Such statements involve risks, uncertainties and assumptions. If the risks or uncertainties ever materialize or the assumptions prove incorrect, the results of The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. (collectively with its subsidiaries, the â€œCompany,â€ â€œHain Celestial,â€ â€œwe,â€ â€œusâ€ or â€œourâ€) may differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. The words â€œbelieve,â€ â€œexpect,â€ â€œanticipate,â€ â€œmay,â€ â€œshould,â€ â€œplan,â€ â€œintend,â€ â€œpotential,â€ â€œwillâ€ and similar expressions are intended to identify such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include, among other things: our beliefs or expectations relating to our future performance, results of operations and financial condition; our strategic initiatives, including statements related to Hain Reimagined; our business strategy; our supply chain, including the availability and pricing of raw materials; our brand portfolio; pricing actions and product performance; inflation rates; and current or future macroeconomic trends. Risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially from forward-looking statements include: challenges and uncertainty resulting from the impact of competition; our ability to manage our supply chain effectively; input cost inflation, including with respect to freight and other distribution costs; disruption of operations at our manufacturing facilities; reliance on independent contract manufacturers; changes to consumer preferences; customer concentration; our ability to execute our cost reduction initiatives and related strategic initiatives; reliance on independent distributors; risks associated with operating internationally; the availability of organic ingredients; risks associated with outsourcing arrangements; risks associated with geopolitical conflicts or events; our ability to identify and complete acquisitions or divestitures and our level of success in integrating acquisitions; our reliance on independent certification for a number of our products; our ability to attract and retain highly skilled people; risks related to tax matters; impairments in the carrying value of goodwill or other intangible assets; the reputation of our company and our brands; our ability to use and protect trademarks; foreign currency exchange risk; general economic conditions; compliance with our credit agreement; cybersecurity incidents; disruptions to information technology systems; the impact of climate change and related disclosure regulations; liabilities, claims or regulatory change with respect to environmental matters; pending and future litigation, including litigation relating to Earthâ€™s BestÂ® baby food products; potential liability if our products cause illness or physical harm; the highly regulated environment in which we operate; compliance with data privacy laws; the adequacy of our insurance coverage; and other risks and matters described in Part I, Item 1A, â€œRisk Factorsâ€ and elsewhere in this Form 10-K as well as in other reports that we file in the future. We undertake no obligation to update forward-looking statements to reflect actual results or changes in assumptions or circumstances, except as required by applicable law. 3 Table of ContentsÂ PART I THE HAIN CELESTIAL GROUP, INC. Item 1. Business Overview The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (collectively with its subsidiaries, the â€œCompany,â€ â€œHain Celestial,â€ â€œwe,â€ â€œusâ€ or â€œourâ€) was founded in 1993. Hain Celestial is a leading global health and wellness company whose purpose is to inspire healthier living for people, communities and the planet through better-for-you brands. For more than 30 years, Hain Celestial has intentionally focused on delivering nutrition and well-being that positively impacts today and tomorrow. Headquartered in Hoboken, NJ, Hain Celestialâ€™s products across snacks, baby & kids, beverages, meal preparation and personal care, are marketed and sold in over 70 countries around the world. The Company's leading brands include Garden Veggie Snacksâ„¢, TerraÂ® chips, Garden of Eatin'Â® snacks, Hartleyâ€™sÂ® Jelly, Earth's BestÂ® and Ella's KitchenÂ® baby and kids foods, Celestial SeasoningsÂ® teas, JoyaÂ® and NatumiÂ® plant-based beverages, Greek GodsÂ® yogurt, Cully & SullyÂ®, Yorkshire ProvenderÂ®, New Covent GardenÂ® and ImagineÂ® soups, YvesÂ® and Linda McCartney'sÂ® (under license) meat-free, and Avalon OrganicsÂ® personal care, among others. Hain Reimagined Program During the first quarter of fiscal year 2024, we initiated a multi-year growth, transformation and restructuring program (the â€œHain Reimagined Programâ€) intended to drive shareholder returns. The savings initiatives impact our reportable segments and Corporate and Other. The program is intended to optimize our portfolio, improve underlying profitability and increase our flexibility to invest in targeted growth initiatives, brand building and other capabilities critical to delivering future growth. The Hain Reimagined Program is grounded on four strategic pillars: Focus, Grow, Build and Fuel. Implementation of the Hain Reimagined Program is expected to be completed by the end of the 2027 fiscal year. Cumulative pretax charges associated with the Hain Reimagined Program are expected to be $115 million - $125 million inclusive of potential inventory write-downs of approximately $25 million related to brand/category exits. The balance of cumulative pretax restructuring charges is expected to be $90 million - $100 million comprised of contract termination costs, asset write-downs, employee-related costs and other transformation-related expenses. Annualized pretax savings are expected to be $130 million - $150 million. For further information, see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations included in Item 7 of this Form 10-K. Impact We are a global health and wellness company whose purpose is to inspire healthier living for people, communities, and the planet through better-for-you brands. Our Impact strategy focuses on expanding our commitment to environmentally sound business practices, creating and selling better-for-you products, social and community impact initiatives and sustainable manufacturing processes. Our Impact strategy also consists of our environmental, social, and governance (â€œESGâ€) goals along with a commitment to considering long-term social and environmental impacts. More details about our Impact strategy and goals, including our most recent Impact Report, are available at hain.com/company/impact. Our Impact Reports and the other information available at hain.com/company/impact are not, and shall not be deemed to be, a part of this Form 10-K or incorporated into any of our other filings made with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the â€œSECâ€). Human Capital Resources As of June 30, 2024, we had approximately 2,786 employees, with approximately 46% located in North America and approximately 54% located outside of North America. Approximately 57% of our employees in North America and approximately 61% of our employees outside of North America were based in our production facilities. Substantially all of our employees are full-time, permanent employees. Our Board of Directors and its committees provide oversight of our culture and strategy related to people management, including the Companyâ€™s diversity, equity and inclusion program, talent management, employee demographics, employee engagement, workplace health and safety, and communication programs. Our employees are critical to our success. The following programs, initiatives and principles encompass some of the human capital objectives and measures that we focus on in managing our business and in seeking to attract and retain a talented workforce. 4 Table of ContentsÂ Our Purpose, Mission and Values We are guided by our Purpose, Mission and Values. Purpose: To inspire healthier living for people, communities and the planet through better-for-you brands Mission: To build purpose-driven brands that make healthier living more attainable by empowering our people, engaging our partners, and living our values Values: (1) Be curious, (2) Foster inclusion, (3) Own it and (4) Win together Diversity and Inclusion People have always been our greatest asset. They are the very heart of our Company, and we believe everyone should feel encouraged, respected and welcomed in our workplace. Diversity and inclusion (â€œD&Iâ€) drives success, and we believe that our employeesâ€™ diverse backgrounds and experiences are essential to helping us all to continue to thrive internally and deliver innovative products to our customers. We promote fairness by practicing equal opportunity in all decisions about hiring, compensation, training, promotions and every other aspect of employment. We maintain a global D&I Council to create and foster a workplace that reflects and contributes to the diverse, global communities in which we do business. Our D&I Council supports employee resource groups (â€œERGsâ€) that help to foster a culture of inclusion in all regions, while enabling employees to connect with one another. These ERGs also provide feedback on how we can do more to increase female and diverse representation in leadership. We are continuing to work to build our D&I efforts into recruitment, retention and internal mobility. As of June 30, 2024, our global workforce was 60% male and 40% female. In the United States (â€œU.S.â€), on an employee self-reported basis, the racial/ethnic composition of our workforce was approximately 44% White, 38% Hispanic or Latino, 11% Black or African American, 5% Asian and 2% other. We make additional workforce demographic data available at hain.com/impact. The information available at hain.com/impact is not a part of this Form 10-K or incorporated into any of our other filings made with the SEC. Employee Health and Safety Employee safety is always front and center. We invest in the health, safety, development and well-being of our employees. In an effort to ensure workplace safety, we train employees on how to follow our detailed, written safety standards and procedures, and the law, and to watch for and report anything potentially harmful. Our safety key performance indicators are reviewed weekly, monthly and annually to ensure quick feedback and to address safety issues as soon as they arise. Learning and Development We offer a number of programs that help our employees progress in their careers. These programs include access to online learning and development tools as well as many additional local initiatives across our global locations to support employees on their career paths and develop leadership qualities and career skills in our global workforce. Benefits Our employee benefits vary by region but generally include: â€¢Medical, Dental, and Vision Benefits; â€¢Retirement Savings Plans; â€¢Commuter Benefits; â€¢Wellness Initiatives; â€¢Tuition Reimbursement; and â€¢Paid Parental Leave including births, adoptions or placements of foster children. Employee Satisfaction and Engagement We aim to foster a culture of open communications and have implemented a global systematic employee engagement process in which employees are surveyed periodically. Our Executive Leadership Team regularly reviews the results and considers and implements action items to address areas that need improvement. We have additional regional programs and policies in place to 5 Table of ContentsÂ encourage open communications with management and Human Resources about employeesâ€™ ideas, concerns and how they are doing. Products Our brand portfolio focuses on growing global brands in categories where we believe we have the most potential. We continuously evaluate our existing products for quality, taste, nutritional value and cost and make improvements where possible. We discontinue products or stock keeping units when sales of those items do not warrant further production. The segments section details the various products that are categorized under distinct brands corresponding to our reportable segments. Seasonality Certain of our product lines have seasonal fluctuations in demand. Hot tea, hot-eating desserts and soup sales are stronger in colder months, while sales of snack foods, sunscreen and certain of our personal care products are stronger in the warmer months. As such, our results of operations and our cash flows for any particular quarter are not indicative of the results we expect for the full year, and our historical seasonality may not be indicative of future quarterly results of operations. Historically, net sales and diluted earnings per share in the first fiscal quarter have typically been the lowest of our four quarters. Segments The Companyâ€™s organization structure consists of two geographic based reportable segments: North America and International, which are also the Companyâ€™s operating segments. This structure is in line with how our Chief Operating Decision Maker (â€œCODMâ€) assesses the Company's performance and allocates resources. The Company uses segment net sales and segment Adjusted EBITDA in order to analyze segment results and trends. See â€œManagementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operationsâ€ in Item 7 and Note 20, Segment Information, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Part II, Item 8 of this Form 10-K for additional details. North America Segment: United States Our products are sold throughout the U.S. Our customer base consists principally of specialty and natural food distributors, supermarkets and natural food stores, mass-market, club stores, e-commerce retailers, and away from home channels, including drug and convenience stores and food service. Our products are sold through a combination of direct salespeople, brokers and distributors. We believe that our direct salespeople combined with brokers and distributors provide an effective means of reaching a broad and diverse customer base. Brokers act as agents for us within designated territories and receive commissions. A portion of our direct sales force is organized into dedicated teams to serve our significant customers. A significant portion of the products marketed by us are sold through independent distributors. Food distributors purchase products from us for resale to retailers. The brands sold in the U.S. include: â€¢Garden Veggieâ„¢ snack products including Garden Veggie StrawsÂ®, Garden Veggie Chips, Flavor Burstâ„¢ and Apple StrawsÂ®, TerraÂ® varieties of root vegetable chips, potato chips, and other exotic vegetable chips, Garden of Eatinâ€™Â® tortilla chips and ParmCrispsÂ®. â€¢Tea products under the Celestial SeasoningsÂ® brand and include varieties of herbal, green, black, wellness, rooibos and chai teas, with well-known names and products such as SleepytimeÂ®, Lemon ZingerÂ®, Red ZingerÂ®, Cinnamon Apple Spice, Bengal SpiceÂ®, Country Peach PassionÂ® and Tea WellÂ®. â€¢Baby and kid food products include infant and toddler formula, infant cereals, baby food pouches, snacks and frozen toddler and kidsâ€™ foods under the Earthâ€™s BestÂ® and Earthâ€™s BestÂ® Sesame Street (under license) brands. â€¢Yogurt products include The Greek GodsÂ® Greek-style yogurt products. â€¢Personal care products include hand, skin, hair and sun care products under the Alba BotanicaÂ®, Avalon OrganicsÂ® and JASONÂ® brands. â€¢Other products include SpectrumÂ® culinary oils, vinegars and condiments, Spectrum EssentialsÂ® nutritional oils and supplements, MaraNathaÂ® nut butters, ImagineÂ® broths and soups. Â 6 Table of ContentsÂ Canada Our products are sold throughout Canada. Our customer base consists principally of grocery supermarkets, club stores, mass merchandisers, natural food distributors, drug store chains, personal care distributors, and food service distributors. Our products are sold through our own retail direct sales force. We also utilize third-party brokers who receive commissions and sell to food service and retail customers. We utilize a third-party merchandising team for retail execution. As in the U.S., a portion of the products marketed by us are sold through independent distributors. The brands sold in Canada include Yves Veggie CuisineÂ® refrigerated and frozen meat-alternative snacks and meals, vegetables and lentils, Earthâ€™s BestÂ® infant formula, MaraNathaÂ® nut butters, SpectrumÂ® cooking and culinary oils, ImagineÂ® soups, The Greek GodsÂ® Greek-style yogurt and Robertsonâ€™sÂ® marmalades. Other food and beverage brands include Celestial SeasoningsÂ® teas, TerraÂ® chips and Garden Veggieâ„¢ and Sensible PortionsÂ® snack products. Our personal care products include skin, hair and oral care products, sun care products and deodorants under the Alba BotanicaÂ®, Avalon OrganicsÂ®, JASONÂ® and Live CleanÂ® brands. International Segment: United Kingdom In the United Kingdom, our products include baby and toddler food, soups, plant-based and meat-free dishes and meals, as well as ambient products such as jams, fruit spreads, jellies, honey, marmalades, nut butters, syrups and dessert sauces. The products sold in the United Kingdom include Ella's KitchenÂ® premium organic infant and toddler foods, New Covent Garden Soup Co.Â® and Yorkshire ProvenderÂ® chilled soups, private label and Farmhouse Fareâ„¢ hot-eating desserts, Linda McCartneyâ€™sÂ® (under license) chilled and frozen plant-based dishes and meals, Hartleyâ€™sÂ® jams, fruit spreads and jellies, Sun-PatÂ® nut butters, Clarksâ„¢ natural sweeteners and Robertsonâ€™sÂ®, Frank Cooperâ€™sÂ® and Roseâ€™sÂ®(under license) marmalades and conserves. We also provide a comprehensive range of private label products to many grocery and organic food retailers, convenience stores and food service providers in the following categories: fresh soup, chilled desserts, meat-free dishes and meals and ambient grocery products. Our products are principally sold throughout the United Kingdom and Ireland but are also sold in Europe and other parts of the world. Our customer base consists principally of retailers, convenience stores, food service providers, business to business, natural food and ethnic specialty distributors, club stores, e-commerce retailers and wholesalers. Western Europe Our products sold by the Western Europe reporting unit include, among others, products sold under the JoyaÂ®, LimaÂ® and NatumiÂ® brands. The LimaÂ® brand includes a wide range of organic products such as soy sauce, plant-based beverages, tea and coffee alternatives and grain cakes, as well as grains, pasta, cereals, miso, snacks, spreads, soups and condiments. Our NatumiÂ® brand includes plant-based beverages, including rice, soy, oat and spelt. Our JoyaÂ® brand includes soy, oat, rice and nut-based drinks as well as plant-based yogurts, desserts and creamers. We also sell our Hartleyâ€™sÂ® jams, fruit spreads and jellies, TerraÂ® varieties of root vegetable and potato chips, Celestial SeasoningsÂ® teas, Linda McCartneyâ€™sÂ®(under license) frozen plant-based dishes and meals, Cully & SullyÂ® chilled soups and ready meals, Happy RiceÂ® drink and private label products in Western Europe. Our products are sold in grocery stores and organic food stores throughout Europe, the Middle East and Africa. Our products are sold using our own direct sales force and local distributors. Customers Walmart Inc. and its affiliates together accounted for approximately 18%, 16% and 15% of our consolidated sales for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2023, 2022 and 2021, respectively, which was related to both of our reportable segments, North America and International. No other customer accounted for at least 10% of our net sales in any of the past three fiscal years. Foreign Operations We sell our products to customers worldwide. Sales outside of the U.S. represented approximately 46%, 43% and 45% of our consolidated net sales in fiscal 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. 7 Table of ContentsÂ Marketing We aim to meet the consumer at multiple points in their journey, across the digital and omni channel ecosystem, communicating both in-store and online. We use a combination of trade and consumer advertising and promotion. Trade advertising and promotion includes placement fees, cooperative advertising, feature advertising in distribution catalogs and in-store merchandising in prominent and secondary locations. Consumer advertising and promotion is used to build brand awareness and equity, drive trial to bring in new consumers and retain existing users to increase household penetration and consumption. Paid social and digital advertising, including retailer media and public relations programs, are the main drivers of brand awareness. Trial and conversion tactics include, but are not limited to, product search on Google and e-commerce sites, digital coupons, product sampling, direct mail and e-consumer relationship programs. Additionally, brand specific websites and social media pages are used to engage consumers with lifestyle, product and usage information related to specific brands. We also utilize marketing arrangements with third parties to help create awareness and advocacy. For example, our Earthâ€™s BestÂ® brand has an agreement with PBS Kids and Sesame Workshop in North America, leveraging popular characters for on and off packaging communications. We also leverage various influencers to help increase brand reach and relevance. New Product Initiatives Through Research and Development Innovation, including new product development, is a key component of our growth strategy. We continuously seek to understand our consumers and develop products that address their desire for organic, natural and better-for-you alternatives to conventional packaged foods and personal care products. We have a demonstrated track record of extending our product offerings into other product categories. A team of professional product developers, including microbiologists, nutritionists, food scientists, chefs and chemists, work to develop products to meet changing consumer needs. Our research and development staff incorporates product ideas from all areas of our business in order to formulate new products. In addition to developing new products, the research and development staff routinely reformulates and improves existing products based on advances in ingredients, packaging and technology. In addition to our Company-sponsored research and development activities, in order to quickly and economically introduce our new products to market, we may partner with contract manufacturers that make our products according to our formulas or other specifications. The Company also partners with certain customers from time to time on exclusive customer initiatives. The Companyâ€™s research and development expenditures do not include the expenditures on such activities undertaken by co-packers and suppliers who develop numerous products on behalf of the Company and on their own initiative with the expectation that the Company will accept their new product ideas and market them under the Companyâ€™s brands. Production Manufacturing During fiscal 2024, 2023 and 2022, approximately 65%, 58% and 51%, respectively, of our revenue was derived from products manufactured at our own facilities. Our North America reportable segment operates the following manufacturing facilities: â¢Boulder, Colorado, which produces Celestial SeasoningsÂ® teas; â¢Mountville, Pennsylvania, which produces Garden Veggieâ„¢, Sensible PortionsÂ® and TerraÂ® snack products; â¢Lancaster, Pennsylvania, which produces snack products; â¢York, Pennsylvania, which produces ParmCrispsÂ®; â¢Vancouver, British Columbia, which produces Yves Veggie CuisineÂ® plant-based snacks and meals; and â¢Mississauga, Ontario, which produces Live CleanÂ®, Alba BotanicaÂ®, Avalon OrganicsÂ®, and JASONÂ® personal care products. Our International reportable segment operates the following manufacturing facilities: â¢Histon, England, which produces our ambient grocery products including Hartleyâ€™sÂ®, Frank Cooperâ€™sÂ® and Clarksâ„¢; â¢Grimsby, England, which produces our New Covent Garden Soup Co.Â® and Yorkshire ProvenderÂ® chilled soups; â¢Clitheroe, England, which produces our private label and Farmhouse FareTM hot-eating desserts; â¢Fakenham, England, which produces Linda McCartneyâ€™sÂ® (under license) meat-free frozen and chilled dishes and meals; â¢Troisdorf, Germany, which produces NatumiÂ®, LimaÂ®, JoyaÂ® and other plant-based beverages and private label products; â¢Oberwart, Austria, which produces our LimaÂ® and JoyaÂ® plant-based foods and beverages, creamers, cooking creams and private label products; and 8 Table of ContentsÂ â¢Schwerin, Germany, which also produces our LimaÂ® and JoyaÂ® plant-based foods and beverages and private label products. See â€œItem 2: Propertiesâ€ of this Form 10-K for more information on the manufacturing facilities that we operate. Contract Manufacturers In addition to the products manufactured in our own facilities, independent third-party contract manufacturers, who are referred to in our industry as co-manufacturers or co-packers, manufacture many of our products. In general, utilizing co-packers provides us with the flexibility to produce a large variety of products and the ability to enter new categories quickly and economically. Our contract manufacturers have been selected based on their production capabilities, capitalization and their specific product category expertise, and we expect to continue to partner with them to improve and expand our product offerings. During fiscal 2024, 2023 and 2022, approximately 35%, 42% and 49%, respectively, of our sales were derived from products manufactured by co-packers. We require that our co-packers comply with all applicable regulations and our quality and food safety program requirements, and compliance is verified through auditing and other activities. Additionally, the co-packers are required to ensure our products are manufactured in accordance with our finished goods specifications to ensure we meet customer expectations. Suppliers of Ingredients and Packaging Agricultural commodities and ingredients, including vegetables, fruits, oils, grains, beans, nuts, tea and herbs, spices, and dairy products, are the principal inputs used in our food and beverage products. Plant-based surfactants, glycerin and alcohols are the main inputs used in our personal care products. Our primary packaging supplies are cartons, pouches, printed film, paper, paperboard and jars. We strive to maintain a global supplier base that provides innovative ideas and sustainable packaging alternatives. Our raw materials and packaging materials are obtained from various suppliers around the world. The Company works with its suppliers to ensure the quality and safety of their ingredients and that such ingredients meet our specifications and comply with applicable regulations. These assurances are supported by our purchasing contracts, supplier expectations manual, supplier code of conduct, and technical assessments, including questionnaires, scientific data, certifications, affidavits, certificates of analysis and analytical testing, where required. Our purchasers and quality team visit major suppliers around the world to procure competitively priced, quality ingredients that meet our specifications. We maintain long-term relationships with many of our suppliers. Purchases are made through purchase orders or contracts, and price, delivery terms and product specifications vary. Agricultural commodities and ingredients are subject to price volatility which can be caused by a variety of factors. We attempt to mitigate the input price volatility with a combination of price increases to our customers, purchasing strategies, cost savings initiatives and operating efficiencies. Competition We operate in a highly competitive environment. Our products compete with both large conventional packaged goods companies and natural and organic packaged foods companies. Many of these competitors enjoy significantly greater resources. Large conventional packaged foods competitors include Campbell Soup Company, Conagra Brands, Inc., Danone S.A., General Mills, Inc., The Hershey Company, The J.M. Smucker Company, Kellanova, Mondelez International, Inc., Nestle S.A. and PepsiCo, Inc. Large conventional personal care products companies with whom we compete include, but are not limited to, The Clorox Company, Colgate-Palmolive Company, Johnson & Johnson, The Procter & Gamble Company and S. C. Johnson & Son, Inc. Certain of these large conventional packaged foods and personal care companies compete with us by selling both conventional products and natural and/or organic products. In addition to these competitors, in each of our categories we compete with many regional and small, local niche brands. Given limited retailer shelf space and merchandising events, competitors actively support their respective brands with marketing, advertising and promotional spending. In addition, most retailers market similar items under their own private label, which compete for the same shelf space. Competitive factors in the packaged foods industry include product quality and taste, brand awareness and loyalty, product variety, interesting or unique product names, product packaging and package design, shelf space, reputation, price, advertising, promotion and nutritional claims. 9 Table of ContentsÂ Trademarks We believe that brand awareness is a significant component in a consumerâ€™s decision to purchase one product over another in the highly competitive consumer packaged goods industry. We generally register our trademarks and brand names in the U.S., Canada, the European Union, and the U.K. and/or other foreign countries depending on the area of distribution of the applicable products. We intend to keep these filings current and seek protection for new trademarks to the extent consistent with business needs. We monitor trademark registers worldwide and take action to enforce our rights as we deem appropriate. We believe that our trademarks are significant to the marketing and sale of our products and that the inability to utilize certain of these names and marks, and/or the inability to prevent third parties from using similar names or marks, could have a material adverse effect on our business. We also market products under brands licensed under trademark license agreements, including Linda McCartneyâ€™sÂ®, Roseâ€™sÂ®, the Sesame Street name and logo and other Sesame Workshop intellectual property on certain of our Earthâ€™s BestÂ® products, as well as the Paddington Bear image on certain of our Robertsonâ€™sÂ® products. Government Regulation We are subject to extensive regulations in the U.S. by federal, state and local government authorities. In the U.S., the federal agencies governing the manufacture, marketing and distribution of our products include, among others, the Federal Trade Commission (â€œFTCâ€), the United States Food & Drug Administration (â€œFDAâ€), the United States Department of Agriculture (â€œUSDAâ€), the United States Environmental Protection Agency (â€œEPAâ€) and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (â€œOSHAâ€). Under various statutes, these agencies prescribe and establish, among other things, the requirements and standards for quality, safety and representation of our products to the consumer in labeling and advertising. Internationally, we are subject to the laws and regulatory authorities of the foreign jurisdictions in which we manufacture and sell our products, including the Canadian Food Inspection Agency, Health Canada, Food Standards Agency in the United Kingdom, and the European Food Safety Authority. Quality Control We utilize a comprehensive product safety and quality management program, which employs strict manufacturing procedures, expert technical knowledge on food safety science, employee training, ongoing process innovation, use of quality ingredients and both internal and independent auditing. In the U.S., each of our own food manufacturing facilities has a Food Safety Plan (â€œFSPâ€), which focuses on preventing food safety risks and is compliant with the requirements set forth under the Food Safety Modernization Act (â€œFSMAâ€). In addition, each such facility has at least one Preventive Controls Qualified Individual (â€œPCQIâ€) who has successfully completed training equivalent to that received under a standardized curriculum recognized by the FDA. We conduct audits of our contract manufacturers to address topics such as allergen control; ingredient, packaging and product specifications; and sanitation. Under FSMA, each of our contract manufacturers is required to have a FSP, a Hazard Analysis Critical Control Plant (â€œHACCPâ€) plan or a hazard analysis critical control points plan that identifies critical pathways for contaminants and mandates control measures to be in place to mitigate food-borne hazards. Independent Certifications Substantially all of our Hain-owned manufacturing sites and a significant number of our contract manufacturers are certified against a recognized standard such as the Global Food Safety Initiative (â€œGFSIâ€), which includes Safe Quality Foods (â€œSQFâ€) and British Retail Consortium (â€œBRCâ€), or ISO 9001 Quality Management Systems and ISO 22716 GMP Cosmetic and Personal Care. All facilities where our food products are manufactured are GFSI compliant. These standards are integrated product safety and quality management protocols designed specifically for the food and personal care sectors and offer a comprehensive methodology to manage product safety and quality. Certification provides an independent and external validation that a product, process or service complies with applicable regulations and standards. In the U.S., our organic products are certified in accordance with the USDAâ€™s National Organic Program through Quality Assurance International (â€œQAIâ€), a third-party certifying agency. For products marketed as organic outside of the U.S., we use accredited certifying agencies to ensure compliance with country-specific government regulations for selling organic products or reciprocity, where available. Many of our products are certified kosher under the supervision of accredited agencies including The Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations and â€œKOF-Kâ€ Kosher Supervision. 10 Table of ContentsÂ We also work with other non-governmental organizations such as NSF International, which developed the NSF/ANSI 305 Standard for Personal Care Products Containing Organic Ingredients and provides third-party certification through QAI for certain of our personal care products. In addition, we work with other nongovernmental organizations such as the Gluten Free Intolerance Group, Fair Trade USA, Environmental Working Group, The Skin Cancer Foundation, Coalition for Consumer Information on Cosmetics/Leaping Bunny, The Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil and the Non-GMO Project. Company Website and Available Information The following information can be found, free of charge, in the â€œInvestor Relationsâ€ section of our corporate website at ir.hain.com: â¢our annual report on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K, and all amendments to those reports as soon as reasonably practicable after such material is electronically filed with or furnished to the SEC; â¢our policies related to corporate governance, including our Code of Conduct applying to our directors, officers and employees (including our principal executive officer and principal financial and accounting officers) that we have adopted to meet the requirements set forth in the rules and regulations of the SEC and The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC; and â¢the charters of the Audit, Compensation and Talent Management, Corporate Governance and Nominating and Strategy Committees of our Board of Directors. If the Company ever were to amend or waive any provision of its Code of Ethics that applies to the Companyâ€™s principal executive officer, principal financial officer, principal accounting officer or any person performing similar functions, the Company intends to satisfy its disclosure obligations, if any, with respect to any such waiver or amendment by posting such information on its website set forth above rather than by filing a Current Report on Form 8-K. The Company may use its website as a distribution channel of material Company information. Financial and other important information regarding the Company is routinely posted on and accessible through the Companyâ€™s investor relations website at ir.hain.com. In addition, you may automatically receive email alerts and other information about the Company when you enroll your email address by visiting â€œE-mail Alertsâ€ under the "IR Resources" section of our investor relations website. Information on the Companyâ€™s website is not incorporated by reference herein and is not a part of this Form 10-K. 11 Table of ContentsÂ Item 1A. Risk Factors Our business, operations and financial condition are subject to various risks and uncertainties. While we believe we have identified and discussed below the key risk factors affecting our business, there may be additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently consider immaterial. If any of the following risks and uncertainties develop into actual events, our business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected. In such case, the trading price of our common stock could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment. You should not interpret the disclosure of any risk factor to imply that the risk has not already materialized. These risk factors should be read in conjunction with the other information in this Annual Report on Form 10-K and in the other documents that we file from time to time with the SEC. Risks Related to Our Business, Operations and Industry Our markets are highly competitive. We operate in highly competitive geographic and product markets. Numerous brands and products compete for limited retailer shelf space, where competition is based on product quality, brand recognition, brand loyalty, price, product innovation and variety, packaging, convenience, promotional activity, availability and taste among other things. Retailers also market competitive products under their own private labels, which are generally sold at lower prices and compete with some of our products. Some of our markets are dominated by multinational corporations with greater resources and more substantial operations than us. We may not be able to successfully compete for sales to distributors or retailers that purchase from larger competitors that have greater financial, managerial, sales, technical and operational resources. Conventional food companies, including but not limited to Campbell Soup Company, Conagra Brands, Inc., Danone S. A., General Mills, Inc., The Hershey Company, The J.M. Smucker Company, Kellanova, Mondelez International, Inc., Nestle S.A. and PepsiCo, Inc., and conventional personal care products companies, including but not limited to The Clorox Company, Colgate-Palmolive Company, Johnson & Johnson, The Procter & Gamble Company and S. C. Johnson & Son, Inc., may be able to use their resources and scale to respond to competitive pressures and changes in consumer preferences by introducing new products or reformulating their existing products, reducing prices or increasing promotional activities. We also compete with other organic and natural packaged food brands and companies, which may be more innovative and able to bring new products to market faster and may be better able to quickly exploit and serve niche markets. As a result of this competition, retailers may take actions that negatively affect us. Consequently, we may need to increase our marketing, advertising and promotional spending to protect our existing market share, which may result in an adverse impact on our profitability. If we do not manage our supply chain effectively or if there are disruptions in our supply chain, our business and results of operations may be adversely affected. The success of our business depends, in part, on maintaining a strong sourcing and manufacturing platform and efficient distribution channels. The inability or failure of any supplier of raw materials, independent contract manufacturer or third-party distributor to deliver or perform for us in a timely or cost-effective manner could cause our operating costs to increase and our profit margins to decrease, especially as it relates to our products that have a short shelf life. If we do not continuously monitor our inventory and product mix against forecasted demand, we risk having inadequate supplies to meet consumer demand or alternatively having too much inventory on hand that may reach its expiration date and become unsaleable. In addition, disputes with significant suppliers, including disputes regarding pricing or performance, could adversely affect our ability to supply products to our customers and could materially and adversely affect our product sales, financial condition, and results of operations. We must also manage our third-party distribution, warehouse and transportation providers to ensure they are able to support the efficient distribution of our products to retailers. A disruption in transportation services could result in an inability to supply materials to our or our co-manufacturersâ€™ facilities or finished products to our distribution centers or customers. Activity at third-party distribution centers could be disrupted by a number of factors, including labor issues, quality control issues, failure to meet customer standards, natural disasters or financial issues affecting the third-party providers. If we are unable to manage our supply chain efficiently and ensure that our products are available to meet consumer demand and customer orders, our sales and profitability could be materially adversely impacted. Our future results of operations may be adversely affected by input cost inflation, including with respect to freight and other distribution costs. Many aspects of our business have been, and may continue to be, directly affected by volatile commodity costs and other inflationary pressures. Agricultural commodities and ingredients are subject to price volatility that can be caused by commodity market fluctuations, crop yields, seasonal cycles, weather conditions, temperature extremes and natural disasters (including due 12 Table of ContentsÂ to the effects of climate change), pest and disease problems, changes in currency exchange rates, imbalances between supply and demand, and government programs and policies among other factors. Volatile fuel costs and other factors translate into unpredictable costs for the products and services we receive from our third-party providers including, but not limited to, freight and other distribution costs for our products and packaging costs. In recent years, the cost of distribution has generally increased due to an increase in transportation and logistics costs. Transportation costs are increasing as a result of high levels of long-haul driver turnover and increased railroad traffic and service issues. While we seek to offset increased input costs with a combination of price increases to our customers, purchasing strategies, cost savings initiatives and operating efficiencies, we may be unable to fully offset our increased costs or unable to do so in a timely manner. If we are unable to fully offset such cost increases, our financial results could be materially adversely affected. Disruption or loss of operations at one or more of our manufacturing facilities could harm our business. For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, approximately 65%, 58% and 51%, respectively, of our sales were derived from products manufactured at our own manufacturing facilities. A disruption of or the loss of operations at one or more of these facilities, which may be caused by disease outbreaks or pandemics, labor issues, natural disasters, governmental actions or other events beyond our control, could delay or postpone production of our products, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Labor market shortages have impacted, and may continue to impact, operations at our manufacturing facilities. Loss of one or more of our independent contract manufacturers could adversely affect our business. During fiscal 2024, 2023 and 2022, approximately 35%, 42% and 49%, respectively, of our sales were derived from products manufactured at independent contract manufacturers, or co-manufacturers. In some cases, an individual co-manufacturer may produce all of our requirements for a particular brand. We believe there are a limited number of competent, high-quality co-manufacturers in the industry, and many of our co-manufacturers produce products for other companies as well. Therefore, if we lose or need to change one or more co-manufacturers or fail to retain co-manufacturers for newly acquired or developed products or brands, production of our products may be delayed or postponed and/or the availability of some of our products may be reduced or eliminated, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Our growth and continued success depend upon consumer preferences for our products, which could change. Our business is primarily focused on sales of organic, natural and better-for-you products, and could be harmed if consumer demand for such categories were to decrease. During an economic downturn or inflationary environment, factors such as increased unemployment, decreases in disposable income and declines in consumer confidence could cause a decrease in demand for our overall product set, particularly higher priced better-for-you products. Moreover, consumer preferences continuously evolve due to a variety of factors, including changes in demographics, consumption patterns and diet trends (including as a result of the use of weight loss drugs), channel preferences, pricing, product quality, packaging and perceptions of certain ingredients, among others. While we continue to diversify our product offerings, developing new products entails risks, and demand for our products may not continue at current levels or increase in the future. The success of our innovation and product improvement effort depends on our ability to anticipate changes in consumersâ€™ preferences, the availability of funding, the technical capability of our research and development staff in developing, formulating and testing product prototypes, including complying with governmental regulations, the success of managementâ€™s go-to-market strategy and competitor responses such as increased promotional activity or advertising. In addition, over the past several years, we have seen a shift in consumption towards the e-commerce channel and may see a more substantial shift in the future. Some products we sell via the e-commerce channel have lower margins than those sold in traditional brick and mortar retailers and present unique challenges in order fulfillment. The growth in e-commerce has also encouraged the entry of new competitors and business models, intensifying competition by simplifying distribution and lowering barriers to entry. If we are unsuccessful in implementing product improvements or introducing new products that satisfy the demands of consumers, our business could be harmed. A significant percentage of our sales is concentrated among a small number of customers, and consolidation of customers or the loss of a significant customer could negatively impact our sales and profitability. Our growth and continued success depend upon, among other things, our ability to maintain and increase sales volumes with existing customers, our ability to attract new customers, the financial condition of our customers and our ability to provide products that appeal to customers at the right price. A significant percentage of our sales is concentrated among a small number of customers. For example, sales to Walmart Inc. and its affiliates approximated 18%, 16% and 15% of sales during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. With the growing trend toward retail trade consolidation, the growing presence of large-format retailers, discounters and e-commerce retailers, and the integration of traditional and digital operations at key retailers, we are increasingly dependent on certain retailers that may have greater bargaining strength than we do. Retailers 13 Table of ContentsÂ may use their leverage to demand higher trade discounts, allowances, slotting fees or increased investment, which could result in reduced sales or profitability in certain markets. Our customers are generally not contractually obligated to purchase from us and their decision to purchase from us is driven by multiple factors, including consumer preferences and demand, price, product quality, customer service performance, availability and other factors. The loss of any large customer, a reduction of purchasing levels or the cancellation of any business from a large customer for an extended length of time could negatively impact our sales and profitability. We may not be successful in achieving the goals of our Hain Reimagined Program or other strategic initiatives. In September 2023, our Board of Directors approved the Hain Reimagined Program, a multi-year global growth and transformation program for sustained growth. The Hain Reimagined Program is intended to optimize the Companyâ€™s portfolio, improve underlying profitability and increase its flexibility to invest in targeted growth initiatives, brand building and other capabilities critical to delivering future growth. The successful implementation of the Hain Reimagined Program may present organizational challenges and, in some cases, may require successful negotiations with third parties. As a result, we may not be able to fully realize the anticipated benefits from the Hain Reimagined Program, including as a result of factors outside our control. Events and circumstances, such as financial or strategic difficulties, delays and unexpected costs may occur that could result in our not realizing all of the anticipated benefits or our not realizing such benefits on our expected timetable. If we are unable to fully realize the anticipated benefits or savings from the Hain Reimagined Program, our ability to enhance our profitability and fund other initiatives may be adversely affected. Any failure to implement the Hain Reimagined Program in accordance with our expectations could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Further, our initiatives may result in unintended consequences, such as business disruptions, distraction of management and employees, reduced morale and productivity, unexpected employee attrition, an inability to attract key personnel and negative publicity. If we are unable to fully realize the growth, savings and transformation benefits of the Hain Reimagined Program, our results of operations and profitability may be materially and adversely impacted. We rely on independent distributors for a substantial portion of our sales. In the United States and other markets, we rely upon sales made by or through non-affiliated distributors to customers. Distributors purchase directly for their own account for resale. The loss of, or business disruption at, one or more of these distributors may harm our business. If we are required to obtain additional or alternative distribution agreements or arrangements in the future, we cannot be certain that we will be able to do so on satisfactory terms or in a timely manner. Our inability to enter into satisfactory distribution agreements may inhibit our ability to implement our business plan or to establish markets necessary to successfully expand the distribution of our products. We are subject to risks associated with our international sales and operations, including foreign currency, compliance and trade risks. For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, approximately 46%, 43% and 45%, respectively, of our consolidated sales were generated outside the United States. Sales from outside our United States (â€œU.S.â€) markets may continue to represent a significant portion of our consolidated sales in the future. Our non-U.S. sales and operations are subject to risks inherent in conducting business abroad, many of which are outside our control, including: â€¢difficulties in managing a global enterprise, including differing labor standards and design and implementation of effective control environment processes across our diverse operations and employee base; â€¢compliance with U.S. laws affecting operations outside of the United States, such as the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the Office of Foreign Assets Control trade sanction regulations and anti-boycott regulations; â€¢difficulties associated with operating under a wide variety of complex foreign laws, treaties and regulations, including compliance with food safety regulations, marketing and labeling laws and regulations, antitrust and competition laws, anti-modern slavery laws, anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws, data privacy laws, including the European Union General Data Protection Regulation (â€œGDPRâ€), tax laws and regulations and a variety of other local, national and multi-national regulations and laws; â€¢tariffs, quotas, trade barriers or sanctions, other trade protection measures and import or export licensing requirements imposed by governments that might negatively affect our sales, including, but not limited to, Canadian and European Union tariffs imposed on certain U.S. food and beverages; â€¢currency exchange rate fluctuations; â€¢varying abilities to enforce intellectual property and contractual rights; 14 Table of ContentsÂ â€¢periodic economic downturns and the instability of governments, including default or deterioration in the credit worthiness of local governments, geopolitical regional conflicts, terrorist activity, political unrest, civil strife, acts of war, public corruption, instability in the financial services sector, expropriation and other economic or political uncertainties; and â€¢greater risk of uncollectible accounts and longer collection cycles. Our future results of operations may be adversely affected by the availability of natural and organic ingredients. Our ability to ensure a continuing supply of natural and organic ingredients used in certain of our products at competitive prices depends on many factors beyond our control, such as the number and size of farms that grow natural and organic crops, climate conditions, increased demand for natural and organic ingredients by our competitors for these scarce ingredients, global unrest, changes in national and global economic conditions and currency fluctuations. The natural and organic ingredients that we use in the production of our products (including, among others, vegetables, fruits, nuts and grains) are vulnerable to adverse weather conditions and natural disasters, such as floods, droughts, water scarcity, temperature extremes, wildfires, frosts, earthquakes and pestilences. Natural disasters and adverse weather conditions can lower crop yields and reduce crop size and crop quality, which in turn could reduce our supplies of natural and organic ingredients or increase the prices of those ingredients. Such natural disasters and adverse weather conditions can be caused or exacerbated by climate change, and the spate of recent extreme weather and climate-related events, including historic droughts, heatwaves, wildfires, extreme cold and flooding, presents an alarming trend. If our supplies of natural and organic ingredients are reduced, we may not be able to find enough supplemental supply sources on favorable terms, if at all, which could impact our ability to supply products to our customers and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. We also compete with other manufacturers in the procurement of natural and organic product ingredients, which may be less plentiful in the open market than conventional product ingredients. This competition may increase in the future if consumer demand for natural and organic products increases. This could cause our expenses to increase or could limit the amount of products that we can manufacture and sell. We have outsourced certain functions to third-party service providers, and any service failures or disruptions related to these outsourcing arrangements could adversely affect our business. We have outsourced certain business processes in the areas of supply chain, accounting and information technology to managed service providers, globally. Failure by these third parties to meet their contractual, regulatory and other obligations to us, or our failure to adequately monitor their performance, could result in our inability to achieve the expected cost savings or efficiencies and could result in additional costs to correct errors made by such service providers. Moreover, we have diminished control over the quality and timeliness of the outsourced services, including the cybersecurity protections implemented by these third parties. As a result of these outsourcing arrangements, we may experience interruptions or delays in our processes, loss or theft of sensitive data or other cybersecurity issues, compliance issues, challenges in maintaining and reporting financial and operational information, and increased costs to remediate any unanticipated issues that arise, any of which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Geopolitical conflicts could continue to cause challenges and create risks for our business. Our business, financial conditions and results of operations have been impacted in the past and may be impacted in the future by disruptions in the global economy. Although we have no material assets in Russia, Belarus, Ukraine, Israel, China or Taiwan, our supply chain has been, and may continue to be, adversely impacted by the Russia-Ukraine war and rising tensions in the Middle East and between China and Taiwan. In particular, these conflicts have added significant costs to existing inflationary pressures through increased fuel and raw material prices and labor costs. Further, beyond increased costs, labor challenges and other factors have led to supply chain disruptions. While, to date, we have been able to identify replacement raw materials where necessary, we have incurred increased costs in doing so. Geopolitical conflicts may also result in an increased risk of cybersecurity incidents or disruptions to information systems. Although we are continuing to monitor and manage the impacts of these conflicts on our business, such conflicts and the related economic impacts could continue to have a material adverse effect on our business and operating results. Our business, operating results and financial condition may be adversely affected by the failure to successfully execute acquisitions or dispositions or to successfully integrate completed acquisitions. From time to time, we evaluate potential acquisitions or dispositions that align with our strategic objectives. The success of those initiatives depends upon our ability to identify suitable acquisition targets or buyers and successfully negotiate contract terms, among other factors. These initiatives may present operational risks, including diversion of managementâ€™s attention from other matters, difficulties integrating acquired businesses into our existing operations or separating businesses from our operations, and challenges presented by acquisitions that may not achieve intended results. If we are not successful in executing acquisitions or 15 Table of ContentsÂ divestitures or in integrating completed acquisitions, our business, operating results and financial condition could be adversely affected. We rely on independent certifications for a number of our products. We rely on independent third-party certifications, such as certifications of our products as â€œorganic,â€ â€œNon-GMOâ€ or â€œkosher,â€ to differentiate our products from others. We must comply with the requirements of independent organizations or certification authorities in order to label our products. For example, we can lose our â€œorganicâ€ certification if a manufacturing plant becomes contaminated with non-organic materials, or if it is not properly cleaned after a production run. In addition, all raw materials must be certified organic. Similarly, we can lose our â€œkosherâ€ certification if a manufacturing plant and raw materials do not meet the requirements of the appropriate kosher supervision organization. The loss of any independent certifications could adversely affect our market position as an organic and natural products company, which could harm our business. We may not be able to attract and retain the highly skilled people we need to support our business. We depend on the skills and continued service of key personnel, including our experienced management team. In addition, our ability to achieve our strategic and operating goals depends on our ability to identify, hire, train and retain qualified individuals. We also compete with other companies both within and outside of our industry for talented personnel, and we may lose key personnel or fail to attract, train and retain other talented personnel. Any such loss or failure may adversely affect our business or financial results. We face risks related to tax matters, including changes in tax rates, disagreements with taxing authorities and imposition of new taxes. The Company is subject to taxes in the U.S. and foreign jurisdictions where the Companyâ€™s subsidiaries are organized. Tax rates in the U.S. and various foreign jurisdictions have been and may continue to be subject to significant change. The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (â€œOECDâ€) has introduced a framework to implement a global minimum corporate income tax. To the extent that additional OECD guidance leads to legislative changes in countries where we operate, it is possible the changes may adversely impact our effective tax rate. This new minimum tax is not expected to be material to the Company. We are also subject to regular reviews, examinations and audits by the Internal Revenue Service and other taxing authorities with respect to taxes inside and outside of the U.S. Although we believe our tax estimates are reasonable, if a taxing authority disagrees with the positions we have taken, we could face additional tax liability, including interest and penalties. There can be no assurance that payment of such additional amounts upon final adjudication of any disputes will not have a material impact on our results of operations and financial position. We also need to comply with new, evolving or revised tax laws and regulations. The enactment of or increases in tariffs, sales or value-added tax, or other changes in the application of existing taxes, may have an adverse effect on our business or on our results of operations. Risks Related to Our Reputation, Brands, Intangible Assets and Intellectual Property An impairment in the carrying value of goodwill or other acquired intangible assets could materially and adversely affect our consolidated results of operations and net worth. As of June 30, 2024, we had goodwill of $929.3 million and trademarks and other intangibles assets of $244.8 million, which in the aggregate represented 55.4% of our total consolidated assets. The net carrying value of goodwill represents the fair value of acquired businesses in excess of identifiable assets and liabilities as of the acquisition date (or subsequent impairment date, if applicable), less any amounts ascribed to disposed businesses. The fair value of trademarks and other intangibles exceeded or represented the net carrying value of trademarks, customer relationships and other acquired intangibles as of the acquisition date (or subsequent impairment date, if applicable), net of accumulated amortization. Goodwill and other acquired intangibles expected to contribute indefinitely to our cash flows are not amortized but must be evaluated by management at least annually for impairment. Amortized intangible assets are evaluated for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amounts of these assets may not be recoverable. Impairments to goodwill and other intangible assets may be caused by factors outside our control, such as increasing competitive pricing pressures, changes in discount rates based on changes in cost of capital (interest rates, etc.), lower than expected sales and profit growth rates, changes in industry Earnings Before Interest Taxes Depreciation and Amortization (â€œEBITDAâ€) multiples, the inability to quickly replace lost co-manufacturing business, or the bankruptcy of a significant customer. We have in the past recorded, and may in the future be required to record, significant charges in our consolidated financial statements during the period in which any impairment of our goodwill or intangible assets is determined. For example, during fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023, we recorded aggregate non-cash impairment charges of $44.6 million and $174.9 million, respectively, related to certain trademarks and intangible assets to reduce their carrying value to their estimated fair value. The incurrence of additional impairment charges could negatively affect our results of operations and adversely impact our net worth and our consolidated earnings in the period of such charge. For further information, see Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible 16 Table of ContentsÂ Assets, in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K, and Critical Accounting Estimates, in the Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations included in Item 7 of this Form 10-K. If the reputation of our Company or our brands erodes significantly, it could have a material impact on our business. Our financial success is directly dependent on the perception of our Company and our brands among our customers, consumers, employees and other constituents. Our results could be negatively impacted if our Company or one or more of our brands suffers substantial damage to its reputation due to real or perceived issues related to the quality or safety of our products or the Companyâ€™s environmental, social or governance impact. Further, the growing use of social media by consumers has greatly increased the speed and extent that information or misinformation and opinions can be shared. Negative posts or comments about us, our brands, or our products on social media could seriously damage our brands and reputation. Additionally, negative reaction to our marketing and advertising, including our social media content, could result in damage to our brands and reputation. Our inability to use our trademarks or the trademarks we license from third parties could have a material adverse effect on our business. We believe that brand awareness is a significant component in a consumerâ€™s decision to purchase one product over another in the highly competitive food, beverage and personal care industries. Although we endeavor to protect our trademarks and tradenames, these efforts may not be successful, and third parties may challenge our right to use one or more of our trademarks or tradenames. We believe that our trademarks and tradenames are significant to the marketing and sale of our products and that the inability to utilize certain of these names and marks, and/or the inability to prevent third parties from using similar names or marks, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, if, in the course of developing new products or improving existing products, we are found to have infringed the intellectual property rights of others, directly or indirectly, such finding could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition or results of operations. In addition, we market products under brands licensed under trademark license agreements, including Linda McCartneyâ€™sÂ®, Roseâ€™sÂ®, the Sesame Street name and logo and other Sesame Workshop intellectual property on certain of our Earthâ€™s BestÂ® products. We believe that these trademarks have significant value and are instrumental in our ability to market and sustain demand for those product offerings. If in the future we are unable to enforce, renew or renegotiate our licensing arrangements on terms acceptable to us, our financial results could be materially and adversely affected. Risks Related to Economic and Financial Considerations Currency exchange rate fluctuations could adversely affect our consolidated financial results and condition. We are subject to risks related to fluctuations in currency exchange rates. Our consolidated financial statements are presented in U.S. Dollars, requiring us to translate our assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses into U.S. Dollars. As a result, changes in the values of currencies may unpredictably and adversely impact our consolidated operating results, our asset and liability balances and our cash flows in our consolidated financial statements even if their value has not changed in their original currency. Given our global operations, we also pay for the ingredients, raw materials and commodities used in our business in numerous currencies. Fluctuations in exchange rates, including as a result of inflation, central bank monetary policies, currency controls or other currency exchange restrictions or geopolitical instability have had, and could continue to have, an adverse impact on our financial performance. Disruptions in the worldwide economy and the financial markets may adversely impact our business and results of operations. Adverse and uncertain economic and market conditions, such as inflation, economic slowdowns or recessions, increased unemployment, decreases in disposable income and declines in consumer confidence, particularly in the locations in which we operate, may impact customer and consumer demand for our products and our ability to manage normal commercial relationships with our customers, suppliers and creditors. Consumers may shift purchases to lower-priced or other perceived value offerings, which may adversely affect our results of operations. Consumers may also reduce the number of organic and natural products that they purchase where there are less expensive conventional or private label alternatives. Distributors and retailers may also become more conservative in response to these conditions and seek to reduce their inventories. Prolonged unfavorable economic conditions may have an adverse effect on any of these factors and, therefore, could adversely impact our sales and profitability. Any default under our credit agreement could have significant consequences. Our credit agreement contains covenants imposing certain restrictions on our business. These restrictions may affect our ability to operate our business and may limit our ability to take advantage of potential business opportunities as they arise. The credit agreement requires us to satisfy certain financial covenants, such as maintaining a maximum consolidated secured leverage ratio and a minimum consolidated interest coverage ratio. The credit agreement also contains restrictive covenants including, with specified exceptions, limitations on our ability to engage in certain business activities, incur debt and liens, pay dividends or 17 Table of ContentsÂ make other distributions, enter into affiliate transactions, consolidate, merge or acquire or dispose of assets, and make certain investments, acquisitions and loans. Our ability to comply with these covenants under the credit agreement may be affected by events beyond our control, including prevailing economic, financial and industry conditions. The breach of any of these covenants could result in a default, which would permit the lenders to declare all outstanding debt to be due and payable, together with accrued and unpaid interest. Our obligations under the credit agreement are guaranteed by certain existing and future domestic subsidiaries of the Company and are secured by liens on assets of the Company and its material domestic subsidiaries, including the equity interest in each of their direct subsidiaries and intellectual property, subject to agreed-upon exceptions. Any default by us under the credit agreement could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition. Risks Related to Cybersecurity and Technology A cybersecurity incident or other technology disruptions could negatively impact our business and our relationships with customers. We depend on information systems and technology, including public websites and cloud-based services, in substantially all aspects of our business, including communications among our employees and with suppliers, customers and consumers. Such uses of information systems and technology give rise to cybersecurity risks, including system disruption, security breach, malware, ransomware, theft, espionage and inadvertent release of information. We have become more reliant on mobile devices, remote communication and other technologies as part of the recent change in office working patterns, exacerbating our cybersecurity risk. Our business involves the storage and transmission of numerous classes of sensitive and/or confidential information and intellectual property, including customersâ€™ and suppliersâ€™ information, private information about employees, and financial and strategic information about the Company and its business partners. As we pursue new initiatives that improve our operations and cost structure, we are also expanding and improving our information technologies, resulting in a larger technological presence and increased exposure to cybersecurity risk. In addition, the rapid evolution and increased adoption of emerging technologies, such as artificial intelligence, may intensify our cybersecurity risks. If we fail to assess and identify cybersecurity risks associated with new initiatives, we may become increasingly vulnerable to such risks. While we currently maintain insurance coverage that, subject to its terms and conditions, is intended to address costs associated with certain aspects of cybersecurity incidents and information technology failures, this insurance coverage may not, depending on the specific facts and circumstances surrounding an incident, cover any or all losses or types of claims that arise from an incident, or the damage to our business, reputation or brands that may result from an incident. As the frequency and magnitude of cybersecurity incidents increase globally, we may be unable to obtain the insurance coverage that we think is appropriate or necessary to offset the risk. We have experienced cybersecurity threats and vulnerabilities in our systems and those of our third party providers. Although, to date, such prior events have not had a material impact on our financial condition, results of operations or financial condition, the potential consequences of a future material cybersecurity attack could be significant and could include reputational damage, litigation with third parties, government enforcement actions, penalties, disruption to systems, unauthorized release of confidential or otherwise protected information, corruption of data and increased cybersecurity protection and remediation costs, which in turn could adversely affect our competitiveness, results of operations and financial condition. Due to the evolving nature of such security threats, the potential impact of any future incident cannot be predicted. For more information regarding the Companyâ€™s cybersecurity risk management, see Item 1C of this Annual Report on Form 10-K. Our business operations could be disrupted if our information technology systems fail to perform adequately. The efficient operation of our business depends on our information technology systems. We rely on our information technology systems to effectively manage our business data, communications, supply chain, order entry and fulfillment, and other business processes. The failure of our information technology systems to perform as we anticipate could disrupt our business and could result in transaction errors, processing inefficiencies and the loss of sales and customers, causing our business and results of operations to suffer. In addition, our information technology systems may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from circumstances beyond our control, including fire, natural disasters, system failures and viruses. Any such damage or interruption could have a material adverse effect on our business. Â 18 Table of ContentsÂ Risks Related to ESG Considerations Climate change, and obligations related to climate change disclosure regulations, may negatively affect our business and operations. There is concern that carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases in the atmosphere may have an adverse impact on global temperatures, weather patterns and the frequency and severity of extreme weather and natural disasters. The state of recent extreme weather and climate-related events, including historic droughts, heatwaves, wildfires, extreme cold and flooding, presents an alarming trend. In the event that such climate change has a negative effect on agricultural productivity, we may be subject to decreased availability or less favorable pricing for certain commodities that are necessary for our products, such as vegetables, fruits, grains, beans and nuts. As a result of climate change, we may also be subjected to decreased availability of water, deteriorated quality of water or less favorable pricing for water, which could adversely impact our manufacturing and distribution operations. In recent years, regulators, consumers, customers, investors, employees and other stakeholders have focused on ESG matters and related disclosures. Changing rules, public disclosure regulations and stakeholder expectations have resulted in, and may continue to result in, increased management time and attention spent complying with or meeting such regulations and expectations. This rapidly changing environment may result in increased general and administrative expenses. We may also communicate certain initiatives and goals regarding environmental matters, diversity and other ESG-related matters. These initiatives and goals could be difficult and expensive to implement, and we could be criticized for the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of the disclosure. Further, statements about our ESG-related initiatives and goals, and progress against those goals, may be based on standards for measuring progress that are still developing, internal controls and processes that continue to evolve, and assumptions that are subject to change in the future. In addition, we could be criticized for the scope or nature of such initiatives or goals, or for any revisions to these goals. If our ESG-related data, processes and reporting are incomplete or inaccurate, or if we fail to achieve progress with respect to our goals within the scope of ESG on a timely basis, or at all, our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely impacted. Liabilities, claims or new laws or regulations with respect to environmental matters could have a significant negative impact on our business. The nature of our operations exposes us to the risk of liabilities and claims with respect to environmental matters, including those relating to the disposal and release of hazardous substances. Furthermore, our operations are governed by laws and regulations relating to workplace safety and worker health, which, among other things, regulate employee exposure to hazardous chemicals in the workplace. Any material costs incurred in connection with such liabilities or claims could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. The increasing global focus on climate change and the need for corporate change may lead to new environmental laws and regulations that impact our business. For example, there are a growing number of laws and regulations regarding product packaging, particularly in Europe. Our compliance with such existing laws and regulations and any new laws or regulations enacted in the future, or any changes in how existing laws or regulations will be enforced, administered or interpreted, may lead to an increase in compliance costs, cause us to change the way we operate or expose us to additional risk of liabilities and claims, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Risks Related to Litigation, Government Regulation and Compliance Pending and future litigation may lead us to incur significant costs. We are, or may become, party to various lawsuits and claims arising in the normal course of business, which may include lawsuits or claims relating to contracts, intellectual property, product recalls, product liability, the marketing and labeling of products, employment matters, environmental matters, data protection or other aspects of our business as well as any securities class action and stockholder derivative litigation. For example, as discussed in Note 17, Commitments and Contingencies, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K, we are currently subject to class actions and derivative complaints arising out of or related to the Companyâ€™s prior internal accounting review. Certain of our former officers and former members of our Board of Directors, as individual defendants, are also subject to lawsuits related to such accounting review, and we may have an obligation to indemnify them in relation to these matters. Additionally, as discussed further in Note 17, we are subject to consumer class actions, and other lawsuits alleging some form of personal injury, relating to our Earthâ€™s BestÂ® baby food products. Even when not merited, the defense of these lawsuits may divert our managementâ€™s attention, and we may incur significant expenses in defending these lawsuits. The results of litigation and other legal proceedings are inherently uncertain, and adverse judgments or settlements in some or all of these legal disputes may result in monetary damages, penalties or injunctive relief 19 Table of ContentsÂ against us, which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition. Any claims or litigation, even if fully indemnified or insured, could damage our reputation and make it more difficult to compete effectively or to obtain adequate insurance in the future. We may be subject to significant liability should the consumption of any of our products cause illness or physical harm. The sale of products for human use and consumption involves the risk of injury or illness to consumers. Such injuries may result from inadvertent mislabeling, tampering by unauthorized third parties, product contamination, food-borne illnesses, allergens or spoilage. Under certain circumstances, we may be required to recall or withdraw products, suspend production of our products or cease operations, which could result in increased costs (including payment of fines and/or judgments, cleaning and remediation costs and legal fees, and costs associated with alternative sources of production), cancellation of customer orders and a decline in consumer confidence and demand, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business. Even if a situation does not necessitate a recall or market withdrawal, product liability claims might be asserted against us. While we are subject to governmental inspection and regulations and believe our facilities and those of our co-manufacturers and suppliers comply in all material respects with all applicable laws and regulations, if the consumption of any of our products causes, or is alleged to have caused, an illness or physical harm, we may become subject to claims or lawsuits relating to such matters. For example, as discussed in Note 17, Commitments and Contingencies, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K, we are subject to consumer class actions, and other lawsuits alleging some form of personal injury, relating to our Earthâ€™s BestÂ® baby food products. Even if a claim is unsuccessful or is not fully pursued, the negative publicity surrounding any assertion that our products were mislabeled, unsafe or caused illness or physical harm could adversely affect our reputation with existing and potential customers and consumers and our corporate and brand image. Our business could also be adversely affected if consumers lose confidence in the quality, safety and integrity of certain food products or ingredients, or the food safety system generally, even if such loss of confidence is unrelated to products in our portfolio. Although we maintain product liability and product recall insurance in an amount that we believe to be adequate, we may incur claims or liabilities for which we are not insured or that exceed the amount of our insurance coverage. A product liability judgment against us or a product recall could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Government regulation could subject us to civil and criminal penalties, and any changes in the legal and regulatory frameworks in which we operate could make it more costly or challenging to manufacture and sell our products. We operate in a highly regulated environment with constantly evolving legal and regulatory frameworks. Consequently, we are subject to a heightened risk of legal claims, government investigations and other regulatory enforcement actions. We are subject to extensive regulations in the United States, United Kingdom, Canada, Europe, Asia, including India, and any other countries where we manufacture, distribute and/or sell our products. The conduct of our business is subject to numerous laws and regulations relating to the registration and approval of our products, sourcing, manufacturing, storing, labeling, marketing, advertising, content (including whether a product contains genetically modified ingredients), quality, safety, transportation, supply chain, traceability, distribution, packaging, disposal, recycling, employment and occupational health and safety, environmental, social and governance matters and reporting (including climate change), machine learning and artificial intelligence and data privacy and protection. Enforcement of existing laws and regulations, changes in legal or regulatory requirements and/or evolving interpretations of existing requirements may result in increased compliance costs or otherwise make it more costly or challenging to manufacture and sell our products, which could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition or operating results. Moreover, a failure to maintain effective control processes could lead to violations, unintentional or otherwise, of laws and regulations. Legal claims, government investigations or regulatory enforcement actions arising out of our failure or alleged failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations could subject us to civil and criminal penalties that could materially and adversely affect our product sales, reputation, financial condition and operating results. In addition, the costs and other effects of defending potential and pending litigation and administrative actions against us may be difficult to determine and could adversely affect our financial condition and operating results. Compliance with data privacy laws may be costly, and non-compliance with such laws may result in significant liability. Many jurisdictions in which the Company operates have laws and regulations relating to data privacy and protection of personal information, including the European Union GDPR and the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (â€œCCPAâ€), as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act (â€œCPRAâ€), among other U.S. state laws. Failure to comply with GDPR or CCPA requirements or other data privacy laws could result in litigation, adverse publicity and significant penalties and damages. The law in this area continues to develop, and the changing nature of privacy laws could impact the Companyâ€™s processing of personal information related to the Companyâ€™s job applicants, employees, consumers, customers and vendors. The enactment of more restrictive laws, rules or regulations or future enforcement actions or investigations could impact us through increased costs or restrictions on our business, and noncompliance could result in regulatory penalties and significant liability. Â 20 Table of ContentsÂ We may be subject to significant liability that is not covered by insurance. While we believe that the extent of our insurance coverage is consistent with industry practice, such coverage does not cover all losses we may incur, even in areas for which we have coverage. Our insurance policies are subject to coverage exclusions, deductibles and caps, and any claim we make under our insurance policies may be subject to such limitations. Any claim we make may not be honored fully, in a timely manner, or at all, and we may not have purchased sufficient insurance to cover all losses incurred. If we were to incur substantial liabilities or if our business operations were interrupted for a substantial period of time, we could incur costs and suffer losses. Additionally, in the future, insurance coverage may not be available to us at commercially acceptable premiums, or at all. Risks Related to the Ownership of Our Securities Our ability to issue preferred stock may deter takeover attempts. Our Board of Directors is empowered to issue, without stockholder approval, preferred stock with dividends, liquidation, conversion, voting or other rights, which could decrease the amount of earnings and assets available for distribution to holders of our common stock and adversely affect the relative voting power or other rights of the holders of our common stock. In the event of issuance, the preferred stock could be used as a method of discouraging, delaying or preventing a change in control. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation authorizes the issuance of up to 5 million shares of â€œblank checkâ€ preferred stock with such designations, rights and preferences as may be determined from time to time by our Board of Directors. Although we have no present intention to issue any shares of our preferred stock, we may do so in the future under appropriate circumstances. Item 1B. Unresolved Staff Comments None. Â 21 Table of ContentsÂ Item 1C. Cybersecurity Â Cybersecurity Risk Management and Strategy Our enterprise risk management framework considers cybersecurity risk alongside other applicable risks as part of our overall risk assessment process. Within our comprehensive enterprise risk management framework, our cybersecurity risk management program is focused on assessing, identifying, and managing risks arising out of our use of information technology (â€œITâ€) including the risk of cybersecurity incidents and threats. The program is informed by recognized frameworks such as the National Institute of Standards and Technology Cybersecurity Framework (â€œNIST CSFâ€). Our cybersecurity team utilizes a variety of tools, processes and outside resources to continue to raise and maintain its maturity across the elements of NIST CSF. Our cybersecurity risk management program includes a Cyber Security Incident Response Plan (â€œCSIRPâ€). Our CSIRP supports the Company in identifying, containing, and tracking cybersecurity incidents experienced by us or our third-party service providers or suppliers. The CSIRP was established to minimize the impact of cybersecurity incidents on our networks, IT systems, users and business processes, and to ensure the timely and accurate reporting of material cybersecurity incidents, should they occur. The execution of our CSIRP is led by our Chief Information Officer and Head of Business Services (â€œCIOâ€), with support from a designated IT Incident Response Manager leading an Incident Response Team consisting of subject matter experts, as well as our Executive Response Team when appropriate. In the event of an incident, these individuals work together to assess its severity, notify and brief the appropriate team members, escalate to our Board of Directors as needed, and implement containment procedures. The Company also conducts tabletop exercises to enhance incident response preparedness and engages third parties, including consultants and other professionals, on an as-needed basis to assess and support our cybersecurity practices and procedures. Our cybersecurity risk management program is integrated into our operations and is widely communicated to employees through annual employee and contractor cybersecurity awareness training, which includes information about how to identify and report cybersecurity concerns and incidents. Our information technology organization also conducts phishing simulations and testing scenarios to help ensure compliance with our cybersecurity policies and procedures. These awareness measures are coupled with ongoing implementation of technology aimed to reduce vulnerabilities (including external testing and validation) and to monitor and assess threats. Our program includes monitoring on an ongoing basis by automated tools that detect threats and trigger alerts for assessment, investigation, and remediation by our information technology organization. We maintain business continuity and disaster recovery plans to prepare for potential information technology disruptions. We also maintain insurance coverage that, subject to its terms and conditions, is intended to address costs associated with certain aspects of cyber incidents and information systems failures. Based on the information we have as of the date of this Form 10-K, we do not believe any risks from cybersecurity threats, including as a result of any previous cybersecurity incidents, have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect us, including our business strategy, results of operations or financial condition. See â€œItem 1A. Risk Factors â€“ Risks Related to Cybersecurity and Technologyâ€ for further information about these risks. Cybersecurity Governance Our Board of Directors has risk oversight responsibility for the Company, which it administers directly and with assistance from its committees. The Audit Committee assists the Board in its oversight of the cybersecurity risk management program. The Audit Committee is tasked with reviewing and receiving periodic reports from management regarding the Companyâ€™s information technology system controls and security and, at least annually, evaluating the adequacy of the Companyâ€™s information technology security program, compliance, governance processes, training and controls. The Audit Committee specifically oversees: â€¢managementâ€™s evaluation of the potential impact of cybersecurity risk exposures on the Companyâ€™s business, financial results, operations and reputation, â€¢the steps management has taken to monitor and mitigate such exposures, â€¢major legislative and regulatory developments that could materially impact such exposure, and â€¢the Companyâ€™s incident response planning (including escalation protocols), including with respect to the prompt reporting of material cybersecurity threats or incidents to management, the Audit Committee and the Board of Directors. Our CIO periodically provides the Executive Leadership Team, which consists of the Companyâ€™s executive officers and other senior leaders, with cybersecurity briefings, information and trainings, and updates the Audit Committee on cybersecurity biannually or more frequently as appropriate. At any time, Board members may raise concerns regarding the Companyâ€™s 22 Table of ContentsÂ cybersecurity posture and recommend changes regarding controls or procedures to management. Our CSIRP includes a process for incidents to be evaluated for material impact, with an escalation protocol requiring reporting of material incidents to the Executive Response Team and to the Board of Directors. The CIO is the management position with primary responsibility for the development, operation, and maintenance of our cybersecurity risk management program. The CIO has deep experience in information systems and technology, including developing information and cybersecurity programs, roll-outs of new technology, information security audit and assessments, and cybersecurity operations focused on identification, mitigation and response to cybersecurity threats. The CIO has experience overseeing and executing technology strategies in complex, global, and matrixed environments. The CIO joined the Company in 2020, bringing over 15 years of experience leading IT strategy and change initiatives in the consumer packaged goods industry, and reports directly to our CEO. 23 Table of ContentsÂ Item 2. Issuance of Unregistered Securities None. Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities During the three months ended June 30, 2024, there were no shares repurchased under share repurchase programs approved by the Board of Directors. During the three months ended June 30, 2024, there were 4,899 shares withheld by the Company to satisfy tax withholding obligations in connection with shares issued under stock-based compensation plans, at an average price of $6.78 per share. These shares withheld to satisfy tax withholding obligations do not constitute repurchases by the Company. Â Share Repurchase Program In January 2022, the Company's Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of up to $200 million of the Companyâ€™s issued and outstanding common stock. Repurchases may be made from time to time in the open market, pursuant to pre-set trading plans, in private transactions or otherwise. The authorization does not have a stated expiration date. The extent to which the Company repurchases its shares and the timing of such repurchases will depend upon market conditions and other corporate considerations. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company did not repurchase any shares under the repurchase program. As of June 30, 2024, the Company had $173.5 million of remaining authorization under the share repurchase program. 25 Table of ContentsÂ Stock Performance Graph The following graph compares the cumulative total shareholder return on our common stock during the period from June 30, 2019 through June 30, 2024 to the cumulative total shareholder return during such period on (1) the S&P SmallCap 600 Index and (2) the S&P Food & Beverage Select Industry Index (in which the Company is included). Managementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations This Managementâ€™s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (this â€œMD&Aâ€) should be read in conjunction with Item 1A and the Consolidated Financial Statements and the related notes thereto for the period ended June 30, 2024 included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Forward-looking statements in this Form 10-K are qualified by the cautionary statement included under the heading, â€œForward-Looking Statementsâ€ at the beginning of this Form 10-K. This MD&A generally discusses fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023 items and year-to-year comparisons between fiscal 2024 and fiscal 2023. Discussions of fiscal 2022 items and year-to-year comparisons between fiscal 2023 and fiscal 2022 that are not included in this Form 10-K can be found in â€œPart II, Item 7, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operationsâ€ of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, which was filed with the SEC on August 24, 2023 and is available on the SECâ€™s website at www.sec.gov. Overview The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (collectively with its subsidiaries, the â€œCompany,â€ â€œHain Celestial,â€ â€œwe,â€ â€œusâ€ or â€œourâ€) is a leading global health and wellness company whose purpose is to inspire healthier living for people, communities and the planet through better-for-you brands. For more than 30 years, Hain Celestial has intentionally focused on delivering nutrition and well-being that positively impacts today and tomorrow. Headquartered in Hoboken, N.J., Hain Celestial's products across snacks, baby & kids, beverages, meal preparation, and personal care, are marketed and sold in over 70 countries around the world. The Company operates under two reportable segments: North America and International. The Company's leading brands include Garden Veggie Snacksâ„¢, TerraÂ® chips, Garden of Eatin'Â® snacks, Hartleyâ€™sÂ® Jelly, Earth's BestÂ® and Ella's KitchenÂ® baby and kids foods, Celestial SeasoningsÂ® teas, JoyaÂ® and NatumiÂ® plant-based beverages, Greek GodsÂ® yogurt, Cully & SullyÂ®, Yorkshire ProvenderÂ®, New Covent GardenÂ® and ImagineÂ® soups, YvesÂ® and Linda McCartney'sÂ® (under license) meat-free, and Avalon OrganicsÂ® personal care, among others. Hain Reimagined Program During the first quarter of fiscal year 2024, we initiated a multi-year growth, transformation and restructuring program (the â€œHain Reimagined Programâ€) intended to drive shareholder returns. The savings initiatives impact our reportable segments and Corporate and Other. The program is intended to optimize our portfolio, improve underlying profitability and increase our flexibility to invest in targeted growth initiatives, brand building and other capabilities critical to delivering future growth. The Hain Reimagined Program is grounded on four strategic pillars: â€¢Focus oConcentrate our portfolio in five consumer-centric Better-For-You (â€œBFYâ€) platforms: Snacks, Baby & Kids, Beverages, Meal Preparation, and Personal Care. oSimplify our footprint, maintaining direct presence in five key markets â€“ United States (â€œU.S.â€), Canada, United Kingdom (â€œU.K.â€), Ireland, and Western Europe â€“ and align our global operating model and footprint, leveraging scale and realizing synergies across the business. â€¢Grow oDeliver share gain in key platforms where we have the most compelling right to win, through expanded channel reach and acceleration in our innovation pipeline. â€¢Build oEnhance critical capabilities in brand building and effectiveness of marketing spend; expand reach across under-penetrated margin-accretive channels such as away-from-home and omni-channel e-commerce; and enhance our innovation capability to be more leading edge in BFY. â€¢Fuel oDrive revenue growth management, working capital management and operational efficiency to fund growth and enhance margins. Implementation of the Hain Reimagined Program is expected to be completed by the end of the 2027 fiscal year. Cumulative pretax charges associated with the Hain Reimagined Program are expected to be $115 million - $125 million inclusive of potential inventory write-downs of approximately $25 million related to brand/category exits. The balance of cumulative pretax restructuring charges is expected to be $90 million - $100 million comprised of contract termination costs, asset write-downs, employee-related costs and other transformation-related expenses. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, we incurred approximately $63 million of expenses associated with the Hain Reimagined Program, comprised of $60 million of restructuring 27 Table of ContentsÂ charges and $3 million of expenses associated with inventory write-downs. Annualized pretax savings are expected to be $130 million - $150 million. As part of the Hain Reimagined Program, we initiated actions to consolidate our personal care manufacturing footprint and rationalize certain product categories for greater capacity utilization, cost reduction and margin expansion. The Company also simplified its distribution footprint in the U.S., completed the sale of two non-core brands and initiated actions to rationalize office space and exit its non-strategic joint venture in India as part of the Focus and Fuel pillars of the Hain Reimagined Program. Global Economic Environment The duration and intensity of inflation fluctuations, the possibility of an impending recession, alterations in consumer shopping and consumption patterns, and shifts in geopolitical events, such as the ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict and the continuing conflict in the Middle East, may lead to increased supply chain expenses, and other business impacts. We continually assess the nature and extent of these potential and evolving impacts on our business, consolidated operational results, liquidity, and capital resources. Results of Operations Comparison of Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 2024 to Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 2023 Consolidated Results The following table compares our results of operations, including as a percentage of net sales, on a consolidated basis, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023 (dollars in thousands, other than per share amounts and percentages, which may not add due to rounding): Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â Change in Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â Dollars Â Â Percentage Â Net sales Â $ 1,736,286 Â Â Â 100.0 % Â $ 1,796,643 Â Â Â 100.0 % Â $ (60,357) Â Â (3.4)% Cost of sales Â Â 1,355,454 Â Â Â 78.1 % Â Â 1,400,229 Â Â Â 77.9 % Â Â (44,775) Â Â (3.2)% Gross profit Â Â 380,832 Â Â Â 21.9 % Â Â 396,414 Â Â Â 22.1 % Â Â (15,582) Â Â (3.9)% Selling, general and administrative expenses Â Â 290,116 Â Â Â 16.7 % Â Â 289,233 Â Â Â 16.1 % Â Â 883 Â Â Â 0.3 % Intangibles and long-lived asset impairment Â Â 76,143 Â Â Â 4.4 % Â Â 175,501 Â Â Â 9.8 % Â Â (99,358) Â Â (56.6)% Productivity and transformation costs Â Â 27,741 Â Â Â 1.6 % Â Â 7,284 Â Â Â 0.4 % Â Â 20,457 Â Â Â 280.8 % Amortization of acquired intangible assets Â Â 5,780 Â Â Â 0.3 % Â Â 10,016 Â Â Â 0.6 % Â Â (4,236) Â Â (42.3)% Operating loss Â Â (18,948) Â Â (1.1)% Â Â (85,620) Â Â (4.8)% Â Â 66,672 Â Â Â (77.9)% Interest and other financing expense, net Â Â 57,213 Â Â Â 3.3 % Â Â 45,783 Â Â Â 2.5 % Â Â 11,430 Â Â Â 25.0 % Other expense (income), net Â Â 4,120 Â Â Â 0.2 % Â Â (1,822) Â Â (0.1)% Â Â 5,942 Â Â * Â Loss before income taxes and equity in net loss of equity-method investees Â Â (80,281) Â Â (4.6)% Â Â (129,581) Â Â (7.2)% Â Â 49,300 Â Â Â (38.0)% Benefit for income taxes Â Â (7,820) Â Â (0.5)% Â Â (14,178) Â Â (0.8)% Â Â 6,358 Â Â Â (44.8)% Equity in net loss of equity-method investees Â Â 2,581 Â Â Â 0.1 % Â Â 1,134 Â Â Â 0.1 % Â Â 1,447 Â Â Â 127.6 % Net loss Â $ (75,042) Â Â (4.3)% Â $ (116,537) Â Â (6.5)% Â $ 41,495 Â Â Â (35.6)% Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Adjusted EBITDA Â $ 154,522 Â Â Â 8.9 % Â $ 166,622 Â Â Â 9.3 % Â $ (12,100) Â Â (7.3)% Basic and diluted net loss per common share Â $ (0.84) Â Â Â Â $ (1.30) Â Â Â Â $ 0.46 Â Â Â (35.4)% Â * Percentage is not meaningful due to one or more amounts being negative. 28 Table of ContentsÂ Net Sales Net sales in fiscal 2024 were $1.74 billion, a decrease of $60.4 million, or 3.4%, from net sales of $1.80 billion in fiscal 2023. Net sales, adjusted for the impact of divestitures and discontinued brands, decreased approximately $42.8 million, or 2.4%, from the prior year. The decrease in both net sales and adjusted net sales was due to a decline in the North America reportable segment, partially offset by growth in the International reportable segment. The effect of fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates increased net sales by $26.4 million. Further details of changes in net sales by segment are provided below in the Segment Results section. Gross Profit Gross profit in fiscal 2024 was $380.8 million, a decrease of $15.6 million, or 3.9%, from $396.4 million in fiscal 2023. Gross profit margin was 21.9% of net sales, compared to 22.1% in the prior year. The decrease in gross profit was driven primarily by the North America reportable segment, mainly due to lower sales volume as well as by inflation and an increase in plant closure and warehouse consolidation related costs, partially offset by pricing and productivity. Gross profit in the International reportable segment increased during the fiscal year 2024 compared to the prior year, mainly driven by higher net sales due to pricing. Selling, General and Administrative Expenses Selling, general and administrative expenses were $290.1 million in fiscal 2024, an increase of $0.9 million, or 0.3%, from $289.2 million in fiscal 2023. The modest increase was primarily due to higher employee compensation-related expenses partially offset by a decrease in selling expenses. Intangibles and Long-Lived Asset Impairment During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company recognized aggregate non-cash impairment charges of $76.1 million, including (i) $44.6 million primarily related to ParmCrispsÂ®, ThinstersÂ®, JoyaÂ®, Happyâ„¢, and certain North America personal care intangible assets (Alba BotanicaÂ®, Avalon OrganicsÂ®, and JASONÂ®) and (ii) a $20.7 million charge related to our Bell, CA production facility in the North America reportable segment. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company recognized aggregate non-cash impairment charges of $175.5 million, primarily related to the ParmCrispsÂ®, ThinstersÂ®, ImagineÂ®, JoyaÂ®, and Queen HeleneÂ® indefinite-lived trademarks and ParmCrispsÂ® definite lived customer relationships, which reduced the carrying value of such assets to their estimated fair value. See Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net, Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets and Note 15, Fair Value Measurements, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Productivity and Transformation Costs Productivity and transformation costs were $27.7 million in fiscal 2024, an increase of $20.5 million or 280.8% from $7.3 million in fiscal 2023. The increase was primarily due to the recognition of restructuring costs incurred in connection with the Hain Reimagined Program, including reorganization of global functions and related personnel resource requirements and rationalizing our sourcing and supply chain processes. Productivity and transformation costs of $27.7 million in fiscal 2024 are primarily comprised of consultancy and employee-related costs in the amount of $20.7 million and $7.0 million, respectively. Both costs are associated with the Hain Reimagined Program. The consulting fees include managing the mobilization of the restructuring program, redesigning the Companyâ€™s operating model, including the reorganization of global functions and related personnel resource requirements, and rationalizing the Companyâ€™s sourcing and supply chain processes. See Note 18, Transformation Program, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Amortization of Acquired Intangible Assets Amortization of acquired intangible assets was $5.8 million in fiscal 2024, a decrease of $4.2 million, or 42.3%, from $10.0 million in fiscal 2023, primarily reflecting reduced amortization expenses due to impairment of the ParmCrispsÂ® customer relationships recognized in the third quarter of fiscal 2023. See Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. 29 Table of ContentsÂ Operating Loss Operating loss in fiscal 2024 was $18.9 million compared to $85.6 million in fiscal 2023 due to the items described above. Interest and Other Financing Expense, Net Interest and other financing expense, net totaled $57.2 million in fiscal 2024, an increase of $11.4 million, or 25.0%, from $45.8 million in the prior year. The increase resulted primarily from higher borrowing rates, partially offset by a lower outstanding debt balance compared to the prior year. See Note 10, Debt and Borrowings, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Other Expense (Income), Net Other expense, net totaled $4.1 million in fiscal 2024 compared to other income, net of $1.8 million in the prior year. Other expense, net primarily reflected the recognition of a loss on sale of the ThinstersÂ® cookie business and Queen HeleneÂ® brand and net foreign currency gains during fiscal 2024. Other income, net was primarily comprised of a gain on sale of the Westbrae NaturalÂ® brand (â€œWestbraeâ€), partially offset by the recognition of net foreign currency losses in the prior year. See Note 4, Dispositions, in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Loss Before Income Taxes and Equity in Net Loss of Equity-Method Investees Loss before income taxes and equity in the net loss of our equity-method investees for fiscal 2024 was $80.3 million compared to $129.6 million in fiscal 2023. The decrease was due to the items discussed above. Benefit for Income Taxes The benefit for income taxes includes federal, foreign, state and local income taxes. Our income tax benefit was $7.8 million for fiscal 2024 compared to $14.2 million for fiscal 2023. The effective income tax rate was 9.7% and 10.9% of pre-tax income for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. The effective income tax rate for the year ended June 30, 2024 was primarily impacted by the recognition of a valuation allowance as a result of the reduction in deferred tax liabilities due to the above-noted impairment charges on intangible assets, offset by increased foreign earnings. The effective income tax rate for the twelve months ended June 30, 2023 was primarily impacted by the establishment of federal valuation allowances against the Company's deferred tax assets offset by foreign earnings. Our effective tax rate may change from period-to-period based on recurring and nonrecurring factors including the geographical mix of earnings, enacted tax legislation, state and local income taxes and tax audit settlements. See Note 11, Income Taxes, in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K for additional information. Equity in Net Loss of Equity-Method Investees Our equity in the net loss from our equity method investments for fiscal 2024 was $2.6 million compared to $1.1 million for fiscal 2023. The change was attributable to higher investee losses. See Note 14, Investments, in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Net Loss Net loss for fiscal 2024 was $75.0 million, or $0.84 per diluted share, compared to $116.5 million, or $1.30 per diluted share, in fiscal 2023. The change was attributable to the factors noted above. Adjusted EBITDA Our consolidated Adjusted EBITDA was $154.5 million and $166.6 million for fiscal 2024 and 2023, respectively, as a result of the factors discussed above. See Reconciliation of Non-U.S. GAAP Financial Measures to U.S. GAAP Measures following the discussion of our results of operations for definitions and a reconciliation of our net income to Adjusted EBITDA. 30 Table of ContentsÂ Segment Results The following table provides a summary of net sales and Adjusted EBITDA by reportable segment for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024 and 2023: Â (Dollars in thousands) Â North America Â Â International Â Â Corporate and Other Â Â Consolidated Â Net Sales Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Fiscal 2024 Â $ 1,055,527 Â Â $ 680,759 Â Â $ â€” Â Â $ 1,736,286 Â Fiscal 2023 Â $ 1,139,162 Â Â $ 657,481 Â Â $ â€” Â Â $ 1,796,643 Â $ change Â $ (83,635) Â $ 23,278 Â Â n/a Â Â $ (60,357) % change Â Â (7.3)% Â Â 3.5 % Â n/a Â Â Â (3.4)% Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Adjusted EBITDA Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Fiscal 2024 Â $ 98,728 Â Â $ 94,974 Â Â $ (39,180) Â $ 154,522 Â Fiscal 2023 Â $ 123,443 Â Â $ 82,945 Â Â $ (39,766) Â $ 166,622 Â $ change Â $ (24,715) Â $ 12,029 Â Â $ 586 Â Â $ (12,100) % change Â Â (20.0)% Â Â 14.5 % Â Â 1.5 % Â Â (7.3)% Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Adjusted EBITDA margin Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Fiscal 2024 Â Â 9.4 % Â Â 14.0 % Â n/a Â Â Â 8.9 % Fiscal 2023 Â Â 10.8 % Â Â 12.6 % Â n/a Â Â Â 9.3 % Â See the Reconciliation of Non-U.S. GAAP Financial Measures to U.S. GAAP Measures following the discussion of our results of operations and Note 20, Segment Information, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K for a reconciliation of segment Adjusted EBITDA. North America Our net sales in the North America reportable segment for fiscal 2024 were $1.1 billion, a decrease of $83.6 million, or 7.3%, from net sales of $1.1 billion in fiscal 2023. The decrease in net sales was primarily due to lower sales in the baby & kids category on account of continued industry-wide challenges in organic formula supply as well as decline in the personal care category. The decrease was partially offset by growth in the beverage category. Adjusted EBITDA in fiscal 2024 was $98.7 million, a decrease of $24.7 million from $123.4 million in fiscal 2023. The decrease was primarily driven by lower volume and inflation, partially offset by pricing. Adjusted EBITDA margin was 9.4%, a 148-basis point decrease from the prior year. International Net sales in the International reportable segment for fiscal 2024 were $680.8 million, an increase of $23.3 million, or 3.5%, from net sales of $657.5 million in fiscal 2023. The increase reflected 4.2% of growth from the favorable impact of foreign currency exchange rates. Excluding the favorable impact of foreign currency exchange rates, net sales decreased slightly due to lower sales in the snack category, partially offset by growth in the meal preparation and beverages categories due to strong private label performance. Adjusted EBITDA in fiscal 2024 was $95.0 million, an increase of $12.0 million from $82.9 million in fiscal 2023. The increase was primarily driven by pricing and deflation, partially offset by lower volumes. Adjusted EBITDA margin was 14.0%, a 134-basis point increase from the prior year. Corporate and Other Corporate and Other expenses remained relatively flat compared to fiscal 2023. Refer to Note 20, Segment Information, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K for additional details. Â 31 Table of ContentsÂ Liquidity and Capital Resources We finance our operations and growth primarily with the cash flows we generate from our operations and from borrowings available to us under our Credit Agreement (as defined below). We believe that our cash flows from operations and borrowing capacity under our Credit Agreement (as defined below) will be adequate to meet anticipated operating and other expenditures for the foreseeable future. See Note 10, Debt and Borrowings, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Amended and Restated Credit Agreement On August 22, 2023, the Company entered into a Second Amendment (the â€œSecond Amendmentâ€) to the Credit Agreement (as amended, the â€œCredit Agreementâ€). The Credit Agreement provides for senior secured financing of $1,100 million in the aggregate, consisting of (1) $300 million in aggregate principal amount of term loans (the â€œTerm Loansâ€) and (2) an $800 million senior secured revolving credit facility (which includes borrowing capacity available for letters of credit, and is comprised of a $440 million U.S. revolving credit facility and $360 million global revolving credit facility) (the â€œRevolverâ€). Both the Revolver and the Term Loans mature on December 22, 2026. The Companyâ€™s obligations under the Credit Agreement are guaranteed by certain existing and future domestic subsidiaries of the Company and are secured by liens on assets of the Company and its material domestic subsidiaries, including the equity interest in each of their direct subsidiaries and intellectual property, subject to agreed-upon exceptions. The Credit Agreement includes financial covenants that require compliance with a consolidated secured leverage ratio, a consolidated leverage ratio and a consolidated interest coverage ratio. Pursuant to the Second Amendment, the Companyâ€™s maximum consolidated secured leverage ratio was amended to be 5.00:1.00 until September 30, 2023, 5.25:1.00 until December 31, 2023 and 5.00:1.00 until December 31, 2024 (the period of time during which such maximum consolidated secured leverage ratios are in effect, the â€œSecond Amendment Periodâ€). Following the Second Amendment Period, the maximum consolidated secured leverage ratio will be 4.25:1.00, subject to possible temporary increase following certain corporate acquisitions. Pursuant to the Credit Agreement, the Companyâ€™s maximum consolidated leverage ratio is 6.00:1.00. Pursuant to the Second Amendment, the Companyâ€™s minimum interest coverage ratio was amended to be 2.50:1.00. As of June 30, 2024, the Companyâ€™s consolidated secured leverage ratio, consolidated leverage ratio and consolidated interest coverage ratio were 3.74:1.00, 3.74:1.00 and 3.43:1.00, respectively, and the Company was in compliance with all associated covenants. During the Second Amendment Period, loans under the Credit Agreement bears interest at (a) Term SOFR plus 2.5% per annum or (b) the Base Rate plus 1.5% per annum. Following the Second Amendment Period, loans bear interest at rates based on (a) Term SOFR plus a rate ranging from 1.125% to 2.0% per annum or (b) the Base Rate plus a rate ranging from 0.125% to 1.0% per annum, the relevant rate in each case being the Applicable Rate. The Applicable Rate following the Second Amendment Period is determined in accordance with a leverage-based pricing grid, as set forth in the Credit Agreement as amended by the Second Amendment. Excluding the impact of hedges, the weighted average interest rate on outstanding borrowings under the Credit Agreement at June 30, 2024 was 7.97%. During fiscal 2022, the Company used interest rate swaps to hedge a portion of the interest rate risk related its outstanding variable rate debt. As of June 30, 2024, the notional amount of the interest rate swaps was $400 million with fixed rate payments of 5.60%. Including the impact of hedges, the weighted average interest rate on outstanding borrowings under the Credit Agreement at June 30, 2024 was 6.83%. Additionally, the Credit Agreement contains a Commitment Fee (as defined in the Credit Agreement) on the amount unused under the Credit Agreement ranging from 0.15% to 0.25% per annum, and such Commitment Fee is determined in accordance with a leverage-based pricing grid. As of June 30, 2024, there were $475.0 million of loans under the Revolver, $270.6 million of Term Loans, and $3.2 million of letters of credit outstanding under the Credit Agreement. As of June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023, $321.8 million and $254.5 million, respectively, was available under the Credit Agreement, subject to compliance with the financial covenants. Our cash and cash equivalents balance increased $0.9 million at June 30, 2024 to $54.3 million as compared to $53.4 million at June 30, 2023. Our working capital was $275.6 million at June 30, 2024, a decrease of $83.4 million from $358.9 million at the end of fiscal 2023. Additionally, our total debt decreased by $84.7 million at June 30, 2024 to $744.1 million as compared to $828.7 million at June 30, 2023 as a result of net repayments carried out during the year. Our cash balances are held in the U.S., U.K., Canada, Western Europe, the Middle East and India. As of June 30, 2024, substantially all cash was held outside of the U.S. We maintain our cash and cash equivalents primarily in money market funds or their equivalent. Accordingly, we do not believe that our investments have significant exposure to interest rate risk. Cash provided by (used in) operating, investing and financing activities is summarized below. 32 Table of ContentsÂ Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â Â (Amounts in thousands) Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â Change in Dollars Â Cash flows provided by (used in): Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating activities Â $ 116,355 Â Â $ 66,819 Â Â $ 49,536 Â Investing activities Â Â (23,922) Â Â (19,640) Â Â (4,282) Financing activities Â Â (89,729) Â Â (63,060) Â Â (26,669) Effect of exchange rate changes on cash Â Â (1,761) Â Â 3,733 Â Â Â (5,494) Net increase (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents Â $ 943 Â Â $ (12,148) Â $ 13,091 Â Â Cash provided by operating activities was $116.4 million for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, an increase of $49.5 million from $66.8 million in the prior year. This increase versus the prior year resulted primarily from higher cash generation of $101.7 million from our working capital accounts, which was driven by our accounts payable optimization initiatives and focused inventory management, partially offset by a reduction in accounts receivable recovery. The increase was also partially offset by a reduction of $52.1 million in net loss adjusted for non-cash charges in the current year. Cash used in investing activities was $23.9 million for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, an increase of $4.3 million from $19.6 million in the prior year. The increase in cash utilization by investing activities was primarily due to higher capital expenditures in the current year of $5.6 million related to the phasing of capital projects, partially offset by an increase in proceeds from business divestitures of $1.7 million compared to the prior year. See Note 4, Dispositions, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Cash used in financing activities was $89.7

