These statements reflect managementâ€™s judgment and opinions that are based on current estimates, expectations, and projections about future events and assumptions regarding these events and managementâ€™s knowledge of facts as of the date of this report. These forward-looking statements relate to, among other matters, estimated losses, including penalties and fines associated with various investigations and proceedings; forecasts of capital expenditures; forecasts of cost savings; estimates and assumptions used in critical accounting estimates, including those relating to insurance receivables, regulatory assets and liabilities, environmental remediation, litigation, third-party claims, the Wildfire Fund, and other liabilities; and the level of future equity or debt issuances. These statements are also identified by words such as â€œassume,â€ â€œexpect,â€ â€œintend,â€ â€œforecast,â€ â€œplan,â€ â€œproject,â€ â€œbelieve,â€ â€œestimate,â€ â€œpredict,â€ â€œanticipate,â€ â€œcommit,â€ â€œgoal,â€ â€œtarget,â€ â€œwill,â€ â€œmay,â€ â€œshould,â€ â€œwould,â€ â€œcould,â€ â€œpotential,â€ and similar expressions. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are not able to predict all the factors that may affect future results. Some of the factors that could cause future results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements, or from historical results, include, but are not limited to:â€¢the extent to which the Wildfire Fund and revised prudency standard under AB 1054 effectively mitigate the risk of liability for damages arising from catastrophic wildfires, including whether the Utility maintains an approved WMP and a valid safety certification and whether the Wildfire Fund has sufficient remaining funds;â€¢the risks and uncertainties associated with wildfires that have occurred or may occur in the Utilityâ€™s service area, including the wildfire that began on October 23, 2019 northeast of Geyserville in Sonoma County, California (the â€œ2019 Kincade fireâ€), the wildfire that began on July 13, 2021 near the Cresta Dam in the Feather River Canyon in Plumas County, California (the â€œ2021 Dixie fireâ€), the wildfire that began on September 6, 2022 near Oxbow Reservoir in Placer County, California (the â€œ2022 Mosquito fireâ€), and any other wildfires for which the causes have yet to be determined; the damage caused by such wildfires; the extent of the Utilityâ€™s liability in connection with such wildfires (including the risk that the Utility may be found liable for damages regardless of fault); investigations into such wildfires, including those being conducted by the CPUC; potential liabilities in connection with fines or penalties that could be imposed on the Utility if the CPUC or any other enforcement agency were to bring an enforcement action in respect of any such fire; the risk that the Utility is not able to recover costs from the Wildfire Fund or other third parties or through rates; and the effect on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reputations of such wildfires, investigations, and proceedings;â€¢the extent to which the Utilityâ€™s wildfire mitigation initiatives are effective, including the Utilityâ€™s ability to comply with the targets and metrics set forth in its WMP; the effectiveness of its system hardening, including undergrounding; the cost of the program and the timing and outcome of any proceeding to recover such costs through rates; and any determination by the OEIS that the Utility has not complied with its WMP;â€¢the Utilityâ€™s ability to safely, reliably, and efficiently construct, maintain, operate, protect, and decommission its facilities, and provide electricity and natural gas services safely and reliably;â€¢significant changes to the electric power and natural gas industries driven by technological advancements, electrification, and the transition to a decarbonized economy; the impact of reductions in Utility customer demand for electricity and natural gas, driven by customer self-generation, customer departures to community choice aggregators, direct access providers, and government-owned utilities, and legislative mandates to reduce the use of natural gas; and whether the Utility is successful in addressing the impact of growing distributed and renewable generation resources and changing customer demand for its natural gas and electric services;â€¢cyber or physical attacks, including acts of terrorism, war, and vandalism, on the Utility or its third-party vendors, contractors, or customers (or others with whom they have shared data) which could result in operational disruption; Risk Factors in this Form 10-Q and the 2023 Form 10-K and a detailed discussion of these matters contained in Item 7. MD&A in the 2023 Form 10-K and Item 2 in this Form 10-Q. PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not undertake any obligation to update forward-looking statements, whether in response to new information, future events, or otherwise.10PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, Current Reports on Form 8-K, and proxy statements are available free of charge on both PG&E Corporationâ€™s website, www.pgecorp.com, and the Utility's website, www.pge.com, as promptly as practicable after they are filed with, or furnished to, the SEC. Additionally, PG&E Corporation and the Utility routinely provide links to the Utilityâ€™s principal regulatory proceedings before the CPUC and the FERC at http://investor.pgecorp.com, under the â€œRegulatory Filingsâ€ tab, so that such filings are available to investors upon filing with the relevant agency. PG&E Corporation and the Utility also routinely post or provide direct links to presentations, documents, and other information that may be of interest to investors at http://investor.pgecorp.com, under the â€œWildfire and Safety Updatesâ€ and â€œNews & Events: Events & Presentationsâ€ tabs, respectively, in order to publicly disseminate such information. Specifically, within two hours during business hours or four hours outside of business hours of the determination that an incident is attributable or allegedly attributable to the Utilityâ€™s electric facilities and has resulted in property damage estimated to exceed $50,000, a fatality or injury requiring overnight in-patient hospitalization, or significant public or media attention, the Utility is required to submit an electric incident report including information about such incident to the CPUC. The information included in an electric incident report is limited and may not include important information about the facts and circumstances about the incident due to the limited scope of the reporting requirements and timing of the report and is necessarily limited to information to which the Utility has access at the time of the report. Ignitions are also reportable under CPUC Decision 14-02-015 when they involve self-propagating fire of material other than electrical or communication facilities; the fire traveled greater than one linear meter from the ignition point; and the Utility has knowledge that the fire occurred. It is possible that any of these filings or information included therein could be deemed to be material information. The information contained on such websites is not part of this or any other report that PG&E Corporation or the Utility files with, or furnishes to, the SEC. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are providing the address to this website solely for the information of investors and do not intend the address to be an active link. ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORSFor information about the significant risks that could affect PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows, see Item 1A. Risk Factors in the 2023 Form 10-K, as supplemented below and the section of this quarterly report entitled â€œForward-Looking Statements.â€PG&E Corporation is a holding company and relies on dividends, distributions and other payments, advances, and transfers of funds from the Utility to pay dividends on its common stock and meet its obligations.PG&E Corporation conducts its operations primarily through its subsidiary, the Utility, and substantially all of PG&E Corporationâ€™s consolidated assets are held by the Utility. Accordingly, PG&E Corporationâ€™s cash flow, ability to pay dividends on its common stock, and ability to meet its debt service obligations under its existing and future indebtedness largely depend upon the earnings and cash flows of the Utility and the distribution of these earnings and cash flows to PG&E Corporation. The ability of the Utility to pay dividends or make other advances, distributions, and transfers of funds will depend on its results of operations and is restricted by, among other things, applicable laws limiting the amount of funds available for payment of dividends and certain restrictive covenants contained in financing agreements. See â€œLiquidity and Financial Resourcesâ€ in Item 7. MD&A in the 2023 Form 10-K. The Utility must use its resources to satisfy its own obligations, including its obligation to serve customers, to pay principal and interest on outstanding debt, to meet its obligations to employees and creditors, and to pay preferred stock dividends, before it can distribute cash to PG&E Corporation. In particular, the CPUC requires PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Boards of Directors to give first priority to the capital requirements of the Utility, as determined to be necessary and prudent to meet the Utilityâ€™s obligation to serve or to operate the Utility in a prudent and efficient manner. The CPUC also regulates the Utilityâ€™s capital structure. Dividend payments on PG&E Corporationâ€™s common stock are also subject to the discretion of PG&E Corporationâ€™s Board of Directors. See Note 6 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 1.The deterioration of income from, or other available assets of, the Utility for any reason could limit or impair the Utilityâ€™s ability to pay dividends or make other distributions to PG&E Corporation, which could, in turn, materially and adversely affect PG&E Corporationâ€™s ability to pay common stock dividends or meet other obligations.11PART I. FINANCIAL INFORMATIONITEM 2. MANAGEMENTâ€™S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONSOVERVIEWThis is a combined quarterly report of PG&E Corporation and the Utility and should be read in conjunction with each companyâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 1. It should also be read in conjunction with the 2023 Form 10-K.Key Factors Affecting Financial ResultsPG&E Corporation and the Utility believe that theirÂ financial condition,Â results of operations, liquidity, and cash flowsÂ may be materially affected by the following factors:â€¢The Uncertainties in Connection with Wildfires, Wildfire Mitigation, and Associated Cost Recovery. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows may be materially affected by the costs and effectiveness of the Utilityâ€™s wildfire mitigation initiatives; the extent of damages from wildfires that do occur; the financial impacts of wildfires; and PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s ability to mitigate those financial impacts with insurance, the Wildfire Fund, and regulatory recovery.In response to the wildfire threat facing California, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have taken aggressive steps to mitigate the threat of catastrophic wildfires. The Utilityâ€™s wildfire mitigation initiatives include Enhanced Powerline Safety Settings (â€œEPSSâ€), PSPS, vegetation management, asset inspections, and system hardening. In particular, in 2023, the Utility introduced or expanded its use of several measures including downed conductor detection, partial voltage force outs, and transmission operational controls. The Utility is also focused on undergrounding more lines each year while using economies of scale to make undergrounding more cost efficient. These initiatives have significantly reduced the number of CPUC-reportable ignitions and the number of acres burned. The success of the Utilityâ€™s wildfire mitigation efforts depends on many factors, including whether the Utility can retain or contract for the workforce necessary to execute its wildfire mitigation actions.PG&E Corporation and the Utility have incurred and will continue to incur substantial expenditures in connection with these initiatives. For more information on incurred expenditures, see Note 3 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1. The extent to which the Utility will be able to recover these expenditures and other potential costs through rates is uncertain. If additional requirements are imposed that go beyond current expectations, such requirements could have a substantial impact on the costs of the Utilityâ€™s wildfire mitigation initiatives.The Utility is subject to a number of legal and regulatory requirements related to its wildfire mitigation efforts, which require periodic inspections of electric assets and ongoing reporting related to this work. Although the Utility believes that it has complied substantially with these requirements, it continually reviews and has identified instances of noncompliance. The Utility intends to update the CPUC and the OEIS as its review progresses. The Utility could face fines, penalties, enforcement action, or other adverse legal or regulatory consequences for late inspections or other noncompliance related to wildfire mitigation efforts. See â€œSelf-Reports to the CPUCâ€ in â€œRegulatory Mattersâ€ below.Despite these extensive measures, the potential that the Utilityâ€™s equipment will be involved in the ignition of future wildfires, including catastrophic wildfires, is significant. This risk may be attributable to, and exacerbated by, a variety of factors, including climate (in particular, extended periods of seasonal dryness coupled with periods of high wind velocities and other storms), infrastructure, and vegetation conditions. Once an ignition has occurred, the Utility may be unable to control the extent of damages, which is primarily determined by environmental conditions (including weather and vegetation conditions), third-party suppression efforts, and the location of the wildfire.The financial impact of past wildfires is significant. As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility had recorded aggregate liabilities of $1.125Â billion, $1.6 billion, and $100 million for claims in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire, the 2021 Dixie fire, and the 2022 Mosquito fire, respectively, and in each case before available insurance, and, in the case of the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, other probable cost recoveries. These liability amounts correspond to the lower end of the range of reasonably estimable probable losses.12PG&E Corporation and the Utility may be able to mitigate the financial impact of future wildfires in excess of insurance coverage through the Wildfire Fund, or cost recovery through rates. Each of these mitigations involves uncertainties, and liabilities could exceed available recoveries. See â€œLoss Recoveriesâ€ in Note 10 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.As of June 30, 2024, the Utility has recorded insurance receivables of $430 million for the 2019 Kincade fire, $525 million for the 2021 Dixie fire, and $83Â million for the 2022 Mosquito fire. Recorded liabilities in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire and the 2021 Dixie fire have exceeded potential amounts recoverable under applicable insurance policies. If the eligible claims for liabilities arising from wildfires were to exceed $1.0 billion in any Wildfire Fund coverage year (â€œCoverage Yearâ€), the Utility may be eligible to make a claim against the Wildfire Fund under AB 1054 for such excess amount. The Wildfire Fund is available to the Utility to pay eligible claims for liabilities arising from wildfires, provided that the Utility satisfies the conditions to the Utilityâ€™s ongoing participation in the Wildfire Fund set forth in AB 1054 and that the Wildfire Fund has sufficient remaining funds. However, the impact of AB 1054 on PG&E Corporation and the Utility is subject to numerous uncertainties, including the Utilityâ€™s ability to demonstrate to the CPUC that wildfire-related costs paid from the Wildfire Fund were just and reasonable and therefore not subject to reimbursement, and whether the benefits of participating in the Wildfire Fund ultimately outweigh its substantial costs. Finally, recoveries for the 2019 Kincade fire would be subject to a 40% limitation on the allowed amount of claims arising before emergence from bankruptcy. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility has recorded a Wildfire Fund receivable of $600 million for the 2021 Dixie fire. See â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ in Note 10 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.The Utility will be permitted to recover its wildfire-related claims in excess of insurance and legal fees through rates unless the CPUC or the FERC, as applicable, determines that the Utility has not met the applicable prudency standard. The revised prudency standard under AB 1054 has not been interpreted or applied by the CPUC, and it is possible that the CPUC could interpret the standard or apply it to the relevant facts differently from how the Utility has interpreted and applied the standard, in which case the Utility may not be able to recover all or a portion of expenses that it has recorded as receivables. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility has recorded receivables for regulatory recovery of $587 million for the 2021 Dixie fire and $60 million for the 2022 Mosquito fire. See â€œ2021 Dixie Fire,â€ and â€œ2022 Mosquito Fireâ€ in Note 10 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1 for more information.â€¢The Timing and Outcome of Ratemaking and Other Proceedings. Regulatory ratemaking proceedings are a key aspect of the Utilityâ€™s business. The Utilityâ€™s revenue requirements consist primarily of a base amount set to enable the Utility to recover its reasonable operating expenses (e.g., maintenance, administrative and general expenses) and capital costs (e.g., depreciation and financing expenses). The CPUC also authorizes the Utility to collect revenues to recover costs that the Utility is allowed to pass through to customers, including its costs to procure electricity and natural gas for customers and to administer public purpose and customer programs. Although the Utility generally seeks to recover its recorded costs on a timely basis, in recent years, the amount of the costs recorded in memorandum and balancing accounts has increased. Other proceedings that could impact the Utilityâ€™s business profile and financial results include actions by municipalities and other public entities to acquire the electric assets of the Utility within their respective jurisdictions. The outcome of regulatory proceedings can be affected by many factors, including intervening partiesâ€™ testimonies, potential rate impacts, the regulatory and political environments, and other factors. See Notes 3 and 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1, and â€œRegulatory Mattersâ€ below.â€¢PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Ability to Control Operating and Financing Costs. Under cost-of-service ratemaking, a utilityâ€™s earnings depend on its ability to manage costs within the amounts authorized for recovery in its ratemaking proceedings. The Utility has set a goal to increase its capital investments to meet safety and climate goals, while also achieving operating cost savings. The Utility plans to achieve such savings by improving the planning and execution of its work through increased efficiencies, including waste elimination through the Lean operating system. PG&E Corporation and the Utility also work to minimize financing costs by identifying and executing on opportunities to efficiently finance the business, which depends on capital market conditions.For more information about the risks that could materially affectÂ PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition,Â results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows, or that could cause future results to differ from historical results, see Item 1A. Risk Factors in this Form 10-Q and the 2023 Form 10-K and â€œForward-Looking Statementsâ€ above for a list of some of the factors that may cause actual results to differ materially.13Tax MattersPG&E Corporation had a U.S. federal net operating loss carryforward of approximately $32.9Â billion and a California net operating loss carryforward of approximately $32.6Â billion as of December 31, 2023.Under Section 382 of the IRC, if a corporation (or a consolidated group) undergoes an â€œownership change,â€ net operating loss carryforwards and other tax attributes may be subject to certain limitations. In general, an ownership change occurs if the aggregate stock ownership of certain shareholders (generally five percent shareholders, applying certain look-through and aggregation rules) increases by more than 50% over such shareholdersâ€™ lowest percentage ownership during the testing period (generally three years). PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Amended Articles limit Transfers (as defined in the Amended Articles) that increase a personâ€™s or entityâ€™s (including certain groups of persons) ownership of PG&E Corporationâ€™s equity securities to 4.75% or more prior to the Restriction Release Date (as defined in the Amended Articles) without approval by the Board of Directors of PG&E Corporation. Shares of PG&E Corporation common stock held directly by the Utility are attributed to PG&E Corporation for income tax purposes and are therefore effectively excluded from the total number of outstanding equity securities when calculating a personâ€™s Percentage Stock Ownership (as defined in the Amended Articles) for purposes of the 4.75% ownership limitation in the Amended Articles. For example, although PG&E Corporation had 2,615,204,752 shares outstanding as of JulyÂ 17, 2024, only 2,137,461,162 shares (the number of outstanding shares of common stock less the number of shares held directly by the Utility) count as outstanding for purposes of the ownership restrictions in the Amended Articles. As such, a personâ€™s effective Percentage Stock Ownership limitation for purposes of the Amended Articles as of JulyÂ 17, 2024 was 3.88% of PG&E Corporationâ€™s outstanding shares.As of the date of this report, it is more likely than not that PG&E Corporation has not undergone an ownership change, and consequently, its net operating loss carryforwards and other tax attributes are not limited by Section 382 of the IRC.RESULTS OF OPERATIONSThe following discussion presents PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s operating results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. See â€œKey Factors Affecting Financial Resultsâ€ above for further discussion about factors that could affect future results of operations.PG&E CorporationThe consolidated results of operations consist primarily of results related to the Utility, which are discussed in the â€œUtilityâ€ section below.Â The following table provides a summary of income (loss) attributable to common shareholders for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions)20242023202420232Consolidated Total$520Â $406Â $1,252Â $975Â PG&E Corporation(41)(70)(87)(124)Utility$561Â $476Â $1,339Â $1,099Â PG&E Corporationâ€™s net loss primarily consists of interest expense on long-term debt.14UtilityThe table below shows certain items from the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Â In general, expenses the Utility is authorized to pass through directly to customers (such as costs to purchase electricity and natural gas, as well as costs to fund public purpose programs) and the corresponding amount of revenues collected to recover those pass-through costs do not impact net income.Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,2024202320242023Operating RevenuesElectric$4,458Â $3,852Â $8,510Â $7,971Â Natural gas1,528Â 1,438Â 3,337Â 3,528Â Total operating revenues5,986Â 5,290Â 11,847Â 11,499Â Operating ExpensesCost of electricity763Â 672Â 1,084Â 1,194Â Cost of natural gas204Â 274Â 733Â 1,190Â Operating and maintenance2,753Â 2,431Â 5,384Â 5,105Â SB 901 securitization charges, netâ€”Â 289Â â€”Â 562Â Wildfire-related claims, net of recoveries(3)(1)(4)(3)Wildfire Fund expense78Â 117Â 156Â 234Â Depreciation, amortization, and decommissioning1,053Â 997Â 2,075Â 2,074Â Total operating expenses4,848Â 4,779Â 9,428Â 10,356Â Operating Income1,138Â 511Â 2,419Â 1,143Â Interest income199Â 140Â 333Â 250Â Interest expense(750)(553)(1,404)(1,073)Other income, net79Â 64Â 158Â 148Â Income Before Income Taxes666Â 162Â 1,506Â 468Â Income tax provision (benefit)101Â (318)160Â (638)Net Income565Â 480Â 1,346Â 1,106Â Preferred stock dividend requirement4Â 4Â 7Â 7Â Income Available for Common Stock$561Â $476Â $1,339Â $1,099Â Operating RevenuesThe Utilityâ€™s electric and natural gas operating revenues increased by $696 million, or 13%, in the three months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same period in 2023. These increases were primarily due to:â€¢approximately $650Â million in increased base revenues authorized in the 2023 GRC in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023;â€¢approximately $275Â million in interim rate relief authorized in the 2022 WMCE proceeding (see â€œ2022 WMCE Applicationâ€ below) in the three months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable revenues in the same period in 2023;â€¢approximately $130Â million in interim rate relief authorized in the WGSC proceeding (see â€œWildfire and Gas Safety Costs Recovery Applicationâ€ below) in the three months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable revenues in the same period in 2023; andâ€¢an increase in revenues to recover the cost of electricity procurement, which increased by approximately $90Â million in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These costs are passed through to customers and do not impact net income. See â€œCost of Electricityâ€ below.15Partially offset by:â€¢a decrease of approximately $180 million in revenues to recover the costs associated with the Risk Transfer Balancing Account (â€œRTBAâ€) in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. For more information, see Note 3 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K;â€¢a decrease of approximately $80 million in revenues to recover the costs associated with the RUBA in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These revenues and associated costs are passed through to customers and do not impact net income. See Note 3 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1; andâ€¢a decrease in revenues to recover the cost of natural gas, which decreased by approximately $70Â million in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These costs are passed through to customers and do not impact net income. See â€œCost of Natural Gasâ€ below.The Utilityâ€™s electric and natural gas operating revenues increased by $348 million, or 3%, in the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same period in 2023. These increases were primarily due to:â€¢approximately $1.3Â billion in increased base revenues authorized in the 2023 GRC in the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023;â€¢approximately $550Â million in interim rate relief authorized in the 2022 WMCE proceeding (see â€œ2022 WMCE Applicationâ€ below) in the six months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable revenues in the same period in 2023; andâ€¢approximately $130Â million in interim rate relief authorized in the WGSC proceeding (see â€œWildfire and Gas Safety Costs Recovery Applicationâ€ below) in the six months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable revenues in the same period in 2023.Partially offset by:â€¢approximately $585Â million in revenues authorized in the final 2020 WMCE decision in the six months ended June 30, 2023, with no comparable revenues in the same period in 2024; â€¢a decrease in revenues to recover the cost of electricity procurement, which decreased by approximately $110Â million and the cost of natural gas, which decreased by approximately $460Â million in the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These costs are passed through to customers and do not impact net income. See â€œCost of Electricityâ€ and â€œCost of Natural Gasâ€ below;â€¢a decrease of approximately $260 million in revenues to recover the costs associated with the RTBA in the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. For more information, see Note 3 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K; andâ€¢a decrease of approximately $135 million in revenues to recover the costs associated with the RUBA in the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These revenues and associated costs are passed through to customers and do not impact net income. See Note 3 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.16Cost of ElectricityThe Utilityâ€™s Cost of electricity includes the cost of power purchased from third parties (including renewable energy resources), fuel and associated transmission costs used in its own generation facilities, fuel and associated transmission costs supplied to other facilities under power purchase agreements, costs to comply with Californiaâ€™s cap-and-trade program, and realized gains and losses on price risk management activities. See Note 8 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1. Cost of electricity also includes net energy sales (Utility owned and third partiesâ€™ generation) in the CAISO electricity markets and directly with third parties. The Utilityâ€™s total purchased power is driven by customer demand, net CAISO electricity market activities (purchases or sales), the availability of the Utilityâ€™s own generation facilities (including Diablo Canyon and its hydroelectric plants), and the cost-effectiveness of each source of electricity.Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions)20242023202420232Cost of purchased power, net$715Â $626Â $946Â $765Â Fuel used in generation facilities48Â 46Â 138Â 429Â Total cost of electricity$763Â $672Â $1,084Â $1,194Â The Cost of electricity increased by $91Â million, or 14% in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These increases were primarily the result of lower CAISO market sales revenues and increased nuclear fuel amortization costs, partially offset by lower natural gas market prices included as fuel costs.The Cost of electricity decreased by $110Â million, or 9% in the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These decreases were primarily the result of lower natural gas market prices included as fuels costs, partially offset by lower CAISO market sales revenues.Cost of Natural GasThe Utilityâ€™s Cost of natural gas includes the costs of procurement, storage and transportation of natural gas, costs to comply with Californiaâ€™s cap-and-trade program and realized gains and losses on price risk management activities. These decreases were primarily the result of lower natural gas procurement costs, due to lower natural gas market prices for the period.The Cost of natural gas decreased by $457Â million, or 38%, in the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These decreases were primarily the result of lower natural gas procurement costs, partially offset by unfavorable price risk management results, both of which were due to lower natural gas market prices for the period.Operating and MaintenanceThe Utilityâ€™s Operating and maintenance expenses increased by $322 million, or 13%, in the three months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same period in 2023. These increases were primarily due to:â€¢approximately $275Â million of previously deferred expenses authorized in the 2022 WMCE proceeding (see â€œ2022 WMCE Applicationâ€ below) in the three months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in the same period in 2023; â€¢approximately $130Â million in interim rate relief authorized in the WGSC proceeding (see â€œWildfire and Gas Safety Costs Recovery Applicationâ€ below) in the three months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in the same period in 2023;17â€¢approximately $110Â million of previously deferred expenses as a result of the 2023 GRC in the three months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in the same period in 2023;â€¢the write-off of approximately $60Â million of costs as a result of the CPUCâ€™s final decision denying the Pacific Generation application in the three months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in the same period in 2023. For more information, see â€œRegulatory Mattersâ€ below; and â€¢increased labor and benefit costs in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. Partially offset by:â€¢a decrease of approximately $125Â million in insurance costs related to the Utilityâ€™s adoption of self-insurance in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023;â€¢a decrease of approximately $80Â million in costs associated with the RUBA in the three months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. These costs are passed through to customers and do not impact net income. See Note 3 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1;â€¢$50Â million related to the civil stipulated judgement filed on May 31, 2023, by the Utility and the Shasta County District Attorneyâ€™s Office (â€œShasta D.A.â€) for the Shasta D.A. to dismiss with prejudice all criminal charges against the Utility in connection with the 2020 Zogg fire (the â€œZogg Stipulationâ€™), with no comparable costs in 2024; andâ€¢increased operating cost efficiencies in the three months ended June 30, 2024.The Utilityâ€™s Operating and maintenance expenses increased by $279Â million, or 5%, in the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same period in 2023. These increases were primarily due to:â€¢approximately $550Â million of previously deferred expenses authorized in the 2022 WMCE proceeding (see â€œ2022 WMCE Applicationâ€ below) in the six months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in 2023;â€¢approximately $220Â million of previously deferred expenses as a result of the 2023 GRC in the six months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in 2023;â€¢approximately $130Â million in interim rate relief authorized in the WGSC proceeding (see â€œWildfire and Gas Safety Costs Recovery Applicationâ€ below) in the six months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in the same period in 2023;â€¢the write-off of approximately $60Â million of costs as a result of the CPUCâ€™s final decision denying the Pacific Generation application in the six months ended June 30, 2024, with no comparable costs in the same period in 2023. In the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, the Utility recorded charges of $289Â million and $562Â million, respectively, representing the amounts that are refundable to ratepayers as a result of tax benefits realized within income tax expense related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock, with no comparable charges in 2024. For more information, see Note 5 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.Wildfire-Related Claims, Net of RecoveriesThere was no material change to Wildfire-related claims, net of recoveries for the periods presented.Wildfire Fund ExpenseThe Utilityâ€™s Wildfire Fund expense decreased by $39Â million, or 33%, and $78Â million, or 33%, in the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same periods in 2023. This decrease was due to the increase in the estimated period of coverage of the Wildfire Fund from 15 to 20 years. For more information, see Note 2 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.Depreciation, Amortization, and DecommissioningThe Utility's Depreciation, amortization and decommissioning expenses increased by $56 million, or 6%, and $1 million, or 0%, in the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same periods in 2023. These increases were primarily due to the growth in plant balance from capital additions, partially offset by deferred depreciation expense for costs awaiting regulatory decisions, a decrease in decommissioning expense primarily as a result of the 2021 Nuclear Decommissioning Cost Triennial Proceeding final decision, and lower depreciation rates authorized in the 2023 GRC.Interest IncomeThe Utilityâ€™s Interest income increased by $59 million, or 42%, and increased by $83 million, or 33%, in the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same periods in 2023. These increases were primarily due to higher interest rates earned on regulatory balancing accounts.Interest ExpenseThe Utilityâ€™s Interest expense increased by $197 million, or 36%, and increased by $331 million, or 31%, in the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 compared to the same periods in 2023. These increases were primarily due to an increase in long term debt with higher fixed interest rates and an increase in short-term debt with higher variable interest rates.Other Income, NetThere was no material change to Other income, net of recoveries for the periods presented.Income Tax Provision (Benefit)The Utilityâ€™s Income tax provision increased by $419 million, or 132%, and $798 million, or 125%, in the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same periods in 2023, primarily due to a decrease in the tax benefit recognized related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock as well as higher pretax book income in the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to the same periods in 2023.19TheÂ following table reconciles the income tax expense at the federal statutory rate to the income tax provision:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,20242023Federal statutory income tax rate21.0Â %21.0Â %21.0Â %21.0Â %Increase (decrease) in income tax rate resulting from:State income tax (net of federal benefit) (1)4.6Â %(53.6)%3.3Â %(36.0)%Effect of regulatory treatment of fixed asset differences (2)(16.4)%(54.1)%(14.5)%(42.1)%Tax credits(0.7)%(1.5)%(0.6)%(1.1)%Fire Victim Trust (3)â€”Â %(124.5)%â€”Â %(84.4)%Other, net6.6Â %17.8Â %1.4Â %6.4Â %Effective tax rate15.2Â %(194.9)%10.6Â %(136.2)%(1) Includes the effect of state flow-through ratemaking treatment.(2) Includes the effect of federal flow-through ratemaking treatment for certain property-related costs. For these temporary tax differences, the Utility recognizes the deferred tax impact in the current period and records offsetting regulatory assets and liabilities. Therefore, the Utilityâ€™s effective tax rate is impacted as these differences arise and reverse. The Utility recognizes such differences as regulatory assets or liabilities as it is probable that these amounts will be recovered from or returned to customers in future rates. These amounts also reflect the impact of the amortization of excess deferred tax benefits to be refunded to customers as a result of the TCJA.(3) Includes the tax effect of the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock in 2023. For more information, see â€œTax Mattersâ€ in Item 7. MD&A and Note 6 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.LIQUIDITY AND FINANCIAL RESOURCESOverviewPG&E Corporation and the Utility expect to be able to generate and obtain adequate cash to meet their cash requirements in the short-term and in the long-term. PG&E Corporationâ€™s ability to fund operations, make scheduled principal and interest payments, fund equity contributions to the Utility, and pay dividends depends on the level of cash on hand, cash received from the Utility, and PG&E Corporationâ€™s access to the capital and credit markets. Generally, PG&E Corporation and the Utility expect that capital expenditures, debt maturities, and PG&E Corporation common stock dividends will exceed operating cash flows. As a result, they expect to finance future cash needs in excess of operating cash flows primarily through the capital and credit markets. PG&E Corporation and the Utility have various contractual commitments which impact cash requirements. These commitments are discussed in â€œPurchase Commitmentsâ€ in Note 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility had access to approximately $3.3 billion of total liquidity comprised of approximately $1.1Â billion of the Utilityâ€™s cash and cash equivalents, $255Â million of PG&E Corporationâ€™s cash and cash equivalents and $2.0Â billion of availability under PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit facilities.Credit RatingsCredit ratings impact the cost and availability of short-term borrowings, including credit facilities, and long-term debt costs. In addition, some of the Utilityâ€™s commodity contracts contain collateral posting provisions tied to the Utilityâ€™s credit rating from each of the major credit rating agencies. Contracts which may require collateral postings include the Utility's power and natural gas commodity, transportation, services, and environmental products agreements. Because the Utilityâ€™s credit rating remains below investment grade, the Utility generally does not receive unsecured credit from its energy procurement counterparties and it may be required to increase its collateral postings if its credit rating is downgraded.Cash, Cash Equivalents, and Restricted CashCash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility maintain separate bank accounts and primarily invest their cash in money market funds. In addition to cash and cash equivalents, the Utility holds restricted cash that primarily consists of AB 1054 and SB 901 fixed recovery charge collections that are to be used to service the associated bonds. 20As of June 30, 2024, the Utility had contributed $625Â million to Pacific Energy Risk Solutions LLC, its wholly-owned subsidiary and captive insurance company for the administration of wildfire liability self-insurance, of which approximately $8Â million was classified as Restricted cash due to minimum capital and surplus requirements. See â€œSelf-Insuranceâ€ in Note 10 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.Financial ResourcesEquity FinancingsPG&E Corporation does not plan to issue any equity in 2024, except for employee compensation purposes. Factors that could affect PG&E Corporationâ€™s planned equity issuances include liquidity and cash flow needs, capital expenditures, interest rates, its share price, its earnings, the timing and outcome of ratemaking proceedings, and the timing and terms of other financings. Debt FinancingsThe Utility generally issues first mortgage bonds and secured debt to meet its long-term debt funding requirements.On February 28, 2024, the Utility completed the sale of (i) $850Â million aggregate principal amount of 5.550% First Mortgage Bonds due 2029, (ii) $1.1Â billion aggregate principal amount of 5.800% First Mortgage Bonds due 2034 and (iii) $300Â million aggregate principal amount of 6.750% First Mortgage Bonds due 2053. The Utility used the net proceeds for the repayment of borrowings outstanding under the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit facility pursuant to the Utility Revolving Credit Agreement. AB 1054 SecuritizationOn July 24, 2024, the Utility and PG&E Recovery Funding LLC (the â€œIssuing Entityâ€) entered into an Underwriting Agreement with Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, as representatives of the underwriters party thereto with respect to the purchase and sale of $1.42 billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds, series 2024-A, to be issued by the Issuing Entity. The issuance is expected to close in August 2024.Credit Facilities and Term LoansAs of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility had $500 million and $1.5 billion available under their respective $500Â million and $4.4Â billion revolving credit facilities. The Utility also has access to the Receivables Securitization Program, under which the Utility may borrow the lesser of the facility limit and the facility availability. Further, the facility availability may vary based on the amount of accounts receivable that the Utility owns that are eligible for sale to the SPV and the portion of those accounts receivable that are sold to the SPV that are eligible for advances by the lenders under the Receivables Securitization Program.Utility On April 16, 2024, the Utility amended its existing term loan agreement to combine its $400Â million 2-year tranche loan maturing April 19, 2024 and its $125Â million 364-day tranche loan maturing April 16, 2024 into a single loan of $525Â million maturing April 15, 2025. The loan bears interest based on the Utilityâ€™s election of either (1) Term Secured Overnight Financing Rate (â€œSOFRâ€) (plus a 0.10% credit spread adjustment) plus an applicable margin of 1.375% or (2) the alternative base rate plus an applicable margin of 0.375%. On June 26, 2024, the Utility amended its existing receivables securitization program to, among other things, extend the scheduled termination date from June 9, 2025 to June 26, 2026. On June 28, 2024, the Utility amended its existing bridge term loan credit agreement to, among other things, (i) extend the maturity date from August 15, 2024 to December 16, 2024, and (ii) modify the mandatory prepayment provision to require the Utility to prepay term loans outstanding under such credit agreement, subject to certain exceptions, with 100% of the net cash proceeds received by the Utility from the issuance of debt securities or incurrence of any debt under any bank credit facilities (excluding AB 1054 securitizations and the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit agreement). After giving effect to a prepayment of $100Â million on April 15, 2024, the total aggregate principal amount of term loans outstanding under such credit agreement is $2.0 billion.21For more information, see â€œCredit Facilities and Term Loansâ€ in Note 4 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.Other FinancingsThe Utility is seeking financing through the Energy Infrastructure Reinvestment category of the DOEâ€™s Clean Energy Financing Program to help fund Californiaâ€™s clean energy transition.On February 20, 2024, the Utility entered into an agreement with Citizens Energy Corporation (â€œCitizensâ€) pursuant to which the Utility may lease to Citizens entitlements to certain transmission assets. The costs related to such leased entitlements are and will continue to be excluded from the Utilityâ€™s FERC transmission rates for the duration of the applicable lease. The Utility may offer Citizens up to five lease options over the term of the agreement, for a total investment by Citizens of up to $1.0 billion. If Citizens exercises and the parties close on a lease option, the Utility will receive an upfront payment as prepaid rent for that lease, which is expected to average approximately $200 million per lease, and the rate base associated with the leased entitlements will go into Citizensâ€™ rate base, rather than the Utilityâ€™s, for 30 years. The transactions contemplated by the agreement are subject to FERC and CPUC approvals of pending or forthcoming filings. DividendsUtilityOn February 13, 2024, the Board of Directors of the Utility declared dividends on its outstanding series of preferred stock totaling $3.5Â million, which was paid on May 15, 2024, to holders of record as of April 30, 2024. On May 16, 2024, the Board of Directors of the Utility declared dividends on its outstanding series of preferred stock totaling $3.5 million, payable on August 15, 2024, to holders of record as of July 31, 2024. On each of February 13 and May 16, 2024, the Board of Directors of the Utility declared common stock dividends of $450Â million and $500 million, which were paid to PG&E Corporation on March 25 and June 3, 2024, respectively. PG&E CorporationOn each of February 13 and May 16, 2024, the Board of Directors of PG&E Corporation declared a quarterly common stock dividend of $0.01 per share, each declaration totaling $21 million, which were paid on April 15 and July 15, 2024, to holders of record as of March 28 and June 28, 2024, respectively.Utility Cash FlowsPG&E Corporationâ€™s consolidated cash flows consist primarily of cash flows related to the Utility. The following discussion presents the Utilityâ€™s cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.The Utilityâ€™s cash flows were as follows:Six Months Ended June 30,Â (in millions)20242023Net cash provided by operating activities$3,114Â $2,627Â Net cash used in investing activities(5,225)(4,420)Net cash provided by financing activities2,671Â 1,772Â Net change in cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash$560Â $(21)Operating ActivitiesNet cash provided by operating activities increased by $487Â million, or 19%, during the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. The increases were primarily due to:â€¢a decrease in amounts paid for natural gas due to a decrease in natural gas commodity prices; andâ€¢an increase in collections through rates as a result of the 2023 GRC final decision.22Partially offset by: â€¢an increase in climate credits issued to customers; andâ€¢lower returns for collateral posted in 2024 due to a decrease in the volatility of gas prices.The Utilityâ€™s cash flows from operating activities primarily consist of receipts from customers less payments of operating expenses, other than expenses such as depreciation and amortization that do not require the use of cash. The Utilityâ€™s receipts from customers are expected to increase primarily as a result of increases in the Utilityâ€™s rate base and from cost recovery applications (see â€œCost Recovery Proceedingsâ€ below for more information). Future cash flow from operating activities will be affected by various factors, including:â€¢the timing and amount of costs in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire, the 2021 Dixie fire, and the 2022 Mosquito fire and the timing and amount of any potential related insurance, Wildfire Fund, and regulatory recoveries;â€¢the timing and amount of costs in connection with future wildfires and the timing and amount of any potential related insurance, including funds available from self-insurance and the Wildfire Fund (see â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ in Note 10 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1);â€¢the timing and amount of costs in connection with the 2023-2025 WMP and the costs previously incurred in connection with the 2020-2022 WMP that are not currently being recovered through rates (see â€œRegulatory Mattersâ€ below for more information);â€¢the timing and outcomes of the Utilityâ€™s pending and future ratemaking and regulatory proceedings, including the extent to which PG&E Corporation and the Utility are able to recover their costs through regulated rates as recorded in memorandum accounts or balancing accounts, or as otherwise requested; andâ€¢the timing and amount of electric commodity price volatility and differences between commodity costs and revenue collections.PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not have any off-balance sheet arrangements that have had, or are reasonably likely to have, a current or future material effect on their financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures, or capital resources, other than those discussed under â€œPurchase Commitmentsâ€ in Note 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.Investing ActivitiesThe following table summarizes changes in key components of the Utilityâ€™s investing cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to June 30, 2023.Â (in millions)Six Months Ended June 30,Cash used in investing activities - 2023$(4,420)Capital expenditures(256)Net purchases related to customer credit trust investments(565)Other investing activities16Â Net increase in cash used in investing activities(805)Cash used in investing activities - 2024$(5,225)Net cash used in investing activities increased by $805 million, or 18%, during the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. The increase was primarily due to a $565 million increase in purchases of customer credit trust investments, net of proceeds from sales, in 2024. In addition, capital expenditures increased by $256 million in 2024 compared to 2023 primarily due to being able to complete more planned capital work in 2024 as result of fewer winter storm events.23The Utilityâ€™s investing activities primarily consist of the construction of new and replacement facilities necessary to provide safe and reliable electricity and natural gas services to its customers. Cash used in investing activities also includes the proceeds from sales of nuclear decommissioning trust and customer credit trust investments which are partially offset by the amount of cash used to purchase new nuclear decommissioning trust and customer credit trust investments. The funds in the decommissioning trusts, along with accumulated earnings, are used exclusively for decommissioning and dismantling the Utilityâ€™s nuclear generation facilities. Pursuant to SB 901, the funds in the customer credit trust, along with accumulated earnings, are used exclusively to fund a monthly credit to customers.Future cash flows used in investing activities are largely dependent on the timing and amount of capital expenditures.Â The Utility estimates that it will incur $10.4Â billion of capital expenditures in 2024. Additionally, future cash flows used in investing activities could be impacted by the timing and amount of contributions to the self-insurance captive (see â€œSelf-Insuranceâ€ in Note 10 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1) and to the customer credit trust, including $650Â million to be contributed by March 2025 (see Note 5 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1).Financing ActivitiesThe following table summarizes changes in key components of the Utilityâ€™s financing cash flows for the six months ended June 30, 2024, compared to June 30, 2023.Â (in millions)Six Months Ended June 30,Cash provided by financing activities - 2023$1,772Â Net borrowings under credit facilities2,730Â Issuance of long-term debt(2,431)Proceeds related to DWR loans600Â Net increase in cash provided by financing activities899Â Cash provided by financing activities - 2024$2,671Â Net cash provided by financing activities increased by $899 million, or 50%, during the six months ended June 30, 2024, as compared to the same period in 2023. The increases were primarily due to:â€¢a $2.7 billion increase in net borrowings under credit facilities; andâ€¢$600 million in proceeds related to the DWR loan in 2024, with no similar transaction in 2023.Partially offset by:â€¢a $2.4 billion decrease in proceeds related to issuance of long-term debt. Cash provided by or used in financing activities is driven by the Utilityâ€™s financing needs, which depend on the level of cash provided by or used in operating activities, the level of cash provided by or used in investing activities, the conditions in the capital markets, and the maturity date or prepayment date of existing debt instruments. Additionally, the Utilityâ€™s future cash flows from financing activities will be affected by the timing and outcome of the Utilityâ€™s ability to procure financing from other sources, dividend payments, and equity contributions from PG&E Corporation.LITIGATION MATTERSPG&E Corporation and the Utility have significant contingencies arising from their operations, including contingencies related to the enforcement and litigation matters described in Notes 10 and 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1 and in â€œRegulatory Mattersâ€ below that are incorporated by reference herein. The outcome of these matters, individually or in the aggregate, could have a material effect on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.24REGULATORY MATTERSThe Utility is subject to substantial regulation by the CPUC, the FERC, the OEIS, the NRC, and other federal and state regulatory agencies. The resolutions of the proceedings described below and other proceedings may materially affect PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows. Except as otherwise noted, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to predict the timing and outcome of the following proceedings.During the three months ended June 30, 2024 and through the date of this filing, key updates to regulatory and legislative matters were as follows:â€¢On July 16, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision for Phase 2 of the GRC that set a cumulative expenditure cap at $2.26Â billion for the period of 2024 to 2026 and provides the Utility the ability to revisit the 2025 and 2026 cap amounts under certain conditions.â€¢On May 31, 2024, the OEIS approved in part and rejected in part the 2024 WMP change order request, aligning the Utilityâ€™s planned wildfire investments with its GRC.â€¢On May 9, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision denying the petition for modification in the 2023 Cost of Capital proceeding. â€¢On May 8, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision denying the Pacific Generation application.â€¢On May 8, 2024, the OEIS issued draft guidelines for the 10-year distribution infrastructure undergrounding plan. Cost Recovery ProceedingsPeriodically, costs arise that could not have been anticipated by the Utility during CPUC GRC proceedings or that have been deliberately excluded from such requests. For instance, these costs may result from catastrophic events, changes in regulation, or extraordinary changes in operating practices. The Utility may seek authority to track incremental costs in a memorandum account and the CPUC may authorize recovery of costs tracked in memorandum accounts if the costs are deemed incremental and prudently incurred. The CPUC may also authorize balancing accounts with limitations or caps on cost recovery. These accounts, which include the CEMA, WEMA, Fire Hazard Prevention Memorandum Account (â€œFHPMAâ€), FRMMA, WMPMA, VMBA, WMBA, and Microgrids Memorandum Account (â€œMGMAâ€) among others, allow the Utility to track the costs associated with work related to disaster and wildfire response, other wildfire prevention-related costs, and certain third-party wildfire claims. While the Utility generally expects such costs to be recoverable, the CPUC may authorize the Utility to recover less than the full amount of its costs.In recent years, the amount of the costs recorded in these accounts has increased. Because rate recovery may require CPUC authorization of the costs in these accounts, there can be a delay between when the Utility incurs costs and when it may recover those costs. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility had recorded an aggregate amount of approximately $4.2Â billion in costs for the CEMA, WEMA, FHPMA, FRMMA, WMPMA, VMBA, WMBA, and MGMA. Of these costs, approximately $619Â million was authorized for recovery and accounted for as current, and $3.6Â billion was accounted for as long term as of June 30, 2024. See Note 3 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.If the amount of the costs recorded in these accounts continues to increase, or the delay between incurring and recovering costs lengthens, PG&E Corporation and the Utility may incur additional financing costs. If the Utility does not recover the full amount of its recorded costs, the difference between the recorded and recovered amounts would be written off as a non-cash disallowance. Such disallowances could materially affect PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.For more information, see Note 3 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1, and â€œWildfire Mitigation and Catastrophic Events Cost Recovery Applicationsâ€ and â€œWildfire and Gas Safety Costs Recovery Applicationâ€ below.25The Utilityâ€™s cost recovery proceedings for the costs described above that are pending, have pending appeals, or were completed during the six months ended June 30, 2024 are summarized in the following table:ProceedingRequest (1)Status2021 WMCERevenue requirement of approximately $1.47Â billionPartial settlement agreement to recover $721Â million of revenue requirement approved August 2023. 2022 WMCERevenue requirement of approximately $1.29Â billionFiled December 2022. Decision authorizing $516Â million of interim rate relief adopted March 2024.