Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Material estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant change relate to the determination of the allowance for credit losses, valuation of other real estate owned, income taxes, goodwill and intangibles and fair values of financial instruments.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Standards Not Yet Adopted:

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures ("ASU 2023-09"), primarily focused on income tax disclosures regarding effective tax rates and cash income taxes paid. ASU 2023-09 requires public business entities, on an annual basis, to disclose specific categories in the rate reconciliation and provide additional information for reconciling items that meet a quantitative threshold (if the effect of those reconciling items is equal to or greater than 5 percent of the amount computed by multiplying pretax income by the applicable statutory income tax rate). ASU 2023-09 is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. The adoption of ASU 2023-09 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's operations, financial position or disclosures.

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280): Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures ("ASU 2023-07"), which expands reportable segment disclosure requirements through enhanced disclosures about significant segment expenses. The amendments in this update introduce a new requirement to disclose significant segment expenses regularly provided to the chief operating decision maker, extend certain annual disclosures to interim periods, clarify that single reportable segment entities must apply Topic 280 in its entirety, permit more than one measure of segment profit or loss to be reported under certain conditions and require disclosure of the title and position of the chief operating decision maker. ASU 2023-07 is effective for public business entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. The adoption of ASU 2023-07 is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's operations, financial position or disclosures.

Note 2: Recent Events, Including Mergers and Acquisitions

Acquisition

On October 31, 2023, the Company entered into an asset purchase and sale agreement, effective September 1, 2023, to acquire proven oil and natural gas properties from HB2 Origination, LLC, which consisted of nine wells in formations in four counties in Texas for $15.4 million in cash. On November 17, 2023, the transaction closed for a total purchase price of $15.1 million, after closing adjustments. As a part of the purchase, the Company assumed asset retirement obligations of $0.4 million that were included in "interest payable and other liabilities" on the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2023. The acquisition was considered an asset acquisition and did not meet the definition of a business under ASC 805, Business Combinations. Additionally, transaction costs of $1.4 million were capitalized into oil and gas properties related to this acquisition. The purchase price and related asset retirement obligations were allocated based on the relative fair values of the assets acquired and $1.7 million was allocated to proved leasehold costs while the remaining $15.4 million was allocated to "interest receivable and other assets" on the consolidated balance sheets.

As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Company had oil and gas assets and related receivables of $13.6 million included in "interest receivable and other assets" on the consolidated balance sheets and assets retirement obligations and oil and gas related liabilities of $761,000 $804,000 included in "interest payable and other liabilities" on the consolidated balance sheets.

As of December 31, 2023, the Company had oil and gas assets and related receivables of $16.8 million included in "interest receivable and other assets" on the consolidated balance sheets and assets retirement obligations and oil and gas related liabilities of $1.3 million included in "interest payable and other liabilities" on the consolidated balance sheets.

For the three months ended June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Company had oil and gas related revenues of $2.4 million $2.9 million included in "Other" noninterest income on the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, and oil and gas related expenses of $1.1 million $1.2 million included in "Other" noninterest expense on the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

For the six nine months ended June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Company had oil and gas related revenues of $3.8 million $6.7 million included in "Other" noninterest income on the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, and oil and gas related expenses of $2.3 million $3.5 million included in "Other" noninterest expense on the consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Note 3: Restriction on Cash and Due from Banks

On March 26, 2020, the Federal Reserve Board reduced reserve requirement ratios to zero percent, effectively eliminating reserve requirements for all depository institutions. There was no reserve requirement as of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024.

Note 4: Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per common share represents the amount of earnings for the period available to each share of common stock outstanding during the reporting period. Basic EPS is computed based upon net income divided by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS represents the amount of earnings for the period available to each share of common stock outstanding including common stock that would have been outstanding assuming the issuance of common shares for all dilutive potential common shares outstanding during each reporting period. Diluted EPS is computed based upon net income divided by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during each period, adjusted for the effect of dilutive potential common shares, such as restricted stock awards and nonqualified stock options, calculated using the treasury stock method.

Notes to Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

The following table details gross unrealized losses and fair values of investment securities aggregated by investment category and length of time that the individual securities have been in a continuous unrealized loss position at June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023. As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Company had the ability and intent to hold the debt securities classified as available-for-sale for a period of time sufficient for a recovery of cost. The unrealized losses are due to increases in market interest rates over the yields available at the time the underlying debt securities were purchased or acquired. The fair value of those debt securities having unrealized losses is expected to recover as the securities approach their maturity date or repricing date, or if market yields for such investments decline. Management has no intent or requirement to sell before the recovery of the unrealized loss; therefore, no impairment loss was realized in the Company's consolidated statements of comprehensive income.

