THE GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(Unaudited)

NOTE 1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements have been prepared by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company (the "Company," "Goodyear," "we," "us" or "our") in accordance with Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") rules and regulations and generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP") and in the opinion of management contain all adjustments (including normal recurring adjustments) necessary to fairly state the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods presented. The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. These interim consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and related notes thereto included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023 (the "2022" "2023 Form 10-K").

Operating results for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 are not necessarily indicative of the results expected in subsequent quarters or for the year ending December 31, 2023 December 31, 2024.

Recently Adopted Issued Accounting Standards

Effective January 1, 2023 On March 6, 2024, we adopted an accounting standards update which requires disclosure the SEC issued final rules that require registrants to enhance and standardize climate-related disclosures in their annual reports beginning with periods ending December 31, 2025. The final rules will require information about climate-related risks that have materially impacted, or are reasonably likely to have a material impact on, a registrant's business strategy, results of operations or financial condition, the key terms governance of our material supplier finance programs, including a description climate-related matters, certain climate-related targets and goals, and certain greenhouse gas emissions. The rules will also require certain financial statement disclosures related to the impact of severe weather events and other natural conditions. On April 4, 2024, the payment terms and assets pledged as security or other forms SEC stayed the final rules pending completion of guarantees, if any, provided judicial review of several lawsuits challenging the rules that have been consolidated in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the committed payment to 8th Circuit. We are currently assessing the finance provider or intermediary. In addition, the standards update requires disclosure impact of the related obligations outstanding at each interim reporting period and where those obligations are presented these rules on the balance sheet. The standards update also includes a prospective annual requirement to disclose a rollforward of the amount of the obligations during the annual reporting period. We will include the rollforward disclosure our disclosures in both our Annual Report on Form 10-K for and the year ending December 31, 2024, as required.

We have entered into supplier finance programs with several financial institutions. Under these agreements, the financial institutions act as our paying agents with respect to accounts payable due to our suppliers. We agree to pay the financial institutions the stated amount of the confirmed invoices from the designated suppliers on the original maturity dates of the invoices. Invoice payment terms can be up to 120 days based on industry norms for the specific item purchased. We do not pay any fees notes to the financial institutions for these programs. There are no assets pledged as security or other forms of guarantees associated with these agreements. These agreements allow our suppliers to sell their receivables to the financial institutions at the sole discretion of the suppliers and the financial institutions on terms that are negotiated among them. We are not always notified when our suppliers sell receivables under these programs. Our obligations to our suppliers, including the amounts due and scheduled payment dates, are not impacted by our suppliers' decisions to sell their receivables under the programs. The amounts available under these programs were $873 million and $920 million at September 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022, respectively. The amounts confirmed to the financial institutions were $598 million and $710 million at September 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022, respectively, and are included in Accounts Payable — Trade in our Consolidated Balance Sheets. All activity related to these obligations is presented within operating activities on the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

On October 9, 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued an accounting standards update that amends the disclosure or presentation requirements related to various subtopics in the FASB Accounting Standards Codification. The standards update was issued in response to the SEC's August 2018 final rule that updated and simplified disclosure requirements that the SEC believed were "redundant, duplicative, overlapping, outdated, or superseded." The new guidance is intended to align U.S. GAAP requirements with those of the SEC and to facilitate the application of U.S. GAAP for all entities. These amendments do not affect the information that is already included in the audited financial statements of entities subject to the SEC's current disclosure or presentation requirements. The standards update is effective on the respective dates on which the SEC's removal of the related disclosure requirement from Regulation S-X or Regulation S-K becomes effective, with early adoption prohibited. The adoption of this accounting standards update will not have a material impact on our consolidated financial statements.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets

Goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets are tested for impairment annually or more frequently if an indicator of impairment is present. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortized over their useful lives and are reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances warrant such review. Goodwill and intangible assets would be written down to fair value if considered impaired. Goodwill and Intangible Assets totaled $1,010 million and $975 million, respectively, at September 30,

Table of Contents

2023, compared to $1,014 million and $1,004 million, respectively, at December 31, 2022. At September 30, 2023, the goodwill associated with reporting units in our Americas, Europe, Middle East and Africa ("EMEA") and Asia Pacific segments was $724 million, $230 million and $56 million, respectively.

In the third quarter, we reduced the near-term and long-term outlook of our EMEA segment based on recent business performance and the industry outlook. As announced in the third quarter, we are reviewing various strategic actions to improve EMEA's operations, including the approved rationalization and workforce reorganization plan. We viewed these events as triggering events and performed a quantitative analysis of the fair value of the EMEA reporting unit. We determined the estimated fair value for the EMEA reporting unit based on discounted cash flow projections. The most critical assumptions used in the calculation of the fair value of the EMEA reporting unit are the projected revenue, projected operating margin and discount rate. Our forecast of future cash flows is based on our best estimate of projected revenue and projected operating margin, based primarily on pricing, raw material costs, market share, industry outlook, general economic conditions and strategic actions to improve EMEA's operating margin, as described above. Based on our interim impairment test, EMEA had an estimated fair value that exceeded its carrying value, including goodwill, by approximately 15%.

The fair value of the EMEA reporting unit's goodwill is sensitive to differences between estimated and actual cash flows, including changes in the projected revenue, projected operating margin and discount rate used to evaluate the fair value of these assets. Although we believe our estimate of fair value is reasonable, the reporting unit's future financial performance is dependent on our ability to execute our business plan and to successfully implement the aforementioned strategic actions which we expect will improve our long-term operating margin. If a reporting unit's future financial performance falls below our expectations, there are adverse revisions to significant assumptions, or our market capitalization declines further or does not improve from the strategic actions we are implementing, this could be indicative that the fair values of each of our reporting units has declined below their carrying values, and therefore we may need to record a material, non-cash goodwill impairment charge in a future period.

At September 30, 2023, after evaluating macroeconomic conditions, our market capitalization and our current and future results of operations, we concluded that there were no triggering events and it was not more likely than not that the fair values of our reporting units within our Americas and Asia Pacific segments or indefinite-lived intangible assets were less than their respective carrying values and, therefore, did not have any impairment.

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of all legal entities in which we hold a controlling financial interest. A controlling financial interest generally arises from our ownership of a majority of the voting shares of our subsidiaries. We would also hold a controlling financial interest in variable interest entities if we are considered to be the primary beneficiary. Investments in companies in which we do not own a majority interest and we have the ability to exercise significant influence over operating and financial policies are accounted for using the equity method. Investments in other companies are primarily carried at cost. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Restricted Cash

The following table provides a reconciliation of Cash, Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash as reported within the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows:

(In millions)	September 30,		March 31,
	2023	2022	2024	2023
Cash and Cash Equivalents	$ 1,002	$ 1,243	$ 893	$ 1,082
Restricted Cash	56	79	61	81
Total Cash, Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash	$ 1,058	$ 1,322	$ 954	$ 1,163

Restricted Cash primarily represents amounts required to be set aside in relation to accounts receivable factoring programs. The restrictions lapse when cash from factored accounts receivable is remitted to the purchaser of those receivables. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, restricted cash was recorded in Prepaid Expenses and Other Current Assets in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. At September 30, 2022 March 31, 2023, $68.70 million and $11 million were recorded in Prepaid Expenses and Other Current Assets and Other Assets in the Consolidated Balance Sheets, respectively.

Reclassifications and Adjustments

Certain items previously reported in specific financial statement captions have been reclassified to conform to the current presentation.

During the third quarter of 2023, In March 2024, we approved a rationalization and workforce reorganization plan in EMEA to improve our cost structure. The proposed actions would lead to a reduction of approximately 1,200 positions across multiple countries within EMEA, while also creating approximately 500 new roles principally in our existing shared services organization in Romania, resulting in an overall net reduction of approximately 700 positions. In certain countries, relevant portions of the plan remain subject to consultation with employee representative bodies. We expect these actions will be substantially complete in 2025. The total pre-tax charges associated with the plan are expected to be $210 million to $230 million, substantially all of which are expected to be cash charges primarily for associate-related and other implementation and exit costs. During the third quarter of 2023, we accrued $167 million of pre-tax charges related to this plan, which is expected to be substantially paid through 2024.

During the third quarter of 2023, we approved a plan in Asia Pacific to improve profitability in permanently close our Australia and New Zealand operations. The proposed plan will change our operating model to a third-party distribution and retail sales model instead of a company-owned approach. The proposed plan will lead to a reduction of approximately 700 positions, the exit of nine warehouse locations, and the sale or exit of approximately 100 retail and fleet store locations. The plan remains subject to consultation with employee representative bodies. We expect to substantially complete this plan Malaysia tire manufacturing facility by the end of 2024 as part of our strategy to improve profitability and estimate total reduce production costs. The plan will result in the permanent reduction of approximately 550 positions. Total pre-tax charges associated with this action will are expected to be between $55 million and $65 million, of which approximately $40 million to ($20 million after minority), of which approximately $50 16 million are expected to be cash charges primarily for associate-related and lease other exit costs, with the remainder primarily representing non-cash charges primarily for accelerated depreciation and other asset-related charges. During the third quarter of 2023, we depreciation. We have accrued approximately $20 10 million of pre-tax charges related to this plan, which is expected to be substantially paid through 2024.

During the second quarter of 2023, we approved a plan to permanently reduce production capacity at our Fulda, Germany tire manufacturing facility ("Fulda") by approximately ($50% aligned with our goal to reduce our production cost per tire in EMEA. We have $60 5 million accrued after minority for this plan at September 30, 2023, which is expected to be substantially paid through 2024. Relevant portions of the rationalization plan remain subject to consultation with employee representative bodies.

During the second quarter of 2023, we also approved a plan to reduce costs associated with our global operations and technology organization. We have $5 million accrued for this plan at September 30, 2023, which is expected to be substantially paid through the first quarter of 2024. Relevant portions of the rationalization plan remain subject to consultation with employee representative bodies.

During the first quarter of 2023, we approved a plan designed to streamline our EMEA distribution network that will result in the eventual closure of our Philippsburg, Germany distribution center. The rationalization plan will lower our operating costs while maintaining or improving the existing service levels to our customers. We have $18 million accrued for this plan at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, which is expected to be substantially paid during the first half of 2024.

During the first second quarter of 2023, we also approved a plan in EMEA to reduce staffing levels and capacity at several manufacturing facilities commensurate with the decline in demand. We have $3 million accrued for this plan at September 30, 2023, which is expected to be substantially paid during the first half of 2024.

The remainder of the accrual balance at September 30, 2023 is expected to be substantially utilized in the next 12 months and March 31, 2024 includes $34.244 million related to the closures of our Fulda, Germany ("Fulda") and our Fürstenwalde, Germany ("Fürstenwalde") tire manufacturing facilities, $160 million related to the rationalization and workforce reorganization plan in EMEA, $18 million related to the plan to improve profitability in Australia and New Zealand, $18 million related to the plan to streamline our EMEA distribution network, $11 million related to plans to reduce Selling, Administrative and General expense ("SAG") headcount, $10 million related to the closure of Cooper Tire's Melksham, United Kingdom manufacturing facility ("Melksham"), $30 million related to plans to reduce Selling, Administrative and General Expense ("SAG") headcount, $5 million related to the closed Amiens, France tire manufacturing facility, $14 million related to the integration of Cooper Tire, plan to reduce costs associated with our global operations and technology organization, $3 million related to our global workforce reorganization plan to improve our cost structure, and various other plans to reduce headcount and improve operating efficiency.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, $237.225 million and $106.239 million were recorded in Other Current Liabilities in the Consolidated Balance Sheets, respectively.

Net foreign currency exchange (gains) losses for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 include March 31, 2024 and March 31, 2023 includes a $16 million gain and a $3 million loss respectively, related to the Turkish lira and losses of $151 million and $348 million, respectively, related to the devaluation of the Argentine peso.

Interest income for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 includes interest income in Argentina of $10 million and $28 million, respectively.

Net gains on asset sales for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 include a $59 million gain related to a sale and leaseback transaction for a warehouse in Americas. Cash proceeds, which were received during the second quarter of 2023, related to this transaction totaled $66 million. Leaseback terms for this location include a 5-year initial term with one 5-year renewal option. We have determined it is not probable that we will exercise the renewal option. This transaction resulted in the recognition of Operating Lease Right-of-Use Assets totaling $24 million. Net gains on asset sales for the nine months ended September 30, 2022 include a $95 million gain related to a sale and leaseback transaction for certain consumer and commercial retail locations in Americas. Cash proceeds, which were received during the second quarter of 2022, related to this transaction totaled $108 million.

Miscellaneous (income) expense for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 includes an $8 million loss related to the sale of receivables in Argentina. Miscellaneous (income) expense for the three months ended March 31, 2023 includes $11 million of expense for non-indemnified costs for product liability claims related to products manufactured by a formerly consolidated joint venture entity, totaling $4 million and $19 million, respectively. Miscellaneous (income) expense for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 also includes $11 million of income related to a favorable court decision setting aside a previous unfavorable verdict on intellectual property-related legal claims, and $5 million of income for related to the write-off of accumulated foreign currency translation related to our exited business in Russia and a $10 million loss related to the sale of a receivable in Argentina. Miscellaneous (income) expense for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 includes $14 million and $15 million of expense, respectively, for intellectual property-related legal claims. Russia.

Other (Income) Expense also includes financing fees and financial instruments expense, which consists of commitment fees and charges incurred in connection with financing transactions; interest income; general and product liability expense - discontinued products, which consists of charges for claims against us related primarily to asbestos personal injury claims, net of probable insurance recoveries; royalty income; and royalty income, net (gains) losses on asset sales.

NOTE 5. INCOME TAXES

For the third first quarter of 2023, 2024, we recorded income tax expense of $256 million on a loss before income taxes of $59 million. For the first nine months of 2023, we recorded income tax expense of $22 million on a loss before income taxes of $36952 million. Income tax expense for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 includes a net discrete tax benefit of $81 million and $5 million, respectively. million.

For the third first quarter of 2022, 2023, we recorded an income tax expense benefit of $581 million on income loss before income taxes of $106 million. For the first nine months of 2022, we recorded income tax expense of $178 million on income before income taxes of $492 100 million. Income tax expense for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 March 31, 2023 includes net discrete tax expense of $21 million and $ million.

million, respectively. Discrete tax expense for the first nine months Table of 2022 includes a charge of $ Contents 14 million to write off deferred tax assets related to tax loss carryforwards in the UK and a charge of $11 million to establish a full valuation allowance on our net deferred tax assets in Russia, partially offset by a net benefit of $5 million for various other items.

We record taxes based on overall estimated annual effective tax rates. The difference between our effective tax rate and the U.S. statutory rate of 21% for both the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and three and nine months ended September 30, 2022 March 31, 2023 primarily relates to losses in foreign jurisdictions in which no tax benefits are recorded and the discrete items noted above.

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) have published the Pillar Two model rules which adopt a global corporate minimum tax of 15% for multinational enterprises with average revenue in excess of €750 million. Certain jurisdictions in which we operate enacted legislation consistent with one or more of the OECD Pillar Two model rules effective in 2024. The model rules include minimum domestic top-up taxes, income inclusion rules, and undertaxed profit rules all aimed to ensure that multinational corporations pay a minimum effective corporate tax rate of 15% in each jurisdiction in which they operate. We do not expect the Pillar Two model rules to materially impact our annual effective tax rate in 2024. However, we are continuing to evaluate the Pillar Two model rules and related legislation and their potential impact on future periods.

