of operations and resulting in a reduction in the trading price of our stock.We derive a significant portion of our revenue from our largest clients. The loss, termination, or renegotiation of any contract could negatively impact our results.Historically, we have relied on a limited number of clients for a significant portion of our total revenue and accounts receivable. Our three largest clients during 2023 comprised 5.5%, 3.6%, and 3.5% of our revenue, or 12.6% in the aggregate. Our three largest clients during 2022 comprised 4.1%, 3.7%, and 3.4% of our revenue, or 11.2% in the aggregate. The sudden loss of any of our largest clients or the renegotiation of any of our largest client contracts could adversely affect our results of operations. In the ordinary course of business, we engage in active discussions and renegotiations with our clients in respect of our Solution and the terms of our client agreements, including our fees. As our clientsâ€™ businesses respond to market dynamics and financial pressures, and as our clients make strategic business decisions in respect of the lines of business they pursue and programs in which they participate, we expect that certain of our clients will, from time to time, seek to restructure their agreements with us. 79In the ordinary course, we renegotiate the terms of our agreements with our clients in connection with renewals or extensions of these agreements. These discussions and future discussions could result in reductions to the fees and changes to the scope of services contemplated by our original client contracts and consequently could negatively impact our revenue, business, and prospects.Because we rely on a limited number of clients for a significant portion of our revenue, we depend on the creditworthiness of these clients. Our clients are subject to a number of risks including reductions in payment rates from governmental payors, higher than expected healthcare costs, and lack of predictability of financial results when entering new lines of business. If the financial condition of our clients declines, our credit risk could increase. Should one or more of our significant clients declare bankruptcy, be declared insolvent, or otherwise be restricted by state or federal laws or regulation from continuing in some or all of their operations, this could adversely affect our ongoing revenue, the collectability of our accounts receivable, our bad debt reserves and net income. In early May 2024, one of our clients, Steward Health Care, filed a voluntary petition for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, this clientâ€™s outstanding balance represented approximately 15% of our outstanding accounts receivable. We are currently unable to predict the outcome of this matter, including whether and to what extent we may incur a credit loss and whether the outcome of this matter may have other negative impacts on our results and our company.Because we generally recognize technology and professional services revenue ratably over the term of the contract for our services, a significant downturn in our business may not be reflected immediately in our results of operations, which increases the difficulty of evaluating our future financial performance.We generally recognize technology and professional services revenue ratably over the term of a contract. As a result, a substantial portion of our revenue is generated from contracts entered into during prior periods. Consequently, a decline in new contracts in any quarter may not affect our results of operations in that quarter but could reduce our revenue in future quarters. Additionally, the timing of renewals or non-renewals of a contract during any quarter may only affect our financial performance in future quarters. For example, the non-renewal of a subscription agreement late in a quarter will have minimal impact on revenue for that quarter but will reduce our revenue in future quarters. Accordingly, the effect of significant declines in sales may not be reflected in our short-term results of operations, which would make these reported results less indicative of our future financial results. By contrast, a non-renewal occurring early in a quarter may have a significant negative impact on revenue for that quarter and we may not be able to offset a decline in revenue due to non-renewal with revenue from new contracts entered into in the same quarter. In addition, we may be unable to quickly adjust our costs in response to reduced revenue.If we are unable to implement and maintain effective internal controls over financial reporting, investors may lose confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial reports and the market price of our common stock could be adversely affected.As a public company, we are required to maintain internal controls over financial reporting and to report any material weaknesses in such internal controls. Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act requires that we evaluate and determine the effectiveness of our internal controls over financial reporting. We are also required to provide an annual management report on the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting. Many of the internal controls we have implemented pursuant to the Sarbanes-Oxley Act are process controls with respect to which a material weakness may be found whether or not any error has been identified in our reported financial statements. This may be confusing to investors and result in damage to our reputation, which may harm our business. Additionally, the proper design and assessment of internal controls over financial reporting are subject to varying interpretations, and, as a result, application in practice may evolve over time as new guidance is provided by regulatory and governing bodies and as common practices evolve. This could result in continuing uncertainty regarding the proper design and assessment of internal controls over financial reporting and higher costs necessitated by ongoing revisions to internal controls. We must continue to monitor and assess our internal control over financial reporting. If in the future we have any material weaknesses, we may not detect errors on a timely basis and our financial statements may be materially misstated. 80Additionally, if we are unable to comply with the requirements of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, are unable to assert that our internal controls over financial reporting are effective, identify material weaknesses in our internal controls over financial reporting, or if our independent registered public accounting firm is unable to express an opinion as to the effectiveness of our internal controls over financial reporting, investors may lose confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial reports, and the market price of our common stock could be adversely affected, and we could become subject to investigations by the stock exchange on which our securities are listed, the SEC, or other regulatory authorities, which could require additional financial and management resources.We may acquire other companies or technologies, which could divert our managementâ€™s attention, result in dilution to our stockholders, and otherwise disrupt our operations and we may have difficulty integrating any such acquisitions successfully or realizing the anticipated benefits therefrom, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.We may seek to acquire or invest in businesses, applications, services, or technologies that we believe could complement or expand our Solution, enhance our technical capabilities, or otherwise offer growth opportunities. The pursuit of potential acquisitions may divert the attention of management and cause us to incur various expenses in identifying, investigating, and pursuing suitable acquisitions, whether or not they are consummated. We have in the past and may in the future have difficulty integrating acquired businesses. During 2020 we acquired Able Health, Healthfinch, and Vitalware, during 2021 we acquired Twistle, during 2022 we acquired ARMUS and KPI Ninja, during 2023 we acquired ERS, and during 2024 we acquired Carevive and Lumeon. We may have difficulty cross-selling our Solution to acquired clients, and we may have difficulty integrating, or incur integration-related costs associated with, newly acquired team members.We have limited experience in acquiring other businesses. If we acquire additional businesses, we may not be able to integrate the acquired personnel, operations, and technologies successfully, or effectively manage the combined business following the acquisition. We also may not achieve the anticipated benefits from the acquired business due to a number of factors, including, but not limited to:â€¢inability to integrate or benefit from acquired technologies or services in a profitable manner;â€¢unanticipated costs or liabilities associated with the acquisition;â€¢difficulty integrating the accounting systems, operations, and personnel of the acquired business;â€¢difficulties and additional expenses associated with supporting legacy products and hosting infrastructure of the acquired business;â€¢difficulty converting the clients of the acquired business onto our DOS platform and contract terms, including disparities in the revenue, licensing, support, or professional services model of the acquired business;â€¢diversion of managementâ€™s attention from other business concerns;â€¢adverse effects on our existing business relationships with business partners and clients as a result of the acquisition;â€¢the potential loss of key employees;â€¢use of resources that are needed in other parts of our business; andâ€¢use of substantial portions of our available cash to consummate the acquisition.In addition, a significant portion of the purchase price of companies we acquire may be allocated to acquired goodwill and other intangible assets, which must be assessed for impairment at least annually. If our acquisitions do not yield expected returns or fair value estimates deteriorate, we may be required to take charges to our results of operations based on this impairment assessment process, which could adversely affect our results of operations. 81Acquisitions could also result in dilutive issuances of equity securities or the incurrence of debt, which could adversely affect our results of operations. In addition, if an acquired business fails to meet our expectations, our business, financial condition, and results of operations may suffer. Also, the anticipated benefit of any acquisition may not materialize or may be prohibited by contractual obligations we may enter into in the future with lenders or other third parties. Additionally, future acquisitions or dispositions could result in potentially dilutive issuances of our equity securities, the incurrence of debt, contingent liabilities, or amortization expenses or write-offs of goodwill, any of which could harm our financial condition. We cannot predict the number, timing, or size of future acquisitions, or the effect that any such transactions might have on our results of operations.Because competition for our target employees is intense, we may not be able to attract and retain the highly skilled employees we need to support our continued growth.To continue to execute on our growth and operating plan, we must attract and retain highly qualified personnel, and we may modify our compensation program and practices for our team members. Competition for such personnel is intense, especially for senior sales executives and software engineers with high levels of experience in designing and developing applications and consulting and analytics services. We may not be successful in attracting and retaining qualified personnel, including due to changes to our compensation program or practices. We have from time to time in the past experienced, and we expect to continue to experience in the future, difficulty in hiring and retaining highly skilled employees with appropriate qualifications. For example, the 2023 Restructuring Plan and other restructurings may result in attrition beyond our intended reduction in force or may adversely impact our ability to recruit and hire qualified personnel in the future. In addition, our search for replacements for departed employees may cause uncertainty regarding the future of our business, impact employee hiring and retention, and adversely impact our revenue, results of operations, and financial condition. Many of the companies with which we compete for experienced personnel have greater resources than we have. In addition, in making employment decisions, particularly in the Internet and high-technology industries, job candidates often consider the value of the equity awards they may receive in connection with their employment. Volatility in the price of our stock or failure to obtain stockholder approval for increases in the number of shares available for grant under our equity plans may, therefore, adversely affect our ability to attract or retain key employees. If we fail to attract new personnel or fail to retain and motivate our current personnel, our business and future growth prospects could be severely harmed.We depend on our senior management team, and the loss of one or more of our executive officers or key employees or an inability to attract and retain highly skilled employees could adversely affect our business.Our success depends largely upon the continued services of our key executive officers and recruitment of additional highly skilled employees. From time to time, there may be changes in our senior management team resulting from the hiring or departure of executives, which could disrupt our business. Several of our senior leaders are active members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. There is a risk that in the future, one or more of these individuals could receive a call to serve in a full-time capacity for the church, which has already occurred, including with our former Chief Operating Officer, Paul Horstmeier, who stepped down from his role of Chief Operating Officer effective March 31, 2023. Hiring executives with needed skills or the replacement of one or more of our executive officers or other key employees would likely involve significant time and costs and may significantly delay or prevent the achievement of our business objectives. In addition, competition for qualified management in our industry is intense. Many of the companies with which we compete for management personnel have greater financial and other resources than we do. We have not entered into term-based employment agreements with our executive officers. All of our employees are â€œat-willâ€ employees, and their employment can be terminated by us or them at any time, for any reason. The departure of key personnel could adversely affect the conduct of our business. In such event, we would be required to hire other personnel to manage and operate our business, and there can be no assurance that we would be able to employ a suitable replacement for the departing individual, or that a replacement could be hired on terms that are favorable to us. In addition, volatility or lack of performance in our stock price may affect our ability to attract replacements should key personnel depart. If we are not able to retain any of our key management personnel, our business could be harmed.82Our corporate culture has contributed to our success, and if we cannot maintain this culture as we grow, we could lose the innovation, creativity, and teamwork fostered by our culture, which could harm our business.We believe that our corporate culture has been an important contributor to our success, which we believe fosters innovation, teamwork, and passion for providing high levels of client satisfaction. As we continue to grow, we must effectively integrate, develop, and motivate a growing number of new employees. As a result, we may find it difficult to maintain our corporate culture, which could limit our ability to innovate and operate effectively. Any failure to preserve our culture could also negatively affect our ability to retain and recruit personnel, maintain our performance, or execute on our business strategy.If we fail to effectively manage our growth and organizational change, our business and results of operations could be harmed.We have experienced, and may continue to experience, rapid growth and organizational change, which has placed, and may continue to place, significant demands on our management, operational, and financial resources. In addition, if we fail to successfully integrate new team members or fail to effectively manage organizational changes, it could harm our culture, business, financial condition and results of operations. For example, the expense reduction measures taken in connection with the 2023 Restructuring Plan may result in unintended consequences and costs, including costs associated with attrition beyond our intended reduction in force, a decrease in morale among team members following the completion of the 2023 Restructuring Plan, adverse impacts in our ability to recruit and hire qualified personnel in the future, and the loss of institutional knowledge and expertise, which could result in losses in future periods or otherwise prevent us from realizing, in full or in part, the anticipated benefits and savings from the 2023 Restructuring Plan. In addition, we must continue to maintain, and may need to enhance, our information technology infrastructure and financial and accounting systems and controls, as well as manage expanded operations in geographically distributed locations, which may include offshore and near shore, which will place additional demands on our resources and operations. We also must attract, train, and retain a significant number of qualified sales and marketing personnel, professional services personnel, software engineers, technical personnel, service offering personnel, and management personnel. At times, this will require us to invest in and commit significant financial, operational, and management resources to grow and change in these areas without undermining the corporate culture that has been critical to our growth so far. If we do not achieve the benefits anticipated from these investments or organizational changes, or if the realization of these benefits is delayed, our results of operations may be adversely affected. If we fail to provide effective client training on our Solution and high-quality client support, our business and reputation could suffer. Failure to effectively manage our growth or organizational changes could lead us to over-invest or under-invest in technology and operations; result in weaknesses in our infrastructure, systems, or controls; give rise to operational mistakes, losses, or loss of productivity or business opportunities; reduce client or user satisfaction; limit our ability to respond to competitive pressures; and result in loss of team members and reduced productivity of remaining team members. Our growth or organizational changes could require significant capital expenditures and may divert financial resources and management attention from other projects, such as the development of new or enhanced services or the acquisition of suitable businesses or technologies. If our management is unable to effectively manage our growth or organizational changes, our expenses may increase more than expected, cost savings may not be realized, our revenue could decline or may grow more slowly than expected, and we may be unable to implement our business strategy, and may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.We may not grow at the rates we historically have achieved or at all, even if our key metrics may indicate growth.We have experienced periods of significant growth, including in the last five years. At times, our growth has moderated. Future revenue may not grow at the same rates experienced during times of significant growth or may decline. Further, larger revenue opportunities that include portions of our Solution with less operating history could cause our growth to become less predictable and/or choppier relative to prior periods. Our future growth will depend, in part, on our ability to grow our revenue from existing clients, to complete sales to potential future clients, to expand our client and member bases, to prevent churn of existing clients, and to develop new solutions. 83Our future growth may also be driven by expansion into adjacent markets and/or international expansion. We can provide no assurances that we will be successful in executing on these growth strategies or that we will continue to grow our revenue or to generate net income. Our historical results may not be indicative of future performance. Our ability to execute on our existing sales pipeline, create additional sales pipelines, and expand our client base depends on, among other things, the attractiveness of our Solution relative to those offered by our competitors, our ability to demonstrate the value of our existing and future services, and our ability to attract and retain a sufficient number of qualified sales and marketing leadership and support personnel. In addition, our existing clients may be slower to adopt our Solution than we currently anticipate, which could adversely affect our results of operations and growth prospects.Our estimates of market opportunity and forecasts of market growth may prove to be inaccurate, and even if the markets in which we compete achieve the forecasted growth, our business may not grow at similar rates, or at all.Our market opportunity estimates and growth forecasts are subject to significant uncertainty and are based on assumptions and estimates which may not prove to be accurate. The estimates and forecasts relating to the size and expected growth of our target market may prove to be inaccurate. Even if the markets in which we compete meet the size estimates and growth forecasts, our business may not grow at similar rates, or at all. Our growth is subject to many factors, including our success in implementing our business strategy, which is subject to many risks and uncertainties.Risks Related to Data and Intellectual PropertyFailure by our clients to obtain proper permissions and waivers may result in claims against us or may limit or prevent our use of data, which could harm our business.We require our clients to provide necessary notices and to obtain necessary permissions and waivers for use and disclosure of the information that we receive, and we require contractual assurances from them that they have done so and will do so. If they do not obtain necessary permissions and waivers, then our use and disclosure of information that we receive from them or on their behalf may be restricted or prohibited by state, federal, or international privacy or data protection laws, or other related privacy and data protection laws. This could impair our functions, processes, and databases that reflect, contain, or are based upon such data and may prevent the use of such data, including our ability to provide such data to third parties that are incorporated into our service offerings. Furthermore, this may cause us to breach obligations to third parties to whom we may provide such data, such as third-party service or technology providers that are incorporated into our service offerings. In addition, this could interfere with or prevent data sourcing, data analyses, or limit other data-driven activities that benefit us. Moreover, we may be subject to claims, civil and/or criminal liability or government or state attorneys general investigations for use or disclosure of information by reason of lack of valid notice, permission, or waiver. These claims, liabilities or government or state attorneys general investigations could subject us to unexpected costs and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.Our business and operations may suffer in the event of information technology system failures, cyberattacks, or deficiencies in our cybersecurity.Our Solution involves the storage and transmission of our clientsâ€™ proprietary information, including personal or identifying information regarding patients and their protected health information (PHI). Despite the implementation of security measures, our information technology systems and those of our clients, contractors, consultants, and collaborators are vulnerable to attack, damage and interruption from cyberattacks, â€œphishingâ€ attacks, computer viruses and malware (e.g., ransomware), natural disasters, terrorism, war, telecommunication and electrical failures, employee theft or misuse, human error, fraud, denial or degradation of service attacks, sophisticated nation-state and nation-state-supported actors or unauthorized access or use by persons inside our organization, or persons with access to systems inside our organization. Attacks upon information technology systems are increasing in their frequency, levels of persistence, sophistication, and intensity, and are being conducted by sophisticated and organized groups and individuals with a wide range of motives and expertise. 84We may also face increased cybersecurity risks due to our reliance on internet technology and the number of our employees who are working remotely, which may create additional opportunities for cybercriminals to exploit vulnerabilities. Further, political and international uncertainty, competition and disputes, including the war involving Russia and Ukraine, could create tension that results in cyber-attacks or cybersecurity incidents that could either directly or indirectly impact our operations. Because the techniques used to obtain unauthorized access or sabotage systems change frequently and generally are not identified until they are launched against a target, we may be unable to anticipate these techniques or to implement adequate preventative measures. We may also experience security breaches that may remain undetected for an extended period. Moreover, the detection, prevention, and remediation of known or unknown security vulnerabilities, including those arising from third-party hardware or software, may result in additional direct or indirect costs and management time. Even if identified, we may be unable to adequately investigate or remediate incidents or breaches due to attackers increasingly using tools and techniques that are designed to circumvent controls, to avoid detection, and to remove or obfuscate forensic evidence. As a result, unauthorized access or security breaches as a result of third-party action, employee error, malfeasance, or otherwise could result in the loss or inappropriate use of information, litigation, indemnity obligations, damage to our reputation, and other liability such as government or state Attorney General investigations. We and certain of our service providers are from time to time subject to cyberattacks and security incidents. While we do not believe that we have experienced any significant system failure, accident, or security breach to date, if such an event were to occur and cause interruptions in our operations, it could adversely affect our ability to attract new clients, cause existing clients to elect to not renew their subscriptions, result in reputational damage, or subject us to third-party lawsuits, regulatory fines, mandatory disclosures, or other action or liability, which could adversely affect our results of operations. Our general liability insurance may not be adequate to cover all potential claims to which we are exposed and may not be adequate to indemnify us for liability that may be imposed or the losses associated with such events, and in any case, such insurance may not cover all of the specific costs, expenses, and losses we could incur in responding to and remediating a security breach. A security breach of another significant provider of cloud-based solutions may also negatively impact the demand for our Solution.Our Solution is dependent on our ability to source data from third parties, and such third parties could take steps to block our access to data, or increase fees or impose fees for such access, which could impair our ability to provide our Solution, limit the effectiveness of our Solution or adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.Our data platform requires us to source data from multiple clinical, financial, and operational data sources, which sources are also typically third-party vendors of our clients. The functioning of our analytics applications and our ability to perform analytics services is predicated on our ability to establish interfaces that download the relevant data from these source systems on a repeated basis and in a reliable manner. We may encounter vendors that engage in information blocking practices that may inhibit our ability to access the relevant data on behalf of clients or impose new or additional costs. In 2020, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Servicesâ€™ Office of the National Coordinator for Health Information Technology (ONC) and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services promulgated final rules to support access, exchange, and use of electronic health information (EHI), referred to as the Final Rule. The Final Rule is intended to clarify provisions of the 21st Century Cures Act regarding interoperability and information blocking, and, subject to the interpretations of the Final Rule, and exceptions to what constitutes information blocking, may create significant new requirements for healthcare industry participants. The Final Rule requires certain electronic health record technology to incorporate standardized application programming interfaces to allow individuals to securely and easily access structured EHI using smartphone applications, provides patients with certain rights to electronic access to their EHI (structured and/or unstructured) at no cost and implements the information blocking provisions of the 21st Century Cures Act, subject to eight exceptions that will not be considered information blocking as long as specific conditions are met. In April 2023, the ONC issued a notice of proposed rulemaking that would modify certain components of the Final Rule, including modifying and expanding certain exceptions to the information blocking regulations, which are intended to support information sharing. The impact of the Final Rule on our business is unclear at this time, due to, among other things, uncertainty regarding the interpretation of safe harbors and exceptions to the Final Rule by industry participants and regulators.85The Final Rule focuses on health plans, payors, and healthcare providers and proposes measures to enable patients to move from health plan to health plan, provider to provider, and have both their clinical and administrative information travel with them. It is unclear whether the Final Rule may benefit us in that certain EHR vendors will no longer be permitted to interfere with our attempts at integration, but the rules may also make it easier for other similar companies to enter the market, creating increased competition, and reducing our market share. It is unclear at this time what the costs of compliance with the proposed rules, if adopted, would be, and what additional risks there may be to our business. If we face limitations on the development of data interfaces and other information blocking practices, including the imposition of increased fees, our data access and ability to download relevant data may be limited, which could adversely affect our ability to provide our Solution as effectively as possible. Any steps we take to enforce the anti-information blocking provisions of the 21st Century Cures Act could be costly, could distract management attention from the business, and could have uncertain results.We rely on third-party providers, including Microsoft Azure, for computing infrastructure, network connectivity, and other technology-related services needed to deliver our Solution. Any disruption in the services provided by such third-party providers could adversely affect our business and subject us to liability.Our Solution is generally hosted from and uses computing infrastructure provided by third parties, including Microsoft Azure and other computing infrastructure service providers. We have migrated and expect to continue to migrate a significant portion of our DOS and analytics application computing infrastructure needs to Microsoft Azure. We have made and expect to continue to make substantial investments in transitioning DOS clients from our own managed data center to Microsoft Azure and the migration of clients to the next iteration of our DOS platform. We anticipate that this transition will increase the cost of hosting our technology and negatively impact our technology gross margin. Such migrations are risky and may cause disruptions to our Solution, service outages, downtime, or other problems and may increase our costs. Despite precautions taken during such transitions, any unsuccessful transition of technology may impair clientsâ€™ use of our technology which may cause greater costs or downtime and which may lead to, among other things, client dissatisfaction and non-renewals.Our computing infrastructure service providers have no obligation to renew their agreements with us on commercially reasonable terms or at all. If we are unable to renew these agreements on commercially reasonable terms, or if one of our computing infrastructure service providers is acquired, we may be required to transition to a new provider and we may incur significant costs and possible service interruption in connection with doing so. Problems faced by our computing infrastructure service providers, including those operated by Microsoft, could adversely affect the experience of our clients. Microsoft Azure and other infrastructure vendors have had and may in the future experience significant service outages. Additionally, if our computing infrastructure service providers are unable to keep up with our growing needs for capacity, this could have an adverse effect on our business. For example, a rapid expansion of our business could affect our service levels or cause our third-party hosted systems to fail. Our agreements with third-party computing infrastructure service providers may not entitle us to service level credits that correspond with those we offer to our clients.Any changes in third-party service levels at our computing infrastructure service providers, or any related disruptions or performance problems with our Solution, could adversely affect our reputation and may damage our clientsâ€™ data, information and/or stored files, result in lengthy interruptions in our services, or result in potential losses of client data. Interruptions in our services might reduce our revenue, cause us to issue refunds to clients for prepaid and unused subscriptions, subject us to service level credit claims and potential liability, allow our clients to terminate their contracts with us, or adversely affect our renewal rates.We rely on Internet infrastructure, bandwidth providers, data center providers, other third parties, and our own systems for providing our Solution to our users, and any failure or interruption in the services provided by these third parties or our own systems could expose us to litigation, potentially require us to issue credits to our clients, and negatively impact our relationships with users or clients, adversely affecting our brand and our business.In addition to the services we provide from our offices, we serve our clients primarily from third-party data-hosting facilities. These facilities are vulnerable to damage or interruption from earthquakes, floods, fires, power loss, telecommunications failures, and similar events. They are also subject to break-ins, sabotage, intentional acts of vandalism, and similar misconduct. 86Their systems and servers could also be subject to hacking, spamming, ransomware, computer viruses or other malicious software, denial of service attacks, service disruptions, including the inability to process certain transactions, phishing attacks, and unauthorized access attempts, including third parties gaining access to usersâ€™ accounts using stolen or inferred credentials or other means, and may use such access to prevent use of usersâ€™ accounts. Despite precautions taken at these facilities, the occurrence of a natural disaster or an act of terrorism, a decision to close the facilities without adequate notice, or other unanticipated problems at two or more of the facilities could result in lengthy interruptions in our services. Even with our disaster recovery arrangements, our Solution could be interrupted.Our ability to deliver our Internet- and telecommunications-based services is dependent on the development and maintenance of the infrastructure of the Internet and other telecommunications services by third parties. This includes maintenance of a reliable network backbone with the necessary speed, data capacity, and security for providing reliable Internet access and services and reliable mobile device, telephone, facsimile, and pager systems, all at a predictable and reasonable cost. We have experienced and expect that we will experience interruptions and delays in services and availability of our Solution from time to time. We rely on internal systems as well as third-party vendors, including data center, bandwidth, and telecommunications equipment or service providers, to provide our Solution. We do not maintain redundant systems or facilities for portions of our Solution. In the event of a catastrophic event with respect to one or more of these systems or facilities, we may experience an extended period of system unavailability, which could negatively impact our relationship with users or clients. To operate without interruption, both we and our service providers must guard against:â€¢damage from fire, power loss, and other natural disasters;â€¢communications failures;â€¢software and hardware errors, failures, and crashes;â€¢security breaches, computer viruses, ransomware, and similar disruptive problems; andâ€¢other potential interruptions.Any disruption in the network access, telecommunications, or co-location services provided by these third-party providers or any failure of or by these third-party providers or our own systems to handle the current or higher volume of use could significantly harm our ability to deliver our Solution and our business. We exercise limited control over these third-party vendors, which increases our vulnerability to problems with the services they provide.Any errors, failures, interruptions, or delays experienced in connection with these third-party technologies and information services or our own systems could negatively impact our relationships with users and clients, adversely affect our brands and business, and expose us to third-party liabilities.