Allowance for Credit Losses Methodology

On January 1, 2023, the Company adopted ASU 2016-13, which replaces the incurred loss methodology for determining its provision for credit losses and allowance for credit losses with an expected loss methodology that is referred to as the CECL model. Upon adoption, the allowance for credit losses was increased by $250,000 and $500,000 for loans and unfunded commitments, respectively, with no impact to the consolidated statement of income.

The following table presents, by portfolio segment, the activity in the allowance for credit losses for the three months ended September June 30, 2024 and 2023 (dollars in thousands):

Internal Risk Categories

Each loan segment is made up of loan categories possessing similar risk characteristics.

Risk characteristics applicable to each segment of the loan portfolio are described as follows:

Real Estate – The real estate portfolio consists of residential and commercial properties loans. Residential loans are generally secured by owner occupied 1–4 family residences. Repayment of these loans is primarily dependent on the personal income and credit rating of the borrowers. Credit risk in these loans can be impacted by economic conditions within the Company's market areas that might impact either property values or a borrower's personal income. Risk is mitigated by the fact that the loans are of smaller individual amounts and spread over a large number of borrowers. Commercial real estate loans in this category typically involve larger principal amounts and are repaid primarily from the cash flow of a borrower's principal business operation, the sale of the real estate or income independent of the loan purpose. Credit risk in these loans is driven by the creditworthiness of a borrower, property values, the local economy and other economic conditions impacting a borrower's business or personal income.

Commercial & Industrial – The commercial portfolio includes loans to commercial customers for use in financing working capital needs, equipment purchases and expansions. The loans in this category are repaid primarily from the cash flow of a borrower's principal business operation. Credit risk in these loans is driven by creditworthiness of a borrower and the economic conditions that impact the cash flow stability from business operations.

Agricultural – Loans secured by agricultural assets are generally made for the purpose of acquiring land devoted to crop production, cattle or poultry or the operation of a similar type of business on the secured property. Sources of repayment for these loans generally include income generated from operations of a business on the property, rental income or sales of the property. Credit risk in these loans may be impacted by crop and commodity prices, the creditworthiness of a borrower, and changes in economic conditions which might affect underlying property values and the local economies in the Company's market areas.

Consumer – The consumer loan portfolio consists of various term and line of credit loans such as automobile loans and loans for other personal purposes. Residential loans in this category are generally secured by owner occupied 1–4 family residences. Repayment for these types of loans will come from a borrower's income sources that are typically independent of the loan purpose. Credit risk is driven by consumer economic factors, such as unemployment and general economic conditions in the Company's market area and the creditworthiness of a borrower.

Loan grades are numbered 1 through 4. Grade of 1, or Pass, is considered satisfactory. The grades of 2 and 3, or Watch and Special Mention, respectively, represent loans of lower quality and are considered criticized. Grade of 4, or Substandard, refers to loans that are classified.

- Grade 1 (Pass) – These loans generally conform to Bank policies, and are characterized by policy conforming advance rates on collateral, and have well-defined repayment sources. In addition, these credits are extended to borrowers and/or guarantors with a strong balance sheet and either substantial liquidity or a reliable income history.
- Grade 2 (Watch) – These loans are still considered "Pass" credits; however, various factors such as industry stress, material changes in cash flow or financial conditions, or deficiencies in loan documentation, or other risk issues determined by the Lending Officer, Commercial Loan Committee, (CLC), or Credit Quality Committee (CQC) warrant a heightened sense and frequency of monitoring.
- Grade 3 (Special Mention) – These loans must have observable weaknesses or evidence of imprudent handling or structural issues. The weaknesses require close attention and the remediation of those weaknesses is necessary. No risk of probable loss exists. Credits in this category are expected to quickly migrate to a "2" or a "4" as this is viewed as a transitory loan grade.
- Grade 4 (Substandard) – These loans are not adequately protected by the sound worth and debt service capacity of the borrower, but may be well secured. They have defined weaknesses relative to cash flow, collateral, financial condition, or other factors that might jeopardize repayment of all of the principal and interest on a timely basis. There is the possibility that a future loss will occur if weaknesses are not remediated.

The Company evaluates the definitions of loan grades and the allowance for credit losses methodology on an ongoing basis. No changes were made to either during the period ended June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024.

