MEI PHARMA, INC. NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Description of Business and Basis of Presentation

Description of Business

MEI Pharma, Inc. (Nasdaq: MEIP) is a clinical-stage pharmaceutical company committed to developing novel and differentiated cancer therapies. We build our pipeline by acquiring promising cancer agents and creating value in programs through development, strategic partnerships, and out-licensing or commercialization, as appropriate. Our approach to oncology drug development is to evaluate our drug candidates in combinations with standard-of-care therapies to overcome known resistance mechanisms and address clear medical needs to provide improved patient benefit. Our pipeline includes voruciclib, an oral cyclin-dependent kinase 9 (CDK9) inhibitor, and ME-344, an intravenous small molecule inhibitor of mitochondrial oxidative phosphorylation (OXPHOS).

Reverse Stock Split

On April 14, 2023, we amended our Certificate of Incorporation to affect a combination of our issued and outstanding common stock at a ratio of one-for-twenty (Reverse Stock Split). The par value and authorized shares of our common stock were not adjusted as a result of the Reverse Stock Split. The Reverse Stock Split was effective on April 14, 2023, with a market effective date of April 17, 2023. All historical share, stock option, restricted stock unit, warrant and per share amounts have been adjusted to reflect the Reverse Stock Split for all periods presented.

Current Recent Events

Cooperation Agreement

On October 31, 2023, we announced our entry into a Cooperation Agreement (Cooperation Agreement) with Anson Funds and Cable Car Capital, which, among other non-financial related items as described within the overview section of Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, provided for a capital return to stockholders in the form of a dividend in the amount of $1.75 per share of common stock, as further discussed below. Additionally, the Cooperation Agreement contemplates a potential second return of capital of not to exceed $9.33 million (Potential Second Return of Capital) if authorized by the board of directors (Board) should our ongoing ME-344 Phase 1b trial fail to meet certain defined endpoints or our Board determines not to proceed with a second cohort. The Potential Second Return of Capital may take the form of a dividend or tender offer and is subject to Board approval as well as modification associated with applicable requirements under Delaware law, as detailed in the Cooperation Agreement.

In April 2024, the Company reported that its Board unanimously aligned on a strategy to prioritize clinical development of voruciclib while enabling development of a new ME-344 formulation for Phase 1 study. Additionally, the Company's Board unanimously determined not to proceed with the Potential Second Return of Capital under the October 31, 2023, Cooperation Agreement in order to conserve resources and align strategic investment, and thereby extend the Company's operational runway.

As part of the Cooperation Agreement, Anson and Cable Car withdrew their consent solicitation and agreed to abide by customary standstill provisions. Additionally, we reimbursed Anson and Cable Car's fees and expenses related to their engagement with us as of the date of the Cooperation Agreement in an amount of $1.1 million, which is recorded within general and administrative expenses in the condensed consolidated statements of operations as of December 31, 2023 during the nine months ended March 31, 2024.

Cash Dividend

On November 6, 2023, pursuant to the Cooperation Agreement, the Board declared a special cash dividend of $1.75 per share of common stock to stockholders of record at the close of business on November 17, 2023. The total dividend of $11.7 million was paid on December 6, 2023 and was recorded as a reduction of additional paid-in capital in the condensed consolidated statements of stockholders' equity, as we have an accumulated deficit, rather than retained earnings.

Liquidity

We have accumulated losses of $360.7 369.8 million since inception and expect to incur operating losses and generate negative cash flows from operations for the foreseeable future. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had $59.5 56.6 million in cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments. We believe that these resources will be sufficient to meet our obligations and fund our liquidity and capital expenditure requirements for at least the next 12 months from the issuance of these condensed consolidated financial statements. Our current business operations are focused on continuing the clinical development of our drug candidates. Changes to our research and development plans or other changes affecting our operating expenses may affect actual future use of existing cash resources. Our research and development expenses are expected to increase in the foreseeable future. We cannot determine with certainty costs associated with ongoing and future clinical trials or the regulatory approval process. The duration, costs and timing associated with the development of our product candidates will depend on a variety of factors, including uncertainties associated with the results of our clinical trials.

Table of Contents

To date, we have obtained cash and funded our operations primarily through equity financings and license agreements. In order to continue the development of our drug candidates, at some point in the future we expect to pursue one or more capital transactions, whether through the sale of equity securities, debt financing, license agreements or entry into strategic partnerships. There can be no assurance that we will be able to continue to raise additional capital in the future.

Basis of Presentation and Principles of Consolidation

The condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. (U.S. GAAP) for interim financial information and in accordance with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, the accompanying financial statements do not include all of the information and notes required by U.S. GAAP for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring adjustments) that are necessary for a fair statement of the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods presented.

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of MEI Pharma, Inc. and our wholly owned subsidiary, Meadow Merger Sub, Inc. We have eliminated all significant intercompany accounts and transactions in consolidation.

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements for the quarterly period ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements and notes thereto as of and for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2023, included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 26, 2023 (2023 Annual Report). Interim results are not necessarily indicative of results for a full year. The Company has evaluated subsequent events through the date the condensed consolidated financial statements were issued.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

There have been no material changes to our significant accounting policies from those described in the notes to our audited condensed consolidated financial statements contained in the 2023 Annual Report.

Risks and Uncertainties

Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. On an ongoing basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to the valuation of share-based awards, the discount rate used in estimating the present value of the right-of-use assets and lease liabilities, clinical trial accruals and the assessment of our ability to fund our operations for at least the next 12 months from the date of issuance of these condensed consolidated financial statements. We base our estimates on historical experience and other market-specific or other relevant assumptions that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances. Estimates are assessed each reporting period and updated to reflect current information. As future events and their effects cannot be determined with precision, actual results may materially differ from those estimates or assumptions.

Segment Reporting

Operating segments are identified as components of an enterprise about which separate discrete financial information is available for evaluation by our chief operating decision-maker (CODM), our Chief Executive Officer, in making decisions regarding resource allocation and assessing performance. The CODM views its operations and manages its business in one operating segment.

Concentrations of Credit Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject us to significant concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments. Deposits in our checking and money market accounts are maintained in federally insured financial institutions and are subject to federally insured limits or limits set by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation.

We attempt to minimize credit risk associated with our cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments by periodically evaluating the credit quality of our primary financial institutions. Our investment portfolio is maintained in accordance with our investment policy, which is designed to preserve capital, safeguard funds and limit exposure to risk. While we maintain cash deposits in Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insured financial institutions in excess of federally insured limits, we do not believe that we are exposed to significant credit risk due to the financial position of the depository institutions in which those deposits are held. We have not experienced any losses on such accounts.

Short-term Investments

Short-term investments are marketable securities with original maturities greater than three months but less than one year from date of purchase. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and June 30, 2023, our short-term investments consisted of $54.3 $54.2 million and $83.8 million, respectively, in United States government securities. The short-term investments held as of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and June 30, 2023 are considered to be held to maturity and are carried at amortized cost. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and June 30, 2023, the gross unrealized gains and losses were immaterial.

Dividends

Due to our history of net losses, we have elected to first reduce our additional paid-in capital (APIC) to zero by the amount of dividends/return of capital approved by our Board. Any dividends/return of capital approved by our Board, in excess of our APIC, if any, will be recorded as an adjustment to our accumulated deficit.

Revenue Recognition

Revenues from Customers

In accordance with ASC Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606), we recognize revenue when control of the promised goods or services is transferred to our customers, in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. For enforceable contracts with our customers, we first identify the distinct performance obligations, or accounting units, within the contract. Performance obligations are commitments in a contract to transfer a distinct good or service to the customer.

Payments received under commercial arrangements, such as licensing technology rights, may include non-refundable fees at the inception of the arrangements, milestone payments for specific achievements designated in the agreements, and royalties on the sale of products. At the inception of arrangements that include milestone payments, we use judgment to evaluate whether the milestones are probable of being achieved, and we estimate the amount, if any, to include in the transaction price using the most likely method. If it is probable that a significant revenue reversal will not occur, the estimated amount is included in the transaction price. Milestone payments that are not within our or the licensee's control, such as regulatory approvals, are not included in the transaction price until those approvals are received. At the end of each reporting period, we re-evaluate the probability of achievement of development milestones and any related constraint and, as necessary, we adjust our estimate of the overall transaction price.

We may enter into arrangements that consist of multiple performance obligations. Such arrangements may include any combination of our deliverables. To the extent a contract includes multiple promised deliverables, we apply judgment to determine whether promised deliverables are capable of being distinct and are distinct within the context of the contract. If these criteria are not met, the promised deliverables are accounted for as a combined performance obligation. For arrangements with multiple distinct performance obligations, we allocate variable consideration related to our 50-50 cost share for development services directly to the associated performance obligation and then allocate the remaining consideration among the performance obligations based on their relative stand-alone selling price.