We consider both positive and negative evidence when measuring the need for a valuation allowance. The weight given to the evidence is commensurate with the extent to which it may be objectively verified. Current and cumulative financial reporting results are a source of objectively verifiable evidence. We give operating results during the most recent three-year period a significant weight in our analysis. We typically only consider forecasts of future profitability when positive cumulative operating results exist in the most recent three-year period. We perform scheduling exercises to determine if sufficient taxable income of the appropriate character exists in the periods required in order to realize our deferred tax assets with limited lives (such as tax loss carryforwards and tax credits) prior to their expiration. We also consider prudent tax planning strategies (including an assessment of their feasibility) to accelerate taxable income if required to utilize expiring deferred tax assets. A valuation allowance is not required to the extent that, in our judgment, positive evidence exists with a magnitude and duration sufficient to result in a conclusion that it is more likely than not that our deferred tax assets will be realized.

For 2023, we do not anticipate that the 15% corporate alternative minimum tax ("CAMT") under the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 will apply to us due to the significant pandemic-driven losses we incurred in 2020. As allowed, we elected to not consider the estimated impact of potential future CAMT obligations for purposes of assessing valuation allowances on our deferred tax assets.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we had approximately $1.2 1.3 billion and $1.1 1.2 billion of U.S. federal, state and local net deferred tax assets, respectively, inclusive of valuation allowances totaling $26 22 million in each period, primarily for state tax loss carryforwards with limited lives. Approximately As of March 31, 2024, approximately $800 1.1 million billion of these U.S. net deferred tax assets have had unlimited lives and approximately $400 200 million have had limited lives, including $22 million of foreign tax credits, and the majority do not start to expire between until 2031. As of December 31, 2023, approximately $2023 and 20421.0.

At September 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022, our billion of these U.S. net deferred tax assets described above include had unlimited lives and approximately $245.200 million and had limited lives, including $230.22 million respectively, of foreign tax credits, with limited lives, and the majority do not start to expire until 2031. In the U.S., as of December 31, 2023, we emerged from a three-year cumulative loss which was driven by business disruptions created by the COVID-19 pandemic. Our earnings U.S. cumulative income for the three-years ended March 31, 2024 is primarily a result of gains from other comprehensive income rather than consistently profitable U.S. operating results. Our U.S. operating results for the first quarter of 2024 have shown improvement when compared to the first quarter of 2023.

In assessing our ability to utilize our net deferred tax assets, we primarily consider objectively verifiable evidence, including the improvement of our U.S. operating results during the first quarter of 2024 as a result of lower raw material and transportation costs and benefits from the Goodyear Forward plan compared to the first quarter of 2023. In addition, we consider our current forecasts of future profitability taking into consideration in assessing our ability to realize our deferred tax assets as well as the impact of tax planning strategies. These forecasts include the impact of recent trends along with three significant sources and various macroeconomic factors such as the impact of foreign income, provide us sufficient positive evidence that we will be able to utilize these net foreign tax credits which expire through 2032. raw material, transportation, labor and energy costs on our profitability. Our sources of foreign income are (1) 100% of our domestic profitability can be re-characterized as foreign source income under current U.S. tax law to the extent domestic losses have offset foreign source income in prior years, (2) annual net foreign source income, exclusive of dividends, primarily from royalties, and (3) tax planning strategies including accelerating income on cross border transactions, including sales of inventory or raw materials to our subsidiaries, reducing U.S. interest expense by, for example, reducing intercompany loans through repatriating current year earnings of foreign subsidiaries, repatriation of certain foreign royalty income, and other financing transactions, all of which would increase our domestic profitability.

We consider believe our current improvement in U.S. operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2024 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2023, as well as forecasts of future profitability, in assessing provide us sufficient positive evidence to conclude that it is more likely than not that, at March 31, 2024, our ability to realize our U.S. net deferred tax assets including our foreign tax credits. These forecasts include the impact of recent trends, including various will be fully utilized. However, macroeconomic factors such as the impact of raw material, transportation, labor and energy costs on our profitability, as well as the impact of tax planning strategies. These macroeconomic factors possess a high degree of volatility and can significantly impact our profitability. In addition, certain tax provisions, such as the annual interest expense limitation under Section 163(j) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, if amended, could impact our analysis of the realizability of our U.S. deferred tax assets. If our U.S. operating results significantly decline in the future, we may need to record a valuation allowance which could adversely impact our operating results. As such, there is a risk that future earnings we will not be sufficient to fully utilize closely monitor our U.S. net operations as well as any tax law changes to assess the realizability of our U.S. deferred tax assets, including our foreign tax credits. However, we believe our forecasts of future profitability along with the three significant sources of foreign income described above provide us sufficient positive, objectively verifiable evidence to conclude that it is more likely than not that, at September 30, 2023, our U.S. net deferred tax assets, including our foreign tax credits, will be fully utilized assets.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we also had approximately $1.3 billion and $1.21.5 billion of foreign net deferred tax assets respectively, and related valuation allowances of approximately $1.11.2 billion and $1.0 billion, respectively. Our losses in various foreign taxing jurisdictions in recent periods represented sufficient negative evidence to require us to maintain a full valuation allowance against certain of these net foreign deferred tax assets. Most notably, in Luxembourg, we maintain a valuation allowance of approximately $918.10 million on all of our net deferred tax assets. Each reporting period, we assess available positive and negative evidence and estimate if sufficient future taxable income will be generated to utilize these existing deferred tax assets. We do not believe that sufficient positive evidence required to release valuation allowances on our foreign deferred tax assets having a significant impact on our financial position or results of operations will exist within the next twelve months.

For the ~~nine~~ three months ended ~~September 30, 2023~~ ~~March 31, 2024~~, changes to our unrecognized tax benefits did not, and for the full year of ~~2023~~ ~~2024~~ are not expected to, have a significant impact on our financial position or results of operations.

We are open to examination in the United States ~~from~~ for 2021 onward and in Germany from 2018 onward. Generally, for our remaining tax jurisdictions, years from ~~2018~~ ~~2019~~ onward are still open to examination.

NOTE 6. EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share are computed based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted earnings per share are calculated to reflect the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts were exercised or converted into common stock.

Basic and diluted earnings per common share are calculated as follows:

(In millions, except per share amounts)	Three Months		Nine Months		Three Months Ended

CREDIT FACILITIES

$2.75 billion Amended and Restated First Lien Revolving Credit Facility due 2026

Our amended and restated first lien revolving credit facility matures on June 8, 2026 and is available in the form of loans or letters of credit. Up to $800 million in letters of credit and $50 million of swingline loans are available for issuance under the facility. Subject to the consent of the lenders whose commitments are to be increased, we may request that the facility be increased by up to $250 million.

Our obligations under the facility are guaranteed by most of our wholly-owned U.S. and Canadian subsidiaries. Our obligations under the facility and our subsidiaries' obligations under the related guarantees are secured by first priority security interests in a variety of collateral.

Availability under the facility is subject to a borrowing base, which is based on (i) eligible accounts receivable and inventory of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and certain of its U.S. and Canadian subsidiaries, (ii) the value of our principal trademarks in an amount not to exceed $400 million, (iii) the value of eligible machinery and equipment, and (iv) certain cash in an amount not to exceed $275 million. To the extent that our eligible accounts receivable, inventory and other components of the borrowing base decline in value, our borrowing base will decrease and the availability under the facility may decrease below $2.75 billion. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, our borrowing base, and therefore our availability, under this facility was above $178 million below the facility's stated amount of $2.75 billion.

The facility has customary representations and warranties including, as a condition to borrowing, that all such representations and warranties are true and correct, in all material respects, on the date of the borrowing, including representations as to no material adverse change in our business or financial condition since December 31, 2020. The facility also has customary defaults, including a cross-default to material indebtedness of Goodyear and our subsidiaries.

If Available Cash (as defined in the facility) plus the availability under the facility is greater than $750 million, amounts drawn under the facility will bear interest, at our option, at (i) 125 basis points over SOFR or (ii) 25 basis points over an alternate base rate (the higher of (a) the prime rate, (b) the federal funds effective rate or the overnight bank funding rate plus 50 basis points or (c) SOFR for a one month interest period plus 100 basis points). If Available Cash plus the availability under the facility is equal to or less than $750 million, then amounts drawn under the facility will bear interest, at our option, at (i) 150 basis points over SOFR or (ii) 50 basis points over an alternate base rate. Based on our current liquidity, amounts drawn under this facility bear interest at SOFR plus 125 basis points. Undrawn amounts under the facility are subject to an annual commitment fee of 25 basis points.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had $790 630 million of borrowings and $1 million of letters of credit issued under the revolving credit facility. At December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we had $no 385 million of borrowings and $31 million of letters of credit issued under the revolving credit facility.

€800 million Amended and Restated Senior Secured European Revolving Credit Facility due 2028

Our amended and restated The European revolving credit facility matures on January 14, 2028 and consists of (i) a €180 million German tranche that is available only to Goodyear Germany GmbH and (ii) a €620 million all-borrower tranche that is available to Goodyear Europe B.V. ("GEBV"), Goodyear Germany and Goodyear Operations S.A. Up to €175 million of swingline loans and €75 million in letters of credit are available for issuance under the all-borrower tranche. Subject to the consent of the lenders whose commitments are to be increased, we may request that the facility be increased by up to €200 million. Amounts drawn under this facility will bear interest at SOFR plus 150 basis points for loans denominated in U.S. dollars, EURIBOR plus 150 basis points for loans denominated in euros, and SONIA plus 150 basis points for loans denominated in pounds sterling. Undrawn amounts under the facility are subject to an annual commitment fee of 25 basis points.

GEBV and certain of its subsidiaries in the United Kingdom, Luxembourg, France and Germany provide guarantees to support the facility. The German guarantors secure the German tranche on a first-lien basis and the all-borrower tranche on a second-lien basis. GEBV and its other subsidiaries that provide guarantees secure the all-borrower tranche on a first-lien basis and generally do not provide collateral support for the German tranche. The Company and its U.S. and Canadian subsidiaries that guarantee our U.S. first lien revolving credit facility described above also provide unsecured guarantees in support of the facility.

The facility has customary representations and warranties including, as a condition to borrowing, that all such representations and warranties are true and correct, in all material respects, on the date of the borrowing, including representations as to no material adverse change in our business or financial condition since December 31, 2021. The facility also has customary defaults, including a cross-default to material indebtedness of Goodyear and our subsidiaries.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, there were $191 million (€180 million) of no borrowings outstanding under the German tranche, $339 292 million (€320 270 million) of borrowings outstanding under the all-borrower tranche and no letters of credit outstanding under the European revolving credit facility. At December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, there were we had no borrowings outstanding under the German tranche, $374 million (€350 million) of borrowings outstanding under the all-borrower tranche and no letters of credit outstanding under the European revolving credit facility.

Accounts Receivable Securitization Facilities (On-Balance Sheet)

GEBV and certain other of our European subsidiaries are parties to a pan-European accounts receivable securitization facility that expires in 2027. The terms of the facility provide the flexibility to designate annually the maximum amount of funding available under the facility in an amount of not less than €30 million and not more than €450 million. For the period from October 20, 2022 through October 18, 2023, the designated maximum amount of the facility was €300 million. For the period from October 19, 2023 through October 16, 2024, the designated maximum amount of the facility will remain is €300 million.

The facility involves an ongoing daily sale of substantially all of the trade accounts receivable of certain GEBV subsidiaries. These subsidiaries retain servicing responsibilities. Utilization under this facility is based on eligible receivable balances.

The funding commitments under the facility will expire upon the earliest to occur of: (a) October 19, 2027, (b) the non-renewal and expiration (without substitution) of all of the back-up liquidity commitments, (c) the early termination of the facility according to its terms (generally upon an Early Amortisation Event (as defined in the facility), which includes, among other things, events similar to the events of default under our first lien revolving credit facility; certain tax law changes; or certain changes to law, regulation or accounting standards), or (d) our request for early termination of the facility. The facility's current back-up liquidity commitments will expire on October 16, 2024.

Accounts Receivable Factoring Facilities (Off-Balance Sheet)

We have sold certain of our trade receivables under off-balance sheet programs. For these programs, we have concluded that there is generally no risk of loss to us from non-payment of the sold receivables. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, the gross amount of receivables sold was $621 689 million, compared to $744 693 million at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023.

Supplier Financing

We have entered into supplier finance programs with several financial institutions. Under these programs, the financial institutions act as our paying agents with respect to accounts payable due to our suppliers. We agree to pay the financial institutions the stated amount of the confirmed invoices from the designated suppliers on the original due dates of the invoices. Invoice payment terms can be up to 120 days based on industry norms for the specific item purchased. We do not pay any fees to the financial institutions and we do not pledge any assets as security or provide other forms of guarantees for these programs. These programs allow our suppliers to sell their receivables to the financial institutions at the sole discretion of the suppliers and the financial institutions on terms that are negotiated among them. We are not always notified when our suppliers sell receivables under these programs. Our obligations to our suppliers, including the amounts due and scheduled payment dates, are not impacted by our suppliers' decisions to sell their receivables under these programs. The amounts available under these programs were $860 million and $892 million at March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively. The amounts confirmed to the financial institutions were $609 million and $580 million at March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively, and are included in Accounts Payable — Trade in our Consolidated Balance Sheets. All activity related to these obligations is presented within operating activities on the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

Other Foreign Credit Facilities

A Mexican subsidiary and a U.S. subsidiary have a revolving credit facility in Mexico. At September 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022 March 31, 2024, the amounts available and utilized under this facility were $200 million. At December 31, 2023, the amounts available and utilized under this facility were $200 million and $84 million, respectively. The facility ultimately matures on November 22, 2024, has covenants relating to the Mexican and U.S. subsidiaries and has customary representations and warranties and defaults relating to the Mexican and U.S. subsidiaries' ability to perform their respective obligations under the facility. The facility matures in 2024; however, our subsidiaries have received a commitment to renew and extend the facility under substantially the same customary representations, warranties and default provisions with a maturity date in 2026.

Our Chinese subsidiaries have several financing arrangements in China. These facilities contain covenants relating to these Chinese subsidiaries and have customary representations and warranties and defaults relating to these Chinese subsidiaries' ability to perform their respective obligations under these facilities. These facilities are also available for other off-balance sheet utilization, such as letters of credit and bank acceptances.

The following table presents the total amounts available and utilized under the Chinese financing arrangements:

Certain of these facilities can only be used to finance the expansion of one of our manufacturing facilities in China and at September 30, 2023, the unused amount available under these facilities was $92 million, compared to $63.93 million at December 31, 2022 both March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023.

DERIVATIVE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

We utilize derivative financial instrument contracts and nonderivative instruments to manage interest rate, foreign exchange and commodity price risks. We have established a control environment that includes policies and procedures for risk assessment and the approval, reporting and monitoring of derivative financial instrument activities. We do not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading purposes.

Foreign Currency Contracts

We enter into foreign currency contracts in order to manage the impact of changes in foreign exchange rates on our consolidated results of operations and future foreign currency-denominated cash flows. These contracts may be used to reduce exposure to currency movements affecting existing foreign currency-denominated assets, liabilities, firm commitments and forecasted transactions resulting primarily from trade purchases and sales, equipment acquisitions, intercompany loans and royalty agreements. Contracts hedging short term trade receivables and payables normally have no hedging designation.