The insurance coverage under our policies may not be adequate to compensate us for all losses that may occur. In addition, we cannot provide assurance that we will continue to be able to obtain adequate insurance coverage at an acceptable cost.The reliability and performance of the Internet may be harmed by increased usage or by denial-of-service attacks. The Internet has experienced a variety of outages and other delays as a result of damages to portions of its infrastructure, and it could face outages and delays in the future. These outages and delays could reduce the level of Internet usage as well as the availability of the Internet to us for delivery of our Internet-based services.We typically provide service level commitments under our client contracts. If we fail to meet these contractual commitments, we could be obligated to provide credits or refunds for prepaid amounts related to unused subscription services or face contract terminations, which could adversely affect our results of operations. Finally, recent changes in law could impact the cost and availability of necessary Internet infrastructure. Increased costs and/or decreased availability would negatively affect our results of operations.87Our business could be adversely impacted by changes in laws and regulations related to the Internet or changes in access to the Internet generally.The future success of our business depends upon the continued use of the Internet as a primary medium for communication, business applications, and commerce. Federal or state government bodies or agencies have in the past adopted, and may in the future adopt, laws or regulations affecting the use of the Internet as a commercial medium. Legislators, regulators, or government bodies or agencies may also make legal or regulatory changes or interpret or apply existing laws or regulations that relate to the use of the Internet in new and materially different ways. Changes in these laws, regulations, or interpretations could require us to modify our Solution in order to comply with these changes, to incur substantial additional costs or divert resources that could otherwise be deployed to grow our business, or expose us to unanticipated civil or criminal liability, among other things.In addition, government agencies and private organizations have imposed, and may in the future impose, additional taxes, fees, or other charges for accessing the Internet or commerce conducted via the Internet. Internet access is frequently provided by companies that have significant market power and could take actions that degrade, disrupt, or increase the cost of our clientsâ€™ use of our Solution, which could negatively impact our business. Net neutrality rules, which were designed to ensure that all online content is treated the same by Internet service providers and other companies that provide broadband services were repealed by the Federal Communications Commission effective June 2018. The repeal of the net neutrality rules could force us to incur greater operating expenses or our clientsâ€™ use of our Solution could be adversely affected, either of which could harm our business and results of operations. These developments could limit the growth of Internet-related commerce or communications generally or result in reductions in the demand for Internet-based platforms and services such as ours, increased costs to us or the disruption of our business. In addition, as the Internet continues to experience growth in the numbers of users, frequency of use, and amount of data transmitted, the use of the Internet as a business tool could be adversely affected due to delays in the development or adoption of new standards and protocols to handle increased demands of Internet activity, security, reliability, cost, ease-of-use, accessibility, and quality of service. The performance of the Internet and its acceptance as a business tool has been adversely affected by â€œviruses,â€ â€œworms,â€ and similar malicious programs and the Internet has experienced a variety of outages and other delays as a result of damage to portions of its infrastructure. If the use of the Internet generally, or our Solution specifically, is adversely affected by these or other issues, we could be forced to incur substantial costs, demand for our Solution could decline, and our results of operations and financial condition could be harmed.Our Solution utilizes open-source software, and any failure to comply with the terms of one or more of these open-source licenses could adversely affect our business.We use software modules licensed to us by third-party authors under â€œopen-sourceâ€ licenses in our Solution. Some open-source licenses contain affirmative obligations or restrictive terms that could adversely impact our business, such as restrictions on commercialization or obligations to make available modified or derivative works of certain open-source code. If we were to combine our proprietary software with certain open-source software subject to these licenses in a certain manner, we could, under certain open-source licenses, be required to release or otherwise make available the source code to our proprietary software to the public. This would allow our competitors to create similar products with lower development effort and time and ultimately could result in a loss of product sales for us.Although we employ practices designed to manage our compliance with open-source licenses and protect our proprietary source code, we may inadvertently use open-source software in a manner we do not intend and that could expose us to claims for breach of contract and intellectual property infringement. If we are held to have breached the terms of an open-source software license, we could be required to, among other things, seek licenses from third parties to continue offering our products on terms that are not economically feasible, pay damages to third parties, to re-engineer our products, to discontinue the sale of our products if re-engineering cannot be accomplished on a timely basis, or to make generally available, in source code form, a portion of our proprietary code, any of which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition. The terms of many open-source licenses have not been interpreted by U.S. courts, and, as a result, there is a risk that such licenses could be construed in a manner that imposes unanticipated conditions or restrictions on our ability to commercialize our Solution.88We employ third-party licensed software and software components for use in or with our Solution, and the inability to maintain these licenses or the presence of errors in the software we license could limit the functionality of our Solution and result in increased costs or reduced service levels, which would adversely affect our business.Our software applications might incorporate or interact with certain third-party software and software components (other than open-source software), such as data visualization software, obtained under licenses from other companies. We pay these third parties a license fee or royalty payment. We anticipate that we will continue to use such third-party software in the future. Although we believe that there are commercially reasonable alternatives to the third-party software we currently make available, this may not always be the case, or it may be difficult or costly to replace. Furthermore, these third parties may increase the price for licensing their software, which could negatively impact our results of operations. Our use of additional or alternative third-party software could require clients to enter into license agreements with third parties. In addition, if the third-party software we make available has errors or otherwise malfunctions, or if the third-party terminates its agreement with us, the functionality of our Solution may be negatively impacted and our business may suffer.Any failure to protect our intellectual property rights could impair our ability to protect our proprietary technology and our brand.Our success and ability to compete depend in part upon our intellectual property. As of DecemberÂ 31, 2023, we had filed applications for a number of patents, and we have fourteen issued U.S. patents, four issued Canadian patents, one issued Great Britain patent, and one issued European patent, as well as one utility patent application pending in the United States. We also had twenty-eight registered trademarks in the United States, Singapore, United Arab Emirates, and China. We also rely on copyright and trademark laws, trade secret protection, and confidentiality or license agreements with our employees, clients, partners, and others to protect our intellectual property rights. However, the steps we take to protect our intellectual property rights may be inadequate. For example, other parties, including our competitors, may independently develop similar technology, duplicate our services, or design around our intellectual property and, in such cases, we may not be able to assert our intellectual property rights against such parties. Further, our contractual arrangements may not effectively prevent disclosure of our confidential information or provide an adequate remedy in the event of unauthorized disclosure of our confidential information, and we may be unable to detect the unauthorized use of, or take appropriate steps to enforce, our intellectual property rights. We make business decisions about when to seek patent protection for a particular technology and when to rely upon trade secret protection, and the approach we select may ultimately prove to be inadequate. Even in cases where we seek patent protection, there is no assurance that the resulting patents will effectively protect every significant feature of our Solution, technology, or proprietary information, or provide us with any competitive advantages. Moreover, we cannot guarantee that any of our pending patent applications will issue or be approved. The United States Patent and Trademark Office and various foreign governmental patent agencies also require compliance with a number of procedural, documentary, fee payment, and other similar provisions during the patent application process and after a patent has issued. There are situations in which noncompliance can result in abandonment or lapse of the patent, or patent application, resulting in partial or complete loss of patent rights in the relevant jurisdiction. If this occurs, our competitors might be able to enter the market, which would have a material adverse effect on our business. Effective trademark, copyright, patent, and trade secret protection may not be available in every country in which we conduct business. Further, intellectual property law, including statutory and case law, particularly in the United States, is constantly developing, and any changes in the law could make it harder for us to enforce our rights.In order to protect our intellectual property rights, we may be required to spend significant resources to monitor and protect these rights. Litigation brought to protect and enforce our intellectual property rights could be costly, time-consuming, and distracting to management and could result in the impairment or loss of portions of our intellectual property. Furthermore, our efforts to enforce our intellectual property rights may be met with defenses, counterclaims, and countersuits attacking the validity and enforceability of our intellectual property rights. 89An adverse determination of any litigation proceedings could put our intellectual property at risk of being invalidated or interpreted narrowly and could put our related pending patent applications at risk of not issuing. Furthermore, because of the substantial amount of discovery required in connection with intellectual property litigation, there is a risk that some of our confidential or sensitive information could be compromised by disclosure in the event of litigation. In addition, during the course of litigation, there could be public announcements of the results of hearings, motions, or other interim proceedings or developments. If securities analysts or investors perceive these results to be negative, it could have a substantial adverse effect on the price of our common stock. Negative publicity related to a decision by us to initiate such enforcement actions against a client or former client, regardless of its accuracy, may adversely impact our other client relationships or prospective client relationships, harm our brand and business, and could cause the market price of our common stock to decline. Our failure to secure, protect, and enforce our intellectual property rights could adversely affect our brand and our business.We may be sued by third parties for alleged infringement of their proprietary rights or misappropriation of intellectual property.There is considerable patent and other intellectual property development activity in our industry. Our future success depends in part on not infringing upon the intellectual property rights of others. Our competitors, as well as a number of other entities and individuals, including so-called non-practicing entities (NPEs), may own or claim to own intellectual property relating to our Solution. From time to time, third parties have claimed or may claim that we are infringing upon their intellectual property rights or that we have misappropriated their intellectual property. For example, in some cases, very broad patents are granted that may be interpreted as covering a wide field of healthcare data storage and analytics solutions or machine learning and predictive modeling methods in healthcare. As competition in our market grows, the possibility of patent infringement, trademark infringement, and other intellectual property claims against us increases. In the future, we expect others to claim that our Solution and underlying technology infringe or violate their intellectual property rights. In a patent infringement claim against us, we may assert, as a defense, that we do not infringe the relevant patent claims, that the patent is invalid or both. The strength of our defenses will depend on the patents asserted, the interpretation of these patents, and our ability to invalidate the asserted patents. However, we could be unsuccessful in advancing non-infringement and/or invalidity arguments in our defense. In the United States, issued patents enjoy a presumption of validity, and the party challenging the validity of a patent claim must present clear and convincing evidence of invalidity, which is a high burden of proof. Conversely, the patent owner need only prove infringement by a preponderance of the evidence, which is a lower burden of proof. We may be unaware of the intellectual property rights that others may claim cover some or all of our technology or services. Because patent applications can take years to issue and are often afforded confidentiality for some period of time there may currently be pending applications, unknown to us, that later result in issued patents that could cover one or more aspects of our technology and services. Any claims or litigation could cause us to incur significant expenses and, whether or not successfully asserted against us, could require that we pay substantial damages, ongoing royalty or license payments, or settlement fees, prevent us from offering our Solution or using certain technologies, require us to re-engineer all or a portion of our DOS platform, or require that we comply with other unfavorable terms. We may also be obligated to indemnify our clients or business partners or pay substantial settlement costs, including royalty payments, in connection with any such claim or litigation and to obtain licenses, modify applications, or refund fees, which could be costly. Even if we were to prevail in such a dispute, any litigation regarding our intellectual property could be costly and time-consuming and divert the attention of our management and key personnel from our business operations.90Risks Related to Governmental RegulationRisks Related to Healthcare and Data Privacy and Security RegulationActual or perceived failures to comply with applicable data protection, privacy and security laws, regulations, standards and other requirements could adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.â€¢Health information privacy and security laws. There are numerous federal and state laws and regulations that govern the privacy and security of health information. In particular, HIPAA, as amended by the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act of 2009, and regulations implemented thereunder (collectively, HIPAA) imposes, among other things, certain standards relating to the privacy, security, transmission and breach reporting of PHI, as defined under HIPAA. By processing and maintaining PHI on behalf of our covered entity clients, we are a HIPAA business associate and are required to enter into business associate agreements (BAAs) with our covered entity clients to safeguard PHI, as well as BAAs with our subcontractors that access or otherwise process PHI on our behalf. We may not be able to adequately address the business risks created by HIPAA implementation. Furthermore, we are unable to predict what changes to HIPAA or other laws or regulations might be made in the future or how those changes could affect our business or the costs of compliance. We are unable to predict what, if any, impact the changes in such standards will have on our compliance costs or our Solution. Penalties for failure to comply with a requirement of HIPAA vary significantly depending on the nature of violation and could include civil monetary or criminal penalties. HIPAA also authorizes state attorneys general to file suit under HIPAA on behalf of state residents. Courts can award damages, costs and attorneysâ€™ fees related to violations of HIPAA in such cases. While HIPAA does not create a private right of action allowing individuals to sue us in civil court for HIPAA violations, its standards have been used as the basis for a duty of care claim in state civil suits such as those for negligence or recklessness in the misuse or breach of PHI. Certain states have also adopted privacy and security laws and regulations, some of which may be more stringent than HIPAA. Such laws and regulations will be subject to interpretation by various courts and other governmental authorities, thus creating potentially complex compliance issues for us and our future clients and strategic partners.Some of our analytics applications, including, for example, one of our benchmarking applications, require that we obtain permissions consistent with HIPAA to provide â€œdata aggregation servicesâ€ and the right to create de-identified information and to use and disclose such de-identified information. We may require large sets of de-identified information to enable us to continue to develop machine learning algorithms that enhance our Solution. If we are unable to secure these rights in client BAAs or as a result of any future changes to HIPAA or other applicable laws, we may face limitations on the use of PHI and our ability to use de-identified information that could negatively affect the scope of our Solution as well as impair our ability to provide upgrades and enhancements to our Solution. We outsource important aspects of the storage and transmission of client information and PHI, and thus rely on third parties to manage functions that have material cybersecurity risks. We attempt to address these risks by requiring outsourcing subcontractors who handle client information to sign BAAs contractually requiring those subcontractors to adequately safeguard PHI in a similar manner that applies to us and in some cases by requiring such outsourcing subcontractors to undergo thirdâ€‘party security examinations as well as to protect the confidentiality of other sensitive client information. In addition, we periodically hire thirdâ€‘party security experts to assess and test our security measures. However, we cannot be assured that these contractual measures and other safeguards will adequately protect us from the risks associated with the storage and transmission of our clients' confidential and proprietary information and PHI.91â€¢Consumer protection laws. Furthermore, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) also has authority to initiate enforcement actions against entities that mislead customers about HIPAA compliance, make deceptive statements about privacy and data sharing in privacy policies, fail to limit third-party use of personal health information, fail to implement policies to protect personal health information or engage in other unfair practices that harm customers or that may violate Section 5(a) of the FTC Act. According to the FTC, failing to take appropriate steps to keep consumersâ€™ personal information secure can also constitute unfair acts or practices in or affecting commerce in violation of Section 5(a) of the FTC Act. The FTC expects a companyâ€™s data security measures to be reasonable and appropriate in light of the sensitivity and volume of consumer information it holds, the size and complexity of its business, and the cost of available tools to improve security and reduce vulnerabilities. Additionally, federal and state consumer protection laws are increasingly being applied by FTC and states' attorneys general to regulate the collection, use, storage, and disclosure of personal or personally identifiable information, through websites or otherwise, and to regulate the presentation of website content.â€¢State data protection laws. Certain states have also adopted privacy and security laws and regulations, which govern the privacy, processing, and protection of health-related and other personal information. Such laws and regulations will be subject to interpretation by various courts and other governmental authorities, thus creating potentially complex compliance issues for us and our future clients and strategic partners. For example, California adopted the CCPA, which went into effect on January 1, 2020. The CCPA established a privacy framework for covered businesses by creating an expanded definition of personal information, establishing new data privacy rights for consumers in the state of California, imposing special rules on the collection of consumer data from minors, and creating a new and potentially severe statutory damages framework for violations of the CCPA and for businesses that fail to implement reasonable security procedures and practices to prevent data breaches. Additionally, the CPRA generally went into effect on January 1, 2023 and significantly amends the CCPA. It imposed additional data protection obligations on companies doing business in California, including additional consumer rights processes, limitations on data uses, new audit requirements for higher risk data, and opt outs for certain uses of sensitive data. It also created a new California data protection agency authorized to issue substantive regulations and could result in increased privacy and information security enforcement. Additional compliance investment and potential business process changes may be required. Similar laws have passed in other states, and are continuing to be proposed at the state and federal level, reflecting a trend toward more stringent privacy legislation in the United States. If we fail to comply with any of these privacy laws that apply to us, and are subject to the aforementioned penalties, our business and financial results could be adversely affected.â€¢GDPR and foreign data privacy protection laws. In addition, many foreign governments have established or are in the process of establishing privacy and data security legal frameworks governing the collection, use and disclosure of personal information obtained from their residents. For example, in Europe, the GDPR went into effect on May 25, 2018. The GDPR imposes data protection requirements for processing the personal data of individuals within the European Economic Area (EEA) relating to the consent of the individuals to whom the personal data relates, the information provided to the individuals, the documentation we must retain, the security and confidentiality of the personal data, data breach notification and the use of third-party processors in connection with the processing of personal data. Companies that must comply with the GDPR face increased compliance obligations and risk, including more robust regulatory enforcement of data protection requirements and potential fines for noncompliance of up to â‚¬20 million or 4% of the annual global revenues of the noncompliant company, whichever is greater. The GDPR has increased our responsibility and potential liability in relation to personal data that we process, and we may be required to put in place mechanisms to ensure compliance with GDPR. In addition, the GDPR increases the scrutiny of transfers of personal data from the EEA to the United States and other jurisdictions that the European Commission does not recognize as having â€œadequateâ€ data protection laws and the efficacy and longevity of current transfer mechanisms between the EEA and the United States remain uncertain. Case law from the Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU) states that reliance on the standard contractual clauses - a standard form of contract approved by the European Commission as an adequate personal data transfer mechanism - alone may not necessarily be sufficient in all circumstances and that transfers must be assessed on a case-by-case basis. 92On October 7, 2022, President Biden signed an Executive Order on â€˜Enhancing Safeguards for United States Intelligence Activitiesâ€™ which introduced new redress mechanisms and binding safeguards to address the concerns raised by the CJEU in relation to data transfers from the EEA to the United States and which formed the basis of the new EU-US Data Privacy Framework (DPF), as released on December 13, 2022. The European Commission adopted its Adequacy Decision in relation to the DPF on July 10, 2023, rendering the DPF effective as a GDPR transfer mechanism to U.S. entities self-certified under the DPF. The DPF also introduced a new redress mechanism for EU citizens which addresses a key concern in the previous CJEU judgments and may mean transfers under standard contractual clauses are less likely to be challenged in future. We currently maintain localized infrastructure and third-party relationships to limit the risk of data transfer of personal data outside of the EEA and the UK. In addition, we rely on the EU standard contractual clauses and the UK Addendum to the EU standard contractual clauses as relevant to address any potential transfer of personal data outside the EEA and the UK, including to the United States, with respect to both intragroup and third-party transfers. We expect the existing legal complexity and uncertainty regarding international personal data transfers to continue. In particular, we expect the DPF Adequacy Decision to be challenged and international transfers to the United States and to other jurisdictions more generally to continue to be subject to enhanced scrutiny by regulators. As a result, we may have to make certain operational changes and we will have to implement revised standard contractual clauses. Data protection authorities of the different EEA member states may also interpret GDPR differently, and guidance on implementation and compliance practices are often updated or otherwise revised, which adds to the complexity of processing personal data in the EEA. Any failure by us to comply with GDPR could result in proceedings or actions against us by governmental entities or others, which may subject us to significant penalties and negative publicity, require us to change our business practices, and increase our costs and severely disrupt our business. Further, from January 1, 2021, companies have had to comply with the GDPR and also the UK GDPR, which, together with the amended UK Data Protection Act 2018, retains the GDPR in UK national law. The UK GDPR mirrors the fines under the GDPR, e.g., fines up to the greater of â‚¬20 million (Â£17.5 million) or 4% of global turnover. On October 12, 2023, the UK Extension to the DPF came into effect (as approved by the UK Government), as a UK GDPR data transfer mechanism to U.S. entities self-certified under the UK Extension to the DPF. As we continue to expand into other foreign countries and jurisdictions, we may be subject to additional laws and regulations that may affect how we conduct business. â€¢Canadian data privacy protection laws. Similarly, Canadaâ€™s Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act provides Canadian residents with privacy protections in regard to transactions with businesses and organizations in the private sector and sets out ground rules for how private-sector organizations may collect, use, and disclose personal information in the course of commercial activities. Foreign governments may attempt to apply such laws extraterritorially or through treaties or other arrangements with U.S. governmental entities. Other jurisdictions besides the EU and Canada are similarly introducing or enhancing laws and regulations relating to privacy and data security, which enhances risks relating to compliance with such laws. Furthermore, as we enter into business arrangements in countries outside of the United States, we will need to be prepared to comply with applicable local privacy laws. The GDPR and other changes in laws or regulations associated with the enhanced protection of certain types of personal data, such as health-related data or other sensitive information, could greatly increase our cost of providing our products and services or even prevent us from offering certain services in jurisdictions that we operate.We cannot be certain that the privacy policies and other statements regarding our practices will be found sufficient to protect us from liability or adverse publicity relating to the privacy and security of personal information. There is ongoing concern from privacy advocates, regulators, and others regarding data protection and privacy issues, and the number of jurisdictions with data protection and privacy laws has been increasing. Also, there are ongoing public policy discussions regarding whether the standards for de-identified, anonymous, or pseudonymized health information are sufficient, and the risk of re-identification sufficiently small, to adequately protect patient privacy. We expect that there will continue to be new proposed laws, regulations, and industry standards concerning privacy, data protection, and information security in the United States, including the CCPA and CPRA, and we cannot yet determine the impact such laws, regulations, and standards may have on our business. 93Future laws, regulations, standards, and other obligations, and changes in the interpretation of existing laws, regulations, standards, and other obligations could impair our or our clientsâ€™ ability to collect, use, or disclose information relating to consumers, which could decrease demand for our Solution, increase our costs, and impair our ability to maintain and grow our client base and increase our revenue. Any failure or perceived failure by us to comply with international, federal or state laws or regulations, industry standards, or other legal obligations, or any actual or suspected security incident, whether or not resulting in unauthorized access to, or acquisition, release, or transfer of personally identifiable information or other data, may result in governmental enforcement actions and prosecutions, private litigation, fines, and penalties or adverse publicity and could cause our clients to lose trust in us, which could have an adverse effect on our reputation and business. We may be unable to make such changes and modifications in a commercially reasonable manner or at all, and our ability to develop new products and features could be limited. Any of these developments could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations. Privacy and data security concerns, whether valid or not valid, may inhibit market adoption of our Solution.Government regulation of healthcare creates risks and challenges with respect to our compliance efforts and our business strategies.Many healthcare laws are complex, and their application to specific services and relationships may not be clear. In particular, many existing healthcare laws and regulations, when enacted, did not anticipate the data analytics and improvement services that we provide, and these laws and regulations may be applied to our Solution in ways that we do not anticipate, particularly as we develop and release new and more sophisticated solutions. Our failure to accurately anticipate the application of these laws and regulations, or our other failure to comply with them, could create significant liability for us, result in adverse publicity, and negatively affect our business. Some of the risks we face or may face from healthcare regulation are described below.The federal Anti-Kickback Statute prohibits, among other things, the offering, paying, soliciting, or receiving anything of value, directly or indirectly, for the referral of patients covered by Medicare, Medicaid, and other federal healthcare programs or the leasing, purchasing, ordering, or arranging for or recommending the lease, purchase, or order of any item, good, facility, or service covered by these programs. A person or entity does not need to have actual knowledge of the statute or specific intent to violate it in order to have committed a violation. Some enforcement activities focus on below or above market payments for federally reimbursable healthcare items or services as evidence of the intent to provide a kickback. Many states also have similar anti-kickback laws that are not necessarily limited to items or services for which payment is made by a federal healthcare program. Moreover, both federal and state laws prohibit bribery and similar behavior. We do not believe we directly order or provide healthcare services that are reimbursable by Medicare, Medicaid or other third-party payors or submit claims or receive reimbursement from any such payor. However, nonetheless, in addition to direct enforcement action against us, if our advisory services or our Solution offered to clients are associated with action by clients that is determined or alleged to be in violation of these laws and regulations, it is possible that an enforcement agency would also try to hold us liable and, as a result of such attempt to hold us liable, our results of operations and financial condition may be negatively impacted, even if we are ultimately found not liable. There are also numerous federal and state laws that prohibit the submission of false information, or the failure to disclose information, in connection with submission and payment of claims for healthcare items and services by healthcare providers. For example, the federal civil False Claims Act prohibits, among other things, individuals or entities from knowingly presenting, or causing to be presented, to the U.S. federal government, claims for payment or approval that are false or fraudulent, or knowingly making, using or causing to be made or used, a false record or statement material to a false or fraudulent claim. The government has prosecuted revenue cycle management service providers for causing the submission of false or fraudulent claims in violation of the False Claims Act. In addition, the government may assert that a claim including items and services resulting from a violation of the U.S. federal Anti-Kickback Statute constitutes a false or fraudulent claim for purposes of the civil False Claims Act.94HIPAA also created new federal criminal statutes that prohibit knowingly and willfully executing, or attempting to execute, a scheme to defraud or to obtain, by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations or promises, any money or property owned by, or under the control or custody of, any healthcare benefit program, including private third-party payors, and knowingly and willfully falsifying, concealing or covering up by trick, scheme or device, a material fact or making any materially false, fictitious or fraudulent statement in connection with the delivery of or payment for healthcare benefits, items or services. Similar to the federal Anti-Kickback Statute, a person or entity does not need to have actual knowledge of the statute or specific intent to violate it in order to have committed a violation. Any determination by a court or regulatory agency that we or any of our clients, vendors, or partners have violated these laws could subject us to significant civil or criminal penalties, invalidate all or portions of some of our client contracts, require us to change or terminate some portions of our business, require us to refund portions of our services fees, subject us to additional reporting requirements and oversight under a corporate integrity agreement or similar agreement to resolve allegations of noncompliance with these laws, cause us to be disqualified from serving clients doing business with government payors, and have an adverse effect on our business. Our clientsâ€™ failure to comply with these laws and regulations in connection with our services could result in substantial liability (including, but not limited to, criminal liability), adversely affect demand for our Solution, and force us to expend significant capital, research and development, and other resources to address the failure. Even an unsuccessful challenge by regulatory authorities of our activities could result in adverse publicity, distract management attention from our business, require a costly response from us, and negatively impact the price of our common stock.If our arrangements with clinicians and other healthcare professionals are found to constitute the improper rendering of professional medical services or fee splitting under applicable state laws, our business, financial condition, and our ability to operate in those states could be adversely impacted.We employ and contract with physicians and other licensed healthcare professionals who assist our clients with the clientsâ€™ care coordination, care management, population health management, and patient safety activities. Although we do not intend to provide medical care, treatment, or advice, our relationships with such healthcare professionals may implicate certain state laws in the United States in which we operate that generally prohibit non-professional entities from providing licensed medical services, exercising control over licensed physicians or other licensed healthcare professionals, or engaging in certain practices such as fee-splitting with such licensed professionals. There can be no assurance that these laws will be interpreted in a manner consistent with our practices or that other laws or regulations will not be enacted in the future that could have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations. Regulatory authorities, state boards of medicine, state attorneys general, and other parties may assert that we are engaged in the provision of professional medical services, and/or that our arrangements with our affiliated physicians and other licensed healthcare professionals constitute unlawful fee-splitting. If a jurisdictionâ€™s prohibition on the corporate practice of medicine or fee-splitting is interpreted in a manner that is inconsistent with our practices, we may be required to restructure or terminate some portions of our business, which may in turn require us to refund portions of our services fees, which would have an adverse effect on our business. Even an unsuccessful challenge by regulatory authorities of our activities could result in adverse publicity, distraction of management attention from our business, a costly response from us, and a substantial negative impact upon the price of our common stock.The FDA may modify its enforcement policies with respect to medical software products, and our software products may become subject to extensive regulatory requirements, which may increase the cost of conducting, or otherwise harm, our business.We develop and offer certain analytical software applications in connection with our business. The FDA may regulate medical or health-related software, including machine learning functionality and predictive algorithms, if such software falls within the definition of a â€œmedical deviceâ€ under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FDCA). Medical devices are subject to extensive and rigorous regulation by the FDA and by other federal, state, and local authorities. 95The FDCA and related regulations govern the conditions of safety, efficacy, clearance, approval, manufacturing, quality system requirements, labeling, packaging, distribution, storage, recordkeeping, reporting, marketing, advertising, and promotion of medical devices. However, historically, the FDA has exercised enforcement discretion for certain low-risk software functions, and has issued several guidance documents outlining its approach to the regulation of software as a medical device. In addition, the 21st Century Cures Act amended the FDCA to exclude from the definition of â€œmedical deviceâ€ certain medical-related software, including software used for administrative support functions at a healthcare facility, software intended for maintaining or encouraging a healthy lifestyle, software designed to store electronic health records, software for transferring, storing, or displaying medical device data or in vitro diagnostic data, and certain clinical decision support software. We believe our currently marketed products provide functionality that is exempt from the FDCAâ€™s definition of a â€œmedical device,â€ and therefore that our software products are not currently regulated by the FDA as medical devices, or that our products are otherwise subject to FDAâ€™s current enforcement discretion policies applicable to software products. However, there is a risk that the FDA could disagree with our determination, or that the FDA could alter its enforcement discretion policies, and in either case, subject our software to more stringent medical device regulations. If the FDA determines that any of our current or future analytics applications are regulated as medical devices and not otherwise subject to enforcement discretion, we would become subject to various requirements under the FDCA and the FDAâ€™s implementing regulations. If this occurs, we may be required to cease marketing or to recall our product until we obtain the requisite clearances or approvals, which would entail significant cost and could harm our reputation, business, financial condition, and results of operations. Our failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements could result in enforcement action by the FDA, or comparable state or foreign regulatory authorities, including: untitled letters, warning letters, fines, injunctions, consent decrees and civil penalties, recalls, termination of distribution, administrative detentions, seizure of our products, operating restrictions, partial suspension or total shutdown of production, delays in or refusal to grant clearances or approvals, prohibitions on sales of our products, and criminal prosecution. Any of these sanctions could result in higher than anticipated costs or lower than anticipated sales and have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition, and results of operations.The healthcare regulatory and political framework is uncertain and evolving.Existing and new laws and regulations affecting the healthcare industry, or changes to existing laws and regulations could create unexpected liabilities for us, cause us to incur additional costs, and/or restrict our operations. Reforming the healthcare industry has been a priority for U.S. politicians, and key members of the legislative and executive branches have proposed a wide variety of potential changes and policy goals. Certain changes to laws impacting our industry, or perceived intentions to do so, could affect our business and results of operations. By way of example, in March 2010, the Affordable Care Act (ACA), was enacted, which substantially changed the way healthcare is financed by both governmental and private insurers and has significantly impacted our industry and, to some degree, our business. Since its enactment, there have been judicial, executive, and Congressional challenges to certain aspects of the ACA. On June 17, 2021, the U.S. Supreme Court dismissed the most recent judicial challenge to the ACA brought by several states without specifically ruling on the constitutionality of the ACA. Thus, the ACA will remain in effect in its current form. We anticipate that new cost containment measures or other healthcare reforms will continue to be implemented at both the federal and state level, any of which could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations.96Due to the particular nature of certain services we provide or the manner in which we provide them, we may be subject to additional government regulation and foreign government regulation.While our

