NOTE 1—OVERVIEW AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

OVERVIEW AND ORGANIZATION

PayPal Holdings, Inc. ("PayPal," the "Company," "we," "us," or "our") was incorporated in Delaware in January 2015 and is a leading technology platform that enables digital payments and simplifies commerce experiences on behalf of merchants and consumers worldwide. PayPal is committed to democratizing financial services to help improve the financial health of individuals and to increase economic opportunity for entrepreneurs and businesses of all sizes around the world. Our goal PayPal's mission is to enable our merchants revolutionize commerce globally by creating innovative experiences that are designed to make moving money, selling, and consumers to manage shopping simple, personalized, and move their money anywhere in the world in the markets we serve, anytime, on any platform, and using any device when sending payments or getting paid, including person-to-person payments, secure.

We operate globally and in a rapidly evolving regulatory environment characterized by a heightened focus by regulators globally on all aspects of the payments industry, including countering terrorist financing, anti-money laundering, privacy, cybersecurity, and consumer protection. The laws and regulations applicable to us, including those enacted prior to the advent of digital payments, continue to evolve through legislative and regulatory action and judicial interpretation. New or changing laws and regulations, including changes to their interpretation and implementation, as well as increased penalties and enforcement actions related to non-compliance, could have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. We monitor these areas closely and are focused on designing compliant solutions for our customers.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of presentation and principles of consolidation

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of PayPal and our wholly- and majority-owned subsidiaries. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Investments in entities where we have the ability to exercise significant influence, but not control, over the investee are accounted for using the equity method of accounting. For such investments, our share of the investee's results of operations is included in other income (expense), net on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). Investments in entities where we do not have the ability to exercise significant influence over the investee are accounted for at fair value or cost minus impairment, if any, adjusted for changes resulting from observable price changes, which are included in other income (expense), net on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). Our investment balance is included in long-term investments on our condensed consolidated balance sheets.

We determine at the inception of each investment, and re-evaluate if certain events occur, whether an entity in which we have made an investment is considered a variable interest entity ("VIE"). If we determine an investment is in a VIE, we then assess if we are the primary beneficiary, which would require consolidation. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, no VIEs qualified for consolidation as the structures of these entities do not provide us with the ability to direct activities that would significantly impact their economic performance. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, the carrying value of our investments in nonconsolidated VIEs was $160 $178 million and $128 $175 million, respectively, and is included as non-marketable equity securities applying the equity method of accounting in long-term investments on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. The investments in nonconsolidated VIEs are primarily investments in funds that are limited partnerships or similar structures which are focused on increasing access to capital for underserved communities. Our maximum exposure to loss related to our nonconsolidated

VIEs, which represents funded commitments and any future funding commitments, was $246 million and $232 million as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022, respectively. December 31, 2023.

These condensed consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023 (the 2022 2023 Form 10-K) filed with the United States ("U.S.") Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") on February 10, 2023 February 8, 2024.

In the opinion of management, these condensed consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, which are necessary for a fair statement of the condensed consolidated financial statements for all interim periods presented. Certain amounts for prior periods have been reclassified to conform to the financial statement presentation as of and for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024.

Reclassifications

Beginning with the fourth quarter of 2022, we reclassified certain cash flows related to our collateral security arrangements for derivative instruments from cash flows from operating activities to cash flows from investing activities and cash flows from financing activities within the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows. Prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation.

The current period presentation classifies all changes in collateral posted and collateral received related to derivative instruments on our condensed consolidated statements of cash flows as cash flows from investing activities and cash flows from financing activities, respectively. We believe that the current period presentation provides a more meaningful representation of the nature of the cash flows and allows for greater transparency as the cash flows related to the derivatives impact operating cash flows upon settlement exclusive of the offsetting cash flows from collateral.

The following table presents the effects of the changes on the presentation of these cash flows to the previously reported condensed consolidated statements of cash flows:

	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2022

Use of estimates

The preparation of condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. On an ongoing basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to provisions for transaction and credit losses, income taxes, loss contingencies, revenue recognition, the valuation of goodwill and intangible assets, and the valuation evaluation of strategic investments. investments for impairment. We base our estimates on historical experience and various other assumptions which we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results could materially differ from these estimates.

Loans and interest receivable, held for sale

Loans and interest receivable, held for sale, represents a portion of our installment consumer receivables that we intend to sell. This portfolio includes the substantial majority of the United Kingdom ("U.K.") and other European buy now, pay later loan receivables.

In June 2023, we entered into a multi-year agreement with a global investment firm to sell up to €40 billion of U.K. and other European buy now, pay later loan receivables, consisting of eligible loans and interest receivable, held for sale at the closing of the transaction and a forward-flow arrangement for the sale of future originations of eligible loans over a 24-month commitment period (together, "eligible consumer installment receivables"). Following the closing of this transaction, which is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2023, the global investment firm will become the owner of the eligible consumer installment receivables and we will no longer hold an ownership interest in these receivables. We will maintain the servicing rights and receive a servicing fee for the entire pool of the eligible consumer installment receivables outstanding.

(Unaudited)

Loans and interest receivable, held for sale are recorded at the lower of cost or fair value, determined on an aggregate basis, with valuation changes and any associated charge-offs recorded in restructuring and other charges on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). Prior to the decision to sell, this portfolio was reported at outstanding principal balances, net of allowances, including unamortized deferred origination costs and estimated collectible interest and fees. At the time of reclassification, any previously recorded allowance for credit losses for loans and interest receivable outstanding was reversed, resulting in a decrease of approximately $33 million in transaction and credit losses in our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss) for the nine months ended September 30, 2023. Interest income on interest bearing held-for-sale loans is accrued and recognized based on the contractual rate of interest.

Recently adopted Recent accounting guidance

In March 2022, November 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2022-02, 2023-07, Troubled Debt Restructurings ("TDRs") Segment Reporting and (Topic 280): Vintage Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures (Topic 326): Financial Instruments – Credit Losses. This The amended guidance eliminated the accounting designation of a loan modification as a TDR and the measurement guidance for TDRs. requires incremental reportable segment disclosures, primarily about significant segment expenses. The amendments also enhanced require entities with a single reportable segment to provide all disclosures required by these amendments, and all existing disclosure requirements segment disclosures. The amendments will be applied retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements and introduced new requirements related to modifications of receivables due from borrowers experiencing financial difficulty. Additionally, this guidance required entities to disclose gross charge-offs by year of origination for financing receivables, such as loans and interest receivable. The amended guidance was effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2022 December 15, 2023, and was interim periods in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. We are evaluating the impact this amended guidance may have on the footnotes to our condensed consolidated financial statements.

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-08, Intangibles – Goodwill and Other – Crypto Assets (Subtopic 350-60): Accounting for and Disclosure of Crypto Assets. This amended guidance requires fair value measurement of certain crypto assets each reporting period with the changes in fair value reflected in net income. The amendments also require disclosures of the name, fair value, units held, and cost bases for each significant crypto asset held and annual reconciliations of crypto asset holdings. The new guidance is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. We are required to apply these amendments as a cumulative-effect adjustment to retained earnings as of the beginning of the fiscal year in which the guidance is adopted. The adoption of this guidance is not expected to have a material impact on our condensed consolidated financial statements based on our current crypto asset holdings and fair value.

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures. The amended guidance enhances income tax disclosures primarily related to the effective tax rate reconciliation and income taxes paid information. This guidance requires disclosure of specific categories in the effective tax rate reconciliation and further information on reconciling items meeting a quantitative threshold. In addition, the amended guidance requires disaggregating income taxes paid (net of refunds received) by federal, state, and foreign taxes. It also requires disaggregating individual jurisdictions in which income taxes paid (net of refunds received) is equal to or greater than 5 percent of total income taxes paid (net of refunds received). The amended guidance is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024. The guidance can be applied either prospectively except for or retrospectively. We are evaluating the recognition and measurement of TDRs, which could be applied impact this amended guidance may have on a modified retrospective basis. We adopted this guidance effective January 1, 2023 on a prospective basis. Our the footnotes to our condensed consolidated financial statements were not materially impacted upon adoption. For additional information, see "Note 11—Loans and Interest Receivable." statements.

There are other new accounting pronouncements issued by the FASB that we have adopted or will adopt, as applicable. We do not believe any of these new accounting pronouncements have had, or will have, a material impact on our condensed consolidated financial statements or disclosures.

NOTE 2—REVENUE

We enable our customers to send and receive payments. We earn revenue primarily by completing payment transactions for our customers on our payments platform and from other value added services. Our revenues are classified into two categories: transaction revenues and revenues from other value added services.

(Unaudited)DISAGGREGATION OF REVENUE

We determine operating segments based on how our chief operating decision maker ("CODM") manages the business, makes operating decisions around the allocation of resources, and evaluates operating performance. Our CODM is our Chief Executive Officer, who regularly reviews our operating results on a consolidated basis. We operate as one segment and have one reportable segment. Based on the information provided to and reviewed by our CODM, we believe that the nature, amount, timing, and uncertainty of our revenue and cash flows and how they are affected by economic factors are most appropriately depicted through our primary geographical markets and types of revenue categories (transaction revenues and revenues from other value added services). Revenues recorded within these categories are earned from similar products and services for which the nature of associated fees and the related revenue recognition models are substantially the same. similar.

Such revenues relate to interest and fees earned on loans and interest receivable, including loans and interest receivable, held for sale, as well as hedging gains or losses, and interest earned on certain assets underlying customer balances.

NOTE 3—NET INCOME (LOSS) PER SHARE

Basic net income (loss) per share is computed by dividing net income (loss) for the period by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted net income (loss) per share is computed by dividing net income (loss) for the period by the weighted average number of shares of common stock and potentially dilutive common stock outstanding for the period. The dilutive effect of outstanding equity incentive awards is reflected in diluted net income (loss) per share by application of the treasury stock method. The calculation of diluted net income (loss) per share excludes all anti-dilutive common shares. During periods when we report net loss, diluted net loss per share is the same as basic net loss per share because the effects of potentially dilutive items would decrease the net loss per share.

In September 2023, we entered into a definitive agreement to sell Happy Returns to United Parcel Services, Inc. for approximately $465 million in cash. The sale of Happy Returns will enable us to focus on our core business and priorities. The transaction closed in the fourth quarter of 2023, and we expect to record a pre-tax gain of approximately $329 million, net of expected transaction costs, in restructuring and other charges on the condensed consolidated statements of income (loss) in that period.

We concluded that Happy Returns meets the criteria to be classified as held for sale and measured at the lower of its carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell as of September 30, 2023. The assets held for sale consist primarily of $81 million of goodwill and $13 million of net intangible assets, which are presented within prepaid expenses and other current assets on our condensed consolidated balance sheets as of September 30, 2023. No impairment charges were required in the three months ended September 30, 2023. The sale does not represent a strategic shift that would have a major effect on our operations and financial results, and therefore is not reported as a discontinued operation. 2023.

NOTE 6—LEASES

PayPal enters into various leases, which are primarily real estate operating leases. We use these properties for executive and administrative offices, data centers, product development offices, and customer services and operations centers, and warehouses. PayPal also enters into computer equipment finance leases.

While a majority of our lease agreements do not contain an explicit interest rate, certain of our lease agreements are subject to changes based on the Consumer Price Index or another referenced index. In the event of changes to the relevant index, lease liabilities are not remeasured and instead are treated as variable lease payments and recognized in the period in which the obligation for those payments is incurred.

The short-term lease exemption has been adopted for all leases with a duration of less than 12 months.

PayPal's lease portfolio includes a small number of subleases. A sublease situation can arise when currently leased real estate space is available and is surplus to operational requirements.

As of September 30, 2023, we had no finance leases.

CRYPTO ASSET SAFEGUARDING LIABILITY AND CORRESPONDING SAFEGUARDING ASSET

We allow our customers in certain markets to buy, hold, sell, convert, receive, and send certain cryptocurrencies as well as use the proceeds from sales of cryptocurrencies to pay for purchases at checkout. These cryptocurrencies consist of Bitcoin, Ethereum, Bitcoin Cash, Litecoin, and PayPal USD stablecoin (collectively, "our customers' crypto assets"). We engage third parties, which are licensed trust companies, to provide certain custodial services, including holding our customers' cryptographic key information, securing our customers' crypto assets, and protecting them from loss or theft, including indemnification against certain types of losses such as theft. Our third-party custodians hold the crypto assets in a custodial account in PayPal's name for the benefit of PayPal's customers. We maintain the internal recordkeeping of our customers' crypto assets, including the amount and type of crypto asset owned by each of our customers in that custodial account. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we utilize two third-party custodians; as such, there is concentration risk in the event these custodians are not able to perform in accordance with our agreement.

Due to the unique risks associated with cryptocurrencies, including technological, legal, and regulatory risks, we recognize a crypto asset safeguarding liability to reflect our obligation to safeguard the crypto assets held for the benefit of our customers, which is recorded in accrued expenses and other current liabilities on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. We also recognize a corresponding safeguarding asset, which is recorded in prepaid expenses and other current assets on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. The crypto asset safeguarding liability and corresponding safeguarding asset are measured and recorded at fair value on a recurring basis using quoted prices for the underlying crypto assets on the active exchange that we have identified as the principal market at the balance sheet date. The corresponding safeguarding asset may be adjusted for loss events, as applicable. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the Company has had not incurred any safeguarding loss events, and therefore, the crypto asset safeguarding liability and corresponding safeguarding asset were recorded at the same value.

The following table summarizes the significant crypto assets we hold for the benefit of our customers and the crypto asset safeguarding liability and corresponding safeguarding asset as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023:

Unrealized losses have not been recognized into income as we neither intend to sell, nor anticipate that it is more likely than not that we will be required to sell, the securities before recovery of their amortized cost basis. The decline in fair value is due primarily to changes in market interest rates, rather than credit losses. We will continue to monitor the performance of the investment portfolio and assess whether impairment due to expected credit losses has occurred. During the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we received $772 million $11.3 billion in proceeds from the sale and maturity of available-for-sale debt securities and incurred gross realized gains and losses which were de minimis and determined using the specific identification method, of $42 million. Supplemental cash flow information related to investments

Non-cash investing transactions that are not reflected in the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows for the three months ended March 31, 2024 include the purchase of investments not yet settled of $413 million.

STRATEGIC INVESTMENTS

Our strategic investments include marketable equity securities, which are publicly traded, and non-marketable equity securities, which are primarily investments in privately held companies. Our marketable equity securities have readily determinable fair values and are recorded as long-term investments on our condensed consolidated balance sheets at fair value with changes in fair value recorded in other income (expense), net on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). Marketable equity securities totaled $541 million and $323 million as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively.

Our non-marketable equity securities are recorded in long-term investments on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. The carrying value of our non-marketable equity securities totaled $1.8 billion as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we had non-marketable equity securities of $168 million $185 million and $136 million $182 million, respectively, for which we have the ability to exercise significant influence, but not control, over the investee. We account for these equity securities using the equity method of accounting. The remaining non-marketable equity securities do not have a readily determinable fair value and we measure these equity investments at cost minus impairment, if any, and adjust for changes resulting from observable price changes in orderly transactions for an identical or similar investment in the same issuer (the "Measurement Alternative"). All gains and losses on these investments, realized and unrealized, and our share of earnings or losses from investments accounted for using the equity method are recognized in other income (expense), net on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss).

Measurement Alternative adjustments

The adjustments to the carrying value of our non-marketable equity securities accounted for under the Measurement Alternative in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023 were as follows:

Our marketable equity securities are valued using quoted prices for identical assets in active markets (Level 1). There are no active markets for our crypto asset safeguarding liability or the corresponding safeguarding asset. Accordingly, we have valued the asset and liability using quoted prices on the active exchange that we have identified as the principal market for the underlying crypto assets (Level 2). All other financial assets and liabilities are valued using quoted prices for identical instruments in less active markets, readily available pricing sources for comparable instruments, or models using market observable inputs (Level 2).

A majority of our derivative instruments are valued using pricing models that take into account the contract terms as well as multiple observable inputs where applicable, such as currency rates, interest rate yield curves, option volatility, and equity prices. prices (Level 2).

As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we did not have any assets or liabilities requiring measurement at fair value on a recurring basis with significant unobservable inputs that would require a high level of judgment to determine fair value (Level 3).

We elect to account for available-for-sale debt securities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of our subsidiaries under the fair value option. Election of the fair value option allows us to recognize any gains and losses from fair value changes on such investments in other income (expense), net on the condensed consolidated statements of income (loss) to significantly reduce the accounting asymmetry that would otherwise arise when recognizing the corresponding foreign exchange gains and losses relating to customer liabilities. The following table summarizes the estimated fair value and amortized cost of our available-for-sale debt securities under the fair value option as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023:

The fair value Beginning with the first quarter of 2024, we measure loans and interest receivables receivable, held for sale is using observable inputs, such as the most recent executed prices for comparable loans sold to the global investment firm. Accordingly, loans and interest receivable, held for sale are classified within Level 3 as we estimate fair value using significant unobservable inputs. The significant unobservable input is the price at which the Company expects to sell the loans based upon our agreement with the global investment firm to purchase these loans. The price is determined based upon certain loan and risk classifications of the portfolio. The following table presents the valuation techniques covering the majority of Level 3 non-recurring fair value measurements and the most significant unobservable inputs used in those measurements as of September 30, 2023:

Loans and interest receivable, held for sale	$ 2,165	Price-based	Price	$ 0.98	$ 1.00	$ 0.99

^b Weighted average is calculated based on the fair value of the loans hierarchy. Refer to "Note 11—Loans and interest receivable" for additional information on loans and interest receivable, held for sale.

We measure the non-marketable equity securities accounted for under the Measurement Alternative at cost minus impairment, if any, adjusted for observable price changes in orderly transactions for an identical or similar investment in the same issuer. Non-marketable equity securities that have been remeasured during the period based on observable price changes are classified within Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy because we estimate the fair value based on valuation methods which only include significant inputs that are observable, such as the observable transaction price at the transaction date. The fair value of non-marketable equity securities are classified within Level 3 when we estimate fair value using significant unobservable inputs such as when we remeasure due to impairment and use discount rates, forecasted cash flows, and market data of comparable companies, among others.

We evaluate ROU assets related to leases for indicators of impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an ROU asset may not be recoverable. Impairment losses on ROU lease assets related to office operating leases are calculated using estimated rental income per square foot derived from observable market data, and the impaired asset is classified within Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy.

FINANCIAL ASSETS AND LIABILITIES NOT MEASURED AND RECORDED AT FAIR VALUE

Our financial instruments, including cash, restricted cash, time deposits, loans and interest receivable, net, certain customer accounts, and long-term debt related to borrowings on our credit facilities, are carried at amortized cost, which approximates their fair value. Our notes receivable had a carrying value of approximately $479 million $508 million and fair value of approximately $406 $465 million as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024. Our notes receivable had a carrying value of approximately $441 million $513 million and fair value of approximately $396 million $474 million as of December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. Our term debt (including current portion) in the form of fixed rate notes had a carrying value of approximately $10.5 billion and fair value of approximately $9.5 billion $9.8 billion as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024. Our term debt (including current portion) in the form of fixed rate notes had a carrying value of approximately $10.3 $10.6 billion and fair value of approximately $9.5 billion $10.0 billion as of December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. If these financial instruments were measured at fair value in the financial statements, cash would be classified as Level 1; restricted cash, time deposits, certain customer accounts, and term debt (including current portion) would be classified as Level 2; and the remaining financial instruments would be classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

NOTE 10—DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

SUMMARY OF DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

Our primary objective in holding derivatives is to reduce the volatility of earnings and cash flows associated with changes in foreign currency exchange rates. Our derivatives expose us to credit risk to the extent that our counterparties may be unable to meet the terms of the arrangement. We seek to mitigate such risk by limiting our counterparties to, and by spreading the risk across, major financial institutions and by entering into collateral security arrangements. In addition, the potential risk of loss with any one counterparty resulting from this type of credit risk is monitored on an ongoing basis. We do not use any derivative instruments for trading or speculative purposes.

Cash flow hedges

We have significant international revenues and expenses denominated in foreign currencies, which subjects us to foreign currency exchange risk. We have a foreign currency exposure management program in which we designate certain foreign currency exchange contracts, generally with maturities of 12 months or less, to reduce the volatility of cash flows primarily related to forecasted revenues and expenses denominated in certain foreign currencies. The objective of these foreign currency exchange contracts is to help mitigate the risk that the U.S. dollar-equivalent cash flows are adversely affected by changes in the applicable U.S. dollar/foreign currency exchange rate. These derivative instruments are designated as cash flow hedges and accordingly, the derivative's gain or loss is initially reported as a component of AOCI and subsequently reclassified into revenue or applicable expense line item in the condensed consolidated statements of income (loss) in the same period the forecasted transaction affects earnings. We evaluate the effectiveness of our foreign currency exchange contracts on a quarterly basis by comparing the critical terms of the derivative instruments with the critical terms of the forecasted cash flows of the hedged item; if the critical terms are the same, we conclude the hedge will be perfectly effective. We do not exclude any component of the changes in fair value of the derivative instruments from the assessment of hedge effectiveness. We report cash flows arising from derivative instruments consistent with the classification of cash flows from the underlying hedged items that these derivatives are hedging. Accordingly, the cash flows associated with derivatives designated as cash flow hedges are classified in cash flows from operating activities on our condensed consolidated statements of cash flows.

As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we estimated that $86 million $40 million of net derivative gains related to our cash flow hedges included in AOCI are expected to be reclassified into earnings within the next 12 months. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022, 2023, we did not discontinue any cash flow hedges because it was probable that the original forecasted transaction would not occur and as such, did not reclassify any gains or losses to earnings prior to the occurrence of the hedged transaction. If we elect to discontinue our cash flow hedges and it is probable that the original forecasted transaction will occur, we continue to report the derivative's gain or loss in AOCI until the forecasted transaction affects earnings, at which point we also reclassify it into earnings. Gains and losses on derivatives held after we discontinue our cash flow hedges and on derivative instruments that are not designated as cash flow hedges are recorded in the same financial statement line item to which the derivative relates.

Net investment hedges

We use forward foreign currency exchange contracts to reduce the foreign currency exchange risk related to our investment in certain foreign subsidiaries. These derivatives are designated as net investment hedges and accordingly, the gains and losses on the portion of the derivatives included in the assessment of hedge effectiveness is recorded in AOCI as part of foreign currency translation. We exclude forward points from the assessment of hedge effectiveness and recognize them in other income (expense), net on a straight-line basis over the life of the hedge. The accumulated gains and losses associated with these instruments will remain in AOCI until the foreign subsidiaries are sold or substantially liquidated, at which point they will be reclassified into earnings. The cash flows associated with derivatives designated as a net investment hedge are classified in cash flows from investing activities on our condensed consolidated statements of cash flows.

We have not reclassified any gains or losses related to net investment hedges from AOCI into earnings for any of the periods presented.

Foreign currency exchange contracts not designated as hedging instruments

We have a foreign currency exposure management program in which we use foreign currency exchange contracts to offset the foreign currency exchange risk of our assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of our subsidiaries. These contracts are not designated as hedging instruments and reduce, but do not entirely eliminate, the impact of foreign currency exchange rate movements on our assets and liabilities. The gains and losses due to remeasurement of certain foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are recorded in other income (expense), net, which are offset by the gains and losses on these foreign currency exchange contracts. The cash flows associated with our non-designated derivatives used to hedge foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are classified in cash flows from operating activities on our condensed consolidated statements of cash flows.

NOTE 11—LOANS AND INTEREST RECEIVABLE

LOANS AND INTEREST RECEIVABLE, HELD FOR SALE

In June 2023, we entered into a multi-year agreement with a global investment firm to sell up to €40 billion of our eligible consumer installment receivables portfolio, including those held on our balance sheet at closing of the transaction and a forward-flow arrangement for the sale of future originations. Loans and interest receivable, held for sale are recorded at the lower of cost or fair value, determined on an aggregate basis, with valuation changes and any associated charge-offs recorded in restructuring and other charges on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). Prior to the decision to sell, this portfolio was reported at outstanding principal balances, net of allowances, including unamortized deferred origination costs and estimated collectible interest and fees. At the time of reclassification, any previously recorded allowance for credit losses for loans and interest receivable outstanding was reversed, resulting in a decrease of approximately $33 million in transaction and credit losses in our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). See "Note 1—Overview and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" for additional information.

During the nine months ended September 30, 2023, we reclassified approximately $1.2 billion As of eligible consumer installment receivables from loans March 31, 2024 and interest receivable, net to December 31, 2023, loans and interest receivable, held for sale. As of September 30, 2023, the total outstanding balance loans and interest receivable in our held for sale portfolio was $2.2 billion, including loans reclassified as held for sale and loans originated as held for sale. connection with this agreement.

Consumer receivables

We offer revolving and installment credit products as a funding option for consumers in certain checkout transactions on our payments platform. Our revolving credit product consists of PayPal Credit in the U.K., which is made available to consumers as a funding source in their PayPal wallet once they are approved for credit. Additionally, we offer installment credit products at the time of checkout in various markets, including the U.S., several markets across Europe, Australia, and Japan. We offer non interest-bearing installment credit products in these markets as well as interest-bearing installment credit products in the U.S. and Germany. Beginning in June 2022, we have purchased receivables related to interest-bearing installment loans extended to U.S. consumers by an independent chartered financial institution ("partner institution") and are responsible for the servicing functions related to that portfolio. During the nine months ended September 30, 2023, we purchased approximately $643 million in consumer receivables, respectively. As of December 31, 2023, the outstanding balance of consumer receivables, which consisted of revolving and installment loans and interest receivable, was $4.2 billion and $4.5 billion and $5.9 billion, respectively, net of the participation interest sold to the partner institution of $22 million and $17 million, respectively.

We closely monitor the credit quality of our consumer receivables to evaluate and manage our related exposure to credit risk. Credit risk management begins with initial underwriting and continues through the full repayment of a loan. To assess a consumer who requests a loan, we use, among other indicators, internally developed risk models using detailed information from external sources, such as credit bureaus where available, and internal data, including the consumer's prior repayment history with our credit products where available. We use delinquency status and trends to assist in making (or, for interest-bearing installment loans in the U.S., to assist the partner institution in making) new and ongoing credit decisions, to adjust our models, to plan our collection practices and strategies, and in determining our allowance for consumer loans and interest receivable.