million for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, an increase of $26.7 million compared to $63.1 million in the prior year. The increase in cash utilization in financing activities was primarily due to higher net debt repayments during fiscal year 2024. Free Cash Flow Our Free Cash Flow was $82.9 million for fiscal 2024, an increase of $44.0 million from fiscal 2023. The increase in Free Cash Flow primarily resulted from an increase in cash flow provided by operations of $49.5 million driven by the reasons explained above, partially offset by higher capital expenditures. See the Reconciliation of Non-U.S. GAAP Financial Measures to U.S. GAAP Measures following the discussion of our results of operations for definitions and a reconciliation from our net cash provided by operating activities to Free Cash Flow. Share Repurchase Program In January 2022, the Companyâ€™s Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of up to $200.0 million of the Companyâ€™s issued and outstanding common stock. Repurchases may be made from time to time in the open market, pursuant to pre-set trading plans, in private transactions or otherwise. The current 2022 authorization does not have a stated expiration date. The extent to which the Company repurchases its shares and the timing of such repurchases will depend upon market conditions and other corporate considerations. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company did not repurchase any shares under the repurchase program. As of June 30, 2024, the Company had $173.5 million of remaining authorization under the share repurchase program. Reconciliation of Non-U.S. GAAP Financial Measures to U.S. GAAP Measures Our financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (â€œU.S. GAAPâ€). We have included in this report measures of financial performance that are not defined by U.S. GAAP. We believe that these measures provide useful information to investors and include these measures in other communications to investors. For each of these non-U.S. GAAP financial measures, we are providing below a reconciliation of the differences between the non-U.S. GAAP measure and the most directly comparable U.S. GAAP measure, an explanation of why our management and Board of Directors believe the non-U.S. GAAP measure provides useful information to investors and any additional purposes for which our management and Board of Directors use the non-U.S. GAAP measures. These non-U.S. GAAP measures should be viewed in addition to, and not in lieu of, the comparable U.S. GAAP measures. Net Sales - Adjusted for the Impact of Divestitures and Discontinued Brands We exclude the impact of divestitures and discontinued brands when comparing net sales to prior periods, which results in the presentation of certain non-U.S. GAAP financial measures. The Companyâ€™s management believes that excluding the impact of divestitures and discontinued brands when presenting period-over-period results of net sales aids in comparability. 33 Table of ContentsÂ To present net sales adjusted for the impact of divestitures and discontinued brands, the net sales of a divested business or discontinued brand are excluded from all periods. A reconciliation between reported net sales and net sales adjusted for the impact of divestitures and discontinued brands is as follows: Â (Dollars in thousands) Â North America Â Â International Â Â Hain Consolidated Â Net sales - Twelve months ended 6/30/24 Â $ 1,055,527 Â Â $ 680,759 Â Â $ 1,736,286 Â Divestitures and discontinued brands Â Â (19,519) Â Â (1,682) Â Â (21,201) Net sales adjusted for divestitures and discontinued brands - Twelve months ended 6/30/24 Â $ 1,036,008 Â Â $ 679,077 Â Â $ 1,715,085 Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Net sales - Twelve months ended 6/30/23 Â $ 1,139,162 Â Â $ 657,481 Â Â $ 1,796,643 Â Divestitures and discontinued brands Â Â (36,093) Â Â (2,662) Â Â (38,755) Net sales adjusted for divestitures and discontinued brands - Twelve months ended 6/30/23 Â $ 1,103,069 Â Â $ 654,819 Â Â $ 1,757,888 Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Net sales (decline) growth Â Â (7.3)% Â Â 3.5 % Â Â (3.4)% Impact of divestitures and discontinued brands Â Â 1.2 % Â Â 0.2 % Â Â 1.0 % Net sales (decline) growth adjusted for divestitures and discontinued brands Â Â (6.1)% Â Â 3.7 % Â Â (2.4)% Â Adjusted EBITDA The Company defines Adjusted EBITDA as net loss before net interest expense, income taxes, depreciation and amortization, equity in net loss of equity-method investees, stock-based compensation, net, unrealized currency losses (gains), certain litigation and related costs, CEO succession costs, plant closure related costs, net, productivity and transformation costs, warehouse and manufacturing consolidation and other costs, net, costs associated with acquisitions, divestitures and other transactions, losses (gains) on sales of assets, intangibles and long-lived asset impairment and other adjustments. The Companyâ€™s management believes that this presentation provides useful information to management, analysts and investors regarding certain additional financial and business trends relating to its results of operations and financial condition. In addition, management uses this measure for reviewing the financial results of the Company and as a component of performance-based executive compensation. Adjusted EBITDA is a non-U.S. GAAP measure and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies. We do not consider Adjusted EBITDA in isolation or as an alternative to financial measures determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The principal limitation of Adjusted EBITDA is that it excludes certain expenses and income that are required by U.S. GAAP to be recorded in our consolidated financial statements. In addition, Adjusted EBITDA is subject to inherent limitations as this metric reflects the exercise of judgment by management about which expenses and income are excluded or included in determining Adjusted EBITDA. In order to compensate for these limitations, management presents Adjusted EBITDA in connection with U.S. GAAP results. A reconciliation of net loss to Adjusted EBITDA is as follows: 34 Table of ContentsÂ Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â (Amounts in thousands) Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Net loss Â $ (75,042) Â $ (116,537) Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Depreciation and amortization Â Â 44,665 Â Â Â 50,777 Â Equity in net loss of equity-method investees Â Â 2,581 Â Â Â 1,134 Â Interest expense, net Â Â 54,232 Â Â Â 43,936 Â Benefit for income taxes Â Â (7,820) Â Â (14,178) Stock-based compensation, net Â Â 12,704 Â Â Â 14,423 Â Unrealized currency losses Â Â 17 Â Â Â 929 Â Litigation and related costs(a) Â Â 7,262 Â Â Â (1,369) Restructuring activities Â Â Â Â Â Â Productivity and transformation costs Â Â 27,741 Â Â Â 7,284 Â Plant closure related costs, net Â Â 5,251 Â Â Â 94 Â Warehouse/manufacturing consolidation and other costs, net Â Â 995 Â Â Â 1,026 Â CEO succession Â Â â€” Â Â Â 5,113 Â Acquisitions, divestitures and other Â Â Â Â Â Â Loss (gain) on sale of assets Â Â 4,384 Â Â Â (3,529) Transaction and integration costs, net Â Â (34) Â Â 2,018 Â Impairment charges Â Â Â Â Â Â Intangibles and long-lived asset impairment Â Â 76,143 Â Â Â 175,501 Â Other Â Â 1,443 Â Â Â â€” Â Adjusted EBITDA Â $ 154,522 Â Â $ 166,622 Â Â (a)Expenses and items relating to securities class action, baby food litigation, and SEC investigation. Â Free Cash Flow In our internal evaluations, we use the non-GAAP financial measure â€œFree Cash Flow.â€ The difference between Free Cash Flow and cash flows provided by or used in operating activities, which is the most comparable U.S. GAAP financial measure, is that Free Cash Flow reflects the impact of purchases of property, plant and equipment (capital expenditure). Since capital expenditure is essential to maintaining our operational capabilities, we believe that it is a recurring and necessary use of cash. As such, we believe investors should also consider capital expenditure when evaluating our cash flows provided by or used in operating activities. We view Free Cash Flow as an important measure because it is one factor in evaluating the amount of cash available for discretionary investments. We do not consider Free Cash Flow in isolation or as an alternative to financial measures determined in accordance with U.S. GAAP. A reconciliation from cash flows provided by operating activities to Free Cash Flow is as follows: Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â (Amounts in thousands) Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Net cash provided by operating activities Â $ 116,355 Â Â $ 66,819 Â Purchases of property, plant and equipment Â Â (33,461) Â Â (27,879) Free Cash Flow Â $ 82,894 Â Â $ 38,940 Â Â Contractual Obligations We are party to contractual obligations involving commitments to make payments to third parties, which impact our short-term and long-term liquidity and capital resource needs. Our contractual obligations primarily consist of long-term debt and related interest payments and operating leases. See Note 7, Leases, and Note 10, Debt and Borrowings, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Â 35 Table of ContentsÂ Critical Accounting Estimates The discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on our consolidated financial statements, which are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Our significant accounting policies are described in Note 2, Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Practices, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. The policies below have been identified as the critical accounting policies we use which require us to make estimates and assumptions and exercise judgment that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and amounts of income and expenses during the reporting periods presented. We believe in the quality and reasonableness of our critical accounting estimates; however, materially different amounts might be reported under different conditions or using assumptions, estimates or making judgments different from those that we have applied. Our critical accounting policies, including our methodology for estimates made and assumptions used, are as follows: Variable Consideration In addition to fixed contract consideration, many of the Companyâ€™s contracts include some form of variable consideration. The Company offers various trade promotions and sales incentive programs to customers and consumers, such as price discounts, slotting fees, in-store display incentives, cooperative advertising programs, new product introduction fees and coupons. The expenses associated with these programs are accounted for as reductions to the transaction price of products and are therefore deducted from sales to determine reported net sales. Trade promotions and sales incentive accruals are subject to significant management estimates and assumptions. The critical assumptions used in estimating the accruals for trade promotions and sales incentives include the Companyâ€™s estimate of expected levels of performance and redemption rates. The Company exercises judgment in developing these assumptions. These assumptions are based upon historical performance of the retailer or distributor customers with similar types of promotions adjusted for current trends. The Company regularly reviews and revises, when deemed necessary, estimates of costs to the Company for these promotions and incentives based on what has been incurred by the customers. The terms of most of the promotion and incentive arrangements do not exceed a year and therefore do not require highly uncertain long-term estimates. Settlement of these liabilities typically occurs in subsequent periods primarily through an authorization process for deductions taken by a customer from amounts otherwise due to the Company. Differences between estimated expense and actual promotion and incentive costs are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined. Actual expenses may differ if the level of redemption rates and performance were to vary from estimates. Valuation of Long-lived Assets Fixed assets and amortizable intangible assets are reviewed for impairment as events or changes in circumstances occur indicating that the carrying value of the asset may not be recoverable. Undiscounted cash flow analyses are used to determine if impairment exists. If impairment is determined to exist, the loss is calculated based on estimated fair value. Â Goodwill Â Goodwill is not amortized but rather is tested at least annually for impairment, or more often if events or changes in circumstances indicate that more likely than not the carrying amount of the asset may not be recoverable. Â Goodwill is tested for impairment at the reporting unit level. A reporting unit represents an operating segment or a component of an operating segment. Goodwill is tested for impairment by either performing a qualitative evaluation or a quantitative test. The qualitative evaluation is an assessment of factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, including goodwill. Â We may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment for some or all reporting units and instead perform a quantitative impairment test. The estimate of the fair values of our reporting units are based on the best information available as of the date of the assessment. We base our fair value estimates on assumptions we believe to be reasonable, but which are unpredictable and inherently uncertain. We generally use a blended analysis of the Discounted Cash Flow (â€œDCFâ€) method income approach and the Guideline Public Company Method (â€œGPCMâ€) market approach. Â The DCF method estimates the value based on the present value of estimated future cash flows and economic benefits that are expected to be produced. Considerable management judgment is necessary to evaluate the impact of operating and external economic factors in estimating our future cash flows. The assumptions we use in our tests include projections of growth rates and profitability, our estimated working capital needs, as well as our weighted average cost of capital (â€œWACCâ€). Â The GPCM approach estimates the value of a reporting unit through analysis of recent sales of comparable assets or business entities by comparing it to comparable publicly-disclosed transactions in similar businesses. Estimates used in the guideline public company method include the identification of similar businesses with comparable business factors. Â 36 Table of ContentsÂ The key assumptions used in our quantitative impairment tests are inherently uncertain. They require a high degree of estimation and are subject to change based on, among other factors, industry and geopolitical conditions, our ability to navigate changing macroeconomic conditions and trends and the timing and success of strategic initiatives. Changes in economic and operating conditions impacting the assumptions we made could result in goodwill impairment in future periods. If the carrying amount of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, goodwill is considered impaired. A goodwill impairment loss is recognized for the amount that the carrying amount of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, limited to the total amount of goodwill allocated to that reporting unit. Â As of June 30, 2024, the carrying value of goodwill was $929.3 million, which was ascribed to five reporting units. The Company completed its annual goodwill impairment test on the first day of the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024, in conjunction with its budgeting and forecasting process for fiscal year 2025 and concluded that no impairment existed at any of its reporting units. Such test provided similar results to our interim test performed as of March 31, 2024, as discussed further herein. During our annual impairment assessment and in subsequent interim quarters, we review events that occur or circumstances that change, including the macroeconomic environment, our business performance and our market capitalization, to determine if an interim impairment test is necessary. If assumptions are not achieved or market conditions decline, potential impairment charges could result. Impairments to goodwill may be caused by factors outside our control, such as increasing competitive pricing pressures, changes in discount rates based on changes in cost of capital (i.e., as a result of changes in interest rates or other conditions), lower than expected sales and profit growth rates, changes in industry EBITDA multiples, the inability to quickly replace lost co-manufacturing business, or the bankruptcy of a significant customer. As a result of indicators of impairment which included a significant decline in the Companyâ€™s market capitalization and impairment charges recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2024 within the U.S. reporting unit (see Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets and Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K), the Company completed an interim impairment test of all reporting units. For the U.K., Western Europe, Canada, and Ella's Kitchen U.K., reporting units, the Company performed a qualitative evaluation to assess factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of its reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. The Company concluded that for the reporting units where a qualitative evaluation was performed that the reporting unitsâ€™ estimated fair values exceeded their carrying amounts. Three of these reporting units (U.K., Western Europe and Canada) were quantitatively tested in fiscal 2023 and as of the last quantitative testing date, their estimated fair values exceeded their respective carrying amounts by more than 17.0%. Â For the U.S. reporting unit, we performed a quantitative test as of March 31, 2024 because of the decline in the operating results of the U.S. business. The fair value of the U.S. reporting unit was estimated utilizing a blended approach which included an income approach utilizing a DCF and the GPCM. The estimated fair value of the U.S. reporting unit exceeded its carrying value based on the testing performed. Holding all other assumptions used in the 2024 fair value measurement constant, a 50-basis-point increase in the WACC would not result in the carrying value of the reporting unit to be in excess of the fair value. Â (Dollars in thousands) Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Headroom Â Reporting Unit Â Fair Value Â Â Adjusted Carrying Value Â Â Dollars Â Â Percentage Â United States (U.S.) Â $ 990,000 Â Â $ 932,109 Â Â $ 57,891 Â Â Â 6.2 % Â The U.S. reporting unit is at risk of impairment in the event of unfavorable changes in assumptions, including forecasted future cashflows based on execution of strategic initiatives for increasing revenue, as well as discount rates and other macroeconomic factors. We monitor our reporting units at risk of impairment for interim impairment indicators. Should the fair values of any of our reporting units fall below their carrying amount because of reduced operating performance, market declines including a deterioration of the macroeconomic factors, changes in the discount rate, or other adverse conditions, goodwill impairment charges may be necessary in future periods. The calculation of the U.S. reporting unit WACC included a number of subjective inputs, including a company-specific risk premium of 4.0% to account for the riskiness of the assumed revenue growth and margin improvement within the financial forecasts used in the DCF. We performed a market capitalization reconciliation with the expectation that the market capitalization should reconcile within a reasonable range to the sum of the fair values of the individual reporting units. Such reconciliation often includes both qualitative and quantitative assessments as is the case with the Companyâ€™s reporting units as of March 31, 2024. When an entity performs a qualitative assessment for some reporting units but proceeds to a quantitative assessment for others, reconciling the overall market capitalization to the aggregate fair value of reporting units can be challenging and requires significant judgment. There is no requirement to determine the fair value of reporting units for which only a qualitative impairment test is performed. Therefore, when performing an overall comparison of the sum of the fair values of the individual reporting units to the market capitalization, we included the current year fair value for reporting units for which a quantitative test was performed, and we estimated the fair 37 Table of ContentsÂ values for the reporting units for which qualitative tests were performed using a reasonable methodology. Upon performing the market capitalization reconciliation, we noted a reasonable reconciliation between the sum of the reporting unit fair values and the Companyâ€™s market capitalization once adjusted for the impact of corporate costs not allocated to the reporting units. Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets Â Indefinite-lived intangible assets consist primarily of acquired tradenames and trademarks. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are evaluated on an annual basis in conjunction with the Companyâ€™s evaluation of goodwill, or on an interim basis if and when events or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of any of its indefinite-life intangible assets below their carrying value. In assessing fair value, the Company utilizes a â€œrelief from royalty paymentsâ€ methodology. This approach involves two steps: (i) estimating the royalty rates for each trademark and (ii) applying these royalty rates to a projected net sales stream and discounting the resulting cash flows to determine fair value. If the carrying value of the indefinite-lived intangible assets exceeds the fair value of the assets, the carrying value is written down to fair value in the period identified. Â The Company performs an indefinite-lived asset impairment test annually and more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it is more likely than not that the asset is impaired. In accordance with ASC 350, we may first perform a qualitative assessment to determine whether it is necessary to perform a quantitative impairment test. If an entity elects to perform a qualitative assessment, it first shall assess qualitative factors to determine whether it is more likely than not (that is, a likelihood of more than 50 percent) that an indefinite-lived intangible asset is impaired. One procedure we perform during interim periods to determine whether indicators of impairment are present includes a comparison of net sales used in the most recent quantitative impairment tests to forecasted net sales for the same fiscal year (or balance of the fiscal year when performing an interim review) in order to identify brands for which the current fiscal year net sales are expected to be lower than the forecasted fiscal year net sales per the latest quantitative test. The performance of these brands is then reviewed by management to determine if the shortfall to forecasted net sales was related to events and circumstances that are expected to be temporary in nature, or if it was caused by a more pervasive issue that could serve as in impairment indicator (e.g., loss of key customers, discontinuance of certain product categories within a brand, etc.). We use this risk-based approach to determine which brands we would quantitatively test for impairment, whether as part of fiscal year annual impairment testing or an interim period test. Â During the third quarter of 2024, we performed a qualitative assessment of our indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment and determined that the indefinite-lived tradenames for certain North America personal care tradenames (namely, Alba BotanicaÂ®, Avalon OrganicsÂ®, and JASONÂ®), ParmCrispsÂ® and ThinstersÂ® should be quantitatively tested. The Companyâ€™s 2024 interim impairment testing resulted in the recognition of impairment charges for the following indefinite-lived tradenames, and other intangible assets: ParmCrispsÂ®, ThinstersÂ® and certain North America personal care tradenames. The Company recorded impairment charges and reduced the carrying amount of certain North America personal care tradenames to their estimated fair value of $13,000. During the fourth quarter of 2024, the North America personal care tradenames were reclassified from indefinite to definite-lived and ascribed a useful life of 10 years. See Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company recorded a non-cash impairment charge of $2,260 for its plant-based beverage brands: Happyâ„¢ and JoyaÂ® trademarks in connection with its annual test of such trademarks as discussed in Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. During the fourth quarter of 2024, such tradenames were reclassified from indefinite to definite-lived and ascribed a useful life of 10 years. The assets are part of the International reportable segment and have a remaining aggregate carrying amount of $3,761 as of June 30, 2024. Stock-based Compensation The Company utilizes a Monte Carlo simulation model to determine the fair value of market-based awards. The use of the Monte Carlo simulation model requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions, such as expected volatility, expected term and risk-free interest rate. For awards that contain a market condition, expense is recognized over the defined or derived service period using a Monte Carlo simulation model. Â 38 Table of ContentsÂ Valuation Allowances for Deferred Tax Assets Deferred tax assets arise when we recognize expenses in our financial statements that will be allowed as income tax deductions in future periods. Deferred tax assets also include unused tax net operating losses and tax credits that we are allowed to carry forward to future years. Accounting rules permit us to carry deferred tax assets on the balance sheet at full value after consideration of the four sources of income, namely taxable income in prior year carryback years, the future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, tax planning strategies, and future taxable income exclusive of reversing temporary differences, to determine if the deferred tax assets are realizable. A valuation allowance must be recorded against a deferred tax asset if they are not realizable after considering the four sources of income. Our determination of our valuation allowances is based upon a number of assumptions, judgments and estimates, including the reversal pattern of existing temporary differences and forecasted earnings. Recent Accounting Pronouncements See Note 2, Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Practices, in the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K for information regarding recent accounting pronouncements. Seasonality Certain of our product lines have seasonal fluctuations. Hot tea, hot-eating desserts and soup sales are stronger in colder months, while sales of snack foods, sunscreen and certain of our personal care products are stronger in the warmer months. As such, our results of operations and our cash flows for any particular quarter are not indicative of the results we expect for the full year, and our historical seasonality may not be indicative of future quarterly results of operations. Historically, net sales and diluted earnings per share in the first fiscal quarter have typically been the lowest of our four quarters. 39 Table of ContentsÂ Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk Market Risk The principal market risks (i.e., the risk of loss arising from adverse changes in market rates and prices) to which the Company is exposed are: â€¢interest rates on debt and cash equivalents; â€¢foreign exchange rates, generating translation and transaction gains and losses; and â€¢ingredient inputs. Interest Rates We centrally manage our debt and cash equivalents, considering investment opportunities and risks, tax consequences and overall financing strategies. Our cash equivalents consist primarily of money market funds or their equivalent. As of June 30, 2024, we had $746 million of variable rate debt outstanding under our Credit Agreement. We use interest rate swaps to hedge a portion of the interest rate risk related to our outstanding variable rate debt. As of June 30, 2024, the notional amount of the interest rate swaps was $400 million with fixed rate payments of 5.60%. Assuming current cash equivalents, variable rate borrowings and the effects of the interest rate swaps, a hypothetical change in average interest rates of one percentage point would have resulted in higher net interest expense of $4.1 million. Foreign Currency Exchange Rates Operating in international markets involves exposure to movements in currency exchange rates, which are volatile at times, and the impact of such movements, if material, could cause adjustments to our financing and operating strategies. During fiscal 2024, approximately 46% of our consolidated net sales were generated from sales outside the U.S., while such sales outside the U.S. were 43% of net sales in fiscal 2023 and 45% of net sales in fiscal 2022. These revenues, along with related expenses and capital purchases, were conducted primarily in British Pounds Sterling, Euros and Canadian Dollars. Sales and operating income would have decreased by approximately $39.3 million and $3.2 million, respectively, if average foreign exchange rates had been lower by 5% against the U.S. Dollar in fiscal 2024. These amounts were determined by considering the impact of a hypothetical foreign exchange rate on the sales and operating income of the Companyâ€™s international operations. Fluctuations in currency exchange rates may also impact the Stockholdersâ€™ Equity of the Company. Amounts invested in our non-U.S. subsidiaries are translated into United States Dollars at the exchange rates as of the last day of each reporting period. Any resulting cumulative translation adjustments are recorded in Stockholdersâ€™ Equity as Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss. The cumulative translation adjustments component of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss decreased by $9.0 million during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024. To manage that risk, the Company may enter into certain derivative financial instruments, when available on a cost-effective basis. We had approximately $131.8 million in notional amounts of cross-currency swaps at June 30, 2024. See Note 16, Derivatives and Hedging Activities, in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 8 of this Form 10-K. Ingredient Inputs Price Risk The Company purchases ingredient inputs such as vegetables, fruits, oils, grains, beans, nuts, tea and herbs, spices, dairy products, plant-based surfactants, glycerin and alcohols, as well as packaging materials, to be used in its operations. These inputs are subject to price fluctuations that may create price risk. Although we sometimes hedge against fluctuations in the prices of the ingredients by using future or forward contracts or similar instruments, the majority of our future purchases of these items are subject to changes in price. We may enter into fixed purchase commitments in an attempt to secure an adequate supply of specific ingredients. These agreements are tied to specific market prices. Market risk is estimated as a hypothetical 10% increase or decrease in the weighted average cost of our primary inputs as of June 30, 2024. Based on our cost of goods sold during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, such a change would have resulted in an increase or decrease to cost of sales of approximately $110 million. We attempt to offset the impact of input cost increases with a combination of cost savings initiatives and efficiencies and price increases. 40 Table of ContentsÂ Item 8. Opinion on the Financial Statements We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. and Subsidiaries (the Company) as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive loss, stockholdersâ€™ equity and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended June 30, 2024, and the related notes and financial statement schedule listed in the Index at Item 15(a) (collectively referred to as the â€œconsolidated financial statementsâ€). In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company at June 30, 2024 and 2023, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended June 30, 2024, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Controlâ€”Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (2013 framework) and our report dated August 27, 2024 expressed an unqualified opinion thereon. Basis for Opinion These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Companyâ€™s financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB. We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion. Critical Audit Matters The critical audit matters communicated below are matters arising from the current period audit of the financial statements that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that: (1) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate. 42 Table of ContentsÂ Â Â Â Estimation of the Trade and Promotional Incentive Accrual Â Â Â Description of the Matter Â For the year ended June 30, 2024, the Companyâ€™s reported net sales were $1.7 billion. As described in Note 2 of the consolidated financial statements, the Company provides certain customers with trade and promotional incentive programs, which results in variable consideration in the Companyâ€™s contracts with its customers. The estimated costs of these programs are recorded as a reduction to revenue at the time a product is sold to the customer. The measurement of estimates of variable consideration specifically for the trade and promotional incentive accrual recorded at period end involves the use of judgment related to estimates of expected levels of performance and redemption rates.Auditing the estimates of variable consideration for the trade and promotional incentive accrual is complex because the revenue recognized is determined based on significant management estimates. In particular, estimates are made for expected levels of performance and redemption rates. These estimates are based on historical performance of customers, types and levels of promotions offered, and claims received from customers. Changes in these assumptions can have a significant impact on the amount of the revenue recognized. Â Â Â How We Addressed the Matter in Our Audit Â We obtained an understanding, evaluated the design, and tested the operating effectiveness of controls over the Companyâ€™s estimation of the trade and promotional incentive accrual process. For example, we tested controls over managementâ€™s review of significant assumptions, such as historical and estimated performance of customers, types and levels of promotions offered, actual and expected claims received from customers, managementâ€™s validation of the completeness and accuracy of the data used in making their estimates, and other controls such as their retrospective review analysis of prior period estimates.Â To test the estimates of variable consideration for the trade and promotional incentive accrual, we performed audit procedures that included, among others, evaluating the assumptions used by the Company in establishing the estimates by comparing them to historical trends and third-party source information as well as performing detailed transactional testing of customer claim activity. We also tested the results of the Companyâ€™s retrospective review analyses performed on the prior year trade and promotional incentive accrual. Â 43 Table of ContentsÂ Â Â Â Valuation of the U.S. Reporting Unit Â Â Â Description of the Matter Â At June 30, 2024, the goodwill assigned to the Companyâ€™s U.S. reporting unit had a carrying value of approximately $641.0 million. As discussed in Note 2 of the consolidated financial statements, the Company tests goodwill for impairment at the reporting unit level at least annually, or when circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the asset may not be recoverable. If the carrying value of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, the Company would then compare the carrying value of the goodwill to its implied fair value in order to determine the amount of the impairment, if any. Â Auditing the Companyâ€™s annual impairment test for the goodwill in the U.S. reporting unit is complex due to the significant judgments required to estimate the fair value of the reporting unit. The Company estimated the fair value of the reporting unit using a combination of the discounted cash flow method, a form of the income approach, and the guideline public company method, a form of the market approach. The discounted cash flow method is largely dependent upon estimates made by management with respect to significant assumptions, such as projections of future revenue, future earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization, the discount rate, and terminal growth rate, which are affected by expectations about future market or economic conditions. Â Â Â How We Addressed the Matter in Our Audit Â We obtained an understanding, evaluated the design, and tested the operating effectiveness of controls over the Companyâ€™s goodwill impairment evaluation process. For example, we tested controls over managementâ€™s review of the significant assumptions used in the fair value calculations as well as managementâ€™s review of the data used in the valuation of the reporting units. To test the estimated fair value of the U.S. reporting unit, we performed audit procedures that included, among others, testing the significant assumptions discussed above and testing the completeness and accuracy of the underlying data used by the Company in its analysis. We compared the significant assumptions used by management to current industry and economic trends, and to the historical results of the reporting unit, while also considering changes to the Companyâ€™s business model, customer base and product mix. We assessed the historical accuracy of managementâ€™s estimates and significant assumptions, such as projections of revenue growth rates and profitability by comparing managementâ€™s past projections to actual performance. We involved valuation specialists to assist in evaluating the Companyâ€™s methodology and key assumptions, including the discount rate and terminal growth rate. We also performed sensitivity analyses to evaluate the impact that changes in the significant assumptions would have on the fair value of the U.S. reporting unit. AND SUBSIDIARIES NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Amounts in thousands, except par values and per share data) 1.DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND BASIS OF PRESENTATIONDescription of BusinessThe Hain Celestial Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (collectively with its subsidiaries, the â€œCompany,â€ â€œHain Celestial,â€ â€œwe,â€ â€œusâ€ or â€œourâ€) was founded in 1993. Hain Celestial is a leading global health and wellness company whose purpose is to inspire healthier living for people, communities and the planet through better-for-you brands. For more than 30 years, Hain Celestial has intentionally focused on delivering nutrition and well-being that positively impacts today and tomorrow. Headquartered in Hoboken, N.J., Hain Celestialâ€™s products across snacks, baby & kids, beverages, meal preparation, and personal care are marketed and sold in over 70 countries around the world. The Company operates under two reportable segments: North America and International.The Company's leading brands include Garden Veggie Snacksâ„¢, TerraÂ® chips, Garden of Eatin'Â® snacks, Hartleyâ€™sÂ® Jelly, Earth's BestÂ® and Ella's KitchenÂ® baby & kids foods, Celestial SeasoningsÂ® teas, JoyaÂ® and NatumiÂ® plant-based beverages, Greek GodsÂ® yogurt, Cully & SullyÂ®, Yorkshire ProvenderÂ®, New Covent GardenÂ® and ImagineÂ® soups, YvesÂ® and Linda McCartney'sÂ® (under license) meat-free, and Avalon OrganicsÂ® personal care, among others.Basis of Presentation The Companyâ€™s consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned and majority-owned subsidiaries. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Investments in affiliated companies in which the Company exercises significant influence, but which it does not control, are accounted for under the equity method of accounting. As such, consolidated net (loss) income includes the Companyâ€™s equity in the current earnings or losses of such companies.Unless otherwise indicated, references in these consolidated financial statements to 2024, 2023 and 2022 or â€œfiscalâ€ 2024, 2023 and 2022 or other years refer to the fiscal year ended June 30 of that respective year and references to 2025 or â€œfiscalâ€ 2025 refer to the fiscal year ending June 30, 2025.All dollar amounts in the consolidated financial statements, notes and tables have been rounded to the nearest thousands, except par values and per share amounts, unless otherwise indicated.ReclassificationsCertain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform with current year presentation on the consolidated balance sheets related to assets held for sale to include it as part of prepaid expenses and other current assets. There were no reclassifications made to the consolidated statement of operations, consolidated statements of changes in stockholdersâ€™ equity or consolidated statements of cash flows.Use of Estimates The financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (â€œU.S. GAAPâ€). The accounting principles used required the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and amounts of income and expenses during the reporting periods presented. Actual results could differ from those estimates. These estimates include, among others, variable consideration related to revenue recognition for trade promotions and sales incentives, valuation of accounts and chargeback receivables, valuation of long-lived assets, goodwill and intangible assets (acquired in business combinations and analysis of impairment), stock-based compensation for market awards, and valuation allowances for deferred tax assets. 2.SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND PRACTICESCash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include cash in banks, commercial paper and deposits with financial institutions that can be liquidated without prior notice or penalty. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.In addition, cash and cash equivalents are maintained with several financial institutions. Deposits held with banks may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits. Generally, these deposits may be redeemed upon demand.51 Table of ContentsÂ Revenue RecognitionThe Company sells its products through specialty and natural food distributors, supermarkets, natural foods stores, mass-market and e-commerce retailers, food service channels and club, drug and convenience stores worldwide. The majority of the Companyâ€™s revenue contracts represent a single performance obligation related to the fulfillment of customer orders for the purchase of products. The Company recognizes revenue as performance obligations are fulfilled when control passes to customers, which is typically upon delivery of the products to its customers. Customer contracts typically contain standard terms and conditions. In instances where formal written contracts are not in place, the Company considers the customer purchase orders to be contracts based on the criteria outlined in Accounting Standard Codification (â€œASCâ€) 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (â€œASC 606â€). Payment terms and conditions vary by customer and are based on the billing schedule established in contracts or purchase orders with customers, but the Company generally provides credit terms to customers ranging from 30-91 days. Therefore, the Company has concluded that contracts do not include a significant financing component.Sales include shipping and handling charges billed to the customer and are reported net of discounts, trade promotions and sales incentives, consumer coupon programs and other costs, including estimated allowances for returns, allowances and discounts associated with aged or potentially unsalable product, and prompt pay discounts. Shipping and handling costs are accounted for as a fulfillment activity of promise to transfer products to customers and are included in the cost of sales line item on the consolidated statements of operations.Variable ConsiderationIn addition to fixed contract consideration, many of the Companyâ€™s contracts include some form of variable consideration. The Company offers various trade promotions and sales incentive programs to customers and consumers, such as price discounts, slotting fees, in-store display incentives, cooperative advertising programs, new product introduction fees and coupons. The expenses associated with these programs are accounted for as reductions to the transaction price of the products and are therefore deducted from sales to determine reported net sales. Trade promotions and sales incentive accruals are subject to significant management estimates and assumptions. The critical assumptions used in estimating the accruals for trade promotions and sales incentives include the Companyâ€™s estimate of expected levels of performance and redemption rates. The Company exercises judgment in developing these assumptions. These assumptions are based upon historical performance of the retailer or distributor customers with similar types of promotions adjusted for current trends. The Company regularly reviews and revises, when deemed necessary, estimates of costs to the Company for these promotions and incentives based on what has been incurred by the customers. The terms of most of the promotion and incentive arrangements do not exceed a year and therefore do not require highly uncertain long-term estimates. Settlement of these liabilities typically occurs in subsequent periods primarily through an authorization process for deductions taken by a customer from amounts otherwise due to the Company. Differences between estimated expense and actual promotion and incentive costs are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined. Actual expenses may differ if the level of redemption rates and performance were to vary from estimates.Costs to Obtain or Fulfill a ContractAs the Companyâ€™s contracts are generally shorter than one year, the Company has elected a practical expedient under ASC 606 that allows the Company to expense as incurred the incremental costs of obtaining a contract if the contract period is for one year or less. These costs are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations.Valuation of Accounts and Chargebacks Receivable and Concentration of Credit RiskThe Company routinely performs credit evaluations on existing and new customers and maintains an allowance for expected uncollectible accounts receivable which is recorded as an offset to trade accounts receivable on the consolidated balance sheets. Collectability of accounts receivable is assessed by applying a historical loss-rate methodology in accordance with ASC Topic 326, Financial Instruments - Credit Losses, adjusted as necessary based on the Company's review of accounts receivable on an individual basis, specifically identifying customers with known disputes or collectability issues, and experience with trade receivable aging categories. The Company also considers market conditions and current and expected future economic conditions to inform adjustments to historical loss data. Changes to the allowance, if any, are classified as bad debt provisions within selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations. Credit losses have been within the Companyâ€™s expectations in recent years. While one of the Companyâ€™s customers represented approximately 19% and 18% of trade receivables balances as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, the Company believes that there is no significant or unusual credit exposure at this time.52 Table of ContentsÂ Based on cash collection history and other statistical analysis, the Company estimates the amount of unauthorized deductions customers have taken that the Company expects will be collected and repaid in the near future and records a chargeback receivable which is a component of trade receivables. Differences between estimated collectible receivables and actual collections are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined.Sales to one customer and its affiliates approximated 18%, 16% and 15% of sales during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.Inventory Inventory is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value, utilizing the first-in, first-out method. The Company provides write-downs for finished goods expected to become unsaleable due to age and specifically identifies and provides for slow moving or obsolete raw ingredients and packaging.Property, Plant and EquipmentProperty, plant and equipment is carried at cost and depreciated or amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives or lease term (for leasehold improvements), whichever is shorter. The Company believes the useful lives assigned to the Companyâ€™s property, plant and equipment are within ranges generally used in consumer products manufacturing and distribution businesses. The Companyâ€™s manufacturing plants and distribution centers, and their related assets, are reviewed when impairment indicators are present by analyzing underlying cash flow projections. The Company believes no impairment of the carrying value of such assets exists other than as disclosed under Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net. Ordinary repairs and maintenance costs are expensed as incurred. The Company utilizes the following ranges of asset lives:Â Buildings and improvements Â 10Â - 40Â years Machinery and equipment Â 3Â - 20Â years Furniture and fixtures Â 3Â - 15Â years Â Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of the respective initial lease term or the estimated useful life of the assets, and generally range from 3 to 20 years.Software that is developed for internal use is recorded as a component of property, plant and equipment. Qualifying costs incurred to develop internal-use software are capitalized when (i) the preliminary project stage is completed, (ii) management has authorized further funding for the completion of the project and (iii) it is probable that the project will be completed and perform as intended. These capitalized costs include compensation for employees who develop internal-use software and external costs related to development of internal-use software. Capitalization of these costs ceases once the project is substantially complete and the software is ready for its intended purpose. Once placed into service, internally developed software is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life which generally ranges from 3 to 10 years. All other expenditures, including those incurred in order to maintain the assetâ€™s current level of performance, are expensed as incurred. The net book value of internally developed software as of June 30, 2024 and 2023 was $12,240 and $13,576, respectively, and is included as a component of Computer Hardware and Software in Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net.Goodwill and Other Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized but rather are tested at least annually for impairment, or when circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the asset may not be recoverable. The Company performs its annual test for impairment at the beginning of the fourth quarter of its fiscal year.Goodwill is tested for impairment at the reporting unit level. A reporting unit is an operating segment or a component of an operating segment. Goodwill is tested for impairment by either performing a qualitative evaluation or a quantitative test. The qualitative evaluation is an assessment of factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, including goodwill. The Company may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment for some or all reporting units and perform a quantitative impairment test. The impairment test for goodwill requires the Company to compare the fair value of a reporting unit to its carrying value. The Company uses a blended analysis of a discounted cash flow model and a market valuation approach to determine the fair values of its reporting units. If the carrying value of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, the Company would then compare the carrying value of the goodwill to its implied fair value in order to determine the amount of the impairment, if any.Indefinite-lived intangible assets, which are not amortized, consist primarily of acquired trademarks and tradenames. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are evaluated on an annual basis in conjunction with the Companyâ€™s evaluation of goodwill, or on an interim basis if and when events or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of any of its 53 Table of ContentsÂ indefinite-lived intangible assets below their carrying value. In assessing fair value, the Company utilizes a â€œrelief from royaltyâ€ methodology. This approach involves two steps: (i) estimating the royalty rates for each trademark and (ii) applying these royalty rates to a projected net sales stream and discounting the resulting cash flows to determine fair value. If the carrying value of the indefinite-lived intangible assets exceeds the fair value of the assets, the carrying value is written down to fair value in the period identified. This method includes significant management assumptions such as revenue growth rates, weighted average cost of capital and assumed royalty rates. See Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets and Note 15, Fair Value Measurements, for additional information on goodwill and intangibles impairment charges.Transfer of Financial AssetsThe Company accounts for transfers of financial assets, such as non-recourse accounts receivable financing arrangements, when the Company has surrendered control over the related assets. Determining whether control has transferred requires an evaluation of relevant legal considerations, an assessment of the nature and extent of the Companyâ€™s continuing involvement with the assets transferred and any other relevant considerations. The Company has non-recourse financing arrangements in which eligible receivables are sold to third-party buyers in exchange for cash. The Company transferred accounts receivable in their entirety to the buyers and satisfied all of the conditions to report the transfer of financial assets in their entirety as a sale. The principal amount of receivables sold under these arrangements was $284,891, $380,683 and $170,737 during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. The incremental cost of financing receivables under these arrangements is included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the Companyâ€™s consolidated statements of operations. The proceeds from the sale of receivables are included in cash provided by operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows.Cost of SalesIncluded in cost of sales are the cost of products sold, including the costs of raw materials and labor and overhead required to produce the products, warehousing, distribution, supply chain costs, as well as costs associated with shipping and handling of inventory.Foreign Currency Translation and RemeasurementThe assets and liabilities of international operations are translated at the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Revenue and expense accounts are translated at the monthly average exchange rates. Adjustments arising from the translation of the foreign currency financial statements of the Companyâ€™s international operations are reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive loss on the consolidated balance sheets. Gains and losses arising from intercompany foreign currency transactions that are of a long-term nature are reported in the same manner as translation adjustments.Gains and losses arising from intercompany foreign currency transactions that are not of a long-term nature and certain transactions of the Companyâ€™s subsidiaries which are denominated in currencies other than the subsidiariesâ€™ functional currency are recognized as incurred in other expense (income), net on the consolidated statements of operations.Selling, General and Administrative Expenses Included in selling, general and administrative expenses are advertising costs, promotion costs not paid directly to the Companyâ€™s customers, salary and related benefit costs of the Companyâ€™s employees in the finance, human resources, information technology, legal, sales and marketing functions, facility related costs of the Companyâ€™s administrative functions, research and development costs, and costs paid to consultants and third party providers for related services.Research and Development Costs Research and development costs are expensed as incurred and are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations. Research and development costs amounted to $5,366 in fiscal 2024, $6,379 in fiscal 2023 and $9,416 in fiscal 2022, consisting primarily of personnel related costs. The Companyâ€™s research and development expenditures do not include the expenditures on such activities undertaken by co-packers and suppliers who develop numerous products on behalf of the Company and on their own initiative with the expectation that the Company will accept their new product ideas and market them under the Companyâ€™s brands.Advertising CostsAdvertising costs, which are included in selling, general and administrative expenses, amounted to $34,736 in fiscal 2024, $38,838 in fiscal 2023 and $41,032 in fiscal 2022. Such costs are expensed as incurred.54 Table of ContentsÂ Proceeds from Insurance ClaimsIn fiscal 2024, 2023, and 2022, the Company received $1,297, $8,594 and $196 of proceeds from insurance claims, respectively, which are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations.Income TaxesThe Company follows the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at enacted rates in effect in the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. The Company also assesses the likelihood of future realization of deferred tax assets, including recent earnings results within taxing jurisdictions, expectations of future taxable income, the carryforward periods available and other relevant factors. Valuation allowances are provided for deferred tax assets to the extent it is more likely than not that the deferred tax assets will not be recoverable against future taxable income. The Company recognizes liabilities for uncertain tax positions based on a two-step process prescribed by the authoritative guidance. The first step requires the Company to determine if the weight of available evidence indicates that the tax position has met the threshold for recognition; therefore, the Company must evaluate whether it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained on audit, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The second step requires the Company to measure the tax benefit of the tax position taken, or expected to be taken, in an income tax return as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The Company reevaluates the uncertain tax positions each period based on factors including, but not limited to, changes in facts or circumstances, changes in tax law, effectively settled issues under audit, and new audit activity. Depending on the jurisdiction, such a change in recognition or measurement may result in the recognition of a tax benefit or an additional charge to the tax provision in the period. The Company records interest and penalties in the provision for income taxes.Fair Value of Financial Instruments The fair value of financial instruments is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. At June 30, 2024 and 2023, the carrying values of financial instruments such as accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses and other current liabilities, as well as borrowings under the Companyâ€™s credit facility and other borrowings, approximated fair value based upon either the short-term maturities or market interest rates of these instruments.Derivative Instruments and Hedging ActivitiesASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging (â€œASC 815â€), provides the disclosure requirements for derivatives and hedging activities with the intent to provide users of financial statements with an enhanced understanding of: (a) how and why an entity uses derivative instruments, (b) how the entity accounts for derivative instruments and related hedged items and (c) how derivative instruments and related hedged items affect an entityâ€™s financial position, financial performance and cash flows. Further, qualitative disclosures are required that explain the Companyâ€™s objectives and strategies for using derivatives, as well as quantitative disclosures about the fair value of and gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative instruments.The Company records all derivatives on the consolidated balance sheets at fair value. The accounting for changes in the fair value of derivatives depends on the intended use of the derivative, whether the Company has elected to designate a derivative in a hedging relationship and apply hedge accounting and whether the hedging relationship has satisfied the criteria necessary to apply hedge accounting. Derivatives designated and qualifying as a hedge of the exposure to changes in the fair value of an asset, liability or firm commitment attributable to a particular risk, such as interest rate risk, are considered fair value hedges. Derivatives designated and qualifying as a hedge of the exposure to variability in expected future cash flows, or other types of forecasted transactions, are considered cash flow hedges. Derivatives may also be designated as hedges of the foreign currency exposure of a net investment in a foreign operation. Hedge accounting generally provides for the matching of the timing of gain or loss recognition on the hedging instrument with the recognition of the changes in the fair value of the hedged asset or liability that are attributable to the hedged risk in a fair value hedge or the earnings effect of the hedged forecasted transactions in a cash flow hedge. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivative instruments that qualify for cash flow hedge and net investment hedge accounting treatment are recognized in stockholdersâ€™ equity as a component of accumulated other comprehensive loss until the hedged item is recognized in earnings. Changes in the fair value of fair value hedges, derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting treatment, as well as the ineffective portion of any cash flow hedges, are recognized currently in earnings as a component of interest and other financing expense, net on the consolidated statements of operations. The Company reports cash flows arising from derivative instruments consistent with the classification of cash flows from the underlying hedged items that these derivatives are hedging. Accordingly, the cash flows associated with derivatives designated as cash flow hedges and fair value hedges are classified in cash flows from operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows. The Company may enter into derivative contracts that are intended to economically hedge certain of its risks, even though hedge accounting does not apply, or the Company elects not to apply hedge accounting.55 Table of ContentsÂ Stock-Based Compensation The Company uses the fair market value of the Companyâ€™s common stock on the grant date to measure fair value for service-based awards and a Monte Carlo simulation model to determine the fair value of market-based awards. The Company uses historical volatility to calculate the expected volatility matching the expected holding period. The fair value of stock-based compensation awards is recognized as an expense over the vesting period using the straight-line method. For awards that contain a market condition, expense is recognized over the defined or derived service period using a Monte Carlo simulation model. Compensation expense is recognized for these awards on a straight-line basis over the service period, regardless of the eventual number of shares that are earned based upon the market condition, provided that each grantee remains an employee at the end of the performance period. Compensation expense on awards that contain a market condition is reversed if at any time during the service period a grantee is no longer an employee.The Company recognizes forfeitures as they occur at which time compensation cost previously recognized for an award that is forfeited because of failure to satisfy a condition is reversed in the period of the forfeiture.The Company receives an income tax deduction in certain tax jurisdictions for restricted stock grants when they vest and for stock options exercised by employees equal to the excess of the market value of the Companyâ€™s common stock on the date of exercise over the option price. Excess tax benefits (tax benefits resulting from tax deductions in excess of compensation cost recognized) are classified as a cash flow provided by operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows. Valuation of Long-Lived Assets The Company periodically evaluates the carrying value of long-lived assets held and used in the business and with definite lives, when events and circumstances occur indicating that the carrying amount of the asset or its asset group may not be recoverable. An impairment test is performed when the estimated undiscounted cash flows associated with the asset or asset group is less than its carrying value. Once such impairment test is performed, a loss is recognized based on the amount, if any, by which the carrying value exceeds the estimated fair value for assets to be held and used.See Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net, Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, and Note 15, Fair Value Measurements, for additional information on long-lived asset impairment charges.LeasesArrangements containing leases are evaluated as an operating or finance lease at lease inception. For operating leases, the Company recognizes an operating lease right-of-use (â€œROUâ€) asset and operating lease liability at lease commencement based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term.With the exception of certain finance leases, an implicit rate of return is not readily determinable for the Company's leases. For these leases, an incremental borrowing rate is used in determining the present value of lease payments and is calculated based on information available at the lease commencement date. The incremental borrowing rate is determined using a portfolio approach based on the rate of interest the Company would have to pay to borrow funds on a collateralized basis over a similar term. The Company references market yield curves which are risk-adjusted to approximate a collateralized rate in the currency of the lease. These rates are updated on a quarterly basis for measurement of new lease obligations.The Companyâ€™s lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised. Leases with an initial term of 12 months or less are not recognized on the consolidated balance sheets. The Company has elected to separate lease and non-lease components.Net Loss Per ShareBasic net loss per share is computed by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted net loss per share reflects the potential dilution that would occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock.Recently Issued and Adopted Accounting PronouncementsIn July 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (â€œFASBâ€) issued Accounting Standards Update (â€œASUâ€) 2023-03, â€œPresentation of Financial Statement (Topic 205), Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive Income (Topic 220), Distinguishing Liabilities from Equity (Topic 480), Equity (Topic505), and Compensation - Stock Compensation (Topic 718)â€, to amend various SEC paragraphs in the ASC to reflect the issuance of SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 120, among other things. The Company adopted this conforming guidance upon issuance, which had no material impact on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures.56 Table of ContentsÂ Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet AdoptedIn December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, â€œIncome Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosuresâ€, which will require entities to disclose more detailed information in the reconciliation of their statutory tax rate to their effective tax rate. The ASU also requires entities to disclose more detailed information about income taxes paid, including by jurisdiction, pretax income (loss) from continuing operations, and income tax expense (benefit). The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2025. The amendments should be applied on a prospective basis. Retrospective application is permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the provisions of the amendments and the effect on its future consolidated financial statements.In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07, â€œSegment Reporting (Topic 280), Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosuresâ€, which updates reportable segment disclosure requirements primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments should be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. The Company is currently evaluating the provisions of the amendments and the effect on its future consolidated financial statements. 3.(LOSS) EARNINGS PER SHAREThe following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted net (loss) income per share on the consolidated statements of operations:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Numerator: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Net (loss) income Â $ (75,042) Â $ (116,537) Â $ 77,873 Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Denominator: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Basic weighted average shares outstanding Â Â 89,750 Â Â Â 89,396 Â Â Â 92,989 Â Effect of dilutive stock options, unvested restricted share units and unvested performance share units Â Â â€” Â Â Â â€” Â Â Â 356 Â Diluted weighted average shares outstanding Â Â 89,750 Â Â Â 89,396 Â Â Â 93,345 Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Basic net (loss) income per common share Â $ (0.84) Â $ (1.30) Â $ 0.84 Â Diluted net (loss) income per common share Â $ (0.84) Â $ (1.30) Â $ 0.83 Â Â Due to the Company's net loss in each of the twelve months ended June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023, all common stock equivalents such as stock options, unvested restricted share units and performance share units have been excluded from the computation of diluted net loss per share. The effect of the stock options and unvested restricted share units would have been anti-dilutive to the computations. The performance share units were contingently issuable based on market conditions and such conditions had not been achieved during the year.There were 316 restricted share units excluded from the Companyâ€™s calculation of diluted net income per share for fiscal year 2022, as such awards were anti-dilutive.Additionally, 214 performance share units were excluded from the calculation of diluted net income per share for fiscal year 2022, as such awards were contingently issuable based on market or performance conditions, and such conditions had not been achieved during the year. The Company determined that the carrying amount of the ParmCrispsÂ® asset group exceeded its estimated fair value. The Company recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $5,875 to reduce the carrying amount of ParmCrispsÂ® machinery and equipment to its estimated fair value. The fair value of machinery and equipment was determined based on an orderly liquidation value. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations.During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $20,666 related to its Bell, CA production facility in the North America reportable segment to reduce the carrying amount of such long-lived assets to their estimated fair value. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statement of operations. The impairment charge was recognized due to consolidation of the Company's manufacturing footprint.The Company recognized impairment charges of $244 and $584 during the fiscal years 2024 and 2023, respectively, relating to a facility in the North America reportable segment that was held for sale. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company completed the sale of such facility for total cash proceeds of $1,182, net of brokerage and other fees, resulting in a loss of $68, which was included as a component of other expense (income), net on the consolidated statement of operations. The facility had a net carrying value of nil and $1,250 as of June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023, respectively.During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $2,763, related to write-down of projects machinery and equipment in the International reportable segment related to the multi-year growth, transformation and restructuring program (the â€œHain Reimagined Programâ€). See Note 18, Transformation Program.During fiscal year 2022, the Company completed the sale of undeveloped land plots in Boulder, Colorado in the U.S. for total cash proceeds of $10,005, net of brokerage and other fees, resulting in a gain in the amount of $8,656, which is included as a component of other expense (income), net on the consolidated statement of operations. The Company also recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $303 during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 relating to a facility in the International reportable segment. Â 59 Table of ContentsÂ 7.LEASESThe Company leases office space, warehouse and distribution facilities, manufacturing equipment and vehicles primarily in North America and Western Europe. The Company determines if an arrangement is or contains a lease at inception. Lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the Company will exercise that option. The Companyâ€™s lease agreements generally do not contain residual value guarantees or material restrictive covenants. Some of the Companyâ€™s leases contain variable lease payments, which are expensed as incurred unless those payments are based on an index or rate. Variable lease payments based on an index or rate are initially measured using the index or rate in effect at lease commencement and included in the measurement of the lease liability; thereafter, changes to lease payments due to rate or index changes are recorded as variable lease expense in the period incurred. The Company does not have any related party leases, and sublease transactions are de minimis.The components of lease expenses for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022 were as follows:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Operating lease expenses Â $ 17,446 Â Â $ 18,173 Â Â $ 15,911 Â Finance lease expenses Â Â 147 Â Â Â 227 Â Â Â 251 Â Variable lease expenses Â Â 723 Â Â Â 740 Â Â Â 1,010 Â Short-term lease expenses Â Â 1,565 Â Â Â 2,003 Â Â Â 3,394 Â Total lease expenses Â $ 19,881 Â Â $ 21,143 Â Â $ 20,566 Â Â Supplemental balance sheet information related to leases is as follows:Â Leases Â Classification Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Assets Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating lease ROU assets Â Operating lease right-of-use assets, net Â $ 86,634 Â Â Â $ 95,894 Â Finance lease ROU assets, net Â Property, plant and equipment, net Â Â 206 Â Â Â 289 Â Total leased assets Â Â Â $ 86,840 Â Â $ 96,183 Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Liabilities Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Current Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating Â Accrued expenses and other current liabilities Â $ 10,759 Â Â $ 10,489 Â Finance Â Current portion of long-term debt Â Â 85 Â Â Â 83 Â Non-current Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating Â Operating lease liabilities, noncurrent portion Â Â 80,863 Â Â Â 90,014 Â Finance Â Long-term debt, less current portion Â Â 137 Â Â Â 222 Â Total lease liabilities Â Â Â $ 91,844 Â Â $ 100,808 Â Â Additional information related to leases is as follows:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Supplemental cash flow information Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Cash paid for amounts included in the measurement of lease liabilities: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating cash flows from operating leases Â $ 16,529 Â Â $ 16,446 Â Â $ 15,462 Â Operating cash flows from finance leases Â $ 12 Â Â $ 16 Â Â $ 20 Â Financing cash flows from finance leases Â $ 81 Â Â $ 161 Â Â $ 226 Â ROU assets obtained in exchange for lease obligations: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating leases(1)(2) Â $ 4,243 Â Â $ (2,627) Â $ 39,435 Â Finance leases Â $ 35 Â Â $ 118 Â Â $ 116 Â Weighted average remaining lease term: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating leases Â 8.8Â years Â Â 10.4Â years Â Â 9.3Â years Â Finance leases Â 3.0Â years Â Â 3.9Â years Â Â 4.1Â years Â Weighted average discount rate: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Operating leases Â Â 5.0 % Â Â 4.8 % Â Â 3.9 % Finance leases Â Â 4.6 % Â Â 4.7 % Â Â 4.1 % Â 60 Table of ContentsÂ Â (1) Includes adjustment for remeasurement of an operating lease during fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, which resulted in a net reduction of an ROU asset and a corresponding reduction in lease liability of $9,375.Â (2) Includes adjustment for modification of an operating lease for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, which resulted in a reduction of ROU assets and lease liabilities of $13,876 and $17,244, respectively, and recognition of a gain of $3,368 related to the modification.Maturities of lease liabilities as of June 30, 2024 were as follows:Â Fiscal Year Â Operating leases Â Â Finance leases Â Â Total Â Â 2025 Â $ 14,680 Â Â $ 93 Â Â $ 14,773 Â Â 2026 Â Â 14,617 Â Â Â 68 Â Â Â 14,685 Â Â 2027 Â Â 13,599 Â Â Â 53 Â Â Â 13,652 Â Â 2028 Â Â 13,253 Â Â Â 25 Â Â Â 13,278 Â Â 2029 Â Â 11,990 Â Â Â â€” Â Â Â 11,990 Â Thereafter Â Â 45,740 Â Â Â Â â€” Â Â Â 45,740 Â Total lease payments Â Â 113,879 Â Â Â Â 239 Â Â Â Â 114,118 Â Less: Imputed interest Â Â 22,257 Â Â Â Â 17 Â Â Â Â 22,274 Â Total lease liabilities Â $ 91,622 Â Â $ 222 Â Â $ 91,844 Â Â Â Â Â 61 Table of ContentsÂ 8.GOODWILL AND OTHER INTANGIBLE ASSETS GoodwillThe following table shows the changes in the carrying amount of goodwill by reportable segment:Â Â North America Â Â International Â Â Total Â Balance as of June 30, 2022(1) Â $ 695,715 Â Â $ 238,081 Â Â $ 933,796 Â Acquisition(2) Â Â (794) Â Â â€” Â Â Â (794) Divestiture(3) Â Â (3,054) Â Â â€” Â Â Â (3,054) Translation Â Â 5,186 Â Â Â 3,506 Â Â Â 8,692 Â Balance as of June 30, 2023 Â Â 697,053 Â Â Â 241,587 Â Â Â 938,640 Â Divestiture(4) Â Â (6,267) Â Â Â Â (6,267) Translation Â Â (1,318) Â Â (1,751) Â Â (3,069) Balance as of June 30, 2024 Â $ 689,468 Â Â $ 239,836 Â Â $ 929,304 Â Â (1)The total carrying value of goodwill is reflected net of $134,277 of accumulated impairment charges, of which $7,700 is related to the North America reportable segment and $126,577 is related to the International reportable segment. (2)During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company finalized purchase accounting related to â€œThat's How We Rollâ€ (â€œTHWRâ€) resulting in a $794 reduction to goodwill. (3)During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company completed the divestiture of WestbraeÂ®, a component of the North America reportable segment. Goodwill of $3,054 was assigned to the divested component on a relative fair value basis.(4)During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company completed the divestitures of ThinstersÂ® and Queen HeleneÂ®, both were components of the North America reportable segment. Goodwill of $5,732 and $535 was assigned to divested components of ThinstersÂ® and Queen HeleneÂ®, respectively, on a relative fair value basis.During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, as a result of the significant decline in the Companyâ€™s market capitalization and the same factors triggering the interim impairment tests for the ParmCrispsÂ® and ThinstersÂ® trademarks, certain North America personal care tradenames, and other intangible assets, the Company completed an interim impairment test of all reporting units. For the United Kingdom (â€œU.K.â€), Western Europe, Canada, and Ella's Kitchen UK reporting units, the Company performed a qualitative evaluation to assess factors to determine whether it was more likely than not that the fair value of the reporting units were less than their carrying amounts, including goodwill. The Company concluded that the qualitatively tested reporting units estimated fair values exceeded their carrying amounts. Three of these reporting units (U.K., Western Europe and Canada) were quantitatively tested in fiscal 2023 and as of the last quantitative testing date, their estimated fair values exceeded their respective carrying amounts by more than 17.0%.During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company completed an interim quantitative impairment test of goodwill in the U.S. reporting unit and concluded that the reporting unitâ€™s estimated fair value exceeded its carrying amount. The fair value of the reporting unit was estimated utilizing a blended approach which included an income approach utilizing the Discounted Cash Flows Method and the Guideline Public Company Methodology, a market-based approach.The Company completed this interim quantitative impairment test of goodwill in the U.S. reporting unit and concluded that the reporting unitâ€™s estimated fair value exceeded its carrying amount by 6.2%. The Company also completed its annual goodwill impairment analysis on April 1, 2024 (the first day of the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024) and concluded that no impairment existed at any of its reporting units. At June 30, 2024, the goodwill related to the U.S. reporting unit was at risk of potential impairment if the fair value of this reporting unit, and its associated assets, decrease in value due to the amount and timing of expected future cash flows, decreased customer demand for products, an inability to execute managementâ€™s business strategies, or general market conditions, such as economic downturns, and changes in interest rates, including discount rates. Future cash flow estimates are, by their nature, subjective, and actual results may differ materially from the Companyâ€™s estimates. If the Companyâ€™s ongoing cash flow projections are not met or if market factors utilized in the impairment test deteriorate, including an unfavorable change in the terminal growth rate or the weighted-average cost of capital, the Company may have to record impairment charges in future periods. As of June 30, 2024, goodwill associated with the U.S. reporting unit had a carrying value of $641,053.Â 62 Table of ContentsÂ Other Intangible AssetsThe following table sets forth balance sheet information for intangible assets, excluding goodwill, subject to amortization and intangible assets not subject to amortization:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Non-amortized intangible assets: Â Â Â Â Â Â Trademarks and tradenames(1) Â $ 195,237 Â Â $ 250,860 Â Amortized intangible assets: Â Â Â Â Â Â Other intangibles(2)(3) Â Â 167,886 Â Â Â 161,874 Â Less: Accumulated amortization Â Â (118,324) Â Â (114,629) Net amortized intangible assets Â $ 49,562 Â Â $ 47,245 Â Net other intangible assets Â $ 244,799 Â Â $ 298,105 Â Â (1)The gross carrying value of trademarks and tradenames is reflected net of $251,551 and $223,981 of accumulated impairment charges as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.(2)The reduction in carrying value of other intangible assets as of June 30, 2024 reflected a non-cash impairment charge of $17,032 and $45,798 recognized in the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.(3)During the fiscal year 2024, the useful life for certain North America personal care tradenames (namely, Avalon OrganicsÂ®, and JASONÂ®), the MaraNathaÂ® trademark, and the trademarks for the plant-based beverage brands: Happyâ„¢ and JoyaÂ® was changed from indefinite to definite. The carrying value of such intangible assets as of June 30, 2024 was $27,259. During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company recorded a non-cash impairment charge of $10,797 related to the indefinite and definite lived intangible assets associated with ThinstersÂ® in connection with the probable sale of the ThinstersÂ® cookie business. The Company concluded that as of March 31, 2024, there was a high probability that the sale of the ThinstersÂ® business would occur and therefore, a quantitative impairment test was performed. To determine the amount of the impairment, the Company compared the carrying amount of the ThinstersÂ® assets to its estimated fair value (which was the expected selling price less transaction costs).During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $12,815 and $8,000 for certain North America personal care tradenames (namely, Alba BotanicaÂ®, Avalon OrganicsÂ®, and JASONÂ®) and the ParmCrispsÂ® trademark, respectively, to reduce the carrying amounts of such intangible assets to their estimated fair values of $13,000 and nil, respectively. The fair value was determined using the relief from royalty method, and impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The assets are part of the North America reportable segment. As a result of the same factors triggering the interim impairment tests for the ParmCrispsÂ® trademark, the Company completed impairment tests of the ParmCrispsÂ® asset group, which was primarily comprised of amortizable customer relationships, machinery and equipment and operating lease right-of-use assets. The Company determined that the carrying amount of the ParmCrispsÂ® asset group exceeded the estimated fair value. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $10,586 to reduce the carrying amount of the ParmCrispsÂ® customer relationships to their estimated fair value which was determined using a discounted cash flow analysis. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The customer relationship intangible asset was part of the North America reportable segment and was fully impaired.In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company quantitatively tested another intangible asset. The assessment indicated that the carrying value of the trademarks associated with its plant-based beverage brands, Happyâ„¢ and JoyaÂ®, exceeded its estimated fair value. The fair value was determined using the relief from royalty method, and a non-cash impairment charge of $2,260 was recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The Happyâ„¢ and JoyaÂ® intangible assets are part of the International reportable segment and had a remaining aggregate carrying value of $3,761 as of June 30, 2024.During the fourth quarter of fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $4,767, $4,691 and $9,150 for ImagineÂ®, JoyaÂ®, and Queen HeleneÂ® intangible assets, respectively, to reduce the carrying amount of such intangible assets to their estimated fair value. The fair values were determined using the relief from royalty method, and impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The ImagineÂ® and Queen HeleneÂ® intangible assets are part of the North America reportable segment and had a remaining aggregate carrying value of $3,100 as of June 30, 2024. The JoyaÂ® intangible assets are part of the International reportable segment and had a remaining aggregate carrying value of $3,761 as of June 30, 2024.63 Table of ContentsÂ During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $102,000 and $8,500 for the ParmCrispsÂ® and ThinstersÂ® trademarks, respectively, to reduce the carrying amount of such intangible assets to their estimated fair value. The fair values were determined using the relief from royalty method, and impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The assets are part of the North America reportable segment and were fully impaired as of June 30, 2024. As a result of the same factors triggering the interim impairment tests for the ParmCrispsÂ® and ThinstersÂ® trademarks, the Company completed interim impairment tests of the ParmCrispsÂ® and ThinstersÂ® asset groups, which were primarily comprised of amortizable customer relationships. The Company determined that the carrying amount of the ParmCrispsÂ® asset groupâ€™s exceeded its estimated fair value. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $45,798 to reduce the carrying amount of the ParmCrispsÂ® customer relationships, the primary asset in the asset group, to their estimated fair value. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The fair value of the ThinstersÂ® asset group exceeded its carrying amount. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company completed the sale of the ThinstersÂ® business as discussed in Note 4,