Solution is primarily subject to government regulations pertaining to healthcare, certain aspects of our Solution may require us to comply with regulatory schema from other areas. Examples of such regulatory schema include:â€¢Antitrust laws. Our national cloud-based network allows us access to cost and pricing data for a large number of providers in most regional markets, as well as to the contracted rates for third-party payors. To the extent that our Solution enables providers to compare their cost and pricing data with those of their competitors, those providers could collude to increase the pricing for their services, to reduce the compensation they pay their employees, or to collectively negotiate agreements with third parties. Similarly, if payors are able to compare their contracted rates of payment to providers, those payors may seek to reduce the amounts they might otherwise pay. Such actions may be deemed to be anti-competitive and a violation of federal antitrust laws. To the extent that we are deemed to have enabled such activities, we could be subject to fines and penalties imposed by the U.S. Department of Justice or the FTC and be required to curtail or terminate the services that permitted such collusion.â€¢Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) and foreign anti-bribery laws. The FCPA makes it illegal for U.S. persons, including U.S. companies, and their subsidiaries, directors, officers, employees, and agents, to promise, authorize or make any corrupt payment, or otherwise provide anything of value, directly or indirectly, to any foreign official, any foreign political party or party official, or candidate for foreign political office to obtain or retain business. Violations of the FCPA can also result in violations of other U.S. laws, including anti-money laundering, mail and wire fraud, and conspiracy laws. There are severe penalties for violating the FCPA. In addition, the Company may also be subject to other non-U.S. anti-corruption or anti-bribery laws, such as the U.K. Bribery Act 2010. If our employees, contractors, vendors, or partners fail to comply with the FCPA and/or foreign anti-bribery laws, we may be subject to penalties or sanctions, and our ability to develop new prospects and retain existing clients could be adversely affected.â€¢Economic sanctions and export controls. Economic and trade sanctions programs that are administered by the U.S. Treasury Departmentâ€™s Office of Foreign Assets Control prohibit or restrict transactions to or from, and dealings with specified countries and territories, their governments, and in certain circumstances, with individuals and entities that are specially designated nationals of those countries, and other sanctioned persons, including narcotics traffickers and terrorists or terrorist organizations. As federal, state and foreign legislative regulatory scrutiny and enforcement actions in these areas increase, we expect our costs to comply with these requirements will increase as well. Failure to comply with any of these requirements could result in the limitation, suspension or termination of our services, imposition of significant civil and criminal penalties, including fines, and/or the seizure and/or forfeiture of our assets. Further, our Solution incorporates encryption technology. This encryption technology may be exported from the United States only with the required export authorizations, including by a license, a license exception, or other appropriate government authorizations. Such solutions may also be subject to certain regulatory reporting requirements. Various countries also regulate the import of certain encryption technology, including through import permitting and licensing requirements, and have enacted laws that could limit our clientsâ€™ ability to import our Solution into those countries. Governmental regulation of encryption technology and of exports and imports of encryption products, or our failure to obtain required approval for our Solution, when applicable, could harm our international sales and adversely affect our revenue. Compliance with applicable regulatory requirements regarding the provision of our Solution, including with respect to new applications, may delay the introduction of our Solution in various markets or, in some cases, prevent the provision of our Solution to some countries altogether.â€¢Regulatory certification. We must obtain certification from governmental agencies, such as the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ) to sell certain of our analytics applications and services in the United States. We cannot be certain that our Solution will continue to meet these standards. The failure to comply with these certification requirements could result in the loss of certification, which could restrict our Solution offerings and cause us to lose clients.97Risks Related to Tax RegulationTaxing authorities may successfully assert that we should have collected or in the future should collect sales and use, value-added or similar transactional taxes, and we could be subject to liability with respect to past or future sales, which could adversely affect our results of operations.We do not collect sales and use, value-added, and similar transactional taxes in all jurisdictions in which we have sales, based on our belief that such taxes are not applicable or that we are not required to collect such taxes with respect to the jurisdiction. Sales and use, value-added, and similar tax laws and rates vary greatly by jurisdiction. Certain jurisdictions in which we do not collect such taxes may assert that such taxes are applicable, which could result in tax assessments, penalties, and interest, and we may be required to collect such taxes in the future. Such tax assessments, penalties, interest or future requirements, increase in tax rates, or a combination of the foregoing may result in an increase in our sales and similar transactional taxes, increase administrative burdens or costs, or otherwise adversely affect our business, results of operations, or financial condition.Unanticipated changes in our effective tax rate and additional tax liabilities, including as a result of our international operations or implementation of new tax rules, could harm our future results.We are subject to income taxes in the United States and are expanding into various foreign jurisdictions that are subject to income tax. Our domestic and international tax liabilities are subject to the allocation of expenses in differing jurisdictions and complex transfer pricing regulations administered by taxing authorities in various jurisdictions. Tax rates in the jurisdictions in which we operate may change as a result of factors outside of our control or relevant taxing authorities may disagree with our determinations as to the income and expenses attributable to specific jurisdictions. In addition, changes in tax and trade laws, treaties or regulations, or their interpretation or enforcement, have become more unpredictable and may become more stringent, which could materially adversely affect our tax position. Forecasting our estimated annual effective tax rate is complex and subject to uncertainty, and there may be material differences between our forecasted and actual effective tax rate. Our effective tax rate could be adversely affected by changes in the mix of earnings and losses in countries with differing statutory tax rates, certain non-deductible expenses, the valuation of deferred tax assets and liabilities, adjustments to income taxes upon finalization of tax returns, changes in available tax attributes, decision to repatriate non-U.S. earnings for which we have not previously provided for U.S. taxes, and changes in federal, state, or international tax laws and accounting principles. Finally, we may be subject to income tax audits throughout the world. An adverse resolution of one or more uncertain tax positions in any period could have a material impact on our results of operations or financial condition for that period.Our ability to use our net operating losses to offset future taxable income may be subject to certain limitations.As of DecemberÂ 31, 2023, we had net operating loss (NOL) carryforwards for federal and state income tax purposes of approximately $602.6 million and $505.5 million, respectively, which may be available to offset taxable income in the future, and which expire in various years beginning in 2032 for federal purposes if not utilized. The state NOLs will expire depending upon the various rules in the states in which we operate. A lack of future taxable income would adversely affect our ability to utilize these NOLs before they expire. In general, under Section 382 of the Code, a corporation that undergoes an â€œownership changeâ€ (as defined under Section 382 of the Code and applicable Treasury Regulations) is subject to limitations on its ability to utilize its pre-change NOLs to offset its future taxable income. We may experience a future ownership change under Section 382 of the Code that could affect our ability to utilize the NOLs to offset our income. Furthermore, our ability to utilize NOLs of companies that we have acquired or may acquire in the future may be subject to limitations. There is also a risk that due to regulatory changes, such as suspensions on the use of NOLs or other unforeseen reasons, our existing NOLs could expire or otherwise be unavailable to reduce future income tax liabilities, including for state income tax purposes. 98Certain provisions of the Tax Act (as defined below), as amended by the CARES Act, also limit the use of NOLs, as discussed further below. For these reasons, we may not be able to utilize a material portion of our NOLs, even if we attain profitability, which could potentially result in increased future tax liability to us and could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.Comprehensive tax reform legislation could adversely affect our business and financial condition.On December 22, 2017, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 (the Tax Act) was signed into law. The Tax Act contains, among other things, significant changes to corporate taxation, including (i) a reduction of the corporate tax rate from a top marginal rate of 35% to a flat rate of 21%, (ii) a limitation of the tax deduction for interest expense to 30% of adjusted earnings (except for certain small businesses) (increased to 50% by the CARES Act for taxable years beginning in 2019 and 2020), (iii) a limitation of the deduction for NOLs in taxable years beginning after December 31, 2020 to 80% of current year taxable income in respect of NOLs generated during or after 2018 and elimination of net operating loss carrybacks for NOLs arising in tax years ending after December 31, 2020, (iv) a one-time tax on offshore earnings at reduced rates regardless of whether they are repatriated, (v) immediate deductions for certain new investments instead of deductions for depreciation expense over time, and (vi) a modification or repeal of many business deductions and credits. For federal NOLs arising in tax years beginning after December 31, 2017, the Tax Act (as modified by the CARES Act) limits a taxpayerâ€™s ability to utilize federal NOL carryforwards in taxable years beginning after December 31, 2020 to 80% of taxable income. In addition, federal NOLs arising in tax years ending after December 31, 2017 can be carried forward indefinitely, but carryback of federal NOLs arising in tax years ending after December 31, 2020 is generally prohibited. It is uncertain if and to what extent various states will conform to the newly enacted federal tax law.Beginning in 2022, the Tax Act eliminated the option to currently deduct research and development expenditures in the period incurred and requires taxpayers to capitalize and amortize such domestic and foreign expenditures over five or fifteen years, respectively, pursuant to Section 174 of the Code. We will continue to examine the impact the Tax Act and CARES Act may have on our results of operations and financial condition.Risks Related to Our IndebtednessOur indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition and prevent us from fulfilling our existing or future debt obligations, and we may not generate sufficient cash flow from our business to pay our debt.On April 14, 2020, we issued our Notes in an aggregate principal amount of $230.0 million, which will mature on April 15, 2025, unless earlier converted, redeemed, or repurchased. The Notes are governed by an indenture (Indenture) between us, as the issuer, and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee. The Notes are our senior, unsecured obligations and accrue interest payable semiannually in arrears on April 15 and October 15 of each year, beginning on October 15, 2020, at a rate of 2.50% per year. The Indenture does not contain any financial covenants or restrictions on the payments of dividends, the incurrence of indebtedness, or the issuance or repurchase of securities by us or any of our subsidiaries. We may repurchase the Notes from time to time prior to the maturity date. A holder may convert all or any portion of its Notes, at its option, subject to certain conditions and during certain periods, into cash, shares of our common stock or a combination of cash and shares of our common stock, with the form of consideration determined at our election. Noteholders have the right to require us to repurchase all or a portion of their notes at 100% of the principal amount of the Notes to be repurchased, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the repurchase date, upon the occurrence of certain events. The conversion rate is initially 32.6797 shares of our common stock per $1,000 principal amount of Notes (which is equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $30.60 per share of our common stock). If the Notes have not previously been converted, redeemed or repurchased, we will be required to repay the Notes in cash at maturity.In addition, on July 16, 2024, we entered into the Credit Agreement, which provides for a five-year term loan facility (the Term Loan Facility) in an aggregate principal amount of up to $225 million, consisting of an initial term loan in the aggregate principal amount of $125 million, which was funded in full at closing, and a delayed draw term loan facility in the aggregate principal amount of $100 million, which was undrawn as of the closing.Our outstanding and any future debt obligations could make us more vulnerable to adverse changes in general U.S. and worldwide economic conditions, including rising interest rates, regulatory, and competitive conditions. We may not use the cash proceeds from the Notes and/or the Term Loan Facility in an optimally productive and profitable manner. Our ability to satisfy our debt obligations will depend on market conditions and our future performance, which is subject to economic, financial, competitive, and other factors, including those described in these risk factors, many of which are beyond our control. 99In the case of the Notes, that includes our ability to make required cash payments in connection with redemptions or conversions of the Notes, repurchase the Notes upon the occurrence of certain events, or to repay or refinance the Notes at maturity. For example, we maintain cash balances with financial institutions in excess of insured limits, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to access uninsured funds in a timely manner or at all in the event of a failure of these financial institutions. In addition, our ability satisfy our debt obligations may be limited by law or regulatory authority or by other agreements governing our future indebtedness. Since inception, our business has generated net losses, and we may continue to incur significant losses. As a result, we may not have enough available cash or be able to obtain financing at the time we are required to make payments owed under the Notes and/or the Term Loan Facility. If we are unable to satisfy our debt obligations, we may be required to seek funds from external sources, which may not be available on acceptable terms, if at all, and which could intensify the risks related to our indebtedness and further restrict our operating and financial flexibility. Further, any repayment of our debt with equity would dilute the ownership interests of our existing stockholders. In the event of a default on our debt obligations, we may be required to repurchase the Notes, amounts owed under our Term Loan Facility may be accelerated, and assets serving as collateral under our Term Loan Credit Facility may be subject to foreclosure. Any default under the Indenture or the Credit Agreement could also lead to a default under our future indebtedness and could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. Further, if we are liquidated, the lenderâ€™s rights to repayment would be senior to the rights of the holders of our common stock to receive any proceeds from the liquidation. Our Credit Agreement contains covenants and other provisions that restrict our ability to take certain actions and may limit our ability to operate or grow our business in the future.The Credit Agreement contains certain affirmative covenants and negative covenants, including covenants that restrict our ability to take certain actions including, among other things and subject to certain exceptions, the incurrence of debt, the granting of liens, engaging in mergers and other fundamental changes, the making of investments, entering into transactions with affiliates, the payment of dividends and other restricted payments, the prepayment of other indebtedness and the sale of assets. The Credit Agreement also requires us to comply with a minimum liquidity threshold, a maximum recurring revenue-based ratio and a maximum EBITDA-based net leverage ratio. In addition, payments of amounts owed under the Term Loan Facility will require us to dedicate cash flow from operations or cash on hand, which will reduce the amounts available to fund working capital, capital expenditures, transactions (including pursuing strategic initiatives), and other general corporate purposes. Such limitations could limit our flexibility to plan for or react to changes in our business or industry; place us at a disadvantage compared to our competitors that have less debt; limit our ability to borrow or otherwise raise additional capital as needed; or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. We are exposed to interest rate risks with regard to our Term Loan Facility and any future refinancing thereof.Outstanding principal amounts under our Term Loan Facility are expected to accrue interest at a floating rate equal to SOFR plus 6.5% per year. In the event that SOFR is unavailable, interest will accrue at a floating rate equal to the alternate base rate plus 5.5% per year. Accordingly, whenever we have amounts outstanding under our Term Loan Facility, our cash flows and results of operations will be subject to interest rate risk exposure associated with the debt balance outstanding. We currently are not a party to an interest rate swap contract or other derivative instrument designed to hedge our exposure to interest rate fluctuation risk.Our Capped Calls may affect the value of our common stock and subject us to counterparty risk.On April 8, 2020, concurrently with the pricing of our Notes, in a private placement to qualified institutional buyers exempt from registration under the Securities Act (Note Offering), we entered into privately negotiated capped call transactions (Base Capped Calls) with certain financial institutions (the option counterparties). In addition, in connection with the initial purchasersâ€™ exercise in full of their option to purchase additional Notes, on April 9, 2020, we entered into additional capped call transactions (Additional Capped Calls, and, together with the Base Capped Calls, the Capped Calls) with each of the option counterparties. We used approximately $21.6 million of the net proceeds from the Note Offering to pay the cost of the Capped Calls and allocated issuance costs. The Capped Calls have initial cap prices of $42.00 per share, subject to certain adjustments. 100The Capped Calls are expected generally to reduce the potential dilution to our common stock upon any conversion of Notes and/or offset any cash payments we are required to make in excess of the principal amount of converted Notes, as the case may be, with such reduction and/or offset subject to the cap price. The Capped Calls are separate transactions that we entered into with the option counterparties, and are not part of the terms of the Notes. The option counterparties are financial institutions or affiliates of financial institutions, and we will be subject to the risk that one or more of such option counterparties may default under the Capped Calls.From time to time, the option counterparties or their respective affiliates may modify their hedge positions by entering into or unwinding various derivative transactions with respect to our common stock and/or purchasing or selling our common stock or our other securities in secondary market transactions prior to the maturity of the Notes. This activity could cause or avoid an increase or a decrease in the market price of our common stock. In addition, our exposure to the credit risk of the option counterparties will not be secured by any collateral. If any option counterparty becomes subject to insolvency proceedings, we will become an unsecured creditor in those proceedings with a claim equal to our exposure at that time under the Capped Calls. Our exposure will depend on many factors but, generally, the increase in our exposure will be correlated to the increase in our common stock market price and in the volatility of the market price of our common stock. In addition, upon a default by any option counterparty, we may suffer adverse tax consequences and dilution with respect to our common stock. We can provide no assurance as to the financial stability or viability of any option counterparty.Risks Related to Ownership of Our Common StockRisks Related to an Investment in Our SecuritiesWe have a limited operating history in an evolving industry which makes it difficult to evaluate our current business future prospects and increases the risk of your investment.We launched operations in 2008 and we acquired Able Health, Healthfinch, Vitalware, Twistle, ARMUS, KPI Ninja, ERS, Carevive and Lumeon between February 2020 and August 2024. Our limited operating history, in particular with respect to the businesses we have recently acquired, makes it difficult to effectively assess or forecast our future prospects. You should consider our business and prospects in light of the risks and difficulties we encounter or may encounter. These risks and difficulties include our ability to cost-effectively acquire new clients and retain existing clients, maintain the quality of our technology infrastructure that can efficiently and reliably handle the requirements of our clients and deploy new features and solutions, and successfully compete with other companies that are currently in, or may enter, the healthcare solution space. Additional risks include our ability to effectively manage growth, achieve synergies, responsibly use the data that clients share with us, process, store, protect, and use personal data, including PHI, in compliance with governmental regulation, contractual obligations, and other legal obligations related to privacy and security and avoid interruptions or disruptions in our service or slower than expected load times for our Solution. If we fail to address the risks and difficulties that we face, including those associated with the challenges listed above, our business and our results of operations will be adversely affected.We have experienced significant net losses since inception, we expect to incur losses in the future, and we may not be able to generate sufficient revenue to achieve and maintain profitability.We have incurred significant net losses in the past, including net losses of $118.1 million and $137.4 million in the years ended DecemberÂ 31, 2023 and 2022, respectively. We had an accumulated deficit of $1,117.2 million as of DecemberÂ 31, 2023. We expect our costs will increase over time as we continue to invest to grow our business and build relationships with clients, develop our Solution, develop new solutions, and operate as a public company. These efforts may prove to be more expensive than we currently anticipate and external factors, such as macroeconomic challenges, including the high inflationary environment and rising interest rates, could cause an increase in our expenses, and we may not succeed in increasing our revenue sufficiently to offset these higher expenses. 101As a result, we may need to raise additional capital through equity and debt financings in order to fund our operations. To date, we have financed our operations principally from the proceeds we received through private sales of equity securities, payments received from sales of our Solution, borrowings under our loan and security agreements, our IPO in July 2019, the Note Offering in April 2020, and an underwritten public offering of 4,882,075 shares (inclusive of the underwritersâ€™ over-allotment option to purchase 636,792 shares) of our common stock at $53.00 per share in August 2021, from which we received net proceeds of $245.2 million, after deducting the underwriting discounts and commissions and other offering costs (the Secondary Public Equity Offering). We may also fail to improve the gross margins of our business. If we are unable to effectively manage these risks and difficulties as we encounter them, our business, financial condition, and results of operations would be adversely affected. Our failure to achieve or maintain profitability could negatively impact the value of our common stock.The market price of our common stock may be volatile and may decline regardless of our operating performance, and you may lose all or part of your investments.The market price of our common stock may fluctuate significantly in response to numerous factors, many of which are beyond our control, including:â€¢overall performance of the equity markets and/or publicly-listed technology companies;â€¢actual or anticipated fluctuations in our net revenue or other operating metrics;â€¢changes in the financial projections we provide to the public or our failure to meet these projections;â€¢failure of securities analysts to initiate or maintain coverage of us, changes in financial estimates by any securities analysts who follow our company, or our failure to meet the estimates or the expectations of investors;â€¢the economy as a whole and market conditions in our industry;â€¢rumors and market speculation involving us or other companies in our industry;â€¢announcements by us or our competitors of significant innovations, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures, or capital commitments;â€¢new laws or regulations or new interpretations of existing laws or regulations applicable to our business;â€¢lawsuits or investigations threatened or filed against us;â€¢recruitment or departure of key personnel; andâ€¢other events or factors, including those resulting from macroeconomic challenges (including high inflationary and/or high interest rate environments), war, bank or financial institution failures, incidents of terrorism, public health crises, or responses to these events.In addition, extreme price and volume fluctuations in the stock markets have affected and continue to affect many technology companiesâ€™ stock prices. Often, their stock prices have fluctuated in ways unrelated or disproportionate to the companiesâ€™ operating performance. In the past, stockholders have filed securities class action litigation following periods of market volatility. If we were to become involved in securities litigation, it could subject us to substantial costs, divert resources and the attention of management from our business, and harm our business. Moreover, because of these fluctuations, comparing our results of operations on a period-to-period basis may not be meaningful. You should not rely on our past results as an indication of our future performance. This variability and unpredictability could also result in our failing to meet the expectations of industry or financial analysts or investors for any period. If our net revenue or results of operations fall below the expectations of analysts or investors or below any forecasts we may provide to the market, or if the forecasts we provide to the market are below the expectations of analysts or investors, the price of our common stock could decline substantially. Such a stock price decline could occur even when we have met any previously publicly stated net revenue or earnings forecasts that we may provide.102If securities or industry analysts do not continue to publish research, or publish inaccurate or unfavorable research, about our business, the price of our common stock and trading volume could decline.The trading market for our common stock will depend in part on the research and reports that securities or industry analysts publish about us or our business. If industry analysts cease coverage of us, the trading price for our common stock could be negatively affected. If one or more of the analysts who cover us downgrade our common stock or publish inaccurate or unfavorable research about our business, our common stock price would likely decline. If one or more of these analysts cease coverage of us or fail to publish reports on us on a regular basis, demand for our common stock could decrease, which might cause our common stock price and trading volume to decline.We cannot guarantee that the Share Repurchase Plan will be fully consummated or will enhance stockholder value, and share repurchases could affect the price of our common stock.On August 2, 2022, our board of directors authorized and approved the Share Repurchase Plan, pursuant to which we may repurchase up to $40.0 million of our outstanding shares of common stock. We began repurchasing shares of common stock under this program during the third quarter of 2022 and had $29.8 million available to purchase under the Share Repurchase Plan as of JuneÂ 30, 2024. Repurchases of shares of common stock under the Share Repurchase Plan may be made from time to time, in the open market, in privately negotiated transactions or otherwise, with the amount and timing of repurchases to be determined at the discretion of our management, depending on market conditions and corporate needs. Open market repurchases will be structured to occur in accordance with applicable federal securities laws, including within the pricing and volume requirements of Rule 10b-18 under the Exchange Act. We may also, from time to time, enter into Rule 10b5-1 plans to facilitate repurchases of our shares of common stock under this authorization. The timing, pricing, and sizes of these repurchases will depend on a number of factors, including the market price of our common stock and general market and economic conditions. The Share Repurchase Plan could affect the price of our common stock, increase volatility, and diminish our cash reserves.Our management has broad discretion in the use of proceeds from our IPO, the Note Offering, and the Secondary Public Equity Offering and our use may not produce a positive rate of return.The principal purposes of our IPO were to increase our capitalization and financial flexibility, create a public market for our stock and thereby enable access to the public equity markets by our employees and stockholders, obtain additional capital, and strengthen our position in the healthcare data analytics applications and services market. We used a portion of the Note Offering proceeds to pay the cost of the Capped Call transactions and to prepay in full all outstanding indebtedness under our credit agreement with OrbiMed. We cannot specify with certainty our plans for the use of the net proceeds we received from these offerings. However, we intend to use the net proceeds we received from our IPO, the Note Offering, and our Secondary Public Equity Offering for working capital and other general corporate purposes. We may also use a portion of the net proceeds from these offerings for the acquisition of, or investment in, technologies, solutions or businesses that complement our business. Our management has broad discretion over the specific use of the net proceeds we received in these offerings and might not be able to obtain a significant return, if any, on investment of these net proceeds. Investors will need to rely upon the judgment of our management with respect to the use of proceeds. If we do not use the net proceeds that we received in our IPO, the Note Offering, and our Secondary Public Equity Offering effectively, our business, results of operations, and financial condition could be harmed.Our issuance of additional capital stock in connection with financings, acquisitions, investments, our stock incentive plans, or otherwise will dilute all other stockholders.We expect to issue additional capital stock in the future that will result in dilution to all other stockholders. We expect to grant equity awards to employees, directors, and consultants under our stock incentive plans. We may also raise capital through equity financings in the future, including through offerings similar to our Secondary Public Equity Offering during the third quarter of 2021. 103As part of our business strategy, we may acquire or make investments in complementary companies, products, or technologies and issue equity securities to pay for any such acquisition or investment, such as our issuance of equity securities in connection with our acquisitions. Any such issuances of additional capital stock may cause stockholders to experience significant dilution of their ownership interests and the per-share value of our common stock to decline.The requirements of being a public company may strain our resources, divert managementâ€™s attention, and affect our ability to attract and retain executive management and qualified board members.As a public company, we are subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act, the listing standards of Nasdaq,Â and other applicable securities rules and regulations. We expect that the requirements of these rules and regulations will continue to increase our legal, accounting, and financial compliance costs, make some activities more difficult, time-consuming, and costly, and place significant strain on our personnel, systems, and resources. For example, the Exchange Act requires, among other things, that we file annual, quarterly, and current reports with respect to our business and results of operations. As a result of the complexity involved in complying with the rules and regulations applicable to public companies, our managementâ€™s attention may be diverted from other business concerns, which could harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.Although we have already hired additional employees to assist us in complying with these requirements, we may need to hire more employees in the future or engage outside consultants, which will increase our operating expenses. In addition, changing laws, regulations, and standards relating to corporate governance and public disclosure are creating uncertainty for public companies, increasing legal and financial compliance costs, and making some activities more time-consuming. These laws, regulations, and standards are subject to varying interpretations, in many cases due to their lack of specificity, and, as a result, their application in practice may evolve over time as new guidance is provided by regulatory and governing bodies. This could result in continuing uncertainty regarding compliance matters and higher costs necessitated by ongoing revisions to disclosure and governance practices. We intend to invest substantial resources to comply with evolving laws, regulations and standards, and this investment may result in increased general and administrative expenses and a diversion of managementâ€™s time and attention from business operations to compliance activities. If our efforts to comply with new laws, regulations, and standards differ from the activities intended by regulatory or governing bodies due to ambiguities related to their application and practice, regulatory authorities may initiate legal proceedings against us and our business may be harmed.We also expect that being a public company and these new rules and regulations will make it more expensive for us to obtain director and officer liability insurance, and we may be required to accept reduced coverage or incur substantially higher costs to obtain coverage. These factors could also make it more difficult for us to attract and retain qualified members of our board of directors, particularly to serve on our audit committee and compensation committee, and qualified executive officers.As a result of disclosure of information in filings required of a public company, our business and financial condition is more visible, which may result in an increased risk of threatened or actual litigation, including by competitors and other third parties. If such claims are successful, our business and results of operations could be harmed, and even if the claims do not result in litigation or are resolved in our favor, these claims, and the time and resources necessary to resolve them, could divert the resources of our management and harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.The individuals who now constitute our senior management team have limited experience managing a publicly-traded company and limited experience complying with the increasingly complex laws pertaining to public companies. Our senior management team may not successfully or efficiently manage our transition to a public company that is subject to significant regulatory oversight and reporting obligations.104We do not intend to pay dividends on our common stock and, consequently, the ability of common stockholders to achieve a return on investment will depend on appreciation, if any, in the price of our common stock.You should not rely on an investment in our common stock to provide dividend income. We have never declared or paid any dividends on our capital stock. We intend to retain any earnings to finance the operation and expansion of our business, and we do not anticipate paying any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. In addition, the terms of any future credit facility or financing we obtain may contain, terms prohibiting or limiting the amount of dividends that may be declared or paid on our common stock. As a result, common stockholders may only receive a ROI if the market price of our common stock increases.We could be subject to securities class action litigation.In the past, securities class action litigation has often been brought against a company following a decline in the market price of its securities. This risk is especially relevant for us because technology and healthcare technology companies have experienced significant stock price volatility in recent years. If we face such litigation, it could result in substantial costs and a diversion of managementâ€™s attention and resources, which could harm our business.Risks Related to Our Charter and BylawsProvisions in our charter documents and under Delaware law could make an acquisition of our company more difficult, limit attempts by our stockholders to replace or remove our current board of directors, and limit the market price of our common stock.Provisions in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws may have the effect of delaying or preventing a change of control or changes in our management. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws, include provisions that:â€¢provide that our board of directors is classified into three classes of directors with staggered three-year terms;â€¢permit the board of directors to establish the number of directors and fill any vacancies and newly-created directorships;â€¢require super-majority voting to amend some provisions in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and amended and restated bylaws;â€¢authorize the issuance of â€œblank checkâ€ preferred stock that our board of directors could use to implement a stockholder rights plan;â€¢provide that only a majority of our board of directors will be authorized to call a special meeting of stockholders;â€¢prohibit stockholder action by written consent, which requires all stockholder actions to be taken at a meeting of our stockholders;â€¢provide that the board of directors is expressly authorized to make, alter, or repeal our bylaws; andâ€¢advance notice requirements for nominations for election to our board of directors or for proposing matters that can be acted upon by stockholders at annual stockholder meetings.Moreover, Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law may discourage, delay, or prevent a change in control of our company. Section 203 imposes certain restrictions on mergers, business combinations, and other transactions between us and holders of 15% or more of our common stock.105Our amended and restated bylaws designate a state or federal court located within the State of Delaware as the exclusive forum for certain litigation that may be initiated by our stockholders, which could limit stockholdersâ€™ ability to obtain a favorable judicial forum for disputes with us.Our amended and restated bylaws include an exclusive forum provision that provides that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware will be the exclusive forum for the following types of actions or proceedings under Delaware statutory or common law:â€¢any derivative action or proceeding brought on our behalf;â€¢any action asserting a breach of fiduciary duty owed to us or our stockholders by any of our current or former directors, officers or other employees;â€¢any action asserting a claim against us arising pursuant to the Delaware General Corporation Law, our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, or our amended and restated bylaws; orâ€¢any action that is governed by the internal affairs doctrine and asserts a claim against us or any of our current or former directors, officers or other employees or stockholders.This exclusive forum provision will not apply to any causes of action arising under the Securities Act. Further, Section 22 of the Securities Act creates concurrent jurisdiction for federal and state courts over all suits brought to enforce any duty or liability created by the Securities Act or the rules and regulations thereunder. Accordingly, both state and federal courts have jurisdiction to entertain such Securities Act claims. To prevent having to litigate claims in multiple jurisdictions and the threat of inconsistent or contrary rulings by different courts, among other considerations, our amended and restated bylaws provide that, unless we consent in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the federal district courts of the United States of America shall be the exclusive forum for the resolution of any complaint asserting a cause or causes of action arising under the Securities Act; however, a court may not enforce such provision.This choice of forum provision may limit a stockholderâ€™s ability to bring a claim in a judicial forum that it finds favorable for disputes with us or any of our directors, officers, or other employees, which may discourage lawsuits with respect to such claims. Alternatively, if a court were to find the choice of forum provision which will be contained in our amended and restated bylaws to be inapplicable or unenforceable in an action, we may incur additional costs associated with resolving such action in other jurisdictions, which could harm our business, results of operations, and financial condition.106General RisksChanges in accounting principles may cause previously unanticipated fluctuations in our financial results, and the implementation of such changes may impact our ability to meet our financial reporting obligations.We prepare our financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP which are subject to interpretation or changes by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB), the SEC, and other various bodies formed to promulgate and interpret appropriate accounting principles. New accounting pronouncements and changes in accounting principles have occurred in the past and are expected to occur in the future which may have a significant effect on our financial results. Furthermore, any difficulties in implementation of changes in accounting principles, including the ability to modify our accounting systems, could cause us to fail to meet our financial reporting obligations, which could result in regulatory discipline and harm investorsâ€™ confidence in us.Economic uncertainties or downturns in the general economy or the industries in which our clients operate could disproportionately affect the demand for our Solution and negatively impact our results of operations.General worldwide economic conditions have experienced significant downturns during the last ten or more years, and market volatility and uncertainty remain widespread, making it potentially very difficult for our clients and us to accurately forecast and plan future business activities. During challenging economic times, our clients may have difficulty gaining timely access to sufficient credit or obtaining credit on reasonable terms, increased costs, and/or other negative financial impacts, each of which could impair their ability to make timely payments to us, reduce client expansion and new client acquisition, increase client churn, and adversely affect our revenue. If that were to occur, our financial results could be harmed. Further, challenging economic conditions may impair the ability of our clients to pay for the applications and services they already have purchased from us and, as a result, our write-offs of accounts receivable could increase. We cannot predict the timing, strength, or duration of any economic slowdown or recovery. If the condition of the general economy or markets in which we operate worsens, our business could be harmed.Investorsâ€™ expectations of our performance relating to environmental, social, and governance factors may impose additional costs and expose us to new risks.There is an increasing focus from certain investors, employees, and other stakeholders concerning corporate responsibility, specifically related to environmental, social, and governance factors. For example, increasingly there are disclosure regulations focused on environmental, social and sustainability matters. The SEC recently adopted final climate change disclosure regulation that, if it survives the litigation it is currently subject to, will require us to make certain disclosures that may be costly for our company. We are currently evaluating this regulation to determine its impact on us.In addition, some investors may use these factors to guide their investment strategies and, in some cases, may choose not to invest in us if they believe our policies relating to corporate responsibility are inadequate. Third-party providers of corporate responsibility ratings and reports on companies have increased to meet growing investor demand for measurement of corporate responsibility performance. The criteria by which companiesâ€™ corporate responsibility practices are assessed may change, which could result in greater expectations of us and cause us to undertake costly initiatives to satisfy such new criteria. If we elect not to or are unable to satisfy such new criteria, investors may conclude that our policies with respect to corporate responsibility are inadequate. We may face reputational damage in the event that our corporate responsibility procedures or standards do not meet the standards set by various constituencies.Furthermore, if our competitorsâ€™ corporate responsibility performance is perceived to be greater than ours, potential or current investors may elect to invest with our competitors instead. In addition, in the event that we communicate certain initiatives and goals regarding environmental, social and governance matters, we could fail, or be perceived to fail, in our achievement of such initiatives or goals, or we could be criticized for the scope of such initiatives or goals. If we fail to satisfy the expectations of investors, employees, and other stakeholders, or, if our initiatives are not executed as planned, our reputation and business, operating results, and financial condition could be adversely impacted.107Item 2. each case of (a) and (b) in connection with a Limited Condition Acquisition, the date of determination of such ratio and determination of such compliance will, at the option of the Borrower (the Borrowerâ€™s election to exercise such option in connection with any Limited Condition Acquisition, an â€œLCA Electionâ€), which such election shall be made on or prior to the LCA Test Date, be deemed to be the date the definitive agreements for such Limited Condition Acquisition are entered into (the â€œLCA Test Dateâ€). If on a Pro Forma Basis after giving effect to such Limited Condition Acquisition and the other transactions to be entered into in connection therewith (including any incurrence of Indebtedness and the use of proceeds thereof) calculated as if such Limited Condition Acquisition and other transactions had occurred at the beginning of the most recently ended period of four consecutive trailing fiscal quarters of the Borrower 51ending prior to the LCA Test Date for which financial statements have been delivered pursuant to Section 6.1, the Borrower could have taken such action on the relevant LCA Test Date in compliance with the applicable requirements, then such provisions (other than with respect to compliance with a provision that requires no continuing Event of Default pursuant to Section 8.1(a) or (f), which shall be tested at the time of consummation of the Limited Condition Acquisition and related transactions) will be deemed to have been complied with. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) if any of such ratios are exceeded as a result of fluctuations in such ratio (including due to fluctuations in Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA) at or prior to the consummation of the relevant Limited Condition Acquisition, such ratios and other provisions will not be deemed to have been exceeded as a result of such fluctuations solely for purposes of determining whether the Limited Condition Acquisition is permitted hereunder and (ii) such ratios and compliance with such conditions (other than with respect to compliance with a provision that requires no continuing Event of Default pursuant to Section 8.1(a) or (f)) will not be tested at the time of consummation of such Limited Condition Acquisition or related transactions. If the Borrower has made an LCA Election for any Limited Condition Acquisition, then in connection with any subsequent calculation of any ratio or basket with respect to any other transaction on or following the relevant LCA Test Date and prior to the earlier of the date on which such Limited Condition Acquisition is consummated and the date that the definitive agreement for such Limited Condition Acquisition is terminated or expires without consummation of such Limited Condition Acquisition, any such ratio or basket will be calculated on a Pro Forma Basis assuming such Limited Condition Acquisition and other transactions in connection therewith (including any incurrence of Indebtedness and the use of proceeds thereof) have been consummated until such time as the applicable Limited Condition Acquisition has actually closed or the definitive agreement with respect thereto has been terminated or expires. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) in the event that any Limited Condition Acquisition shall not have occurred on or prior to the date that is 30 days following the execution of the definitive documents for such Limited Condition Acquisition, such transaction shall no longer constitute a Limited Condition Acquisition for purposes of the condition precedent to the borrowing of Delayed Draw Loans in connection with such Limited Condition Acquisition set forth in Section 5.4(a), (ii) in the event that any Limited Condition Acquisition shall not have occurred on or prior to the date that is 60 days following the execution of the definitive documents for such Limited Condition Acquisition, such transaction shall no longer constitute a Limited Condition Acquisition for purposes of the condition precedent to the borrowing of Delayed Draw Loans in connection with such Limited Condition Acquisition set forth in Section 5.4(b) and (iii) in the event that any Limited Condition Acquisition shall not have occurred on or prior to the date that is 120 days following the execution of the definitive documents for such Limited Condition Acquisition, such transaction shall no longer constitute a Limited Condition Acquisition for any other purpose.1.6Â Â Â Â Rates. The Administrative Agent does not warrant or accept responsibility for, and shall not have any liability with respect to (a) administration, construction, calculation, publication, continuation, discontinuation, movement, or regulation of, or any other matter related to, the ABR, the Benchmark, or any alternative, successor or replacement rate thereto (including any Benchmark Replacement), any component definition thereof or rates referred to in the definition thereof, including whether any Benchmark is similar to, or will produce the same value or economic equivalence of, any other rate or whether financial instruments referencing or underlying the Benchmark will have the same volume or liquidity as those referencing or underlying any other rate, (b) the impact of any regulatory statements about, or actions taken with respect to any Benchmark (or component thereof) or (c) changes made by any administrator to the methodology used to calculate any Benchmark (or component thereof). The Administrative Agent and its affiliates or other related entities may engage in transactions that affect the calculation of the ABR, the Benchmark, any alternative, successor or replacement rate (including any Benchmark Replacement) or any relevant adjustments thereto, in each case, in a manner adverse to the Borrower. The Administrative Agent does not warrant or accept responsibility for, and shall not have any 52liability with respect to, such transactions. The Administrative Agent may select information sources or services in its reasonable discretion to ascertain the ABR, the Benchmark, or any alternative, successor or replacement rate (including any Benchmark Replacement), in each case pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, and shall have no liability to the Borrower, any Lender or any other person or entity for damages of any kind, including direct or indirect, special, punitive, incidental or consequential damages, costs, losses or expenses (whether in tort, contract or otherwise and whether at law or in equity), for any error with respect to calculation of any such rate (or component thereof) by any such information source or service.1.7Â Â Â Â Agreed Security Principles. With respect to any Foreign Subsidiary, each obligation to deliver a guarantee or Security Document, the determination of Collateral and assets that are excluded from the Collateral of such Foreign Subsidiary and each obligation to deliver or enter into any other guaranty and security document under this Agreement by such Foreign Subsidiary shall be subject in all respects to the Agreed Security Principles.SECTION 2AMOUNT AND TERMS OF COMMITMENTS2.1Â Â Â Â Commitments. (a)Â Â Â Â Initial Loans. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, each Initial Lender severally agrees to make a term loan (an â€œInitial Loanâ€) in Dollars to the Borrower on the Closing Date in an amount equal to the amount of the Initial Commitment of such Initial Lender. The Initial Loans may from time to time be SOFR Loans or ABR Loans, as determined by the Borrower and notified to the Administrative Agent in accordance with Sections 2.2 and 2.13. Any amount borrowed under this Section 2.1(a) and subsequently repaid or prepaid may not be reborrowed. Each Initial Lenderâ€™s Initial Commitment shall terminate immediately and without further action on the Closing Date after giving effect to the funding of such Initial Lenderâ€™s Initial Commitment on such date. (b)Â Â Â Â Delayed Draw Loans. (i)Â Â Â Â Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, each Delayed Draw Lender severally agrees to make a term loan (a â€œDelayed Draw A Loanâ€) in Dollars to the Borrower after the Closing Date from time to time upon written request of the Borrower on or prior to the Delayed Draw A Commitment Termination Date in an amount not to exceed the Delayed Draw A Commitment of such Delayed Draw Lender; provided that in no event shall such Delayed Draw Lender be required to make a Delayed Draw Loan in excess of its unused Delayed Draw A Commitment as in effect immediately prior to such Delayed Draw Loan. Each borrowing of Delayed Draw A Loans shall result in a corresponding reduction in the Delayed Draw A Commitments in accordance with each Delayed Draw Lenderâ€™s Delayed Draw Pro Rata Share of the Delayed Draw A Commitments. Each Delayed Draw Lenderâ€™s Delayed Draw A Commitment shall terminate and be permanently reduced immediately and without further action at 11:59 p.m. (New York City time) on the Delayed Draw A Commitment Termination Date.(ii)Â Â Â Â Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, each Delayed Draw Lender severally agrees to make a term loan (a â€œDelayed Draw B Loanâ€) in Dollars to the Borrower after the Closing Date from time to time upon written request of the Borrower on or prior to the Delayed Draw B Commitment Termination Date in an amount not to exceed the Delayed Draw B Commitment of such Delayed Draw Lender; provided that in no event shall such Delayed Draw Lender be required to make a Delayed Draw Loan in excess of its unused Delayed Draw B Commitment as in effect immediately prior 53to such Delayed Draw Loan. Each borrowing of Delayed Draw B Loans shall result in a corresponding reduction in the Delayed Draw B Commitments in accordance with each Delayed Draw Lenderâ€™s Delayed Draw Pro Rata Share of the Delayed Draw B Commitments. Each Delayed Draw Lenderâ€™s Delayed Draw B Commitment shall terminate and be permanently reduced immediately and without further action at 11:59 p.m. (New York City time) on the Delayed Draw B Commitment Termination Date.The Delayed Draw Loans may from time to time be SOFR Loans or ABR Loans, as determined by the Borrower and notified to the Administrative Agent in accordance with Sections 2.2 and 2.13. Any amount borrowed under this Section 2.1(b) and subsequently repaid or prepaid may not be reborrowed. 2.2Â Â Â Â Procedure for Borrowing. (a)Procedure for Borrowing Initial Loans. The Borrower shall give the Administrative Agent a Notice of Borrowing (which must be received by the Administrative Agent prior to 11:00 A.M.Â one (1) Business Day prior to the anticipated Closing Date (or such shorter period as the Administrative Agent may reasonably agree)), requesting that the Term Lenders make the Initial Loans, specifying the amount to be borrowed, the Type of Loan and, in the case of SOFR Loans, specifying the length of the initial Interest Period therefor. Upon receipt of such Notice of Borrowing, the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each Lender thereof. Not later than 2:00 P.M. on the Closing Date, each Lender shall make available to the Administrative Agent at the Funding Office an amount in immediately available funds equal to the Loan or Loans to be made by such Lender. Each Delayed Draw Lender will make the amount of its pro rata share of each such borrowing available to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Borrower at the Funding Office prior to 12:00 P.M. on the Borrowing Date requested by the Borrower in funds immediately available to the Administrative Agent. Any Notice of Borrowing may be conditioned on the occurrence of a specified event (including a Permitted Acquisition) and may be revoked or extended by the Borrower if such specified event is not consummated (or the Borrower reasonably determines that it does not expect it to be consummated) on the expected date; provided that, if such Notice of Borrowing is revoked, extended or the specified event with respect to which the Notice of Borrowing is conditioned does not occur, the Borrower shall pay interest to the Administrative Agent, for the account of the applicable Delayed Draw Lenders, in accordance with the Notice of Borrowing and Section 2.15 of the Credit Agreement, as if the borrowing specified in the Notice of Borrowing had been made, for the period commencing on the Borrowing Date specified in the Notice of Borrowing through, and including, (x) in the case of revocation or the specified event with respect to which the Notice of Borrowing is conditioned does not occur, the second Business Day occurring thereafter, and (y) in the case of an extension, the extended date of borrowing.2.3Â Â Â Â Repayment of Loans. (a)Â Â Â Â The Borrower shall repay to the Administrative Agent for the ratable benefit of the Lenders holding Initial Loans (i) on the last day of each fiscal quarter of the Borrower, commencing with the fiscal quarter of the Borrower ending on December 31, 2024, an aggregate principal amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate original principal amount of the Initial Loans incurred on the Closing Date, and (ii) on the Maturity Date, the aggregate principal amount of all Initial Loans outstanding on such date.