(1) The revenue requirement request amounts do not include interest.Wildfire Mitigation and Catastrophic Events Cost Recovery Applications2021 WMCE Application On September 16, 2021, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $1.6Â billion of recorded expenditures, resulting in a proposed revenue requirement of approximately $1.47Â billion (the â€œ2021 WMCE applicationâ€). The costs addressed in this application reflect costs related to wildfire mitigation and certain catastrophic events, as well as implementation of various customer-focused initiatives. These costs were incurred primarily in 2020.The recorded expenditures consist of $1.4Â billion in expenses and $197Â million in capital expenditures. The Utilityâ€™s requested revenue requirement includes amounts recorded to the VMBA of $592Â million, the CEMA of $535Â million, the WMBA of $149Â million, and other memorandum accounts.On August 10, 2023, the CPUC approved a settlement agreement among the Utility and intervenors pursuant to which the Utility began collecting a revenue requirement of $721Â million over 24 months beginning September 1, 2023. The settlement agreement did not address the Utilityâ€™s revenue requirement of $592Â million associated with costs recorded to the VMBA, for which cost recovery will be determined separately by the CPUC.On June 10, 2024, the CPUC extended the deadline to resolve the remaining issues in the proceeding to September 30, 2024.2022 WMCE Application On December 15, 2022, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $1.36Â billion of recorded expenditures, resulting in a proposed revenue requirement of approximately $1.29Â billion (the â€œ2022 WMCE applicationâ€). The costs addressed in this application reflect costs related to wildfire mitigation and certain catastrophic events, as well as implementation of various customer-focused initiatives. These costs were incurred primarily in 2021.The recorded expenditures consist of $1.2Â billion in expenses and $136Â million in capital expenditures. On June 8, 2023, the CPUC adopted a final decision granting the Utility interim rate relief of $1.1Â billion to be recovered over 12 months, which went into effect July 1, 2023. The remaining $224Â million will be recovered to the extent it is approved after the CPUC issues a final decision. See â€œ2022 WMCE Interim Rate Relief Subject to Refundâ€ in Note 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.On December 22, 2023, the Utility filed an unopposed joint settlement with intervenors for an additional $70Â million revenue requirement, which is incremental to the previously approved interim rate relief. If the CPUC adopts the settlement agreement, it would resolve all costs recorded to accounts other than the VMBA and the WMBA. The settlement agreement did not address the Utilityâ€™s revenue requirement request of $916Â million associated with costs recorded to the VMBA or the WMBA, for which cost recovery will be determined separately by the CPUC.On May 20, 2024, the CPUC extended the statutory deadline to resolve the remaining issues in the proceeding to December 31, 2024.262023 WMCE ApplicationOn December 1, 2023, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $2.18 billion of recorded expenditures, resulting in a proposed revenue requirement of approximately $1.86Â billion (the â€œ2023 WMCE applicationâ€). The costs addressed in this application reflect costs related to wildfire mitigation and certain catastrophic events, as well as implementation of various customer-focused initiatives. These costs were incurred primarily in 2022.The recorded expenditures consist of $1.6Â billion in expenses and $559Â million in capital expenditures. Of these amounts, approximately 15% of expense, or $239Â million, and 30% of capital expenditures, or $167Â million, relate to the Utilityâ€™s response to the 2022-2023 extreme winter storms CEMA event.In connection with the 2023 WMCE application, the Utility also requested interim rate relief of $1.46Â billion to be recovered over 12 months beginning March 1, 2024. The remaining $399Â million would be recovered after the CPUC issues a final decision. On January 29, 2024, the Utility filed a supplemental motion for interim rate relief based on an agreement with the Public Advocates Office of the CPUC. Under the supplemental motion, the Utility would recover $944Â million over 17 months, at least $500Â million of which would be recovered in 2024. Following the 17-month period, the Utility would recover the remaining $515Â million amount up to $1.46Â billion.The CPUCâ€™s procedural schedule indicates a final decision by the second quarter of 2025.Wildfire and Gas Safety Costs Recovery ApplicationOn June 15, 2023, the Utility filed a WGSC application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $2.5Â billion of recorded expenditures related to wildfire mitigation costs and gas safety and electric modernization costs.The recorded expenditures for wildfire mitigation consist of $726Â million in expenses and $1.5Â billion in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2020 to 2022. The recorded expenditures for gas safety and electric modernization consist of $120Â million in expenses and $118Â million in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2017 to 2022. If approved, the requested cost recovery would result in an aggregate revenue requirement of $688Â million. The costs addressed in the WGSC application are incremental to those previously authorized in the Utilityâ€™s 2020 GRC and other proceedings.The Utility recorded these costs to the memorandum and balancing accounts as set forth in the following table:(in millions)Recorded CostsWMPMA$2,095Â FRMMA165Â Gas storage balancing account 101Â In line inspection memorandum account 92Â Other45Â Total$2,498Â In connection with the WGSC application, the Utility also requested interim rate relief of $583Â million. The remaining $105Â million would be recovered after the CPUC issues a final decision. On March 7, 2024, the CPUC approved a final decision authorizing the Utility to recover $516Â million in interim rates to be recovered over at least 12 months starting April 1, 2024.The ALJ has adopted a schedule that would result in a proposed decision (â€œPDâ€) on the wildfire mitigation costs in the first half of 2025 and a final decision on the gas safety and electric modernization costs by June 2025.Forward-Looking Rate CasesThe Utility routinely participates in forward-looking rate case applications before the CPUC and the FERC. Those applications include GRCs, where the revenue required for general operations (â€œbase revenueâ€) of the Utility is assessed and reset. In addition, the Utility is periodically involved in â€œcost of capitalâ€ proceedings to adjust its regulated return on rate base. The Utilityâ€™s future earnings will depend on the revenue requirements authorized in such rate cases. The Utility also expects to file its SB 884 cost application with the CPUC after the OEIS approves guidelines. See â€œSB 884 10-Year Distribution Undergrounding Programâ€ below.27The Utilityâ€™s forward-looking rate cases that are pending, have pending appeals, or were completed during the three months ended June 30, 2024 are summarized in the following table:Rate CaseRequestStatus2023 GRC Phase 2: balancing account for additional energization costsFinal decision on Phase 1 issued November 2023. Appeal of FERCâ€™s order denying request for rehearing filed June 2024.2023 General Rate CasePhase 1On November 17, 2023, the CPUC issued a final decision on Phase 1, Tracks 1 and 2. For more information, see â€œRegulatory Mattersâ€ in the 2023 Form 10-K.Phase 2On September 15, 2023, the Utility served opening testimony proposing to establish a balancing account to record and recover energization costs incremental to the forecasts of the Utilityâ€™s Phase 1 2023 GRC. Energization activities include new business connections and capacity-related work to allow for the connections and reduce energization timelines. The Utility proposed to record to the balancing account actual capital expenditures for these programs, with recorded costs for a given year to be recovered through the following yearâ€™s rates and subject to reasonableness review in the 2027 GRC application. Costs recorded to the account would be subject to an annual cap. On July 16, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision that set the expenditure cap at $2.26Â billion for the period of 2024 to 2026 and provides the Utility the ability to revisit the 2025 and 2026 cap amounts under certain conditions. Cost of Capital Proceedings2023 Cost of Capital ApplicationOn December 19, 2022, the CPUC issued a final decision adopting a new cost of capital including ratemaking capital structure (i.e., the relative weightings of common equity, preferred equity, and debt for ratemaking), ROE, cost of preferred stock, and cost of debt for the Utilityâ€™s electric generation, electric distribution, natural gas distribution, and natural gas transmission and storage rate base beginning on January 1, 2023. On January 10, 2023, the CPUC issued a decision correcting certain typographical errors in the final decision. On December 14, 2023, certain intervenors filed a petition for modification requesting that the 2023 cost of capital decision be modified to, among other things, suspend application of the cost of capital adjustment mechanism pending further CPUC decision. On May 9, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision denying the petition for modification. On June 17, 2024, intervenors filed an application for rehearing of the decision denying their petition for modification. 28The 2023 cost of capital application also requested that the CPUC approve an upward adjustment above the three-month commercial paper rate for interest on the Utilityâ€™s balancing and memorandum accounts to reflect the Utilityâ€™s actual cost of short-term debt. The Utility requested that the adjustment be set on an annual basis effective January 1 of each year based on the average difference between the three-month commercial paper rate and the Utilityâ€™s actual cost of short-term debt over the preceding twelve-month period from November through October. The decision deferred consideration of the proposal and any further changes to the cost of capital adjustment mechanism to a second phase of the proceeding. The assigned ALJ has set a schedule that would fully resolve the proceeding by October 31, 2024.Cost of Capital Adjustment MechanismThe Utilityâ€™s annual cost of capital adjustment mechanism provides that in any year during the applicable cost of capital period in which the difference between (i) the average Moodyâ€™s Baa utility bond rates (as measured in the 12-month period from October of the prior year through September of the year in which the mechanism could trigger (the â€œIndexâ€)) and (ii) 4.37% (based on the 2023 cost of capital decision) exceeds 100 basis points, the Utilityâ€™s ROE will be adjusted by one-half of such difference, and the cost of debt will be trued up to the most recent recorded cost of debt. The Utility is to initiate this adjustment mechanism by filing an advice letter on or before October 15 of the year in which the mechanism is triggered, to become effective on January 1 of the next year. For the period from October 1, 2022 to September 30, 2023, the Index averaged 141 basis points above the Utilityâ€™s cost of capital benchmark rate of 4.37%, triggering the adjustment mechanism for the rest of the cost of capital period.On October 13, 2023, the Utility filed an advice letter indicating that the cost of capital adjustment mechanism had been triggered and requesting to increase the Utilityâ€™s ROE from 10.0% to 10.7% and its cost of long-term debt from 4.31% to 4.66%.On December 22, 2023, the CPUC approved the Utilityâ€™s advice letter. As a result, the Utility is authorized to collect a revenue requirement of $328Â million, based on the 2023 GRC rate base, effective January 1, 2024. Starting on January 1, 2024, the Utilityâ€™s authorized ROE increased from 10.0% to 10.7%, its authorized cost of long-term debt increased from 4.31% to 4.66%, and the benchmark has been updated to 5.78%. On January 12, 2024, several intervenors submitted a request for the CPUC to review the December 22, 2023 approval of the advice letter. On July 11, 2024, the CPUC issued a resolution confirming the approval of the advice letter. Transmission Owner Rate CasesTransmission Owner Rate Case for 2024 (the â€œTO21â€ rate case)On October 13, 2023, the Utility filed its TO21 rate case with the FERC. In the filing, the Utility forecasts a 2024 retail electric transmission revenue requirement of $2.83Â billion. The proposed amount reflects an approximately 11% decrease over the current rate year 2023 retail revenue requirement of $3.18Â billion, due in part to a refund to customers (see â€œTransmission Owner Rate Case Revenue Subject to Refundâ€ in Note 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1) and the transaction to lease entitlements associated with certain transmission assets (see â€œLiquidity and Financial Resources - Other Financingsâ€ above). The Utility made investments of approximately $1.22Â billion in 2023 and forecasts that it will make investments of approximately $1.43Â billion in 2024 for various capital projects to be placed in service before the end of 2024. The Utility has requested that FERC approve a 12.37% base ROE as well as a 0.5% adder for its participation in the CAISO. The TO21 filing also addresses the Utilityâ€™s capital structure and several new issues including wildfire self-insurance recovery from transmission customers. On December 29, 2023, the FERC issued an order accepting the TO21 filing subject to refund, establishing a January 1, 2024 effective date, and establishing a settlement and hearing process, but rejecting the 0.5% ROE adder for participation in the CAISO. On January 29, 2024, the Utility filed a request for rehearing of the FERCâ€™s rejection of the 0.5% ROE adder. On February 29, 2024, the FERC issued a notice of denial of rehearing by operation of law. FERCâ€™s denial indicated that substantive issues related to rehearing will be addressed in a future order. On April 22, 2024, the Utility filed an appeal of the FERCâ€™s order in the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. On June 12, 2024, the FERC issued an order denying the Utilityâ€™s request for rehearing. On June 18, 2024, the Utility filed an appeal of the FERCâ€™s order denying the Utilityâ€™s request for rehearing. The two appeals have been consolidated.29Other Regulatory Proceedings2020-2022 Wildfire Mitigation PlansOn February 26, 2023, the OEIS issued its final ARC for the Utilityâ€™s 2020 WMP. In the final ARC, the OEIS found that the Utility undertook significant efforts to reduce its wildfire risk and, in many instances, achieved its stated objectives and targets, but did not substantially comply with the WMP during the 2020 compliance period. On March 24, 2023, the Utility filed a writ in the California superior court seeking judicial review of the OEIS ARC on the grounds that the OEIS failed to utilize the compliance evaluation criteria adopted by the CPUC. On June 11, 2024, the Utility and the OEIS entered into a settlement agreement, pursuant to which the Utility dismissed the writ and the OEIS agreed not to recommend that the CPUC pursue an enforcement action against the Utility or impose penalties. On July 10, 2024, enforcement staff of the CPUC determined that the Utility had remediated the defects in the ARC and that no further action was required. 2023-2025 Wildfire Mitigation PlanOn March 27, 2023, the Utility submitted the 2023-2025 WMP. The 2023-2025 WMP addresses the Utilityâ€™s wildfire safety programs and initiatives focused on reducing the potential for catastrophic wildfires related to electrical equipment and reducing the customer impact of EPSS and PSPS events. On December 29, 2023, the OEIS issued a final decision approving the Utilityâ€™s 2023-2025 WMP. On February 15, 2024, the CPUC ratified the OEISâ€™s approval. On January 8, 2024, the Utility filed a change order request to reflect spend amounts approved in the 2023 GRC final decision. On May 31, 2024, the OEIS issued a decision approving in part and rejecting in part the change order request.The Utility submitted updates to the WMP for 2025 on April 2, 2024, as directed by the OEIS. The OEIS stated it will issue a decision on the 2025 WMP update by August 31, 2024.Application with Pacific Generation for Approval to Transfer Non-Nuclear Generation AssetsOn September 28, 2022, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC regarding the separation of the Utilityâ€™s non-nuclear generation assets into a newly formed, stand-alone Utility subsidiary, Pacific Generation. The application, which was filed jointly with Pacific Generation, sought to establish Pacific Generation as a separate, rate-regulated utility subject to regulation by the CPUC and contemplated the potential sale of a minority interest in Pacific Generation to one or more investors to be identified. On May 10, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision denying the application.Self-Reports to the CPUCThe Utility self-reports potential violations of certain requirements to the CPUC. The Utility could face penalties, enforcement actions, or other adverse legal or regulatory consequences for these potential violations, including under the EOEP. For more information about the EOEP, see â€œPG&E Corporation and the Utility are subject to the Enhanced Oversight and Enforcement Processâ€ in Item 1A. Risk Factors in the 2023 Form 10-K. The Utility is unable to predict the likelihood and the amount of potential fines or penalties, if any, related to these matters.Electric Asset InspectionsThe Utility has notified the CPUC of various errors relating to inspections and maintenance of its electric assets or implementation of WMP initiatives. These notices include missed inspections or the inability to locate records evidencing performance of inspections required under CPUC GOs 95 and 165 and errors regarding reporting meeting targets set by the Utilityâ€™s 2020 WMP. In these notices, the Utility describes the failures and corrective actions the Utility is taking to remediate these issues and to prevent recurrence. Among other corrective measures, the Utility has developed short-term and longer-term systemic corrective actions to address these errors, including performing enhanced inspections for poles with outdated or incomplete GO 165 inspection records and strengthening the Utilityâ€™s asset registry, as well as corrective actions regarding reporting on the progress toward WMP targets.On October 26, 2022, the Utility notified the CPUC that the Utilityâ€™s procedure for wood pole replacements did not comply with CPUC requirements for replacement of poles under certain conditions and, in some instances, the Utility failed to replace wood poles with safety factors below the required minimum. Among other short- and longer-term corrective measures, the Utility is replacing identified poles on a risk prioritized basis and revising its wood pole replacement procedures in alignment with CPUC requirements. On December 22, 2022, February 1, 2024, and July 1, 2024, the Utility submitted updates to the CPUC explaining the Utility had identified a population of wood poles that had not received intrusive inspections in accordance with GO 165â€™s deadlines due to legacy issues.30The Utility continues to evaluate whether there are additional failures to comply with GO 95 and 165, beyond those identified in submitted self-reports. The Utility intends to update the CPUC upon completion of its reviews and to address any issues it identifies.Extension of Diablo Canyon Operations On September 2, 2022, SB 846 became law. SB 846 supports the extension of operations at Diablo Canyon through no later than 2030, with the potential for an earlier retirement date. Under the legislation, the Utility would continue to operate Diablo Canyon on behalf of all CPUC-jurisdictional load serving entities (â€œLSEsâ€), and all customers of those LSEs would be responsible for the cost of extended operations.The key steps to continued operations are NRC license renewal and approvals from California state agencies, including the CPUC, California Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission, California State Lands Commission, California Coastal Commission, and other state agencies. In 2023, the Utility received approvals from the CPUC, California Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission, California State Lands Commission, and California State Water Resources Control Board.On November 7, 2023, the Utility submitted an application for license renewal with the NRC. On December 19, 2023, the NRC deemed the application sufficient, which allows continued operations at Diablo Canyon past the plantâ€™s current licenses. The NRCâ€™s schedule indicates that it will issue a final safety evaluation report and supplemental environmental impact statement by June 2025.On March 29, 2024, the Utility submitted an application for net recovery through rates of approximately $418Â million of costs associated with extended operations at Diablo Canyon for the period from 2023 through 2025. The request represents approximately $1.2Â billion of forecasted expenditures and collectible revenues authorized by SB 846, offset by forecasted market revenues of $813Â million, and incorporating certain fees for the final net recovery amount. The Utility expects to update its net recovery request in the fourth quarter of 2024, before the CPUC issues a final decision, to reflect updated market conditions and potential cost revisions.Application for Third AB 1054 Securitization Transaction AB 1054 provides that the first $5.0 billion expended in the aggregate by Californiaâ€™s three large electric IOUs on fire risk mitigation capital expenditures included in their respective approved WMPs will be excluded from their respective equity rate bases. The $5.0 billion of capital expenditures has been allocated among the large electric IOUs in accordance with their Wildfire Fund allocation metrics. The Utilityâ€™s allocation is $3.21 billion.On August 10, 2023, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC seeking authorization for a third transaction to use securitization to finance the recovery of up to $1.38Â billion of fire risk mitigation capital expenditure amounts that have been or would be incurred by the Utility from August 1, 2019 through the second quarter of 2024. The final amount to be financed using securitization would be based on actual recorded and authorized capital expenditures incurred by the Utility prior to the securitization transaction and not to exceed the remaining $1.38Â billion of the Utilityâ€™s AB 1054 allocation.The application requested that the CPUC issue a financing order authorizing one or more series of recovery bonds, determine that the issuance of the bonds and collection through fixed recovery charges is just and reasonable, consistent with the public interest, would reduce rates on a present-value basis compared to traditional utility financing mechanisms, and authorize the Utility to collect a non-bypassable charge sufficient to pay debt service on the recovery bonds.On February 16, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision approving the Utilityâ€™s application.On July 24, 2024, the Utility and PG&E Recovery Funding LLC (the â€œIssuing Entityâ€) entered into an Underwriting Agreement with Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC, Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, as representatives of the underwriters party thereto with respect to the purchase and sale of $1.42 billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds, series 2024-A, to be issued by the Issuing Entity. The issuance is expected to close in August 2024.31SB 884 10-Year Distribution Undergrounding ProgramOn March 7, 2024, the CPUC approved a resolution that establishes an expedited utility distribution infrastructure undergrounding program pursuant to Public Utilities Code Section 8388.5. The resolution addresses the process and requirements for the CPUCâ€™s review of any large electrical corporationâ€™s 10-year distribution infrastructure undergrounding plan and conditional approval of its related costs.On December 13, 2023, the OEIS issued a request for comments as part of its ongoing process to develop guidelines for its program.On May 8, 2024, the OEIS issued draft guidelines. The Utility anticipates that the OEIS will issue final guidelines in 2024.The Utility expects to submit its undergrounding plan to the OEIS after final guidelines are issued before submitting its cost application to the CPUC, as directed in Public Utilities Code Section 8388.5.ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERSThe Utilityâ€™s operations are subject to extensive federal, state, and local laws and permits relating to the protection of the environment and the safety and health of the Utilityâ€™s personnel and the public.Â These laws and requirements relate to a broad range of the Utilityâ€™s activities, including the remediation of hazardous substances; the reporting and reduction of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gas emissions; the discharge of pollutants into the air, water, and soil; the reporting of safety and reliability measures for natural gas storage facilities; and the transportation, handling, storage, and disposal of spent nuclear fuel. See â€œEnvironmental Remediation Contingenciesâ€ in Note 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1 of this quarterly report, as well as Item 1A. AND BASIS OF PRESENTATIONOrganization and Basis of PresentationPG&E Corporation is a holding company whose primary operating subsidiary is Pacific Gas and Electric Company, a public utility serving northern and central California.Â The Utility generates revenues mainly through the sale and delivery of electricity and natural gas to customers.Â The Utility is primarily regulated by the CPUC and the FERC. Â In addition, the NRC oversees the licensing, construction, operation, and decommissioning of the Utilityâ€™s nuclear generation facilities.This quarterly report on Form 10-Q is a combined report of PG&E Corporation and the Utility.Â PG&E Corporationâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of PG&E Corporation, the Utility, and other wholly owned and controlled subsidiaries. Â The Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of the Utility and its wholly owned and controlled subsidiaries. Â All intercompany transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.Â The Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements apply to both PG&E Corporation and the Utility.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility assess financial performance and allocate resources on a consolidated basis (i.e., the companies operate in one segment).The accompanying Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared in conformity with GAAP and in accordance with the interim period reporting requirements of Form 10-Q and reflect all adjustments that management believes are necessary for the fair presentation of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows for the periods presented. The information as of December 31, 2023 in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets included in this quarterly report on Form 10-Q was derived from the audited Consolidated Balance Sheets in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K. This quarterly report on Form 10-Q should be read in conjunction with the 2023 Form 10-K.The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Some of the more significant estimates and assumptions relate to the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities, wildfire-related liabilities, legal and regulatory contingencies, the Wildfire Fund, environmental remediation liabilities, asset retirement obligations, wildfire-related receivables, and pension and other post-retirement benefit plan obligations. Management believes that its estimates and assumptions reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements are appropriate and reasonable. A change in managementâ€™s estimates or assumptions could result in an adjustment that would have a material impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows during the period in which such change occurred.NOTE 2: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIESRevenue RecognitionRevenue from Contracts with CustomersThe Utility recognizes revenues when electricity and natural gas services are delivered.Â The Utility records unbilled revenues for the estimated amount of energy delivered to customers but not yet billed at the end of the period.Â Unbilled revenues are included in Accounts receivable on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.Â Rates charged to customers are based on CPUC and FERC authorized revenue requirements. Revenues can vary significantly from period to period because of seasonality, weather, and customer usage patterns.Regulatory Balancing Account RevenueThe CPUC authorizes most of the Utilityâ€™s revenues in the Utilityâ€™s GRCs, which occur everyÂ four years. CPUC and FERC rates decouple authorized revenue from the volume of electricity and natural gas sales, so the Utility receives revenue equal to the amounts authorized by the relevant regulatory agencies. As a result, the volume of electricity and natural gas sold does not have a direct impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial results. The Utility recognizes revenues that have been authorized for rate recovery, are objectively determinable and probable of recovery, and are expected to be collected within 24 months.Â Generally, electric and natural gas operating revenue is recognized ratably over the year. The Utility records a balancing account asset or liability for differences between customer billings and authorized revenue requirements that are probable of recovery or refund.47The Utility also collects additional revenue requirements to recover costs that the CPUC has authorized the Utility to pass on to customers, including costs to purchase electricity and natural gas, and to fund public purpose, demand response, and customer energy efficiency programs.Â In general, the revenue recognition criteria for pass-through costs billed to customers are met at the time the costs are incurred. The Utility records a regulatory balancing account asset or liability for differences between incurred costs and customer billings or authorized revenue meant to recover those costs, to the extent that these differences are probable of recovery or refund. As a result, these differences have no impact on net income.The following table presents the Utilityâ€™s revenues disaggregated by type of customer:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions)20242023202420230lectricRevenue from contracts with customersÂ Â Â Residential$1,516Â $1,404Â $3,315Â $2,693Â Â Â Â Commercial1,655Â 1,283Â 3,160Â 2,427Â Â Â Â Industrial441Â 375Â 854Â 728Â Â Â Â Agricultural439Â 314Â 619Â 469Â Â Â street and highway lighting27Â 20Â 52Â 39Â Â Â Â Other, net (1)798Â (121)919Â (78)Â Â Â Â Â Â Total revenue from contracts with customers - electric4,876Â 3,275Â 8,919Â 6,278Â Regulatory balancing accounts (2)(418)577Â (409)1,693Â Total electric operating revenue$4,458Â $3,852Â $8,510Â $7,971Â Natural gasRevenue from contracts with customersÂ Â Â Residential$213Â $691Â $1,730Â $2,574Â Â Â Â Commercial187Â 189Â 560Â 702Â Â Â Â Transportation service only424Â 398Â 899Â 842Â Â Â Â Other, net (1)(138)(257)(202)(410)Â Â Â Â Â Â Total revenue from contracts with customers - gas686Â 1,021Â 2,987Â 3,708Â Regulatory balancing accounts (2)842Â 417Â 350Â (180)Total natural gas operating revenue1,528Â 1,438Â 3,337Â 3,528Â Total operating revenues$5,986Â $5,290Â $11,847Â $11,499Â (1) This activity is primarily related to the change in unbilled revenue and amounts subject to refund, partially offset by other miscellaneous revenue items.(2) These amounts represent revenues authorized to be billed or refunded to customers.Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost â€“ Credit LossesPG&E Corporation and the Utility use the current expected credit loss model to estimate the expected lifetime credit loss on financial assets measured at amortized cost. PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate credit risk in their portfolio of financial assets quarterly. As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility identified the following significant categories of financial assets.Trade ReceivablesTrade receivables are represented by customer accounts. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record an allowance for doubtful accounts to recognize an estimate of expected lifetime credit losses. The allowance is determined on a collective basis based on the historical amounts written-off and an assessment of customer collectability. Furthermore, economic conditions are evaluated as part of the estimate of expected lifetime credit losses.48Expected credit losses of $65Â million and $135 million were recorded in Operating and maintenance expense on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for credit losses associated with trade and other receivables during the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, respectively. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, expected credit losses were $154 million and $293 million, respectively. The portion of expected credit losses that are deemed probable of recovery are deferred to the RUBA, CPPMA, and a FERC regulatory asset account. As of June 30, 2024, the RUBA current balancing accounts receivable balance was $98Â million, and CPPMA and FERC noncurrent regulatory asset balances were $6 million and $73Â million, respectively. As of December 31, 2023, the RUBA current balancing accounts receivable balance was $507Â million, and CPPMA and FERC noncurrent regulatory asset balances were $5Â million and $78Â million, respectively. The RUBA current balancing account balance decreased from December 31, 2023 to June 30, 2024 primarily due to the annual electric and gas true-up which allows the Utility to recover approximately $500Â million in undercollections from residential customers in 2024. Other Receivables and Available-For-Sale Debt SecuritiesInsurance receivables are related to the liability insurance policies PG&E Corporation and the Utility carry. Insurance receivable risk is related to each insurance carrierâ€™s risk of defaulting on their individual policies. Wildfire Fund receivables are the funds available from the statewide fund established under AB 1054 for payment of eligible claims related to the 2021 Dixie fire that exceed $1.0 billion and available insurance coverage. For more information, see Note 10 below. Wildfire Fund receivables risk is related to the Wildfire Fundâ€™s durability, which is a measurement of its claim-paying capacity. Lastly, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are required to determine if the fair value is below the amortized cost basis for their available-for-sale debt securities (i.e., impairment). If such an impairment exists and does not otherwise result in a write-down, then PG&E Corporation and the Utility must determine whether a portion of the impairment is a result of expected credit loss.As of June 30, 2024, expected credit losses for insurance receivables, Wildfire Fund receivables, and available-for-sale debt securities were immaterial.Government AssistanceThe Utility participated in various government assistance programs during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. The Utilityâ€™s accounting policy is to apply a grant accounting model by analogy to International Accounting Standards 20, Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance.Assembly Bill 180On June 30, 2022, AB 180 became law. AB 180 authorized the DWR to use up to $75 million to support contracts with the owners of electric generating facilities pending retirement, such as Diablo Canyon, to fund, reimburse or compensate the owner for any costs, expenses or financial commitments incurred to retain the future availability of such generating facilities pending further legislation. The resulting agreement between DWR and the Utility was effective beginning October 1, 2022, and will continue until full disbursement of funds or termination per the agreement. In the event of a termination, the Utility will take reasonable steps to end activities associated with this agreement and will return to DWR any unused funds. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the amount recorded as a reduction to Cost of electricity for income related to government grants for incurred eligible costs to purchase nuclear fuel was immaterial to the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.DWR Loan AgreementOn October 18, 2022, the DWR and the Utility executed a $1.4Â billion loan agreement to support the extension of Diablo Canyon, up to approximately $1.1Â billion of which could be repaid by funds received from the DOE (see â€œU.S. DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Programâ€ below). Under the loan agreement, the DWR pays the Utility a monthly performance-based disbursement equal to $7 for each MWh generated by Diablo Canyon, effective September 2, 2022. The Utility may use the proceeds of the performance-based disbursements for any business purpose, except as profits or dividends to shareholders or as otherwise prohibited by SB 846. The Utility began earning performance-based disbursements beginning on September 2, 2022 and is eligible to earn performance-based disbursements until the previously-approved retirement dates for Diablo Canyon Unit 1 and Unit 2 (2024 and 2025, respectively). The performance-based disbursements are contingent upon the Utilityâ€™s ongoing efforts to pursue extension of and continued safe and reliable operation of Diablo Canyon. The aggregate amount of performance-based disbursements under this agreement will not exceed $300Â million.49The Utility initially accounts for all disbursements from the DWR loan agreement pursuant to Accounting Standards Codification (â€œASCâ€) 470, Debt. When there is reasonable assurance that the Utility will have loan disbursements forgiven by the DWR, such as when the Utility earns a performance-based disbursement or when funds expected to be received from the DOE are less than incurred eligible costs to support the extension of Diablo Canyon, the Utility will recognize those forgiven loans as income related to government grants. The Utility records the income related to government grants as a deduction to expense in the same period(s) that eligible costs are incurred.The following table provides a summary of where the DWR loan activity is presented in PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions)2024202320242023Long-term debt:Beginning Balance - DWR loan outstanding$296Â $279Â $98Â $312Â Proceeds received 368Â â€”Â 600Â â€”Â Operating Expenses:Operating and maintenance expense - Performance-based disbursements(17)(19)(39)(52)Operating and maintenance expense - Loan forgiveness and other adjustments12Â â€”Â 12â€”Â Other current liabilities: Performance-based disbursements deferred (8)(15)(20)(15)Long-term debt:Ending Balance - DWR loan outstanding$651Â $245Â $651Â $245Â U.S. DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit ProgramOn January 11, 2024, the Utility and DOE entered into a Credit Award and Payment Agreement for up to $1.1Â billion related to Diablo Canyon as part of the DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Program. The Utility will use these funds to repay its loans outstanding under the DWR Loan Agreement (see â€œDWR Loan Agreementâ€ above). Final award amounts will be determined following completion of each year of the award period, and amounts awarded over a four-year award period ending in 2026 will be based on a number of factors, including actual costs incurred to extend the Diablo Canyon operations. When there is reasonable assurance that the Utility will receive funding and comply with the conditions of the DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Program, the Utility will recognize such funding as income and will record a receivable related to government grants. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income reflected $159Â million and $299 million, respectively, as a deduction to Operating and maintenance expense, for income related to government grants for incurred eligible costs to support the extension of Diablo Canyon.Variable Interest EntitiesA VIE is an entity that does not have sufficient equity at risk to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support from other parties, or whose equity investors lack any characteristics of a controlling financial interest. An enterprise that has a controlling financial interest in a VIE is a primary beneficiary and is required to consolidate the VIE.50Consolidated VIEsReceivables Securitization ProgramThe SPV was created in connection with the Receivables Securitization Program and is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the Receivables Securitization Program, the Utility sells certain of its receivables and certain related rights to payment and obligations of the Utility with respect to such receivables, and certain other related rights to the SPV, which, in turn, obtains loans secured by the receivables from financial institutions (the â€œLendersâ€). The pledged receivables and the corresponding debt are included in Accounts receivable, Accrued unbilled revenue, and Long-term debt on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.The SPV is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its activities. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of the SPV are decisions made to manage receivables. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates the SPV as it makes these decisions. No additional financial support was provided to the SPV during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the SPV had net accounts receivable of $3.5Â billion and $2.7Â billion, respectively, and outstanding borrowings of $1.5 billion, under the Receivables Securitization Program. For more information, see Note 4 below.AB 1054 SecuritizationPG&E Recovery Funding LLC is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the financing orders for the first and second AB 1054 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the non-bypassable wildfire hardening fixed recovery charges (â€œRecovery Propertyâ€) to PG&E Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued two separate series of recovery bonds secured by separate Recovery Property.PG&E Recovery Funding LLC is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its operations. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of PG&E Recovery Funding LLC are decisions made by the servicer of the Recovery Property. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates PG&E Recovery Funding LLC as it acts in this role as servicer. No additional financial support was provided to PG&E Recovery Funding LLC during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. On November 12, 2021, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC issued approximately $860Â million of senior secured recovery bonds. On November 30, 2022, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC issued approximately $983Â million of Series 2022-A senior secured recovery bonds. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC had outstanding borrowings of $1.8 billion, included in Long-term debt and Long-term debt, classified as current on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.SB 901 SecuritizationPG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the financing order for the first and second SB 901 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the non-bypassable fixed recovery charges (â€œSB 901 Recovery Propertyâ€) to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued two separate series of recovery bonds secured by separate SB 901 Recovery Property.PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its operations. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC are decisions made by the servicer of the SB 901 Recovery Property. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC as it acts in this role as servicer. No additional financial support was provided to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. On May 10, 2022, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC issued $3.6Â billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds (the â€œSeries 2022-A Recovery Bondsâ€). On July 20, 2022, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC issued $3.9Â billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds (the â€œSeries 2022-B Recovery Bondsâ€). As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC had outstanding borrowings of $7.3Â billion, included in Long-term debt and Long-term debt, classified as current on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. For more information, see Note 5 below.51Non-Consolidated VIEsPower Purchase AgreementsSome of the counterparties to the Utilityâ€™s power purchase agreements are considered VIEs.Â Each of these VIEs was designed to own a power plant that would generate electricity for sale to the Utility.Â To determine whether the Utility was the primary beneficiary of any of these VIEs as of June 30, 2024, the Utility assessed whether it absorbs any of the VIEâ€™s expected losses or receives any portion of the VIEâ€™s expected residual returns under the terms of the power purchase agreement, analyzed the variability in the VIEâ€™s gross margin, and considered whether it had any decision-making rights associated with the activities that are most significant to the VIEâ€™s performance, such as dispatch rights or operating and maintenance activities. Â The Utilityâ€™s financial obligation is limited to the amount the Utility pays for delivered electricity and capacity. The Utility did not have any decision-making rights associated with any of the activities that are most significant to the economic performance of any of these VIEs. Since the Utility was not the primary beneficiary of any of these VIEs as of June 30, 2024, it did not consolidate any of them.The Lakeside BuildingBA2 300 Lakeside LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of TMG Bay Area Investments II, LLC, and the Utility are parties to an office lease agreement for approximately 910,000 rentable square feet of space within the Lakeside Building, which serves as the Utilityâ€™s principal administrative headquarters.BA2 300 Lakeside LLC is considered a VIE because the group that holds the equity investment at risk lacks the right to receive the expected residual returns of the entity due to a fixed-price purchase option covering more than 50% of the fair value of the assets held by the entity. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of BA2 300 Lakeside LLC are decisions related to significant maintenance and remarketing of the property. The Utility is not considered the primary beneficiary and does not consolidate BA2 300 Lakeside LLC as it does not have any decision-making rights associated with these activities. The Utilityâ€™s financial obligation is limited to the issued letter of credit as well as the amounts it pays for base rent and certain costs, per the office lease agreement. For more information, see â€œOakland Headquarters Lease and Purchaseâ€ in Note 11 below.Contributions to the Wildfire Fund Established Pursuant to AB 1054PG&E Corporation and the Utility account for contributions to the Wildfire Fund by capitalizing an asset, amortizing over the life of the fund ratably based on an estimated period of coverage, and incrementally adjusting for accelerated amortization as the level of coverage declines, as further described below. However, AB 1054 did not specify a period of coverage for the Wildfire Fund; therefore, this accounting treatment is subject to significant accounting judgments and estimates. In estimating the period of coverage, PG&E Corporation and the Utility used a dataset of historical, publicly available fire-loss data caused by electrical equipment to create Monte Carlo simulations of expected loss. The number of years of historic fire-loss data and the effectiveness of mitigation efforts by the California electric utility companies are significant assumptions used to estimate the period of coverage. Other assumptions include the estimated costs to settle wildfire claims for participating electric utilities including the Utility, the CPUCâ€™s determinations of whether costs were just and reasonable in cases of electric utility-caused wildfires and amounts required to be reimbursed to the Wildfire Fund, the impacts of climate change, the FERC-allocable portion of loss recovery, and the future transmission and distribution equity rate base growth of participating electric utilities. These assumptions create a high degree of uncertainty for the estimated useful life of the Wildfire Fund.PG&E Corporation and the Utility re-evaluate the estimated period of coverage annually and as required by additional information. Changes in any of the assumptions could materially impact the estimated period of coverage. PG&E Corporation and the Utility assess the Wildfire Fund asset for acceleration of the amortization of the asset in the event that it is probable that a participating utilityâ€™s electrical equipment will be found to be the substantial cause of a catastrophic wildfire. PG&E Corporation and the Utility initially estimated a period of coverage of 15 years. In the first quarter of 2024, the annual assessment resulted in the expected life of the Wildfire Fund increasing to 20 years after incorporating 2023 loss information into the dataset with no events triggering a claim against the Wildfire Fund.52As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $193Â million in Other current liabilities, $754Â million in Other noncurrent liabilities, $305Â million in Current assets - Wildfire Fund asset, and $4.3Â billion in Noncurrent assets - Wildfire Fund asset in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. During the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Utility recorded amortization and accretion expense of $78 million and $117 million, respectively. During the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Utility recorded amortization and accretion expense of $156 million and $234 million, respectively. The amortization of the asset, accretion of the liability, and applicable acceleration of the amortization of the asset is reflected in Wildfire Fund expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $500Â million in Accounts receivable - other and $100Â million in Other noncurrent assets in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, for Wildfire Fund receivables related to the 2021 Dixie fire.For more information, see â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ in Note 10 below.Pension and Other Post-Retirement BenefitsPG&E Corporation and the Utility sponsor a non-contributory defined benefit pension plan and cash balance plan. 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280): Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, which amends the existing guidance to improve reportable segment disclosure requirements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. This ASU will become effective for PG&E Corporation and the Utility for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are currently evaluating the impact the guidance will have on their Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures.55Income TaxesIn December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, which amends the existing guidance to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. The standard requires consistent categories and greater disaggregation of information in the rate reconciliation, and income taxes paid disaggregated by jurisdiction. This ASU will become effective for PG&E Corporation and the Utility for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are currently evaluating the impact the guidance will have on their Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures.NOTE 3: REGULATORY ASSETS, LIABILITIES, AND BALANCING ACCOUNTSRegulatory AssetsNoncurrent regulatory assets are comprised of the following:Â Balance at(in millions)June 30, 2024December 31, 2023Pension benefits$330Â $348Â Environmental compliance costs1,152Â 1,218Â Price risk management166Â 160Â Catastrophic event memorandum account1,047Â 1,074Â Wildfire-related accounts2,518Â 2,915Â Deferred income taxes3,952Â 3,543Â Financing costs189Â 196Â SB 901 securitization5,230Â 5,249Â General rate case memorandum accounts693Â 1,291Â Other953Â 1,195Â Total noncurrent regulatory assets$16,230Â $17,189Â Regulatory LiabilitiesNoncurrent regulatory liabilities are comprised of the following:Â Balance at(in millions)June 30, 2024December 31, 2023Cost of removal obligations$8,527Â $8,191Â Public purpose programs1,332Â 1,238Â Employee benefit plans1,043Â 1,032Â Transmission tower wireless licenses330Â 384Â SFGO sale119Â 185Â SB 901 securitization6,457Â 6,628Â Wildfire self-insurance600Â 407Â Other1,492Â 1,379Â Total noncurrent regulatory liabilities$19,900Â $19,444Â 56Regulatory Balancing AccountsCurrent regulatory balancing accounts receivable and payable are comprised of the following:Balance at(in millions)June 30, 2024December 31, 2023Electric distribution$1,759Â $1,092Â Electric transmission95Â 99Â Gas distribution and transmission158Â 144Â Energy procurement1,554Â 1,002Â Public purpose programs270Â 137Â Wildfire-related accounts508Â 729Â Insurance premium costs37Â 227Â Residential uncollectibles balancing accounts98Â 507Â Catastrophic event memorandum account304Â 413Â General rate case memorandum accounts1,114Â 1,097Â Other801Â 213Â Total regulatory balancing accounts receivable$6,698Â $5,660Â Balance at(in millions)June 30, 2024December 31, 2023Electric transmission$130Â $200Â Gas distribution and transmission63Â 224Â Energy procurement714Â 77Â Public purpose programs498Â 299Â SFGO sale51Â 79Â Wildfire-related accounts264Â 125Â Nuclear decommissioning adjustment mechanism133Â 216Â Other298Â 449Â Total regulatory balancing accounts payable$2,151Â $1,669Â For more information, see Note 3 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.NOTE 4: DEBTCredit Facilities and Term LoansThe following table summarizes PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s outstanding borrowings and availability under their credit facilities as of June 30, 2024: (in millions)TerminationDateMaximum Facility LimitLoans OutstandingLetters of Credit OutstandingFacilityAvailabilityUtility revolving credit facilityJune 2028$4,400Â (1)$(2,450)(416)1,534Â Utility Receivables Securitization Program (2)June 20261,500Â (3)(1,500)â€”Â â€”Â (3)PG&E Corporation revolving credit facilityJune 2026500Â â€”Â â€”Â 500Â Total credit facilities$6,400Â $(3,950)$(416)$2,034Â (1) Includes a $2.0 billion letter of credit sublimit.(2) For more information on the Receivables Securitization Program, see â€œVariable Interest Entitiesâ€ in Note 2 above.(3) The amount the Utility may borrow under the Receivables Securitization Program is limited to the lesser of the facility limit and the facility availability. Further, the facility availability may vary based on the amount of accounts receivable that the Utility owns that are eligible for sale to the SPV and the portion of those accounts receivable that are sold to the SPV that are eligible for advances by the lenders under the Receivables Securitization Program.57UtilityOn April 16, 2024, the Utility amended its existing term loan agreement to combine its $400Â million 2-year tranche loan maturing April 19, 2024 and its $125Â million 364-day tranche loan maturing April 16, 2024 into a single loan of $525Â million maturing April 15, 2025. The loan bears interest based on the Utilityâ€™s election of either (1) Term SOFR (plus a 0.10% credit spread adjustment) plus an applicable margin of 1.375% or (2) the alternative base rate plus an applicable margin of 0.375%.On June 26, 2024, the Utility amended its existing receivables securitization program to, among other things, extend the scheduled termination date from June 9, 2025 to June 26, 2026. On June 28, 2024, the Utility amended its existing bridge term loan credit agreement to, among other things, (i) extend the maturity date from August 15, 2024 to December 16, 2024, and (ii) modify the mandatory prepayment provision to require the Utility to prepay term loans outstanding under such credit agreement, subject to certain exceptions, with 100% of the net cash proceeds received by the Utility from the issuance of debt securities or incurrence of any debt under any bank credit facilities (excluding the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit agreement). After giving effect to a prepayment of $100Â million on April 15, 2024, the total aggregate principal amount of term loans outstanding under such credit agreement is $2.0Â billion.Long-Term Debt Issuances and RedemptionsUtilityOn February 28, 2024, the Utility completed the sale of (i) $850Â million aggregate principal amount of 5.550% First Mortgage Bonds due 2029, (ii) $1.1Â billion aggregate principal amount of 5.800% First Mortgage Bonds due 2034 and (iii) $300Â million aggregate principal amount of 6.750% First Mortgage Bonds due 2053. The Utility used the net proceeds for the repayment of borrowings outstanding under the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit facility pursuant to the Utility Revolving Credit Agreement.Convertible NotesOn December 4, 2023, PG&E Corporation completed the sale of $2.15 billion aggregate principal amount of 4.25% Convertible Senior Secured Notes due December 1, 2027 (the â€œConvertible Notesâ€). For more information about the Convertible Notes, see Note 4 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K. As of June 30, 2024, none of the conditions allowing holders of the Convertible Notes to convert had been met.NOTE 5: SB 901 SECURITIZATION AND CUSTOMER CREDIT TRUSTPursuant to the financing order for the SB 901 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the SB 901 Recovery Property to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued the recovery bonds secured by separate fixed recovery charges and separate SB 901 Recovery Property. The fixed recovery charges are designed to recover the full scheduled principal amount of the applicable series of recovery bonds along with any associated interest and financing costs. In the context of the customer harm threshold decision, which is intended to insulate customers from the fixed recovery charge, there is a customer credit, which is designed to equal the recovery bond principal, interest, and financing costs over the life of the recovery bonds. The customer credit is funded by the customer credit trust (see Note 9 below). The fixed recovery charges and customer credits are presented on a net basis in Operating revenues in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income and had no net impact on Operating revenues in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.58Upon issuance of the Series 2022-A Recovery Bonds in May 2022 (â€œinceptionâ€), the Utility recorded a $5.5Â billion SB 901 securitization regulatory asset reflecting PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLCâ€™s right to recover $7.5 billion in wildfire claims costs associated with the 2017 Northern California wildfires, partially offset by the $2.0Â billion in required upfront shareholder contributions to the customer credit trust. Of the $2.0Â billion in required upfront shareholder contributions, $1.0 billion was contributed to the customer credit trust in 2022, $350Â million was contributed on March 28, 2024, and $650Â million is required to be contributed no later than March 31, 2025 unless certain conditions are met requiring an earlier contribution or unless otherwise ordered by the CPUC. The Utility also recorded a $5.54Â billion SB 901 securitization regulatory liability at inception, which represents certain shareholder tax benefits the Utility had previously recognized that will be returned to customers. As the Fire Victim Trust sold PG&E Corporation common stock shares it held, the SB 901 securitization regulatory liability increased accordingly. As tax benefits are monetized, contributions will be made to the customer credit trust, up to $7.59Â billion. The Utility expects to amortize the SB 901 securitization regulatory asset and liability over the life of the recovery bonds, with such amortization reflected in Operating and maintenance expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded $82Â million and $162Â million respectively, for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the three months ended June 30, 2023, the Utility recorded SB 901 securitization charges, net, of $289Â million for tax benefits realized within income tax expense related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock and $71Â million for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the six months ended June 30, 2023, the Utility recorded SB 901 securitization charges, net, of $562Â million for tax benefits realized within income tax expense related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock and $158Â million for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.The following tables illustrate the changes in the SB 901 securitizationâ€™s impact on the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities:SB 901 securitization regulatory asset(in millions)20242023Balance at January 1$5,249Â $5,378Â Amortization(19)(82)Balance at June 30$5,230Â $5,296Â SB 901 securitization regulatory liability(in millions)20242023Balance at January 1$(6,628)$(5,800)Amortization180240Additions(1)(9)(567)Balance at June 30$(6,457)$(6,127)(1) Includes $9Â million and $5 million of returns on investments in the customer credit trust expected to be credited to customers for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.NOTE 6: EQUITYDividendsUnder the Utilityâ€™s Articles of Incorporation, the Utility cannot pay common stock dividends unless all cumulative preferred dividends on the Utilityâ€™s preferred stock have been paid. Additionally, the CPUC requires the Utility to maintain a capital structure composed of at least 52% equity on average. The CPUC has granted the Utility a temporary waiver from compliance with its authorized capital structure until 2025 for the financing in place upon the Utilityâ€™s emergence from Chapter 11.Subject to the foregoing restrictions, any decision to declare and pay dividends in the future will be made at the discretion of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Boards of Directors and will depend on, among other things, results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, contractual restrictions and other factors that the Boards of Directors may deem relevant.59UtilityOn February 13, 2024, the Board of Directors of the Utility declared dividends on its outstanding series of preferred stock totaling $3.5Â million, which was paid on May 15, 2024, to holders of record as of April 30, 2024. On May 16, 2024, the Board of Directors of the Utility declared dividends on its outstanding series of preferred stock totaling $3.5Â million, payable on August 15, 2024, to holders of record as of July 31, 2024.On each of February 13 and May 16, 2024, the Board of Directors of the Utility declared common stock dividends of $450Â million and $500Â million, which were paid to PG&E Corporation on March 25 and June 3, 2024, respectively.PG&E CorporationOn each of February 13 and May 16, 2024, the Board of Directors of PG&E Corporation declared a quarterly common stock dividend of $0.01 per share, each declaration totaling $21 million, which were paid on April 15 and July 15, 2024, to holders of record as of March 28 and June 28, 2024, respectively.NOTE 7: EARNINGS PER SHARE PG&E Corporationâ€™s basic EPS is calculated by dividing the income available for common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding.Â PG&E Corporation applies the treasury stock method of reflecting the dilutive effect of outstanding share-based compensation in the calculation of diluted EPS.Â The following is a reconciliation of PG&E Corporationâ€™s income available for common shareholders and weighted average common shares outstanding for calculating diluted EPS:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions, except per share amounts)20242023202420232023Income available for common shareholders$520Â $406Â $1,252Â $975Â Weighted average common shares outstanding, basic2,137Â 2,019Â 2,136Â 2,005Â Add incremental shares from assumed conversions:Employee share-based compensation5Â 6Â 5Â 6Â Equity unitsâ€”Â 114Â â€”Â 126Â Weighted average common shares outstanding, diluted2,142Â 2,139Â 2,141Â 2,137Â Total income per common share, diluted$0.24Â $0.19Â $0.58Â $0.46Â For each of the periods presented above, the calculation of outstanding common shares on a diluted basis excluded an insignificant amount of options and securities that were antidilutive. In addition, the Convertible Notes (as defined in Note 4) issued in December 2023 did not have a material impact on the calculation of diluted EPS.NOTE 8: DERIVATIVESUse of Derivative InstrumentsThe Utility is exposed to commodity price risk as a result of its electricity and natural gas procurement activities. Procurement costs are recovered through rates. The Utility uses both derivative and non-derivative contracts to manage volatility in customer rates due to fluctuating commodity prices. Derivatives include contracts, such as power purchase agreements, forwards, futures, swaps, options, and CRRs that are traded either on an exchange or over-the-counter.Derivatives are presented in the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and recorded at fair value and on a net basis in accordance with master netting arrangements for each counterparty. The fair value of derivative instruments is further offset by cash collateral paid or received where the right of offset and the intention to offset exist.60Price risk management activities that meet the definition of derivatives are recorded at fair value on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. These instruments are not held for speculative purposes and are subject to certain regulatory requirements. The Utility expects to fully recover through rates all costs related to derivatives under the applicable ratemaking mechanism in place as long as the Utilityâ€™s price risk management activities are carried out in accordance with CPUC directives. Therefore, all unrealized gains and losses associated with the change in fair value of these derivatives are deferred and recorded within the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Net realized gains or losses on commodity derivatives are recorded in the cost of electricity or the cost of natural gas with corresponding increases or decreases to regulatory balancing accounts for recovery from or refund to customers.The Utility elects the normal purchase and sale exception for eligible derivatives. Eligible derivatives are those that require physical delivery in quantities that are expected to be used by the Utility over a reasonable period in the normal course of business and do not contain pricing provisions unrelated to the commodity delivered.Â These items are not reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets at fair value.Volume of Derivative ActivityThe volumes of the Utilityâ€™s outstanding derivatives were as follows:Â Â Contract Volume atUnderlying ProductInstrumentsJune 30, 2024December 31, 2023Natural Gas (1)Â (MMBtus (2))Forwards, futures, and swaps274,047,264Â 196,063,296Â Â Options50,622,500Â 30,695,000Â Electricity (MWh)Forwards, futures, and swaps9,989,125Â 9,169,967Â Options1,355,200Â 92,400Â Â Congestion Revenue Rights (3)147,542,438Â 170,465,674Â (1) Amounts shown are for the combined positions of the electric fuels and core gas supply portfolios.(2) Million British Thermal Units.(3) CRRs are financial instruments that enable the holders to manage variability in electric energy congestion charges due to transmission grid limitations.Presentation of Derivative Instruments in the Financial StatementsAs of June 30, 2024, the Utilityâ€™s outstanding derivative balances were as follows:Â Commodity Risk(in millions)Gross DerivativeBalanceNettingCash CollateralTotal DerivativeBalanceCurrent assets â€“ other$171Â (8)21Â $184Â Other noncurrent assets â€“ other225Â â€”Â â€”Â 225Â Current liabilities â€“ other(143)8Â 1Â (134)Noncurrent liabilities â€“ other(166)â€”Â â€”Â (166)Total commodity risk$87Â $â€”Â $22Â $109Â As of December 31, 2023, the Utilityâ€™s outstanding derivative balances were as follows:Â Commodity Risk(in millions)Gross DerivativeBalanceNettingCash CollateralTotal DerivativeBalanceCurrent assets â€“ other$134Â (8)50Â $176Â Other noncurrent assets â€“ other280Â â€”Â â€”Â 280Â Current liabilities â€“ other(172)8Â 46Â (118)Noncurrent liabilities â€“ other(160)â€”Â â€”Â (160)Total commodity risk$82Â $â€”Â $96Â $178Â Cash inflows and outflows associated with derivatives are included in operating cash flows on the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.61Some of the Utilityâ€™s derivative instruments, including power purchase agreements, contain collateral posting provisions tied to the Utilityâ€™s credit rating from each of the major credit rating agencies, also known as a credit-risk-related contingent feature. Multiple credit agencies continue to rate the Utility below investment grade, which results in the Utility posting additional collateral. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility satisfied or has otherwise addressed its obligations related to the credit-risk related contingency features.NOTE 9: FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS PG&E Corporation and the Utility measure their cash equivalents, trust assets, and price risk management instruments at fair value.Â A three-tier fair value hierarchy is established that prioritizes the inputs to valuation methodologies used to measure fair value:â€¢Level 1 â€“ Observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.â€¢Level 2 â€“ Other inputs that are directly or indirectly observable in the marketplace.â€¢Level 3 â€“ Unobservable inputs which are supported by little or no market activities.The fair value hierarchy requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.62Assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis for PG&E Corporation and the Utility are summarized below.Â Assets held in rabbi trusts are held by PG&E Corporation and not the Utility.Â Fair Value MeasurementsÂ Â At June 30, 2024(in millions)Level 1Level 2Level 3Netting (1)TotalAssets:Â Â Â Â Â Short-term investments (2)$1,235Â $â€”Â $â€”Â $1,235Â Nuclear decommissioning trustsShort-term investments38Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 38Â Global equity securities2,248Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 2,248Â Fixed-income securities1,185Â 1,015Â â€”Â â€”Â 2,200Â Assets measured at NAVâ€”Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 20Â Total nuclear decommissioning trusts (3)3,471Â 1,015Â â€”Â â€”Â 4,506Â Customer credit trust Short-term investments348Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 348Â Global equity securities49Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 49Â Fixed-income securities21Â 87Â â€”Â â€”Â 108Â Total customer credit trust418Â 87Â â€”Â â€”Â 505Â Price risk management instruments (Note 8)Â Â Â Â Â Â Electricityâ€”Â 28Â 351Â 2Â 381Â Gasâ€”Â 17Â â€”Â 11Â 28Â Total price risk management instrumentsâ€”Â 45Â 351Â 13Â 409Â Rabbi trustsÂ Â Â Â Â Short-term investments105Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 105Â Global equity securities5Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 5Â Life insurance contractsâ€”Â 66Â â€”Â â€”Â 66Â Total rabbi trusts110Â 66Â â€”Â â€”Â 176Â Long-term disability trustÂ Â Â Â Â Short-term investments5Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 5Â Assets measured at NAVâ€”Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 133Â Total long-term disability trust5Â â€”Â â€”Â â€”Â 138Â TOTAL ASSETS$5,239Â $1,213Â $351Â $13Â $6,969Â Liabilities:Â Â Â Â Â Price risk management instruments (Note 8)Â Â Â Â Â Â Electricity$â€”Â $107Â $193Â (4)296Â Gasâ€”Â 9Â â€”Â (5)4Â TOTAL LIABILITIES$â€”Â $116Â $193Â (9)300Â (1) Includes the effect of the contractual