The Credit Agreement provides for senior secured financing of $1,100 million in the aggregate, consisting of (1) $300 million in aggregate principal amount of term loans (the â€œTerm Loansâ€) and (2) an $800 million senior secured revolving credit facility (which includes borrowing capacity available for letters of credit, and is comprised of a $440 million U.S. revolving credit facility and $360 million global revolving credit facility) (the â€œRevolverâ€). Both the Revolver and the Term Loans mature on December 22, 2026. The Companyâ€™s obligations under the Credit Agreement are guaranteed by certain existing and future domestic subsidiaries of the Company and are secured by liens on assets of the Company and its material domestic subsidiaries, including the equity interest in each of their direct subsidiaries and intellectual property, subject to agreed-upon exceptions.The Credit Agreement includes financial covenants that require compliance with a consolidated secured leverage ratio, a consolidated leverage ratio and a consolidated interest coverage ratio. Pursuant to the Second Amendment, the Companyâ€™s maximum consolidated secured leverage ratio was amended to be 5.00:1.00 until September 30, 2023, 5.25:1.00 until December 31, 2023 and 5.00:1.00 until December 31, 2024 (the period of time during which such maximum consolidated secured leverage ratios are in effect, the â€œSecond Amendment Periodâ€). Following the Second Amendment Period, the maximum consolidated secured leverage ratio will be 4.25:1.00, subject to possible temporary increase following certain corporate acquisitions. Pursuant to the Credit Agreement, the Companyâ€™s maximum consolidated leverage ratio is 6.00:1.00. Pursuant to the Second Amendment, the Companyâ€™s minimum interest coverage ratio was amended to be 2.50:1.00.Â During the Second Amendment Period, loans under the Credit Agreement bears interest at (a) Term SOFR plus 2.5% per annum or (b) the Base Rate plus 1.5% per annum. Following the Second Amendment Period, loans bear interest at rates based on (a) Term SOFR plus a rate ranging from 1.125% to 2.0% per annum or (b) the Base Rate plus a rate ranging from 0.125% to 1.0% per annum, the relevant rate in each case being the Applicable Rate. The Applicable Rate following the Second Amendment Period is determined in accordance with a leverage-based pricing grid, as set forth in the Credit Agreement as amended by the Second Amendment. Excluding the impact of hedges, the weighted average interest rate on outstanding borrowings under the Credit Agreement at June 30, 2024 was 7.97%. During fiscal 2022, the Company used interest rate swaps to hedge a portion of the interest rate risk related its outstanding variable rate debt. As of June 30, 2024, the notional amount of the interest rate swaps was $400 million with fixed rate payments of 5.60%. Including the impact of hedges, the weighted average interest rate on outstanding borrowings under the Credit Agreement at June 30, 2024 was 6.83%. Additionally, the Credit Agreement contains a Commitment Fee (as defined in the Credit Agreement) on the amount unused under the Credit Agreement ranging from 0.15% to 0.25% per annum, and such Commitment Fee is determined in accordance with a leverage-based pricing grid.As of June 30, 2024, there were $475,000 of loans under the Revolver, $270,550 of Term Loans, and $3,247 of letters of credit outstanding under the Credit Agreement. As of June 30, 2024, $321,753 was available under the Credit Agreement, subject to compliance with the financial covenants. As of June 30, 2024, the Company was in compliance with all associated covenants.65 Table of ContentsÂ Credit Agreement Issuance CostsIn connection with the First Amendment to its Credit Agreement during the second quarter of fiscal year 2023, the Company incurred debt issuance costs of approximately $1,987, of which $1,916 was deferred. Of the total deferred costs, $1,396 were associated with the Revolver and are being amortized on a straight-line basis within other assets on the consolidated balance sheets, and $520 are being amortized on a straight-line basis, which approximates the effective interest method, as an adjustment to the carrying amount of the Term Loans as a component of Interest and other financing expense, net over the term of the Credit Agreement.In connection with the Second Amendment to its Credit Agreement during the first quarter of fiscal year 2024, the Company incurred debt issuance costs of approximately $3,854, of which $3,813 was deferred. Of the total deferred costs, $2,802 were associated with the Revolver and are being amortized on a straight-line basis within other assets on the consolidated balance sheets, and $1,011 are being recorded as an adjustment to the carrying amount of the Term Loans as a component of Interest and other financing expense, net over the term of the Credit Agreement utilizing the effective interest rate method.Maturities of all debt instruments, excluding unamortized issuance costs, at June 30, 2024, are as follows:Â Due in Fiscal Year Â Amount Â 2025 Â $ 7,585 Â 2026 Â Â 7,563 Â 2027 Â Â 730,624 Â Total debt and borrowings Â $ 745,772 Â Â Interest paid during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022 amounted to $52,456, $41,698 and $9,926, respectively. This negative evidence resulted in the Company increasing the valuation allowance on worldwide deferred tax assets in the year ended June 30, 2024 by $15,075, and in the year ended June 30, 2023 by $14,935.Â U.S. federal tax regulations include a provision to tax global intangible low-taxed income (â€œGILTIâ€) of foreign subsidiaries and a measure to tax certain intercompany payments under the base erosion anti-abuse tax (â€œBEATâ€) regime. For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, the Company did not generate intercompany transactions that met the BEAT threshold but does have to include GILTI tax relating to the Companyâ€™s foreign subsidiaries. 67 Table of ContentsÂ The Company elected to account for GILTI tax as a current period cost and recorded expense of $381 during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024. The GILTI tax expense is included in the U.S. tax benefit on foreign earnings in the effective tax rate which also includes tax expense related to Subpart F income and unremitted earnings in total.Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts for income tax purposes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities consisted of the following:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Noncurrent deferred tax assets (liabilities): Â Â Â Â Â Â Basis difference on inventory Â $ 4,884 Â Â $ 5,130 Â Reserves not currently deductible Â Â 8,386 Â Â Â 11,045 Â Basis difference on intangible assets Â Â (62,549) Â Â (73,635) Basis difference on property and equipment Â Â (14,946) Â Â (20,255) Other comprehensive income Â Â (2,887) Â Â (3,498) Net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards Â Â 67,186 Â Â Â 50,807 Â Stock-based compensation Â Â 1,591 Â Â Â 1,937 Â Unremitted earnings of foreign subsidiaries Â Â (1,873) Â Â (1,989) Operating lease liability Â Â 18,615 Â Â Â 20,203 Â Lease ROU assets Â Â (17,309) Â Â (19,113) Other Â Â 18,702 Â Â Â 9,833 Â Valuation allowances Â Â (67,626) Â Â (52,551) Noncurrent deferred tax liabilities, net Â $ (47,826) Â $ (72,086) Â At June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Company had U.S. federal NOL carryforwards of approximately $67,138 and $63,559, respectively, certain of which will not expire until 2033. Certain of these federal loss carryforwards are subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 382, which imposes limitations on utilization following certain changes in ownership of the entity generating the loss carryforward. The Company had foreign NOL carryforwards of approximately $9,035 and $11,351 at June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, the majority of which are indefinite lived. For the year ended June 30, 2024, the Company determined that $202,500 of foreign earnings are not permanently reinvested with a corresponding deferred tax liability of $1,873. The Company continues to reinvest $767,735 of undistributed earnings of its foreign subsidiaries and may be subject to additional foreign withholding taxes and U.S. state income taxes if it reverses its indefinite reinvestment assertion on these foreign earnings in the future. All other outside basis differences not related to earnings were impractical to account for at this period of time and are currently considered as being permanent in duration. As required by the authoritative guidance on accounting for income taxes, the Company evaluates the realizability of deferred tax assets on a jurisdictional basis at each reporting date. Accounting for income taxes requires that a valuation allowance be established when it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. In circumstances where there is sufficient negative evidence indicating that the deferred tax assets are not more likely than not realizable, the Company establishes a valuation allowance. The Company recorded valuation allowances in the amounts of $67,626 and $52,551 at June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. The changes in valuation allowances against deferred income tax assets were as follows:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Balance at beginning of year Â $ 52,551 Â Â $ 36,891 Â Additions charged to income tax expense Â Â 18,998 Â Â Â 23,212 Â Reductions credited to income tax expense Â Â (3,858) Â Â (8,514) THWR purchase accounting Â Â â€” Â Â Â 291 Â Currency translation adjustments Â Â (65) Â Â 671 Â Balance at end of year Â $ 67,626 Â Â $ 52,551 Â Â 68 Table of ContentsÂ Unrecognized tax benefits activity, including interest and penalties, is summarized below:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Balance at beginning of year Â $ 23,967 Â Â $ 21,901 Â Â $ 22,870 Â Additions based on tax positions related to the current year Â Â 1,906 Â Â Â 1,519 Â Â Â 273 Â Additions based on tax positions related to prior years Â Â 187 Â Â Â 815 Â Â Â 304 Â Reductions due to lapse in statute of limitations and settlements Â Â â€” Â Â Â (268) Â Â (1,546) Balance at end of year Â $ 26,060 Â Â $ 23,967 Â Â $ 21,901 Â Â As of June 30, 2024, the Company had $26,060 of unrecognized tax benefits, of which $22,249 represents an amount that, if recognized, would impact the effective tax rate in future periods. As of June 30, 2023, the Company had $23,967 of unrecognized tax benefits, of which $20,155 represents the amount that, if recognized, would impact the effective tax rate in future periods. As of June 30, 2022, the Company had $21,901 of unrecognized tax benefits of which $18,089 would impact the effective income tax rate in future periods. Accrued liabilities for interest and penalties were $4,921 and $3,768 at June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively. The Company and its subsidiaries file income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, various U.S. state jurisdictions and several foreign jurisdictions. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local, or non-U.S. income tax examinations by tax authorities for years prior to fiscal 2014. However, to the extent the Company generated NOLs or tax credits in closed tax years, future use of the NOL or tax credit carryforward balance would be subject to examination within the relevant statute of limitations for the year in which utilized. The Company is no longer subject to tax examinations in the U.K. for years prior to fiscal 2021. Given the uncertainty regarding when tax authorities will complete their examinations and the possible outcomes of their examinations, a current estimate of the range of reasonably possible significant increases or decreases of income tax that may occur within the next twelve months cannot be made. Although there are various tax audits currently ongoing, the Company does not believe the ultimate outcome of such audits will have a material impact on the Companyâ€™s consolidated financial statements. Accordingly, the Board of Directors is empowered to issue, without stockholder approval, preferred stock with dividends, liquidation, conversion, voting or other rights which could decrease the amount of earnings and assets available for distribution to holders of the Companyâ€™s common stock. At June 30, 2024 and 2023, no preferred stock was issued or outstanding.Accumulated Other Comprehensive LossThe following table presents the changes in accumulated other comprehensive loss (â€œAOCLâ€):Â Â ForeignCurrencyTranslationAdjustment,Net Â Â DeferredGains onCash FlowHedgingInstruments,Net Â Â DeferredGains (Losses) onFair ValueHedgingInstruments,Net Â Â DeferredGains (Losses) on NetInvestmentHedgingInstruments,Net Â Â Total Â Balance at June 30, 2021 Â $ (66,109) Â $ (281) Â $ â€” Â Â $ (6,618) Â $ (73,008) Other comprehensive (loss) income before reclassifications Â Â (102,116) Â Â 3,511 Â Â Â 559 Â Â Â 9,954 Â Â Â (88,092) Amounts reclassified into income Â Â â€” Â Â Â (2,711) Â Â (59) Â Â (612) Â Â (3,382) Net change in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022(1) Â Â (102,116) Â Â 800 Â Â Â 500 Â Â Â 9,342 Â Â Â (91,474) Balance at June 30, 2022 Â Â (168,225) Â Â 519 Â Â Â 500 Â Â Â 2,724 Â Â Â (164,482) Other comprehensive income (loss) before reclassifications Â Â 30,197 Â Â Â 15,390 Â Â Â (249) Â Â (1,022) Â Â 44,316 Â Amounts reclassified into (income) loss Â Â â€” Â Â Â (5,011) Â Â 434 Â Â Â (1,473) Â Â (6,050) Net change in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023(1) Â Â 30,197 Â Â Â 10,379 Â Â Â 185 Â Â Â (2,495) Â Â 38,266 Â Balance at June 30, 2023 Â Â (138,028) Â Â 10,898 Â Â Â 685 Â Â Â 229 Â Â Â (126,216) Other comprehensive (loss) income before reclassifications Â Â (9,045) Â Â 5,545 Â Â Â 342 Â Â Â 1,390 Â Â Â (1,768) Amounts reclassified into income Â Â â€” Â Â Â (7,048) Â Â (730) Â Â (1,483) Â Â (9,261) Net change in accumulated other comprehensive loss for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024(1) Â Â (9,045) Â Â (1,503) Â Â (388) Â Â (93) Â Â (11,029) Balance at June 30, 2024 Â $ (147,073) Â $ 9,395 Â Â $ 297 Â Â $ 136 Â Â $ (137,245) Â (1)See Note 16, Derivatives and Hedging Activities, for the amounts reclassified into income for deferred gains (losses) on hedging instruments recorded in the consolidated statements of operations during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023, and 2022.Share Repurchase ProgramIn January 2022, the Companyâ€™s Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of up to $200.0 million of the Companyâ€™s issued and outstanding common stock. Repurchases may be made from time to time in the open market, pursuant to pre-set trading plans, in private transactions or otherwise. The current 2022 authorization does not have a stated expiration date. The extent to which the Company repurchases its shares and the timing of such repurchases will depend upon market conditions and other corporate considerations. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company did not repurchase any shares under the repurchase program. As of June 30, 2024, the Company had $173.5 million of remaining authorization under the share repurchase program. Â 70 Table of ContentsÂ 13.STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION AND INCENTIVE PERFORMANCE PLANSThe Company maintains a shareholder-approved plan, The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. 2022 Long Term Incentive and Stock Award Plan (the â€œ2022 Planâ€), which was approved at the Companyâ€™s 2022 Annual Meeting of Shareholders held on November 17, 2022. The 2022 Plan permits the Company to continue making equity-based and other incentive awards in a manner intended to properly incentivize its employees, directors, consultants and other service providers by aligning their interests with the interests of the Companyâ€™s shareholders. The 2022 Plan is administered by the Compensation and Talent Management Committee of the Companyâ€™s Board of Directors. The Company also historically granted shares under its Amended and Restated 2002 Long-Term Incentive and Stock Award Plan (the â€œ2002 Planâ€) and its 2019 Equity Inducement Award Program (the â€œ2019 Inducement Programâ€). The 2022 Plan, the 2002 Plan and the 2019 Inducement Program are collectively referred to as the â€œStock Award Plansâ€.Â There were 1,767, 1,242, and 873 shares underlying awards granted under the Stock Award Plans during fiscal years 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively, of which 618, 428, and 249, respectively, were performance share units (â€œPSUâ€) that are subject to the achievement of minimum market conditions or performance goals, with the remaining being restricted share units (â€œRSUâ€), which are service-based awards. RSU awards to employees generally provide for vesting in equal annual installments over a period of three years, with different vesting periods in certain cases. RSU awards to non-employee directors generally provide for a vesting period of one year. For PSU awards, the foregoing share figures are stated at target levels, and the awards outstanding at June 30, 2024 generally provide for vesting at 0% to 200% of the target level. There were no stock options granted under the Stock Award Plans during fiscal years 2024, 2023 and 2022. At June 30, 2024, there were 5,406 shares available for grant under the 2022 Plan.Stock-Based Award Activity During Past Three YearsAwards of RSUs and PSUs are issued at no cost to the recipient. Shares underlying RSUs and PSUs are not issued until vesting. Vesting of RSUs and PSUs is subject to continued employment and vesting conditions in accordance with provisions set forth in the applicable award agreements. Market-based PSUs vest contingent on meeting specific Total Shareholder Return (â€œTSRâ€) targets over a specified time period, and in prior years, the Company also granted performance-based PSUs that vested contingent on meeting specific financial results within a specified time period.Â A summary of all stock-based award activity for the last three fiscal years ended June 30 is as follows:Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Â Number ofSharesand Units Â Â WeightedAverage GrantDate Fair Value(per share) Â Â Number ofSharesand Units Â Â WeightedAverage GrantDate Fair Value(per share) Â Â Number ofSharesand Units Â Â WeightedAverage GrantDate Fair Value(per share) Â Non-vested at beginning of period - RSUs and PSUs Â Â 1,288 Â Â $ 26.37 Â Â Â 790 Â Â $ 42.44 Â Â Â 1,780 Â Â $ 16.55 Â Granted Â Â 1,768 Â Â $ 11.83 Â Â Â 1,242 Â Â $ 20.34 Â Â Â 873 Â Â $ 43.55 Â Vested Â Â (528) Â $ 27.38 Â Â Â (250) Â $ 36.23 Â Â Â (1,583) Â $ 15.61 Â Forfeited Â Â (363) Â $ 19.13 Â Â Â (494) Â $ 31.92 Â Â Â (280) Â $ 32.98 Â Non-vested at end of period - RSUs and PSUs Â Â 2,165 Â Â $ 15.03 Â Â Â 1,288 Â Â $ 26.37 Â Â Â 790 Â Â $ 42.44 Â At June 30, 2024, the non-vested amount in the table above includes a total of 849 shares that represent the target number of shares that may be earned under PSUs based on pre-defined market conditions that are eligible to vest ranging from 0% to 200% of target while the remaining shares represent the shares that may be earned under RSUs based on service-based conditions. Vested shares during the year ended June 30, 2024, include a total of 512 shares under various LTIPs and a total of 15 shares that vested based on certain performance-based metrics being met.The fair value of RSUs and PSUs granted and of shares vested, and the tax benefit recognized from restricted shares vesting, for the last three fiscal years ended June 30 was as follows:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Fair value of RSUs and PSUs granted Â $ 20,726 Â Â $ 25,258 Â Â $ 38,005 Â Fair value of RSUs and PSUs vested Â $ 5,545 Â Â $ 4,684 Â Â $ 71,376 Â Tax benefit recognized from RSUs and PSUs vesting Â $ 673 Â Â $ 631 Â Â $ 3,658 Â Â 71 Table of ContentsÂ Â At June 30, 2024, $19,400 of unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to non-vested RSUs and PSUs was expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of approximately 1.46 years.Long-Term Incentive ProgramIn conjunction with the Stock Award Plans, the Company maintains a long-term incentive program (â€œLTIPâ€) that provides for equity awards, including market-based PSUs that can be earned over defined performance periods. The participants of the LTIP include certain of the Companyâ€™s executive officers and other key executives. The LTIP is administered by the Compensation and Talent Management Committee, which is responsible for, among other items, selecting the specific performance measures for awards, setting the target performance required to receive an award after the completion of the performance period, and determining the specific payout to the participants.For RSUs, the Company uses the fair market value of the Companyâ€™s common stock on the grant date to measure fair value for service-based awards and for market-based PSUs, the Company uses a Monte Carlo simulation model to determine the fair value of those awards granted under the LTIP. The fair value of RSUs and PSUs is then used to record stock-based compensation expense. The use of the Monte Carlo simulation model requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions and therefore, the Company has included additional information regarding the terms of the PSUs granted and the inputs into the Monte Carlo simulation model below.2024-2026 LTIPDuring the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company granted market-based PSU awards under the LTIP with a total target payout of 618 shares of common stock. At June 30, 2024, there were 556 such shares outstanding under the LTIP. Such PSU awards will vest, if at all, pursuant to a defined calculation of either relative TSR or absolute TSR (as defined) over the period from October 26, 2023 through the earlier of: (i) October 25, 2026; (ii) the date the participantâ€™s employment is terminated due to death or Disability (as defined); or (iii) the effective date of a Change in Control (as defined) (the â€œ2024 TSR Performance Periodâ€). Vesting of 370 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to a defined calculation of relative TSR over the 2024 TSR Performance Period (the â€œ2024 Relative TSR PSUsâ€). Vesting of 185 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR targets over the 2024 TSR Performance Period (the â€œ2024 Absolute TSR PSUsâ€). Total shares eligible to vest for both the 2024 Relative TSR PSUs and 2024 Absolute TSR PSUs range from zero to 200% of the target amount. At June 30, 2024, 249 of such shares were outstanding. Such PSU awards will vest, if at all, pursuant to a defined calculation of either relative TSR or absolute TSR (as defined) over the period from September 6, 2022 through the earlier of: (i) September 6, 2025; (ii) the date the participantâ€™s employment is terminated due to death or Disability (as defined); or (iii) the effective date of a Change in Control (as defined) (the â€œ2023 TSR Performance Periodâ€). Vesting of 167 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to a defined calculation of relative TSR over the 2023 TSR Performance Period (the â€œ2023 Relative TSR PSUsâ€). Vesting of 82 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR targets over the 2023 TSR Performance Period (the â€œ2023 Absolute TSR PSUsâ€). Total shares eligible to vest for both the 2023 Relative TSR PSUs and 2023 Absolute TSR PSUs range from zero to 200% of the target amount. Certain shares were subject to a holding period of one year after the vesting date, resulting in an illiquidity discount being applied to the grant date fair value for such shares. There were 51 and 554 PSUs granted during fiscal years 2021 and 2020, respectively. No such awards under the 2019-2021 LTIP were granted after fiscal year 2021. Grant date fair values are calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation model. Schiller received a market-based PSU award with a target payout of 350 shares of common stock and a maximum payout of 1,050 shares of common stock (the â€œCEO Inducement Grantâ€). Vesting was pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR levels over the period from November 6, 2018 to November 6, 2021. These PSUs were subject to a holding period of one year after the vesting date. As such, an illiquidity discount was applied to the grant date fair value. The grant date fair value per target share and related valuation assumptions used in the Monte Carlo simulation to value this award were as follows:Â Grant date fair value (per target share) Â $ 21.63 Â Risk-free interest rate Â Â 2.99 % Expected dividend yield Â Â â€” Â Expected volatility Â Â 35.17 % Expected term Â 3.00Â years Â Â The total grant date fair value of the award was $7,571. This PSU award was granted outside of the Stock Award Plans. In the second quarter of fiscal 2022, the Compensation and Talent Management Committee determined that the CEO Inducement Grant vested at 100% as a result of the TSR targets having been met.CEO SuccessionOn November 22, 2022, the Board approved a succession plan pursuant to which Mark L. Schiller transitioned from his position as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company effective as of December 31, 2022 (the â€œTransition Dateâ€). As of the Transition Date, certain of Mr. Schiller's stock-based compensation awards were modified and others were forfeited. Additionally, Mr. Schiller received severance totaling $4,725, paid in installments over a two-year period following the Transition Date. Severance, including payroll taxes and other costs, was recognized during fiscal year 2023.On November 22, 2022, the Board appointed Wendy P. Davidson to the role of President and Chief Executive Officer and as a director on the Board, in each case effective as of January 1, 2023 (the â€œStart Dateâ€).Â On the Start Date, Ms. Davidson received the following awards under the 2023 - 2025 LTIP: 36 Relative TSR PSUs (at target), 18 Absolute TSR PSUs (at target) and 36 RSUs. The Relative TSR PSUs and Absolute TSR PSUs have the same TSR Performance Period, performance goals and beginning stock price as those applicable to awards granted to other employees under the 2023 - 2025 LTIP. The RSUs vest in one-third (1/3) installments on each of September 6, 2023, 2024 and 2025. Additionally, in recognition of the compensation Ms. Davidson forfeited by leaving her former employer, on the Start Date, Ms. Davidson also received a one-time make-whole RSU award of 95 RSUs that vest in one-third (1/3) installments on each of the first, second and third anniversaries of the Start Date. Although no further awards can be granted under the prior plan, the stock options outstanding continue in accordance with the terms of the plan and grant. For stock options outstanding and exercisable at June 30, 2024, the aggregate intrinsic value (the difference between the closing stock price on the last day of trading in the year and the exercise price) was $567, and the weighted average remaining contractual life was 7.0 years. The weighted average exercise price of these stock options was $2.26. At June 30, 2024, there was no unrecognized compensation expense related to stock option awards. 14.INVESTMENTSOn October 27, 2015, the Company acquired a minority equity interest in Chopâ€™t Creative Salad Company LLC, predecessor to Founders Table Restaurant Group, LLC (â€œFounders Tableâ€). Founders Table owns and operates the fast-casual restaurant chains Chopâ€™t Creative Salad Co. and Dos Toros Taqueria. The investment is being accounted for as an equity method investment due to the Companyâ€™s representation on the Board of Directors of Founders Table. At June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023, the carrying amount of the Companyâ€™s investment in Founders Table was $5,942 and $8,032, respectively, and is included in the consolidated balance sheets as a component of Investments and joint ventures.The Company also holds an investment in Hutchison Hain Organic Holdings Limited, a joint venture with HUTCHMED (China) Limited, accounted for under the equity method of accounting. The carrying amount of the remaining investments was $4,286 and $4,766 as of June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023, respectively, and is included in the consolidated balance sheets as a component of Investments and joint ventures. Â 75 Table of ContentsÂ 15.FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTSThe Companyâ€™s financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value are required to be grouped in one of three levels. The levels prioritize the inputs used to measure the fair value of the assets or liabilities. These levels are:â€¢Level 1 â€“ Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;â€¢Level 2 â€“ Quoted prices in markets that are not active, or inputs which are observable, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability; andâ€¢Level 3 â€“ Prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable (i.e., supported by little or no market activity).The following table presents by level within the fair value hierarchy, assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of June 30, 2024:Â Â Total Â Â Quotedprices inactivemarkets(Level 1) Â Â Significantotherobservableinputs(Level 2) Â Â Significantunobservableinputs(Level 3) Â Assets: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Derivative financial instruments Â $ 14,982 Â Â $ â€” Â Â $ 14,982 Â Â $ â€” Â Liabilities: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Derivative financial instruments Â $ 3,333 Â Â $ â€” Â Â $ 3,333 Â Â $ â€” Â Â The following table presents by level within the fair value hierarchy, assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of June 30, 2023:Â Â Total Â Â Quotedprices inactivemarkets(Level 1) Â Â Significantotherobservableinputs(Level 2) Â Â Significantunobservableinputs(Level 3) Â Assets: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Derivative financial instruments Â $ 16,988 Â Â $ â€” Â Â $ 16,988 Â Â $ â€” Â Liabilities: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Derivative financial instruments Â $ 3,160 Â Â $ â€” Â Â $ 3,160 Â Â $ â€” Â Â There were no transfers of financial instruments between the three levels of fair value hierarchy during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024 or 2023.Derivative InstrumentsThe Company uses interest rate swaps to manage its interest rate risk and cross-currency swaps and foreign currency exchange contracts to manage its exposure to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. The valuation of these instruments is determined using widely accepted valuation techniques, including discounted cash flow analysis on the expected cash flows of each derivative. This analysis reflects the contractual terms of the derivatives, including the period to maturity, and uses observable market-based inputs, including interest rate curves and implied volatilities. The fair values of interest rate swaps are determined using the market standard methodology of netting the discounted future fixed cash receipts (or payments) and the discounted expected variable cash payments (or receipts). The variable cash payments (or receipts) are based on an expectation of future interest rates (forward curves) derived from observable market interest rate curves.The Company incorporates credit valuation adjustments to appropriately reflect both the Companyâ€™s nonperformance risk and the respective counterpartyâ€™s nonperformance risk in the fair value measurements. In adjusting the fair value of the Companyâ€™s derivative contracts for the effect of nonperformance risk, the Company has considered the impact of netting and any applicable credit enhancements, such as collateral postings, thresholds, mutual puts and guarantees.Although the Company has determined that the majority of the inputs used to value its derivatives fall within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, the credit valuation adjustments associated with its derivatives utilize Level 3 inputs, such as estimates of current credit spreads to evaluate the likelihood of default by the Company and its counterparties. The Company has determined that the significance of the impact of the credit valuation adjustments made to its derivative contracts, which determination was based on the fair value of each individual contract, was not significant to the overall valuation. As a result, all of the derivatives held as of June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023 were classified as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.76 Table of ContentsÂ Nonrecurring Fair Value MeasurementsThe Company measures certain non-financial assets at fair value on a nonrecurring basis including goodwill, intangible assets, property and equipment and right-of-use lease assets. These assets were initially measured and recognized at amounts equal to the fair value determined as of the date of acquisition or purchase subject to changes in value only for foreign currency translation. Periodically, these assets are tested for impairment by comparing their respective carrying amounts to the estimated fair value of the reporting unit or asset group in which they reside. In the event any of these assets were to become impaired, the Company would recognize an impairment expense equal to the amount by which the carrying amount of the reporting unit, impaired asset or asset group exceeds its estimated fair value. For indefinite-lived intangible assets, the relief from royalty approach is dependent on a number of factors, including estimates of future growth and trends, royalty rates in the category of intellectual property, discount rates and other variables. Fair value measurements of reporting units are estimated using an income approach involving discounted cash flow models that contain certain Level 3 inputs requiring significant management judgment, including projections of economic conditions, customer demand and changes in competition, revenue growth rates, gross profit margins, operating margins, capital expenditures, working capital requirements, terminal growth rates and discount rates. Fair value measurements of the reporting units associated with the Company's goodwill balances and its indefinite-lived intangible assets are estimated at least annually in the fourth quarter of each fiscal year for purposes of impairment testing if a quantitative analysis is performed. The Company bases its fair value estimates on assumptions its management believes to be reasonable, but which are unpredictable and inherently uncertain.As discussed in Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the trademarks of Happyâ„¢, JoyaÂ®, ParmCrispsÂ®, ThinstersÂ®, ImagineÂ®, Queen HeleneÂ® and certain North America personal care intangible assets were fair valued on a nonrecurring basis and classified as Level 3 assets in their respective reporting periods. As discussed in Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net, an asset groupâ€™s property, plant and equipment were fair valued on a nonrecurring basis and classified as Level 3 assets in their respective reporting periods. Â 77 Table of ContentsÂ 16.DERIVATIVES AND HEDGING ACTIVITIESRisk Management Objective of Using DerivativesThe Company is exposed to certain risks arising from both its business operations and economic conditions. The Company manages its exposures to a wide variety of business and operational risks. The Company manages economic risks, including interest rate, liquidity, and credit risk primarily by managing the amount, sources and duration of its assets and liabilities and the use of derivative financial instruments. Specifically, the Company enters into derivative financial instruments to manage exposures that arise from business activities that result in the receipt or payment of future known and uncertain cash amounts, the value of which are determined by interest rates. The Companyâ€™s derivative financial instruments are used to manage differences in the amount, timing, and duration of the Companyâ€™s known or expected cash receipts and its known or expected cash payments principally related to the Companyâ€™s receivables and borrowings.Certain of the Companyâ€™s foreign operations expose the Company to fluctuations of foreign exchange rates. These fluctuations may impact the value of the Companyâ€™s cash receipts and payments in terms of the Companyâ€™s functional currency. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments to protect the value or fix the amount of certain assets and liabilities in terms of its functional currency, the U.S. Dollar.Accordingly, the Company uses derivative financial instruments to manage and mitigate such risks. The Company does not use derivatives for speculative or trading purposes.The Company has agreements with each of its derivative counterparties that contain a cross-default provision upon certain defaults by the Company on any of its indebtedness.Cash Flow Hedges of Interest Rate RiskThe Companyâ€™s objectives in using interest rate derivatives are to add stability to interest expense and to manage its exposure to interest rate movements. To accomplish this objective, the Company primarily uses interest rate swaps as part of its interest rate risk management strategy. Interest rate swaps designated as cash flow hedges involve the receipt of variable amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreements without exchange of the underlying notional amount. During fiscal 2024 and 2023, such derivatives were used to hedge the variable cash flows associated with existing variable rate debt.For derivatives designated and that qualify as cash flow hedges of interest rate risk, the gain or loss on the derivative is recorded in AOCL and subsequently reclassified into interest expense in the same period during which the hedged transaction affects earnings. Amounts reported in AOCL related to derivatives will be reclassified to interest expense as interest payments are made on the Companyâ€™s variable rate debt. During fiscal 2025, the Company estimates that an additional $7,476 will be reclassified as a decrease to interest expense.As of June 30, 2024, the Company had the following outstanding interest rate derivatives that were designated as cash flow hedges of interest rate risk:Â Interest Rate Derivative Â Number of Instruments Â Notional Amount Â Interest rate swap Â 4 Â $ 400,000 Â Â Cash Flow Hedges of Foreign Exchange RiskThe Company is exposed to fluctuations in various foreign currencies against its functional currency, the U.S. Dollar. The Company, at times, also uses forward contracts to manage its exposure to fluctuations in the GBP-EUR exchange rates. The Company designates these derivatives as cash flow hedges of foreign exchange risks.For derivatives designated and that qualify as cash flow hedges of foreign exchange risk, the gain or loss on the derivative is recorded in AOCL and subsequently reclassified in the same period during which the hedged transaction affects earnings within the same income statement line item as the earnings effect of the hedged transaction. During fiscal 2025, the Company estimates that no amount relating to cross-currency swaps will be reclassified to interest expense. As of June 30, 2024, the Company had no outstanding foreign currency derivatives that were used to hedge its foreign exchange risks.Net Investment HedgesThe Company is exposed to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates on investments it holds in its European foreign entities and their exposure to the Euro. The Company uses fixed-to-fixed cross-currency swaps to hedge its exposure to changes in the foreign exchange rate on its foreign investment in Western Europe. Currency forward agreements involve fixing the USD-EUR exchange 78 Table of ContentsÂ rate for delivery of a specified amount of foreign currency on a specified date. The currency forward agreements are typically cash settled in U.S. Dollars for their fair value at or close to their settlement date. Cross-currency swaps involve the receipt of functional-currency-fixed-rate amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making foreign-currency-fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreement.For derivatives designated as net investment hedges, the gain or loss on the derivative is reported in AOCL as part of the cumulative translation adjustment. Amounts are reclassified out of AOCL into earnings when the hedged net investment is either sold or substantially liquidated.As of June 30, 2024, the Company had the following outstanding foreign currency derivatives that were used to hedge its net investments in foreign operations:Â Foreign Currency Derivative Â Number of Instruments Â Notional Sold Â Â Notional Purchased Â Cross-currency swap Â 4 Â â‚¬ 100,300 Â Â $ 105,804 Â Â Fair Value HedgesThe Company is exposed to changes in the fair value of certain of its foreign denominated intercompany loans due to changes in foreign exchange spot rates. The Company uses fixed-to-fixed cross-currency swaps to hedge its exposure to changes in foreign exchange rates affecting gains and losses on intercompany loan principal and interest. Cross-currency swaps involve the receipt of functional-currency-fixed-rate amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making foreign-currency-fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreement.For derivatives designated and that qualify as fair value hedges, the gain or loss on the derivative as well as the offsetting loss or gain on the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk are recognized in interest and other financing expense, net.Gains and losses on the derivative representing hedge components excluded from the assessment of effectiveness are recognized over the life of the hedge on a systematic and rational basis, as documented at hedge inception in accordance with the Companyâ€™s accounting policy election. The earnings recognition of excluded components is presented in the same income statement line item as the earnings effect of the hedged transaction. During fiscal 2025, the Company estimates that an additional $476 relating to cross-currency swaps will be reclassified as a decrease to interest expense.As of June 30, 2024, the Company had the August 17, 2016, three securities class action complaints were filed in the Eastern District of New York (the â€œDistrict Courtâ€) against the Company alleging violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934: (1) Flora v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al.; (2) Lynn v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al.; and (3) Spadola v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al. (collectively, the â€œSecurities Complaintsâ€). The Securities Complaints were ultimately consolidated under the caption In re The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. Securities Litigation (the â€œConsolidated Securities Actionâ€), and Rosewood Funeral Home and Salamon Gimpel were appointed as Co-Lead Plaintiffs. During the summer of 2017, a Corrected Consolidated Amended Complaint was filed, which named as defendants the Company and certain of its former officers (collectively, â€œDefendantsâ€) and asserted violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 based on allegedly materially false or misleading statements and omissions in public statements, press releases and SEC filings regarding the Companyâ€™s business, prospects, financial results and internal controls.After Defendantsâ€™ initial motion to dismiss was granted without prejudice to replead in October 2017, the Co-Lead Plaintiffs filed a Second Amended Consolidated Class Action Complaint on May 6, 2019 (the â€œSecond Amended Complaintâ€). The Second Amended Complaint again named as defendants the Company and certain of its former officers and asserted violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 based on allegations similar to those in the Correct Consolidated Amended Complaint. Defendants filed a motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint on June 20, 2019. On April 6, 2020, the District Court granted Defendantsâ€™ motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in its entirety, with prejudice. Co-Lead Plaintiffs appealed the District Courtâ€™s decision dismissing the Second Amended Complaint to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit (the â€œSecond Circuitâ€). By decision dated December 17, 2021, the Second Circuit vacated the District Courtâ€™s judgment and remanded the case for further proceedings. The parties ultimately submitted supplemental briefing between May 12, 2022 and June 23, 2022, and in June 2022, the District Court referred Defendantsâ€™ Motion to Dismiss the Second Amended Complaint to a United States Magistrate Judge (the â€œMagistrate Judgeâ€) for a Report and Recommendation. On November 4, 2022, the Magistrate Judge issued a Report and Recommendation recommending that the District Court grant Defendantsâ€™ Motion to Dismiss the Second Amended Complaint with prejudice. On September 29, 2023, the District Court granted Defendantsâ€™ Motion to Dismiss the Second Amended Complaint. Co-Lead Plaintiffs filed notice of appeal on October 26, 2023, appealing the District Courtâ€™s decision dismissing the Second Amended Complaint to the Second Circuit. Co-Lead Plaintiffs filed their opening brief on February 12, 2024. Defendants opposed, and the appeal is fully briefed as of June 3, 2024.Additional Stockholder Class Action and Derivative Complaints Filed in Federal CourtThe former Board of Directors and certain former officers of the Company are defendants in a consolidated action originally filed in 2017 in the Eastern District of New York under the captions Silva v. Simon, et al., Barnes v. Simon, et al., Merenstein v. Heyer, et al., and Oliver v. Berke, et al. Plaintiffs in the consolidated action, In re The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. Stockholder Class and Derivative Litigation (the â€œConsolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Actionâ€), allege the violation of securities law, breach of fiduciary duty, waste of corporate assets and unjust enrichment. The plaintiffs alleged in their Amended Complaint that the Companyâ€™s former directors and certain former officers made materially false and misleading statements in press releases and SEC filings regarding the Companyâ€™s business, prospects and financial results and that the Company violated its by-laws and Delaware law by failing to hold its 2016 Annual Stockholders Meeting and includes claims for breach of fiduciary duty, unjust enrichment and corporate waste.On December 20, 2017, the parties agreed to stay