The following table presents the fair values for foreign currency hedge contracts that do not meet the criteria to be accounted for as cash flow hedging instruments:

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, these outstanding foreign currency derivatives had notional amounts of $1,711 1,867 million and $1,197 1,930 million, respectively, and were primarily related to intercompany loans. Other (Income) Expense included net transaction gains on derivatives of $26 35 million and net transaction losses on derivatives of $30 2 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023. Other (Income) Expense included net transaction gains on derivatives of $20 million March 31, 2024 and $54 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, 2023, respectively. These amounts were substantially offset in Other (Income) Expense by the effect of changing exchange rates on the underlying currency exposures.

The following table presents fair values for foreign currency hedge contracts that meet the criteria to be accounted for as cash flow hedging instruments:

Other current liabilities	(3)	(3)	—	(2)

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, these outstanding foreign currency derivatives had notional amounts of $50 2 million and $71 27 million, respectively, and primarily related to U.S. dollar denominated intercompany transactions. Based on our current forecasts, we believe that it is probable that the underlying hedge transactions will occur within an appropriate time frame in order to continue to qualify for cash flow hedge accounting treatment.

We enter into master netting agreements with counterparties. The amounts eligible for offset under the master netting agreements are not material and we have elected a gross presentation of foreign currency contracts in the Consolidated Balance Sheets.

The counterparties to our foreign currency contracts were considered by us to be substantial and creditworthy financial institutions that were recognized market makers at the time we entered into those contracts. We seek to control our credit exposure to these counterparties by diversifying across multiple counterparties, by setting counterparty credit limits based on long term credit ratings and other indicators of counterparty credit risk such as credit default swap spreads and default probabilities, and by monitoring the financial strength of these counterparties on a regular basis. We also enter into master netting agreements with counterparties when possible. By controlling and monitoring exposure to counterparties in this manner, we believe that we effectively manage the risk of loss due to nonperformance by a counterparty. However, the inability of a counterparty to fulfill its contractual obligations to us could have a material adverse effect on our liquidity, financial position or results of operations in the period in which it occurs.

Service cost is recorded in CGS or SAG. Other components of net periodic pension cost are recorded in Other (Income) Expense. Net curtailments, settlements and termination benefits, if any, are recorded in Other (Income) Expense or Rationalizations if related to a rationalization plan.

In the first nine months quarter of 2023, 2024, a pension settlement charges credit of $405 million were was recorded in Other (Income) Expense. In The settlement credit resulted from a premium refund related to the third quarter purchase of 2023, we recorded settlement charges of $4 million in Other (Income) Expense resulting from total lump sum payments exceeding annual service and interest cost a group annuity contract for certain non-U.S. plans.

During the second quarter of 2023, we settled all plan benefits of the Cooper Tire U.S. salaried defined benefit pension plan with lump sum payments to electing participants and the purchase of a group annuity contract. After settlement, we currently estimate that excess plan assets of approximately $18 million will be used to fund future obligations associated with our U.S. salaried defined contribution savings plan. During the second quarter of 2023, we also settled all plan benefits of the Ireland defined benefit pension plan. Settlement charges of $36 million were recorded in Other (Income) Expense in the second quarter of 2023 in conjunction with the termination of these plans.

In the third quarter and first nine months of 2022, pension settlement charges of $10 million and $28 million, respectively, were recorded in Other (Income) Expense. The settlement charges resulted from total lump sum payments exceeding annual service and interest cost of the applicable plans.

Effective May 1, 2023, our Canadian salaried pension plan was frozen to future accruals for participants who met defined age and service criteria, and replaced with employer contributions to a defined contribution savings plan. 2023.

We also provide certain U.S. employees and employees at certain non-U.S. subsidiaries with health care benefits or life insurance benefits upon retirement. Other postretirement benefits expense for the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023 was $2 million and $4 million, respectively, and for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 and 2022 was $6 million and $12 million, respectively, each period.

We expect to contribute $25 million to $50 million to our funded non-U.S. pension plans in 2023 2024. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we contributed $6.9 million and $28 million, respectively, to our non-U.S. plans.

The expense recognized for our contributions to defined contribution savings plans for the three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023 was $33 million for each period, and for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 and 2022 was $100.37 million and $99.35 million, respectively.

NOTE 11. STOCK COMPENSATION PLANS

Our Board of Directors granted 1.2 1.6 million restricted stock units and 0.4 1.2 million performance share units during the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 under our stock compensation plans. We measure the fair value of grants of restricted stock units and performance share units based primarily on the closing market price of a share of our common stock on the date of the grant, modified as appropriate to take into account the features of such grants. The weighted average fair value per share was $11.43 12.33 for restricted stock units and $11.48 11.45 for performance share units granted during the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024.

We recognized stock-based compensation expense of $3 million and $19.5 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023, March 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, unearned compensation cost related to the unvested portion of all stock-based awards was approximately $19.35 million and is expected to be recognized over the remaining vesting period of the respective grants, through the third first quarter of 2026 2027. We recognized stock-based compensation expense of $6 million and $19 million during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2022, respectively.

NOTE 12. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

Environmental Matters

We have recorded liabilities totaling $78.82 million and $80 million at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively, for anticipated costs related to various environmental matters, primarily the remediation of numerous waste disposal sites and certain properties sold by us. Of these amounts, $22.26 million and $20.27 million were included in Other Current Liabilities at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. The costs include legal and consulting fees, site studies, the design and implementation of remediation plans, post-remediation monitoring and related activities, and will be paid over several years. The amount of our ultimate liability in respect of these matters may be affected by several uncertainties, primarily the ultimate cost of required remediation and the extent to which other responsible parties contribute. We have limited potential insurance coverage for future environmental claims.

Since many of the remediation activities related to environmental matters vary substantially in duration and cost from site to site and the associated costs for each vary depending on the mix of unique site characteristics, in some cases we cannot reasonably estimate a range of possible losses. Although it is not possible to estimate with certainty the outcome of all of our environmental matters, management believes that potential losses in excess of current reserves for environmental matters, individually and in the aggregate, will not have a material adverse effect on our financial position, cash flows or results of operations.

Workers' Compensation

We have recorded liabilities, on a discounted basis, totaling $189.169 million and $187.167 million for anticipated costs related to workers' compensation at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. Of these amounts, $33.32 million and $37 million were included in Current Liabilities as part of Compensation and Benefits at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. The costs include an estimate of expected settlements on pending claims, defense costs and a provision for claims incurred but not reported. These estimates are based on our assessment of potential liability using an analysis of available information with respect to pending claims, historical experience and current cost trends. The amount of our ultimate liability in respect of these matters may differ from these estimates. We periodically, and at least annually, update our loss development factors based on actuarial analyses. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, the liability was discounted using a risk-free rate of return. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we estimate that it is reasonably possible that the liability could exceed our recorded amounts by approximately $25.20 million.

General and Product Liability and Other Litigation

We have recorded liabilities for both asserted and unasserted claims totaling $444.446 million and $412.438 million, including related legal fees expected to be incurred, for potential product liability and other tort claims, including asbestos claims, at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. Of these amounts, $61.47 million and $39.46 million were included in Other Current Liabilities at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. The amounts recorded were estimated based on an assessment of potential liability using an analysis of available information with respect to pending claims, historical experience and, where available, recent and current trends. Based upon that assessment, at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we do not believe that estimated reasonably possible losses associated with general and product liability claims in excess of the amounts recorded will have a material adverse effect on our financial position, cash flows or results of operations. However, the amount of our ultimate liability in respect of these matters may differ from these estimates.

We have recorded an indemnification asset within Accounts Receivable of $711 million and within Other Assets of $3 million for Sumitomo Rubber Industries, Ltd.'s ("SRI") obligation to indemnify us for certain product liability claims related to products manufactured by a formerly consolidated joint venture entity, subject to certain caps and restrictions.

Asbestos. We are a defendant in numerous lawsuits alleging various asbestos-related personal injuries purported to result from alleged exposure to asbestos in certain products manufactured by us or present in certain of our facilities. Typically, these lawsuits have been brought against multiple defendants in state and federal courts. To date, we have disposed of approximately 159,100 160,100 claims by defending, obtaining the dismissal thereof, or entering into a settlement. The sum of our accrued asbestos-related liability and gross payments to date, including legal costs, by us and our insurers totaled approximately $582 584 million through September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and $570 580 million through December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023.

A summary of recent approximate asbestos claims activity follows. Because claims are often filed and disposed of by settlement or dismissal in large numbers, the amount and timing of filings, settlements and dismissals and the number of open claims during a particular period can fluctuate significantly.

We periodically, and at least annually, review our existing reserves for pending claims, including a reasonable estimate of the liability associated with unasserted asbestos claims, and estimate our receivables from probable insurance recoveries. We recorded gross liabilities for both asserted and unasserted claims, inclusive of defense costs, totaling $125 121 million and $120 million at both September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. In determining the estimate of our asbestos liability, we evaluated claims over the next ten-year period. Due to the difficulties in making these estimates, analysis based on new data and/or a change in circumstances arising in the future may result in an increase in the recorded obligation, and that increase could be significant.

We maintain certain primary and excess insurance coverage under coverage-in-place agreements, and also have additional excess liability insurance with respect to asbestos liabilities. After consultation with our outside legal counsel and giving consideration to agreements with certain of our insurance carriers, the financial viability and legal obligations of our insurance carriers and other relevant factors, we determine an amount we expect is probable of recovery from such carriers. We record a receivable with respect to such policies when we determine that recovery is probable and we can reasonably estimate the amount of a particular recovery.

We recorded an insurance receivable related to asbestos claims of $70.67 million and $66 million at both September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. We expect that approximately 55% of asbestos claim related losses would be recoverable through insurance during the ten-year period covered by the estimated liability. Of these amounts, $11.10 million was included in Current Assets as part of Accounts Receivable at both September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. The recorded receivable consists of an amount we expect to collect under coverage-in-place agreements with certain primary and excess insurance carriers as well as an amount we believe is probable of recovery from certain of our other excess insurance carriers.

We believe that, at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we had approximately $530.520 million in excess level policy limits applicable to indemnity and defense costs for asbestos products claims under coverage-in-place agreements. We also had additional unsettled excess level policy limits potentially applicable to such costs. In addition, we had coverage under certain primary policies for indemnity and defense costs for asbestos products claims under remaining aggregate limits pursuant to a coverage-in-place agreement, as well as coverage for indemnity and defense costs for asbestos premises claims pursuant to coverage-in-place agreements.

With respect to both asserted and unasserted claims, it is reasonably possible that we may incur a material amount of cost in excess of the current reserve; however, such amounts cannot be reasonably estimated. Coverage under insurance policies is subject to varying characteristics of asbestos claims including, but not limited to, the type of claim (premise vs. product exposure), alleged date of first exposure to our products or premises and disease alleged. Recoveries may also be limited by insurer insolvencies or financial difficulties. Depending upon the nature of these characteristics or events, as well as the resolution of certain legal issues, some portion of the insurance may not be accessible by us.

Other Actions

We are currently a party to various claims, indirect tax assessments and legal proceedings in addition to those noted above. If management believes that a loss arising from these matters is probable and can reasonably be estimated, we record the amount of the loss, or the minimum estimated liability when the loss is estimated using a range and no point within the range is more probable than another. As additional information becomes available, any potential liability related to these matters is assessed and the estimates are revised, if necessary. Based on currently available information, management believes that the ultimate outcome of these matters, individually and in the aggregate, will not have a material adverse effect on our financial position or overall trends in results of operations.

Our recorded liabilities and estimates of reasonably possible losses for the contingent liabilities described above are based on our assessment of potential liability using the information available to us at the time and, where applicable, any past experience and recent and current trends with respect to similar matters. Our contingent liabilities are subject to inherent uncertainties, and unfavorable judicial or administrative decisions could occur which we did not anticipate. Such an unfavorable decision could include monetary damages, fines or other penalties or an injunction prohibiting us from taking certain actions or selling certain products. If such an unfavorable decision were to occur, it could result in a material adverse impact on our financial position and results of operations in the period in which the decision occurs or in future periods.

Income Tax Matters

The calculation of our tax liabilities involves dealing with uncertainties in the application of complex tax regulations. We recognize liabilities for anticipated tax audit issues based on our estimate of whether, and the extent to which, additional taxes will be due. If we ultimately determine that payment of these amounts is unnecessary, we reverse the liability and recognize a tax benefit during the period in which we determine that the liability is no longer necessary. We also recognize income tax benefits to the extent that it is more likely than not that our positions will be sustained when challenged by the taxing authorities. We derecognize income tax benefits when based on new information we determine that it is no longer more likely than not that our position will be sustained. To the extent we prevail in matters for which liabilities have been established, or determine we need to derecognize tax benefits recorded in prior periods, our results of operations and effective tax rate in a given period could be materially affected. An unfavorable tax settlement would require use of our cash, and lead to recognition of expense to the extent the settlement amount exceeds recorded liabilities and, in the case of an income tax settlement, result in an increase in our effective tax rate in the period of resolution. A favorable tax settlement would be recognized as a reduction of expense to the extent the settlement amount is lower than recorded liabilities and, in the case of an income tax settlement, would result in a reduction in our effective tax rate in the period of resolution.

While the Company applies consistent transfer pricing policies and practices globally, supports transfer prices through economic studies, seeks advance pricing agreements and joint audits to the extent possible and believes its transfer prices to be appropriate, such transfer prices, and related interpretations of tax laws, are occasionally challenged by various taxing authorities globally. We have received various tax assessments challenging our interpretations of applicable tax laws in various jurisdictions. Although we believe we have complied with applicable tax laws, have strong positions and defenses and have historically been successful in defending such claims, our results of operations could be materially adversely affected in the case we are unsuccessful in the defense of existing or future claims.

Binding Commitments and Guarantees

We have off-balance sheet financial guarantees and other commitments totaling $32 million and $31 million at both September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022, December 31, 2023, respectively. We issue guarantees to financial institutions or other entities on behalf of certain of our affiliates, lessors or customers. We generally do not require collateral in connection with the issuance of these guarantees.

In 2015, as a result of the dissolution of the global alliance with SRI, we issued a guarantee of $46 million to an insurance company related to SRI's obligation to pay certain outstanding workers' compensation claims of a formerly consolidated joint venture entity. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, this guarantee amount has been reduced to $17.18 million. We have concluded the probability of our performance to be remote and, therefore, have not recorded a liability for this guarantee. While there is no fixed duration of this guarantee, we expect the amount of this guarantee to continue to decrease over time as the formerly consolidated joint venture entity pays its outstanding claims.

If our performance under these guarantees is triggered by non-payment or another specified event, we would be obligated to make payment to the financial institution or the other entity, and would typically have recourse to the affiliate, lessor, customer or SRI, as applicable. We are unable to estimate the extent to which our lessors', customers' or SRI's assets would be adequate to recover any payments made by us under the related guarantees.

We have an agreement to provide a revolving loan commitment to TireHub. During the first quarter of up to 2024, the revolving loan commitment increased from $100 million to $130 million. At September 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022 March 31, 2024, $78 million and $17 million was drawn on this commitment, respectively, which includes $2 million of interest. At December 31, 2023, $96 million was drawn on this commitment, which includes $2 million of interest.

Subsequent Event

In March 2024, we received net proceeds of $108 million from the sale of a distribution center in Germany. In April 2024, once the transaction closed, we recognized a gain, net of transaction costs, of approximately $80 million in Other (Income) Expense.

NOTE 13. CAPITAL STOCK

Common Stock Repurchases

We may repurchase shares delivered to us by employees as payment for the exercise price of stock options and the withholding taxes due upon the exercise of stock options or the vesting or payment of stock awards. During the first nine months of 2023, 2024, we did not repurchase any shares from employees.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

All per share amounts are diluted and refer to Goodyear net income (loss).