There are no restrictions on the terms and conditions upon which the investments may be redeemed. There were no material transfers between any levels for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.64Trust AssetsAssets Measured at Fair ValueIn general, investments held in the trusts are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, credit, and market volatility risks. Nuclear decommissioning trust assets, customer credit trust assets and other trust assets are composed primarily of equity and fixed-income securities and also include short-term investments that are money market funds classified as Level 1.Global equity securities primarily include investments in common stock that are valued based on quoted prices in active markets and are classified as Level 1.Fixed-income securities are primarily composed of U.S. government and agency securities, municipal securities, and other fixed-income securities, including corporate debt securities.Â U.S. government and agency securities primarily consist of U.S. Treasury securities that are classified as Level 1 because the fair value is determined by observable market prices in active markets. A market approach is generally used to estimate the fair value of fixed-income securities classified as Level 2 using evaluated pricing data such as broker quotes, for similar securities adjusted for observable differences.Â Significant inputs used in the valuation model generally include benchmark yield curves and issuer spreads.Â The external credit ratings, coupon rate, and maturity of each security are considered in the valuation model, as applicable.Assets Measured at NAV Using Practical ExpedientInvestments in the nuclear decommissioning trusts and the long-term disability trust that are measured at fair value using the NAV per share practical expedient have not been classified in the fair value hierarchy tables above.Â The fair value amounts are included in the tables above in order to reconcile to the amounts presented in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.Â These investments include commingled funds that are composed of equity securities traded publicly on exchanges as well as fixed-income securities that are composed primarily of U.S. government securities, credit securities and asset-backed securities.Price Risk Management InstrumentsPrice risk management instruments include physical and financial derivative contracts, such as power purchase agreements, forwards, futures, swaps, options, and CRRs that are traded either on an exchange or over-the-counter.Power purchase agreements, forwards, and swaps are valued using a discounted cash flow model.Â Exchange-traded futures that are valued using observable market forward prices for the underlying commodity are classified as Level 1.Â Over-the-counter forwards and swaps that are identical to exchange-traded futures or are valued using forward prices from broker quotes that are corroborated with market data are classified as Level 2.Â Exchange-traded options are valued using observable market data and market-corroborated data and are classified as Level 2.Long-dated power purchase agreements that are valued using significant unobservable data are classified as Level 3. These Level 3 contracts are valued using either estimated basis adjustments from liquid trading points or techniques, including extrapolation from observable prices, when a contract term extends beyond a period for which market data is available.Â The Utility utilizes models to derive pricing inputs for the valuation of the Utilityâ€™s Level 3 instruments using pricing inputs from brokers and historical data.The Utility holds CRRs to hedge the financial risk of CAISO-imposed congestion charges in the day-ahead market.Â Limited market data is available in the CAISO auction and between auction dates; therefore, the Utility utilizes historical prices to forecast forward prices. CRRs are classified as Level 3.Level 3 Measurements and Uncertainty AnalysisInputs used and the fair value of Level 3 instruments are reviewed period-over-period and compared with market conditions to determine reasonableness.65Significant increases or decreases in any of those inputs would result in a significantly higher or lower fair value, respectively.Â All reasonable costs related to Level 3 instruments are expected to be recoverable through rates; therefore, there is no impact on net income resulting from changes in the fair value of these instruments.Â See Note 8 above.Â Fair ValueÂ Â Â (in millions)At June 30, 2024ValuationTechniqueUnobservableInputÂ Fair Value MeasurementAssetsLiabilitiesÂ Range (1)/Weighted-Average Price (2) Congestion revenue rights$327Â $117Â Market approachCRR auction prices$ (17,980.60) - 17,974.20 / 1.57Power purchase agreements$24Â $76Â Discounted cash flowForward prices$ 0.27 - 140.45 / 54.93(1)Â Represents price per MWh.(2) Unobservable inputs were weighted by the relative fair value of the instruments.Â Fair ValueÂ Â Â (in millions)At December 31, 2023ValuationTechniqueUnobservableInputÂ Fair Value MeasurementAssetsLiabilitiesÂ Range (1)/Weighted-Average Price (2) Congestion revenue rights$357Â $134Â Market approachCRR auction prices$ (923.72) - 16,696.90 / 1.43Power purchase agreements$47Â $79Â Discounted cash flowForward prices$ 0.86 - 189.80 / 60.03(1)Â Represents price per MWh.(2) Unobservable inputs were weighted by the relative fair value of the instruments.Level 3 ReconciliationThe following table presents the reconciliation for Level 3 price risk management instruments for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively:Â Price Risk Management Instruments(in millions)20242023Asset balance as of April 1$145Â $212Â Net realized and unrealized gains (losses):Included in regulatory assets and liabilities or balancing accounts (1)13Â (86)Asset balance as of June 30$158Â $126Â (1) The costs related to price risk management activities are recovered through rates. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record a provision for a loss contingency when they determine that it is both probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the liability can be reasonably estimated. PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate which potential liabilities are probable and the related range of reasonably estimated losses and record a charge that reflects their best estimate or the lower end of the range, if there is no better estimate.68Assessing whether a loss is probable or reasonably possible, whether the loss or a range of losses is estimable, and the amount of the best estimate or lower end of the range often requires management to exercise significant judgment about future events. Management makes these assessments based on a number of assumptions and subjective factors, including negotiations (including those during mediations with claimants), discovery, settlements and payments, rulings, advice of legal counsel, and other information and events pertaining to a particular matter, and estimates based on currently available information and prior experience with wildfires. Unless expressly noted otherwise, the loss accruals in this Note reflect the lower end of the range of the reasonably estimable range of losses. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe that it is reasonably possible that the amount of loss could be greater than the accrued estimated amounts but are unable to reasonably estimate the additional loss or the upper end of the range because, as described below, there are a number of unknown facts and legal considerations that may impact the amount of any potential liability, including the total scope and nature of claims that may be asserted against PG&E Corporation and the Utility.Loss contingencies are reviewed quarterly, and estimates are adjusted to reflect the impact of all known information. As more information becomes available, including from potential claimants as litigation or resolution efforts progress, management estimates and assumptions regarding the potential financial impacts of wildfire events may change. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s provision for loss and expense excludes anticipated legal costs, which are expensed as incurred. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows may be materially affected by the outcome of the following matters.Potential liabilities related to wildfires depend on various factors, including the cause of the fire, contributing causes of the fire (including alternative potential origins, weather- and climate-related issues, and forest management and fire suppression practices), the number, size and type of structures damaged or destroyed, the contents of such structures and other personal property damage, the number and types of trees damaged or destroyed, attorneysâ€™ fees for claimants, the nature and extent of any personal injuries, including the loss of lives, the amount of fire suppression and clean-up costs, other damages the Utility may be responsible for if found negligent, and the amount of any penalties, fines, or restitution that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities.PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of numerous civil complaints related to the following wildfire events and expect that they may receive further complaints. The complaints include claims based on multiple theories of liability, including inverse condemnation, negligence, violations of the Public Utilities Code, violations of the Health & Safety Code, premises liability, trespass, public nuisance, and private nuisance. The plaintiffs in each action principally assert that PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s alleged failure to properly maintain, inspect, and de-energize their power lines was the cause of the relevant wildfire. The timing and outcome for resolution of any such claims or investigations are uncertain. The Utility believes it will continue to receive additional information from potential claimants in connection with these wildfire events as litigation or resolution efforts progress. Any such additional information may potentially allow PG&E Corporation and the Utility to refine the estimates of their accrued losses and may result in changes to the accrual depending on the information received. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to vigorously defend themselves against both criminal charges and civil complaints.If the Utilityâ€™s facilities, such as its electric distribution and transmission lines, are judicially determined to be the substantial cause of the following matters, and the doctrine of inverse condemnation applies, the Utility could be liable for property damage, business interruption, interest, and attorneysâ€™ fees without having been found negligent. California courts have imposed liability under the doctrine of inverse condemnation in legal actions brought by property holders against utilities on the grounds that losses borne by the person whose property was damaged through a public use undertaking should be spread across the community that benefited from such undertaking, and based on the assumption that utilities have the ability to recover these costs through rates. Further, California courts have determined that the doctrine of inverse condemnation is applicable regardless of whether the CPUC ultimately allows recovery by the utility for any such costs. The CPUC may decide not to authorize cost recovery even if a court decision were to determine that the Utility is liable as a result of the application of the doctrine of inverse condemnation. In addition to claims for property damage, business interruption, interest, and attorneysâ€™ fees under inverse condemnation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility could be liable for fire suppression costs, evacuation costs, medical expenses, personal injury damages, punitive damages and other damages under other theories of liability in connection with the following wildfire events, including if PG&E Corporation or the Utility were found to have been negligent.69If the liability for wildfires were to exceed $1.0Â billion in the aggregate in any Coverage Year, the Utility may be eligible to make a claim to the Wildfire Fund under AB 1054 to satisfy settled or finally adjudicated eligible claims in excess of such amount, except that claims related to the 2019 Kincade fire would be subject to the 40% limitation on the allowed amount of claims arising before emergence from bankruptcy. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to continue to review the available information and other information as it becomes available, including evidence in the possession of Cal Fire, USFS, or the relevant district attorneyâ€™s office, evidence from or held by other parties, claims that have not yet been submitted, and additional information about the nature and extent of personal and business property damages and losses, the nature, number and severity of personal injuries, and information made available through the discovery process.The following table presents the cumulative amounts PG&E Corporation and the Utility have paid through June 30, 2024.Payments (in millions)2019 Kincade Fire$834Â 2021 Dixie Fire1,044Â 2022 Mosquito Fire15Â Total at June 30, 2024$1,893Â 2019 Kincade FireAccording to Cal Fire, on October 23, 2019 at approximately 9:27 p.m. Pacific Time, a wildfire began northeast of Geyserville in Sonoma County, California (the â€œ2019 Kincade fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. According to a Cal Fire incident update dated March 3, 2020, 3:35 p.m. Pacific Time, the 2019 Kincade fire consumed 77,758 acres and resulted in no fatalities, four first responder injuries, 374 structures destroyed, and 60 structures damaged. In connection with the 2019 Kincade fire, state and local officials issued numerous mandatory evacuation orders and evacuation warnings. Based on County of Sonoma information, PG&E Corporation and the Utility understand that the geographic zones subject to either a mandatory evacuation order or an evacuation warning between October 23, 2019 and November 4, 2019 included approximately 200,000 persons.On July 16, 2020, Cal Fire issued a press release with its determination that the Utilityâ€™s equipment caused the 2019 Kincade fire.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately 132 complaints on behalf of at least 2,907 plaintiffs related to the 2019 Kincade fire. The plaintiffs filed master complaints on July 16, 2021; PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s response was filed on August 16, 2021; and PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed a demurrer with respect to the plaintiffsâ€™ inverse condemnation claims. On December 10, 2021, the court overruled the demurrer. On July 20, 2022, PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed a motion for summary adjudication on individual plaintiffsâ€™ claims for punitive damages. On July 14, 2024 the court vacated the bellwether trial date that had been scheduled for August 26, 2024, as well as the hearing on the motion for summary adjudication. The court has also scheduled a damages-only trial for a single claim for

February 3, 2025. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also aware of a complaint on behalf of Geysers Power Company, Calpine Corporation, and CPN Insurance Corporation.In addition, on January 5, 2022, Cal Fire filed a complaint against the Utility in the coordinated proceeding seeking to recover approximately $90Â million for fire suppression and other costs incurred in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire. The Utility filed an answer to Cal Fireâ€™s complaint on February 4, 2022. On August 8, 2023, PG&E Corporation and the Utility entered into an agreement with Cal Fire to resolve its claims arising from the 2019 Kincade fire. On January 24, 2024, Cal Fire filed a request to dismiss its complaint with prejudice in the coordinated proceeding, which the court entered.On October 11, 2022, the Utility entered into a tolling agreement with the California Governorâ€™s Office of Emergency Services (â€œCal OESâ€), which remains in effect.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including Cal Fireâ€™s determination of the cause and the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including their experience with settlements, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $1.125Â billion as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.70PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses of $1.125Â billion do not include, among other things: (i) any punitive damages, (ii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies other than state fire suppression costs, or (iii) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2019 Kincade fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$458Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Payments(167)Balance at June 30, 2024$291Â The Utility has liability insurance coverage for third-party liability attributable to the 2019 Kincade fire in an aggregate amount of $430 million, which was fully collected as of December 31, 2023.2021 Dixie FireAccording to the Cal Fire Investigation Report on the 2021 Dixie fire (the â€œCal Fire Investigation Reportâ€), on July 13, 2021, at approximately 5:07 p.m. Pacific Time, a wildfire began in the Feather River Canyon near Cresta Dam (the â€œ2021 Dixie fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. According to the Cal Fire Investigation Report, the 2021 Dixie fire consumed 963,309 acres and resulted in 1,311 structures destroyed and 94 structures damaged (including 763 residential homes, 12 multi-family homes, 8 commercial residential homes, 148 nonresidential commercial structures, and 466 detached structures), and four first-responder injuries. The Cal Fire Investigation Report does not attribute a fatality that was previously published in an October 25, 2021 Cal Fire incident report to the 2021 Dixie fire.On January 4, 2022, Cal Fire issued a press release with its determination that the 2021 Dixie fire was caused by a tree contacting electrical distribution lines owned and operated by the Utility. On June 7, 2022, the Utility received a copy of the Cal Fire Investigation Report, which states that the fire ignited when a tree fell and contacted electrical distribution lines owned and operated by the Utility, and the Cal Fire Investigation Report has been made publicly available. The Cal Fire Investigation Report alleges that the Utility acted negligently in its response to the initial outage and fault that caused the 2021 Dixie fire. The Cal Fire Investigation Report also alleges that the subject tree had visible outward signs of damage and decay which would have been noticeable at the ground level, and that a brief visual inspection should have discovered the decay. Based on the information currently available to the Utility, through its ongoing investigation, including its inspection records, operating and inspection protocols and procedures, implementation of those protocols and procedures, and day-of-event response, the Utility believes its personnel acted reasonably (within the meaning of the applicable prudency standard discussed under â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below) given the information available at the time and followed applicable policies and protocols both before ignition and in the day-of-event response. While an intervenor in a future cost recovery proceeding may argue the Cal Fire Investigation Report itself creates serious doubt with respect to the reasonableness of the Utilityâ€™s conduct, PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe the report identifies sufficient facts to shift the burden of proof applicable in a proceeding for cost recovery to the Utility. (See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ and â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below.) PG&E Corporation and the Utility disagree with many allegations in the Cal Fire Investigation Report and plan to vigorously contest them. However, if the CPUC or the FERC were to reach conclusions similar to those of the Cal Fire Investigation Report, it may determine that the Utility had been imprudent, in which case some or all of its costs recorded to the WEMA would not be recoverable, the Utility would not be able to recover costs through FERC TO rates, or the Utility would be required to reimburse the Wildfire Fund for the costs and expenses that are allocated to it.71On October 9, 2023, the SED submitted for adoption by the CPUC a draft resolution approving an Administrative Consent Order and Agreement between the SED and the Utility (the â€œDixie ACOâ€). The Dixie ACO would resolve the SEDâ€™s investigation into the 2021 Dixie fire. The Dixie ACO provides that the Utility would (i) pay $2.5Â million to Californiaâ€™s General Fund; (ii) pay $2.5Â million to tribes impacted by the 2021 Dixie fire; (iii) and undertake an initiative to transition to electronic records for specified patrols and inspections of distribution facilities, at an approximate cost of $40Â million over five years, and the Utility may not seek recovery of such costs. The SED agreed to refrain from instituting any further enforcement proceedings against the Utility related to the 2021 Dixie fire. The Dixie ACO states that it does not constitute an admission or evidence of any wrongdoing, fault, omission, negligence, imprudence, or liability on the part of the Utility. The Dixie ACO also states that the parties to it intend that it shall not affect whether the Utility may obtain recovery of costs and expenses incurred in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire, including for amounts drawn from the Wildfire Fund or otherwise sought through a cost recovery application to the CPUC. On February 2, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision approving the Dixie ACO. In connection with the Dixie ACO, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability of $5Â million reflected in Other current liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements as of June 30, 2024. For the recordkeeping initiative costs for which the Utility will not seek recovery, the Utility expects to record disallowances as such costs are incurred.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately 172 complaints on behalf of at least 8,519 individual plaintiffs and a separate putative class complaint related to the 2021 Dixie fire and expect that they may receive further complaints. The plaintiffs seek damages that include wrongful death, property damage, economic loss, medical monitoring, punitive damages, exemplary damages, attorneysâ€™ fees and other damages. On March 15, 2024, the court scheduled a new trial date for October 14, 2024. The court also set a subsequent trial date for February 24, 2025. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also aware of a complaint on behalf of the Collins Pine Company and a group of timber companies.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including Cal Fireâ€™s determination of the cause and the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including their experience to date in settling the claims of individual plaintiffs, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $1.6Â billion as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses of $1.6Â billion do not include, among other things: (i) any amounts for potential penalties or fines that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities on PG&E Corporation or the Utility, (ii) any punitive damages, (iii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies including for state or federal fire suppression costs and damages related to federal land, (iv) medical monitoring costs, or (v) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.As noted above, the aggregate estimated liability for claims in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire does not include potential claims for fire suppression costs from federal, state, county, or local agencies or damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests. As to these damages, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have not concluded that a loss is probable. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to reasonably estimate the range of possible losses for any such claims due to, among other factors, incomplete information as to facts pertinent to potential claims and defenses, as well as facts that would bear on the amount, type, and valuation of vegetation loss, potential reforestation, habitat loss, and other resources damaged or destroyed by the 2021 Dixie fire. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe, however, that such losses could be significant with respect to fire suppression costs due to the size and duration of the 2021 Dixie fire and corresponding magnitude of fire suppression resources dedicated to fighting the 2021 Dixie fire and with respect to claims for damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests due to the very large number of acres of national parks and national forests that were affected by the 2021 Dixie fire. According to the Cal Fire Investigation Report, over $650 million of costs had been incurred in suppressing the 2021 Dixie fire. The Utility estimates that the fire burned approximately 70,000 acres of national parks and approximately 685,000 acres of national forests.72The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2021 Dixie fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$870Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Payments(313)Balance at June 30, 2024$557Â As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded an insurance receivable of $525 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire.As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded a Wildfire Fund receivable of $600 million for probable recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire. AB 1054 provides that the CPUC may allocate costs and expenses in the application for cost recovery in full or in part taking into account factors both within and beyond the utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, including humidity, temperature, and winds. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe that, even if it found that the Utility acted unreasonably, the CPUC would nevertheless authorize recovery in part. See â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility also recorded a $93 million reduction to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and a $494 million regulatory asset for costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the WEMA. See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below. Decreases in the amount of the insurance receivable for the 2021 Dixie fire may also increase the amount that is probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and the WEMA.2022 Mosquito FireOn September 6, 2022, at approximately 6:17 p.m. Pacific Time, the Utility was notified that a wildfire had ignited near Oxbow Reservoir in Placer County, California (the â€œ2022 Mosquito fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. The National Wildfire Coordinating Groupâ€™s InciWeb incident overview dated November 4, 2022 at 6:30 p.m. Pacific Time indicated that the 2022 Mosquito fire had consumed approximately 76,788 acres at that time. It also indicated no fatalities, no injuries, 78 structures destroyed, and 13 structures damaged (including 44 residential homes and 40 detached structures) and that the fire was 100% contained.The USFS has indicated to the Utility an initial assessment that the fire started in the area of the Utilityâ€™s power line on National Forest System lands and that the USFS is conducting a criminal investigation into the 2022 Mosquito fire. On September 24, 2022, the USFS removed and took possession of one of the Utilityâ€™s transmission poles and attached equipment. The USFS has not issued a determination as to the cause.The cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire remains under investigation by the USFS and the United States Department of Justice, and PG&E Corporation and the Utility are cooperating with the investigation. It is uncertain when any such investigations will be complete. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also conducting their own investigation into the cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire. This investigation is ongoing.The CPUC is investigating the 2022 Mosquito fire, and other entities may also be investigating. It is uncertain when any such investigations will be complete.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately eight complaints on behalf of at least 329 individual plaintiffs related to the 2022 Mosquito fire and expect that they may receive further complaints. PG&E Corporation and the Utility also are aware of a complaint on behalf of the PCWA, a complaint on behalf of the Middle Fork Project Finance Authority, a complaint on behalf of El Dorado County, Placer County, Georgetown Divide Public Utility District, Georgetown Fire Protection District, and El Dorado County Water Agency. The plaintiffs seek damages that include property damage, economic loss, punitive damages, exemplary damages, attorneysâ€™ fees and other damages. On April 24, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed cross-complaints against PCWA, alleging that conduct by PCWA was a substantial cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire. The cross-complaints seek property damages, indemnification, attorneysâ€™ fees, and other damages.73Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this report, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $100 million as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses do not include, among other things: (i) any amounts for potential penalties or fines that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities on PG&E Corporation or the Utility, (ii) any punitive damages, (iii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies including for state or federal fire suppression costs and damages related to federal land, or (iv) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.As noted above, the aggregate estimated liability for claims in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire does not include potential claims for fire suppression costs from federal, state, county, or local agencies or damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests. As to these damages, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have not concluded that a loss is probable. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to reasonably estimate the range of possible losses for any such claims due to, among other factors, incomplete information as to facts pertinent to potential claims and defenses, as well as facts that would bear on the amount, type, and valuation of vegetation loss, potential reforestation, habitat loss, and other resources damaged or destroyed by the 2022 Mosquito fire.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2022 Mosquito fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$85Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Paymentsâ€”Â Balance at June 30, 2024$85Â As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded an insurance receivable of $83 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire, including legal fees. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility also recorded a $7 million reduction to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and a $53 million regulatory asset for costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the WEMA. See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below.Loss RecoveriesPG&E Corporation and the Utility have recovery mechanisms available for wildfire liabilities including from insurance, customers, and the Wildfire Fund. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record a receivable for a recovery when it is deemed probable that recovery of a recorded loss will occur, and the Utility can reasonably estimate the amount or its range. While the Utility plans to seek recovery of all insured losses, it is unable to predict the ultimate amount and timing of such recoveries. For more information on the applicable facts and circumstances of the corresponding wildfires, see â€œ2019 Kincade Fire,â€ â€œ2021 Dixie Fire,â€ and â€œ2022 Mosquito Fire.â€Total probable recoveries for the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire as of June 30, 2024 are:Potential Recovery Source (in millions)2021 Dixie fire2022 Mosquito fireInsurance$525Â $83Â FERC TO rates93Â 7Â WEMA494Â 53Â Wildfire Fund600Â â€”Â Probable recoveries at June 30, 2024 (1)$1,712Â $143Â (1) Includes legal costs of $106Â million and $43Â million related to the 2021 Dixie fire and 2022 Mosquito fire, respectively, as of June 30, 2024.The Utility could be subject to significant liability in connection with these wildfire events. If such liability is not recoverable from insurance or the other mechanisms described in this section, it could have a material impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.74InsuranceSelf-InsuranceSince August 2023, the Utilityâ€™s wildfire liability insurance for amounts up to $1.0Â billion has been entirely based on self-insurance and will remain as such through at least 2026. The self-insurance program includes a 5% deductible, capped at a maximum of $50Â million, on claims that are incurred each year.Insurance ReceivableThrough June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $525 million and $83 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, respectively. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to seek full recovery for all insured losses.The balances for insurance receivables with respect to wildfires are included in Other accounts receivable in PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets:Insurance Receivable (in millions)2021 Dixie fire2022 Mosquito fireTotalBalance at December 31, 2023$326Â $63Â $389Â Accrued insurance recoveries(1)21Â 20Â Reimbursements(211)â€”Â (211)Balance at June 30, 2024$114Â $84Â $198Â Regulatory RecoverySection 451.1 of the Public Utilities Code provides that when determining an application to recover costs and expenses arising from a covered wildfire, the CPUC shall allow cost recovery if the costs and expenses are just and reasonable (i.e., the â€œprudency standardâ€). AB 1054 states that a utility with a valid safety certification for the time period in which a covered wildfire ignited â€œshall be deemed to have been reasonableâ€ unless â€œa party to the proceeding creates a serious doubt as to the reasonableness of the [Utilityâ€™s] conduct,â€ in which case the burden shifts to the utility to prove its conduct was reasonable. The Utility had a valid safety certification at the time of the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, so any analysis of cost recovery starts with this reasonableness presumption. AB 1054 also allows the CPUC to allocate costs and expenses â€œin full or in part taking into account factors both within and beyond the Utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, including humidity, temperature, and winds.â€The Utilityâ€™s recorded receivables under the WEMA and with respect to the Wildfire Fund take into account this revised prudency standard and the presumption of reasonableness of the Utilityâ€™s conduct, based on the Utilityâ€™s interpretation of AB 1054 and the information currently available to the Utility. Although the concept of â€œserious doubtâ€ has been applied in other regulatory proceedings, such as FERC proceedings, the revised prudency standard under AB 1054 has not been interpreted or applied by the CPUC and it is possible that the CPUC could interpret or apply the standard differently, in which case the Utility may not be able to recover all or a portion of expenses that it has recorded as a receivable.FERC TO RatesThe Utility recognizes income and reduces its regulatory liability for potential refund through future FERC TO formula rates for a portion of the third-party wildfire-related claims in excess of insurance coverage. The FERC presumes that a utilityâ€™s expenditures are prudent and permits cost recovery unless a party raises a serious doubt regarding the prudency of such costs. The allocation to transmission customers was based on a FERC-approved allocation factor as determined in the formula rate. Based on information currently available to the Utility regarding the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, as of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded reductions of $93 million and $7 million, respectively, to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate.75WEMAThe WEMA provides for tracking of incremental wildfire claims, outside legal costs, and insurance premiums above those authorized in rates. With respect to wildfire claims and outside legal costs, the Utility expects that the same prudency standard as applies to the Wildfire Fund would also be applied in any CPUC review of an application filed by the Utility seeking recovery of such costs recorded to the WEMA. See â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below. As of June 30, 2024, based on information currently available to the Utility, incremental wildfire claims-related costs for the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire were determined to be probable of recovery and the Utility recorded $494 million and $53 million, respectively, as regulatory assets in the WEMA.Wildfire Fund under AB 1054On July 12, 2019, AB 1054 became law. The law provides for the establishment of a statewide fund that will be available for eligible electric utility companies to pay eligible claims for liabilities arising from wildfires occurring after July 12, 2019 that are caused by the applicable electric utility companyâ€™s equipment, subject to the terms and conditions of AB 1054. Each of Californiaâ€™s large electric IOUs has elected to participate in the Wildfire Fund. Eligible claims are claims for third-party damages resulting from any such wildfires, limited to the portion of such claims that exceeds the greater of (i) $1.0Â billion in the aggregate in any Coverage Year and (ii) the amount of insurance coverage required to be in place for the electric utility company pursuant to Section 3293 of the Public Utilities Code, added by AB 1054. The accrued Wildfire Fund receivable as of June 30, 2024 reflects an expectation that the Coverage Year will be based on the calendar year.Electric utility companies that draw from the Wildfire Fund will only be required to reimburse amounts that are determined by the CPUC in a proceeding for cost recovery not to be just and reasonable, applying the prudency standard in AB 1054 and after allocating costs and expenses for cost recovery based on relevant factors both within and outside of a utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, subject to a disallowance cap equal to 20% of the IOUâ€™s transmission and distribution equity rate base. For the Utility, the disallowance cap would be approximately $4.1Â billion based on its 2024 equity rate base, which is subject to adjustment based on changes in the Utilityâ€™s electric transmission and distribution equity rate base and would apply for a three calendar-year period. The disallowance cap is inapplicable in certain circumstances, including if the Wildfire Fund administrator determines that the electric utility companyâ€™s actions or inactions that resulted in the applicable wildfire constituted â€œconscious or willful disregard for the rights and safety of others,â€ or the electric utility company failed to maintain a valid safety certification. Costs that the CPUC determines to be just and reasonable in accordance with the prudency standard in AB 1054 will not be reimbursed to the Wildfire Fund, resulting in a draw-down of the Wildfire Fund.Before the expiration of any current safety certification, the Utility must request a new safety certification from the OEIS, which the Utility expects to be issued within 90 days if the Utility has provided documentation that it has satisfied the requirements for the safety certification pursuant to Section 8389(e) of the Public Utilities Code, added by AB 1054. An issued safety certification is valid for 12 months or until a timely request for a new safety certification is acted upon, whichever occurs later. The safety certification is separate from the CPUCâ€™s enforcement authority and does not preclude the CPUC from pursuing remedies for safety or other applicable violations. On January 22, 2024, the OEIS approved the Utilityâ€™s 2023 application and issued the Utilityâ€™s 2023 safety certification.The Wildfire Fund and disallowance cap will be terminated when the amounts therein are exhausted. The Wildfire Fund is expected to be capitalized with (i) $10.5Â billion collected through a 15-year extension of the DWR charge to customers, (ii) $7.5Â billion in initial contributions from Californiaâ€™s three large electric IOUs and (iii)Â $300Â million in annual contributions paid by the participating electric IOUs for a 10-year period.The Wildfire Fund will only be available for payment of eligible claims so long as there are sufficient funds remaining in the Wildfire Fund. Such funds could be depleted more quickly than expected, including as a result of claims made by Californiaâ€™s other participating electric utility companies. The Wildfire Fund is available to pay for the Utilityâ€™s eligible claims arising as of July 12, 2019, the effective date of AB 1054, subject to a limit of 40% of the allowed amount of such claims arising between the effective date of AB 1054 and the Utilityâ€™s emergence from Chapter 11. The 40% limit does not apply to eligible claims that arise after the Utilityâ€™s emergence from Chapter 11. AB 1054 authorizes the reimbursement of funds where a participating utility has demonstrated that it exercised reasonable business judgment in the valuation and payment of third-party claims.As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $500Â million and $100Â million in Accounts receivable - other and Other noncurrent assets, respectively, for Wildfire Fund receivables related to the 2021 Dixie fire.For more information, see Note 2 above.76Wildfire-Related Securities LitigationAs further described under the headings â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims in District Courtâ€ and â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Process,â€ PG&E Corporation and the Utility face certain wildfire-related securities claims related to the 2017 Northern California wildfires and other claims related to the 2018 Camp fire in the Chapter 11 Cases (i.e., the Subordinated Claims), and certain former directors, current and former officers, and underwriters of certain note offerings face wildfire-related securities claims in the District Court action. The claims described under the heading â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims in District Courtâ€ are referred to as the â€œWildfire-Related Non-Bankruptcy Securities Claimsâ€ and collectively with the claims described under the heading â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Processâ€ are referred to in this section as the â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims.â€Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, PG&E Corporation believes it is probable that it will incur a loss in connection with these matters. PG&E Corporation has recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $300Â million, which represents its best estimate of probable losses for the Wildfire-Related Securities Claims. PG&E Corporation believes that it is reasonably possible that the amount of loss could be greater or less than the accrued estimated amount due to the number of plaintiffs and the complexity of the litigation, and because a class settlement, if any, would be subject to, among other things, approval by the Bankruptcy Court and the District Court, and class members would have the right to opt out of any such settlement.Wildfire-Related Securities Claims in District CourtIn June 2018, two purported securities class actions were filed in the District Court, naming PG&E Corporation and certain of its then-current and former officers as defendants, entitled David C. Weston v. PG&E Corporation, et al. and Jon Paul Moretti v. PG&E Corporation, et al., respectively. The complaints alleged material misrepresentations and omissions in various PG&E Corporation public disclosures related to, among other things, vegetation management and other issues connected to the 2017 Northern California wildfires. The complaints asserted claims under Section 10(b) and Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder, and sought unspecified monetary relief, interest, attorneysâ€™ fees and other costs. Both complaints identified a proposed class period of April 29, 2015 to June 8, 2018. On September 10, 2018, the court consolidated both cases, and the litigation is now denominated In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, Case No. 18-03509. The court also appointed PERA as lead plaintiff. PERA filed a consolidated amended complaint on November 9, 2018. On December 14, 2018, PERA filed a second amended consolidated complaint to add allegations regarding the 2018 Camp fire, including allegations regarding transmission line safety and the PSPS program.Due to the commencement of the Chapter 11 Cases, the proceedings were automatically stayed as to PG&E Corporation and the Utility.On February 22, 2019, a third purported securities class action was filed in the District Court, entitled York County on behalf of the York County Retirement Fund, et al. v. Rambo, et al. (the â€œYork County Actionâ€). The complaint named as defendants certain then-current and former officers and directors, as well as the underwriters of four public offerings of notes from 2016 to 2018. Neither PG&E Corporation nor the Utility was named as a defendant. The complaint asserted claims under Section 11 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, based on alleged material misrepresentations and omissions in connection with the note offerings related to, among other things, PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s vegetation management and wildfire safety measures. On May 7, 2019, the York County Action was consolidated with In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation.On May 28, 2019, the plaintiffs in the consolidated securities actions filed a third amended consolidated class action complaint, which includes the claims asserted in the previously filed actions and names as defendants PG&E Corporation, the Utility, certain current and former officers and former directors, and the underwriters. On August 28, 2019, the Bankruptcy Court denied PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s request to extend the stay to the claims against the officer, director, and underwriter defendants. On October 4, 2019, the officer, director, and underwriter defendants filed motions to dismiss the third amended complaint, which motions are under submission with the District Court. On September 30, 2022, the District Court issued an order staying the action pending resolution of the bankruptcy proceedings. On October 31, 2022, PERA filed a notice of appeal of the District Courtâ€™s order staying the action.On March 21, 2023, another group of shareholders filed a separate action in the District Court against certain former officers and directors, entitled Orbis Capital Limited et al., v. Williams et al., alleging similar claims to those alleged in In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation. The parties stipulated to a stay, and on May 16, 2023, the District Court entered an order staying the Orbis action pursuant to all of the same terms and conditions in the District Courtâ€™s September 30, 2022 order staying the In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation action.77On May 3, 2024, the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit issued an opinion vacating the stay in the In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation action, and remanding the case to the District Court with instructions for the District Court to weigh all the relevant interests in determining whether a stay is appropriate. The District Court has set a status conference for August 27, 2024, regarding mediation and a potential schedule for further briefing on the pending motions to dismiss.Wildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court ProcessPG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to resolve securities claims filed in the bankruptcy consistent with the Plan. These claims consist of pre-petition claims against PG&E Corporation or the Utility under the federal securities laws related to, among other things, allegedly misleading statements or omissions with respect to vegetation management and wildfire safety disclosures, and are classified into separate categories under the Plan, each of which is subject to subordination under the United States Bankruptcy Code. The first category of claims consists of pre-petition claims arising from or related to the trading of common stock of PG&E Corporation (such claims, with certain other similar claims against PG&E Corporation, the â€œHoldCo Rescission or Damage Claimsâ€). The second category of pre-petition claims, which comprises two separate classes under the Plan, consists of claims arising from the trading of debt securities issued by PG&E Corporation and the Utility (such claims, with certain other similar claims against PG&E Corporation and the Utility, the â€œSubordinated Debt Claims,â€ and together with the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, the â€œSubordinated Claimsâ€).While PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe they have defenses to the Subordinated Claims, these defenses may not prevail and proceeds from any insurance may not be adequate to cover the full amount of the allowed claims. In that case, PG&E Corporation and the Utility will be required, pursuant to the Plan, to satisfy any such allowed claims as follows:â€¢each holder of an allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim will receive a number of shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation equal to such holderâ€™s HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share (as such term is defined in the Plan); andâ€¢each holder of an allowed Subordinated Debt Claim will receive payment in full in cash.PG&E Corporation and the Utility have engaged in settlement efforts with respect to the Subordinated Claims. All such settlements have been conditioned upon, among other things, resolution of that claimantâ€™s Wildfire-Related Non-Bankruptcy Securities Claims. If any of the Subordinated Claims are ultimately not settled, PG&E Corporation and the Utility expect that those Subordinated Claims will be resolved by the Bankruptcy Court in the claims reconciliation process and treated as described above under the Plan. Under the Plan, after the Emergence Date, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have the authority to compromise, settle, object to, or otherwise resolve proofs of claim, and the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear disputes arising in connection with disputed claims. With respect to the Subordinated Claims, the claims reconciliation process may include litigation of the merits of such claims, including the filing of motions, fact discovery, and expert discovery. The total number and amount of allowed Subordinated Claims, if any, was not determined at the Emergence Date. To the extent any such claims are allowed, the total amount of such claims could be material, and therefore could result in (a) the issuance of a material number of shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation with respect to allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, or (b) the payment of a material amount of cash with respect to allowed Subordinated Debt Claims. Such claims could have a material adverse impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.Further, if shares are issued in respect of allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, it may be determined that, under the Plan, the Fire Victim Trust should receive additional shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation such that it would have owned 22.19% of the outstanding common stock of reorganized PG&E Corporation on the Emergence Date, assuming that such issuance of shares in satisfaction of the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims had occurred on the Emergence Date.On January 25, 2021, the Bankruptcy Court issued an order to approve procedures to help facilitate the resolution of the Subordinated Claims. The order, among other things, established procedures allowing PG&E Corporation and the Utility to collect trading information with respect to the Subordinated Claims, to engage in an alternative dispute resolution process for resolving disputed Subordinated Claims, and to file certain omnibus claim objections with respect to the Subordinated Claims.78PG&E Corporation and the Utility have worked to resolve the Subordinated Claims in accordance with procedures approved by the Bankruptcy Court, including by collecting trading information from holders of Subordinated Claims. Also, pursuant to those procedures, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have filed numerous omnibus objections in the Bankruptcy Court to certain of the Subordinated Claims. The Bankruptcy Court has entered several orders disallowing and expunging Subordinated Claims that were subject to these omnibus objections, and certain Subordinated Claims subject to these omnibus objections remain pending. PG&E Corporation and the Utility expect to continue to prosecute omnibus objections with respect to certain of the Subordinated Claims and act under the procedures approved by the Bankruptcy Court to resolve the Subordinated Claims.Indemnification ObligationsTo the extent permitted by law, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have obligations to indemnify directors and officers for certain events or occurrences while a director or officer is or was serving in such capacity, which indemnification obligations may extend to the claims asserted against certain directors and officers in the securities class actions.PG&E Corporation and the Utility additionally may have indemnification obligations to the underwriters for the Utilityâ€™s note offerings, pursuant to the underwriting agreements associated with those offerings. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s indemnification obligations to the officers, directors and underwriters may be limited or affected by the Chapter 11 Cases, among other things.Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office Investigation into the 2018 Camp FireFollowing the 2018 Camp fire, the Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office and the California Attorney Generalâ€™s Office opened a criminal investigation of the 2018 Camp fire.On March 17, 2020, the Utility entered into the Plea Agreement and Settlement (the â€œPlea Agreementâ€) with the People of the State of California, by and through the Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office to resolve the criminal prosecution of the Utility in connection with the 2018 Camp fire. Subject to the terms and conditions of the Plea Agreement, the Utility pleaded guilty to 84 counts of involuntary manslaughter in violation of Penal Code section 192(b) and one count of unlawfully causing a fire in violation of Penal Code section 452, and to admit special allegations pursuant to Penal Code sections 452.1(a)(2), 452.1(a)(3) and 452.1(a)(4).On August 20, 2021, the Butte County Superior Court held a brief hearing on the status of restitution, which involves distribution of funds from the Fire Victim Trust. The Butte County Superior Court has since continued the hearing to September 20, 2024.NOTE 11: OTHER CONTINGENCIES AND COMMITMENTSPG&E Corporation and the Utility have significant contingencies arising from their operations, including contingencies related to enforcement and litigation matters and environmental remediation.