Defendantsâ€™ time to answer, move, or otherwise respond to the consolidated amended complaint through and including 30 days after a decision was rendered on the motion to dismiss the Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action, described above. After the District Court granted Defendantsâ€™ motion to dismiss the Consolidated Securities Action, the Co-Lead Plaintiffs in that action filed a Second Amended Complaint on May 6, 2019. The parties to the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action thereby agreed to continue the stay of Defendantsâ€™ time to answer, move, or otherwise respond to the consolidated amended complaint through 30 days after a decision on Defendantsâ€™ motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action.On April 6, 2020, the District Court granted Defendantsâ€™ motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action, with prejudice. Pursuant to the terms of an agreed-upon stay, Defendants in the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action had until May 6, 2020 to answer, move, or otherwise respond to the complaint in this matter. This deadline was extended, and Defendants moved to dismiss the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action Complaint on June 23, 2020, with Plaintiffsâ€™ opposition due August 7, 2020. On July 24, 2020, Plaintiffs made a stockholder litigation demand on the current Board containing overlapping factual allegations to those set forth in the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action. On November 3, 2020, Plaintiffs were informed that the Board of Directors had finished investigating and resolved, among other things, that the demand should be rejected. In light of the Second Circuit vacating the District Courtâ€™s judgment in the Consolidated Securities Action referenced above and 83 Table of ContentsÂ remanding the case for further proceedings, the Parties submitted a joint status report on December 29, 2021 requesting that the District Court continue the temporary stay pending the District Courtâ€™s reconsideration of the Defendantsâ€™ motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action. The parties have most recently agreed to extend the stay through the earlier of November 8, 2024 or 30 days after the Second Circuit issues a decision on Plaintiffsâ€™ currently pending appeal.Baby Food LitigationSince February 2021, the Company has been named in numerous consumer class actions alleging that the Companyâ€™s Earthâ€™s BestÂ® baby food products (the â€œProductsâ€) contain unsafe and undisclosed levels of various naturally occurring heavy metals, namely lead, arsenic, cadmium and mercury. Those actions have now been transferred and consolidated as a single lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York captioned In re Hain Celestial Heavy Metals Baby Food Litigation, Case No. 2:21-cv-678 (the â€œConsolidated Proceedingâ€), which generally alleges that the Company violated various state consumer protection laws and asserts other state and common law warranty and unjust enrichment claims related to the alleged failure to disclose the presence of these metals, arguing that consumers would have either not purchased the Products or would have paid less for them had the Company made adequate disclosures. The Company filed a motion to dismiss the Consolidated Class Action Complaint on November 7, 2022, which was opposed by the plaintiffs. On May 9, 2023, upon consent of the parties, the Court stayed the Consolidated Proceeding pending the Second Circuitâ€™s decision on appeal in In re Beech-Nut Nutrition Co. Baby Food Litigation, 21 Civ. 133 (N.D.N.Y.) (the â€œBeech-Nut Caseâ€). Accordingly, the Court denied the Companyâ€™s motion to dismiss without prejudice to renew.By summary order dated January 18, 2024, the Second Circuit vacated the judgment dismissing the Beech-Nut Case and remanded for further proceedings. On February 15, 2024, the Company served a renewed motion to dismiss the Consolidated Proceeding. Plaintiffs served their opposition on March 14, 2024, and the Company served its reply on April 4, 2024. The Companyâ€™s renewed motion to dismiss is now fully briefed and filed with the Court. The Court held oral argument on the Companyâ€™s motion to dismiss on August 1, 2024. The parties await a decision. One consumer class action is pending in New York Supreme Court, Nassau County, which the court has stayed in deference to the Consolidated Proceeding. The Company denies the allegations in these lawsuits and contends that its baby foods are safe and properly labeled.The claims raised in these lawsuits were brought in the wake of a highly publicized report issued by the U.S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Economic and Consumer Policy on Oversight and Reform, dated February 4, 2021 (the â€œHouse Reportâ€), addressing the presence of heavy metals in baby foods made by certain manufacturers, including the Company. Since the publication of the House Report, the Company has also received information requests with respect to the advertising and quality of its baby foods from certain governmental authorities, as such authorities investigate the claims made in the House Report. The Company is fully cooperating with these requests and has provided documents and other requested information.The Company has been named in one civil government enforcement action, State of New Mexico ex rel. Balderas v. Nurture, Inc., et al., which was filed by the New Mexico Attorney General against the Company and several other manufacturers based on the alleged presence of heavy metals in their baby food products. The Company and several other manufacturers moved to dismiss the New Mexico Attorney Generalâ€™s lawsuit, and the Court denied that motion. The Company filed its answer to the New Mexico Attorney Generalâ€™s amended complaint on April 23, 2022. The Company and several other manufacturers moved for reconsideration of the Courtâ€™s order denying its motion to dismiss, and the Court denied that motion as well. The Company denies the New Mexico Attorney Generalâ€™s allegations and maintains that its baby foods are safe, properly labeled, and compliant with New Mexico law.In addition to the consumer class actions discussed above, the Company is currently named in numerous lawsuits in state and federal courts alleging some form of personal injury from the ingestion of the Companyâ€™s Products, purportedly due to unsafe and undisclosed levels of various naturally occurring heavy metals. These lawsuits generally allege injuries related to neurological development disorders such as autism and attention deficit hyperactivity disorder.Multidistrict Litigationâ€¢On January 4, 2024, Plaintiffs in federal cases across the country filed a Motion to Transfer Actions Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Â§ 1407 for Coordinated or Consolidated Pretrial Proceedings. On April 11, 2024, the United States Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation granted Plaintiffsâ€™ Motion and transferred the cases to the Northern District of California for coordinated or consolidated pretrial proceedings. In Re: Baby Food Products Liability Litigation (MDL No. 3101) has been assigned to District Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley. On April 15, 2024, Judge Corley issued Pretrial Order No. 1 staying all outstanding discovery proceedings and pending motions and vacating all previously scheduled hearing dates. There are approximately 20 federal cases filed against the Company pending in the MDL. Plaintiffs filed their Master Complaint on July 15, 2024. Motions to dismiss the Master Complaint will be due on September 16, 2024. 84 Table of ContentsÂ California State Court Casesâ€¢There are currently seven cases against the Company pending in California state court, including six in Los Angeles Superior Court and one in Alameda Superior Court. The Plaintiffs filed a Petition for Coordination to the Chair of the Judicial Council seeking to coordinate the Alameda Superior Court and Los Angeles Superior Court cases. The Judicial Council granted the JCCP petition on June 4, 2024. All cases, except one have been stayed.â€¢In Landon R. v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al., No. 23STCV24844, in Los Angeles Superior Court, a jury trial is scheduled to begin on January 21, 2025. The parties are engaging in fact and expert discovery. Other Casesâ€¢In the matter Palmquist v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., a jury trial commenced on February 6, 2023 in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas. The Company moved for Directed Verdict at the close of Plaintiffsâ€™ case. The Court granted the Companyâ€™s motion, finding no liability for the Company. The Court entered Final Judgment in the Companyâ€™s favor on March 3, 2023. On April 3, 2023, Plaintiffs filed their Notice of Appeal in the Fifth Circuit. Plaintiffsâ€™ appeal is fully briefed and oral argument took place before the Fifth Circuit on February 6, 2024. On May 28, 2024, the Fifth Circuit reversed the district courtâ€™s order denying Plaintiffâ€™s motion to remand the case and vacated the final judgement of the district court. On June 25, 2024, Hain filed a petition for en banc reconsideration, which petition is under review. The Company denies that its Products led to any of the alleged injuries and will defend these cases vigorously. That said, as is common in circumstances of this nature, additional lawsuits may be filed against the Company in the future, asserting similar or different legal theories and seeking similar or different types of damages and relief. Such lawsuits may be resolved in a manner adverse to us, and we may incur substantial costs or damages not covered by insurance, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and business.SEC InvestigationIn November 2023, the staff of the SEC informed the Company it was conducting an investigation relating to Hain Celestial and requested documents primarily concerning (i) the Companyâ€™s acquisition of one business and disposition of another business and certain related accounting matters and (ii) trading activity and other matters related to the Companyâ€™s earnings guidance in certain previous fiscal years. The Company is cooperating with the SEC in this investigation.OtherIn addition to the matters described above, the Company is and may be a defendant in lawsuits from time to time in the normal course of business.With respect to all litigation and related matters, the Company records a liability when the Company believes it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated. As of June 30, 2024, the Company has not recorded a liability for any of the matters disclosed in this note. It is possible that some matters could require the Company to pay damages, incur other costs or establish accruals in amounts that could not be reasonably estimated as of the end of the period covered by this report. 85 Table of ContentsÂ 18.TRANSFORMATION PROGRAM - HAIN REIMAGINEDDuring the first quarter of fiscal year 2024, the Company initiated a multi-year growth, transformation and restructuring program (the â€œHain Reimagined Programâ€). The Hain Reimagined Program is intended to optimize the Companyâ€™s portfolio, improve underlying profitability and increase its flexibility to invest in targeted growth initiatives, brand building and other capabilities critical to delivering future growth. The savings initiatives are expected to impact the Companyâ€™s reportable segments and Corporate and Other.Implementation of the Hain Reimagined Program is expected to be completed by the end of the 2027 fiscal year and is primarily comprised of contract termination costs, asset write-downs, employee-related costs and other transformation-related expenses.For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, expenses associated with the Hain Reimagined Program in the amount of $27,741, $24,782, and $7,725, respectively, were recorded in productivity and transformation costs, intangibles and long-lived asset impairment, and cost of sales, respectively, on the consolidated statements of operations.The table below sets forth expenses associated with the Hain Reimagined Program for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024 by reportable segment and Corporate and Other.Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 2024 Â North America Â $ 32,775 Â Corporate and Other Â Â 20,753 Â International Â Â 6,720 Â Â Â $ 60,248 Â The following table displays the activities and liability balances relating to the Hain Reimagined Program for the period ended as of June 30, 2024. Â 86 Table of ContentsÂ 20.SEGMENT INFORMATIONThe Companyâ€™s organizational structure consists of two geographic based reportable segments: North America and International, which are also the operating segments. This structure is in line with how the Companyâ€™s Chief Operating Decision Maker (â€œCODMâ€) assesses the Companyâ€™s performance and allocates resources. The Company uses segment net sales and segment Adjusted EBITDA in order to analyze segment results and trends.Segment Adjusted EBITDA excludes: net interest expense, income taxes, depreciation and amortization, equity in net loss of equity-method investees, stock-based compensation, net, unrealized currency losses, certain litigation and related costs, plant closure related costs, net, productivity and transformation costs, warehouse and manufacturing consolidation and other costs, net, costs associated with acquisitions, divestitures and other transactions, loss (gain) on sale of assets, intangibles and long-lived asset impairments and other adjustments. In addition, Segment Adjusted EBITDA does not include Corporate and Other expenses related to the Companyâ€™s centralized administrative functions, which do not specifically relate to a reportable segment. Such Corporate and Other expenses are comprised mainly of compensation and related expenses of certain of the Companyâ€™s senior executive officers and other employees who perform duties related to the entire enterprise, litigation expense and expenses for certain professional fees, facilities, and other items which benefit the Company as a whole.The following tables set forth financial information about each of the Companyâ€™s reportable segments. Information about total assets by segment is not disclosed because such information is not reported to or used by the Companyâ€™s CODM for purposes of assessing segment performance or allocating resources. Transactions between reportable segments were insignificant for all periods presented.Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Net Sales: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â North America Â $ 1,055,527 Â Â $ 1,139,162 Â Â $ 1,163,132 Â International Â Â 680,759 Â Â Â 657,481 Â Â Â 728,661 Â Â $ 1,736,286 Â Â $ 1,796,643 Â Â $ 1,891,793 Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Segment Adjusted EBITDA: Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â North America Â $ 98,728 Â Â $ 123,443 Â Â $ 122,235 Â International Â Â 94,974 Â Â Â 82,945 Â Â Â 110,073 Â Total Reportable Segments Adjusted EBITDA Â Â 193,702 Â Â Â 206,388 Â Â Â 232,308 Â Corporate and Other Â Â (39,180) Â Â (39,766) Â Â (31,692) Â Â 154,522 Â Â Â 166,622 Â Â Â 200,616 Â Depreciation and amortization Â Â (44,665) Â Â (50,777) Â Â (46,849) Equity in net loss of equity-method investees Â Â (2,581) Â Â (1,134) Â Â (2,902) Interest expense, net Â Â (54,232) Â Â (43,936) Â Â (10,226) Benefit (provision) for income taxes Â Â 7,820 Â Â Â 14,178 Â Â Â (22,716) Stock-based compensation, net Â Â (12,704) Â Â (14,423) Â Â (15,611) Unrealized currency (losses) gains Â Â (17) Â Â (929) Â Â 2,259 Â Certain litigation expenses, net(a) Â Â (7,262) Â Â 1,369 Â Â Â (7,687) Restructuring activities Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Productivity and transformation costs Â Â (27,741) Â Â (7,284) Â Â (8,803) Plant closure related costs, net Â Â (5,251) Â Â (94) Â Â (929) Warehouse/manufacturing consolidation and other costs, net Â Â (995) Â Â (1,026) Â Â (2,721) CEO succession Â Â â€” Â Â Â (5,113) Â Â â€” Â Acquisitions, divestitures and other Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Transaction and integration costs, net Â Â 34 Â Â Â (2,018) Â Â (14,055) (Loss) gain on sale of assets Â Â (4,384) Â Â 3,529 Â Â Â 9,049 Â Impairment charges Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Intangibles and long-lived asset impairment Â Â (76,143) Â Â (175,501) Â Â (1,903) Other Â Â (1,443) Â Â â€” Â Â Â 351 Â Net (loss) income Â $ (75,042) Â $ (116,537) Â $ 77,873 Â Â (a) Expenses and items relating to securities class action, baby food litigation and SEC investigation.87 Table of ContentsÂ The Companyâ€™s net sales by product category are as follows:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â Snacks Â $ 463,261 Â Â Â $ 486,411 Â Â Â $ 462,573 Â Baby & Kids Â Â 252,481 Â Â Â 284,834 Â Â Â 281,018 Â Beverages Â Â 253,008 Â Â Â 239,199 Â Â Â 292,514 Â Meal preparation Â Â 662,116 Â Â Â 653,114 Â Â Â 676,683 Â Personal care Â Â 105,420 Â Â Â 133,085 Â Â Â 179,005 Â Â Â $ 1,736,286 Â Â $ 1,796,643 Â Â $ 1,891,793 Â Â The Companyâ€™s net sales by geographic region, which are generally based on the location of the Companyâ€™s subsidiary, are as follows:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â Â 2022 Â United States Â $ 940,367 Â Â $ 1,025,988 Â Â $ 1,037,082 Â United Kingdom Â Â 497,150 Â Â Â 477,400 Â Â Â 500,949 Â Western Europe Â Â 183,609 Â Â Â 180,080 Â Â Â 227,712 Â Canada Â Â 115,160 Â Â Â 113,175 Â Â Â 126,050 Â Â Â $ 1,736,286 Â Â $ 1,796,643 Â Â $ 1,891,793 Â Â The Companyâ€™s long-lived assets, which primarily represent net property, plant and equipment, net and operating lease right-of-use assets, net by geographic region are as follows:Â Â Fiscal Year Ended June 30, Â Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â United States Â $ 137,398 Â Â Â $ 162,798 Â United Kingdom Â Â 125,945 Â Â Â 134,908 Â Western Europe Â Â 66,785 Â Â Â 72,016 Â Canada Â Â 18,236 Â Â Â 22,497 Â Â Â $ 348,364 Â Â $ 392,219 Â Â Â 88 Table of ContentsÂ 21.RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS Â On November 9, 2021, the Company entered into a share repurchase agreement with the Selling Stockholders, which are affiliates of Engaged Capital, LLC, pursuant to which the Company agreed to repurchase, directly from the Selling Stockholders, 1,700 shares of the Companyâ€™s common stock for $45.00 per share (the â€œShare Repurchaseâ€), which equaled the price at which the Underwriter (as defined below) purchased shares from the Selling Stockholders, net of underwriting commissions and discounts, in an underwritten public offering that launched on November 10, 2021, whereby the Selling Stockholders sold certain other shares of common stock (the â€œOfferingâ€). The last reported sale price of the Companyâ€™s common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market on November 9, 2021 was $47.95 per share. In connection with the Offering, on November 10, 2021, the Company entered into an underwriting agreement with Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, as underwriter (the â€œUnderwriterâ€), and the Selling Stockholders. The Share Repurchase and the Offering were completed on November 15, 2021. The aggregate price paid by the Company for the Share Repurchase was $76,500, which the Company funded with borrowings under the Credit Agreement. The Company did not receive any proceeds from the Offering. The Founder and Chief Investment Officer of Engaged Capital, LLC was a member of the Company's Board of Directors at the time of the Share Repurchase and the Offering. 89 Table of ContentsÂ Item 9. Item 9A. Controls and Procedures Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures Our Chief Executive Officer (â€œCEOâ€) and Chief Financial Officer (â€œCFOâ€), with the assistance of other members of management, have reviewed the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this report. Our disclosure controls and procedures are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports it files or submits under the Exchange Act is (1) recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commissionâ€™s rules and forms and (2) accumulated and communicated to our management, including our CEO and CFO, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Based on this review, our CEO and CFO have concluded that the disclosure controls and procedures for the Company were effective as of June 30, 2024. Managementâ€™s Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting The Companyâ€™s management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as such term is defined in Rule 13a-15(f) of the Exchange Act. Internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that: (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of the Companyâ€™s management and directors; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of assets of the Company that could have a material effect on the financial statements. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. Under the supervision, and with the participation, of management, including the CEO and CFO, we conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2024. In making this assessment, management used the criteria established in Internal Control-Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (â€œCOSOâ€). Based on this assessment, management, including the Companyâ€™s CEO and CFO, has concluded that the Companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting was effective as of June 30, 2024. The effectiveness of the Companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2024 has been audited by Ernst & Young LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report which appears herein. Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting There were no changes in internal controls over financial reporting that occurred during the quarter ended June 30, 2024 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, internal control over financial reporting. 90 Table of ContentsÂ Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm To the Stockholders and the Board of Directors of The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. Opinion on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting We have audited The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. and Subsidiariesâ€™ internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Controlâ€”Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (2013 framework) (the COSO criteria). In our opinion, The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. and Subsidiaries (the Company) maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2024, based on the COSO criteria. We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the consolidated balance sheets of the Company as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, the related consolidated statements of operations, comprehensive loss, stockholdersâ€™ equity and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended June 30, 2024, and the related notes and financial statement schedule listed in the Index at Item 15(a) and our report dated August 27, 2024 expressed an unqualified opinion thereon. Basis for Opinion The Companyâ€™s management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting included in the accompanying Managementâ€™s Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB. We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Definition and Limitations of Internal Control Over Financial Reporting A companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A companyâ€™s internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the companyâ€™s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. Â Insider Trading Policy Â This Insider Trading Policy (the â€œPolicyâ€) of The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, â€œHain Celestialâ€ or the â€œCompanyâ€) was amended and restated by the Board of Directors of the Company effective August 12, 2024. Â 1. Purpose. Â Strict laws and regulations in the United States and other countries prohibit the trading of securities based on material non-public information (also known as â€œinsider tradingâ€). In the United States, these laws are vigorously enforced by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the â€œSECâ€) and by criminal prosecutors at both the federal and state levels. These laws require that publicly traded companies adopt and disclose clear policies on insider trading. Â Hain Celestial works hard to maintain its reputation for integrity and ethical conduct. The Company is adopting this Policy to avoid even the appearance of improper conduct on the part of anyone employed by or associated with the Company with respect to insider trading. We are circulating this Policy to you to help ensure that you are aware of your personal responsibilities under the securities laws. Â 2. Coverage. Â This Policy applies to all directors, officers, employees (including full-time employees and part-time employees), and temporary workers of the Company whether or not such persons are inside or outside the United States, and to all their family members (as defined below) (collectively, â€œInsidersâ€). Persons subject to this Policy are responsible for ensuring that family members comply with this Policy. Finally, this Policy applies to all trusts, corporations and other entities controlled by any Insider. Â 3. Policy. Â General Prohibition. It is the policy of the Company that the Company and its directors, officers and employees comply with all federal and state securities laws and regulations applicable to the purchase and sale of the Companyâ€™s securities. There will be no trading permitted at any time based upon material non-public information in any Company securities or the securities of any other company with which Hain Celestial interacts, including customers, partners, vendors or other entities. It is the responsibility of the Insider to be certain that he or she does not have material non-public information when determining to trade. Â Definitions. Terms used in this Policy are defined as set forth immediately below. Â âž£Trading. The definition of trading, for purposes of this Policy, shall include any purchase, sale, or hedging transaction, of any public or private security, effected through any worldwide market or exchange, including any derivatives market or exchange, enabling the purchase, sale or hedging of such securities. Trading also includes, but is not limited to, other transactions such as derivative exercises, gifts or other contributions, pledges, and trades made under an employee benefit plan. Â âž£Security. The definition of a security, for purposes of this Policy, shall include, but not be limited to, publicly and privately issued common shares, preferred stock, American Â Â depository receipts, warrants, debt, leases, letters of credit, commercial paper or other money market instruments, convertible securities, put and/or call, options and any other relevant derivative instrument in existence currently or in the future. Â âž£Material non-public information. The definition of material non-public information, for purposes of this Policy, shall be any information, favorable, non-favorable or otherwise, that a reasonable investor would consider important in making a decision to evaluate, purchase, hold or sell Company securities and which has not been publicly disclosed by the Company. Some examples of material information may include, but are not limited to: Â â€¢projections of future earnings or losses, especially earnings guidance, and confirmations of or changes to previously released earnings results, estimates or guidance, or other performance-related measures or metrics; â€¢earnings that are inconsistent with the consensus expectations of the investment community; â€¢a pending or proposed merger, acquisition, joint venture or tender offer; â€¢a pending or proposed sale of assets or the disposition of a subsidiary; â€¢changes in dividend policies or the declaration of a stock split, stock dividend or the offering of additional securities; â€¢financings and other events regarding the Companyâ€™s debt instruments and debt or equity securities (e.g., defaults, calls of securities for redemption, refinancings, share repurchase plans, stock splits, and public or private sales of securities); â€¢changes in, or initiation of, material litigation or governmental investigation matters; â€¢changes in senior management; â€¢significant changes in compensation policy; â€¢development of significant new products or discoveries or delays in new product introduction or development; â€¢significant developments with respect to licenses, contracts or intellectual property matters; â€¢significant regulatory actions, including those concerning products or potential products; â€¢impending layoffs, furloughs, bankruptcy or financial liquidity problems; â€¢the gain or loss of a significant customer, supplier, manufacturer, collaborator or partner; â€¢possible proxy fights; â€¢changes in, or disagreements with, auditors or notifications that the Company may no longer rely on such firmâ€™s report; â€¢a significant disruption in the Companyâ€™s operations or loss of its property or assets, including its facilities, data and information technology infrastructure; â€¢significant cybersecurity and privacy incidents or events; and â€¢any other information which could reasonably affect the price of any Company securities. Â âž£Publicly disclosed by the Company. For purposes of this Policy, information has not been â€œpublicly disclosed by the Companyâ€ unless the information has been distributed by the Company or an authorized executive in a widely disseminated manner designed to reach investors generally (for instance, in a press release that has been distributed through a news or wire service, or in an 8-K filing), and investors have been given the opportunity to absorb the information. In general, information should not be considered fully absorbed by the marketplace (and thus no longer non-public) until two full trading days have elapsed after the information is released. For example, if the Company announces material non-public 2 Â information before market open on a Thursday, then you may execute a trade in securities of the Company on the following Monday; if the Company announces material non-public information after market close on a Thursday, then you may execute a trade in securities of the Company on the following Tuesday. Please refer any questions about whether material information is â€œmaterialâ€ or non-public to the Companyâ€™s chief legal officer/general counsel (â€œChief Legal Officerâ€). Â âž£Family member. The definition of family member includes family members who reside with you, anyone else who lives in your household and any family members who do not live in your household but whose trades in the Companyâ€™s securities are directed by you or are subject to your influence or control. Â Tipping information to others. Persons subject to this Policy shall not disclose any material non-public information about the Company or any other company with which Hain Celestial interacts, including customers, partners, vendors or other entities, to other persons. Liability in such cases can extend both to the â€œtippeeâ€ - the person to whom the insider disclosed inside information - and to the â€œtipperâ€ - the insider himself. These penalties apply whether or not you derive any benefit from someone elseâ€™s actions. Â Emergency transactions. Transactions that may be necessary or justifiable for independent reasons (such as the need to raise money for an emergency expenditure) are not exempted from this Policy. Even the appearance of an improper transaction must be avoided to preserve our reputation for adhering to the highest standards of conduct. Â Twenty-twenty hindsight. Remember, if your securities transactions become the subject of scrutiny, they will be viewed after-the-fact with the benefit of twenty-twenty hindsight. As a result, before engaging in any transaction you should carefully consider how regulators and others might view your transaction in hindsight. Â 4. Additional Prohibited Transactions. Â Persons subject to this Policy shall also not engage in any of the following activities with respect to securities of the Company: Â â€¢Purchases of Company securities on margin. This means borrowing from a brokerage firm, bank or other entity in order to purchase Company securities (other than in connection with a so-called â€œcashlessâ€ exercise of options under the Companyâ€™s incentive award plans). Â â€¢Borrowing against Company securities. This means holding Company securities in margin accounts and borrowing against the value of the Company securities or pledging Company securities as collateral for a loan. Â â€¢Short sales of Company securities. This involves selling Company securities you do not currently own in the expectation that the price of the securities will fall, or as part of a hedge or arbitrage transaction. Â â€¢Buying or selling put or call options on Company securities, or entering into other derivative contracts or hedging transactions. This includes options trading on any of the stock exchanges or futures exchanges, as well as customized derivative or hedging transactions with third parties. Â â€¢Managed accounts. If you have a managed account (where another person has been given 3 Â discretion or authority to trade without your prior approval), you must advise your broker or investment advisor not to trade in Company securities at any time. Â 5. The Consequences. Â The consequences of insider trading violations can be significant: Â For individuals who trade on inside information (or tip information to others): Â * A civil penalty of up to three times the profit gained or loss avoided; * A criminal fine (no matter how small the profit) of up to $5 million; and * A jail term of up to twenty years. Â For a company (as well as possibly any supervisory person) that fails to take appropriate steps to prevent illegal trading: Â * A civil penalty of the greater of $1 million or three times the profit gained or loss avoided as a result of the employeeâ€™s violation; and * A criminal penalty of up to $25 million. Â Moreover, if an Insider violates this Policy, Company-imposed sanctions, including removal or dismissal for cause, could result. Needless to say, any of the above consequences, even an SEC investigation that does not result in prosecution, can tarnish your reputation, irreparably damage your career, and significantly hurt the reputation and future business prospects of the Company. Finally, remember that there are no limits on the size of a transaction that will trigger insider trading liability. In the past, relatively small trades have resulted in SEC investigations and lawsuits. Â 6. Window Periods and Pre-Clearance of All Trades by Restricted Persons. Â A. Window Periods Â To provide assistance in preventing inadvertent violations and avoiding even the appearance of an improper transaction (which could result, for example, where an officer engages in a trade while unaware of a pending major development), we are implementing the following policy with respect to the timing of trading in the Companyâ€™s securities for certain Insiders, namely Company directors, officers (as such term is defined in Rule 16a-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) and certain other Company-designated individuals, along with their family members and trusts, corporations and other entities controlled by any of such persons (collectively, â€œRestricted Personsâ€). Examples of persons that may be designated by the Company as Restricted Persons include individuals at or above a specified seniority level and individuals who by nature of their job function are more likely to have access to material non-public information. Â Restricted Persons are subject to mandatory controls on the timing of purchases and sales of the Companyâ€™s securities. Such transactions (other than the exceptions discussed under subsection B â€œTreatment of Employee Benefit Plan Transactionsâ€ below) may normally occur only during four quarterly â€œwindow periods,â€ which follow the publication of the Companyâ€™s financial results. Â Each window period is a period that begins after two full Trading Days following the public release of the Companyâ€™s quarterly or annual financial results and terminates at the end of the fifteenth day of the last month in each calendar quarter. For example, if the Company releases its quarterly or annual financial results before market open on a Thursday, the window period would begin on the following Monday. If 4 Â the Company releases its quarterly or annual financial results after market close on a Thursday, the window period would begin on the following Tuesday. If the Company releases its quarterly or annual financial results during market hours on a Thursday, the window period would begin on the following Tuesday. The definition of â€œTrading Dayâ€ for purposes of this Policy is any day that The NASDAQ Stock Market is open. Insiders will be advised by the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer of the exact beginning and ending dates of each window period. Â Additionally, from time to time, the Company may require that certain individuals be prohibited from trading in the Companyâ€™s securities, including during a window period, regardless of any other provision of this Policy because of developments that have not yet been disclosed to the public. If the Company determines to close a trading window to which you are subject, then the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer will notify you when the window closes and when it reopens. All those affected shall not trade in the Companyâ€™s securities while the closed window is in effect and shall not disclose to others inside or outside the Company that trading has been suspended for certain individuals. Although these closed windows generally will arise because the Company is involved in a highly sensitive transaction, incident or event, they may be declared for any reason. Â Restricted Persons should note that the window periods are merely times when trading will be permitted absent other factors. The Company may shorten the window period (or eliminate one or more window periods in their entirety) in its discretion, including for all or just certain Restricted Persons. The Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer shall advise Insiders of any such changes to the window periods. Â Even if the window is open for trading, you may not trade Company securities if you are in possession of material non-public information. Â B. Treatment of Employee Benefit Plan Transactions Â Stock Options. This Policyâ€™s trading restrictions generally do not apply to the cash exercise of an employee stock option, to the surrender of shares to the Company to pay the exercise price of a stock option, or to the withholding of shares by the Company to satisfy tax withholding requirements upon the exercise of an option. The trading restrictions do apply, however, to any sale of the underlying shares upon the exercise of a stock option, and to a cashless exercise of the option through a broker, as this entails selling a portion of the underlying shares to cover the costs of the exercise. Â Restricted Shares. This Policyâ€™s trading restrictions do not apply to the vesting of restricted shares, or to the withholding of shares by the Company from the shares issued under any restricted share award to satisfy tax withholding requirements upon the issuance, vesting or payment pursuant to the restricted share award. These policies do apply, however, to any sales of such restricted shares after they vest. Â Restricted Share Units. This Policyâ€™s trading restrictions do not apply to the settlement of restricted share units (â€œRSUsâ€) for shares of the Companyâ€™s common stock or to the withholding of shares by the Company from the shares issued under any RSU award to satisfy tax withholding requirements upon the issuance, vesting or payment pursuant to the RSU award. This Policyâ€™s trading restrictions do apply, however, to any subsequent sales of the shares acquired upon the settlement of RSUs. Â Stock Appreciation Rights. This Policyâ€™s trading restrictions generally do not apply to the exercise of a stock appreciation right (â€œSARâ€), or to the withholding of shares by the Company to satisfy tax withholding requirements upon the exercise of a SAR. The trading restrictions do apply, however, to any sale of the shares delivered in settlement of the SAR. Â C. Stop Loss Orders 5 Â Â