Collateral Dependent Loans

A loan is considered collateral-dependent when the borrower is experiencing financial difficulty and repayment is expected to be provided substantially through the operation or sale of the collateral. During the three months ended June September 30, 2024 and 2023, no material amount of interest income was recognized on collateral-dependent loans subsequent to their classification as collateral-dependent. At a minimum, the estimated value of the collateral for loan equals the current book value.

The following table summarizes collateral-dependent gross loans held for investment by collateral type and the related specific allocation as follows (dollars in thousands):

Loan Modifications to Troubled Borrowers

As part of the Company's ongoing risk management practices, the Company attempts to work with borrowers when necessary to extend or modify loan terms to better align with their current ability to repay. Modifications could include extension of the maturity date, reductions of the interest rate, reduction or forgiveness of accrued interest, or principal forgiveness. Combinations of these modifications may also be made for individual loans. Extensions and modifications to loans are made in accordance with internal policies and guidelines which conform to regulatory guidance. Principal reductions may be made in limited circumstances, typically for specific commercial loan workouts, and in the event of borrower bankruptcy. Each occurrence is unique to the borrower and is evaluated separately.

Troubled loans are considered those in which the borrower is experiencing financial difficulty. The assessment of whether a borrower is experiencing financial difficulty can be subjective in nature and management's judgment may be required in making this determination. The Company may determine that a borrower is experiencing financial difficulty if the borrower is currently in default on any of its debt, or if it is probable that a borrower may default in the foreseeable future absent a modification. Many aspects of a borrower's financial situation are assessed when determining whether they are experiencing financial difficulty.

The Company and Bank are subject to risk-based capital guidelines issued by the federal banking agencies. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory and possibly additional discretionary actions by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, the Company and Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of assets, liabilities and certain off-balance-sheet items as calculated under GAAP, regulatory reporting requirements and regulatory capital standards. The Company's and Bank's capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators about components, risk weightings and other factors. Furthermore, the Company's and the Bank's regulators could require adjustments to regulatory capital not reflected in these financial statements.

Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require the Company and Bank to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (set forth in the following table) of total, Tier I, and Common Equity capital (as defined in the regulations) to risk-weighted assets (as defined) and of Tier I capital (as defined) to average assets (as defined). Management believes, as of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, that the Company and Bank meet all capital adequacy requirements to which it is subject and maintains capital conservation buffers that allow the Company and Bank to avoid limitations on capital distributions, including dividend payments and certain discretionary bonus payments to certain executive officers.

As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the most recent notification from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) categorized the Bank as well capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. To be categorized as well capitalized, the Bank must maintain capital ratios as set forth in the table below. There are no conditions or events since that notification that management believes have changed the Bank's category.

The federal banking agencies require that banking organizations meet several risk-based capital adequacy requirements. The current "Basel Committee". The Basel Committee is a committee of central banks and bank supervisors/regulators from the major industrialized countries that aims to ensure that banking organizations have adequate capital given the risk levels of assets and off-balance sheet financial instruments.

The Basel III Capital Rules require the Bank and the Company to comply with four minimum capital standards: a Tier 1 leverage ratio, a CET1 ratio, a Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio, and a total risk-based capital ratio. The calculation of all types of regulatory capital is subject to definitions, deductions and adjustments specified in the regulations.

The Basel III Capital Rules also require a "capital conservation buffer" of 2.5% above the regulatory minimum risk-based capital requirements. Banking institutions with a ratio of CET1 to risk-weighted assets below the effective minimum (4.5% plus the capital conservation buffer) will be subject to a capital conservation buffer of the shortfall.

As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Company's and the Bank's capital ratios exceeded the minimum capital adequacy guidelines.

The Bank is subject to certain restrictions on the amount of dividends that it may declare without prior regulatory approval. At June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Company's and the Bank's capital ratios exceeded the minimum capital adequacy guidelines.

Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in m

Level 3 Unobservable inputs supported by little or no market activity and significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities

Recurring Measurements

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis include the following:

Available-for-sale debt securities: Debt securities classified as available-for-sale, as discussed in Note 5, are reported at fair v; measurements consider observable data that may include dealer quotes, market spreads, cash flows, the U. S. Treasury yield cur things.

Asset retirement obligations

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies and inputs used for assets measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis within Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the process used to develop the reported fair value is described below.

