Table of Contents National Bankshares, Inc. Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements September 30, 2024 (Unaudited) $ in thousands, except per share data

Note 1: General and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies The consolidated financial statements of National Bankshares, Inc. (the "Company") and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, The National Bank of Blacksburg (the "Bank" or "NBB") and National Bankshares Financial Services, Inc. (the "NBFSA") (collectively, the "Company"), conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (the "GAAP") and to general practices within the banking industry. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions between the Company and its subsidiaries have been eliminated. The accompanying interim period consolidated financial statements are unaudited; however, in the opinion of the Company's management, all adjustments consisting of normal recurring adjustments, which are necessary for a fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements, have been included. Application of the principles of GAAP and practices within the banking industry requires management to make estimates, assumptions, and judgments that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. These estimates, assumptions, and judgments are based on information available as of the date of the financial statement; accordingly, as this information changes, the financial statements may reflect different estimates, assumptions, and judgments. Certain policies inherently rely more extensively on the use of estimates, assumptions, and judgments and as such may have a greater possibility of producing results that could be materially different than originally reported. Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change in the near term relate to the determination of the allowance for credit losses on loans and acquisition accounting. The results of operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 are not necessarily indicative of results of operations for the full year or any other interim period. The interim period consolidated financial statements and financial information included in this Form 10-Q should be read in conjunction with the notes to consolidated financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 (the "2023 Form 10-K"). The Company's significant accounting policies followed in preparation of the unaudited consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 1 of the 2023 Form 10-K. All amounts and disclosures included in this quarterly report as of December 31, 2023, were derived from the Company's audited consolidated financial statements. Certain items in the prior period financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the current presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on prior year net income or stockholders' equity. The Company posts all reports required to be filed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 on its web site at www.nationalbankshares.com. In addition to applying significant accounting policies disclosed in Note 1 of the 2023 Form 10-K, the Company implemented accounting policies appropriate for its merger with Frontier Community Bank (the "FCB"). Business combinations are accounted for under Accounting Standards Codification (the "ASC") 805, Business Combinations, using the acquisition method of accounting. The acquisition method of accounting requires an acquirer to record at fair value on the acquisition date the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. To determine the fair values, the Company relies on internal or third-party valuations, such as appraisals, valuations based on discounted cash flow analyses, or other valuation techniques. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the Company identifies the acquirer and the closing date and applies applicable recognition principles and conditions. Acquisition-related costs are costs the Company incurs to effect a business combination. Those costs include advisory, legal, accounting, valuation, and other professional or consulting fees. Some other examples of costs to the Company include systems conversions, integration planning consultants and advertising costs. The Company accounts for acquisition-related costs as expenses in the periods in which the costs are incurred and the services are received, with one exception. The costs to issue debt or equity securities are recognized in accordance with other applicable GAAP. These acquisition-related costs have been and will be included within the consolidated statements of income classified within the noninterest expense caption. The most significant assessment of fair value in the Company's accounting for business combinations relates to the valuation of an acquired loan portfolio. At acquisition, loans are classified as either (i) purchase credit-deteriorated ("PCD") loans or (ii) non-PCD loans and are recorded at fair value on the date of acquisition. PCD loans are those for which there is more than insignificant evidence of credit deterioration since origination. Fair values are determined primarily through a discounted cash flow approach which considers the acquired loans' underlying characteristics, including account types, remaining terms, annual interest rates, interest types, timing of principal and interest payments, current market rates, and remaining balances. Estimates of fair value also include estimates of default, loss severity, and estimated prepayments. At acquisition, an allowance for credit losses ("ACL") for PCD loans is determined based upon the Company's methodology for estimating the ACL on loans. This allowance is credited to the ACL on loans with a corresponding adjustment to the amortized cost basis of the loan on the date of the acquisition. The difference between the new amortized cost basis and the unpaid principal balance is either a noncredit discount or premium that is amortized or accreted to interest income over the remaining life of the loan. Disposals of PCD loans, which may include sale of loans to third parties, receipt of payments in full or in part from the borrower or foreclosure of the collateral, result in removal of the loan from the loan portfolio at its carrying amount. 10 Table of Contents For non-PCD loans, an ACL is established in a manner that is consistent with the Company's originated loans. The ACL is determined using the Company's methodology and the related ACL for non-PCD loans is recorded through a charge to the provision for credit losses in the period in which the loans are purchased or acquired. The entirety of any purchase discount or premium on non-PCD loans is amortized or accreted to interest income over the remaining life of the loan. In accordance with ASC 805, the Company also identified intangible assets acquired. Intangible assets lack physical substance but have contractual or other legal rights or are capable of being sold or exchanged either on their own or in combination with a related contract, asset or liability. Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value. Determining fair value is subjective, requiring the use of estimates, assumptions and management judgment. Intangible assets that have finite lives are amortized over their estimated useful lives and are subject to impairment testing. Upon acquisition of FCB, the Company recognized a core deposit intangible asset, which represents the value of customer deposit relationships. Core deposit intangible assets are amortized over an estimated useful life of 10 years using an accelerated method which approximates the estimated attrition of the acquired deposits. Risks and Uncertainties The Company is closely monitoring risks that may impact its business, including high inflation, along with U.S. monetary policy maneuvers to reduce inflation. Inflation and U.S. monetary policy maneuvers to reduce it may impact the Company's customers' demand for banking services and ability to qualify for and/or repay loans. These risks could adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, credit risk, asset valuations and capital position. Recent Accounting Pronouncements ASU 2023-09 In December 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update (the "ASU") 2023-09, the "Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures." The amendments in this ASU require an entity to disclose specific categories in the rate reconciliation and provide additional information for reconciling items that meet a quantitative threshold, which is greater than five percent of the amount computed by multiplying pretax income by the entity's applicable statutory rate, on an annual basis. Additionally, the amendments in this ASU require an entity to disclose the amount of income taxes paid (net of refunds received) disaggregated by federal, state, and foreign taxes and the amount of income taxes paid (net of refunds received) disaggregated by individual jurisdictions that are equal to or greater than five percent of total income taxes paid (net of refunds received). Lastly, the amendments in this ASU require an entity to disclose income (or loss) from continuing operations before income tax expense (or benefit) disaggregated between domestic and foreign and income tax expense (or benefit) from continuing operations disaggregated by federal, state, and foreign. This ASU is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments should be applied on a prospective basis; however, retrospective application is permitted. The Company does not expect the adoption of ASU 2023-09 to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements. In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, the "Income Statement Reporting Comprehensive Income" Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses. ASU 2024-03 requires public companies to disclose, in the notes to the financial statements, specific information about certain costs and expenses at each interim and annual reporting period. This includes disclosing amounts related to employee compensation, depreciation, and intangible asset amortization. In addition, public companies will need to provide qualitative description of the amounts remaining in relevant expense captions that are not separately disaggregated quantitatively. ASU 2024-03 is effective for public business entities for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. Implementation of ASU 2024-03 may be applied prospectively or retrospectively. The Company does not expect the adoption of ASU 2024-03 to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements.

Note 2: Business Combination On June 1, 2024 (the "Acquisition Date"), the Company completed its acquisition of FCB, a Virginia chartered commercial bank, in accordance with the definitive merger agreement that was entered into on January 23, 2024, by and among the Company, the Bank and FCB. Upon completion of the merger, former FCB shareholders received a combination of the Company's common stock and cash. The acquisition of FCB was accounted for as a business combination using the acquisition method of accounting. Assets acquired, liabilities assumed, and consideration paid were recorded at estimated fair value on the Acquisition Date. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets was recorded as provisional goodwill and represents the benefit from the transaction that is not otherwise quantifiable, including expected management and operational synergies and intangible assets that do not qualify for separate recognition. The Company will keep the measurement of goodwill open for twelve months following the Acquisition Date in order to reflect any adjustments to the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed that may arise during the Company's final review procedures of any updated information. The Company does not expect that any portion of goodwill will be deductible.