OVERVIEW

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company (the "Company," "Goodyear," "we," "us" or "our") is one of the world's leading manufacturers of tires, with one of the most recognizable brand names in the world and operations in most regions of the world. We have a broad global footprint with 5755 manufacturing facilities in 2322 countries, including the United States. We operate our business through three operating segments representing our regional tire businesses: Americas; Europe, Middle East and Africa ("EMEA"); and Asia Pacific.

Results of Operations

On September 5, 2023 November 15, 2023, we approved announced a rationalization transformation plan, Goodyear Forward, that is intended to optimize our portfolio of products, deliver segment operating margin expansion and workforce reorganization plan reduce our leverage in order to drive sustainable, long-term shareholder value creation. Optimization of our portfolio consists of a strategic review of three major asset groups: our chemical operations which produces synthetic rubber and other chemical products in our Americas segment, the Dunlop brand for which we own rights in certain markets throughout the world, but is primarily used in our EMEA segment, and our off-the-road tire product operations. Our plans for margin expansion include brand optimization and tiering to improve our cost structure. The proposed actions would lead to capitalizing on premium tire pricing and volume and a reduction of approximately 1,200 positions across multiple countries within EMEA while our overall exposure related to lower-tiered products either through margin expansion or product line rationalization. Our plans for margin expansion also creating approximately 500 new roles principally include a reduction of our cost structure by $1 billion, including actions related to our manufacturing footprint, plant optimization, further improvement of our purchasing leverage, reduction of Selling, Administrative and General expenses ("SAG") and improvements in our existing shared services organization in Romania, resulting in an overall net reduction supply chain planning and logistics. We anticipate the accumulated benefit of approximately 700 positions. In certain countries, relevant portions of the plan remain subject to consultation with employee representative bodies. We expect these actions will be substantially complete in 2025. The total pre-tax charges associated with the plan are expected improve our segment operating margin to be $210 million to $230 million, substantially all of which are expected to be cash charges primarily for associate-related and other implementation and exit costs. During the third quarter of 2023, we accrued $167 million of pre-tax charges. The majority of the remaining charges are expected to be recorded in 2024. The majority of the cash outflows associated with this plan are expected to occur in 2024.

On September 19, 2023, we approved a rationalization plan in Asia Pacific to improve profitability in our Australia and New Zealand operations. The proposed plan will change the Company's operating model to a third-party distribution and retail sales model instead of a company-owned approach. The plan will lead to a reduction of approximately 700 positions, the exit of nine warehouse locations, and the sale or exit of approximately 100 retail and fleet store locations. The plan remains subject to consultation with employee representative bodies. We expect to substantially complete this rationalization plan 10% by the end of 2025. During the first quarter of 2024, and estimate total pre-tax charges associated with this action the Goodyear Forward plan provided $72 million in benefits to be between $55 million and $65 million, of which $40 million segment operating income.

Our tire manufacturing facility in Debica, Poland ("Debica") continues to $50 million are expected to be cash charges primarily for associate-related and lease exit costs, with the remainder primarily representing non-cash charges for accelerated depreciation and other asset-related charges. We have recorded $20 million of pre-tax charges recover from a fire in the third quarter of 2023 and expect to record approximately $5 million of pre-tax charges full ramp-up is expected in the fourth quarter of 2023 related to this plan. The majority of the remaining charges are expected to be recorded in 2024. The majority of the cash outflows associated with this plan are expected to occur in 2024.

The full run rate savings for these actions are expected to be approximately $150 million by 2025. These actions are a part of a broader set of actions we expect to take in order to fundamentally streamline our business, improve our competitive position and drive growth. We expect to share this broader plan with investors during the fourth quarter.

Results of Operations

During the third quarter and first nine months of 2023, our operating results reflected the impact of the ongoing effects of inflation and increases in interest rates on the global economy. While global tire industry demand remains below 2019 levels, operating margins improved for each of our segments during the third quarter of 2023, when compared to the second quarter of 2023. Additionally, we saw signs of improving volume conditions in several of our markets, including the U.S., where industry volume grew 10% over the third quarter of last year. The United Auto Workers strike did not significantly impact our results during the third quarter of 2023, and we saw improvement in demand from our OE customers globally, primarily due to demand in China.

The inflationary cost pressures we experienced in the first half of 2023 eased in the third quarter as decreases in raw material and transportation costs offset inflation. However, cost pressures remain on wages and benefits as we continue to experience increased labor-related costs and manufacturing inefficiencies associated with the ongoing tight labor supply, particularly in the U.S. Additionally, energy costs remain elevated in EMEA, driven by the indirect impacts of the war in Ukraine.

During the second quarter of 2023, a severe storm in the U.S. significantly damaged and caused the temporary shut-down of our tire manufacturing facility and adjacent warehouse in Tupelo, Mississippi ("Tupelo"). The damage to Tupelo was significant; however, we were able to restart production earlier than expected and returned to full production in the beginning of the third quarter. We estimate the negative impact of the Tupelo storm on sales in Americas for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 was $33 million and $110 million, respectively. We estimate that the negative impact on our earnings for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2023 was $5 million ($4 million after-tax and minority) and $69 million ($56 million after-tax and minority), respectively. The negative impact on our earnings for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 included $55 million in Americas segment operating income and $14 million of corporate expense for an insurance deductible.

On August 20, 2023, a fire significantly damaged a portion of the tire curing area and caused the temporary shutdown of our tire manufacturing facility in Debica, Poland ("Debica"). Tire production at Debica resumed in August at approximately 55% of capacity and is currently at approximately 70% of capacity. A full ramp-up is not expected until the fourth quarter of 2024 due to the lead time to replace the damaged equipment. We estimate the negative impact on our earnings during the third quarter was approximately $14 million ($12 million after-tax and minority), including $8 million of corporate expense for an insurance deductible and a $6 million impact on EMEA's segment operating income, primarily comprised of fixed costs incurred during the plant shutdown and subsequent ramp-up. There were no significant lost sales during the third quarter as a result of leveraging existing inventory and increasing production at other facilities.

We maintain third-party insurance coverage for property damage, repair expenses and business interruption, subject to a $15 million deductible for each of the events at Tupelo and Debica. While we expect to be reimbursed for a significant portion of our business interruption impacts for Tupelo and Debica by our third-party insurance coverage, consistent with past practice, we will record a receivable related to the business interruption once the claim is substantially complete.

During the third quarter and first nine months of 2023, in order to address softening industry demand and prevent the buildup of excess inventory, we reduced production at many of our tire manufacturing facilities, resulting in a reduction of 4.4 million units and 12.0 million units, respectively (excluding in each case the impact of the Tupelo storm and Debica fire), compared to production in the third quarter and first nine months of 2022, primarily in Americas and EMEA. Decisions to change production levels in the future will be based on an evaluation of market demand signals and inventory and supply levels, as well as the availability of sufficient qualified labor.

Our results for the third quarter of 2023 include a 2.8% decrease in tire unit shipments compared to 2022, primarily due to lower global replacement tire volume. In the third quarter of 2023, we realized volume growth in OE, primarily in Asia Pacific. We experienced approximately $84 million of inflationary cost pressures, which were partially offset by cost savings of $17 million, primarily due to lower transportation costs, excluding the impact of Goodyear Forward.

Net sales in the third quarter of 2023 were $5,142 million, compared to $5,311 million in the third quarter of 2022. Net sales decreased in the third quarter of 2023 primarily due to lower tire volume in Americas and EMEA, partially offset by higher tire volume in Asia Pacific, lower sales in other tire-related businesses, primarily due to a decrease in third-party chemical sales in Americas, and the negative impact of the Tupelo storm on sales. These decreases were partially offset by favorable foreign currency translation, driven by the weakening of the U.S. dollar, and improvements in global price and product mix, primarily in EMEA.

In the third quarter of 2023, Goodyear net loss was $89 million, or $0.31 per share, compared to Goodyear net income of $44 million, or $0.16 per share, in the third quarter of 2022. The change in Goodyear net income (loss) was primarily due to higher rationalization charges, lower segment operating income and higher interest expense. These decreases were partially offset by lower U.S. and Foreign Tax Expense driven by the pre-tax loss and lower other expense.

Total segment operating income for the third quarter of 2023 was $336 million, compared to $373 million in the third quarter of 2022. The $37 million decrease was primarily due to increased conversion costs of $154 million driven by the effect of decreased tire production on fixed cost absorption, inflation and higher energy costs, lower tire volume of $26 million, primarily in Americas and EMEA, and lower earnings in other tire-related businesses of $23 million, primarily related to a decrease in third-party chemical and retread sales in Americas, partially offset by higher global aviation sales. These decreases were partially offset by lower raw material costs of $140 million and improvements in price and product mix of $22 million, primarily unfavorable foreign currency translation in EMEA and Asia Pacific. Refer to "Results of Operations — Segment Information" for additional information.

Net sales in the first nine months of 2023 were $14,950 million, compared to $15,431 million in the first nine months of 2022. Net sales decreased in 2023 primarily due to lower tire volume, primarily in Americas and EMEA, unfavorable foreign currency translation, Pacific, driven by the strengthening of the U.S. dollar, the negative impact of the Tupelo storm on sales, and a decrease in sales in other tire-related businesses, primarily related to a decrease in third-party chemical sales in Americas and retread declines in retail sales in EMEA and Asia Pacific, partially offset by higher global aviation sales, growth in EMEA's Fleet Solutions and increased retail sales in Americas. These decreases were partially offset by global improvements in price and product mix. Solutions.

In the first nine months quarter of 2023, 2024, Goodyear net loss was $398 million $57 million, or $1.40 $0.20 per share, compared to Goodyear net income loss of $306 million $101 million, or $1.07 $0.35 per share, in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023. The change decrease in Goodyear net income (loss) loss was primarily due to lower higher segment operating income, higher rationalization charges, an increase in Other Expense and higher interest expense. These decreases were partially offset by lower U.S. rationalization actions and Foreign Tax Expense driven by the pre-tax loss, execution costs related to Goodyear Forward, including accelerated depreciation and accelerated lease costs related to announced facility closures in Americas and EMEA and third-party consulting costs.

Total segment operating income for the first nine months quarter of 2023, 2024 was $585 million $247 million, compared to $1,040 million $125 million in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023. The $455 million decrease $122 million increase was primarily due to increased conversion lower raw material costs of $511 million driven $261 million, lower transportation and imported tire costs of $75 million, benefits from the Goodyear Forward plan of $72 million, and a favorable $8 million tax item in Brazil. These increases were partially offset by the effect declines in price and product mix of decreased tire production on fixed cost absorption, inflation and higher energy costs, lower tire volume of $193 million $134 million, primarily in Americas and EMEA, higher transportation and imported tire increased conversion costs of $94 million $102 million driven by inflation, lower tire volume of $28 million, a $55 million primarily in Americas and EMEA, an $11 million negative impact due to the Tupelo storm, Debica fire, a $7 million lower benefit related to a reduction in U.S. duty rates on various commercial tires from China compared to 2023 in Americas, and unfavorable foreign currency translation of $23 million $2 million driven by the strengthening of the U.S. dollar. These decreases were partially offset by global improvements in price and product mix of $659 million, which more than offset higher raw material costs of $262 million, and lower research and development costs of $25 million. Refer to "Results of Operations — Segment Information" for additional information.

Outlook

In Looking ahead, we expect to continue progress on our Goodyear Forward plan and expect second quarter benefits from the fourth program of approximately $75 million in segment operating income.

We expect our global tire unit volume in the second quarter of 2024 to be approximately flat compared to the second quarter of 2023, we excluding the benefit of the recovery from the tornado that affected our Tupelo, Mississippi manufacturing facility in 2023. We also expect our replacement tire volume will unabsorbed overhead to be lower by approximately 3% to 4% when $30 million higher in the second quarter of 2024 compared to the fourth quarter of 2022. Despite our lower expected volume, we view the 10% growth in U.S. industry volume in the third second quarter of 2023 as a signal of the end of channel destocking that began due to lower production in the fourth first quarter of 2022. We expect our OE tire volume will be approximately 5% higher than the fourth quarter of 2022, particularly in China which continues to benefit from a focus on growing premium segments of the market including electric vehicles, sports utility vehicles and luxury vehicles. 2024.

We expect our raw material costs to be lower by approximately $300 million $160 million lower in the fourth second quarter of 2023 2024 compared to the fourth second quarter of 2022. 2023. We anticipate expect price and product mix, when netted with the lower raw material costs, will reduction, to be a benefit of approximately $250 million $90 million in the fourth second quarter of 2023. 2024. Price and product mix are expected to reflect lower selling prices to the negative impact of customers with contractual raw material index adjustments and foreign currency-related adjustments. For the continuing negative impact full year of 2024, we expect our raw material costs to be $325 million to $350 million lower commercial tire volume as a proportion of our overall tire volume, driven by weakness than in the commercial truck industry. 2023. Natural and synthetic rubber prices and other commodity prices historically have been volatile, and our raw material costs could change based on future cost fluctuations and changes in foreign exchange rates. We continue to focus on price and product mix, to substitute lower cost materials where possible, to work to identify additional substitution opportunities, to reduce the amount of material required in each tire, and to pursue alternative raw materials to minimize the impact of higher raw material costs.

Additionally, we We expect inflationary cost pressures non-raw material inflation and other costs to persist be approximately $10 million higher in the fourth second quarter of 2024 when compared with the second quarter of 2023. We also expect an approximately $35 million net benefit as a result of the recovery from the tornado that affected Tupelo in 2023, particularly with respect to labor and energy costs. We expect partially offset by the negative impact on segment operating income from non-raw material inflation, net of expected cost savings, will be approximately $65 million compared with lower production as a result of the fourth quarter of 2022, fire in Debica in 2023.

We continue to focus on actions to offset costs other than raw materials through cost savings initiatives, including initiatives related to the Goodyear Forward plan, rationalization actions, further pricing actions, and improvements in price and product mix. We also anticipate our fourth quarter 2023 results will be negatively impacted by approximately $40 million as a result of lower production volume of approximately $4.4 million units during the third quarter of 2023 when compared with the third quarter of 2022, excluding the impact of the fire in Debica. We expect the lower production levels in the third quarter of 2023 as a result of the fire in Debica will negatively impact our EMEA segment operating results by approximately $15 million in the fourth quarter of 2023. In addition, we expect our corporate expenses to be negatively impacted by approximately $5 million as we anticipate recognizing additional deductibles related to the fire in Debica as repair activities continue.

For the full year of 2023, 2024, we now expect to benefit from Goodyear Forward by at least $375 million and expect working capital to be a source of operating cash flows of approximately $150 million flat as compared to 2023. We anticipate our capital expenditures will be approximately $1.05 billion. Our capital expenditures in 2023 are focused on projects $1.2 billion to modernize certain of our manufacturing facilities $1.3 billion, excluding repairs related to the Tupelo tornado and expand others the Debica fire, which we expect to address anticipated future demand, in addition to capital expenditures to sustain our facilities. be funded by insurance claim recoveries. We anticipate our cash flows will include rationalization payments of approximately $100 million $300 million, as we continue to implement elements of our Goodyear Forward plan to improve our cost structure.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

CONSOLIDATED

Three Months Ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023

Net sales in the third first quarter of 2023 2024 were $5,142 million $4,537 million, decreasing $169 million $404 million, or 3.2% 8.2%, from $5,311 million $4,941 million in the third first quarter of 2022, 2023. Goodyear net loss was $89 million $57 million, or $0.31 $0.20 per share, in the third first quarter of 2023, 2024, compared to Goodyear net income loss of $44 million $101 million, or $0.16 $0.35 per share, in the third first quarter of 2022, 2023.