Â A provision for a loss contingency is recorded when it is both probable that a loss has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate the range of reasonably estimated losses and record a provision based on the lower end of the range, unless an amount within the range is a better estimate than any other amount.Â The assessments of whether a loss is probable or reasonably possible, and whether the loss or a range of loss is estimable, often involve a series of complex judgments about future events.Â Loss contingencies are reviewed quarterly, and estimates are adjusted to reflect the impact of all known information, such as negotiations, discovery, settlements and payments, rulings, penalties related to regulatory compliance, advice of legal counsel, and other information and events pertaining to a particular matter.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility exclude anticipated legal costs from the provision for loss and expense these costs as incurred. The Utility also has substantial financial commitments in connection with agreements entered into to support its operating activities.Â See â€œPurchase Commitmentsâ€ below.Â Â PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows may be materially affected by the outcome of the following matters.79CPUC and FERC MattersTransmission Owner Rate Case Revenue Subject to RefundThe FERC determines the amount of authorized revenue requirements, including the rate of return on electric transmission assets, that the Utility may collect in rates through TO rate cases. The FERC typically authorizes the Utility to charge new rates based on the requested revenue requirement, subject to refund, before the FERC has issued a final decision. The Utility bills and records revenue based on the amounts requested in its rate case filing and records a reserve for its estimate of the amounts that are probable of refund.Rates under the TO rate case for 2017 (â€œTO18â€) were in effect from March 1, 2017 through February 28, 2018. Rates under the TO rate case for 2018 (â€œTO19â€) were in effect from March 1, 2018 through April 30, 2019. Rates under the TO rate case for 2019 (â€œTO20â€) were in effect from May 1, 2019 through December 31, 2023.On October 15, 2020, the FERC issued an order addressing substantive disputed issues concerning TO18 including the direct assignment of common plant costs, impact of the TCJA on January and February 2018 rates, and depreciation and ordered additional briefing on the appropriate ROE. On April 15, 2021, the FERC issued an order on rehearing setting aside its earlier determination on the TCJA and determining that the lower tax rates in the TCJA applied to the TO18 rates in January and February 2018. On March 17, 2022, the FERC issued a further order in the TO18 rate case proceeding finding that 9.26% is the just and reasonable base ROE for the Utility. With the incentive component of 50-basis points for the Utilityâ€™s continuing participation in the CAISO, the resulting ROE would be 9.76%.The Utility and other parties have filed appeals of the FERCâ€™s TO18 orders. The appeals are currently pending before the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals and are being held in abeyance. Requests for rehearing of the ROE decision are still pending at the FERC. On May 31, 2024, the Utility and certain intervenors filed a settlement at the FERC regarding TO18.On December 20, 2018, the FERC issued an order approving an all-party settlement filed by the Utility regarding TO19. As part of the settlement, the TO19 revenue requirement will be set at 98.85% of the revenue requirement for TO18 that will be determined upon the issuance of a final, non-appealable TO18 decision.TO20 was a formula rate, which means the Utility submits an annual update to the FERC each December for rates to go into effect on January 1 of the following year based on a formula, without a separate rate case. On August 17, 2020, and December 30, 2020, FERC accepted a partial settlement and final settlement, respectively, in the TO20 proceedings. Several issues in the settlements, such as the direct assignment of common plant costs, are contingent on the outcome of a final, non-appealable TO18 decision.Parties have protested the Utilityâ€™s annual updates under the formula rate, and these protests are pending before the FERC. On October 24, 2023, the Utility filed a waiver request for certain inputs to the formula rate related to the cost of long-term debt and certain underwriting fees, which the FERC denied on December 22, 2023. On January 22, 2024, the Utility filed a request for reconsideration, which the FERC denied on February 22, 2024. On March 28, 2024, the Utility filed a petition for review in the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. On May 23, 2024, the FERC issued a substantive order on rehearing again denying the Utilityâ€™s waiver request, and the Utility withdrew the petition for review.Aside from the ultimate outcome of the ROE rehearing request and the direct assignment of common plant costs, the FERCâ€™s orders in the TO18 proceeding are not expected to result in a material impact on the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, or cash flows. Some of the issues that will be decided in a final and unappealable TO18 decision, including the direct assignment of common plant costs, will also be incorporated into the Utilityâ€™s TO19 and TO20 rate cases. The Utility has established regulatory liabilities for amounts previously collected during the TO18, TO19, and TO20 rate case periods from 2017 through the second quarter of 2024 of approximately $484Â million pending a final and non-appealable TO18 decision. Based on the settlement, a portion of the direct assignment of common plant costs are expected to be recovered at the CPUC in a separate application, and as a result, as of June 30, 2024, the Utility had recorded approximately $233Â million to Regulatory assets.802022 WMCE Interim Rate Relief Subject to RefundOn December 15, 2022, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $1.36Â billion of recorded expenditures, resulting in a proposed revenue requirement of approximately $1.29Â billion (the â€œ2022 WMCE applicationâ€). The costs addressed in this application reflect costs related to wildfire mitigation and certain catastrophic events, as well as the implementation of various customer-focused initiatives. These costs were incurred primarily in 2021.The recorded expenditures consist of $1.2Â billion in expenses and $136Â million in capital expenditures. On June 8, 2023, the CPUC adopted a final decision granting the Utility interim rate relief of $1.1Â billion to be recovered over 12 months, which went into effect July 1, 2023. The remaining $224Â million will be recovered to the extent it is approved after the CPUC issues a final decision. Cost recovery requested in this application is subject to the CPUCâ€™s reasonableness review, which could result in some or all of the interim rate relief being subject to refund.On May 20, 2024, the CPUC extended the statutory deadline to resolve the remaining issues in the proceeding to December 31, 2024.Wildfire and Gas Safety Costs Interim Rate Relief Subject to RefundOn June 15, 2023, the Utility filed a WGSC application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $2.5Â billion of recorded expenditures related to wildfire mitigation costs and gas safety and electric modernization costs.The recorded expenditures for wildfire mitigation consist of $726Â million in expenses and $1.5Â billion in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2020 to 2022. The recorded expenditures for gas safety and electric modernization consist of $120Â million in expenses and $118Â million in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2017 to 2022. If approved, the requested cost recovery would result in an aggregate revenue requirement of $688Â million. The costs addressed in the WGSC application are incremental to those previously authorized in the Utilityâ€™s 2020 GRC and other proceedings.On March 7, 2024, the CPUC approved a final decision authorizing the Utility to recover $516Â million in interim rates to be recovered over at least 12 months starting April 1, 2024. The remaining $172Â million will be recovered to the extent it is approved after the CPUC issues a final decision. Cost recovery requested in this application is subject to the CPUCâ€™s reasonableness review, which could result in some or all of the interim rate relief being subject to refund.The ALJ has adopted a schedule that would result in a PD on the wildfire mitigation costs in the first half of 2025 and a final decision on the gas safety and electric modernization costs by June 2025.Other MattersPG&E Corporation and the Utility are subject to various claims and lawsuits that separately are not considered material.Â Accruals for contingencies related to such matters totaled $80 million and $89 million as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. These amounts were included in Other current liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. Included among these claims and lawsuits are the proofs of claim filed in the Chapter 11 Cases, except for proofs of claim discussed under â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Processâ€ in Note 10. PG&E Corporation and the Utility have resolved a significant majority of the proofs of claim. PG&E Corporation and the Utility continue their review and analysis of certain remaining claims. PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe it is reasonably possible that the resolution of these matters will have a material impact on their financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.81Tax Matters The Internal Revenue Service (â€œIRSâ€) is auditing PG&E Corporationâ€™s tax returns for 2015 through 2018. The State of California is auditing PG&E Corporationâ€™s tax returns for 2015 through 2019. The most significant unresolved matter relates to the deductibility of approximately $850Â million in costs for gas transmission and distribution lines, which the CPUC did not allow the Utility to recover through rates, and $400Â million in customer bill credits, in connection with its decision issued in 2015 for the San Bruno natural gas explosion in September of 2010. PG&E Corporation records an income tax benefit related to a deduction for an uncertain tax position when it determines it is more likely than not that the uncertain tax position will ultimately be sustained. On June 4, 2024, the Office of Chief Counsel of the IRS issued a technical advice memorandum taking the position that the costs the Utility incurred for gas transmission and distribution lines and customer bill credits are nondeductible fines or penalties. As a result, in the quarter ended June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation determined that it is no longer more likely than not that its deduction related to a portion of the customer bill credits will ultimately be sustained. Accordingly, PG&E Corporation has decreased its Income tax benefit by $70Â million during the quarter ended June 30, 2024 related to state and federal income taxes. PG&E Corporation intends to defend itself vigorously as to all costs in this matter.CZU Lightning Complex Fire Notices of Violation Between November 2020 and January 2021, several governmental entities raised concerns regarding the Utilityâ€™s emergency response to the 2020 CZU Lightning Complex fire, including Cal Fire, the California Coastal Commission, the Central Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board, and Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors alleging environmental, vegetation management, and unpermitted work violations. The Utility continues to work with the California Coastal Commission and the Central Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board to resolve any outstanding issues. Violations can result in penalties, remediation, and other relief.Based on the information available, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that a liability has been incurred. Accordingly, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have recorded charges for amounts that are not material. PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe that the resolution of these matters will have a material impact on their financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.Environmental Remediation ContingenciesGiven the complexities of the legal and regulatory environment and the inherent uncertainties involved in the early stages of a remediation project, the process for estimating remediation liabilities requires significant judgment. The Utility records an environmental remediation liability when the site assessments indicate that remediation is probable, and the Utility can reasonably estimate the loss or a range of probable amounts. The Utility records an environmental remediation liability based on the lower end of the range of estimated probable costs, unless an amount within the range is a better estimate than any other amount. Key factors that inform the development of estimated costs include site feasibility studies and investigations, applicable remediation actions, operations and maintenance activities, post-remediation monitoring, and the cost of technologies that are expected to be approved to remediate the site. Amounts recorded are not discounted to their present value. The Utilityâ€™s environmental remediation liability is primarily included in Noncurrent liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and is comprised of the following:Â Balance at(in millions)June 30, 2024December 31, 2023Topock natural gas compressor station$287Â $276Â Hinkley natural gas compressor station104Â 104Â Former MGP sites owned by the Utility or third parties (1)810Â 809Â Utility-owned generation facilities (other than fossil fuel-fired), other facilities, and third-party disposal sites (2)75Â 107Â Fossil fuel-fired generation facilities and sites (3)18Â 19Â Total environmental remediation liability$1,294Â $1,315Â (1) Primarily driven by the following sites: San Francisco Beach Street, Napa, and San Francisco East Harbor.(2) Primarily driven by geothermal landfill and Shell Pond site.(3) Primarily driven by the San Francisco Potrero Power Plant.82The Utilityâ€™s gas compressor stations, former MGP sites, power plant sites, gas gathering sites, and sites used by the Utility for the storage, recycling, and disposal of potentially hazardous substances are subject to requirements issued by the United States Environmental Protection Agency under the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act in addition to other state laws relating to hazardous substances.Â The Utility has a comprehensive program to comply with federal, state, and local laws and regulations related to hazardous materials, waste, remediation activities, and other environmental requirements.Â The Utility assesses and monitors the environmental requirements on an ongoing basis and implements changes to its program as deemed appropriate. The Utilityâ€™s remediation activities are overseen by the DTSC, several California regional water quality control boards, and various other federal, state, and local agencies.The Utilityâ€™s environmental remediation liability as of June 30, 2024, reflects its best estimate of probable future costs for remediation based on the current assessment data and regulatory obligations. Future costs will depend on many factors, including the extent of work necessary to implement final remediation plans, the Utilityâ€™s time frame for remediation, and unanticipated claims filed against the Utility.Â The Utility may incur actual costs in the future that are materially different than this estimate and such costs could have a material impact on results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows during the period in which they are recorded. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility expected to recover $1.1 billion of its environmental remediation liability for certain sites through various ratemaking mechanisms authorized by the CPUC.Natural Gas Compressor Station SitesThe Utility is legally responsible for remediating groundwater contamination caused by hexavalent chromium used in the past at the Utilityâ€™s natural gas compressor stations. The Utility is also required to take measures to abate the effects of the contamination on the environment.Topock SiteThe Utilityâ€™s remediation and abatement efforts at the Topock site are subject to the regulatory authority of the DTSC and the U.S. Department of the Interior. On April 24, 2018, the DTSC authorized the Utility to build an in-situ groundwater treatment system to convert hexavalent chromium into a non-toxic and non-soluble form of chromium. Construction activities began in October 2018, and the initial phase of construction was completed in 2021. Additional phases of construction will continue for several years. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with the Topock site may increase by as much as $213 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the Topock site are expected to be recovered primarily through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Hinkley SiteThe Utilityâ€™s remediation and abatement efforts at the Hinkley site are subject to the regulatory authority of the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, Lahontan Region. In November 2015, the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, Lahontan Region adopted a clean-up and abatement order directing the Utility to contain and remediate the underground plume of hexavalent chromium and the potential environmental impacts. The final order states that the Utility must continue and improve its remediation efforts, define the boundaries of the chromium plume, and take action to meet interim cleanup targets. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with the Hinkley site may increase by as much as $127 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the Hinkley site will not be recovered through rates.Former Manufactured Gas PlantsFormer MGPs used coal and oil to produce gas for use by the Utilityâ€™s customers before natural gas became available. The by-products and residues of this process were often disposed of at the MGPs themselves. The Utility has a program to manage the residues left behind as a result of the manufacturing process; many of the sites in the program have been addressed. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with MGP sites may increase by as much as $647 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation at identified MGP sites is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the MGP sites are recovered through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.83Utility-Owned Generation Facilities and Third-Party Disposal SitesUtility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites often involve long-term remediation. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with Utility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites may increase by as much as $75 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The environmental remediation costs associated with the Utility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites are recovered through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Fossil Fuel-Fired Generation SitesIn 1998, the Utility divested its generation power plant business as part of generation deregulation. Although the Utility sold its fossil-fueled power plants, the Utility retained the environmental remediation liability associated with each site. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with fossil fuel-fired generation sites may increase by as much as $20 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The environmental remediation costs associated with the fossil fuel-fired sites will not be recovered through rates.Nuclear InsuranceThe Utility maintains multiple insurance policies through NEIL and EMANI, coveringÂ nuclear or non-nuclear events at the Utilityâ€™s two nuclear generating units at Diablo Canyon and the Humboldt Bay independent spent fuel storage installation.NEIL provides insurance coverage for property damages and business interruption losses incurred by the Utility if a nuclear or non-nuclear event were to occur at the Utilityâ€™s two nuclear generating units at Diablo Canyon. NEIL provides property damage and business interruption coverage of up to $3.2Â billion per nuclear incident and $2.5Â billion per non-nuclear incident for Diablo Canyon. For the Humboldt Bay independent spent fuel storage installation, NEIL provides up to $50Â million of coverage for nuclear and non-nuclear property damages. NEIL also provides coverage for damages caused by acts of terrorism and cyberattacks at nuclear power plants. Through NEIL, there is up to $3.2Â billion available to the membership to cover this exposure. These coverage amounts are shared by all NEIL members and all nuclear and non-nuclear property insurance policies issued by NEIL. EMANI shares losses with NEIL, as part of the first $400Â million of coverage within the current nuclear insurance program. EMANI also provides an additional $200Â million in excess insurance for property damage and business interruption losses incurred by the Utility if a nuclear or non-nuclear event were to occur at Diablo Canyon. If NEIL losses in any policy year exceed accumulated funds, the Utility could be subject to a retrospective assessment.Â Â If NEIL were to exercise this assessment, the maximum aggregate annual retrospective premium obligation for the Utility would be approximately $42Â million.Â If EMANI losses in any policy year exceed accumulated funds, the Utility could be subject to a retrospective assessment of approximately $5Â million.Â For more information about the Utilityâ€™s nuclear insurance coverage, see Note 15 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.Purchase CommitmentsIn the ordinary course of business, the Utility enters into various agreements to purchase power and electric capacity; natural gas supply, transportation, and storage; nuclear fuel supply and services; and various other commitments. As of December 31, 2023, the Utility had undiscounted future expected obligations of approximately $32 billion. See Note 15 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.Oakland Headquarters Lease and PurchaseOn October 23, 2020, the Utility and BA2 300 Lakeside LLC (â€œLandlordâ€), a wholly owned subsidiary of TMG Bay Area Investments II, LLC, entered into an office lease agreement for approximately 910,000 rentable square feet of space within the Lakeside Building (the â€œPropertyâ€) to serve as the Utilityâ€™s principal administrative headquarters (the â€œLeaseâ€).On July 11, 2023, the Utility and the Landlord entered into an Amendment to Office Lease and an Agreement of Purchase and Sale and Joint Escrow Instructions, pursuant to which the Utility was deemed to have exercised its option to purchase the Property, as modified. Pursuant to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale and Joint Escrow Instructions, the purchase price of the Property will be $906Â million, with deposits applicable to such purchase price of $150Â million paid by July 11, 2023, $250Â million paid by July 11, 2024, and the remaining $506Â million to be paid at closing in June 2025. The Utility will also receive a credit of approximately $172Â million towards the final payment, subject to adjustments, which represents the estimated outstanding principal balance of a loan carried by the Property that will be assigned to, and assumed by, the Utility at closing. The Utility will continue to lease the Property pursuant to the Lease, as amended, until closing.84The Lease also requires the rentable space to be delivered in two phases, with each phase consisting of multiple subphases. As of June 30, 2024, approximately 715,000 rentable square feet of the leased premises has been made available for use by the Utility.As of June 30, 2024, the Utility has recorded $781 million in Financing lease ROU assets, $62Â million in accumulated amortization, $180Â million in leasehold improvements, net of accumulated amortization, which includes $101Â million that was provided to the Utility as lease incentives, and $777 million in current Financing lease liabilities in the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements primarily related to the Lease, as amended. For more information about the Lease, see â€œOakland Headquarters Lease and Purchaseâ€ in Note 2 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISKPG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s primary market risk results from changes in energy commodity prices.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility engage in price risk management activities for non-trading purposes only.Â Both PG&E Corporation and the Utility may engage in these price risk management activities using forward contracts, futures, options, and swaps to hedge the impact of market fluctuations on energy commodity prices and interest rates.Â See the section above entitled â€œRisk Management Activitiesâ€ in MD&A and in Notes 8 and 9 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1.ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURESBased on an evaluation of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s disclosure controls and procedures as of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s respective principal executive officers and principal financial officers have concluded that such controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by PG&E Corporation and the Utility in reports that the companies file or submit under the Exchange Act is (i) recorded, processed, summarized, and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC rules and forms, and (ii) accumulated and communicated to PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s management, including PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s respective principal executive officers and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.There were no changes in internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the three months ended June 30, 2024, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, PG&E Corporationâ€™s or the Utilityâ€™s internal control over financial reporting.PART II. OTHER INFORMATIONITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGSPG&E Corporation and the Utility are parties to various lawsuits and regulatory proceedings in the ordinary course of their business.Â Â For more information regarding material lawsuits and proceedings, including updates to information reported under Item 3. Legal Proceedings of the 2023 Form 10-K, see Notes 10 and 11 of the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 1 and Part I, MD&A: â€œLitigation Matters.â€Each of PG&E Corporation and the Utility has elected to disclose environmental proceedings described in Item 103(c)(3)(iii) of Regulation S-K unless it reasonably believes that such proceeding will result in no monetary sanctions, or in monetary sanctions, exclusive of interest and costs, of less than $1 million.ITEM 2. Also, certain officers have made, and may from time to time make, elections to have shares withheld to cover withholding taxes upon the vesting of restricted stock units or performance share units, or to pay the exercise price and withholding taxes for stock options, which may be designed to satisfy the affirmative defense conditions of Rule 10b5-1 under the Exchange Act or may constitute non-Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangements (as defined in Item 408(c) of Regulation S-K).86ITEM 6. The Administrative Agent may perform any and all of its duties and exercise its rights and powers hereunder or under any other Loan Document by or through any one or more sub-agents appointed by it. The Administrative Agent, and any such sub-agent may each perform any and all of its duties and exercise its rights and powers by or through their respective Related Parties. The exculpatory provisions of this Section 9 shall apply to any such sub-agent and to the Related Parties of the Administrative Agent, and any such sub-agent, and shall apply to their respective activities in connection with the syndication of the Term Loans provided for herein as well as activities as Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to rely upon, and shall not incur any liability for relying upon, any notice, request, certificate, consent, statement, instrument, document or other writing (including any electronic message, Internet or intranet website posting or other distribution) believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed, sent or otherwise authenticated by the proper Person. The Administrative Agent also may rely upon any statement made to it orally or by telephone and believed by it to have been made by the proper Person, and shall not incur any liability for relying thereon. In determining compliance with any condition hereunder to the making of the Term Loans that by its terms must be fulfilled to the satisfaction of a Lender, the Administrative Agent may presume that such condition is satisfactory to such Lender unless the Administrative Agent shall have received notice to the contrary from such Lender prior to the making of such Term Loan. The Administrative Agent may consult with legal counsel (who may be counsel for the Borrower), independent accountants and other experts selected by it, and shall not be liable for any action taken or not taken by it in accordance with the advice of any such counsel, accountants or experts.â—¦(e)Â Â Â Â Notice of Default. The Administrative Agent shall not be deemed to have knowledge or notice of the occurrence of any Default or Event of Default unless the Administrative Agent has received notice from a Lender or the Borrower referring to this Agreement, describing such Default or Event of Default and stating that such notice 64Â Â Â Â #97331773v1298523556v3Â Â Â Â is a â€œnotice of defaultâ€. The Administrative Agent shall take such action with respect to such Default or Event of Default as shall be reasonably directed by the Required Lenders (or, if so specified by this Agreement, all Lenders); provided that unless and until the Administrative Agent shall have received such directions, the Administrative Agent may (but shall not be obligated to) take such action, or refrain from taking such action, with respect to such Default or Event of Default as it shall deem advisable in the best interests of the Lenders.â—¦(f)Â Â Â Â Non-Reliance on Administrative Agent and Other Lenders. Each Lender acknowledges that it has, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, or any other Lender or any of their Related Parties and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own credit analysis and decision to enter into this Agreement. Each Lender also acknowledges that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, or any other Lender or any of their Related Parties and based on such documents and information as it shall from time to time deem appropriate, continue to make its own decisions in taking or not taking action under or based upon this Agreement, any other Loan Document or any related agreement or any document furnished hereunder or thereunder. Except for notices, reports and other documents expressly required to be furnished to the Lenders by the Administrative Agent hereunder, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duty or responsibility to provide any Lender with any credit or other information concerning the business, operations, property, condition (financial or otherwise), prospects or creditworthiness of the Borrower or any of its Affiliates that may come into the possession of the Administrative Agent or any of its officers, directors, employees, agents, attorneys in fact or Affiliates.â—¦(g)Â Â Â Â Indemnification. The Lenders agree to indemnify the Administrative Agent in its capacity as such (to the extent not reimbursed by the Borrower and without limiting the obligation of the Borrower to do so), ratably according to their respective Percentages in effect on the date on which indemnification is sought under this Section 9.7 (or, if indemnification is sought after the date upon which the Term Loans shall have been paid in full, ratably in accordance with such Percentages immediately prior to such date), from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements of any kind whatsoever that may at any time (whether before or after the payment of the Loans) be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the Administrative Agent in any way relating to or arising out of, the Commitments, this Agreement, any of the other Loan Documents or any documents contemplated by or referred to herein or therein or the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby or any action taken or omitted by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with any of the foregoing; provided that no Lender shall be liable for the payment of any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses or disbursements that are found by a final and nonappealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to have resulted from the Administrative Agentâ€™s gross negligence or willful misconduct.65Â Â Â Â #97331773v1298523556v3Â Â Â Â â—¦(h)Â Â Â Â Administrative Agent in Its Individual Capacity. The Person serving as the Administrative Agent hereunder shall have the same rights and powers in its capacity as a Lender as any other Lender and may exercise the same as though it were not the Administrative Agent, and the terms â€œLenderâ€ or â€œLendersâ€ shall, unless otherwise expressly indicated or unless the context otherwise requires, include such Person serving as the Administrative Agent hereunder in its individual capacity. Such Person and its Affiliates may accept deposits from, lend money to, own securities of, act as the financial advisor or in any other advisory capacity for, and generally engage in any kind of business with, the Borrower or any Subsidiary or other Affiliate thereof as if such Person were not the Administrative Agent hereunder and without any duty to account therefor to the Lenders.â—¦(i)Â Â Â Â Successor Administrative Agent. â–ª(i)Â Â Â Â The Administrative Agent may resign upon 10 daysâ€™ notice to the Lenders and the Borrower. If the Administrative Agent shall so resign under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, then the Required Lenders shall appoint from among the Lenders a successor agent for the Lenders, which successor agent shall (unless an Event of Default under Section 8(f) with respect to the Borrower shall have occurred and be continuing) be subject to approval by the Borrower (which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), whereupon such successor agent shall succeed to the rights, powers and duties of the Administrative Agent and the term â€œAdministrative Agentâ€ shall mean such successor agent effective upon such appointment and approval, and the former Administrative Agentâ€™s rights, powers and duties as Administrative Agent shall be terminated, without any other or further act or deed on the part of such former Administrative Agent or any of the parties to this Agreement, including any Lender. If no successor agent has accepted appointment as Administrative Agent by the date that is 10 days following a retiring Administrative Agentâ€™s notice of resignation (the â€œResignation Effective Dateâ€), the retiring Administrative Agentâ€™s resignation shall nevertheless thereupon become effective, and the Lenders shall assume and perform all of the duties of the Administrative Agent hereunder until such time, if any, as the Required Lenders appoint a successor agent as provided for above. After any retiring Administrative Agentâ€™s resignation as Administrative Agent the provisions of Section 9.7 shall inure to its benefit as to any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was the Administrative Agent under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents.â–ª(ii)Â Â Â Â If the Person serving as Administrative Agent is a Defaulting Lender pursuant to clause (e) of the definition thereof, the Required Lenders may, to the extent permitted by applicable law, by notice in writing to the Borrower and such Person remove such Person as Administrative Agent and, shall appoint a successor, subject to the approval of the Borrower (unless an Event of Default under Section 8(f) with respect to the Borrower shall have occurred and be continuing), which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. If no such successor shall have been so appointed by the Required Lenders and shall have accepted such appointment within 30 66Â Â Â Â #97331773v1298523556v3Â Â Â Â days (or such earlier day as shall be agreed by the Required Lenders) (the â€œRemoval Effective Dateâ€), then such removal shall nonetheless become effective in accordance with such notice on the Removal Effective Date.â–ª(iii)Â Â Â Â With effect from the Resignation Effective Date or the Removal Effective Date (as applicable) (i) the retiring or removed Administrative Agent shall be discharged from its duties and obligations hereunder and under the other Loan Documents (except that in the case of any Senior Bond held by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Lenders, the retiring or removed Administrative Agent shall continue to hold such Senior Bond in its name until such time as a successor Administrative Agent is appointed) and (ii) except for any indemnity payments or other amounts then owed to the retiring or removed Administrative Agent, all payments, communications and determinations provided to be made by, to or through the Administrative Agent shall instead be made by or to each Lender directly, until such time, if any, as the Required Lenders appoint a successor Administrative Agent as provided for above. Upon the acceptance of a successorâ€™s appointment as Administrative Agent hereunder, such successor shall succeed to and become vested with all of the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the retiring or removed Administrative Agent (other than any rights to indemnity payments or other amounts owed to the retiring or removed Administrative Agent as of the Resignation Effective Date or the Removal Effective Date (as applicable)), and the retiring or removed Administrative Agent shall be discharged from all of its duties and obligations hereunder or under the other Loan Documents. The fees payable by the Borrower to a successor Administrative Agent shall be the same as those payable to its predecessor unless otherwise agreed between the Borrower and such successor. Matching Employer Contributions shall be calculated and credited to the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account as of the first business day of February of the calendar year following the Plan Year and shall be credited only if the Eligible Employee was an Eligible Employee on at least one day of the Plan Year for which the amounts are credited, except that if an Eligible Employee Separates from Service on or after September 15, 2015, then upon that Eligible Employeeâ€™s Separation from Service, the value of the Matching Employer Contribution for the Plan Year during which Separation from Service occurs shall instead be calculated and credited to the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account as soon as practicable, as determined by PG&E CORP. All such amounts shall be deemed to be invested in an Investment Fund designated by the Plan Administrator. â—¦(c)Â Â Â Â Basic Employer Contributions. Subject to the provisions of Section 13, the Account of each Eligible Employee shall be credited for each Plan Year with a Basic Employer Contribution, calculated in the manner provided in Sections 3(c)(1), (2), and (3) below:â€¢(1)Â Â Â Â First, an amount shall be calculated equal to the Basic Employer Contribution that would be made under the terms of the RSP, taking into account for such Plan Year the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Covered Compensation under the RSP, before any deductions for compensation deferrals elected by such Eligible Employee under Subsection 4(a) of this Plan. For Eligible Employees as defined by Section 2(e)(1) of this Plan, compensation shall also reflect such Eligible Employeeâ€™s Short-Term Incentive Plan awards.â€¢(2)Â Â Â Â The calculation made in accordance with this Section 3(c)(1) above shall be made without regard to any limitation on such amounts under the RSP resulting from the application of any of the limitations under Code Sections 401(a)(4), 401(a)(17), or 415.â€¢(3)Â Â Â Â The Employer Contribution to be credited to the Account of an Eligible Employee for any Plan Year shall equal the amount calculated in accordance with Sections 3(c)(1) and (2) above, reduced by the amount of Basic Employer Contributions made to such Eligible Employeeâ€™s account for such Plan Year under the RSP.4â—¦(d)Â Â Â Â Crediting of Basic Employer Contributions. The Employer Contribution attributable to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Short Term Incentive Plan award shall be credited to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account as of the first business day of the month following the date on which the Short-Term Incentive Plan award is paid. All other Employer Contributions made in respect of an Eligible Employee shall be credited to the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account as of the first business day of February of the calendar year following the Plan Year and shall be credited only if the Eligible Employee is an Employee on the last day of the Plan Year for which the amounts are credited. All such amounts shall be deemed to be invested in an Investment Fund designated by the Plan Administrator.â—¦(e)Â Â Â Â FICA Taxes. Each Eligible Employee shall be responsible for FICA taxes on amounts credited to his or her Account under Sections 3 and 4(d).â€¢4.Â Â Â Â Eligible Employee Deferrals.â—¦(a)Â Â Â Â Amount of Deferral. An Eligible Employee may defer all or part of his or her annual salary, Short Term Incentive Plan awards, Long-Term Incentive Plan (LTIP) awards (other than stock options), Perquisite Allowances, and any other special payments, awards, or bonuses as authorized by the Plan Administrator.â—¦(b)Â Â Â Â Credits to Accounts. Salary deferrals shall be credited to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account as of each payroll period. All other deferrals attributable to allowances, awards, bonuses, and other payments shall be credited as soon as practicable, but no more than 30 days after the date that they otherwise would have been paid.â—¦(c)Â Â Â Â Deferral Election. An Eligible Employee must file an election form with the Plan Administrator which indicates the percentage of salary and the amount of any awards, allowances, payments, and bonuses to be deferred under the Plan. The election shall occur no later than December 31 (or such earlier date established by the Plan Administrator) of the calendar year next preceding the service year (within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-2(a)(3)). Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent permitted under Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-2(a)(7), upon first becoming an Eligible Employee, an election to defer shall be effective for compensation to be earned for services performed beginning in the month following the filing of a Deferral Election Form, provided said Form is filed within 30 days following the date when the employee first becomes an Eligible Employee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of performance-based compensation (within the meaning of Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-1(e)), the election may be made with respect to such performance-based compensation on or before the date that is six months before the end of the applicable performance period to the extent permitted under Treasury Regulation Section 1.409A-2(a)(8). The Plan Administrator may, in its sole discretion, permit elections to be made under other timing rules that comply with Code Section 409A.â—¦(d)Â Â Â Â Deferral of Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums. All of an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums are automatically deferred to the Plan immediately upon grant and converted into units in the PG&E Corporation Phantom Stock Fund. The units attributable to Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums and any 5additional units resulting from the conversion of dividend equivalents thereon remain unvested until the earlier of the third anniversary of the date on which the Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums are credited to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s account (provided the Eligible Employee continues to be employed on such date), death, disability (within the meaning of Section 22(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code), or Retirement of the participant, or upon a Change in Control (as defined in the LTIP). Unvested units attributable to Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums and any additional units resulting from the conversion of dividend equivalents thereon shall be forfeited upon termination of the Eligible Employeeâ€™s employment (unless otherwise provided in the PG&E Corporation Executive Stock Ownership Program or the PG&E Corporation Officer Severance Plan) or if an Eligible Employeeâ€™s stock ownership falls below the levels set forth in the Executive Stock Ownership Program.â¢5.Â Â Â Â Investment Funds. Although no assets will be segregated or otherwise set aside with respect to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account, the amount that is ultimately payable to the Eligible Employee with respect to such Account shall be determined as if such Account had been invested in some or all of the Investment Funds. The Plan Administrator, in its sole discretion, shall adopt (and modify from time to time) such rules and procedures as it deems necessary or appropriate to implement the deemed investment of the Eligible Employeesâ€™ Accounts. Such procedures generally shall provide that an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall be deemed to be invested among the available Investment Funds in the manner elected by the Eligible Employee in such percentages and manner as prescribed by the Plan Administrator. In the event no election has been made by the Eligible Employee, such Account will be deemed to be invested in an Investment Fund designated by the Plan Administrator. Eligible Employees shall be able to reallocate their Accounts between the Investment Funds and reallocate amounts newly credited to their Accounts at such time and in such manner as the Plan Administrator shall prescribe. Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, an Eligible Employee may not reallocate Account balances between Investment Funds if such reallocation would result in a non-exempt Discretionary Transaction as defined in Rule 16b-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or any successor to Rule 16b-3, as in effect when the reallocation is requested. The available Investment Funds shall be listed on Appendix B and may be changed from time to time by the Board of Directors.â€¢6.Â Â Â Â Accounting.â—¦(a)Â Â Â Â Eligible Employeesâ€™ Accounts. At the direction of the Plan Administrator, there shall be established and maintained on the books of the Employer, a separate account for each Eligible Employee in order to reflect his or her interest under the Plan.â—¦(b)Â Â Â Â Investment Earnings. Each Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall initially reflect the value of his or her Accountâ€™s interest in each of the Investment Funds, deemed acquired with the amounts credited thereto. Each Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall also be credited (or debited) with the net appreciation (or depreciation), earnings and gains (or losses) with respect to the investments deemed made by his or her Account. Any such net earnings or gains deemed realized with respect to any investment of any Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall 6be deemed reinvested in additional amounts of the same investment and credited to the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account.â—¦(c)Â Â Â Â Accounting Methods. The accounting methods or formulae to be used under the Plan for the purpose of maintaining the Eligible Employeesâ€™ Accounts shall be determined by the Plan Administrator. The accounting methods or formulae selected by the Plan Administrator may be revised from time to time but shall conform to the extent practicable with the accounting methods used under the Applicable Plan.â—¦(d)Â Â Â Â Valuations and Reports. The fair market value of each Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall be determined as of each Valuation Date. In making such determinations and in crediting net deemed earnings and gains (or losses) in the Investment Funds to the Eligible Employeesâ€™ Accounts, the Plan Administrator (in its discretion) may employ such accounting methods as the Plan Administrator (in its discretion) may deem appropriate in order to fairly reflect the fair market values of the Investment Funds and each Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account. For this purpose, the Plan Administrator may rely upon information provided by the Plan Administrator or other persons believed by the Plan Administrator to be competent.â—¦(e)Â Â Â Â Statements of Eligible Employeeâ€™s Accounts. Each Eligible Employee shall be furnished with periodic statements of his or her interest in the Plan.â¢7.Â Â Â Â Distributions.â—¦(a)Â Â Â Â Distribution of Account Balances. Except to the extent the Eligible Employee has elected otherwise under this Section 7 at the time of deferral, distribution of the balance credited to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall be made in a single lump sum as soon as reasonably practicable (but in any event within 90 days) following the date that is seven (7) months following Separation from Service.â—¦Â Â Â Â In the case of an Alternate Payee (as defined in Section 9(a), to the extent allowable under Code Section 409A, distribution shall be made as directed in a domestic relations order which the Plan Administrator determines is a DRO (as defined in Section 9(a), but only as to the portion of the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account which the DRO states is payable to the Alternate Payee.â—¦(b)Â Â Â Â Specific Distributions. In lieu of a payment described in Section 7(a), by filing an irrevocable election with the Plan Administrator, an Eligible Employee may at the time of deferral elect to receive distribution of the specific type of income deferral for that calendar year plus the earnings thereon (exclusive of Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums) in, or in the case of installments commencing in, January of any future year and in the form of either (1) a single lump sum or (2) from two to ten annual installments with subsequent installments paid on each anniversary of the installment commencement date.â—¦(c)Â Â Â Â Election of Installment Payments. In lieu of a single sum payment under Section 7(a), except in the case of Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums, an Eligible 7Employee may elect in writing to the Plan Administrator, on such form or in such other manner as it may prescribe, and file with the Plan Administrator an election that payment of amounts credited to the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account be made in from 2 to 10 equal annual installments. If the Eligible Employee elects installment payments pursuant to this Section 7(c), then such installment payments shall commence as soon as reasonably practicable (but in any event within 90 days) following the date that is seven (7) months following Separation from Service (â€œBenefit Commencement Dateâ€) and subsequent installments will be paid on each anniversary of the Benefit Commencement Date thereof until all installments are paid. (d)Â Â Â Â Change in Distribution Election. An Eligible Employee may change a distribution election previously made pursuant to Section 7(b) or 7(c) (or in place by default pursuant to Section 7(a)) only with respect to the portion of the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account attributable to Eligible Employee Deferrals (exclusive of Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums) and only in accordance with the rules under Code Section 409A. Generally, a subsequent election pursuant to this Section 7(d): (1) cannot take effect for twelve (12) months, (2) must occur at least twelve (12) months before the first scheduled payment under a payment at a specified date elected pursuant to Section 7(b), and (3) must defer a previously elected distribution at least five (5) additional years. The Plan Administrator may establish additional rules or restrictions on changes in distribution elections.(e)Â Â Â Â Death Distributions. If an Eligible Employee dies before the balance of his or her Account has been distributed (whether or not the Eligible Employee had previously had a Separation from Service), the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall be distributed in a lump sum to the beneficiary designated or otherwise determined in accordance with Section 7, as soon as practicable after the date of death (but in any event within 90 days after the date of death). (f)Â Â Â Â Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums. Distributions attributable to Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premiums shall only be made in the form of one or more certificates for the number of vested Special Incentive Stock Ownership Premium units, rounded down to the nearest whole share, in accordance with the timing rule set forth in Section 7(a).(g)Â Â Â Â Effect of Change in Eligible Employee Status. If an Eligible Employee ceases to be an Eligible Employee but does not experience a Separation from Service, the balance credited to his or her Account shall continue to be credited (or debited) with appreciation, depreciation, earnings, gains or losses under the terms of the Plan and shall be distributed to him or her at the time and in the manner set forth in this Section 7.(h)Â Â Â Â Payments to Incompetents. If any individual to whom a benefit is payable under the Plan is a minor or if the Plan Administrator determines that any individual to whom a benefit is payable under the Plan is incompetent to receive such payment or to give a valid release therefor, payment shall be made to the guardian, committee, or other representative of the estate of such individual which has been duly appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction. If no guardian, committee, or other representative has been appointed, payment may be made to any person as custodian for such individual under the California Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (or similar law of another state) or may be made to or applied to or for the benefit of the minor or incompetent, the incompetentâ€™s spouse, children or other dependents, the institution or persons 8maintaining the minor or incompetent, or any of them, in such proportions as the Plan Administrator from time to time shall determine; and the release of the person or institution receiving the payment shall be a valid and complete discharge of any liability of PG&E CORP with respect to any benefit so paid.(i)Â Â Â Â Beneficiary Designations. Each Eligible Employee may designate, in a signed writing delivered to the Plan Administrator, on such form as it may prescribe, one or more beneficiaries to receive any distribution which may become payable under the Plan as the result of the Eligible Employeeâ€™s death. An Eligible Employee may designate different beneficiaries at any time by delivering a new designation in like manner. Any designation shall become effective only upon its receipt by the Plan Administrator, and the last effective designation received by the Plan Administrator shall supersede all prior designations. If an Eligible Employee dies without having designated a beneficiary or if no beneficiary survives the Eligible Employee, the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall be payable to the beneficiary or beneficiaries designated or otherwise determined under the RSP.(j)Â Â Â Â Undistributable Accounts. Each Eligible Employee and (in the event of death) his or her beneficiary shall keep the Plan Administrator advised of his or her current address. If the Plan Administrator is unable to locate the Eligible Employee or beneficiary to whom an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account is payable under this Section 7, the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account shall be frozen as of the date on which distribution would have been completed in accordance with this Section 7, and no further appreciation, depreciation, earnings, gains or losses shall be credited (or debited) thereto. PG&E CORP shall have the right to assign or transfer the liability for payment of any undistributable Account to the Eligible Employeeâ€™s former Employer (or any successor thereto).â—¦(k)Â Â Â Â Plan Administrator Discretion. Within the specific time periods described in this Section 7, the Plan Administrator shall have sole discretion to determine the specific timing of the payment of any Account balance under the Plan.â¢8.Â Â Â Â Distribution Due to Unforeseeable Emergency (Hardship Distribution). A participant may request a distribution due to an unforeseeable emergency (within the meaning of Code Section 409A) by submitting a written request to the Plan Administrator. The Plan Administrator shall have the authority to require such evidence as it deems necessary to determine if a distribution is warranted. If an application for a hardship distribution due to an unforeseeable emergency is approved, the distribution shall be payable in a lump sum within 30 days after approval of such distribution. After receipt of a payment requested due to an unforeseeable emergency, a participant may not make additional deferrals during the remainder of the Plan Year in which the recipient received the payment. The distribution due to an unforeseeable emergency shall not exceed the amount reasonably necessary to meet the emergency. This Section 8 shall be administered in accordance with the requirements of Code Section 409A.9â€¢9.Â Â Â Â Domestic Relations Orders. â—¦(a)Â Â Â Â Domestic Relations Orders. The Plan Administrator shall establish written procedures for determining whether an order purporting to dispose of any portion of an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account is a domestic relations order (within the meaning of Section 414(p) of the Code) (a â€œDROâ€).â¢(1)Â Â Â Â No Payment Unless a DRO. No payment shall be made to any person designated in an order (an â€œAlternate Payeeâ€) until the Plan Administrator (or a court of competent jurisdiction reversing an initial adverse determination by the Plan Administrator) determines that the order is a DRO. Payment shall be made to each Alternate Payee as specified in the DRO.â€¢(2)Â Â Â Â Time of Payment. Payment may be made to an Alternate Payee in the form of a lump sum, at the time specified in the DRO, but no earlier than the date the DRO determination is made.â€¢(3)Â Â Â Â Hold Procedures. Notwithstanding any contrary Plan provision, prior to the receipt of a domestic relations order, the Plan Administrator may, in its sole discretion, place a hold upon all or a portion of an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account for a reasonable period of time (as determined by the Plan Administrator in accordance with Code Section 409A) if the Plan Administrator receives notice that (a) a domestic relations order is being sought by the Eligible Employee, his or her spouse, former spouse, child or other dependent, and (b) the Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account is a source of the payment under such domestic relations order. For purposes of this Section 9(a)(3), a â€œholdâ€ means that no withdrawals, distributions, or investment transfers may be made with respect to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account. If the Plan Administrator places a hold upon an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account pursuant to this Section 9(a)(3), it shall inform the Eligible Employee of such fact.â€¢10.Â Â Â Â Vesting. Except as provided in Section 4(d), an Eligible Employeeâ€™s interest in his or her Account at all times shall be 100 percent vested and nonforfeitable.â€¢11.Â Â Â Â Administration of the Plan.â—¦(a)Â Â Â Â Plan Administrator. The Employee Benefit Committee of PG&E CORP is hereby designated as the administrator of the Plan (within the meaning of Section 3(16)(A) of ERISA). The Plan Administrator delegates to the Senior Human Resource Officer for PG&E CORP, or his or her designee, the authority to carry out all duties and responsibilities of the Plan Administrator under the Plan. The Plan Administrator shall have the authority to control and manage the operation and administration of the Plan.â—¦(b)Â Â Â Â Powers of Plan Administrator. The Plan Administrator shall have all discretion and powers necessary to supervise the administration of the Plan and to control its operation in accordance with its terms, including, but not by way of limitation, the power to interpret the provisions of the Plan and to determine, in its sole discretion, any question arising under, or in connection with the administration or operation of, the Plan.10â—¦(c)Â Â Â Â Decisions of Plan Administrator. All decisions of the Plan Administrator and any action taken by it in respect of the Plan and within the powers granted to it under the Plan shall be conclusive and binding on all persons and shall be given the maximum deference permitted by law.â€¢12.Â Â Â Â Funding. All amounts credited to an Eligible Employeeâ€™s Account under the Plan shall continue for all purposes to be a part of the general assets of PG&E CORP. The interest of the Eligible Employee in his or her Account, including his or her right to distribution thereof, shall be an unsecured claim against the general assets of PG&E CORP. While PG&E CORP may choose to invest a portion of its general assets in investments identical or similar to those selected by Eligible Employees for purposes of determining the amounts to be credited (or debited) to their Accounts, nothing contained in the Plan shall give any Eligible Employee or beneficiary any interest in or claim against any specific assets of PG&E CORP.