Collateral-Dependent Loans, Net of Allowance for Credit Losses

The estimated fair value of collateral-dependent loans is based on fair value, less estimated cost to sell. Collateral-dependent loans

The Company considers engineering reports or appraisals as the starting point for determining fair value and then considers other collateral-dependent and subsequently as deemed necessary by executive management and loan administration. Values are reviewed for estimated cost to sell if repayment or satisfaction of the loan is dependent on the sale of the collateral.

Asset retirement obligations

Asset retirement obligations related to the plugging and abandonment of oil and natural gas properties and are classified within the Level 3

The fair value of the asset retirement obligations is measured using expected future cash outflows discounted at the Company's credit risk-free rate. Asset retirement obligations are numerous assumptions and judgments including the ultimate settlement amounts, inflation factors and discount rates. These assumptions impact the fair value of the existing asset retirement obligations liability, a corresponding adjustment is made to the oil and natural gas properties.

Interest Receivable and Other Assets

Interest receivable and other assets include prepaid expenses, right-of-use lease assets, interest receivable on loans, deferred tax assets and value. #### Securities

Our investment portfolio consists entirely of securities classified as available for sale. available-for-sale. As a result, the carrying value of these securities is adjusted to fair value, with any change in value recorded in shareholders' equity.

We evaluate our available for sale available-for-sale securities portfolio on a quarterly basis for potential credit-related losses. We assess the allowance for credit losses is recognized. If the fair value is less than the amortized cost basis, we review the factors to determine whether the basis, the difference between fair value and amortized cost is impaired and is recognized through earnings. For debt securities we record an impairment loss, with a corresponding entry to an allowance for credit losses, and the noncredit portion is recognized through accumulated other comprehensive income.

Provision for Credit Losses

Credit risk is inherent in the business of making loans. We establish an Allowance for credit losses ("Allowance") through charges to provision for credit losses. These charges are dependent upon many factors, including loan growth, net charge-offs, changes in the composition of the loan portfolio, delinquency rates and other factors.

For the three months ended June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2023 September 30, 2023

- The provision for credit losses decreased from $1.0 million $4.2 million to $0; and
- The allowance as a percentage of gross loans increased decreased by 3.24 basis points to 1.31% 1.24%.

For the six nine months ended June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024 compared to the six nine months ended June 30, 2023 September 30, 2023

- The provision for credit losses decreased from $1.5 million $5.6 million to $0; and

Our loans represent the largest portion of our earning assets. The quality and diversification of the loan portfolio is an important component of our overall financial condition. The following table provides a breakdown of our loan portfolio by category.

We have established internal concentration limits in the loan portfolio for Commercial Real Estate (CRE) loans, hospitality loans, energy loans, and other specialized lending. These limits are designed to ensure that our loan portfolio is well diversified and that we have the ability to determine debt service capabilities, and we further stress test the customer's debt service capability under higher interest rate scenarios.

Allowance for Credit and Lease Losses

The allowance is based on management's estimate of potential losses inherent in the loan portfolio. In the opinion of management future additions to the allowance may be necessary based on changes in economic conditions. In addition, various regulatory agency system to determine risk potential in loans is utilized together with the results of internal credit reviews.

To determine the adequacy of the allowance, the loan portfolio is broken into segments based on loan type. Historical loss experience updated based on the composition of the specific loan segment. Other considerations include volumes and trends of delinquencies, concentrations of credit risk and the experience and abilities of our lending personnel.

The allowance was $17.8 million $17.9 million at June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, compared to $19.7 million at December 31, 2023.

Loans are considered delinquent when principal or interest payments are past due 30 days or more. Delinquent loans may remain on the books for up to 90 days. Income on loans is discontinued when principal or interest payments are past due 90 days or when, in the opinion of management, recovery of principal and interest is not probable. Income on a nonaccrual loan is subsequently recognized only to the extent that cash is received and interest is probable.

In addition to the past due and nonaccrual criteria, we also evaluate loans according to our internal risk grading system. Loans are as follows:

Pass: These loans generally conform to Bank policies, are characterized by policy-conforming advance rates on collateral, and have no significant negative history.

Watch: These loans are still considered "Pass" credits; however, various factors such as industry stress, material changes in cash flow, or other factors may warrant a heightened sense and frequency of monitoring.

Special mention: These loans have observable weaknesses or evidence of imprudent handling or structural issues. The weaknesses are not significant enough to be classified as "Substandard" as this is viewed as a transitory loan grade.