Net sales decreased in the third first quarter of 2023 2024 primarily due to lower tire volume of $115 million $187 million, representing lower tire volume in Americas and EMEA, partially offset by higher tire volume in Asia Pacific, lower global declines in price and product mix of $162 million, unfavorable foreign currency translation of $36 million, primarily in EMEA and Asia Pacific, driven by the strengthening of the U.S. dollar, and a decrease in sales in other tire-related businesses of $78 million $27 million, primarily due related to a decrease in third-party chemical sales in Americas and the unfavorable impact of the Tupelo storm of $33 million. These decreases were declines in retail sales in EMEA and Asia Pacific, partially offset by favorable foreign currency translation of $32 million, primarily growth in EMEA and Americas, and improvements in price and product mix of $23 million, primarily in EMEA, EMEA's Fleet Solutions.

Worldwide tire unit sales in the third first quarter of 2023 2024 were 45.3 million 40.4 million units, decreasing 1.4 million units, or 2.8% 3.3%, from 46.7 million 41.8 million units in the third first quarter of 2022, 2023. Replacement tire volume decreased globally by 2.0 million 2.3 million units, or 5.3% 7.4%. OE tire volume increased by 0.6 million 0.9 million units, or 5.7% 8.9%, driven by Asia Pacific, reflecting the impact of new electric vehicle consumer fitments.

Cost of Goods Sold ("CGS") in the third first quarter of 2023 2024 was $4,171 million $3,715 million, decreasing $134 million $478 million, or 3.1% 11.4%, from $4,305 million $4,193 million in the third first quarter of 2022, 2023. CGS decreased primarily due to lower raw material costs of $140 million $261 million, lower tire volume of $89 million $159 million, primarily in Americas and EMEA, lower costs in other tire-related businesses of $55 million, primarily related to lower third-party chemical sales in Americas, a $28 million reduction due to lower sales from the impact of the Tupelo storm, and lower transportation costs of $15 million, primarily in Americas. These decreases were partially offset by increased conversion costs of $154 million driven by the effect of decreased tire production on fixed cost absorption, inflation and higher energy costs, foreign currency translation of $27 million, primarily in EMEA and Americas, driven by the weakening of the U.S. dollar, and $8 million ($7 million after-tax and minority) of accelerated depreciation and asset write-offs, primarily related to the integration of Cooper Tire & Rubber Company ("Cooper Tire") and the closure of Cooper Tire's Melksham, United Kingdom tire manufacturing facility ("Melksham").

CGS in the third quarter of 2023 and 2022 included pension expense of $3 million and $5 million, respectively. CGS was 81.1% of sales in both the third quarter of 2023 and 2022.

Selling, Administrative and General Expense ("SAG") in the third quarter of 2023 was $673 million, decreasing $23 million, or 3.3%, from $696 million in the third quarter of 2022. SAG decreased primarily due to lower wages and benefits costs of $36 million, primarily due to lower incentive compensation and restructuring savings, and lower advertising costs of $3 million. These decreases were partially offset by inflation and unfavorable foreign currency translation of $7 million, primarily in EMEA.

SAG in the third quarter of 2023 and 2022 included pension expense of $4 million for each period. SAG in the third quarter of 2023 included $12 million of incremental savings from rationalization plans, compared to $5 million in 2022. SAG in the third quarter of 2022 included a total of $6 million ($5 million after-tax and minority) of accelerated depreciation. SAG was 13.1% of sales in both the third quarter of 2023 and 2022.

We recorded net rationalization charges of $198 million ($177 million after-tax and minority) in the third quarter of 2023, primarily related to the proposed rationalization and workforce reorganization plan in EMEA and the plan to improve profitability in our Australia and New Zealand operations. We recorded net rationalization charges of $45 million ($47 million after-tax and minority) in the third quarter of 2022, primarily related to the closure of Melksham and a plan to exit our retail operations in South Africa. For further information, refer to Note to the Consolidated Financial Statements No. 3, Costs Associated with Rationalization Programs.

Interest expense in the third quarter of 2023 was $138 million, increasing $21 million, or 17.9%, from $117 million in the third quarter of 2022. The average interest rate was 6.32% in the third quarter of 2023 compared to 5.49% in the third quarter of 2022. The average debt balance was $8,738 million in the third quarter of 2023 compared to $8,525 million in the third quarter of 2022.

Other (Income) Expense in the third quarter of 2023 was $21 million of expense, compared to $42 million of expense in the third quarter of 2022. The decrease in Other (Income) Expense was primarily due to an $11 million increase in foreign currency exchange gains driven by the impact of lower net monetary assets in Turkey, a $10 million net increase in interest income, net gains on asset sales in 2023 of $6 million ($4 million after-tax and minority), and $14 million ($11 million after-tax and minority) of expense in 2022 related to intellectual property-related legal claims. These decreases were partially offset by an increase in non-service related pension and other postretirement benefits cost of $5 million due to higher interest rates, including pension settlement charges of $4 million ($2 after-tax and minority) in 2023 compared to pension settlement charges of $10 million ($7 million after-tax and minority) in 2022, a $4 million increase in fees in 2023 related to accounts receivable factoring programs driven by higher interest rates, and $4 million ($3 million after-tax and minority) of expense in 2023 for non-indemnified costs for product liability claims related to products manufactured by a formerly consolidated joint venture entity.

For the third quarter of 2023, we recorded income tax expense of $25 million on a loss before income taxes of $59 million. Income tax expense for the three months ended September 30, 2023 was favorably impacted by a net discrete tax benefit of $8 million ($8 million after minority interest). In the third quarter of 2022, we recorded income tax expense of $58 million on income before income taxes of $106 million. Income tax expense for the three months ended September 30, 2022 includes net discrete tax expense of $2 million ($2 million after minority interest).

Minority shareholders' net income in the third quarter of 2023 was $5 million, compared to $4 million in the third quarter of 2022.

Nine Months Ended September 30, 2023 and 2022

Net sales in the first nine months of 2023 were $14,950 million, decreasing $481 million, or 3.1%, from $15,431 million in the first nine months of 2022. Goodyear net loss was $398 million, or $1.40 per share, in the first nine months of 2023, compared to Goodyear net income of $306 million, or $1.07 per share, in the first nine months of 2022.

Net sales decreased in the first nine months of 2023 primarily due to lower tire volume of $808 million, representing lower tire volume in Americas and EMEA, partially offset by higher tire volume in Asia Pacific, unfavorable foreign currency translation of $232 million, driven by the strengthening of the U.S. dollar, the unfavorable impact of the Tupelo storm of $110 million, and a decrease in sales in other tire-related businesses of $60 million, primarily related to a decrease in third-party chemical sales in Americas, partially offset by higher global aviation sales, growth in EMEA's Fleet Solutions and increased retail sales in Americas. These decreases were partially offset by global improvements in price and product mix of $724 million.

Worldwide tire unit sales in the first nine months of 2023 were 127.9 million units, decreasing 9.4 million units, or 6.8%, from 137.3 million units in the first nine months of 2022. Replacement tire volume decreased globally by 11.4 million units, or 10.5%, driven by reduced industry demand. OE tire volume increased by 2.0 million units, or 6.4%, primarily in Asia Pacific and EMEA, reflecting the impact of new consumer fitments and continued recovery in OE production.

CGS in the first nine months of 2023 was $12,487 million, increasing $44 million, or 0.4%, from $12,443 million in the first nine months of 2022. CGS increased primarily due to increased conversion costs of $511 million driven by the effect of decreased tire production on fixed cost absorption, inflation and higher energy costs, higher raw material costs of $262 million, higher transportation and imported tire costs of $94 million, higher costs related to product mix of $65 million $75 million, primarily in Americas, and EMEA, and $31 million ($26 million after-tax and minority) of accelerated depreciation and asset write-offs, primarily savings related to the integration Goodyear Forward plan of Cooper Tire and the closure of Melksham. These increases were partially offset by lower tire volume of $615 million $56 million, foreign currency translation of $186 million $30 million, driven by the strengthening of the U.S. dollar, a $55 million reduction due to the net impact of lower sales, partially offset by higher period costs as a result of the Tupelo storm, primarily in EMEA and Asia Pacific, lower costs in other tire-related businesses of $52 million $29 million, primarily related to driven by a decrease in third-party chemical sales in Americas, and a $5 million favorable $8 million ($4.6 million after-tax and minority) reversal tax item in Brazil. These decreases were partially offset by higher conversion costs of $102 million driven by inflation, an increase in accelerated depreciation and asset write-offs of $31 million primarily related to the closure of a portion development center in the U.S. and announced plant closures in EMEA, higher costs related to product mix of $28 million, primarily in EMEA and Asia Pacific, $14 million as a result of the estimated cleanup costs associated with the permanent closure of Gadsden. Debica fire, and a $7 million lower benefit related to a reduction in U.S. duty rates on various commercial tires from China compared to 2023. CGS in the first nine months quarter of 2023 was favorably impacted by a successful legal claim of $3 million ($3 million after-tax and minority) related to a 2005 warehouse fire in Spain.

CGS in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 and 2022 2023 included pension expense of $11 million $3 million and $17 million $4 million, respectively. CGS in the first quarter of 2024 included $4 million of incremental savings from rationalization plans. CGS was 83.5% 81.9% of sales in the first nine months quarter of 2023, 2024, compared to 80.6% 84.9% in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023.

SAG in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 was $2,045 million $696 million, decreasing $56 million increasing $32 million, or 2.7% 4.8%, from $2,101 million $664 million in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023. SAG decreased increased primarily due to lower wages an increase in costs associated with the Goodyear Forward plan of $28 million ($21 million after-tax and benefit minority), primarily related to third-party advisory, legal and consulting fees and costs associated with planned asset sales, the impact of $41 million, lower foreign currency translation recoveries in 2023 of $23 million, driven by the strengthening of the U.S. dollar, lower advertising costs of $21 million, and recoveries of previously written-off accounts receivable and other assets related to our exited business in Russia of $10 million ($10 million after-tax and minority). accelerated lease costs of $8 million, primarily related to announced facility closures in Americas. These decreases increases were partially offset by savings related to the impact Goodyear Forward plan of inflation. $8 million and foreign currency translation of $4 million.

SAG in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 and 2022 2023 included pension expense of $9 million $4 million and $11 million $3 million, respectively. SAG in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 included $34 million $14 million of incremental savings from rationalization plans, compared to $7 million $10 million in 2022. SAG in the first nine months of 2022 included a total of $6 million ($5 million after-tax and minority) of accelerated depreciation. 2023. SAG was 13.7% 15.3% of sales in the first nine months quarter of 2023, 2024, compared to 13.6% 13.4% in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023.

We recorded net rationalization charges of $302 million $22 million ($262 17 million after-tax and minority) in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024, primarily related to the plan to close a plant in Malaysia and $82 million the closure of Cooper Tire's Melksham, United Kingdom tire manufacturing facility ("Melksham"). We recorded net rationalization charges of $32 million ($75 26 million after-tax and minority) in the first nine months of 2022. Net rationalization charges in the first nine months quarter of 2023 primarily related to the proposed rationalization and workforce reorganization plan in EMEA, the proposed plan to reduce production capacity at Fulda, the plan to improve profitability in our Australia and New Zealand operations, and the plan to streamline our EMEA distribution network. Net rationalization charges in network, the first nine months of 2022 primarily related to the closure of Melksham, a plan to reduce duplicative global SAG headcount salaried staffing globally and close redundant warehouse locations in Americas as part of the integration of Cooper Tire, and a plan to exit reduce staffing and capacity in certain of our retail operations in South Africa, EMEA manufacturing facilities. For further information, refer to Note to the Consolidated Financial Statements No. 3, Costs Associated with Rationalization Programs.

CGS and SAG in the first quarter of 2024 included $51 million ($42 million after-tax and minority) of asset write offs, accelerated depreciation and accelerated lease charges related to the closure of a development center in the U.S. and announced plant and facility closures in Americas and EMEA. CGS and SAG in the first quarter of 2023 included $2 million ($0 million after-tax and minority) of accelerated depreciation and asset write-offs related to rationalization activities.

Interest expense in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 was $403 million $126 million, increasing $72 million decreasing $1 million, or 21.8% 0.8%, from $331 million $127 million in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023. The average interest rate was 6.18% 6.34% in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 compared to 5.34% 6.01% in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023. The average debt balance was $8,700 million $7,945 million in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 compared to $8,265 million $8,451 million in the first nine months quarter of 2022, 2023.

Other (Income) Expense in the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024 was $82 million $30 million of expense, compared to $18 million $25 million of income expense in the first nine months quarter of 2022 2023. The change increase in Other (Income) Expense was primarily due to an increase in non-service related pension and other postretirement benefits cost of $56 million due to higher interest rates and pension settlement charges of $40 million ($30 after-tax and minority) in 2023 compared to pension settlement charges of $28 million ($21 million after-tax and minority) in 2022. Additionally, the change in Other (Income) Expense reflects net gains a loss on asset and other sales in 2023 of $58 million $10 million ($41.7 million after-tax and minority), primarily related to the sale and leaseback transaction of a warehouse receivables in Americas, Argentina, compared to net gains of $2 million in the first quarter of 2023 and a gain $3 million increase in fees related to accounts receivable factoring programs driven by higher interest rates, partially offset by pension settlement income of $98 million $5 million ($75.4 million after-tax and minority) and a favorable $2 million ($1 million after-tax and minority) tax item in 2022, primarily related to Brazil. Other (Income) Expense for the sale and leaseback transaction of certain consumer and commercial retail locations in Americas, a $29 million net increase in foreign currency exchange losses driven by the weakening of the Argentine peso, offset by an increase in interest income of $33 million, primarily in Argentina, $19 million three months ended March 31, 2023 also includes $11 million ($14.9 million after-tax and minority) of expense for non-indemnified costs for product liability claims related to products manufactured by a formerly consolidated joint venture entity, and a $16 million increase in fees related to accounts receivable factoring programs driven by higher interest rates. These increases were partially offset by $5 million ($5 million after-tax and minority) of income for the write-off of accumulated foreign currency translation related to our exited business in Russia. Other (Income) Expense in 2023 includes $11 million ($8 million after-tax and minority) of income related to a favorable court decision setting aside a previous unfavorable verdict on intellectual property-related legal claims. The impact of that verdict claims, and other fees in 2022 related to these claims was $15 million of expense $5 million ($11.5 million after-tax and minority) of income related to the write-off of accumulated foreign currency translation in Russia.

For the first nine months quarter of 2023 2024, we recorded income tax expense of $22 million $6 million on a loss before income taxes of $369 million $52 million. Income tax expense for the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 was favorably impacted by a net discrete tax benefit of $5 million $1 million ($6.1 million after minority interest). In the first nine months quarter of 2022 2023, we recorded an income tax expense benefit of $178 million $1 million on income a loss before income taxes of $492 million $100 million. Income tax expense for the nine three months ended September 30, 2022 March 31, 2023 includes net discrete tax expense of $20 million ($20 million after minority interest), including charges of $14 million to write off deferred tax assets related to tax loss carryforwards in the UK and $11 million to establish a full valuation allowance on our net deferred tax assets in Russia, partially offset by a net benefit of $5 million for various other items. $1 million.