Restricted Persons are prohibited from placing any â€œstop lossâ€ orders or any other open â€œlimit orderâ€ involving the Companyâ€™s securities, except pursuant to a Trading Plan (as defined and described in Section 8 below). Otherwise, it would be possible for a trade to occur during a time in which material non-public information was known to Restricted Persons. Â D. Pre-Clearance for Restricted Persons Â Trades in Company securities by Restricted Persons are subject to scrutiny. As a result, to avoid even the appearance of improper conduct on the part of Restricted Persons, all trades in Company securities, including all acquisitions, dispositions and transfers (other than the exceptions set forth herein), by Restricted Persons during an open window period must be pre-cleared in writing by the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer or their designee. A Restricted Person must submit his or her request for pre-clearance in writing to the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer at least two business days prior to the requested trade, and the trade may only take place during an open window period and in any event within the effective period of the pre-clearance as specified in the pre-clearance. The written request must also confirm that the Restricted Person is not in possession of material non-public information. Notwithstanding the receipt of pre-clearance, you may not trade in Company securities if you subsequently become aware of material non-public information prior to effecting the trade. Â E. Notice of Status Â All Insiders designated as Restricted Persons will receive notice from the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer informing them that they are subject to the pre-clearance policy. The Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer maintains a list of all Restricted Persons. Â 7. Certain Limited Exceptions. Â The prohibitions on trading in the Companyâ€™s securities set forth in Sections 3 and 6 above do not apply to: Â âžt the transfer of securities to an entity that does not involve a change in the beneficial ownership of the securities (for example, to certain types of trusts of which you are the sole beneficiary during your lifetime); âžt the execution of trades pursuant to a trading plan that complies with SEC Rule 10b5-1 and which has been approved by the Company (see Section 8); âžt sales of the Companyâ€™s securities as a selling stockholder in a registered public offering undertaken in accordance with applicable securities laws; or âžt trading in mutual funds and Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) holding Company securities at any time, that are either based on broad indexes, such as Standard & Poorâ€™s or NASDAQ or on targeted sectors with portfolio holdings of at least 30 or more companies. Â 8. Rule 10b5-1 Trading Plans. Â SEC Rule 10b5-1 is intended to protect Insiders from insider trading liability. Specifically, trades in Company securities made under a previously established contract, plan or instruction to trade the Companyâ€™s securities that is created in compliance with Rule 10b5-1 (a â€œTrading Planâ€) are eligible for an â€œaffirmative defenseâ€ under Rule 10b5-1 in the event there is an insider trading lawsuit. 6 Â Â Insiders may adopt a Trading Plan with certain Company-approved brokers that outline a pre-set plan for trading of the Companyâ€™s securities. Trading Plans are to be implemented only during open window periods and when the individual is not aware of any material nonÂpublic information. The adoption and operation of Trading Plan must otherwise satisfy the various conditions and limitations set forth in Rule 10b5-1. Â Restricted Persons are required to obtain pre-clearance from the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer or their designee prior to implementing a Trading Plan or other arrangement or trading instruction involving potential sales or purchases of the Companyâ€™s securities or option or SAR exercises including but not limited to, blind trusts, discretionary accounts with banks or brokers or limit orders. An individual may not adopt more than one active Trading Plan. Â Revocation/Amendments to Trading Plans. Trading Plans may be amended only during open window periods and when the individual is not aware of any material non-public information. Additionally, Restricted Persons are required to obtain pre-clearance during a window period from the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer or their designee prior to amending or terminating a Trading Plan. If you revoke a Trading Plan after the first option exercise or share sale, then you must agree not to enter into another Trading Plan until six months after revocation of the Trading Plan. Â A Trading Plan must be revoked in certain circumstances, such as the announcement of a merger or the occurrence of an event that would cause the transaction either to violate the law or to have an adverse effect on the Company. The Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer of the Company is authorized to notify the broker in such circumstances. Â Section 16. Trading Plans do not exempt individuals from complying with the Section 16 six-month short swing profit rules, liability or reporting obligations. Accordingly, it is imperative that Insiders subject to Section 16 reporting coordinate with the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer prior to adopting or modifying such plans. Â Trades Outside of a Plan. During an open window period, trades that are not pursuant to Trading Plan instructions that are already in place are allowed as long as the Trading Plan continues to be followed. Â Public Announcements. In addition to the requirement that the Company make certain quarterly disclosures about the adoption or termination of Trading Plans by Insiders subject to Section 16 in its periodic reports filed with the SEC, the Company may (but is not required to) make a public announcement that Trading Plans are being implemented in accordance with Rule 10b5-1. It may also make public announcements or respond to inquiries from the media as transactions are made under a Trading Plan. Â Prohibited Transactions. The transactions prohibited pursuant to Section 4 of this Policy may not be carried out through a Trading Plan or other arrangement or trading instruction. Â 9. Confidential Information and Communications with the Media. Â Unauthorized disclosure of internal information relating to the Company (including information regarding new products) could cause competitive harm to the Company and in some cases could result in liability for the Company. Â Unauthorized disclosure. Company personnel should not disclose internal information about the Company with anyone outside the Company, except as required in the performance of regular duties for 7 Â the Company. In this regard, Insiders are prohibited from posting internal information about the Company on the Internet or communicating about the Company and its business online or via social media. Â Communications with the media, securities analysts and investors. Communications on behalf of the Company with the media, securities analysts and investors must be made only by specifically designated representatives of the Company. Unless you have been expressly authorized to make such communications, if you receive any inquiry relating to the Company from the media, a securities analyst or an investor, you should refer the inquiry to the Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer. Â Rumors. Rumors concerning the business and affairs of the Company may circulate from time to time. Our general policy is not to comment upon those rumors. Individual employees should not comment on or respond to rumors and should refer any requests for comments or responses to the Executive Vice President, Chief Financial Officer. Â Safeguarding confidential information. Care must be taken to safeguard the confidentiality of internal information. For example, sensitive documents should not be left lying on desks; open on laptops, tablets or phones in public places; and visitors should not be left unattended in offices containing internal Company documents. Â Whistleblower protection. Notwithstanding any other confidentiality or non-disclosure agreement (whether in writing or otherwise, including without limitation as part of an employment agreement, separation agreement or similar employment or compensation arrangement) applicable to current or former Insiders, this Policy should not be deemed to restrict any current or former Insider from communicating, cooperating or filing a complaint with the SEC or any U.S. federal, state or local governmental or law enforcement branch, agency or entity (collectively, a â€œGovernmental Entityâ€) with respect to possible violations of any U.S. federal, state or local law or regulation, or otherwise making disclosures to any Governmental Entity, in each case, that are protected under the whistleblower provisions of any such law or regulation, provided that (1) in each case, such communications and disclosures are consistent with applicable law and (2) the information subject to such disclosure was not obtained by the current or former Insider through a communication that was subject to the attorney-client privilege, unless such disclosure of that information would otherwise be permitted by an attorney pursuant to 17 CFR 205.3(d)(2), applicable state attorney conduct rules, or otherwise. Any agreement in conflict with the foregoing is hereby deemed amended by the Company to be consistent with the foregoing. Â 10. Company Assistance. Â Any person who has any questions about specific transactions may obtain additional guidance from the Companyâ€™s Chief Legal Officer. Â Remember, however, the ultimate responsibility for adhering to this Policy and avoiding improper transactions rests with you. In this regard, it is imperative that you use your best judgment. 8 EX-21.1 3 hain-ex21_1.htm EX-21.1 EX-21.1 Exhibit 21.1 Subsidiaries of the Registrant Â Â Â Â Â Â Subsidiary Jurisdiction of Organization Acirca, Inc. Â Â Â Â EX-97.1 9 hain-ex97_1.htm EX-97.1 EX-97.1 EXHIBIT 97.1 The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. Incentive Compensation Clawback Policy (As Adopted on August 25, 2023 Pursuant to Nasdaq Rule 5608) 1.Overview. The Compensation Committee (the â€œCommitteeâ€) of the Board of Directors (the â€œBoardâ€) of The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. (the â€œCompanyâ€) has adopted this Incentive Compensation Clawback Policy (the â€œPolicyâ€) which requires the recoupment of certain incentive-based compensation in accordance with the terms herein and is intended to comply with Listing Rule 5608, as promulgated by The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC, as such rule may be amended from time to time (the â€œListing Rulesâ€). Capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings assigned to such terms under Section 12 of this Policy. 2.Interpretation and Administration. The Committee shall have full authority to interpret and enforce the Policy; provided, however, that the Policy shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with its intent to meet the requirements of the Listing Rules. As further set forth in Section 10 below, this Policy is intended to supplement any other clawback policies and procedures that the Company may have in place from time to time pursuant to other applicable law, plans, policies or agreements. 3.Covered Executives. The Policy applies to each current and former Executive Officer of the Company who serves or served as an Executive Officer at any time during a performance period in respect of which Incentive Compensation is Received, to the extent that any portion of such Incentive Compensation is (a) Received by the Executive Officer during the last three completed Fiscal Years or any applicable Transition Period preceding the date that the Company is required to prepare a Restatement (regardless of whether any such Restatement is actually filed) and (b) determined to have included Erroneously Awarded Compensation. For purposes of determining the relevant recovery period referenced in the preceding clause (a), the date that the Company is required to prepare a Restatement under the Policy is the earlier to occur of (i) the date that the Board, a committee of the Board, or the officer or officers of the Company authorized to take such action if Board action is not required, concludes, or reasonably should have concluded, that the Company is required to prepare a Restatement or (ii) the date a court, regulator, or other legally authorized body directs the Company to prepare a Restatement. Executive Officers subject to this Policy pursuant to this Section 3 are referred to herein as â€œCovered Executives.â€ 4.Recovery of Erroneously Awarded Compensation. If any Erroneously Awarded Compensation is Received by a Covered Executive, the Company shall reasonably promptly take steps to recover such Erroneously Awarded Compensation in a manner described under Section 5 of this Policy. 5.Forms of Recovery. The Committee shall determine, in its sole discretion and in a manner that effectuates the purpose of the Listing Rules, one or more methods for recovering any Erroneously Awarded Compensation hereunder in accordance with Section 4 above, which may include, without limitation: (a) requiring cash reimbursement; (b) seeking recovery or forfeiture of any gain realized on the vesting, exercise, settlement, sale, transfer or other disposition of any equity-based awards; (c) offsetting the amount to be recouped from any compensation Â otherwise owed by the Company to the Covered Executive; (d) cancelling outstanding vested or unvested equity awards; or (e) taking any other remedial and recovery action permitted by law, as determined by the Committee. To the extent the Covered Executive refuses to pay to the Company an amount equal to the Erroneously Awarded Compensation, the Company shall have the right to sue for repayment and/or enforce the Covered Executiveâ€™s obligation to make payment through the reduction or cancellation of outstanding and future compensation. Any reduction, cancellation or forfeiture of compensation shall be done in compliance with Section 409A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder. 6.No Indemnification. The Company shall not indemnify any Covered Executive against the loss of any Erroneously Awarded Compensation for which the Committee has determined to seek recoupment pursuant to this Policy. 7.Exceptions to the Recovery Requirement. Notwithstanding anything in this Policy to the contrary, Erroneously Awarded Compensation need not be recovered pursuant to this Policy if the Committee (or, if the Committee is not composed solely of Independent Directors, a majority of the Independent Directors serving on the Board) determines that recovery would be impracticable as a result of any of the following: (a)the direct expense paid to a third party to assist in enforcing the Policy would exceed the amount to be recovered; provided that, before concluding that it would be impracticable to recover any amount of Erroneously Awarded Compensation based on expense of enforcement, the Company must make a reasonable attempt to recover such Erroneously Awarded Compensation, document such reasonable attempt(s) to recover, and provide that documentation to the Exchange; or (b)recovery would likely cause an otherwise tax-qualified retirement plan, under which benefits are broadly available to employees of the Company, to fail to meet the requirements of 26 U.S.C. 401(a)(13) or 26 U.S.C. 411(a) and the regulations thereunder. 8.Committee Determination Final. Any determination by the Committee with respect to the Policy shall be final, conclusive and binding on all interested parties. 9.Amendment. The Policy may be amended by the Committee from time to time, to the extent permitted under the Listing Rules. 10.Non-Exclusivity. Nothing in the Policy shall be viewed as limiting the right of the Company or the Committee to pursue additional remedies or recoupment under or as required by any similar policy adopted by the Company or under the Companyâ€™s compensation plans, award agreements, employment agreements or similar agreements or the applicable provisions of any law, rule or regulation which may require or permit recoupment to a greater degree or with respect to additional compensation as compared to this Policy (but without duplication as to any recoupment already made with respect to Erroneously Awarded Compensation pursuant to this Policy). This Policy shall be interpreted in all respects to comply with the Listing Rules. 11.Successors. The Policy shall be binding and enforceable against all Covered Executives and their beneficiaries, heirs, executors, administrators or other legal representatives. 2 Â 12.Defined Terms. â€œCovered Executivesâ€ shall have the meaning set forth in Section 3 of this Policy. â€œErroneously Awarded Compensationâ€ shall mean the amount of Incentive Compensation actually Received that exceeds the amount of Incentive Compensation that otherwise would have been Received had it been determined based on the restated amounts, and computed without regard to any taxes paid. For Incentive Compensation based on stock price or total shareholder return, where the amount of erroneously awarded Incentive Compensation is not subject to mathematical recalculation directly from the information in a Restatement: (A)The calculation of Erroneously Awarded Compensation shall be based on a reasonable estimate of the effect of the Restatement on the stock price or total shareholder return upon which the Incentive Compensation was Received; and (B)The Company shall maintain documentation of the determination of that reasonable estimate and provide such documentation to the Exchange. â€œExchangeâ€ shall mean The Nasdaq Stock Market. â€œExecutive Officerâ€ shall mean the officers of the Company as defined by Rule 16a-1(f) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. â€œFinancial Reporting Measuresâ€ shall mean measures that are determined and presented in accordance with the accounting principles used in preparing the Companyâ€™s financial statements, and any measures that are derived wholly or in part from such measures, including, without limitation, stock price and total shareholder return (in each case, regardless of whether such measures are presented within the Companyâ€™s financial statements or included in a filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the â€œSECâ€)). â€œFiscal Yearâ€ shall mean the Companyâ€™s fiscal year; provided that a Transition Period between the last day of the Companyâ€™s previous fiscal year end and the first day of its new fiscal year that comprises a period of nine to 12 months will be deemed a completed fiscal year. â€œIncentive Compensationâ€ shall mean any compensation (whether cash or equity-based) that is granted, earned, or vested based wholly or in part upon the attainment of a Financial Reporting Measure, and may include, but shall not be limited to, performance bonuses and long-term incentive awards such as stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock, restricted stock units, performance share units or other equity-based awards. For the avoidance of doubt, Incentive Compensation does not include (i) awards that are granted, earned and vested exclusively upon completion of a specified employment period, without any performance condition, and (ii) bonus awards that are discretionary or based on subjective goals or goals unrelated to Financial Reporting Measures. Notwithstanding the foregoing, compensation amounts shall not be considered â€œIncentive Compensationâ€ for purposes of the Policy unless such compensation is Received (1) while the Company has a class of securities listed on a national securities exchange or a national securities association and (2) on or after October 2, 2023, the effective date of the Listing Rules. 3 Â â€œIndependent Directorâ€ shall mean a director who is determined by the Board to be â€œindependentâ€ for Board or Committee membership, as applicable, under the rules of the Exchange, as of any determination date. â€œListing Rulesâ€ shall have the meaning set forth in Section 1 of this Policy. Incentive Compensation shall be deemed â€œReceivedâ€ in the Companyâ€™s fiscal period during which the Financial Reporting Measure specified in the Incentive Compensation award is attained, even if the payment or grant of the Incentive Compensation occurs after the end of that period. â€œRestatementâ€ shall mean an accounting restatement due to the material noncompliance of the Company with any financial reporting requirement under the securities laws, including any required accounting restatement (i) to correct an error in previously issued financial statements that is material to the Companyâ€™s previously issued financial statements (commonly referred to as â€œbig Râ€ restatements), or (ii) that would result in a material misstatement if the error were corrected in the current period or left uncorrected in the current period (commonly referred to as â€œlittle râ€ restatements). An example of a â€œbig Râ€ restatement includes when a company must restate historical financial statements to correct errors that were material to those previously issued financial statements, including the filing of revised periodic reports with the SEC. An example of a â€œlittle râ€ restatement includes when a company restates prior period information in the current periodâ€™s comparative financial statements to address the circumstance where an immaterial error in prior periods has been left uncorrected for multiple periods and has aggregated to a material number within the current year. For the avoidance of doubt, â€œRestatementâ€ for purposes of this definition does not include changes to the Companyâ€™s financial statements that do not represent error corrections under the securities laws, such as, without limitation: (a) retrospective application of a change in accounting principle; (b) retrospective revision to reportable segment information due to a change in the structure of an issuerâ€™s internal organization; (c) retrospective reclassification due to a discontinued operation; (d) retrospective application of a change in reporting entity, such as from a reorganization of entities under common control; and (e) retrospective revision for stock splits, reverse stock splits, stock dividends or other changes in capital structure. â€œTransition Periodâ€ shall mean any transition period that results from a change in the Companyâ€™s Fiscal Year within or immediately following the three completed Fiscal Years immediately preceding the Companyâ€™s requirement to prepare a Restatement. Â Â Â Adopted on: August 25, 2023 4 Â Acknowledgment of Incentive Compensation Clawback Policy Reference is made to The Hain Celestial Group, Inc.â€™s Incentive Compensation Clawback Policy (as adopted on August 25, 2023 pursuant to Nasdaq Rule 5608) (the â€œPolicyâ€). Capitalized terms used herein without definition have the meanings assigned to such terms under the Policy. Â By signing below, the undersigned acknowledges, confirms and agrees that: â€¢the undersigned has received and reviewed a copy of the Policy; â€¢the undersigned is, and will continue to be, subject to the Policy to the extent provided therein; â€¢the Policy may apply both during and after termination of the undersignedâ€™s employment with the Company and its affiliates; and â€¢the undersigned agrees to abide by the terms of the Policy, including, without limitation, by returning any Erroneously Awarded Compensation to the Company pursuant to the Policy. Description of Business and Basis of Presentation