â€¢13.Â Â Â Â Modification or Termination of Plan.â—¦(a)Â Â Â Â Employersâ€™ Obligations Limited. The Plan is voluntary on the part of the Employers, and the Employers do not guarantee to continue the Plan. PG&E CORP at any time may, by appropriate amendment of the Plan, suspend Matching Employer Contributions and/or Basic Employer Contributions or may discontinue Matching Employer Contributions and/or Basic Employer Contributions, with or without cause.â—¦(b)Â Â Â Â Right to Amend or Terminate. The Board of Directors, acting through the Committee, reserves the right to alter, amend, or terminate the Plan, or any part thereof, in such manner as it may determine, for any reason whatsoever.â€¢(1)Â Â Â Â Limitations. Any alteration, amendment, or termination shall take effect upon the date indicated in the document embodying such alteration, amendment, or termination, provided that no such alteration or amendment shall divest any portion of an Account that is then vested under the Plan.â—¦(c)Â Â Â Â Effect of Termination. If the Plan is terminated, the balances credited to the Accounts of the Eligible Employees affected by such termination shall be distributed to them at the time and in the manner set forth in Section 7; provided, however, that the Plan Administrator, in its sole discretion, may authorize accelerated distribution of Eligible Employeesâ€™ Accounts to the extent provided in Treasury Regulation Sections 1-409A-3(j)(4)(ix) (A) (relating to terminations in connection with certain corporate dissolutions), (B) (relating to terminations in connection with certain change of control events), and (C) (relating to general terminations).â€¢14.Â Â Â Â General Provisions.â—¦(a)Â Â Â Â Inalienability. Except to the extent otherwise directed by a domestic relations order which the Plan Administrator determines is a DRO (as defined in Section 9(a)) or mandated by applicable law, in no event may either an Eligible Employee, a former Eligible Employee or his or her spouse, beneficiary or estate sell, transfer, anticipate, assign, hypothecate, 11or otherwise dispose of any right or interest under the Plan; and such rights and interests shall not at any time be subject to the claims of creditors nor be liable to attachment, execution, or other legal process.â—¦(b)Â Â Â Â Rights and Duties. Neither the Employers nor the Plan Administrator shall be subject to any liability or duty under the Plan except as expressly provided in the Plan, or for any action taken, omitted, or suffered in good faith.â—¦(c)Â Â Â Â No Enlargement of Employment Rights. Neither the establishment or maintenance of the Plan, the making of any Matching Employer Contributions, nor any action of any Employer or Plan Administrator, shall be held or construed to confer upon any individual any right to be continued as an Employee nor, upon dismissal, any right or interest in any specific assets of the Employers other than as provided in the Plan. Each Employer expressly reserves the right to discharge any Employee at any time, with or without cause or advance notice.â—¦(d)Â Â Â Â Apportionment of Costs and Duties. All acts required of the Employers under the Plan may be performed by PG&E CORP for itself and its Participating Subsidiaries, and the costs of the Plan may be equitably apportioned by the Plan Administrator among PG&E CORP and the other Employers. Whenever an Employer is permitted or required under the terms of the Plan to do or perform any act, matter or thing, it shall be done and performed by any officer or employee of the Employer who is thereunto duly authorized by the board of directors of the Employer. Each Participating Subsidiary shall be responsible for making benefit payments pursuant to the Plan on behalf of its Eligible Employees or for reimbursing PG&E CORP for the cost of such payments, as determined by PG&E CORP in its sole discretion. In the event the respective Participating Subsidiary fails to make such payment or reimbursement, and PG&E CORP does not exercise its discretion to make the payment on such Participating Subsidiaryâ€™s behalf, participation in the Plan by the Eligible Employees of that Participating Subsidiary shall be suspended in a manner consistent with Code Section 409A. If at some future date, the Participating Subsidiary makes all past-due payments and reimbursements, plus interest at a rate determined by PG&E CORP in its sole discretion, the suspended participation of its Eligible Employees eligible to participate in the Plan will be recognized in a manner consistent with Code Section 409A. In the event the respective Participating Subsidiary fails to make such payment or reimbursement, an Eligible Employeeâ€™s (or other payeeâ€™s) sole recourse shall be against the respective Participating Subsidiary, and not against PG&E CORP. An Eligible Employeeâ€™s participation in the Plan shall constitute agreement with this provision.â—¦(e)Â Â Â Â Applicable Law. The provisions of the Plan shall be construed, administered, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of California and, to the extent applicable, ERISA. The Plan is intended to comply with the provisions of Code Section 409A. However, PG&E CORP makes no representation that the benefits provided under the Plan will comply with Code Section 409A and makes no undertaking to prevent Code Section 409A from applying to the benefits provided under the Plan or to mitigate its effects on any deferrals or payments made under the Plan.12â—¦(f)Â Â Â Â Severability. If any provision of the Plan is held invalid or unenforceable, its invalidity or unenforceability shall not affect any other provisions of the Plan, and the Plan shall be construed and enforced as if such provision had not been included.â—¦(g)Â Â Â Â Captions. The captions contained in and the table of contents prefixed to the Plan are inserted only as a matter of convenience and for reference and in no way define, limit, enlarge, or describe the scope or intent of the Plan nor in any way shall affect the construction of any provision of the Plan.15.Â Â Â Â Claims and Appeals Procedure. Any claims for benefits under the Plan made by a participant, beneficiary or other person shall be made and administered in accordance with the following procedures.(a)Â Â Â Â Compliance with Regulations. It is intended that the claims procedure of the Plan be administered in accordance with the claims procedure regulations of the U.S. Department of Labor set forth in 29 C.F.R. Section 2560.503-1.(b)Â Â Â Â Initial Claims.(1)Â Â Â Â Submission of Initial Claims by a Claimant. Claims for benefits under the Plan made by a participant, beneficiary or other person covered or claiming they are entitled to benefits from the Plan (a â€œClaimantâ€) (or by an authorized representative of any Claimant) must be submitted in writing to the Director, Benefits, or if the title for the position ever changes, the individual employed in Benefits with direct management responsibility over the Plan (whether a Manager or some other title) (such individual, the â€œInitial Claim Reviewerâ€), care of Benefits.(2)Â Â Â Â Authorized Representative. The Plan Administrator may establish and enforce reasonable procedures for determining whether any individual or entity has been authorized to act on behalf of a Claimant.(3)Â Â Â Â Processing of Approved Claims. Approved claims will be processed and, if applicable, the Plan Administrator will issue instructions authorizing payments as approved.(4)Â Â Â Â Notification of Denied Claims. If a claim is denied in whole or in part by the Initial Claim Reviewer in its discretion, the Initial Claim Reviewer shall notify the Claimant of the decision by written or electronic notice, in a manner calculated to be understood by the Claimant. The notice shall set forth:a)Â Â Â Â The specific reasons for the denial of the claim;b)Â Â Â Â A reference to specific provisions of the Plan on which the denial is based;c)Â Â Â Â A description of any additional material or information necessary to perfect the claim and an explanation of why such material or information is necessary; and13d)Â Â Â An explanation of the Planâ€™s claims review procedure for the denied or partially denied claim and any applicable time limits, and a statement that the Claimant has a right to bring a civil action under Section 502(a) of ERISA following an adverse benefit determination on review.Such notification shall be given within 90 days after the claim is received by the Initial Claim Reviewer (or within 180 days, if special circumstances require an extension of time for processing the claim and provided that written notice of such extension and circumstances and the date a decision is expected is given to the Claimant within the initial 90-day period). A claim is considered approved only if its approval is communicated in writing to a Claimant.(c)Â Â Â Â Appeals of Denied Claims. (1)Â Â Â Â Right to Appeal. Upon denial of a claim in whole or in part, a Claimant or his or her duly authorized representative shall have the right to submit a written request to the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee, as such term is defined the Pacific Gas and Electric Company Retirement Plan Part I, as amended and restated from time to time (the â€œEmployee Benefit Appeals Committeeâ€) for a full and fair review of the denied claim. A request for review of a claim must be submitted within 60 days of receipt by the Claimant of written notice of the denial of the claim. If the Claimant fails to file a request for review within 60 days of the denial notification, the claim will be deemed abandoned and the Claimant is precluded from reasserting it. Also, if the Claimant is not provided a notice of denial of an initial claim as set forth in Section 15(b), the Claimant may submit a written request for review to the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee. (2)Â Â Â Â Access to Documents and Records. The Claimant or the Claimantâ€™s representative shall have, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records and other information relevant to the Claimantâ€™s claim for benefits.(3)Â Â Â Â Right to Submit Additional Information. The Claimant may submit written comments, documents, records and other information relating to the claim for benefits.(4)Â Â Â Â Scope of the Review. The Employee Benefit Appeals Committee review process shall include all comments, documents, records and other information submitted by the Claimant relating to the claim, without regard to whether such information was submitted or considered in the initial benefit determination. (5)Â Â Â Â Preclusion for Materials Not Submitted. Failure to raise issues or present evidence on review will preclude those issues or evidence from being presented in any subsequent proceeding or judicial review of the claim.(6)Â Â Â Â Decision by the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee. The decision by the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee on review shall be in written or electronic form, in a manner calculated to be understood by the Claimant. If the claim is denied on review, the notice shall set forth:14a)Â Â Â Â The specific reasons for the denial of the appeal of the claim;b)Â Â Â Â A reference to specific provisions of the Plan on which the denial is based;c)Â Â Â Â A statement that the Claimant is entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records and other information relevant to the Claimantâ€™s claim for benefits; and;d)Â Â Â Â A statement describing any voluntary appeal procedures offered by the Plan (if any) and the Claimantâ€™s right to obtain the information about such procedures, and a statement of the Claimantâ€™s right to bring an action under Section 502(a) of ERISA.The Employee Benefit Appeals Committee will advise the Claimant of the results of the review within 60 days after receipt of the written request for review (or within 120 days if special circumstances require an extension of time for processing the request, and if notice of such extension and circumstances, including the date a decision is expected to be made, is given to such Claimant within the initial 60-day period).(d)Â Â Â Â Authority of Initial Claim Reviewer and Employee Benefit Appeals Committee and Deference to their Decisions. To the extent of the responsibility to review initial benefit claims (with respect to the Initial Claim Reviewer) or to review appeals of the denial of benefit claims (with respect to the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee), the Initial Claim Reviewer and the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee, shall have the discretionary authority to interpret and apply the provisions of the Plan and such decisions shall be afforded the maximum deference permitted by law. Benefits will be paid only if the Initial Claim Reviewer (with respect to initial benefit claims) or the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee (with respect to appeals of the denial of benefit claims) decides in its discretion that the Claimant is entitled to them. The decisions of the Employee Benefit Appeals Committee shall be final and binding on the Claimant.(e)Â Â Â Â Exhaustion of Claims Procedure Required in All Cases. A participant, beneficiary or other person asserting a claim, alleging a violation of or seeking any remedy under any provision of ERISA or other applicable law that relates in any manner to the Plan is considered a Claimant and is subject to the claims procedures described in this Section 15.A participant, beneficiary or other person made subject to the claims procedures in this SectionÂ 15 must follow and exhaust the applicable claims procedures described in this Section 15 with respect to any claim, alleged violation, or sought remedy before taking action in any other forum regarding a claim for benefits under the Plan or alleging a violation of, or seeking any remedy under, any provision of ERISA or other applicable law.A Claimant and any representative of a Claimant may not bring an action in any other forum later than the earliest of (1) one year from the date of completion of the Planâ€™s claims appeal process set forth in this Section 15, (2) one year from the latest date on which an appeal is permitted to be filed under this claims and appeals process after the denial of an initial claim 15(i.e., within 60 days of receipt of an initial claim denial notification), and (3) two years from the date a Claimant knew or should have known that a claim existed. The foregoing in no way serves as a waiver of the exhaustion requirement set forth in the preceding paragraph.Any action described in this Section 15(e) must be filed in the Federal District Court for the Northern District of California.16APPENDIX AEMPLOYERS(As of January 1, 2005)â€” PG&E Corporationâ€“ All Participating SubsidiariesParticipating Subsidiaries (as of January 1, 2005):â€“ Pacific Gas and Electric Companyâ€“ All U.S. subsidiaries of the above-named corporationsAPPENDIX BINVESTMENT FUNDS(as of May 14, 2024)SRSP Target Date Funds are a suite of funds that provide investors with convenient, cost-effective exposure across major global asset classes within single investment options. The suite consists of ten funds targeting a normal retirement age of 65. These broadly diversified vehicles combine a variety of asset classes and automatic rebalancing with professional judgment regarding the appropriate risk level for a specific retirement date (i.e., 2025). Over time, the allocation to asset classes change according to a predetermined "glide path". (The glide path represents the shifting of asset classes over time and does not apply to the Income Fund.) The asset allocation will become more conservative as the fund approaches its target retirement date. This reflects the need for reduced investment risks as retirement approaches and the need for lower volatility of a portfolio, which may be a primary source of income after retiring. Each fund attempts to closely match the characteristics and returns of its custom benchmark as opposed to any attempts to outperform this benchmark. Once the Fund reaches its target retirement date (i.e., 2025), it will begin a five year transition period to the SRSP Target Retirement Income Fund resulting at the end of that five year period in an allocation to stocks that will remain fixed at approximately 35% of assets. The remainder of the fund will be invested in fixed-income securities. These percentages may fluctuate between rebalancing. The investment risks of each RSP Target Date Fund change over time as its asset allocation changes. A participant typically invests in one fund within the suite which reflects a target retirement date closest to the anticipated retirement date of the participant.PG&E Corporation Phantom Stock Fund converts contributions and transferred amounts into units of phantom common stock valued at the closing price of a share of PG&E Corporation common stock on the contribution/transfer date. If the transfer request is received after the market closes, the following dayâ€™s closing price will be used. Thereafter, the value of a unit shall fluctuate depending on the price of PG&E Corporation common stock. Each time a dividend is paid on common stock, an amount equal to such dividend shall be credited to the account as additional units.SRSP Large Company Stock Index Fund seeks to match the returns of the S&P 500 Index. The Fund invests in all 500 stocks in the S&P 500 Index in proportion to their weightings in the Index. The S&P 500 provides exposure to about 85% of the market value of all publicly traded common stocks in the United States. The strategy of investing in the same stocks as the S&P 500 Index is designed to achieve a return similar to the benchmark. SRSP Small Company Stock Index Fund seeks to match the returns of the Russell Small Cap Completeness Index. The Fund invests in all of the stocks in the Russell Special Small Cap Completeness Index in proportion to their weightings in the Index. The Russell Small Cap Completeness Index represents about 15% of the market value of all publicly traded common stocks in the United States. The strategy of investing in the same stocks as the Russell Small Cap Completeness Index is designed to achieve a return similar to the benchmark. SRSP International Stock Index Fund seeks to match the returns of the MSCI World ex-US Index. The Fund invests in all of the stocks in the MSCI World ex-US Index in proportion to their weightings in the Index. The MSCI World ex-US index provides exposure to Canada as well as developed market countries in Europe, Australasia, and the Far East. The strategy of investing in the same stocks as the MSCI World ex-US is designed to achieve a return similar to the benchmark.SRSP Bond Index Fund seeks to match the returns of the Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index. The Fund invests in a well-diversified portfolio of government, corporate, mortgage-backed, and asset-backed fixed-income securities that is representative of the broad domestic bond market. The Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index is a benchmark representing the broad, intermediate maturity, investment-grade U.S. bond market. The strategy of investing in a portfolio of bonds designed to track the Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index is designed to achieve a return similar to the benchmark.SRSP US Government Bond Index Fund The US Government Bond Index Fund invests in selected fixed income securities in the Bloomberg US Government Bond Index with the objective of achieving a return similar to the benchmark. The Bloomberg US Government Bond Index is a market value-weighted index for U.S. dollar denominated investment-grade fixed income securities issued by the United States government or its agencies. SRSP Money Market Investment Fund is maintained for the purpose of investing in a diversified portfolio consisting primarily of short-term government and non-government debt securities. The primary objective of this fund is to provide participants with preservation of principal.AA Utility Bond Fund accrues interest on the amount invested in this fund. Capitalized terms that are not defined in this Agreement or the above cover sheet are defined in the LTIP.Grant of Restricted Stock UnitsPG&E Corporation grants you the number of Restricted Stock Units shown on the cover sheet of this Agreement. The Restricted Stock Units are subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the LTIP.Vesting of Restricted Stock Units In general, provided that you have not had a Separation from Service, your Restricted Stock Units will vest on the earlier of (i) the first anniversary of the Date of Grant shown on the cover sheet to this Agreement or (ii) the last day of the directorâ€™s elected term (the â€œNormal Vesting Dateâ€). As set forth elsewhere in this Agreement, the Restricted Stock Units may vest earlier upon the occurrence of certain events.DividendsYour Restricted Stock Unit account will be credited quarterly on each dividend payment date with additional Restricted Stock Units (including fractions computed to three decimal places), determined by dividing (1) the amount of cash dividends paid on the number of shares of PG&E Corporation common stock represented by the Restricted Stock Units previously credited to your Restricted Stock Unit account by (2) the Fair Market Value of a share of PG&E Corporation common stock on the dividend payment date. However, if you previously made a timely, valid deferral election to receive Shares in settlement of vested Restricted Stock Units after the Normal Settlement Date (commencing in January of a year following the Normal Settlement Date), then settlement will be according to the terms of your election and the LTIP, unless settled earlier in a lump sum as set forth in the LTIP upon occurrence of any of the events listed in sections (2) â€“ (4) above. Further, if pursuant to any such deferral election you begin receiving any annual installments, then upon the subsequent occurrence of any of the events listed in sections (2) â€“ (4) above, any unpaid installments will be settled in a lump sum upon occurrence of the event, except to the extent that such acceleration would result in taxation under Section 409A of the Code. Separation of ServiceIf you have a Separation from Service, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, before the Normal Vesting Date, all Restricted Stock Units subject to this Agreement that have not vested on account of your death, Disability (within the meaning of Section 409A of the Code), or following a Change in Control (as provided below), will be automatically cancelled and forfeited; provided, however, that if you have a Separation from Service due to a pending Disability determination, forfeiture will not occur until a finding that such Disability has not occurred. In the event of a Change in Control in which Restricted Stock Units are not assumed or continued, your then-outstanding Restricted Stock Units that are not vested shall immediately vest and shall be settled in cash, shares or a combination thereof, as determined by the People and Compensation Committee, within thirty (30) days following such Change in Control (except to the extent that settlement of the Restricted Stock Unit must be made pursuant to its original schedule in order to comply with Code Section 409A), notwithstanding that the applicable retention period or other restrictions and conditions have not been completed or satisfied. DefinitionCarrying amount as of the balance sheet date of capitalized costs of regulated entities that are expected to be recovered through revenue sources within one year or the normal operating cycle, if longer. Such costs are capitalized if they meet both of the following criteria: a. It is probable that future revenue in an amount at least equal to the capitalized cost will result from inclusion of that cost in allowable costs for rate-making purposes. b. Based on available evidence, the future revenue will be provided to permit recovery of the previously incurred cost rather than to provide for expected levels of similar future costs. If the revenue will be provided through an automatic rate-adjustment clause, this criterion requires that the regulator's intent clearly be to permit recovery of the previously incurred cost. + ReferencesReference 1: http://fasb.org/us-gaap/role/ref/legacyRef -Topic 980 -SubTopic 340 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section 50 -Paragraph 1 -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147478742/980-340-50-1 + Details Name: us-gaap_RegulatoryAssetsCurrent Namespace Prefix: us-gaap_ Data Type: xbrli:monetaryItemType Balance Type: debit Period Type: instant X - DefinitionCarrying amount as of the balance sheet date of capitalized costs of regulated entities that are not expected to be recovered through revenue sources within one year or the normal operating cycle if longer. + ReferencesReference 1: http://fasb.org/us-gaap/role/ref/legacyRef -Topic 980 -SubTopic 340 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section 50 -Paragraph 1 -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147478742/980-340-50-1 + Details Name: us-gaap_RegulatoryAssetsNoncurrent Namespace Prefix: us-gaap_ Data Type: xbrli:monetaryItemType Balance Type: debit Period Type: instant X - DefinitionThe amount for the individual regulatory noncurrent liability as itemized in a table of regulatory noncurrent liabilities as of the end of the period. + ReferencesReference 1: http://fasb.org/us-gaap/role/ref/legacyRef -Topic 210 -SubTopic 10 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section S99 -Paragraph 1 -Subparagraph (SX 210.5-02(24)) -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147480566/210-10-S99-1 + Details Name: us-gaap_RegulatoryLiabilityNoncurrent Namespace Prefix: us-gaap_ Data Type: xbrli:monetaryItemType Balance Type: credit Period Type: instant X - DefinitionAmount of cash restricted as to withdrawal or usage. DefinitionCarrying amount as of the balance sheet date of capitalized costs of regulated entities that are expected to be recovered through revenue sources within one year or the normal operating cycle, if longer. Such costs are capitalized if they meet both of the following criteria: a. It is probable that future revenue in an amount at least equal to the capitalized cost will result from inclusion of that cost in allowable costs for rate-making purposes. b. Based on available evidence, the future revenue will be provided to permit recovery of the previously incurred cost rather than to provide for expected levels of similar future costs. If the revenue will be provided through an automatic rate-adjustment clause, this criterion requires that the regulator's intent clearly be to permit recovery of the previously incurred cost. + ReferencesReference 1: http://fasb.org/us-gaap/role/ref/legacyRef -Topic 980 -SubTopic 340 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section 50 -Paragraph 1 -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147478742/980-340-50-1 + Details Name: us-gaap_RegulatoryAssetsCurrent Namespace Prefix: us-gaap_ Data Type: xbrli:monetaryItemType Balance Type: debit Period Type: instant X - DefinitionCarrying amount as of the balance sheet date of capitalized costs of regulated entities that are not expected to be recovered through revenue sources within one year or the normal operating cycle if longer. + ReferencesReference 1: http://fasb.org/us-gaap/role/ref/legacyRef -Topic 980 -SubTopic 340 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section 50 -Paragraph 1 -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147478742/980-340-50-1 + Details Name: us-gaap_RegulatoryAssetsNoncurrent Namespace Prefix: us-gaap_ Data Type: xbrli:monetaryItemType Balance Type: debit Period Type: instant X - DefinitionThe amount for the individual regulatory noncurrent liability as itemized in a table of regulatory noncurrent liabilities as of the end of the period. + ReferencesReference 1: http://fasb.org/us-gaap/role/ref/legacyRef -Topic 210 -SubTopic 10 -Name Accounting Standards Codification -Section S99 -Paragraph 1 -Subparagraph (SX 210.5-02(24)) -Publisher FASB -URI https://asc.fasb.org/1943274/2147480566/210-10-S99-1 + Details Name: us-gaap_RegulatoryLiabilityNoncurrent Namespace Prefix: us-gaap_ Data Type: xbrli:monetaryItemType Balance Type: credit Period Type: instant X - DefinitionAmount of cash restricted as to withdrawal or usage. Consolidation and Presentation of Financial Statements [Abstract] Â ORGANIZATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION ORGANIZATION AND BASIS OF PRESENTATIONOrganization and Basis of PresentationPG&E Corporation is a holding company whose primary operating subsidiary is Pacific Gas and Electric Company, a public utility serving northern and central California.Â The Utility generates revenues mainly through the sale and delivery of electricity and natural gas to customers.Â The Utility is primarily regulated by the CPUC and the FERC. Â In addition, the NRC oversees the licensing, construction, operation, and decommissioning of the Utilityâ€™s nuclear generation facilities.This quarterly report on Form 10-Q is a combined report of PG&E Corporation and the Utility.Â PG&E Corporationâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of PG&E Corporation, the Utility, and other wholly owned and controlled subsidiaries. Â The Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include the accounts of the Utility and its wholly owned and controlled subsidiaries. Â All intercompany transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.Â The Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements apply to both PG&E Corporation and the Utility.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility assess financial performance and allocate resources on a consolidated basis (i.e., the companies operate in one segment).The accompanying Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared in conformity with GAAP and in accordance with the interim period reporting requirements of Form 10-Q and reflect all adjustments that management believes are necessary for the fair presentation of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows for the periods presented. The information as of December 31, 2023 in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets included in this quarterly report on Form 10-Q was derived from the audited Consolidated Balance Sheets in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K. This quarterly report on Form 10-Q should be read in conjunction with the 2023 Form 10-K.The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. Some of the more significant estimates and assumptions relate to the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities, wildfire-related liabilities, legal and regulatory contingencies, the Wildfire Fund, environmental remediation liabilities, asset retirement obligations, wildfire-related receivables, and pension and other post-retirement benefit plan obligations. Management believes that its estimates and assumptions reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements are appropriate and reasonable. A change in managementâ€™s estimates or assumptions could result in an adjustment that would have a material impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows during the period in which such change occurred. RecognitionRevenue from Contracts with CustomersThe Utility recognizes revenues when electricity and natural gas services are delivered.Â The Utility records unbilled revenues for the estimated amount of energy delivered to customers but not yet billed at the end of the period.Â Unbilled revenues are included in Accounts receivable on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.Â Rates charged to customers are based on CPUC and FERC authorized revenue requirements. Revenues can vary significantly from period to period because of seasonality, weather, and customer usage patterns.Regulatory Balancing Account RevenueThe CPUC authorizes most of the Utilityâ€™s revenues in the Utilityâ€™s GRCs, which occur everyÂ four years. CPUC and FERC rates decouple authorized revenue from the volume of electricity and natural gas sales, so the Utility receives revenue equal to the amounts authorized by the relevant regulatory agencies. As a result, the volume of electricity and natural gas sold does not have a direct impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial results. The Utility recognizes revenues that have been authorized for rate recovery, are objectively determinable and probable of recovery, and are expected to be collected within 24 months.Â Generally, electric and natural gas operating revenue is recognized ratably over the year. The Utility records a balancing account asset or liability for differences between customer billings and authorized revenue requirements that are probable of recovery or refund.The Utility also collects additional revenue requirements to recover costs that the CPUC has authorized the Utility to pass on to customers, including costs to purchase electricity and natural gas, and to fund public purpose, demand response, and customer energy efficiency programs.Â In general, the revenue recognition criteria for pass-through costs billed to customers are met at the time the costs are incurred. The Utility records a regulatory balancing account asset or liability for differences between incurred costs and customer billings or authorized revenue meant to recover those costs, to the extent that these differences are probable of recovery or refund. As a result, these differences have no impact on net income.The following table presents the Utilityâ€™s revenues disaggregated by type of customer:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions)20242023202420232ElectricRevenue from contracts with customersÂ Â Â Residential$1,516Â $1,404Â $3,315Â $2,693Â Â Â Â Commercial1,655Â 1,283Â 3,160Â 2,427Â Â Â Â Industrial441Â 375Â 854Â 728Â Â Â Â Agricultural439Â 314Â 619Â 469Â Â Â street and highway lighting27Â 20Â 52Â 39Â Â Â Â Other, net (1)798Â (121)919Â (78)Â Â Â Â Â Â Total revenue from contracts with customers - electric4,876Â 3,275Â 8,919Â 6,278Â Regulatory balancing accounts (2)(418)577Â (409)1,693Â Total electric operating revenue$4,458Â $3,852Â $8,510Â $7,971Â Natural gasRevenue from contracts with customersÂ Â Â Residential$213Â $691Â $1,730Â $2,574Â Â Â Â Commercial187Â 189Â 560Â 702Â Â Â Â Transportation service only424Â 398Â 899Â 842Â Â Â Â Other, net (1)(138)(257)(202)(410)Â Â Â Â Â Â Total revenue from contracts with customers - gas686Â 1,021Â 2,987Â 3,708Â Regulatory balancing accounts (2)842Â 417Â 350Â (180)Total natural gas operating revenue1,528Â 1,438Â 3,337Â 3,528Â Total operating revenues$5,986Â $5,290Â $11,847Â $11,499Â (1) This activity is primarily related to the change in unbilled revenue and amounts subject to refund, partially offset by other miscellaneous revenue items.(2) These amounts represent revenues authorized to be billed or refunded to customers.Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost â€“ Credit LossesPG&E Corporation and the Utility use the current expected credit loss model to estimate the expected lifetime credit loss on financial assets measured at amortized cost. PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate credit risk in their portfolio of financial assets quarterly. As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility identified the following significant categories of financial assets.Trade ReceivablesTrade receivables are represented by customer accounts. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record an allowance for doubtful accounts to recognize an estimate of expected lifetime credit losses. The allowance is determined on a collective basis based on the historical amounts written-off and an assessment of customer collectability. Furthermore, economic conditions are evaluated as part of the estimate of expected lifetime credit losses.Expected credit losses of $65Â million and $135 million were recorded in Operating and maintenance expense on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for credit losses associated with trade and other receivables during the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, respectively. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, expected credit losses were $154 million and $293 million, respectively. The portion of expected credit losses that are deemed probable of recovery are deferred to the RUBA, CPPMA, and a FERC regulatory asset account. As of June 30, 2024, the RUBA current balancing accounts receivable balance was $98Â million, and CPPMA and FERC noncurrent regulatory asset balances were $6 million and $73Â million, respectively. As of December 31, 2023, the RUBA current balancing accounts receivable balance was $507Â million, and CPPMA and FERC noncurrent regulatory asset balances were $5Â million and $78Â million, respectively. The RUBA current balancing account balance decreased from December 31, 2023 to June 30, 2024 primarily due to the annual electric and gas true-up which allows the Utility to recover approximately $500Â million in undercollections from residential customers in 2024. Other Receivables and Available-For-Sale Debt SecuritiesInsurance receivables are related to the liability insurance policies PG&E Corporation and the Utility carry. Insurance receivable risk is related to each insurance carrierâ€™s risk of defaulting on their individual policies. Wildfire Fund receivables are the funds available from the statewide fund established under AB 1054 for payment of eligible claims related to the 2021 Dixie fire that exceed $1.0 billion and available insurance coverage. For more information, see Note 10 below. Wildfire Fund receivables risk is related to the Wildfire Fundâ€™s durability, which is a measurement of its claim-paying capacity. Lastly, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are required to determine if the fair value is below the amortized cost basis for their available-for-sale debt securities (i.e., impairment). If such an impairment exists and does not otherwise result in a write-down, then PG&E Corporation and the Utility must determine whether a portion of the impairment is a result of expected credit loss.As of June 30, 2024, expected credit losses for insurance receivables, Wildfire Fund receivables, and available-for-sale debt securities were immaterial.Government AssistanceThe Utility participated in various government assistance programs during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. The Utilityâ€™s accounting policy is to apply a grant accounting model by analogy to International Accounting Standards 20, Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance.Assembly Bill 180On June 30, 2022, AB 180 became law. AB 180 authorized the DWR to use up to $75 million to support contracts with the owners of electric generating facilities pending retirement, such as Diablo Canyon, to fund, reimburse or compensate the owner for any costs, expenses or financial commitments incurred to retain the future availability of such generating facilities pending further legislation. The resulting agreement between DWR and the Utility was effective beginning October 1, 2022, and will continue until full disbursement of funds or termination per the agreement. In the event of a termination, the Utility will take reasonable steps to end activities associated with this agreement and will return to DWR any unused funds. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the amount recorded as a reduction to Cost of electricity for income related to government grants for incurred eligible costs to purchase nuclear fuel was immaterial to the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.DWR Loan AgreementOn October 18, 2022, the DWR and the Utility executed a $1.4Â billion loan agreement to support the extension of Diablo Canyon, up to approximately $1.1Â billion of which could be repaid by funds received from the DOE (see â€œU.S. DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Programâ€ below). Under the loan agreement, the DWR pays the Utility a monthly performance-based disbursement equal to $7 for each MWh generated by Diablo Canyon, effective September 2, 2022. The Utility may use the proceeds of the performance-based disbursements for any business purpose, except as profits or dividends to shareholders or as otherwise prohibited by SB 846. The Utility began earning performance-based disbursements beginning on September 2, 2022 and is eligible to earn performance-based disbursements until the previously-approved retirement dates for Diablo Canyon Unit 1 and Unit 2 (2024 and 2025, respectively). The performance-based disbursements are contingent upon the Utilityâ€™s ongoing efforts to pursue extension of and continued safe and reliable operation of Diablo Canyon. The aggregate amount of performance-based disbursements under this agreement will not exceed $300Â million.The Utility initially accounts for all disbursements from the DWR loan agreement pursuant to Accounting Standards Codification (â€œASCâ€) 470, Debt. When there is reasonable assurance that the Utility will have loan disbursements forgiven by the DWR, such as when the Utility earns a performance-based disbursement or when funds expected to be received from the DOE are less than incurred eligible costs to support the extension of Diablo Canyon, the Utility will recognize those forgiven loans as income related to government grants. The Utility records the income related to government grants as a deduction to expense in the same period(s) that eligible costs are incurred.The following table provides a summary of where the DWR loan activity is presented in PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions)20242023202420232Long-term debt:Beginning Balance - DWR loan outstanding$296Â $279Â $98Â $312Â Proceeds received 368Â â€”Â 600Â â€”Â Operating Expenses:Operating and maintenance expense - Performance-based disbursements(17)(19)(39)(52)Operating and maintenance expense - Loan forgiveness and other adjustments12Â â€”Â 12â€”Â Other current liabilities: Performance-based disbursements deferred (8)(15)(20)(15)Long-term debt:Ending Balance - DWR loan outstanding$651Â $245Â $651Â $245Â U.S. DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit ProgramOn January 11, 2024, the Utility and DOE entered into a Credit Award and Payment Agreement for up to $1.1Â billion related to Diablo Canyon as part of the DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Program. The Utility will use these funds to repay its loans outstanding under the DWR Loan Agreement (see â€œDWR Loan Agreementâ€ above). Final award amounts will be determined following completion of each year of the award period, and amounts awarded over a four-year award period ending in 2026 will be based on a number of factors, including actual costs incurred to extend the Diablo Canyon operations. When there is reasonable assurance that the Utility will receive funding and comply with the conditions of the DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Program, the Utility will recognize such funding as income and will record a receivable related to government grants. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income reflected $159Â million and $299 million, respectively, as a deduction to Operating and maintenance expense, for income related to government grants for incurred eligible costs to support the extension of Diablo Canyon.Variable Interest EntitiesA VIE is an entity that does not have sufficient equity at risk to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support from other parties, or whose equity investors lack any characteristics of a controlling financial interest. An enterprise that has a controlling financial interest in a VIE is a primary beneficiary and is required to consolidate the VIE.Consolidated VIEsReceivables Securitization ProgramThe SPV was created in connection with the Receivables Securitization Program and is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the Receivables Securitization Program, the Utility sells certain of its receivables and certain related rights to payment and obligations of the Utility with respect to such receivables, and certain other related rights to the SPV, which, in turn, obtains loans secured by the receivables from financial institutions (the â€œLendersâ€). The pledged receivables and the corresponding debt are included in Accounts receivable, Accrued unbilled revenue, and Long-term debt on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.The SPV is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its activities. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of the SPV are decisions made to manage receivables. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates the SPV as it makes these decisions. No additional financial support was provided to the SPV during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the SPV had net accounts receivable of $3.5Â billion and $2.7Â billion, respectively, and outstanding borrowings of $1.5 billion, under the Receivables Securitization Program. For more information, see Note 4 below.AB 1054 SecuritizationPG&E Recovery Funding LLC is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the financing orders for the first and second AB 1054 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the non-bypassable wildfire hardening fixed recovery charges (â€œRecovery Propertyâ€) to PG&E Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued two separate series of recovery bonds secured by separate Recovery Property.PG&E Recovery Funding LLC is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its operations. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of PG&E Recovery Funding LLC are decisions made by the servicer of the Recovery Property. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates PG&E Recovery Funding LLC as it acts in this role as servicer. No additional financial support was provided to PG&E Recovery Funding LLC during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. On November 12, 2021, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC issued approximately $860Â million of senior secured recovery bonds. On November 30, 2022, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC issued approximately $983Â million of Series 2022-A senior secured recovery bonds. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC had outstanding borrowings of $1.8 billion, included in Long-term debt and Long-term debt, classified as current on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.SB 901 SecuritizationPG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the financing order for the first and second SB 901 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the non-bypassable fixed recovery charges (â€œSB 901 Recovery Propertyâ€) to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued two separate series of recovery bonds secured by separate SB 901 Recovery Property.PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its operations. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC are decisions made by the servicer of the SB 901 Recovery Property. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC as it acts in this role as servicer. No additional financial support was provided to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. On May 10, 2022, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC issued $3.6Â billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds (the â€œSeries 2022-A Recovery Bondsâ€). On July 20, 2022, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC issued $3.9Â billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds (the â€œSeries 2022-B Recovery Bondsâ€). As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC had outstanding borrowings of $7.3Â billion, included in Long-term debt and Long-term debt, classified as current on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. For more information, see Note 5 below.Non-Consolidated VIEsPower Purchase AgreementsSome of the counterparties to the Utilityâ€™s power purchase agreements are considered VIEs.Â Each of these VIEs was designed to own a power plant that would generate electricity for sale to the Utility.Â To determine whether the Utility was the primary beneficiary of any of these VIEs as of June 30, 2024, the Utility assessed whether it absorbs any of the VIEâ€™s expected losses or receives any portion of the VIEâ€™s expected residual returns under the terms of the power purchase agreement, analyzed the variability in the VIEâ€™s gross margin, and considered whether it had any decision-making rights associated with the activities that are most significant to the VIEâ€™s performance, such as dispatch rights or operating and maintenance activities. Â The Utilityâ€™s financial obligation is limited to the amount the Utility pays for delivered electricity and capacity. The Utility did not have any decision-making rights associated with any of the activities that are most significant to the economic performance of any of these VIEs. Since the Utility was not the primary beneficiary of any of these VIEs as of June 30, 2024, it did not consolidate any of them.The Lakeside BuildingBA2 300 Lakeside LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of TMG Bay Area Investments II, LLC, and the Utility are parties to an office lease agreement for approximately 910,000 rentable square feet of space within the Lakeside Building, which serves as the Utilityâ€™s principal administrative headquarters.BA2 300 Lakeside LLC is considered a VIE because the group that holds the equity investment at risk lacks the right to receive the expected residual returns of the entity due to a fixed-price purchase option covering more than 50% of the fair value of the assets held by the entity. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of BA2 300 Lakeside LLC are decisions related to significant maintenance and remarketing of the property. The Utility is not considered the primary beneficiary and does not consolidate BA2 300 Lakeside LLC as it does not have any decision-making rights associated with these activities. The Utilityâ€™s financial obligation is limited to the issued letter of credit as well as the amounts it pays for base rent and certain costs, per the office lease agreement. For more information, see â€œOakland Headquarters Lease and Purchaseâ€ in Note 11 below.Contributions to the Wildfire Fund Established Pursuant to AB 1054PG&E Corporation and the Utility account for contributions to the Wildfire Fund by capitalizing an asset, amortizing over the life of the fund ratably based on an estimated period of coverage, and incrementally adjusting for accelerated amortization as the level of coverage declines, as further described below. However, AB 1054 did not specify a period of coverage for the Wildfire Fund; therefore, this accounting treatment is subject to significant accounting judgments and estimates. In estimating the period of coverage, PG&E Corporation and the Utility used a dataset of historical, publicly available fire-loss data caused by electrical equipment to create Monte Carlo simulations of expected loss. The number of years of historic fire-loss data and the effectiveness of mitigation efforts by the California electric utility companies are significant assumptions used to estimate the period of coverage. Other assumptions include the estimated costs to settle wildfire claims for participating electric utilities including the Utility, the CPUCâ€™s determinations of whether costs were just and reasonable in cases of electric utility-caused wildfires and amounts required to be reimbursed to the Wildfire Fund, the impacts of climate change, the FERC-allocable portion of loss recovery, and the future transmission and distribution equity rate base growth of participating electric utilities. These assumptions create a high degree of uncertainty for the estimated useful life of the Wildfire Fund.PG&E Corporation and the Utility re-evaluate the estimated period of coverage annually and as required by additional information. Changes in any of the assumptions could materially impact the estimated period of coverage. PG&E Corporation and the Utility assess the Wildfire Fund asset for acceleration of the amortization of the asset in the event that it is probable that a participating utilityâ€™s electrical equipment will be found to be the substantial cause of a catastrophic wildfire. PG&E Corporation and the Utility initially estimated a period of coverage of 15 years. In the first quarter of 2024, the annual assessment resulted in the expected life of the Wildfire Fund increasing to 20 years after incorporating 2023 loss information into the dataset with no events triggering a claim against the Wildfire Fund.As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $193Â million in Other current liabilities, $754Â million in Other noncurrent liabilities, $305Â million in Current assets - Wildfire Fund asset, and $4.3Â billion in Noncurrent assets - Wildfire Fund asset in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. During the three months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Utility recorded amortization and accretion expense of $78 million and $117 million, respectively. During the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Utility recorded amortization and accretion expense of $156 million and $234 million, respectively. The amortization of the asset, accretion of the liability, and applicable acceleration of the amortization of the asset is reflected in Wildfire Fund expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $500Â million in Accounts receivable - other and $100Â million in Other noncurrent assets in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets, for Wildfire Fund receivables related to the 2021 Dixie fire.For more information, see â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ in Note 10 below.Pension and Other Post-Retirement BenefitsPG&E Corporation and the Utility sponsor a non-contributory defined benefit pension plan and cash balance plan. This ASU will become effective for PG&E Corporation and the Utility for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are currently evaluating the impact the guidance will have on their Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures.Income TaxesIn December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, which amends the existing guidance to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. The standard requires consistent categories and greater disaggregation of information in the rate reconciliation, and income taxes paid disaggregated by jurisdiction. This ASU will become effective for PG&E Corporation and the Utility for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are currently evaluating the impact the guidance will have on their Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures. Further, the facility availability may vary based on the amount of accounts receivable that the Utility owns that are eligible for sale to the SPV and the portion of those accounts receivable that are sold to the SPV that are eligible for advances by the lenders under the Receivables Securitization Program.UtilityOn April 16, 2024, the Utility amended its existing term loan agreement to combine its $400Â million 2-year tranche loan maturing April 19, 2024 and its $125Â million 364-day tranche loan maturing April 16, 2024 into a single loan of $525Â million maturing April 15, 2025. The loan bears interest based on the Utilityâ€™s election of either (1) Term SOFR (plus a 0.10% credit spread adjustment) plus an applicable margin of 1.375% or (2) the alternative base rate plus an applicable margin of 0.375%.On June 26, 2024, the Utility amended its existing receivables securitization program to, among other things, extend the scheduled termination date from June 9, 2025 to June 26, 2026. On June 28, 2024, the Utility amended its existing bridge term loan credit agreement to, among other things, (i) extend the maturity date from August 15, 2024 to December 16, 2024, and (ii) modify the mandatory prepayment provision to require the Utility to prepay term loans outstanding under such credit agreement, subject to certain exceptions, with 100% of the net cash proceeds received by the Utility from the issuance of debt securities or incurrence of any debt under any bank credit facilities (excluding the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit agreement). After giving effect to a prepayment of $100Â million on April 15, 2024, the total aggregate principal amount of term loans outstanding under such credit agreement is $2.0Â billion.Long-Term Debt Issuances and RedemptionsUtilityOn February 28, 2024, the Utility completed the sale of (i) $850Â million aggregate principal amount of 5.550% First Mortgage Bonds due 2029, (ii) $1.1Â billion aggregate principal amount of 5.800% First Mortgage Bonds due 2034 and (iii) $300Â million aggregate principal amount of 6.750% First Mortgage Bonds due 2053. The Utility used the net proceeds for the repayment of borrowings outstanding under the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit facility pursuant to the Utility Revolving Credit Agreement.Convertible NotesOn December 4, 2023, PG&E Corporation completed the sale of $2.15 billion aggregate principal amount of 4.25% Convertible Senior Secured Notes due December 1, 2027 (the â€œConvertible Notesâ€). For more information about the Convertible Notes, see Note 4 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K. As of June 30, 2024, none of the conditions allowing holders of the Convertible Notes to convert had been met.SB 901 SECURITIZATION AND CUSTOMER CREDIT TRUSTPursuant to the financing order for the SB 901 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the SB 901 Recovery Property to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued the recovery bonds secured by separate fixed recovery charges and separate SB 901 Recovery Property. The fixed recovery charges are designed to recover the full scheduled principal amount of the applicable series of recovery bonds along with any associated interest and financing costs. In the context of the customer harm threshold decision, which is intended to insulate customers from the fixed recovery charge, there is a customer credit, which is designed to equal the recovery bond principal, interest, and financing costs over the life of the recovery bonds. The customer credit is funded by the customer credit trust (see Note 9 below). The fixed recovery charges and customer credits are presented on a net basis in Operating revenues in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income and had no net impact on Operating revenues in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Upon issuance of the Series 2022-A Recovery Bonds in May 2022 (â€œinceptionâ€), the Utility recorded a $5.5Â billion SB 901 securitization regulatory asset reflecting PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLCâ€™s right to recover $7.5 billion in wildfire claims costs associated with the 2017 Northern California wildfires, partially offset by the $2.0Â billion in required upfront shareholder contributions to the customer credit trust. Of the $2.0Â billion in required upfront shareholder contributions, $1.0 billion was contributed to the customer credit trust in 2022, $350Â million was contributed on March 28, 2024, and $650Â million is required to be contributed no later than March 31, 2025 unless certain conditions are met requiring an earlier contribution or unless otherwise ordered by the CPUC. The Utility also recorded a $5.54Â billion SB 901 securitization regulatory liability at inception, which represents certain shareholder tax benefits the Utility had previously recognized that will be returned to customers. As the Fire Victim Trust sold PG&E Corporation common stock shares it held, the SB 901 securitization regulatory liability increased accordingly. As tax benefits are monetized, contributions will be made to the customer credit trust, up to $7.59Â billion. The Utility expects to amortize the SB 901 securitization regulatory asset and liability over the life of the recovery bonds, with such amortization reflected in Operating and maintenance expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded $82Â million and $162Â million respectively, for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the three months ended June 30, 2023, the Utility recorded SB 901 securitization charges, net, of $289Â million for tax benefits realized within income tax expense related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock and $71Â million for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the six months ended June 30, 2023, the Utility recorded SB 901 securitization charges, net, of $562Â million for tax benefits realized within income tax expense related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock and $158Â million for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.The following tables illustrate the changes in the SB 901 securitizationâ€™s impact on the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities:SB 901 securitization regulatory asset(in millions)20242023Balance at January 1$5,249Â $5,378Â Amortization(19)(82)Balance at June 30$5,230Â $5,296Â SB 901 securitization regulatory liability(in millions)20242023Balance at January 1$(6,628)$(5,800)Amortization180240Additions(1)(9)(567)Balance at June 30$(6,457)$(6,127)(1) Includes $9Â million and $5 million of returns on investments in the customer credit trust expected to be credited to customers for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. The amount the Utility may borrow under the Receivables Securitization Program is limited to the lesser of the facility limit and the facility availability. Further, the facility availability may vary based on the amount of accounts receivable that the Utility owns that are eligible for sale to the SPV and the portion of those accounts receivable that are sold to the SPV that are eligible for advances by the lenders under the Receivables Securitization Program.UtilityOn April 16, 2024, the Utility amended its existing term loan agreement to combine its $400Â million 2-year tranche loan maturing April 19, 2024 and its $125Â million 364-day tranche loan maturing April 16, 2024 into a single loan of $525Â million maturing April 15, 2025. The loan bears interest based on the Utilityâ€™s election of either (1) Term SOFR (plus a 0.10% credit spread adjustment) plus an applicable margin of 1.375% or (2) the alternative base rate plus an applicable margin of 0.375%.On June 26, 2024, the Utility amended its existing receivables securitization program to, among other things, extend the scheduled termination date from June 9, 2025 to June 26, 2026. On June 28, 2024, the Utility amended its existing bridge term loan credit agreement to, among other things, (i) extend the maturity date from August 15, 2024 to December 16, 2024, and (ii) modify the mandatory prepayment provision to require the Utility to prepay term loans outstanding under such credit agreement, subject to certain exceptions, with 100% of the net cash proceeds received by the Utility from the issuance of debt securities or incurrence of any debt under any bank credit facilities (excluding the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit agreement). After giving effect to a prepayment of $100Â million on April 15, 2024, the total aggregate principal amount of term loans outstanding under such credit agreement is $2.0Â billion.Long-Term Debt Issuances and RedemptionsUtilityOn February 28, 2024, the Utility completed the sale of (i) $850Â million aggregate principal amount of 5.550% First Mortgage Bonds due 2029, (ii) $1.1Â billion aggregate principal amount of 5.800% First Mortgage Bonds due 2034 and (iii) $300Â million aggregate principal amount of 6.750% First Mortgage Bonds due 2053. The Utility used the net proceeds for the repayment of borrowings outstanding under the Utilityâ€™s revolving credit facility pursuant to the Utility Revolving Credit Agreement.Convertible NotesOn December 4, 2023, PG&E Corporation completed the sale of $2.15 billion aggregate principal amount of 4.25% Convertible Senior Secured Notes due December 1, 2027 (the â€œConvertible Notesâ€). For more information about the Convertible Notes, see Note 4 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K. As of June 30, 2024, none of the conditions allowing holders of the Convertible Notes to convert had been met.SB 901 SECURITIZATION AND CUSTOMER CREDIT TRUSTPursuant to the financing order for the SB 901 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the SB 901 Recovery Property to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued the recovery bonds secured by separate fixed recovery charges and separate SB 901 Recovery Property. The fixed recovery charges are designed to recover the full scheduled principal amount of the applicable series of recovery bonds along with any associated interest and financing costs. In the context of the customer harm threshold decision, which is intended to insulate customers from the fixed recovery charge, there is a customer credit, which is designed to equal the recovery bond principal, interest, and financing costs over the life of the recovery bonds. The customer credit is funded by the customer credit trust (see Note 9 below). The fixed recovery charges and customer credits are presented on a net basis in Operating revenues in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income and had no net impact on Operating revenues in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Upon issuance of the Series 2022-A Recovery Bonds in May 2022 (â€œinceptionâ€), the Utility recorded a $5.5Â billion SB 901 securitization regulatory asset reflecting PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLCâ€™s right to recover $7.5 billion in wildfire claims costs associated with the 2017 Northern California wildfires, partially offset by the $2.0Â billion in required upfront shareholder contributions to the customer credit trust. Of the $2.0Â billion in required upfront shareholder contributions, $1.0 billion was contributed to the customer credit trust in 2022, $350Â million was contributed on March 28, 2024, and $650Â million is required to be contributed no later than March 31, 2025 unless certain conditions are met requiring an earlier contribution or unless otherwise ordered by the CPUC. The Utility also recorded a $5.54Â billion SB 901 securitization regulatory liability at inception, which represents certain shareholder tax benefits the Utility had previously recognized that will be returned to customers. As the Fire Victim Trust sold PG&E Corporation common stock shares it held, the SB 901 securitization regulatory liability increased accordingly. As tax benefits are monetized, contributions will be made to the customer credit trust, up to $7.59Â billion. The Utility expects to amortize the SB 901 securitization regulatory asset and liability over the life of the recovery bonds, with such amortization reflected in Operating and maintenance expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded $82Â million and $162Â million respectively, for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the three months ended June 30, 2023, the Utility recorded SB 901 securitization charges, net, of $289Â million for tax benefits realized within income tax expense related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock and $71Â million for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. During the six months ended June 30, 2023, the Utility recorded SB 901 securitization charges, net, of $562Â million for tax benefits realized within income tax expense related to the Fire Victim Trustâ€™s sale of PG&E Corporation common stock and $158Â million for amortization of the regulatory asset and liability in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.The following tables illustrate the changes in the SB 901 securitizationâ€™s impact on the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities:SB 901 securitization regulatory asset(in millions)20242023Balance at January 1$5,249Â $5,378Â Amortization(19)(82)Balance at June 30$5,230Â $5,296Â SB 901 securitization regulatory liability(in millions)20242023Balance at January 1$(6,628)$(5,800)Amortization180240Additions(1)(9)(567)Balance at June 30$(6,457)$(6,127)(1) Includes $9Â million and $5 million of returns on investments in the customer credit trust expected to be credited to customers for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Procurement costs are recovered through rates. The Utility uses both derivative and non-derivative contracts to manage volatility in customer rates due to fluctuating commodity prices. Derivatives include contracts, such as power purchase agreements, forwards, futures, swaps, options, and CRRs that are traded either on an exchange or over-the-counter.Derivatives are presented in the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and recorded at fair value and on a net basis in accordance with master netting arrangements for each counterparty. The fair value of derivative instruments is further offset by cash collateral paid or received where the right of offset and the intention to offset exist.Price risk management activities that meet the definition of derivatives are recorded at fair value on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. These instruments are not held for speculative purposes and are subject to certain regulatory requirements. The Utility expects to fully recover through rates all costs related to derivatives under the applicable ratemaking mechanism in place as long as the Utilityâ€™s price risk management activities are carried out in accordance with CPUC directives. Therefore, all unrealized gains and losses associated with the change in fair value of these derivatives are deferred and recorded within the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Net realized gains or losses on commodity derivatives are recorded in the cost of electricity or the cost of natural gas with corresponding increases or decreases to regulatory balancing accounts for recovery from or refund to customers.The Utility elects the normal purchase and sale exception for eligible derivatives. Eligible derivatives are those that require physical delivery in quantities that are expected to be used by the Utility over a reasonable period in the normal course of business and do not contain pricing provisions unrelated to the commodity delivered.