Stand-alone selling price is the price at which we would sell a promised good or service separately to the customer. When not directly observable, we typically estimate the stand-alone selling price for each distinct performance obligation. Variable consideration that relates specifically to our efforts to satisfy specific performance obligations is allocated entirely to those performance obligations. Other components of the transaction price are allocated based on the relative stand-alone selling price, over which management has applied significant judgment. We develop assumptions that require judgment to determine the stand-alone selling price for license-related performance obligations, which may include forecasted revenues, development timelines, reimbursement rates for personnel costs, discount rates and probabilities of technical, regulatory and commercial success. We estimate stand-alone selling price for research and development performance obligations by forecasting the expected costs of satisfying a performance obligation plus an appropriate margin.

In the case of a license that is a distinct performance obligation, we recognize revenue allocated to the license from non-refundable, up-front fees at the point in time when the license is transferred to the licensee and the licensee can use and benefit from the license. For licenses that are bundled with other distinct or combined obligations, we use judgment to assess the nature of the performance obligation to determine whether the performance obligation is satisfied over time or at a point in time and, if over time, the appropriate method of measuring progress for purposes of recognizing revenue. If the performance obligation is satisfied over time, we evaluate the measure of progress each reporting period and, if necessary, adjust the measure of performance and related revenue recognition.

The selection of the method to measure progress towards completion requires judgment and is based on the nature of the products or services to be provided. Revenue is recorded proportionally as costs are incurred. We generally use the cost-to-cost measure of progress because it best depicts the transfer of control to the customer which occurs as we incur costs. Under the cost-to-cost measure of progress, the extent of progress towards completion is measured based on the ratio of costs incurred to date to the total estimated costs at completion of the performance obligation (an input method under Topic 606). We use judgment to estimate the total cost expected to complete the research and development performance obligations, which include subcontractors' costs, labor, materials, other direct costs and an allocation of indirect costs. We evaluate these cost estimates and the progress each reporting period and, as necessary, we adjust the measure of progress and related revenue recognition.

For arrangements that include sales-based or usage-based royalties, we recognize revenue at the later of (i) when the related sales occur or (ii) when the performance obligation to which some or all of the royalty has been allocated has been satisfied or partially satisfied. To date, we have not recognized any sales-based or usage-based royalty revenue from license agreements.

In connection with our April 2020 Kyowa Kirin Co., Ltd. (KKC) License, Development and Commercialization Agreement (the KKC Commercialization Agreement) described in Note 7. License Agreements, which agreement was terminated in July 2023, we performed development services related to our 50-50 cost sharing arrangement for which revenue was recognized over time. Additionally, from time to time, we performed services for KKC at their request, the costs of which were fully reimbursed to us. We recorded the reimbursement for such pass-through services as revenue at 100% of reimbursed costs, as control of the additional services for KKC was transferred at the time we incurred such costs. The costs of these services are recognized in the condensed consolidated statements of operations as research and development expense. The cost of these services was recognized in the condensed consolidated statements of operations as research and development expense.

We recognized revenue associated with the KKC Commercialization Agreement for the periods presented (in thousands):

Contract Balances

Accounts receivables are included in prepaid expenses and other current assets, and contract liabilities are included in deferred revenue and deferred revenue, long-term, in our condensed consolidated balance sheets. Our contract liabilities accounted for under Topic 606 relate to the amount of initial upfront consideration allocated to the development services performance obligations. Contract liabilities are recognized over the duration of the performance obligations based on the costs incurred relative to total expected costs.

As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, June 30, 2023 and June 30, 2022, we had no balances in accounts receivable. Contract balances are as follows (in thousands):

Unbilled receivables	$ —	$ 85	$ 10,044

A reconciliation of the beginning and ending amount of contract liabilities, which are primarily related to the combined performance obligation for the transfer of development services under the KKC Commercialization Agreement which and are a separate performance obligation in the Company's contracts pursuant to research plans under the agreements, was as follows for the periods presented (in thousands):

Revenue recognized for performance obligations that will no longer commence	—	(8,607)	—	(8,607)

The timing of revenue recognition, invoicing and cash collections results in billed accounts receivable and unbilled receivables (contract assets) and deferred revenue (contract liabilities). We invoice our customers in accordance with agreed-upon contractual terms, typically at periodic intervals or upon achievement of contractual milestones. Invoicing may occur subsequent to revenue recognition, resulting in unbilled receivables. We may receive advance payments from our customers before revenue is recognized, resulting in contract liabilities. The unbilled receivables and deferred revenue reported on the condensed consolidated balance sheets related to the KKC Commercialization Agreement.

Revenues from Collaborators

At contract inception, we assess whether the collaboration arrangements are within the scope of ASC Topic 808, Collaborative Arrangements (Topic 808), to determine whether such arrangements involve joint operating activities performed by parties that are both active participants in the activities and exposed to significant risks and rewards dependent on the commercial success of such activities. This assessment is performed based on the responsibilities of all parties in the arrangement. For collaboration arrangements within the scope of Topic 808 that contain multiple units of account, we first determine which units of account within the arrangement are within the scope of Topic 808 and which elements are within the scope of Topic 606. For units of account within collaboration arrangements that are accounted for pursuant to Topic 808, an appropriate recognition method is determined and applied consistently, by analogy to authoritative accounting literature. For elements of collaboration arrangements that are accounted for pursuant to Topic 606, we recognize revenue as discussed above. Consideration received that does not meet the requirements to satisfy Topic 606 revenue recognition criteria is recorded as deferred revenue in the accompanying condensed consolidated balance sheets, classified as either current or long-term deferred revenue based on our best estimate of when such amounts will be recognized.

Net Income (Loss) Per Share

Basic and diluted net income (loss) per share is computed using the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period, less any shares subject to repurchase or forfeiture. There were no shares of common stock subject to repurchase or forfeiture for the three and six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022. 2023. Diluted net income (loss) per share is computed based on the sum of the weighted-average number of common shares and potentially dilutive common shares outstanding during the period determined using the treasury-stock and if-converted methods.

For purposes of the diluted net income (loss) per share calculation for the three and six nine months ended December 31, 2023, March 31, 2024 and 2023, potentially dilutive securities are excluded from the calculation of diluted net income (loss) per share because their weighted-average exercise prices were above our weighted-average share price as of December 31, 2023, March 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively; therefore, basic and diluted net income (loss) per share were the same for the three and six nine months ended December 31, 2023. For purposes of the diluted net income (loss) per share calculation for the three March 31, 2024 and six months ended December 31, 2022, potentially dilutive securities are excluded from the calculation of diluted net income (loss) per share because their effect would be anti-dilutive and, therefore, basic and diluted net income (loss) per share were the same for the three and six months ended December 31, 2022. 2023.

Recent Accounting Pronouncement

Recently Adopted

In June 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments (ASU 2016-13), as amended. The amendments in ASU 2016-13 require, among other things, financial assets measured at amortized cost basis to be presented at the net amount expected to be collected as compared to previous U.S. GAAP which delayed recognition until it was probable a loss had been incurred. The amendments in ASU 2016-13 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2022, including interim periods within those fiscal years, with early adoption permitted. The adoption of ASU 2016-13 did not have a material impact on our financial statements and related disclosures.

We do not believe other recently issued but not yet effective accounting standards, if currently adopted, would have a material effect on our condensed consolidated financial position, results of operations and cash flows.

Recently Issued

From time to time, new accounting pronouncements are issued by the FASB or other standards setting bodies that are adopted as of the specified effective date. We believe the impact of recently issued standards, other than those noted below, and any issued but not yet effective standards will not have a material impact on ~~its~~ our condensed consolidated financial statements upon adoption.

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280): Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures, which requires a public entity to disclose significant segment expenses and other segment items on an annual and interim basis and provide in interim periods all disclosures about a reportable segment's profit or loss and assets that are currently required annually. Additionally, it requires a public entity to disclose the title and position of the Chief Operating Decision Maker. This ASU does not change how a public entity identifies its operating segments, aggregates them, or applies the quantitative thresholds to determine its reportable segments. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, and interim periods within fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. A public entity should apply the amendments in this ASU retrospectively to all prior periods presented in the financial statements. We expect this ASU to only impact our disclosures with no impacts to our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU No. 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures, which focuses on the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid. ASU No. 2023-09 requires a public business entity (PBE) to disclose, on an annual basis, a tabular rate reconciliation using both percentages and currency amounts, broken out into specified categories with certain reconciling items further broken out by nature and jurisdiction to the extent those items exceed a specified threshold. In addition, all entities are required to disclose income taxes paid, net of refunds received disaggregated by federal, state/local, and foreign and by jurisdiction if the amount is at least 5% of total income tax payments, net of refunds received. For PBEs, the new standard is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted. An entity may apply the amendments in this ASU prospectively by providing the revised disclosures for the period ending December 31, 2025 and continuing to provide the pre-ASU disclosures for the prior periods, or may apply the amendments retrospectively by providing the revised disclosures for all period presented. We expect this ASU to only impact our disclosures with no impacts to our results of operations, cash flows, and financial condition.