The provision for the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 for our consumer receivable portfolio was primarily attributable to growth in loan originations during the period for installment loans in the U.S. and Japan and U.K. revolving loans as well as a deterioration in credit quality of installment loans in the U.S. In the second quarter of 2023, we updated our expected credit loss models for the U.K. revolving loan product. The updated expected credit loss models utilize certain macroeconomic factors such as forecasted trends in household disposable income and retail e-commerce sales, and no longer consider unemployment. These changes did not have a material impact on our provision recorded in the period. Qualitative adjustments were made to account for limitations in our current expected credit loss models due to uncertainty with respect to macroeconomic conditions and the financial health of our borrowers.

The increase in charge-offs for the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of in the prior year was due to the expansion credit quality deterioration of our U.S. interest-bearing installment credit products and the growth of U.K. revolving credit products, products and installment credit products in Japan.

The provision for current expected credit losses relating to our consumer receivable portfolio is recognized in transaction and credit losses on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). The provision for interest receivable for interest earned on our consumer receivable portfolio is recognized in revenues from other value added services as a reduction to revenue. Loans receivable continue to accrue interest until they are charged off.

We charge off consumer receivable balances in the month in which a customer's balance becomes 180 days past the billing date or contractual repayment date, except for the U.S. consumer interest-bearing installment receivables, which are charged off 120 days past the contractual repayment date. Bankrupt accounts are charged off within 60 days after receipt of notification of bankruptcy. Charge-offs are recorded as a reduction to our allowance for loans and interest receivable and subsequent recoveries, if any, are recorded as an increase to the allowance for loans and interest receivable.

Merchant receivables

We offer access to merchant finance products for certain small and medium-sized businesses through our PayPal Working Capital ("PPWC") and PayPal Business Loan ("PPBL") products, which we collectively refer to as our merchant finance offerings. We purchase receivables related to credit extended to U.S. merchants by a partner institution and are responsible for the servicing functions related to that portfolio. During the ~~nine~~^{three} months ended ~~September 30, 2023~~ ~~March 31, 2024~~ and ~~2022, 2023~~, we purchased approximately ~~$1.3 billion~~ ~~$419 million~~ and ~~$2.3 billion~~ ~~$666 million~~ in merchant receivables, respectively. As of ~~September 30, 2023~~ ~~March 31, 2024~~ and ~~December 31, 2022~~ ~~December 31, 2023~~, the total outstanding balance in our pool of merchant loans, advances, and interest and fees receivable was ~~$1.4 billion~~ and ~~$2.1 billion~~ ~~$1.2 billion~~, respectively, net of the participation interest sold to the partner institution of ~~$55 million~~ ~~$43 million~~ and ~~$97 million~~ ~~$44 million~~, respectively.

Through our PPWC product, merchants can borrow a certain percentage of their annual payment volume processed by PayPal and are charged a fixed fee for the loan or advance based on the overall credit assessment of the merchant. Loans and advances are repaid through a fixed percentage of the merchant's future payment volume that PayPal processes. Through our PPBL product, we provide merchants access to short-term business financing for a fixed fee based on an evaluation of the applying business as well as the business owner. PPBL repayments are collected through periodic payments until the balance has been satisfied.

The interest or fee is fixed at the time the loan or advance is extended and is recognized as deferred revenue in accrued expenses and other current liabilities on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. The fixed interest or fee is amortized into revenues from other value added services based on the amount repaid over the repayment period. We estimate the repayment period for PPWC based on the merchant's payment processing history with PayPal. For PPWC, there is a general requirement that at least 10% of the original amount of the loan or advance plus the fixed fee must be repaid every 90 days. We calculate the repayment rate of the merchant's future payment volume so that repayment of the loan or advance and fixed fee is expected to generally occur within 9 to 12 months from the date of the loan or advance. On a monthly basis, we recalculate the repayment period based on the repayment activity on the receivable. As such, actual repayment periods are dependent on actual merchant payment processing volumes. For PPBL, we receive fixed periodic payments over the contractual term of the loan, which generally ranges from 3 to 12 months.

We actively monitor receivables with repayment periods greater than the original expected or contractual repayment period, as well as the credit quality of our merchant loans and advances that we extend or purchase, so that we can evaluate, quantify, and manage our credit risk exposure. To assess a merchant seeking a loan or advance, we use, among other indicators, risk models developed internally which utilize information obtained from multiple internal and external data sources to predict the likelihood of timely and satisfactory repayment by the merchant of the loan or advance amount and the related interest or fee. Primary drivers of the models include the merchant's annual payment volume, payment processing history with PayPal, prior repayment history with PayPal's credit products where available, information sourced from consumer and business credit bureau reports, and other information obtained during the application process. We use delinquency status and trends to assist in making (or, in the U.S., to assist the partner institution in making) ongoing credit decisions, to adjust our internal models, to plan our collection strategies, and in determining our allowance for these loans, advances, and interest and fees receivable.

The provision for the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 was primarily attributable to a deterioration in loan originations during the period partially offset by improvement in credit quality of loans outstanding, the PPBL portfolio. Qualitative adjustments were made to account for limitations in our current expected credit loss models due to uncertainty around the financial health of our borrowers, including the effectiveness of loan modification programs made available to merchants, as described further below.

(Unaudited)

The increase in the charge-offs for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the same period of the prior year was due to the expansion of acceptable risk parameters in 2022, which resulted in a deterioration of the overall credit quality of loans outstanding.

For merchant loans and advances, the determination of delinquency is based on the current expected or contractual repayment period of the loan or advance and fixed interest or fee payment as compared to the original expected or contractual repayment period. We charge off the receivables outstanding under our PPBL product when the repayments are 180 days past the contractual repayment date. We charge off the receivables outstanding under our PPWC product when the repayments are 180 days past our expectation of repayments and the merchant has not made a payment in the last 60 days, or when the repayments are 360 days past due regardless of whether the merchant has made a payment in the last 60 days. Bankrupt accounts are charged off within 60 days after receipt of notification of bankruptcy. The provision for credit losses on merchant loans and advances is recognized in transaction and credit losses on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss), and the provision for interest and fees receivable is recognized as a reduction of deferred revenue in accrued expenses and other current liabilities on our condensed consolidated balance sheets. Charge-offs are recorded as a reduction to our allowance for loans and interest receivable and subsequent recoveries, if any, are recorded as an increase to the allowance for loans and interest receivable.

Loan modifications for merchants experiencing financial difficulty

In certain instances, we may modify the merchant loans, advances, and interest and fees receivable for which we determine it is probable that, without modification, we would be unable to collect all amounts due. These modifications are intended to provide merchants with financial relief and enable us to potentially mitigate losses.

Modifications to loans for merchants experiencing financial difficulty during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 were term extensions. These modifications March 31, 2024 and 2023 increased the term while moving the delinquency status to current. The following table details merchant loans, advances, and interest and fees receivable as of September 30, 2023 that These modifications were modified through a term extension to a merchant experiencing financial difficulty during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, and the financial effect of these modifications:

We closely monitor the performance of the merchant loans, advances, and interest and fees receivable that were modified to extend the term to understand the effectiveness of these modification efforts. The following table depicts the performance of merchant loans, advances, and interest and fees receivable as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 that have been modified during the nine 12 months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024:

Allowances for merchant loans, advances, and interest and fees receivable modified due to merchants experiencing financial difficulties are assessed separately from other loans and advances within our portfolio and are determined by estimating current expected credit losses utilizing the modified term. Historical loss estimates are utilized in addition to macroeconomic assumptions to determine current expected credit losses. Further, we may include qualitative adjustments that incorporate incremental information not captured in the quantitative estimates of our current expected credit losses.

NOTE 12—DEBT

FIXED RATE NOTES

In June 2023, we issued fixed rate notes with varying maturity dates for an aggregate principal amount of ¥90 billion (approximately $60.3 $59.5 million as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024). Interest on these notes is payable on June 9 and December 9 of each year, beginning December 9, 2023.

In May 2022, May 2020, and September 2019, we issued fixed rate notes with varying maturity dates for an aggregate principal amount of $3.0 billion, $4.0 billion and $5.0 billion, respectively.

The notes issued from the June 2023, May 2022, May 2020, and September 2019 debt issuances are senior unsecured obligations and are collectively referred to as the "Notes." We may redeem the Notes in whole, at any time, or in part (except for the June 2023 notes), from time to time, prior to maturity, at their redemption prices. Upon the occurrence of both a change of control of the Company and a downgrade of the Notes below an investment grade rating, we will be required to offer to repurchase each series of Notes at a price equal to 101% of the then outstanding principal amounts, plus accrued and unpaid interest. The Notes are subject to covenants, including limitations on our ability to create liens on our assets, enter into sale and leaseback transactions, and merge or consolidate with another entity, in each case subject to certain exceptions, limitations, and qualifications. Proceeds from the issuance of these Notes may be used for general corporate purposes, which may include funding the repayment or redemption of outstanding debt, share repurchases, ongoing operations, capital expenditures, acquisitions of businesses, assets, or strategic investments.

In May 2022, we repurchased certain notes under the September 2019 and May 2020 debt issuances prior to maturity through tender offers. In addition, in June 2022, we redeemed the outstanding balance of the notes maturing in September 2022 through a make-whole redemption. We repurchased and redeemed $1.6 billion of outstanding notes, as described above, which resulted in de minimis debt extinguishment net gains that were recorded as interest expense within other income (expense), net on our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss).

CREDIT FACILITIES

Five-year revolving credit facility

In June 2023, we entered into a credit agreement (the "Credit Agreement") that provides for an unsecured $5.0 billion, five-year revolving credit facility and terminated the facility entered into in September 2019. The Credit Agreement includes a $150 million letter of credit sub-facility and a $600 million swingline sub-facility, with available borrowings under the revolving credit facility reduced by the amount of any letters of credit and swingline borrowings outstanding from time to time. Loans borrowed under the Credit Agreement are available in U.S. dollar, Euro, British pound, and Australian dollar, and in each case subject to the sub-limits and other limitations provided in the Credit Agreement. We may also, subject to the agreement of the applicable lenders and satisfaction of specified conditions, increase the commitments under the revolving credit facility by up to $2.0 billion. Subject to specific conditions, we may designate one or more of our subsidiaries as additional borrowers under the Credit Agreement, provided PayPal Holdings, Inc. guarantees the portion of borrowings made available and other obligations of any such subsidiaries under the Credit Agreement. As of September 30, 2023, certain subsidiaries were designated as additional borrowers. Funds borrowed under the Credit Agreement may be used for working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions, and other purposes not in contravention of the Credit Agreement.

We are obligated to pay interest on loans under the Credit Agreement and other customary fees for a credit facility of this size and type, including an upfront fee and an unused commitment fee based on our debt rating. Loans under the Credit Agreement will bear interest at either (i) the applicable term benchmark rate plus a margin (based on the Company's public debt ratings) ranging from 0.750% to 1.250%, (ii) the applicable Risk-Free Rate (Sterling Overnight Index Average for loans denominated in pounds sterling and Euro Short-Term Rate for loans denominated in euros) rate plus a margin (based on the Company's public debt ratings) ranging from 0.750% to 1.250%, (iii) the applicable overnight rate plus a margin (based on the Company's public debt ratings) ranging from 0.750% to 1.250% or (iv) a formula based on the prime rate, the federal funds effective rate or the adjusted term Secured Overnight Financing Rate plus a margin (based on the Company's public debt ratings) ranging from zero to 0.250%. Subject to certain conditions stated in the Credit Agreement, the Company and any subsidiaries designated as additional borrowers may borrow, prepay and reborrow amounts under the revolving credit facility at any time during the term of the Credit Agreement. The Credit Agreement will terminate and all amounts owing thereunder will be due and payable on June 7, 2028, unless (a) the commitments are terminated earlier, either at the request of the Company or, if an event of default occurs, by the lenders (or automatically in the case of certain bankruptcy-related events), or (b) the maturity date is extended upon the request of the Company, subject to the agreement of the lenders. The Credit Agreement contains customary representations, warranties, affirmative and negative covenants, including a financial covenant, events of default, and indemnification provisions in favor of the lenders. The negative covenants include restrictions regarding the incurrence of liens and the incurrence of subsidiary indebtedness, in each case subject to certain exceptions. The financial covenant requires the Company to meet a quarterly financial test with respect to a maximum consolidated leverage ratio.

As of September 30, 2023, no borrowings or letters of credit were outstanding under the Credit Agreement. Accordingly, at September 30, 2023, $5.0 billion of borrowing capacity was available for the purposes permitted by the Credit Agreement, subject to customary conditions to borrowing.

Paidy credit agreement

In February 2022, we entered into a credit agreement (the "Paidy Credit Agreement") with Paidy as co-borrower, which provided for an unsecured revolving credit facility of ¥60.0 billion, which was modified in September 2022 to increase the borrowing capacity by ¥30.0 billion for a total borrowing capacity of ¥90.0 billion (approximately $603 million as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024). In June 2023, we repaid borrowings on Borrowings under the Paidy Credit Agreement using proceeds are for use by Paidy for working capital, capital expenditures, and other permitted purposes. Loans under the Paidy Credit Agreement bear interest at the Tokyo Interbank Offered Rate plus a margin (based on our public debt rating) ranging from 0.40% to 0.60%. The Paidy Credit Agreement will terminate and all amounts owed thereunder will be due and payable in February 2027, unless the June 2023 debt issuance. commitments are terminated earlier. The Paidy Credit Agreement contains customary representations, warranties, affirmative and negative covenants, including a financial covenant, events of default, and indemnification provisions in favor of the lenders. The negative covenants include restrictions regarding the incurrence of liens and subsidiary indebtedness, in each case subject to certain exceptions. The financial covenant requires us to meet a quarterly financial test with respect to a maximum consolidated leverage ratio.

LITIGATION AND REGULATORY MATTERS

Overview

We are involved in legal and regulatory proceedings on an ongoing basis. Certain of these proceedings are in early stages and may seek an indeterminate amount of damages or penalties or may require us to change or adopt certain business practices. If we believe that a loss arising from such matters is probable and can be reasonably estimated, we accrue the estimated liability in our financial statements at that time. If only a range of estimated losses can be determined, we accrue an amount within the range that, in our judgment, reflects the most likely outcome; if none of the estimates within that range is a better estimate than any other amount, we accrue the low end of the range. For those proceedings in which an unfavorable outcome is reasonably possible but not probable, we have disclosed an estimate of the reasonably possible loss or range of losses or we have concluded that an estimate of the reasonably possible loss or range of losses arising directly from the proceeding (i.e., monetary damages or amounts paid in judgment or settlement) are not material. If we cannot estimate the probable or reasonably possible loss or range of losses arising from a legal proceeding, we have disclosed that fact. In assessing the materiality of a legal proceeding, we evaluate, among other factors, the amount of monetary damages claimed, as well as the potential impact of non-monetary remedies sought by plaintiffs (e.g., injunctive relief) that may require us to change our business practices in a manner that could have a material adverse impact on our business. With respect to the matters disclosed in this Note 13, we are unable to estimate the possible loss or range of losses that could potentially result from the application of such non-monetary remedies.

Amounts accrued for legal and regulatory proceedings for which we believe a loss is probable and reasonably estimable were not material as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024. Except as otherwise noted for the proceedings described in this Note 13, we have concluded, based on currently available information, that reasonably possible losses arising directly from the proceedings (i.e., monetary damages or amounts paid in judgment or settlement) in excess of our recorded accruals are also not material. Determining legal reserves or possible losses from such matters involves judgment and may not reflect the full range of uncertainties and unpredictable outcomes. We may be exposed to losses in excess of the amount recorded, and such amounts could be material. If any of our estimates and assumptions change or prove to have been incorrect, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations, or cash flows.

Regulatory proceedings

PayPal Australia Pty Limited ("PPAU") self-reported a potential violation to the Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre ("AUSTRAC") on May 22, 2019. This self-reported matter relates to PPAU incorrectly filing required international funds transfer instructions over a period of time under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 ("AML/CTF Act"). On September 23, 2019, PPAU received a notice from AUSTRAC requiring that PPAU appoint an external auditor (a partner of a firm which is not our independent auditor) to review certain aspects of PPAU's compliance with its obligations under the AML/CTF Act. The external auditor was appointed on November 1, 2019.

AUSTRAC had notified PPAU that its enforcement team was investigating the matters reported upon by the external auditor in its August 31, 2020 final report. As a resolution of this investigation, on March 17, 2023, AUSTRAC's Chief Executive Officer accepted an enforceable undertaking from PPAU in relation to the self-reported issues.

The enforceable undertaking does not include a monetary penalty. The entry into and compliance with the enforceable undertaking will not require a change to our business practices in a manner that could result in a material loss, require significant management time, result in the diversion of significant operational resources, or otherwise adversely affect our business.

PPAU is required to deliver an Assurance Action Plan ("AAP") under the enforceable undertaking to demonstrate that the governance and oversight arrangements following the remedial work completed by PPAU are sustainable and appropriate. The enforceable undertaking requires PPAU to appoint an external auditor. The external auditor was appointed on June 22, 2023 and will to assess and report on the appropriateness, sustainability and efficacy of the actions to be taken under the AAP. The PPAU provided the external auditor's final report to PPAU and AUSTRAC is due on or before April 16, 2024. The successful completion of the enforceable undertaking is subject to AUSTRAC's ultimate review and decision based on the external auditor's final report or AUSTRAC's decision.

Any failure to comply with the enforceable undertaking could result in penalties or require us to change our business practices.

Legal proceedings

On December 16, 2021 and January 19, 2022, two related putative shareholder derivative actions captioned Pang v. Daniel Schulman, et al., Case No. 21-cv-09720, and Lalor v. Daniel Schulman, et al., Case No. 22-cv-00370, respectively, were filed in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California (the "California Derivative Actions"), purportedly on behalf of the Company. On August 2, 2022, a related putative shareholder derivative action captioned Jefferson v. Daniel Schulman, et al., No. 2022-0684, was filed in the Court of Chancery for the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Derivative Action," and collectively with the California Derivative Actions, the "Derivative Actions"), purportedly on behalf of the Company. The Derivative Actions are based on the same alleged facts and circumstances as the putative securities class action captioned Kang v. PayPal Holdings, Inc., et al., Case No. 21-cv-06468, that was filed in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California (the "Kang Securities Action"), and name certain of our officers, including our former Chief Executive Officer and former Chief Financial Officer, and members of our Board of Directors, as defendants. The Derivative Actions allege claims for breach of fiduciary duty, unjust enrichment, abuse of control, gross mismanagement, waste of corporate assets, and violations of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act"), and seek to recover damages on behalf of the Company. On February 1, 2022, the court entered an order consolidating the two California Derivative Actions and staying them until all motions to dismiss in the Kang Securities Action are resolved. On June 29, 2023, following the final dismissal of the Kang Securities Action, the Court ordered a stipulation dismissing the California Derivative Actions, without prejudice, and on July 7, 2023, the Court ordered a stipulation dismissing the Delaware Derivative Action, without prejudice.

On October 4, 2022, a putative securities class action captioned Defined Benefit Plan of the Mid-Jersey Trucking Industry and Teamsters Local 701 Pension and Annuity Fund v. PayPal Holdings, Inc., et al., Case No. 22-cv-5864, was filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey. On January 11, 2023, the Court appointed Caisse de dépôt et placement du Québec as lead plaintiff and renamed the action In re PayPal Holdings, Inc. Securities Litigation ("PPH Securities Action"). On March 13, 2023, the lead plaintiff filed an amended and consolidated complaint. The PPH Securities Action asserts claims relating to our public statements with respect to net new active accounts ("NNA") results and guidance, and the detection of illegitimately created accounts. The PPH Securities Action purports to be brought on behalf of purchasers of the Company's stock between February 3, 2021 and February 1, 2022 (the "Class Period"), and asserts claims for alleged violations of Sections 10(b) of the Exchange Act against the Company, as well as its former Chief Executive Officer, Chief Strategy, Growth and Data Officer, and former Chief Financial Officer (collectively, the "Individual Defendants," and together with the Company, "Defendants"), and for alleged violations of Sections 20(a) and 20A of the Exchange Act against the Individual Defendants. The complaint alleges that certain public statements made by Defendants during the Class Period were rendered materially false and misleading (which, allegedly, caused the Company's stock to trade at artificially inflated prices) by the Defendants' failure to disclose that, among other things, the Company's incentive campaigns were susceptible to fraud and led to the creation of illegitimate accounts, which allegedly affected the Company's NNA results and guidance. The PPH Securities Action seeks unspecified compensatory damages on behalf of the putative class members. Defendants have filed a motion to dismiss the PPH Securities Action, which is fully briefed and pending before the court.

On November 2, 2022, a putative shareholder derivative action captioned Shah v. Daniel Schulman, et al., Case No. 22-cv-1445, was filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware (the "Shah Action"), purportedly on behalf of the Company. On April 4, 2023, a putative shareholder derivative action captioned Nelson v. Daniel Schulman, et al., Case No. 23-cv-01913, was filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey (the "Nelson Action") purportedly on behalf of the Company. The Shah and Nelson Actions are based on the same alleged facts and circumstances as the PPH Securities Action, and name certain of our officers, including our former Chief Executive Officer and former Chief Financial Officer, and members of our Board of Directors, as defendants. The Shah and Nelson Actions allege claims for breach of fiduciary duty, aiding and abetting breach of fiduciary duty, unjust enrichment, waste of corporate assets, gross mismanagement and violations of the Exchange Act, and seek to recover damages on behalf of the Company. The Shah and Nelson Actions have been stayed pending further developments in the PPH Securities Action.

General matters

Other third parties have from time to time claimed, and others may claim in the future, that we have infringed their intellectual property rights. We are subject to patent disputes and expect that we will increasingly be subject to additional patent infringement claims involving various aspects of our business as our products and services continue to expand in scope and complexity. Such claims may be brought directly or indirectly against our companies and/or against our customers (who may be entitled to contractual indemnification under their contracts with us), and we are subject to increased exposure to such claims as a result of our acquisitions, particularly in cases where we are introducing new products or services in connection with such acquisitions. We have in the past been forced to litigate such claims, and we believe that additional lawsuits alleging such claims will be filed against us. Intellectual property claims, whether meritorious or not, are time-consuming and costly to defend and resolve, could require expensive changes in our methods of doing business, or could require us to enter into costly royalty or licensing agreements on unfavorable terms or make substantial payments to settle claims or to satisfy damages awarded by courts.

From time to time, we are involved in other disputes or regulatory inquiries that arise in the ordinary course of business, including suits by our customers (individually or as class actions) or regulators alleging, among other things, improper disclosure of our prices, rules, or policies, that our practices, prices, rules, policies, or customer/user agreements violate applicable law, or that we have acted unfairly or not acted in conformity with such prices, rules, policies, or agreements. In addition to these types of disputes and regulatory inquiries, our operations are also subject to regulatory and legal review and challenges that may reflect the increasing global regulatory focus to which the payments industry is subject and, when taken as a whole with other regulatory and legislative action, such actions could result in the imposition of costly new compliance burdens on our business and customers and may lead to increased costs and decreased transaction volume and revenue. Further, the number and significance of these disputes and inquiries are increasing as our business has grown and expanded in scale and scope, including the number of active accounts and payments transactions on our platform, the range and increasing complexity of the products and services that we offer, and our geographical operations. Any claims or regulatory actions against us, whether meritorious or not, could be time consuming, result in costly litigation, settlement payments, damage awards (including statutory damages for certain causes of action in certain jurisdictions), fines, penalties, injunctive relief, or increased costs of doing business through adverse judgment or settlement, require us to change our business practices in expensive ways, require significant amounts of management time, result in the diversion of significant operational resources, or otherwise harm our business.

INDEMNIFICATION PROVISIONS

Our agreements with eBay governing our separation from eBay provide for specific indemnity and liability obligations for both eBay and us. Disputes between eBay and us have arisen and others may arise in the future, and an adverse outcome in such matters could materially and adversely impact our business, results of operations, and financial condition. In addition, the indemnity rights we have against eBay under the agreements may not be sufficient to protect us, and our indemnity obligations to eBay may be significant.

In the ordinary course of business, we include indemnification provisions in certain of our agreements with parties with whom we have commercial relationships. Under these contracts, we generally indemnify, hold harmless, and agree to reimburse the indemnified party for losses suffered or incurred by the indemnified party in connection with claims by any third party with respect to our domain names, trademarks, logos, and other branding elements to the extent that such marks are related to the subject agreement. We have provided an indemnity for other types of third-party claims, which may include indemnities related to intellectual property rights, confidentiality, willful misconduct, data privacy obligations, and certain breach of contract claims, among others. We have also provided an indemnity to our payments processors in the event of card association fines against the processor arising out of conduct by us or our customers. It is not possible to determine the maximum potential loss under these indemnification provisions due to our limited history of prior indemnification claims and the unique facts and circumstances involved in each particular situation.

PayPal has participated in the U.S. Government's Paycheck Protection Program administered by the U.S. Small Business Administration. Loans made under this program are funded by an independent chartered financial institution that we partner with. We receive a fee for providing services in connection with these loans and retain operational and audit risk related to those activities. We have agreed, under certain circumstances, to indemnify the chartered financial institution and its assignee of a portion of these loans in connection with the services provided for loans made under this program.

As part of the agreement to sell a portion of our consumer installment receivables portfolio, in certain circumstances such as breaches in loan warranties, we may be required to indemnify the global investment firm that purchased the loans or repurchase the loans. The estimate of the maximum potential amount of future payments we may be required to make is equal to the current outstanding balances of the loans sold; however, the maximum potential amount of the indemnification is not, in our view, representative of the expected future exposure. As of March 31, 2024, the current outstanding balances of the loans sold was $2.4 billion. The terms of the indemnification align to the maturities of the loans sold.