(1) The Company issued 464,855 shares of its common stock valued at $30.76 per share, which was the closing price of the Company's common stock on May 31, 2024, the last day of trading prior to the consummation of the acquisition. (2) Cash consideration was paid for shareholder elections, fractional shares and to settle outstanding vested stock options. The merger agreement provided for up to 10% of consideration to be paid in cash of $14.48 per FCB common share, at the shareholders' election. Payments for shareholder elections and fractional shares totaled $1,769. Outstanding and vested options were settled at the difference between $14.48 and the strike price and totaled $281. Management made significant estimates and exercised significant judgment in accounting for the acquisition of FCB. The following is a brief description of the valuation methodologies used to estimate the fair values of major categories of assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The Company utilized a valuation specialist to assist with the determination of fair values for certain acquired assets and assumed liabilities. Cash and equivalents Included in cash and equivalents are an investment in time deposits of other financial institutions, valued at the present value of the expected contractual payments discounted at market rates for instruments with similar terms. Securities The estimated fair value of the acquired portfolio of debt securities was based on quoted market prices. All of the acquired portfolio was sold upon completion of the acquisition. 12 Table of Contents Loans The fair valuation process identified loans with credit risk indicators that qualified for PCD status. PCD and non-PCD loans were then evaluated for credit risk and other fair value indicators. Consistent with GAAP, FCB's related allowance for credit losses on loans and deferred fees and costs were not recorded. Credit risk was quantified using a probability of default ("PD")/loss given default ("LGD") methodology from a market participant perspective and applied to each loan's outstanding principal balance. PD/LGD rates were tailored to PCD or non-PCD status. Other fair value indicators were quantified using a discounted cash flow methodology, with discounts applied for current market rates, credit risk or write-downs of individual assets. The following describes the valuation techniques used by the Company to measure certain assets recorded at fair value on a nonrecurring basis in the consolidated financial statements.Loans Held for SaleLoans held for sale are carried at the lower of cost or fair value. These loans currently consist of one-to-four family residential loans originated for sale in the secondary market. Fair value is based on the price secondary markets are currently offering for similar loans using observable market data which is not materially different than cost due to the short duration between origination and sale (Level 2). As such, the Company records any fair value adjustments on a nonrecurring basis. A liability of $3 for the fair value of loans held for sale was recorded as of September 30, 2024. No nonrecurring fair value adjustments were recorded on loans held for sale at December 31, 2023.Collateral Dependent Loans Collateral dependent loans are measured on a non-recurring basis for the ACLL. If the fair value of the collateral is lower than the loan’s amortized cost basis, the shortfall is recognized in the ACLL. When repayment is expected from the operation of the collateral, fair value is estimated as the present value of expected cash flows from the operation of the collateral. When repayment is expected from the sale of the collateral, fair value is estimated using measurement techniques discussed below and discounted by the estimated cost to sell. The ACLL may be zero if the fair value of the collateral at the measurement date exceeds the amortized cost basis of the financial asset.For loans secured by real estate, fair value of collateral is determined by the “as-is” value of appraisals or third party evaluations that are less than 24 months of age. Appraisals are prepared by independent, licensed appraisers. Appraisals are based upon observable market data analyzed through an income or sales valuation approach. Valuation falls within Level 2 categorization. The Company may further discount appraisals for marketing strategies, which results in Level 3 categorization. The value of business equipment is based upon an outside appraisal (Level 2) if deemed significant, or the net book value on the applicable business’s financial statements (Level 3) if not considered significant. Likewise, values for inventory and accounts receivables collateral are based on financial statement balances or aging reports (Level 3). As of September 30, 2024, one consumer real estate loan totaling $84 and three commercial real estate loans totaling $9,344 were collateral dependent. Valuation of the consumer real estate loan and two of the commercial real estate loans were based upon third party evaluations (Level 2). Valuation for one commercial real estate loan was based upon an internal evaluation (Level 3). None of the measurements resulted in a specific allocation. 25 Table of Contents Fair Value SummaryThe following presents the recorded amount, fair value, and placement in the fair value hierarchy of the Company’s financial instruments as of the dates indicated. Fair values are estimated using the exit price notion. Noninterest revenue streams such as service charges on deposit accounts, other service charges and fees, credit and debit card fees, trust income, and annuity and insurance commissions are recognized in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606). Topic 606 does not apply to revenue associated with financial instruments, including revenue from loans and securities. In addition, certain noninterest income streams such as financial guarantees, derivatives, and certain credit card fees are outside the scope of the guidance. Noninterest revenue streams within the scope of Topic 606 are discussed below. Service Charges on Deposit AccountsService charges on deposit accounts consist of monthly service fees, overdraft and nonsufficient funds fees, ATM fees, wire transfer fees, and other deposit account related fees. The Company’s performance obligation for monthly service fees is generally satisfied, and the related revenue recognized, over the period in which the service is provided. Payment for service charges on deposit accounts is primarily received immediately or in the following month through a direct charge to customers’ accounts. ATM fees are primarily generated when a Company cardholder uses a non-Company ATM or a non-Company cardholder uses a Company ATM. Wire transfer fees, overdraft and nonsufficient funds fees and other deposit account related fees are transactional based, and therefore, the Company’s performance obligation is satisfied, and related revenue recognized, at a point in time.Other Service Charges and FeesOther service charges include safe deposit box rental fees, check ordering charges, and other service charges. Safe deposit box rental fees are charged to the customer on an annual basis and recognized upon receipt of payment. The Company determined that since 27 Table of Contents rentals and renewals occur fairly consistently over time, revenue is recognized on a basis consistent with the duration of the performance obligation. Check ordering charges are transactional based, and therefore the Company’s performance obligation is satisfied, and related revenue recognized, at a point in time. Credit and Debit Card FeesCredit and debit card fees are primarily comprised of interchange fee income and merchant services income. Interchange fees are earned whenever the Company’s debit and credit cards are processed through card payment networks such as Visa and MasterCard. Merchant services income mainly represents commission fees based upon merchant processing volume. The Company’s performance obligation for interchange fee income and merchant services income are largely satisfied, and related revenue recognized, when the services are rendered or upon completion. Payment is typically received immediately or in the following month. In compliance with Topic 606, credit and debit card fee income is presented net of associated expense.Trust IncomeTrust income is primarily comprised of fees earned from the management and administration of trusts and estates and other customer assets. The Company’s performance obligation is generally satisfied over time and the resulting fees are recognized monthly, based upon the month-end market value of the assets under management and the applicable fee rate. Payment is generally received a few days after month end through a direct charge to customers’ accounts. The Company does not earn performance-based incentives. Estate management fees are based upon the size of the estate. A partial fee is recognized half-way through the estate administration and the remainder of the fee is recognized when remaining assets are distributed and the estate is closed.Insurance and InvestmentInsurance income primarily consists of commissions received on insurance product sales. The Company acts as an intermediary between the Company’s customer and the insurance carrier. The Company’s performance obligation is generally satisfied upon the issuance of the insurance policy. Shortly after the insurance policy is issued, the carrier remits the commission payment to the Company, and the Company recognizes the revenue. Investment income consists of recurring revenue streams such as commissions from sales of mutual funds, annuities and other investments. Commissions from the sale of mutual funds, annuities and other investments are recognized on trade date, which is when the Company has satisfied its performance obligation. The Company also receives periodic service fees (i.e., trailers) from mutual fund companies typically based on a percentage of net asset value. Trailer revenue is recorded over time, usually monthly or quarterly, as net asset value is determined.OREO Gains and LossesThe Company records a gain or loss from the sale of other real estate owned (OREO) when control of the property transfers to the buyer, which generally occurs at the time of an executed deed. When the Company finances the sale of OREO to the buyer, the Company assesses whether the buyer is committed to perform their obligations under the contract and whether collectability of the transaction price is probable. Once these criteria are met, the OREO asset is derecognized and the gain or loss on sale is recorded upon the transfer of control of the property to the buyer.The following presents noninterest income, segregated by revenue streams in-scope and out-of-scope of Topic 606, for the periods indicated: Three Months Ended September 30, Noninterest Income 2024 2023 In-scope of Topic 606: Service charges on deposit accounts $ 753 $ 642 Other service charges and fees $ 82 $ 151 Credit and debit card fees, net $ 344 $ 395 Trust income $ 580 $ 505 Insurance and Investment (included within Other Income in the Consolidated Statements of Income) $ 126 $ 142 Noninterest Income (in-scope of Topic 606) $ 1,885 $ 1,835 Noninterest Income (out-of-scope of Topic 606) $ 387 $ 280 Total noninterest income $ 2,272 $ 2,115 28 Table of Contents Nine Months Ended September 30, Noninterest Income 2024 2023 In-scope of Topic 606: Service charges on deposit accounts $ 2,150 $ 1,871 Other service charges and fees $ 176 $ 253 Credit and debit card fees, net $ 1,141 $ 1,276 Trust income $ 1,596 $ 1,431 Insurance and Investment (included within Other Income in the Consolidated Statements of Income) $ 558 $ 539 Noninterest Income (in-scope of Topic 606) $ 5,621 $ 5,370 Noninterest Income (out-of-scope of Topic 606) $ 1,096 $ 1,735 Total noninterest income $ 6,717 $ 7,105 Note 9: LeasesThe Company’s leases are recorded under ASC Topic 842, Leases. The Company categorizes leases as short-term, operating or finance leases. Leases with terms of 12 months or less are designated as short-term and are not capitalized. Operating and finance leases are capitalized as right-of-use assets and lease liabilities. Right-of-use assets, included in other assets, represent the Company’s right to use the underlying asset for the lease term and are calculated as the sum of the lease liability and if applicable, prepaid rent, initial direct costs and any incentives received from the lessor. Lease liabilities, included in other liabilities, represent the Company’s obligation to make lease payments and are presented at each reporting date as the net present value of the remaining contractual cash flows. Cash flows are discounted at the Company’s incremental borrowing rate in effect at the commencement date of the lease. The Company does not separate non-lease components from lease components within a single contract. Counterparties for the Company’s lease contracts are external to the Company and not related parties. On June 1, 2024, the Company’s acquisition of FCB added two long-term branch leases. At the Acquisition Date, the leases were remeasured using the Company’s incremental borrowing rate and remaining lease terms, resulting in an increase of $548 to the right of use asset and the lease liability.Lease paymentsShort-term lease payments are recognized as lease expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term, or