4. Fair Value Measurements

The carrying amounts of financial instruments such as cash equivalents, short-term investments and accounts payable approximate the related fair values due to the short-term maturities of these instruments. We invest our excess cash in financial instruments which are readily convertible into cash, such as money market funds and U.S. government securities. Cash equivalents and short-term investments are classified as Level 1 as defined by the fair value hierarchy. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and June 30, 2023, we had no assets or liabilities measured on a recurring or non-recurring basis.

In May 2018, we issued warrants in connection with a private placement of our shares of common stock. Pursuant to the terms of the warrants, we could have been required to settle the warrants in cash in the event of an acquisition of us and, as a result, the warrants were required to be measured at fair value and reported as a liability in the condensed consolidated balance sheets. We recorded the fair value of the warrants upon issuance using the Black-Scholes valuation model and were required to revalue the warrants at each reporting date with any changes in fair value recorded in our condensed consolidated statement of operations through their expiration in May 2023. The valuation of the warrants were considered under Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy due to the need to use assumptions in the valuation that were both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable. Inputs used to determine estimated fair value of the warrant liabilities included the estimated fair value of the underlying stock at the valuation date, the estimated term of the warrants, risk-free interest rates, expected dividends and the expected volatility of the underlying stock. The significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of the warrant liabilities were the volatility rate and the estimated term of the warrants. Generally, increases (decreases) in the fair value of the underlying stock and estimated term would result in a directionally similar impact to the fair value measurement. The change in the fair value of the Level 3 warrant liability is reflected in the condensed consolidated statements of operations for the three and six nine months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023. During the three and nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and the year ended June 30, 2023, there were no transfers into or out of Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

Dividend yield	— %
Weighted-average grant date fair value	$ 0.02

The following table sets forth a summary of changes in the estimated fair value of our Level 3 warrant liability for the six nine months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023 (in thousands):

5. One-time Employee Termination Benefits

In connection with our joint decision to discontinue development of zanlelisib outside of Japan, in December 2022, we announced a realignment of our clinical development efforts that streamlined our organization towards the continued clinical development of our two earlier clinical-stage assets, voruciclib and ME-344. As a result, our Board approved a staggered workforce reduction (the Reduction in Force) affecting 28 employees in December 2022 and an additional 26 employees through June 2023, representing an aggregate 51% Reduction in Force. For the three and six months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023, we recorded one-time employee benefits of $0.8 1.0 million and $0.4 0.2 million, within research and development and general and administrative expense, respectively, associated with the termination of 13 employees within research and development departments and one employee in general and administrative departments. For the nine months ended March 31, 2023, we recorded one-time employee benefits of $1.8 million and $0.6 million, within research and development expense and general and administrative expense, respectively, associated with the termination of 1831 employees in research and development departments and 1011 employees in general and administrative departments. For the three months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, we recorded no additional one-time employee termination benefits of $141,000 and $168,000, within research and development expense and general and administrative expense, respectively, associated with the termination of two and three additional research and development and general and administrative employees. For the six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, we recorded additional one-time employee termination benefits of $169,000 and $168,000 within research and development expense and general and administrative expense, respectively, associated with the termination of six additional employees, three each within research and development and general and administrative departments.

The following table summarizes our activity related to one-time employee termination benefits included in accrued liabilities (in thousands):

6. Commitments and Contingencies

We have contracted with various consultants and third parties to assist us in pre-clinical research and development and clinical trials work for our leading drug compounds. The contracts are terminable at any time but obligate us to reimburse the providers for any time or costs incurred through the date of termination. We also have employment agreements with certain of our current employees that provide for severance payments and accelerated vesting for share-based awards if their employment is terminated under specified circumstances.

Litigation

From time to time, we may be involved in various lawsuits, legal proceedings, or claims that arise in the ordinary course of business. Management believes there are no claims or actions pending against us as of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 which will have, individually or in the aggregate, a material adverse effect on its business, liquidity, financial position, or results of operations. Litigation, however, is subject to inherent uncertainties, and an adverse result in these or other matters may arise from time to time that may harm our business.

Indemnification

In accordance with our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws, we have indemnification obligations to our officers and directors for certain events or occurrences, subject to certain limits, while they are serving in such capacity. There have been no claims to date, and we have a directors and officers liability insurance policy that may enable it to recover a portion of any amounts paid for future claims.

Presage License Agreement

As discussed in Note 8. Other License Agreements, we are party to a license agreement with Presage Biosciences, Inc. (Presage) under which we may be required to make future payments upon the achievement of certain development, regulatory and commercial milestones, as well as potential future royalties based upon net sales. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had not accrued any amounts for potential future payments as achievement of the milestones had not been met.

Potential Return of Capital

As discussed in Note 1. Description of Business and Basis of Presentation, under certain circumstances, we could potentially be obligated to pay a Potential Second Return of Capital, if authorized by our Board should our ongoing ME-344 Phase 1b trial fail to meet certain defined endpoints or our Board determines not to proceed with a second cohort. The Potential Second Return of Capital may take the form of a dividend or tender offer and is subject to Board approval as well as modification associated with applicable requirements under Delaware law, as detailed in the Cooperation Agreement. As of December 31, 2023, our Board has not declared the Potential Second Return of Capital and, therefore, we have not accrued a liability related to it.

7. License Agreements

Kyowa Kirin Co., Ltd. License, Development and Commercialization Agreement

In April 2020, we entered into the KKC Commercialization Agreement pursuant to which we granted to KKC a co-exclusive, sublicensable, payment-bearing license under certain patents and know-how controlled by us to develop and commercialize zanfelisib and any pharmaceutical product containing zanfelisib for all human indications in the U.S. (the U.S. License), and an exclusive (subject to certain retained rights to perform obligations under the KKC Commercialization Agreement), sublicensable, payment-bearing, license under certain patents and know-how controlled by us to develop and commercialize zanfelisib and any pharmaceutical product containing zanfelisib for all human indications in countries outside of the U.S. KKC granted to us a co-exclusive, sublicensable, license under certain patents and know-how controlled by KKC to develop and commercialize zanfelisib for all human indications in the U.S., and a co-exclusive, sublicensable, royalty-free, fully paid license under certain patents and know-how controlled by KKC to perform our obligations in the Ex-U.S. KKC also paid us an initial nonrefundable payment of $100.0 million.

In November 2022, we and KKC jointly decided to discontinue zanfelisib development in the U.S. and in May 2023, KKC decided to discontinue development of zanfelisib in Japan. Considering the decisions to discontinue worldwide development of zanfelisib the parties entered into a Termination Agreement on July 14, 2023, agreeing to mutually terminate the global KKC Commercialization Agreement. Pursuant to the Termination Agreement, we regained full, global rights to develop, manufacture and commercialize zanfelisib, subject to KKC's limited rights to use for compassionate use (as more specifically defined in the Termination Agreement) in certain expanded access programs for the existing patients who have been enrolled in Japanese clinical trials sponsored by KKC until November 30, 2027, and for which KKC is fully liable; each party released the other party from any and all claims or demands arising from the original KKC Commercialization Agreement excluding certain surviving claims; however, we are obligated to deliver a discrete quantity of materials to facilitate KKC's compassionate use activities.

We determined the KKC Commercialization Agreement was a collaborative arrangement in accordance with Topic 808 which contained multiple units of account, as we and KKC were both active participants in the development and commercialization activities and were exposed to significant risks and rewards dependent on commercial success of the activities of the arrangement. We determined the U.S. License was a separate unit of account under the scope of Topic 808 and was not a deliverable under Topic 606, while the license issued to KKC within its territory and related development services was within the scope of Topic 606. See discussion within the Revenue Recognition subsection of Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies.

Table of Contents

We evaluated the Termination Agreement under ASC 606 and determined it met the requirements of a contract modification which changed the scope of the KKC Commercialization Agreement, and the remaining goods and services associated with the wind-down activities to be transferred. The cost of satisfying our performance obligation to provide compassionate use supply to KKC was determined to be de minimis and, therefore, immaterial within the context of the KKC Commercialization Agreement. As of September 30, 2023 activities associated with the compassionate use supply were completed.