We record taxes based on overall estimated annual effective tax rates. The difference between our effective tax rate and the U.S. statutory rate of 21% for both the nine three months ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023 primarily relates to losses in foreign jurisdictions in which no tax benefits are recorded and the discrete items noted above.

For 2023, The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) have published the Pillar Two model rules which adopt a global corporate minimum tax of 15% for multinational enterprises with average revenue in excess of €750 million. Certain jurisdictions in which we operate enacted legislation consistent with one or more of the OECD Pillar Two model rules effective in 2024. The model rules include minimum domestic top-up taxes, income inclusion rules, and undertaxed profit rules all aimed to ensure that multinational corporations pay a minimum effective corporate tax rate of 15% in each jurisdiction in which they operate. We do not anticipate that expect the 15% corporate alternative minimum Pillar Two model rules to materially impact our annual effective tax ("CAMT") under rate in 2024. However, we are continuing to evaluate the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022 will apply to us due to the significant pandemic-driven losses we incurred in 2020. As allowed, we elected to not consider the estimated Pillar Two model rules and related legislation and their potential impact of potential on future CAMT obligations for purposes of assessing valuation allowances on our deferred tax assets periods.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we had approximately $1.2 billion $1.3 billion and $1.1 billion $1.2 billion of U.S. federal, state and local net deferred tax assets, respectively, inclusive of valuation allowances totaling $26 million $22 million in each period, primarily for state tax loss carryforwards with limited lives. Approximately $800 million As of March 31, 2024, approximately $1.1 billion of these U.S. net deferred tax assets have had unlimited lives and approximately $400 million have $200 million had limited lives, including $22 million of foreign tax credits, and the majority do not start to expire between 2023 and 2042.

At September 30, 2023 and December 31, 2022 until 2031. As of December 31, 2023, our approximately $1.0 billion of these U.S. net deferred tax assets described above include had unlimited lives and approximately $245 million and $230 million, respectively, $200 million had limited lives, including $22 million of foreign tax credits, with limited lives. and the majority do not start to expire until 2031. In the U.S., as of December 31, 2023, we emerged from a three-year cumulative loss which was driven by business disruptions created by the COVID-19 pandemic. Our earnings U.S. cumulative income for the three-years ended March 31, 2024 is primarily a result of gains from other comprehensive income rather than consistently profitable U.S. operating results. Our U.S. operating results for the first quarter of 2024 have shown improvement when compared to the first quarter of 2023.

In assessing our ability to utilize our net deferred tax assets, we primarily consider objectively verifiable evidence, including the improvement of our U.S. operating results during the first quarter of 2024 as a result of lower raw material and transportation costs and benefits from the Goodyear Forward plan compared to the first quarter of 2023. In addition, we consider our current forecasts of future profitability taking into consideration in assessing our ability to realize our deferred tax assets as well as the impact of tax planning strategies. These forecasts include the impact of recent trends along with three significant sources and various macroeconomic factors such as the impact of foreign income, provide us sufficient positive evidence that we will be able to utilize these net foreign tax credits which expire through 2032. raw material, transportation, labor and energy costs on our profitability. Our sources of foreign income are (1) 100% of our domestic profitability can be re-characterized as foreign source income under current U.S. tax law to the extent domestic losses have offset foreign source income in prior years, (2) annual net foreign source income, exclusive of dividends, primarily from royalties, and (3) tax planning strategies including include accelerating income on cross border transactions, including sales of inventory or raw materials to our subsidiaries, reducing U.S. interest expense by, for example, reducing intercompany loans through repatriating current year earnings of foreign subsidiaries, repatriation of certain foreign royalty income, and other financing transactions, all of which would increase our domestic profitability.

We consider believe our current improvement in U.S. operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2024 compared to the three months ended March 31, 2023, as well as forecasts of future profitability, in assessing provide us sufficient positive evidence to conclude that it is more likely than not that, at March 31, 2024, our ability to realize our U.S. net deferred tax assets including our foreign tax credits. These forecasts include the impact of recent trends, including various will be fully utilized. However, macroeconomic factors such as the impact of raw material, transportation, labor and energy costs on our profitability, as well as the impact of tax planning strategies. These macroeconomic factors possess a high degree of volatility and can significantly impact our profitability. In addition, certain tax provisions, such as the annual interest expense limitation under Section 163(j) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, if amended, could impact our analysis of the realizability of our U.S. deferred tax assets. If our U.S. operating results significantly decline in the future, we may need to record a valuation allowance which could adversely impact our operating results. As such, there is a risk that future earnings we will not be sufficient to fully utilize closely monitor our U.S. net operations as well as any tax law changes to assess the realizability of our U.S. deferred tax assets, including our foreign tax credits. However, we believe our forecasts of future profitability along with the three significant sources of foreign income described above provide us sufficient positive, objectively verifiable evidence to conclude that it is more likely than not that, at September 30, 2023, our U.S. net deferred tax assets, including our foreign tax credits, will be fully utilized assets.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we also had approximately $1.3 billion and $1.2 billion $1.5 billion of foreign net deferred tax assets respectively, and related valuation allowances of approximately $1.1 billion and $1.0 billion, respectively. $1.2 billion. Our losses in various foreign taxing jurisdictions in recent periods represented sufficient negative evidence to require us to maintain a full valuation allowance against certain of these net foreign deferred tax assets. Most notably, in Luxembourg, we maintain a valuation allowance of $918 million approximately $1.0 billion on all of our net deferred tax assets. Each reporting period, we assess available positive and negative evidence and estimate if sufficient future taxable income will be generated to utilize these existing deferred tax assets. We do not believe that sufficient positive evidence required to release valuation allowances on our foreign deferred tax assets having a significant impact on our financial position or results of operations will exist within the next twelve months.

Minority shareholders' net loss in the first quarter of 2024 was $1 million, compared to $2 million of income in the first nine months quarter of 2023 was $7 million, compared to $8 million in the first nine months of 2022. 2023.

SEGMENT INFORMATION

Segment information reflects our strategic business units ("SBUs"), which are organized to meet customer requirements and global competition and are segmented on a regional basis.

Results of operations are measured based on net sales to unaffiliated customers and segment operating income. Each segment exports tires to other segments. The financial results of each segment exclude sales of tires exported to other segments, but include operating income derived from such transactions. Segment operating income is computed as follows: Net Sales less CGS (excluding asset write-off and accelerated depreciation charges) and SAG (including certain allocated corporate administrative expenses). Segment operating income also includes certain royalties and equity in earnings of most affiliates. Segment operating income does not include net rationalization charges (credits), asset sales and certain other items.

Total segment operating income for the third first quarter of 2023 2024 was $336 million $247 million, a decrease an increase of $37 million $122 million, or 9.9% 97.6%, from $373 million in the third quarter of 2022. Total segment operating margin in the third quarter of 2023 was 6.5%, compared to 7.0% in the third quarter of 2022. Total segment operating income for the first nine months of 2023 was $585 million, a decrease of $455 million, or 43.8%, from $1,040 million $125 million in the first nine months quarter of 2022. Total segment operating margin in the first nine months quarter of 2023 was 3.9% 5.4%, compared to 6.7% 2.5% in the first nine months quarter of 2022.

Management believes that total segment operating income is useful because it represents the aggregate value of income created by our SBUs and excludes items not directly related to the SBUs for performance evaluation purposes. Total segment operating income is the sum of the individual SBUs' segment operating income. Refer to Note to the Consolidated Financial Statements No. 7, Business Segments, for further information and for a reconciliation of total segment operating income to Income (Loss) before Income Taxes.

Americas unit sales in the first nine months of 2023 decreased 5.4 million units, or 7.8%, to 64.2 million units. Replacement tire volume decreased 5.4 million units, or 9.2%, primarily due to a decrease in our consumer business, driven by reduced industry demand in the U.S., the impact of the Tupelo storm, and lower share in Mexico and Brazil as a result of increased imports. OE tire volume was flat compared to the first nine months of 2022.

Net sales in the first nine months of 2023 were $8,926 million, decreasing $440 million, or 4.7%, from $9,366 million in the first nine months of 2022. The decrease in net sales was primarily due to lower tire volume of $448 million, the unfavorable impact of the Tupelo storm of $110 million and decreased sales in other tire-related businesses of $79 million, primarily due to lower third-party chemical sales, partially offset by higher aviation and retail sales. These decreases were partially offset by improvements in price and product mix of $187 million, driven by price increases, and favorable foreign currency translation of $8 million $11 million.

Operating income in the first nine months quarter of 2023 was $440 million, decreasing $375 million, or 46.0%, from $815 million in the first nine months 2024 excluded asset write-offs, accelerated depreciation and accelerated lease charges of 2022. The decrease in operating income was due to higher conversion costs $8 million and net rationalization charges of $276 million, driven by the effect of decreased tire production on fixed cost absorption and inflation, lower tire volume of $108 million, higher transportation and imported tire costs of $65 million, a $55 million negative impact as a result of the Tupelo storm, and lower earnings in other tire-related businesses of $6 million, primarily due to lower third-party chemical sales, partially offset by higher aviation sales. LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Our primary sources of liquidity are cash generated from our operating and financing activities. Our cash flows from operating activities are driven primarily by our operating results and changes in our working capital requirements and our cash flows from financing activities are dependent upon our ability to access credit or other capital.

At September 30, 2023, we had $1,002 million in cash and cash equivalents, compared to $1,227 million at December 31, 2022. For the nine months ended September 30, 2023, net cash used for operating activities was $204 million, reflecting cash used for working capital of $811 million and rationalization payments of $55 million, as well as the Company's net loss for the period of $391 million, which included non-cash charges for depreciation and amortization of $751 million $284 million and rationalizations net rationalization charges of $302 million $22 million. Net cash used for investing activities was $818 million $231 million, primarily representing capital expenditures of $807 million, loans to TireHub of $61 million and net securities acquired of $13 million $318 million, partially offset by proceeds from asset dispositions of $108 million, primarily from prepaid cash proceeds received from the sale and leaseback transactions of a distribution center in Americas totaling $73 million. Germany. Net cash provided by financing activities was $774 million $661 million, primarily due to net borrowings of $787 million $684 million.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had $3,077 million $3,313 million of unused availability under our various credit agreements, compared to $4,035 million $4,247 million at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. We have deposited our cash and cash equivalents and entered into various credit agreements and derivative contracts with financial institutions that we considered to be substantial and creditworthy at the time of such transactions. We seek to control our exposure to these financial institutions by diversifying our deposits, credit agreements and derivative contracts across multiple financial institutions, by setting deposit and counterparty credit limits based on long term credit ratings and other indicators of credit risk such as credit default swap spreads and default probabilities, and by monitoring the financial strength of these financial institutions on a regular basis. We also enter into master netting agreements with counterparties when possible. By controlling and monitoring exposure to financial institutions in this manner, we believe that we effectively manage the risk of loss due to nonperformance by a financial institution. However, we cannot provide assurance that we will not experience losses or delays in accessing our deposits or lines of credit due to the nonperformance of a financial institution. Our inability to access our cash deposits or make draws on our lines of credit, or the inability of a counterparty to fulfill its contractual obligations to us, could have a material adverse effect on our liquidity, financial condition or results of operations in the period in which it occurs.

We expect our 2023 2024 full-year cash flow needs to include capital expenditures of approximately $1.05 billion $1.2 billion to $1.3 billion. We also expect interest expense to be approximately $520 million to $540 million; rationalization payments to be approximately $100 million $300 million; income tax payments to be approximately $200 million, excluding one-time items; and contributions to our funded pension plans to be $25 million to $50 million. We expect working capital to be a source of operating cash flows for the full year of 2023 of approximately $150 million, flat as compared to 2023.

We are continuing to actively monitor our liquidity and intend to operate our business in a way that allows us to address our cash flow needs with our existing cash and available credit if they cannot be funded by cash generated from operating or other financing activities. We believe that our liquidity position is adequate to fund our operating and investing needs and debt maturities for the next twelve months and to provide us with the ability to respond to further changes in the business environment.

Our ability to service debt and operational requirements is also dependent, in part, on the ability of our subsidiaries to make distributions of cash to various other entities in our consolidated group, whether in the form of dividends, loans or otherwise. In certain countries where we operate, such as China, South Africa, Serbia and Argentina, transfers of funds into or out of such countries by way of dividends, loans, advances or payments to third-party or affiliated suppliers are generally or periodically subject to certain requirements, such as obtaining approval from the foreign government and/or currency exchange board before net assets can be transferred out of the country. In addition, certain of our credit agreements and other debt instruments limit the ability of foreign subsidiaries to make distributions of cash. Thus, we would have to repay and/or amend these credit agreements and other debt instruments in order to use this cash to service our consolidated debt. Because of the inherent uncertainty of satisfactorily meeting these requirements or limitations, we do not consider the net assets of our subsidiaries, including our Chinese, South African, Serbian and Argentinian subsidiaries, which are subject to such requirements or limitations to be integral to our liquidity or our ability to service our debt and operational requirements. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, approximately $960 million $916 million of net assets, including approximately $226 million $198 million of cash and cash equivalents, were subject to such requirements. The requirements we must comply with to transfer funds out of China, South Africa, Serbia and Argentina have not adversely impacted our ability to make transfers out of those countries.

Operating Activities

Net cash used for operating activities was $204 million $451 million in the first nine three months of 2023, 2024, compared to net cash used for operating activities of $627 million $775 million in the first nine three months of 2022, 2023. The $423 million $324 million improvement in net cash used for operating activities was primarily due to a decrease in cash used for working capital of $969 million $320 million and higher earnings in our SBUs of $122 million, partially offset by lower earnings an increase in our SBU's cash used for other current liabilities of $455 million, $106 million and higher cash tax rationalization payments of $18 million and higher pension contributions and direct payments of $9 million $34 million.

The net improvement in cash used for working capital reflects an increase in cash provided by Inventory of $2,043 million and a decrease in cash used for Accounts Receivable of $564 million $278 million and a decrease in cash used for Accounts Payable — Trade of $255 million, partially offset by an increase in cash used for Accounts Payable — Trade Inventory of $1,638 million $213 million. These changes were driven by the impact of reduced production to address softening industry demand lower raw material costs on our manufacturing operations and prevent the buildup of excess inventory, as well as the impact of lower sales volume. pricing.

Investing Activities

Net cash used for investing activities was $818 million $231 million in the first nine three months of 2023, 2024, compared to $648 million $456 million in the first nine three months of 2022, 2023. Capital expenditures were $807 million $318 million in the first nine three months of 2023, 2024, compared to $765 million $291 million in the first nine three months of 2022, 2023. Investing activities in the first nine three months of 2023 2024 also included cash proceeds from sale and leaseback transactions provided by asset dispositions of $73 million compared to $108 million of cash proceeds from a sale and leaseback transaction in the first nine months of 2022, net loans to TireHub of $61 million $21 million in the first nine three months of 2024 compared to $76 million in the first three months of 2023, compared to $16 million in the first nine months of 2022, and a year-over-year increase decrease of $39 million $81 million in net securities acquired and redeemed. Beyond expenditures required to sustain our facilities, capital expenditures in 2023 2024 and 2022 2023 primarily related to the modernization and expansion of tire manufacturing facilities around the world.

Financing Activities

Net cash provided by financing activities was $774 million $661 million in the first nine three months of 2023, 2024, compared to net cash provided by financing activities of $1,500 million $1,075 million in the first nine three months of 2022, 2023. Financing activities in the first nine three months of 2024 included net borrowings of $684 million and a decrease of $18 million in our factored accounts receivable liability. Financing activities in the first three months of 2023 included net borrowings of $787 million. Financing activities in the first nine months of 2022 included net borrowings of $1,500 million $1,076 million.