for variable lease payments, in the period in which the obligation was incurred. Operating and finance lease payments may be fixed for the term of the lease or variable. If the escalation factor for a variable lease payment is known, such as a specified percentage increase per year or a stated increase at a specified time, the variable payment is included in the cash flows used to determine the lease liability. If the variable payment is based upon an unknown escalator, such as the consumer price index at a future date, the increase is not included in the cash flows used to determine the lease liability. Options to Extend, Residual Value Guarantees, Restrictions and CovenantsCertain of the Company’s operating leases offer the option to extend the lease term and the Company has included such extensions in its calculation of the lease liabilities to the extent the options are reasonably certain of being exercised. The lease agreements do not provide for residual value guarantees and have no restrictions or covenants that would impact dividends or require incurring additional financial obligations. The following tables present information about leases as of the dates and for the periods indicated: September 30, 2024 December 31, 2023 Lease liability $ 1,626 $ 1,127 Right-of-use asset $ 1,404 $ 1,096 Weighted average remaining lease term (in years) $ 4.89 $ 4.39 Weighted average discount rate $ 3.85 % $ 3.29 % For the Three Months Ended September 30, Lease Expense 2024 Operating lease expense $ 127 $ 91 Short-term lease expense $ 5 $ 10 Total lease expense $ 132 $ 101 Cash paid for amounts included in lease liabilities $ 131 $ 100 29 Table of Contents For the Nine Months Ended September 30, Lease Expense 2024 Operating lease expense $ 315 $ 275 Short-term lease expense $ 16 $ 11 Total lease expense $ 331 $ 286 Cash paid for amounts included in lease liabilities $ 330 $ 286 Right-of-use assets obtained in exchange for operating lease liabilities commencing during the period $ 548 $ 5 The following table presents a maturity schedule of undiscounted cash flows that contribute to the lease liability: Undiscounted Cash Flow for the Period As of September 30, 2024 Twelve months ending September 30, 2025 $ 397 Twelve months ending September 30, 2026 $ 352 Twelve months ending September 30, 2027 $ 303 Twelve months ending September 30, 2028 $ 304 Twelve months ending September 30, 2029 $ 178 Thereafter $ 239 Total undiscounted cash flows $ 1,773 Less: discount $ (147) Lease liability $ 1,626 Note 10: Stock Based CompensationThe Company’s 2023 Stock Incentive Plan (the Plan) was approved by shareholders at the annual shareholders meeting on May 9, 2023. The Plan provides for the grant of various forms of stock-based compensation awards that may be settled in, or based upon the value of, the Company’s common stock. The maximum number of shares available for issuance under the Plan is 120,000 shares. For further information on the Plan, refer to the Company’s Proxy Statement filed with the SEC on March 28, 2024 and the Company’s S-8 filed with the SEC on June 7, 2023. Restricted Stock AwardsUnder the Plan, non-employee directors receive restricted stock awards (the RSAs) each June and December. The RSAs are valued at the closing stock price on the grant date and expensed over the one-year vesting period. Stock based compensation expense charged against income was $28 and $93 for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024. As of September 30, 2024, expense of $61 related to the nonvested RSAs is expected to be recognized over the coming 12 months. A summary of changes in the Company’s nonvested RSAs under the Plan for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 follows: Shares At Weighted-Average Grant-Date Fair Value Nonvested at January 1, 2024 $ 4,095 $ 30.73 Granted $ 2,796 $ 30.00 Vested and released $ (2,052) $ 30.70 Forfeited $ (460) $ 30.38 Nonvested at September 30, 2024 $ 4,379 $ 30.32 30 Table of Contents Note 11: Net Income Per Common ShareThe factors used in the computation of net income per common share for the periods indicated are presented below: For the Three Months Ended September 30, 2024 2023 Net Income (Numerator) Common Shares1A (Denominator) Per Share Net Income (Numerator) Common Shares1A (Denominator) Per Share Basic net income per common share $ 2,676 $ 6,356,594 $ 0.42 $ 3,074 $ 5,889,687 $ 0.52 Dilutive shares for restricted stock awards $ 1,758 $ 252 $ Diluted net income per common share $ 2,676 $ 6,358,352 $ 0.42 $ 3,074 $ 5,889,939 $ 0.52 For the Nine Months Ended September 30, 2024 2023 Net Income (Numerator) Common Shares1A (Denominator) Per Share Net Income (Numerator) Common Shares1A (Denominator) Per Share Basic net income per common share $ 4,544 $ 6,092,468 $ 0.75 $ 4,495 $ 5,889,687 $ 1.95 Dilutive shares for restricted stock awards $ 1,974 $ 91 $ Diluted net income per common share $ 4,544 $ 6,094,442 $ 0.75 $ 4,495 $ 5,889,778 $ 1.95 (1)Weighted average outstanding RSA grants are disregarded in the computation of diluted net income per share if they are determined to be anti-dilutive. Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements We make forward-looking statements in this Form 10-Q that are subject to significant risks and uncertainties. These forward-looking statements include statements regarding our profitability, liquidity, allowance for credit losses, interest rate sensitivity, market risk, growth strategy, and financial and other goals, and are based upon management's views and assumptions as of the date of this report. The words believes, expect, may, will, should, projects, contemplates, anticipates, forecasts, intends, or other similar words or terms are intended to identify forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based upon or are affected by factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from historical results or from any results expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. These factors include, but are not limited to, effects of or changes in: interest rates; the ability to maintain adequate liquidity by retaining deposit customers and secondary funding sources, especially if the Company's or banking industry's reputation becomes damaged; the adequacy of the level of the Company's allowance for credit losses, the amount of credit loss provisions required in future periods, and the failure of assumptions underlying the allowance for credit losses; general and local economic conditions; monetary and fiscal policies of the U.S. Government, including policies of the U.S. Treasury, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (the OCC), the Federal Reserve, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (the FDIC), and the impact of any policies or programs implemented pursuant to financial reform legislation; unanticipated increases in the level of unemployment in the Company's market; the quality or composition of the loan and/or investment portfolios; demand for loan products; deposit flows; competition; demand for financial services in the Company's market; the real estate market in the Company's market; laws, regulations and policies impacting financial institutions; technological risks and developments, and cyber-threats, attacks or events; the Company's technology initiatives; geopolitical conditions, including acts or threats of terrorism and/or military conflicts, or actions taken by the U.S. or other governments in response to acts or threats of terrorism and/or military conflicts; the occurrence of significant natural disasters, including severe weather conditions, floods, health related issues, and other catastrophic events; the Company's ability to identify, attract, and retain experienced management, relationship managers, and support personnel, particularly in a competitive labor environment; performance by the Company's counterparties or vendors; applicable accounting principles, policies and guidelines, and risks associated with mergers, acquisitions, and other expansion activities. On June 1, 2024, the Company and the Bank acquired Frontier Community Bank (the FCB). In addition to the factors described above, the Company's operations, performance, business strategy and results may be affected by the following factors: the businesses of the Company and Frontier may not be integrated successfully after the merger or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or more costly than expected; the cost savings and synergies contemplated by the merger may not be fully realized or realized within the expected timeframe; revenues following the merger may be lower than expected; customer and employee relationships and business operations may be disrupted by the merger. 32 Table of Contents These risks and uncertainties should be considered in evaluating the forward-looking statements contained in this report. We caution readers not to place undue reliance on those statements, which speak only as of the date of this report. This discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the description of our Risk Factors in Item 1A of the 2023 Form 10-K. Overview NBI is a financial holding company that was organized in 1986 under the laws of Virginia and is registered under the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956. NBI common stock is listed on the Nasdaq Capital Market and is traded under the symbol NKSH. NBI has two wholly-owned subsidiaries; the National Bank of Blacksburg ("NBB") and National Bankshares Financial Services, Inc. ("NBFS"). NBB is a community bank and does business as National Bank from 27 office locations and two loan production offices. NBFS is the source of nearly all of the Company's revenue. NBFS does business as National Bankshares Investment Services and National Bankshares Insurance Services. Income from NBFS is not significant at this time, nor is it expected to be so in the near future. The Company expects construction of a new branch in Roanoke, Virginia to be completed during the fourth quarter of 2024. The full service branch will expand our already successful loan production office and enhance our business opportunities in the Roanoke Valley. Critical Accounting Policies The Company's consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with GAAP. The financial information contained within our statements is, to a significant extent, based on measures of the financial effects of transactions and events that have already occurred. A variety of factors could affect the ultimate value obtained when earning income, recognizing an expense, recovering an asset or relieving a liability. Although the economics of the Company's transactions may not change, the timing of events that would impact the transactions could change. Critical accounting policies are most important to the portrayal of the Company's financial condition or results of operations and require management's most difficult, subjective, and complex judgments about matters that are inherently uncertain. If conditions occur that differ from our assumptions, depending upon the severity of such differences, the Company's financial condition or results of operations may be materially impacted. The Company has designated the following policies as critical: those governing the allowance for credit losses, goodwill, the pension plan, core deposit intangibles and loans acquired in a business combination. The Company evaluates its critical accounting estimates and assumptions on an ongoing basis and updates them as needed. For information on the allowance for credit losses, goodwill and the pension plan, please refer to the Company's 2023 Form 10-K. Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies. For information on policies governing core deposit intangibles and loans acquired in a business combination, please refer to Note 1: General and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies of this Form 10-Q report. Acquisition of Frontier Community Bank On June 1, 2024, the Company and the Bank acquired FCB, a Virginia chartered commercial bank headquartered in Waynesboro, Virginia. FCB's balances and results of operations are included in the Company's consolidated results beginning on the Acquisition Date. The acquisition was made pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated January 23, 2024, by and among the Company, the Bank and FCB under which FCB merged with and into the Bank (the FCB Merger Agreement). Pursuant to the terms of the FCB Merger Agreement, at the effective time of the acquisition, each share of FCB common stock was converted into either $14.48 in cash or 0.4250 shares of the Company's common stock, with FCB shareholders having the ability to elect the merger consideration to be received, subject to the allocation and proration procedures set forth in the FCB Merger Agreement. The Company issued 464,855 shares of common stock and paid $2,050 to former FCB shareholders in the acquisition. As a result of the transaction, the Bank expanded its operations into the Waynesboro, Staunton and Lynchburg, Virginia markets. Please refer to Note 2: Business Combination in Part I, Item 1 of this report for additional information of the acquisition of FCB. Non-GAAP Financial Measures This report refers to certain financial measures that are computed under a basis other than GAAP (the non-GAAP). The Company uses certain non-GAAP financial measures to provide meaningful supplemental information regarding the Company's operational performance and to enhance investors' overall understanding of such financial performance. The methodology for determining these non-GAAP measures may differ among companies. Non-GAAP measures are supplemental and not a substitute for, or more important than, financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. Details on non-GAAP measures follow. 