Table of Contents

With the execution of the Termination Agreement, we regained full, global rights (subject to KKC's limited rights for compassionate use) and KKC has no further rights to develop, use or commercialize zanfelisib in the U.S., nor do we have any remaining performance obligations. All consideration received from KKC was nonrefundable, therefore, the remaining long-term deferred revenue as of June 30, 2023, of $64.5 million allocated to the U.S. License obligation accounted for under Topic 808 at inception of the KKC Commercialization Agreement was recognized as revenue from collaboration agreements in the three months ended September 30, 2023, utilizing contract termination analogous to guidance provided in Topic 606. We recognized the remaining transaction price of $0.3 million of deferred revenue during the three months ended September 30, 2023, as any remaining performance obligations under the KKC Commercialization Agreement were determined to be de minimis as of September 30, 2023. Therefore, as of September 30, 2023, all deferred revenue associated with the KKC Commercialization Agreement had been recognized.

8. Other License Agreements

Presage License Agreement

In September 2017, we, as licensee, entered into a License Agreement with Presage. Under the terms of the license agreement, Presage granted to us exclusive worldwide rights to develop, manufacture and commercialize voruciclib, a clinical-stage, oral and selective CDK inhibitor, and related compounds. In exchange, we paid $2.9 million to Presage. With respect to the first indication, an incremental $2.0 million payment, due upon dosing of the first subject in the first registration trial, will be owed to Presage, for total payments of $4.9 million prior to receipt of marketing approval of the first indication in the U.S., EU or Japan. Additional potential payments of up to $179.0 million will be due upon the achievement of certain development, regulatory and commercial milestones. We will also pay mid-single digit tiered royalties on the net sales of any product successfully developed. As an alternative to milestone and royalty payments related to countries in which we sublicense product rights, we will pay to Presage a tiered percentage (which decreases as product development progresses) of amounts received from such sublicensees. During the three and six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and 2022 2023 we made no payments under the Presage license agreement.

BeiGene Collaboration

In October 2018, we entered into a clinical collaboration with BeiGene, Ltd. (BeiGene) to evaluate the safety and efficacy of zanfelisib in combination with BeiGene's zanubrutinib (marketed as Brukinsa®), an inhibitor of Bruton's tyrosine kinase, for the treatment of patients with B-cell malignancies. Under the terms of the clinical collaboration agreement, we amended our ongoing Phase 1b trial to include evaluation of zanfelisib in combination with zanubrutinib in patients with B-cell malignancies. Study costs are being shared equally by the parties, and we agreed to supply zanfelisib and BeiGene agreed to supply zanubrutinib. We record the costs reimbursed by BeiGene as a reduction of our research and development expenses. We retained full commercial rights for zanfelisib and BeiGene retained full commercial rights for zanubrutinib. With the discontinuation of the zanfelisib program outside of Japan, this clinical collaboration was terminated on September 28, 2023. During the three and six months ended December 31, 2023, we Costs reimbursements recorded approximately none and $0.1 million, respectively, in costs reimbursements, as a reduction of research and development costs, in the condensed consolidated statements of operations. During operations, during the three and six months ended December 31, 2022, we recorded March 31, 2024 and 2023 were approximately $0.2 none million and $0.3 million, respectively, in costs reimbursements, as a reduction of research and development costs in during the condensed consolidated statements of operations. nine months ended March 31, 2024 and 2023, were approximately $0.1 million and $0.6 million, respectively.

9. Leases

In July 2020, we entered into a lease agreement (the Initial Lease Agreement) for approximately 32,800 square feet of office space in San Diego, California. The Lease Agreement was scheduled to expire in March 2028 but was extended by 20 months to November 2029 in accordance with the amended lease agreement we entered into in January 2022 (the Amended Lease Agreement). The Initial and Amended Lease Agreements are collectively referred to as the Lease Agreements. The Lease Agreements contain rent escalations over the lease term. In addition, the Lease Agreements contain an option to renew and extend the lease term, which is not included in the determination of the right-of-use (ROU) asset and operating lease liability, as it was not reasonably certain to be exercised. Upon commencement of the Amended Lease Agreement, to extend the lease term, we recognized an additional operating lease ROU asset and a corresponding operating lease liability. The Lease Agreements include variable non-lease components (e.g., common area maintenance, maintenance, etc.) that are not included in the ROU asset and operating lease liability and are reflected as an expense in the period incurred as a component of the lease cost.

Table of Contents

The Amended Lease Agreement also provides for an additional 12,300 square feet of office space adjacent to our current office in San Diego. Upon taking control of the additional office space on July 1, 2022, we recognized operating lease ROU assets obtained in exchange for operating lease liabilities of $4.3 million.

Description of Capital Stock

Our total authorized share capital is 226,100,000 shares consisting of 226,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.00000002 par value per share, and 100,000 shares of preferred stock, $0.01 par value per share.

Common Stock

The holders of common stock are entitled to one vote per share. In the event of a liquidation, dissolution or winding up of our affairs, holders of the common stock will be entitled to share ratably in all our assets that are remaining after payment of our liabilities and the liquidation preference of any outstanding shares of preferred stock. All outstanding shares of common stock are fully paid and non-assessable. The rights, preferences and privileges of holders of common stock are subject to any series of preferred stock that we have issued or that we may issue in the future. The holders of common stock have no preemptive rights and are not subject to future calls or assessments by us.

At-the-Market Offering Agreement

On February 20, 2024, we entered into a capital on demand sales agreement with JonesTrading Institution Services LLC, pursuant to which we are able to offer and sell shares having an aggregate offering price of up to $25.0 million (the ATM Program). In no event will we sell securities registered on this registration statement in a public primary offering with a value exceeding more than one-third of our public float in any 12-month period so long as our public float remains below $75 million (the Baby Shelf Limitation). As of January 2, 2024, the date used under applicable rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission to determine our public float at the commencement of the offering, one-third of our public float was equal to approximately $9.9 million. As of March 31, 2024, no shares have been issued and sold under our ATM Program.

Preferred Stock

Our Board has the authority to issue up to 100,000 shares of preferred stock with a par value of $0.01 per share in one or more series and to fix the rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions in respect of that preferred stock, including dividend rights, dividend rates, conversion rights, voting rights, terms of redemption (including sinking fund provisions), redemption prices and liquidation preferences, and the number of shares constituting such series and the designation of any such series, without future vote or action by the stockholders. Therefore, the Board, without the approval of the stockholders, could authorize the issuance of preferred stock with voting, conversion and other rights that could affect the voting power, dividend and other rights of the holders of shares or that could have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change of control. There were no shares of preferred stock outstanding as of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 and June 30, 2023.

Rights Agreement

On October 1, 2023, our Board approved and adopted a Rights Agreement (Rights Agreement) by and between us and Computershare, Inc., as Rights Agent (as defined in the Rights Agreement). Pursuant to the Rights Agreement, the Board declared a dividend of one preferred share purchase right (each a Right) for each outstanding share of our common stock, par value $0.00000002 (each a Common Share and collectively, the Common Shares). The Rights are distributable to stockholders of record as of the close of business on October 12, 2023. One Right also will be issued together with each Common Share issued by us after October 12, 2023, but before the Distribution Date, as defined in the Rights Agreement (or the earlier of the redemption or expiration of the Rights) and, in certain circumstances, after the Distribution Date.

11. Share-based Compensation

We use share-based compensation programs to provide long-term performance incentives for our employees. These incentives consist primarily of stock options and restricted stock units (RSU). In December 2008, we adopted the MEI Pharma, Inc. 2008 Stock Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan (Omnibus Plan), as amended and restated from time to time, under which 1,850,739 shares of common stock are currently authorized for issuance. The Omnibus Plan provides for the grant of options and/or other stock-based or stock-denominated awards to our non-employee directors, officers, and employees. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, there were 439,101 451,768 shares available for future grant under the Omnibus Plan.