Credit Sources

In aggregate, we had total credit arrangements of $11,624 million $11,476 million available at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, of which $3,077 million $3,313 million were unused, compared to $11,806 million $11,743 million available at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, of which $4,035 million $4,247 million were unused. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had long term credit arrangements totaling $10,956 million $10,722 million, of which $2,774 million $2,975 million were unused, compared to $10,925 million $10,983 million and $3,566 million $3,867 million, respectively, at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had short term committed and uncommitted credit arrangements totaling $668 million $754 million, of which $303 million $338 million were unused, compared to $881 million $760 million and $469 million $380 million, respectively, at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023. The continued availability of the short term uncommitted arrangements is at the discretion of the relevant lender and may be terminated at any time.

Outstanding Notes

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had $5,554 million $5,560 million of outstanding notes compared to $5,560 million $5,571 million at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023.

$2.75 billion Amended and Restated First Lien Revolving Credit Facility due 2026

Our amended and restated first lien revolving credit facility matures on June 8, 2026 and is available in the form of loans or letters of credit. Up to $800 million in letters of credit and $50 million of swingline loans are available for issuance under the facility. Subject to the consent of the lenders whose commitments are to be increased, we may request that the facility be increased by up to $250 million.

Our obligations under the facility are guaranteed by most of our wholly-owned U.S. and Canadian subsidiaries. Our obligations under the facility and our subsidiaries' obligations under the related guarantees are secured by first priority security interests in a variety of collateral. Based on our current liquidity, amounts drawn under this facility bear interest at SOFR plus 125 basis points. Undrawn amounts under the facility are subject to an annual commitment fee of 25 basis points.

Availability under the facility is subject to a borrowing base, which is based on (i) eligible accounts receivable and inventory of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and certain of its U.S. and Canadian subsidiaries, (ii) the value of our principal trademarks in an amount not to exceed $400 million, (iii) the value of eligible machinery and equipment, and (iv) certain cash in an amount not to exceed $275 million. To the extent that our eligible accounts receivable, inventory and other components of the borrowing base decline in value, our borrowing base will decrease and the availability under the facility may decrease below $2.75 billion. As of March 31, 2024, our borrowing base, and therefore our availability, under this facility was $178 million below the facility's stated amount of $2.75 billion. In addition, if the amount of outstanding borrowings and letters of credit under the facility exceeds the borrowing base, we would be required to prepay borrowings and/or cash collateralize letters of credit sufficient to eliminate the excess. As of September 30, 2023, our borrowing base was above the facility's stated amount of $2.75 billion.

At ~~September 30, 2023~~ March 31, 2024, we had ~~$790 million~~ $630 million of borrowings and $1 million of letters of credit issued under the revolving credit facility. At ~~December 31, 2022~~ December 31, 2023, we had ~~no~~ $385 million of borrowings and ~~$3 million~~ $1 million of letters of credit issued under the revolving credit facility.

€800 million Amended and Restated Senior Secured European Revolving Credit Facility due 2028

Our amended and restated The European revolving credit facility matures on January 14, 2028 and consists of (i) a €180 million German tranche that is available only to Goodyear Germany GmbH and (ii) a €620 million all-borrower tranche that is available to Goodyear Europe B.V. ("GEBV"), Goodyear Germany and Goodyear Operations S.A. Up to €175 million of swingline loans and €75 million in letters of credit are available for issuance under the all-borrower tranche. Subject to the consent of the lenders whose commitments are to be increased, we may request that the facility be increased by up to €200 million. Amounts drawn under this facility will bear interest at SOFR plus 150 basis points for loans denominated in U.S. dollars, EURIBOR plus 150 basis points for loans denominated in euros, and SONIA plus 150 basis points for loans denominated in pounds sterling. Undrawn amounts under the facility are subject to an annual commitment fee of 25 basis points.

At ~~September 30, 2023~~ March 31, 2024, there were ~~$191 million (€180 million)~~ of ~~no~~ borrowings outstanding under the German tranche, ~~$339 million~~ $292 million (~~€320~~ 270 million) of borrowings outstanding under the all-borrower tranche and no letters of credit outstanding under the European revolving credit facility. At ~~December 31, 2022~~ December 31, 2023, ~~there were~~ we had ~~no~~ borrowings outstanding under the German tranche, ~~$374 million (€350 million)~~ of borrowings outstanding under the all-borrower tranche and no letters of credit outstanding under the European revolving credit facility.

Both our first lien revolving credit facility and our European revolving credit facility have customary representations and warranties including, as a condition to borrowing, that all such representations and warranties are true and correct, in all material respects, on the date of the borrowing, including representations as to no material adverse change in our business or financial condition since December 31, 2020 under the first lien facility and December 31, 2021 under the European facility.

Accounts Receivable Securitization Facilities \(On-Balance Sheet\)

GEBV and certain other of our European subsidiaries are parties to a pan-European accounts receivable securitization facility that expires in 2027. The terms of the facility provide the flexibility to designate annually the maximum amount of funding available under the facility in an amount of not less than €30 million and not more than €450 million. For the period from ~~October 20, 2022 through October 18, 2023~~, the designated maximum amount of the facility was €300 million. For the period from October 19, 2023 through October 16, 2024, the designated maximum amount of the facility ~~will remain~~ is €300 million.

The facility involves an ongoing daily sale of substantially all of the trade accounts receivable of certain GEBV subsidiaries. These subsidiaries retain servicing responsibilities. Utilization under this facility is based on eligible receivable balances.

The funding commitments under the facility will expire upon the earliest to occur of: (a) October 19, 2027, (b) the non-renewal and expiration (without substitution) of all of the back-up liquidity commitments, (c) the early termination of the facility according to its terms (generally upon an Early Amortisation Event (as defined in the facility), which includes, among other things, events similar to the events of default under our first lien revolving credit facility; certain tax law changes; or certain changes to law, regulation or accounting standards), or (d) our request for early termination of the facility. The facility's current back-up liquidity commitments will expire on October 16, 2024.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, the amounts available and utilized under this program totaled $260 million $159 million (€245 147 million). At December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, the amounts available and utilized under this program totaled $267 million $244 million (€250 221 million). The program does not qualify for sale accounting, and accordingly, these amounts are included in Long Term Debt and Finance Leases.

Accounts Receivable Factoring Facilities (Off-Balance Sheet)

We have sold certain of our trade receivables under off-balance sheet programs. For these programs, we have concluded that there is generally no risk of loss to us from non-payment of the sold receivables. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, the gross amount of receivables sold was $621 million $689 million, compared to $744 million $693 million at December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023.

Letters of Credit

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had $219 million $212 million in letters of credit issued under bilateral letter of credit agreements and other foreign credit facilities. The majority of these letter of credit agreements are in lieu of security deposits.

Supplier Financing

We have entered into supplier finance programs with several financial institutions. Under these agreements, programs, the financial institutions act as our paying agents with respect to accounts payable due to our suppliers. We agree to pay the financial institutions the stated amount of the confirmed invoices from the designated suppliers on the original maturity due dates of the invoices. Invoice payment terms can be up to 120 days based on industry norms for the specific item purchased. We do not pay any fees to the financial institutions for these programs. There are no and we do not pledge any assets pledged as security or provide other forms of guarantees associated with for these agreements, programs. These agreements, programs allow our suppliers to sell their receivables to the financial institutions at the sole discretion of the suppliers and the financial institutions on terms that are negotiated among them. We are not always notified when our suppliers sell receivables under these programs. Our obligations to our suppliers, including the amounts due and scheduled payment dates, are not impacted by our suppliers' decisions to sell their receivables under the these programs. The amounts available under these programs was $872 million were $860 million and $920 million $892 million at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively. The amounts confirmed to the financial institutions were $598 million $609 million and $710 million $580 million at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 and December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, respectively, and are included in Accounts Payable — Trade in our Consolidated Balance Sheets. All activity related to these obligations is presented within operating activities on the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

Further Information

For a further description of the terms of our outstanding notes, first lien revolving credit facility, European revolving credit facility and pan-European accounts receivable securitization facility, refer to Note to the Consolidated Financial Statements No. 16, Financing Arrangements and Derivative Financial Instruments, in our 2022 2023 Form 10-K and Note to the Consolidated Financial Statements No. 8, Financing Arrangements and Derivative Financial Instruments, in this Form 10-Q.

Covenant Compliance

Our first lien revolving credit facility and some of the indentures governing our notes contain certain covenants that, among other things, limit our ability to incur additional debt or issue redeemable preferred stock, pay dividends, repurchase shares or make certain other restricted payments or investments, incur liens, sell assets, incur restrictions on the ability of our subsidiaries to pay dividends or to make other payments to us, enter into affiliate transactions, engage in sale and leaseback transactions, and consolidate, merge, sell or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of our assets. These covenants are subject to significant exceptions and qualifications. Our first lien revolving credit facility and the indentures governing our notes also have customary defaults, including cross-defaults to material indebtedness of Goodyear and its subsidiaries.

We have an additional financial covenant in our first lien revolving credit facility that is currently not applicable. We become subject to that financial covenant when the aggregate amount of our Parent Company (The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company) and guarantor subsidiaries cash and cash equivalents ("Available Cash") plus our availability under our first lien revolving credit facility is less than $275 million. If this were to occur, our ratio of EBITDA to Consolidated Interest Expense may not be less than 2.0 to 1.0 for the most recent period of four consecutive fiscal quarters. As of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, our unused availability under this facility of $1,959 million $1,941 million, plus our Available Cash of $255 million $230 million, totaled $2,214 million $2,171 million, which is in excess of $275 million.

In addition, our European revolving credit facility contains non-financial covenants similar to the non-financial covenants in our first lien revolving credit facility that are described above, similar non-financial covenants specifically applicable to GEBV and its subsidiaries, and a financial covenant applicable only to GEBV and its subsidiaries. This financial covenant provides that we are not permitted to allow GEBV's ratio of Consolidated Net GEBV Indebtedness to Consolidated GEBV EBITDA for a period of four consecutive fiscal quarters to be greater than 3.0 to 1.0 at the end of any fiscal quarter. Consolidated Net GEBV Indebtedness is determined net of the sum of cash and cash equivalents in excess of $100 million held by GEBV and its subsidiaries, cash and cash equivalents in excess of $150 million held by the Parent Company and its U.S. subsidiaries, and availability under our first lien revolving credit facility if the ratio of EBITDA to Consolidated Interest Expense described above is not applicable and the conditions to borrowing under the first lien revolving credit facility are met. Consolidated Net GEBV Indebtedness also excludes loans from other consolidated Goodyear entities. This financial covenant is also included in our pan-European accounts receivable securitization facility. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we were in compliance with this financial covenant.

Our credit facilities also state that we may only incur additional debt or make restricted payments that are not otherwise expressly permitted if, after giving effect to the debt incurrence or the restricted payment, our ratio of EBITDA to Consolidated Interest Expense for the prior four fiscal quarters would exceed 2.0 to 1.0. Certain of our senior note indentures have substantially similar limitations on incurring debt and making restricted payments. Our credit facilities and indentures also permit the incurrence of additional debt through other provisions in those agreements without regard to our ability to satisfy the ratio-based incurrence test described above. We believe that these other provisions provide us with sufficient flexibility to incur additional debt necessary to meet our operating, investing and financing needs without regard to our ability to satisfy the ratio-based incurrence test.

Covenants could change based upon a refinancing or amendment of an existing facility, or additional covenants may be added in connection with the incurrence of new debt.

At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, we were in compliance with the currently applicable material covenants imposed by our principal credit facilities and indentures.

The terms "Available Cash," "EBITDA," "Consolidated Interest Expense," "Consolidated Net GEBV Indebtedness" and "Consolidated GEBV EBITDA" have the meanings given them in the respective credit facilities.

Potential Future Financings

In addition to the financing activities described above, we may seek to undertake additional financing actions which could include restructuring bank debt or capital markets transactions, possibly including the issuance of additional debt or equity. Given the inherent uncertainty of market conditions, access to the capital markets cannot be assured.

Our future liquidity requirements will may make it necessary for us to incur additional debt. However, a substantial portion of our assets are already subject to liens securing our indebtedness. As a result, we are limited in our ability to pledge our remaining assets as security for additional secured indebtedness. In addition, no assurance can be given as to our ability to raise additional unsecured debt.

Dividends and Common Stock Repurchases

Under our primary credit facilities and some of our note indentures, we are permitted to pay dividends on and repurchase our capital stock (which constitute restricted payments) as long as no default will have occurred and be continuing, additional indebtedness can be incurred under the credit facilities or indentures following the payment, and certain financial tests are satisfied.

We do not currently pay a quarterly dividend on our common stock.

We may repurchase shares delivered to us by employees as payment for the exercise price of stock options and the withholding taxes due upon the exercise of stock options or the vesting or payment of stock awards. During the first nine three months of 2023, 2024, we did not repurchase any shares from employees.

The restrictions imposed by our credit facilities and indentures are not expected to significantly affect our ability to pay dividends or repurchase our capital stock in the future.

Asset Dispositions

Historically, the restrictions on asset sales and sale and leaseback transactions imposed by our material indebtedness have not affected our ability to divest non-core businesses or assets, and those divestitures have not affected our ability to comply with those restrictions.

assets. We may undertake additional asset sales and sale and leaseback transactions in the future. The restrictions imposed by our material indebtedness may require us to seek waivers or amendments of covenants or alternative sources of financing to proceed with future transactions. We cannot assure you that such waivers, amendments or alternative financing could be obtained, or if obtained, would be on terms acceptable to us.

Supplemental Guarantor Financial Information

Certain of our subsidiaries, which are listed on Exhibit 22.1 to this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q and are generally holding or operating companies, have guaranteed our obligations under the $800 million outstanding principal amount of 9.5% senior notes due 2025, the $900 million outstanding principal amount of 5% senior notes due 2026, the $700 million outstanding principal amount of 4.875% senior notes due 2027, the $850 million outstanding principal amount of 5% senior notes due 2029, the $550 million outstanding principal amount of 5.25% senior notes due April 2031, the $600 million outstanding principal amount of 5.25% senior notes due July 2031 and the $450 million outstanding principal amount of 5.625% senior notes due 2033 (collectively, the "Notes").

The Notes have been issued by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company (the "Parent Company") and are its senior unsecured obligations. The Notes rank equally in right of payment with all of our existing and future senior unsecured obligations and senior to any of our future subordinated indebtedness. The Notes are effectively subordinated to our existing and future secured indebtedness to the extent of the assets securing that indebtedness. The Notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed on a joint and several basis by each of our wholly-owned U.S. and Canadian subsidiaries that also guarantee our obligations under our first lien revolving credit facility (such guarantees, the "Guarantees"; and, such guaranteeing subsidiaries, the "Subsidiary Guarantors"). The Guarantees are senior unsecured obligations of the Subsidiary Guarantors and rank equally in right of payment with all existing and future senior unsecured obligations of our Subsidiary Guarantors. The Guarantees are effectively subordinated to existing and future secured indebtedness of the Subsidiary Guarantors to the extent of the assets securing that indebtedness.

The Notes are structurally subordinated to all of the existing and future debt and other liabilities, including trade payables, of our subsidiaries that do not guarantee the Notes (the "Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries"). The Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries will have no obligation, contingent or otherwise, to pay amounts due under the Notes or to make funds available to pay those amounts. Certain Non-Guarantor Subsidiaries are limited in their ability to remit funds to us by means of dividends, advances or loans due to required foreign government and/or currency exchange board approvals or limitations in credit agreements or other debt instruments of those subsidiaries.