33 Table of Contents Net Interest Margin The Company uses the net interest margin to measure profit on interest generating activities, as a percentage of total interest-earning assets. The Company's net interest margin is calculated on a fully taxable equivalent (the FTE) basis. The portion of interest income that is nontaxable is grossed up to the tax equivalent by adding the tax benefit based on a tax rate of 21%. Annualized FTE net interest income is divided by total average earning assets to calculate the net interest margin. The following tables present the reconciliation of tax equivalent net interest income, which is not a measurement under GAAP, to net interest income, for the periods indicated. A Three Months Ended September 30, A Net Interest Margin, FTE A 2024 A 2023 A Interest income (GAAP) A $ 18,666 A $ 14,679 A Add: FTE adjustment A 241 A A 229 A Interest income, FTE (non-GAAP) A 18,907 A A 14,908 A Interest expense (GAAP) A 9,218 A A 6,039 A Net interest income, FTE (non-GAAP) A 9,689 A A 8,869 A Average balance of interest-earning assets A $ 1,754,031 A A $ 1,581,042 A Net interest margin A 2.20 % A 2.23 % A A Nine Months Ended September 30, A Net Interest Margin, FTE A 2024 A 2023 A Interest income (GAAP) A $ 51,805 A A $ 43,320 A Add: FTE adjustment A 729 A A 648 A Interest income, FTE (non-GAAP) A 52,534 A A 43,968 A Interest expense (GAAP) A 25,412 A A 14,517 A Net interest income, FTE (non-GAAP) A $ 27,122 A A $ 29,451 A Average balance of interest-earning assets A $ 1,694,186 A A $ 1,605,202 A Net interest margin A 2.14 % A 2.45 % A Efficiency Ratio The efficiency ratio is computed by dividing noninterest expense by the sum of FTE net interest income and noninterest income, excluding certain items the Company's management deems unusual or non-recurring. This is a non-GAAP financial measure that the Company believes provides investors with important information regarding operational efficiency. The components of the efficiency ratio calculation for the periods indicated are summarized in the following table. Adjusted Return on Average Assets and Adjusted Return on Average Equity The adjusted return on average assets and adjusted return on average equity are measures of profitability, calculated by annualizing net income and dividing by average year-to-date assets or equity, respectively. Larger nonrecurring income or expenses are not annualized, in order to reduce distortion within the ratios. The tables below present the reconciliation of adjusted annualized net income, which is not a measurement under GAAP, for the periods indicated. (2)As of September 30, 2024, the Company had 4,379 unvested shares of restricted stock outstanding with a one year vesting period. Net income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 decreased when compared with the comparable period of 2023, due to net interest margin compression, merger related expenses and contract termination expense. The net interest margin as well as key noninterest income and expense items are discussed below. (6)Daily averages are shown at amortized cost. (7)Includes restricted stock. In September, 2024, the Federal Reserve cut its target interest rate by 50 basis points. This cut had an immediate impact on deposits with pricing based on the prime interest rate. Competitive pressure for deposits began in 2023 and continues to contribute to higher cost of funds and compressed net interest margin when results for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 are compared with the same periods of 2023. However, the Company expects the interest rate cut to benefit deposit costs during the fourth quarter of 2024. While the interest rate cut is expected to reduce deposit costs, current interest rates are still at a level that will allow interest income and the yield on earning assets to grow as adjustable loans reach repricing dates. Other service charges and fees decreased when the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 are compared with the comparable periods of 2023, due to lower fees associated with letters of credit and one time fee income received in 2023. Credit and debit card fees, net, decreased when the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 are compared with the comparable periods of 2023, due to higher processing fees. Trust income increased due to higher volume, when the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 are compared with the comparable periods of 2023. BOLI income increased when the three month period ended September 30, 2024 is compared with the comparable period of 2023 due to income from the BOLI policies acquired with the FCB merger. BOLI income decreased when the nine month period ended September 30, 2024 is compared with the comparable period of 2023 due to the settlement of a policy in the second quarter of 2023. The Company recorded a gain on the sale of an investment and a loss on the sale of securities during the second quarter of 2023. The sale of securities is discussed in more detail under the Securities section below. Other income includes revenue from investment and insurance sales, adjustments to partnership basis and other miscellaneous components. During 2023, the Company recognized an incentive payment from a vendor. Key noninterest expense changes include occupancy, furniture and fixtures, professional services, merger-related expenses, and contract termination expenses. Occupancy, furniture and fixtures expense increased when compared with 2023 due to the addition of assets acquired in the FCB merger and the receipt of a one-time insurance reimbursement during 2023. Professional services include legal and other expenses for the Company’s response to a proxy contest from an activist shareholder during 2023, which amounted to $786 for the nine months ended September 30, 2023. During 2024, the Company recorded expenses associated with its acquisition of FCB, including executive and employee severance benefits and legal and consulting fees. During the second quarter of 2024, the Company recorded a contract termination expense when it gave formal notification to a vendor that it intends to end its relationship in 2025. Included in various categories of noninterest expense are expenses to manage cybersecurity risk. The cost of these measures was $92 for the three months ended September 30, 2024 and $141 for the three months ended September 30, 2023. For the nine months ended September 30, 2024, the total cybersecurity expense was $276 compared to $424 for the nine months ended September 30, 2023. The Company places high priority on cybersecurity. The decrease in expense reflects renegotiation of contracts and licensing. Income Tax The Company’s income tax expense for the three months ended September 30, 2024 was $550. For the three months ended September 30, 2023, the Company recorded an income tax expense of $617. For the nine months ended September 30, 2024, the Company’s income tax expense was $891 and effective tax rate was 16.39%. For the nine months ended September 30, 2023, the Company’s income tax expense was $2,105 and effective tax rate was 15.47%. A significant portion of the merger related expense was not tax deductible, resulting in an increase to the Company’s effective tax rate for 2024. During 2023, the Company recognized a gain on the settlement of a BOLI policy that was not taxable. The Company’s risk analysis as of September 30, 2024 determined an ACLL of $10,328, or 1.03% of loans net of unearned income and deferred fees and costs. This compares with an allowance of $9,094 as of December 31, 2023, or 1.06% of loans. To determine the 40 Table of Contents appropriate level of the ACLL, the Company considers credit risk for individually evaluated loans and for groups of loans evaluated collectively. Individually Evaluated Loans Individually evaluated loans were $10,713 as of September 30, 2024, a slight increase from $10,544 as of December 31, 2023. As of September 30, 2024, four individually evaluated loans were collateral dependent but were adequately collateralized and did not result in an individual allocation. The remaining individually evaluated loans were measured using the discounted cash flow method, resulting in an allocation of $85. Collectively Evaluated Loans Collectively evaluated loans totaled $991,528, with an ACLL of $10,243 as of September 30, 2024. As of December 31, 2023, collectively evaluated loans totaled $846,631, with an allowance of $8,522. Collectively evaluated loans are divided into classes based upon risk characteristics. Utilizing historical loss information and peer data, the Company calculates probability of default and loss given default for each class, which is adjusted for a reasonable and supportable forecast. Cash flow projections based on each loan’s contractual terms are modified by the adjusted probability of default and loss given default for its class. Loan classes are allocated additional loss estimates based upon the Company’s analysis of qualitative factors including economic measures, asset quality indicators, loan characteristics, and changes to internal Company policies and management. Reasonable and Supportable Forecast The Company applies national unemployment forecasts to project cash flows. The Company determined that 12 months represents a reasonable and supportable forecast period as of September 30, 2024, and set a period of 12 months to revert to historical losses on a straight-line basis. The forecast applied as of September 30, 2024 projects that unemployment will rise over the next 12 months to a higher level than the forecast applied as of December 31, 2023. The higher unemployment forecast increased the required level of the ACLL when September 30, 2024 is compared with December 31, 2023. Qualitative Factors: Economic The Company sources economic data pertinent to its market from the most recently available publications, including business and personal bankruptcy filings, the residential vacancy rate and the inventory of new and existing homes. Higher bankruptcy filings indicate heightened credit risk and increase the ACLL, while lower bankruptcy filings have a beneficial impact on credit risk. Compared with data available as of December 31, 2023, business and personal bankruptcies filings increased slightly. Residential vacancy rates and housing inventory impact the Company’s residential construction customers and the consumer real estate market. Higher levels increase credit risk. The residential vacancy rate available as of September 30, 2024 increased from the data incorporated into the December 31, 2023 calculation. Housing data available as of September 30, 2024 showed higher inventory than as of December 31, 2023, resulting in a higher allocation. Qualitative Factors: Asset Quality Indicators Accruing past due loans are analyzed at the class level and compared with previous levels. Increases in past due loans indicate heightened credit risk. Accruing loans past due 30-89 days were 0.33% of total loans as of September 30, 2024, an increase from 0.19% as of December 31, 2023. Qualitative Factors: Other Considerations The Company considers other factors that impact credit risk, including the interest rate environment, the competitive, legal and regulatory environments, changes in lending policies and loan review, changes in lending management, and high risk loans. The interest rate environment impacts variable rate loans. The Federal Reserve’s substantial interest rate increases between March 2022 and July 2023 have increased and are expected to continue to increase payments on the Company’s variable rate loans as they reach contractual repricing dates, despite the Federal Reserve’s recent reduction in their target rate. The Company allocates additional reserve each time the Federal Reserve increases rates, under the expectation that higher payments may increase credit risk. After the rate increase has been in effect for one year, the allocation may be removed if management deems that the impact of the change has become integrated to the portfolio. As of September 30, 2024, the Company reduced its allocation from December 31, 2023. The competitive, legal and regulatory environments were evaluated for changes that would affect credit risk. Higher competition for loans increases credit risk, while lower competition decreases credit risk. Competition remained at similar levels to those at December 31, 2023. The legal and regulatory environments also remain in a similar posture to December 31, 2023. Lending policies, loan review procedures and management’s experience influence credit risk. Policies and procedures remain similar to those at December 31, 2023. The Company added an allocation to account for absorption of FCB acquired loans and integration of FCB lenders. 