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Description of Business

The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (collectively with its subsidiaries, the "Company," "Hain Celestial," "we," "us" or "our") was founded in 1993. Hain Celestial is a leading global health and wellness company whose purpose is to inspire healthier living for people, communities and the planet through better-for-you brands. For more than 30 years, Hain Celestial has intentionally focused on delivering nutrition and well-being that positively impacts today and tomorrow. Headquartered in Hoboken, N.J., Hain Celestial's products across snacks, baby & kids, beverages, meal preparation, and personal care are marketed and sold in over 70 countries around the world. The Company operates under two reportable segments: North America and International.

The Company's leading brands include Garden Veggie Snacks™, Terra® chips, Garden of Eatin'® snacks, Hartley's® Jelly, Earth's Best® and Ella's Kitchen® baby & kids foods, Celestial Seasonings® teas, Joya® and Natumi® plant-based beverages, Greek Gods® yogurt, Cully & Sully®, Yorkshire Provender®, New Covent Garden® and Imagine® soups, Yves® and Linda McCartney's® (under license) meat-free, and Avalon Organics® personal care, among others.

Basis of Presentation

The Company's consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned and majority-owned subsidiaries. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Investments in affiliated companies in which the Company exercises significant influence, but which it does not control, are accounted for under the equity method of accounting. As such, consolidated net (loss) income includes the Company's equity in the current earnings or losses of such companies.

Unless otherwise indicated, references in these consolidated financial statements to 2024, 2023 and 2022 or "fiscal" 2024, 2023 and 2022 or other years refer to the fiscal year ended June 30 of that respective year and references to 2025 or "fiscal" 2025 refer to the fiscal year ending June 30, 2025.

All dollar amounts in the consolidated financial statements, notes and tables have been rounded to the nearest thousands, except par values and per share amounts, unless otherwise indicated.

Reclassifications

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform with current year presentation on the consolidated balance sheets related to assets held for sale to include it as part of prepaid expenses and other current assets. There were no reclassifications made to the consolidated statement of operations, consolidated statements of changes in stockholders' equity or consolidated statements of cash flows.

Use of Estimates

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("U.S. GAAP"). The accounting principles used required the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and amounts of income and expenses during the reporting periods presented. Actual results could differ from those estimates. These estimates include, among others, variable consideration related to revenue recognition for trade promotions and sales incentives, valuation of accounts and chargeback receivables, valuation of long-lived assets, goodwill and intangible assets (acquired in business combinations and analysis of impairment), stock-based compensation for market awards, and valuation allowances for deferred tax assets.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Practices	12 Months Ended

Accounting Policies [Abstract]
Summary of Significant Accounting Policies And Practices

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND PRACTICES

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include cash in banks, commercial paper and deposits with financial institutions that can be liquidated without prior notice or penalty. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

In addition, cash and cash equivalents are maintained with several financial institutions. Deposits held with banks may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits. Generally, these deposits may be redeemed upon demand.

Revenue Recognition

The Company sells its products through specialty and natural food distributors, supermarkets, natural foods stores, mass-market and e-commerce retailers, food service channels and club, drug and convenience stores worldwide. The majority of the Company's revenue contracts represent a single performance obligation related to the fulfillment of customer orders for the purchase of products. The Company recognizes revenue as performance obligations are fulfilled when control passes to customers, which is typically upon delivery of the products to its customers. Customer contracts typically contain standard terms and conditions. In instances where formal written contracts are not in place, the Company considers the customer purchase orders to be contracts based on the criteria outlined in Accounting Standard Codification ("ASC") 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). Payment terms and conditions vary by customer and are based on the billing schedule established in contracts or purchase orders with customers, but the Company generally provides credit terms to customers ranging from 30-91 days. Therefore, the Company has concluded that contracts do not include a significant financing component.

Sales include shipping and handling charges billed to the customer and are reported net of discounts, trade promotions and sales incentives, consumer coupon programs and other costs, including estimated allowances for returns, allowances and discounts associated with aged or potentially unsalable product, and prompt pay discounts. Shipping and handling costs are accounted for as a fulfillment activity of promise to transfer products to customers and are included in the cost of sales line item on the consolidated statements of operations.

Variable Consideration

In addition to fixed contract consideration, many of the Company's contracts include some form of variable consideration. The Company offers various trade promotions and sales incentive programs to customers and consumers, such as price discounts, slotting fees, in-store display incentives, cooperative advertising programs, new product introduction fees and coupons. The expenses associated with these programs are accounted for as reductions to the transaction price of the products and are therefore deducted from sales to determine reported net sales. Trade promotions and sales incentive accruals are subject to significant management estimates and assumptions. The critical assumptions used in estimating the accruals for trade promotions and sales incentives include the Company's estimate of expected levels of performance and redemption rates. The Company exercises judgment in developing these assumptions. These assumptions are based upon historical performance of the retailer or distributor customers with similar types of promotions adjusted for current trends. The Company regularly reviews and revises, when deemed necessary, estimates of costs to the Company for these promotions and incentives based on what has been incurred by the customers. The terms of most of the promotion and incentive arrangements do not exceed a year and therefore do not require highly uncertain long-term estimates. Settlement of these liabilities typically occurs in subsequent periods primarily through an authorization process for deductions taken by a customer from amounts otherwise due to the Company. Differences between estimated expense and actual promotion and incentive costs are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined. Actual expenses may differ if the level of redemption rates and performance were to vary from estimates.

Costs to Obtain or Fulfill a Contract

As the Company's contracts are generally shorter than one year, the Company has elected a practical expedient under ASC 606 that allows the Company to expense as incurred the incremental costs of obtaining a contract if the contract period is for one year or less. These costs are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations.

Valuation of Accounts and Chargebacks Receivable and Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company routinely performs credit evaluations on existing and new customers and maintains an allowance for expected uncollectible accounts receivable which is recorded as an offset to trade accounts receivable on the consolidated balance sheets. Collectability of accounts receivable is assessed by applying a historical loss-rate methodology in accordance with ASC Topic 326, Financial Instruments - Credit Losses, adjusted as necessary based on the Company's review of accounts receivable on an individual basis, specifically identifying customers with known disputes or collectability issues, and experience with trade receivable aging categories. The Company also considers market conditions and current and expected future economic conditions to inform adjustments to historical loss data. Changes to the allowance, if any, are classified as bad debt provisions within selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations. Credit losses have been within the Company's expectations in recent years. While one of the Company's customers represented approximately 19% and 18% of trade receivables balances as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, the Company believes that there is no significant or unusual credit exposure at this time.

Based on cash collection history and other statistical analysis, the Company estimates the amount of unauthorized deductions customers have taken that the Company expects will be collected and repaid in the near future and records a chargeback receivable which is a component of trade receivables. Differences between estimated collectible receivables and actual collections are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined.

Sales to one customer and its affiliates approximated 18%, 16% and 15% of sales during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Inventory

Inventory is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value, utilizing the first-in, first-out method. The Company provides write-downs for finished goods expected to become unsaleable due to age and specifically identifies and provides for slow moving or obsolete raw ingredients and packaging.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment is carried at cost and depreciated or amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives or lease term (for leasehold improvements), whichever is shorter. The Company believes the useful lives assigned to the Company's property, plant and equipment are within ranges generally used in consumer products manufacturing and distribution businesses. The Company's manufacturing plants and distribution centers, and their related assets, are reviewed when impairment indicators are present by analyzing underlying cash flow projections. The Company believes no impairment of the carrying value of such assets exists other than as disclosed under Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net. Ordinary repairs and maintenance costs are expensed as incurred. The Company utilizes the following ranges of asset lives:

Buildings and improvements	10 - 40 years
Machinery and equipment	3 - 20 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 - 15 years

Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of the respective initial lease term or the estimated useful life of the assets, and generally range from 3 to 20 years.

Software that is developed for internal use is recorded as a component of property, plant and equipment. Qualifying costs incurred to develop internal-use software are capitalized when (i) the preliminary project stage is completed, (ii) management has authorized further funding for the completion of the project and (iii) it is probable that the project will be completed and perform as intended. These capitalized costs include compensation for employees who develop internal-use software and external costs related to development of internal-use software. Capitalization of these costs ceases once the project is substantially complete and the software is ready for its intended purpose. Once placed into service, internally developed software is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life which generally ranges from 3 to 10 years. All other expenditures, including those incurred in order to maintain the asset's current level of performance, are expensed as incurred. The net book value of internally developed software as of June 30, 2024 and 2023 was $12,240 and $13,576, respectively, and is included as a component of Computer Hardware and Software in Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net.

Goodwill and Other Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized but rather are tested at least annually for impairment, or when circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the asset may not be recoverable. The Company performs its annual test for impairment at the beginning of the fourth quarter of its fiscal year.

Goodwill is tested for impairment at the reporting unit level. A reporting unit is an operating segment or a component of an operating segment. Goodwill is tested for impairment by either performing a qualitative evaluation or a quantitative test. The qualitative evaluation is an assessment of factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, including goodwill. The Company may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment for some or all reporting units and perform a quantitative impairment test. The impairment test for goodwill requires the Company to compare the fair value of a reporting unit to its carrying value. The Company uses a blended analysis of a discounted cash flow model and a market valuation approach to determine the fair values of its reporting units. If the carrying value of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, the Company would then compare the carrying value of the goodwill to its implied fair value in order to determine the amount of the impairment, if any.

Indefinite-lived intangible assets, which are not amortized, consist primarily of acquired trademarks and tradenames. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are evaluated on an annual basis in conjunction with the Company's evaluation of goodwill, or on an interim basis if and when events or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of any of its indefinite-lived intangible assets below their carrying value. In assessing fair value, the Company utilizes a "relief from royalty" methodology. This approach involves two steps: (i) estimating the royalty rates for each trademark and (ii) applying these royalty rates to a projected net sales stream and discounting the resulting cash flows to determine fair value. If the carrying value of the indefinite-lived intangible assets exceeds the fair value of the assets, the carrying value is written down to fair value in the period identified. This method includes significant management assumptions such as revenue growth rates, weighted average cost of capital and assumed royalty rates. See Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets and Note 15, Fair Value Measurements, for additional information on goodwill and intangibles impairment charges.

Transfer of Financial Assets

The Company accounts for transfers of financial assets, such as non-recourse accounts receivable financing arrangements, when the Company has surrendered control over the related assets. Determining whether control has transferred requires an evaluation of relevant legal considerations, an assessment of the nature and extent of the Company's continuing involvement with the assets transferred and any other relevant considerations. The Company has non-recourse financing arrangements in which eligible receivables are sold to third-party buyers in exchange for cash. The Company transferred accounts receivable in their entirety to the buyers and satisfied all of the conditions to report the transfer of financial assets in their entirety as a sale. The principal amount of receivables sold under these arrangements was $284,891, $380,683 and $170,737 during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. The incremental cost of financing receivables under these arrangements is included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the Company's consolidated statements of operations. The proceeds from the sale of receivables are included in cash provided by operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows.

Cost of Sales

Included in cost of sales are the cost of products sold, including the costs of raw materials and labor and overhead required to produce the products, warehousing, distribution, supply chain costs, as well as costs associated with shipping and handling of inventory.

Foreign Currency Translation and Remeasurement

The assets and liabilities of international operations are translated at the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Revenue and expense accounts are translated at the monthly average exchange rates. Adjustments arising from the translation of the foreign currency financial statements of the Company's international operations are reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive loss on the consolidated balance sheets. Gains and losses arising from intercompany foreign currency transactions that are of a long-term nature are reported in the same manner as translation adjustments.

Gains and losses arising from intercompany foreign currency transactions that are not of a long-term nature and certain transactions of the Company's subsidiaries which are denominated in currencies other than the subsidiaries' functional currency are recognized as incurred in other expense (income), net on the consolidated statements of operations.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Included in selling, general and administrative expenses are advertising costs, promotion costs not paid directly to the Company's customers, salary and related benefit costs of the Company's employees in the finance, human resources, information technology, legal, sales and marketing functions, facility related costs of the Company's administrative functions, research and development costs, and costs paid to consultants and third party providers for related services.

Research and Development Costs

Research and development costs are expensed as incurred and are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations. Research and development costs amounted to $5,366 in fiscal 2024, $6,379 in fiscal 2023 and $9,416 in fiscal 2022, consisting primarily of personnel related costs. The Company's research and development expenditures do not include the expenditures on such activities undertaken by co-packers and suppliers who develop numerous products on behalf of the Company and on their own initiative with the expectation that the Company will accept their new product ideas and market them under the Company's brands.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs, which are included in selling, general and administrative expenses, amounted to $34,736 in fiscal 2024, $38,838 in fiscal 2023 and $41,032 in fiscal 2022. Such costs are expensed as incurred.

Proceeds from Insurance Claims

In fiscal 2024, 2023, and 2022, the Company received $1,297, $8,594 and $196 of proceeds from insurance claims, respectively, which are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations.

Income Taxes

The Company follows the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at enacted rates in effect in the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. The Company also assesses the likelihood of future realization of deferred tax assets, including recent earnings results within taxing jurisdictions, expectations of future taxable income, the carryforward periods available and other relevant factors. Valuation allowances are provided for deferred tax assets to the extent it is more likely than not that the deferred tax assets will not be recoverable against future taxable income.

The Company recognizes liabilities for uncertain tax positions based on a two-step process prescribed by the authoritative guidance. The first step requires the Company to determine if the weight of available evidence indicates that the tax position has met the threshold for recognition; therefore, the Company must evaluate whether it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained on audit, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The second step requires the Company to measure the tax benefit of the tax position taken, or expected to be taken, in an income tax return as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The Company reevaluates the uncertain tax positions each period based on factors including, but not limited to, changes in facts or circumstances, changes in tax law, effectively settled issues under audit, and new audit activity. Depending on the jurisdiction, such a change in recognition or measurement may result in the recognition of a tax benefit or an additional charge to the tax provision in the period. The Company records interest and penalties in the provision for income taxes.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of financial instruments is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. At June 30, 2024 and 2023, the carrying values of financial instruments such as accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses and other current liabilities, as well as borrowings under the Company's credit facility and other borrowings, approximated fair value based upon either the short-term maturities or market interest rates of these instruments.

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities

ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging ("ASC 815"), provides the disclosure requirements for derivatives and hedging activities with the intent to provide users of financial statements with an enhanced understanding of: (a) how and why an entity uses derivative instruments, (b) how the entity accounts for derivative instruments and related hedged items and (c) how derivative instruments and related hedged items affect an entity's financial position, financial performance and cash flows. Further, qualitative disclosures are required that explain the Company's objectives and strategies for using derivatives, as well as quantitative disclosures about the fair value of and gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative instruments.

The Company records all derivatives on the consolidated balance sheets at fair value. The accounting for changes in the fair value of derivatives depends on the intended use of the derivative, whether the Company has elected to designate a derivative in a hedging relationship and apply hedge accounting and whether the hedging relationship has satisfied the criteria necessary to apply hedge accounting. Derivatives designated and qualifying as a hedge of the exposure to changes in the fair value of an asset, liability or firm commitment attributable to a particular risk, such as interest rate risk, are considered fair value hedges. Derivatives designated and qualifying as a hedge of the exposure to variability in expected future cash flows, or other types of forecasted transactions, are considered cash flow hedges. Derivatives may also be designated as hedges of the foreign currency exposure of a net investment in a foreign operation. Hedge accounting generally provides for the matching of the timing of gain or loss recognition on the hedging instrument with the recognition of the changes in the fair value of the hedged asset or liability that are attributable to the hedged risk in a fair value hedge or the earnings effect of the hedged forecasted transactions in a cash flow hedge. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivative instruments that qualify for cash flow hedge and net investment hedge accounting treatment are recognized in stockholders' equity as a component of accumulated other comprehensive loss until the hedged item is recognized in earnings. Changes in the fair value of fair value hedges, derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting treatment, as well as the ineffective portion of any cash flow hedges, are recognized currently in earnings as a component of interest and other financing expense, net on the consolidated statements of operations. The Company reports cash flows arising from derivative instruments consistent with the classification of cash flows from the underlying hedged items that these derivatives are hedging. Accordingly, the cash flows associated with derivatives designated as cash flow hedges and fair value hedges are classified in cash flows from operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows. The Company may enter into derivative contracts that are intended to economically hedge certain of its risks, even though hedge accounting does not apply, or the Company elects not to apply hedge accounting.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company uses the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the grant date to measure fair value for service-based awards and a Monte Carlo simulation model to determine the fair value of market-based awards. The Company uses historical volatility to calculate the expected volatility matching the expected holding period. The fair value of stock-based compensation awards is recognized as an expense over the vesting period using the straight-line method. For awards that contain a market condition, expense is recognized over the defined or derived service period using a Monte Carlo simulation model. Compensation expense is recognized for these awards on a straight-line basis over the service period, regardless of the eventual number of shares that are earned based upon the market condition, provided that each grantee remains an employee at the end of the performance period. Compensation expense on awards that contain a market condition is reversed if at any time during the service period a grantee is no longer an employee.

The Company recognizes forfeitures as they occur at which time compensation cost previously recognized for an award that is forfeited because of failure to satisfy a condition is reversed in the period of the forfeiture.

The Company receives an income tax deduction in certain tax jurisdictions for restricted stock grants when they vest and for stock options exercised by employees equal to the excess of the market value of the Company's common stock on the date of exercise over the option price. Excess tax benefits (tax benefits resulting from tax deductions in excess of compensation cost recognized) are classified as a cash flow provided by operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets

The Company periodically evaluates the carrying value of long-lived assets held and used in the business and with definite lives, when events and circumstances occur indicating that the carrying amount of the asset or its asset group may not be recoverable. An impairment test is performed when the estimated undiscounted cash flows associated with the asset or asset group is less than its carrying value. Once such impairment test is performed, a loss is recognized based on the amount, if any, by which the carrying value exceeds the estimated fair value for assets to be held and used.

See Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net, Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, and Note 15, Fair Value Measurements, for additional information on long-lived asset impairment charges.

Leases

Arrangements containing leases are evaluated as an operating or finance lease at lease inception. For operating leases, the Company recognizes an operating lease right-of-use ("ROU") asset and operating lease liability at lease commencement based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term.