In May 2021, we adopted the 2021 Inducement Plan (Inducement Plan), under which 217,000 shares of common stock are authorized for issuance. The Inducement Plan is intended to assist us in attracting and retaining selected individuals to serve as employees who are expected to contribute to our success, by providing an inducement for such individuals to enter into employment with us, and to achieve long-term objectives that will benefit our stockholders. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, there were 116,734 128,348 shares available for future grant under the Inducement Plan.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q (Quarterly Report) includes forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act) and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act). All statements other than statements of historical facts contained in this Quarterly Report, including statements regarding the future financial position, business strategy and plans and objectives of management for future operations, are forward-looking statements. The words believe, may, will, estimate, continue, anticipate, intend, should, plan, expect, and similar expressions, as they relate to us, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. We have based these forward-looking statements largely on current expectations and projections about future events and financial trends that we believe may affect our financial condition, results of operations, business strategy and financial needs. These forward-looking statements are subject to a number of risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including, without limitation, those described in Risk Factors in our 2023 Annual Report on Form 10-K (2023 Annual Report), as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 26, 2023. Set forth below is a summary of the principal risks we face:

Summary Risk Factors

Our business is subject to numerous risks and uncertainties that you should consider before investing in our common stock. Set forth below is a summary of the principal risks we face:

- We are subject to risks relating to general economic conditions, including financial market volatility and disruption, elevated levels of inflation, and uncertain economic conditions in the United States and abroad;
- We will need substantial additional funds to progress the clinical trial programs for our drug candidates, to commercialize our drug candidates and to develop new compounds. The actual amount of funds we will need will be determined by a number of factors, some of which are beyond our control;
- We may be required to seek additional capital through marketing and distribution arrangements or other collaborations, strategic alliances or licensir arrangements with third parties at terms which maybe unfavorable to us;
- We are a clinical-stage pharmaceutical company focused on developing potential new therapies for cancer and are likely to incur operating losses fo foreseeable future;
- The results of pre-clinical studies and completed clinical trials are not necessarily predictive of future results, and our current drug candidates may not have favorable results in later studies or trials;
- Changes in drug candidate manufacturing or formulation may result in additional costs or delay;
- If third parties with whom we collaborate on the development and commercialization of our drug candidates do not satisfy their obligations, do not otherwise pursue development or commercialization of our drug candidates or if they terminate their agreements with us, we may not be able to develop or commercialize our drug candidates;
- We are subject to significant obligations to Presage in connection with our license of voruciclib, and we may become subject to significant obligations in connection with future licenses we obtain, which could adversely affect the overall profitability of any products we may seek to commercialize, and significant licenses of drug candidates, the development and commercialization for which we are solely responsible, may never become profitable;
- Our business strategy may include entry into additional collaborative or license agreements. We may not be able to enter into collaborative or license agreements or may not be able to negotiate commercially acceptable terms for these agreements;
- Final approval by regulatory authorities of our drug candidates for commercial use may be delayed, limited or prevented, for reasons which may or may not be directly related to our drug candidates, and any of which would adversely affect our ability to generate operating revenues;
- The FDA may determine that our drug candidates have undesirable risk-benefit profiles with respect to its evaluations of efficacy and/or side effects which could delay or prevent regulatory approval or commercialization;

- If we experience delays or difficulties in the enrollment of patients in clinical trials, our completion of clinical trials and receipt of necessary regulatory approvals could be delayed or prevented;
- Changes in funding for the FDA and other government agencies or future government shutdowns could cause delays in the submission and regulatory review of marketing applications, which could negatively impact our business or prospects;

Table of Contents

- Failure to obtain regulatory approval in foreign jurisdictions would prevent us from marketing our products internationally;
- Any designation granted by the FDA for any of our product candidates may not lead to a faster development or regulatory review or approval process and does not increase the likelihood that our product candidates will receive marketing approval. We may also not be able to obtain or maintain any designation;
- Any orphan drug designations we receive may not confer marketing exclusivity or other benefits;
- Even if we or our licensees receive regulatory approval to commercialize our drug candidates, our ability to generate revenues from any resulting products will be subject to a variety of risks, many of which are out of our control;
- If any products we develop become subject to unfavorable pricing regulations, third party reimbursement practices or healthcare reform initiatives, our ability to successfully commercialize our products will be impaired;
- Our drug candidates are subject to ongoing government regulation both before and after regulatory approval;
- We may not be able to establish the contractual arrangements necessary to develop, market and distribute our drug candidates;
- Our commercial opportunity will be reduced or eliminated if competitors develop and market products that are more effective, have fewer side effects or are less expensive than our drug candidates;
- Our product candidates may face competition sooner than anticipated;
- We rely on third parties to conduct our clinical trials and pre-clinical studies. If those parties do not successfully carry out their contractual duties or meet expected deadlines, our drug candidates may not advance in a timely manner or at all;
- We will depend on third party suppliers and contract manufacturers for the manufacturing of our drug candidates and have no direct control over the cost and timing of manufacturing our drug candidates. Increases in the cost of manufacturing our drug candidates or delays in manufacturing would increase our costs of conducting clinical trials and could adversely affect our future profitability;
- We rely on acquisitions or licenses from third parties to expand our pipeline of drug candidates;
- Our commercial success is dependent, in part, on obtaining and maintaining patent protection and preserving trade secrets, which cannot be guaranteed;
- Claims by other companies that we infringe on their proprietary technology may result in liability for damages or stop our development and commercialization efforts;
- We may be subject to claims by third parties asserting that our employees or we have misappropriated their intellectual property, or claiming ownership of what we regard as our own intellectual property;
- We may be subject to substantial costs stemming from our defense against third party intellectual property infringement claims;
- We face a risk of product liability claims and claims may exceed our insurance limits;
- Our employees, independent contractors, consultants, commercial partners, principal investigators, or clinical contract research organizations (CROs) may engage in misconduct or other improper activities, including noncompliance with regulatory standards and requirements, which could have a material adverse effect on our business;
- Our business and operations would suffer in the event of system failures;
- Our efforts will be seriously jeopardized if we are unable to retain and attract key employees;
- Negative U.S. and global economic conditions may pose challenges to our business strategy, which relies on funding from the financial markets or our collaborators, including financial and other impacts of macroeconomic and geopolitical trends and events, including the conflicts in Ukraine and between Israel and Hamas and related regional and global ramifications;
- Laws, rules and regulations relating to public companies may be costly and impact our ability to attract and retain directors and executive officers;
- Security breaches, cyber attacks and other disruptions could compromise our information and expose us to liability, which would cause our business

- If we fail to comply with environmental, health and safety laws and regulations, we could become subject to fines or penalties or incur costs that could harm our business;
- We or the third parties upon whom we depend may be adversely affected by natural disasters and our business continuity and disaster recovery plan may not adequately protect us from a serious disaster;
- Limitations on the tax deductibility of net operating losses could adversely affect our business and financial condition;
- Our business could be negatively impacted as a result of actions by activist investors;
- The trading price of the shares of our common stock has been and may continue to be highly volatile and could decline in value and we may incur significant costs from class action litigation;
- Future sales of our common stock, including common stock issued upon exercise of outstanding warrants or options, may depress the market price of common stock and cause stockholders to experience dilution;
- We will have broad discretion over the use of the net proceeds from any exercise of outstanding warrants and options;
- We are authorized to issue blank check preferred stock, which could adversely affect the holders of our common stock;
- Anti-takeover provisions contained in our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and sixth amended and restated bylaws, as well as provisions of Delaware law, could impair a takeover attempt;
- Our sixth amended and restated bylaws require, to the fullest extent permitted by law, that derivative actions brought in our name, actions against our directors, officers, other employees or stockholders for breach of fiduciary duty and other similar actions may be brought only in the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware and, if brought outside of Delaware, the stockholder bringing the suit will be deemed to have consented to service of process on such stockholder's counsel, which may have the effect of discouraging lawsuits against our directors, officers, other employees or stockholders; and
- Our executive officers and directors may sell shares of their stock, and these sales could adversely affect our stock price.

These risks are not exhaustive. Other sections of this report and our other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) include additional factors which could adversely impact our business and financial performance. Moreover, we operate in a very competitive and rapidly changing environment.

New risk factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for us to predict all risk factors, nor can we assess the impact of all factors on our business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements.

You should not rely upon forward-looking statements as predictions of future events. We cannot assure you that the events and circumstances reflected in the forward-looking statements will be achieved or occur. Although we believe that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, levels of activity, performance or achievements. Past performance may not be an indicator of future results. The following discussion is qualified in its entirety by, and should be read in conjunction with, the more detailed information set forth in the condensed consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto appearing elsewhere in this Quarterly Report and the audited financial statements and notes thereto included in our 2023 Annual Report, as filed with the SEC. Operating results are not necessarily indicative of results that may occur in future periods.

Overview

MEI Pharma, Inc. (Nasdaq: MEIP) is a clinical-stage pharmaceutical company committed to developing novel and differentiated cancer therapies. We build our pipeline by acquiring promising cancer agents and creating value in programs through clinical development, strategic partnerships, and out-licensing or commercialization, as appropriate. Our approach to oncology drug development is to evaluate our drug candidates in combinations with standard-of-care therapies to overcome known resistance mechanisms and address clear medical needs to provide improved patient benefit. The drug candidate pipeline includes voruciclib, an oral cyclin-dependent kinase 9 (CDK9) inhibitor, and ME-344, an intravenous small molecule inhibitor of mitochondrial oxidative phosphorylation (OXPHOS). Our common stock is listed on the Nasdaq Capital Market under the symbol MEIP.