The Subsidiary Guarantors, as primary obligors and not merely as sureties, jointly and severally irrevocably and unconditionally guarantee on a senior unsecured basis the performance and full and punctual payment when due of all obligations of the Parent Company under the Notes and the related indentures, whether for payment of principal of or interest on the Notes, expenses, indemnification or otherwise. The Guarantees of the Subsidiary Guarantors are subject to release in limited circumstances only upon the occurrence of certain customary conditions.

Although the Guarantees provide the holders of Notes with a direct unsecured claim against the assets of the Subsidiary Guarantors, under U.S. federal bankruptcy law and comparable provisions of U.S. state fraudulent transfer laws, in certain circumstances a court could cancel a Guarantee and order the return of any payments made thereunder to the Subsidiary Guarantor or to a fund for the benefit of its creditors.

A court might take these actions if it found, among other things, that when the Subsidiary Guarantors incurred the debt evidenced by their Guarantee (i) they received less than reasonably equivalent value or fair consideration for the incurrence of the debt and (ii) any one of the following conditions was satisfied:

- the Subsidiary Guarantor was insolvent or rendered insolvent by reason of the incurrence;
- the Subsidiary Guarantor was engaged in a business or transaction for which its remaining assets constituted unreasonably small capital; or
- the Subsidiary Guarantor intended to incur, or believed (or reasonably should have believed) that it would incur, debts beyond its ability to pay as those debts matured.

In applying the above factors, a court would likely find that a Subsidiary Guarantor did not receive fair consideration or reasonably equivalent value for its Guarantee, except to the extent that it benefited directly or indirectly from the issuance of the Notes. The determination of whether a guarantor was or was not rendered "insolvent" when it entered into its guarantee will vary depending on the law of the jurisdiction being applied. Generally, an entity would be considered insolvent if the sum of its debts (including contingent or unliquidated debts) is greater than all of its assets at a fair valuation or if the present fair salable value of its assets is less than the amount that will be required to pay its probable liability on its existing debts, including contingent or unliquidated debts, as they mature.

Under Canadian federal bankruptcy and insolvency laws and comparable provincial laws on preferences, fraudulent conveyances or other challengeable or voidable transactions, the Guarantees could be challenged as a preference, fraudulent conveyance, transfer at undervalue or other challengeable or voidable transaction. The test to be applied varies among the different pieces of legislation, but as a general matter these types of challenges may arise in circumstances where:

- such action was intended to defeat, hinder, delay, defraud or prejudice creditors or others;
- such action was taken within a specified period of time prior to the commencement of proceedings under Canadian bankruptcy or insolvency or restructuring legislation in respect of a Subsidiary Guarantor, the consideration received by the Subsidiary Guarantor was conspicuously less than the fair market value of the consideration given, and the Subsidiary Guarantor was insolvent or rendered insolvent by such action and (in some circumstances, or) such action was intended to defraud, defeat or delay a creditor;

- such action was taken within a specified period of time prior to the commencement of proceedings under Canadian bankruptcy or insolvency or restructuring legislation in respect of a Subsidiary Guarantor and such action was taken, or is deemed to have been taken, with a view to giving a creditor a preference over other creditors or, in some circumstances, had the effect of giving a creditor a preference over other creditors; or
- a Subsidiary Guarantor is found to have acted in a manner that was oppressive, unfairly prejudicial to or unfairly disregarded interests of any shareholder, creditor, director, officer or other interested party.

In addition, in certain insolvency proceedings a Canadian court may subordinate claims in respect of the Guarantees to other claims against a Subsidiary Guarantor under the principle of equitable subordination if the court determines that (1) the holder of Notes engaged in some type of inequitable or improper conduct, (2) the inequitable or improper conduct resulted in injury to other creditors or conferred an unfair advantage upon the holder of Notes and (3) equitable subordination is not inconsistent with the provisions of the relevant solvency statute.

If a court canceled a Guarantee, the holders of Notes would no longer have a claim against that Subsidiary Guarantor or its assets.

Each Guarantee is limited, by its terms, to an amount not to exceed the maximum amount that can be guaranteed by the applicable Subsidiary Guarantor without rendering the Guarantee, as it relates to that Subsidiary Guarantor, voidable under applicable law relating to fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer or similar laws affecting the rights of creditors generally.

Each Subsidiary Guarantor is a consolidated subsidiary of the Parent Company at the date of each balance sheet presented. The following tables present summarized financial information for the Parent Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors on a combined basis after elimination of (i) intercompany transactions and balances among the Parent Company and the Subsidiary Guarantors and (ii) equity in earnings from and investments in any Non-Guarantor Subsidiary.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Goodwill and Intangible Assets. Goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets are tested for impairment annually or more frequently if an indicator of impairment is present. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortized over their useful lives and are 36 reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances warrant such review. Goodwill and intangible assets would be written down to fair value if considered impaired. Goodwill and Intangible Assets totaled $1,010 million and $975 million, respectively, at September 30, 2023, compared to $1,014 million and $1,004 million, respectively, at December 31, 2022. At September 30, 2023, the goodwill associated with reporting units in our Americas, EMEA and Asia Pacific segments was $724 million, $230 million and $56 million, respectively.

Goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized but are assessed for impairment annually on October 31st with the option to perform a qualitative assessment to determine whether further impairment testing is necessary or to perform a quantitative assessment by comparing the fair value of the reporting unit or indefinite-lived intangible asset to its carrying value. In addition to the annual assessment, impairment evaluation is considered during interim quarters when events occur or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of the asset below its carrying value. During our annual impairment assessment and in subsequent interim quarters, we review events that occur or circumstances that change, including the macroeconomic environment, our business performance and our market capitalization, to determine if a quantitative impairment assessment is necessary. We review our business performance and the macroeconomic environment against our recent expectations and evaluate book value compared to market capitalization, including fluctuations in our stock price, to determine if this could be an indicator of potential impairment. Consideration is given as to whether a fluctuation in our stock price is a result of current market conditions, due to a transitory event or an event that is expected to continue to affect us, or is consistent with our historical stock price volatility. We also consider these factors compared to the results of our most recent quantitative goodwill impairment assessment.

Under the qualitative assessment, we assess whether it is more likely than not (defined as a likelihood of more than 50%) that the fair value of our goodwill or indefinite-lived intangible assets is less than the respective carrying values. If it is more likely than not that an impairment exists, then a quantitative impairment assessment is performed. If under the quantitative assessment the fair value is less than the carrying value, an impairment loss will be recorded for the difference between the carrying value and the fair value. Under the quantitative assessment, we estimate the fair value of goodwill using the discounted cash flows of a reporting unit and using discounted cash flows following a relief-from-royalty method for indefinite-lived intangible assets. Forecasts of future cash flows are based on our best estimate of projected revenue and projected operating margin, based primarily on pricing, raw material costs, market share, industry outlook and general economic conditions. Cash flows are discounted using our weighted average cost of capital.

In the third quarter, we reduced the near-term and long-term outlook of our EMEA segment based on recent business performance and the industry outlook. As announced in the third quarter, we are reviewing various strategic actions to improve EMEA's operations, including the approved rationalization and workforce reorganization plan. We viewed these events as potential triggering events and performed a quantitative analysis of the fair value of the EMEA reporting unit. We determined the estimated fair value for the EMEA reporting unit based on discounted cash flow projections. The most critical assumptions used in the calculation of the fair value of the EMEA reporting unit are the projected revenue, projected operating margin and discount rate. Our forecast of future cash flows is based on our best estimate of projected revenue and projected operating margin, based primarily on pricing, raw material costs, market share, industry outlook, general economic conditions and strategic actions to improve EMEA's operating margin, as described above. Based on our interim impairment test, EMEA had an estimated fair value that exceeded its carrying value, including goodwill, by approximately 15%.

The following table highlights the sensitivities of the EMEA reporting unit's goodwill as of September 30, 2023:

	EMEA
	Reporting Unit
	Goodwill
Assumption:
Approximate percentage by which the fair value exceeds the carrying value based on the interim impairment test	15%
Approximate percentage by which the fair value exceeds the carrying value if the discount rate were to increase by 0.5%	6%
Approximate percentage by which the fair value exceeds the carrying value if the projected operating margin were to decrease by 0.5%	0%
Approximate percentage by which the fair value exceeds the carrying value if the projected revenue were to decrease by 0.5%	12%

The fair value of the EMEA reporting unit's goodwill is sensitive to differences between estimated and actual cash flows, including changes in the projected revenue, projected operating margin and discount rate used to evaluate the fair value of these assets. Although we believe our estimate of fair value is reasonable, the reporting unit's future financial performance is dependent on our ability to execute our business plan and to successfully implement the aforementioned strategic actions which we expect will improve our long-term operating margin. If a reporting unit's future financial performance falls below our expectations, there are adverse revisions to significant assumptions, or our market capitalization declines further or does not improve from the strategic actions we are implementing, this could be indicative that the fair values of each of our reporting units has declined below their carrying values, and therefore we may need to record a material, non-cash goodwill impairment charge in a future period.

At September 30, 2023, after evaluating macroeconomic conditions, our market capitalization and our current and future results of operations, we concluded that there were no triggering events and it was not more likely than not that the fair values of our reporting units within our Americas and Asia Pacific segments or indefinite-lived intangible assets were less than their respective carrying values and, therefore, did not have any impairment. Future changes in the judgments, assumptions and estimates that are used in our impairment testing for goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets, including discount rates and cash flow projections, could result in significantly different estimates of the fair values. A significant reduction in the estimated fair values could result in impairment charges that could adversely affect our results of operations.

FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION — SAFE HARBOR STATEMENT

Certain information in this Form 10-Q (other than historical data and information) may constitute forward-looking statements regarding events and trends that may affect our future operating results and financial position. The words "estimate," "expect," "intend" and "project," as well as other words or expressions of similar meaning, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. Such statements are based on current expectations and assumptions, are inherently uncertain, are subject to risks and should be viewed with caution. Actual results and experience may differ materially from the forward-looking statements as a result of many factors, including:

- if we do not successfully implement our cost reduction the Goodyear Forward plan and rationalization actions and our other strate initiatives, including any initiatives resulting from the strategic and operational review of our business that we announced in July 20 our operating results, financial condition and liquidity may be materially adversely affected;

Table of contentsITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

We utilize derivative financial instrument contracts and nonderivative instruments to manage interest rate, foreign exchange and commodity price risks. We have established a control environment that includes policies and procedures for risk assessment and the approval, reporting and monitoring of derivative financial instrument activities. We do not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading purposes.

Commodity Price Risk

The raw material costs to which our operations are principally exposed include the cost of natural rubber, synthetic rubber, carbon black, fabrics, steel cord and other petrochemical-based commodities. Approximately two-thirds of our raw materials are petroleum-based, the cost of which may be affected by fluctuations in the price of oil. We currently do not hedge commodity prices. We do, however, use various strategies to partially offset cost increases for raw materials, including centralizing purchases of raw materials through our global procurement organization in an effort to leverage our purchasing power, expanding our capabilities to substitute lower cost raw materials, and reducing the amount of material required in each tire.

Interest Rate Risk

We continuously monitor our fixed and floating rate debt mix. Within defined limitations, we manage the mix using refinancing. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, approximately 30% 26% of our debt was at variable interest rates averaging 6.99% 7.06%.

The following table presents information about long term fixed rate debt, excluding finance leases, at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024:

(In millions)
Carrying amount — liability	$ 5,712	$ 5,707
Fair value — liability	5,167	5,455
Pro forma fair value — liability	5,358	5,646

The pro forma information assumes a 100 basis point decrease in market interest rates at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, and reflects the estimated fair value of fixed rate debt outstanding at that date under that assumption. The sensitivity of our fixed rate debt to changes in interest rates was determined using current market pricing models.

Foreign Currency Exchange Risk

We enter into foreign currency contracts in order to reduce the impact of changes in foreign exchange rates on our consolidated results of operations and future foreign currency-denominated cash flows. These contracts reduce exposure to currency movements affecting existing foreign currency-denominated assets, liabilities, firm commitments and forecasted transactions resulting primarily from trade purchases and sales, equipment acquisitions, intercompany loans and royalty agreements. Contracts hedging short term trade receivables and payables normally have no hedging designation.

The following table presents net foreign currency contract information at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024:

(In millions)
Fair value — asset (liability)	$ 16	$ 13

Pro forma decrease in fair value	(160)	(162)
Contract maturities	10/23-9/24	4/24-3/25

The pro forma decrease in fair value assumes a 10% adverse change in underlying foreign exchange rates at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, and reflects the estimated change in the fair value of contracts outstanding at that date under that assumption. The sensitivity of our foreign currency positions to changes in exchange rates was determined using current market pricing models.

Fair values are recognized on the Consolidated Balance Sheet at September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 as follows:

(In millions)
Current asset (liability):
Accounts receivable	$ 33	$ 18
Other current liabilities	(17)	(5)

For further information on foreign currency contracts, refer to Note to the Consolidated Financial Statements No. 8, Financing Arrangements and Derivative Financial Instruments. ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

Management's Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We maintain "disclosure controls and procedures" which, consistent with Rule 13a-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, we define to mean controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms, and to ensure that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive and financial officers, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Our management, with the participation of our principal executive and financial officers, has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures. Based on such evaluation, our principal executive and financial officers have concluded that such disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024 (the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q).

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the period covered by this report that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

Asbestos Litigation

As reported in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2022 December 31, 2023, we were one of numerous defendants in legal proceedings in certain state and federal courts involving approximately 37,200 35,800 claimants relating to their alleged exposure to materials containing asbestos in products allegedly manufactured by us or asbestos materials present in our facilities. During the first nine three months of 2023 2024, approximately 700 250 claims were filed against us and approximately 1,500 200 were settled or dismissed. The amounts expended on asbestos defense and claim resolution by us and our insurers during the first nine three months of 2023 2024 was $12 million $3 million. At September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, there were approximately 36,400 35,850 asbestos claims pending against us. The plaintiffs are seeking unspecified actual and punitive damages and other relief. Refer to Note to the Consolidated Financial Statements No. 12, Commitments and Contingent Liabilities, for additional information on asbestos litigation.

Reference is made to Item 3 of Part I of our 2022 2023 Form 10-K and to Item I of Part II of our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended March 31, 2023 and our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended June 30, 2023 for additional discussion of legal proceedings.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS.

Refer to "Item 1A. Risk Factors" in our 2022 2023 Form 10-K for a discussion of our risk factors.

ITEM 5. OTHER INFORMATION.

During the quarterly period ended September 30, 2023 March 31, 2024, none of our directors or officers informed us of the adoption, modification or termination of a "Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement" or a "non-Rule 10b5-1 trading arrangement," as those terms are defined in Regulation S-K, Item 408.

ITEM 6. EXHIBITS.

 - d) Disclosed in this report any change in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the registrant's most recent fiscal quarter (the registrant's fourth fiscal quarter in the case of an annual report) that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal control over financial reporting; and
5. The registrant's other certifying officer(s) and I have disclosed, based on our most recent evaluation of internal control over financial reporting, to the registrant's auditors and the audit committee of the registrant's board of directors (or persons performing the equivalent functions):
 - a) All significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal control over financial reporting which are reasonably likely to adversely affect the registrant's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information; and
 - b) Any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in the registrant's internal control over financial reporting.