With the exception of certain finance leases, an implicit rate of return is not readily determinable for the Company's leases. For these leases, an incremental borrowing rate is used in determining the present value of lease payments and is calculated based on information available at the lease commencement date. The incremental borrowing rate is determined using a portfolio approach based on the rate of interest the Company would have to pay to borrow funds on a collateralized basis over a similar term. The Company references market yield curves which are risk-adjusted to approximate a collateralized rate in the currency of the lease. These rates are updated on a quarterly basis for measurement of new lease obligations.

The Company's lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised. Leases with an initial term of 12 months or less are not recognized on the consolidated balance sheets. The Company has elected to separate lease and non-lease components.

Net Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per share is computed by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted net loss per share reflects the potential dilution that would occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock.

Recently Issued and Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2023-03, "Presentation of Financial Statement (Topic 205), Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive Income (Topic 220), Distinguishing Liabilities from Equity (Topic 480), Equity (Topic505), and Compensation - Stock Compensation (Topic 718)", to amend various SEC paragraphs in the ASC to reflect the issuance of SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 120, among other things. The Company adopted this conforming guidance upon issuance, which had no material impact on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, "Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures", which will require entities to disclose more detailed information in the reconciliation of their statutory tax rate to their effective tax rate. The ASU also requires entities to disclose more detailed information about income taxes paid, including by jurisdiction, pretax income (loss) from continuing operations, and income tax expense (benefit). The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2025. The amendments should be applied on a prospective basis. Retrospective application is permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the provisions of the amendments and the effect on its future consolidated financial statements.

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07, "Segment Reporting (Topic 280), Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures", which updates reportable segment disclosure requirements primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments should be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. The Company is currently evaluating the provisions of the amendments and the effect on its future consolidated financial statements.

Earnings Per Share [Abstract]

(Loss) Earnings Per Share

3. (LOSS) EARNINGS PER SHARE

The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted net (loss) income per share on the consolidated statements of operations:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023	2022
Numerator:
Net (loss) income	$ (75,042)	$ (116,537)	$ 77,873
Denominator:
Basic weighted average shares outstanding	89,750	89,396	92,989
Effect of dilutive stock options, unvested restricted share units and unvested performance share units	—	—	356
Diluted weighted average shares outstanding	89,750	89,396	93,345
Basic net (loss) income per common share	$ (0.84)	$ (1.30)	$ 0.84
Diluted net (loss) income per common share	$ (0.84)	$ (1.30)	$ 0.83

Due to the Company's net loss in each of the twelve months ended June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023, all common stock equivalents such as stock options, unvested restricted share units and performance share units have been excluded from the computation of diluted net loss per share. The effect of the stock options and unvested restricted share units would have been anti-dilutive to the computations. The performance share units were contingently issuable based on market conditions and such conditions had not been achieved during the year.

There were 316 restricted share units excluded from the Company's calculation of diluted net income per share for fiscal year 2022, as such awards were anti-dilutive.

Additionally, 214 performance share units were excluded from the calculation of diluted net income per share for fiscal year 2022, as such awards were contingently issuable based on market or performance conditions, and such conditions had not been achieved during the year.

Depreciation expense for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022 was $34,332, $35,893 and $31,235, respectively.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company completed an interim impairment test of the ParmCrisps® asset group. The Company determined that the carrying amount of the ParmCrisps® asset group exceeded its estimated fair value. The Company recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $5,875 to reduce the carrying amount of ParmCrisps® machinery and equipment to its estimated fair value. The fair value of machinery and equipment was determined based on an orderly liquidation value. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $20,666 related to its Bell, CA production facility in the North America reportable segment to reduce the carrying amount of such long-lived assets to their estimated fair value. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statement of operations. The impairment charge was recognized due to consolidation of the Company's manufacturing footprint.

The Company recognized impairment charges of $244 and $584 during the fiscal years 2024 and 2023, respectively, relating to a facility in the North America reportable segment that was held for sale. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company completed the sale of such facility for total cash proceeds of $1,182, net of brokerage and other fees, resulting in a loss of $68, which was included as a component of other expense (income), net on the consolidated statement of operations. The facility had a net carrying value of nil and $1,250 as of June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023, respectively.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $2,763, related to write-down of projects machinery and equipment in the International reportable segment related to the multi-year growth, transformation and restructuring program (the "Hain Reimagined Program"). See Note 18, Transformation Program.

During fiscal year 2022, the Company completed the sale of undeveloped land plots in Boulder, Colorado in the U.S. for total cash proceeds of $10,005, net of brokerage and other fees, resulting in a gain in the amount of $8,656, which is included as a component of other expense (income), net on the consolidated statement of operations. The Company also recognized a non-cash impairment charge of $303 during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022 relating to a facility in the International reportable segment.

Leases [Abstract]

Leases

7. LEASES

The Company leases office space, warehouse and distribution facilities, manufacturing equipment and vehicles primarily in North America and Western Europe. The Company determines if an arrangement is or contains a lease at inception. Lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the Company will exercise that option. The Company's lease agreements generally do not contain residual value guarantees or material restrictive covenants. Some of the Company's leases contain variable lease payments, which are expensed as incurred unless those payments are based on an index or rate. Variable lease payments based on an index or rate are initially measured using the index or rate in effect at lease commencement and included in the measurement of the lease liability; thereafter, changes to lease payments due to rate or index changes are recorded as variable lease expense in the period incurred. The Company does not have any related party leases, and sublease transactions are de minimis.

The components of lease expenses for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022 were as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended
	2024	2023	2022
Operating lease expenses	$ 17,446	$ 18,173	$ 15,911

8. GOODWILL AND OTHER INTANGIBLE ASSETS

Goodwill

The following table shows the changes in the carrying amount of goodwill by reportable segment:

	North America	International	Total
Balance as of June 30, 2022[1]	$ 695,715	$ 238,081	$ 933,796
Acquisition[2]	(794)	—	(794)
Divestiture[3]	(3,054)	—	(3,054)
Translation	5,186	3,506	8,692
Balance as of June 30, 2023	697,053	241,587	938,640
Divestiture[4]	(6,267)		(6,267)
Translation	(1,318)	(1,751)	(3,069)
Balance as of June 30, 2024	$ 689,468	$ 239,836	$ 929,304

(1) The total carrying value of goodwill is reflected net of $134,277 of accumulated impairment charges, of which $7,700 is related to the North America reportable segment and $126,577 is related to the International reportable segment.

(2) During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company finalized purchase accounting related to "That's How We Roll" ("THWR") resulting in a $794 reduction to goodwill.

(3) During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company completed the divestiture of Westbrae®, a component of the North America reportable segment. Goodwill of $3,054 was assigned to the divested component on a relative fair value basis.

(4) During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company completed the divestitures of Thinsters® and Queen Helene®, both were components of the North America reportable segment. Goodwill of $5,732 and $535 was assigned to divested components of Thinsters® and Queen Helene®, respectively, on a relative fair value basis.

During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, as a result of the significant decline in the Company's market capitalization and the same factors triggering the interim impairment tests for the ParmCrisps® and Thinsters® trademarks, certain North America personal care tradenames, and other intangible assets, the Company completed an interim impairment test of all reporting units. For the United Kingdom ("U.K."), Western Europe, Canada, and Ella's Kitchen UK reporting units, the Company performed a qualitative evaluation to assess factors to determine whether it was more likely than not that the fair value of the reporting units were less than their carrying amounts, including goodwill. The Company concluded that the qualitatively tested reporting units estimated fair values exceeded their carrying amounts. Three of these reporting units (U.K., Western Europe and Canada) were quantitatively tested in fiscal 2023 and as of the last quantitative testing date, their estimated fair values exceeded their respective carrying amounts by more than 17.0%.

During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company completed an interim quantitative impairment test of goodwill in the U.S. reporting unit and concluded that the reporting unit's estimated fair value exceeded its carrying amount. The fair value of the reporting unit was estimated utilizing a blended approach which included an income approach utilizing the Discounted Cash Flows Method and the Guideline Public Company Methodology, a market-based approach.

The Company completed this interim quantitative impairment test of goodwill in the U.S. reporting unit and concluded that the reporting unit's estimated fair value exceeded its carrying amount by 6.2%. The Company also completed its annual goodwill impairment analysis on April 1, 2024 (the first day of the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024) and concluded that no impairment existed at any of its reporting units. At June 30, 2024, the goodwill related to the U.S. reporting unit was at risk of potential impairment if the fair value of this reporting unit, and its associated assets, decrease in value due to the amount and timing of expected future cash flows, decreased customer demand for products, an inability to execute management's business strategies, or general market conditions, such as economic downturns, and changes in interest rates, including discount rates. Future cash flow estimates are, by their nature, subjective, and actual results may differ materially from the Company's estimates. If the Company's ongoing cash flow projections are not met or if market factors utilized in the impairment test deteriorate, including an unfavorable change in the terminal growth rate or the weighted-average cost of capital, the Company may have to record impairment charges in future periods. As of June 30, 2024, goodwill associated with the U.S. reporting unit had a carrying value of $641,053.

Other Intangible Assets

The following table sets forth balance sheet information for intangible assets, excluding goodwill, subject to amortization and intangible assets not subject to amortization:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023
Non-amortized intangible assets:
Trademarks and tradenames[1]	$ 195,237	$ 250,860
Amortized intangible assets:
Other intangibles[2][3]	167,886	161,874
Less: Accumulated amortization	(118,324)	(114,629)
Net amortized intangible assets	$ 49,562	$ 47,245
Net other intangible assets	$ 244,799	$ 298,105

(1) The gross carrying value of trademarks and tradenames is reflected net of $251,551 and $223,981 of accumulated impairment charges as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

(2) The reduction in carrying value of other intangible assets as of June 30, 2024 reflected a non-cash impairment charge of $17,032 and $45,798 recognized in the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

(3) During the fiscal year 2024, the useful life for certain North America personal care tradenames (namely, Avalon Organics®, and JASON®), the MaraNatha® trademark, and the trademarks for the plant-based beverage brands: Happy™ and Joya® was changed from indefinite to definite. The carrying value of such intangible assets as of June 30, 2024 was $27,259.

During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company recorded a non-cash impairment charge of $10,797 related to the indefinite and definite lived intangible assets associated with Thinsters® in connection with the probable sale of the Thinsters® cookie business. The Company concluded that as of March 31, 2024, there was a high probability that the sale of the Thinsters® business would occur and therefore, a quantitative impairment test was performed. To determine the amount of the impairment, the Company compared the carrying amount of the Thinsters® assets to its estimated fair value (which was the expected selling price less transaction costs).

During the third quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $12,815 and $8,000 for certain North America personal care tradenames (namely, Alba Botanica®, Avalon Organics®, and JASON®) and the ParmCrisps® trademark, respectively, to reduce the carrying amounts of such intangible assets to their estimated fair values of $13,000 and nil, respectively. The fair value was determined using the relief from royalty method, and impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The assets are part of the North America reportable segment. As a result of the same factors triggering the interim impairment tests for the ParmCrisps® trademark, the Company completed impairment tests of the ParmCrisps® asset group, which was primarily comprised of amortizable customer relationships, machinery and equipment and operating lease right-of-use assets. The Company determined that the carrying amount of the ParmCrisps® asset group exceeded the estimated fair value. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $10,586 to reduce the carrying amount of the ParmCrisps® customer relationships to their estimated fair value which was determined using a discounted cash flow analysis. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The customer relationship intangible asset was part of the North America reportable segment and was fully impaired.

In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2024, the Company quantitatively tested another intangible asset. The assessment indicated that the carrying value of the trademarks associated with its plant-based beverage brands, Happy™ and Joya®, exceeded its estimated fair value. The fair value was determined using the relief from royalty method, and a non-cash impairment charge of $2,260 was recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The Happy™ and Joya® intangible assets are part of the International reportable segment and had a remaining aggregate carrying value of $3,761 as of June 30, 2024.

During the fourth quarter of fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $4,767, $4,691 and $9,150 for Imagine®, Joya®, and Queen Helene® intangible assets, respectively, to reduce the carrying amount of such intangible assets to their estimated fair value. The fair values were determined using the relief from royalty method, and impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The Imagine® and Queen Helene® intangible assets are part of the North America reportable segment and had a remaining aggregate carrying value of $3,100 as of June 30, 2024. The Joya® intangible assets are part of the International reportable segment and had a remaining aggregate carrying value of $3,761 as of June 30, 2024.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $102,000 and $8,500 for the ParmCrisps® and Thinsters® trademarks, respectively, to reduce the carrying amount of such intangible assets to their estimated fair value. The fair values were determined using the relief from royalty method, and impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The assets are part of the North America reportable segment and were fully impaired as of June 30, 2024. As a result of the same factors triggering the interim impairment tests for the ParmCrisps® and Thinsters® trademarks, the Company completed interim impairment tests of the ParmCrisps® and Thinsters® asset groups, which were primarily comprised of amortizable customer relationships. The Company determined that the carrying amount of the ParmCrisps® asset group's exceeded its estimated fair value. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company recorded non-cash impairment charges of $45,798 to reduce the carrying amount of the ParmCrisps® customer relationships, the primary asset in the asset group, to their estimated fair value. Impairment charges were recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations. The fair value of the Thinsters® asset group exceeded its carrying amount. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company completed the sale of the Thinsters® business as discussed in Note 4, Dispositions.

Non-cash impairment charges, recorded within intangibles and long-lived asset impairment on the consolidated statements of operations, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023 were as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023
Personal care tradenames (Alba Botanica®, Avalon Organics®, and JASON®)	$ 12,815	$ —
Thinsters® trademark and customer relationships	10,797	8,500
ParmCrisps® customer relationships	10,586	45,798
ParmCrisps® trademark	8,000	102,000
Happy™ and Joya® trademarks	2,260	4,691
Queen Helene®	—	9,150
Imagine®	—	4,767
Other	144	—
	$ 44,602	$ 174,906

Amortized intangible assets, which are deemed to have a finite life, primarily consist of customer relationships, trademarks and tradenames and are amortized over their estimated useful lives of 7 to 25 years. The weighted average remaining amortization period of amortized intangible assets is 8.9 years. Expected amortization expense of the next five fiscal years is as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ending June 30,
	2025	2026	2027	2028	2029
Estimated amortization expense	$ 7,197	$ 6,205	$ 6,120	$ 5,187	$ 4,747

Short-term borrowings and current portion of long-term debt[(2)]	7,569	7,567
Long-term debt, less current portion	$ 736,523	$ 821,181

(1) Includes $222 (2023: $305) of finance lease obligations as discussed in Note 7, Leases.
(2) Includes $85 (2023: $83) of short-term finance lease obligations as discussed in Note 7, Leases.

On August 22, 2023, the Company entered into a Second Amendment (the "Second Amendment") to the Credit Agreement (as amended, the "Credit Agreement"). The Credit Agreement provides for senior secured financing of $1,100 million in the aggregate, consisting of (1) $300 million in aggregate principal amount of term loans (the "Term Loans") and (2) an $800 million senior secured revolving credit facility (which includes borrowing capacity available for letters of credit, and is comprised of a $440 million U.S. revolving credit facility and $360 million global revolving credit facility) (the "Revolver"). Both the Revolver and the Term Loans mature on December 22, 2026. The Company's obligations under the Credit Agreement are guaranteed by certain existing and future domestic subsidiaries of the Company and are secured by liens on assets of the Company and its material domestic subsidiaries, including the equity interest in each of their direct subsidiaries and intellectual property, subject to agreed-upon exceptions.

The Credit Agreement includes financial covenants that require compliance with a consolidated secured leverage ratio, a consolidated leverage ratio and a consolidated interest coverage ratio. Pursuant to the Second Amendment, the Company's maximum consolidated secured leverage ratio was amended to be 5.00:1.00 until September 30, 2023, 5.25:1.00 until December 31, 2023 and 5.00:1.00 until December 31, 2024 (the period of time during which such maximum consolidated secured leverage ratios are in effect, the "Second Amendment Period"). Following the Second Amendment Period, the maximum consolidated secured leverage ratio will be 4.25:1.00, subject to possible temporary increase following certain corporate acquisitions. Pursuant to the Credit Agreement, the Company's maximum consolidated leverage ratio is 6.00:1.00. Pursuant to the Second Amendment, the Company's minimum interest coverage ratio was amended to be 2.50:1.00.

During the Second Amendment Period, loans under the Credit Agreement bears interest at (a) Term SOFR plus 2.5% per annum or (b) the Base Rate plus 1.5% per annum. Following the Second Amendment Period, loans bear interest at rates based on (a) Term SOFR plus a rate ranging from 1.125% to 2.0% per annum or (b) the Base Rate plus a rate ranging from 0.125% to 1.0% per annum, the relevant rate in each case being the Applicable Rate. The Applicable Rate following the Second Amendment Period is determined in accordance with a leverage-based pricing grid, as set forth in the Credit Agreement as amended by the Second Amendment. Excluding the impact of hedges, the weighted average interest rate on outstanding borrowings under the Credit Agreement at June 30, 2024 was 7.97%. During fiscal 2022, the Company used interest rate swaps to hedge a portion of the interest rate risk related its outstanding variable rate debt. As of June 30, 2024, the notional amount of the interest rate swaps was $400 million with fixed rate payments of 5.60%. Including the impact of hedges, the weighted average interest rate on outstanding borrowings under the Credit Agreement at June 30, 2024 was 6.83%. Additionally, the Credit Agreement contains a Commitment Fee (as defined in the Credit Agreement) on the amount unused under the Credit Agreement ranging from 0.15% to 0.25% per annum, and such Commitment Fee is determined in accordance with a leverage-based pricing grid.

As of June 30, 2024, there were $475,000 of loans under the Revolver, $270,550 of Term Loans, and $3,247 of letters of credit outstanding under the Credit Agreement. As of June 30, 2024, $321,753 was available under the Credit Agreement, subject to compliance with the financial covenants. As of June 30, 2024, the Company was in compliance with all associated covenants.

Credit Agreement Issuance Costs

In connection with the First Amendment to its Credit Agreement during the second quarter of fiscal year 2023, the Company incurred debt issuance costs of approximately $1,987, of which $1,916 was deferred. Of the total deferred costs, $1,396 were associated with the Revolver and are being amortized on a straight-line basis within other assets on the consolidated balance sheets, and $520 are being amortized on a straight-line basis, which approximates the effective interest method, as an adjustment to the carrying amount of the Term Loans as a component of Interest and other financing expense, net over the term of the Credit Agreement.

In connection with the Second Amendment to its Credit Agreement during the first quarter of fiscal year 2024, the Company incurred debt issuance costs of approximately $3,854, of which $3,813 was deferred. Of the total deferred costs, $2,802 were associated with the Revolver and are being amortized on a straight-line basis within other assets on the consolidated balance sheets, and $1,011 are being recorded as an adjustment to the carrying amount of the Term Loans as a component of Interest and other financing expense, net over the term of the Credit Agreement utilizing the effective interest rate method.

Maturities of all debt instruments, excluding unamortized issuance costs, at June 30, 2024, are as follows:

Due in Fiscal Year	Amount
2025	$ 7,585
2026	7,563
2027	730,624
Total debt and borrowings	$ 745,772

Interest paid during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022 amounted to $52,456, $41,698 and $9,926, respectively.

	(23,361)	(25,953)	9,020
Total	$ (7,820)	$ (14,178)	$ 22,716

Cash paid for income taxes, net of refunds, during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023 amounted to $10,303 and $14,765, respectively.

The reconciliation of the U.S. federal statutory rate to the Company's effective rate on (loss) income before (benefit) provision for income taxes is as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	%	2023	%	2022	%
Expected United States federal income tax at statutory rate	$ (16,857)	21.0%	$ (27,233)	21.0%	$ 21,733	21.0%

Other	1,470	(1.8)%	1,308	(1.1)%	(514)	(0.4)%
(Benefit) provision for income taxes	$ (7,820)	9.7%	$ (14,178)	10.9%	$ 22,716	22.0%

(a) The Company estimated that it would not be able to utilize certain of its federal tax credit, federal tax losses and state tax loss carryovers due to its history of pretax losses and inability to carry back tax losses or credits for refunds. This negative evidence resulted in the Company increasing the valuation allowance on worldwide deferred tax assets in the year ended June 30, 2024 by $15,075, and in the year ended June 30, 2023 by $14,935.

U.S. federal tax regulations include a provision to tax global intangible low-taxed income ("GILTI") of foreign subsidiaries and a measure to tax certain intercompany payments under the base erosion anti-abuse tax ("BEAT") regime. For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, the Company did not generate intercompany transactions that met the BEAT threshold but does have to include GILTI tax relating to the Company's foreign subsidiaries.

The Company elected to account for GILTI tax as a current period cost and recorded expense of $381 during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024. The GILTI tax expense is included in the U.S. tax benefit on foreign earnings in the effective tax rate which also includes tax expense related to Subpart F income and unremitted earnings in total.

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amount of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts for income tax purposes. Deferred tax assets and liabilities consisted of the following:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023
Noncurrent deferred tax assets (liabilities):
Basis difference on inventory	$ 4,884	$ 5,130
Reserves not currently deductible	8,386	11,045
Basis difference on intangible assets	(62,549)	(73,635)
Basis difference on property and equipment	(14,946)	(20,255)
Other comprehensive income	(2,887)	(3,498)
Net operating loss and tax credit carryforwards	67,186	50,807
Stock-based compensation	1,591	1,937
Unremitted earnings of foreign subsidiaries	(1,873)	(1,989)
Operating lease liability	18,615	20,203
Lease ROU assets	(17,309)	(19,113)
Other	18,702	9,833
Valuation allowances	(67,626)	(52,551)
Noncurrent deferred tax liabilities, net	$ (47,826)	$ (72,086)

At June 30, 2024 and 2023, the Company had U.S. federal NOL carryforwards of approximately $67,138 and $63,559, respectively, certain of which will not expire until 2033. Certain of these federal loss carryforwards are subject to Internal Revenue Code Section 382, which imposes limitations on utilization following certain changes in ownership of the entity generating the loss carryforward. The Company had foreign NOL carryforwards of approximately $9,035 and $11,351 at June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, the majority of which are indefinite lived.

For the year ended June 30, 2024, the Company determined that $202,500 of foreign earnings are not permanently reinvested with a corresponding deferred tax liability of $1,873. The Company continues to reinvest $767,735 of undistributed earnings of its foreign subsidiaries and may be subject to additional foreign withholding taxes and U.S. state income taxes if it reverses its indefinite reinvestment assertion on these foreign earnings in the future. All other outside basis differences not related to earnings were impractical to account for at this period of time and are currently considered as being permanent in duration.

As required by the authoritative guidance on accounting for income taxes, the Company evaluates the realizability of deferred tax assets on a jurisdictional basis at each reporting date. Accounting for income taxes requires that a valuation allowance be established when it is more likely than not that all or a portion of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. In circumstances where there is sufficient negative evidence indicating that the deferred tax assets are not more likely than not realizable, the Company establishes a valuation allowance. The Company recorded valuation allowances in the amounts of $67,626 and $52,551 at June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

The changes in valuation allowances against deferred income tax assets were as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023
Balance at beginning of year	$ 52,551	$ 36,891
Additions charged to income tax expense	18,998	23,212
Reductions credited to income tax expense	(3,858)	(8,514)
THWR purchase accounting	—	291
Currency translation adjustments	(65)	671
Balance at end of year	$ 67,626	$ 52,551

Unrecognized tax benefits activity, including interest and penalties, is summarized below:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023	2022
Balance at beginning of year	$ 23,967	$ 21,901	$ 22,870
Additions based on tax positions related to the current year	1,906	1,519	273
Additions based on tax positions related to prior years	187	815	304
Reductions due to lapse in statute of limitations and settlements	—	(268)	(1,546)
Balance at end of year	$ 26,060	$ 23,967	$ 21,901

As of June 30, 2024, the Company had $26,060 of unrecognized tax benefits, of which $22,249 represents an amount that, if recognized, would impact the effective tax rate in future periods. As of June 30, 2023, the Company had $23,967 of unrecognized tax benefits, of which $20,155 represents the amount that, if recognized, would impact the effective tax rate in future periods. As of June 30, 2022, the Company had $21,901 of unrecognized tax benefits of which $18,089 would impact the effective income tax rate in future periods. Accrued liabilities for interest and penalties were $4,921 and $3,768 at June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

The Company and its subsidiaries file income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction, various U.S. state jurisdictions and several foreign jurisdictions. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local, or non-U.S. income tax examinations by tax authorities for years prior to fiscal 2014. However, to the extent the Company generated NOLs or tax credits in closed tax years, future use of the NOL or tax credit carryforward balance would be subject to examination within the relevant statute of limitations for the year in which utilized. The Company is no longer subject to tax examinations in the U.K. for years prior to fiscal 2021. Given the uncertainty regarding when tax authorities will complete their examinations and the possible outcomes of their examinations, a current estimate of the range of reasonably possible significant increases or decreases of income tax that may occur within the next twelve months cannot be made. Although there are various tax audits currently ongoing, the Company does not believe the ultimate outcome of such audits will have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Share Repurchase Program

In January 2022, the Company's Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of up to $200.0 million of the Company's issued and outstanding common stock. Repurchases may be made from time to time in the open market, pursuant to pre-set trading plans, in private transactions or otherwise. The current 2022 authorization does not have a stated expiration date. The extent to which the Company repurchases its shares and the timing of such repurchases will depend upon market conditions and other corporate considerations. During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company did not repurchase any shares under the repurchase program. As of June 30, 2024, the Company had $173.5 million of remaining authorization under the share repurchase program.

Stock-based Compensation and Incentive Performance Plans

Share-Based Payment Arrangement [Abstract]

Stock-based Compensation and Incentive Performance Plans

12 Months Ended

Jun. 30, 2024

13. STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION AND INCENTIVE PERFORMANCE PLANS

The Company maintains a shareholder-approved plan, The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. 2022 Long Term Incentive and Stock Award Plan (the "2022 Plan"), which was approved at the Company's 2022 Annual Meeting of Shareholders held on November 17, 2022. The 2022 Plan permits the Company to continue making equity-based and other incentive awards in a manner intended to properly incentivize its employees, directors, consultants and other service providers by aligning their interests with the interests of the Company's shareholders. The 2022 Plan is administered by the Compensation and Talent Management Committee of the Company's Board of Directors. The Company also historically granted shares under its Amended and Restated 2002 Long-Term Incentive and Stock Award Plan (the "2002 Plan") and its 2019 Equity Inducement Award Program (the "2019 Inducement Program"). The 2022 Plan, the 2002 Plan and the 2019 Inducement Program are collectively referred to as the "Stock Award Plans".

There were 1,767, 1,242, and 873 shares underlying awards granted under the Stock Award Plans during fiscal years 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively, of which 618, 428, and 249, respectively, were performance share units ("PSU") that are subject to the achievement of minimum market conditions or performance goals, with the remaining being restricted share units ("RSU"), which are service-based awards. RSU awards to employees generally provide for vesting in equal annual installments over a period of three years, with different vesting periods in certain cases. RSU awards to non-employee directors generally provide for a vesting period of one year. For PSU awards, the foregoing share figures are stated at target levels, and the awards outstanding at June 30, 2024 generally provide for vesting at 0% to 200% of the target level. There were no stock options granted under the Stock Award Plans during fiscal years 2024, 2023 and 2022. At June 30, 2024, there were 5,406 shares available for grant under the 2022 Plan.

Stock-Based Award Activity During Past Three Years

Awards of RSUs and PSUs are issued at no cost to the recipient. Shares underlying RSUs and PSUs are not issued until vesting. Vesting of RSUs and PSUs is subject to continued employment and vesting conditions in accordance with provisions set forth in the applicable award agreements. Market-based PSUs vest contingent on meeting specific Total Shareholder Return ("TSR") targets over a specified time period, and in prior years, the Company also granted performance-based PSUs that vested contingent on meeting specific financial results within a specified time period.

A summary of all stock-based award activity for the last three fiscal years ended June 30 is as follows:

	2024		2023		2022
	Number of Shares and Units	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value (per share)	Number of Shares and Units	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value (per share)	Number of Shares and Units	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value (per share)
Non-vested at beginning of period - RSUs and PSUs	1,288	$ 26.37	790	$ 42.44	1,780	$ 16.55
Granted	1,768	$ 11.83	1,242	$ 20.34	873	$ 43.55
Vested	(528)	$ 27.38	(250)	$ 36.23	(1,583)	$ 15.61
Forfeited	(363)	$ 19.13	(494)	$ 31.92	(280)	$ 32.98
Non-vested at end of period - RSUs and PSUs	2,165	$ 15.03	1,288	$ 26.37	790	$ 42.44

At June 30, 2024, the non-vested amount in the table above includes a total of 849 shares that represent the target number of shares that may be earned under PSUs based on pre-defined market conditions that are eligible to vest ranging from 0% to 200% of target while the remaining shares represent the shares that may be earned under RSUs based on service-based conditions. Vested shares during the year ended June 30, 2024, include a total of 512 shares under various LTIPs and a total of 15 shares that vested based on certain performance-based metrics being met.

The fair value of RSUs and PSUs granted and of shares vested, and the tax benefit recognized from restricted shares vesting, for the last three fiscal years ended June 30 was as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023	2022
Fair value of RSUs and PSUs granted	$ 20,726	$ 25,258	$ 38,005
Fair value of RSUs and PSUs vested	$ 5,545	$ 4,684	$ 71,376
Tax benefit recognized from RSUs and PSUs vesting	$ 673	$ 631	$ 3,658

At June 30, 2024, $19,400 of unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to non-vested RSUs and PSUs was expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of approximately 1.46 years.

Long-Term Incentive Program

In conjunction with the Stock Award Plans, the Company maintains a long-term incentive program ("LTIP") that provides for equity awards, including market-based PSUs that can be earned over defined performance periods. The participants of the LTIP include certain of the Company's executive officers and other key executives. The LTIP is administered by the Compensation and Talent Management Committee, which is responsible for, among other items, selecting the specific performance measures for awards, setting the target performance required to receive an award after the completion of the performance period, and determining the specific payout to the participants.

For RSUs, the Company uses the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the grant date to measure fair value for service-based awards and for market-based PSUs, the Company uses a Monte Carlo simulation model to determine the fair value of those awards granted under the LTIP. The fair value of RSUs and PSUs is then used to record stock-based compensation expense. The use of the Monte Carlo simulation model requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions and therefore, the Company has included additional information regarding the terms of the PSUs granted and the inputs into the Monte Carlo simulation model below.

2024-2026 LTIP

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, the Company granted market-based PSU awards under the LTIP with a total target payout of 618 shares of common stock. At June 30, 2024, there were 556 such shares outstanding under the LTIP. Such PSU awards will vest, if at all, pursuant to a defined calculation of either relative TSR or absolute TSR (as defined) over the period from October 26, 2023 through the earlier of: (i) October 25, 2026; (ii) the date the participant's employment is terminated due to death or Disability (as defined); or (iii) the effective date of a Change in Control (as defined) (the "2024 TSR Performance Period"). Vesting of 370 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to a defined calculation of relative TSR over the 2024 TSR Performance Period (the "2024 Relative TSR PSUs"). Vesting of 185 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR targets over the 2024 TSR Performance Period (the "2024 Absolute TSR PSUs"). Total shares eligible to vest for both the 2024 Relative TSR PSUs and 2024 Absolute TSR PSUs range from zero to 200% of the target amount. Grant date fair values are calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation model with grant date fair values per target share and related valuation assumptions as follows:

	Fiscal Year ended June 30, 2024
	Absolute TSR PSUs	Relative TSR PSUs
Grant date fair value (per target share)	$ 12.23	$ 15.42
Risk-free interest rate	4.98%	4.98%
Expected dividend yield	—	—
Expected volatility	33.70%	23.10%
Expected term	3.00 years	3.00 years

2023-2025 LTIP

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, the Company granted market-based PSU awards under the LTIP with a total target payout of 429 shares of common stock. At June 30, 2024, 249 of such shares were outstanding. Such PSU awards will vest, if at all, pursuant to a defined calculation of either relative TSR or absolute TSR (as defined) over the period from September 6, 2022 through the earlier of: (i) September 6, 2025; (ii) the date the participant's employment is terminated due to death or Disability (as defined); or (iii) the effective date of a Change in Control (as defined) (the "2023 TSR Performance Period"). Vesting of 167 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to a defined calculation of relative TSR over the 2023 TSR Performance Period (the "2023 Relative TSR PSUs"). Vesting of 82 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR targets over the 2023 TSR Performance Period (the "2023 Absolute TSR PSUs"). Total shares eligible to vest for both the 2023 Relative TSR PSUs and 2023 Absolute TSR PSUs range from zero to 200% of the target amount. Grant date fair values are calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation model with grant date fair values per target share and related valuation assumptions as follows:

	Fiscal Year ended June 30, 2023
	Absolute TSR PSUs	Relative TSR PSUs
Grant date fair value (per target share)	$ 20.18	$ 27.47
Risk-free interest rate	3.54%	3.54%
Expected dividend yield	—	—
Expected volatility	40.30%	26.60%
Expected term	3.00 years	3.00 years

2022-2024 LTIP

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 2022, the Company granted market-based PSU awards under the LTIP with a total target payout of 193 shares of common stock. At June 30, 2024, 44 of such shares were outstanding. Vesting is pursuant to a defined calculation of either relative TSR or absolute TSR (as defined in the award agreement) over the period from November 18, 2021 through the earlier of: (i) November 17, 2024; (ii) the date the participant's employment is terminated due to death or Disability (as defined); or (iii) the effective date of a Change in Control (as defined in the award agreement) (the "2022 TSR Performance Period"). Vesting of 29 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to a defined calculation of relative TSR over the 2022 TSR Performance Period (the "2022 Relative TSR PSUs"). Vesting of 15 target shares of the outstanding PSU awards is pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR targets over the 2022 TSR Performance Period (the "2022 Absolute TSR PSUs"). Total shares eligible to vest for both the 2022 Relative TSR PSUs and 2022 Absolute TSR PSUs range from 0% to 200% of the target amount.

Grant date fair values are calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation model with weighted average grant date fair values per target share and related valuation assumptions as follows:

	Fiscal Year ended June 30, 2022
	Absolute TSR PSUs	Relative TSR PSUs
Grant date fair value (per target share)	$ 39.00	$ 60.09
Risk-free interest rate	0.89%	0.89%
Expected dividend yield	—	—
Expected volatility	36.93%	24.46%
Expected term	2.99 years	2.99 years

2019-2021 LTIP

Vesting was pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR targets over the period from November 6, 2018 to November 6, 2021 with total shares eligible to vest ranging from 0% to 300% of the target award amount. Certain shares were subject to a holding period of one year after the vesting date, resulting in an illiquidity discount being applied to the grant date fair value for such shares. There were 51 and 554 PSUs granted during fiscal years 2021 and 2020, respectively. No such awards under the 2019-2021 LTIP were granted after fiscal year 2021. Grant date fair values are calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation model. The weighted average grant date fair values per target share and related valuation assumptions were as follows:

	Fiscal Year ended June 30,
	2021	2020
Grant date fair value (per target share)	$ 32.13	$ 10.92
Risk-free interest rate	0.13%	1.54%
Expected dividend yield	—	—
Expected volatility	40.37%	36.28%
Expected term	1.17 years	1.85 years

In the second quarter of fiscal 2022, the Compensation and Talent Management Committee determined that all outstanding awards under the 2019-2021 LTIP vested at 100% as a result of the TSR targets having been met.

Former CEO Inducement Grant

On November 6, 2018, the Company's former CEO, Mark L. Schiller received a market-based PSU award with a target payout of 350 shares of common stock and a maximum payout of 1,050 shares of common stock (the "CEO Inducement Grant"). Vesting was pursuant to the achievement of pre-established three-year compound annual TSR levels over the period from November 6, 2018 to November 6, 2021. These PSUs were subject to a holding period of one year after the vesting date. As such, an illiquidity discount was applied to the grant date fair value. The grant date fair value per target share and related valuation assumptions used in the Monte Carlo simulation to value this award were as follows:

Grant date fair value (per target share)	$ 21.63
Risk-free interest rate	2.99%
Expected dividend yield	—
Expected volatility	35.17%
Expected term	3.00 years

The total grant date fair value of the award was $7,571. This PSU award was granted outside of the Stock Award Plans. In the second quarter of fiscal 2022, the Compensation and Talent Management Committee determined that the CEO Inducement Grant vested at 100% as a result of the TSR targets having been met.

CEO Succession

On November 22, 2022, the Board approved a succession plan pursuant to which Mark L. Schiller transitioned from his position as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company effective as of December 31, 2022 (the "Transition Date"). As of the Transition Date, certain of Mr. Schiller's stock-based compensation awards were modified and others were forfeited. Additionally, Mr. Schiller received severance totaling $4,725, paid in installments over a two-year period following the Transition Date. Severance, including payroll taxes and other costs, was recognized during fiscal year 2023.

On November 22, 2022, the Board appointed Wendy P. Davidson to the role of President and Chief Executive Officer and as a director on the Board, in each case effective as of January 1, 2023 (the "Start Date").

On the Start Date, Ms. Davidson received the following awards under the 2023 - 2025 LTIP: 36 Relative TSR PSUs (at target), 18 Absolute TSR PSUs (at target) and 36 RSUs. The Relative TSR PSUs and Absolute TSR PSUs have the same TSR Performance Period, performance goals and beginning stock price as those applicable to awards granted to other employees under the 2023 - 2025 LTIP. The RSUs vest in one-third (1/3) installments on each of September 6, 2023, 2024 and 2025. Additionally, in recognition of the compensation Ms. Davidson forfeited by leaving her former employer, on the Start Date, Ms. Davidson also received a one-time make-whole RSU award of 95 RSUs that vest in one-third (1/3) installments on each of the first, second and third anniversaries of the Start Date.

Grant date fair values were calculated using a Monte-Carlo simulation model with grant date fair values per target share and related valuation assumptions as follows:

	Absolute TSR PSUs	Relative TSR PSUs
Grant date fair value (per target share)	$ 13.84	$ 19.54
Risk-free interest rate	4.28%	4.28%
Expected dividend yield	—	—
Expected volatility	40.70%	28.20%
Expected term	3.00 years	3.00 years

Summary of Stock-Based Compensation

Compensation cost and related income tax benefits recognized on the consolidated statements of operations for stock-based compensation plans were as follows:

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30,
	2024	2023	2022
Selling, general and administrative expense	$ 12,704	$ 14,423	$ 15,611
Related income tax benefit	$ 1,409	$ 1,734	$ 1,574

Stock Options

The Company did not grant any stock options in fiscal years 2024, 2023 or 2022, and there were no stock options exercised during these periods. There were 122 stock options outstanding at each of June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, relating to a grant under a prior plan. Although no further awards can be granted under the prior plan, the stock options outstanding continue in accordance with the terms of the plan and grant. For stock options outstanding and exercisable at June 30, 2024, the aggregate intrinsic value (the difference between the closing stock price on the last day of trading in the year and the exercise price) was $567, and the weighted average remaining contractual life was 7.0 years. The weighted average exercise price of these stock options was $2.26. At June 30, 2024, there was no unrecognized compensation expense related to stock option awards.

Fair Value Measurements

Fair Value Disclosures [Abstract]
Fair Value Measurements

12 Months Ended
Jun. 30, 2024

15. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The Company's financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value are required to be grouped in one of three levels. The levels prioritize the inputs used to measure the fair value of the assets or liabilities. These levels are:

- Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – Quoted prices in markets that are not active, or inputs which are observable, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability; and
- Level 3 – Prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable (i.e., supported by little or no market activity).

The following table presents by level within the fair value hierarchy, assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of June 30, 2024:

	Total	Quoted prices in active markets (Level 1)	Significant other observable inputs (Level 2)	Significant unobservable inputs (Level 3)
Assets:

Derivative financial instruments	$ 14,982	$ —	$ 14,982	$ —
Liabilities:
Derivative financial instruments	$ 3,333	$ —	$ 3,333	$ —

The following table presents by level within the fair value hierarchy, assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of June 30, 2023:

	Total	Quoted prices in active markets (Level 1)	Significant other observable inputs (Level 2)	Significant unobservable inputs (Level 3)
Assets:
Derivative financial instruments	$ 16,988	$ —	$ 16,988	$ —
Liabilities:
Derivative financial instruments	$ 3,160	$ —	$ 3,160	$ —

There were no transfers of financial instruments between the three levels of fair value hierarchy during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024 or 2023.

Derivative Instruments

The Company uses interest rate swaps to manage its interest rate risk and cross-currency swaps and foreign currency exchange contracts to manage its exposure to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. The valuation of these instruments is determined using widely accepted valuation techniques, including discounted cash flow analysis on the expected cash flows of each derivative. This analysis reflects the contractual terms of the derivatives, including the period to maturity, and uses observable market-based inputs, including interest rate curves and implied volatilities. The fair values of interest rate swaps are determined using the market standard methodology of netting the discounted future fixed cash receipts (or payments) and the discounted expected variable cash payments (or receipts). The variable cash payments (or receipts) are based on an expectation of future interest rates (forward curves) derived from observable market interest rate curves.

The Company incorporates credit valuation adjustments to appropriately reflect both the Company's nonperformance risk and the respective counterparty's nonperformance risk in the fair value measurements. In adjusting the fair value of the Company's derivative contracts for the effect of nonperformance risk, the Company has considered the impact of netting and any applicable credit enhancements, such as collateral postings, thresholds, mutual puts and guarantees.

Although the Company has determined that the majority of the inputs used to value its derivatives fall within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, the credit valuation adjustments associated with its derivatives utilize Level 3 inputs, such as estimates of current credit spreads to evaluate the likelihood of default by the Company and its counterparties. The Company has determined that the significance of the impact of the credit valuation adjustments made to its derivative contracts, which determination was based on the fair value of each individual contract, was not significant to the overall valuation. As a result, all of the derivatives held as of June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023 were classified as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements

The Company measures certain non-financial assets at fair value on a nonrecurring basis including goodwill, intangible assets, property and equipment and right-of-use lease assets. These assets were initially measured and recognized at amounts equal to the fair value determined as of the date of acquisition or purchase subject to changes in value only for foreign currency translation. Periodically, these assets are tested for impairment by comparing their respective carrying amounts to the estimated fair value of the reporting unit or asset group in which they reside. In the event any of these assets were to become impaired, the Company would recognize an impairment expense equal to the amount by which the carrying amount of the reporting unit, impaired asset or asset group exceeds its estimated fair value. For indefinite-lived intangible assets, the relief from royalty approach is dependent on a number of factors, including estimates of future growth and trends, royalty rates in the category of intellectual property, discount rates and other variables. Fair value measurements of reporting units are estimated using an income approach involving discounted cash flow models that contain certain Level 3 inputs requiring significant management judgment, including projections of economic conditions, customer demand and changes in competition, revenue growth rates, gross profit margins, operating margins, capital expenditures, working capital requirements, terminal growth rates and discount rates. Fair value measurements of the reporting units associated with the Company's goodwill balances and its indefinite-lived intangible assets are estimated at least annually in the fourth quarter of each fiscal year for purposes of impairment testing if a quantitative analysis is performed. The Company bases its fair value estimates on assumptions its management believes to be reasonable, but which are unpredictable and inherently uncertain.

As discussed in Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the trademarks of Happy™, Joya®, ParmCrisps®, Thinsters®, Imagine®, Queen Helene® and certain North America personal care intangible assets were fair valued on a nonrecurring basis and classified as Level 3 assets in their respective reporting periods. As discussed in Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net, an asset group's property, plant and equipment were fair valued on a nonrecurring basis and classified as Level 3 assets in their respective reporting periods.

Derivatives and Hedging Activities

16. DERIVATIVES AND HEDGING ACTIVITIES

Risk Management Objective of Using Derivatives

The Company is exposed to certain risks arising from both its business operations and economic conditions. The Company manages its exposures to a wide variety of business and operational risks. The Company manages economic risks, including interest rate, liquidity, and credit risk primarily by managing the amount, sources and duration of its assets and liabilities and the use of derivative financial instruments. Specifically, the Company enters into derivative financial instruments to manage exposures that arise from business activities that result in the receipt or payment of future known and uncertain cash amounts, the value of which are determined by interest rates. The Company's derivative financial instruments are used to manage differences in the amount, timing, and duration of the Company's known or expected cash receipts and its known or expected cash payments principally related to the Company's receivables and borrowings.