We believe our cash is sufficient to fund operations for at least 12 months and through the reporting of clinical data readouts from the ongoing voruciclib Phase 1 and ME-344 Phase 1b clinical programs.

Additionally, and a second return of capital of not to exceed $9.33 million (the Potential Second Return of Capital) could be issued if authorized by the board of directors (Board) should our ongoing ME-344 phase 1b trial fail to meet certain endpoints or our Board determines not to proceed with a second cohort. The Potential Second Return of Capital may take not to exceed $9.33 million. As described below, the Board voted not to proceed with the Potential Second Return of a dividend or tender offer and is subject to Board approval as well as modification associated with applicable requirements under Delaware law, as detailed in the Cooperation Agreement. Capital.

- Director Resignations: Three of our former directors resigned from the Board concurrently with the execution of the Cooperation Agreement and did not seek reelection at the 2024 Annual Meeting of Stockholders (2024 Annual Meeting).
- Stockholder Designees Added to the Board: The appointment of two directors designated by Anson and Cable Car, with an additional director appointment mutually agreed upon by us and Anson and Cable Car. These appointments were effective immediately and the new directors were nominated for election by us and elected at the fiscal 2024 Annual Meeting to serve for a three-year term.

As part of the Cooperation Agreement, Anson and Cable Car withdrew their consent solicitation and agreed to abide by customary standstill provisions. Additionally, we reimbursed Anson and Cable Car's fees and expenses related to their engagement with us as of the date of the Cooperation Agreement, in the amount of $1.1 million.

Additionally, the Company's Board unanimously determined not to proceed with the Potential Second Return of Capital under the October 31, 2023, Cooperation Agreement in order to conserve resources and align strategic investment, and thereby extend the Company's operational runway.

Clinical Development Programs

Our clinical-stage drug candidate pipeline includes voruciclib, an oral CDK9 inhibitor, and ME-344, an intravenous small molecule inhibitor mitochondrial inhibitor targeting OXPHOS in the mitochondria. oxidative phosphorylation (OXPHOS).

Voruciclib: Potent Orally Administered CDK9 Inhibitor in Phase 1 Studies

Voruciclib is a potent and selective orally administered CDK9 inhibitor. Voruciclib is being studied in a Phase 1 trial currently evaluating dose and schedule in patients with acute myeloid leukemia (AML) and B-cell malignancies as a single-agent, and in combination with the B-cell lymphoma 2 (BCL2) (BCL-2) inhibitor venetoclax (marketed as Venclexta®) in patients with AML. Voruciclib is also being evaluated in pre-clinical studies to explore potential activity in various solid tumor cancers including in combination with therapies that target the RAS signaling pathway, such as KRAS inhibitors.

CDK9 has important functions in cell cycle regulation, including the modulation of two therapeutic targets in cancer:

- CDK9 is a transcriptional regulator of the myeloid leukemia cell differentiation protein (MCL1) (Mcl-1), a member of the family of anti-apoptotic proteins which, when elevated, may prevent the cell from undergoing cell death and result in poor prognosis in cancer. Inhibition of CDK9 blocks the production of MCL1, Mcl-1, which is also an established resistance mechanism to the BCL2 BCL-2 inhibitor venetoclax.

- CDK9 is a transcriptional regulator of the MYC proto-oncogene protein (MYC) which regulates cell proliferation and growth. Up regulation of MYC is implicated in many human cancers and is frequently associated with poor prognosis and unfavorable patient survival. CDK9, in addition to being a transcription factor for MYC, also decreases phosphorylation of MYC protein that is implicated in stabilizing MYC in KRAS mutant cancers.

Directly inhibiting MCL1 and MYC has historically been difficult, but CDK9 is a promising approach to indirectly target these oncogenes.

Voruciclib: Inhibition of MCL1

CDK9 is a known transcriptional regulator of MCL1. Over expression of MCL1 is frequently observed in many tumor types and is closely associated with tumorigenesis, poor prognosis and drug resistance. In AML, MCL1 is upregulated in about half of patients with relapsed and refractory (R/R) disease and is associated with poor prognosis in these patients. Also important, high levels of MCL1 expression are associated with resistance to venetoclax.

In pre-clinical studies, voruciclib shows dose-dependent suppression of MCL1; in December 2017, a study of voruciclib published in the journal Nature Scientific Reports reported that the combination of voruciclib plus the BCL-2 inhibitor venetoclax was capable of inhibiting two master regulators of cell survival, MCL-1 and BCL-2, and achieved synergistic antitumor effect in an aggressive subset of DLBCL cells.

In a peer reviewed manuscript published in 2020, it was reported that the inhibition of CDK9 by voruciclib synergistically enhances cell death induced by the BCL-2 inhibitor venetoclax in preclinical models of AML. The data demonstrated that voruciclib synergizes with venetoclax to induce programmed cell death, or apoptosis, in both AML cell lines and primary patient samples. It was also demonstrated that voruciclib downregulates MCL1, which is relevant for the synergy between voruciclib and venetoclax, and further that voruciclib downregulates MYC, which also contributes to the synergies with venetoclax.

Subsequently, and consistent with the reported pre-clinical studies, data from an ongoing Phase 1 study evaluating voruciclib as a single agent and in combination with venetoclax in patients with relapsed or refractory (R/R) AML have also demonstrated the anticipated decreases in Mcl-1 protein.

The research suggests that voruciclib is potentially an attractive therapeutic agent for treating cancers in combination with venetoclax or other BCL-2 inhibitors, to address potential resistance associated with MCL1, and is supportive of our ongoing clinical evaluation of voruciclib in B-cell malignancies and AML.

Voruciclib: Inhibition of MYC

Many cancers are associated with over expression of MYC, a transcription factor regulating cell proliferation and growth. CDK9 is a known regulator of MYC transcription and a modulator of MYC protein phosphorylation. Data reported at the American Association for Cancer Research (AACR) Annual Meeting 2021 in preclinical models demonstrated that voruciclib:

- Results in a rapid decrease in the phosphorylation of proteins that promote MYC transcription;
- Rapidly decreases phosphorylation of MYC protein on Ser62, a site implicated in stabilizing MYC in KRAS mutant cancers;
- Possesses single agent activity against multiple KRAS mutant cancer cell lines both in vitro and in vivo; and

- Synergistically inhibits KRAS G12C mutant cancer cell lines in combination with KRAS G12C inhibitors, both in vitro and in vivo.

The research presented suggests that voruciclib could be an attractive therapeutic agent for both hematological cancers, as well as solid tumors, dependent on the activity of MYC.

Clinical Programs

We are evaluating patients with hematological malignancies in a Phase 1 clinical trial, we are currently evaluating the dose and schedule of voruciclib monotherapy and in combination with venetoclax, venetoclax, a BCL-2 inhibitor, in patients with R/R AML. The trial started with the evaluation of dose and schedule of voruciclib as a monotherapy in patients with relapsed and refractory B-cell malignancies and AML after failure of prior standard therapies to determine the safety, preliminary efficacy and maximum tolerated dose. After completing the monotherapy dose escalation stage The primary objectives of the study we are now evaluating to determine the safety and biologic effective dose and schedule of voruciclib monotherapy or voruciclib in combination with venetoclax, a BCL-2 inhibitor, initially in patients with R/R AML. The primary goal venetoclax. Secondary objectives of the Phase 1 study is to assess include assessing the safety, preliminary efficacy, pharmacokinetics, pharmacodynamics, and possible synergies, biomarkers of voruciclib administered monotherapy or voruciclib in combination with venetoclax. Clinical data is expected to be reported from the dose escalation portion of the ongoing Phase 1 clinical trial evaluating voruciclib plus venetoclax in patients with R/R AML in the first calendar quarter of 2024.

As we reported in a poster presented at the American Society of Hematology (ASH) Annual Meeting in December 2023, the voruciclib monotherapy dose escalation/expansion stage of the study enrolled a total of 40 patients and is complete. The majority of patients (n=21) had AML and the remaining patients (n=19) had B-cell malignancies. Of the 40 patients enrolled, the first 16 were dosed daily continuously at 50 and 100 mg and the following 24 patients were dosed on an intermittent schedule (14 consecutive days on therapy in a 28-day cycle) at 100, 150 and 200 mg. All patients were heavily pre-treated with a median of three prior therapies (range (range 1-9), and five patients had prior hematopoietic stem cell transplant. Voruciclib at doses up to 200 mg administered on 14 consecutive days in a 28-day cycle (Cohort 2) was well tolerated with no dose limiting toxicities (DLT) reported. The most common adverse events ($\geq 20\%$ of patients) were diarrhea, nausea, anemia and fatigue. The large majority of adverse events were Grade 1-2; of note, the only Grade 3-4 adverse events in Cohort 2 were diarrhea (n=1) and anemia (n=5). Pharmacokinetics were dose proportional and a mean half-life of approximately 24 hours supports once daily dosing.