PROTECTION PROGRAMS

We provide merchants and consumers with protection programs for certain transactions completed on our payments platform. These programs are intended to protect both merchants and consumers from loss primarily due to fraud and counterparty performance. Our Purchase Protection Program provides protection to consumers for qualifying purchases by reimbursing the consumer for the full amount of the purchase if a purchased item does not arrive or does not match the seller's description. Our Seller Protection Programs provide protection to merchants against claims that a transaction was not authorized by the buyer or claims that an item was not received by covering the seller for the full amount of the payment on eligible sales. These protection programs are considered assurance-type warranties under applicable accounting standards for which we estimate and record associated costs in transaction and credit losses during the period the payment transaction is completed.

NOTE 16—INCOME TAXES

Our effective tax rate for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2023 was 18% 27% and 21%, respectively. Our effective tax rate for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 was 16% and 34% 26%, respectively. The difference between our effective tax rate and the U.S. federal statutory rate of 21% in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 both periods was primarily the result of foreign income taxed at different rates and discrete tax adjustments, including tax expense related to stock-based compensation. The difference between Gross unrecognized tax benefits were approximately $2.2 billion as of March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023. Due to various factors, including uncertainties of the judicial, administrative, and regulatory processes in certain jurisdictions, the timing of the resolution of these unrecognized tax benefits is highly uncertain. It is reasonably possible that within the next twelve months, we may receive additional tax adjustments by various tax authorities or possibly reach resolution of audits in one or more jurisdictions. These adjustments or settlements could result in changes to our effective unrecognized tax rate and the U.S. federal statutory rate of 21% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 was primarily the result of foreign income taxed at different rates, and for the nine months ended September 30, 2022, tax expense benefits related to the intra-group transfer of intellectual property positions on prior year tax filings. We also continue to accrue unrecognized tax benefits for certain recurring tax positions.

NOTE 17—RESTRUCTURING AND OTHER CHARGES

During the first quarter of 2024, management initiated a global workforce reduction intended to streamline operations, focus resources on core strategic priorities, and improve our cost structure. The associated restructuring charges during the three months ended March 31, 2024 were $175 million and included employee severance and benefits costs and stock-based compensation expense. In connection with this restructuring, we expect to incur additional charges related to employee severance and benefits costs of approximately $70 million to $90 million, which includes stock-based compensation expense. We expect the remaining charges to be substantially recognized by the second quarter of 2024.

During the first quarter of 2023, management initiated a global workforce reduction intended to focus resources on core strategic priorities, and improve our cost structure and operating efficiency. The associated restructuring charges during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2023 were $3 million and $120 million, respectively. $117 million. We primarily incurred employee severance and benefits costs, substantially all of which have been accrued for as of March 31, 2023.

The following table summarizes the restructuring reserve activity during the nine months ended September 30, 2023:

During the first quarter of 2022, management initiated a strategic reduction of the existing global workforce intended to streamline and optimize our global operations to enhance operating efficiency. This effort focused on reducing redundant operations and simplifying our organizational structure. The associated restructuring charges during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 were $23 million and $114 million, respectively. We primarily incurred employee severance and benefits costs, as well as associated consulting costs under this strategic reduction. The strategic actions associated with this plan were substantially completed by the fourth quarter of 2022, 2023.

Additionally, we are continuing to review our real estate and facility capacity requirements due to our new and evolving work models. We incurred asset impairment charges of $15 million and $58 million in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, March 31, 2024 and $29 million and $64 million in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, 2023, respectively, due to exiting of certain leased properties, which resulted in a reduction of ROU lease assets and related leasehold improvements. See "Note 6—Leases" for additional information. In the nine months ended September 30, 2023, we recognized a gain of $17 million due to the sale of an owned property. We also incurred a loss of $12 million related to another upon designation of an owned property as held for sale in the nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2023.

During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, approximately $15 million and $49 million, respectively, $37 million of losses were recorded in restructuring and other, charges which included net loss on sale of loans and interest receivable previously held for sale and fair value adjustments in order to measure loans and interest receivable, held for sale, at the lower of cost or fair value.

NOTE 18—SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

As described in "Note 1—Overview and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies," in June 2023 we entered into a multi-year agreement with a global investment firm to sell up to €40 billion of eligible consumer installment receivables. In October 2023, we began selling those receivables and as of October 31, 2023, $1.4 billion of such receivables, which were classified as held for sale, have been sold. Following the sale, the global investment firm became the owner of the receivables sold and we no longer hold an ownership interest in these receivables. This transaction was accounted for as a sale, based on our determination that it met the necessary criteria for such accounting including legal isolation of transferred assets, ability of the transferee to pledge or exchange the transferred assets without constraint, and the transfer of control. Accordingly, we no longer record these loan and interest receivables on our consolidated financial statements. We also concluded that our continuing involvement in the arrangement does not negate this determination.

Regulatory environment

We operate globally and in a rapidly evolving regulatory environment characterized by a heightened focus by regulators globally on all aspects of the payments industry, including countering terrorist financing, anti-money laundering, privacy, cybersecurity, and consumer protection. The laws and regulations applicable to us, including those enacted prior to the advent of digital payments, continue to evolve through legislative and regulatory action and judicial interpretation. New or changing laws and regulations, including changes to their interpretation and implementation, as well as increased penalties and enforcement actions related to non-compliance, could have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. We monitor these areas closely and are focused on designing compliant solutions for our customers.

Information Cybersecurity and information security

Information Cybersecurity and information security risks for global payments and technology companies like us have increased significantly in recent years. Although we have developed systems and processes designed to protect the data we manage, prevent data loss and other security incidents, and enable us to effectively respond to known and potential risks, and expect to continue to expend significant resources to bolster these protections, we have experienced and expect to continue to experience cybersecurity incidents and remain subject to these risks and there risks. There can be no assurance that our security measures will provide sufficient protection or security or to prevent breaches or attacks. BREXIT

The United Kingdom ("U.K.") formally exited the European Union ("EU") and the European Economic Area ("EEA") on January 31, 2020 (commonly referred to as "Brexit") with the expiration of the transition period on December 31, 2020. PayPal has operated in the U.K. within the scope of its passport permissions pursuant to the Temporary Permissions Regime pending the grant of new authorizations by the U.K. Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA"). On October 31, 2023, PayPal's U.K. subsidiary received authorizations from the FCA as an electronic money institution and consumer credit firm, and registration as a cryptoasset business, subject to certain conditions that will require further implementation action by us. We are currently unable to determine the longer-term impact that Brexit will have on our business, which will depend, in part, on the implications of new tariff, trade, and regulatory frameworks that now govern the provision of cross-border goods and services between the U.K. and the EEA. For additional information on how Brexit could affect our business, see Part I, Item 1A, Risk Factors in our 2022 Form 10-K, as supplemented and, to the extent inconsistent, superseded below (if applicable) in Part II, Item 1A, Risk Factors of this Form 10-Q.

Brexit may contribute to instability in financial, stock, and foreign currency exchange markets, including volatility in the value of the British pound and Euro. We have foreign currency exchange exposure management programs designed to help reduce the impact from foreign currency exchange rate movements. The tables below provide the percentage of our total net revenues and gross loans and interest receivable from the U.K. and EU for the periods presented:

	Three Months Ended September 30,	Nine Months Ended September 30,

Gross loans and interest receivable due from customers in the EU		31 %	28 %

MACROECONOMIC ENVIRONMENT

The broader implications of the macroeconomic environment, including uncertainty around recent international conflicts (including such as the Russia and Ukraine conflict), conflict, supply chain shortages, a recession globally or in markets in which we operate, higher inflation rates, higher interest rates, and other related global economic conditions, remain unknown. A deterioration in macroeconomic conditions could continue to increase the risk of lower consumer spending, merchant and consumer bankruptcy, insolvency, business failure, higher credit losses, foreign currency exchange fluctuations, or other business interruption, which may adversely impact our business. If these conditions continue or worsen, they could adversely impact our future financial and operating results.

THREE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, MARCH 31, 2024 AND 2023 AND 2022

Net revenues increased $572 million $659 million, or 8% 9%, in the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year driven primarily by growth in total payment volume ("TPV", as defined below under "Key Metrics") of 15% 14%.

Total operating expenses increased $522 million $490 million, or 9% 8%, in the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year due primarily to an increase in higher transaction expense, partially offset by reductions in sales transaction and marketing expense, credit losses.

Operating income increased by $50 million $169 million, or 4% 17%, in the three months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the same period of the prior year. Our operating margin was 16% in the three months ended September 30, 2023 and 2022 reflecting the negative impact of an increase in transaction expense, offset by the positive impact of operating efficiencies in our business.

Net income decreased $310 million, or 23% in the three months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the same period of the prior year due primarily to a decrease in other income (expense), net of $387 million driven primarily by lower net gains on strategic investments in the current period.

NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 2023 AND 2022

Net revenues increased $1.6 billion, or 8%, in the nine months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the same period of the prior year driven primarily by growth in TPV of 12%.

Total operating expenses increased $903 million, or 5%, in the nine months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the same period of the prior year due primarily to an increase in transaction expense, partially offset by reductions in sales and marketing expense, and technology and development expense.

Operating income increased $707 million, or 27%, in the nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year due to net revenues revenue growing faster by more than operating expenses. Our operating margin was 15% and 13% 14% in the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022, respectively, reflecting the positive impact of operating efficiencies in our business, partially offset by the negative impact of an increase in higher transaction expense.

Net income increased $1.3 billion $93 million, or 90% 12%, in the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year due to the previously discussed increase in operating income of $707 million and $169 million, partially offset by an increase in income tax expense of $655 million $42 million and a decrease in other income (expense), net driven primarily by net gains on strategic investments in the current period as compared to net losses in the prior period as well as higher interest income from an increase in interest rates of $34 million.

IMPACT OF FOREIGN CURRENCY EXCHANGE RATES

We have significant international operations that are denominated in foreign currencies, primarily the British pound, Euro, Australian dollar, and Canadian dollar, subjecting us to foreign currency exchange risk which may adversely impact our financial results. The strengthening or weakening of the United States ("U.S.") dollar versus foreign currencies in which we conduct our international operations, impacts the translation of our net revenues and expenses generated in these foreign currencies into the U.S. dollar. We generated approximately 43% 42% and 42% 41% of our net revenues from customers domiciled outside of the U.S. in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, as compared to 42% March 31, 2024 and 43% in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, 2023, respectively. Because we generate substantial net revenues internationally, we are subject to the risks of doing business outside of the U.S. See Part I, Item 1A, Risk Factors in our 2022 2023 Form 10-K, as supplemented and, to the extent inconsistent, superseded (if applicable) below in Part II, Item 1A, Risk Factors of this Form 10-Q.

We calculate the year-over-year impact of foreign currency exchange movements on our business using prior period foreign currency exchange rates applied to current period transactional currency amounts. While changes in foreign currency exchange rates affect our reported results, we have a foreign currency exchange exposure management program in which we use foreign currency exchange contracts, designated as cash flow hedges, intended to reduce the impact on earnings from foreign currency exchange rate movements. Gains and losses from these foreign currency exchange contracts are recognized as a component of transaction revenues or operating expenses (as applicable) in the same period the forecasted transactions impact earnings.

In the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, year-over-year foreign currency exchange rate movements relative to the U.S. dollar had the following impact on our reported results:

	Three Months Ended September 30, 2023	Nine Months Ended September 30, 2023
	(In millions)
Favorable impact to net revenues (exclusive of hedging impact)	$ 141	$ 8
Hedging impact	7	117
Favorable impact to net revenues	148	125
(Unfavorable) favorable impact to operating expense	(57)	28
Net favorable impact to operating income	$ 91	$ 153

	Three Months Ended March 31, 2024
	(In millions)
Favorable impact to net revenues (exclusive of hedging impact)	$ 32
Hedging impact	—
Favorable impact to net revenues	32
Unfavorable impact to operating expense	(13)
Net favorable impact to operating income	$ 19

While we enter into foreign currency exchange contracts to help reduce the impact on earnings from foreign currency exchange rate movements, it is impossible to predict or eliminate the total effects of this exposure.

We also use foreign currency exchange contracts, designated as net investment hedges, to reduce the foreign currency exchange risk related to our investment in certain foreign subsidiaries. Gains and losses associated with these instruments will remain in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) until the underlying foreign subsidiaries are sold or substantially liquidated.

Given that we also have foreign currency exchange risk on our assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of our subsidiaries, we have an additional foreign currency exchange exposure management program in which we use foreign currency exchange contracts to help offset the impact of foreign currency exchange rate movements on our assets and liabilities. The foreign currency exchange gains and losses on our assets and liabilities are recorded in other income (expense), net, and are offset by the gains and losses on the foreign currency exchange contracts. These foreign currency exchange contracts reduce, but do not entirely eliminate, the impact of foreign currency exchange rate movements on our assets and liabilities.

Additionally, in connection with transactions occurring in multiple currencies on our payments platform, we generally set our foreign currency exchange rates daily and may face financial exposure if we incorrectly set our foreign currency exchange rates or as a result of fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates between the times that we set our foreign currency exchange rates and when transactions occur.

KEY METRICS AND FINANCIAL RESULTS

KEY METRICS

TPV, number of payment transactions, active accounts, and number of payment transactions per active account are key non-financial performance metrics ("key metrics") that management uses to measure the scale of our platform and the relevance of our products and services to our customers, and are defined as follows:

- TPV is the value of payments, net of payment reversals, successfully completed on our payments platform or enabled by PayPal via a partner payment solution, not including gateway-exclusive transactions.
- Number of payment transactions is the total number of payments, net of payment reversals, successfully completed on our payments platform or enabled by PayPal via a partner payment solution, not including gateway-exclusive transactions.

- An active account is an account registered directly with PayPal or a platform access partner that has completed a transaction on our platform, not including gateway-exclusive transactions, within the past 12 months. A platform access partner is a third party whose customers are provided access to PayPal's platform or services through such third party's login credentials, including individuals and entities that utilize Hyperwallet's payout capabilities. A user may register on our platform to access different products and may register more than one account to access a product. Accordingly, a user may have more than one active account. The number of active accounts provides management with additional perspective on the overall scale of our platform, but may not have a direct relationship to our operating results.
- Number of payment transactions per active account reflects the total number of payment transactions within the previous 12-month period, divided by active accounts at the end of the period. The number of payment transactions per active account provides management with insight into the average number of times an account engages in payments activity on our payments platform in a given period. The number of times a consumer account or a merchant account transacts on our platform may vary significantly from the average number of payment transactions per active account.

As our transaction revenue is typically correlated with TPV growth and the number of payment transactions completed on our payments platform, management uses these metrics to gain insights into the scale and strength of our payments platform, the engagement level of our customers, and underlying activity and trends which may be indicators of current and future performance. We present these key metrics to enhance investors' evaluation of the performance of our business and operating results.

Our key metrics are calculated using internal company data based on the activity we measure on our payments platform and compiled from multiple systems, including systems that are internally developed or acquired through business combinations. While the measurement of our key metrics is based on what we believe to be reasonable methodologies and estimates, there are inherent challenges and limitations in measuring our key metrics globally at our scale. The methodologies used to calculate our key metrics require significant judgment.

We regularly review our processes for calculating these key metrics, and from time to time we may make adjustments to improve the accuracy or relevance of our metrics. For example, we continuously apply models, processes, and practices designed to detect and prevent fraudulent account creation on our platforms, and work to improve and enhance those capabilities. When we detect a significant volume of illegitimate activity, we generally remove the activity identified from our key metrics. Although such adjustments may impact key metrics reported in prior periods, we generally do not update previously reported key metrics to reflect these subsequent adjustments unless the retrospective impact of process improvements or enhancements is determined by management to be material.

NET REVENUES

Our revenues are classified into the following two categories:

- Transaction revenues: Net transaction fees charged to merchants and consumers on a transaction basis based on the TPV completed on our payments platform. Growth in TPV is directly impacted by the number of payment transactions that we enable on our payments platform. We earn additional fees revenue from merchants and consumers: on transactions where we perform currency conversion, when we enable cross-border transactions (i.e., transactions where the merchant and consumer are in different countries), to facilitate the instant transfer of funds for our customers from their PayPal or Venmo account to their bank account or debit card, to facilitate the purchase and sale of cryptocurrencies, as contractual compensation from sellers that violate our contractual terms (for example, through fraud or counterfeiting), and other miscellaneous fees.
- Revenues from other value added services: Net revenues derived primarily from revenue earned through partnerships, referral fees, subscription fees, gateway fees, and other services we provide to our merchants and consumers. We also earn revenues from interest and fees earned on our portfolio of loans receivable and interest earned on certain assets underlying customer balances.

Transaction revenues

Transaction revenues grew by $420 million $670 million, or 7%, and $1.1 billion, or 6% 11%, in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, March 31, 2024 compared to the same periods period of the prior year driven primarily by growth in TPV and the number of payment transactions from our Braintree products and services partially offset by and, to a decline lesser extent, growth in revenues from our core PayPal products and services, including declines in contractual compensation for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, of $76 million and $181 million, respectively, from sellers that violated our contractual terms predominantly in international markets, services. Transaction revenues for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 were also impacted unfavorably by lower net gains due to hedging activities as compared to the same periods period of the prior year.

We had active accounts of 428 million 427 million and 432 million 433 million as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022, 2023, respectively, a decline of 1%. Our total number of payment transactions was 6.3 billion 6.5 billion and 5.6 5.8 billion for the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022, 2023, respectively, an increase of 11%. Our total number of payment transactions was 18.2 billion for the nine months ended September 30, 2023, compared to 16.3 billion in the nine months ended September 30, 2022, an increase of 11%. TPV was $388 billion $404 billion and $337 $355 billion for the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022, 2023, respectively, an increase of 15% 14%. TPV was $1.1 trillion for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 compared to $1.0 trillion in the nine months ended September 30, 2022, an increase of 12%.

Transaction revenues grew more slowly growth was lower than the growth in TPV and the number of payment transactions in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same periods period in the prior year due primarily to an unfavorable impact from foreign exchange fees and hedging and a decline unfavorable changes in revenues mix from core PayPal products.

Revenues from other value added services

Revenues from other value added services increased $152 million decreased $11 million, or 25%, and $540 million, or 33% 2%, in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, March 31, 2024 compared to the same periods period in the prior year due primarily attributable to increases in interest earned on certain assets underlying customer account balances resulting from higher interest rates, and to a lesser extent, decline in the revenue share earned from an independent chartered financial institution and interest and fee revenue on our loans receivable portfolio driven by consumer interest-bearing installment loans and consumer revolving loans, a decrease in merchant loan originations, mostly offset by an increase in interest earned on certain assets underlying customer account balances. The increase in interest earned on certain assets underlying customer accounts resulted primarily from higher interest rates, partially offset by a decline in the balances earning interest year-over-year.

Transaction expense

Transaction expense for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023 was as follows (in millions):

Transaction expense increased by $615 million $634 million, or 21%, and $1.6 billion, or 18% 19%, in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, March 31, 2024 due primarily to the increase in TPV of 15% and 12% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, 14% as well as unfavorable changes in product mix. The increase in the transaction expense rate for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same periods period of the prior year was also attributable to unfavorable changes in product mix with a higher proportion of TPV from unbranded card processing volume, which generally has higher expense rates than other products and services, partially offset by favorable changes in regional mix with respect to and product mix within our core PayPal products, products and services. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, March 31, 2024 and 2023, approximately 37% and 36% of TPV, respectively, was generated outside of the U.S. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, approximately 34% and 35% of TPV, respectively, was generated outside of the U.S.

Our transaction expense rate is impacted by changes in product mix, merchant mix, regional mix, funding mix, and fees paid to payment processors and other financial institutions. The cost of funding a transaction with a credit or debit card is generally higher than the cost of funding a transaction from a bank or through internal sources such as a PayPal or Venmo account balance or our consumer credit products.

Transaction losses were $329 million $260 million in the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to $254 million $300 million in the three months ended September 30, 2022, an increase of $75 million, or 30%. Transaction losses were $915 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2023 compared to $956 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2022 March 31, 2023, a decrease of $41 million, $40 million, or 4% 13%. Transaction loss rate (transaction losses divided by TPV) was 0.08% for both the three 0.06% and nine months ended September 30, 2023, compared to 0.08% and 0.10% for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, March 31, 2024 and 2023.

respectively. The increase decrease in transaction losses and the associated transaction loss rate in the three months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the same period of the prior year was due to an increase in losses related to our core PayPal products and services driven by fraud schemes. The decrease in transaction losses in the nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year was primarily due to a $114 million loss related to an ongoing merchant insolvency proceeding in lower losses from our core PayPal and Venmo products and services. These lower losses were the nine months ended September 30, 2022 with no activity result of comparable individual magnitude higher fraud recoveries and fewer fraud events in the current period for core PayPal and benefits from continued risk mitigation strategies Venmo, respectively.

Credit losses decreased by $81 million in the current period, partially offset by lower recoveries three months ended March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year.

Consumer loan portfolio

As of September 30, 2023, loans and interest receivable, held for sale was $2.2 billion. Loans and interest receivable, held for sale, represents the portion of our installment consumer receivables that we intend to sell. This portfolio includes the substantial majority of the U.K. and other European buy now, pay later loan receivables. In June 2023, we entered into a multi-year agreement with a global investment firm to sell up to €40 billion of U.K. and other European buy now, pay later loan receivables, consisting of eligible loans and interest receivable, held for sale at the closing of the transaction and receivables, including a forward-flow arrangement for the sale of future originations of eligible loans over a 24-month commitment period (collectively, "eligible consumer installment receivables"). At the time As of reclassification, previously recorded allowance for credit losses for March 31, 2024, loans and interest receivable, outstanding held for sale was reversed, resulting in a decrease $307 million. Loans and interest receivable, held for sale, represents the portion of approximately $33 million in transaction our installment consumer receivables that we intend to sell and credit losses in our condensed consolidated statement of income

The consumer loans and interest receivable balance as of March 31, 2024 and 2023 was $4.5 billion and $6.1 billion, respectively, net of participation interest sold, as of September 30, 2023 and 2022 was $4.2 billion and $4.4 billion, respectively, representing a decrease of 5% 26%. The decrease was driven by the reclassification classification of eligible consumer installment receivables as held for sale in the U.K. and other European countries as discussed above, held for sale during the second quarter of 2023, partially offset by the expansion of our revolving credit product in the U.K. and our installment credit products in Japan and the U.S.

Approximately 36% and 41% of our consumer loans receivable outstanding (including loans held for sale and loans held for investment) as of September 30, 2023 and 2022, respectively, were due from consumers revolving credit product in the U.K. The decrease in the percentage of consumer loans receivable outstanding in the U.K. at September 30, 2023 compared to September 30, 2022 was primarily due to overall growth of installment credit products in other markets.

The estimated reduction in annualized employee-related costs associated with the impacted workforce was is approximately $280 million $560 million, including approximately $85 million $135 million in stock-based compensation. We expect to reinvest a portion of the reduction in annual costs associated with the impacted workforce to drive business priorities.

During the first quarter of 2022, management initiated a strategic reduction of the existing global workforce intended to streamline and optimize our global operations to enhance operating efficiency. This effort focused on reducing redundant operations and simplifying our organizational structure. The associated restructuring charges during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 was $23 million and $14 million, respectively. We primarily incurred employee severance and benefits costs, as well as associated consulting costs. The strategic actions associated with this plan were substantially completed by the fourth quarter of 2022.

For information on the associated restructuring liability, see "Note 17—Restructuring and Other Charges" Other in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q.

We primarily incurred employee severance and benefits costs, which were substantially completed by the fourth quarter of 2023.

Additionally, we are continuing to review our real estate and facility capacity requirements due to our new and evolving work models. We incurred asset impairment charges of $15 million nil and $58 million $39 million in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, March 31, 2024 and $29 million and $64 million in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, 2023, respectively, due to exiting certain leased properties, which resulted in a reduction of right-of-use lease assets and related leasehold improvements. In the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2023, we recognized a gain of $17 million due to the sale of an owned property. We also incurred a loss of $12 $8 million related to another upon designation of an owned property as held for sale in the nine months ended September 30, 2023. that period.

During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, approximately $15 million and $49 million, respectively, $37 million of losses were recorded in restructuring and other, charges which included net loss on sale of loans and interest receivable previously held for sale and fair value adjustments in order to measure loans and interest receivable, held for sale, at the lower of cost or fair value.

Other income (expense), net

Other income (expense), net decreased $387 million and increased $655 million in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, respectively, compared to the same periods of the prior year. The decrease $34 million in the three months ended September 30, 2023 was March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year due primarily to lower net gains losses on strategic investments in the current period compared to net gains in the prior period, partially offset by higher interest income resulting from an increase in interest rates. The increase in the nine months ended September 30, 2023 was driven primarily by net gains on strategic investments in the current period as compared to net losses in the prior period, higher interest income from an increase in interest rates and foreign exchange gains in the current period compared to losses in the prior period due in part to actions taken in connection with our decision to suspend transactional services in Russia. These factors favorably impacting the nine months ended September 30, 2023 were partially offset by an increase in interest expense due to incremental expense from our May 2022 fixed rate debt cash balances year-over-year.

Income tax expense

Our effective income tax rate was 18% 27% and 16% 26% for the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022, respectively, and 21% and 34% for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 and 2022, 2023, respectively. The increase in our effective income tax rate for the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the same period of the prior year was due primarily to a decrease changes in tax benefits associated with foreign income taxed at different rates and discrete tax adjustments. The decrease in our effective income tax rate for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 compared to the same period of the prior year was due primarily to higher tax expense in the prior year related to the intra-group transfer of intellectual property.

Operating activities

The net cash provided by operating activities of $2.2 billion $1.9 billion in the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 was due primarily to operating income of $3.3 billion $1.2 billion, as well as adjustments for non-cash expenses including stock-based compensation of $365 million, provision for transaction and credit losses of $321 million, and depreciation and amortization of $265 million. Cash flows from operating activities was also impacted by proceeds from repayments and sales of loans receivable, originally classified as held for sale of $5.2 billion, and changes in other assets and liabilities of $176 million, primarily related to an increase in other liabilities partially offset by actual cash transaction losses incurred during the period. These cash inflows from operating activities were partially offset by originations of loans receivable, held for sale of $5.3 billion.