Certain of the Company's foreign operations expose the Company to fluctuations of foreign exchange rates. These fluctuations may impact the value of the Company's cash receipts and payments in terms of the Company's functional currency. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments to protect the value or fix the amount of certain assets and liabilities in terms of its functional currency, the U.S. Dollar.

Accordingly, the Company uses derivative financial instruments to manage and mitigate such risks. The Company does not use derivatives for speculative or trading purposes.

The Company has agreements with each of its derivative counterparties that contain a cross-default provision upon certain defaults by the Company on any of its indebtedness.

Cash Flow Hedges of Interest Rate Risk

The Company's objectives in using interest rate derivatives are to add stability to interest expense and to manage its exposure to interest rate movements. To accomplish this objective, the Company primarily uses interest rate swaps as part of its interest rate risk management strategy. Interest rate swaps designated as cash flow hedges involve the receipt of variable amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreements without exchange of the underlying notional amount. During fiscal 2024 and 2023, such derivatives were used to hedge the variable cash flows associated with existing variable rate debt.

For derivatives designated and that qualify as cash flow hedges of interest rate risk, the gain or loss on the derivative is recorded in AOCL and subsequently reclassified into interest expense in the same period during which the hedged transaction affects earnings. Amounts reported in AOCL related to derivatives will be reclassified to interest expense as interest payments are made on the Company's variable rate debt. During fiscal 2025, the Company estimates that an additional $7,476 will be reclassified as a decrease to interest expense.

As of June 30, 2024, the Company had the following outstanding interest rate derivatives that were designated as cash flow hedges of interest rate risk:

Interest Rate Derivative	Number of Instruments	Notional Amount
Interest rate swap	4	$ 400,000

Cash Flow Hedges of Foreign Exchange Risk

The Company is exposed to fluctuations in various foreign currencies against its functional currency, the U.S. Dollar. The Company, at times, also uses forward contracts to manage its exposure to fluctuations in the GBP-EUR exchange rates. The Company designates these derivatives as cash flow hedges of foreign exchange risks.

For derivatives designated and that qualify as cash flow hedges of foreign exchange risk, the gain or loss on the derivative is recorded in AOCL and subsequently reclassified in the same period during which the hedged transaction affects earnings within the same income statement line item as the earnings effect of the hedged transaction. During fiscal 2025, the Company estimates that no amount relating to cross-currency swaps will be reclassified to interest expense. As of June 30, 2024, the Company had no outstanding foreign currency derivatives that were used to hedge its foreign exchange risks.

Net Investment Hedges

The Company is exposed to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates on investments it holds in its European foreign entities and their exposure to the Euro. The Company uses fixed-to-fixed cross-currency swaps to hedge its exposure to changes in the foreign exchange rate on its foreign investment in Western Europe. Currency forward agreements involve fixing the USD-EUR exchange rate for delivery of a specified amount of foreign currency on a specified date. The currency forward agreements are typically cash settled in U.S. Dollars for their fair value at or close to their settlement date. Cross-currency swaps involve the receipt of functional-currency-fixed-rate amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making foreign-currency-fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreement.

For derivatives designated as net investment hedges, the gain or loss on the derivative is reported in AOCL as part of the cumulative translation adjustment. Amounts are reclassified out of AOCL into earnings when the hedged net investment is either sold or substantially liquidated.

As of June 30, 2024, the Company had the following outstanding foreign currency derivatives that were used to hedge its net investments in foreign operations:

Foreign Currency Derivative	Number of Instruments	Notional Sold	Notional Purchased
Cross-currency swap	4	€ 100,300	$ 105,804

Fair Value Hedges

The Company is exposed to changes in the fair value of certain of its foreign denominated intercompany loans due to changes in foreign exchange spot rates. The Company uses fixed-to-fixed cross-currency swaps to hedge its exposure to changes in foreign exchange rates affecting gains and losses on intercompany loan principal and interest. Cross-currency swaps involve the receipt of functional-currency-fixed-rate amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making foreign-currency-fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreement.

For derivatives designated and that qualify as fair value hedges, the gain or loss on the derivative as well as the offsetting loss or gain on the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk are recognized in interest and other financing expense, net.

Gains and losses on the derivative representing hedge components excluded from the assessment of effectiveness are recognized over the life of the hedge on a systematic and rational basis, as documented at hedge inception in accordance with the Company's accounting policy election. The earnings recognition of excluded components is presented in the same income statement line item as the earnings effect of the hedged transaction. During fiscal 2025, the Company estimates that an additional $476 relating to cross-currency swaps will be reclassified as a decrease to interest expense.

As of June 30, 2024, the Company had the following outstanding foreign currency derivatives that were used to hedge changes in fair value attributable to foreign exchange risk:

Foreign Currency Derivative	Number of Instruments	Notional Sold	Notional Purchased
Cross-currency swap	1	€ 24,700	$ 26,021

As of June 30, 2024, the following amounts were recorded on the consolidated balance sheets related to cumulative basis adjustment for fair value hedges:

	Carrying Amount of the Hedged Asset Fiscal Year Ended June 30,		Cumulative Amount of Fair Value Hedge Adjustment Included in the Carrying Amount of the Hedged Asset Fiscal Year Ended June 30,

Securities Class Actions Filed in Federal Court

On August 17, 2016, three securities class action complaints were filed in the Eastern District of New York (the "District Court") against the Company alleging violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934: (1) Flora v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al.; (2) Lynn v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al.; and (3) Spadola v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al. (collectively, the "Securities Complaints"). The Securities Complaints were ultimately consolidated under the caption In re The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. Securities Litigation (the "Consolidated Securities Action"), and Rosewood Funeral Home and Salamon Gimpel were appointed as Co-Lead Plaintiffs. During the summer of 2017, a Corrected Consolidated Amended Complaint was filed, which named as defendants the Company and certain of its former officers (collectively, "Defendants") and asserted violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 based on allegedly materially false or misleading statements and omissions in public statements, press releases and SEC filings regarding the Company's business, prospects, financial results and internal controls.

After Defendants' initial motion to dismiss was granted without prejudice to replead in October 2017, the Co-Lead Plaintiffs filed a Second Amended Consolidated Class Action Complaint on May 6, 2019 (the "Second Amended Complaint"). The Second Amended Complaint again named as defendants the Company and certain of its former officers and asserted violations of Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 based on allegations similar to those in the Correct Consolidated Amended Complaint. Defendants filed a motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint on June 20, 2019. On April 6, 2020, the District Court granted Defendants' motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in its entirety, with prejudice. Co-Lead Plaintiffs appealed the District Court's decision dismissing the Second Amended Complaint to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit (the "Second Circuit"). By decision dated December 17, 2021, the Second Circuit vacated the District Court's judgment and remanded the case for further proceedings. The parties ultimately submitted supplemental briefing between May 12, 2022 and June 23, 2022, and in June 2022, the District Court referred Defendants' Motion to Dismiss the Second Amended Complaint to a United States Magistrate Judge (the "Magistrate Judge") for a Report and Recommendation. On November 4, 2022, the Magistrate Judge issued a Report and Recommendation recommending that the District Court grant Defendants' Motion to Dismiss the Second Amended Complaint with prejudice. On September 29, 2023, the District Court granted Defendants' Motion to Dismiss the Second Amended Complaint. Co-Lead Plaintiffs filed notice of appeal on October 26, 2023, appealing the District Court's decision dismissing the Second Amended Complaint to the Second Circuit. Co-Lead Plaintiffs filed their opening brief on February 12, 2024. Defendants opposed, and the appeal is fully briefed as of June 3, 2024.

Additional Stockholder Class Action and Derivative Complaints Filed in Federal Court

The former Board of Directors and certain former officers of the Company are defendants in a consolidated action originally filed in 2017 in the Eastern District of New York under the captions Silva v. Simon, et al., Barnes v. Simon, et al., Merenstein v. Heyer, et al., and Oliver v. Berke, et al. Plaintiffs in the consolidated action, In re The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. Stockholder Class and Derivative Litigation (the "Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action"), allege the violation of securities law, breach of fiduciary duty, waste of corporate assets and unjust enrichment. The plaintiffs alleged in their Amended Complaint that the Company's former directors and certain former officers made materially false and misleading statements in press releases and SEC filings regarding the Company's business, prospects and financial results and that the Company violated its by-laws and Delaware law by failing to hold its 2016 Annual Stockholders Meeting and includes claims for breach of fiduciary duty, unjust enrichment and corporate waste.

On December 20, 2017, the parties agreed to stay Defendants' time to answer, move, or otherwise respond to the consolidated amended complaint through and including 30 days after a decision was rendered on the motion to dismiss the Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action, described above. After the District Court granted Defendants' motion to dismiss the Consolidated Securities Action, the Co-Lead Plaintiffs in that action filed a Second Amended Complaint on May 6, 2019. The parties to the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action thereby agreed to continue the stay of Defendants' time to answer, move, or otherwise respond to the consolidated amended complaint through 30 days after a decision on Defendants' motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action.

On April 6, 2020, the District Court granted Defendants' motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action, with prejudice. Pursuant to the terms of an agreed-upon stay, Defendants in the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action had until May 6, 2020 to answer, move, or otherwise respond to the complaint in this matter. This deadline was extended, and Defendants moved to dismiss the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action Complaint on June 23, 2020, with Plaintiffs' opposition due August 7, 2020.

On July 24, 2020, Plaintiffs made a stockholder litigation demand on the current Board containing overlapping factual allegations to those set forth in the Consolidated Stockholder Class and Derivative Action. On November 3, 2020, Plaintiffs were informed that the Board of Directors had finished investigating and resolved, among other things, that the demand should be rejected. In light of the Second Circuit vacating the District Court's judgment in the Consolidated Securities Action referenced above and remanding the case for further proceedings, the Parties submitted a joint status report on December 29, 2021 requesting that the District Court continue the temporary stay pending the District Court's reconsideration of the Defendants' motion to dismiss the Second Amended Complaint in the Consolidated Securities Action. The parties have most recently agreed to extend the stay through the earlier of November 8, 2024 or 30 days after the Second Circuit issues a decision on Plaintiffs' currently pending appeal.

Baby Food Litigation

Since February 2021, the Company has been named in numerous consumer class actions alleging that the Company's Earth's Best® baby food products (the "Products") contain unsafe and undisclosed levels of various naturally occurring heavy metals, namely lead, arsenic, cadmium and mercury. Those actions have now been transferred and consolidated as a single lawsuit in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York captioned In re Hain Celestial Heavy Metals Baby Food Litigation, Case No. 2:21-cv-678 (the "Consolidated Proceeding"), which generally alleges that the Company violated various state consumer protection laws and asserts other state and common law warranty and unjust enrichment claims related to the alleged failure to disclose the presence of these metals, arguing that consumers would have either not purchased the Products or would have paid less for them had the Company made adequate disclosures. The Company filed a motion to dismiss the Consolidated Class Action Complaint on November 7, 2022, which was opposed by the plaintiffs. On May 9, 2023, upon consent of the parties, the Court stayed the Consolidated Proceeding pending the Second Circuit's decision on appeal in In re Beech-Nut Nutrition Co. Baby Food Litigation, 21 Civ. 133 (N.D.N.Y.) (the "Beech-Nut Case"). Accordingly, the Court denied the Company's motion to dismiss without prejudice to renew.

By summary order dated January 18, 2024, the Second Circuit vacated the judgment dismissing the Beech-Nut Case and remanded for further proceedings. On February 15, 2024, the Company served a renewed motion to dismiss the Consolidated Proceeding. Plaintiffs served their opposition on March 14, 2024, and the Company served its reply on April 4, 2024. The Company's renewed motion to dismiss is now fully briefed and filed with the Court. The Court held oral argument on the Company's motion to dismiss on August 1, 2024. The parties await a decision. One consumer class action is pending in New York Supreme Court, Nassau County, which the court has stayed in deference to the Consolidated Proceeding. The Company denies the allegations in these lawsuits and contends that its baby foods are safe and properly labeled.

The claims raised in these lawsuits were brought in the wake of a highly publicized report issued by the U.S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Economic and Consumer Policy on Oversight and Reform, dated February 4, 2021 (the "House Report"), addressing the presence of heavy metals in baby foods made by certain manufacturers, including the Company. Since the publication of the House Report, the Company has also received information requests with respect to the advertising and quality of its baby foods from certain governmental authorities, as such authorities investigate the claims made in the House Report. The Company is fully cooperating with these requests and has provided documents and other requested information.

The Company has been named in one civil government enforcement action, State of New Mexico ex rel. Balderas v. Nurture, Inc., et al., which was filed by the New Mexico Attorney General against the Company and several other manufacturers based on the alleged presence of heavy metals in their baby food products. The Company and several other manufacturers moved to dismiss the New Mexico Attorney General's lawsuit, and the Court denied that motion. The Company filed its answer to the New Mexico Attorney General's amended complaint on April 23, 2022. The Company and several other manufacturers moved for reconsideration of the Court's order denying its motion to dismiss, and the Court denied that motion as well. The Company denies the New Mexico Attorney General's allegations and maintains that its baby foods are safe, properly labeled, and compliant with New Mexico law.

In addition to the consumer class actions discussed above, the Company is currently named in numerous lawsuits in state and federal courts alleging some form of personal injury from the ingestion of the Company's Products, purportedly due to unsafe and undisclosed levels of various naturally occurring heavy metals. These lawsuits generally allege injuries related to neurological development disorders such as autism and attention deficit hyperactivity disorder.

Multidistrict Litigation

- On January 4, 2024, Plaintiffs in federal cases across the country filed a Motion to Transfer Actions Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1407 for Coordinated or Consolidated Pretrial Proceedings. On April 11, 2024, the United States Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation granted Plaintiffs' Motion and transferred the cases to the Northern District of California for coordinated or consolidated pretrial proceedings. In Re: Baby Food Products Liability Litigation (MDL No. 3101) has been assigned to District Judge Jacqueline Scott Corley. On April 15, 2024, Judge Corley issued Pretrial Order No. 1 staying all outstanding discovery proceedings and pending motions and vacating all previously scheduled hearing dates. There are approximately 20 federal cases filed against the Company pending in the MDL. Plaintiffs filed their Master Complaint on July 15, 2024. Motions to dismiss the Master Complaint will be due on September 16, 2024.

California State Court Cases

- There are currently seven cases against the Company pending in California state court, including six in Los Angeles Superior Court and one in Alameda Superior Court. The Plaintiffs filed a Petition for Coordination to the Chair of the Judicial Council seeking to coordinate the Alameda Superior Court and Los Angeles Superior Court cases. The Judicial Council granted the JCCP petition on June 4, 2024. All cases, except one have been stayed.

- In Landon R. v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., et al., No. 23STCV24844, in Los Angeles Superior Court, a jury trial is scheduled to begin on January 21, 2025. The parties are engaging in fact and expert discovery.

Other Cases

- In the matter Palmquist v. The Hain Celestial Group, Inc., a jury trial commenced on February 6, 2023 in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas. The Company moved for Directed Verdict at the close of Plaintiffs' case. The Court granted the Company's motion, finding no liability for the Company. The Court entered Final Judgment in the Company's favor on March 3, 2023. On April 3, 2023, Plaintiffs filed their Notice of Appeal in the Fifth Circuit. Plaintiffs' appeal is fully briefed and oral argument took place before the Fifth Circuit on February 6, 2024. On May 28, 2024, the Fifth Circuit reversed the district court's order denying Plaintiff's motion to remand the case and vacated the final judgement of the district court. On June 25, 2024, Hain filed a petition for en banc reconsideration, which petition is under review.

The Company denies that its Products led to any of the alleged injuries and will defend these cases vigorously. That said, as is common in circumstances of this nature, additional lawsuits may be filed against the Company in the future, asserting similar or different legal theories and seeking similar or different types of damages and relief. Such lawsuits may be resolved in a manner adverse to us, and we may incur substantial costs or damages not covered by insurance, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and business.

SEC Investigation

In November 2023, the staff of the SEC informed the Company it was conducting an investigation relating to Hain Celestial and requested documents primarily concerning (i) the Company's acquisition of one business and disposition of another business and certain related accounting matters and (ii) trading activity and other matters related to the Company's earnings guidance in certain previous fiscal years. The Company is cooperating with the SEC in this investigation.

Other

In addition to the matters described above, the Company is and may be a defendant in lawsuits from time to time in the normal course of business.

With respect to all litigation and related matters, the Company records a liability when the Company believes it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated. As of June 30, 2024, the Company has not recorded a liability for any of the matters disclosed in this note. It is possible that some matters could require the Company to pay damages, incur other costs or establish accruals in amounts that could not be reasonably estimated as of the end of the period covered by this report.

18. TRANSFORMATION PROGRAM - HAIN REIMAGINED

During the first quarter of fiscal year 2024, the Company initiated a multi-year growth, transformation and restructuring program (the "Hain Reimagined Program"). The Hain Reimagined Program is intended to optimize the Company's portfolio, improve underlying profitability and increase its flexibility to invest in targeted growth initiatives, brand building and other capabilities critical to delivering future growth. The savings initiatives are expected to impact the Company's reportable segments and Corporate and Other.

Implementation of the Hain Reimagined Program is expected to be completed by the end of the 2027 fiscal year and is primarily comprised of contract termination costs, asset write-downs, employee-related costs and other transformation-related expenses.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024, expenses associated with the Hain Reimagined Program in the amount of $27,741, $24,782, and $7,725, respectively, were recorded in productivity and transformation costs, intangibles and long-lived asset impairment, and cost of sales, respectively, on the consolidated statements of operations.

The table below sets forth expenses associated with the Hain Reimagined Program for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2024 by reportable segment and Corporate and Other.

	Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 2024
North America	$ 32,775
Corporate and Other	20,753
International	6,720
	$ 60,248

The following table displays the activities and liability balances relating to the Hain Reimagined Program for the period ended as of June 30, 2024. The Company expects to pay the remaining accrued restructuring costs during the next 12 months.

	Charges	Amounts Paid	Non-cash settlements/ Adjustments[2]	Balance at June 30, 2024

19. DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLANS

The Company has a 401(k) Employee Retirement Plan (the "Plan") to provide retirement benefits for eligible employees. All full-time employees of the Company and its wholly-owned domestic subsidiaries are eligible to participate upon completion of 30 days of service. On an annual basis, the Company may, in its sole discretion, make certain matching contributions. For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, the Company made contributions to the Plan of $2,560, $2,307 and $2,091, respectively, and recorded retirement plan expense in the amount of $2,675, $2,457 and $2,141, respectively. In addition, while certain of the Company's international subsidiaries maintain separate defined contribution plans for their employees, except for the U.K., the amounts are not significant to the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Certain U.K. subsidiaries offer an auto-enrollment defined contribution plan to all employees. Employees must be aged 22 or over but under the State Pension age and have earned over £10. Employees outside of these criteria have the option to opt-in. Employees must contribute a minimum percentage to the plan and the U.K. subsidiaries make matching contributions. For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, there were contributions and retirement plan expense recorded in the amount of $2,421, $2,096 and $2,379, respectively.

Segment Information

Segment Reporting [Abstract]

Segment Information

20. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Company's organizational structure consists of two geographic based reportable segments: North America and International, which are also the operating segments. This structure is in line with how the Company's Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") assesses the Company's performance and allocates resources. The Company uses segment net sales and segment Adjusted EBITDA in order to analyze segment results and trends.

Segment Adjusted EBITDA excludes: net interest expense, income taxes, depreciation and amortization, equity in net loss of equity-method investees, stock-based compensation, net, unrealized currency losses, certain litigation and related costs, plant closure related costs, net, productivity and transformation costs, warehouse and manufacturing consolidation and other costs, net, costs associated with acquisitions, divestitures and other transactions, loss (gain) on sale of assets, intangibles and long-lived asset impairments and other adjustments. In addition, Segment Adjusted EBITDA does not include Corporate and Other expenses related to the Company's centralized administrative functions, which do not specifically relate to a reportable segment. Such Corporate and Other expenses are comprised mainly of compensation and related expenses of certain of the Company's senior executive officers and other employees who perform duties related to the entire enterprise, litigation expense and expenses for certain professional fees, facilities, and other items which benefit the Company as a whole.

The following tables set forth financial information about each of the Company's reportable segments. Information about total assets by segment is not disclosed because such information is not reported to or used by the Company's CODM for purposes of assessing segment performance or allocating resources. Transactions between reportable segments were insignificant for all periods presented.

Related Party Transactions

21. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

On November 9, 2021, the Company entered into a share repurchase agreement with the Selling Stockholders, which are affiliates of Engaged Capital, LLC, pursuant to which the Company agreed to repurchase, directly from the Selling Stockholders, 1,700 shares of the Company's common stock for $45.00 per share (the "Share Repurchase"), which equaled the price at which the Underwriter (as defined below) purchased shares from the Selling Stockholders, net of underwriting commissions and discounts, in an underwritten public offering that launched on November 10, 2021, whereby the Selling Stockholders sold certain other shares of common stock (the "Offering"). The last reported sale price of the Company's common stock on the NASDAQ Global Select Market on November 9, 2021 was $47.95 per share. In connection with the Offering, on November 10, 2021, the Company entered into an underwriting agreement with Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, as underwriter (the "Underwriter"), and the Selling Stockholders. The Share Repurchase and the Offering were completed on November 15, 2021. The aggregate price paid by the Company for the Share Repurchase was $76,500, which the Company funded with borrowings under the Credit Agreement. The Company did not receive any proceeds from the Offering. The Founder and Chief Investment Officer of Engaged Capital, LLC was a member of the Company's Board of Directors at the time of the Share Repurchase and the Offering.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies and Practices (Policies)

Accounting Policies [Abstract]

12 Months Ended

Jun. 30, 2024

Basis of Presentation

Basis of Presentation

The Company's consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned and majority-owned subsidiaries. Intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. Investments in affiliated companies in which the Company exercises significant influence, but which it does not control, are accounted for under the equity method of accounting. As such, consolidated net (loss) income includes the Company's equity in the current earnings or losses of such companies.

Unless otherwise indicated, references in these consolidated financial statements to 2024, 2023 and 2022 or "fiscal" 2024, 2023 and 2022 or other years refer to the fiscal year ended June 30 of that respective year and references to 2025 or "fiscal" 2025 refer to the fiscal year ending June 30, 2025.

All dollar amounts in the consolidated financial statements, notes and tables have been rounded to the nearest thousands, except par values and per share amounts, unless otherwise indicated.

Reclassifications

Reclassifications

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform with current year presentation on the consolidated balance sheets related to assets held for sale to include it as part of prepaid expenses and other current assets. There were no reclassifications made to the consolidated statement of operations, consolidated statements of changes in stockholders' equity or consolidated statements of cash flows.

Use of Estimates

Use of Estimates

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("U.S. GAAP"). The accounting principles used required the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and amounts of income and expenses during the reporting periods presented. Actual results could differ from those estimates. These estimates include, among others, variable consideration related to revenue recognition for trade promotions and sales incentives, valuation of accounts and chargeback receivables, valuation of long-lived assets, goodwill and intangible assets (acquired in business combinations and analysis of impairment), stock-based compensation for market awards, and valuation allowances for deferred tax assets.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers cash and cash equivalents to include cash in banks, commercial paper and deposits with financial institutions that can be liquidated without prior notice or penalty. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

In addition, cash and cash equivalents are maintained with several financial institutions. Deposits held with banks may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits. Generally, these deposits may be redeemed upon demand.

Revenue Recognition and Cost of Sales

Revenue Recognition

The Company sells its products through specialty and natural food distributors, supermarkets, natural foods stores, mass-market and e-commerce retailers, food service channels and club, drug and convenience stores worldwide. The majority of the Company's revenue contracts represent a single performance obligation related to the fulfillment of customer orders for the purchase of products. The Company recognizes revenue as performance obligations are fulfilled when control passes to customers, which is typically upon delivery of the products to its customers. Customer contracts typically contain standard terms and conditions. In instances where formal written contracts are not in place, the Company considers the customer purchase orders to be contracts based on the criteria outlined in Accounting Standard Codification ("ASC") 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("ASC 606"). Payment terms and conditions vary by customer and are based on the billing schedule established in contracts or purchase orders with customers, but the Company generally provides credit terms to customers ranging from 30-91 days. Therefore, the Company has concluded that contracts do not include a significant financing component.

Sales include shipping and handling charges billed to the customer and are reported net of discounts, trade promotions and sales incentives, consumer coupon programs and other costs, including estimated allowances for returns, allowances and discounts associated with aged or potentially unsalable product, and prompt pay discounts. Shipping and handling costs are accounted for as a fulfillment activity of promise to transfer products to customers and are included in the cost of sales line item on the consolidated statements of operations.

Variable Consideration

In addition to fixed contract consideration, many of the Company's contracts include some form of variable consideration. The Company offers various trade promotions and sales incentive programs to customers and consumers, such as price discounts, slotting fees, in-store display incentives, cooperative advertising programs, new product introduction fees and coupons. The expenses associated with these programs are accounted for as reductions to the transaction price of the products and are therefore deducted from sales to determine reported net sales. Trade promotions and sales incentive accruals are subject to significant management estimates and assumptions. The critical assumptions used in estimating the accruals for trade promotions and sales incentives include the Company's estimate of expected levels of performance and redemption rates. The Company exercises judgment in developing these assumptions. These assumptions are based upon historical performance of the retailer or distributor customers with similar types of promotions adjusted for current trends. The Company regularly reviews and revises, when deemed necessary, estimates of costs to the Company for these promotions and incentives based on what has been incurred by the customers. The terms of most of the promotion and incentive arrangements do not exceed a year and therefore do not require highly uncertain long-term estimates. Settlement of these liabilities typically occurs in subsequent periods primarily through an authorization process for deductions taken by a customer from amounts otherwise due to the Company. Differences between estimated expense and actual promotion and incentive costs are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined. Actual expenses may differ if the level of redemption rates and performance were to vary from estimates.

Costs to Obtain or Fulfill a Contract

As the Company's contracts are generally shorter than one year, the Company has elected a practical expedient under ASC 606 that allows the Company to expense as incurred the incremental costs of obtaining a contract if the contract period is for one year or less. These costs are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations.

Cost of Sales

Included in cost of sales are the cost of products sold, including the costs of raw materials and labor and overhead required to produce the products, warehousing, distribution, supply chain costs, as well as costs associated with shipping and handling of inventory.

Valuation of Accounts and Chargebacks Receivable and Concentration of Credit Risk

Valuation of Accounts and Chargebacks Receivable and Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company routinely performs credit evaluations on existing and new customers and maintains an allowance for expected uncollectible accounts receivable which is recorded as an offset to trade accounts receivable on the consolidated balance sheets. Collectability of accounts receivable is assessed by applying a historical loss-rate methodology in accordance with ASC Topic 326, Financial Instruments - Credit Losses, adjusted as necessary based on the Company's review of accounts receivable on an individual basis, specifically identifying customers with known disputes or collectability issues, and experience with trade receivable aging categories. The Company also considers market conditions and current and expected future economic conditions to inform adjustments to historical loss data. Changes to the allowance, if any, are classified as bad debt provisions within selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations. Credit losses have been within the Company's expectations in recent years. While one of the Company's customers represented approximately 19% and 18% of trade receivables balances as of June 30, 2024 and 2023, respectively, the Company believes that there is no significant or unusual credit exposure at this time.

Based on cash collection history and other statistical analysis, the Company estimates the amount of unauthorized deductions customers have taken that the Company expects will be collected and repaid in the near future and records a chargeback receivable which is a component of trade receivables. Differences between estimated collectible receivables and actual collections are recognized in earnings in the period such differences are determined.

Sales to one customer and its affiliates approximated 18%, 16% and 15% of sales during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Inventory

Inventory

Inventory is valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value, utilizing the first-in, first-out method. The Company provides write-downs for finished goods expected to become unsaleable due to age and specifically identifies and provides for slow moving or obsolete raw ingredients and packaging.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment is carried at cost and depreciated or amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives or lease term (for leasehold improvements), whichever is shorter. The Company believes the useful lives assigned to the Company's property, plant and equipment are within ranges generally used in consumer products manufacturing and distribution businesses. The Company's manufacturing plants and distribution centers, and their related assets, are reviewed when impairment indicators are present by analyzing underlying cash flow projections. The Company believes no impairment of the carrying value of such assets exists other than as disclosed under Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net. Ordinary repairs and maintenance costs are expensed as incurred. The Company utilizes the following ranges of asset lives:

Buildings and improvements	10 - 40 years
Machinery and equipment	3 - 20 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 - 15 years

Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of the respective initial lease term or the estimated useful life of the assets, and generally range from 3 to 20 years.

Software that is developed for internal use is recorded as a component of property, plant and equipment. Qualifying costs incurred to develop internal-use software are capitalized when (i) the preliminary project stage is completed, (ii) management has authorized further funding for the completion of the project and (iii) it is probable that the project will be completed and perform as intended. These capitalized costs include compensation for employees who develop internal-use software and external costs related to development of internal-use software. Capitalization of these costs ceases once the project is substantially complete and the software is ready for its intended purpose. Once placed into service, internally developed software is amortized on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life which generally ranges from 3 to 10 years. All other expenditures, including those incurred in order to maintain the asset's current level of performance, are expensed as incurred. The net book value of internally developed software as of June 30, 2024 and 2023 was $12,240 and $13,576, respectively, and is included as a component of Computer Hardware and Software in Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net.

Goodwill and Other Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets

Goodwill and Other Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized but rather are tested at least annually for impairment, or when circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the asset may not be recoverable. The Company performs its annual test for impairment at the beginning of the fourth quarter of its fiscal year.

Goodwill is tested for impairment at the reporting unit level. A reporting unit is an operating segment or a component of an operating segment. Goodwill is tested for impairment by either performing a qualitative evaluation or a quantitative test. The qualitative evaluation is an assessment of factors to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount, including goodwill. The Company may elect not to perform the qualitative assessment for some or all reporting units and perform a quantitative impairment test. The impairment test for goodwill requires the Company to compare the fair value of a reporting unit to its carrying value. The Company uses a blended analysis of a discounted cash flow model and a market valuation approach to determine the fair values of its reporting units. If the carrying value of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, the Company would then compare the carrying value of the goodwill to its implied fair value in order to determine the amount of the impairment, if any.

Indefinite-lived intangible assets, which are not amortized, consist primarily of acquired trademarks and tradenames. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are evaluated on an annual basis in conjunction with the Company's evaluation of goodwill, or on an interim basis if and when events or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of any of its indefinite-lived intangible assets below their carrying value. In assessing fair value, the Company utilizes a "relief from royalty" methodology. This approach involves two steps: (i) estimating the royalty rates for each trademark and (ii) applying these royalty rates to a projected net sales stream and discounting the resulting cash flows to determine fair value. If the carrying value of the indefinite-lived intangible assets exceeds the fair value of the assets, the carrying value is written down to fair value in the period identified. This method includes significant management assumptions such as revenue growth rates, weighted average cost of capital and assumed royalty rates. See Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets and Note 15, Fair Value Measurements, for additional information on goodwill and intangibles impairment charges.

Transfer of Financial Assets

Transfer of Financial Assets

The Company accounts for transfers of financial assets, such as non-recourse accounts receivable financing arrangements, when the Company has surrendered control over the related assets. Determining whether control has transferred requires an evaluation of relevant legal considerations, an assessment of the nature and extent of the Company's continuing involvement with the assets transferred and any other relevant considerations. The Company has non-recourse financing arrangements in which eligible receivables are sold to third-party buyers in exchange for cash. The Company transferred accounts receivable in their entirety to the buyers and satisfied all of the conditions to report the transfer of financial assets in their entirety as a sale. The principal amount of receivables sold under these arrangements was $284,891, $380,683 and $170,737 during the fiscal years ended June 30, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. The incremental cost of financing receivables under these arrangements is included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the Company's consolidated statements of operations. The proceeds from the sale of receivables are included in cash provided by operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows.

Foreign Currency Translation and Remeasurement

Foreign Currency Translation and Remeasurement

The assets and liabilities of international operations are translated at the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Revenue and expense accounts are translated at the monthly average exchange rates. Adjustments arising from the translation of the foreign currency financial statements of the Company's international operations are reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive loss on the consolidated balance sheets. Gains and losses arising from intercompany foreign currency transactions that are of a long-term nature are reported in the same manner as translation adjustments.

Gains and losses arising from intercompany foreign currency transactions that are not of a long-term nature and certain transactions of the Company's subsidiaries which are denominated in currencies other than the subsidiaries' functional currency are recognized as incurred in other expense (income), net on the consolidated statements of operations.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

Included in selling, general and administrative expenses are advertising costs, promotion costs not paid directly to the Company's customers, salary and related benefit costs of the Company's employees in the finance, human resources, information technology, legal, sales and marketing functions, facility related costs of the Company's administrative functions, research and development costs, and costs paid to consultants and third party providers for related services.

Research and Development Costs

Research and Development Costs

Research and development costs are expensed as incurred and are included in selling, general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of operations. Research and development costs amounted to $5,366 in fiscal 2024, $6,379 in fiscal 2023 and $9,416 in fiscal 2022, consisting primarily of personnel related costs. The Company's research and development expenditures do not include the expenditures on such activities undertaken by co-packers and suppliers who develop numerous products on behalf of the Company and on their own initiative with the expectation that the Company will accept their new product ideas and market them under the Company's brands.

Advertising Costs

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs, which are included in selling, general and administrative expenses, amounted to $34,736 in fiscal 2024, $38,838 in fiscal 2023 and $41,032 in fiscal 2022. Such costs are expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

Income Taxes

The Company follows the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on the differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at enacted rates in effect in the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. The Company also assesses the likelihood of future realization of deferred tax assets, including recent earnings results within taxing jurisdictions, expectations of future taxable income, the carryforward periods available and other relevant factors. Valuation allowances are provided for deferred tax assets to the extent it is more likely than not that the deferred tax assets will not be recoverable against future taxable income.

The Company recognizes liabilities for uncertain tax positions based on a two-step process prescribed by the authoritative guidance. The first step requires the Company to determine if the weight of available evidence indicates that the tax position has met the threshold for recognition; therefore, the Company must evaluate whether it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained on audit, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes. The second step requires the Company to measure the tax benefit of the tax position taken, or expected to be taken, in an income tax return as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The Company reevaluates the uncertain tax positions each period based on factors including, but not limited to, changes in facts or circumstances, changes in tax law, effectively settled issues under audit, and new audit activity. Depending on the jurisdiction, such a change in recognition or measurement may result in the recognition of a tax benefit or an additional charge to the tax provision in the period. The Company records interest and penalties in the provision for income taxes.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of financial instruments is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties. At June 30, 2024 and 2023, the carrying values of financial instruments such as accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses and other current liabilities, as well as borrowings under the Company's credit facility and other borrowings, approximated fair value based upon either the short-term maturities or market interest rates of these instruments.

The Company's financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value are required to be grouped in one of three levels. The levels prioritize the inputs used to measure the fair value of the assets or liabilities. These levels are:

- Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – Quoted prices in markets that are not active, or inputs which are observable, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability; and
- Level 3 – Prices or valuation techniques that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable (i.e., supported by little or no market activity).

Derivative Instruments

The Company uses interest rate swaps to manage its interest rate risk and cross-currency swaps and foreign currency exchange contracts to manage its exposure to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates. The valuation of these instruments is determined using widely accepted valuation techniques, including discounted cash flow analysis on the expected cash flows of each derivative. This analysis reflects the contractual terms of the derivatives, including the period to maturity, and uses observable market-based inputs, including interest rate curves and implied volatilities. The fair values of interest rate swaps are determined using the market standard methodology of netting the discounted future fixed cash receipts (or payments) and the discounted expected variable cash payments (or receipts). The variable cash payments (or receipts) are based on an expectation of future interest rates (forward curves) derived from observable market interest rate curves.

The Company incorporates credit valuation adjustments to appropriately reflect both the Company's nonperformance risk and the respective counterparty's nonperformance risk in the fair value measurements. In adjusting the fair value of the Company's derivative contracts for the effect of nonperformance risk, the Company has considered the impact of netting and any applicable credit enhancements, such as collateral postings, thresholds, mutual puts and guarantees.

Although the Company has determined that the majority of the inputs used to value its derivatives fall within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, the credit valuation adjustments associated with its derivatives utilize Level 3 inputs, such as estimates of current credit spreads to evaluate the likelihood of default by the Company and its counterparties. The Company has determined that the significance of the impact of the credit valuation adjustments made to its derivative contracts, which determination was based on the fair value of each individual contract, was not significant to the overall valuation. As a result, all of the derivatives held as of June 30, 2024 and June 30, 2023 were classified as Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Nonrecurring Fair Value Measurements

The Company measures certain non-financial assets at fair value on a nonrecurring basis including goodwill, intangible assets, property and equipment and right-of-use lease assets. These assets were initially measured and recognized at amounts equal to the fair value determined as of the date of acquisition or purchase subject to changes in value only for foreign currency translation. Periodically, these assets are tested for impairment by comparing their respective carrying amounts to the estimated fair value of the reporting unit or asset group in which they reside. In the event any of these assets were to become impaired, the Company would recognize an impairment expense equal to the amount by which the carrying amount of the reporting unit, impaired asset or asset group exceeds its estimated fair value. For indefinite-lived intangible assets, the relief from royalty approach is dependent on a number of factors, including estimates of future growth and trends, royalty rates in the category of intellectual property, discount rates and other variables. Fair value measurements of reporting units are estimated using an income approach involving discounted cash flow models that contain certain Level 3 inputs requiring significant management judgment, including projections of economic conditions, customer demand and changes in competition, revenue growth rates, gross profit margins, operating margins, capital expenditures, working capital requirements, terminal growth rates and discount rates. Fair value measurements of the reporting units associated with the Company's goodwill balances and its indefinite-lived intangible assets are estimated at least annually in the fourth quarter of each fiscal year for purposes of impairment testing if a quantitative analysis is performed. The Company bases its fair value estimates on assumptions its management believes to be reasonable, but which are unpredictable and inherently uncertain.

As discussed in Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, the trademarks of Happy™, Joya®, ParmCrisps®, Thinsters®, Imagine®, Queen Helene® and certain North America personal care intangible assets were fair valued on a nonrecurring basis and classified as Level 3 assets in their respective reporting periods. As discussed in Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net, an asset group's property, plant and equipment were fair valued on a nonrecurring basis and classified as Level 3 assets in their respective reporting periods.

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities

ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging ("ASC 815"), provides the disclosure requirements for derivatives and hedging activities with the intent to provide users of financial statements with an enhanced understanding of: (a) how and why an entity uses derivative instruments, (b) how the entity accounts for derivative instruments and related hedged items and (c) how derivative instruments and related hedged items affect an entity's financial position, financial performance and cash flows. Further, qualitative disclosures are required that explain the Company's objectives and strategies for using derivatives, as well as quantitative disclosures about the fair value of and gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative instruments.

The Company records all derivatives on the consolidated balance sheets at fair value. The accounting for changes in the fair value of derivatives depends on the intended use of the derivative, whether the Company has elected to designate a derivative in a hedging relationship and apply hedge accounting and whether the hedging relationship has satisfied the criteria necessary to apply hedge accounting. Derivatives designated and qualifying as a hedge of the exposure to changes in the fair value of an asset, liability or firm commitment attributable to a particular risk, such as interest rate risk, are considered fair value hedges. Derivatives designated and qualifying as a hedge of the exposure to variability in expected future cash flows, or other types of forecasted transactions, are considered cash flow hedges. Derivatives may also be designated as hedges of the foreign currency exposure of a net investment in a foreign operation. Hedge accounting generally provides for the matching of the timing of gain or loss recognition on the hedging instrument with the recognition of the changes in the fair value of the hedged asset or liability that are attributable to the hedged risk in a fair value hedge or the earnings effect of the hedged forecasted transactions in a cash flow hedge. The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivative instruments that qualify for cash flow hedge and net investment hedge accounting treatment are recognized in stockholders' equity as a component of accumulated other comprehensive loss until the hedged item is recognized in earnings. Changes in the fair value of fair value hedges, derivatives that do not qualify for hedge accounting treatment, as well as the ineffective portion of any cash flow hedges, are recognized currently in earnings as a component of interest and other financing expense, net on the consolidated statements of operations. The Company reports cash flows arising from derivative instruments consistent with the classification of cash flows from the underlying hedged items that these derivatives are hedging. Accordingly, the cash flows associated with derivatives designated as cash flow hedges and fair value hedges are classified in cash flows from operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows. The Company may enter into derivative contracts that are intended to economically hedge certain of its risks, even though hedge accounting does not apply, or the Company elects not to apply hedge accounting.

Stock-Based Compensation

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company uses the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the grant date to measure fair value for service-based awards and a Monte Carlo simulation model to determine the fair value of market-based awards. The Company uses historical volatility to calculate the expected volatility matching the expected holding period. The fair value of stock-based compensation awards is recognized as an expense over the vesting period using the straight-line method. For awards that contain a market condition, expense is recognized over the defined or derived service period using a Monte Carlo simulation model. Compensation expense is recognized for these awards on a straight-line basis over the service period, regardless of the eventual number of shares that are earned based upon the market condition, provided that each grantee remains an employee at the end of the performance period. Compensation expense on awards that contain a market condition is reversed if at any time during the service period a grantee is no longer an employee.

The Company recognizes forfeitures as they occur at which time compensation cost previously recognized for an award that is forfeited because of failure to satisfy a condition is reversed in the period of the forfeiture.

The Company receives an income tax deduction in certain tax jurisdictions for restricted stock grants when they vest and for stock options exercised by employees equal to the excess of the market value of the Company's common stock on the date of exercise over the option price. Excess tax benefits (tax benefits resulting from tax deductions in excess of compensation cost recognized) are classified as a cash flow provided by operating activities on the consolidated statements of cash flows.

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets

Valuation of Long-Lived Assets

The Company periodically evaluates the carrying value of long-lived assets held and used in the business and with definite lives, when events and circumstances occur indicating that the carrying amount of the asset or its asset group may not be recoverable. An impairment test is performed when the estimated undiscounted cash flows associated with the asset or asset group is less than its carrying value. Once such impairment test is performed, a loss is recognized based on the amount, if any, by which the carrying value exceeds the estimated fair value for assets to be held and used.

See Note 6, Property, Plant and Equipment, Net, Note 8, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, and Note 15, Fair Value Measurements, for additional information on long-lived asset impairment charges.

Leases

Leases

Arrangements containing leases are evaluated as an operating or finance lease at lease inception. For operating leases, the Company recognizes an operating lease right-of-use ("ROU") asset and operating lease liability at lease commencement based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term.

With the exception of certain finance leases, an implicit rate of return is not readily determinable for the Company's leases. For these leases, an incremental borrowing rate is used in determining the present value of lease payments and is calculated based on information available at the lease commencement date. The incremental borrowing rate is determined using a portfolio approach based on the rate of interest the Company would have to pay to borrow funds on a collateralized basis over a similar term. The Company references market yield curves which are risk-adjusted to approximate a collateralized rate in the currency of the lease. These rates are updated on a quarterly basis for measurement of new lease obligations.

The Company's lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised. Leases with an initial term of 12 months or less are not recognized on the consolidated balance sheets. The Company has elected to separate lease and non-lease components.

Net Loss Per Share

Net Loss Per Share

Basic net loss per share is computed by dividing net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted net loss per share reflects the potential dilution that would occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common stock.

Recently Issued and Adopted Accounting Pronouncements and Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

Recently Issued and Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In July 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2023-03, "Presentation of Financial Statement (Topic 205), Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive Income (Topic 220), Distinguishing Liabilities from Equity (Topic 480), Equity (Topic505), and Compensation - Stock Compensation (Topic 718)", to amend various SEC paragraphs in the ASC to reflect the issuance of SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 120, among other things. The Company adopted this conforming guidance upon issuance, which had no material impact on its consolidated financial statements and related disclosures.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Adopted

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, "Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures", which will require entities to disclose more detailed information in the reconciliation of their statutory tax rate to their effective tax rate. The ASU also requires entities to disclose more detailed information about income taxes paid, including by jurisdiction, pretax income (loss) from continuing operations, and income tax expense (benefit). The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2025. The amendments should be applied on a prospective basis. Retrospective application is permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the provisions of the amendments and the effect on its future consolidated financial statements.

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07, "Segment Reporting (Topic 280), Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures", which updates reportable segment disclosure requirements primarily through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. The amendments are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023 and for interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments should be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. The Company is currently evaluating the provisions of the amendments and the effect on its future consolidated financial statements.