(b)Â Â Â Â The Borrower shall repay to the Administrative Agent for the ratable benefit of the Lenders holding Delayed Draw A Loans (i) on the last day of each fiscal quarter of the Borrower following the applicable Delayed Draw A Funding Date, commencing with the last day of the first full fiscal quarter of the Borrower following the applicable Delayed Draw A Funding Date, an aggregate principal amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate original principal amount of the Delayed Draw A Loans made on such Delayed Draw A Funding Date, and (ii) on the Maturity Date, the aggregate principal amount of all Delayed Draw A Loans outstanding on such date. Prepayments made pursuant to this Section 2.11 shall be applied to the prepayment of installments due in respect of the Loans in direct order of maturity (unless otherwise directed by the Borrower), in accordance with Sections 2.3 and 2.18(b). (b)Â Â Â Â Upon receipt of any such notice the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each relevant Lender thereof. If any such notice is given, the amount specified in such notice shall be due and payable on the date specified therein, together with accrued interest to such date on the amount prepaid. Partial prepayments of Loans shall be in an aggregate principal amount of $1,000,000 or a whole multiple of $500,000 in excess thereof. The foregoing provisions set forth in this Section 2.11 will not apply with respect to any Discounted Prepayment governed by Section 2.29 or to any assignments to the Borrower or any Subsidiary made pursuant to Section 10.6(h). 2.12Â Â Â Â Mandatory Prepayments.58(a)Â Â Â Â If any Permitted Convertible Indebtedness shall be incurred, an amount equal to 50% of the Net Cash Proceeds thereof shall be applied toward the prepayment of the Term Loans and other amounts as set forth in SectionÂ 2.12(g) on or prior to the date that is two (2) Business Days after the date of funding of such Permitted Convertible Indebtedness.(b)Â Â Â Â If any Indebtedness shall be incurred by any Group Member (excluding any Indebtedness incurred in accordance with SectionÂ 7.2 (other than Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness)), an amount equal to 100% of the Net Cash Proceeds thereof shall be applied on the date of incurrence toward the prepayment of the Term Loans and other amounts as set forth in SectionÂ 2.12(g).(c)Â Â Â Â If on any date any Group Member shall receive Net Cash Proceeds from any Specified Asset Sale or from any Recovery Event unless a Reinvestment Notice shall be delivered to the Administrative Agent on or prior to the fifth (5th) Business Day after receipt thereof, 100% of such Net Cash Proceeds shall be applied toward the prepayment of the Term Loans and other amounts as set forth in Section 2.12(g) on or prior to the sixth (6th) Business Day after such Group Memberâ€™s receipt of such Net Cash Proceeds; provided that (i) notwithstanding the foregoing, on each Reinvestment Prepayment Date, an amount equal to the Reinvestment Prepayment Amount with respect to the relevant Reinvestment Event shall be applied toward the prepayment of the Term Loans and other amounts as set forth in Section 2.12(g) and (ii) with respect to Net Cash Proceeds from any Specified Asset Sale, (A) no Reinvestment Notice shall be delivered prior to the Delayed Draw Termination Date and (B) to the extent that the Consolidated Net Leverage Ratio exceeds 4.50 to 1.00, calculated on a Pro Forma Basis as of the end of the most recent Test Period, then the aggregate amount of the Reinvestment Deferred Amount specified in such Reinvestment Notice (when taken together with all prior Net Cash Proceeds for which a Reinvestment Notice was delivered, minus all Reinvestment Prepayment Amounts previously paid to the Administrative Agent pursuant to clause (i) of this proviso) shall not exceed $10,000,000.(d)Â Â Â Â If, for any fiscal year of the Borrower, commencing with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2025, there shall be positive Excess Cash Flow for such fiscal year, the Borrower shall, on or prior to the relevant Excess Cash Flow Application Date, apply the difference of (x) 50% of such Excess Cash Flow minus (y) the aggregate amount of any voluntary prepayments (including Discounted Prepayments made pursuant to Section 2.29 and assignments to the Borrower or any Subsidiary made pursuant to Section 10.6(h), with the amount of such prepayment being equal to the amount actually paid by the Borrower (or any Subsidiary, as applicable)) of the Term Loans made during such fiscal year (in each case, to the extent such payment is not financed with the proceeds of long-term Indebtedness for borrowed money (other than revolving facilities) or the proceeds of an equity issuance) (such difference, the â€œECF Prepayment Amountâ€) toward the prepayment of the Term Loans and other amounts as set forth in Section 2.12(g); provided that no prepayment shall be required with respect to such fiscal year under this Section 2.12(d) unless the ECF Prepayment Amount exceeds the greater of (i) $2,000,000 and (ii) 5% of Consolidated Adjusted EBITDA as of the most recently ended Test Period (and only the amount in excess of such threshold shall be required to be used to prepay the Term Loans under this Section 2.12(d). Each such prepayment shall be made on or prior to the date that is three (3) Business Days after the earlier of (i) the date on which the financial statements of the Borrower referred to in SectionÂ 6.1(a), for the fiscal year with respect to which such prepayment is to be made are required to be delivered to the Lenders, and (ii) the date such financial statements are actually delivered (such date with respect to the applicable fiscal year, the â€œExcess Cash Flow Application Dateâ€). (e)Â Â Â Â Upon the Borrowerâ€™s receipt of any Specified Equity Contribution, 100% of such Specified Equity Contribution shall be applied toward the prepayment of the Term Loans and other amounts as set forth in Section 2.12(g) within two (2) Business Days after receipt thereof.59(f)Â Â Â Â If on any date any Group Member shall receive any Extraordinary Receipts, 100% of the net cash proceeds of such Extraordinary Receipts shall be applied toward the prepayment of the Term Loans and other amounts as set forth in Section 2.12(g) within two (2) Business Days after receipt thereof.(g)Â Â Â Â Amounts to be applied in connection with prepayments made pursuant to this Section 2.12 shall be applied to the prepayment of scheduled installments due in respect of the Term Loans ratably for each upcoming scheduled installment payment of Term Loans required under Section 2.3 (excluding the final payment at the Maturity Date) until each such scheduled installment is paid in full and, thereafter, to the final payment due in respect of the Term Loans on the Maturity Date, and, in each case, to the extent accrued shall be paid together with accrued interest to the date of such prepayment on the amount prepaid; provided that any Lender may decline any such prepayment made pursuant to this Section 2.12 (other than any prepayment made with the proceeds of Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness) (the aggregate amount of all such prepayments declined in connection with any particular prepayment, collectively, the â€œDeclined Amountâ€), in which case the Declined Amount shall be retained by the Borrower and may be used for any purpose not prohibited by this Agreement. The Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent notice of each prepayment of Term Loans pursuant to this Section 2.12 to the Administrative Agent not less than three (3) Business Days prior to the date such prepayment shall be made (each, a â€œMandatory Prepayment Dateâ€). Such notice shall set forth (i) the Mandatory Prepayment Date and (ii) the aggregate amount of such prepayment.(h)Â Â Â Â The Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent, at the time of each prepayment required under this SectionÂ 2.12, a certificate signed by a Responsible Officer setting forth in reasonable detail the calculation of the amount of such prepayment.(i)Â Â Â Â Mandatory prepayments made pursuant to Section 2.12(a), Section 2.12(b) and (solely with respect to Specified Asset Sales, and solely to the extent provided in Section 2.9(d)) Section 2.12(c) shall be subject to the Prepayment Premium set forth in Section 2.9(d). (j)Â Â Â Â Notwithstanding any provisions of this Section 2.12 to the contrary, to the extent the Borrower determines, acting in good faith, that any repatriation or distribution (or deemed repatriation or deemed distribution for tax purposes) to the Borrower of Net Cash Proceeds, Excess Cash Flow, and Extraordinary Receipts described in this Section 2.12 that are attributable to any Subsidiary would reasonably be expected to result in material adverse Tax consequences to any Group Member (as determined by the Borrower in good faith and in consultation with the Administrative Agent), or would be prohibited or restricted by applicable Requirements of Law, or applicable Operating Documents or material agreements of such Subsidiary, the applicable Net Cash Proceeds, Excess Cash Flow, or Extraordinary Receipts, as applicable, shall not be required to be so repatriated or distributed and the relevant amounts shall not be required to be prepaid in accordance with this Section 2.12. To the extent that the relevant material adverse Tax consequences, restrictions imposed by Requirements of Law or restrictions set forth in the applicable Operating Documents or material agreements, in each case, would no longer be applicable at any time in the twelve (12) month period following the day that the relevant amounts would otherwise be required to be prepaid pursuant to this Section 2.12, the Borrower shall cause such amounts to be prepaid as and to the extent otherwise required pursuant to this Section 2.12. The Borrower will use commercially reasonable efforts to avoid or mitigate any material adverse Tax consequences, restrictions imposed by Requirements of Law and restrictions set forth in the applicable 60Operating Documents or material agreements, in each case, that would otherwise limit an obligation of the Borrower to make a mandatory prepayment in accordance with the terms of this Section 2.12. 2.13Â Â Â Â Conversion and Continuation Options.(a)Â Â Â Â The Borrower may elect from time to time to convert SOFR Loans to ABR Loans by giving the Administrative Agent prior irrevocable notice in a Notice of Conversion/Continuation of such election no later than 11:00 A.M. on the Business Day preceding the proposed conversion date (or such later time as the Administrative Agent may agree). The Borrower may elect from time to time to convert ABR Loans to SOFR Loans by giving the Administrative Agent prior irrevocable notice in a Notice of Conversion/Continuation of such election no later than 11:00 A.M. on the third U.S. Government Securities Business Day preceding the proposed conversion date (which notice shall specify the length of the initial Interest Period therefor); and (ii) at the election of the Required Lenders prior to the applicable conversion date, no ABR Loan may be converted into a SOFR Loan when any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing. Upon receipt of any such notice, the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each relevant Lender thereof. (b)Â Â Â Â Any SOFR Loan may be continued as such upon the expiration of the then-current Interest Period with respect thereto by the Borrower giving irrevocable notice in a Notice of Conversion/Continuation to the Administrative Agent no later than 11:00 A.M. three (3) Business Days prior to the last day of the then-current Interest Period (or such later date or time as the Administrative Agent may agree); provided that (i) at the election of the Required Lenders prior to the applicable continuation date, no SOFR Loan may be continued as such when any Event of Default has occurred and is continuing; and (ii) if the Borrower shall fail to give any required notice as described above in this paragraph or if such continuation is not permitted pursuant to the preceding proviso, such Loans shall be automatically converted to ABR Loans on the last day of such then expiring Interest Period. Upon receipt of any such notice the Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each relevant Lender thereof. 2.14Â Â Â Â Limitations on SOFR Tranches. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, all borrowings, conversions and continuations of SOFR Loans and all selections of Interest Periods shall be in such amounts and be made pursuant to such elections so that, (a) after giving effect thereto, the aggregate principal amount of the SOFR Loans comprising each SOFR Tranche (if any) shall be equal to $1,000,000 or a whole multiple of $100,000 in excess thereof (or, if less, the aggregate amount of Loans then-outstanding), and (b) no more than seven (7) SOFR Tranches shall be outstanding at any one time.2.15Â Â Â Â Interest Rates and Payment Dates.(a)Â Â Â Â Each SOFR Loan shall bear interest for each day during each Interest Period with respect thereto at a rate per annum equal to (i) Term SOFR plus (ii) the Applicable Margin for SOFR Loans.(b)Â Â Â Â Each ABR Loan shall bear interest at a rate per annum equal to (i) the ABR plus (ii) the Applicable Margin for ABR Loans.(c)Â Â Â Â During the continuance of an Event of Default, at the request of the Required Lenders, all overdue payments of principal and interest on outstanding Loans shall bear interest at a rate equal to the rate that would otherwise be applicable thereto pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this SectionÂ 2.15 plus 2.00% per annum (the â€œDefault Rateâ€); provided that the Default Rate shall apply to 61such overdue amounts automatically and without any Required Lender consent therefor upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default arising under Section 8.1(a) or (f).(d)Â Â Â Â Interest on the outstanding principal amount of each Loan shall be payable in arrears on each Interest Payment Date; provided that interest accruing pursuant to SectionÂ 2.15(c) shall be payable from time to time on written demand.Â Â Â Â (e)Â Â Â Â Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, it is understood and agreed that interest on the Initial Loans shall commence accruing on July 16, 2024 pursuant to the Pre-Funding Letter.2.16Â Â Â Â Computation of Interest and Fees.(a)Â Â Â Â Interest and fees payable pursuant hereto shall be calculated on the basis of a 360-day year for the actual days elapsed, except that, with respect to ABR Loans the rate of interest on which is calculated on the basis of the Prime Rate, the interest thereon shall be calculated on the basis of a 365- (or 366-, as the case may be) day year for the actual days elapsed. The Administrative Agent shall as soon as practicable notify the Borrower and the relevant Lenders of each determination of Term SOFR. Any change in the interest rate on a Loan resulting from a change in the ABR shall become effective as of the opening of business on the day on which such change becomes effective. The Administrative Agent shall as soon as practicable notify the Borrower and the relevant Lenders of the effective date and the amount of each such change in interest rate.(b)Â Â Â Â Each determination of an interest rate by the Administrative Agent pursuant to any provision of this Agreement shall be conclusive and binding on the Borrower and the Lenders in the absence of manifest error. The Administrative Agent shall, at the request of the Borrower, deliver to the Borrower a statement showing the quotations used by the Administrative Agent in determining any interest rate pursuant to SectionÂ 2.16(a).2.17Â Â Â Â Inability to Determine Interest Rate. Subject to Section 2.17(c), if, on or prior to the first day of any Interest Period for any SOFR Loan: (a)Â Â Â Â the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive and binding absent manifest error) that â€œTerm SOFRâ€ cannot be determined pursuant to the definition thereof, or(b)Â Â Â Â the Required Lenders determine that for any reason in connection with any request for a SOFR Loan or a conversion thereto or a continuation thereof that Term SOFR for any requested Interest Period with respect to a proposed SOFR Loan does not adequately and fairly reflect the cost to such Lenders of funding such Loan, and the Required Lenders have provided notice of such determination to the Administrative Agent,the Administrative Agent will promptly so notify the Borrower and each Lender.Upon notice thereof by the Administrative Agent to the Borrower, any obligation of the Lenders to make or maintain SOFR Loans, and any right of the Borrower to continue SOFR Loans or to convert ABR Loans to SOFR Loans shall be suspended (to the extent of the affected Interest Periods) until the Administrative Agent (with respect to clause (b), at the instruction of the Required Lenders) revokes such notice. Upon receipt of such notice, (i) the Borrower may revoke any pending request for a borrowing of, conversion to or continuation of SOFR Loans (to the extent of the affected Interest Periods) or, failing 62that, the Borrower will be deemed to have converted any such request into a request for a borrowing of or conversion to ABR Loans in the amount specified therein and (ii) any outstanding affected SOFR Loans will be deemed to have been converted into ABR Loans at the end of the applicable Interest Period. Upon any such conversion, the Borrower shall also pay accrued interest on the amount so converted. Subject to Section 2.17(c), if the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive and binding absent manifest error) that â€œTerm SOFRâ€ cannot be determined pursuant to the definition thereof on any given day, the interest rate on ABR Loans shall be determined by the Administrative Agent without reference to clause (c) of the definition of â€œABRâ€ until the Administrative Agent revokes such determination.(c)Â Â Â Â Benchmark Replacement Setting. (i)Â Â Â Â Benchmark Replacement. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any other Loan Document, if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred prior to any setting of the then-current Benchmark, then (x) if a Benchmark Replacement is determined in accordance with clause (a) of the definition of â€œBenchmark Replacementâ€ for such Benchmark

Replacement Date, such Benchmark Replacement will replace such Benchmark for all purposes hereunder and under any Loan Document in respect of such Benchmark setting and subsequent Benchmark settings without any amendment to, or further action or consent of any other party to, this Agreement or any other Loan Document and (y) if a Benchmark Replacement is determined in accordance with clause (b) of the definition of â€œBenchmark Replacementâ€ for such Benchmark Replacement Date, such Benchmark Replacement will replace such Benchmark for all purposes hereunder and under any Loan Document in respect of any Benchmark setting at or after 5:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the fifth (5th) Business Day after the date notice of such Benchmark Replacement is provided to the Lenders without any amendment to, or further action or consent of any other party to, this Agreement or any other Loan Document so long as the Administrative Agent has not received, by such time, written notice of objection to such Benchmark Replacement from Lenders comprising the Required Lenders. If the Benchmark Replacement is Daily Simple SOFR, all interest payments will be payable on a monthly basis.(ii)Â Â Â Â Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes. In connection with the use, administration, adoption or implementation of a Benchmark Replacement, the Administrative Agent will have the right to make Conforming Changes from time to time and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any other Loan Document, any amendments implementing such Conforming Changes will become effective without any further action or consent of any other party to this Agreement or any other Loan Document.(iii)Â Â Â Â Notices; Standards for Decisions and Determinations. The Administrative Agent will promptly notify the Borrower and the Lenders of (i) the implementation of any Benchmark Replacement and (ii) the effectiveness of any Conforming Changes. The Administrative Agent will notify the Borrower of (x) the removal or reinstatement of any tenor of a Benchmark pursuant to Section 2.17(c)(iv) and (y) the commencement of any Benchmark Unavailability Period. Any determination, decision or election that may be made by the Administrative Agent or, if applicable, any Lender (or group of Lenders) pursuant to this Section 2.17(c), including any 63determination with respect to a tenor, rate or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or selection, will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error and may be made in its or their sole discretion and without consent from any other party to this Agreement or any other Loan Document, except, in each case, as expressly required pursuant to this Section 2.17(c).(iv)Â Â Â Â Unavailability of Tenor of Benchmark. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any other Loan Document, at any time (including in connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement), (i) if the then-current Benchmark is a term rate (including the Term SOFR Reference Rate) and either (A) any tenor for such Benchmark is not displayed on a screen or other information service that publishes such rate from time to time as selected by the Administrative Agent in its reasonable discretion or (B) the administrator of such Benchmark or the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of such Benchmark has provided a public statement or publication of information announcing that any tenor for such Benchmark is not or will not be representative, then the Administrative Agent may modify the definition of â€œInterest Periodâ€ (or any similar or analogous definition) for any Benchmark settings at or after such time to remove such unavailable or non-representative tenor and (ii) if a tenor that was removed pursuant to clause (i) above either (A) is subsequently displayed on a screen or information service for a Benchmark (including a Benchmark Replacement) or (B) is not, or is no longer, subject to an announcement that it is not or will not be representative for a Benchmark (including a Benchmark Replacement), then the Administrative Agent may modify the definition of â€œInterest Periodâ€ (or any similar or analogous definition) for all Benchmark settings at or after such time to reinstate such previously removed tenor.(v)Â Â Â Â Benchmark Unavailability Period. Upon the Borrowerâ€™s receipt of notice of the commencement of a Benchmark Unavailability Period, the Borrower may revoke any pending request for a borrowing of, conversion to or continuation of SOFR Loans to be made, converted or continued during any Benchmark Unavailability Period and, failing that, the Borrower will be deemed to have converted any such request into a request for a borrowing of or conversion to ABR Loans. During a Benchmark Unavailability Period or at any time that a tenor for the then-current Benchmark is not an Available Tenor, the component of the ABR based upon the then-current Benchmark or such tenor for such Benchmark, as applicable, will not be used in any determination of the ABR.2.18Â Â Â Â Pro Rata Treatment and Payments.(a)Â Â Â Â Except as set forth in any Incremental Amendment, Extension Amendment or Refinancing Amendment, each borrowing by the Borrower from the Lenders hereunder with respect to a Tranche, each payment by the Borrower on account of any commitment fee with respect to a Tranche and any reduction of the Commitments of a Tranche shall be made pro rata according to the Term Percentages of the relevant Lenders with respect to the applicable Tranche.(b)Â Â Â Â Except as otherwise provided herein (including as set forth in any Incremental Amendment, Extension Amendment or Refinancing Amendment), each payment (including each prepayment) by the Borrower on account of principal of and interest on the Loans shall be made pro rata 64according to the respective outstanding principal amounts of the Loans then held by the Lenders. Amounts prepaid on account of the Loans may not be reborrowed.(c)Â Â Â Â [Reserved].(d)Â Â Â Â Subject to Section 2.20(a), all payments (including prepayments) to be made by the Borrower hereunder, whether on account of principal, interest, fees or otherwise, shall be made without condition or deduction for any counterclaim, defense, recoupment or setoff and shall be made prior to 1:00 P.M. (New York City time) on the due date thereof to the Administrative Agent, for the account of the Lenders, at the Funding Office, in Dollars and in immediately available funds. The Administrative Agent shall distribute such payments to the Lenders promptly upon receipt in like funds as received. Any payment received by the Administrative Agent after 1:00 P.M. (New York City time) shall be deemed received on the next succeeding Business Day and any applicable interest or fee shall continue to accrue. If any payment hereunder (other than payments on the SOFR Loans) becomes due and payable on a day other than a Business Day, such payment shall be extended to the next succeeding Business Day. If any payment on a SOFR Loan becomes due and payable on a day other than a Business Day, the maturity thereof shall be extended to the next succeeding Business Day unless the result of such extension would be to extend such payment into another calendar month, in which event such payment shall be made on the immediately preceding Business Day. In the case of any extension of any payment of principal pursuant to the preceding two sentences, interest thereon shall be payable at the then applicable rate during such extension. (e)Â Â Â Â Unless the Administrative Agent shall have been notified in writing by any Lender prior to the proposed date of any borrowing that such Lender will not make the amount that would constitute its share of such borrowing available to the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent may assume that such Lender has made such amount available to the Administrative Agent on such date in accordance with SectionÂ 2, and the Administrative Agent may, in reliance upon such assumption, make available to the Borrower a corresponding amount. If such amount is not in fact made available to the Administrative Agent by the required time on the Borrowing Date therefor, such Lender and the Borrower severally agree to pay to the Administrative Agent forthwith, on demand, such corresponding amount with interest thereon, for each day from and including the date on which such amount is made available to the Borrower but excluding the date of payment to the Administrative Agent, at (i)Â in the case of a payment to be made by such Lender, a rate equal to the greater of (A)Â the Federal Funds Effective Rate and (B)Â a rate determined by the Administrative Agent in accordance with banking industry rules on interbank compensation, and (ii)Â in the case of a payment to be made by the Borrower, the rate per annum applicable to ABR Loans under the relevant Facility. If the Borrower and such Lender shall pay such interest to the Administrative Agent for the same or an overlapping period, the Administrative Agent shall promptly remit to the Borrower the amount of such interest paid by the Borrower for such period. If such Lender pays its share of the applicable borrowing to the Administrative Agent, then the amount so paid shall constitute such Lenderâ€™s Loan included in such borrowing. Any payment by the Borrower shall be without prejudice to any claim the Borrower may have against a Lender that shall have failed to make such payment to the Administrative Agent.(f)Â Â Â Â Unless the Administrative Agent shall have received notice from the Borrower prior to the date on which any payment is due to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Lenders hereunder that the Borrower will not make such payment, the Administrative Agent may assume that the Borrower has made such payment on such date in accordance herewith and may, in reliance upon such assumption, distribute to the Lenders their respective pro rata shares of the amount due. In such event, if the Borrower has not in fact made such payment, then each of the Lenders severally agrees to repay to the 65Administrative Agent forthwith on demand the amount so distributed to such Lender, with interest thereon, for each day from and including the date such amount is distributed to it to but excluding the date of payment to the Administrative Agent, at the greater of the Federal Funds Effective Rate and a rate determined by the Administrative Agent in accordance with banking industry rules on interbank compensation. Nothing herein shall be deemed to limit the rights of Administrative Agent or any Lender against the Borrower.(g)Â Â Â Â If any Lender makes available to the Administrative Agent funds for any Loan to be made by such Lender as provided in the foregoing provisions of this Section 2, and such funds are not made available to the Borrower by the Administrative Agent because the conditions to the applicable extension of credit set forth in Section 5.1 or Section 5.2 are not satisfied or waived in accordance with the terms hereof, the Administrative Agent shall return such funds (in like funds as received from such Lender) to such Lender, without interest.(h)Â Â Â Â The obligations of the Lenders hereunder to (i) make Loans and (ii) make payments pursuant to Section 9.7, as applicable, are several and not joint. The failure of any Lender to make any such Loan, to fund any such participation or to make any such payment under Section 9.7 on any date required hereunder shall not relieve any other Lender of its corresponding obligation to do so on such date, and no Lender shall be responsible for the failure of any other Lender to so make its Loan, to purchase its participation or to make its payment under Section 9.7.(i)Â Â Â Â Nothing herein shall be deemed to obligate any Lender to obtain the funds for any Loan in any particular place or manner or to constitute a representation by any Lender that it has obtained or will obtain the funds for any Loan in any particular place or manner.(j)Â Â Â Â If at any time insufficient funds are received by and available to the Administrative Agent to pay fully all amounts of principal, interest and fees then due hereunder, such funds shall be applied (i) first, toward payment of interest, fees, and Overadvances then due hereunder, ratably among the parties entitled thereto in accordance with the amounts of interest, fees, and Overadvances then due to such parties, and (ii) second, toward payment of principal then due hereunder, ratably among the parties entitled thereto in accordance with the amounts of principal then due to such parties.(k)Â Â Â Â If any Lender shall obtain any payment (whether voluntary, involuntary, through the exercise of any right of set-off, or otherwise) on account of the principal of or interest on any Loan made by it, or other obligations hereunder, as applicable (other than pursuant to a provision hereof providing for non-pro rata treatment), in excess of its Term Percentage, of such payment on account of the Loans or participations obtained by all of the Lenders, such Lender shall (a)Â notify the Administrative Agent of the receipt of such payment, and (b)Â within fiveÂ (5) Business Days of such receipt purchase (for cash at face value) from the other Lenders (through the Administrative Agent), without recourse, such participations in the Loans, or make such other adjustments as shall be equitable, as shall be necessary to cause such purchasing Lender to share the excess payment ratably with each of the other Lenders in accordance with their respective Term Percentages; provided that (i)Â if any such participations are purchased and all or any portion of the payment giving rise thereto is recovered, such participations shall be rescinded and the purchase price restored to the extent of such recovery, without interest and (ii)Â the provisions of this paragraph shall not be construed to apply to (x)Â any payment made by the Borrower pursuant to and in accordance with the express terms of this Agreement (including the application of funds arising from the existence of a Defaulting Lender) or (y)Â any payment obtained by a Lender as consideration for the assignment or sale of a participation in any of its Loans to any assignee or 66participant, other than to the Borrower or any of its Affiliates (as to which the provisions of this paragraph shall apply). The Borrower agrees that any Lender so purchasing a participation from another Lender pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.18(k) may exercise all its rights of payment (including the right of set-off) with respect to such participation as fully as if such Lender were the direct creditor of the Borrower in the amount of such participation. No documentation other than notices and the like referred to in this SectionÂ 2.18(k) shall be required to implement the terms of this SectionÂ 2.18(k). The Administrative Agent shall keep records (which shall be conclusive and binding in the absence of manifest error) of participations purchased pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.18(k) and shall in each case notify the Lenders following any such purchase. The provisions of this SectionÂ 2.18(k) shall not be construed to apply to (i)Â any payment made by or on behalf of the Borrower pursuant to and in accordance with the express terms of this Agreement (including the application of funds arising from the existence of a Defaulting Lender), (ii)Â [reserved], or (iii)Â any payment obtained by a Lender as consideration for the assignment of or sale of a participation in any of its to any assignee or participant, other than an assignment to the Borrower or any of its Affiliates (as to which the provisions of this Section shall apply). The Borrower consents on behalf of itself and each other Loan Party to the foregoing and agrees, to the extent it may effectively do so under applicable law, that any Lender acquiring a participation pursuant to the foregoing arrangements with respect to an Obligation of the Borrower may exercise against each Loan Party rights of setoff and counterclaim with respect to such participation as fully as if such Lender were a direct creditor of each Loan Party in the amount of such participation.2.19Â Â Â Â Illegality; Requirements of Law.(a)Â Â Â Â Illegality. If any Lender determines that any Requirement of Law has made it unlawful, or that any Governmental Authority has asserted that it is unlawful, for any Lender or its applicable lending office to make, maintain or fund Loans whose interest is determined by reference to SOFR or Term SOFR, or to determine or charge interest rates based upon SOFR or Term SOFR, then, upon notice thereof by such Lender to the Borrower (through the Administrative Agent), (a) any obligation of the Lenders to make or maintain SOFR Loans, and any right of the Borrower to continue SOFR Loans or to convert ABR Loans to SOFR Loans, shall be suspended, and (b) the interest rate on which ABR Loans shall, if necessary to avoid such illegality, be determined by the Administrative Agent without reference to clause (c) of the definition of â€œABRâ€, in each case until such Lender notifies the Administrative Agent and the Borrower that the circumstances giving rise to such determination no longer exist. Upon receipt of such notice, (i) the Borrower shall, if necessary to avoid such illegality, upon demand from any Lender (with a copy to the Administrative Agent), convert all SOFR Loans to ABR Loans (the interest rate on which ABR Loans of such Lender shall, if necessary to avoid such illegality, be determined by the Administrative Agent without reference to clause (c) of the definition of â€œABRâ€), on the last day of the Interest Period therefor, if all affected Lenders may lawfully continue to maintain such Loans to such day, or immediately, if any such Lender may not lawfully continue to maintain such Loans to such day, and (ii) if necessary to avoid such illegality, the Administrative Agent shall during the period of such suspension compute the ABR without reference to clause (c) of the definition of â€œABRâ€ in each case until the Administrative Agent is advised in writing by each affected Lender that it is no longer illegal for such Lender to determine or charge interest rates based upon SOFR or Term SOFR. Upon any conversion, the Borrower shall also pay accrued interest on the amount so converted.(b)Â Â Â Â Requirements of Law. If the adoption of or any change in any Requirement of Law or in the administration, interpretation, implementation or application thereof by any Governmental Authority, or the making or issuance of any rule, guideline or directive by any Governmental Authority made subsequent to the date hereof:67(i)Â Â Â Â shall subject any Recipient to any Taxes (other than (A)Â Indemnified Taxes, (B)Â Taxes described in clauses (b)Â through (d) of the definition of â€œExcluded Taxesâ€, and (C)Â Connection Income Taxes) on its Loans, loan principal, letters of credit, commitments, or other obligations, or its deposits, reserves, other liabilities or capital attributable thereto;(ii)Â Â Â Â shall impose, modify or deem applicable any reserve, special deposit, compulsory loan, insurance charge or similar requirement against assets of, deposits with or for the account of or credit extended or participated in by, any Lender; or(iii)Â Â Â Â impose on any Lender any other condition, cost or expense (other than Taxes) affecting this Agreement or Loans made by such Lender;and the result of any of the foregoing shall be to increase the cost to such Lender or such other Recipient of making, converting to, continuing or maintaining Loans determined with reference to Term SOFR or of maintaining its obligation to make such Loans, or to reduce the amount of any sum receivable or received by such Lender or other Recipient hereunder in respect thereof (whether of principal, interest or any other amount), then, in any such case, upon the request of such Lender or other Recipient, the Borrower will promptly pay such Lender or other Recipient, as the case may be, any additional amount or amounts necessary to compensate such Lender or other Recipient, as the case may be, for such additional costs incurred or reduction suffered. If any Lender becomes entitled to claim any additional amounts pursuant to this paragraph, it shall promptly notify the Borrower (with a copy to the Administrative Agent) of the event by reason of which it has become so entitled.(c)Â Â Â Â If any Lender determines that any change in any Requirement of Law affecting such Lender or any lending office of such Lender or such Lenderâ€™s holding company, if any, regarding capital or liquidity requirements, has or would have the effect of reducing the rate of return on such Lenderâ€™s capital or on the capital of such Lenderâ€™s holding company, if any, as a consequence of this Agreement, the Commitments of such Lender or the Loans made by such Lender to a level below that which such Lender or such Lenderâ€™s holding company could have achieved but for such change in such Requirement of Law (taking into consideration such Lenderâ€™s policies and the policies of such Lenderâ€™s holding company with respect to capital adequacy and liquidity), then from time to time the Borrower will pay to such Lender such additional amount or amounts as will compensate such Lender or such Lenderâ€™s holding company for any such reduction suffered.(d)Â Â Â Â For purposes of this Agreement, (i)Â the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act and all requests, rules, guidelines, or directives thereunder or issued in connection therewith and (ii)Â all requests, rules, guidelines or directives promulgated by the Bank for International Settlements, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (or any successor or similar authority) or the United States or foreign regulatory authorities, in each case pursuant to Basel III, shall in each case (i)Â and (ii)Â be deemed to be a change in any Requirement of Law, regardless of the date enacted, adopted or issued.(e)Â Â Â Â A certificate as to any additional amounts payable pursuant to paragraphs (b), (c), or (d)Â of this Section submitted by any Lender to the Borrower (with a copy to the Administrative Agent), including in reasonable detail a description of the basis for such claim and an explanation of how such amounts were determined, shall be conclusive in the absence of manifest error. The Borrower shall pay such Lender the amount shown as due on any such certificate within 10 days after receipt thereof. Failure or delay on the part of any Lender to demand compensation pursuant to this Section shall not constitute a waiver of such Lenderâ€™s right to demand such compensation. Notwithstanding anything to 68the contrary in this SectionÂ 2.19, the Borrower shall not be required to compensate a Lender pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.19 for any amounts incurred or reductions suffered more than nine months prior to the date that such Lender notifies the Borrower of the change in the Requirement of Law giving rise to such increased costs or reductions, and of such Lenderâ€™s intention to claim compensation therefor; provided that if the circumstances giving rise to such claim have a retroactive effect, then such nine-month period shall be extended to include the period of such retroactive effect. The obligations of the Borrower arising pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.19 shall survive the Discharge of Obligations and the resignation of the Administrative Agent.2.20Â Â Â Â Taxes. For purposes of this Section 2.20, the term â€œapplicable lawâ€ includes FATCA.(a)Â Â Â Â Payments Free of Taxes. Any and all payments by or on account of any obligation of any Loan Party under any Loan Document shall be made without deduction or withholding for any Taxes, except as required by applicable law. If any applicable law (as reasonably determined in the good faith discretion of an applicable Withholding Agent) requires the deduction or withholding of any Tax from any such payment by a Withholding Agent, then the applicable Withholding Agent shall be entitled to make such deduction or withholding and shall timely pay the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Governmental Authority in accordance with applicable law and, if such Tax is an Indemnified Tax, then the sum payable by the applicable Loan Party shall be increased as necessary so that after such deduction or withholding has been made (including such deductions and withholdings for Indemnified Tax applicable to additional sums payable under this Section 2.20) the applicable Recipient receives an amount equal to the sum it would have received had no such deduction or withholding for Indemnified Tax been made.(b)Â Â Â Â Payment of Other Taxes. The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Loan Party to, timely pay to the relevant Governmental Authority in accordance with applicable law, or at the option of the Administrative Agent timely reimburse it for the payment of, any Other Taxes applicable to such Loan Party.(c)Â Â Â Â Evidence of Payments. As soon as practicable after any payment of Taxes by any Loan Party to a Governmental Authority pursuant to this Section 2.20, the Borrower shall, or shall cause such other Loan Party to, deliver to the Administrative Agent the original or a certified copy of a receipt issued by such Governmental Authority evidencing such payment, a copy of the return reporting such payment or other evidence of such payment reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent.(d)Â Â Â Â Indemnification by Loan Parties. The Borrower shall, and shall cause each other Loan Party to, jointly and severally indemnify each Recipient, within tenÂ (10) days after written demand therefor, for the full amount of any Indemnified Taxes (including Indemnified Taxes imposed or asserted on or attributable to amounts payable under this SectionÂ 2.20(d) (but without duplication of any amounts compensated for by another provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document)) payable or paid by such Recipient or required to be withheld or deducted from a payment to such Recipient and any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses arising therefrom or with respect thereto (including any recording and filing fees with respect thereto or resulting therefrom and any interest, penalties, or similar liabilities imposed by the applicable Governmental Authority with respect to, or resulting from, any delay in paying such Indemnified Taxes), whether or not such Indemnified Taxes were correctly or legally imposed or asserted by the relevant Governmental Authority. A certificate as to the amount of such payment or liability, including in reasonable detail a description of the basis for such payment or liability and an 69explanation of how the amount of such payment or liability was determined, delivered to the Borrower by a Lender (with a copy to the Administrative Agent), or by the Administrative Agent on its own behalf or on behalf of a Lender, shall be conclusive absent manifest error. (e)Â Â Â Â Indemnification by Lenders. Each Lender shall severally indemnify the Administrative Agent, within tenÂ (10) days after demand therefor, for (i)Â any Indemnified Taxes attributable to such Lender (but only to the extent that any Loan Party has not already indemnified the Administrative Agent for such Indemnified Taxes and without limiting the obligation of the Loan Parties to do so), (ii)Â any Taxes attributable to such Lenderâ€™s failure to comply with the provisions of SectionÂ 10.6 relating to the maintenance of a Participant Register and (iii)Â any Excluded Taxes attributable to such Lender, in each case, that are payable or paid by the Administrative Agent in connection with any Loan Document, and any reasonable expenses arising therefrom or with respect thereto, whether or not such Taxes were correctly or legally imposed or asserted by the relevant Governmental Authority. A certificate as to the amount of such payment or liability delivered to any Lender by the Administrative Agent shall be conclusive absent manifest error. Each Lender hereby authorizes the Administrative Agent to set off and apply any and all amounts at any time owing to such Lender under any Loan Document or otherwise payable by the Administrative Agent to the Lender from any other source against any amount due to the Administrative Agent under this SectionÂ 2.20(e).(f)Â Â Â Â Status of Lenders. (i)Â Â Â Â Any Lender (including, solely for purposes of this Section 2.20(f), the Administrative Agent) that is entitled to an exemption from or reduction of withholding Tax with respect to payments made under any Loan Document shall deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent, at the time or times reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent, such properly completed and executed documentation reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent as will permit such payments to be made without withholding or at a reduced rate of withholding. In addition, any Lender, if reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent, shall deliver such other documentation prescribed by applicable law or reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent as will enable the Borrower or the Administrative Agent to determine whether or not such Lender is subject to backup withholding or information reporting requirements. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the preceding two sentences, the completion, execution and submission of such documentation (other than such documentation set forth in Sections 2.20(f)(ii)(A), (ii)(B), or (ii)(D) below) shall not be required if, in the Lenderâ€™s reasonable judgment, such completion, execution or submission would subject such Lender to any material unreimbursed cost or expense, would materially prejudice the legal or commercial position of such Lender.(ii)Â Â Â Â Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in the event that the Borrower is a U.S. Person,(A)Â Â Â Â any Lender that is a U.S. Person shall deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent on or prior to the date on which such Lender becomes a Lender under this Agreement (and from time to time thereafter upon the reasonable request of the Borrower or the Administrative Agent), copies of properly completed, valid and executed IRS Form W-9 certifying that such Lender is exempt from U.S. federal backup withholding tax; (B)Â Â Â Â any Foreign Lender shall, to the extent it is legally entitled to do so, deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent (in such number of copies as shall be requested by the recipient) on or prior to the date on which such Foreign Lender becomes a Lender under this 70Agreement (and from time to time thereafter upon the reasonable request of the Borrower or the Administrative Agent), whichever of the following is applicable:(1)Â Â Â Â in the case of a Foreign Lender claiming the benefits of an income tax treaty to which the United States is a party (x) with respect to payments of interest under any Loan Document, copies of properly completed, valid and executed IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E, as applicable (or any successor form) establishing an exemption from, or reduction of, U.S. federal withholding Tax pursuant to the â€œinterestâ€ article of such tax treaty and (y) with respect to any other applicable payments under any Loan Document, copies of properly completed, valid and executed IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E, as applicable (or any successor form) establishing an exemption from, or reduction of, U.S. federal withholding Tax pursuant to the â€œbusiness profitsâ€ or â€œother incomeâ€ article of such tax treaty;(2)Â Â Â Â copies of properly completed, valid and executed IRS Form W-8ECI (or any successor form); (3)Â Â Â Â in the case of a Foreign Lender claiming the benefits of the exemption for portfolio interest under Section 881(c) of the Code, (x) a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit F-1 to the effect that such Foreign Lender is not a â€œbankâ€ within the meaning of Section 881(c)(3)(A) of the Code, a â€œ10 percent shareholderâ€ of the Borrower within the meaning of Section 881(c)(3)(B) of the Code, or a â€œcontrolled foreign corporationâ€ described in Section 881(c)(3)(C) of the Code (a â€œU.S. Tax Compliance Certificateâ€) and (y) copies of properly completed, valid and executed IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E, as applicable (or any successor form); or(4)Â Â Â Â to the extent a Foreign Lender is not the beneficial owner, copies of properly completed, valid and executed IRS Form W-8IMY, accompanied by IRS Form W-8ECI, IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E, as applicable (or any successor form), a U.S. Tax Compliance Certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit F-2 or Exhibit F-3, IRS Form W-9, and/or other certification documents from each beneficial owner, as applicable; provided that if the Foreign Lender is a partnership and one or more direct or indirect partners of such Foreign Lender are claiming the portfolio interest exemption, such Foreign Lender may provide a U.S. Tax Compliance Certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit F-4 on behalf of each such direct and indirect partner;(C)Â Â Â Â any Foreign Lender shall, to the extent it is legally entitled to do so, deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent (in such number of copies as shall be requested by the recipient) on or prior to the date on which such Foreign Lender becomes a Lender under this Agreement (and from time to time thereafter upon the reasonable request of the Borrower or the Administrative Agent), valid executed copies of any other form prescribed by applicable law as a basis for claiming exemption from or a reduction in U.S. federal withholding Tax, duly completed, together with such supplementary documentation as may be prescribed by applicable law to permit the Borrower or the Administrative Agent to determine the withholding or deduction required to be made; and(D)Â Â Â Â if a payment made to a Lender under any Loan Document would be subject to U.S. federal withholding Tax imposed by FATCA if such Lender were to fail to comply with the applicable reporting requirements of FATCA (including those contained in Section 1471(b) or 1472(b) of the Code, as applicable), such Lender shall deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent at the time or times prescribed by law and at such time or times reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent such documentation prescribed by applicable law (including as prescribed by Section 1471(b)(3)(C)(i) of the Code) and such additional documentation reasonably 71requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent as may be necessary for the Borrower and the Administrative Agent to comply with their obligations under FATCA and to determine that such Lender has complied with such Lenderâ€™s obligations under FATCA or to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment. Solely for purposes of this clause (D), â€œFATCAâ€ shall include any amendments made to FATCA after the date of this Agreement.