41 Table of Contents Levels of high risk loans are considered in the determination of the level of the ACLL. A decrease in the level of high risk loans within a class decreases the required allocation for the loan class, and an increase in the level of high risk loans within a class increases the required allocation for the loan class. Total high risk loans increased from the level at December 31, 2023. Unallocated Surplus The unallocated surplus as of September 30, 2024 is $83, or 0.81% in excess of the calculated requirement. The unallocated surplus at December 31, 2023 was $350, or 4.00% in excess of the calculated requirement. The surplus provides some mitigation of current economic uncertainty that may impact credit risk. Conclusion The calculation of the appropriate level for the ACLL incorporates analysis of multiple factors and requires management’s prudent and informed judgment. The Company augmented the calculated requirement with an unallocated surplus. Based on analysis of historical indicators, asset quality and economic factors, management believes the level of ACLL is reasonable for the credit risk in the loan portfolio as of September 30, 2024. ACL on Unfunded Commitments The ACL on unfunded commitments was $241, or 0.14% of unfunded commitments as of September 30, 2024. The ACL on unfunded commitments was $259, or 0.16% as of December 31, 2023. Provision for (Recovery of) Credit Losses The provision for credit losses represents charges to earnings necessary to maintain an adequate allowance. The adequacy of the ACLL is reviewed quarterly and adjustments are made as determined necessary. The Company recorded a provision for credit losses on loans of $5 and a recovery of credit losses on unfunded commitments of $10 for the three months ended September 30, 2024, compared with a recovery of credit losses on loans of $401 for the three months ended September 30, 2023 and a provision of $30 for unfunded commitments. The Company recorded a provision for credit losses on loans of $1,312 and a recovery of credit losses on unfunded commitments of $25 for the nine months ended September 30, 2024, compared with a recovery of credit losses on loans of $389 for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 and a provision of $21 for unfunded commitments. Upon acquisition of FCB in June 2024, the Company recorded a provision for credit losses of $1,290 to establish an allowance on non-PCD loans. Loan Modifications In the ordinary course of business the Company modifies loan terms on a case-by-case basis for a variety of reasons. Modifications may include rate reductions, payment extensions of varying lengths of time, a change in amortization term or method or other arrangements. Modifications to consumer loans generally involve short-term payment extensions to accommodate specific, temporary circumstances. Modifications to commercial loans may include, but are not limited to, changes in interest rate, maturity, amortization and financial covenants. The Company reviews modifications to determine whether the borrower is experiencing financial difficulty, including indicators of default, bankruptcy, going concern, insufficient projected cash flows and inability to obtain financing from other sources. If a modification is made to a borrower experiencing financial difficulty, the loan’s risk rating is downgraded to special mention or classified, resulting in individual evaluation for the ACLL. Please refer to Note 3: Loans and Allowance for Credit Losses in Part I, Item 1 of this report for more information on loans modified for borrowers experiencing financial difficulty. Modifications for Borrowers Who Were Not Experiencing Financial Difficulty During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, the Company modified loans in the normal course of business for borrowers who were not experiencing financial difficulty. During the three months ended September 30, 2024, the Company modified 205 loans totaling $42,969. During the nine months ended September 30, 2024, the Company modified 637 loans totaling $86,905. During the three months ended September 30, 2023, the Company provided 186 modifications to loans totaling $23,054. For the nine months ended September 30, 2023, the Company provided 581 modifications to loans totaling $65,089. Most of the Company’s securities were purchased during periods prior to the Federal Reserve’s interest rate increases that began in March of 2022. The Federal Reserve’s cut to its target rate in September 2024 improved the unrealized loss on securities when September 30, 2024 is compared with December 31, 2023. The Company’s analysis of the securities portfolio determined no identifiable credit risk as of September 30, 2024 and no ACL has been recorded. The Company qualifies as a small bank holding company under the Federal Reserve's Small Bank Holding Company Policy Statement, which exempts bank holding companies with less than $3 billion in assets from reporting consolidated regulatory capital ratios and from minimum regulatory capital requirements. NBB is subject to various capital requirements administered by banking agencies, including an additional capital conservation buffer in order to make capital distributions or discretionary bonus payments. Risk-based capital ratios are calculated in compliance with OCC rules based on the Basel III Capital Rules. The Bank's ratios are well above the required minimums as of September 30, 2024. Demands on the Company's liquidity include funding additional loan demand and accepting withdrawals of existing deposits. The Company has diverse liquidity sources, including customer and purchased deposits, customer repayments of loan principal and interest, sales, calls and maturities of securities, Federal Reserve discount window borrowing, short-term borrowing, and FHLB advances. As of September 30, 2024, the Company had $293,379 of borrowing capacity from the FHLB and the Company had $178,582 of unused capacity at the Federal Reserve Bank discount window. Periodically during 2023, the Company accessed FHLB borrowings. The advances were fully repaid, due to the success of the Company's deposit strategy. As of September 30, 2024, the Company did not have purchased deposits, discount window borrowings or short-term borrowings. 44 Table of Contents The Company considers its security portfolio for typical liquidity needs, within accounting, legal and strategic parameters. Portions of the securities portfolio are pledged to meet state requirements for public funds deposits. Discount window borrowings also require pledged securities. Increased/decreased liquidity from public funds deposits or discount window borrowings results in increased/decreased liquidity from pledging requirements. The Company monitors public funds pledging requirements and unpledged available for sale securities accessible for liquidity needs. Regulatory capital levels determine the Company's ability to use purchased deposits and the Federal Reserve Bank discount window. As of September 30, 2024, the Company is considered well capitalized and does not have any restrictions on purchased deposits or borrowing ability at the Federal Reserve Bank discount window. The Company monitors factors that may increase its liquidity needs. Some of these factors include deposit trends, large depositor activity, maturing deposit promotions, interest rate sensitivity, maturity and repricing timing gaps between assets and liabilities, the level of unfunded loan commitments and loan growth. As of September 30, 2024, the Company's liquidity is sufficient to meet projected trends. To monitor and estimate liquidity levels, the Company performs stress testing under varying assumptions on credit sensitive liabilities and the sources and amounts of balance sheet and external liquidity available to replace outflows. The Company's Contingency Funding Plan sets forth avenues for rectifying liquidity shortfalls. As of September 30, 2024, the analysis indicated adequate liquidity under the tested scenarios. The Company utilizes several other strategies to maintain sufficient liquidity. Loan and deposit growth are managed to keep the loan to deposit ratio within the Company's internally-set target range. As of September 30, 2024, the loan to deposit ratio was 62.49%. The investment strategy takes into consideration the term of the investment, and securities in the available for sale portfolio are laddered based upon projected funding needs. Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements In the normal course of business, NBB extends lines of credit and letters of credit to its customers. Depending on their needs, customers may draw upon lines of credit at any time in any amount up to a pre-approved limit. Financial letters of credit guarantee payments to facilitate customer purchases. Performance letters of credit guarantee payment if the customer fails to complete a specific obligation. While it would be possible for customers to fully draw on approved lines of credit and for beneficiaries to call all letters of credit, historically this has not occurred. In the event of a sudden and substantial draw on these lines, the Company would be able to access multiple options, including its lines of credit with correspondents, raising additional deposits, or selling securities available for sale or loans. The Company estimates an ACL on unfunded loan commitments under the current expected credit losses model. The Company sells mortgages on the secondary market. Our agreement with the purchaser provides for strict underwriting and documentation requirements. Violation of the representations and warranties of the agreement would entitle the purchaser to recourse provisions. The Company has determined that its risk in this area is not significant because of the low volume of secondary market mortgage loans and high underwriting standards. The Company estimates a potential loss reserve for recourse provisions that is not material as of September 30, 2024. To date, no recourse provisions have been invoked. If funds were needed, the Company would access the same sources as noted above for funding lines and letters of credit. There were no material changes in off-balance sheet arrangements during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024. Contractual Obligations The Company had no finance lease or purchase obligations and no long-term debt at September 30, 2024. Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk Not applicable. Item 4. Controls and Procedures The Company's management evaluated, with the participation of the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer, the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15(e)) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act") as of the end of the period covered by this report. In conducting the evaluation of the effectiveness of its disclosure controls and procedures as of September 30, 2024, the Company has excluded the operations of FCB as permitted by the guidance issued by the Office of the Chief Accountant of the Securities and Exchange Commission (not to extend more than one year beyond the date of the acquisition or for more than one annual reporting period). The merger was completed on June 1, 2024. See "Note 2. Business Combinations" for further discussion of the merger and its impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements. Based on that evaluation, the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective as of September 30, 2024 to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports that the Company files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time 45 Table of Contents periods specified by the Company's management, including the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. There were no changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) of the Exchange Act) that occurred during the three months ended September 30, 2024, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, the Company believes that no system of controls, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide absolute assurance that all control issues have been detected. Part II Other Information Item 1. Legal Proceedings There are no pending or threatened legal proceedings to which the Company or any of its subsidiaries is a party or to which the property of the Company or any of its subsidiaries is subject that, in the opinion of management, may materially impact the financial condition of the Company. Sweet (the "Consultant") and National Bankshares, Inc. (the "Company"), as of June 1, 2024, to be effective immediately following the Effective Time (as defined in the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated January 23, 2024 (the "Merger Agreement")), by and among the Company, The National Bank of Blacksburg, the Company's wholly-owned bank subsidiary (the "Bank") and Frontier Community Bank (the "Effective Date"). If the Effective Time does not occur, this Agreement shall be null and void ab initio and of no further force and effect. WITNESSETH: WHEREAS, the Consultant has valuable knowledge and expertise regarding the business of Frontier Community Bank; and WHEREAS, due to the Consultant's knowledge and expertise, the Company wishes to have the cooperation of, access to, and services of the Consultant following the Effective Time. NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and mutual covenants contained in this Agreement, the Company and the Consultant, intending to be legally bound hereby, mutually agree as follows: 1. Services; Term; Termination. (a)The Consultant shall serve as a Special Advisor beginning on the Effective Date for a three (3)-month period, unless such period is earlier terminated in accordance with Sections 1(c) or 1(d) below (the applicable period, the "Term"). During the Term, the Consultant shall provide general advisory services to the Company as requested by the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company, including, without limitation, attending meetings upon request, and providing advice and assistance as requested with respect to the transition and integration of Frontier Community Bank into the Bank (the "Services"). (b)To the extent that the Term is not terminated in accordance with Section 1(c) or 1(d), the Term may be extended for successive one (1)-month periods only through mutual written agreement of the parties hereto. (c)The Company may terminate the Term only for Cause, upon ten (10) calendar days' advance written notice to the Consultant. For purposes of this Agreement, "Cause" shall mean the Consultant's material failure to perform the Services (other than a failure to perform the Services as a result of the Company's refusal to accept performance of the Services, the Company's failure to request the Services, or the Company's material failure to comply with the terms of this Agreement) or the Consultant's breach of this Agreement. (d)The Consultant may terminate the Term for any reason, at any time, upon ten (10) calendar days' advance written notice to the Company. (e)No additional Consulting Fees (as defined below) will be paid for any period after the Term has been terminated in accordance with this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Company terminates the Term for any reason other than that specified in Section 1(c), it shall pay the Consultant the Consulting Fees that otherwise would have paid for the Term had the Term not been terminated by the Company. 