On the intermittent dosing schedule selected for further development, no DLTs were observed, there were no Grade 3 or higher drug related toxicities, and dose escalation was stopped at 200 mg before reaching the maximum tolerated dose because plasma concentrations reached levels considered sufficient for target inhibition. In the 21 patients enrolled with AML, one patient at 100 mg achieved a morphologic leukemia-free state and nine patients had disease stabilization, which lasted at least three months in two patients. In the 19 patients enrolled with B-cell malignancies, four patients had stable disease with a decrease in tumor size. Initial results from correlative studies assessing myeloid leukemia cell differentiation protein (Mcl-1) and RNA Pol II phosphorylation on Ser2 (RNA Pol II p-S2) demonstrated reduction in expression consistent with the anticipated on-target pharmacodynamic effect of voruciclib on Mcl-1 and RNA Pol II p-S2.

As further presented Since reporting data from the monotherapy stage of the study, we have advanced to the next stage of the study to evaluate seven voruciclib dose levels from 50 mg every other day to 300 mg daily for 14 consecutive days in the ASH 2023 poster, the second a 28-day cycle in combination with standard dose venetoclax in patients with R/R AML. In April 2024, we reported that a total of 29 patients with R/R AML, median age 67 years (range 34-89), enrolled in this dose escalation stage of the study evaluating voruciclib in combination with venetoclax. These patients were generally heavily pretreated; the median number of prior therapies was 3 (range 1-7), and 15 (52%) patients had ≥ 3 prior lines. Almost all patients (28/29) were treated with venetoclax in an earlier line of therapy. Additionally, 21 (72%) patients were noted as being in an adverse 2017 ELN Risk Category due to adverse cytogenetics and molecular mutations.

Of the 20 patients administered voruciclib at a dose of 100 mg or more in combination with venetoclax, three patients achieved a response, including two patients that achieved a complete response with incomplete hematologic recovery (CRI) and one patient that achieved a morphologic leukemia-free state (MLFS), in each case having received venetoclax in an earlier line of treatment. Responses lasted 7 months in one patient, 5 months and ongoing in the second patient, and the third patient was referred to stem cell transplant. Further, an additional 14 patients had stable disease which lasted more than 90 days in 5 patients.

In the 20 patients administered voruciclib at a dose of 100 mg or more in combination with venetoclax, initial results from correlative biomarker assay studies of available samples from patients treated with the combination also demonstrated anticipated decreases of Mcl-1, including a greater decrease in Mcl-1 at higher doses. This supports our hypothesis that voruciclib, as an inhibitor of CDK9, regulates Mcl-1 and therefore may address the upregulation of MCL1 associated with venetoclax. Additional evidence of anti-leukemic activity was also demonstrated by decreases in bone marrow blast counts post voruciclib/venetoclax administration versus pre drug administration in patients with R/R AML is ongoing. All patients were heavily pre-treated with a median 50% (10/20) of three prior therapies including venetoclax. evaluable patients.

Voruciclib at doses up to 300 mg administered on the intermittent schedule have been administered 14 consecutive days in a 28-day cycle in combination with standard dose venetoclax in patients was well tolerated with relapsed or refractory AML. No DLTs have no dose limiting toxicities observed. The maximum tolerated dose of voruciclib administered on this schedule with venetoclax has not been reported established. There were no discontinuations due to drug-related adverse events and no evidence of overlapping toxicity has been observed to date. Voruciclib The most common ($\geq 5\%$ of patients) grade 3 adverse events were myelosuppression associated with AML. Only 1 patient was observed as having a non-hematologic grade 3 drug-related adverse event (diarrhea).

The study is ongoing and is also evaluating a 12-patient expansion cohort of voruciclib administered at 300 mg daily for 14 consecutive days in a 28-day cycle in combination with venetoclax. The study will further evaluate escalating doses from 50 mg to 200 mg of voruciclib administered over 21 consecutive days in a 28-day cycle in combination with venetoclax as to increase dose intensity and potentially optimize patient response. Clinical data is expected to be reported from the ongoing Phase 1 clinical trial evaluating voruciclib plus venetoclax in patients with R/R AML in the ASH 2023 poster, demonstrated anti-tumor activity as evidenced by objective responses and reductions in transfusions, with multiple patients continuing on therapy for \geq four months. remainder of calendar 2024.

Voruciclib was also previously evaluated in more than 70 patients with solid tumors in multiple Phase 1 studies. The totality of the clinical data, along with data from pre-clinical studies, suggests voruciclib's ability to inhibit its molecular target at a projected dose as low as 150 mg daily. In one clinical study, voruciclib was evaluated in combination with vemurafenib (marketed as Zelboraf®) in nine patients with BRAF mutated advanced/ inoperable malignant melanoma. All three BRAF/MEK naive patients achieved a response: two partial responses and one complete response. In this study voruciclib was dosed at 150 mg daily plus vemurafenib 720 mg or 960 mg twice daily in 28-day cycles. The most common adverse events were fatigue, constipation, diarrhea, arthralgia and headache. One instance of grade 3 fatigue was dose limiting and no serious adverse events related to voruciclib were reported. Other clinical studies evaluated voruciclib at doses up to 850 mg in patients with solid tumors, demonstrating additional evidence of potential biologic activity and an adverse event profile generally consistent with other drugs in its class.

ME-344: Clinical-stage Mitochondrial Inhibitor with Combinatorial Potential

ME-344 is a novel drug candidate that inhibits mitochondrial OXPHOS, a fundamental metabolic pathway involved in the production of adenosine triphosphate (ATP) in the mitochondria. ATP provides energy to drive many metabolic cell processes, including division, proliferation, and growth. By disrupting the production of ATP, ME-344 has been shown to induce cancer cell death in nonclinical models and was associated with antitumor activity in clinical studies. ME-344 has also demonstrated clinical activity in multiple clinical studies in combinations, including with bevacizumab (Avastin®).

Currently, we are advancing ME-344 via development of a new formulation with the goal of increasing biological activity, improving patient convenience of administration and increasing commercial opportunity. We believe a new formulation represents the optimal approach to pursue the potential of the program after observing encouraging data in two clinical studies evaluating the prior ME-344 formulation in combination with bevacizumab (AVASTIN® (Avastin®) in patients with metastatic colorectal cancer).

ME-344 Scientific Overview: Cancer Metabolism

Energy supplied in the form of ATP fuels tumor metabolism supporting cell division and growth. Accordingly, tumor cells often display a high metabolic rate to support tumor cell survival and proliferation. This heightened metabolism requires a continual supply of energy in the form of ATP. Anti-angiogenics, such as the vascular endothelial growth factor (VEGF) inhibitor bevacizumab, have the potential to normalize vasculature and decrease reliance on glycolysis for ATP. The resulting reduction in glycolysis may trigger an increased dependence on mitochondrial ATP production for energy to support continued tumor proliferation. In such cases of tumor plasticity, the combination of ME-344 and bevacizumab may induce metabolic synthetic lethality, providing a novel therapeutic strategy. Specifically, leveraging the ability of antiangiogenics like bevacizumab to reduce glycolysis and force tumor cells to switch to mitochondrial respiration via OXPHOS, which is inhibited by ME-344, may reduce access to ATP needed for cell division and growth in tumors.

We obtained initial clinical validation of data on this approach in a completed investigator-initiated, multi-center, randomized, controlled, window of opportunity clinical trial evaluating ME-344 in combination with bevacizumab that enrolled a total of 42 patients with human epidermal growth factor receptor 2 (HER2) negative breast cancer. Further clinical support for the combination of ME-344 in combination with bevacizumab was reported in April 2024 from a Phase 1b study of patients with relapsed metastatic colorectal cancer ("mCRC") after failure of standard therapies. This study demonstrated clinical activity, including an effect on progression free survival in a cohort of 23 patients.

An earlier Phase 1 clinical study evaluating ME-344 as a single-agent in patients with refractory solid tumors also demonstrated anti-tumor activity, further validating the potential of mitochondrial inhibition as a promising therapeutic modality.

We are currently evaluating the combination of ME-344 and bevacizumab in patients with metastatic colorectal cancer in an ongoing Phase 1b study.

Clinical Program

ME-344 has been evaluated pre-clinically and clinically as a single agent and in combination with anti-angiogenics such as bevacizumab. When evaluated as a single agent, ME-344 demonstrated evidence of activity against refractory solid tumors in a Phase 1b trial, and in pre-clinical studies tumor cells treated with ME-344 resulted in a rapid loss of ATP and cancer cell death. In addition to single agent activity, ME-344 has also demonstrated significant potential in combination with anti-angiogenic therapeutics.