The net cash provided by operating activities of $1.2 billion in the three months ended March 31, 2023 was due primarily to operating income of $1.0 billion, as well as adjustments for non-cash expenses including provision for transaction and credit losses of $1.3 billion $442 million, stock-based compensation of $1.1 billion, $345 million, and depreciation and amortization of $809 million $270 million. In the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022, 2023, cash paid for income taxes, net was $1.1 billion $83 million and $666 million $495 million, respectively. The Internal Revenue Service disaster-area tax relief allows us decline in cash paid for income taxes, net in the current period was due primarily to defer quarterly payments of 2023 federal estimated taxes cash paid in the three months ended March 31, 2023 related to the fourth quarter intra-group transfer of 2023. We expect to pay approximately $725 million related to this deferral intellectual property, for which there was no similar activity in the fourth quarter of 2023. three months ended March 31, 2024.

Investing activities

The net cash provided by investing activities of $1.3 billion $980 million in the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 was due primarily to maturities and sales of investments of $9.2 billion and proceeds from repayments and sales of loans receivable, originally classified as held for investment, of $21.3 $4.8 billion, partially offset by purchases of investments of $7.1 billion, purchases and originations of loans receivable of $4.8 billion, changes in funds receivable from customers of $1.2 billion, and purchases of property and equipment of $154 million.

The net cash provided by investing activities of $153 million in the three months ended March 31, 2023 was due primarily to principal repayment of loans receivable of $8.1 billion, maturities and sales of investments of $16.1 $5.4 billion, and changes in funds receivable from customers of $1.2 billion, partially offset by purchases and originations of loans receivable of $19.8 billion $8.3 billion, purchases of investments of $15.0 billion, changes in funds receivable from customers of $1.0 billion $6.1 billion, and purchases of property and equipment of $478 million $170 million.

The net cash used in investing activities of $3.3 billion in the nine months ended September 30, 2022 was due primarily to purchases and originations of loans receivable of $19.2 billion, purchases of investments of $16.5 billion, changes in funds receivable from customers of $1.1 billion, and purchases of property and equipment of $548 million. These cash outflows were partially offset by principal repayment of loans receivable of $17.2 billion and maturities and sales of investments of $16.8 billion.

Financing activities

The net cash used in financing activities of $6.0 billion $2.4 billion in the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 was due primarily to the repurchase of $4.4 billion $1.5 billion of our common stock under our stock repurchase programs, program, changes in funds payable and amounts due to customers of $1.3 billion $483 million, repayments of borrowings under financing arrangements of $942 million (including principal repayment of fixed rate debt that matured in June 2023 and repayment of borrowings under our Pайды credit agreement) $359 million, and tax withholdings related to net share settlement of equity awards of $225 million $167 million. These cash outflows were partially offset by borrowings under financing arrangements of $829 million, including proceeds from the issuance of fixed rate debt in June 2023 and borrowings under our Pайды credit agreement $115 million.

The net cash used in financing activities of $2.0 billion $2.8 billion in the nine three months ended September 30, 2022 March 31, 2023 was due primarily to the repurchase of $3.2 billion $1.4 billion of our common stock under our stock repurchase program, repayment of borrowings under financing arrangements of $1.7 billion (including the repurchase and redemption of certain fixed rate notes and repayment of borrowings under a prior credit agreement), changes in funds payable and amounts due to customers of $659 million $1.1 billion, and tax withholdings related to net share settlement of equity awards of $321 million. These cash outflows were partially offset by borrowings under financing arrangements of $3.3 billion (including proceeds from the issuance of fixed rate debt in May 2022 and borrowing under our Pайды credit agreements) $149 million, and changes in collateral received related to derivative instruments, net of $437 million $129 million.

Effect of exchange rate changes on cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash

Foreign currency exchange rates for the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023 had a negative impact of $95 $94 million and $253 million $4 million, respectively, on cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash. The negative impact on cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash in the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 was due primarily to the unfavorable impact of fluctuations in the exchange rate of the U.S. dollar to the Australian dollar, and to a lesser extent, the Chinese yuan British pound and Japanese yen Euro. The negative impact on cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash in the nine three months ended September 30, 2022 March 31, 2023 was due primarily to the unfavorable impact of fluctuations in the exchange rate of the U.S. dollar to the Australian dollar, and partially offset by the impact of favorable fluctuations in the exchange rate of the U.S. dollar to a lesser extent, the Euro, Swedish krona, and Japanese yen Euro.

Available credit and debt

In June 2023, we issued fixed rate notes with varying maturity dates for an aggregate principal amount of ¥90 billion (approximately $603 million as of September 30, 2023). Proceeds from the issuance of these notes may be used for general corporate purposes, which may include funding the repayment or redemption of outstanding debt, share repurchases, ongoing operations, capital expenditures, and possible acquisitions of businesses, assets, or strategic investments. As of September 30, 2023, we had $10.6 billion in fixed rate debt outstanding with varying maturity dates.

In June 2023, we entered into a credit agreement (the "Credit Agreement") that provides for an unsecured $5.0 billion, five-year revolving credit facility and terminated the facility entered into in September 2019. The Credit Agreement includes a $150 million letter of credit sub-facility and a $600 million swingline sub-facility, with available borrowings under the revolving credit facility reduced by the amount of any letters of credit and swingline borrowings outstanding from time to time. As of September 30, 2023, no borrowings were outstanding under the Credit Agreement and as such, $5.0 billion of borrowing capacity was available for the purposes permitted by the Credit Agreement, subject to customary conditions to borrowing.

In February 2022, we entered into a credit agreement (the "Pайды Credit Agreement") with Pайды as co-borrower, which provided for an unsecured revolving credit facility of ¥60.0 billion, which was modified in September 2022 to increase the borrowing capacity by ¥30.0 billion for a total borrowing capacity of ¥90.0 billion (approximately $603 $595 million as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024.) In June 2023, we repaid borrowings on the Pайды Credit Agreement using proceeds from the June 2023 debt issuance. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, ¥16.0 ¥61.0 billion (approximately $108 $403 million) and ¥64.3 ¥50.0 billion (approximately $491 $355 million), respectively, was outstanding under the Pайды Credit Agreement. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, ¥74.0 ¥29.0 billion (approximately $495 $192 million) of borrowing capacity was available for the purposes permitted by the Pайды Credit Agreement, subject to customary conditions to borrowing.

Other than as described above, there were no significant changes to the available credit and debt disclosed in our 2022 2023 Form 10-K. For additional information, see "Note 12—Debt" in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q.

Depending on market conditions, we may from time to time issue debt, including in private or public offerings, to fund our operating activities, finance acquisitions, make strategic investments, repurchase shares under our stock repurchase program, or reduce our cost of capital.

We have a cash pooling arrangement with a financial institution for cash management purposes. The arrangement allows for cash withdrawals from the financial institution based upon our aggregate operating cash balances held within the financial institution ("Aggregate Cash Deposits"). The arrangement also allows us to withdraw amounts exceeding the Aggregate Cash Deposits up to an agreed-upon limit. The net balance of the withdrawals and the Aggregate Cash Deposits are used by the financial institution as a basis for calculating our net interest expense or income under the arrangement. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had a total of $2.6 billion $3.8 billion in cash withdrawals offsetting our $2.6 billion $3.8 billion in Aggregate Cash Deposits held within the financial institution under the cash pooling arrangement.

Credit ratings

As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we continue to be rated investment grade by Standard and Poor's Financial Services, LLC, Fitch Ratings, Inc., and Moody's Investors Services, Inc. We expect that these credit rating agencies will continue to monitor our performance, including our capital structure and results of operations. Our goal is to be rated investment grade, but as circumstances change, there are factors that could result in our credit ratings being downgraded or put on a watch list for possible downgrading. If that were to occur, it could increase our borrowing rates, including the interest rate on borrowings under our credit agreements.

CURRENT AND FUTURE CASH REQUIREMENTS

Our material cash requirements include funds to support current and potential: operating activities, credit products, customer protection programs, stock repurchases, strategic investments, acquisitions, other commitments, and capital expenditures and other future obligations.

Credit products

Growth in our portfolio of loan receivables increases our liquidity needs and any inability to meet those liquidity needs could adversely affect our business. We continue to evaluate partnerships and third-party sources of funding for our credit products.

In June 2018, The Luxembourg Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier (the "CSSF") agreed that PayPal's management may designate up to 35% of European customer balances held in our Luxembourg banking subsidiary to fund European and U.S. credit activities. In August 2022, the CSSF approved PayPal's management designating up to 50% of such balances to fund our credit activities through the end of February 2023. In February 2023, the CSSF agreed that PayPal's management may continue to designate up to 50% of European customer balances held in our Luxembourg banking subsidiary to fund European, U.K., and U.S. credit activities. As of December 31, 2022 March 31, 2024, the cumulative amount approved by management to be designated to fund credit activities aggregated to $3.8 billion. In the third quarter of 2023, an additional $250 million was approved to fund our credit activities. As of September 30, 2023, the cumulative amount approved by management to be designated to fund credit activities aggregated to $4.0 billion $3.0 billion and represented approximately 43% 40% of European customer balances made available for our corporate use at that date, as determined by applying financial regulations maintained by the CSSF. In October 2023, management approved a $1.0 billion reduction to the amount approved to fund credit activities, lowering the aggregate cumulative amount approved by management for this purpose to $3.0 billion. We may periodically seek to designate additional amounts of European customer balances for our credit activities, as we deem necessary, based on utilization of the approved funds and anticipated credit funding requirements. Under certain exceptional circumstances, corporate liquidity could be called upon to meet our obligations related to our European customer balances.

In June 2023, we entered into a multi-year agreement with a global investment firm to sell up to €40 billion of our eligible consumer installment receivables portfolio, including those receivables held on our balance sheet at closing portfolio. During the three months ended March 31, 2024, we sold $4.8 billion of the transaction loans and a forward-flow arrangement for the sale of future originations. Following the closing of interest receivable in connection with this transaction, which is expected to occur in the fourth quarter of 2023, the global investment firm will become the owner of the eligible consumer installment receivables and future eligible installment receivables originated over a 24-month commitment period, and we will no longer hold an ownership interest in these receivables. agreement. See "Note 1—Overview 11—Loans and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies" and "Note 18—Subsequent Events" "Interest Receivable" in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q for additional information.

While our objective is to expand the availability of our credit products with capital from external sources, there can be no assurance that we will be successful in achieving that goal.

Customer protection programs

The risk of losses from our customer protection programs are specific to individual consumers, merchants, and transactions, and may also be impacted by regional variations in, and changes or modifications to, the programs, including as a result of changes in regulatory requirements. For the periods presented in these condensed consolidated financial statements included in this report, our transaction loss rate ranged between 0.08% 0.06% and 0.10% 0.08% of TPV. Historical loss rates may not be indicative of future results.

Stock repurchases

During the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we repurchased approximately $4.4 billion $1.5 billion of our common stock in the open market under our stock repurchase programs program authorized in July 2018 and June 2022. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, a total of approximately $11.5 billion $9.4 billion remained available for future repurchases of our common stock under our June 2022 stock repurchase program.

Other considerations

Our liquidity, access to capital, and borrowing costs could be adversely impacted by declines in our credit rating, our financial performance, and global credit market conditions, as well as a broad range of other factors. In addition, our liquidity, access to capital, and borrowing costs could also be negatively impacted by the outcome of any of the legal or regulatory proceedings to which we are a party. See Part I, Item 1A, Risk Factors of our 2022 2023 Form 10-K, as supplemented and, to the extent inconsistent, superseded below in Part II, Item 1A, Risk Factors of this Form 10-Q, as well as "Note 13—Commitments and Contingencies" in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements included in Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q for additional discussion of these and other risks that our business faces.

ITEM 3: QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Market risk is the potential for economic losses to be incurred on market risk sensitive instruments arising from adverse changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates, and equity investment risk. Management establishes and oversees the implementation of policies governing our investing, funding, and foreign currency derivative activities intended to mitigate market risks. We monitor risk exposures on an ongoing basis.

INTEREST RATE RISK

We are exposed to interest rate risk relating to our investment portfolio and from interest-rate sensitive assets underlying the customer balances we hold on our condensed consolidated balance sheets as customer accounts.

As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, approximately 52% 61% and 57% 59%, respectively, of our total cash, cash equivalents, and investment portfolio (excluding restricted cash and strategic investments) was held in cash and cash equivalents. The remaining portfolio and assets underlying the customer balances that we hold on our condensed consolidated balance sheets as customer accounts are maintained in interest and non-interest bearing bank deposits, time deposits, and available-for-sale debt securities. We seek to preserve principal while holding eligible liquid assets, as defined by applicable regulatory requirements and commercial law in certain jurisdictions where we operate, equal to at least 100% of the aggregate amount of all customer balances. We do not pay interest on amounts due to customers.

Interest rate movements affect the interest income we earn on cash and cash equivalents, time deposits, and available-for-sale debt securities and the fair value of those securities. A hypothetical 100 basis points increase in interest rates would have resulted in a decrease in the fair value of our cash equivalents and available-for-sale debt securities investment by approximately $128 million $105 million and $161 million $122 million at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. Changes in the fair value of our available-for-sale debt securities resulting from such interest rate changes are reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income ("AOCI") and are realized only if we sell the securities prior to their scheduled maturities or the declines in fair values are due to expected credit losses.

As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we had $10.6 billion and $10.4 billion, respectively, in fixed rate debt with varying maturity dates. Since these notes bear interest at fixed rates, they do not result in any financial statement risk associated with changes in interest rates. However, the fair value of these notes fluctuates when interest rates change, increasing in periods of declining interest rates and declining in periods of increasing interest rates.

As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we also had revolving credit facilities of approximately $5.6 billion and $5.7 billion, respectively, available to us. We are obligated to pay interest on borrowings under these facilities as well as other customary fees, including an upfront fee and an unused commitment fee based on our debt rating. Borrowings under these facilities, if any, bear interest at floating rates. As a result, we are exposed to the risk related to fluctuations in interest rates to the extent of our borrowings. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, ¥16.0 ¥61.0 billion (approximately $108 $403 million) and ¥64.3 ¥50.0 billion (approximately $491 $355 million), respectively, was outstanding under these facilities. A 100 basis points hypothetical adverse change in applicable market interest rates would not have resulted in a material impact to interest expense recorded in the period. For additional information, see "Note 12—Debt" in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q.

Interest rates may also adversely impact our customers' spending levels and ability and willingness to pay outstanding amounts owed to us. Higher interest rates often lead to larger payment obligations by customers of our credit products to us, or to lenders under mortgage, credit card, and other consumer and merchant loans, which may reduce our customers' ability to remain current on their obligations to us and therefore lead to increased delinquencies, charge-offs, and allowances for loans and interest receivable, which could have an adverse effect on our net income (loss).

FOREIGN CURRENCY EXCHANGE RATE RISK

We have significant operations internationally that are denominated in foreign currencies, primarily the British pound, Euro, Australian dollar, and Canadian dollar, which subject us to foreign currency exchange rate risk and may adversely impact our financial results. We transact in various foreign currencies and have significant international revenues and expenses. In addition, we charge our international subsidiaries for their use of intellectual property and technology and for certain corporate services. Our cash flows, results of operations, and certain of our intercompany balances that are exposed to foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations may differ materially from expectations, and we may record significant gains or losses due to foreign currency fluctuations and related hedging activities. We are generally a net receiver of foreign currencies and therefore benefit from a weakening of the United States ("U.S.") dollar, and are adversely affected by a strengthening of the U.S. dollar, relative to foreign currencies. We considered the historical trends in foreign currency exchange rates and determined that it was reasonably possible that changes in exchange rates of 10% for all currencies could be experienced in the near term.

We have a foreign currency exchange exposure management program designed to identify material foreign currency exposures, manage these exposures, and reduce the potential effects of currency fluctuations on our consolidated cash flows and results of operations through the execution of foreign currency exchange contracts. These foreign currency exchange contracts are accounted for as derivative instruments; for additional details related to our foreign currency exchange contracts, please see "Note 10—Derivative Instruments" in the notes to the condensed consolidated financial statements in Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q.

We use foreign currency exchange forward contracts to protect our forecasted U.S. dollar-equivalent earnings and our investment in foreign subsidiaries from adverse changes in foreign currency exchange rates. These hedging contracts reduce, but do not entirely eliminate, the impact of adverse foreign currency exchange rate movements. We designate these contracts as cash flow hedges of forecasted revenues and expenses denominated in certain foreign currencies and net investment hedges for accounting purposes. The derivative's gain or loss is initially reported as a component of AOCI. Cash flow hedges are subsequently reclassified into revenue or expense (as applicable) in the same period the forecasted transaction affects earnings. The accumulated gains and losses associated with net investment hedges will remain in AOCI until the foreign subsidiaries are sold or substantially liquidated, at which point they will be reclassified into earnings.

If the U.S. dollar weakened by a hypothetical 10% at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, the amount recorded in AOCI related to our foreign currency exchange forward contracts, before taxes, would have been approximately $566 million $599 million and $710 million $622 million lower, respectively, before considering the offsetting impact of the underlying hedged item.

We have an additional foreign currency exchange management program in which we use foreign currency exchange contracts to help offset the foreign currency exchange risk on our assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the functional currency of our subsidiaries. These contracts are not designated as hedging instruments and reduce, but do not entirely eliminate, the impact of currency exchange rate movements on our assets and liabilities. The foreign currency exchange gains and losses on our assets and liabilities are recorded in other income (expense), net, and are offset by the gains and losses on the foreign currency exchange contracts.

Adverse changes in exchange rates of a hypothetical 10% for all foreign currencies would have resulted in a negative impact on income before income taxes of approximately $277 million $398 million and $173 million $417 million at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively, without considering the offsetting effect of foreign currency exchange contracts. Foreign currency exchange contracts in place as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 would have positively impacted income before income taxes by approximately $255 $380 million, resulting in a net negative impact of approximately $22 million $18 million. Foreign currency exchange contracts in place as of December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023 would have positively impacted income before income taxes by approximately $144 million $400 million, resulting in a net negative impact of approximately $29 $17 million. These reasonably possible adverse changes in exchange rates of 10% were applied to monetary assets, monetary liabilities, and available-for-sale debt securities denominated in currencies other than the functional currencies of our subsidiaries at the balance sheet dates to compute the adverse impact these changes would have had on our income before income taxes in the near term.

EQUITY INVESTMENT RISK

Our strategic investments are subject to a variety of market-related risks that could substantially reduce or increase the carrying value of the portfolio. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, our strategic investments totaled $2.4 billion and $2.1 billion, $1.8 billion, which represented approximately 16% 10% and 14% 11% of our total cash, cash equivalents, and short-term and long-term investment portfolio at each of those respective dates. Our strategic investments include marketable equity securities, which are publicly traded, and non-marketable equity securities, which are primarily investments in privately held companies. We are required to record all adjustments to the value of these strategic investments through our condensed consolidated statements of income (loss). As such, we expect volatility to our net income (loss) in future periods due to changes in fair value related to our investments in marketable equity securities and changes in observable prices and impairment related to our non-marketable equity securities accounted for under the Measurement Alternative. These changes could be material based on market conditions. Additionally, the financial success of our investments in privately held companies is typically dependent on a liquidity event, such as a public offering, acquisition, private sale, or other favorable market event providing the ability to realize appreciation in the value of the investment. A hypothetical adverse change of 10% in the carrying value of our strategic investments as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, which could be experienced in the near term, would have resulted in a decrease of approximately $239 million $183 million to the carrying value of the portfolio. We review our non-marketable equity securities accounted for under the Measurement Alternative for impairment when events and circumstances indicate a decline in fair value of such assets below carrying value. Our analysis includes a review of recent operating results and trends, recent purchases and sales of securities, and other publicly available data, for which we assess factors such as the investees' financial condition and business outlook, industry performance, regulatory, economic, or technological environment, and other relevant events and factors affecting the investee investees.

ITEM 4: CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

(a) Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures. Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in the Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or the Exchange Act), our principal executive officer and our principal financial officer have concluded that as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, the end of the period covered by this report, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective.

(b) Changes in internal controls over financial reporting. There were no changes in our internal controls over financial reporting as defined in the Exchange Act Rule 13a-15(f) that occurred during our most recently completed fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

CYBERSECURITY AND TECHNOLOGY RISKS

Cyberattacks and security vulnerabilities could result in serious harm to our reputation, business, and financial condition.

The techniques used to attempt to obtain unauthorized or illegal access to systems and information (including customers' personal data), disable or degrade service, exploit vulnerabilities, or sabotage systems are constantly evolving. In some circumstances, these attempts may not be recognized or detected until after they have been launched against a target. Unauthorized parties will continue to continuously attempt to gain access to our systems or facilities through various means, including through hacking into our systems or facilities or those of our customers, partners, or vendors, and attempting to fraudulently induce users of our systems (including employees, vendor and partner personnel and customers) into disclosing user names, passwords, payment card information, multi-factor authentication application access or other sensitive information used to gain access to such systems or facilities. This information may, in turn, be used to access our customers' confidential personal or proprietary information and financial instrument data that are stored on or accessible through our information technology systems and those of third parties with whom we partner. This information may also be used to execute fraudulent transactions or otherwise engage in fraudulent actions. Numerous and evolving cybersecurity threats, including advanced and persisting cyberattacks, cyberextortion, distributed denial-of-service attacks, ransomware, spear phishing and social engineering schemes, the introduction of computer viruses or other malware, and the physical destruction of all or portions of our information technology and infrastructure and those of third parties with whom we partner that are part of our information technology supply chain, are becoming increasingly sophisticated and complex, may be difficult to detect, and could compromise the confidentiality, availability, and integrity of the data in our systems, as well as the systems themselves.

We believe that hostile actors, who may comprise individuals, coordinated groups, sophisticated organizations, or nation state supported entities may target PayPal due to our name, brand recognition, types of data (including sensitive payments- and identity-related data) that customers provide to us, and the widespread adoption and use of our products and services. We have experienced from time to time, and may experience in the future, cybersecurity incidents, including breaches of our security measures, network breaches, and compromise of personally identifiable customer information due to human error, deception, malfeasance, insider threats, system errors, defects, vulnerabilities, or other irregularities. For example, in November 2017, we suspended the operations of TIO Networks ("TIO") (acquired in July 2017) as part of an investigation of security vulnerabilities of the TIO platform, and in December 2017, we announced that we had identified evidence of unauthorized access to TIO's network and the potential compromise of personally identifiable information for approximately 1.6 million TIO customers. issues.

Any cybersecurity incidents, including cyberattacks or data security breaches affecting the information technology or infrastructure of companies we acquire or of our customers, partners, or vendors (including data center and cloud computing providers) could have similar negative effects.

Under payment card network rules and our contracts with our payment processors, if there is a breach of payment card information stored by us or our direct payment card processing vendors, we could be liable to the payment card issuing banks, including for their cost of issuing new cards and related expenses. Cybersecurity We have experienced, and may experience in the future, breaches involving customer information for which we have notified, and may notify, regulators, customers and other third parties. These or other cybersecurity breaches and other exploited security vulnerabilities have subjected us and could further subject us to significant costs and third-party liabilities, result in improper disclosure of data and violations of applicable privacy and other laws, require us to change our business practices, cause us to incur significant remediation costs, lead to loss of customer confidence in, or decreased use of, our products and services, damage our reputation and brands, divert the attention of management from the operation of our business, result in significant compensation or contractual penalties from us to our customers and their business partners as a result of losses to or claims by them, or expose us to litigation, regulatory investigations, and significant fines and penalties. While we maintain insurance policies intended to help offset the financial impact we may experience from these risks, our coverage may be insufficient to compensate us for all losses caused by security breaches and other damage to or unavailability of our systems.

LEGAL, REGULATORY AND COMPLIANCE RISKS

Our business is subject to extensive government regulation and oversight. Our failure to comply with extensive, complex, overlapping, and frequently changing rules, regulations, and legal interpretations could materially harm our business.

Our business is subject Privacy and Protection of Customer Data

The legal and regulatory environment relating to complex privacy and changing laws, rules, regulations, policies, and legal interpretations in the markets in which we offer services directly or through partners, including, but not limited to, those governing: banking, credit, deposit taking, cross-border and domestic money transmission, prepaid access, foreign currency exchange, privacy, data protection, data governance, cybersecurity, banking secrecy, digital payments, laws continues to develop and evolve in ways we cannot predict, including with respect to technologies such as cloud computing, (generative) artificial intelligence, machine learning, cryptocurrency, payment services (including payment processing and settlement services), lending, fraud detection, consumer protection, antitrust and competition, economic and trade sanctions, anti-money laundering, and counter-terrorist financing.

Regulators and legislators globally have been establishing, evolving, and increasing their regulatory authority, oversight, and enforcement in a manner that impacts our business. As we introduce new products and services and expand into new markets, including through acquisitions, we expect to become subject to additional regulations, restrictions, and licensing requirements. As we expand and localize our international activities, we expect that our obligations in the markets in which we operate will continue to increase. In addition, because we facilitate sales of goods and provide services to customers worldwide, one blockchain technology. Any failure or more jurisdictions may claim that we or our customers are required alleged failure by us to comply with their our privacy policies as communicated to customers or with privacy and data protection laws relating to our collection, use, storage, transfer, or sharing of customer data with third parties could result in proceedings or actions against us by data protection authorities, other government agencies, or others, which may impose different, more specific, or conflicting obligations on us, as well as broader liability.

Any failure or perceived failure to comply with existing or new laws, regulations, or orders of any government authority (including changes to or expansion of their interpretation) may could subject us to significant fines, penalties, criminal judgments, and civil lawsuits, forfeiture of significant assets, and enforcement actions in one or more jurisdictions; result in additional compliance and licensure requirements; cause us to lose existing licenses or prevent or delay us from obtaining additional licenses that may be required for our business; increase regulatory scrutiny of our business; divert management's time and attention from our business; restrict our operations; lead to increased friction for customers; force us to make changes to our business practices, products, or operations; require us to engage in remediation activities; or delay planned transactions, product launches, or improvements. Any of the foregoing could, individually or in the aggregate, harm our reputation, damage our brands and business, and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. The complexity of U.S. federal and state and international regulatory and enforcement regimes, coupled with the global scope of our operations and the evolving global regulatory environment, could result in a single event prompting a large number of overlapping investigations and legal and regulatory proceedings by multiple government authorities in different jurisdictions. While we have implemented policies and procedures designed to help ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations, there can be no assurance that our employees, contractors, and agents will not violate such laws and regulations.