(iii)Â Â Â Â [Reserved],(iv)Â Â Â Â Each Lender agrees that if any form or certification it previously delivered expires or becomes obsolete or inaccurate in any respect, it shall update such form or certification or promptly notify the Borrower and the Administrative Agent in writing of its legal inability to do so. (g)Â Â Â Â [Reserved]. (h)Â Â Â Â Treatment of Certain Refunds. If any party determines, in its sole discretion exercised in good faith, that it has received a refund of any Taxes as to which it has been indemnified pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.20 (including by the payment of additional amounts pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.20), it shall pay to the indemnifying party an amount equal to such refund (but only to the extent of indemnity payments made under this SectionÂ with respect to the Taxes giving rise to such refund), net of all out-of-pocket expenses (including Taxes) of such indemnified party and without interest (other than any interest paid by the relevant Governmental Authority with respect to such refund). Such indemnifying party, upon the request of such indemnified party, shall repay to such indemnified party the amount paid over pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.20(h)Â (plus any penalties, interest, or other charges imposed by the relevant Governmental Authority) in the event that such indemnified party is required to repay such refund to such Governmental Authority. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this SectionÂ 2.20(h), in no event will the indemnified party be required to pay any amount to an indemnifying party pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.20(h) the payment of which would place the indemnified party in a less favorable net after-Tax position than the indemnified party would have been in if the Tax subject to indemnification and giving rise to such refund had not been deducted, withheld or otherwise imposed and the indemnification payments or additional amounts with respect to such Tax had never been paid. This paragraph shall not be construed to require any indemnified party to make available its Tax returns (or any other information relating to its Taxes that it deems confidential) to the indemnifying party or any other Person.(i)Â Â Â Â Survival. Each partyâ€™s obligations under this Section 2.20 shall survive the resignation or replacement of the Administrative Agent or any assignment of rights by, or the replacement of, a Lender and the Discharge of Obligations.2.21Â Â Â Â [Reserved]. 2.22Â Â Â Â Change of Lending Office. Each Lender agrees that, upon the occurrence of any event giving rise to the operation of SectionÂ 2.19(b), SectionÂ 2.19(c), SectionÂ 2.20(a) or SectionÂ 2.20(d) with respect to such Lender, it shall, if requested by the Borrower, use reasonable efforts to designate a different lending office for funding or booking its Loans hereunder or to assign its rights and obligations hereunder to another of its offices, branches or affiliates, if, in the judgment of such Lender, such designation or assignment (i)Â would eliminate or reduce amounts payable pursuant to Section 2.19 or 2.20, as the case may be, in the future, and (ii)Â would not subject such Lender to any unreimbursed cost or expense and would not otherwise be disadvantageous to such Lender; provided that nothing in this 72Section shall affect or postpone any of the obligations of the Borrower or the rights of any Lender pursuant to SectionÂ 2.19(b), SectionÂ 2.19(c), SectionÂ 2.20(a), Section 2.20(c) or SectionÂ 2.20(d). The Borrower hereby agrees to pay all reasonable and documented costs and expenses incurred by any Lender in connection with any such designation or assignment made at the request of the Borrower.2.23Â Â Â Â Substitution of Lenders. Upon the receipt by the Borrower of any of the following (or in the case of clause (a) below, if the Borrower is required to pay any such amount, regardless of whether the Lender makes a request for such payment), with respect to any Lender (any such Lender described in clausesÂ (a) through (c) below being referred to as an â€œAffected Lenderâ€ hereunder):(a)Â Â Â Â a request from a Lender for payment of Indemnified Taxes or additional amounts under SectionÂ 2.20 or of increased costs pursuant to Section 2.19(b) or Section 2.19(c);(b)Â Â Â Â a notice from the Administrative Agent under SectionÂ 10.1(b) that one or more Minority Lenders are unwilling to agree to an amendment or other modification approved by the Required Lenders and the Administrative Agent; or(c)Â Â Â Â notice from the Administrative Agent that a Lender is a Defaulting Lender or a Non-Consenting Lender;then the Borrower may, at its sole expense and effort, upon notice to the Administrative Agent and such Affected Lender: (i) request that one or more of the other Lenders acquire and assume all or part of such Affected Lenderâ€™s Loans, Commitment and all other Obligations owing to such Affected Lender; or (ii) designate a replacement lending institution (which shall be an Eligible Assignee) to acquire and assume all or a ratable part of such Affected Lenderâ€™s Loans, Commitment and all other Obligations owing to such Affected Lender (the replacing Lender or lender in (i) or (ii) being a â€œReplacement Lenderâ€). The Affected Lender replaced pursuant to this Section 2.23 shall be required to assign and delegate, without recourse, all of its interests, rights (other than existing rights to payments pursuant to Section 2.19 or Section 2.20) and obligations under this Agreement and the related Loan Documents to one or more Replacement Lenders that so agree to acquire and assume all or a ratable part of such Affected Lenderâ€™s Loans, Commitment and all other Obligations owing to such Affected Lender upon payment to such Affected Lender of an amount (in the aggregate for all Replacement Lenders) equal to 100% of the outstanding principal of the Affected Lenderâ€™s Loans, accrued interest thereon, accrued fees and all other Obligations payable to it hereunder and under the other Loan Documents from such Replacement Lenders (to the extent of such outstanding principal and accrued interest and fees) or the Borrower (in the case of all other amounts). Any such designation of a Replacement Lender shall be effected in accordance with, and subject to the terms and conditions of, the assignment provisions contained in Section 10.6 (with the assignment fee to be paid by the Borrower in such instance); provided that if such Affected Lender does not comply with Section 10.6 within three Business Days after the Borrowerâ€™s request, compliance with Section 10.6 shall not be required to effect such assignment, and, if such Replacement Lender is not already a Lender hereunder or an Affiliate of a Lender or an Approved Fund, shall be subject to the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed). Notwithstanding the foregoing, with respect to any assignment pursuant to this Section 2.23, (a) in the case of any such assignment resulting from a claim for compensation under Section 2.19 or payments required to be made pursuant to Section 2.20, such assignment shall result in a reduction in such compensation or payments thereafter; (b) such assignment shall not conflict with applicable law and (c) in the case of any assignment resulting from a Lender being a (i) Minority Lender referred to in clause (b) of this Section 2.23 or (ii) a Non-Consenting Lender referred to in clause (c) of this Section 2.23, the applicable assignee shall have consented to the applicable amendment, waiver or consent and the 73Prepayment Premium, if any described in Section 2.9(d)(i) shall be due to such Minority Lender or Non-Consenting Lender. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an Affected Lender shall not be required to make any such assignment or delegation if, prior thereto, as a result of a waiver by such Affected Lender or otherwise, the circumstances entitling the Borrower to require such assignment and delegation cease to apply.2.24Â Â Â Â Defaulting Lenders.(a)Â Â Â Â Defaulting Lender Adjustments. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, if any Lender becomes a Defaulting Lender, then, until such time as such Lender is no longer a Defaulting Lender, to the extent permitted by applicable law:(i)Â Â Â Â Waivers and Amendments. Such Defaulting Lenderâ€™s right to approve or disapprove any amendment, waiver or consent with respect to this Agreement shall be restricted as set forth in Section 10.1 and in the definition of â€œRequired Lendersâ€.(ii)Â Â Â Â Defaulting Lender Waterfall. Any payment of principal, interest, fees or other amounts received by the Administrative Agent for the account of such Defaulting Lender (whether voluntary or mandatory, at maturity, pursuant to SectionÂ 8 or otherwise, and including any amounts made available to the Administrative Agent by such Defaulting Lender pursuant to SectionÂ 10.7), shall be applied at such time or times as may be determined by the Administrative Agent as follows: first, to the payment of any amounts owing by such Defaulting Lender to the Administrative Agent hereunder; second, to the payment on a pro rata basis of any amounts owing by such Defaulting Lender hereunder; third, as the Borrower may request (so long as no Default or Event of Default exists), to the funding of any Loan in respect of which such Defaulting Lender has failed to fund its portion thereof as required by this Agreement, as determined by the Administrative Agent; fourth, if so determined by the Administrative Agent and the Borrower, to be held in a Deposit Account and released pro rata to satisfy such Defaulting Lenderâ€™s potential future funding obligations with respect to Loans under this Agreement; fifth, so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, to the payment of any amounts owing to the Borrower as a result of any judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction obtained by the Borrower against such Defaulting Lender as a result of such Defaulting Lenderâ€™s breach of its obligations under this Agreement; and sixth, to such Defaulting Lender or as otherwise directed by a court of competent jurisdiction; provided that if (A)Â such payment is a payment of the principal amount of any Loans in respect of which such Defaulting Lender has not fully funded its appropriate share and (B)Â such Loans were made at a time when the conditions set forth in SectionÂ 5.2 were satisfied or waived, such payment shall be applied solely to pay the Loans of all Non-Defaulting Lenders on a pro rata basis prior to being applied to the payment of any Loans of such Defaulting Lender until such time as all Loans and funded and unfunded participations are held by the Lenders pro rata in accordance with the Commitments under the applicable Facility. Any payments, prepayments or other amounts paid or payable to a Defaulting Lender that are applied (or held) to pay amounts owed by a Defaulting Lender pursuant to this SectionÂ 2.24(a)(ii) shall be deemed paid to and redirected by such Defaulting Lender, and each Lender irrevocably consents hereto.(iii)Â Â Â Â Certain Fees. (A)Â Â Â Â No Defaulting Lender shall be entitled to receive any fee pursuant to SectionÂ 2.9(b) for any period during which such Lender is a Defaulting Lender (and the Borrower shall not be required to pay any such fee that otherwise would have been required to have been paid to such Defaulting Lender). 74(B)Â Â Â Â [Reserved].(C)Â Â Â Â [Reserved].(b)Â Â Â Â Defaulting Lender Cure. If the Borrower and the Administrative Agent agree in writing that a Lender is no longer a Defaulting Lender, the Administrative Agent will so notify the parties hereto, whereupon as of the effective date specified in such notice and subject to any conditions set forth therein, such Lender will, to the extent applicable, purchase at par that portion of outstanding Loans of the other Lenders or take such other actions as the Administrative Agent may determine to be necessary to cause the Loans to be held on a pro rata basis by the Lenders in accordance with their respective Term Percentages, whereupon such Lender will cease to be a Defaulting Lender; provided that no adjustments will be made retroactively with respect to fees accrued or payments made by or on behalf of otherwise expressly agreed by the affected parties, no change hereunder from Defaulting Lender to Lender will constitute a waiver or release of any claim of any party hereunder arising from such Lender having been a Defaulting Lender. 2.25Â Â Â Â [Reserved].2.26Â Â Â Â Notes. If so requested by any Lender by written notice to the Borrower (with a copy to the Administrative Agent), the Borrower shall execute and deliver to such Lender (and/or, if applicable and if so specified in such notice, to any Person who is an assignee of such Lender pursuant to SectionÂ 10.6) (as soon as reasonably practicable after the Borrowerâ€™s receipt of such notice) a Note or Notes to evidence such Lenderâ€™s Loans (including Initial Loans, Delayed Draw Loans and Incremental Loans).2.27Â Â Â Â Incremental Facility. (a)Â Â Â Â The Borrower may request (but subject, in each case, to the conditions set forth in clause (b) below and the other terms set forth in this Section 2.27) the Lenders establish commitments (â€œIncremental Commitmentsâ€) to make an incremental term loan facility including term loan facilities in the form of commitments to make delayed draw term loans, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed the Available Incremental Amount (each such facility, an â€œIncremental Facilityâ€); provided that prior to the Delayed Draw Termination Date, the Borrower shall have first either (x) drawn the Delayed Draw Commitments in full or (y) terminated all unused Delayed Draw Commitments before requesting an Incremental Facility. No Lender shall be obligated to participate in an Incremental Facility. Any Incremental Facility shall be in an amount of at least $10,000,000 (or, if the Available Incremental Amount is less than $10,000,000, such remaining Available Incremental Amount) and integral multiples of $1,000,000 in excess thereof. Additionally, for the avoidance of doubt, it is understood and agreed that in no event shall the aggregate amount of Incremental Facilities exceed the Available Incremental Amount during the term of the Agreement. (b)Â Â Â Â Each of the following shall be conditions precedent to the effectiveness of any Incremental Facility: (i)Â Â Â Â the Borrower shall have delivered an irrevocable written request to the Administrative Agent for such Incremental Facility at least fifteen (15) Business Days prior to the requested effective date of such Incremental Facility (or such shorter period as agreed to by the Administrative Agent), and promptly after receipt thereof, the Administrative Agent shall invite each existing Lender to provide the Incremental Facility ratably in accordance with its Aggregate Exposure Percentage of each requested Incremental Facility (it being agreed that no Lender shall be obligated to 75provide an Incremental Facility unless it elects to do so in its sole discretion and that any Lender may elect to participate in such Incremental Facility in an amount that is less than its Aggregate Exposure Percentage of such requested Incremental Facility or more than its Aggregate Exposure Percentage of such requested Incremental Facility if other Lenders have elected not to participate in any applicable requested Incremental Facility in accordance with their Aggregate Exposure Percentages) and to the extent fifteen (15) Business Days after receipt of invitation, sufficient Lenders do not agree to provide the Incremental Facility on terms acceptable to the Borrower, then the Borrower may invite any additional bank, financial institution and other institutional lenders or investors, subject to the consent of the Administrative Agent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), to become an Incremental Lender in connection with the proposed Incremental Facility under terms no more favorable (taken as a whole) to such other lenders and investors than those initially offered to each existing Lender;(ii)Â Â Â Â each Lender agreeing to participate in any such Incremental Facility, the Borrower and the Administrative Agent shall have signed an Incremental Joinder. In addition, with the consent of the Administrative Agent, the Borrower and the Lenders agreeing to such Incremental Facility, may amend this Agreement (without the consent of any other Person) in order to effect such amendments to this Agreement and the other Loan Documents as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of this Section 2.27 (any such amendment, an â€œIncremental Amendmentâ€) and the Borrower shall have executed any Notes requested by any Lender in connection with the incurrence of the Incremental Facility. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement or in any other Loan Document, an Incremental Amendment reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, and the amendments to this Agreement effected thereby, shall not require the consent of any Lender other than the Lender(s) agreeing to fund such Incremental Facility; (iii)Â Â Â Â subject to the provisions of Section 1.5 to the extent an LCA Election has been made with respect to any Permitted Acquisition corresponding to the incurrence of such Incremental Facility, each of the conditions precedent set forth in Section 5.2(a) and (c) are satisfied; provided that to the extent agreed to by the Lenders providing any such Incremental Facility, the condition set forth in Section 5.2(a) may be satisfied with (x) the accuracy of customary â€œspecified representationsâ€ and â€œacquisition agreement representationsâ€ and (y) such other limitations or exceptions to representations and warranties as may be agreed by the lenders providing such Incremental Facility; provided further that the condition set forth in Section 5.2(c) may be satisfied, if agreed by the lenders providing such Incremental Facility, so long as no Default or Event of Default pursuant to Section 8.1(a) or (f) has occurred or is continuing;(iv)Â Â Â Â after giving pro forma effect to such Incremental Facility and the use of proceeds thereof for such Incremental Facility, (A) the Consolidated First Lien Net Leverage Ratio shall not exceed 4.00 to 1.00 and (B) the ARR Total Leverage Ratio shall not exceed 0.665:1.00, in each case, calculated on a Pro Forma Basis as of the end of the most recent Test Period (assuming, in each case, that (x) in the case of any Incremental Facility being incurred at such time in the form of commitments to make delayed draw term loans, assuming such delayed draw term loans were fully drawn, and (y) the proceeds of any such Incremental Facility incurred at such time shall not be netted from the Consolidated First Lien Net Leverage Ratio);(v)Â Â Â Â the terms and conditions with respect to any such Incremental Loan shall be determined by the Borrower and the Lenders thereunder, but shall not be, except to the extent permitted by Section 2.27(b)(ix) below, materially more favorable (taken as a whole) to the Lenders of such Incremental Loans than the existing terms and conditions in this Agreement and the other Loan 76Documents (taken as a whole) that apply to the Lenders of the then outstanding Loans (unless such existing terms and conditions contained in this Agreement and the other Loan Documents are amended so as to conform to the materially more favorable terms and conditions that apply to the Lenders of the Incremental Loans or are otherwise reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent);(vi)Â Â Â Â (A) subject to Section 2.27(b)(ix) below, any pricing (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any call protection or prepayment premiums, interest rate margins, original issue discount or upfront fees (if any) and interest rate floors (if any)), (B) subject to Section 2.27(b)(vii) below, maturity, and (C) subject to Section 2.27(b)(vii) below, any amortization schedule applicable to any Incremental Facility shall, in each case of clauses (A) through (C), be determined by the Borrower and the Lenders thereunder;(vii)Â Â Â Â (A) any Incremental Facility providing for a separate tranche of Loans may provide for the ability to participate on a pro rata basis or less than pro rata basis (but not on a greater than pro rata basis) in any mandatory prepayments of the Loans, and, in any case, (B) no Incremental Loan shall have a final maturity date earlier (but may be later) than the Maturity Date, (C) the amortization schedule of any Incremental Loan shall not have a weighted average life to maturity shorter than the remaining weighted average life to maturity of the Loans made on the Closing Date and (D) the Borrower at its election with the consent of the Administrative Agent, and without requiring the consent of any Lender, may effect such amendments to the Loan Documents with respect to Incremental Loans as may be reasonably necessary so that such Incremental Loans and the applicable existing Loans form the same class of Loans or so that such Incremental Loans are fungible with any other outstanding Loans, including by amending the schedule of amortization payments relating to any existing tranche of Loans; provided that any such amendments will not decrease any amortization payment to any Lender that would have otherwise been payable to such Lender immediately prior to the effectiveness of such applicable amendments; (viii)Â Â Â Â any Incremental Loan shall rank pari passu (x) in right of payment of the Loans and (y) in right of security in respect of the Collateral. No Incremental Facility will be guaranteed by any Person other than a Guarantor hereunder or secured by any property or assets other than the Collateral;(ix)Â Â Â Â the all-in yield (based on the interest rate and original issue discount, closing and upfront fees, initial commitment fees and similar fees, if any, but excluding customary arrangement, structuring, underwriting and amendment fees (â€œAll-In Yieldâ€)) applicable to any Incremental Facility shall not be more than 0.50% per annum higher than the All-In Yield with respect to the then existing Loans under the Closing Date Facilities unless the Applicable Margin with respect to such existing Loans under the Closing Date Facilities is increased by an amount equal to the difference between the All-In Yield with respect to such Incremental Facility and the All-In Yield applicable to the then existing Loans under the Closing Date Facilities minus 0.50% per annum; (x)Â Â Â Â any â€œmost favored nationâ€ pricing provision with respect to the Incremental Loans shall be determined by the Borrower and the Incremental Lenders providing such Incremental Loans; provided that no such â€œmost favored nationâ€ pricing provision shall be more favorable to the applicable Incremental Lenders than that contained in clause (ix) of this Section 2.27(b);(xi)Â Â Â Â the Borrower shall have paid all fees and expenses in connection with the exercise of the applicable Incremental Facility;77(xii)Â Â Â Â all Incremental Loans shall be denominated in Dollars; and(xiii)Â Â Â Â each Lender making the Incremental Loans shall have received the approval of such Lenderâ€™s investment committee approval (in such investment committeeâ€™s sole discretion) with respect thereto.(c)Â Â Â Â Upon the effectiveness of any Incremental Facility, all references in this Agreement and any other Loan Document to the Loans and/or Lenders shall be deemed, unless the context otherwise requires, to include the term loans incurred pursuant to such Incremental Facility and the lenders thereunder. (d)Â Â Â Â The Incremental Facilities established pursuant to this Section 2.27 shall be entitled to all the benefits afforded by this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, and shall, without limiting the foregoing, benefit equally and ratably from any guarantees and the security interests created by the Loan Documents. The Loan Parties shall take any actions reasonably required by Administrative Agent to ensure and demonstrate that the Liens and security interests granted under the Loan Documents continue to be perfected under the UCC or otherwise after giving effect to the establishment of any such Incremental Facility, which actions may include reaffirming Liens and entering into supplements, amendments, restatements or replacements of the Security Documents and executing and delivering all documents, instruments and legal opinions in connection therewith reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent.This Section 2.27 supersedes any provisions in Section 10.1 to the contrary (other than amendments of provisions that are described in Section 10.1(a), which shall be governed by Section 10.1).2.28Â Â Â Â Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness. (a)Â Â Â Â Refinancing Loans. At any time after the Closing Date, the Borrower may obtain (i) from any Lender or any prospective lender Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness in the form of Refinancing Loans or Refinancing Commitments, in each case pursuant to a Refinancing Amendment or (ii) from any bank, other financial institution or institutional investor that agrees to provide any portion of any Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness in any other form, such other Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness, in each case to refinance (and to reduce on a dollar-for-dollar or greater basis) all or any portion of the Loans then outstanding under this Agreement.(b)Â Â Â Â Refinancing Amendments. The effectiveness of any Refinancing Amendment will be subject only to the satisfaction on the date thereof of such of the conditions set forth in Sections 5.1 and 5.2 as may be requested by the providers of applicable Refinancing Loans. The Administrative Agent will promptly notify each Lender as to the effectiveness of each Refinancing Amendment. Each of the parties hereto hereby agrees that, upon the effectiveness of any Refinancing Amendment, this Agreement will be deemed amended to the extent (but only to the extent) necessary to reflect the existence and terms of the Refinancing Loans incurred pursuant thereto (including any amendments necessary to treat the Loans subject thereto as Refinancing Loans).(c)Â Â Â Â Required Consents. Any Refinancing Amendment may, without the consent of any Person other than the Administrative Agent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), the Borrower and the Persons providing the applicable Refinancing Loans, effect such amendments to this Agreement and the other Loan Documents as may be necessary or appropriate, in the reasonable opinion of the Administrative Agent and the Borrower, to effect the provisions of this Section 2.28. This Section 2.28 supersedes any provisions in Section 10.1 to the contrary (other than 78Section 10.1(a)). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, to the extent any Refinancing Loans are secured by Liens on a pari passu basis with the Liens securing the Obligations, such Refinancing Loans and Refinancing Amendment shall require the prior written consent of the Required Lenders.(d)Â Â Â Â Other Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness. Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness incurred pursuant to clause (ii) of the definition thereof will be subject to terms and conditions as agreed by the providers of the applicable loans.(e)Â Â Â Â Providers of Refinancing Loans. Refinancing Loans may be provided by any existing Lender (it being understood that no existing Lender will have an obligation to make all or any portion of any Refinancing Loan) or by other Persons on terms permitted by this Section 2.28; provided that the Administrative Agent will have consented (in each case, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) to any such Personâ€™s providing Refinancing Loans or Refinancing Commitments if such consent would be required under SectionÂ 10.6(b) for an assignment of Loans or Commitments to such Person. 2.29Â Â Â Â Discounted Prepayments.(a)Â Â Â Â Generally. Notwithstanding anything in any Loan Document to the contrary, so long as no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing on both the date a Discounted Prepayment Notice (as defined below) is delivered to the Administrative Agent and the Lenders and the date a Discounted Prepayment (as defined below) is made (both before and after giving effect thereto), the Borrower (in such capacity, the â€œDiscounted Prepayment Offerorâ€) will be permitted to (x) offer to make voluntary prepayments of the Loans from internally generated funds (a â€œDiscounted Prepaymentâ€) on one or more occasions pursuant to the provisions of this Section 2.29, and (y) make such Discounted Prepayment on one or more occasions pursuant to the provisions of this Section 2.29 (it being understood that no Lender will have an obligation to accept a Discounted Prepayment). (b)Â Â Â Â Procedures. In connection with any Discounted Prepayment, the Discounted Prepayment Offeror will notify the Administrative Agent in writing (the â€œDiscounted Prepayment Noticeâ€) that the Discounted Prepayment Offeror desires to prepay the Loans on a Business Day, in a maximum aggregate amount (which amount will be not less than $1,000,000 and whole increments of $100,000 in excess thereof) (the â€œDiscounted Prepayment Amountâ€) at a discount to par (which will be expressed as a range of percentages of par of the principal amount of the Loans) specified by the Discounted Prepayment Offeror with respect to each Discounted Prepayment (the â€œDiscount Price Rangeâ€); provided that (i) such notice will be received by the Administrative Agent and Lenders no earlier than 15 Business Days and no later than 5 Business Days prior to the proposed date by which Lenders are required to respond to the Discounted Prepayment Notice if they desire to participate (the â€œDiscounted Prepayment Response Dateâ€) and (ii) the offer in any such notice will be made to all Lenders holding Loans (it being understood that different Discount Price Ranges may be offered with respect to different tranches of Loans and, in such event, each such offer will be treated as a separate offer pursuant to the terms of this Section 2.29). The Administrative Agent will promptly provide each Lender of the applicable tranche(s) a copy of such Discounted Prepayment Notice. In connection with a Discounted Prepayment, each Lender holding the Loans of the applicable tranche(s) will be entitled to specify to the Administrative Agent a discount to par (which will be expressed as a price equal to a percentage of par of the principal amount of the Loans held by such Lender, the â€œAcceptable Discount Priceâ€) within the Discount Price Range for a principal amount (subject to rounding requirements specified by the Administrative Agent) of the Loans of the applicable tranche held by such Lender at 79which such Lender is willing to accept such Discounted Prepayment. Each response by a Lender to a Discounted Prepayment Notice (x) will be due no later than 5:00 p.m. on the Discounted Prepayment Response Date, (y) to the extent not timely received by the Administrative Agent will be disregarded and such Lender will be deemed to have declined the Discounted Prepayment offer and (z) to the extent timely received by the Administrative Agent will be irrevocable. It is understood and agreed that the use of the term â€œagentâ€ herein or in any other Loan Documents (or any other similar term) with reference to the Administrative Agent is not intended to connote any fiduciary or other implied (or express) obligations arising under agency doctrine of any applicable law. Instead such term is used as a matter of market custom, and is intended to create or reflect only an administrative relationship between contracting parties.(c)Â Â Â Â The Administrative Agent shall also act as the collateral agent under the Loan Documents, and each of the Lenders (in their respective capacities as a Lender) hereby irrevocably (i)Â authorizes the Administrative Agent to enter into all other Loan Documents, as applicable, including the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement and any customary subordination agreements, and (ii)Â appoints and authorizes the Administrative Agent to act as the agent of the Secured Parties for purposes of acquiring, holding and enforcing any and all Liens on Collateral granted by any of the Loan Parties to secure any of the Obligations, together with such

The exculpatory provisions of this SectionÂ shall apply to any such sub-agent and to the Related Parties of the Administrative Agent and any such sub-agent, and shall apply to the activities as the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for the negligence or misconduct of any sub-agents except to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction determines in a final and nonappealable judgment that the Administrative Agent acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct in the selection of such sub agents.9.3Â Â Â Â Exculpatory Provisions. The Administrative Agent shall have no duties or obligations except those expressly set forth herein and in the other Loan Documents, and its duties hereunder and 123thereunder shall be administrative in nature. The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to rely upon, and shall not incur any liability for relying upon, any notice, request, certificate, consent, statement, instrument, document or other writing (including any electronic message, internet or intranet website posting or other distribution) believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed, sent or otherwise authenticated by the proper Person. The Administrative Agent also may rely upon any statement made to it orally or by telephone and believed by it to have been made by the proper Person, and shall not incur any liability for relying thereon. In determining compliance with any condition hereunder to the making of a Loan, that by its terms must be fulfilled to the satisfaction of a Lender, the Administrative Agent may presume that such condition is satisfactory to such Lender unless the Administrative Agent shall have received notice to the contrary from such Lender prior to the making of such Loan. The Administrative 124Agent may consult with legal counsel (who may be counsel for any of the Loan Parties), independent accountants and other experts selected by it, and shall not be liable for any action taken or not taken by it in accordance with the advice of any such counsel, accountants or experts. The Administrative Agent may deem and treat the payee of any Note as the owner thereof for all purposes unless a written notice of assignment, negotiation or transfer thereof shall have been filed with the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent shall be fully justified in failing or refusing to take any action under this Agreement or any other Loan Document unless it shall first receive such advice or concurrence of the Required Lenders (or such other number or percentage of Lenders as shall be provided for herein or in the other Loan Documents) as it deems appropriate or it shall first be indemnified to its satisfaction by the Lenders against any and all liability and expense that may be incurred by it by reason of taking or continuing to take any such action. The Administrative Agent shall in all cases be fully protected in acting, or in refraining from acting, under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents in accordance with a request of the Required Lenders (or such other number or percentage of Lenders as shall be provided for herein or in the other Loan Documents), and such request and any action taken or failure to act pursuant thereto shall be binding upon the Lenders and all future holders of the Loans.9.5Â Â Â Â Notice of Default. The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Default or Event of Default unless the Administrative Agent has received notice in writing from a Lender or the Borrower referring to this Agreement, describing such Default or Event of Default and stating that such notice is a â€œnotice of default.â€ In the event that the Administrative Agent receives such a notice, the Administrative Agent shall give notice thereof to the Lenders. The Administrative Agent shall take such action with respect to such Default or Event of Default as shall be reasonably directed by the Required Lenders (or such other number or percentage of the Lenders as shall be expressly provided for herein or in the other Loan Documents); provided that unless and until the Administrative Agent shall have received such directions, the Administrative Agent may (but shall not be obligated to) take such action or refrain from taking such action with respect to such Default or Event of Default as it shall deem advisable in the best interests of the Lenders.9.6Â Â Â Â Non-Reliance on Administrative Agent and Other Lenders. Each Lender expressly acknowledges that neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates has made any representations or warranties to it and that no act by the Administrative Agent hereafter taken, including any review of the affairs of a Group Member or any Affiliate of a Group Member, shall be deemed to constitute any representation or warranty by the Administrative Agent to any Lender. Each Lender represents to the Administrative Agent that it has, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Lender or any of their Related Parties, and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own appraisal of, and investigation into, the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Group Members and their Affiliates and made its own credit analysis and decision to make its Loans hereunder and enter into this Agreement. Each Lender also agrees that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent or any other Lender or any of their Related Parties, and based on such documents and information as it shall from time to time deem appropriate, continue to make its own credit analysis, appraisals and decisions in taking or not taking action under or based upon this Agreement, the other Loan Documents or any related agreement or any document furnished hereunder or thereunder, and to make such investigation as it deems necessary to inform itself as to the business, operations, property, financial and other condition and creditworthiness of the Group Members and their Affiliates. Except for notices, reports and other documents expressly required to be furnished to the Lenders by the Administrative Agent hereunder, the Administrative Agent shall have no duty or responsibility to provide any Lender with any credit or other information concerning the business, operations, property, condition (financial or otherwise), prospects or creditworthiness of any 125Group Member or any Affiliate of a Group Member that may come into the possession of the Administrative Agent or any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or affiliates.9.7Â Â Â Â Indemnification. Each of the Lenders agrees to indemnify each of the Administrative Agent and each of its Related Parties in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed the Borrower or any other Loan Party and without limiting the obligation of the Borrower, or any other Loan Party to do so) according to its Aggregate Exposure Percentage in effect on the date on which indemnification is sought under this SectionÂ 9.7 (or, if indemnification is sought after the date upon which the Commitments shall have terminated and the Loans shall have been paid in full, in accordance with its Aggregate Exposure Percentage immediately prior to such date), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever that may at any time (whether before or after the payment of the Loans) be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the Administrative Agent or such other Person in any way relating to or arising out of, the Commitments, this Agreement, any of the other Loan Documents or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by the Administrative Agent or such other Person under or in connection with any of the foregoing and any other amounts not reimbursed by the Borrower or such other Loan Party; provided that no Lender shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements that are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted primarily from the Administrative Agentâ€™s or such other Personâ€™s gross negligence or willful misconduct. The agreements in this SectionÂ shall survive the payment of the Loans and all other amounts payable hereunder.9.8Â Â Â Â Agent in Its Individual Capacity. The Person serving as the Administrative Agent hereunder shall have the same rights and powers in its capacity as a Lender as any other Lender and may exercise the same as though it were not the Administrative Agent and the term â€œLenderâ€ or â€œLendersâ€ shall, unless otherwise expressly indicated or unless the context otherwise requires, include the Person serving as the Administrative Agent hereunder in its individual capacity. Such Person and its Affiliates may accept deposits from, lend money to, own securities of, act as the financial advisor or in any other advisory capacity for and generally engage in any kind of business with the Borrower or any Subsidiary or other Affiliate thereof as if such Person were not the Administrative Agent hereunder and without any duty to account therefor to the Lenders.9.9Â Â Â Â Successor Administrative Agent.(a)Â Â Â Â The Administrative Agent may at any time give notice of its resignation to the Lenders and the Borrower. Upon receipt of any such notice of resignation, the Required Lenders shall have the right to appoint a successor Administrative Agent with an office in the United States and, so long as no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, that is reasonably acceptable to the Borrower. If no such successor shall have been so appointed by the Required Lenders and shall have accepted such appointment within 30 days after the retiring Administrative Agent gives notice of its resignation (or such earlier day as shall be agreed by the Required Lenders) (the â€œResignation Effective Dateâ€), then the retiring Administrative Agent may (but shall not be obligated to), on behalf of the Lenders, appoint a successor Administrative Agent meeting the qualifications set forth above; provided that in no event shall any such successor Administrative Agent be a Defaulting Lender. Whether or not a successor has been appointed, such resignation shall become effective in accordance with such notice on the Resignation Effective Date.126(b)Â Â Â Â If the Person serving as Administrative Agent is a Defaulting Lender pursuant to clause (d) of the definition thereof, the Required Lenders may, to the extent permitted by applicable law, by notice in writing to the Borrower and such Person remove such Person as Administrative Agent and, in consultation with the Borrower, appoint a successor with an office in the United States. If no such successor shall have been so appointed by the Required Lenders and shall have accepted such appointment within 30 days (or such earlier day as shall be agreed by the Required Lenders) (the â€œRemoval Effective Dateâ€), then such removal shall nonetheless become effective in accordance with such notice on the Removal Effective Date.(c)Â Â Â Â With effect from the Resignation Effective Date or the Removal Effective Date (as applicable) (i) the retiring or removed Administrative Agent shall be discharged from its duties and obligations hereunder and under the other Loan Documents (except that in the case of any collateral security held by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Secured Parties under any of the Loan Documents, the retiring or removed Administrative Agent shall continue to hold such collateral security until such time as a successor Administrative Agent is appointed and such collateral security is assigned to such successor Administrative Agent) and (ii) except for any indemnity payments owed to the retiring or removed Administrative Agent, all payments, communications and determinations provided to be made by, to or through the Administrative Agent shall instead be made by or to each Lender directly, until such time, if any, as the Required Lenders appoint a successor Administrative Agent as provided for above in this Section. Upon the acceptance of a successorâ€™s appointment as Administrative Agent hereunder, such successor shall succeed to and become vested with all of the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the retiring or removed Administrative Agent (other than any rights to indemnity payments owed to the retiring or removed Administrative Agent), and the retiring or removed Administrative Agent shall be discharged from all of its duties and obligations hereunder or under the other Loan Documents (if not already discharged therefrom as provided above in this Section). The fees payable by the Borrower to a successor Administrative Agent shall be the same as those payable to its predecessor unless otherwise agreed between the Borrower and such successor. After the retiring or removed Administrative Agentâ€™s resignation or removal hereunder and under the other Loan Documents, the provisions of SectionÂ 9 and SectionÂ 10.5 shall continue in effect for the benefit of such retiring or removed Administrative Agent, its sub-agents and their respective Related Parties in respect of any actions taken or omitted to be taken by any of them while the retiring or removed Administrative Agent was acting as the Administrative Agent.9.10Â Â Â Â Collateral and Guaranty Matters. (a)Â Â Â Â The Lenders, the Administrative Agent and each other Security Party irrevocably:(i) Â Â Â Â agree that the Liens granted to the Administrative Agent by the Loan Parties on any Collateral shall be immediately and automatically released, in each case, without any further action by any Person:(A)upon the Discharge of Obligations, (B)upon the sale, disposition, distribution or other transfer of such Collateral, as part of or in connection with any transaction permitted hereunder or under any other Loan Document, in each case to a Person that is not a Loan Party, (C)subject to SectionÂ 10.1, if approved, authorized or ratified in writing by the Required Lenders, 127(D)that constitutes an Excluded Asset (or is otherwise not required to be a part of the Collateral pursuant to the terms of the Loan Documents) as a result of an occurrence not prohibited under this Agreement, or (E)to the extent such Collateral is owned by a Guarantor, upon release of such Guarantor from its obligations under its guaranty pursuant to clause (c) below;(ii)Â Â Â Â authorize the Administrative Agent to (and the Administrative Agent shall be required to if requested by the Borrower) (A) subordinate any Lien on any Collateral or other property (including to enter into any intercreditor agreement, subordination agreement or similar agreement) granted to or held by the Administrative Agent under any Loan Document to the holder of any Lien on such property that is permitted by SectionsÂ 7.3(f), (g), (i), (m) and (n) of this Agreement and (B) to enter into any Intercreditor Agreement with the collateral agent or other representative of the holders of Indebtedness that is, contractually, secured on a junior lien basis by a Lien on Collateral, which Indebtedness is permitted by this Agreement to be secured on a junior lien basis; and(iii)Â Â Â Â agree that a Guarantor shall be immediately and automatically released from any and all obligations under the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement and the other Loan Documents if such Person ceases to be a Subsidiary or becomes an Excluded Subsidiary, in each case, as a result of a transaction permitted under the Loan Documents; provided that (i) no Guarantor which becomes an Excluded Subsidiary shall be released pursuant to this Section 9.10(a)(iii) if there is no bona fide business purpose for the transaction which would result in such release and (ii) no Loan Party will dispose of a minority interest in any Guarantor for the primary purpose of releasing the Guaranty made by such Guarantor under the Loan Documents.Upon request by the Administrative Agent at any time, the Required Lenders will confirm in writing the Administrative Agentâ€™s authority to release or subordinate its interest in particular types or items of property, or to release any Guarantor from its obligations under the guaranty pursuant to this Section 9.10; provided that absent such confirmation in writing from the Required Lenders, the act of the Administrative Agent making such request shall not prohibit the Administrative Agent from releasing or subordinating its interests (and it shall be required to do so) if it otherwise conclusively relies on a certificate of the Borrower.In each case as specified in this SectionÂ 9.10(a), the Administrative Agent will promptly (and each Lender and other Secured Party irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent to), at the Borrowerâ€™s expense to the extent provided in Section 10.5, execute and deliver to the applicable Loan Party such documents as such Loan Party may reasonably request to evidence the release or subordination of such item of Collateral from the assignment and security interest granted under the Security Documents, or to evidence the release of such Guarantor from its obligations under the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement and the other Loan Documents, in each case in accordance with the terms of the Loan Documents and this SectionÂ 9.10(a). Additionally, upon reasonable request of the Borrower, the Administrative Agent will promptly return possessory Collateral held by it that is released from the security interests created by the Security Documents pursuant to this SectionÂ 9.10(a); provided that in each case of this SectionÂ 9.10(a), upon the Administrative