Â These items are not reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets at fair value.Volume of Derivative ActivityThe volumes of the Utilityâ€™s outstanding derivatives were as follows:Â Â Contract Volume atUnderlying ProductInstrumentsJune 30, 2024December 31, 2023Natural Gas (1)Â (MMBtus (2))Forwards, futures, and swaps274,047,264Â 196,063,296Â Â Options50,622,500Â 30,695,000Â Electricity (MWh)Forwards, futures, and swaps9,989,125Â 9,169,967Â Options1,355,200Â 92,400Â Â Congestion Revenue Rights (3)147,542,438Â 170,465,674Â (1) Amounts shown are for the combined positions of the electric fuels and core gas supply portfolios.(2) Million British Thermal Units.(3) CRRs are financial instruments that enable the holders to manage variability in electric energy congestion charges due to transmission grid limitations.Presentation of Derivative Instruments in the Financial StatementsAs of June 30, 2024, the Utilityâ€™s outstanding derivative balances were as follows:Â Commodity Risk(in millions)Gross DerivativeBalanceNettingCash CollateralTotal DerivativeBalanceCurrent assets â€“ other$171Â (8)21Â $184Â Other noncurrent assets â€“ other225Â â€”Â â€”Â 225Â Current liabilities â€“ other(143)8Â 1Â (134)Noncurrent liabilities â€“ other(166)â€”Â â€”Â (166)Total commodity risk$87Â $â€”Â $22Â $109Â As of December 31, 2023, the Utilityâ€™s outstanding derivative balances were as follows:Â Commodity Risk(in millions)Gross DerivativeBalanceNettingCash CollateralTotal DerivativeBalanceCurrent assets â€“ other$134Â (8)50Â $176Â Other noncurrent assets â€“ other280Â â€”Â â€”Â 280Â Current liabilities â€“ other(172)8Â 46Â (118)Noncurrent liabilities â€“ other(160)â€”Â â€”Â (160)Total commodity risk$82Â $â€”Â $96Â $178Â Cash inflows and outflows associated with derivatives are included in operating cash flows on the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.Some of the Utilityâ€™s derivative instruments, including power purchase agreements, contain collateral posting provisions tied to the Utilityâ€™s credit rating from each of the major credit rating agencies, also known as a credit-risk-related contingent feature. Multiple credit agencies continue to rate the Utility below investment grade, which results in the Utility posting additional collateral. There are no restrictions on the terms and conditions upon which the investments may be redeemed. There were no material transfers between any levels for the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023.Trust AssetsAssets Measured at Fair ValueIn general, investments held in the trusts are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, credit, and market volatility risks. Nuclear decommissioning trust assets, customer credit trust assets and other trust assets are composed primarily of equity and fixed-income securities and also include short-term investments that are money market funds classified as Level 1.Global equity securities primarily include investments in common stock that are valued based on quoted prices in active markets and are classified as Level 1.Fixed-income securities are primarily composed of U.S. government and agency securities, municipal securities, and other fixed-income securities, including corporate debt securities.Â U.S. government and agency securities primarily consist of U.S. Treasury securities that are classified as Level 1 because the fair value is determined by observable market prices in active markets. A market approach is generally used to estimate the fair value of fixed-income securities classified as Level 2 using evaluated pricing data such as broker quotes, for similar securities adjusted for observable differences.Â Significant inputs used in the valuation model generally include benchmark yield curves and issuer spreads.Â The external credit ratings, coupon rate, and maturity of each security are considered in the valuation model, as applicable.Assets Measured at NAV Using Practical ExpedientInvestments in the nuclear decommissioning trusts and the long-term disability trust that are measured at fair value using the NAV per share practical expedient have not been classified in the fair value hierarchy tables above.Â The fair value amounts are included in the tables above in order to reconcile to the amounts presented in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.Â These investments include commingled funds that are composed of equity securities traded publicly on exchanges as well as fixed-income securities that are composed primarily of U.S. government securities, credit securities and asset-backed securities.Price Risk Management InstrumentsPrice risk management instruments include physical and financial derivative contracts, such as power purchase agreements, forwards, futures, swaps, options, and CRRs that are traded either on an exchange or over-the-counter.Power purchase agreements, forwards, and swaps are valued using a discounted cash flow model.Â Exchange-traded futures that are valued using observable market forward prices for the underlying commodity are classified as Level 1.Â Over-the-counter forwards and swaps that are identical to exchange-traded futures or are valued using forward prices from broker quotes that are corroborated with market data are classified as Level 2.Â Exchange-traded options are valued using observable market data and market-corroborated data and are classified as Level 2.Long-dated power purchase agreements that are valued using significant unobservable data are classified as Level 3. These Level 3 contracts are valued using either estimated basis adjustments from liquid trading points or techniques, including extrapolation from observable prices, when a contract term extends beyond a period for which market data is available.Â The Utility utilizes models to derive pricing inputs for the valuation of the Utilityâ€™s Level 3 instruments using pricing inputs from brokers and historical data.The Utility holds CRRs to hedge the financial risk of CAISO-imposed congestion charges in the day-ahead market.Â Limited market data is available in the CAISO auction and between auction dates; therefore, the Utility utilizes historical prices to forecast forward prices. CRRs are classified as Level 3.Level 3 Measurements and Uncertainty AnalysisInputs used and the fair value of Level 3 instruments are reviewed period-over-period and compared with market conditions to determine reasonableness.Significant increases or decreases in any of those inputs would result in a significantly higher or lower fair value, respectively.Â All reasonable costs related to Level 3 instruments are expected to be recoverable through rates; therefore, there is no impact on net income resulting from changes in the fair value of these instruments.Â See Note 8 above.Â Fair ValueÂ Â Â (in millions)At June 30, 2024ValuationTechniqueUnobservableInputÂ Fair Value MeasurementAssetsLiabilitiesÂ Range (1)/Weighted-Average Price (2) Congestion revenue rights$327Â $117Â Market approachCRR auction prices$ (17,980.60) - 17,974.20 / 1.57Power purchase agreements$24Â $76Â Discounted cash flowForward prices$ 0.27 - 140.45 / 54.93(1)Â Represents price per MWh.(2) Unobservable inputs were weighted by the relative fair value of the instruments.Â Fair ValueÂ Â Â (in millions)At December 31, 2023ValuationTechniqueUnobservableInputÂ Fair Value MeasurementAssetsLiabilitiesÂ Range (1)/Weighted-Average Price (2) Congestion revenue rights$357Â $134Â Market approachCRR auction prices$ (923.72) - 16,696.90 / 1.43Power purchase agreements$47Â $79Â Discounted cash flowForward prices$ 0.86 - 189.80 / 60.03(1)Â Represents price per MWh.(2) Unobservable inputs were weighted by the relative fair value of the instruments.Level 3 ReconciliationThe following table presents the reconciliation for Level 3 price risk management instruments for the three and six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively:Â Price Risk Management Instruments(in millions)20242023Asset balance as of April 1$145Â $212Â Net realized and unrealized gains (losses):Included in regulatory assets and liabilities or balancing accounts (1)13Â (86)Asset balance as of June 30$158Â $126Â (1) The costs related to price risk management activities are recovered through rates. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record a provision for a loss contingency when they determine that it is both probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the liability can be reasonably estimated. PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate which potential liabilities are probable and the related range of reasonably estimated losses and record a charge that reflects their best estimate or the lower end of the range, if there is no better estimate.Assessing whether a loss is probable or reasonably possible, whether the loss or a range of losses is estimable, and the amount of the best estimate or lower end of the range often requires management to exercise significant judgment about future events. Management makes these assessments based on a number of assumptions and subjective factors, including negotiations (including those during mediations with claimants), discovery, settlements and payments, rulings, advice of legal counsel, and other information and events pertaining to a particular matter, and estimates based on currently available information and prior experience with wildfires. Unless expressly noted otherwise, the loss accruals in this Note reflect the lower end of the range of the reasonably estimable range of losses. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe that it is reasonably possible that the amount of loss could be greater than the accrued estimated amounts but are unable to reasonably estimate the additional loss or the upper end of the range because, as described below, there are a number of unknown facts and legal considerations that may impact the amount of any potential liability, including the total scope and nature of claims that may be asserted against PG&E Corporation and the Utility.Loss contingencies are reviewed quarterly, and estimates are adjusted to reflect the impact of all known information. As more information becomes available, including from potential claimants as litigation or resolution efforts progress, management estimates and assumptions regarding the potential financial impacts of wildfire events may change. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s provision for loss and expense excludes anticipated legal costs, which are expensed as incurred. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows may be materially affected by the outcome of the following matters.Potential liabilities related to wildfires depend on various factors, including the cause of the fire, contributing causes of the fire (including alternative potential origins, weather- and climate-related issues, and forest management and fire suppression practices), the number, size and type of structures damaged or destroyed, the contents of such structures and other personal property damage, the number and types of trees damaged or destroyed, attorneysâ€™ fees for claimants, the nature and extent of any personal injuries, including the loss of lives, the amount of fire suppression and clean-up costs, other damages the Utility may be responsible for if found negligent, and the amount of any penalties, fines, or restitution that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities.PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of numerous civil complaints related to the following wildfire events and expect that they may receive further complaints. The complaints include claims based on multiple theories of liability, including inverse condemnation, negligence, violations of the Public Utilities Code, violations of the Health & Safety Code, premises liability, trespass, public nuisance, and private nuisance. The plaintiffs in each action principally assert that PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s alleged failure to properly maintain, inspect, and de-energize their power lines was the cause of the relevant wildfire. The timing and outcome for resolution of any such claims or investigations are uncertain. The Utility believes it will continue to receive additional information from potential claimants in connection with these wildfire events as litigation or resolution efforts progress. Any such additional information may potentially allow PG&E Corporation and the Utility to refine the estimates of their accrued losses and may result in changes to the accrual depending on the information received. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to vigorously defend themselves against both criminal charges and civil complaints.If the Utilityâ€™s facilities, such as its electric distribution and transmission lines, are judicially determined to be the substantial cause of the following matters, and the doctrine of inverse condemnation applies, the Utility could be liable for property damage, business interruption, interest, and attorneysâ€™ fees without having been found negligent. California courts have imposed liability under the doctrine of inverse condemnation in legal actions brought by property holders against utilities on the grounds that losses borne by the person whose property was damaged through a public use undertaking should be spread across the community that benefited from such undertaking, and based on the assumption that utilities have the ability to recover these costs through rates. Further, California courts have determined that the doctrine of inverse condemnation is applicable regardless of whether the CPUC ultimately allows recovery by the utility for any such costs. The CPUC may decide not to authorize cost recovery even if a court decision were to determine that the Utility is liable as a result of the application of the doctrine of inverse condemnation. In addition to claims for property damage, business interruption, interest, and attorneysâ€™ fees under inverse condemnation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility could be liable for fire suppression costs, evacuation costs, medical expenses, personal injury damages, punitive damages and other damages under other theories of liability in connection with the following wildfire events, including if PG&E Corporation or the Utility were found to have been negligent.If the liability for wildfires were to exceed $1.0Â billion in the aggregate in any Coverage Year, the Utility may be eligible to make a claim to the Wildfire Fund under AB 1054 to satisfy settled or finally adjudicated eligible claims in excess of such amount, except that claims related to the 2019 Kincade fire would be subject to the 40% limitation on the allowed amount of claims arising before emergence from bankruptcy. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to continue to review the available information and other information as it becomes available, including evidence in the possession of Cal Fire, USFS, or the relevant district attorneyâ€™s office, evidence from or held by other parties, claims that have not yet been submitted, and additional information about the nature and extent of personal and business property damages and losses, the nature, number and severity of personal injuries, and information made available through the discovery process.The following table presents the cumulative amounts PG&E Corporation and the Utility have paid through June 30, 2024.Payments (in millions)2019 Kincade Fire$834Â 2021 Dixie Fire1,044Â 2022 Mosquito Fire15Â Total at June 30, 2024$1,893Â 2019 Kincade FireAccording to Cal Fire, on October 23, 2019 at approximately 9:27 p.m. Pacific Time, a wildfire began northeast of Geyserville in Sonoma County, California (the â€œ2019 Kincade fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. According to a Cal Fire incident update dated March 3, 2020, 3:35 p.m. Pacific Time, the 2019 Kincade fire consumed 77,758 acres and resulted in no fatalities, four first responder injuries, 374 structures destroyed, and 60 structures damaged. In connection with the 2019 Kincade fire, state and local officials issued numerous mandatory evacuation orders and evacuation warnings. Based on County of Sonoma information, PG&E Corporation and the Utility understand that the geographic zones subject to either a mandatory evacuation order or an evacuation warning between October 23, 2019 and November 4, 2019 included approximately 200,000 persons.On July 16, 2020, Cal Fire issued a press release with its determination that the Utilityâ€™s equipment caused the 2019 Kincade fire.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately 132 complaints on behalf of at least 2,907 plaintiffs related to the 2019 Kincade fire. The plaintiffs filed master complaints on July 16, 2021; PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s response was filed on August 16, 2021; and PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed a demurrer with respect to the plaintiffsâ€™ inverse condemnation claims. On December 10, 2021, the court overruled the demurrer. On July 20, 2022, PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed a motion for summary adjudication on individual plaintiffsâ€™ claims for punitive damages. On July 14, 2024 the court vacated the bellwether trial date that had been scheduled for August 26, 2024, as well as the hearing on the motion for summary adjudication. The court has also scheduled a damages-only trial for a single claim for February 3, 2025. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also aware of a complaint on behalf of Geysers Power Company, Calpine Corporation, and CPN Insurance Corporation.In addition, on January 5, 2022, Cal Fire filed a complaint against the Utility in the coordinated proceeding seeking to recover approximately $90Â million for fire suppression and other costs incurred in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire. The Utility filed an answer to Cal Fireâ€™s complaint on February 4, 2022. On August 8, 2023, PG&E Corporation and the Utility entered into an agreement with Cal Fire to resolve its claims arising from the 2019 Kincade fire. On January 24, 2024, Cal Fire filed a request to dismiss its complaint with prejudice in the coordinated proceeding, which the court entered.On October 11, 2022, the Utility entered into a tolling agreement with the California Governorâ€™s Office of

Emergency Services (â€œCal OESâ€), which remains in effect.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including Cal Fireâ€™s determination of the cause and the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including their experience with settlements, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $1.125Â billion as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses of $1.125Â billion do not include, among other things: (i) any punitive damages, (ii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies other than state fire suppression costs, or (iii) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2019 Kincade fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$458Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Payments(167)Balance at June 30, 2024$291Â The Utility has liability insurance coverage for third-party liability attributable to the 2019 Kincade fire in an aggregate amount of $430 million, which was fully collected as of December 31, 2023.2021 Dixie FireAccording to the Cal Fire Investigation Report on the 2021 Dixie fire (the â€œCal Fire Investigation Reportâ€), on July 13, 2021, at approximately 5:07 p.m. Pacific Time, a wildfire began in the Feather River Canyon near Cresta Dam (the â€œ2021 Dixie fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. According to the Cal Fire Investigation Report, the 2021 Dixie fire consumed 963,309 acres and resulted in 1,311 structures destroyed and 94 structures damaged (including 763 residential homes, 12 multi-family homes, 8 commercial residential homes, 148 nonresidential commercial structures, and 466 detached structures), and four first-responder injuries. The Cal Fire Investigation Report does not attribute a fatality that was previously published in an October 25, 2021 Cal Fire incident report to the 2021 Dixie fire.On January 4, 2022, Cal Fire issued a press release with its determination that the 2021 Dixie fire was caused by a tree contacting electrical distribution lines owned and operated by the Utility. On June 7, 2022, the Utility received a copy of the Cal Fire Investigation Report, which states that the fire ignited when a tree fell and contacted electrical distribution lines owned and operated by the Utility, and the Cal Fire Investigation Report has been made publicly available. The Cal Fire Investigation Report alleges that the Utility acted negligently in its response to the initial outage and fault that caused the 2021 Dixie fire. The Cal Fire Investigation Report also alleges that the subject tree had visible outward signs of damage and decay which would have been noticeable at the ground level, and that a brief visual inspection should have discovered the decay. Based on the information currently available to the Utility, through its ongoing investigation, including its inspection records, operating and inspection protocols and procedures, implementation of those protocols and procedures, and day-of-event response, the Utility believes its personnel acted reasonably (within the meaning of the applicable prudency standard discussed under â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below) given the information available at the time and followed applicable policies and protocols both before ignition and in the day-of-event response. While an intervenor in a future cost recovery proceeding may argue the Cal Fire Investigation Report itself creates serious doubt with respect to the reasonableness of the Utilityâ€™s conduct, PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe the report identifies sufficient facts to shift the burden of proof applicable in a proceeding for cost recovery to the Utility. (See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ and â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below.) PG&E Corporation and the Utility disagree with many allegations in the Cal Fire Investigation Report and plan to vigorously contest them. However, if the CPUC or the FERC were to reach conclusions similar to those of the Cal Fire Investigation Report, it may determine that the Utility had been imprudent, in which case some or all of its costs recorded to the WEMA would not be recoverable, the Utility would not be able to recover costs through FERC TO rates, or the Utility would be required to reimburse the Wildfire Fund for the costs and expenses that are allocated to it.On October 9, 2023, the SED submitted for adoption by the CPUC a draft resolution approving an Administrative Consent Order and Agreement between the SED and the Utility (the â€œDixie ACOâ€). The Dixie ACO would resolve the SEDâ€™s investigation into the 2021 Dixie fire. The Dixie ACO provides that the Utility would (i) pay $2.5Â million to Californiaâ€™s General Fund; (ii) pay $2.5Â million to tribes impacted by the 2021 Dixie fire; (iii) and undertake an initiative to transition to electronic records for specified patrols and inspections of distribution facilities, at an approximate cost of $40Â million over five years, and the Utility may not seek recovery of such costs. The SED agreed to refrain from instituting any further enforcement proceedings against the Utility related to the 2021 Dixie fire. The Dixie ACO states that it does not constitute an admission or evidence of any wrongdoing, fault, omission, negligence, imprudence, or liability on the part of the Utility. The Dixie ACO also states that the parties to it intend that it shall not affect whether the Utility may obtain recovery of costs and expenses incurred in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire, including for amounts drawn from the Wildfire Fund or otherwise sought through a cost recovery application to the CPUC. On February 2, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision approving the Dixie ACO. In connection with the Dixie ACO, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability of $5Â million reflected in Other current liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements as of June 30, 2024. For the recordkeeping initiative costs for which the Utility will not seek recovery, the Utility expects to record disallowances as such costs are incurred.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately 172 complaints on behalf of at least 8,519 individual plaintiffs and a separate putative class complaint related to the 2021 Dixie fire and expect that they may receive further complaints. The plaintiffs seek damages that include wrongful death, property damage, economic loss, medical monitoring, punitive damages, exemplary damages, attorneysâ€™ fees and other damages. On March 15, 2024, the court scheduled a new trial date for October 14, 2024. The court also set a subsequent trial date for February 24, 2025. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also aware of a complaint on behalf of the Collins Pine Company and a group of timber companies.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including Cal Fireâ€™s determination of the cause and the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including their experience to date in settling the claims of individual plaintiffs, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $1.6Â billion as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses of $1.6Â billion do not include, among other things: (i) any amounts for potential penalties or fines that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities on PG&E Corporation or the Utility, (ii) any punitive damages, (iii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies including for state or federal fire suppression costs and damages related to federal land, (iv) medical monitoring costs, or (v) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.As noted above, the aggregate estimated liability for claims in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire does not include potential claims for fire suppression costs from federal, state, county, or local agencies or damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests. As to these damages, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have not concluded that a loss is probable. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to reasonably estimate the range of possible losses for any such claims due to, among other factors, incomplete information as to facts pertinent to potential claims and defenses, as well as facts that would bear on the amount, type, and valuation of vegetation loss, potential reforestation, habitat loss, and other resources damaged or destroyed by the 2021 Dixie fire. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe, however, that such losses could be significant with respect to fire suppression costs due to the size and duration of the 2021 Dixie fire and corresponding magnitude of fire suppression resources dedicated to fighting the 2021 Dixie fire and with respect to claims for damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests due to the very large number of acres of national parks and national forests that were affected by the 2021 Dixie fire. According to the Cal Fire Investigation Report, over $650 million of costs had been incurred in suppressing the 2021 Dixie fire. The Utility estimates that the fire burned approximately 70,000 acres of national parks and approximately 685,000 acres of national forests.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2021 Dixie fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$870Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Payments(313)Balance at June 30, 2024$557Â As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded an insurance receivable of $525 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire.As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded a Wildfire Fund receivable of $600 million for probable recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire. AB 1054 provides that the CPUC may allocate costs and expenses in the application for cost recovery in full or in part taking into account factors both within and beyond the utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, including humidity, temperature, and winds. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe that, even if it found that the Utility acted unreasonably, the CPUC would nevertheless authorize recovery in part. See â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility also recorded a $93 million reduction to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and a $494 million regulatory asset for costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the WEMA. See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below. Decreases in the amount of the insurance receivable for the 2021 Dixie fire may also increase the amount that is probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and the WEMA.2022 Mosquito FireOn September 6, 2022, at approximately 6:17 p.m. Pacific Time, the Utility was notified that a wildfire had ignited near Oxbow Reservoir in Placer County, California (the â€œ2022 Mosquito fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. The National Wildfire Coordinating Groupâ€™s InciWeb incident overview dated November 4, 2022 at 6:30 p.m. Pacific Time indicated that the 2022 Mosquito fire had consumed approximately 76,788 acres at that time. It also indicated no fatalities, no injuries, 78 structures destroyed, and 13 structures damaged (including 44 residential homes and 40 detached structures) and that the fire was 100% contained.The USFS has indicated to the Utility an initial assessment that the fire started in the area of the Utilityâ€™s power line on National Forest System lands and that the USFS is conducting a criminal investigation into the 2022 Mosquito fire. On September 24, 2022, the USFS removed and took possession of one of the Utilityâ€™s transmission poles and attached equipment. The USFS has not issued a determination as to the cause.The cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire remains under investigation by the USFS and the United States Department of Justice, and PG&E Corporation and the Utility are cooperating with the investigation. It is uncertain when any such investigations will be complete. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also conducting their own investigation into the cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire. This investigation is ongoing.The CPUC is investigating the 2022 Mosquito fire, and other entities may also be investigating. It is uncertain when any such investigations will be complete.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately eight complaints on behalf of at least 329 individual plaintiffs related to the 2022 Mosquito fire and expect that they may receive further complaints. PG&E Corporation and the Utility also are aware of a complaint on behalf of the PCWA, a complaint on behalf of the Middle Fork Project Finance Authority, a complaint on behalf of El Dorado County, Placer County, Georgetown Divide Public Utility District, Georgetown Fire Protection District, and El Dorado County Water Agency. The plaintiffs seek damages that include property damage, economic loss, punitive damages, exemplary damages, attorneysâ€™ fees and other damages. On April 24, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed cross-complaints against PCWA, alleging that conduct by PCWA was a substantial cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire. The cross-complaints seek property damages, indemnification, attorneysâ€™ fees, and other damages.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this report, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $100 million as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses do not include, among other things: (i) any amounts for potential penalties or fines that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities on PG&E Corporation or the Utility, (ii) any punitive damages, (iii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies including for state or federal fire suppression costs and damages related to federal land, or (iv) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.As noted above, the aggregate estimated liability for claims in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire does not include potential claims for fire suppression costs from federal, state, county, or local agencies or damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests. As to these damages, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have not concluded that a loss is probable. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to reasonably estimate the range of possible losses for any such claims due to, among other factors, incomplete information as to facts pertinent to potential claims and defenses, as well as facts that would bear on the amount, type, and valuation of vegetation loss, potential reforestation, habitat loss, and other resources damaged or destroyed by the 2022 Mosquito fire.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2022 Mosquito fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$85Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Paymentsâ€”Â Balance at June 30, 2024$85Â As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded an insurance receivable of $83 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire, including legal fees. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility also recorded a $7 million reduction to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and a $53 million regulatory asset for costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the WEMA. See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below.Loss RecoveriesPG&E Corporation and the Utility have recovery mechanisms available for wildfire liabilities including from insurance, customers, and the Wildfire Fund. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record a receivable for a recovery when it is deemed probable that recovery of a recorded loss will occur, and the Utility can reasonably estimate the amount or its range. While the Utility plans to seek recovery of all insured losses, it is unable to predict the ultimate amount and timing of such recoveries. For more information on the applicable facts and circumstances of the corresponding wildfires, see â€œ2019 Kincade Fire,â€ â€œ2021 Dixie Fire,â€ and â€œ2022 Mosquito Fire.â€Total probable recoveries for the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire as of June 30, 2024 are:Potential Recovery Source (in millions)2021 Dixie fire2022 Mosquito fireInsurance$525Â $83Â FERC TO rates93Â 7Â WEMA494Â 53Â Wildfire Fund600Â â€”Â Probable recoveries at June 30, 2024 (1)$1,712Â $143Â (1) Includes legal costs of $106Â million and $43Â million related to the 2021 Dixie fire and 2022 Mosquito fire, respectively, as of June 30, 2024.The Utility could be subject to significant liability in connection with these wildfire events. If such liability is not recoverable from insurance or the other mechanisms described in this section, it could have a material impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.InsuranceSelf-InsuranceSince August 2023, the Utilityâ€™s wildfire liability insurance for amounts up to $1.0Â billion has been entirely based on self-insurance and will remain as such through at least 2026. The self-insurance program includes a 5% deductible, capped at a maximum of $50Â million, on claims that are incurred each year.Insurance ReceivableThrough June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $525 million and $83 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, respectively. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to seek full recovery for all insured losses.The balances for insurance receivables with respect to wildfires are included in Other accounts receivable in PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets:Insurance Receivable (in millions)2021 Dixie fire2022 Mosquito fireTotalBalance at December 31, 2023$326Â $63Â $389Â Accrued insurance recoveries(1)21Â 20Â Reimbursements(211)â€”Â (211)Balance at June 30, 2024$114Â $84Â $198Â Regulatory RecoverySection 451.1 of the Public Utilities Code provides that when determining an application to recover costs and expenses arising from a covered wildfire, the CPUC shall allow cost recovery if the costs and expenses are just and reasonable (i.e., the â€œprudency standardâ€). AB 1054 states that a utility with a valid safety certification for the time period in which a covered wildfire ignited â€œshall be deemed to have been reasonableâ€ unless â€œa party to the proceeding creates a serious doubt as to the reasonableness of the [Utilityâ€™s] conduct,â€ in which case the burden shifts to the utility to prove its conduct was reasonable. The Utility had a valid safety certification at the time of the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, so any analysis of cost recovery starts with this reasonableness presumption. AB 1054 also allows the CPUC to allocate costs and expenses â€œin full or in part taking into account factors both within and beyond the Utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, including humidity, temperature, and winds.â€The Utilityâ€™s recorded receivables under the WEMA and with respect to the Wildfire Fund take into account this revised prudency standard and the presumption of reasonableness of the Utilityâ€™s conduct, based on the Utilityâ€™s interpretation of AB 1054 and the information currently available to the Utility. Although the concept of â€œserious doubtâ€ has been applied in other regulatory proceedings, such as FERC proceedings, the revised prudency standard under AB 1054 has not been interpreted or applied by the CPUC and it is possible that the CPUC could interpret or apply the standard differently, in which case the Utility may not be able to recover all or a portion of expenses that it has recorded as a receivable.FERC TO RatesThe Utility recognizes income and reduces its regulatory liability for potential refund through future FERC TO formula rates for a portion of the third-party wildfire-related claims in excess of insurance coverage. The FERC presumes that a utilityâ€™s expenditures are prudent and permits cost recovery unless a party raises a serious doubt regarding the prudency of such costs. The allocation to transmission customers was based on a FERC-approved allocation factor as determined in the formula rate. Based on information currently available to the Utility regarding the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, as of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded reductions of $93 million and $7 million, respectively, to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate.WEMAThe WEMA provides for tracking of incremental wildfire claims, outside legal costs, and insurance premiums above those authorized in rates. With respect to wildfire claims and outside legal costs, the Utility expects that the same prudency standard as applies to the Wildfire Fund would also be applied in any CPUC review of an application filed by the Utility seeking recovery of such costs recorded to the WEMA. See â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below. As of June 30, 2024, based on information currently available to the Utility, incremental wildfire claims-related costs for the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire were determined to be probable of recovery and the Utility recorded $494 million and $53 million, respectively, as regulatory assets in the WEMA.Wildfire Fund under AB 1054On July 12, 2019, AB 1054 became law. The law provides for the establishment of a statewide fund that will be available for eligible electric utility companies to pay eligible claims for liabilities arising from wildfires occurring after July 12, 2019 that are caused by the applicable electric utility companyâ€™s equipment, subject to the terms and conditions of AB 1054. Each of Californiaâ€™s large electric IOUs has elected to participate in the Wildfire Fund. Eligible claims are claims for third-party damages resulting from any such wildfires, limited to the portion of such claims that exceeds the greater of (i) $1.0Â billion in the aggregate in any Coverage Year and (ii) the amount of insurance coverage required to be in place for the electric utility company pursuant to Section 3293 of the Public Utilities Code, added by AB 1054. The accrued Wildfire Fund receivable as of June 30, 2024 reflects an expectation that the Coverage Year will be based on the calendar year.Electric utility companies that draw from the Wildfire Fund will only be required to reimburse amounts that are determined by the CPUC in a proceeding for cost recovery not to be just and reasonable, applying the prudency standard in AB 1054 and after allocating costs and expenses for cost recovery based on relevant factors both within and outside of a utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, subject to a disallowance cap equal to 20% of the IOUâ€™s transmission and distribution equity rate base. For the Utility, the disallowance cap would be approximately $4.1Â billion based on its 2024 equity rate base, which is subject to adjustment based on changes in the Utilityâ€™s electric transmission and distribution equity rate base and would apply for a three calendar-year period. The disallowance cap is inapplicable in certain circumstances, including if the Wildfire Fund administrator determines that the electric utility companyâ€™s actions or inactions that resulted in the applicable wildfire constituted â€œconscious or willful disregard for the rights and safety of others,â€ or the electric utility company failed to maintain a valid safety certification. Costs that the CPUC determines to be just and reasonable in accordance with the prudency standard in AB 1054 will not be reimbursed to the Wildfire Fund, resulting in a draw-down of the Wildfire Fund.Before the expiration of any current safety certification, the Utility must request a new safety certification from the OEIS, which the Utility expects to be issued within 90 days if the Utility has provided documentation that it has satisfied the requirements for the safety certification pursuant to Section 8389(e) of the Public Utilities Code, added by AB 1054. An issued safety certification is valid for 12 months or until a timely request for a new safety certification is acted upon, whichever occurs later. The safety certification is separate from the CPUCâ€™s enforcement authority and does not preclude the CPUC from pursuing remedies for safety or other applicable violations. On January 22, 2024, the OEIS approved the Utilityâ€™s 2023 application and issued the Utilityâ€™s 2023 safety certification.The Wildfire Fund and disallowance cap will be terminated when the amounts therein are exhausted. The Wildfire Fund is expected to be capitalized with (i) $10.5Â billion collected through a 15-year extension of the DWR charge to customers, (ii) $7.5Â billion in initial contributions from Californiaâ€™s three large electric IOUs and (iii)Â $300Â million in annual contributions paid by the participating electric IOUs for a 10-year period.The Wildfire Fund will only be available for payment of eligible claims so long as there are sufficient funds remaining in the Wildfire Fund. Such funds could be depleted more quickly than expected, including as a result of claims made by Californiaâ€™s other participating electric utility companies. The Wildfire Fund is available to pay for the Utilityâ€™s eligible claims arising as of July 12, 2019, the effective date of AB 1054, subject to a limit of 40% of the allowed amount of such claims arising between the effective date of AB 1054 and the Utilityâ€™s emergence from Chapter 11. The 40% limit does not apply to eligible claims that arise after the Utilityâ€™s emergence from Chapter 11. AB 1054 authorizes the reimbursement of funds where a participating utility has demonstrated that it exercised reasonable business judgment in the valuation and payment of third-party claims.As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $500Â million and $100Â million in Accounts receivable - other and Other noncurrent assets, respectively, for Wildfire Fund receivables related to the 2021 Dixie fire.For more information, see Note 2 above.Securities LitigationAs further described under the headings â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims in District Courtâ€ and â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Process,â€ PG&E Corporation and the Utility face certain wildfire-related securities claims related to the 2017 Northern California wildfires and other claims related to the 2018 Camp fire in the Chapter 11 Cases (i.e., the Subordinated Claims), and certain former directors, current and former officers, and underwriters of certain note offerings face wildfire-related securities claims in the District Court action. The claims described under the heading â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims in District Courtâ€ are referred to as the â€œWildfire-Related Non-Bankruptcy Securities Claimsâ€ and collectively with the claims described under the heading â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Processâ€ are referred to in this section as the â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims.â€Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, PG&E Corporation believes it is probable that it will incur a loss in connection with these matters. PG&E Corporation has recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $300Â million, which represents its best estimate of probable losses for the Wildfire-Related Securities Claims. PG&E Corporation believes that it is reasonably possible that the amount of loss could be greater or less than the accrued estimated amount due to the number of plaintiffs and the complexity of the litigation, and because a class settlement, if any, would be subject to, among other things, approval by the Bankruptcy Court and the District Court, and class members would have the right to opt out of any such settlement.Wildfire-Related Securities Claims in District CourtIn June 2018, two purported securities class actions were filed in the District Court, naming PG&E Corporation and certain of its then-current and former officers as defendants, entitled David C. Weston v. PG&E Corporation, et al. and Jon Paul Moretti v. PG&E Corporation, et al., respectively. The complaints alleged material misrepresentations and omissions in various PG&E Corporation public disclosures related to, among other things, vegetation management and other issues connected to the 2017 Northern California wildfires. The complaints asserted claims under Section 10(b) and Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder, and sought unspecified monetary relief, interest, attorneysâ€™ fees and other costs. Both complaints identified a proposed class period of April 29, 2015 to June 8, 2018. On September 10, 2018, the court consolidated both cases, and the litigation is now denominated In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, Case No. 18-03509. The court also appointed PERA as lead plaintiff. PERA filed a consolidated amended complaint on November 9, 2018. On December 14, 2018, PERA filed a second amended consolidated complaint to add allegations regarding the 2018 Camp fire, including allegations regarding transmission line safety and the PSPS program.Due to the commencement of the Chapter 11 Cases, the proceedings were automatically stayed as to PG&E Corporation and the Utility.On February 22, 2019, a third purported securities class action was filed in the District Court, entitled York County on behalf of the York County Retirement Fund, et al. v. Rambo, et al. (the â€œYork County Actionâ€). The complaint named as defendants certain then-current and former officers and directors, as well as the underwriters of four public offerings of notes from 2016 to 2018. Neither PG&E Corporation nor the Utility was named as a defendant. The complaint asserted claims under Section 11 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, based on alleged material misrepresentations and omissions in connection with the note offerings related to, among other things, PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s vegetation management and wildfire safety measures. On May 7, 2019, the York County Action was consolidated with In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation.On May 28, 2019, the plaintiffs in the consolidated securities actions filed a third amended consolidated class action complaint, which includes the claims asserted in the previously filed actions and names as defendants PG&E Corporation, the Utility, certain current and former officers and former directors, and the underwriters. On August 28, 2019, the Bankruptcy Court denied PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s request to extend the stay to the claims against the officer, director, and underwriter defendants. On October 4, 2019, the officer, director, and underwriter defendants filed motions to dismiss the third amended complaint, which motions are under submission with the District Court. On September 30, 2022, the District Court issued an order staying the action pending resolution of the bankruptcy proceedings. On October 31, 2022, PERA filed a notice of appeal of the District Courtâ€™s order staying the action.On March 21, 2023, another group of shareholders filed a separate action in the District Court against certain former officers and directors, entitled Orbis Capital Limited et al., v. Williams et al., alleging similar claims to those alleged in In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation. The parties stipulated to a stay, and on May 16, 2023, the District Court entered an order staying the Orbis action pursuant to all of the same terms and conditions in the District Courtâ€™s September 30, 2022 order staying the In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation action.On May 3, 2024, the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit issued an opinion vacating the stay in the In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation action, and remanding the case to the District Court with instructions for the District Court to weigh all the relevant interests in determining whether a stay is appropriate. The District Court has set a status conference for August 27, 2024, regarding mediation and a potential schedule for further briefing on the pending motions to dismiss.Wildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court ProcessPG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to resolve securities claims filed in the bankruptcy consistent with the Plan. These claims consist of pre-petition claims against PG&E Corporation or the Utility under the federal securities laws related to, among other things, allegedly misleading statements or omissions with respect to vegetation management and wildfire safety disclosures, and are classified into separate categories under the Plan, each of which is subject to subordination under the United States Bankruptcy Code. The first category of claims consists of pre-petition claims arising from or related to the trading of common stock of PG&E Corporation (such claims, with certain other similar claims against PG&E Corporation, the â€œHoldCo Rescission or Damage Claimsâ€). The second category of pre-petition claims, which comprises two separate classes under the Plan, consists of claims arising from the trading of debt securities issued by PG&E Corporation and the Utility (such claims, with certain other similar claims against PG&E Corporation and the Utility, the â€œSubordinated Debt Claims,â€ and together with the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, the â€œSubordinated Claimsâ€).While PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe they have defenses to the Subordinated Claims, these defenses may not prevail and proceeds from any insurance may not be adequate to cover the full amount of the allowed claims. In that case, PG&E Corporation and the Utility will be required, pursuant to the Plan, to satisfy any such allowed claims as follows:â€¢each holder of an allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim will receive a number of shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation equal to such holderâ€™s HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share (as such term is defined in the Plan); andâ€¢each holder of an allowed Subordinated Debt Claim will receive payment in full in cash.PG&E Corporation and the Utility have engaged in settlement efforts with respect to the Subordinated Claims. All such settlements have been conditioned upon, among other things, resolution of that claimantâ€™s Wildfire-Related Non-Bankruptcy Securities Claims. If any of the Subordinated Claims are ultimately not settled, PG&E Corporation and the Utility expect that those Subordinated Claims will be resolved by the Bankruptcy Court in the claims reconciliation process and treated as described above under the Plan. Under the Plan, after the Emergence Date, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have the authority to compromise, settle, object to, or otherwise resolve proofs of claim, and the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear disputes arising in connection with disputed claims. With respect to the Subordinated Claims, the claims reconciliation process may include litigation of the merits of such claims, including the filing of motions, fact discovery, and expert discovery. The total number and amount of allowed Subordinated Claims, if any, was not determined at the Emergence Date. To the extent any such claims are allowed, the total amount of such claims could be material, and therefore could result in (a) the issuance of a material number of shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation with respect to allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, or (b) the payment of a material amount of cash with respect to allowed Subordinated Debt Claims. Such claims could have a material adverse impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.Further, if shares are issued in respect of allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, it may be determined that, under the Plan, the Fire Victim Trust should receive additional shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation such that it would have owned 22.19% of the outstanding common stock of reorganized PG&E Corporation on the Emergence Date, assuming that such issuance of shares in satisfaction of the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims had occurred on the Emergence Date.On January 25, 2021, the Bankruptcy Court issued an order to approve procedures to help facilitate the resolution of the Subordinated Claims. The order, among other things, established procedures allowing PG&E Corporation and the Utility to collect trading information with respect to the Subordinated Claims, to engage in an alternative dispute resolution process for resolving disputed Subordinated Claims, and to file certain omnibus claim objections with respect to the Subordinated Claims.PG&E Corporation and the Utility have worked to resolve the Subordinated Claims in accordance with procedures approved by the Bankruptcy Court, including by collecting trading information from holders of Subordinated Claims. Also, pursuant to those procedures, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have filed numerous omnibus objections in the Bankruptcy Court to certain of the Subordinated Claims. The Bankruptcy Court has entered several orders disallowing and expunging Subordinated Claims that were subject to these omnibus objections, and certain Subordinated Claims subject to these omnibus objections remain pending. PG&E Corporation and the Utility expect to continue to prosecute omnibus objections with respect to certain of the Subordinated Claims and act under the procedures approved by the Bankruptcy Court to resolve the Subordinated Claims.Indemnification ObligationsTo the extent permitted by law, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have obligations to indemnify directors and officers for certain events or occurrences while a director or officer is or was serving in such capacity, which indemnification obligations may extend to the claims asserted against certain directors and officers in the securities class actions.PG&E Corporation and the Utility additionally may have indemnification obligations to the underwriters for the Utilityâ€™s note offerings, pursuant to the underwriting agreements associated with those offerings. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s indemnification obligations to the officers, directors and underwriters may be limited or affected by the Chapter 11 Cases, among other things.Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office Investigation into the 2018 Camp FireFollowing the 2018 Camp fire, the Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office and the California Attorney Generalâ€™s Office opened a criminal investigation of the 2018 Camp fire.On March 17, 2020, the Utility entered into the Plea Agreement and Settlement (the â€œPlea Agreementâ€) with the People of the State of California, by and through the Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office to resolve the criminal prosecution of the Utility in connection with the 2018 Camp fire. Subject to the terms and conditions of the Plea Agreement, the Utility pleaded guilty to 84 counts of involuntary manslaughter in violation of Penal Code section 192(b) and one count of unlawfully causing a fire in violation of Penal Code section 452, and to admit special allegations pursuant to Penal Code sections 452.1(a)(2), 452.1(a)(3) and 452.1(a)(4).On August 20, 2021, the Butte County Superior Court held a brief hearing on the status of restitution, which involves distribution of funds from the Fire Victim Trust. The Butte County Superior Court has since continued the hearing to September 20, 2024.OTHER CONTINGENCIES AND COMMITMENTSPG&E Corporation and the Utility have significant contingencies arising from their operations, including contingencies related to enforcement and litigation matters and environmental remediation.Â A provision for a loss contingency is recorded when it is both probable that a loss has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate the range of reasonably estimated losses and record a provision based on the lower end of the range, unless an amount within the range is a better estimate than any other amount.Â The assessments of whether a loss is probable or reasonably possible, and whether the loss or a range of loss is estimable, often involve a series of complex judgments about future events.Â Loss contingencies are reviewed quarterly, and estimates are adjusted to reflect the impact of all known information, such as negotiations, discovery, settlements and payments, rulings, penalties related to regulatory compliance, advice of legal counsel, and other information and events pertaining to a particular matter.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility exclude anticipated legal costs from the provision for loss and expense these costs as incurred. The Utility also has substantial financial commitments in connection with agreements entered into to support its operating activities.Â See â€œPurchase Commitmentsâ€ below.Â Â PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows may be materially affected by the outcome of the following matters.CPUC and FERC MattersTransmission Owner Rate Case Revenue Subject to RefundThe FERC determines the amount of authorized revenue requirements, including the rate of return on electric transmission assets, that the Utility may collect in rates through TO rate cases. The FERC typically authorizes the Utility to charge new rates based on the requested revenue requirement, subject to refund, before the FERC has issued a final decision. The Utility bills and records revenue based on the amounts requested in its rate case filing and records a reserve for its estimate of the amounts that are probable of refund.Rates under the TO rate case for 2017 (â€œTO18â€) were in effect from March 1, 2017 through February 28, 2018. Rates under the TO rate case for 2018 (â€œTO19â€) were in effect from March 1, 2018 through April 30, 2019. Rates under the TO rate case for 2019 (â€œTO20â€) were in effect from May 1, 2019 through December 31, 2023.On October 15, 2020, the FERC issued an order addressing substantive disputed issues concerning TO18 including the direct assignment of common plant costs, impact of the TCJA on January and February 2018 rates, and depreciation and ordered additional briefing on the appropriate ROE. On April 15, 2021, the FERC issued an order on rehearing setting aside its earlier determination on the TCJA and