Substandard: These loans are not adequately protected by the sound worth and debt service capacity of the borrower, but may be protected by collateral or other factors. There is the possibility that a future loss will occur if weaknesses are not remediated.

Outstanding loan balances categorized by internal risk grades as of the periods indicated are summarized as follows:

Liquidity

Liquidity refers to our ability to meet the cash flow requirements of depositors and borrowers, while at the same time meeting our operational needs. We manage our liquidity position to meet the daily cash flow needs of our customers.

Our liquidity position is supported by the management of liquid assets and access to alternative sources of funds. Our liquid assets include cash and cash equivalents, federal funds sold, and correspondent banks and FHLB advances.

Our short-term and long-term liquidity requirements are primarily met through cash flow from operations, redeployment of prepaying loans, and other liquidity management activities. We have the ability to meet additional liquidity requirements on either a short-term or long-term basis.

As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, we had no unsecured fed funds lines with correspondent depository institutions, with no cash available to draw on these lines. As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024 and $159.2 million as of December 31, 2023, and we had access to approximately $367.7 million in cash and cash equivalents.

Capital Requirements

The Bank is subject to various regulatory capital requirements administered by the federal and state banking regulators. Failure to meet these requirements can affect our financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for "prompt corrective action" (as defined in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act), the capital amounts and classifications are subject to qualitative judgments by the federal banking regulators. The Bank's capital ratios as of December 31, 2023, were as follows: Common Equity Tier 1 ("CET1") capital, Tier 1 capital, total capital to risk-weighted assets, and Tier 1 capital to average assets.

As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Bank was in compliance with all applicable regulatory requirements and categorized as well capitalized. If any one of these capital ratios were to fall below the well capitalized minimum, the Bank would be considered undercapitalized and would change this classification. The table below presents our applicable capital requirements, as well as our capital ratios as of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, based on the dates reflected in the tables below.

Basel III Capital Rules

Under the Basel III Capital Rules, in order to avoid limitations on capital distributions, including dividend payments and certain disclosure requirements. As of June 30, 2024 September 30, 2024, the Company and the Bank met all capital adequacy requirements under the rules.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We are a party to financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk in the normal course of business to meet the financing needs of our customers. These instruments include derivative financial instruments with a notional amount of $1,472,829 and interest rate risk in excess of the amount recognized in the consolidated balance sheet. The contractual or notional amounts of those instruments are not necessarily representative of future cash requirements.

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any condition established in the agreement. If the commitment expires without being drawn upon, the total commitment amount does not necessarily represent future cash requirements. We evaluate the credit evaluation of the counterparty. The Company also estimates a reserve for potential losses associated with off-balance sheet credit risk in the consolidated statement of income.

In determining the reserve for unfunded lending commitments, a process similar to the one used for the allowance is employed. Based on historical experience, the Company estimates potential losses for losses.

Standby letters of credit are conditional commitments issued by the Company to guarantee the performance of the customer to a third party.

The following table summarizes commitments as of the dates presented.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our accounting and reporting policies conform to GAAP and conform to general practices within the industry in which we operate. Assumptions and judgments affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. These estimates, assumptions and judgments reflected in the financial statement. In particular, management has identified several account

The following is a discussion of the critical accounting policies and significant estimates that we believe require us to make the most

Allowance for Credit Losses

The allowance is based on management's estimate of probable losses inherent in the loan portfolio. In the opinion of management future additions to the allowance may be necessary based on changes in economic conditions and changes in the composition of the allowance, a comprehensive loan grading system to determine risk potential in loans is utilized together with the results of internal

To determine the adequacy of the allowance, the loan portfolio is broken into pools based on loan type and risk characteristics. The evaluated and updated based on the composition of the specific loan pool. Other considerations include volumes and trends of delinquent conditions, concentrations of credit risk and the experience and abilities of our lending personnel. In addition to the pool evaluations necessary. Specific allowances may also be established for loans whose outstanding balances are below the $250,000 threshold wh

Goodwill and Intangibles

Intangible assets totaled $938,000 $907,000 and goodwill, net of accumulated amortization, totaled $8.5 million as of June 30, 2024.

Goodwill resulting from a business combination represents the excess of the fair value of the consideration transferred over the fair value of the assets acquired. If the implied fair value of goodwill is lower than its carrying amount, a goodwill impairment is indicated and goodwill is written down.

Other intangible assets consist of core deposit intangible assets and are amortized on a straight-line basis based on an estimated useful life.