Payments Regulation

In the U.S., PayPal, Inc. (a wholly-owned subsidiary) holds licenses to operate as a money transmitter (or its equivalent) in the states where such licenses are required, as well as in the District of Columbia and certain territories. If we fail to comply with applicable laws or regulations required to maintain our licenses, we could be subject to liability and/or additional restrictions, forced to cease doing business with residents of certain states or territories, forced to change our business practices, or required to obtain additional licenses or regulatory approvals, which could impose substantial costs and harm our business.

While we currently allow our customers to send payments from approximately 200 markets, we allow customers in only approximately half of those markets (including the U.S.) to also receive payments, in some cases with significant restrictions on the manner in which customers can hold balances or withdraw funds. These restrictions may limit our ability to grow our business.

Outside of the U.S., we principally provide our services to customers in the European Economic Area ("EEA") and the United Kingdom ("U.K.") through PayPal (Europe) S.à.r.l. et Cie, S.C.A. ("PayPal (Europe)"), our wholly-owned subsidiary that is licensed and subject to regulation as a credit institution in Luxembourg. PayPal (Europe) may be subject to enforcement actions and significant fines if it violates applicable requirements. Additionally, compliance with applicable laws and regulations could become more costly and operationally difficult to manage due to potentially inconsistent interpretations and domestic regulations by various countries in the region. Applicable regulation relating to payments, anti-money laundering and digital services, which are key focus areas of regulators and subject to extensive new regulation, could subject us to additional and complex obligations, risks and associated costs. If the business activities of PayPal (Europe) exceed certain thresholds, or if the European Central Bank ("ECB") so determines, PayPal (Europe) may be deemed a significant supervised entity and certain activities of PayPal (Europe) would become directly supervised by the ECB, rather than by the Luxembourg Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier, which could subject us to additional requirements and would likely increase compliance costs. PayPal (Europe) is also subject to regulation by the ECB under the oversight framework for electronic payment instruments, schemes and arrangements (PISA), which may also lead to increased compliance obligations and costs.

In many of the other markets outside the U.S. in which we do business, we serve our customers through PayPal Pte. Ltd., our wholly-owned subsidiary based in Singapore. PayPal Pte. Ltd. is supervised by the Monetary Authority of Singapore ("MAS"). The Payment Services Act came into effect in Singapore in January 2020. As of July 1, 2023, PayPal Pte. Ltd. has been issued a Major Payment Institution license by the MAS to continue to provide payments services. In order to maintain this license, we are required to comply with applicable regulatory requirements, which will result in increased operational complexity and costs for our Singapore and international operations.

In many of the markets outside the U.S. (other than Singapore) served by PayPal Pte. Ltd. or by local branches or subsidiaries subject to local regulatory supervision or oversight, as the case may be, there may be uncertainty whether our Singapore-based service is subject only to Singapore law or also to other local laws, and whether such local laws might require a payment processor like us to be licensed as a payments service, bank, financial institution, or otherwise.

There are substantial costs and potential product and operational changes involved in maintaining and renewing licenses, certifications, and approvals, and we could be subject to enforcement actions, fines, and litigation if we are found to violate any of these requirements. There can be no assurance that we will be able to (or decide to) continue to apply for or obtain any licenses, renewals, certifications, and approvals in any jurisdiction. In certain markets, we may need to rely on local banks or other partners to process payments and conduct foreign currency exchange transactions in local currency, and local regulators may use their authority over such local partners to prohibit, restrict, or limit us from doing business. Any of the foregoing could, individually or in the aggregate, result in substantial additional costs, delay or preclude planned transactions, product launches or improvements, require significant and costly operational changes, impose restrictions, limitations, or additional requirements on our business, products and services, or prevent or limit us from providing our products or services in a given market.

Cryptocurrency Regulation and Related Risks

Our customer cryptocurrency offerings could subject us to additional regulations, licensing requirements, or other obligations or liabilities. Within the U.S., we are regulated by the New York Department of Financial Services as a virtual currency business, which does not qualify us to engage in securities brokerage or dealing activities. The regulatory status of particular cryptocurrencies is unclear under existing law. For example, if the SEC were to assert that any of the cryptocurrencies we support are securities, the SEC could assert that our activities involving that cryptocurrency require securities broker-dealer registration or other obligations under the federal securities laws. The rapidly evolving regulatory landscape with respect to cryptocurrency may subject us to additional licensing and regulatory obligations or to inquiries or investigations from the SEC, other regulators and governmental authorities, and require us to make product changes, restrict or discontinue product offerings, implement additional and potentially costly controls, or take other actions.

In August 2023, a third-party issuer with which we have partnered commercially (the "PYUSD Issuer") launched a U.S. dollar-denominated stablecoin named PayPal USD ("PYUSD") for PayPal U.S. customers and subsequently launched PYUSD for Venmo customers in September 2023. These PayPal and Venmo customers may, if provisioned for external transfers and subject to our sanctions and anti-money laundering controls, send PYUSD to external wallets not controlled by PayPal. The PYUSD Issuer may also allow institutional users to directly purchase PYUSD from the PYUSD Issuer (as per the PYUSD Issuer's stablecoin terms and conditions). The regulatory treatment of stablecoins is evolving and has drawn significant attention from legislative and regulatory bodies around the world, including the SEC. There are uncertainties on how ongoing changes to federal, state, and international laws and regulations would apply to stablecoins in practice, and we and the PYUSD Issuer may face substantial costs to operationalize and comply with any additional or changed requirement. If we or the PYUSD Issuer fail to comply with regulations, requirements, prohibitions or other obligations applicable to us, we could face regulatory or other enforcement actions, potential fines, and other consequences. In addition, we could face reputational harm through our relationship with the PYUSD Issuer if the PYUSD Issuer were to face regulatory scrutiny or if PYUSD is deemed to be a security.

We hold our customers' cryptocurrency assets through one or more third-party custodians. Financial and third-party risks related to our customer cryptocurrency offerings, such as inappropriate access to, theft, or destruction of cryptocurrency assets held by our custodians, insufficient insurance coverage by a custodian to reimburse us for all such losses, a custodian's failure to maintain effective controls over the custody and settlement services provided to us, a custodian's inability to purchase or liquidate cryptocurrency holdings, the failure of the PYUSD Issuer to maintain sufficient reserve assets backing PYUSD, and defaults on financial or performance obligations by a custodian, banks with which the PYUSD Issuer maintains reserve assets, or counterparty financial institutions, could expose our customers and us to loss, and therefore significantly harm our business, financial performance, and reputation.

We have selected custodian partners and the PYUSD Issuer, and may in the future select additional custodian partners and stablecoin issuing entities, that are subject to regulatory oversight, capital requirements, maintenance of audit and compliance industry certifications, and cybersecurity procedures and policies. Nevertheless, operational disruptions at any such custodian or issuer, or such custodian's or issuer's failure to safeguard cryptocurrency holdings (or reserve assets) could result in losses of customer assets, expose us to customer claims, reduce consumer confidence and materially impact our operating results and our cryptocurrency product offerings.

Custodial arrangements to safeguard cryptocurrency assets involve unique risks and uncertainties in the event of a custodian's bankruptcy. While other types of assets and some custodied cryptocurrencies have been deemed not to be part of the custodian's bankruptcy estate under various regulatory regimes, bankruptcy courts have not yet definitively determined the appropriate treatment of custodial holdings of digital assets in a bankruptcy proceeding. In the event of a custodian's bankruptcy, the lack of precedent and the highly fact-dependent nature of the determination could delay or preclude the return of custodied cryptocurrency assets to us or to our customers. Although we contractually require our custodians to segregate our customer assets and not commingle them with proprietary or other assets, we cannot be certain that these contractual obligations, even if duly observed by a custodian, will be effective in preventing such assets from being treated as part of the custodian's estate under bankruptcy or other insolvency law. In that event, our claim on behalf of such customers against a custodian's estate for our customers' cryptocurrency assets could be treated as a general unsecured claim against the custodian, in which case our customers could seek to hold us liable for any resulting losses.

In addition, our cryptocurrency product offerings could have the effect of heightening or exacerbating many of the risk factors described in this "Risk Factors" section.

Lending Regulation

We hold a number of U.S. state lending licenses for our U.S. consumer short-term installment loan product, which is subject to federal and state laws governing consumer credit and debt collection. While the consumer short-term installment loan products that we offer outside the U.S. are generally exempt from primary consumer credit legislation, certain consumer lending laws, consumer protection or banking transparency regulations continue to apply to these products. Increased global regulatory focus on short-term installment products and consumer credit more broadly could result in laws or regulations requiring changes to our policies, procedures, operations, and product offerings, and restrict or limit our ability to offer credit products, and we could be subject to additional compliance and licensure requirements, enforcement action, fines, and litigation if we are found to violate any aspects of applicable law or regulations.

We are regularly subject to general litigation, regulatory scrutiny, and government inquiries.

We are regularly subject to claims, individual and class action lawsuits, arbitration proceedings, government and regulatory investigations, inquiries, actions or requests, and other proceedings alleging violations of laws, rules, and regulations with respect to competition, antitrust, intellectual property, privacy, data protection, information security, anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing, sanctions, anti-bribery, anti-corruption, consumer protection (including unfair, deceptive, or abusive acts or practices), the terms of our customer agreements, fraud, accessibility, securities, tax, labor and employment, commercial disputes, services, charitable fundraising, contract disputes, escheatment of unclaimed or abandoned property, product liability, use of our services for illegal purposes, the matters described in "Note 13—Commitments and Contingencies—Litigation and Regulatory Matters—General Matters" to our consolidated financial statements, and other matters. The number and significance of these disputes and inquiries is expected to continue to increase as our products, services, and business expand in complexity, scale, scope, and geographic reach, including through acquisitions of businesses and technology. Investigations and legal proceedings are inherently uncertain, expensive and disruptive to our operations, and could result in substantial judgments, fines, penalties or settlements, negative publicity, substantial diversion of management's time and effort, reputational harm, criminal sanctions, or orders that prevent or limit us from offering certain products or services; require us to change our business practices, increase the costs and complexity of compliance, result in costly ways, develop non-infringing reputational harm, and materially harm our business. Compliance with inconsistent privacy and data protection laws may also restrict or otherwise alter limit our ability to provide products or technologies, or pay substantial royalty or licensing fees; or delay or preclude planned transactions or product launches or improvements. Determining legal reserves or possible losses from such matters involves significant estimates and judgments and may not reflect the full range of uncertainties and unpredictable outcomes. We may be exposed services to losses in excess of the amount recorded, and such amounts could be material. If any of our estimates and assumptions change or prove to have been incorrect, this could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations, or cash flows. customers.

BUSINESS AND OPERATIONS RISKS

Changes PayPal relies on a variety of compliance methods to payment card networks or bank fees, rules, or practices could harm our business.

To process transfer personal data of Europe Economic Area individuals to the U.S., including Binding Corporate Rules for internal transfers of certain transactions, we must comply with applicable payment card, bank or other network (collectively, "network" types of personal data and Standard Contractual Clauses ("SCCs") rules. The rules govern all aspects of a transaction as approved by the European Commission for transfers to and from third parties. While PayPal intends to continue to rely on Binding Corporate Rule and SCCs and will evaluate the networks, including fees and other practices. From time to time, the networks have increased the fees and assessments that they charge for transactions that access their networks. Certain networks have also imposed special fees or assessments for transactions that are executed through a digital wallet circumstances under which additional mechanisms, such as the one that PayPal offers. Our payment processors Data Privacy Framework may have the right to pass any increases in fees and assessments on to us and to increase their own fees be leveraged for processing. Any increase in interchange fees, special fees, or assessments for transactions that we pay transfers of personal data to the networks or our payment processors could make our pricing less competitive, increase our operating costs, and reduce our operating income, which could materially harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

In some jurisdictions, government regulations have required payment card networks to reduce or cap interchange fees. Any changes in interchange fee rates or limitations, or their applicability to PayPal, could adversely affect our competitive position against payment card service providers and the revenue U.S., we earn from our branded card programs, require us to change our business practices, and harm our business.

We may also be subject to fines regulatory enforcement actions if our approach is deemed to be noncompliant.

Many jurisdictions in which we operate globally have enacted, or are in the process of enacting, data privacy legislation or regulations aimed at creating and other penalties assessed by networks resulting from any rule violations by us enhancing individual privacy rights. For example, numerous U.S. states have enacted or our merchants are in the process of enacting state level data privacy laws and regulations governing the collection, use, and retention of their residents' personal information. The networks set and interpret their rules and have alleged from time continued proliferation of privacy laws in the jurisdictions in which we operate is likely to time that various aspects of our business model violate these rules or our agreements with the networks. Such allegations may result in significant fines, penalties, damages, a disparate array of privacy rules with unaligned or other liabilities, adversely impact benefits to us under the agreements, conflicting provisions, accountability requirements, individual rights, and national or require changes in our business practices that may be costly and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. The network rules may also increase the cost of, impose restrictions on, or otherwise impact the development of, our products local enforcement powers, which may negatively affect product deployment and adoption. The networks could adopt new operating rules or interpret or re-interpret existing rules that we or our payment processors might find difficult or impractical to follow, or costly to implement, which could require subject us to make significant changes to our products, increase our operational increased regulatory scrutiny and business costs and negatively impact our business. If we become unable or limited in our ability could lead to accept certain payment types such as debit or credit cards, our business would be materially and adversely affected. unintended consumer confusion.

Our credit products expose us to additional risks.

We offer credit products to a wide range of consumers and merchants in the U.S. and various international markets. The financial success of these products depends largely on the effective management of related risk. The credit decision-making process for our consumer credit products uses proprietary methodologies and credit algorithms and other analytical techniques designed to analyze the credit risk of specific consumers based on, among other factors, their past purchase and transaction history with PayPal or Venmo and their credit scores. Similarly, proprietary risk models and other indicators are applied to assess merchants who desire to use our merchant financing offerings to help predict their ability to repay. These risk models may not accurately predict the creditworthiness of a consumer or merchant due to inaccurate assumptions, including those related to the particular consumer or merchant, market conditions, economic environment, or limited transaction history or other data. The accuracy of these risk models and the ability to manage credit risk related to our credit products may also be affected by legal or regulatory requirements, changes in consumer behavior, changes in the economic environment, issuing bank policies, and other factors.

We generally rely on the activities and charters of unaffiliated financial institutions to provide PayPal and Venmo branded consumer credit and merchant financing offerings to our U.S. customers. As a service provider to these unaffiliated financial institutions, which are federally supervised U.S. financial institutions, we are subject from time to time to examination by their federal banking regulators. In the event of any termination or interruption in a partner bank's ability or willingness to lend, our ability to offer consumer credit and merchant financing products could be interrupted or limited, which could materially and adversely affect our business. We may be unable to reach a similar arrangement with another unaffiliated financial institution on favorable terms or at all. Obtaining and maintaining the lending licenses required for us to originate such loans ourselves would be a costly, time-consuming and uncertain process, and would subject us to additional laws and regulatory requirements, which could significantly increase our costs and compliance obligations and require us to change our business practices.

Merchant loans under our U.S. PayPal Working Capital ("PPWC") and PayPal Business Loan ("PPBL") products and certain U.S. installment loan products are provided by a state-chartered industrial bank under a program agreement with us, and we acquire the receivables generated by those loans from the state-chartered bank after origination. In June 2020, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") approved a final rule clarifying that loans validly originated by state-chartered banks or insured branches of foreign banks remain valid throughout the lifetime of the loan, reflecting a similar rule finalized by the Office of the Comptroller of Currency ("OCC") in May 2020 for nationally chartered banks. The final rule reaffirms and codifies the so-called "valid-when-made doctrine," which provides that the permissibility of an interest rate for a loan is determined when the loan is made and will not be affected by subsequent events such as sale, assignment, or other transfer. While a number of state attorneys general have unsuccessfully challenged these FDIC and OCC rules, there remains some uncertainty whether non-bank entities purchasing loan receivables originated by FDIC-insured, state-chartered banks may rely on federal preemption of state usury laws and other state laws. An adverse outcome of these or similar challenges, or changes to applicable laws and regulations or regulatory policy, could materially impact our U.S. PPWC, PPBL, certain installment products, and our business.

We are subject to the risk that account holders who use our credit products will default on their payment obligations. The non-payment rate among account holders may increase due to, among other factors, changes to underwriting standards, risk models not accurately predicting the creditworthiness of a user, worsening economic conditions, such as a recession or government austerity programs, increases in prevailing interest rates, and high unemployment rates. Account holders who miss payments often fail to repay their loans, and account holders who file for protection under the bankruptcy laws generally do not repay their loans. Further, laws or regulations may limit the assessment of late fees or penalties on certain credit products, which could negatively impact our revenue share arrangement with an independent chartered financial institution with respect to our U.S. consumer credit products. Any deterioration in the performance of loans facilitated through our platform or unexpected losses on such loans may increase the risk of potential charge-offs, increase our allowance for loans and interest receivable, negatively impact our revenue share arrangement with an independent chartered financial institution with respect to our U.S. consumer credit product, products, and materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We currently purchase receivables related to our U.S. PayPal-branded merchant financing offerings and certain U.S. consumer installment loan products and extend credit for our consumer and merchant products outside the U.S. through our international subsidiaries. In June 2023, we entered into a multi-year agreement to sell up to €40 billion of U.K. and European buy now, pay later ("BNPL") loan receivables originated by PayPal (Europe) and PayPal U.K., consisting of the sale of a substantial majority of the U.K. and European BNPL loan portfolio held on PayPal (Europe)'s balance sheet at the closing of the transaction and a forward-flow arrangement for the sale of future originations of eligible loans. loans, and in October 2023, we began selling those receivables. The closing of the transaction and the sale of future eligible receivables are subject to certain conditions. If these conditions are not satisfied or waived or if the parties are unable to fulfill their obligations under these arrangements, the sale of these receivables could be delayed and we may not realize the expected benefits of this arrangement.

From time to time, we may consider other third-party sources of funding (including asset sales, warehouse facilities, forward-flow arrangements, securitizations, partnerships or other funding structures) for our credit portfolio or other receivables. The availability of such third-party funding is subject to a number of factors, including economic conditions and interest rates, and there can be no assurance that any such funding arrangements can be obtained on favorable terms or at all. If we are unable to fund our credit products or the purchase of the receivables related to our credit products and offerings adequately or in a cost-effective manner, the growth of our credit products and our results of operations and financial condition could be materially and adversely impacted.

Failure to deal effectively with fraud, abusive behaviors, bad transactions, and negative customer experiences may increase our loss rate and could negatively impact our business and severely diminish merchant and consumer confidence in and use of our services.

We expect that third parties will continue to attempt to abuse access to and misuse our payments services to commit fraud by, among other things, creating fictitious PayPal accounts using stolen or synthetic identities or personal information, making transactions with stolen financial instruments, abusing or misusing our services for financial gain, or fraudulently inducing users of our systems into engaging in fraudulent transactions. Due to the nature of PayPal's digital payments services, third parties may seek to engage in abusive schemes or fraud attacks that are often difficult to detect and may be deployed at a scale that would otherwise not be possible in physical transactions. Measures to detect and reduce the risk of fraud and abusive behavior are complex, require continuous improvement, and may not be effective in detecting and preventing fraud, particularly new and continually evolving forms of fraud or in connection with new or expanded product offerings. If these measures are not effective, our business could be negatively impacted. We also incur substantial losses from erroneous transactions and situations where funding instruments used for legitimate transactions are closed or have insufficient funds to satisfy payments, or the payment is initiated to an unintended recipient in error. Numerous and evolving fraud schemes and misuse of our payments services could subject us to significant costs and liabilities, require us to change our business practices, cause us to incur significant remediation costs, lead to loss of customer confidence in, or decreased use of, our products and services, damage our reputation and brands, divert the attention of management from the operation of our business, and result in significant compensation or contractual penalties from us to our customers and their business partners as a result of losses or claims. While we actively seek to recover transaction losses where possible, such recoveries may be insufficient to compensate us for such losses.

Our Purchase and Seller Protection Programs ("protection programs") are intended to reduce the likelihood of losses for consumers and merchants from unauthorized and fraudulent transactions. The Purchase Protection Program also protects consumers who do not receive the item ordered or who receive an item that is significantly different from its description. We incur substantial losses from our protection programs as a result of disputes filed by our customers. We seek to recover losses from our protection programs from the merchant, but may not be able to fully recover our losses (for example, if the merchant is unwilling or unable to pay, the transaction involves a fraudulent merchant, or the merchant provides sufficient evidence that the item was delivered).

In addition, consumers who pay through PayPal or Venmo may have reimbursement rights from their payment card issuer, which in turn will seek recovery from us. If losses incurred by us related to payment card transactions become excessive, we could lose the ability to accept payment cards for payment, which would negatively impact our business. Regulators and card networks may also adapt error resolution and chargeback requirements to account for evolving forms of fraud, which could increase PayPal's exposure to fraud losses and impact the scope of coverage of our protection programs. Increases in our loss rate, including as a result of changes to the scope of transactions covered by our protection programs, could negatively impact our business. See "Note 13—Commitments and Contingencies—Protection Programs" to our consolidated financial statements.

Failure to effectively monitor and evaluate the financial condition of our merchants may expose PayPal to losses. In the event of the bankruptcy, insolvency, business failure, or other business interruption of a merchant that sells goods or services in advance of the date of their delivery or use (e.g., airline, cruise, or concert tickets, custom-made goods, and subscriptions), we could be liable to the buyers of such goods or services, including through our Purchase Protection Program or through chargebacks on payment cards used by customers to fund their purchase. Allowances for transaction losses that we have established may be insufficient to cover incurred losses.

Global and regional economic conditions could harm our business.

Adverse global and regional economic conditions such as turmoil affecting the banking system or financial markets, including, but not limited to, tightening in the credit markets, extreme volatility or distress in the financial markets (including the fixed income, credit, currency, equity, and commodity markets), higher unemployment, high consumer debt levels, recessionary or inflationary pressures, supply chain issues, reduced consumer confidence or economic activity, government fiscal, monetary and tax policies, U.S. and international trade relationships, agreements, treaties, tariffs and restrictive actions, the inability of a government to enact a budget in a fiscal year, government shutdowns, government austerity programs, and other negative financial news or macroeconomic developments could have a material adverse impact on the demand for our products and services, including a reduction in the volume and size of transactions on our payments platform. Additionally, any inability to access the capital markets when needed due to volatility or illiquidity in the markets or increased regulatory liquidity and capital requirements may strain our liquidity position. Such conditions may also expose us to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates or interest rates that could materially and adversely affect our financial results.

Brexit: The U.K.'s departure from the EU could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

In connection with the departure of the U.K. from the EU and the EEA on January 31, 2020 (commonly referred to as "Brexit") and the expiration of the transition period on December 31, 2020, there continues to be legal and economic uncertainty over developments related to Brexit. PayPal has operated in the U.K. within the scope of its passport permissions pursuant to the Temporary Permissions Regime pending the grant of new authorizations by the U.K. Financial Conduct Authority ("FCA"). On October 31, 2023, PayPal's U.K. subsidiary received authorizations from the FCA as an electronic money institution and consumer credit firm, and registration as a cryptoasset business, subject to certain conditions that will require further implementation action by us. If we are unable to meet these requirements, our U.K. business and operations may be impacted and we may be subject to enforcement actions.

If one or more of our counterparty financial institutions default on their financial or performance obligations to us or fail, we may incur significant losses.

We have significant amounts of cash, cash equivalents, receivables outstanding, and other investments on deposit or in accounts with banks or other financial institutions in the U.S. and international jurisdictions. As part of our foreign currency hedging activities, we regularly enter into transactions involving derivative financial instruments with various financial institutions. Certain banks and other financial institutions are also lenders under our credit facilities. We regularly monitor our concentration of, and exposure to, counterparty risk, and actively manage this exposure to mitigate the associated risk. Despite these efforts, we may be exposed to the risk of default on obligations by, or deteriorating operating results or financial condition or failure of, these counterparty financial institutions. If one of our counterparty financial institutions were to become insolvent, placed into receivership, or file for bankruptcy, our ability to recover losses incurred as a result of default or to access or recover our assets that are deposited, held in accounts with, or otherwise due from, such counterparty may be limited due to the insufficiency of the failed institutions' estate to satisfy all claims in full or the applicable laws or regulations governing the insolvency, bankruptcy, or resolution proceedings. In the event of default on obligations by, or the failure of, one or more of these counterparties, we could incur significant losses, which could negatively impact our results of operations and financial condition.

If we are unable, or perceived as unable, to effectively manage customer funds, our business could be harmed.

We hold a substantial amount of funds belonging to our customers, including balances in customer accounts and funds being remitted to sellers of goods and services or recipients of peer-to-peer transactions. In certain jurisdictions where we operate, we are required to comply with applicable regulatory requirements with respect to customer balances. Our success is reliant on public confidence in our ability to effectively manage our customers' balances and handle substantial transaction volumes and amounts of customer funds. Any failure to manage customer funds in compliance with applicable regulatory requirements, or any public loss of confidence in us or our ability to effectively manage customer balances, could lead customers to discontinue or reduce their use of our products or reduce customer balances held with us, which could significantly harm our business.

ITEM 2: UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

REPURCHASES OF EQUITY SECURITIES

In June 2022, our Board of Directors authorized an additional stock repurchase program that provides for the repurchase of up to $15 billion of our common stock, with no expiration from the date of authorization. Our stock repurchase program is intended to offset the impact of dilution from our equity compensation programs and, subject to market conditions and other factors, may also be used to make opportunistic repurchases of our common stock to reduce outstanding share count. Any share repurchases under our stock repurchase program may be made through open market transactions, block trades, privately negotiated transactions including accelerated share repurchase agreements or other means at times and in such amounts as management deems appropriate, and will be funded from our working capital or other financing alternatives. Moreover, any stock repurchases are subject to market conditions and other uncertainties and we cannot predict if or when any stock repurchases will be made. We may terminate our stock repurchase program at any time without prior notice.