determining that the lower tax rates in the TCJA applied to the TO18 rates in January and February 2018. On March 17, 2022, the FERC issued a further order in the TO18 rate case proceeding finding that 9.26% is the just and reasonable base ROE for the Utility. With the incentive component of 50-basis points for the Utilityâ€™s continuing participation in the CAISO, the resulting ROE would be 9.76%.The Utility and other parties have filed appeals of the FERCâ€™s TO18 orders. The appeals are currently pending before the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals and are being held in abeyance. Requests for rehearing of the ROE decision are still pending at the FERC. On May 31, 2024, the Utility and certain intervenors filed a settlement at the FERC regarding TO18.On December 20, 2018, the FERC issued an order approving an all-party settlement filed by the Utility regarding TO19. As part of the settlement, the TO19 revenue requirement will be set at 98.85% of the revenue requirement for TO18 that will be determined upon the issuance of a final, non-appealable TO18 decision.TO20 was a formula rate, which means the Utility submits an annual update to the FERC each December for rates to go into effect on January 1 of the following year based on a formula, without a separate rate case. On August 17, 2020, and December 30, 2020, FERC accepted a partial settlement and final settlement, respectively, in the TO20 proceedings. Several issues in the settlements, such as the direct assignment of common plant costs, are contingent on the outcome of a final, non-appealable TO18 decision.Parties have protested the Utilityâ€™s annual updates under the formula rate, and these protests are pending before the FERC. On October 24, 2023, the Utility filed a waiver request for certain inputs to the formula rate related to the cost of long-term debt and certain underwriting fees, which the FERC denied on December 22, 2023. On January 22, 2024, the Utility filed a request for reconsideration, which the FERC denied on February 22, 2024. On March 28, 2024, the Utility filed a petition for review in the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. On May 23, 2024, the FERC issued a substantive order on rehearing again denying the Utilityâ€™s waiver request, and the Utility withdrew the petition for review.Aside from the ultimate outcome of the ROE rehearing request and the direct assignment of common plant costs, the FERCâ€™s orders in the TO18 proceeding are not expected to result in a material impact on the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, or cash flows. Some of the issues that will be decided in a final and unappealable TO18 decision, including the direct assignment of common plant costs, will also be incorporated into the Utilityâ€™s TO19 and TO20 rate cases. The Utility has established regulatory liabilities for amounts previously collected during the TO18, TO19, and TO20 rate case periods from 2017 through the second quarter of 2024 of approximately $484Â million pending a final and non-appealable TO18 decision. Based on the settlement, a portion of the direct assignment of common plant costs are expected to be recovered at the CPUC in a separate application, and as a result, as of June 30, 2024, the Utility had recorded approximately $233Â million to Regulatory assets.2022 WMCE Interim Rate Relief Subject to RefundOn December 15, 2022, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $1.36Â billion of recorded expenditures, resulting in a proposed revenue requirement of approximately $1.29Â billion (the â€œ2022 WMCE applicationâ€). The costs addressed in this application reflect costs related to wildfire mitigation and certain catastrophic events, as well as the implementation of various customer-focused initiatives. These costs were incurred primarily in 2021.The recorded expenditures consist of $1.2Â billion in expenses and $136Â million in capital expenditures. On June 8, 2023, the CPUC adopted a final decision granting the Utility interim rate relief of $1.1Â billion to be recovered over 12 months, which went into effect July 1, 2023. The remaining $224Â million will be recovered to the extent it is approved after the CPUC issues a final decision. Cost recovery requested in this application is subject to the CPUCâ€™s reasonableness review, which could result in some or all of the interim rate relief being subject to refund.On May 20, 2024, the CPUC extended the statutory deadline to resolve the remaining issues in the proceeding to December 31, 2024.Wildfire and Gas Safety Costs Interim Rate Relief Subject to RefundOn June 15, 2023, the Utility filed a WGSC application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $2.5Â billion of recorded expenditures related to wildfire mitigation costs and gas safety and electric modernization costs.The recorded expenditures for wildfire mitigation consist of $726Â million in expenses and $1.5Â billion in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2020 to 2022. The recorded expenditures for gas safety and electric modernization consist of $120Â million in expenses and $118Â million in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2017 to 2022. If approved, the requested cost recovery would result in an aggregate revenue requirement of $688Â million. The costs addressed in the WGSC application are incremental to those previously authorized in the Utilityâ€™s 2020 GRC and other proceedings.On March 7, 2024, the CPUC approved a final decision authorizing the Utility to recover $516Â million in interim rates to be recovered over at least 12 months starting April 1, 2024. The remaining $172Â million will be recovered to the extent it is approved after the CPUC issues a final decision. Cost recovery requested in this application is subject to the CPUCâ€™s reasonableness review, which could result in some or all of the interim rate relief being subject to refund.The ALJ has adopted a schedule that would result in a PD on the wildfire mitigation costs in the first half of 2025 and a final decision on the gas safety and electric modernization costs by June 2025.Other MattersPG&E Corporation and the Utility are subject to various claims and lawsuits that separately are not considered material.Â Accruals for contingencies related to such matters totaled $80 million and $89 million as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. These amounts were included in Other current liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. Included among these claims and lawsuits are the proofs of claim filed in the Chapter 11 Cases, except for proofs of claim discussed under â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Processâ€ in Note 10. PG&E Corporation and the Utility have resolved a significant majority of the proofs of claim. PG&E Corporation and the Utility continue their review and analysis of certain remaining claims. PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe it is reasonably possible that the resolution of these matters will have a material impact on their financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.Tax Matters The Internal Revenue Service (â€œIRSâ€) is auditing PG&E Corporationâ€™s tax returns for 2015 through 2018. The State of California is auditing PG&E Corporationâ€™s tax returns for 2015 through 2019. The most significant unresolved matter relates to the deductibility of approximately $850Â million in costs for gas transmission and distribution lines, which the CPUC did not allow the Utility to recover through rates, and $400Â million in customer bill credits, in connection with its decision issued in 2015 for the San Bruno natural gas explosion in September of 2010. PG&E Corporation records an income tax benefit related to a deduction for an uncertain tax position when it determines it is more likely than not that the uncertain tax position will ultimately be sustained. On June 4, 2024, the Office of Chief Counsel of the IRS issued a technical advice memorandum taking the position that the costs the Utility incurred for gas transmission and distribution lines and customer bill credits are nondeductible fines or penalties. As a result, in the quarter ended June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation determined that it is no longer more likely than not that its deduction related to a portion of the customer bill credits will ultimately be sustained. Accordingly, PG&E Corporation has decreased its Income tax benefit by $70Â million during the quarter ended June 30, 2024 related to state and federal income taxes. PG&E Corporation intends to defend itself vigorously as to all costs in this matter.CZU Lightning Complex Fire Notices of Violation Between November 2020 and January 2021, several governmental entities raised concerns regarding the Utilityâ€™s emergency response to the 2020 CZU Lightning Complex fire, including Cal Fire, the California Coastal Commission, the Central Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board, and Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors alleging environmental, vegetation management, and unpermitted work violations. The Utility continues to work with the California Coastal Commission and the Central Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board to resolve any outstanding issues. Violations can result in penalties, remediation, and other relief.Based on the information available, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that a liability has been incurred. Accordingly, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have recorded charges for amounts that are not material. PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe that the resolution of these matters will have a material impact on their financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.Environmental Remediation ContingenciesGiven the complexities of the legal and regulatory environment and the inherent uncertainties involved in the early stages of a remediation project, the process for estimating remediation liabilities requires significant judgment. The Utility records an environmental remediation liability when the site assessments indicate that remediation is probable, and the Utility can reasonably estimate the loss or a range of probable amounts. The Utility records an environmental remediation liability based on the lower end of the range of estimated probable costs, unless an amount within the range is a better estimate than any other amount. Key factors that inform the development of estimated costs include site feasibility studies and investigations, applicable remediation actions, operations and maintenance activities, post-remediation monitoring, and the cost of technologies that are expected to be approved to remediate the site. Amounts recorded are not discounted to their present value. The Utilityâ€™s environmental remediation liability is primarily included in Noncurrent liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and is comprised of the following:Â Balance at(in millions)June 30, 2024December 31, 2023Topock natural gas compressor station$287Â $276Â Hinkley natural gas compressor station104Â 104Â Former MGP sites owned by the Utility or third parties (1)810Â 809Â Utility-owned generation facilities (other than fossil fuel-fired), other facilities, and third-party disposal sites (2)75Â 107Â Fossil fuel-fired generation facilities and sites (3)18Â 19Â Total environmental remediation liability$1,294Â $1,315Â (1) Primarily driven by the following sites: San Francisco Beach Street, Napa, and San Francisco East Harbor.(2) Primarily driven by geothermal landfill and Shell Pond site.(3) Primarily driven by the San Francisco Potrero Power Plant.The Utilityâ€™s gas compressor stations, former MGP sites, power plant sites, gas gathering sites, and sites used by the Utility for the storage, recycling, and disposal of potentially hazardous substances are subject to requirements issued by the United States Environmental Protection Agency under the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act in addition to other state laws relating to hazardous substances.Â The Utility has a comprehensive program to comply with federal, state, and local laws and regulations related to hazardous materials, waste, remediation activities, and other environmental requirements.Â The Utility assesses and monitors the environmental requirements on an ongoing basis and implements changes to its program as deemed appropriate. The Utilityâ€™s remediation activities are overseen by the DTSC, several California regional water quality control boards, and various other federal, state, and local agencies.The Utilityâ€™s environmental remediation liability as of June 30, 2024, reflects its best estimate of probable future costs for remediation based on the current assessment data and regulatory obligations. Future costs will depend on many factors, including the extent of work necessary to implement final remediation plans, the Utilityâ€™s time frame for remediation, and unanticipated claims filed against the Utility.Â The Utility may incur actual costs in the future that are materially different than this estimate and such costs could have a material impact on results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows during the period in which they are recorded. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility expected to recover $1.1 billion of its environmental remediation liability for certain sites through various ratemaking mechanisms authorized by the CPUC.Natural Gas Compressor Station SitesThe Utility is legally responsible for remediating groundwater contamination caused by hexavalent chromium used in the past at the Utilityâ€™s natural gas compressor stations. The Utility is also required to take measures to abate the effects of the contamination on the environment.Topock SiteThe Utilityâ€™s remediation and abatement efforts at the Topock site are subject to the regulatory authority of the DTSC and the U.S. Department of the Interior. On April 24, 2018, the DTSC authorized the Utility to build an in-situ groundwater treatment system to convert hexavalent chromium into a non-toxic and non-soluble form of chromium. Construction activities began in October 2018, and the initial phase of construction was completed in 2021. Additional phases of construction will continue for several years. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with the Topock site may increase by as much as $213 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the Topock site are expected to be recovered primarily through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Hinkley SiteThe Utilityâ€™s remediation and abatement efforts at the Hinkley site are subject to the regulatory authority of the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, Lahontan Region. In November 2015, the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, Lahontan Region adopted a clean-up and abatement order directing the Utility to contain and remediate the underground plume of hexavalent chromium and the potential environmental impacts. The final order states that the Utility must continue and improve its remediation efforts, define the boundaries of the chromium plume, and take action to meet interim cleanup targets. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with the Hinkley site may increase by as much as $127 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the Hinkley site will not be recovered through rates.Former Manufactured Gas PlantsFormer MGPs used coal and oil to produce gas for use by the Utilityâ€™s customers before natural gas became available. The by-products and residues of this process were often disposed of at the MGPs themselves. The Utility has a program to manage the residues left behind as a result of the manufacturing process; many of the sites in the program have been addressed. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with MGP sites may increase by as much as $647 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation at identified MGP sites is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the MGP sites are recovered through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Utility-Owned Generation Facilities and Third-Party Disposal SitesUtility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites often involve long-term remediation. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with Utility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites may increase by as much as $75 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The environmental remediation costs associated with the Utility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites are recovered through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Fossil Fuel-Fired Generation SitesIn 1998, the Utility divested its generation power plant business as part of generation deregulation. Although the Utility sold its fossil-fueled power plants, the Utility retained the environmental remediation liability associated with each site. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with fossil fuel-fired generation sites may increase by as much as $20 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The environmental remediation costs associated with the fossil fuel-fired sites will not be recovered through rates.Nuclear InsuranceThe Utility maintains multiple insurance policies through NEIL and EMANI, coveringÂ nuclear or non-nuclear events at the Utilityâ€™s two nuclear generating units at Diablo Canyon and the Humboldt Bay independent spent fuel storage installation.NEIL provides insurance coverage for property damages and business interruption losses incurred by the Utility if a nuclear or non-nuclear event were to occur at the Utilityâ€™s two nuclear generating units at Diablo Canyon. NEIL provides property damage and business interruption coverage of up to $3.2Â billion per nuclear incident and $2.5Â billion per non-nuclear incident for Diablo Canyon. For the Humboldt Bay independent spent fuel storage installation, NEIL provides up to $50Â million of coverage for nuclear and non-nuclear property damages. NEIL also provides coverage for damages caused by acts of terrorism and cyberattacks at nuclear power plants. Through NEIL, there is up to $3.2Â billion available to the membership to cover this exposure. These coverage amounts are shared by all NEIL members and all nuclear and non-nuclear property insurance policies issued by NEIL. EMANI shares losses with NEIL, as part of the first $400Â million of coverage within the current nuclear insurance program. EMANI also provides an additional $200Â million in excess insurance for property damage and business interruption losses incurred by the Utility if a nuclear or non-nuclear event were to occur at Diablo Canyon. If NEIL losses in any policy year exceed accumulated funds, the Utility could be subject to a retrospective assessment.Â Â If NEIL were to exercise this assessment, the maximum aggregate annual retrospective premium obligation for the Utility would be approximately $42Â million.Â If EMANI losses in any policy year exceed accumulated funds, the Utility could be subject to a retrospective assessment of approximately $5Â million.Â For more information about the Utilityâ€™s nuclear insurance coverage, see Note 15 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.Purchase CommitmentsIn the ordinary course of business, the Utility enters into various agreements to purchase power and electric capacity; natural gas supply, transportation, and storage; nuclear fuel supply and services; and various other commitments. As of December 31, 2023, the Utility had undiscounted future expected obligations of approximately $32 billion. See Note 15 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.Oakland Headquarters Lease and PurchaseOn October 23, 2020, the Utility and BA2 300 Lakeside LLC (â€œLandlordâ€), a wholly owned subsidiary of TMG Bay Area Investments II, LLC, entered into an office lease agreement for approximately 910,000 rentable square feet of space within the Lakeside Building (the â€œPropertyâ€) to serve as the Utilityâ€™s principal administrative headquarters (the â€œLeaseâ€).On July 11, 2023, the Utility and the Landlord entered into an Amendment to Office Lease and an Agreement of Purchase and Sale and Joint Escrow Instructions, pursuant to which the Utility was deemed to have exercised its option to purchase the Property, as modified. Pursuant to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale and Joint Escrow Instructions, the purchase price of the Property will be $906Â million, with deposits applicable to such purchase price of $150Â million paid by July 11, 2023, $250Â million paid by July 11, 2024, and the remaining $506Â million to be paid at closing in June 2025. The Utility will also receive a credit of approximately $172Â million towards the final payment, subject to adjustments, which represents the estimated outstanding principal balance of a loan carried by the Property that will be assigned to, and assumed by, the Utility at closing. The Utility will continue to lease the Property pursuant to the Lease, as amended, until closing.The Lease also requires the rentable space to be delivered in two phases, with each phase consisting of multiple subphases. As of June 30, 2024, approximately 715,000 rentable square feet of the leased premises has been made available for use by the Utility.As of June 30, 2024, the Utility has recorded $781 million in Financing lease ROU assets, $62Â million in accumulated amortization, $180Â million in leasehold improvements, net of accumulated amortization, which includes $101Â million that was provided to the Utility as lease incentives, and $777 million in current Financing lease liabilities in the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements primarily related to the Lease, as amended. For more information about the Lease, see â€œOakland Headquarters Lease and Purchaseâ€ in Note 2 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023

PG&E Corporation and the Utility record a provision for a loss contingency when they determine that it is both probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the liability can be reasonably estimated. PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate which potential liabilities are probable and the related range of reasonably estimated losses and record a charge that reflects their best estimate or the lower end of the range, if there is no better estimate.Assessing whether a loss is probable or reasonably possible, whether the loss or a range of losses is estimable, and the amount of the best estimate or lower end of the range often requires management to exercise significant judgment about future events. Management makes these assessments based on a number of assumptions and subjective factors, including negotiations (including those during mediations with claimants), discovery, settlements and payments, rulings, advice of legal counsel, and other information and events pertaining to a particular matter, and estimates based on currently available information and prior experience with wildfires. Unless expressly noted otherwise, the loss accruals in this Note reflect the lower end of the range of the reasonably estimable range of losses. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe that it is reasonably possible that the amount of loss could be greater than the accrued estimated amounts but are unable to reasonably estimate the additional loss or the upper end of the range because, as described below, there are a number of unknown facts and legal considerations that may impact the amount of any potential liability, including the total scope and nature of claims that may be asserted against PG&E Corporation and the Utility.Loss contingencies are reviewed quarterly, and estimates are adjusted to reflect the impact of all known information. As more information becomes available, including from potential claimants as litigation or resolution efforts progress, management estimates and assumptions regarding the potential financial impacts of wildfire events may change. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s provision for loss and expense excludes anticipated legal costs, which are expensed as incurred. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows may be materially affected by the outcome of the following matters.Potential liabilities related to wildfires depend on various factors, including the cause of the fire, contributing causes of the fire (including alternative potential origins, weather- and climate-related issues, and forest management and fire suppression practices), the number, size and type of structures damaged or destroyed, the contents of such structures and other personal property damage, the number and types of trees damaged or destroyed, attorneysâ€™ fees for claimants, the nature and extent of any personal injuries, including the loss of lives, the amount of fire suppression and clean-up costs, other damages the Utility may be responsible for if found negligent, and the amount of any penalties, fines, or restitution that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities.PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of numerous civil complaints related to the following wildfire events and expect that they may receive further complaints. The complaints include claims based on multiple theories of liability, including inverse condemnation, negligence, violations of the Public Utilities Code, violations of the Health & Safety Code, premises liability, trespass, public nuisance, and private nuisance. The plaintiffs in each action principally assert that PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s alleged failure to properly maintain, inspect, and de-energize their power lines was the cause of the relevant wildfire. The timing and outcome for resolution of any such claims or investigations are uncertain. The Utility believes it will continue to receive additional information from potential claimants in connection with these wildfire events as litigation or resolution efforts progress. Any such additional information may potentially allow PG&E Corporation and the Utility to refine the estimates of their accrued losses and may result in changes to the accrual depending on the information received. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to vigorously defend themselves against both criminal charges and civil complaints.If the Utilityâ€™s facilities, such as its electric distribution and transmission lines, are judicially determined to be the substantial cause of the following matters, and the doctrine of inverse condemnation applies, the Utility could be liable for property damage, business interruption, interest, and attorneysâ€™ fees without having been found negligent. California courts have imposed liability under the doctrine of inverse condemnation in legal actions brought by property holders against utilities on the grounds that losses borne by the person whose property was damaged through a public use undertaking should be spread across the community that benefited from such undertaking, and based on the assumption that utilities have the ability to recover these costs through rates. Further, California courts have determined that the doctrine of inverse condemnation is applicable regardless of whether the CPUC ultimately allows recovery by the utility for any such costs. The CPUC may decide not to authorize cost recovery even if a court decision were to determine that the Utility is liable as a result of the application of the doctrine of inverse condemnation. In addition to claims for property damage, business interruption, interest, and attorneysâ€™ fees under inverse condemnation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility could be liable for fire suppression costs, evacuation costs, medical expenses, personal injury damages, punitive damages and other damages under other theories of liability in connection with the following wildfire events, including if PG&E Corporation or the Utility were found to have been negligent.If the liability for wildfires were to exceed $1.0Â billion in the aggregate in any Coverage Year, the Utility may be eligible to make a claim to the Wildfire Fund under AB 1054 to satisfy settled or finally adjudicated eligible claims in excess of such amount, except that claims related to the 2019 Kincade fire would be subject to the 40% limitation on the allowed amount of claims arising before emergence from bankruptcy. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to continue to review the available information and other information as it becomes available, including evidence in the possession of Cal Fire, USFS, or the relevant district attorneyâ€™s office, evidence from or held by other parties, claims that have not yet been submitted, and additional information about the nature and extent of personal and business property damages and losses, the nature, number and severity of personal injuries, and information made available through the discovery process.The following table presents the cumulative amounts PG&E Corporation and the Utility have paid through June 30, 2024.Payments (in millions)2019 Kincade Fire$834Â 2021 Dixie Fire1,044Â 2022 Mosquito Fire15Â Total at June 30, 2024$1,893Â 2019 Kincade FireAccording to Cal Fire, on October 23, 2019 at approximately 9:27 p.m. Pacific Time, a wildfire began northeast of Geyserville in Sonoma County, California (the â€œ2019 Kincade fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. According to a Cal Fire incident update dated March 3, 2020, 3:35 p.m. Pacific Time, the 2019 Kincade fire consumed 77,758 acres and resulted in no fatalities, four first responder injuries, 374 structures destroyed, and 60 structures damaged. In connection with the 2019 Kincade fire, state and local officials issued numerous mandatory evacuation orders and evacuation warnings. Based on County of Sonoma information, PG&E Corporation and the Utility understand that the geographic zones subject to either a mandatory evacuation order or an evacuation warning between October 23, 2019 and November 4, 2019 included approximately 200,000 persons.On July 16, 2020, Cal Fire issued a press release with its determination that the Utilityâ€™s equipment caused the 2019 Kincade fire.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately 132 complaints on behalf of at least 2,907 plaintiffs related to the 2019 Kincade fire. The plaintiffs filed master complaints on July 16, 2021; PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s response was filed on August 16, 2021; and PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed a demurrer with respect to the plaintiffsâ€™ inverse condemnation claims. On December 10, 2021, the court overruled the demurrer. On July 20, 2022, PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed a motion for summary adjudication on individual plaintiffsâ€™ claims for punitive damages. On July 14, 2024 the court vacated the bellwether trial date that had been scheduled for August 26, 2024, as well as the hearing on the motion for summary adjudication. The court has also scheduled a damages-only trial for a single claim for February 3, 2025. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also aware of a complaint on behalf of Geysers Power Company, Calpine Corporation, and CPN Insurance Corporation.In addition, on January 5, 2022, Cal Fire filed a complaint against the Utility in the coordinated proceeding seeking to recover approximately $90Â million for fire suppression and other costs incurred in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire. The Utility filed an answer to Cal Fireâ€™s complaint on February 4, 2022. On August 8, 2023, PG&E Corporation and the Utility entered into an agreement with Cal Fire to resolve its claims arising from the 2019 Kincade fire. On January 24, 2024, Cal Fire filed a request to dismiss its complaint with prejudice in the coordinated proceeding, which the court entered.On October 11, 2022, the Utility entered into a tolling agreement with the California Governorâ€™s Office of Emergency Services (â€œCal OESâ€), which remains in effect.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including Cal Fireâ€™s determination of the cause and the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2019 Kincade fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including their experience with settlements, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $1.125Â billion as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses of $1.125Â billion do not include, among other things: (i) any punitive damages, (ii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies other than state fire suppression costs, or (iii) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2019 Kincade fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$458Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Payments(167)Balance at June 30, 2024$291Â The Utility has liability insurance coverage for third-party liability attributable to the 2019 Kincade fire in an aggregate amount of $430 million, which was fully collected as of December 31, 2023.2021 Dixie FireAccording to the Cal Fire Investigation Report on the 2021 Dixie fire (the â€œCal Fire Investigation Reportâ€), on July 13, 2021, at approximately 5:07 p.m. Pacific Time, a wildfire began in the Feather River Canyon near Cresta Dam (the â€œ2021 Dixie fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. According to the Cal Fire Investigation Report, the 2021 Dixie fire consumed 963,309 acres and resulted in 1,311 structures destroyed and 94 structures damaged (including 763 residential homes, 12 multi-family homes, 8 commercial residential homes, 148 nonresidential commercial structures, and 466 detached structures), and four first-responder injuries. The Cal Fire Investigation Report does not attribute a fatality that was previously published in an October 25, 2021 Cal Fire incident report to the 2021 Dixie fire.On January 4, 2022, Cal Fire issued a press release with its determination that the 2021 Dixie fire was caused by a tree contacting electrical distribution lines owned and operated by the Utility. On June 7, 2022, the Utility received a copy of the Cal Fire Investigation Report, which states that the fire ignited when a tree fell and contacted electrical distribution lines owned and operated by the Utility, and the Cal Fire Investigation Report has been made publicly available. The Cal Fire Investigation Report alleges that the Utility acted negligently in its response to the initial outage and fault that caused the 2021 Dixie fire. The Cal Fire Investigation Report also alleges that the subject tree had visible outward signs of damage and decay which would have been noticeable at the ground level, and that a brief visual inspection should have discovered the decay. Based on the information currently available to the Utility, through its ongoing investigation, including its inspection records, operating and inspection protocols and procedures, implementation of those protocols and procedures, and day-of-event response, the Utility believes its personnel acted reasonably (within the meaning of the applicable prudency standard discussed under â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below) given the information available at the time and followed applicable policies and protocols both before ignition and in the day-of-event response. While an intervenor in a future cost recovery proceeding may argue the Cal Fire Investigation Report itself creates serious doubt with respect to the reasonableness of the Utilityâ€™s conduct, PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe the report identifies sufficient facts to shift the burden of proof applicable in a proceeding for cost recovery to the Utility. (See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ and â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below.) PG&E Corporation and the Utility disagree with many allegations in the Cal Fire Investigation Report and plan to vigorously contest them. However, if the CPUC or the FERC were to reach conclusions similar to those of the Cal Fire Investigation Report, it may determine that the Utility had been imprudent, in which case some or all of its costs recorded to the WEMA would not be recoverable, the Utility would not be able to recover costs through FERC TO rates, or the Utility would be required to reimburse the Wildfire Fund for the costs and expenses that are allocated to it.On October 9, 2023, the SED submitted for adoption by the CPUC a draft resolution approving an Administrative Consent Order and Agreement between the SED and the Utility (the â€œDixie ACOâ€). The Dixie ACO would resolve the SEDâ€™s investigation into the 2021 Dixie fire. The Dixie ACO provides that the Utility would (i) pay $2.5Â million to Californiaâ€™s General Fund; (ii) pay $2.5Â million to tribes impacted by the 2021 Dixie fire; (iii) and undertake an initiative to transition to electronic records for specified patrols and inspections of distribution facilities, at an approximate cost of $40Â million over five years, and the Utility may not seek recovery of such costs. The SED agreed to refrain from instituting any further enforcement proceedings against the Utility related to the 2021 Dixie fire. The Dixie ACO states that it does not constitute an admission or evidence of any wrongdoing, fault, omission, negligence, imprudence, or liability on the part of the Utility. The Dixie ACO also states that the parties to it intend that it shall not affect whether the Utility may obtain recovery of costs and expenses incurred in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire, including for amounts drawn from the Wildfire Fund or otherwise sought through a cost recovery application to the CPUC. On February 2, 2024, the CPUC issued a final decision approving the Dixie ACO. In connection with the Dixie ACO, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability of $5Â million reflected in Other current liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements as of June 30, 2024. For the recordkeeping initiative costs for which the Utility will not seek recovery, the Utility expects to record disallowances as such costs are incurred.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately 172 complaints on behalf of at least 8,519 individual plaintiffs and a separate putative class complaint related to the 2021 Dixie fire and expect that they may receive further complaints. The plaintiffs seek damages that include wrongful death, property damage, economic loss, medical monitoring, punitive damages, exemplary damages, attorneysâ€™ fees and other damages. On March 15, 2024, the court scheduled a new trial date for October 14, 2024. The court also set a subsequent trial date for February 24, 2025. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also aware of a complaint on behalf of the Collins Pine Company and a group of timber companies.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including Cal Fireâ€™s determination of the cause and the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including their experience to date in settling the claims of individual plaintiffs, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $1.6Â billion as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses of $1.6Â billion do not include, among other things: (i) any amounts for potential penalties or fines that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities on PG&E Corporation or the Utility, (ii) any punitive damages, (iii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies including for state or federal fire suppression costs and damages related to federal land, (iv) medical monitoring costs, or (v) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.As noted above, the aggregate estimated liability for claims in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire does not include potential claims for fire suppression costs from federal, state, county, or local agencies or damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests. As to these damages, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have not concluded that a loss is probable. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to reasonably estimate the range of possible losses for any such claims due to, among other factors, incomplete information as to facts pertinent to potential claims and defenses, as well as facts that would bear on the amount, type, and valuation of vegetation loss, potential reforestation, habitat loss, and other resources damaged or destroyed by the 2021 Dixie fire. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe, however, that such losses could be significant with respect to fire suppression costs due to the size and duration of the 2021 Dixie fire and corresponding magnitude of fire suppression resources dedicated to fighting the 2021 Dixie fire and with respect to claims for damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests due to the very large number of acres of national parks and national forests that were affected by the 2021 Dixie fire. According to the Cal Fire Investigation Report, over $650 million of costs had been incurred in suppressing the 2021 Dixie fire. The Utility estimates that the fire burned approximately 70,000 acres of national parks and approximately 685,000 acres of national forests.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2021 Dixie fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$870Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Payments(313)Balance at June 30, 2024$557Â As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded an insurance receivable of $525 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire.As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded a Wildfire Fund receivable of $600 million for probable recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire. AB 1054 provides that the CPUC may allocate costs and expenses in the application for cost recovery in full or in part taking into account factors both within and beyond the utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, including humidity, temperature, and winds. PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe that, even if it found that the Utility acted unreasonably, the CPUC would nevertheless authorize recovery in part. See â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility also recorded a $93 million reduction to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and a $494 million regulatory asset for costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the WEMA. See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below. Decreases in the amount of the insurance receivable for the 2021 Dixie fire may also increase the amount that is probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and the WEMA.2022 Mosquito FireOn September 6, 2022, at approximately 6:17 p.m. Pacific Time, the Utility was notified that a wildfire had ignited near Oxbow Reservoir in Placer County, California (the â€œ2022 Mosquito fireâ€), located in the service area of the Utility. The National Wildfire Coordinating Groupâ€™s InciWeb incident overview dated November 4, 2022 at 6:30 p.m. Pacific Time indicated that the 2022 Mosquito fire had consumed approximately 76,788 acres at that time. It also indicated no fatalities, no injuries, 78 structures destroyed, and 13 structures damaged (including 44 residential homes and 40 detached structures) and that the fire was 100% contained.The USFS has indicated to the Utility an initial assessment that the fire started in the area of the Utilityâ€™s power line on National Forest System lands and that the USFS is conducting a criminal investigation into the 2022 Mosquito fire. On September 24, 2022, the USFS removed and took possession of one of the Utilityâ€™s transmission poles and attached equipment. The USFS has not issued a determination as to the cause.The cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire remains under investigation by the USFS and the United States Department of Justice, and PG&E Corporation and the Utility are cooperating with the investigation. It is uncertain when any such investigations will be complete. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are also conducting their own investigation into the cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire. This investigation is ongoing.The CPUC is investigating the 2022 Mosquito fire, and other entities may also be investigating. It is uncertain when any such investigations will be complete.As of JulyÂ 17, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are aware of approximately eight complaints on behalf of at least 329 individual plaintiffs related to the 2022 Mosquito fire and expect that they may receive further complaints. PG&E Corporation and the Utility also are aware of a complaint on behalf of the PCWA, a complaint on behalf of the Middle Fork Project Finance Authority, a complaint on behalf of El Dorado County, Placer County, Georgetown Divide Public Utility District, Georgetown Fire Protection District, and El Dorado County Water Agency. The plaintiffs seek damages that include property damage, economic loss, punitive damages, exemplary damages, attorneysâ€™ fees and other damages. On April 24, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility filed cross-complaints against PCWA, alleging that conduct by PCWA was a substantial cause of the 2022 Mosquito fire. The cross-complaints seek property damages, indemnification, attorneysâ€™ fees, and other damages.Based on the current state of the law concerning inverse condemnation in California and the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, including the information gathered as part of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s investigation, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that they will incur a loss in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire. Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this report, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $100 million as of December 31, 2023 (before available insurance). The aggregate liability remained unchanged as of June 30, 2024.PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s accrued estimated losses do not include, among other things: (i) any amounts for potential penalties or fines that may be imposed by courts or other governmental entities on PG&E Corporation or the Utility, (ii) any punitive damages, (iii) any amounts in respect of compensation claims by federal or state agencies including for state or federal fire suppression costs and damages related to federal land, or (iv) any other amounts that are not reasonably estimable.As noted above, the aggregate estimated liability for claims in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire does not include potential claims for fire suppression costs from federal, state, county, or local agencies or damage to land and vegetation in national parks or national forests. As to these damages, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have not concluded that a loss is probable. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are unable to reasonably estimate the range of possible losses for any such claims due to, among other factors, incomplete information as to facts pertinent to potential claims and defenses, as well as facts that would bear on the amount, type, and valuation of vegetation loss, potential reforestation, habitat loss, and other resources damaged or destroyed by the 2022 Mosquito fire.The following table presents changes in the lower end of the range of PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s reasonably estimable range of losses for claims arising from the 2022 Mosquito fire since December 31, 2023.Loss Accrual (in millions)Balance at December 31, 2023$85Â Accrued Lossesâ€”Â Paymentsâ€”Â Balance at June 30, 2024$85Â As of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded an insurance receivable of $83 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2022 Mosquito fire, including legal fees. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility also recorded a $7 million reduction to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate and a $53 million regulatory asset for costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the WEMA. See â€œRegulatory Recoveryâ€ below.Loss RecoveriesPG&E Corporation and the Utility have recovery mechanisms available for wildfire liabilities including from insurance, customers, and the Wildfire Fund. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record a receivable for a recovery when it is deemed probable that recovery of a recorded loss will occur, and the Utility can reasonably estimate the amount or its range. While the Utility plans to seek recovery of all insured losses, it is unable to predict the ultimate amount and timing of such recoveries. For more information on the applicable facts and circumstances of the corresponding wildfires, see â€œ2019 Kincade Fire,â€ â€œ2021 Dixie Fire,â€ and â€œ2022 Mosquito Fire.â€Total probable recoveries for the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire as of June 30, 2024 are:Potential Recovery Source (in millions)2021 Dixie fire2022 Mosquito fireInsurance$525Â $83Â FERC TO rates93Â 7Â WEMA494Â 53Â Wildfire Fund600Â â€”Â Probable recoveries at June 30, 2024 (1)$1,712Â $143Â (1) Includes legal costs of $106Â million and $43Â million related to the 2021 Dixie fire and 2022 Mosquito fire, respectively, as of June 30, 2024.The Utility could be subject to significant liability in connection with these wildfire events. If such liability is not recoverable from insurance or the other mechanisms described in this section, it could have a material impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.InsuranceSelf-InsuranceSince August 2023, the Utilityâ€™s wildfire liability insurance for amounts up to $1.0Â billion has been entirely based on self-insurance and will remain as such through at least 2026. The self-insurance program includes a 5% deductible, capped at a maximum of $50Â million, on claims that are incurred each year.Insurance ReceivableThrough June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $525 million and $83 million for probable insurance recoveries in connection with the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, respectively. PG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to seek full recovery for all insured losses.The balances for insurance receivables with respect to wildfires are included in Other accounts receivable in PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets:Insurance Receivable (in millions)2021 Dixie fire2022 Mosquito fireTotalBalance at December 31, 2023$326Â $63Â $389Â Accrued insurance recoveries(1)21Â 20Â Reimbursements(211)â€”Â (211)Balance at June 30, 2024$114Â $84Â $198Â Regulatory RecoverySection 451.1 of the Public Utilities Code provides that when determining an application to recover costs and expenses arising from a covered wildfire, the CPUC shall allow cost recovery if the costs and expenses are just and reasonable (i.e., the â€œprudency standardâ€). AB 1054 states that a utility with a valid safety certification for the time period in which a covered wildfire ignited â€œshall be deemed to have been reasonableâ€ unless â€œa party to the proceeding creates a serious doubt as to the reasonableness of the [Utilityâ€™s] conduct,â€ in which case the burden shifts to the utility to prove its conduct was reasonable. The Utility had a valid safety certification at the time of the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, so any analysis of cost recovery starts with this reasonableness presumption. AB 1054 also allows the CPUC to allocate costs and expenses â€œin full or in part taking into account factors both within and beyond the Utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, including humidity, temperature, and winds.â€The Utilityâ€™s recorded receivables under the WEMA and with respect to the Wildfire Fund take into account this revised prudency standard and the presumption of reasonableness of the Utilityâ€™s conduct, based on the Utilityâ€™s interpretation of AB 1054 and the information currently available to the Utility. Although the concept of â€œserious doubtâ€ has been applied in other regulatory proceedings, such as FERC proceedings, the revised prudency standard under AB 1054 has not been interpreted or applied by the CPUC and it is possible that the CPUC could interpret or apply the standard differently, in which case the Utility may not be able to recover all or a portion of expenses that it has recorded as a receivable.FERC TO RatesThe Utility recognizes income and reduces its regulatory liability for potential refund through future FERC TO formula rates for a portion of the third-party wildfire-related claims in excess of insurance coverage. The FERC presumes that a utilityâ€™s expenditures are prudent and permits cost recovery unless a party raises a serious doubt regarding the prudency of such costs. The allocation to transmission customers was based on a FERC-approved allocation factor as determined in the formula rate. Based on information currently available to the Utility regarding the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire, as of June 30, 2024, the Utility recorded reductions of $93 million and $7 million, respectively, to its regulatory liability for wildfire-related claims costs that were determined to be probable of recovery through the FERC TO formula rate.WEMAThe WEMA provides for tracking of incremental wildfire claims, outside legal costs, and insurance premiums above those authorized in rates. With respect to wildfire claims and outside legal costs, the Utility expects that the same prudency standard as applies to the Wildfire Fund would also be applied in any CPUC review of an application filed by the Utility seeking recovery of such costs recorded to the WEMA. See â€œWildfire Fund under AB 1054â€ below. As of June 30, 2024, based on information currently available to the Utility, incremental wildfire claims-related costs for the 2021 Dixie fire and the 2022 Mosquito fire were determined to be probable of recovery and the Utility recorded $494 million and $53 million, respectively, as regulatory assets in the WEMA.Wildfire Fund under AB 1054On July 12, 2019, AB 1054 became law. The law provides for the establishment of a statewide fund that will be available for eligible electric utility companies to pay eligible claims for liabilities arising from wildfires occurring after July 12, 2019 that are caused by the applicable electric utility companyâ€™s equipment, subject to the terms and conditions of AB 1054. Each of Californiaâ€™s large electric IOUs has elected to participate in the Wildfire Fund. Eligible claims are claims for third-party damages resulting from any such wildfires, limited to the portion of such claims that exceeds the greater of (i) $1.0Â billion in the aggregate in any Coverage Year and (ii) the amount of insurance coverage required to be in place for the electric utility company pursuant to Section 3293 of the Public Utilities Code, added by AB 1054. The accrued Wildfire Fund receivable as of June 30, 2024 reflects an expectation that the Coverage Year will be based on the calendar year.Electric utility companies that draw from the Wildfire Fund will only be required to reimburse amounts that are determined by the CPUC in a proceeding for cost recovery not to be just and reasonable, applying the prudency standard in AB 1054 and after allocating costs and expenses for cost recovery based on relevant factors both within and outside of a utilityâ€™s control that may have exacerbated the costs and expenses, subject to a disallowance cap equal to 20% of the IOUâ€™s transmission and distribution equity rate base. For the Utility, the disallowance cap would be approximately $4.1Â billion based on its 2024 equity rate base, which is subject to adjustment based on changes in the Utilityâ€™s electric transmission and distribution equity rate base and would apply for a three calendar-year period. The disallowance cap is inapplicable in certain circumstances, including if the Wildfire Fund administrator determines that the electric utility companyâ€™s actions or inactions that resulted in the applicable wildfire constituted â€œconscious or willful disregard for the rights and safety of others,â€ or the electric utility company failed to maintain a valid safety certification. Costs that the CPUC determines to be just and reasonable in accordance with the prudency standard in AB 1054 will not be reimbursed to the Wildfire Fund, resulting in a draw-down of the Wildfire Fund.Before the expiration of any current safety certification, the Utility must request a new safety certification from the OEIS, which the Utility expects to be issued within 90 days if the Utility has provided documentation that it has satisfied the requirements for the safety certification pursuant to Section 8389(e) of the Public Utilities Code, added by AB 1054. An issued safety certification is valid for 12 months or until a timely request for a new safety certification is acted upon, whichever occurs later. The safety certification is separate from the CPUCâ€™s enforcement authority and does not preclude the CPUC from pursuing remedies for safety or other applicable violations. On January 22, 2024, the OEIS approved the Utilityâ€™s 2023 application and issued the Utilityâ€™s 2023 safety certification.The Wildfire Fund and disallowance cap will be terminated when the amounts therein are exhausted. The Wildfire Fund is expected to be capitalized with (i) $10.5Â billion collected through a 15-year extension of the DWR charge to customers, (ii) $7.5Â billion in initial contributions from Californiaâ€™s three large electric IOUs and (iii)Â $300Â million in annual contributions paid by the participating electric IOUs for a 10-year period.The Wildfire Fund will only be available for payment of eligible claims so long as there are sufficient funds remaining in the Wildfire Fund. Such funds could be depleted more quickly than expected, including as a result of claims made by Californiaâ€™s other participating electric utility companies. The Wildfire Fund is available to pay for the Utilityâ€™s eligible claims arising as of July 12, 2019, the effective date of AB 1054, subject to a limit of 40% of the allowed amount of such claims arising between the effective date of AB 1054 and the Utilityâ€™s emergence from Chapter 11. The 40% limit does not apply to eligible claims that arise after the Utilityâ€™s emergence from Chapter 11. AB 1054 authorizes the reimbursement of funds where a participating utility has demonstrated that it exercised reasonable business judgment in the valuation and payment of third-party claims.As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility recorded $500Â million and $100Â million in Accounts receivable - other and Other noncurrent assets, respectively, for Wildfire Fund receivables related to the 2021 Dixie fire.For more information, see Note 2 above.Securities LitigationAs further described under the headings â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims in District Courtâ€ and â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Process,â€ PG&E Corporation and the Utility face certain wildfire-related securities claims related to the 2017 Northern California wildfires and other claims related to the 2018 Camp fire in the Chapter 11 Cases (i.e., the Subordinated Claims), and certain former directors, current and former officers, and underwriters of certain note offerings face wildfire-related securities claims in the District Court action. The claims described under the heading â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims in District Courtâ€ are referred to as the â€œWildfire-Related Non-Bankruptcy Securities Claimsâ€ and collectively with the claims described under the heading â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Processâ€ are referred to in this section as the â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claims.