Agentâ€™s reasonable written request, the Borrower shall have delivered to the Administrative Agent a certificate of a Responsible Officer of the Borrower certifying that any such transaction has been consummated in compliance with this Agreement and the other Loan Documents and that such release is permitted hereby, and each of the Secured Parties 128hereby authorizes the Administrative Agent to rely on such certificate in performing its obligations under this Section 9.10(a)); provided that in the event that the Administrative Agent loses or misplaces any possessory collateral delivered to the Administrative Agent by the Borrower, upon reasonable request of the Borrower, the Administrative Agent shall provide a loss affidavit to the Borrower, including an indemnity with respect thereto, in a form reasonably satisfactory to the Borrower.(b)Â Â Â Â The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for or have a duty to ascertain or inquire into any representation or warranty regarding the existence, value or collectability of the Collateral, the existence, priority or perfection of the Administrative Agentâ€™s Lien thereon, or any certificate prepared by any Loan Party in connection therewith, nor shall the Administrative Agent be responsible or liable to the Lenders for any failure to monitor or maintain any portion of the Collateral.(c)Â Â Â Â Notwithstanding anything contained in any Loan Document, no Secured Party shall have any right individually to realize upon any of the Collateral or to enforce any guaranty of the Obligations (including any such guaranty provided by the Guarantors pursuant to the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement), it being understood and agreed that all powers, rights and remedies under the Loan Documents may be exercised solely by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Secured Parties in accordance with the terms thereof; provided that for the avoidance of doubt, in no event shall a Secured Party be restricted hereunder from filing a proof of claim on its own behalf during the pendency of a proceeding relative to any Loan Party under any Debtor Relief Law or any other judicial proceeding. In the event of a foreclosure by the Administrative Agent on any of the Collateral pursuant to a public or private sale or other disposition, the Administrative Agent or any Secured Party may be the purchaser or licensor of any or all of such Collateral at any such sale or other disposition, and the Administrative Agent, as agent for and representative of such Secured Party (but not any Lender or Lenders in its or their respective individual capacities unless the Required Lenders shall otherwise agree in writing) shall be entitled, for the purpose of bidding and making settlement or payment of the purchase price for all or any portion of the Collateral sold at any such public sale, to use and apply any of the Obligations as a credit on account of the purchase price for any Collateral payable by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Secured Parties at such sale or other disposition. Each Secured Party, whether or not a party hereto, will be deemed, by its acceptance of the benefits of the Collateral and of the guarantees of the Obligations provided by the Loan Parties under the Guarantee and Collateral Agreement, to have agreed to the foregoing provisions. 9.11Â Â Â Â Administrative Agent May File Proofs of Claim. In case of the pendency of any proceeding under any Debtor Relief Law or any other judicial proceeding relative to any Loan Party, the Administrative Agent (irrespective of whether the principal of any Loan shall then be due and payable as herein expressed or by declaration or otherwise and irrespective of whether the Administrative Agent shall have made any demand on the Borrower) shall be entitled and empowered (but not obligated), by intervention in such proceeding or otherwise:(a)Â Â Â Â to file and prove a claim for the whole amount of the principal and interest owing and unpaid in respect of the Loans and all other Obligations that are owing and unpaid and to file such other documents as may be necessary or advisable to have the claims of the Lenders and the Administrative Agent (including any claim for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Lenders and the Administrative Agent and their respective agents and counsel and all other amounts due the Lenders and the Administrative Agent under SectionsÂ 2.9 and 10.5) allowed in such judicial proceeding; and129(b)Â Â Â Â to collect and receive any monies or other property payable or deliverable on any such claims and to distribute the same;and any custodian, receiver, assignee, trustee, liquidator, sequestrator or other similar official in any such judicial proceeding is hereby authorized by each Lender to make such payments to the Administrative Agent and, in the event that the Administrative Agent shall consent to the making of such payments directly to the Lenders, to pay to the Administrative Agent any amount due for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Administrative Agent and its agents and counsel, and any other amounts due the Administrative Agent under Sections 2.9 and 10.5.Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to authorize the Administrative Agent to authorize or consent to or accept or adopt on behalf of any Lender any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Obligations or the rights of any Lender to authorize the Administrative Agent to vote in respect of the claim of any Lender in any such proceeding. 9.12Â Â Â Â No Other Duties, etc. Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, the â€œLead Arrangerâ€ listed on the cover page hereof shall not have any powers, duties or responsibilities under this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents, except in its capacity, as applicable, as the Administrative Agent or a Lender hereunder.9.13Â Â Â Â [Reserved].9.14Â Â Â Â Survival. Any such waiver and any such amendment, supplement or modification shall apply equally to each of the Lenders and shall be binding upon the Loan Parties, the Lenders, the Administrative Agent, and all future holders of the Loans. In the case of any waiver, the Loan Parties, the Lenders and the Administrative Agent shall be restored to their former position and rights hereunder and under the other Loan Documents, and any Default or Event of Default waived shall be deemed to be cured during the period such waiver is effective; but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other Default or Event of Default, or impair any right consequent thereon. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, no Defaulting Lender shall have any right to approve or disapprove any amendment, waiver or consent hereunder (and any amendment, waiver or consent which by its terms requires the consent of all Lenders or each affected Lender may be effected with the consent of the applicable Lenders other than Defaulting Lenders), except that any waiver, amendment or modification requiring the consent of all Lenders or each affected Lender that by its terms affects any Defaulting Lender disproportionately adversely relative to other affected Lenders shall require the consent of such Defaulting Lender.Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 10.1(a), no amendment, waiver or consent to this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall waive any condition precedent set forth inÂ Section 5.2Â with respect to extensions of credit under the Delayed Draw Commitments without the written consent of the Required Lenders (other than any Defaulting Lender);Â provided that the amendments, modifications, waivers and consents described in thisÂ paragraph shall not require the consent of any Lenders other than the Required Lenders. (c)Â Â Â Â [Reserved].(d)Â Â Â Â [Reserved].(e)Â Â Â Â [Reserved].(f)Â Â Â Â Notwithstanding any other provision, no consent of any Lender (or other Secured Party other than the Administrative Agent) shall be required to effectuate any amendment to implement any Incremental Facility permitted by Section 2.27, to effect an Extension Amendment permitted by Section 10.1(i), to effect a Refinancing Amendment permitted by Section 2.28 or to effect an alternate interest rate in a manner consistent with Section 2.17.(g)Â Â Â Â Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the Administrative Agent may, with the consent of the Borrower only, amend, modify or supplement this Agreement or any of the Loan Documents to (i) cure any obvious omission, mistake or defect or (ii) make amendments to any outstanding tranche of Loans to permit any Incremental Facility and Incremental Loans to be â€œfungibleâ€ (including for purposes of the Code) with such tranche of Loans, including by amending the schedule of amortization payments relating to any existing tranche of Loans; provided that any such amendments or modifications to such Facility tranche of Loans shall not decrease any amortization payment to any Lender that would have otherwise been payable to such Lender immediately prior to the effectiveness of the applicable Incremental Amendment.(h)Â Â Â Â The Fee Letter may be amended by the parties thereto with the consent of any other Person from which consent is required under Section 10.(i)Â Â Â Â Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, pursuant to one or more offers (each, an â€œExtension Offerâ€) made from time to time by the Borrower to all Lenders holding Loans with a like maturity date on a pro rata basis (based on the aggregate outstanding principal amount of such respective Loans at such time) and on the same terms to each such Lender, the Borrower may consummate from time to time transactions with individual Lenders that accept the terms contained in such Extension Offers to extend the maturity date of each such Lenderâ€™s Loans, and, subject to the terms hereof, otherwise modify the terms of such Loans pursuant to the terms of the relevant Extension Offer (including by increasing the interest rate and/or fees payable in respect of such Loans and/or modifying the amortization schedule in respect of such Lenderâ€™s Loans) (each, an â€œExtension;â€ and each group of Commitments, as so extended, as well as the original Loans (not so extended), being a separate â€œtrancheâ€), so long as the following terms are satisfied:(1)Â Â Â Â no Default or Event of Default will have occurred and be continuing at the time the Extension Offer is delivered to the Lenders or at the time of such Extension;(2)Â Â Â Â [reserved];(3)Â Â Â Â except as to interest rates, fees, amortization, final maturity date, and participation in prepayments (which will, subject to the immediately succeeding 133clauses (4) and (5), be determined by the Borrower and set forth in the relevant Extension Amendment), the Loans of any Lender that agrees to an Extension with respect to such Loans owed to it (an â€œExtended Lenderâ€) extended pursuant to any Extension (â€œExtended Loansâ€) will have the same terms as the tranche of Loans subject to such Extension Offer (except for covenants or other provisions contained therein or other provisions contained therein, in each case applicable only to periods after the maturity date of the non-extending Loans);(4)Â Â Â Â the weighted average life to maturity of any Extended Loans will be no shorter than the weighted average life to maturity of the Loans extended thereby;(5)Â Â Â Â any Extended Loans may participate on a pro rata basis or a less than pro rata basis (but not greater than a pro rata basis except for prepayments with the proceeds of Credit Agreement Refinancing Indebtedness and in respect of an earlier maturing tranche) with non-extending tranches of Loans in any voluntary or mandatory prepayments hereunder, in each case as specified in the respective Extension Amendment;(6)Â Â Â Â there will be no more than three (3) Extended Loan tranches at any time during the term of this Agreement; and(ii)Â Â Â Â if the aggregate principal amount of Loans in respect of which a Lender or Lenders will have accepted the relevant Extension Offer will exceed the maximum aggregate principal amount of Loans offered to be extended by the Borrower pursuant to such Extension Offer, then the Loans of such Lender or Lenders will be extended ratably up to such maximum amount based on the respective principal or commitment amounts with respect to which such Lender or Lenders have accepted such Extension Offer. With respect to all Extensions consummated by the Borrower pursuant to this Section 10.1(i), (i) such Extensions will not constitute voluntary or mandatory payments or prepayments for purposes of Sections 2.11 or 2.12 and (ii) no Extension Offer is required to be in any minimum amount or any minimum increment. The Administrative Agent and the Lenders hereby consent to the transactions contemplated by this Section 10.1(i) (including, for the avoidance of doubt, payment of any interest, fees or premium in respect of any Extended Loans on such terms as may be set forth in the relevant Extension Amendment) and hereby waive the requirements of any provision of this Agreement or any other Loan Document that may otherwise prohibit or conflict with any such Extension or any other transaction contemplated by this Section 10.1(i).(iii)Â Â Â Â With respect to any Extension Amendment, no consent by any Lender will be required other than the consent of the Administrative Agent and each Lender agreeing to such Extension with respect to one or more of its Loans (or a portion thereof). All Extended Loans and all obligations in respect thereof will be Obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents and secured by the same Liens on the Collateral that secure all other applicable

Obligations. The Lenders hereby irrevocably authorize the Administrative Agent to enter into amendments to this Agreement and the other Loan Documents with the Borrower and the Loan Parties as may be necessary in order to establish new tranches or sub-tranches in respect of Loans so extended, on terms consistent with this Section 10.1(i) (any such amendment, an â€œExtension Amendmentâ€). 134(iv)Â Â Â Â In connection with any Extension, the Borrower will provide the Administrative Agent at least five (5) Business Days (or such shorter period as may be agreed by the Administrative Agent) prior written notice thereof. Each partial assignment shall be made as an assignment of a proportionate part of all the assigning Lenderâ€™s rights and obligations under this Agreement with respect to the Loan or the Commitment assigned, except that this clause (ii) shall not prohibit any Lender from assigning all or a portion of its rights and obligations among separate Facilities on a non-pro rata basis. (iii)Â Â Â Â Required Consents. No consent shall be required for any assignment except to the extent required by paragraph (b)(i)(B) of this Section and, except that:(A)Â Â Â Â the consent of the Borrower (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) shall be required unless (x)Â a Default or an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing at the time of such assignment, or (y)Â such assignment is to a Lender, an Affiliate of a Lender or an Approved Fund; provided that the Borrower shall be deemed to have consented to any such assignment (other than any assignment to a Person described in Section 10.6(b)(v) or Section 10.6(b)(vi)) unless it shall object thereto by written notice to the Administrative Agent within seven (7) Business Days after having received notice thereof; (B)Â Â Â Â the consent of the Administrative Agent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) shall be required for assignments in respect of (i) any unfunded Commitments with respect to the Facility if such assignment is to a Person that is not a Lender with a Commitment in respect of such Facility, an Affiliate of such Lender or an Approved Fund with respect to such Lender, or (ii) any Loans to a Person who is not a Lender, an Affiliate of a Lender or an Approved Fund; and 139(iv)Â Â Â Â Assignment and Assumption. No such assignment shall be made to a natural Person (or a holding company, investment vehicle or trust established for, or owned and operated for the primary benefit of, a natural Person).(vii)Â Â Â Â Certain Additional Payments. In connection with any assignment of rights and obligations of any Defaulting Lender hereunder, no such assignment shall be effective unless and until, in addition to the other conditions thereto set forth herein, the parties to the assignment shall make such additional payments to the Administrative Agent in an aggregate amount sufficient, upon distribution thereof as appropriate (which may be outright payment, purchases by the assignee of participations or subparticipations, or other compensating actions, including funding, with the consent of the Borrower and the Administrative Agent, the applicable pro rata share of Loans previously requested but not funded by the Defaulting Lender, to each of which the applicable assignee and assignor hereby irrevocably consent), to (x) pay and satisfy in full all payment liabilities then owed by such Defaulting Lender to the Administrative Agent and each other Lender hereunder (and interest accrued thereon), and (y) acquire (and fund as appropriate) its full pro rata share of all Loans. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that any assignment of rights and obligations of any Defaulting Lender hereunder shall become effective under applicable law without compliance with the provisions of this paragraph, then the assignee of such interest shall be deemed to be a Defaulting Lender for all purposes of this Agreement until such compliance occurs.Subject to acceptance and recording thereof by the Administrative Agent pursuant to paragraph (c) of this Section, from and after the effective date specified in each Assignment and Assumption, the assignee thereunder shall be a party to this Agreement and, to the extent of the interest assigned by such Assignment and Assumption, have the rights and obligations of a Lender under this Agreement, and the assigning Lender thereunder shall, to the extent of the interest assigned by such Assignment and Assumption, be released from its obligations under this Agreement (and, in the case of an Assignment and Assumption covering all of the assigning Lenderâ€™s rights and obligations under this Agreement, such Lender shall cease to be a party hereto) but shall continue to be entitled to the benefits of SectionsÂ 2.19, 2.20, 2.21 and 10.5 with respect to facts and circumstances occurring prior to the effective date of such assignment; provided that except to the extent otherwise expressly agreed by the affected parties, no assignment by a Defaulting Lender will constitute a waiver or release of any claim of any party hereunder arising from that Lenderâ€™s having been a Defaulting Lender. Any assignment or transfer by a Lender of rights or obligations under this Agreement that does not comply with this paragraph shall be treated for purposes of this Agreement as a sale by such Lender of a participation in such rights and obligations in accordance with paragraph (d) of this Section.140(c)Â Â Â Â Register. The

Administrative Agent, acting solely for this purpose as an agent of the Borrower, shall maintain at one of its offices in the United States a copy of each Assignment and Assumption delivered to it and a register for the recordation of the names and addresses of the Lenders, and the Commitments of, and principal amounts of (and stated interest on) the Loans owing to, each Lender pursuant to the terms hereof from time to time (the â€œRegisterâ€). The entries in the Register shall be conclusive absent manifest error, and the Borrower, the Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall treat each Person whose name is recorded in the Register pursuant to the terms hereof as a Lender hereunder for all purposes of this Agreement. The Register shall be available for inspection by the Borrower and any Lender, at any reasonable time and from time to time upon reasonable prior notice.(d)Â Â Â Â Participations. Any Lender may at any time, without the consent of, or notice to, the Borrower or the Administrative Agent, sell participations to any Person (other than a natural Person, the Borrower or any of the Borrowerâ€™s Affiliates or Subsidiaries, or, an Excluded Lender) (each, a â€œParticipantâ€) in all or a portion of such Lenderâ€™s rights and/or obligations under this Agreement (including all or a portion of its Commitment and/or the Loans owing to it); provided that (i)Â such Lenderâ€™s obligations under this Agreement shall remain unchanged, (ii)Â such Lender shall remain solely responsible to the other parties hereto for the performance of such obligations, and (iii)Â the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, and the other Lenders shall continue to deal solely and directly with such Lender in connection with such Lenderâ€™s rights and obligations under this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, each Lender shall be responsible for the indemnities under Section 9.7 with respect to any payments made by such Lender to its Participant(s).Any agreement or instrument pursuant to which a Lender sells such a participation shall provide that such Lender shall retain the sole right to enforce this Agreement and to approve any amendment, modification or waiver of any provision of this Agreement; provided that such agreement or instrument may provide that such Lender will not, without the consent of the Participant, agree to any amendment, modification or waiver which affects such Participant and for which the consent of such Lender is required (as described in SectionÂ 10.1). The Borrower agrees that each Participant shall be entitled to the benefits of SectionsÂ 2.19 (other than Section 2.19(a)), 2.20 and 2.21 (subject to the requirements and limitations therein, including the requirements under SectionÂ 2.20(f) (it being understood that the documentation required under SectionÂ 2.20(f) shall be delivered by such Participant to the Lender granting such participation)) to the same extent as if it were a Lender and had acquired its interest by assignment pursuant to Section 10.6(b); provided that such Participant (A)Â agrees to be subject to the provisions of Sections 2.22 and 2.23 as if it were an assignee under Section 10.6(b); and (B)Â shall not be entitled to receive any greater payment under Sections 2.19 or 2.20, with respect to any participation, than its participating Lender would have been entitled to receive, except to the extent such entitlement to receive a greater payment results from a change in any Requirement of Law that occurs after the Participant acquired the applicable participation. Each Lender that sells a participation agrees, at the Borrower's request and expense, to use reasonable efforts to cooperate with the Borrower to effectuate the provisions of SectionÂ 2.23 with respect to any Participant. To the extent permitted by law, each Participant also shall be entitled to the benefits of SectionÂ 10.7 as though it were a Lender; provided that such Participant agrees to be subject to SectionÂ 2.18(k) as though it were a Lender. Each Lender that sells a participation shall, acting solely for this purpose as a non-fiduciary agent of the Borrower, maintain a register on which it enters the name and address of each Participant and the principal amounts of (and stated interest on) each Participantâ€™s interest in the Loans or other obligations under the Loan Documents (the â€œParticipant Registerâ€); provided that no Lender shall have any obligation to disclose all or any portion of the Participant Register (including the identity of any Participant or any information relating to a Participantâ€™s interest in any commitments, loans, letters of credit or its other obligations under any Loan Document) to any Person except to the extent that such disclosure is necessary to establish that such commitment, loan, 141letter of credit or other obligation is in registered form under Section 5f.103-1(c) of the United States Treasury Regulations and Section 1.163-5 of the proposed United States Treasury Regulations. The entries in the Participant Register shall be conclusive absent manifest error, and such Lender shall treat each Person whose name is recorded in the Participant Register as the owner of such participation for all purposes of this Agreement notwithstanding any notice to the contrary. For the avoidance of doubt, the Administrative Agent (in its capacity as Administrative Agent) shall have no responsibility for maintaining a Participant Register.(e)Â Â Â Â Certain Pledges. Any Lender may at any time pledge or assign a security interest in all or any portion of its rights under this Agreement to secure obligations of such Lender, including any pledge or assignment to secure obligations to a Federal Reserve Bank; provided that no such pledge or assignment shall release such Lender from any of its obligations hereunder or substitute any such pledgee or assignee for such Lender as a party hereto.(f)Â Â Â Â Notes. The Borrower, upon receipt by the Borrower of written notice from the relevant Lender, agrees to issue Notes to any Lender requiring Notes to facilitate transactions of the type described in SectionÂ 10.6.(g)Â Â Â Â Representations and Warranties of Lenders. Each Lender, upon execution and delivery hereof or upon succeeding to an interest in the Commitments or Loans, as the case may be, represents and warrants as of the Closing Date or as of the effective date of the applicable Assignment and Assumption that (i) it is an Eligible Assignee; (ii) it has experience and expertise in the making of or investing in commitments, loans or investments such as the Commitments and Loans; and (iii) it will make or invest in its Commitments and Loans for its own account in the ordinary course of its business and without a view to distribution of such Commitments and Loans within the meaning of the Securities Act or the Exchange Act, or other federal securities laws (it being understood that, subject to the provisions of this SectionÂ 10.6, the disposition of such Commitments and Loans or any interests therein shall at all times remain within its exclusive control).(h)Â Â Â Â Any Lender may, so long as no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would result therefrom, assign all or a portion of its rights and obligations with respect to the Loans under this Agreement to the Borrower or any Subsidiary through (x)Â Dutch auctions open to all Lenders in accordance with procedures of the type described in SectionÂ 2.29 or (y)Â open market purchase on a non-pro rata basis, in each case subject to the following limitations; provided that (x) if the assignee is the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, upon such assignment, transfer or contribution, the applicable assignee will automatically be deemed to have contributed or transferred the principal amount of such Loans, plus all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, to the Borrower; or (y) if the assignee is the Borrower (including through contribution or transfers set forth in clause (x)), (a) the principal amount of such Loans, along with all accrued and unpaid interest thereon, so contributed, assigned or transferred to the Borrower will be deemed automatically cancelled and extinguished on the date of such contribution, assignment or transfer, (b) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of Loans of the remaining Lenders will reflect such cancellation and extinguishing of the Loans then held by the Borrower and (c) the Borrower will promptly provide notice to the Administrative Agent of such contribution, assignment or transfer of such Loans, and the Administrative Agent, upon receipt of such notice, will reflect the cancellation of the applicable Loans in the Register.14210.7Â Â Â Â Adjustments; Set-off.(a)Â Â Â Â Except to the extent that this Agreement expressly provides for payments to be allocated to a particular Lender or to the Lenders under a particular Facility, if any Lender (a â€œBenefitted Lenderâ€) shall, at any time after the Loans and other amounts payable hereunder shall immediately become due and payable pursuant to SectionÂ 8.2, receive any payment of all or part of the Obligations owing to it, or receive any collateral in respect thereof (whether voluntarily or involuntarily, by set-off, pursuant to events or proceedings of the nature referred to in SectionÂ 8.1(f), or otherwise), in a greater proportion than any such payment to or collateral received by any other Lender, if any, in respect of the Obligations owing to such other Lender, such Benefitted Lender shall purchase for cash from the other Lenders a participating interest in such portion of the Obligations owing to each such other Lender, or shall provide such other Lenders with the benefits of any such collateral, as shall be necessary to cause such Benefitted Lender to share the excess payment or benefits of such collateral ratably with each of the Lenders; provided that if all or any portion of such excess payment or benefits is thereafter recovered from such Benefitted Lender, such purchase shall be rescinded, and the purchase price and benefits returned, to the extent of such recovery, but without interest.(b)Â Â Â Â Upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, each Lender and each of its Affiliates is hereby authorized at any time and from time to time, without prior notice to the Borrower or any other Loan Party, any such notice being expressly waived by the Borrower and each Loan Party, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, to set off and apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final), in any currency, at any time held or owing, and any other credits, indebtedness, claims or obligations, in any currency, in each case whether direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, matured or unmatured, at any time held or owing by such Lender, its Affiliates or any branch or agency thereof to or for the credit or the account of the Borrower or any other Loan Party, as the case may be, against any and all of the obligations of the Borrower or such other Loan Party now or hereafter existing under this Agreement or any other Loan Document to such Lender or its Affiliates, irrespective of whether or not such Lender or Affiliate shall have made any demand under this Agreement or any other Loan Document and although such obligations of the Borrower or such other Loan Party may be contingent or unmatured or are owed to a branch, office or Affiliate of such Lender different from the branch, office or Affiliate holding such deposit or obligated on such indebtedness; provided that in the event that any Defaulting Lender or any of its Affiliates shall exercise any such right of setoff, (x) all amounts so set off shall be paid over immediately to the Administrative Agent for further application in accordance with the provisions of SectionÂ 2.24 and, pending such payment, shall be segregated by such Defaulting Lender or Affiliate thereof from its other funds and deemed held in trust for the benefit of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders, and (y) the Defaulting Lender shall provide promptly to the Administrative Agent a statement describing in reasonable detail the Obligations owing to such Defaulting Lender or Affiliate thereof as to which it exercised such right of setoff. Each Lender agrees to notify the Borrower and the Administrative Agent promptly after any such setoff and application made by such Lender or any of its Affiliates; provided that the failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of such setoff and application. The rights of each Lender and its Affiliates under this Section 10.7 are in addition to other rights and remedies (including other rights of set-off) which such Lender or its Affiliates may have.10.8Â Â Â Â Payments Set Aside. To the extent that any payment by or on behalf of the Borrower is made to the Administrative Agent or any Lender, or the Administrative Agent or any Lender exercises its right of setoff, and such payment or the proceeds of such setoff or any part thereof is subsequently invalidated, declared to be fraudulent or preferential, set aside or required (including pursuant to any settlement entered into by the Administrative Agent or such Lender in its discretion) to be repaid to a 143trustee, receiver or any other party, in connection with any Insolvency Proceeding or otherwise, then (a)Â to the extent of such recovery, the obligation or part thereof originally intended to be satisfied shall be revived and continued in full force and effect as if such payment had not been made or such setoff had not occurred, and (b)Â each Lender severally agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent upon demand its applicable share (without duplication) of any amount so recovered from or repaid by the Administrative Agent, plus interest thereon from the date of such demand to the date such payment is made at a rate per annum equal to the Federal Funds Effective Rate from time to time in effect. The obligations of the Lenders under clause (b)Â of the preceding sentence shall survive the Discharge of Obligations.10.9Â Â Â Â Interest Rate Limitation. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any Loan Document, the interest paid or agreed to be paid under the Loan Documents shall not exceed the maximum rate of non-usurious interest permitted by applicable law (the â€œMaximum Rateâ€). If the Administrative Agent or any Lender shall receive interest in an amount that exceeds the Maximum Rate, the excess interest shall be applied to the principal of the Loans or, if it exceeds such unpaid principal, refunded to the Borrower. In determining whether the interest contracted for, charged, or received by the Administrative Agent or a Lender exceeds the Maximum Rate, such Person may, to the extent permitted by applicable law, (a) characterize any payment that is not principal as an expense, fee, or premium rather than interest, (b) exclude voluntary prepayments and the effects thereof, and (c) amortize, prorate, allocate, and spread in equal or unequal parts the total amount of interest throughout the contemplated term of the Obligations hereunder.10.10Â Â Â Â Counterparts; Electronic Execution of Assignments.(a)Â Â Â Â This Agreement may be executed by one or more of the parties to this Agreement on any number of separate counterparts, and all of said counterparts taken together shall be deemed to constitute one and the same instrument. An electronic set of the copies of this Agreement signed by all the parties shall be lodged with the Borrower and the Administrative Agent.(b)Â Â Â Â The words â€œexecution,â€ â€œsigned,â€ â€œsignature,â€ and words of like import in any Assignment and Assumption shall be deemed to include electronic signatures or the keeping of records in electronic form, each of which shall be of the same legal effect, validity or enforceability as a manually executed signature or the use of a paper-based recordkeeping system, as the case may be, to the extent and as provided for in any applicable law, including the Federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, the New York State Electronic Signatures and Records Act, or any other similar state laws based on the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act.10.11Â Â Â Â Severability. Any provision of this Agreement that is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof, and any such prohibition or unenforceability in any jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction. Without limiting the foregoing provisions of this SectionÂ 10.11, if and to the extent that the enforceability of any provisions in this Agreement relating to Defaulting Lenders shall be limited under or in connection with any Insolvency Proceeding, as determined in good faith by the Administrative Agent, then such provisions shall be deemed to be in effect only to the extent not so limited.10.12Â Â Â Â Integration. This Agreement and the other Loan Documents represent the entire agreement of the Borrower, the other Loan Parties, the Administrative Agent and the Lenders with respect 144to the subject matter hereof and thereof, and there are no promises, undertakings, representations or warranties by the Administrative Agent or any Lender relative to the subject matter hereof not expressly set forth or referred to herein or in the other Loan Documents.10.13Â Â Â Â GOVERNING LAW. The Borrower, on behalf of itself and each other Loan Party, (i)Â expressly submits and consents in advance to such jurisdiction in any action or suit commenced in any such court, (ii)Â hereby waives any objection that it may have based upon lack of personal jurisdiction, improper venue, or forum non conveniens and hereby consents to the granting of such legal or equitable relief as is deemed appropriate by such court, and (iii)Â agrees that it shall not file any motion or other application seeking to change the venue of any such suit or other action. In addition, the Administrative Agent, the Lenders, and any of their respective Related Parties, may (A)Â disclose the existence of this Agreement and information about this Agreement to market data collectors, similar service providers to the lending industry and service providers to the Administrative Agent or the Lenders in connection with the administration of this Agreement, the other Loan Documents, and the Commitments; and (B)Â use any information (not constituting Information subject to the foregoing confidentiality restrictions) related to the arrangement of the credit facilities contemplated by this Agreement in connection with marketing, press releases, or other transactional announcements or updates provided to investor or trade publications, including the placement of â€œtombstoneâ€ advertisements in publications of its choice at its own expense. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any party to this Agreement (and any employee, representative, or other agent of any party to this Agreement) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to it relating to such tax treatment and tax structure. However, any such information relating to the tax treatment or tax structure is required to be kept confidential to the extent necessary to comply with any applicable federal or state securities laws, rules, and regulations.For purposes of this Section, â€œInformationâ€ means all information received from the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries relating to the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries or any of their respective businesses, other than any such information that is available to the Administrative Agent or any Lender on a non-confidential basis prior to disclosure by the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries; provided that in the case of information received from the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries after the date hereof, such information is clearly identified at the time of delivery as confidential. Any Person required to maintain the confidentiality of Information as provided in this Section shall be considered to have complied with its obligation to do so if such Person has exercised the same degree of care to maintain the confidentiality of such Information as such Person would accord to its own confidential information.Without limiting the foregoing, the list of Excluded Lenders may be made available to prospective Lenders and participants on a confidential basis in connection with any bona fide assignment or participation of the Obligations or any portion thereof. 10.18Â Â Â Â Credit Bidding. The Secured Parties hereby irrevocably authorize the Administrative Agent, at the direction of the Required Lenders, to credit bid all or any portion of the Obligations (including by accepting some or all of the Collateral in satisfaction of some or all of the Obligations pursuant to a deed in lieu of foreclosure or otherwise) and in such manner purchase (either directly or through one or more acquisition vehicles) all or any portion of the Collateral: (a)Â Â Â Â at any sale thereof conducted under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, including under Sections 363, 1123 or 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code, or any similar laws in any other jurisdictions to which a Loan Party is subject; or 147(b)Â Â Â Â at any other sale, foreclosure or acceptance of collateral in lieu of debt conducted by (or with the consent or at the direction of) the Administrative Agent (whether by judicial action or otherwise) in accordance with any applicable law. In connection with any such credit bid and purchase, the Obligations owed to the Secured Parties shall be entitled to be, and shall be, credit bid by the Administrative Agent at the direction of the Required Lenders on a ratable basis (with Obligations with respect to contingent or unliquidated claims receiving contingent interests in the acquired assets on a ratable basis that shall vest upon the liquidation of such claims in an amount proportional to the liquidated portion of the contingent claim amount used in allocating the contingent interests) for the asset or assets so purchased (or for the equity interests or debt instruments of the acquisition vehicle or vehicles that are used to consummate such purchase). In connection with any such bid: (i)Â Â Â Â the Administrative Agent shall be authorized to form one or more acquisition vehicles and to assign any successful credit bid to such acquisition vehicle or vehicles; (ii)Â Â Â Â each of the Secured Partiesâ€™ ratable interests in the Obligations which were credit bid shall be deemed without any further action under this Agreement to be assigned to such vehicle or vehicles for the purpose of closing such sale;(iii)Â Â Â Â the Administrative Agent shall be authorized to adopt documents providing for the governance of the acquisition vehicle or vehicles (provided that any actions by the Administrative Agent with respect to such acquisition vehicle or vehicles, including any disposition of the assets or equity interests thereof, shall be governed, directly or indirectly, by, and the governing documents shall provide for, control by the vote of the Required Lenders or their permitted assignees under the terms of this Agreement or the governing documents of the applicable acquisition vehicle or vehicles, as the case may be, irrespective of the termination of this Agreement and without giving effect to the limitations on actions by the Required Lenders contained in Section 10.18 of this Agreement);(iv)Â Â Â Â the Administrative Agent on behalf of such acquisition vehicle or vehicles shall be authorized to issue to each of the Secured Parties, ratably on account of the relevant Obligations which were credit bid, interests, whether as equity, partnership, limited partnership interests or membership interests, in any such acquisition vehicle and/or debt instruments issued by such acquisition vehicle, all without the need for any Secured Party or acquisition vehicle to take any further action; and (v)Â Â Â Â to the extent that Obligations that are assigned to an acquisition vehicle are not used to acquire Collateral for any reason (as a result of another bid being higher or better, because the amount of Obligations assigned to the acquisition vehicle exceeds the amount of Obligations credit bid by the acquisition vehicle or otherwise), such Obligations shall automatically be reassigned to the Secured Parties pro rata and the equity interests and/or debt instruments issued by any acquisition vehicle on account of such Obligations shall automatically be cancelled, without the need for any Secured Party or any acquisition vehicle to take any further action. Notwithstanding that the ratable portion of the Obligations of each Secured Party are deemed assigned to the acquisition vehicle or vehicles as set forth in clause (ii) above, each Secured Party shall execute such documents and provide such information regarding the Secured Party (and/or any designee of the Secured Party which shall receive interests in or debt instruments issued by such acquisition vehicle) as the Administrative Agent may reasonably request in connection with the formation of any 148acquisition vehicle, the formulation or submission of any credit bid or the consummation of the transactions contemplated by such credit bid.10.19Â Â Â Â Judgment Currency; Exchange Rates. (a)Â Â Â Â Judgment Currency. If, for the purposes of obtaining judgment in any court, it is necessary to convert a sum due hereunder or any other Loan Document in one currency into another currency, the rate of exchange used shall be that at which in accordance with normal banking procedures the Administrative Agent could purchase the first currency with such other currency on the Business Day preceding that on which final judgment is given. The obligation of the Borrower and each other Loan Party in respect of any such sum due from it to the Administrative Agent or any Lender hereunder or under any other Loan Document shall, notwithstanding any judgment in a currency (the â€œJudgment Currencyâ€) other than that in which such sum is denominated in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Agreement (the â€œAgreement Currencyâ€), be discharged only to the extent that on the Business Day following receipt by the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, of any sum adjudged to be so due in the Judgment Currency, the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, may in accordance with normal banking procedures purchase the Agreement Currency with the Judgment Currency. If the amount of the Agreement Currency so purchased is less than the sum originally due to the Administrative Agent or any Lender from the Borrower or any other Loan Party in the Agreement Currency, the Borrower and each other such Loan Party agrees, as a separate obligation and notwithstanding any such judgment, to indemnify the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, against such loss. If the amount of the Agreement Currency so purchased is greater than the sum originally due to the Administrative Agent or any Lender in such currency, the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, agrees to return the amount of any excess to the Borrower or other Loan Party, as applicable (or to any other Person who may be entitled thereto under applicable law).(b)Â Â Â Â Currency Conversion. All payments under this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall be made in Dollars. If any payment by the Borrower or the proceeds of any Collateral shall be made in a currency other than the currency required hereunder, such amount shall be converted into the currency required hereunder at the rate reasonably determined by the Administrative Agent as the rate quoted by it in accordance with methods customarily used by such Person for such or similar purposes as the spot rate for the purchase by such Person of the required currency with the currency of actual payment through its principal foreign exchange trading office (including, in the case of the Administrative Agent, any Affiliate) at approximately 11:00 A.M. (local time at such office) two Business Days prior to the effective date of such conversion, provided that the Administrative Agent may obtain such spot rate from another financial institution actively engaged in foreign currency exchange if the Administrative Agent does not then have a spot rate for the required currency.10.20Â Â Â Â Patriot Act. Each Lender and the Administrative Agent (for itself and not on behalf of any other party) hereby notifies the Borrower and each other Loan Party that, pursuant to the requirements of â€œknow your customerâ€ and Anti-Money Laundering Laws, including the Patriot Act and 31 C.F.R. Â§ 1010.230, it is required to obtain, verify and record information that identifies the Borrower and each other Loan Party and certain Related Parties thereto, which information includes the names and addresses and other information that will allow such Lender or the Administrative Agent, as applicable, to identify the Borrower, each other Loan Party and certain of their beneficial owners and other officers in accordance with the Patriot Act and 31 C.F.R. Â§Â 1010.230. The Borrower and each other Loan Party will, and will cause each of their respective Subsidiaries to, provide, to the extent commercially reasonable or required by any Requirement of Law, such information and documents and take such actions as are reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent or any Lender to assist the Administrative Agent and 149the Lenders in maintaining compliance with â€œknow your customerâ€ requirements under the PATRIOT Act, 31 C.F.R. Â§ 1010.230 or other applicable Anti-Money Laundering Laws. 10.21Â Â Â Â Acknowledgement and Consent to Bail-In of Affected Financial Institutions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any Loan Document or in any other agreement, arrangement or understanding among any such parties, each party hereto acknowledges that any liability of any Affected Financial Institution arising under any Loan Document, to the extent such liability is unsecured, may be subject to the Write-Down and Conversion Powers of the applicable Resolution Authority and agrees and consents to, and acknowledges and agrees to be bound by:(a)Â Â Â Â the application of any Write-Down and Conversion Powers by the applicable Resolution Authority to any such liabilities arising hereunder which may be payable to it by any party hereto that is an Affected Financial Institution; (b)Â Â Â Â the effects of any Bail-in Action on any such liability, including, if applicable:(i)Â Â Â Â a reduction in full or in part or cancellation of any such liability;(ii)Â Â Â Â a conversion of all, or a portion of, such liability into shares or other instruments of ownership in such Affected Financial Institution, its parent undertaking, or a bridge institution that may be issued to it or otherwise conferred on it, and that such shares or other instruments of ownership will be accepted by it in lieu of any rights with respect to any such liability under this Agreement or any other Loan Document; or(iii)Â Â Â Â the variation of the terms of such liability in connection with the exercise of the Write-Down and Conversion Powers of the applicable Resolution Authority.10.22Â Â Â Â Acknowledgment Regarding any Supported QFCs. To the extent that the Loan Documents provide support, through a guarantee or otherwise, for Swap Agreements or any other agreement or instrument that is a QFC (such support, â€œQFC Credit Supportâ€ and each such QFC a â€œSupported QFCâ€), the parties acknowledge and agree as follows with respect to the resolution power of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (together with the regulations promulgated thereunder, the â€œU.S. Special Resolution Regimesâ€) in respect of such Supported QFC and QFC Credit Support (with the provisions below applicable notwithstanding that the Loan Documents and any Supported QFC may in fact be stated to be governed by the laws of the State of New York and/or of the United States or any other state of the United States):In the event a Covered Entity that is party to a Supported QFC (each, a â€œCovered Partyâ€) becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, the transfer of such Supported QFC and the benefit of such QFC Credit Support (and any interest and obligation in or under such Supported QFC and such QFC Credit Support, and any rights in property securing such Supported QFC or such QFC Credit Support) from such Covered Party will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Supported QFC and such QFC Credit Support (and any such interest, obligation and rights in property) were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. In the event a Covered Party or a BHC Act Affiliate of a Covered Party becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, Default Rights under the Loan Documents that might otherwise apply to such Supported QFC or any QFC Credit Support that may be exercised against such Covered Party are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such Default Rights could be exercised under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Supported QFC and 150the Loan Documents were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. Without limitation of the foregoing, it is understood and agreed that rights and remedies of the parties with respect to a Defaulting Lender shall in no event affect the rights of any Covered Party with respect to a Supported QFC or any QFC Credit Support.[Remainder of page left blank intentionally]151HEALTH CATALYST, INC.as the BorrowerÂ Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â By: Â Â Â Â /s/ Benjamin LandryÂ Name: Benjamin LandryÂ Title: Secretary and General Counsel[Health Catalyst â€“ Signature Page to Credit Agreement]SILVER POINT FINANCE, LLC,as the Administrative AgentÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ Jesse DorigoÂ Name: Jesse DorigoÂ Title: Authorized Signatory[Health Catalyst â€“ Signature Page to Credit Agreement][],as a LenderÂ Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[Health Catalyst â€“ Signature Page to Credit Agreement][],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[Health Catalyst â€“ Signature Page to Credit Agreement][],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[],as a LenderÂ By: Â Â Â Â /s/ []Â Name: []Â Title: Authorized Signatory[Health Catalyst â€“ Signature Page to Credit Agreement] EX-31.1 3 exhibit311-q22024xcertific.htm EX-31.1 DocumentExhibitÂ 31.1CERTIFICATION PURSUANT TO RULE 13a-14(a)Â OR 15d-14(a)Â OFTHE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934,AS ADOPTED PURSUANT TO SECTIONÂ 302 OFTHE SARBANES-OXLEY ACT OF 2002I, Daniel Burton, certify that:1. (Health Catalyst) was incorporated under the laws of Delaware in September 2011. We are a leading provider of data and analytics technology and services to healthcare organizations. Our Solution comprises our cloud-based data platform, software analytics applications, and professional services expertise. Our clients, which are primarily healthcare providers, use our Solution to manage their data, derive analytical insights to operate their organization, and produce measurable clinical, financial, and operational improvements.Basis of presentation The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and the applicable regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) regarding interim financial reporting. Certain information and note disclosures normally included in annual financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP have been condensed or omitted. Therefore, these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with our audited consolidated financial statements and the related notes thereto as of and for the year ended DecemberÂ 31, 2023 included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K.Interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statementsThe accompanying interim condensed consolidated balance sheet as ofÂ JuneÂ 30, 2024, the interim condensed consolidated statements of operations for theÂ three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â andÂ 2023, our interim condensed consolidated statements of stockholdersâ€™ equity for theÂ three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, and our interim condensed consolidated statements of cash flows for theÂ six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â andÂ 2023Â are unaudited. Our condensed consolidated balance sheet as ofÂ DecemberÂ 31, 2023Â was derived from audited financial statements, but does not include all disclosures required by GAAP. Our interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a basis consistent with our annual consolidated financial statements and, in the opinion of management, reflect all adjustments, which include only normal recurring adjustments, necessary to state fairly the Companyâ€™s financial position, its operations and cash flows for the periods presented. The historical results are not necessarily indicative of future results, and the results of operations for theÂ three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year or any other period.Principles of consolidationThe condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Health Catalyst and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. Intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.Use of estimatesThe preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. On an on-going basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to revenue recognition, reserves for expected credit losses, useful lives of property and equipment, capitalization and estimated useful life of internal-use software, impairment assessments of goodwill, intangible assets, and other long-lived assets, fair value of financial instruments, deferred tax assets, stock-based compensation, contingent consideration, the period of benefit for deferred contract acquisition costs, the incremental borrowing rate used for operating leases, and tax uncertainties. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates.Segment reportingOperating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is evaluated by the chief operating decision maker (CODM) in assessing performance and making decisions regarding resource allocation. We operate our business in two operating segments that also represent our reportable segments. Our segments are (1) technology and (2) professional services. The CODM uses Adjusted Gross Profit (defined as revenue less cost of revenue that excludes depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation expense, and certain other operating expenses) as the measure of our profit.Net loss per shareBasic net loss per share is calculated by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding. Diluted net loss per share is calculated by giving effect to all potentially dilutive common stock equivalents outstanding for the period, when dilutive. For purposes of this calculation, stock options, restricted stock units (RSUs), performance-based restricted stock units (PRSUs), convertible senior notes, restricted shares, and purchase rights committed under the employee stock purchase plan are considered to be common stock equivalents but have been excluded from the calculation of diluted net loss per share attributable to common stockholders as the effect is anti-dilutive.Revenue recognitionWe derive our revenue primarily from technology subscriptions and professional services. We determine revenue recognition by applying the following steps: â€¢Identification of the contract, or contracts, with a client;â€¢Identification of the performance obligations in the contract;â€¢Determination of the transaction price;â€¢Allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; andâ€¢Recognition of revenue when, or as, we satisfy the performance obligation.We recognize revenue net of any taxes collected from clients and subsequently remitted to governmental authorities.Technology revenueTechnology revenue primarily consists of subscription fees charged to clients for access to use our technology. We provide clients access to our technology through either an all-access or limited-access, modular subscription. The majority of our subscription arrangements are cloud-based and do not provide clients the right to take possession of the technology or contain a significant penalty if the client were to take possession of the technology. Revenue from cloud-based subscriptions is recognized ratably over the contract term beginning on the date that the service is made available to the client. Our subscription contracts generally have a three- or five-year term, of which many are terminable after one year upon 90 daysâ€™ notice.Subscriptions that allow the client to take software on-premise without significant penalty are treated as time-based licenses. These arrangements generally include access to technology, access to unspecified future products, and maintenance and support. Revenue for upfront access to our technology library is recognized at a point in time when the technology is made available to the client. Revenue for access to unspecified future products included in time-based license subscriptions is recognized ratably over the contract term beginning on the date that the access is made available to the client.Professional services revenueProfessional services revenue primarily includes data and analytics services, domain expertise services, Tech-enabled Managed Services, and implementation services. Professional services arrangements typically include a fee for making full-time equivalent (FTE) services available to our clients on a monthly basis. FTE services generally consist of a blend of analytic engineers, analysts, and data scientists based on the domain expertise needed to best serve our clients. Professional services are typically considered distinct from the technology offerings and revenue is generally recognized as the service is provided using the â€œright to invoiceâ€ practical expedient. Contracts with multiple performance obligationsMany of our contracts include multiple performance obligations. We account for performance obligations separately if they are capable of being distinct within the context of the contract. In these circumstances, the transaction price is allocated to separate performance obligations on a relative standalone selling price basis. We determine standalone selling prices based on the observable price a good or service is sold for separately when available. In cases where standalone selling prices are not directly observable, based on information available, we utilize the expected cost plus a margin, adjusted market assessment, or residual estimation method. We consider all information available including our overall pricing objectives, market conditions, and other factors, which may include client demographics and the types of users. Standalone selling prices are not directly observable for our all-access and limited-access technology arrangements, which are composed of cloud-based subscriptions, time-based licenses, and perpetual licenses. For these technology arrangements, we generally use the residual method due to a limited number of standalone transactions and/or prices that are highly variable.Variable considerationWe have also entered into at-risk and shared savings arrangements with certain clients whereby we receive variable consideration based on the achievement of measurable improvements that may include cost savings or performance against metrics. For these arrangements, we estimate revenue using the most likely amount that we will receive. Estimates are based on our historical experience and best judgment at the time to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal of revenue recognized will not occur. Due to the nature of our arrangements, certain estimates may be constrained until the uncertainty is further resolved. Contract balancesContract assets resulting from services performed prior to invoicing clients are recorded as unbilled accounts receivable and are presented on our condensed consolidated balance sheets in aggregate with accounts receivable. Unbilled accounts receivable generally become billable at contractually specified dates or upon the attainment of contractually defined milestones. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the unbilled accounts receivable included in accounts receivable on our condensed consolidated balance sheets was $6.5 million and $4.7 million, respectively. We record contract liabilities as deferred revenue when cash payments are received or due in advance of performance. Deferred revenue primarily relates to the advance consideration received from the client. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the total of current and non-current deferred revenue on our condensed consolidated balance sheets was $56.4 million and $55.8 million, respectively.Deferred costsWe capitalize sales commissions and associated fringe costs, such as benefits and payroll taxes, paid to direct sales personnel and other incremental costs of obtaining contracts with clients, provided we expect to recover those costs. We determine that costs should be deferred based on our sales compensation plans when the commissions are incremental and would not have occurred absent the client contract. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, $2.2Â million and $2.2 million, respectively, of deferred contract acquisition costs are expected to be amortized within the next 12 months and are included in prepaid expenses and other assets on the condensed consolidated balance sheets. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the remaining $2.9Â million and $3.3 million, respectively, of deferred contract acquisition costs are included in non-current other assets.Commissions paid upon the initial acquisition of a contract are amortized on a straight-line basis over an estimated period of benefit of four years. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis commensurate with the pattern of revenue recognition. The period of benefit was estimated by considering factors such as estimated average client life, the rate of technological change in our subscription service, and the impact of competition in our industry. As our average client life significantly exceeded the rate of change in our technology, we concluded that the rate of change in the technology underlying our subscription service was the most significant factor in determining the period of benefit for which the asset relates. In evaluating the rate of change in our technology, we considered the competition in our industry, our commitment to continuous innovation, and the frequency of product, platform, and technology updates. We determined that the impact of competition in our industry is reflected in the period of benefit through the rate of technological change. Amortization of deferred contract acquisition costs was $0.6Â million and $0.5Â million for the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $1.3Â million and $1.0 for the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is included within sales and marketing expense in the condensed consolidated statements of operations.We defer certain costs to fulfill a contract when the costs are expected to be recovered, are directly related to in-process contracts, and enhance resources that will be used in satisfying performance obligations in the future. These deferred fulfillment costs primarily consist of employee compensation incurred as part of the implementation of new contracts. Amortization of deferred fulfillment costs is included within cost of revenue in the condensed consolidated statements of operations. We periodically review these deferred costs to determine whether events or changes in circumstances have occurred that could impact the period of benefit. There were no impairment losses recorded during the periods presented.Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortizationCost of technology revenue primarily consists of costs associated with hosting and supporting our technology, including third-party cloud computing and hosting costs, license and revenue share fees, contractor costs, and salary and related personnel costs for our cloud services and support teams. Cost of professional services revenue primarily consists of salary and related personnel costs, travel-related costs, and independent contractor costs. Cost of revenue in the interim condensed consolidated statements of operations excludes costs related to depreciation and amortization.Cash and cash equivalentsWe consider all highly liquid investments purchased with a remaining maturity of three months or less at the time of acquisition to be cash equivalents.Short-term investmentsOur investment policy limits investments to highly-rated instruments. We classify and account for our short-term investments as available for sale securities as we may sell these securities at any time for use in our current operations or for other purposes, even prior to maturity. As a result, we classify our short-term investments, including securities with contractual maturities beyond twelve months, within current assets in the condensed consolidated balance sheets. Accounts receivableAccounts receivable are non-interest bearing and are recorded at the original invoiced amount less an allowance for credit losses based on the probability of future collections. Our allowance is based on our estimate of expected credit losses for outstanding trade accounts receivables and unbilled receivables. We determine expected credit losses based on historical write-off experience, an analysis of the aging of outstanding receivables, client payment patterns, the establishment of specific reserves for clients in an adverse financial condition, and our expectations of changes in macroeconomic conditions, including high interest rates and high inflation, that may impact the collectability of outstanding receivables. We reassess the adequacy of the allowance for credit losses each reporting period. The following table presents a rollforward of the allowance for credit losses (in thousands):Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,2024202320242023(unaudited)(unaudited)Allowance for credit losses at the beginning of period$6,500Â $3,800Â $4,105Â $2,300Â Provision for expected credit losses1,033Â 13Â 3,438Â 1,527Â Less: Write-offs, net of recoveries(933)(13)(943)(27)Allowance for credit losses at the end of period$6,600Â $3,800Â $6,600Â $3,800Â LeasesWe determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception. Operating leases are included in operating lease right-of-use (ROU) assets and operating lease liabilities in our condensed consolidated balance sheets. We have adopted the short-term lease recognition exemption policy. All of our leasing commitments are classified either as operating leases or otherwise qualify as short-term leases with lease terms of 12 months or less.ROU assets represent our right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent our obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease ROU assets and liabilities are recognized at the commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. As our lease contracts do not have a readily determinable implicit rate, we use our incremental borrowing rate based on the information available at the commencement date to determine the present value of lease payments. The incremental borrowing rate is the estimated rate incurred to borrow on a collateralized basis over a similar term and amount equal to the lease payments in a similar economic environment.The operating lease ROU asset also includes any lease payments made and excludes lease executory costs. Our lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that we will exercise the applicable option. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Variable costs related to our leased office space, such as maintenance and utilities based on actual usage, are not included in the measurement of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, but are expensed as incurred.Property and equipmentProperty and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs that do not extend the useful life or improve the related assets are expensed as incurred. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The estimated useful life of each asset category is as follows:Computer equipment2-3 yearsFurniture and fixtures3-5 yearsLeasehold improvementsLesser of lease term or estimated useful lifeComputer software2-5 yearsCapitalized internal-use software costs2-5 yearsWhen there are indicators of potential impairment, we evaluate the recoverability of the carrying values by comparing the carrying amount of the applicable asset group to the estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset group over the remaining useful life of the primary asset, plus any terminal value, in the asset group. If the carrying amount of the asset group exceeds those estimated future net cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized based on the amount by which the carrying value of the long-lived assets exceeds the fair value of the assets.Intangible assetsIntangible assets include developed technologies, client relationships, client contracts, and trademarks that were acquired in business combinations and asset acquisitions. Intangible assets also include the purchase of third-party computer software. The intangible assets are amortized using the straight-line method over the assetsâ€™ estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life of each asset category is as follows:Developed technologies3-10 yearsClient relationships and contract backlog2-7 yearsComputer software licenses1-5 yearsTrademarks1-5 yearsGoodwillWe record goodwill as the difference between the aggregate consideration paid for a business combination and the fair value of the identifiable net tangible and intangible assets acquired. Goodwill includes the know-how of the assembled workforce, the ability of the workforce to further improve technology and product offerings, client relationships, and the expected cash flows resulting from these efforts. Goodwill may also include expected synergies resulting from the complementary strategic fit these businesses bring to existing operations. Goodwill is assessed for impairment annually on October 31 or more frequently if indicators of impairment are present or circumstances suggest that impairment may exist. Our first step in the goodwill impairment test is a qualitative analysis of factors that could be indicators of potential impairment. Judgment in the assessment of qualitative factors of impairment may include changes in business climate, market conditions, or other events impacting the reporting unit. Next, if a quantitative analysis is necessary, we compare the fair value of the reporting unit with its carrying amount, including goodwill. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds its carrying amount, the goodwill of the reporting unit is not considered impaired. Performing a quantitative goodwill impairment test includes the determination of the fair value of a reporting unit, which requires management to use significant judgment and estimation. The significant estimation is primarily due to the judgmental nature of the inputs to the valuation models used to measure the fair value of the reporting units, as well as the sensitivity of the respective fair values to the underlying significant assumptions. Typical methods to derive the fair value of reporting units include using the income or market approaches. The significant assumptions used to form the basis of the estimates include, among others, the selection of valuation methodologies, estimates of expected revenue, including revenue growth rates, and operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rates, and the selection of appropriate market comparable companies. Many of these significant assumptions are forward-looking and could be affected by future economic and market conditions. If a quantitative analysis is necessary, we typically engage the assistance of a valuation specialist in concluding on fair value measurements in connection with determining the fair values of our reporting units. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we would recognize an impairment charge for the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the reporting unitâ€™s fair value. There was no impairment of goodwill for the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023.Â Business combinationsThe results of businesses acquired in a business combination are included in our condensed consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition. Purchase accounting results in assets and liabilities of an acquired business generally being recorded at their estimated fair value on the acquisition date. Any excess consideration transferred over the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed is recognized as goodwill.We perform valuations of assets acquired and liabilities assumed on each acquisition accounted for as a business combination in order to record the tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on our best estimate of fair value. Determining the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed requires management to use significant judgment and estimates including the selection of valuation methodologies, estimates of future revenue and cash flows, discount rates, and selection of comparable companies. Significant estimation is required in determining the fair value of the client-related intangible assets and technology-related intangible assets. The significant estimation is primarily due to the judgmental nature of the inputs to the valuation models used to measure the fair value of these intangible assets, as well as the sensitivity of the respective fair values to the underlying significant assumptions. We typically use the income approach or cost approach to measure the fair value of intangible assets. The significant assumptions used to form the basis of the estimates included the number of engineer hours required to develop technology, expected revenue including revenue growth rates, rate and timing of obsolescence, royalty rates and earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) margin used in the estimate for client relationships, and backlog. Many of these significant assumptions were forward-looking and could be affected by future economic and market conditions. We engage the assistance of valuation specialists in concluding on fair value measurements in connection with determining fair values of material assets acquired and liabilities assumed in a business combination. For the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024, we expensed $2.1 million and $2.5Â million, respectively, of transaction costs associated with business combinations. There were no transaction costs associated with business combinations during the six months ended June 30, 2023. The costs were expensed as incurred and are included in general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations.Contingent consideration liabilitiesOur acquisition consideration in business combinations may include an estimate for contingent consideration that will be paid if certain earn-out performance targets are met. The resulting contingent consideration liabilities are categorized as a Level 3 fair value measurement because we estimate projections during the earn-out period utilizing unobservable inputs, including various potential pay-out scenarios based on billings and revenue-related earn-out targets. Changes to the unobservable inputs could have a material impact on our condensed consolidated financial statements.We generally value the expected contingent consideration and the corresponding liabilities using the Monte Carlo method or Black-Scholes model based on estimates of potential payment scenarios. Probabilities are applied to each potential scenario and the resulting values are discounted using a rate that considers weighted average cost of capital as well as a specific risk premium associated with the riskiness of the earn-out itself, the related projections, projected payment dates, and volatility in the fair value of our common stock. The fair value of the contingent consideration is remeasured each reporting period.The portion of the contingent consideration liabilities that will be settled in shares of our common stock is classified as a component of non-current liabilities in our condensed consolidated balance sheets, while the portion to be paid in cash is classified as a component of current liabilities. Changes to the contingent consideration liabilities are reflected as part of general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations.Advertising costsAll advertising costs are expensed as incurred. For theÂ three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024Â andÂ 2023, we incurredÂ $0.3 millionÂ andÂ $1.0 million of advertising costs, respectively, and $3.7 million and $1.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Development costs and internal-use softwareFor technology products that are developed to be sold externally, we determined that technological feasibility is reached shortly before the products are ready for general release. Any costs associated with software development between the time technological feasibility is reached and general release are inconsequential. We capitalize certain development costs incurred in connection with our internal-use software. These capitalized costs are primarily related to the software platforms that are hosted by us and accessed by our clients on a subscription basis. Costs incurred in the preliminary stages of development are expensed as incurred as research and development costs. Once an application has reached the development stage, internal and external costs, if direct and incremental, are capitalized until the software is substantially complete and ready for its intended use. We also capitalize costs related to specific upgrades and enhancements when it is probable the expenditures will result in additional functionality. Capitalized costs are recorded as part of property and equipment. Maintenance and training costs are expensed as incurred. Internal-use software is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life with amortization included in depreciation and amortization expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. Stock-based compensationStock-based awards, including stock options, restricted stock units, performance-based restricted stock units, and restricted shares are measured and recognized in our condensed consolidated financial statements based on the fair value of the award on the grant date or, when applicable, the modification date. The grant date fair value of our stock-based awards is typically determined using the market closing price of our common stock on the date of grant; however, we also consider whether any adjustments are required when the market closing price does not reflect certain material non-public information that we know but is unavailable to marketplace participants on the date of grant. We record forfeitures of stock-based awards as the actual forfeitures occur. For awards subject to performance conditions, we record expense when the performance condition becomes probable. Each reporting period we evaluate the probability of achieving the performance criteria, estimate the number of shares that are expected to vest, and adjust the related compensation expense accordingly. For awards subject to market conditions, we estimate the fair value as of the grant date using a Monte Carlo simulation valuation model which requires the use of various assumptions, including historic stock price volatility and risk-free interest rates as of the valuation date corresponding to the length of time remaining in the performance period. Stock-based compensation expense for awards with market conditions is recognized over the requisite service period using the accelerated attribution method and is not reversed if the market condition is not met.Stock-based compensation expense related to purchase rights issued under the 2019 Health Catalyst Employee Stock Purchase Plan (ESPP) is based on the Black-Scholes option-pricing model fair value of the estimated number of awards as of the beginning of the offering period. Stock-based compensation expense is recognized using the straight-line method over the offering period.The measurement date for non-employee awards is the date of grant. The compensation expense for non-employees is recognized, without changes in the fair value of the award, in the same period and in the same manner as though we had paid cash for the services, which is typically the vesting period of the respective award.Restructuring costsWe define restructuring costs as expenses directly associated with restructuring activities. Such costs include severance and related tax and benefit expenses from workforce reductions, impairment of discontinued capitalized software projects, and other miscellaneous charges. We record team member-related severance costs when there is a substantive plan in place and the related costs are probable and estimable. For one-time termination benefits for team members (i.e., no substantive plan or future service requirement), the cost is recorded when the terms of the one-time termination benefits are communicated to the impacted team members and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Income taxesDeferred income tax balances are accounted for using the asset and liability method and reflect the effects of temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of our assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates expected to apply when taxes are actually paid or recovered. In addition, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded for net operating loss (NOL) and tax credit carryforwards. A valuation allowance is provided against deferred tax assets unless it is more likely than not that they will be realized based on all available positive and negative evidence. Such evidence includes, but is not limited to, recent cumulative earnings or losses, expectations of future taxable income by taxing jurisdiction, and the carry-forward periods available for the utilization of deferred tax assets.We use a two-step approach to recognize and measure uncertain income tax positions. The first step is to evaluate the tax position for recognition by determining if the weight of available evidence indicates it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon audit. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount, which is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. We do not currently accrue interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits within the provision for income taxes because the impact would be immaterial due to our net operating losses and tax credit carryforwards. Significant judgment is required to evaluate uncertain tax positions.Although we believe that we have adequately reserved for our uncertain tax positions, we can provide no assurance that the final tax outcome of these matters will not be materially different. We evaluate our uncertain tax positions on a regular basis and evaluations are based on a number of factors, including changes in facts and circumstances, changes in tax law, correspondence with tax authorities during the course of an audit, and effective settlement of audit issues. To the extent that the final tax outcome of these matters is different than the amounts recorded, such differences will affect the provision for income taxes in the period in which such determination is made and could have a material impact on our financial condition and results of operations.Fair value of financial instrumentsThe carrying amounts reported in our condensed consolidated balance sheets for cash, receivables, accounts payable, and current accrued expenses approximate fair values because of the immediate or short-term maturity of these financial instruments. The carrying value of operating lease liabilities and convertible senior notes approximate fair value based on interest rates available for debt with similar terms at JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023. Money market funds and short-term investments are measured at fair value on a recurring basis. Fair value is estimated by applying the following hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value into three levels and bases the categorization within the hierarchy upon the lowest level of input that is available and significant to the fair value measurement:â€¢LevelÂ 1- Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.â€¢LevelÂ 2- Observable inputs other than quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.â€¢LevelÂ 3- Inputs that are generally unobservable and typically reflect managementâ€™s estimate of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.All of our financial instruments are valued using quoted prices in active markets or based on other observable inputs. For Level 2 securities, we use a third-party pricing service which provides documentation on an ongoing basis that includes, among other things, pricing information with respect to reference data, methodology, inputs summarized by asset class, pricing application, and corroborative information. Our contingent consideration liabilities are categorized as a Level 3 fair value measurement because we estimate projections during the earn out period utilizing various potential pay-out scenarios.Foreign currencyThe functional currency of our international subsidiaries is generally their local currency. We translate these subsidiariesâ€™ financial statements into U.S. dollars using month-end exchange rates for assets and liabilities and average exchange rates for revenue and expenses. We record translation gains and losses in accumulated other comprehensive loss in stockholdersâ€™ equity. We record foreign exchange gains and losses in interest and other expense, net. Our net foreign exchange gains and losses were not material for the periods presented.Recent accounting pronouncements not yet adoptedIn November 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued ASU No. 2023-07, Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures (Topic 280). This ASU updates reportable segment disclosure requirements by requiring disclosures of significant reportable segment expenses that are regularly provided to the CODM and included within each reported measure of a segmentâ€™s profit or loss. This ASU also requires disclosure of the title and position of the individual identified as the CODM and an explanation of how the CODM uses the reported measures of a segmentâ€™s profit or loss in assessing segment performance and deciding how to allocate resources. The ASU is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Adoption of the ASU should be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the provisions of this ASU and expect to adopt them for the year ending December 31, 2024.In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures (Topic 740). The ASU requires disaggregated information about a reporting entityâ€™s effective tax rate reconciliation as well as additional information on income taxes paid. The ASU is effective on a prospective basis for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. This ASU will result in the required additional disclosures being included in our consolidated financial statements, once adopted. We are currently evaluating the provisions of this ASU and expect to adopt them for the year ending December 31, 2025. (Carevive), a leading oncology-focused health technology company centered on understanding and improving the experience of patients with cancer. We accounted for the acquisition of Carevive as a business combination. Oncology providers and life science researchers use Careviveâ€™s flagship platform and/or Carevive data in routine clinical practice for treatment care planning, clinical trial screening, care coordination, remote patient monitoring, and/or post-treatment care. The acquisition consideration transferred was $22.1 million and was comprised of estimated net cash consideration of $18.6 million, Health Catalyst common shares with a fair value of $2.6 million, and contingent consideration based on certain earn-out performance targets for Carevive during an earn-out period ending on June 30, 2025, with an initial fair value of $0.9 million. The purchase resulted in Health Catalyst acquiring 100% ownership in Carevive. The following table summarizes the preliminary acquisition-date fair value of consideration transferred and the identifiable assets purchased and liabilities assumed as part of our acquisition of Carevive (in thousands):Assets acquired:Accounts receivable$96Â Prepaid expenses and other assets64Â Client relationships2,700Â Developed technology4,800Â Trademarks300Â Total assets acquired7,960Â Less liabilities assumed:Accrued and other current liabilities1,389Â Deferred revenue76Â Total liabilities assumed1,465Â Total assets acquired, net6,495Â Goodwill15,643Â Total consideration transferred, net of cash acquired$22,138Â The acquired intangible assets were valued utilizing either an income approach or a cost approach as deemed most applicable, and include client relationships, developed technology, and trademarks that will be amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of seven years, four years, and three years, respectively. The resulting goodwill from the Carevive acquisition was fully allocated to the technology reporting unit and is not deductible for income tax purposes. The preliminary allocation of the consideration transferred is subject to potential adjustments. Balances subject to adjustment are primarily tax-related matters, including the tax basis of assets acquired and liabilities assumed. During the measurement period, we may record adjustments to the provisional amounts recognized in our initial accounting for the acquisition. We expect the allocation of the consideration transferred to be final within the measurement period (up to one year from the acquisition date). There were no measurement period adjustments recorded during the three months ended June 30, 2024. Pro forma financial information has not been presented for the Carevive acquisition as the impact to our consolidated financial statements was not material. The amount of revenue attributable to the acquired business of Carevive was not material to our consolidated statement of operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024. Income (loss) information for Carevive after the acquisition date through JuneÂ 30, 2024 is not presented as the Carevive business was integrated into our operations immediately following the acquisition and is impracticable to quantify.In addition to the purchase price, we agreed to make cash retention payments in an aggregate amount of up to $1.8 million to continuing Carevive team members, a portion of which is variable based upon the achievement of earn-out performance targets. The retention payments are generally subject to vesting based upon continued employment over a required service period. Such amounts are recorded as post-combination compensation expense and recognized on a straight-line basis over the relevant vesting terms. During the three months ended June 30, 2024, we recognized compensation expense of $0.8 million related to these retention payments.2023 Acquisition of Electronic Registry Systems, Inc.On OctoberÂ 2, 2023, we acquired Electronic Registry Systems, Inc. (ERS), a cloud-based provider of clinical registry development and data management software based in Cincinnati, Ohio. We accounted for the acquisition of ERS as a business combination. ERS provides cancer registry compliance and informatics services to enable customers to achieve their cancer center clinical and business objectives with a goal of improving cancer care for every patient, including through its CRStar platform. The acquisition consideration transferred comprised of net cash consideration of $11.4 million. The purchase resulted in Health Catalyst acquiring 100% ownership in ERS.An additional 175,901 shares of our common stock subject to a restriction agreement (restricted shares) were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement. The vesting of these restricted shares was originally subject to eighteen months of continued employment with cliff vesting upon the eighteen-month anniversary of the acquisition close date. The value of these restricted shares was originally scheduled to be recognized as post-combination stock-based compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the vesting term, but due to workforce reductions made as part of the 2023 Restructuring Plan (as defined below), the ERS restricted shares fully vested in February 2024, resulting in an acceleration of the related stock-based compensation expense. Refer to Note 13-Stock-Based Compensation for additional details related to our stock-based compensation.The following table summarizes the preliminary acquisition-date fair value of consideration transferred and the identifiable assets purchased and liabilities assumed as part of our acquisition of ERS (in thousands):Assets acquired:Accounts receivable$478Â Prepaid expenses and other assets73Â Client relationships5,300Â Developed technology3,100Â Trademarks100Â Total assets acquired9,051Â Less liabilities assumed:Accrued and other current liabilities78Â Deferred revenue2,251Â Total liabilities assumed2,329Â Total assets acquired, net6,722Â Goodwill4,670Â Total consideration transferred, net of cash acquired$11,392Â The acquired intangible assets were valued utilizing either an income approach or a cost approach as deemed most applicable, and include client relationships, developed technology, and trademarks that will be amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of seven years, four years, and two years, respectively. The preliminary allocation of the consideration transferred is subject to potential adjustments. Balances subject to adjustment are primarily tax-related matters, including the tax basis of acquired assets and liabilities. During the measurement period, we may record adjustments to the provisional amounts recognized in our initial accounting for the acquisition. These convertible senior notes are recorded at face value less unamortized debt discount and transaction costs on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. Refer toÂ Note 10â€”Convertible Senior Notes for further information.Nonrecurring fair value measurementsWe recorded impairment charges of $2.2 million and $2.7 million related to the impairment of ROU assets and leasehold improvements associated with office space designated for subleasing during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. These impairment charges were derived from the difference between the carrying value and the fair value of the relevant asset groups. The fair value of these asset groups was estimated using a discounted cash flow analysis of the office space designated for subleasing and included certain unobservable (Level 3) inputs, including the anticipated future sublease terms and rates.Level 3 fair value measurementsThe Carevive acquisition consideration included an initial estimate for contingent consideration based on certain revenue-based earn-out performance targets for Carevive during an earn-out period that ends on June 30, 2025. The Carevive contingent consideration is capped at $10 million and will be paid in cash to the extent achieved. We value Careviveâ€™s expected contingent consideration and the corresponding liability using the Black-Scholes valuation method based on estimates of potential pay-out scenarios. The outstanding contingent consideration liability is categorized as Level 3 fair value measurements and is remeasured as of each reporting period. The aggregate intrinsic value of the revenue-based earn-out contingent consideration liability is zero based on a point estimate of our internal forecasting of the ultimate earn-out that will be earned as of JuneÂ 30, 2024. The terms of the leases provide for rental payments on a graduated scale, options to renew the leases (one to five years), landlord incentives or allowances, and periods of free rent. We subleased portions of our corporate headquarters to various sublessees with subleases commencing at various dates between 2021 and 2024.Components of lease expense (income) are summarized as follows (in thousands):Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023202420230perating lease expense$666Â $777Â $1,294Â $1,574Â Short-term lease expense31Â 25Â 64Â 41Â Sublease income(339)(189)(654)(627)Total$358Â $613Â $704Â $988Â We also incur immaterial variable costs related to our leased office space, such as maintenance and utilities based on actual usage, which are not included in the measurement of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, but are expensed as incurred.During the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, we identified asset impairment indicators for multiple of our corporate office spaces designated for subleasing. We performed a recoverability test of the relevant asset group, comprised of operating lease ROU and other related assets, and determined that the carrying value of this asset group was not fully recoverable. As a result, we measured and recognized total impairment charges of $2.2 million and $2.7 million during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, representing the amount by which the carrying value exceeded the estimated fair value of this asset group. The impairment charges were recorded as part of general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. During the six months ended June 30, 2024, $1.5 million of the impairment charge was allocated to ROU assets and the remaining $0.7 million was allocated to leasehold improvements, while during the six months ended June 30, 2023, $2.0 million of the impairment charge was allocated to ROU assets and the remaining $0.7 million was allocated to leasehold improvements.During the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024, we subleased parts of the first and fourth floors of our corporate headquarters. We classified these subleases as operating leases. The initial subleases have lease terms of 60 to 90 months. The net proceeds from the issuance of the Notes were approximately $222.5Â million, after deducting the initial purchasersâ€™ discounts and offering expenses payable by us.The Notes are governed by an indenture (the Indenture) between us, as the issuer, and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee. The Notes are our senior, unsecured obligations and accrue interest payable semiannually in arrears on April 15 and October 15 of each year, beginning on October 15, 2020, at a rate of 2.50% per year. The Notes will mature on April 15, 2025, unless earlier converted, redeemed, or repurchased. The Indenture does not contain any financial or operating covenants or restrictions on the payments of dividends, the incurrence of indebtedness, or the issuance or repurchase of securities by us or any of our subsidiaries. On or after April 20, 2023, we may redeem, for cash, all or a portion of the Notes, at our option, if the last reported sale price of our common stock has been at least 130% of the conversion price then in effect for at least 20 trading days (whether or not consecutive), including the trading day immediately preceding the date on which we provide notice of redemption, during any 30 consecutive trading day period ending on, and including, the trading day immediately preceding the date on which we provide notice of redemption at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Notes to be redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. No sinking fund is provided for the Notes.The Notes have an initial conversion rate of 32.6797 shares of our common stock per $1,000 principal amount of Notes (which is equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $30.60 per share of our common stock). Following certain corporate events that occur prior to the maturity date, we will increase the conversion rate for a holder who elects to convert its Notes in connection with such corporate event. Additionally, upon the occurrence of a corporate event that constitutes a â€œfundamental changeâ€ per the Indenture, holders of the Notes may require the Company to repurchase for cash all or a portion of their Notes at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Notes plus accrued and unpaid interest.Holders of the Notes may convert all or any portion of their Notes at any time prior to the close of business on October 14, 2024, in integral multiples of $1,000 principal amount, only under the following circumstances:â€¢During any calendar quarter commencing after the calendar quarter ended on June 30, 2020 (and only during such calendar quarter), if the last reported sale price of our common stock for at least 20 trading days (whether or not consecutive) during a period of 30 consecutive trading days ending on, and including, the last trading day of the immediately preceding calendar quarter is greater than or equal to 130% of the conversion price on each applicable trading day;â€¢During the five business day period after any five consecutive trading day period (the measurement period) in which the trading price as defined in the Indenture per $1,000 principal amount of Notes for each trading day of the measurement period was less than 98% of the product of the last reported sale price of our common stock and the conversion rate on each such trading day; â€¢If we call such notes for redemption, at any time prior to the close of business on the scheduled trading day immediately preceding the redemption date; orâ€¢Upon the occurrence of specified corporate events described in the Indenture.On or after October 15, 2024, until the close of business on the second scheduled trading day immediately preceding the maturity date, holders may convert all or any portion of their Notes at the conversion rate at any time irrespective of the foregoing circumstances. Upon conversion, holders will receive cash, shares of our common stock or a combination of cash and shares of common stock, at our election.As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, the conditions allowing holders of the Notes to convert were not met. The Notes are therefore not currently convertible. However, due to the April 2025 maturity date now being within twelve months, the Notes are classified as a current liability on our condensed consolidated balance sheet. In addition, in connection with the initial purchasersâ€™ exercise in full of their option to purchase additional Notes, on April 9, 2020, we entered into additional capped call transactions (together with the Base Capped Calls, the Capped Calls) with each of the option counterparties. We used approximately $21.7 million of the net proceeds from the Note Offering to pay the cost of the Capped Calls and allocated issuance costs. The Capped Calls have initial cap prices of $42.00 per share, subject to certain adjustments. The Capped Calls are expected generally to reduce the potential dilution to our common stock upon any conversion of Notes and/or offset any cash payments we are required to make in excess of the principal amount of converted Notes, as the case may be, with such reduction and/or offset subject to the cap price. The Capped Calls are separate transactions that we entered into with the option counterparties, and are not part of the terms of the Notes. As the Capped Call transactions are considered indexed to our own stock and are considered equity classified, they were recorded in stockholdersâ€™ equity and are not accounted for as derivatives. The cost incurred in connection with the Capped Calls was recorded as a reduction to additional paid-in capital on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. In connection with our initial public offering (IPO), our board of directors adopted the 2019 Stock Option and Incentive Plan (2019 Plan). The 2019 Plan provides flexibility to our compensation committee to use various equity-based incentive awards as compensation tools to motivate our workforce, including the grant of incentive and non-statutory stock options, restricted and unrestricted stock, RSUs, and stock appreciation rights to our directors, team members, or consultants.We initially reserved 2,756,607 shares of our common stock (2,500,000 under the 2019 Plan and 256,607 shares under the 2011 Plan) that were available immediately prior to the IPO registration date. The 2019 Plan provides that the number of shares reserved available for issuance under the plan will automatically increase each January 1, beginning on January 1, 2020, by 5% of the outstanding number of shares of our common stock on the immediately preceding December 31, or such lesser number of shares as determined by our compensation committee. The following table sets forth the outstanding RSUs and related activity for theÂ six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024:Restricted Stock UnitsWeighted Average Grant Date Fair Value(unaudited)Unvested and outstanding at JanuaryÂ 1, 20243,111,584Â $19.16Â RSUs granted2,072,313Â 8.56Â RSUs vested(829,093)22.30Â RSUs forfeited(265,612)16.59Â Unvested and outstanding at JuneÂ 30, 20244,089,192Â $13.32Â During the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, we granted RSUs with a weighted-average grant date fair value of $8.56 and $11.84, respectively, which represents the weighted-average closing price of our common stock on the grant date. The total grant date fair value of RSUs vested during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023 was $18.5 million and $23.8 million, respectively. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, we had $48.5 million of unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to outstanding RSUs expected to be recognized over a weighted-average period of 2.2 years.Performance-based restricted stock units (PRSUs)2024 Executive PRSUsDuring the six months ended June 30, 2024, certain named executive officers and other leadership team members were granted executive PRSUs with a three-year measurement period that include service conditions, performance conditions, and market conditions. The vesting of these PRSUs will be determined based on market-based targets for total shareholder return (TSR) achievement (weighted 25%) and financial performance targets for revenue growth rate achievement (weighted 25%) and Adjusted EBITDA margin achievement (weighted 50%). These PRSUs may vest in an amount up to the amount granted, subject to satisfaction of the pre-established targets. The number of PRSUs that will vest for the 2024, 2025, and 2026 vesting periods will be calculated as follows: (i) the market/performance achievement for the applicable vesting period, multiplied by (ii) approximately 33.33% of the PRSUs for each of the 2024, 2025, and 2026 vesting periods, each rounded to the nearest whole share.2023 Executive PRSUsDuring the six months ended June 30, 2024, certain named executive officers and other leadership team members were granted executive PRSUs with a three-year measurement period that include service conditions, performance conditions, and market conditions. The vesting of these PRSUs will be determined based on market-based targets for total shareholder return (TSR) achievement and financial performance targets for revenue growth rate achievement and Adjusted EBITDA margin achievement. Each of the three market and performance targets are weighted equally and these PRSUs may vest in an amount up to the amount granted, subject to satisfaction of the pre-established targets. The number of PRSUs that will vest in 2023, 2024, and 2025 will be calculated as follows: (i) the market/performance achievement for the applicable vesting period, multiplied by (ii) approximately 33.33% of the PRSUs for each of the 2023, 2024, and 2025 vesting periods, each rounded to the nearest whole share.The fair value of the market-based tranches included in the executive PRSUs were estimated on the date of grants using the Monte Carlo simulation valuation model with the following assumptions for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023:Six Months EndedJune 30, 2024Six Months EndedJune 30, 2023(unaudited)Expected volatility65.5%61.7%Expected term (in years)1-31-3Risk-free interest rate4.33% - 4.91%4.38% - 5.01%Expected dividendsâ€”â€”The following table sets forth the outstanding PRSUs, including executive PRSUs with market-based tranches, and related activity for theÂ six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024:Performance-based Restricted Stock UnitsWeighted Average Grant Date Fair Value(unaudited)Unvested and outstanding at JanuaryÂ 1, 2024188,533Â $12.99Â PRSUs granted445,000Â 9.45Â PRSUs vested(42,369)13.40Â PRSUs forfeited(65,487)12.77Â Unvested and outstanding at JuneÂ 30, 2024525,677Â $9.99Â During the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, we granted PRSUs with a weighted-average grant date fair value of $9.45 and $12.62, respectively, which represents the weighted-average closing price of our common stock on the grant date for performance-based tranches and the estimated grant date fair value using a Monte Carlo simulation valuation model for market-based tranches. The total grant date fair value of PRSUs vested during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023 was $0.6 million and $4.8 million, respectively. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, we had $3.4 million of unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to outstanding PRSUs expected to be recognized over a remaining weighted-average period of 1.7 years.Employee stock purchase planIn connection with our IPO in July 2019, our board of directors adopted the ESPP and a total of 750,000 shares of common stock were initially reserved for issuance under the ESPP. The number of shares of common stock available for issuance under the ESPP will be increased on the first day of each calendar year beginning January 1, 2020 and each year thereafter until the ESPP terminates. The number of shares of common stock reserved and available for issuance under the ESPP shall be cumulatively increased by the least of (i) 750,000 shares, (ii) one percent of the number of shares of common stock issued and outstanding on the immediately preceding December 31, and (iii) such lesser number of shares of common stock as determined by the ESPP Administrator. As of JanuaryÂ 1, 2024, the number of shares of common stock available for issuance under the ESPP increased by 585,308 shares. The ESPP generally provides for six-month offering periods. The offering periods generally start on the first trading day after June 30 and December 31 of each year. The ESPP permits participants to elect to purchase shares of common stock through fixed percentage contributions from eligible compensation during each offering period, not to exceed 15% of the eligible compensation a participant receives during an offering period or accrue at a rate which exceeds $25,000 of the fair value of the stock (determined on the option grant date(s)) for each calendar year. A participant may purchase the lowest of (i) a number of shares of common stock determined by dividing such participantâ€™s accumulated payroll deductions on the exercise date by the option price, (ii) 2,500 shares, or (iii) such other lesser maximum number of shares as shall have been established by the ESPP Administrator in advance of the offering period. Amounts deducted and accumulated by the participant will be used to purchase shares of common stock at the end of each offering period. The purchase price of the shares will be 85% of the lower of the fair value of common stock on the first trading day of each offering period or on the purchase date. Participants may end their participation at any time during an offering period and will be paid their accumulated contributions that have not been used to purchase shares of common stock. Participation ends automatically upon termination of employment.The fair value of the purchase right for the ESPP option component is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes model with the following assumptions for the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023:Six Months Ended June 30,20242023(unaudited)Expected volatility55.5%99.4%Expected term (in months)66Risk-free interest rate5.24%4.77%Expected dividendsâ€”â€”During the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024, we issued 263,482 shares under the ESPP, with a weighted-average purchase price of $5.43. Total cash proceeds from the purchase of shares under the ESPP during the six months ended June 30, 2024 were $1.4 million. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, 1,791,984 shares were available for future issuance under the ESPP.Restricted shares issued in connection with business combinationsAs part of the KPI Ninja acquisition that closed on February 24, 2022, 356,919 shares of our common stock were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement and are considered a stock-based compensation arrangement subject to a restriction agreement. The vesting of those shares was subject to continuous service with 25% vesting upon each six-month anniversary of the acquisition close date, with the final vesting date as of February 24, 2024. As part of the ARMUS acquisition that closed on April 29, 2022, 235,330 shares of our common stock were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement and are considered a stock-based compensation arrangement subject to a restriction agreement. The vesting of those shares was subject to eighteen months of continuous service with cliff vesting upon the eighteen-month anniversary of the acquisition close date, or October 29, 2023. As part of the ERS acquisition that closed on October 2, 2023, 175,901 shares of our common stock were issued pursuant to the terms of the acquisition agreement and are considered a stock-based compensation arrangement subject to a restriction agreement. The vesting of those shares was originally subject to eighteen months of continuous service with cliff vesting upon the eighteen-month anniversary of the acquisition close date. However, due to workforce reductions made as part of the 2023 Restructuring Plan, the ERS restricted shares were fully vested in February 2024, resulting in an acceleration of the related stock-based compensation expense.As of JuneÂ 30, 2024, all of our previously issued shares of restricted stock are fully vested and there is no longer any related unrecognized compensation expense. Each quarter, we update our estimate of the annual effective tax rate, and if the estimated annual effective tax rate changes, we make a cumulative adjustment in such period. The quarterly tax provision and the estimate of our annual effective tax rate are subject to variation due to several factors, including variability in our loss before income taxes, the mix of jurisdictions to which such income or loss relates, changes in how we conduct business, and tax law developments. For the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, our estimated effective tax rate was (0.5)% and (0.2)%, respectively. The variations between our estimated effective tax rate and the U.S. statutory rate areÂ primarily due to our full valuation allowance. We consider all available evidence to evaluate the recovery of deferred tax assets, including historical levels of income, legislative developments, and risks associated with estimates of future taxable income. We have provided a full valuation allowance for our net deferred tax assets as of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, due to the uncertainty surrounding the future realization of such assets and the cumulative losses we have generated.We recognize tax benefits from uncertain tax positions when it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the position will be sustained upon examination. We believe that we have provided adequate reserves for income tax uncertainties in all open tax years. We do not anticipate material changes in the total amount of our unrecognized tax benefits within 12 months of the reporting date. In the opinion of management, such routine claims and lawsuits are not significant, and we do not expect them to have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity, except as noted below. We were party to the proceedings set forth below.On December 21, 2020, Pascal Metrics, Inc. (Pascal Metrics) filed a complaint against the Company in the Delaware Chancery Court (as amended, Complaint) alleging that the Company misappropriated alleged trade secrets of Pascal Metrics and seeking monetary damages. The Complaint focused upon Patient Safety Monitor. On June 15, 2023, we entered into a settlement and mutual release agreement (Settlement Agreement) with Pascal Metrics and agreed to pay $18.8Â million without admission of any wrongdoing, resolving the litigation amongst the parties. The Settlement Agreement provided us with a broad intellectual property license of the alleged trade secrets that were the subject matter of the Complaint. The Complaint was dismissed with prejudice on June 20, 2023 and the settlement amount was paid on June 27, 2023. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2023 we recorded $9.6 million and $21.3 million, respectively, of litigation charges related to the Complaint that were recorded as part of general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. There were no similar litigation charges recorded during the three and six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024. Borrowings under the credit agreement are expected to bear interest at a rate per annum equal to the secured overnight financing rate plus 6.5%. Commencing with the quarter ending on December 31, 2024, we are required to make quarterly principal payments in an amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate original principal amount, and the final maturity date of the term loans is July 16, 2029.The net proceeds from the initial term loan will be used, together with cash on hand, (i) to repurchase, repay, and/or pay amounts of cash due upon conversion of any or all of the Notes at any time on or prior to the maturity of the Notes and (ii) for working capital and general corporate purposes. The proceeds from the delayed draw term loan facility, if any, will be used to fund our inorganic growth strategy through permitted acquisitions (including deferred purchase price or similar arrangements related thereto) and to pay fees, costs, and expenses in connection therewith.We are required prepay the term loans upon the occurrence of certain events, and we may voluntarily prepay the term loans, in whole or in part, at any time, subject to certain notice requirements and prepayment amounts. Prior to July 16, 2028, such mandatory prepayments or voluntary prepayments are subject to a prepayment premium ranging from 1.0% to 3.0% plus a make whole amount depending on the year of such prepayment. We are also required to pay a commitment fee on the unutilized commitments under the delayed draw term loan facility ranging from 1.5% to 2.5% per year depending on the year and the unutilized delayed draw term loan. Our obligations under the credit agreement and the other loan documents are required to be guaranteed by all of our present and future domestic and foreign subsidiaries, subject to certain exceptions (Guarantors). All obligations under the credit agreement and the other loan documents are secured by a first priority perfected lien on, and security interest in, substantially all of our and our Guarantorâ€™s present and future assets, subject to certain exceptions.The credit agreement contains various representations and warranties, affirmative covenants, and negative covenants, including covenants that restrict our and our subsidiariesâ€™ ability to take certain actions including, among other things and subject to certain exceptions, the incurrence of debt, the granting of liens, engaging in mergers and other fundamental changes, the making of investments, entering into transactions with affiliates, the payment of dividends and other restricted payments, the prepayment of other indebtedness and the sale of assets. We are also required to comply with a minimum liquidity threshold, a maximum recurring revenue-based leverage ratio, and a maximum EBITDA-based leverage ratio.The credit agreement also includes various events of default, including, among others: non-payment of principal, interest or fees, violation of covenants, inaccuracy of representations or warranties, cross-default to other material indebtedness, bankruptcy and insolvency events, invalidity or impairment of security interests or invalidity of loan documents, certain ERISA events, unsatisfied or unstayed judgments and change of control. Upon the occurrence of an event of default, the administrative agent and the lenders may declare all outstanding obligations immediately due and payable and take such other actions as set forth in the credit agreement and the related loan documents, including proceeding against the collateral securing such borrowings.Lumeon Acquisition On August 1, 2024, we acquired Lumeon Ltd. (Lumeon), a digital health company dedicated to helping provider organizations mend broken care coordination processes through automated care orchestration, for preliminary consideration of approximately $37.5Â million in cash and $2.5Â million of our common stock, plus a potential recurring revenue-based earn-out of up to $25Â million that, if achieved, would be paid solely in cash. Given the recent timing of the closing of this business combination, we are in the process of identifying and measuring the value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed. We plan to disclose the preliminary purchase price allocation estimates and other related information in our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ending September 30, 2024. Certain information and note disclosures normally included in annual financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP have been condensed or omitted. Therefore, these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with our audited consolidated financial statements and the related notes thereto as of and for the year ended DecemberÂ 31, 2023 included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K. Principles of consolidation Principles of consolidationThe condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Health Catalyst and its wholly-owned subsidiaries. Intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated. Use of estimates Use of estimatesThe preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. On an on-going basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to revenue recognition, reserves for expected credit losses, useful lives of property and equipment, capitalization and estimated useful life of internal-use software, impairment assessments of goodwill, intangible assets, and other long-lived assets, fair value of financial instruments, deferred tax assets, stock-based compensation, contingent consideration, the period of benefit for deferred contract acquisition costs, the incremental borrowing rate used for operating leases, and tax uncertainties. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates. Segment reporting Segment reportingOperating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is evaluated by the chief operating decision maker (CODM) in assessing performance and making decisions regarding resource allocation. We operate our business in two operating segments that also represent our reportable segments. Our segments are (1) technology and (2) professional services. The CODM uses Adjusted Gross Profit (defined as revenue less cost of revenue that excludes depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation expense, and certain other operating expenses) as the measure of our profit. Net loss per share Net loss per shareBasic net loss per share is calculated by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding. Diluted net loss per share is calculated by giving effect to all potentially dilutive common stock equivalents outstanding for the period, when dilutive. For purposes of this calculation, stock options, restricted stock units (RSUs), performance-based restricted stock units (PRSUs), convertible senior notes, restricted shares, and purchase rights committed under the employee stock purchase plan are considered to be common stock equivalents but have been excluded from the calculation of diluted net loss per share attributable to common stockholders as the effect is anti-dilutive. Revenue recognition Revenue recognitionWe derive our revenue primarily from technology subscriptions and professional services. We determine revenue recognition by applying the following steps: â€¢Identification of the contract, or contracts, with a client;â€¢Identification of the performance obligations in the contract;â€¢Determination of the transaction price;â€¢Allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; andâ€¢Recognition of revenue when, or as, we satisfy the performance obligation.We recognize revenue net of any taxes collected from clients and subsequently remitted to governmental authorities.Technology revenueTechnology revenue primarily consists of subscription fees charged to clients for access to use our technology. We provide clients access to our technology through either an all-access or limited-access, modular subscription. The majority of our subscription arrangements are cloud-based and do not provide clients the right to take possession of the technology or contain a significant penalty if the client were to take possession of the technology. Revenue from cloud-based subscriptions is recognized ratably over the contract term beginning on the date that the service is made available to the client. Our subscription contracts generally have a three- or five-year term, of which many are terminable after one year upon 90 daysâ€™ notice.Subscriptions that allow the client to take software on-premise without significant penalty are treated as time-based licenses. These arrangements generally include access to technology, access to unspecified future products, and maintenance and support. Revenue for upfront access to our technology library is recognized at a point in time when the technology is made available to the client. Revenue for access to unspecified future products included in time-based license subscriptions is recognized ratably over the contract term beginning on the date that the access is made available to the client.Professional services revenueProfessional services revenue primarily includes data and analytics services, domain expertise services, Tech-enabled Managed Services, and implementation services. Professional services arrangements typically include a fee for making full-time equivalent (FTE) services available to our clients on a monthly basis. FTE services generally consist of a blend of analytic engineers, analysts, and data scientists based on the domain expertise needed to best serve our clients. Professional services are typically considered distinct from the technology offerings and revenue is generally recognized as the service is provided using the â€œright to invoiceâ€ practical expedient. Contracts with multiple performance obligationsMany of our contracts include multiple performance obligations. We account for performance obligations separately if they are capable of being distinct within the context of the contract. In these circumstances, the transaction price is allocated to separate performance obligations on a relative standalone selling price basis. We determine standalone selling prices based on the observable price a good or service is sold for separately when available. In cases where standalone selling prices are not directly observable, based on information available, we utilize the expected cost plus a margin, adjusted market assessment, or residual estimation method. We consider all information available including our overall pricing objectives, market conditions, and other factors, which may include client demographics and the types of users. Standalone selling prices are not directly observable for our all-access and limited-access technology arrangements, which are composed of cloud-based subscriptions, time-based licenses, and perpetual licenses. For these technology arrangements, we generally use the residual method due to a limited number of standalone transactions and/or prices that are highly variable.Variable considerationWe have also entered into at-risk and shared savings arrangements with certain clients whereby we receive variable consideration based on the achievement of measurable improvements that may include cost savings or performance against metrics. For these arrangements, we estimate revenue using the most likely amount that we will receive. Estimates are based on our historical experience and best judgment at the time to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal of revenue recognized will not occur. Due to the nature of our arrangements, certain estimates may be constrained until the uncertainty is further resolved. Contract balancesContract assets resulting from services performed prior to invoicing clients are recorded as unbilled accounts receivable and are presented on our condensed consolidated balance sheets in aggregate with accounts receivable. Unbilled accounts receivable generally become billable at contractually specified dates or upon the attainment of contractually defined milestones. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the unbilled accounts receivable included in accounts receivable on our condensed consolidated balance sheets was $6.5 million and $4.7 million, respectively. We record contract liabilities as deferred revenue when cash payments are received or due in advance of performance. Deferred revenue primarily relates to the advance consideration received from the client. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the total of current and non-current deferred revenue on our condensed consolidated balance sheets was $56.4 million and $55.8 million, respectively.Deferred costsWe capitalize sales commissions and associated fringe costs, such as benefits and payroll taxes, paid to direct sales personnel and other incremental costs of obtaining contracts with clients, provided we expect to recover those costs. We determine that costs should be deferred based on our sales compensation plans when the commissions are incremental and would not have occurred absent the client contract. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, $2.2Â million and $2.2 million, respectively, of deferred contract acquisition costs are expected to be amortized within the next 12 months and are included in prepaid expenses and other assets on the condensed consolidated balance sheets. As of JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023, the remaining $2.9Â million and $3.3 million, respectively, of deferred contract acquisition costs are included in non-current other assets.Commissions paid upon the initial acquisition of a contract are amortized on a straight-line basis over an estimated period of benefit of four years. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis commensurate with the pattern of revenue recognition. The period of benefit was estimated by considering factors such as estimated average client life, the rate of technological change in our subscription service, and the impact of competition in our industry. As our average client life significantly exceeded the rate of change in our technology, we concluded that the rate of change in the technology underlying our subscription service was the most significant factor in determining the period of benefit for which the asset relates. In evaluating the rate of change in our technology, we considered the competition in our industry, our commitment to continuous innovation, and the frequency of product, platform, and technology updates. We determined that the impact of competition in our industry is reflected in the period of benefit through the rate of technological change. Amortization of deferred contract acquisition costs was $0.6Â million and $0.5Â million for the three months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and $1.3Â million and $1.0 for the six months ended JuneÂ 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is included within sales and marketing expense in the condensed consolidated statements of operations.We defer certain costs to fulfill a contract when the costs are expected to be recovered, are directly related to in-process contracts, and enhance resources that will be used in satisfying performance obligations in the future. These deferred fulfillment costs primarily consist of employee compensation incurred as part of the implementation of new contracts. Amortization of deferred fulfillment costs is included within cost of revenue in the condensed consolidated statements of operations. We periodically review these deferred costs to determine whether events or changes in circumstances have occurred that could impact the period of benefit. There were no impairment losses recorded during the periods presented.Cost of revenue, excluding depreciation and amortizationCost of technology revenue primarily consists of costs associated with hosting and supporting our technology, including third-party cloud computing and hosting costs, license and revenue share fees, contractor costs, and salary and related personnel costs for our cloud services and support teams. Cost of professional services revenue primarily consists of salary and related personnel costs, travel-related costs, and independent contractor costs. Cost of revenue in the interim condensed consolidated statements of operations excludes costs related to depreciation and amortization. Cash and cash equivalents Cash and cash equivalentsWe consider all highly liquid investments purchased with a remaining maturity of three months or less at the time of acquisition to be cash equivalents. Short-term investments Short-term investmentsOur investment policy limits investments to highly-rated instruments. We classify and account for our short-term investments as available for sale securities as we may sell these securities at any time for use in our current operations or for other purposes, even prior to maturity. As a result, we classify our short-term investments, including securities with contractual maturities beyond twelve months, within current assets in the condensed consolidated balance sheets. Accounts receivable Accounts receivableAccounts receivable are non-interest bearing and are recorded at the original invoiced amount less an allowance for credit losses based on the probability of future collections. Our allowance is based on our estimate of expected credit losses for outstanding trade accounts receivables and unbilled receivables. We determine expected credit losses based on historical write-off experience, an analysis of the aging of outstanding receivables, client payment patterns, the establishment of specific reserves for clients in an adverse financial condition, and our expectations of changes in macroeconomic conditions, including high interest rates and high inflation, that may impact the collectability of outstanding receivables. Leases LeasesWe determine if an arrangement is a lease at inception. Operating leases are included in operating lease right-of-use (ROU) assets and operating lease liabilities in our condensed consolidated balance sheets. We have adopted the short-term lease recognition exemption policy. All of our leasing commitments are classified either as operating leases or otherwise qualify as short-term leases with lease terms of 12 months or less.ROU assets represent our right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent our obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease. Operating lease ROU assets and liabilities are recognized at the commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. As our lease contracts do not have a readily determinable implicit rate, we use our incremental borrowing rate based on the information available at the commencement date to determine the present value of lease payments. The incremental borrowing rate is the estimated rate incurred to borrow on a collateralized basis over a similar term and amount equal to the lease payments in a similar economic environment.The operating lease ROU asset also includes any lease payments made and excludes lease executory costs. Our lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that we will exercise the applicable option. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Variable costs related to our leased office space, such as maintenance and utilities based on actual usage, are not included in the measurement of right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, but are expensed as incurred. Property and equipment Property and equipmentProperty and equipment are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation. Repairs and maintenance costs that do not extend the useful life or improve the related assets are expensed as incurred. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. The estimated useful life of each asset category is as follows:Computer equipment2-3 yearsFurniture and fixtures3-5 yearsLeasehold improvementsLesser of lease term or estimated useful lifeComputer software2-5 yearsCapitalized internal-use software costs2-5 yearsWhen there are indicators of potential impairment, we evaluate the recoverability of the carrying values by comparing the carrying amount of the applicable asset group to the estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset group over the remaining useful life of the primary asset, plus any terminal value, in the asset group. If the carrying amount of the asset group exceeds those estimated future net cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized based on the amount by which the carrying value of the long-lived assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Intangible assets Intangible assetsIntangible assets include developed technologies, client relationships, client contracts, and trademarks that were acquired in business combinations and asset acquisitions. Intangible assets also include the purchase of third-party computer software. The intangible assets are amortized using the straight-line method over the assetsâ€™ estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life of each asset category is as follows:Developed technologies3-10 yearsClient relationships and contract backlog2-7 yearsComputer software licenses1-5 yearsTrademarks1-5 years Goodwill GoodwillWe record goodwill as the difference between the aggregate consideration paid for a business combination and the fair value of the identifiable net tangible and intangible assets acquired. Goodwill includes the know-how of the assembled workforce, the ability of the workforce to further improve technology and product offerings, client relationships, and the expected cash flows resulting from these efforts. Goodwill may also include expected synergies resulting from the complementary strategic fit these businesses bring to existing operations. Goodwill is assessed for impairment annually on October 31 or more frequently if indicators of impairment are present or circumstances suggest that impairment may exist. Our first step in the goodwill impairment test is a qualitative analysis of factors that could be indicators of potential impairment. Judgment in the assessment of qualitative factors of impairment may include changes in business climate, market conditions, or other events impacting the reporting unit. Next, if a quantitative analysis is necessary, we compare the fair value of the reporting unit with its carrying amount, including goodwill. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds its carrying amount, the goodwill of the reporting unit is not considered impaired. Performing a quantitative goodwill impairment test includes the determination of the fair value of a reporting unit, which requires management to use significant judgment and estimation. The significant estimation is primarily due to the judgmental nature of the inputs to the valuation models used to measure the fair value of the reporting units, as well as the sensitivity of the respective fair values to the underlying significant assumptions. Typical methods to derive the fair value of reporting units include using the income or market approaches. The significant assumptions used to form the basis of the estimates include, among others, the selection of valuation methodologies, estimates of expected revenue, including revenue growth rates, and operating margins used to calculate projected future cash flows, risk-adjusted discount rates, and the selection of appropriate market comparable companies. Many of these significant assumptions are forward-looking and could be affected by future economic and market conditions. If a quantitative analysis is necessary, we typically engage the assistance of a valuation specialist in concluding on fair value measurements in connection with determining the fair values of our reporting units. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit exceeds its fair value, we would recognize an impairment charge for the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the reporting unitâ€™s fair value. Business combinations/Contingent consideration liabilities Business combinationsThe results of businesses acquired in a business combination are included in our condensed consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition. Purchase accounting results in assets and liabilities of an acquired business generally being recorded at their estimated fair value on the acquisition date. Any excess consideration transferred over the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed is recognized as goodwill.We perform valuations of assets acquired and liabilities assumed on each acquisition accounted for as a business combination in order to record the tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on our best estimate of fair value. Determining the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed requires management to use significant judgment and estimates including the selection of valuation methodologies, estimates of future revenue and cash flows, discount rates, and selection of comparable companies. Significant estimation is required in determining the fair value of the client-related intangible assets and technology-related intangible assets. The significant estimation is primarily due to the judgmental nature of the inputs to the valuation models used to measure the fair value of these intangible assets, as well as the sensitivity of the respective fair values to the underlying significant assumptions. We typically use the income approach or cost approach to measure the fair value of intangible assets. The significant assumptions used to form the basis of the estimates included the number of engineer hours required to develop technology, expected revenue including revenue growth rates, rate and timing of obsolescence, royalty rates and earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA) margin used in the estimate for client relationships, and backlog. Many of these significant assumptions were forward-looking and could be affected by future economic and market conditions. We engage the assistance of valuation specialists in concluding on fair value measurements in connection with determining fair values of material assets acquired and liabilities assumed in a business combination.Contingent consideration liabilitiesOur acquisition consideration in business combinations may include an estimate for contingent consideration that will be paid if certain earn-out performance targets are met. The resulting contingent consideration liabilities are categorized as a Level 3 fair value measurement because we estimate projections during the earn-out period utilizing unobservable inputs, including various potential pay-out scenarios based on billings and revenue-related earn-out targets. Changes to the unobservable inputs could have a material impact on our condensed consolidated financial statements.We generally value the expected contingent consideration and the corresponding liabilities using the Monte Carlo method or Black-Scholes model based on estimates of potential payment scenarios. Probabilities are applied to each potential scenario and the resulting values are discounted using a rate that considers weighted average cost of capital as well as a specific risk premium associated with the riskiness of the earn-out itself, the related projections, projected payment dates, and volatility in the fair value of our common stock. The fair value of the contingent consideration is remeasured each reporting period.The portion of the contingent consideration liabilities that will be settled in shares of our common stock is classified as a component of non-current liabilities in our condensed consolidated balance sheets, while the portion to be paid in cash is classified as a component of current liabilities. Changes to the contingent consideration liabilities are reflected as part of general and administrative expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. Advertising costs Advertising costsAll advertising costs are expensed as incurred. Development costs and internal-use software Development costs and internal-use softwareFor technology products that are developed to be sold externally, we determined that technological feasibility is reached shortly before the products are ready for general release. Any costs associated with software development between the time technological feasibility is reached and general release are inconsequential. We capitalize certain development costs incurred in connection with our internal-use software. These capitalized costs are primarily related to the software platforms that are hosted by us and accessed by our clients on a subscription basis. Costs incurred in the preliminary stages of development are expensed as incurred as research and development costs. Once an application has reached the development stage, internal and external costs, if direct and incremental, are capitalized until the software is substantially complete and ready for its intended use. We also capitalize costs related to specific upgrades and enhancements when it is probable the expenditures will result in additional functionality. Capitalized costs are recorded as part of property and equipment. Maintenance and training costs are expensed as incurred. Internal-use software is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life with amortization included in depreciation and amortization expense in our condensed consolidated statements of operations. Stock-based compensation Stock-based compensationStock-based awards, including stock options, restricted stock units, performance-based restricted stock units, and restricted shares are measured and recognized in our condensed consolidated financial statements based on the fair value of the award on the grant date or, when applicable, the modification date. The grant date fair value of our stock-based awards is typically determined using the market closing price of our common stock on the date of grant; however, we also consider whether any adjustments are required when the market closing price does not reflect certain material non-public information that we know but is unavailable to marketplace participants on the date of grant. We record forfeitures of stock-based awards as the actual forfeitures occur. For awards subject to performance conditions, we record expense when the performance condition becomes probable. Each reporting period we evaluate the probability of achieving the performance criteria, estimate the number of shares that are expected to vest, and adjust the related compensation expense accordingly. For awards subject to market conditions, we estimate the fair value as of the grant date using a Monte Carlo simulation valuation model which requires the use of various assumptions, including historic stock price volatility and risk-free interest rates as of the valuation date corresponding to the length of time remaining in the performance period. Stock-based compensation expense for awards with market conditions is recognized over the requisite service period using the accelerated attribution method and is not reversed if the market condition is not met.Stock-based compensation expense related to purchase rights issued under the 2019 Health Catalyst Employee Stock Purchase Plan (ESPP) is based on the Black-Scholes option-pricing model fair value of the estimated number of awards as of the beginning of the offering period. Stock-based compensation expense is recognized using the straight-line method over the offering period.The measurement date for non-employee awards is the date of grant. The compensation expense for non-employees is recognized, without changes in the fair value of the award, in the same period and in the same manner as though we had paid cash for the services, which is typically the vesting period of the respective award. Restructuring costs Restructuring costsWe define restructuring costs as expenses directly associated with restructuring activities. Such costs include severance and related tax and benefit expenses from workforce reductions, impairment of discontinued capitalized software projects, and other miscellaneous charges. We record team member-related severance costs when there is a substantive plan in place and the related costs are probable and estimable. For one-time termination benefits for team members (i.e., no substantive plan or future service requirement), the cost is recorded when the terms of the one-time termination benefits are communicated to the impacted team members and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Income taxes Income taxesDeferred income tax balances are accounted for using the asset and liability method and reflect the effects of temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of our assets and liabilities using enacted tax rates expected to apply when taxes are actually paid or recovered. In addition, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recorded for net operating loss (NOL) and tax credit carryforwards. A valuation allowance is provided against deferred tax assets unless it is more likely than not that they will be realized based on all available positive and negative evidence. Such evidence includes, but is not limited to, recent cumulative earnings or losses, expectations of future taxable income by taxing jurisdiction, and the carry-forward periods available for the utilization of deferred tax assets.We use a two-step approach to recognize and measure uncertain income tax positions. The first step is to evaluate the tax position for recognition by determining if the weight of available evidence indicates it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon audit. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount, which is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. We do not currently accrue interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits within the provision for income taxes because the impact would be immaterial due to our net operating losses and tax credit carryforwards. Significant judgment is required to evaluate uncertain tax positions.Although we believe that we have adequately reserved for our uncertain tax positions, we can provide no assurance that the final tax outcome of these matters will not be materially different. We evaluate our uncertain tax positions on a regular basis and evaluations are based on a number of factors, including changes in facts and circumstances, changes in tax law, correspondence with tax authorities during the course of an audit, and effective settlement of audit issues. To the extent that the final tax outcome of these matters is different than the amounts recorded, such differences will affect the provision for income taxes in the period in which such determination is made and could have a material impact on our financial condition and results of operations. Fair value of financial instruments Fair value of financial instrumentsThe carrying amounts reported in our condensed consolidated balance sheets for cash, receivables, accounts payable, and current accrued expenses approximate fair values because of the immediate or short-term maturity of these financial instruments. The carrying value of operating lease liabilities and convertible senior notes approximate fair value based on interest rates available for debt with similar terms at JuneÂ 30, 2024 and DecemberÂ 31, 2023. Money market funds and short-term investments are measured at fair value on a recurring basis. Fair value is estimated by applying the following hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value into three levels and bases the categorization within the hierarchy upon the lowest level of input that is available and significant to the fair value measurement:â€¢LevelÂ 1- Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.â€¢LevelÂ 2- Observable inputs other than quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets, or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.â€¢LevelÂ 3- Inputs that are generally unobservable and typically reflect managementâ€™s estimate of assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.All of our financial instruments are valued using quoted prices in active markets or based on other observable inputs. For Level 2 securities, we use a third-party pricing service which provides documentation on an ongoing basis that includes, among other things, pricing information with respect to reference data, methodology, inputs summarized by asset class, pricing application, and corroborative information. Our contingent consideration liabilities are categorized as a Level 3 fair value measurement because we estimate projections during the earn out period utilizing various potential pay-out scenarios. Foreign currency Foreign currencyThe functional currency of our international subsidiaries is generally their local currency. We translate these subsidiariesâ€™ financial statements into U.S. dollars using month-end exchange rates for assets and liabilities and average exchange rates for revenue and expenses. We record translation gains and losses in accumulated other comprehensive loss in stockholdersâ€™ equity. We record foreign exchange gains and losses in interest and other expense, net. Our net foreign exchange gains and losses were not material for the periods presented. Recent accounting pronouncements not yet adopted Recent accounting pronouncements not yet adoptedIn November 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued ASU No. 2023-07, Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures (Topic 280). This ASU updates reportable segment disclosure requirements by requiring disclosures of significant reportable segment expenses that are regularly provided to the CODM and included within each reported measure of a segmentâ€™s profit or loss. This ASU also requires disclosure of the title and position of the individual identified as the CODM and an explanation of how the CODM uses the reported measures of a segmentâ€™s profit or loss in assessing segment performance and deciding how to allocate resources. The ASU is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Adoption of the ASU should be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. Early adoption is permitted. We are currently evaluating the provisions of this ASU and expect to adopt them for the year ending December 31, 2024.In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures (Topic 740). The ASU requires disaggregated information about a reporting entityâ€™s effective tax rate reconciliation as well as additional information on income taxes paid. The ASU is effective on a prospective basis for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. This ASU will result in the required additional disclosures being included in our consolidated financial statements, once adopted. We are currently evaluating the provisions of this ASU and expect to adopt them for the year ending December 31, 2025. An operating segment is a component of an enterprise: (a) that engages in business activities from which it may earn revenues and incur expenses (including revenues and expenses relating to transactions with other components of the same enterprise), (b) whose operating results are regularly reviewed by the enterprise's chief operating decision maker to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segment and assess its performance, and (c) for which discrete financial information is available. An operating segment may engage in business activities for which it has yet to earn revenues, for example, start-up operations may be operating segments before earning revenues. + ReferencesReference 1: http://www.xbrl.org/2003/role/exampleRef -Topic 280 -SubTopic 10 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section 55 -Paragraph 49 -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147482785/280-10-55-49Reference 2: http://www.xbrl.org/2009/role/commonPracticeRef -Topic 280 -SubTopic 10 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section 50 -Paragraph 18 -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147482810/280-10-50-18 + Details Name: us-gaap_NumberOfOperatingSegments Namespace Prefix: us-gaap_ Data Type: xbrli:integerItemType Balance Type: na Period Type: duration X - DefinitionNumber of segments reported by the entity.