2. Compensation During the Consulting Period. In exchange for the Services, the Company shall pay to the Consultant $15,000 per month for the Term (the "Consulting Fees"). The Consulting Fee for each month (or portion thereof) during the Term shall be paid not less frequently than monthly. 3. Independent Contractor Status. (a)In performing the Services, the Consultant shall be acting and shall act at all times as an independent contractor only and not as an employee of the Company. The Consultant shall be responsible for reasonably determining the method, details, and means of performing the Services required under this Agreement, and the specific hours to be worked. It is understood and agreed that the Consultant shall have no power or authority to supervise, direct, or manage any employee of the Company or the Bank; to enter into contracts on behalf of the Company or the Bank; or to borrow or incur debts or liabilities, of any kind or nature whatsoever, on behalf of the Company or the Bank. The Consultant shall not be entitled to participate in or otherwise accrue benefits or receive contributions under any employee benefit plans, policies, or other arrangements that might be available to the employees of the Company or any affiliate of the Company. (b)The Consultant shall be solely responsible for the payment of all federal, state, and local taxes with respect to the compensation or benefits for Services provided hereunder. 4. Entire Agreement; Amendment. This Agreement contains the entire agreement between the Company and the Consultant with respect to the matters described herein. This Agreement may not be amended, waived, changed, modified, or discharged except by an instrument in writing executed by the Company and the Consultant. 5. Notice. All notices and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be given by hand delivery to the other party or by prepaid overnight courier service, addressed as follows: If to the Consultant: At the Consultant's then current address in accordance with the Company's records If to the Company: National Bankshares, Inc. 101 Hubbard Street Blacksburg, Virginia 24062 Attention: F. Brad Denardo or to such other address as either party shall have furnished to the other in writing in accordance herewith. Notice and communications shall be effective when actually received or refused by the addressee. 6. Binding Agreement; Waiver. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Consultant and the Consultant's heirs, executors, administrators, and legal representatives. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Company, its affiliates, and its successors, and any such successors shall assume the obligations under this Agreement and expressly agree to perform the obligations under this Agreement. The Services are personal in nature and shall not be assigned or subcontracted, and the Consultant may not assign this Agreement. Neither the failure nor any delay by either party in exercising, in whole or in part, any right, power, or privilege under this Agreement will operate as a waiver of such right, power, or privilege. 7. Governing Law; Venue. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The parties agree that any dispute arising under this Agreement shall be brought only in a state or federal court having proper jurisdiction within Virginia. Both parties submit to such jurisdiction and waive any objection to venue and/or claim of inconvenient forum. 8. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by facsimile or other electronic transmission and in counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original, and all of which taken together will constitute one agreement binding on the parties. (the “Company”) and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, The National Bank of Blacksburg (the “Bank”) and National Bankshares Financial Services, Inc. (the “NBFS”) (collectively, the “Company”), conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (the “GAAP”) and to general practices within the banking industry. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions between the Company and its subsidiaries have been eliminated. The accompanying interim period consolidated financial statements are unaudited; however, in the opinion of the Company’s management, all adjustments consisting of normal recurring adjustments, which are necessary for a fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements, have been included. Application of the principles of GAAP and practices within the banking industry requires management to make estimates, assumptions, and judgments that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. These estimates, assumptions, and judgments are based on information available as of the date of the financial statement; accordingly, as this information changes, the financial statements may reflect different estimates, assumptions, and judgments. Certain policies inherently rely more extensively on the use of estimates, assumptions, and judgments and as such may have a greater possibility of producing results that could be materially different than originally reported. Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change in the near term relate to the determination of the allowance of credit losses on loans and acquisition accounting. The results of operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2024 are not necessarily indicative of results of operations for the full year or any other interim period. The interim period consolidated financial statements and financial information included in this Form 10-Q should be read in conjunction with the notes to consolidated financial statements included in the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 (the “2023 Form 10-K”). The Company’s significant accounting policies followed in preparation of the unaudited consolidated financial statements are disclosed in Note 1 of the 2023 Form 10-K. All amounts and disclosures included in this quarterly report as of December 31, 2023, were derived from the Company’s audited consolidated financial statements. Certain items in the prior period financial statements have been reclassified to conform to the current presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on prior year net income or stockholders’ equity. The Company posts all reports required to be filed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 on its web site at www.nationalbankshares.com. In addition to applying significant accounting policies disclosed in Note 1 of the 2023 Form 10-K, the Company implemented accounting policies appropriate for its merger with Frontier Community Bank (the “FCB”). Business combinations are accounted for under Accounting Standards Codification (the “ASC”) 805, Business Combinations, using the acquisition method of accounting. The acquisition method of accounting requires an acquirer to record at fair value on the acquisition date the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. To determine the fair values, the Company relies on internal or third-party valuations, such as appraisals, valuations based on discounted cash flow analyses, or other valuation techniques. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the Company identifies the acquirer and the closing date and applies applicable recognition principles and conditions. Acquisition-related costs are costs the Company incurs to effect a business combination. Those costs include advisory, legal, accounting, valuation, and other professional or consulting fees. Some other examples of costs to the Company include systems conversions, integration planning consultants and advertising costs. The Company accounts for acquisition-related costs as expenses in the periods in which the costs are incurred and the services are received, with one exception. The costs to issue debt or equity securities are recognized in accordance with other applicable GAAP. These acquisition-related costs have been and will be included within the consolidated statements of income classified within the nonrecurring expenses caption. The most significant assessment of fair value in the Company’s accounting for business combinations relates to the valuation of an acquired loan portfolio. At acquisition, loans are classified as either (i) purchase credit-deteriorated (the “PCD”) loans or (ii) non-PCD loans and are recorded at fair value on the date of acquisition. PCD loans are those for which there is more than insignificant evidence of credit deterioration since origination. Fair values are determined primarily through a discounted cash flow approach which considers the acquired loans’ underlying characteristics, including account types, remaining terms, annual interest rates, interest types, timing of principal and interest payments, current market rates, and remaining balances. Estimates of fair value also include estimates of default, loss severity, and estimated prepayments. At acquisition, an allowance for credit losses (the “ACL”) for PCD loans is determined based upon the Company’s methodology for estimating the ACL on loans. This allowance is credited to the ACL on loans with a corresponding adjustment to the amortized cost basis of the loan on the date of the acquisition. The difference between the new amortized cost basis and the unpaid principal balance is either a noncredit discount or premium that is amortized or accreted to interest income over the remaining life of the loan. Disposals of PCD loans, which may include sale of loans to third parties, receipt of payments in full or in part from the borrower or foreclosure of the collateral, result in removal of the loan from the loan portfolio at its carrying amount. For non-PCD loans, an ACL is established in a manner that is consistent with the Company’s originated loans. The ACL is determined using the Company’s methodology and the related ACL for non-PCD loans is recorded through a charge to the provision for credit losses in the period in which the loans are purchased or acquired. The entirety of any purchase discount or premium on non-PCD loans is amortized or accreted to interest income over the remaining life of the loan. In accordance with ASC 805, the Company also identified intangible assets acquired. Intangible assets lack physical substance but have contractual or other legal rights or are capable of being sold or exchanged either on their own or in combination with a related contract, asset or liability. Intangible assets are initially recorded at fair value. Determining fair value is subjective, requiring the use of estimates, assumptions and management judgment. Intangible assets that have finite lives are amortized over their estimated useful lives and are subject to impairment testing. Upon acquisition of FCB, the Company recognized a core deposit intangible asset, which represents the value of customer deposit relationships. Core deposit intangible assets are amortized over an estimated useful life of 10 years using an accelerated method which approximates the estimated attrition of the acquired deposits. Risks and UncertaintiesThe Company is closely monitoring risks that may impact its business, including high inflation, along with U.S. monetary policy maneuvers to reduce inflation. Inflation and U.S. monetary policy maneuvers to reduce it may impact the Company’s demand for banking services and ability to qualify for and/or repay loans. These risks could adversely affect the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, credit risk, asset valuations and capital position. Recent Accounting PronouncementsASU 2023-09In December 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued Accounting Standards Update (the “ASU”) 