â€Based on the facts and circumstances available to PG&E Corporation and the Utility as of the date of this filing, PG&E Corporation believes it is probable that it will incur a loss in connection with these matters. PG&E Corporation has recorded a liability in the aggregate amount of $300Â million, which represents its best estimate of probable losses for the Wildfire-Related Securities Claims. PG&E Corporation believes that it is reasonably possible that the amount of loss could be greater or less than the accrued estimated amount due to the number of plaintiffs and the complexity of the litigation, and because a class settlement, if any, would be subject to, among other things, approval by the Bankruptcy Court and the District Court, and class members would have the right to opt out of any such settlement.Wildfire-Related Securities Claims in District CourtIn June 2018, two purported securities class actions were filed in the District Court, naming PG&E Corporation and certain of its then-current and former officers as defendants, entitled David C. Weston v. PG&E Corporation, et al. and Jon Paul Moretti v. PG&E Corporation, et al., respectively. The complaints alleged material misrepresentations and omissions in various PG&E Corporation public disclosures related to, among other things, vegetation management and other issues connected to the 2017 Northern California wildfires. The complaints asserted claims under Section 10(b) and Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder, and sought unspecified monetary relief, interest, attorneysâ€™ fees and other costs. Both complaints identified a proposed class period of April 29, 2015 to June 8, 2018. On September 10, 2018, the court consolidated both cases, and the litigation is now denominated In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California, Case No. 18-03509. The court also appointed PERA as lead plaintiff. PERA filed a consolidated amended complaint on November 9, 2018. On December 14, 2018, PERA filed a second amended consolidated complaint to add allegations regarding the 2018 Camp fire, including allegations regarding transmission line safety and the PSPS program.Due to the commencement of the Chapter 11 Cases, the proceedings were automatically stayed as to PG&E Corporation and the Utility.On February 22, 2019, a third purported securities class action was filed in the District Court, entitled York County on behalf of the York County Retirement Fund, et al. v. Rambo, et al. (the â€œYork County Actionâ€). The complaint named as defendants certain then-current and former officers and directors, as well as the underwriters of four public offerings of notes from 2016 to 2018. Neither PG&E Corporation nor the Utility was named as a defendant. The complaint asserted claims under Section 11 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, based on alleged material misrepresentations and omissions in connection with the note offerings related to, among other things, PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s vegetation management and wildfire safety measures. On May 7, 2019, the York County Action was consolidated with In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation.On May 28, 2019, the plaintiffs in the consolidated securities actions filed a third amended consolidated class action complaint, which includes the claims asserted in the previously filed actions and names as defendants PG&E Corporation, the Utility, certain current and former officers and former directors, and the underwriters. On August 28, 2019, the Bankruptcy Court denied PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s request to extend the stay to the claims against the officer, director, and underwriter defendants. On October 4, 2019, the officer, director, and underwriter defendants filed motions to dismiss the third amended complaint, which motions are under submission with the District Court. On September 30, 2022, the District Court issued an order staying the action pending resolution of the bankruptcy proceedings. On October 31, 2022, PERA filed a notice of appeal of the District Courtâ€™s order staying the action.On March 21, 2023, another group of shareholders filed a separate action in the District Court against certain former officers and directors, entitled Orbis Capital Limited et al., v. Williams et al., alleging similar claims to those alleged in In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation. The parties stipulated to a stay, and on May 16, 2023, the District Court entered an order staying the Orbis action pursuant to all of the same terms and conditions in the District Courtâ€™s September 30, 2022 order staying the In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation action.On May 3, 2024, the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit issued an opinion vacating the stay in the In re PG&E Corporation Securities Litigation action, and remanding the case to the District Court with instructions for the District Court to weigh all the relevant interests in determining whether a stay is appropriate. The District Court has set a status conference for August 27, 2024, regarding mediation and a potential schedule for further briefing on the pending motions to dismiss.Wildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court ProcessPG&E Corporation and the Utility intend to resolve securities claims filed in the bankruptcy consistent with the Plan. These claims consist of pre-petition claims against PG&E Corporation or the Utility under the federal securities laws related to, among other things, allegedly misleading statements or omissions with respect to vegetation management and wildfire safety disclosures, and are classified into separate categories under the Plan, each of which is subject to subordination under the United States Bankruptcy Code. The first category of claims consists of pre-petition claims arising from or related to the trading of common stock of PG&E Corporation (such claims, with certain other similar claims against PG&E Corporation, the â€œHoldCo Rescission or Damage Claimsâ€). The second category of pre-petition claims, which comprises two separate classes under the Plan, consists of claims arising from the trading of debt securities issued by PG&E Corporation and the Utility (such claims, with certain other similar claims against PG&E Corporation and the Utility, the â€œSubordinated Debt Claims,â€ and together with the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, the â€œSubordinated Claimsâ€).While PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe they have defenses to the Subordinated Claims, these defenses may not prevail and proceeds from any insurance may not be adequate to cover the full amount of the allowed claims. In that case, PG&E Corporation and the Utility will be required, pursuant to the Plan, to satisfy any such allowed claims as follows:â€¢each holder of an allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim will receive a number of shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation equal to such holderâ€™s HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claim Share (as such term is defined in the Plan); andâ€¢each holder of an allowed Subordinated Debt Claim will receive payment in full in cash.PG&E Corporation and the Utility have engaged in settlement efforts with respect to the Subordinated Claims. All such settlements have been conditioned upon, among other things, resolution of that claimantâ€™s Wildfire-Related Non-Bankruptcy Securities Claims. If any of the Subordinated Claims are ultimately not settled, PG&E Corporation and the Utility expect that those Subordinated Claims will be resolved by the Bankruptcy Court in the claims reconciliation process and treated as described above under the Plan. Under the Plan, after the Emergence Date, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have the authority to compromise, settle, object to, or otherwise resolve proofs of claim, and the Bankruptcy Court retains jurisdiction to hear disputes arising in connection with disputed claims. With respect to the Subordinated Claims, the claims reconciliation process may include litigation of the merits of such claims, including the filing of motions, fact discovery, and expert discovery. The total number and amount of allowed Subordinated Claims, if any, was not determined at the Emergence Date. To the extent any such claims are allowed, the total amount of such claims could be material, and therefore could result in (a) the issuance of a material number of shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation with respect to allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, or (b) the payment of a material amount of cash with respect to allowed Subordinated Debt Claims. Such claims could have a material adverse impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows.Further, if shares are issued in respect of allowed HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims, it may be determined that, under the Plan, the Fire Victim Trust should receive additional shares of common stock of PG&E Corporation such that it would have owned 22.19% of the outstanding common stock of reorganized PG&E Corporation on the Emergence Date, assuming that such issuance of shares in satisfaction of the HoldCo Rescission or Damage Claims had occurred on the Emergence Date.On January 25, 2021, the Bankruptcy Court issued an order to approve procedures to help facilitate the resolution of the Subordinated Claims. The order, among other things, established procedures allowing PG&E Corporation and the Utility to collect trading information with respect to the Subordinated Claims, to engage in an alternative dispute resolution process for resolving disputed Subordinated Claims, and to file certain omnibus claim objections with respect to the Subordinated Claims.PG&E Corporation and the Utility have worked to resolve the Subordinated Claims in accordance with procedures approved by the Bankruptcy Court, including by collecting trading information from holders of Subordinated Claims. Also, pursuant to those procedures, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have filed numerous omnibus objections in the Bankruptcy Court to certain of the Subordinated Claims. The Bankruptcy Court has entered several orders disallowing and expunging Subordinated Claims that were subject to these omnibus objections, and certain Subordinated Claims subject to these omnibus objections remain pending. PG&E Corporation and the Utility expect to continue to prosecute omnibus objections with respect to certain of the Subordinated Claims and act under the procedures approved by the Bankruptcy Court to resolve the Subordinated Claims.Indemnification ObligationsTo the extent permitted by law, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have obligations to indemnify directors and officers for certain events or occurrences while a director or officer is or was serving in such capacity, which indemnification obligations may extend to the claims asserted against certain directors and officers in the securities class actions.PG&E Corporation and the Utility additionally may have indemnification obligations to the underwriters for the Utilityâ€™s note offerings, pursuant to the underwriting agreements associated with those offerings. PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s indemnification obligations to the officers, directors and underwriters may be limited or affected by the Chapter 11 Cases, among other things.Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office Investigation into the 2018 Camp FireFollowing the 2018 Camp fire, the Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office and the California Attorney Generalâ€™s Office opened a criminal investigation of the 2018 Camp fire.On March 17, 2020, the Utility entered into the Plea Agreement and Settlement (the â€œPlea Agreementâ€) with the People of the State of California, by and through the Butte County District Attorneyâ€™s Office to resolve the criminal prosecution of the Utility in connection with the 2018 Camp fire. Subject to the terms and conditions of the Plea Agreement, the Utility pleaded guilty to 84 counts of involuntary manslaughter in violation of Penal Code section 192(b) and one count of unlawfully causing a fire in violation of Penal Code section 452, and to admit special allegations pursuant to Penal Code sections 452.1(a)(2), 452.1(a)(3) and 452.1(a)(4).On August 20, 2021, the Butte County Superior Court held a brief hearing on the status of restitution, which involves distribution of funds from the Fire Victim Trust. The Butte County Superior Court has since continued the hearing to September 20, 2024.OTHER CONTINGENCIES AND COMMITMENTSPG&E Corporation and the Utility have significant contingencies arising from their operations, including contingencies related to enforcement and litigation matters and environmental remediation.Â A provision for a loss contingency is recorded when it is both probable that a loss has been incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate the range of reasonably estimated losses and record a provision based on the lower end of the range, unless an amount within the range is a better estimate than any other amount.Â The assessments of whether a loss is probable or reasonably possible, and whether the loss or a range of loss is estimable, often involve a series of complex judgments about future events.Â Loss contingencies are reviewed quarterly, and estimates are adjusted to reflect the impact of all known information, such as negotiations, discovery, settlements and payments, rulings, penalties related to regulatory compliance, advice of legal counsel, and other information and events pertaining to a particular matter.Â PG&E Corporation and the Utility exclude anticipated legal costs from the provision for loss and expense these costs as incurred. The Utility also has substantial financial commitments in connection with agreements entered into to support its operating activities.Â See â€œPurchase Commitmentsâ€ below.Â Â PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, and cash flows may be materially affected by the outcome of the following matters.CPUC and FERC MattersTransmission Owner Rate Case Revenue Subject to RefundThe FERC determines the amount of authorized revenue requirements, including the rate of return on electric transmission assets, that the Utility may collect in rates through TO rate cases. The FERC typically authorizes the Utility to charge new rates based on the requested revenue requirement, subject to refund, before the FERC has issued a final decision. The Utility bills and records revenue based on the amounts requested in its rate case filing and records a reserve for its estimate of the amounts that are probable of refund.Rates under the TO rate case for 2017 (â€œTO18â€) were in effect from March 1, 2017 through February 28, 2018. Rates under the TO rate case for 2018 (â€œTO19â€) were in effect from March 1, 2018 through April 30, 2019. Rates under the TO rate case for 2019 (â€œTO20â€) were in effect from May 1, 2019 through December 31, 2023.On October 15, 2020, the FERC issued an order addressing substantive disputed issues concerning TO18 including the direct assignment of common plant costs, impact of the TCJA on January and February 2018 rates, and depreciation and ordered additional briefing on the appropriate ROE. On April 15, 2021, the FERC issued an order on rehearing setting aside its earlier determination on the TCJA and determining that the lower tax rates in the TCJA applied to the TO18 rates in January and February 2018. On March 17, 2022, the FERC issued a further order in the TO18 rate case proceeding finding that 9.26% is the just and reasonable base ROE for the Utility. With the incentive component of 50-basis points for the Utilityâ€™s continuing participation in the CAISO, the resulting ROE would be 9.76%.The Utility and other parties have filed appeals of the FERCâ€™s TO18 orders. The appeals are currently pending before the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals and are being held in abeyance. Requests for rehearing of the ROE decision are still pending at the FERC. On May 31, 2024, the Utility and certain intervenors filed a settlement at the FERC regarding TO18.On December 20, 2018, the FERC issued an order approving an all-party settlement filed by the Utility regarding TO19. As part of the settlement, the TO19 revenue requirement will be set at 98.85% of the revenue requirement for TO18 that will be determined upon the issuance of a final, non-appealable TO18 decision.TO20 was a formula rate, which means the Utility submits an annual update to the FERC each December for rates to go into effect on January 1 of the following year based on a formula, without a separate rate case. On August 17, 2020, and December 30, 2020, FERC accepted a partial settlement and final settlement, respectively, in the TO20 proceedings. Several issues in the settlements, such as the direct assignment of common plant costs, are contingent on the outcome of a final, non-appealable TO18 decision.Parties have protested the Utilityâ€™s annual updates under the formula rate, and these protests are pending before the FERC. On October 24, 2023, the Utility filed a waiver request for certain inputs to the formula rate related to the cost of long-term debt and certain underwriting fees, which the FERC denied on December 22, 2023. On January 22, 2024, the Utility filed a request for reconsideration, which the FERC denied on February 22, 2024. On March 28, 2024, the Utility filed a petition for review in the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. On May 23, 2024, the FERC issued a substantive order on rehearing again denying the Utilityâ€™s waiver request, and the Utility withdrew the petition for review.Aside from the ultimate outcome of the ROE rehearing request and the direct assignment of common plant costs, the FERCâ€™s orders in the TO18 proceeding are not expected to result in a material impact on the Utilityâ€™s financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, or cash flows. Some of the issues that will be decided in a final and unappealable TO18 decision, including the direct assignment of common plant costs, will also be incorporated into the Utilityâ€™s TO19 and TO20 rate cases. The Utility has established regulatory liabilities for amounts previously collected during the TO18, TO19, and TO20 rate case periods from 2017 through the second quarter of 2024 of approximately $484Â million pending a final and non-appealable TO18 decision. Based on the settlement, a portion of the direct assignment of common plant costs are expected to be recovered at the CPUC in a separate application, and as a result, as of June 30, 2024, the Utility had recorded approximately $233Â million to Regulatory assets.2022 WMCE Interim Rate Relief Subject to RefundOn December 15, 2022, the Utility filed an application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $1.36Â billion of recorded expenditures, resulting in a proposed revenue requirement of approximately $1.29Â billion (the â€œ2022 WMCE applicationâ€). The costs addressed in this application reflect costs related to wildfire mitigation and certain catastrophic events, as well as the implementation of various customer-focused initiatives. These costs were incurred primarily in 2021.The recorded expenditures consist of $1.2Â billion in expenses and $136Â million in capital expenditures. On June 8, 2023, the CPUC adopted a final decision granting the Utility interim rate relief of $1.1Â billion to be recovered over 12 months, which went into effect July 1, 2023. The remaining $224Â million will be recovered to the extent it is approved after the CPUC issues a final decision. Cost recovery requested in this application is subject to the CPUCâ€™s reasonableness review, which could result in some or all of the interim rate relief being subject to refund.On May 20, 2024, the CPUC extended the statutory deadline to resolve the remaining issues in the proceeding to December 31, 2024.Wildfire and Gas Safety Costs Interim Rate Relief Subject to RefundOn June 15, 2023, the Utility filed a WGSC application with the CPUC requesting cost recovery of approximately $2.5Â billion of recorded expenditures related to wildfire mitigation costs and gas safety and electric modernization costs.The recorded expenditures for wildfire mitigation consist of $726Â million in expenses and $1.5Â billion in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2020 to 2022. The recorded expenditures for gas safety and electric modernization consist of $120Â million in expenses and $118Â million in capital expenditures and cover activities during the years 2017 to 2022. If approved, the requested cost recovery would result in an aggregate revenue requirement of $688Â million. The costs addressed in the WGSC application are incremental to those previously authorized in the Utilityâ€™s 2020 GRC and other proceedings.On March 7, 2024, the CPUC approved a final decision authorizing the Utility to recover $516Â million in interim rates to be recovered over at least 12 months starting April 1, 2024. The remaining $172Â million will be recovered to the extent it is approved after the CPUC issues a final decision. Cost recovery requested in this application is subject to the CPUCâ€™s reasonableness review, which could result in some or all of the interim rate relief being subject to refund.The ALJ has adopted a schedule that would result in a PD on the wildfire mitigation costs in the first half of 2025 and a final decision on the gas safety and electric modernization costs by June 2025.Other MattersPG&E Corporation and the Utility are subject to various claims and lawsuits that separately are not considered material.Â Accruals for contingencies related to such matters totaled $80 million and $89 million as of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. These amounts were included in Other current liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements. Included among these claims and lawsuits are the proofs of claim filed in the Chapter 11 Cases, except for proofs of claim discussed under â€œWildfire-Related Securities Claimsâ€”Claims in the Bankruptcy Court Processâ€ in Note 10. PG&E Corporation and the Utility have resolved a significant majority of the proofs of claim. PG&E Corporation and the Utility continue their review and analysis of certain remaining claims. PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe it is reasonably possible that the resolution of these matters will have a material impact on their financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.Tax Matters The Internal Revenue Service (â€œIRSâ€) is auditing PG&E Corporationâ€™s tax returns for 2015 through 2018. The State of California is auditing PG&E Corporationâ€™s tax returns for 2015 through 2019. The most significant unresolved matter relates to the deductibility of approximately $850Â million in costs for gas transmission and distribution lines, which the CPUC did not allow the Utility to recover through rates, and $400Â million in customer bill credits, in connection with its decision issued in 2015 for the San Bruno natural gas explosion in September of 2010. PG&E Corporation records an income tax benefit related to a deduction for an uncertain tax position when it determines it is more likely than not that the uncertain tax position will ultimately be sustained. On June 4, 2024, the Office of Chief Counsel of the IRS issued a technical advice memorandum taking the position that the costs the Utility incurred for gas transmission and distribution lines and customer bill credits are nondeductible fines or penalties. As a result, in the quarter ended June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation determined that it is no longer more likely than not that its deduction related to a portion of the customer bill credits will ultimately be sustained. Accordingly, PG&E Corporation has decreased its Income tax benefit by $70Â million during the quarter ended June 30, 2024 related to state and federal income taxes. PG&E Corporation intends to defend itself vigorously as to all costs in this matter.CZU Lightning Complex Fire Notices of Violation Between November 2020 and January 2021, several governmental entities raised concerns regarding the Utilityâ€™s emergency response to the 2020 CZU Lightning Complex fire, including Cal Fire, the California Coastal Commission, the Central Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board, and Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors alleging environmental, vegetation management, and unpermitted work violations. The Utility continues to work with the California Coastal Commission and the Central Coast Regional Water Quality Control Board to resolve any outstanding issues. Violations can result in penalties, remediation, and other relief.Based on the information available, PG&E Corporation and the Utility believe it is probable that a liability has been incurred. Accordingly, PG&E Corporation and the Utility have recorded charges for amounts that are not material. PG&E Corporation and the Utility do not believe that the resolution of these matters will have a material impact on their financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.Environmental Remediation ContingenciesGiven the complexities of the legal and regulatory environment and the inherent uncertainties involved in the early stages of a remediation project, the process for estimating remediation liabilities requires significant judgment. The Utility records an environmental remediation liability when the site assessments indicate that remediation is probable, and the Utility can reasonably estimate the loss or a range of probable amounts. The Utility records an environmental remediation liability based on the lower end of the range of estimated probable costs, unless an amount within the range is a better estimate than any other amount. Key factors that inform the development of estimated costs include site feasibility studies and investigations, applicable remediation actions, operations and maintenance activities, post-remediation monitoring, and the cost of technologies that are expected to be approved to remediate the site. Amounts recorded are not discounted to their present value. The Utilityâ€™s environmental remediation liability is primarily included in Noncurrent liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and is comprised of the following:Â Balance at(in millions)June 30, 2024December 31, 2023Topock natural gas compressor station$287Â $276Â Hinkley natural gas compressor station104Â 104Â Former MGP sites owned by the Utility or third parties (1)810Â 809Â Utility-owned generation facilities (other than fossil fuel-fired), other facilities, and third-party disposal sites (2)75Â 107Â Fossil fuel-fired generation facilities and sites (3)18Â 19Â Total environmental remediation liability$1,294Â $1,315Â (1) Primarily driven by the following sites: San Francisco Beach Street, Napa, and San Francisco East Harbor.(2) Primarily driven by geothermal landfill and Shell Pond site.(3) Primarily driven by the San Francisco Potrero Power Plant.The Utilityâ€™s gas compressor stations, former MGP sites, power plant sites, gas gathering sites, and sites used by the Utility for the storage, recycling, and disposal of potentially hazardous substances are subject to requirements issued by the United States Environmental Protection Agency under the Federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act in addition to other state laws relating to hazardous substances.Â The Utility has a comprehensive program to comply with federal, state, and local laws and regulations related to hazardous materials, waste, remediation activities, and other environmental requirements.Â The Utility assesses and monitors the environmental requirements on an ongoing basis and implements changes to its program as deemed appropriate. The Utilityâ€™s remediation activities are overseen by the DTSC, several California regional water quality control boards, and various other federal, state, and local agencies.The Utilityâ€™s environmental remediation liability as of June 30, 2024, reflects its best estimate of probable future costs for remediation based on the current assessment data and regulatory obligations. Future costs will depend on many factors, including the extent of work necessary to implement final remediation plans, the Utilityâ€™s time frame for remediation, and unanticipated claims filed against the Utility.Â The Utility may incur actual costs in the future that are materially different than this estimate and such costs could have a material impact on results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows during the period in which they are recorded. As of June 30, 2024, the Utility expected to recover $1.1 billion of its environmental remediation liability for certain sites through various ratemaking mechanisms authorized by the CPUC.Natural Gas Compressor Station SitesThe Utility is legally responsible for remediating groundwater contamination caused by hexavalent chromium used in the past at the Utilityâ€™s natural gas compressor stations. The Utility is also required to take measures to abate the effects of the contamination on the environment.Topock SiteThe Utilityâ€™s remediation and abatement efforts at the Topock site are subject to the regulatory authority of the DTSC and the U.S. Department of the Interior. On April 24, 2018, the DTSC authorized the Utility to build an in-situ groundwater treatment system to convert hexavalent chromium into a non-toxic and non-soluble form of chromium. Construction activities began in October 2018, and the initial phase of construction was completed in 2021. Additional phases of construction will continue for several years. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with the Topock site may increase by as much as $213 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the Topock site are expected to be recovered primarily through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Hinkley SiteThe Utilityâ€™s remediation and abatement efforts at the Hinkley site are subject to the regulatory authority of the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, Lahontan Region. In November 2015, the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, Lahontan Region adopted a clean-up and abatement order directing the Utility to contain and remediate the underground plume of hexavalent chromium and the potential environmental impacts. The final order states that the Utility must continue and improve its remediation efforts, define the boundaries of the chromium plume, and take action to meet interim cleanup targets. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with the Hinkley site may increase by as much as $127 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the Hinkley site will not be recovered through rates.Former Manufactured Gas PlantsFormer MGPs used coal and oil to produce gas for use by the Utilityâ€™s customers before natural gas became available. The by-products and residues of this process were often disposed of at the MGPs themselves. The Utility has a program to manage the residues left behind as a result of the manufacturing process; many of the sites in the program have been addressed. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with MGP sites may increase by as much as $647 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation at identified MGP sites is greater than anticipated. The costs associated with environmental remediation at the MGP sites are recovered through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Utility-Owned Generation Facilities and Third-Party Disposal SitesUtility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites often involve long-term remediation. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with Utility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites may increase by as much as $75 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The environmental remediation costs associated with the Utility-owned generation facilities and third-party disposal sites are recovered through the HSMA, where 90% of the costs are recovered through rates.Fossil Fuel-Fired Generation SitesIn 1998, the Utility divested its generation power plant business as part of generation deregulation. Although the Utility sold its fossil-fueled power plants, the Utility retained the environmental remediation liability associated with each site. It is reasonably possible that the Utilityâ€™s undiscounted future costs associated with fossil fuel-fired generation sites may increase by as much as $20 million if the extent of contamination or necessary remediation is greater than anticipated. The environmental remediation costs associated with the fossil fuel-fired sites will not be recovered through rates.Nuclear InsuranceThe Utility maintains multiple insurance policies through NEIL and EMANI, coveringÂ nuclear or non-nuclear events at the Utilityâ€™s two nuclear generating units at Diablo Canyon and the Humboldt Bay independent spent fuel storage installation.NEIL provides insurance coverage for property damages and business interruption losses incurred by the Utility if a nuclear or non-nuclear event were to occur at the Utilityâ€™s two nuclear generating units at Diablo Canyon. NEIL provides property damage and business interruption coverage of up to $3.2Â billion per nuclear incident and $2.5Â billion per non-nuclear incident for Diablo Canyon. For the Humboldt Bay independent spent fuel storage installation, NEIL provides up to $50Â million of coverage for nuclear and non-nuclear property damages. NEIL also provides coverage for damages caused by acts of terrorism and cyberattacks at nuclear power plants. Through NEIL, there is up to $3.2Â billion available to the membership to cover this exposure. These coverage amounts are shared by all NEIL members and all nuclear and non-nuclear property insurance policies issued by NEIL. EMANI shares losses with NEIL, as part of the first $400Â million of coverage within the current nuclear insurance program. EMANI also provides an additional $200Â million in excess insurance for property damage and business interruption losses incurred by the Utility if a nuclear or non-nuclear event were to occur at Diablo Canyon. If NEIL losses in any policy year exceed accumulated funds, the Utility could be subject to a retrospective assessment.Â Â If NEIL were to exercise this assessment, the maximum aggregate annual retrospective premium obligation for the Utility would be approximately $42Â million.Â If EMANI losses in any policy year exceed accumulated funds, the Utility could be subject to a retrospective assessment of approximately $5Â million.Â For more information about the Utilityâ€™s nuclear insurance coverage, see Note 15 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.Purchase CommitmentsIn the ordinary course of business, the Utility enters into various agreements to purchase power and electric capacity; natural gas supply, transportation, and storage; nuclear fuel supply and services; and various other commitments. As of December 31, 2023, the Utility had undiscounted future expected obligations of approximately $32 billion. See Note 15 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K.Oakland Headquarters Lease and PurchaseOn October 23, 2020, the Utility and BA2 300 Lakeside LLC (â€œLandlordâ€), a wholly owned subsidiary of TMG Bay Area Investments II, LLC, entered into an office lease agreement for approximately 910,000 rentable square feet of space within the Lakeside Building (the â€œPropertyâ€) to serve as the Utilityâ€™s principal administrative headquarters (the â€œLeaseâ€).On July 11, 2023, the Utility and the Landlord entered into an Amendment to Office Lease and an Agreement of Purchase and Sale and Joint Escrow Instructions, pursuant to which the Utility was deemed to have exercised its option to purchase the Property, as modified. Pursuant to the Agreement of Purchase and Sale and Joint Escrow Instructions, the purchase price of the Property will be $906Â million, with deposits applicable to such purchase price of $150Â million paid by July 11, 2023, $250Â million paid by July 11, 2024, and the remaining $506Â million to be paid at closing in June 2025. The Utility will also receive a credit of approximately $172Â million towards the final payment, subject to adjustments, which represents the estimated outstanding principal balance of a loan carried by the Property that will be assigned to, and assumed by, the Utility at closing. The Utility will continue to lease the Property pursuant to the Lease, as amended, until closing.The Lease also requires the rentable space to be delivered in two phases, with each phase consisting of multiple subphases. As of June 30, 2024, approximately 715,000 rentable square feet of the leased premises has been made available for use by the Utility.As of June 30, 2024, the Utility has recorded $781 million in Financing lease ROU assets, $62Â million in accumulated amortization, $180Â million in leasehold improvements, net of accumulated amortization, which includes $101Â million that was provided to the Utility as lease incentives, and $777 million in current Financing lease liabilities in the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements primarily related to the Lease, as amended. For more information about the Lease, see â€œOakland Headquarters Lease and Purchaseâ€ in Note 2 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Item 8 of the 2023 Form 10-K. Revenues can vary significantly from period to period because of seasonality, weather, and customer usage patterns.Regulatory Balancing Account RevenueThe CPUC authorizes most of the Utilityâ€™s revenues in the Utilityâ€™s GRCs, which occur everyÂ four years. CPUC and FERC rates decouple authorized revenue from the volume of electricity and natural gas sales, so the Utility receives revenue equal to the amounts authorized by the relevant regulatory agencies. As a result, the volume of electricity and natural gas sold does not have a direct impact on PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s financial results. The Utility recognizes revenues that have been authorized for rate recovery, are objectively determinable and probable of recovery, and are expected to be collected within 24 months.Â Generally, electric and natural gas operating revenue is recognized ratably over the year. The Utility records a balancing account asset or liability for differences between customer billings and authorized revenue requirements that are probable of recovery or refund.The Utility also collects additional revenue requirements to recover costs that the CPUC has authorized the Utility to pass on to customers, including costs to purchase electricity and natural gas, and to fund public purpose, demand response, and customer energy efficiency programs.Â In general, the revenue recognition criteria for pass-through costs billed to customers are met at the time the costs are incurred. The Utility records a regulatory balancing account asset or liability for differences between incurred costs and customer billings or authorized revenue meant to recover those costs, to the extent that these differences are probable of recovery or refund. As a result, these differences have no impact on net income. Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost â€“ Credit Losses PG&E Corporation and the Utility use the current expected credit loss model to estimate the expected lifetime credit loss on financial assets measured at amortized cost. PG&E Corporation and the Utility evaluate credit risk in their portfolio of financial assets quarterly. As of June 30, 2024, PG&E Corporation and the Utility identified the following significant categories of financial assets.Trade ReceivablesTrade receivables are represented by customer accounts. PG&E Corporation and the Utility record an allowance for doubtful accounts to recognize an estimate of expected lifetime credit losses. The allowance is determined on a collective basis based on the historical amounts written-off and an assessment of customer collectability. Furthermore, economic conditions are evaluated as part of the estimate of expected lifetime credit losses.Expected credit losses of $65Â million and $135 million were recorded in Operating and maintenance expense on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income for credit losses associated with trade and other receivables during the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, respectively. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2023, expected credit losses were $154 million and $293 million, respectively. The portion of expected credit losses that are deemed probable of recovery are deferred to the RUBA, CPPMA, and a FERC regulatory asset account. As of June 30, 2024, the RUBA current balancing accounts receivable balance was $98Â million, and CPPMA and FERC noncurrent regulatory asset balances were $6 million and $73Â million, respectively. As of December 31, 2023, the RUBA current balancing accounts receivable balance was $507Â million, and CPPMA and FERC noncurrent regulatory asset balances were $5Â million and $78Â million, respectively. The RUBA current balancing account balance decreased from December 31, 2023 to June 30, 2024 primarily due to the annual electric and gas true-up which allows the Utility to recover approximately $500Â million in undercollections from residential customers in 2024. Other Receivables and Available-For-Sale Debt SecuritiesInsurance receivables are related to the liability insurance policies PG&E Corporation and the Utility carry. Insurance receivable risk is related to each insurance carrierâ€™s risk of defaulting on their individual policies. Wildfire Fund receivables are the funds available from the statewide fund established under AB 1054 for payment of eligible claims related to the 2021 Dixie fire that exceed $1.0 billion and available insurance coverage. For more information, see Note 10 below. Wildfire Fund receivables risk is related to the Wildfire Fundâ€™s durability, which is a measurement of its claim-paying capacity. Lastly, PG&E Corporation and the Utility are required to determine if the fair value is below the amortized cost basis for their available-for-sale debt securities (i.e., impairment). If such an impairment exists and does not otherwise result in a write-down, then PG&E Corporation and the Utility must determine whether a portion of the impairment is a result of expected credit loss. Government Assistance The Utility participated in various government assistance programs during the six months ended June 30, 2024 and 2023. The Utilityâ€™s accounting policy is to apply a grant accounting model by analogy to International Accounting Standards 20, Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance.Assembly Bill 180On June 30, 2022, AB 180 became law. AB 180 authorized the DWR to use up to $75 million to support contracts with the owners of electric generating facilities pending retirement, such as Diablo Canyon, to fund, reimburse or compensate the owner for any costs, expenses or financial commitments incurred to retain the future availability of such generating facilities pending further legislation. The resulting agreement between DWR and the Utility was effective beginning October 1, 2022, and will continue until full disbursement of funds or termination per the agreement. In the event of a termination, the Utility will take reasonable steps to end activities associated with this agreement and will return to DWR any unused funds. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the amount recorded as a reduction to Cost of electricity for income related to government grants for incurred eligible costs to purchase nuclear fuel was immaterial to the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income.DWR Loan AgreementOn October 18, 2022, the DWR and the Utility executed a $1.4Â billion loan agreement to support the extension of Diablo Canyon, up to approximately $1.1Â billion of which could be repaid by funds received from the DOE (see â€œU.S. DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Programâ€ below). Under the loan agreement, the DWR pays the Utility a monthly performance-based disbursement equal to $7 for each MWh generated by Diablo Canyon, effective September 2, 2022. The Utility may use the proceeds of the performance-based disbursements for any business purpose, except as profits or dividends to shareholders or as otherwise prohibited by SB 846. The Utility began earning performance-based disbursements beginning on September 2, 2022 and is eligible to earn performance-based disbursements until the previously-approved retirement dates for Diablo Canyon Unit 1 and Unit 2 (2024 and 2025, respectively). The performance-based disbursements are contingent upon the Utilityâ€™s ongoing efforts to pursue extension of and continued safe and reliable operation of Diablo Canyon. The aggregate amount of performance-based disbursements under this agreement will not exceed $300Â million.The Utility initially accounts for all disbursements from the DWR loan agreement pursuant to Accounting Standards Codification (â€œASCâ€) 470, Debt. When there is reasonable assurance that the Utility will have loan disbursements forgiven by the DWR, such as when the Utility earns a performance-based disbursement or when funds expected to be received from the DOE are less than incurred eligible costs to support the extension of Diablo Canyon, the Utility will recognize those forgiven loans as income related to government grants. The Utility records the income related to government grants as a deduction to expense in the same period(s) that eligible costs are incurred.The following table provides a summary of where the DWR loan activity is presented in PG&E Corporationâ€™s and the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements:Three Months Ended June 30,Six Months Ended June 30,(in millions)20242023202420232Long-term debt:Beginning Balance - DWR loan outstanding$296Â $279Â $98Â $312Â Proceeds received 368Â â€”Â 600Â â€”Â Operating Expenses:Operating and maintenance expense - Performance-based disbursements(17)(19)(39)(52)Operating and maintenance expense - Loan forgiveness and other adjustments12Â â€”Â 12â€”Â Other current liabilities: Performance-based disbursements deferred (8)(15)(20)(15)Long-term debt:Ending Balance - DWR loan outstanding$651Â $245Â $651Â $245Â U.S. DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit ProgramOn January 11, 2024, the Utility and DOE entered into a Credit Award and Payment Agreement for up to $1.1Â billion related to Diablo Canyon as part of the DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Program. The Utility will use these funds to repay its loans outstanding under the DWR Loan Agreement (see â€œDWR Loan Agreementâ€ above). Final award amounts will be determined following completion of each year of the award period, and amounts awarded over a four-year award period ending in 2026 will be based on a number of factors, including actual costs incurred to extend the Diablo Canyon operations. When there is reasonable assurance that the Utility will receive funding and comply with the conditions of the DOEâ€™s Civil Nuclear Credit Program, the Utility will recognize such funding as income and will record a receivable related to government grants. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2024, the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income reflected $159Â million and $299 million, respectively, as a deduction to Operating and maintenance expense, for income related to government grants for incurred eligible costs to support the extension of Diablo Canyon. Variable Interest Entities A VIE is an entity that does not have sufficient equity at risk to finance its activities without additional subordinated financial support from other parties, or whose equity investors lack any characteristics of a controlling financial interest. An enterprise that has a controlling financial interest in a VIE is a primary beneficiary and is required to consolidate the VIE.Consolidated VIEsReceivables Securitization ProgramThe SPV was created in connection with the Receivables Securitization Program and is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the Receivables Securitization Program, the Utility sells certain of its receivables and certain related rights to payment and obligations of the Utility with respect to such receivables, and certain other related rights to the SPV, which, in turn, obtains loans secured by the receivables from financial institutions (the â€œLendersâ€). The pledged receivables and the corresponding debt are included in Accounts receivable, Accrued unbilled revenue, and Long-term debt on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.The SPV is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its activities. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of the SPV are decisions made to manage receivables. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates the SPV as it makes these decisions. No additional financial support was provided to the SPV during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the SPV had net accounts receivable of $3.5Â billion and $2.7Â billion, respectively, and outstanding borrowings of $1.5 billion, under the Receivables Securitization Program. For more information, see Note 4 below.AB 1054 SecuritizationPG&E Recovery Funding LLC is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the financing orders for the first and second AB 1054 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the non-bypassable wildfire hardening fixed recovery charges (â€œRecovery Propertyâ€) to PG&E Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued two separate series of recovery bonds secured by separate Recovery Property.PG&E Recovery Funding LLC is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its operations. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of PG&E Recovery Funding LLC are decisions made by the servicer of the Recovery Property. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates PG&E Recovery Funding LLC as it acts in this role as servicer. No additional financial support was provided to PG&E Recovery Funding LLC during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. On November 12, 2021, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC issued approximately $860Â million of senior secured recovery bonds. On November 30, 2022, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC issued approximately $983Â million of Series 2022-A senior secured recovery bonds. As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, PG&E Recovery Funding LLC had outstanding borrowings of $1.8 billion, included in Long-term debt and Long-term debt, classified as current on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.SB 901 SecuritizationPG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC is a bankruptcy remote, limited liability company wholly owned by the Utility, and its assets are not available to creditors of PG&E Corporation or the Utility. Pursuant to the financing order for the first and second SB 901 securitization transactions, the Utility sold its right to receive revenues from the non-bypassable fixed recovery charges (â€œSB 901 Recovery Propertyâ€) to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC, which, in turn, issued two separate series of recovery bonds secured by separate SB 901 Recovery Property.PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC is considered a VIE because its equity capitalization is insufficient to support its operations. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC are decisions made by the servicer of the SB 901 Recovery Property. The Utility is considered the primary beneficiary and consolidates PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC as it acts in this role as servicer. No additional financial support was provided to PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC during the six months ended June 30, 2024 or is expected to be provided in the future that was not previously contractually required. On May 10, 2022, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC issued $3.6Â billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds (the â€œSeries 2022-A Recovery Bondsâ€). On July 20, 2022, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC issued $3.9Â billion aggregate principal amount of senior secured recovery bonds (the â€œSeries 2022-B Recovery Bondsâ€). As of June 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, PG&E Wildfire Recovery Funding LLC had outstanding borrowings of $7.3Â billion, included in Long-term debt and Long-term debt, classified as current on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. For more information, see Note 5 below.Non-Consolidated VIEsPower Purchase AgreementsSome of the counterparties to the Utilityâ€™s power purchase agreements are considered VIEs.Â Each of these VIEs was designed to own a power plant that would generate electricity for sale to the Utility.Â To determine whether the Utility was the primary beneficiary of any of these VIEs as of June 30, 2024, the Utility assessed whether it absorbs any of the VIEâ€™s expected losses or receives any portion of the VIEâ€™s expected residual returns under the terms of the power purchase agreement, analyzed the variability in the VIEâ€™s gross margin, and considered whether it had any decision-making rights associated with the activities that are most significant to the VIEâ€™s performance, such as dispatch rights or operating and maintenance activities. Â The Utilityâ€™s financial obligation is limited to the amount the Utility pays for delivered electricity and capacity. The Utility did not have any decision-making rights associated with any of the activities that are most significant to the economic performance of any of these VIEs. Since the Utility was not the primary beneficiary of any of these VIEs as of June 30, 2024, it did not consolidate any of them.The Lakeside BuildingBA2 300 Lakeside LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of TMG Bay Area Investments II, LLC, and the Utility are parties to an office lease agreement for approximately 910,000 rentable square feet of space within the Lakeside Building, which serves as the Utilityâ€™s principal administrative headquarters.BA2 300 Lakeside LLC is considered a VIE because the group that holds the equity investment at risk lacks the right to receive the expected residual returns of the entity due to a fixed-price purchase option covering more than 50% of the fair value of the assets held by the entity. The most significant activities that impact the economic performance of BA2 300 Lakeside LLC are decisions related to significant maintenance and remarketing of the property. The Utility is not considered the primary beneficiary and does not consolidate BA2 300 Lakeside LLC as it does not have any decision-making rights associated with these activities. The Utilityâ€™s financial obligation is limited to the issued letter of credit as well as the amounts it pays for base rent and certain costs, per the office lease agreement. For more information, see â€œOakland Headquarters Lease and Purchaseâ€ in Note 11 below. Pension and Other Post-Retirement Benefits PG&E Corporation and the Utility sponsor a non-contributory defined benefit pension plan and cash balance plan. Both plans are included in â€œPension Benefitsâ€ below. Post-retirement medical and life insurance plans are included in â€œOther Benefitsâ€ below.Non-service costs are reflected in Other income, net on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Service costs are reflected in Operating and maintenance on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income. Accounting Standards Issued But Not Yet Adopted Accounting Standards Issued But Not Yet AdoptedSegment ReportingIn November 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280): Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, which amends the existing guidance to improve reportable segment disclosure requirements, primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. This ASU will become effective for PG&E Corporation and the Utility for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are currently evaluating the impact the guidance will have on their Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures.Income TaxesIn December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, which amends the existing guidance to enhance the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures. The standard requires consistent categories and greater disaggregation of information in the rate reconciliation, and income taxes paid disaggregated by jurisdiction. This ASU will become effective for PG&E Corporation and the Utility for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. PG&E Corporation and the Utility are currently evaluating the impact the guidance will have on their Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures. Earnings Per Share PG&E Corporationâ€™s basic EPS is calculated by dividing the income available for common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding.Â PG&E Corporation applies the treasury stock method of reflecting the dilutive effect of outstanding share-based compensation in the calculation of diluted EPS. Use of Derivative Instruments The Utility is exposed to commodity price risk as a result of its electricity and natural gas procurement activities. Procurement costs are recovered through rates. The Utility uses both derivative and non-derivative contracts to manage volatility in customer rates due to fluctuating commodity prices. Derivatives include contracts, such as power purchase agreements, forwards, futures, swaps, options, and CRRs that are traded either on an exchange or over-the-counter.Derivatives are presented in the Utilityâ€™s Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and recorded at fair value and on a net basis in accordance with master netting arrangements for each counterparty. The fair value of derivative instruments is further offset by cash collateral paid or received where the right of offset and the intention to offset exist.Price risk management activities that meet the definition of derivatives are recorded at fair value on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. These instruments are not held for speculative purposes and are subject to certain regulatory requirements. The Utility expects to fully recover through rates all costs related to derivatives under the applicable ratemaking mechanism in place as long as the Utilityâ€™s price risk management activities are carried out in accordance with CPUC directives. Therefore, all unrealized gains and losses associated with the change in fair value of these derivatives are deferred and recorded within the Utilityâ€™s regulatory assets and liabilities on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Net realized gains or losses on commodity derivatives are recorded in the cost of electricity or the cost of natural gas with corresponding increases or decreases to regulatory balancing accounts for recovery from or refund to customers.The Utility elects the normal purchase and sale exception for eligible derivatives. Eligible derivatives are those that require physical delivery in quantities that are expected to be used by the Utility over a reasonable period in the normal course of business and do not contain pricing provisions unrelated to the commodity delivered.Â These items are not reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets at fair value.