Income Taxes

We file a consolidated income tax return. Deferred taxes are recognized under the balance sheet method based upon the future tax benefits or disbenefits when the related temporary differences are expected to be realized.

The amount of accrued current and deferred income taxes is based on estimates of taxes due or receivable from taxing authorities, tax credits, other taxes and temporary differences. Changes periodically occur in the estimates due to changes in tax rates, tax law, judgment and consideration of numerous subjective factors.

Management performs an analysis of our tax positions annually and believes it is more likely than not that all of its tax positions will be recognized.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurement, defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell a financial asset or paid to give up a financial liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. The fair value of assets and liabilities is dependent upon the availability of quoted market prices or observable market parameters. For financial instruments for which quoted market prices and parameters are not available, management judgment is necessary to estimate fair value. In addition, debt securities that are being held for indefinite periods of time and are not intended to sell, are classified as available for sale and are measured at net of income tax.

The Company reviews its portfolio of debt securities in an unrealized loss position at least quarterly. The Company first assesses whether a security's amortized cost basis is written down to fair value as a current period expense. If either of the above criteria is not met, the period of time the security has been in an unrealized loss position, and performance of any underlying collateral and adverse conditions.

The estimates of fair values of debt securities and other financial instruments are based on a variety of factors. In some cases, fair timing of estimated future cash flows and assumed discount rates reflecting varying degrees of risk. Accordingly, the fair values may

ITEM 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Interest Rate Sensitivity and Market Risk

As a financial institution, our primary component of market risk is interest rate volatility. Our financial management policy provides for historically managed our sensitivity position within our established guidelines.

Fluctuations in interest rates will ultimately impact both the level of income and expense recorded on most of our assets and liabilities. Economic losses due to future interest rate changes. These economic losses can be reflected as a loss of future net interest income while at the same time maximizing income.

We manage our exposure to interest rates by structuring our balance sheet in the ordinary course of business. We do not enter into derivatives or foreign exchange contracts. We do not own any trading assets.

Our exposure to interest rate risk is managed by the Asset/Liability Committee, or the ALCO Committee, in accordance with policy. In managing interest rate risk, the ALCO Committee considers the impact on earnings and capital on the current outlook on interest rates, position of assets and liabilities to interest rate changes, the book and market values of assets and liabilities, commitments to or commercial deposit activity. Management employs methodologies to manage interest rate risk, which include an analysis of relations

We use interest rate risk simulation models and shock analyses to test the interest rate sensitivity of net interest income and fair value of equity. The average lives of non-maturity deposit accounts are based on decay assumptions and are incorporated into the model. We utilize this model to test the sensitivity of assets and liabilities to interest rate changes. The model is inherently uncertain and, as a result, the model cannot precisely measure future net interest income or precisely predict the impact of interest rate changes as well as changes in market conditions and the application and timing of various management strategies.

On a quarterly basis, we run various simulation models including a static balance sheet and dynamic growth balance sheet. These models, rates are shocked instantaneously and ramped rates change over a 12-month and 24-month horizon based upon parallel shifts. The simulation involves analysis of interest income and expense under various changes in the shape of the yield curve. Our internal policy states that the internal rate of return should not decline by more than 10% for a -100 basis point shift, 5% for a 100 basis point shift, 10% for a 200 basis point shift, and 15% for a 300 basis point shift.

The following table summarizes the simulated change in net interest income and fair value of equity over a 12-month horizon as of the date of this report.

| Change in Interest Rates (Basis Points) | Percent Change in Net Interest Income |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| +400                                    | 16.27%                                |
| +300                                    | 12.65%                                |
| +200                                    | 9.08%                                 |
| +100                                    | 5.45%                                 |
| Base                                    | 1.52%                                 |
| -100                                    | -3.05%                                |

The results are primarily due to behavior of demand, money market and savings deposits during such rate fluctuations. We have found that the model's simulated results are not fully reflected in a gap analysis. The assumptions incorporated into the model are inherently uncertain and the results will differ from the model's simulated results due to timing, magnitude and frequency of interest rate changes as well as changes in market conditions.

Impact of Inflation

Our consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this Form 10-Q have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America, as of the date of this report, without giving effect to any adjustments that may be necessary to reflect the effect of inflation or recession.

Unlike many industrial companies, substantially all of our assets and liabilities are monetary in nature. As a result, interest rates magnitude as the prices of goods and services. However, other operating expenses do reflect general levels of inflation.