The stock repurchase activity under our stock repurchase program during the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 is summarized below:

Aaron Webster
Charleston, South Carolina

Dear Aaron,

We have enjoyed getting to know you better and understanding how your experience, expertise and leadership approach aligns with helping PayPal Holdings, Inc. ("PayPal Holdings") and its consolidated subsidiaries (collectively, "PayPal") on our mission to democratize financial services and improve the financial health of individuals, families, businesses and communities around the world. We are excited at the prospect of you joining as a leader at PayPal, and we are pleased to offer you, on the terms set forth in this offer letter (this "Letter"), the full-time, exempt position of Executive Vice President, Chief Enterprise Services Officer, currently reporting to PayPal's President and Chief Executive Officer (the "Chief Executive Officer").

Through this Letter, I will present the specifics of your job offer and compensation package, including legal terms and conditions. As discussed, this compensation package is subject to the approval of the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of PayPal Holdings (the "Compensation Committee"). Please review this Letter and sign where noted, via DocuSign. Should you have any questions, please reach out to Isabel Cruz, EVP, Chief People Officer (isabel@paypal.com).

Your Compensation Package

Salary and Bonuses

At PayPal, we pride ourselves on offering a competitive total rewards package. Your annual base salary will be $750,000 (paid bi-weekly at approximately $28,846 per pay period, less applicable deductions and tax withholdings).

You will be eligible to participate in the PayPal Annual Incentive Plan for a specified fiscal year ("AIP"), subject to the terms and conditions of the AIP for each fiscal year as determined by the Compensation Committee. AIP is an annual bonus that is calculated based on your individual achievement as well as company performance for the year. The AIP performance period is from January 1 through December 31. Your target bonus for the AIP is 125% of your annual base salary, generally pro-rated based on your start date with a PayPal company ("start date") and days of service in an AIP-eligible position during the AIP performance period. There is no guarantee any AIP bonus will be awarded or received, and any actual bonus will be determined after the end of the AIP performance period. Any AIP bonus, even if it is made repeatedly or regularly and whatever its amount, can never lead to a vested right for you, the employee.

To be eligible to receive any AIP bonus, you must be employed before October 1st of the applicable AIP performance period, and you must remain employed on the date the bonus is paid, subject to applicable laws. If your start date commences on or after October 1st, your eligibility to participate in the AIP will begin on January 1st of the following calendar year. Any bonus is at PayPal's sole and absolute discretion and subject to the terms and conditions of the AIP. PayPal reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to amend, change or cancel the AIP at any time. Further, the bonus plan that you are eligible to participate in may change over time. You acknowledge and agree that PayPal may substitute the plan referenced in this Letter and any contract of employment or any offer documentation, as it determines in its sole discretion from time to time.

In addition, PayPal is also offering you the following:

- A one-time sign on bonus of $2,500,000 (less applicable deductions and tax withholdings) (the "Sign On Bonus"). The Sign On Bonus will be payable within the first two pay periods following your start date.

The Sign On Bonus is subject to a couple conditions: (1) you need to be employed with PayPal on the date of the payment, otherwise you will not earn or receive the Sign On Bonus, and (2) if you resign or PayPal terminates your employment for cause before the designated date(s) in the attached Repayment Agreement, the Sign On Bonus will not be earned, and is subject to repayment to PayPal. Details are in the attached Repayment Agreement.

- As a PayPal executive, you will also be eligible to receive the initial equity grants summarized in the table below (the "Initial Equity Grants"), subject to approval by the Compensation Committee. You will also be eligible to receive additional annual equity grants beginning in 2025, depending on your performance as assessed by the Chief Executive Officer and subject to approval by the Compensation Committee.

The grant date for the Initial Equity Grants is expected to be on or around the 15th of the month following the month of your start date. For the avoidance of doubt, you will not be eligible to receive any annual equity grants from PayPal in calendar year 2024 aside from the Initial Equity Grants.

Equity grants are subject to applicable taxes and withholdings and are governed by the applicable award agreement and any other related documents.

Attainment of the Performance Goals shall be determined and certified by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Committee") in writing prior to the settlement of the Award. All vesting is subject to Participant's continued service with the Company or a Subsidiary through the Vesting Date.

By Participant's signature and the Company's signature below, or by Participant's acceptance of the Grant Notice and the Agreement, through the Company's designated online acceptance procedure, Participant agrees to be bound by the terms and conditions of the Plan, this Grant Notice, and the Agreement. Participant has reviewed and fully understands all provisions of the Plan, this Grant Notice, and the Agreement in their entirety and has had an opportunity to obtain the advice of counsel prior to executing this Grant Notice or accepting the Grant Notice and the Agreement through the Company's designated online acceptance procedure. Participant hereby agrees to accept as binding, conclusive and final all decisions or interpretations of the Company upon any questions arising under the Plan, this Grant Notice, and the Agreement.

If Participant has not executed this Grant Notice or affirmatively accepted or rejected the Grant Notice and the Agreement through the Company's designated online acceptance procedure prior to the Vesting Date, the Company reserves the right to cancel the Award. If the Company does not cancel the Award, Participant will be deemed to have accepted the Award and the terms and conditions applicable to the Award. If Participant rejects the Award, the Award will be cancelled and no benefits from the Award nor any compensation or benefits in lieu of the Award will be provided to Participant.

which may have already been repurchased in previous years), and (ii) any Indemnified Amounts (as defined in the Receivables Management Agreement) owing by the Receivables Manager to the Purchaser under clause 17 of the Receivables Management Agreement (or which have previously been paid by the Receivables Manager under such clause) exceeds the then applicable Threshold Amount, at its discretion either to effect a repurchase of the Receivables subject to the breach of Loan Warranties pursuant to this Clause 9.10 (Repurchase for breach of Loan Warranties) or compensate the Purchaser by making an indemnity payment to the Purchaser pursuant to Clause 9.17. For the avoidance of doubt if the aggregate Purchase Price of Receivables then affected by a breach of a Loan Warranty exceeds the Threshold Amount, the Seller shall be required to either repurchase from, or indemnify, the Purchaser for all Purchased Receivables then affected by a breach of Loan Warranty terms and not just those in excess conditions of the Threshold Amount. If the Seller has elected to repurchase such affected Receivables, the Seller shall deliver a written notice to the Purchaser specifying its election, following which the Purchaser (or the Receivables Manager on behalf of the Purchaser) shall by delivery of a Repurchase Notice to the Seller (copied to the Purchaser, the Receivables Manager and the Security Agent) reassign and retransfer to the Seller its Assigned Rights in relation to such Receivable identified in the relevant Repurchase Notice on the next following Settlement Date (if during the Commitment Period) or Monthly Reporting Date (if after the end of the Commitment Period) after the date on which the breach of Loan Warranty is required to be notified in accordance with Clause 9.5, and the Seller shall accept a reassignment and retransfer of such Assigned Rights. Such reassignment and retransfer shall be in accordance with, and for the consideration set out in, Clause 9.13.

(b) The Seller may (in its absolute discretion) elect to indemnify the Purchaser as an alternative to the reassignment and retransfer to the Seller of the Purchaser's Assigned Rights in relation to a Receivable pursuant to Clause 9.17.

9.11 The Security Agent shall be entitled to assume that no such breach has occurred until it has been so notified in writing by the Seller or the Receivables Manager. For the avoidance of doubt, save as provided in Clause 9.10 and Clause 9.17 there shall be no other consequence for any breach of Loan Warranty relating to such Receivables and no action shall be taken by any Party in respect of such breach.

Completion and Consideration

9.12 Each reassignment and retransfer under this Clause 9 shall be free from any right or interest that the Security Agent may have in the Assigned Rights under or pursuant to the Security Documents (which the Security Agent shall release, discharge or reassign in respect of the Assigned Rights so reassigned and retransferred).

9.13 Completion of such reassignment and retransfer under Clause 9.10 and Clause 9.12 (inclusive) shall take place on the Repurchase Date applicable to the relevant Repurchase Notice upon payment by the Seller to the Purchaser into the Purchaser Bank Account in the relevant currency of the Repurchase Price. Any such payment by the Seller of the Repurchase Price shall, in relation to that Receivable only, constitute a discharge and release of the Seller from any claims which the Purchaser or the Security Agent may have against it arising from or in relation to such breach of warranty, but shall not affect any rights arising from a breach of any express provision of this Agreement in relation to any other Receivable. The Purchaser and the Security Agent shall, to the extent that each has title and at the cost of the Seller, execute and deliver an agreement in respect of the reassignment, retrocession and release of any such Receivable specified in the relevant Repurchase Notice, in such form as the Seller may reasonably require against payment therefor by the Seller of the Repurchase Price. Each repurchase, reassignment and retransfer of Receivables shall be made subject to and in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement and the provisions of the Relevant Local Schedule for such Receivable (to the extent applicable and applying mutatis mutandis as required in order to transfer legal and beneficial title to such Receivable back to the Seller).

9.14 If the Seller makes any payment (not involving a reassignment or retransfer under this Clause 9) to the Purchaser or the Security Agent in full satisfaction of any claim made by the Purchaser or the Security Agent in relation to any warranty set out in Clause 9.1 (Seller Representations and Loan Warranties), the Purchaser or the Security Agent, as the case may be, shall assign to the Seller such rights as they have against any third party which relate to such claim and undertakes to reassign or retransfer any Assigned Rights upon request by the Seller.

Repurchase for Failure of Bank-Funded Payment and Fraud

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Clause 9, if, after a Receivable has been transferred from the Seller to the Purchaser, the Seller receives notice that:

(a) any payment made by the Borrower has failed or is subject to a reversal or chargeback (each a Payment Unwind) where such Payment Unwind is in respect of any payment on the Loan Agreement prior to the transfer of such Receivable to the Purchaser and where, if such Payment Unwind had occurred prior to the transfer of such Receivable to the Purchaser, such Receivable would not have been an Eligible Receivable; or

(b) a confirmed Borrower fraud has occurred in respect of such Receivable prior to the Sale Time of such Receivable, the Seller shall repurchase such affected Receivable for an amount equal to the Purchase Price paid by the Purchaser for such Receivable less the aggregate amount of any Collections transferred to the Purchaser in respect of such affected Receivable plus Cost of Capital [* * *]. The Receivables Manager on behalf of the Purchaser shall by delivery of a Repurchase Notice to the Seller (copied to the Purchaser, the Receivables Manager and the Security Agent) reassign and retransfer to the Seller its Assigned Rights in relation to such Receivable identified in the relevant Repurchase Notice as soon as is reasonably practicable after the date on which the Seller receives notice of the Payment Unwind or the confirmed Borrower fraud (as applicable) but in any event by no later than the Monthly Reporting Date applicable to the Monthly Reporting Period in which the Seller receives notice of the Payment Unwind or the confirmed Borrower fraud (as applicable), and the Seller shall accept a reassignment and retransfer of such Assigned Rights. Completion of such re-assignment and re-transfer shall take place on the Repurchase Date applicable to the relevant Repurchase Notice upon payment by the Seller to the Purchaser into the Purchaser Bank Account in the relevant currency of the original Purchase Price. The Purchaser and the Security Agent shall, to the extent that each has title and at the cost of the Seller, execute and deliver an agreement in respect of the reassignment and retransfer of any such Receivable specified in the relevant Repurchase Notice, in such form as the Seller may reasonably require against payment therefor by the Seller of the original Purchase Price less the aggregate amount of any Collections transferred to the Purchaser in respect of such Receivable plus Cost of Capital. Each repurchase, reassignment and retransfer of such Receivable shall be made subject to and in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement and the provisions of the Relevant Local Schedule for such Receivable (to the extent applicable and applying mutatis mutandis as required in order to transfer legal and beneficial title to such Receivable back to the Seller).

9.16 Repurchase for DE Pi30 Loan

Indemnity

9.17 If:

- (a) the Seller elects to indemnify the Purchaser as an alternative to the reassignment and retransfer to the Seller of the Purchaser's Assigned Rights in relation to a Receivable under Clause 9.10 (Repurchase for breach of Loan Warranties);
- (b) a Receivable has never existed, or has ceased to exist, such that it is not outstanding on the date on which it is due to be reassigned or retransferred pursuant to this Clause 9;
- (c) a Loss has been suffered in respect of such Receivable due to a fraud on behalf of the Seller; or
- (d) the Seller is not obliged to repurchase a Purchased Receivable that it would otherwise have been obliged to repurchase pursuant to Clause 9.10 (Repurchase for breach of Loan Warranties) due solely to a matter being Disclosed in the Disclosure Letter.

the Seller shall not be obliged to repurchase the Receivable or the other Assigned Rights but shall instead deliver a written notice on the date on which the next Sale Notice is delivered (or, if sales are no longer occurring, within five Business Days) after becoming aware that any of the circumstances referred to under Clauses 9.17(a), (b), (c) or (d) has occurred specifying its intention to indemnify the Purchaser in relation to such Receivable or other Assigned Rights in an amount equal to the Repurchase Price that would be payable under Clause 9.12 had the Seller elected to repurchase that Receivable (the Indemnification Amount). After delivery of such written notice, the Seller shall, within five Business Days of delivery of such written notice, indemnify the Purchaser in an amount equal to the Indemnification Amount for the relevant Receivable and pay such Indemnification Amount to the Purchaser, provided that the Seller shall be entitled to settle the payment of any such Indemnification Amount by way of set-off and deduction from the Purchase Price specified in the next Confirmation Notice or Sale Notice (as applicable) following delivery of such written notice (where applicable).

9.18 Following the payment or settlement of an Indemnification Amount pursuant to Clause 9.17, any Collections received in respect of the Indemnification Amount of the affected Receivable(s) shall be retained by the Seller for its own account.

9.19 Any payments to be made by the Seller pursuant to Clause 9.17 shall be made:

- (a) in respect of that part of the Repurchase Price amount calculated by reference to the relevant Purchase Price Ratio multiplied by the outstanding Current Balance of the relevant Receivable, within five Business Days of the date on which the balance of the Receivable is written down or reduced; and
- (b) in respect of that part of the Repurchase Price calculated by reference to Cost of Capital, on the next Monthly Settlement Date.

9.20 Anti-dilution

- (a) If the balance of a Receivable (in whole or in part, including in respect of any amounts representing interest or fees) is written down by the Seller or the Receivables Manager or any interest, fees or other amounts due are waived as a result of the Seller or the Receivables Manager determining that there has been an error in the origination, management or administration of a particular loan or making a goodwill credit to a particular Borrower, the Seller shall not be obliged to repurchase the Receivable or the other Assigned Rights but shall instead make an anti-dilution payment to the Purchaser Bank Account in the relevant currency equal to the Repurchase Price in respect of the amount of the Receivable balance so written down or waived. Such anti-dilution payment shall be settled on a monthly basis in arrears on the Monthly Settlement Date by way of a cash payment from the Seller to the Purchaser, payment of which shall be satisfied, during the Commitment Period only and provided that the Receivables Manager as at the date of this Agreement (or any of its Affiliates) remains a Receivables Manager under the Receivables Management Agreement, by way of set-off against the Receivables Management Fee or any other fees at that time then due pursuant to the Receivables Management Agreement, or if such fees are insufficient for any reason, by payment by the Seller within five Business Days of demand from the Purchaser.
- (b) If the balance of a Receivable (in whole or in part, including in respect of any amounts representing interest or fees) is written down by the Seller as a form of provisional credit granted to a Borrower pursuant to an unresolved dispute between the relevant Borrower and the relevant merchant, the Seller shall not be obliged to repurchase the Receivable or the other Assigned Rights but shall instead make an anti-dilution payment to the Purchaser by a transfer to the Purchaser Bank Account in the relevant currency of an amount equal to the Repurchase Price in respect of the amount of the Receivable balance so written down (excluding any amounts of interest or fees cancelled in connection with the grant of the provisional credit). If following the conclusion of the dispute between such Borrower and such merchant, the dispute is resolved against the Borrower and the write-down of the applicable Receivable balance is reversed, the Purchaser shall make a payment of an amount equal to such Repurchase Price transferred to the Purchaser, payment of which shall be satisfied by way of set-off against the Collections Sweep Payments which otherwise are required to be made to the Purchaser at that time or if such Collection Sweep Payments are insufficient to satisfy such payment in full, by payment by the Purchaser within five Business Days of demand by the Seller.

- (c) If the balance of a Receivable (in whole or in part, including in respect of any amounts representing interest or fees) is written down by the Seller upon a refund being received by the Seller from the relevant merchant in respect of the underlying merchant purchase transaction, the Seller shall not be obliged to repurchase the Receivable or the other Assigned Rights but shall instead make an anti-dilution payment to the Purchaser by a transfer of the amount to the Purchaser Bank Account in the relevant currency equal to the Repurchase Price in respect of the amount of the Receivable balance so written down (excluding any amounts of interest or fees cancelled in connection with the grant of the refund). If the Seller notifies the Purchaser that the Borrower has previously made a payment in whole or in part (and the Purchaser has received such payment), where the issuance of the refund has resulted in a credit to such Borrower's e-money account such that the Borrower has no right of set-off or counterclaim against the Receivable in respect of the amount so credited (such amount, an E-money Refund Balance Amount), an amount equal to the E-money Refund Balance Amount shall be netted against the Collections Sweep Payment which otherwise are required to be made to the Purchaser at that time such that the Seller can restore the original balance of the Borrower's e-money account.
- (d) If the balance of a Receivable (in whole or in part, including in respect of any amounts representing interest or fees) is reduced as a result of a Borrower exercising a right of set-off, recission or right of counterclaim against such Receivable, the Seller shall not be obliged to repurchase the Receivable or the other Assigned Rights but shall instead make an anti-dilution payment to the Purchaser by a transfer to the Purchaser Bank Account in the relevant currency of an amount equal to the Repurchase Price in respect of the amount of the Receivable balance so reduced.
- (e) Any payments to be made by the Seller pursuant to Clauses 9.20(b), (c) and (d) shall be made:
 - (i) in respect of that part of the Repurchase Price amount calculated by reference to the relevant Purchase Price Ratio multiplied by the written down or reduced amount of the balance of the relevant Receivable, within five Business Days of the date on which the balance of the Receivable is written down or reduced; and
 - (ii) in respect of that part of the Repurchase Price calculated by reference to Cost of Capital, on the next Monthly Settlement Date during the Commitment Period or after the end of the Commitment Period on a Monthly Reporting Date.

9.21 Balance Adjustments

(a) If the balance of a Receivable increases (after the Receivable has been transferred to the Purchaser) as a result of a Payment Unwind of any due payment requested by the Borrower (other than as described in Clause 9.15(a)) and where a Collection has been paid to the Purchaser in respect of such payment, the Purchaser shall pay to the Seller an amount equal to such increase in the balance of the Receivable, payment of which shall be satisfied by way of set-off against the Collections Sweep Payments which otherwise are required to be made to the Purchaser at that time.

(b) If any NSF Fee has been passed on to the Purchaser in the System, the Purchaser shall pay to the Seller an amount equal to such NSF Fee. Such payment shall be settled on a monthly basis in arrears on each Monthly Settlement Date by way of set-off against the Collections Sweep Payments which otherwise are required to be made to the Purchaser at that time, or if such Collection Sweep Payments are insufficient, by payment by the Purchaser within five Business Days of demand from the Seller. In relation to any amounts received from a Borrower, these will be allocated first to the satisfaction of any payment due in respect of a NSF Fee (which amount shall be retained by the Seller for its own account), and thereafter in accordance with the terms of the Loan Agreement and any applicable law or regulation.

9.22 It is hereby expressly understood between the Parties that, since the Receivables are sold to the Purchaser without recourse (but for the avoidance of doubt without prejudice to any recourse as expressly provided for in this Agreement), the Seller shall have no obligation to indemnify the Purchaser from any direct and/or indirect damages, Losses, Taxes, claims, liabilities, costs and expenses arising as a consequence of the failure by any Borrower to pay in whole or in part any relevant Receivables after the relevant Cut-Off Time (including, without limitation, as a result of the insolvency of such Borrower). Without prejudice to the other provisions of this Clause 9, each of the Purchaser and the Security Agent further acknowledges to and agrees with the Seller, that the Seller shall have no liability or responsibility (whether, in either case, contractual or tortious, express or implied) for any Loss or damage for or in respect of any breach of or any act or omission in respect of, any of its obligations hereunder other than Loss or damage directly (and not indirectly or consequentially) suffered by the Purchaser and/or the Security Agent or the assets comprised in the Transaction Security by reason of such breach, act or omission.

9.23 Each of the Seller and the Purchaser shall notify in writing the applicable Party within seven Business Days of becoming aware of the breach of any of its obligations under this Clause 9 (including whilst any relevant cure period is in effect) and each of the Seller, the Purchaser and the Security Agent shall, in the absence of receipt of any such written notice, be entitled to assume that each Party is complying with such obligations.

10. Information Undertakings

10.1 The undertakings in this Clause 10 (Information Undertakings) shall remain in force from the date of this Agreement during the Commitment Period and thereafter for so long as any obligations remain outstanding hereunder.

10.2 The Purchaser will supply to the Seller:

(a) promptly upon becoming aware of them, the details of any litigation, arbitration or administrative proceedings or regulatory impositions which are current, threatened or pending against the Purchaser, and which, if adversely determined, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect; and

(b) promptly, further information as the Seller may reasonably request for the purposes of the Seller and its Affiliates' Tax compliance and reporting obligations, except to the extent that disclosure of the information would breach any law, regulation, stock exchange requirement or duty of confidentiality.

10.3 The Seller will supply to the Purchaser such information as the Purchaser may reasonably request to satisfy its reporting or due diligence obligations under the EU Securitisation Regulation and UK Securitisation Regulation, provided that the Seller shall not be required to supply any such information to the extent it does not collect or track such information as at the date of this Agreement.

10.4 Each of the Purchaser and the Seller shall promptly notify the other Parties and the Security Agent in writing of any breach of representation and warranty or undertaking under this Agreement (other than in respect of any breach of a Loan Warranty as to which Clause 9.5 (Breach of Loan Warranties) will apply) and in any event within seven

Business Days of becoming aware of its occurrence. Without prejudice to the other rights and remedies of the Parties to this Agreement set out herein, following such notification, to the extent that such breach is capable of remedy, the Purchaser and the Seller agree to consult with each other and negotiate in good faith to agree a means to remedy and resolve such breach. Promptly upon a request by any party to this Agreement to the Purchaser or the Seller, the Purchaser or the Seller (as applicable) shall supply to it a certificate signed by an authorised signatory on its behalf certifying that no breach of representation and warranty or undertaking is continuing.

10.5 Delivery of financial statements

The Seller shall deliver to the Purchaser by no later than 30 June of each calendar year, starting from 30 June 2023 for its financial year ending 31 December 2022, a copy of its audited consolidated annual financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS, provided that such financial statements shall be deemed delivered if they are publicly available.

10.6 Nothing in this Agreement or any of the Transaction Documents shall require the Seller or any of its Affiliates to disclose any information where such disclosure would otherwise be required under this Agreement or the relevant Transaction Document to the extent that such disclosure would result in a breach of any applicable law or regulation or regulatory guidelines or order of any court or requirement (whether or not having the force of law) of any central bank or any governmental or other regulatory or Tax Authority or applicable stock exchange rules and guidelines.

11. General Undertakings

The undertakings in this Clause 11 (General Undertakings) shall remain in force from the date of this Agreement during the Commitment Period and thereafter for so long as any obligations remain outstanding hereunder.

11.1 Merger and Change of Control

Without prejudice to the exercise of any right of enforcement of the Security Agent in respect of any Security Interest granted over the shares of the Purchaser (which, for the avoidance of doubt, shall not require the consent of the Seller or the Receivables Manager), the Purchaser shall not enter into any amalgamation, demerger, merger, corporate reconstruction or Change of Control without the prior written consent of the Seller.

11.2 Audit

Subject to all applicable law and regulation, the Seller shall cause an AUP Audit to be conducted:

- (a) once in each twelve month period during the Commitment Period (a copy of which report the Seller shall or shall cause to be delivered to the Purchaser and each Facility Agent (as defined in the Master Framework Agreement) on or before the Monthly Reporting Date falling in June in each year starting from June 2024); and
- (b) following the occurrence of a Turbo Amortisation Event or an Event of Default (in each case as defined in the Master Framework Agreement), if so requested by the Majority Class A Lenders, the Majority Class B Lenders or the Class C Lender within 90 calendar days' of receipt by those persons or that person (as applicable) of notice of the occurrence of such Turbo Amortisation Event or Event of Default, provided that no more than one such additional AUP Reports may be requested in any twelve month period, and in each case shall cause to be conducted one further AUP Audit if either such AUP Audit has identified breaches by the Seller or the Receivables Manager of the terms of their respective obligations under this Agreement or the Receivables Management Agreement.

11.3 U.S. Investment Company and Covered Fund Status

The Purchaser undertakes that, for so long as any Receivable is outstanding, it will not take any action that would (i) require it to register as an "investment company" (as that term is defined under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended), or (ii) result in it becoming a "covered fund" as defined under the Volcker Rule.

11.4 Securitisation

Save as otherwise agreed in writing between the Seller and the Purchaser, the Purchaser will not undertake any refinancing or any public securitisation or similar financing transaction in respect of the Receivables without the prior written consent of the Seller.

11.5 Collections Policies, Underwriting Policies and Standard Documentation

- (a) The Seller is permitted to make changes to the Collections Policies or Underwriting Policies at any time at its own discretion provided that if any such changes have in the good faith determination of the Seller a quantitative impact on any required input to, or assumption contained in, the Asset Model, the relevant input or assumption shall be updated to take into account the change to the Collections Policies or Underwriting Policies as the case may be.
- (b) The Seller shall as soon as reasonably practicable after approval and adoption by the Seller of any changes to the Collection Policies, Underwriting Policies or Standard Documentation, (i) notify the Purchaser of any material changes or variations to any of the Collections Policies, Underwriting Policies or Standard Collections Policies, Underwriting Policies or Standard Documentation. For the avoidance of doubt, neither the Seller nor the Receivables Manager shall be required to provide any other documents relating to underwriting or collections procedures or policies including any such policies, procedures or other documents referenced in the Underwriting Policies or Collections Policies.