2023-09, the “Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures.” The amendments in this ASU require an entity to disclose specific categories in the rate reconciliation and provide additional information for reconciling items that meet a quantitative threshold, which is greater than five percent of the amount computed by multiplying pretax income by the entity’s applicable statutory rate, on an annual basis. Additionally, the amendments in this ASU require an entity to disclose the amount of income taxes paid (net of refunds received) disaggregated by federal, state, and foreign taxes and the amount of income taxes paid (net of refunds received) disaggregated by individual jurisdictions that are equal to or greater than five percent of total income taxes paid (net of refunds received). Lastly, the amendments in this ASU require an entity to disclose income (or loss) from continuing operations before income tax expense (or benefit) disaggregated between domestic and foreign and income tax expense (or benefit) from continuing operations disaggregated by federal, state, and foreign. This ASU is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024. Early adoption is permitted. The amendments should be applied on a prospective basis; however, retrospective application is permitted. The Company does not expect the adoption of ASU 2023-09 to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements. In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, the “Income Statement” Reporting Comprehensive Income” Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses.” ASU 2024-03 requires public companies to disclose, in the notes to the financial statements, specific information about certain costs and expenses at each interim and annual reporting period. This includes disclosing amounts related to employee compensation, depreciation, and intangible asset amortization. In addition, public companies will need to provide qualitative description of the amounts remaining in relevant expense captions that are not separately disaggregated quantitatively. ASU 2024-03 is effective for public business entities for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027. Implementation of ASU 2024-03 may be applied prospectively or retrospectively. The Company does not expect the adoption of ASU 2024-03 to have a material impact on its consolidated financial statements. Upon completion of the merger, former FCB shareholders received a combination of the Company’s common stock and cash. The acquisition of FCB was accounted for as a business combination using the acquisition method of accounting. Assets acquired, liabilities assumed, and consideration paid were recorded at estimated fair value on the Acquisition Date. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of the net assets was recorded as provisional goodwill and represents the benefit from the transaction that is not otherwise quantifiable, including expected management and operational synergies and intangible assets that do not qualify for separate recognition. The Company will keep the measurement of goodwill open for twelve months following the Acquisition Date in order to reflect any adjustments to the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed that may arise during the Company’s final review procedures of any updated information. Noninterest revenue streams such as service charges on deposit accounts, other service charges and fees, credit and debit card fees, trust income, and annuity and insurance commissions are recognized in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification (â€œASCâ€) Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (â€œASC Topic 606â€). Topic 606 does not apply to revenue associated with financial instruments, including revenue from loans and securities. In addition, certain noninterest income streams such as financial guarantees, derivatives, and certain credit card fees are outside the scope of the guidance. Noninterest revenue streams within the scope of Topic 606 are discussed below. Service Charges on Deposit AccountsService charges on deposit accounts consist of monthly service fees, overdraft and nonsufficient funds fees, ATM fees, wire transfer fees, and other deposit account related fees. The Companyâ€™s performance obligation for monthly service fees is generally satisfied, and the related revenue recognized, over the period in which the service is provided. Payment for service charges on deposit accounts is primarily received immediately or in the following month through a direct charge to customersâ€™ accounts. ATM fees are primarily generated when a Company cardholder uses a non-Company ATM or a non-Company cardholder uses a Company ATM. Wire transfer fees, overdraft and nonsufficient funds fees and other deposit account related fees are transactional based, and therefore, the Companyâ€™s performance obligation is satisfied, and related revenue recognized, at a point in time.Other Service Charges and FeesOther service charges include safe deposit box rental fees, check ordering charges, and other service charges. Safe deposit box rental fees are charged to the customer on an annual basis and recognized upon receipt of payment. The Company determined that since rentals and renewals occur fairly consistently over time, revenue is recognized on a basis consistent with the duration of the performance obligation. Check ordering charges are transactional based, and therefore the Companyâ€™s performance obligation is satisfied, and related revenue recognized, at a point in time. Credit and Debit Card FeesCredit and debit card fees are primarily comprised of interchange fee income and merchant services income. Interchange fees are earned whenever the Companyâ€™s debit and credit cards are processed through card payment networks such as Visa and MasterCard. Merchant services income mainly represents commission fees based upon merchant processing volume. The Companyâ€™s performance obligation for interchange fee income and merchant services income are largely satisfied, and related revenue recognized, when the services are rendered or upon completion. Payment is typically received immediately or in the following month. In compliance with Topic 606, credit and debit card fee income is presented net of associated expense.Trust IncomeTrust income is primarily comprised of fees earned from the management and administration of trusts and estates and other customer assets. The Companyâ€™s performance obligation is generally satisfied over time and the resulting fees are recognized monthly, based upon the month-end market value of the assets under management and the applicable fee rate. Payment is generally received a few days after month end through a direct charge to customersâ€™ accounts. The Company does not earn performance-based incentives. Estate management fees are based upon the size of the estate. A partial fee is recognized half-way through the estate administration and the remainder of the fee is recognized when remaining assets are distributed and the estate is closed.Insurance and InvestmentInsurance income primarily consists of commissions received on insurance product sales. The Company acts as an intermediary between the Companyâ€™s customer and the insurance carrier. The Companyâ€™s performance obligation is generally satisfied upon the issuance of the insurance policy. Shortly after the insurance policy is issued, the carrier remits the commission payment to the Company, and the Company recognizes the revenue. Investment income consists of recurring revenue streams such as commissions from sales of mutual funds, annuities and other investments. Commissions from the sale of mutual funds, annuities and other investments are recognized on trade date, which is when the Company has satisfied its performance obligation. The Company also receives periodic service fees (i.e., trailers) from mutual fund companies typically based on a percentage of net asset value. Trailer revenue is recognized over time, usually monthly or quarterly, as net asset value is determined.OREO Gains and LossesThe Company records a gain or loss from the sale of other real estate owned (â€œOREOâ€) when control of the property transfers to the buyer, which generally occurs at the time of an executed deed. When the Company finances the sale of OREO to the buyer, the Company assesses whether the buyer is committed to perform their obligations under the contract and whether collectability of the transaction price is probable. Once these criteria are met, the OREO asset is derecognized and the gain or loss on sale is recorded upon the transfer of control of the property to the buyer.The following presents noninterest income, segregated by revenue streams in-scope and out-of-scope of Topic 606, for the periods indicated.Â Â Three Months Ended September 30, Â Noninterest Income Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â In-scope of Topic 606: Â Â Â Â Â Â Service charges on deposit accounts Â $ 753 Â Â $ 642 Â Other service charges and fees Â 82 Â Â $ 151 Â Credit and debit card fees, net Â 4 Â Â $ 344 Â Â $ 395 Â Trust income Â 580 Â Â $ 505 Â Insurance and Investment (included within Other Income in the ConsolidatedÂ Â Â Statements of Income) Â 126 Â Â $ 142 Â Noninterest Income (in-scope of Topic 606) Â $ 1,885 Â Â $ 1,835 Â Noninterest Income (out-of-scope of Topic 606) Â 387 Â Â $ 280 Â Total noninterest income Â $ 2,272 Â Â $ 2,115 Â Â Â Nine Months Ended September 30, Â Noninterest Income Â 2024 Â Â 2023 Â In-scope of Topic 606: Â Â Â Â Â Â Service charges on deposit accounts Â $ 2,150 Â Â $ 1,871 Â Other service charges and fees Â 176 Â Â $ 253 Â Credit and debit card fees, net Â 1,141 Â Â $ 1,276 Â Trust income Â 1,596 Â Â $ 1,431 Â Insurance and Investment (included within Other Income in the ConsolidatedÂ Â Â Statements of Income) Â 558 Â Â $ 539 Â Noninterest Income (in-scope of Topic 606) Â $ 5,621 Â Â $ 5,370 Â Noninterest Income (out-of-scope of Topic 606) Â 1,096 Â Â $ 1,735 Â Total noninterest income Â $ 6,717 Â Â $ 7,105 Â X - ReferencesNo definition available. + Details Name: us-gaap DisclosureTextBlockAbstract Namespace Prefix: us-gaap Data Type: xbrli:stringItemType Balance Type: na Period Type: duration X - DefinitionThe entire disclosure of revenue from contract with customer to transfer good or service and to transfer nonfinancial asset. Adjustments to the fair value of these assets usually result from the application of lower-of-cost-or-market accounting or write-downs of individual assets. The following describes the valuation techniques used by the Company to measure certain assets recorded at fair value on a nonrecurring basis in the consolidated financial statements.Loans Held for SaleLoans held for sale are carried at the lower of cost or fair value. These loans currently consist of one-to-four family residential loans originated for sale in the secondary market. Fair value is based on the price secondary markets are currently offering for similar loans using observable market data which is not materially different than cost due to the short duration between origination and sale (Level 2). As such, the Company records any fair value adjustments on a nonrecurring basis. A liability of $3 for the fair value of loans held for sale was recorded as of September 30, 2024. No nonrecurring fair value adjustments were recorded on loans held for sale at December 31, 2023.Collateral Dependent Loans Collateral dependent loans are measured on a non-recurring basis for the ACLL. If the fair value of the collateral is lower than the loan's amortized cost basis, the shortfall is recognized in the ACLL. When repayment is expected from the operation of the collateral, fair value is estimated as the present value of expected cash flows from the operation of the collateral. When repayment is expected from the sale of the collateral, fair value is estimated using measurement techniques discussed below and discounted by the estimated cost to sell. The ACLL may be zero if the fair value of the collateral at the measurement date exceeds the amortized cost basis of the financial asset.For loans secured by real estate, fair value of collateral is determined by the fair value of appraisals or third party evaluations that are less than 24 months of age. Appraisals are prepared by independent, licensed appraisers. Appraisals are based upon observable market data analyzed through an income or sales valuation approach. Valuation falls within Level 2 categorization. The Company may further discount appraisals for marketing strategies, which results in Level 3 categorization. The value of business equipment is based upon an outside appraisal (Level 2) if deemed significant, or the net book value on the applicable business's financial statements (Level 3) if not considered significant. Likewise, values for inventory and accounts receivables collateral are based on financial statement balances or aging reports (Level 3). As of September 30, 2024, one consumer real estate loan totaling $84 and three commercial real estate loans totaling $9,344 were collateral dependent. Valuation of the consumer real estate loan and two of the commercial real estate loans were based upon third party evaluations (Level 2). Valuation for one commercial real estate loan was based upon an internal evaluation (Level 3). None of the measurements resulted in a specific allocation. Note 6: Fair Value Measurements

Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. GAAP requires that valuation techniques maximize the use of the observable inputs and minimize the use of the unobservable inputs. GAAP also establishes a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the valuation inputs into three broad levels. Based on the underlying inputs, each fair value measurement in its entirety is reported in one of the three levels. These levels are:

Level 1 - Inputs that are quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable and/or corroborated by observable data in the market.

Level 3 - Inputs that are not observable and/or not corroborated by observable data in the market.

Valuation is based on quoted prices in active markets for similar assets and liabilities.

When quoted market prices are not available, fair values are measured utilizing independent valuation techniques of identical or similar securities for which significant assumptions are derived primarily from or corroborated by observable market data. Third party vendors compile prices from various sources and may determine the fair value of identical or similar securities by using pricing models that consider observable market data.

The carrying value of restricted Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond and FHLB stock approximates fair value based upon the redemption provisions of each entity and is therefore excluded from the following tables. The following tables present the balances of financial assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of the dates indicated.

Service Charges on Deposit Accounts

Other Service Charges and Fees

Other service charges include safe deposit box rental fees, check ordering charges, and other service charges. Safe deposit box rental fees are charged to the customer on an annual basis and recognized upon receipt of payment. The Company determined that since credit and debit card fees are outside the scope of the guidance, Noninterest revenue streams within the scope of Topic 606 are discussed below.

Substantially all of the Company's revenue is generated from contracts with customers. Noninterest revenue streams such as service charges on deposit accounts, other service charges and fees, credit and debit card fees, trust income, and annuity and insurance commissions are recognized in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("Topic 606"). Topic 606 does not apply to revenue associated with financial instruments, including revenue from loans and securities. In addition, certain noninterest income streams such as financial guarantees, derivatives, and certain credit card fees are outside the scope of the guidance. Noninterest revenue streams within the scope of Topic 606 are discussed below.

Credit and Debit Card Fees

Credit and debit card fees are primarily comprised of interchange fee income and merchant services income. Interchange fees are earned whenever the Company's debit and credit cards are processed through card payment networks such as Visa and MasterCard. Merchant services income mainly represents commission fees based upon merchant processing volume. The Company's performance obligation for interchange fee income and merchant services income are largely satisfied, and related revenue recognized, when the services are rendered or upon completion. Payment is typically received immediately or in the following month. In compliance with Topic 606, credit and debit card fee income is presented net of associated expense.

Trust income is primarily comprised of fees earned from the management and administration of trusts and estates and other customer assets. The Company's performance obligation is generally satisfied over time and the resulting fees are recognized monthly, based upon the month-end market value of the assets under management and the applicable fee rate. Payment is generally received a few days after month end through a direct charge to customers' accounts. The Company does not earn performance-based incentives. Estate management fees are based upon the size of the estate. A partial fee is recognized half-way through the estate administration and the remainder of the fee is recognized when remaining assets are distributed and the estate is closed.

Insurance and Investment Income

Insurance income primarily consists of commissions received on insurance product sales. The Company acts as an intermediary between the Company's customer and the insurance carrier. The Company's performance obligation is generally satisfied upon the issuance of the insurance policy. Shortly after the insurance policy is issued, the carrier remits the commission payment to the Company, and the Company recognizes the revenue.

Investment income consists of recurring revenue streams such as commissions from sales of mutual funds, annuities and other investments. Commissions from the sale of mutual funds, annuities and other investments are recognized on trade date, which is when the Company has satisfied its performance obligation. The Company also receives periodic service fees (i.e., trailers) from mutual fund companies typically based on a percentage of net asset value. Trailer revenue is recorded over time, usually monthly or quarterly, as net asset value is determined.

OREO Gains and Losses

The Company records a gain or loss from the sale of other real estate owned ("OREO") when control of the property transfers to the buyer, which generally occurs at the time of an executed deed. When the Company finances the sale of OREO to the buyer, the Company assesses whether the buyer is committed to perform their obligations under the contract and whether collectability of the transaction price is probable. Once these criteria are met, the OREO asset is derecognized and the gain or loss on sale is recorded upon the transfer of control of the property to the buyer.

The following presents noninterest income, segregated by revenue streams in-scope and out-of-scope of Topic 606, for the periods indicated.