(c) The Seller shall not make any changes to the calculation methodology in respect of the information contained in the Receivables Management Report without the prior written consent of the Purchaser not to be unreasonably withheld.

11.6 Origination and administration

The Seller and Receivables Manager shall, as applicable:

- (a) originate and manage Purchased Receivables;
- (b) assess and monitor the credit performance of the Purchased Receivables;
- (c) [* * *] operate and maintain the Asset Model; and
- (d) assess and implement any appropriate changes to its Asset Model, the Collections Policies, the Underwriting Policies, Standard Documentation or its credit-decisioning process, in each case, with the level of skill, care and diligence which would be expected at that time from a reasonably prudent consumer lender or manager of consumer loans within the consumer financial services industry and in any event to no lesser standard that it has applied prior to the Closing Date or that it would apply to Receivables originated and held for its own account.

11.7 Change in law or regulation

In connection with the introduction and implementation into national law of additional regulatory requirements applicable to the Receivables under (i) proposals announced by the UK government in February 2021 to bring interest-free buy-now-pay-later agreements into regulation by the Financial Conduct Authority and (ii) the European Commission's proposal for a Directive repealing and replacing Directive 2008/48/EC on credit agreements for consumers (together with (i), the Additional Regulatory Requirements), prior to such Additional Regulatory Requirements becoming binding on the Seller and the Receivables Manager in the applicable jurisdiction, the Seller shall:

- (a) where a relevant regulatory body indicates formally in writing, or the Seller otherwise believes that it may be reasonably likely, that any application for a regulatory licence or permission newly required pursuant to the Additional Regulatory Requirements in relation to the origination or administration of the Receivables may be refused, the Seller will notify the Purchaser as soon as reasonably practicable in writing, and in any event not more than five Business Days after becoming aware of the same;
- (b) consult with the Purchaser in advance of making any such updates or taking any such measures;

- (c) provide the Purchaser with details of any proposed updates to the Standard Documentation and any proposed measures to comply with the Additional Regulatory Requirements at least 30 days prior to implementation of such Standard Documentation and measures;
- (d) consider comments from the Purchaser in good faith and inform the Purchaser where any such comments will not be taken into account in the updated Standard Documentation or in the other measures to be taken by the Seller to comply with the Additional Regulatory Requirements;
- (e) as soon as reasonably practicable after finalisation, provide the Purchaser with copies of any updated Standard Documentation;

- (f) provide the Purchaser with legal opinions addressed to the Purchaser, the Security Agent, the Class A Lenders and the Class B Lenders, as to the enforceability of any updated Standard Documentation in England, France, Germany, Italy and Spain to a level of comfort in all material respects equivalent to the legal opinions listed in paragraphs 23 to 27 of Part A of Schedule 1 (Seller Initial Conditions Precedent) and provided to the Purchaser on or before the Closing Date but having regard to the regulated nature of the relevant Eligible Products and any uncertainty in the implementation or interpretation of the Additional Regulatory Requirements relating to the Eligible Products;
- (g) where requested by the Purchaser, a legal opinion or memorandum of advice addressed to the Purchaser, the Security Agent, the Class A Lenders and the Class B Lenders, from an appropriately qualified legal counsel confirming that where the Additional Regulatory Requirements require customer documentation, including, but not limited to, pre-contractual information, loan agreement, account statements, notices of default and notices of arrears, to be in a required format and/or contain specific information and disclosures, these requirements are complied with in material respects or otherwise in a manner that would not materially affect the recoverability of amounts owed in respect of the relevant Receivables; and
- (h) provide such other information as the Purchaser may reasonably request in relation to compliance by the Seller or the Receivables Manager, as applicable, with Additional Regulatory Requirements applicable to the origination and administration of such Receivables, including but not limited to (i) template pre-contractual borrower communications and documentation; (ii) compliance with form and content requirements relating to customer documentation including, but not limited to, the loan agreement, account statements, notices of default and notices of arrears; and (iii) evidence that all relevant regulatory permissions or registrations have been obtained.

11.8 Sales, Liens, etc.

The Seller shall not sell (or, if applicable, hold on trust), assign (by operation of law or otherwise) or otherwise dispose of, or create or suffer to exist any Security Interest upon or with respect to, the Purchased Receivables except as otherwise expressly required or provided for in this Agreement or any other Transaction Document, provided that nothing in this Clause 11.8 shall prohibit or restrict any transfer or disposal of the legal title to any Purchased Receivable and Related Rights to the UK Sub at any time following its accession as an Additional Receivables Manager.

-33-

12. Termination Events

12.1 If at any time any of the following events (each a Seller Termination Event) has occurred and is continuing, the Seller may (subject to Clause 12.5) terminate the Commitment Period with immediate effect by giving notice to the Purchaser:

- (a) the sale of the Purchased Receivables by the Seller to the Purchaser ceases to be accounted for as a sale under either US GAAP for PPHI or under IFRS for the Seller as determined in good faith by the Seller's accountants in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards and guidance;
- (b) the Purchaser does not pay on the due date any amount payable pursuant to this Agreement at the place and in the currency in which it is expressed to be payable in an aggregate amount of not less than Euro Equivalent [* * *] unless its failure to pay is caused by an administrative or technical error or a Disruption Event, and payment is made within five Business Days of its due date;
- (c) the Purchaser does not comply with any material provision of this Agreement (other than any provision where the result of such non-compliance is the occurrence of the event specified in Clause 12.1(a) above) and any such non-compliance is unremedied and unwaived for 15 Business Days of the Purchaser being notified or becoming aware of such non-compliance;
- (d) any representation made by the Purchaser in the form set out in Part C of Schedule 2 (Purchaser Representations) is or proves to have been incorrect or misleading in any material respect when required to be made and any such misrepresentation is unremedied and unwaived for 15 Business Days of the Purchaser being notified or becoming aware of such misrepresentation;
- (e) an Insolvency Event has occurred in relation to the Purchaser;
- (f) it is or becomes unlawful for the Purchaser to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement, provided that if it is or becomes unlawful for the Purchaser to purchase Receivables originated in a particular jurisdiction from the Seller, such event shall not constitute a termination event under this Clause 12.1 and instead this Agreement will continue save that the Purchaser shall no longer purchase any Receivables originated in such jurisdiction;
- (g) the Purchaser repudiates or rescinds this Agreement or evidences an intention to repudiate or rescind this Agreement;
- (h) the Purchaser has delivered a Receivables Manager Termination Notice to the Receivables Manager;

(i) it is or becomes unlawful for the Seller or the Receivables Manager to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement or the Receivables Management Agreement, or such performance becomes in the opinion of the Seller, acting reasonably, materially more burdensome as a result of a change in applicable law and regulation (other than a law or regulation relating to Tax, as to which Clause 12.1(m) shall apply) and the Seller has provided a certificate signed by a director stating that there is no reasonable prospect of avoiding the circumstances giving rise to the Seller's performance becoming materially more burdensome and including reasonable detail as to such circumstances;

-34-

(j) []

(k) the Purchase Condition set out in Clause 2.6(f) is not satisfied on three or more consecutive Sale Notice Dates as a result of the Purchaser not having entered into hedging arrangements in respect of the sale of Receivables set out in a Sale Notice;

(l) []

(m) subject to Clause 12.5, a Tax Event has occurred for which either the Seller or the Receivables Manager is an Affected Party, provided that such Tax Event has or will have a material adverse effect on that Affected Party;

(n) a Change of Control occurs in respect of the Purchaser; or

(o) []

12.2 If at any time any of the following events (each a Purchaser Termination Event) has occurred and is continuing, the Purchaser may (subject to Clause 12.5) terminate the Commitment Period with immediate effect by giving notice to the Seller:

(a) the Seller is in breach of any of its material obligations under this Agreement, provided that if such breach is caused by an error or omission of an administrative, personnel, system, technical, or operational nature and such breach is remedied within 15 Business Days, such event shall not constitute a Purchaser Termination Event under this Clause 12.2;

(b) the Seller does not pay on the due date any amount payable pursuant to this Agreement at the place and in the currency in which it is expressed to be payable in an aggregate amount of not less than Euro Equivalent [* * *] unless its failure to pay is caused by an administrative or technical error or a Disruption Event, and payment is made within five Business Days of its due date;

(c) any representation made by the Seller in the form set out in Part B of Schedule 2 (Seller Representations) is or proves to have been incorrect or misleading in any material respect when required to be made and any such misrepresentation remains unremedied or unwaived on the 15th Business Day after the date the Seller was notified or became aware of such misrepresentation;

(d) an Insolvency Event has occurred in relation to the Seller or PPHI;

(e) it is or becomes unlawful for the Seller to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement or the Receivables Management Agreement, provided that if it is or becomes unlawful for the -35-

Seller to sell Receivables originated in a particular jurisdiction to the Purchaser, such event shall not constitute a Purchaser Termination Event under this Clause 12.2 and instead this Agreement will continue save that the Seller shall no longer offer to sell to the Purchaser any Receivables originated in such jurisdiction;

(f) the Seller repudiates or rescinds this Agreement or evidences an intention to repudiate or rescind this Agreement;

(g) it is or becomes unlawful for the Purchaser to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement, provided that if it is or becomes unlawful for the Purchaser to purchase Receivables originated in a particular jurisdiction from the Seller, such event shall not constitute a Purchaser Termination Event under this Clause 12.2

12.3 The Seller and the Purchaser each agree to take reasonable steps to mitigate the occurrence of any Termination Event.

12.4 Following termination of the Commitment Period, either pursuant to Clause 12.1 or Clause 12.2, or because the Commitment Period has otherwise ended, the provisions of this Agreement will nevertheless continue to apply in the case where the Purchaser still holds Receivables sold to it by the Seller prior to the Commitment Period ending.

12.5 In the event that a Tax Event has occurred, the Affected Party shall notify the other Parties and for a period of 30 days after the date of such notification, the Parties shall consult with each other and cooperate in good faith to agree such changes to the Transaction Documents as the Parties may agree (including changes to the Parties) in order to mitigate the effect of or reduce the additional Tax incurred by any Party as a result of the applicable Tax Event. If the Parties are unable to agree any such changes within that 30 day period (or such longer period as the Parties may in writing agree) (the Consultation Period), the relevant Affected Party may exercise its termination right pursuant to Clause 12.1 or Clause 12.2, as applicable. Notwithstanding any contrary provision in the Transaction Documents, the Seller shall not offer any Receivables (and their Related Rights) for sale and assignment to the Purchaser during the Consultation Period.

13. Testing Phase

13.1 The Seller and the Purchaser agree that at any time on or following the Testing Period Commencement Date and prior to the delivery by the Seller of the first Back-Book Sale Notice, the Seller may at its discretion conduct a series of test sales of Receivables that satisfy the Eligibility Criteria (and, for the avoidance of doubt, paragraphs (9) and (10) of the Eligibility Criteria cannot be waived or otherwise

-36-

If a Test Receivable does not satisfy any of the Loan Warranties (other than the Loan Warranty at paragraph 15 of Part A of Schedule 2 (Loan Warranties) relating to no adverse selection), the Seller shall within one month of the Seller becoming aware of the Test Receivable not satisfying any such Loan Warranty repurchase such Test Receivable for a repurchase price equal to the Current Balance of such Test Receivable as at the date of the repurchase.

13.3 The Purchase Price payable for any Test Receivable shall be paid in accordance with Clause 7.1.

13.4 Any Collections received in respect of a Test Receivable which has been purchased by the Purchaser and which are received after the applicable Cut-Off Time for such Test Receivable shall be for the account of the Purchaser.

13.5 If there are any issues that arise during the testing phase, the Parties agree to consult with each other in good faith with a view to resolving any such issues in a timely manner.

13.6 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement or any other Transaction Document, each of the Parties hereby agrees and confirms that the Purchase Price payable by the Borrower in respect of any Test Receivables shall not be payable on the Payment Date in accordance with Clause 5.2, but shall instead be paid on the earlier to occur of (i) the date on which the Purchase Price is paid in respect of Back-Book Receivables sold to the Purchaser on the first Back-Book Sale Date, and (ii) the date falling one month after the date of the delivery of the applicable Sale Notice in respect of those Test Receivables provided that the Seller and the Receivables Manager shall be under no obligation under this Agreement or the Receivables Management Agreement to make any Cash Sweep Payment of any Collections received in respect of any Test Receivables sold to the Purchaser until the Purchaser has paid in full the Purchase Price for all Test Receivables, and if the Purchase Price payable in respect of the Test Receivables is not paid when due in accordance with this Clause 13.6, the Seller shall be entitled to satisfy payment of Purchase Price for the Test Receivables by way of set-off against the Collections Sweep Payments that would otherwise be required to be made to the Purchaser.

The provisions of Part B of Schedule 5 (From UK RM Accession Date) in connection with the UK Receivables shall apply to this Agreement with effect from the UK RM Accession Date.

15.2 Additional Seller

(a) The Purchaser agrees that the UK Sub shall be entitled to become an Additional Seller under this Agreement in respect of the UK Receivables by the Seller delivering a Brexit Option Notice to the Purchaser (with a copy to the Security Agent) not less than 30 days prior to the date on which the Seller wishes the UK Sub to become an Additional Seller. The UK Sub shall become an Additional Seller with effect from the date specified in the Brexit Option Notice if:

- (i) the Purchaser has received all of the documents and other evidence listed in Part A of Schedule 20 (Additional Seller Conditions Precedent) in relation to the UK Sub in form and substance satisfactory to the Purchaser acting reasonably. Any amendment and restatement of this Agreement shall not affect sales of Receivables or the rights of Parties arising or accruing under the terms of this Agreement prior to the UK Seller Accession Date.

(c) If the Seller does not elect to deliver a Brexit Option Notice as envisaged by Clause 15.2(a) but nevertheless wishes to make changes to this Agreement in light of the need to cater for Brexit, the Parties agree to negotiate in good faith any changes requested by the Seller to this Agreement, the Receivables Management Agreement and any Transaction Document, and/or to enter into any new documentation which the Seller considers to be necessary or desirable (acting reasonably) to reflect the post-Brexit structure that the Seller and the Seller Group elects to implement in light of applicable law, regulation or official or judicial order of any government, governmental body or court, domestic or foreign, having jurisdiction over it.

(d) Nothing in this Clause 15.2 shall require the Purchaser to enter into any documentation to amend this Agreement that would result in the Purchaser having obligations that are more onerous than those it would have under this Agreement were it not amended or that would result in the Purchaser not having rights under this Agreement equivalent to those it would have were this Agreement not so amended (recognising however that there would be two separate sellers of Receivables).

8. The Parties confirm that the sale of the Back-Book Receivables and any Related Rights in accordance with this Agreement is intended to constitute a true sale of those Back-Book Receivables and Related Rights and not a loan or a security arrangement for any obligation of the Seller. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Transaction Documents, the Purchaser shall have full title and interest in and to the Back-Book Receivables and any Related Rights purchased by the Purchaser in accordance with this Agreement and the Purchaser shall be free to further dispose of those Back-Book Receivables and Related Rights subject to the Security Interests created by, and any restrictions to which it is subject under, the Security Documents and any other Transaction Document, provided always that notice of such sale and purchase will not be given to Borrowers prior to the occurrence of a Notification Event.

9. Each Back-Book Receivable shall be sold subject to and in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement and the Relevant Local Schedule for such Back-Book Receivable, save for the provisions in Clauses 2 (Agreement for Sale and Purchase of the Receivables), 4 (Conditions Precedent), 5 (Consideration), 7 (Completion), 9.1 and 9.2 of this Agreement which shall not apply in respect of the sale of Back-Book Receivables. 10. The Seller shall, following a sale of Back-Book Receivables set out in a Back-Book Sale Notice, deliver a notice to the Purchaser setting out the confirmed loan balances of such Back-Book Receivables as sold to the Purchaser (a Back-Book Confirmation Notice) no later than [] Business Days following the latest Sale Time for such Back-Receivables specified in the relevant Back-Book Sale Notice.

Part B Consideration

2. Within five Business Days after the latest Sale Time for such Back-Book Receivables specified in the relevant Back-Book Sale Notice, the Seller shall deliver to the Purchaser a notice (the True-Up Adjustment Notice), stating the amount of the True-Up Adjustment, which shall be calculated by the Seller as the difference between (i) the Estimated Back-Book Purchase Price for the Back-Book Receivables specified in the relevant Back Book Sale Notice and (ii) the aggregate the Principal Balance of each Back-Book Receivable set out in the Back-Book Sale Notice as at the Sale Time for that Back-Book Receivable multiplied by the Purchase Price Ratio for that Back-Book Receivable (the Actual Back-Book Purchase Price). Each such True-Up Adjustment may require a payment from either the Purchaser (if the relevant Actual Back-Book Purchase Price is greater than the relevant Estimated Back-Book Purchase Price for such Back-Book Receivables) or the Seller (if the relevant Actual Back-Book Purchase Price is less than the Estimated Back-Book Purchase Price for such Back-Book Receivables) to the other Party.

3. If:

(b) the True-Up Adjustment Notice requires a payment to be made by the Purchaser to the Seller, the Purchaser shall cause an amount equal to the True-Up Adjustment to be transferred to the Seller on the next Payment Date relating to a Sale Notice, or failing which within five Business Days of receipt of the True-Up Adjustment Notice.

- (a) any Collections due to be transferred to the Purchaser by the Seller in respect of the Back-Book Receivables or any other Receivables then owned by the Purchaser; and/or
- (b) any further Collections received by the Seller on any subsequent Business Day thereafter until the amount owed to the Seller is settled in full.

4A. In addition, on or before the first Monthly Reporting Date following the latest Sale Time of any Back Book Receivable sold on a Back-Book Sale Date (the [* * *]), the Class C Lender will calculate the difference between:

- (i) the Actual Back-Book Purchase Price applicable to all Back-Book Receivables sold on that Back-Book Sale Date that are DE PayPal Ratenzahlung ([* * *]); and
- (ii) the aggregate of the Principal Balances of each Back-Book Receivable set out in the applicable Back-Book Sale Notice that are DE PayPal Ratenzahlung as at the Sale Time [* * *].

If the amount calculated in paragraph 4A.(i) above is greater than the amount calculated in Paragraph 4A(ii) above the Seller shall pay to the Purchaser an amount equal to the DE PayPal Ratenzahlung Reconciliation Amount on the first Settlement Date falling not earlier than [* * ] Business Days after the relevant DE PayPal Ratenzahlung Reconciliation Date (the [ * *]) provided that the Purchaser may satisfy the amount so owed by the Seller to the Purchaser by way of set-off of the DE PayPal Ratenzahlung Reconciliation Amount against any Purchase Price then payable by the Purchaser under this Agreement.

If the amount calculated in Paragraph 4A(i) above is less than the amount calculated in Paragraph 4A(ii) above the Purchaser shall pay to the Seller an amount equal to the DE PayPal Ratenzahlung Reconciliation Amount on the DE PayPal Ratenzahlung Payment Date provided that the Seller may satisfy the amount so owed by the Purchaser to the Seller by way of set-off of the DE PayPal Ratenzahlung Reconciliation Amount against:

- (a) any Collections due to be transferred to the Purchaser by the Seller in respect of the Back-Book Receivables or any other Receivables then owned by the Purchaser; and/or

-68-

- (b) any further Collections received by the Seller on any subsequent Business Day thereafter until the amount owed to the Seller is settled in full.

5. Following the applicable Sale Time for a Back-Book Receivable:

- (a) the Seller will account to the Purchaser for all sums received by the Seller after the applicable Sale Time which belong to the Purchaser (including, without limitation, any sums received from any Borrower) under or in respect of the Back-Book Receivables which were sold and transferred to the Purchaser at the applicable Sale Time and the Seller will hold the same on trust for the Purchaser as trustee pending such amounts being paid to the Purchaser; and
- (b) the Purchaser shall hold all Third Party Amounts received by it on trust for the Seller or such other third party beneficial owner of such sums, as the case may be.

6. With effect from the applicable Sale Time, the Seller shall continue to observe and perform, or procure the observance and performance of, any obligation to the Borrowers in respect of a Back-Book Receivable and any Related Rights transferred at the applicable Sale Time in accordance with their terms.

Schedule 10

Provisions relating to Sale of Italian Receivables

1. The Italian Receivables and any Related Rights will be assigned (ceduti) pursuant to this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Articles 1260 et seq. and, with respect to Italian Receivables arising from Further Disbursements, to the extent applicable, also Articles 1348 and 1472 of the Italian Civil Code (each, an Italian Assignment).
2. Any Italian Receivables and Related Rights sold pursuant to this Agreement are sold without recourse (pro soluto) (but for the avoidance of doubt without prejudice to any recourse as expressly provided for in this Agreement).
3. The Parties acknowledge and agree that each Italian Assignment shall be deemed effective towards the Purchaser:
 - (a) with respect to any Receivables (and Related Rights) transferred under a SND Title Transfer Option and existing at the time of delivery of the relevant Sale Notice, at each applicable Sale Time upon the upload of the relevant Sale Notice to a secure website accessible by the Purchaser;
 - (b) with respect to any Receivables (and Related Rights) transferred under a Settlement Date Title Transfer Option, immediately following receipt by the Seller of the applicable Purchase Price in full;
 - (c) with respect to any Back-Book Receivables (and Related Rights), following receipt by the Seller of the Estimated Back-Book Purchase Price for such Back-Book Receivables in full on the applicable Back-Book Sale Date;
 - (d) without prejudice to paragraph (e) below, with respect to any Receivables (and Related Rights) arising from Further Disbursements (and, therefore, not existing at the time of delivery of the relevant Sale Notice), on the date on which such Receivables arise as a consequence of the Further Disbursements having been advanced to the relevant Borrower; and
 - (e) with respect to any Receivables (and Related Rights) arising from Further Disbursements which:
 - (i) are transferred pursuant to the Settlement Date Title Transfer Option; and
 - (ii) have arisen during the period between the date of delivery of the relevant Sale Notice and the fifth Business Day after the relevant Sale Notice Date, to the extent the related Receivables (existing at the time of delivery of the relevant Sale Notice) have not been transferred during such period, on the relevant Settlement Date of such related Receivables.
4. The Italian Assignment of any Receivables and Related Rights (including Receivables arising from Further Disbursements and in each case matching the Purchase Conditions) pursuant to this Agreement shall be construed, to the extent applicable, also for the purposes of Article 1331 of the Italian Civil Code, as an option of the Seller to sell and assign to the Purchaser such Receivables (and their Related Rights) and an irrevocable undertaking by the Purchaser to purchase the same on each applicable Title Transfer Date.
5. The Italian Assignment of any Receivables (and Related Rights) arising from Further Disbursements shall be construed, to the extent applicable, also for the purposes of Articles 1348 and 1472 of the Italian Civil Code, as a sale of future receivables, whereby (i) from the date of receipt by the Purchaser of the relevant Sale Notice, the Seller and the Purchaser shall be deemed bound to, respectively, sell and purchase such Receivables once they have come into existence; and (ii) save as provided under Clause 2.16 of this Agreement, such Receivables shall be deemed transferred from the Seller to the Purchaser as soon as they come into existence without any act of the Seller nor the Purchaser being necessary to this end.

6. Without prejudice to paragraph 3 of this Schedule 10, the Parties hereby acknowledge and agree that, should the SND Title Transfer Option apply, the provisions under Clause 2.7 of this Agreement on the failure by the Purchaser to pay the relevant Purchase Price on the applicable Payment Date shall be read and construed, also for the purposes of Article 1353 of the Italian Civil Code, as a condition subsequent (condizione risolutiva) to the relevant Italian Assignment.

7. The Parties agree that, insofar as the Receivables Manager is an entity which is a member of the Seller Group, the Seller is exempted from the obligation to deliver to the Purchaser the documentation in its possession evidencing the Receivables (documenti probatori del credito) pursuant to article 1262 of the Italian Civil Code, provided that the Purchaser has the right to reasonably request the Sellers to deliver such documentation evidencing the Receivables (documenti probatori del credito) as soon as reasonably practicable after its request.

8. In accordance with articles 1264 and 1265 of the Italian Civil Code, each Italian Assignment will be enforceable (opponibile) against the relevant Borrower(s) and third parties from the date it is notified to – or accepted by – such Borrower(s) by means of a notification bearing a date certain at law (data certa) as to both the notification itself and its content, pursuant to article 2704 of the Italian Civil Code.

9. For the purposes of Clause 2 (Agreement for Sale and Purchase of the Receivables), the Related Rights shall include any right, title, benefit, guarantee, Security Interests (if any) and other ancillary rights (accessori del credito) in to, pertaining to and/or under the Receivables pursuant to Article 1263 of the Italian Civil Code.

6. Data Protection

6.1 Subject to Clause 6.3 and Clause 10.10, the Receivables Manager acknowledges that to the extent it processes Personal Data in connection with this Deed, it is doing so as a controller (as that term is defined in the GDPR, or in the case of the UK, the UK GDPR) with independent decisions on the purposes and means of the processing and it shall comply with (i) the Data Protection Legislation and (ii) any equivalent or similar legislation, rules, regulations or principles applicable in any other Relevant Jurisdiction. This includes, but is not limited to:

- (a) processing that Personal Data for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes;
- (b) processing that Personal Data in a manner that ensures appropriate security of the Personal Data including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, using appropriate technical and organisational measures;
- (c) implementing the measures mentioned in sub-clause (b) above, having regard to the state of technological development, the cost of implementing the measures, the nature, scope, context and purpose of processing and the risk of varying likelihood and severity for the rights and freedoms of natural persons so as to ensure a level of security appropriate to the risk. This may include, but is not limited to:
 - (i) the pseudonymisation and encryption of Personal Data;

- (ii) the ability to ensure the ongoing confidentiality, integrity, availability and resilience of processing systems and services;
- (iii) the ability to restore the availability and access to Personal Data in a timely manner in the event of a physical or technical incident; and

6.2 At no time before delivery of a Borrower Notice shall the Receivables Manager transfer any Personal Data to, or take instructions relating to Personal Data from, any other Party, or Parties, in connection with this Deed; and none of the provisions of this Deed or of the Transaction Documents shall be construed in a manner inconsistent with this Clause 6 (Data Protection).

6.3 Upon delivery of a Borrower Notice, the Receivables Manager shall, in respect of the Personal Data in connection with the Purchased Receivables subject to such Borrower Notice, immediately cease acting as controller as regards any processing of such Personal Data, and shall in connection with such Purchased Receivables, only process Personal Data as processor provided that the Receivables Manager shall:

- (a) comply with the terms of the Transitional DPA to ensure compliance with the Data Protection Legislation;
- (b) hold the Records to the order of the Purchaser and the Security Agent (or such person as the Purchaser and the Security Agent shall direct); and
- (c) if instructed by the Purchaser or the Security Agent, transfer the Records, including all Personal Data held in connection with the Records, to such person as the Purchaser, or the Security Agent, shall direct.

For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Clause 6.3 shall prevent the Receivables Manager from retaining and processing Personal Data of Borrowers that do not relate exclusively to the Purchased Receivables.

7. Reporting Requirements

7.1 The Receivables Manager shall deliver to the Purchaser the Receivables Management Report (including, for the avoidance of doubt, data tapes) on each Monthly Reporting Date. The Receivables Manager will transmit the Receivables Management Report to the Purchaser, the Cash Manager, the Security Agent (if requested), the Back-Up Receivables Manager Facilitator (if requested), the Class C Lender, the Class A Facility Agent and the Class B Facility Agent no later than by 10.00 a.m. (London time) on the Monthly Reporting Date. The Purchaser, the Cash Manager, the Security Agent, the Class A Facility Agent and the Class B Facility Agent may transmit the Receivables Management Report to the Class A Facility Providers and the Class B Facility Providers. In addition, the Receivables Manager shall, if requested by the Purchaser and provided that [* * ] or such other agent has given confidentiality undertakings equivalent to those contained in this Agreement and has information security arrangements satisfactory to the Receivables Manager, provide a copy of the Receivables Management Report to [ * *] or to such other agent as may be appointed by the Purchaser to enable the Purchaser to satisfy its reporting requirements under the UK Securitisation Regulation and the EU Securitisation Regulation.

7.1A In addition, the Receivables Manager shall deliver to the Purchaser and the Class C Lender:

- (a) on each Business Day a daily report summarising the Collections received on the second Business Day prior to the date of such daily report together with payments then due between the Seller and the Purchaser under this Agreement and the Receivables Purchase Agreement;
- (b) on each Business Day, a daily report summarising the loan balances on such day of the Portfolio in the form agreed from time to time between the Seller and the Class C Lender; and

(c) by no later than 8:00am on the second Business Day of each calendar week, a weekly report in the form agreed from time to time between the Seller and the Class C Lender setting out Portfolio data as at close of business as recorded in the System on the last Business Day of the prior calendar week.

7.2 The Receivables Manager shall consider in good faith with a view to amending or supplementing the form of the Receivables Management Report from time to time, such changes as may be reasonably required by the Purchaser or any other party to the Transaction Documents to comply with its obligations under the Transaction Documents, provided that nothing in this Clause 7.2 shall require the Receivables Manager to supply any information or data to the extent that the Receivables Manager does not collect or track or calculate such information or data as at the date of this Deed.

7.3 For the avoidance of doubt, the Receivables Management Reports shall not contain any Personal Data.

7.4 The Receivables Manager shall upon request provide reasonable assistance to enable the Purchaser to satisfy its reporting requirements under the UK Securitisation Regulation and the EU Securitisation Regulation provided that nothing shall require the Receivables Manager to supply any information to the extent that the Receivables Manager does not collect or track such information as at the date of this Deed.

8. Cash Management

8.1 Collections

The Receivables Manager will collect, in accordance with the terms of this Deed, from each Borrower amounts due in respect of the Purchased Receivables in accordance with its customary methods from time to time for obtaining funds from a Borrower, including, without limitation, credit or debit card payments, debits of e-money balances, direct debit payments, bank transfers from the Borrower and collections from bank accounts.

8.2 Cash Sweeps

On each Collections Settlement Date, subject to Clause 8.3 and Clause 8.4, the Receivables Manager shall cause all Collections received to be transferred to the relevant Purchaser Bank Account for the appropriate currency within five Business Days of receipt by the Receivables Manager of the relevant Collections (each such payment, a Collections Sweep Payment). The Receivables Manager undertakes to make any Collections Sweep Payment to the Purchaser directly from an account held in the name of the Receivables Manager into which Collections are credited (directly or indirectly).

8.3 The following amounts shall not be transferred to a Purchaser Bank Account on a Collections Settlement Date:

- (a) in respect of the Settlement Date Title Transfer Option, any Collections relating to Receivables sold on and following the Switch Notice becoming effective which are received between the relevant Sale Notice Date and the relevant Settlement Date in respect of any such Receivables; and
- (b) any amount deducted from the Collections by the Receivables Manager under Clause 19.1.

8.4 The Purchaser shall pay to the Receivables Manager on each Payment Date in accordance with then applicable Priority of Payment (i) any Receivables Management Fee then due and payable pursuant to Clause 13.1 and (ii) any other amounts payable by the Purchaser to the Receivables Manager pursuant to this Deed (to the extent, in case of amounts payable under Clause 8.6 (Settlement of Collections) only, not satisfied by set off against the amount of Collections due to be transferred to the Purchaser by the Receivables Manager).

8.5 In relation to any amounts received from a Borrower, these will be allocated first to the satisfaction of any payment due in respect of a NSF Fee (which amount shall be retained by the Seller for its own account), and thereafter in accordance with the terms of the Loan Agreement and any applicable law or regulation.

8.6 Settlement of Collections

If the Receivables Manager has:

- (a) caused any Collections to be transferred to the Purchaser in error; or
- (b) in error caused any Collections which should have been so transferred not to be transferred to the Purchaser at the times and in the amounts contemplated by the Transaction Documents, the Receivables Manager or Purchaser (as applicable) shall (i) as soon as is reasonably practicable upon becoming aware of such, notify the Receivables Manager or Purchaser (as applicable); and (ii) pay the Receivables Manager or the Purchaser (as applicable) on a monthly basis an amount equal to the amount of Collections for the previous calendar month made in error pursuant to sub-clause (a) or not made in error pursuant to sub-clause (b) (as applicable). To satisfy the amount the Purchaser owes to the Receivables Manager, the Receivables Manager shall be entitled to set off the amount of such Collections so owed by the Purchaser to the Receivables Manager against any Collections otherwise due to be transferred to the Purchaser by the Receivables Manager.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Collections made in error pursuant to this Clause 8.6 shall include any payments of Collections made by the Receivables Manager to the Purchaser where the corresponding payment made by the Borrower to the Receivables Manager that is subsequently found to have been unsuccessful.

10. Resignation; Receivables Manager Termination Event

10.1 Resignation

(a) The Receivables Manager may not resign from the obligations and liabilities imposed on it pursuant to the terms of this Deed and each of the other Transaction Documents to which it is a party, provided that:

- (i) the Receivables Manager may, with the prior written consent of the Purchaser or the Security Agent (following the delivery of an Enforcement Notice) (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), resign as Receivables Manager if:
 - (A) an Affiliate of the Receivables Manager or any other person (satisfactory to the Purchaser or the Security Agent (following the delivery of an Enforcement Notice)) has agreed to act as successor receivables manager substantially on the terms and conditions of this Deed;
 - (B) such successor receivables manager has agreed to enter into (i) an agreement on substantially the same terms as this Deed to effect its assumption of the rights and duties of the Receivables Manager under the Transaction Documents; and (ii) any agreements required by applicable laws including Data Protection Legislation, and any notifications to Borrowers required by applicable laws including Data Protection Legislation have been dispatched to each Borrower to their address of record; and
 - (C) the appointment of such successor receivables manager is not likely to (i) give rise to a material additional Tax liability of the Purchaser or a material additional Tax liability for which the Purchaser is liable to indemnify or compensate any other person under the Transaction Documents; or (ii) result in any deduction or withholding for or on account of Tax in respect of an amount payable to the Purchaser under the Transaction Documents; and

(ii) if a resignation is affected under sub-clause (i) above, no such resignation will be effective until such successor receivables manager has been appointed pursuant to the documentation referred to in sub-clause (i) above and the Receivables Manager is in compliance with the requirements under Clause 10.8(a) to (f).

(b) Notwithstanding the resignation rights of the Receivables Manager in sub-clauses (a)(i) and (a)(ii) above, the Receivables Manager may resign if:

- (i) without prejudice to the obligations of the Receivables Manager under this Deed (including, without limitation, under Clause 2.4(b) and Clause 14.1(e)), it becomes unlawful for it to perform or comply with any of its obligations under this Deed (including due to the Receivables Manager failing to hold, maintain or obtain any applicable permission or authorisation from any authority), provided that the Receivables Manager shall not be entitled to resign under this Clause 10.1(b)(i) unless it has made commercially reasonable endeavours to mitigate the circumstances giving rise to such unlawfulness unless such unlawfulness arises in a Relevant Jurisdiction as a result of a Borrower Notice having been given in which event the obligations of the Receivables Manager under the Deed in respect of Purchased Receivables in that Relevant Jurisdiction shall terminate with immediate effect; or
- (ii) such performance becomes, in the opinion of the Receivables Manager, acting reasonably, materially more burdensome as a result of any actual or proposed change in any applicable law or regulation (other than any change to the rates of any Tax) and the Receivables Manager, having used commercially reasonable efforts to mitigate the circumstances giving rise to the impact of the actual or proposed change in any applicable law or regulation, has given not less than 90 days' notice of its resignation to the Purchaser provided that such resignation shall only be effective upon the appointment of a successor receivables manager substantially on the terms and conditions of this Deed.

Each of (i) the Receivables Manager and Purchaser both becoming aware of the relevant unlawfulness under Clause 10.1(b)(i), and (ii) the notification of resignation by the Receivables Manager under Clause 10.1(b)(ii), shall be referred to as a Receivables Manager Resignation Event.

10.2 Receivables Manager Termination Event

The occurrence of any one or more of the following events shall constitute a Receivables Manager Termination Event with respect to the relevant Receivables Manager (in the case of Clause 10.2(i) only, subject to Clause 10.3):

(a) the first date upon which the Purchaser or the Security Agent gives notice, or requests the Seller to give notice, to any Borrower of the sale and assignment of any Purchased Receivable(s), or take any other action pursuant to Clause 8.6(a)] of the Receivables Purchase Agreement, following the occurrence of a Notification Event in accordance with the Receivables Purchase Agreement, provided that, where such notice is only given, or other action is only taken with respect, to Borrowers in a particular jurisdiction but not in all jurisdictions, this Receivables Manager Termination Event shall only cause a termination of the Receivables Manager's duties and obligations under this Deed in relation to the relevant jurisdiction where such notice has been given to Borrowers but shall not cause a termination of this Deed itself;

(b) the Receivables Manager fails to take any action required to transfer any amounts on behalf of the Purchaser (where such failure is not wilful, in an aggregate amount of not less than €100 (or its equivalent in sterling)) pursuant to this Deed and such failure remains unremedied for five Business Days, unless such failure is caused by:

- (i) an administrative or technical error; or
- (ii) a Disruption Event, and payment is made in accordance with the Settlement of Collections process pursuant to Clause 8.6;

(c) other than as set forth in the remainder of this Clause 10.2, the Receivables Manager fails to observe any material covenant or is in breach of its material obligations set forth in the Transaction Documents and such failure remains unremedied for 45 calendar days, commencing on the earlier of:

- (i) the date on which the Receivables Manager has knowledge of that failure; or
- (ii) the date on which written notice of that failure has been delivered to the Receivables Manager by the Purchaser or the Security Agent, provided that such failure will not constitute a Receivables Manager Termination Event: (A) if a plan of remedy is agreed between the Receivables Manager, the Purchaser and the Security Agent (each in their discretion) and such failure is remedied within the time period agreed pursuant to that plan of remedy or (B) subject to sub-clause (e) below, it is caused by a Force Majeure Event;

(d) an Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Receivables Manager;

(e) the Receivables Manager is prevented or severely hindered for a period of 60 calendar days or more from complying with its obligations under this Deed as a result of a Force Majeure Event and such Force Majeure Event continues for 30 calendar days after written notice of such non-compliance has been given to the Receivables Manager by the Purchaser or the Security Agent;

- (f) it becomes unlawful for the Receivables Manager to perform or comply with its material obligations under this Deed (including due to the Receivables Manager failing to hold, maintain or obtain any applicable permission or authorisation from any authority);
- (g) any representation or statement made by the Receivables Manager in this Deed is or proves to have been incorrect or inaccurate in any material respect when made or and (i) such incorrectness or inaccuracy would have a material adverse effect on the ability of the Receivables Manager to satisfy its obligations under this Deed, and (ii) in the case of the representation at Clause 14.1(p) (Information in Receivables Management Reports), any breach of such representation has not been cured within 30 days of the Receivables Manager becoming aware of such breach;
- (h) if 3PL or any other member of the Seller Group ceases to control the Receivables Manager; and
- (i) the Receivables Manager (or any sub-contractor, delegate or service provider) being treated by any Tax Authority as, or deemed to be, a permanent establishment, permanent representative or dependent agent of the Purchaser, in each case, within the meaning of the OECD Model Tax Convention and related commentary and applicable double taxation convention (a PE Event), provided that such PE Event has or will have a material adverse effect on the Purchaser (a PE RM Termination Event).

10.3 In the event that a PE RM Termination Event occurs, following the Receivables Manager's notification of such event pursuant to Clause 10.4:

- (a) where such PE RM Termination Event relates to the Receivables Manager, for a period of 30 days after the date of such notification, the Parties shall consult with each other and cooperate in good faith to agree such changes to the Transaction Documents as the Parties may agree (including changes to the Parties) in order to mitigate the effect of or reduce the additional Tax incurred by the Purchaser as a result of the applicable PE RM Termination Event. If the Parties are unable to agree any such changes within that 30 day period (or such longer period as the Parties may in writing agree), the Purchaser may exercise its termination right pursuant to this Clause 10; and
- (b) where such PE RM Termination Event relates to a sub-contractor, delegate or service provider of the Receivables Manager, the Receivables Manager shall for a period of 30 days (or such longer period as the Parties may in writing agree) use its reasonable endeavours to agree such changes or amendments to the sub-contracting, delegation or service provider arrangements as may reasonably be made in order to mitigate the effect of or reduce the additional Tax incurred by the Purchaser as a result of the applicable PE RM Termination Event. In the event that such amendments or changes cannot reasonably be made within that 30 day period (or such longer period as the Parties may in writing agree), or are insufficient, such that at the end of that period a

PE RM Termination Event continues with respect to the sub-contractor, delegate or service provider, the Purchaser may exercise its termination right pursuant to this Clause 10.

10.4 The Receivables Manager undertakes that it shall upon becoming aware of the occurrence of any Receivables Manager Termination Event notify the Purchaser and the Security Agent in writing of the same as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event within three Business Days of becoming so aware of such notice setting out details of cause of the relevant Receivables Manager Termination Event.

10.5 If any Receivables Manager Termination Event occurs, then the Purchaser may deliver a notice (a Receivables Manager Termination Notice) to the Receivables Manager and the Security Agent setting out the Purchaser's intention to terminate the appointment of the Receivables Manager and to appoint a replacement party to service, administer and collect the Purchased Receivables.

10.6 The Purchaser acknowledges that following delivery of a Receivables Manager Termination Notice or upon occurrence of a Receivables Manager Resignation Event, in certain Relevant Jurisdictions it is required to appoint and maintain a suitably experienced and properly qualified receivables manager in respect of the Purchased Receivables.

10.7 On the occurrence of a Receivables Manager Termination Event or occurrence of a Receivables Manager Resignation Event that would result in the Receivables Manager becoming a processor as regards any processing of Personal Data in connection with the Purchased Receivables, the Receivables Manager shall agree on the terms of a data processing agreement with the relevant controller (in a form prepared by the controller and agreed by the Receivables Manager acting reasonably) (the Transitional DPA). The Transitional DPA shall be entered into by the controller and Receivables Manager and become effective upon the Receivables Manager's receipt of a Receivables Manager Termination Notice or upon the Receivables Manager's resignation becoming effective in accordance with Clause 10.1(b)(i) and Clause 10.1(b)(ii), as applicable. The Transitional DPA shall:

(a) provide instructions from the controller to the Receivables Manager in relation to any Personal Data it is required to process on behalf of the controller during the Receivables Manager Transition (including regarding the transfer of Personal Data to the alternate successor receivables manager, and, to the extent necessary for the serving of Borrower Notices); and

(b) comply with Data Protection Legislation including, but not limited to, Article 28 of the GDPR, and in the case of the UK, Article 28 of the UK GDPR.

10.8 Other than in the event described in Clause 10.1(b)(i) where the Receivables Management Period terminates with effect immediately, following receipt by the Receivables Manager of a Receivables Manager Termination Notice or upon occurrence of a Receivables Manager Resignation Event, the Receivables Management Period shall terminate with effect from the date on which all of the following have been completed: (i) an alternate successor receivables manager has been appointed with the prior written consent of the Purchaser and the Security Agent; (ii) such alternate successor receivables manager has accepted its appointment as successor receivables manager; (iii) such alternate successor receivables manager has entered into a receivables management agreement substantially similar to this Deed or on such other terms as are agreed by the Purchaser; and (iv) a notice containing details of any such appointment and all information required by applicable law (including information (provided by the Receivables Manager) relating to the Receivables Manager's transparency obligations under Data Protection Legislation has been dispatched to each Borrower to their address of record (the period between the date of the Receivables Manager Termination Notice, or the resignation of the Receivables Manager in accordance with Clause 10.1(a), or the occurrence of a Receivables Manager Resignation Event, and the termination of the Receivables Management Period being the Receivables Manager Transition). Until the end of the Receivables Manager Transition the Receivables Manager shall:

(a) comply with the terms of the Transitional DPA;

(b) hold the Records to the order of the Purchaser and the Security Agent (or such person as the Purchaser and the Security Agent shall direct);

(c) provide all reasonable assistance and information subject to compliance with applicable Data Protection Legislation and to the Receivable Manager's data security policies to enable the successor receivables manager to perform the Duties as soon as reasonably practicable, including such records necessary to account for and collect the Purchased Receivables;

(d) hold any monies then held by it on behalf of the Purchaser together with any other assets of the Purchaser then held by it on trust for the benefit and to the order of the Purchaser and, following the delivery of an Enforcement Notice, the Security Agent;

(e) continue to perform all of the Duties unless prevented by any Force Majeure Event or any applicable law and/or regulation or unless otherwise directed by the Purchaser or the Security Agent; and

(f) take such further action in accordance with the terms of this Deed as the Purchaser or the Security Agent may reasonably direct in relation to the Receivables Manager's obligations under this Deed as may be necessary to enable the Duties to be performed by the successor receivables manager.

10.9 Following receipt by the Receivables Manager of a Receivables Manager Termination Notice or upon the Receivables Manager's resignation becoming effective in accordance with Clause 10.1(b)(i) and Clause 10.1(b)(ii), as applicable, the Receivables Manager shall hold the Records to the order of the Purchaser and the Security Agent (or such person as the Purchaser and the Security Agent shall direct) and, if instructed by Purchaser or the Security Agent, and subject to the controller and the Receivables Manager entering into the Transitional DPA in accordance with Clause 9.6, transfer the Records, including all Personal Data held in connection with the Records, to such person as the Purchaser, or the Security Agent, shall direct.

10.10 Once the notice is given to Borrowers in accordance with Clause 10.8(iv) (such that the Receivables Manager ceases to be a controller and is under no obligation to continue to provide the Duties to any other Party), the Receivables Manager shall:

(a) immediately stop processing, as controller, any Personal Data that relate exclusively to the Receivables; and

(b) delete any such Personal Data it processes, as controller that relate exclusively to the Receivables, unless (i) required by law to retain it or (ii) required to do otherwise in its role as processor under the Transitional DPA as instructed by the controller,

In each case without prejudice to any processing of Personal Data the Receivables Manager is instructed to carry out as processor pursuant to the Transitional DPA entered into in accordance with Clause 10.7. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Clause 10.10 shall prevent the Receivables Manager from retaining and processing Personal Data of Borrowers that do not relate exclusively to the Purchased Receivables.

10.11 Clauses 10.8 to 10.10 shall survive the termination of this Deed.

10.12 Without prejudice to the other rights and remedies of the Parties to this Deed set out herein, to the extent that a Party becomes aware of any breach of obligations under this Deed, the Parties agree to promptly notify the other Parties and, to the extent such breach is capable of remedy, to consult with each other and negotiate in good faith to agree a means to remedy and resolve such breach.

10.13 Notwithstanding any other provision of the Transaction Documents, the resignation or termination of the Receivables Manager hereunder or the termination of this Deed shall be without prejudice to the Receivables Manager's obligations under Clauses 9.1, 9.4, 9.11 or 9.13, which shall survive and continue in full force and effect until the end of the Collection Period.

A person who is not a party to this Deed may not enforce any of its terms under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

26. Severability

Where any provision in or obligation under this Deed shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions or obligations under this Deed, or of such provision or obligation in any other jurisdiction, shall not be affected or impaired thereby.

27. Counterparts

28. Limited Recourse and Non-petition

28.1 Limited recourse: Purchaser

Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this Deed or any other Transaction Document, each of the parties to the Transaction Documents (other than the Purchaser) hereby acknowledges and agrees that all obligations of the Purchaser (in any capacity) under or in connection with the Transaction Documents to which the Purchaser is expressed to be a party are limited recourse and sums payable to it in respect of any of the Purchaser's obligations shall be limited to the Purchaser's assets that are available to the Purchaser, subject to and in accordance with the Security Documents and the Priorities of Payment, and if the net proceeds of realisation of the security constituted by the Security Documents are less than the aggregate amount payable by the Purchaser to the Lenders and any other Secured Creditors in respect of its obligations under or in connection with the Transaction Documents (such negative amount being referred to herein as a "shortfall"), the amount payable by the Purchaser to the Receivable Manager, the Lenders and each other Secured Creditor in respect of the Purchaser's obligations under or in connection with such Transaction Document shall be reduced to such amount of the net proceeds as shall be applied in accordance with the Security Documents and the Priorities of Payment, and such parties shall not (directly or indirectly) be entitled to take any further steps against the Purchaser to recover such shortfall, which shall be deemed to be automatically extinguished.

28.2 Non-petition: Purchaser

The parties to this Deed and the Transaction Documents (other than the Purchaser) acknowledge and agree that they (or any other party acting on their behalf) shall not be entitled at any time to institute against the Purchaser, or join in any institution against the Purchaser of, any bankruptcy, reorganisation, arrangement, insolvency, examinership or liquidation proceedings, or other analogous proceedings, or appoint any liquidator, administrator, receiver, examiner, trustee, sequestrator or any similar officer under any applicable bankruptcy or similar law in connection with any obligations of the Purchaser under or in connection with this Deed and the Transaction Documents. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Clause 28.2 shall prevent the Security Agent enforcing the security constituted by the Security Documents in accordance with its terms, provided that in connection with any such enforcement neither the Security Agent nor any receiver appointed thereunder shall take any steps or proceedings to procure the winding up, examinership or liquidation of the Purchaser, save for lodging a claim in the liquidation, administration, or such similar proceedings, of the Purchaser which is initiated by another party or taking proceedings to obtain a declaration or judgment as to the obligations of the Purchaser in relation thereto.

28.3 Corporate obligations: Purchaser

Each of the parties to this Deed and the Transaction Documents (other than the Purchaser) hereby acknowledges and agrees that no recourse under any obligation, covenant, or agreement of the Purchaser contained in any Transaction Document or implied therefrom may be sought by it against any shareholder, officer, agent, employee or manager of the Purchaser, by the enforcement of any assessment or by any proceeding, by virtue of any statute or otherwise, it being expressly agreed and understood that this Deed and the Transaction Documents are corporate obligations of the Purchaser only. Each of the parties hereto (other than the Purchaser) hereby acknowledges and agrees that no personal liability shall attach to or be incurred by the shareholders, officers, agents, employees or managers of the Purchaser, or any of them, under or by reason of any of the obligations, covenants or agreements of the Purchaser contained in any Transaction Document (including this Deed), or implied therefrom, and any and all personal liability of every such shareholder, officer, agent, employee or manager for breaches by the Purchaser of any such obligations, covenants or agreements, either at law or by statute or constitution, of every such shareholder, officer, agent, employee or manager is hereby deemed expressly waived by the parties hereto.

28.4 The provisions of this Clause 28 (Limited Recourse and Non-petition) shall survive the termination of this Deed and the other Transaction Documents.

29. Luxembourg Securitisation Act

Each of the Seller, the Receivables Manager and the Security Agent expressly acknowledges and accepts, and will be deemed to have accepted and acknowledged, that the Purchaser is subject to the Securitisation Act 2004. Each of the Seller, the Receivables Manager and the Security Agent expressly acknowledges and accepts that once all the assets of the Purchaser have been realised, it is not entitled to take any further steps against the Purchaser to recover any further sums due and the right to receive any such sum shall be extinguished. Each of the Seller, the Receivables Manager and the Security Agent accepts not to attach or otherwise seize the assets of the Purchaser. In particular, none of the Seller, the Receivables Manager and the Security Agent shall be entitled to petition or take any other step for the winding-up, the liquidation or the bankruptcy of the Purchaser or any similar insolvency related proceedings. In case of a conflict between the provisions of this Clause 29 (Luxembourg Securitisation Act) and the other provisions of this Deed, the provisions of this Clause 29 (Luxembourg Securitisation Act) shall prevail.

30. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

30.1 This Deed and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with this Deed shall be governed by, and interpreted in accordance with, English law (other than any terms of this Deed specific to the law of any other Relevant Jurisdiction, which shall be construed in accordance with such Relevant Jurisdiction).

30.2 The English courts shall have exclusive jurisdiction in relation to all disputes arising out of or in connection with this Deed (including claims for set-off and counterclaims), including disputes arising out of or in connection with: (i) the creation, validity, effect, interpretation, performance or non-performance of, or the legal relationships established by, this Deed; and (ii) any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with this Deed.