Pre-clinical studies, have shown that one outcome of anti-angiogenics is a reduced rate of glycolysis in tumors as a mechanism to slow tumor growth. However, when faced with reduced glycolysis and reduced ATP production, tumor metabolism was able to shift to mitochondrial metabolism for energy production to support continued tumor proliferation. In such cases of tumor plasticity in the presence of treatment with anti-angiogenics, contemporaneously targeting the mitochondria as an alternative metabolic source of ATP with ME-344 may open an important therapeutic development opportunity.

Support for this combinatorial use of ME-344 was first published in the June 2016 edition of Cell Reports; pre-clinical data from a collaboration with the Spanish National Cancer Research Centre in Madrid demonstrated mitochondria-specific effects of ME-344 in cancer cells, including substantially enhanced anti-tumor activity when combined with agents that inhibit the activity of VEGF. These data demonstrating the potential anti-cancer effects of combining ME-344 with a VEGF inhibitor due to an inhibition of both mitochondrial and glycolytic metabolism provided a basis for commencement of an investigator-initiated trial of ME-344 in combination with bevacizumab in HER2 negative breast cancer patients.

Results published in the November 2019 issue of Clinical Cancer Research from a multi-center, investigator-initiated, randomized, controlled, clinical trial that evaluated the combination of ME-344 and bevacizumab in 42 women with early HER2-negative breast cancer further support provided evidence for the combinatorial use of ME-344 with anti-angiogenic therapeutics.

The primary objective of the trial was to show proof of ME-344 biologic activity as measured by reductions in the nuclear protein Ki67 (expression of which is strongly associated with tumor cell proliferation and growth) from days 0 to 28 compared to the control group who received bevacizumab alone. Secondary objectives included determining whether ME-344 biologic activity correlates with vascular normalization. The data demonstrated significant biologic activity in the ME-344 treatment group:

Table of Contents

- In ME-344 treated patients, mean absolute Ki67 decreases were 13.3 compared to an increase of 1.1 in the bevacizumab monotherapy group (P=0.

Table of Contents

- In ME-344 treated patients, mean relative Ki67 decreases were 23% compared to an increase of 186% in the bevacizumab monotherapy group (P < 0.01).
- The mean relative Ki67 reduction in patients experiencing vascular normalization in the ME-344 treated patients was 33%, compared to an increase 11.8% in normalized patients from the bevacizumab monotherapy group (P=0.09). Approximately one-third of patients in each arm had vascular normalization.

Treatment was generally well tolerated; three grade 3 adverse events of high blood pressure were reported, two in the ME-344 arm and one in the bevacizumab monotherapy arm.

Building on the clinical study evaluating patients with breast cancer, a Phase 1b study evaluating ME-344 in combination with bevacizumab in patients with relapsed metastatic colorectal cancer ("mCRC") after failure of standard therapies was initiated. The study was designed to evaluate ME-344 plus bevacizumab in up to two cohorts of approximately 20 patients each. The option to enroll the second cohort was conditioned upon Cohort 1 reaching a predetermined non-progression threshold of at least 20% at four months. Patients in the study were treated until disease progression or intolerance. The primary endpoint of the study was 16-week progression free survival ("PFS"), and secondary endpoints included overall PFS, duration of response, overall survival and safety.

ME-344 was administered once weekly on Days 1, 8 and 15 combined with bevacizumab on Days 1 and 15 of each 28-day cycle. Cohort 1 enrolled a total of 23 patients with relapsed mCRC. Patients were generally heavily pretreated; the median number of prior lines of therapy was 4 (range 1-8), 18 (78%) patients had ≥3 prior lines, and all patients had previously received bevacizumab and standard chemotherapy. As reported in April 2024, the combination was generally well tolerated with no overlapping toxicities observed. Two patients (9%) discontinued therapy due to an adverse event: fatigue considered related to study drugs and sepsis considered unrelated. The most common (≥10% of patients) drug-related adverse events (all grades/grade ≥3) were fatigue in 8 (35%) / 3 (13%) patients and abdominal pain in 3 (13%) / 2 (9%) patients.

It was further reported that in the first cohort, 5 of 20 (25%) evaluable patients completed 16 weeks of therapy without evidence of disease progression, exceeding the 20% predetermined threshold as set forth in the Clinical Study Protocol to proceed to Cohort 2. The median PFS was 1.9 months, the 4-month PFS rate was 31.2%, and the median overall survival was 6.7 months with 15 patients censored at the time of analysis. Nine (45%) of the 20 evaluable patients had stable disease. Although Cohort 1 exceeded the predetermined PFS threshold, the Company decided not to initiate enrollment in a second cohort.

Results from our earlier, first-in-human, single-agent Phase 1 clinical trial of ME-344 in patients with refractory solid tumors were published in the April 1, 2015 edition of Cancer. The results indicated that eight of 21 evaluable patients (38%) treated with ME-344 achieved stable disease or better, including five who experienced progression-free survival that was at least twice the duration of their last prior treatment before entry into the trial. In addition, one of these patients, a heavily pre-treated patient with small cell lung cancer, achieved a confirmed partial response and remained on study for two years. ME-344 was generally well tolerated at doses equal to or less than 10 mg/kg delivered on a weekly schedule for extended durations. Treatment-related adverse events included nausea, dizziness and fatigue. Dose-limiting toxicities were observed at both the 15 mg/kg and 20 mg/kg dose levels, consisting primarily of grade 3 peripheral neuropathy.

We are advancing continuing to pursue ME-344 via development of a new formulation to advance our novel approach to inducing synthetic lethality in tumors in combination with the anti-angiogenic antibody VEGF inhibitors such as bevacizumab in a Phase 1b study evaluating patients with relapsed colorectal cancer. (Avastin®). The study is enrolling patients with progressive disease after failure of standard therapies with patients treated until disease progression or intolerance. The primary objective is progression free survival. Secondary endpoints include overall response rate, duration of response, overall survival. Company has already initiated research and safety. Safety and efficacy data from the first cohort of approximately 20 patients in the ongoing ME-344 Phase 1b study is expected to be reported in the first half of calendar 2024. Additionally, ME-344 may also have clinical potential against hematological malignancies. At the AACR Annual Meeting 2022, a poster presentation reported results from preclinical studies exploring the ability of ME-344 to enhance the development activity of venetoclax against AML. Data from the in vitro new formulation, with the goal of increasing biological activity, improving convenience of administration and in vivo preclinical studies evaluating the combination of ME-344 with venetoclax in standard-of-care-resistant AML cell lines and relapsed or refractory AML patient samples suggest that ME-344, both alone and in combination with venetoclax, inhibits purine biosynthesis, suppresses oxidative phosphorylation, induces apoptosis and decreases MCL-1, which together target metabolic vulnerabilities of AML cells. The data demonstrated that ME-344 and venetoclax prolong survival in MV4-11 and MV4-11/AraC-R-derived xenograft AML models. The poster concluded that ME-344 enhances venetoclax activity against AML cells including resistant AML. increasing commercial opportunity.

Zanfelisib: PI3K δ Inhibitor Overview

Zanfelisib is an oral, once-daily, selective PI3K δ inhibitor that we were jointly developing with KKC under a global license, development and commercialization agreement entered into in April 2020.

In March 2022, we and KKC reported the outcome of an end of Phase 2 meeting with the FDA wherein the agency discouraged a filing based on data from a single-arm Phase 2 TIDAL trial. At this meeting, the FDA stated that data generated from single arm studies such as the Phase 2 TIDAL trial are insufficient to adequately assess the risk/benefit of PI3K δ inhibitors evaluating indolent non-Hodgkin lymphoma. At that time, the FDA emphasized that the company continue efforts with the ongoing randomized Phase 3 COASTAL trial evaluating patients with relapsed or refractory follicular or marginal zone lymphomas. Subsequently, at an April 2022 meeting of the FDA Oncology Drugs Advisory Committee, the committee voted that future approvals of PI3K δ inhibitors for hematologic malignancies should be supported by randomized data.

In November 2022, we and KKC met with the FDA in a follow-up meeting to the March 2022 end of Phase 2 meeting. At this meeting, the FDA provided further guidance regarding the design and statistical analysis for the Phase 3 COASTAL trial. Following the November meeting, the companies jointly concluded that a clinical trial consistent with the recent FDA guidance, including modification of the ongoing COASTAL trial, would likely not be feasible to complete within a time period that would support further investment or with sufficient certainty of the regulatory requirements for approval to justify continued global development efforts. As a result, we and KKC jointly decided to discontinue global development of zanfelisib for indolent forms of non-Hodgkin lymphoma outside of Japan. The discontinuation of zanfelisib development outside of Japan was a business decision based on the most recent regulatory guidance from the FDA and is not related to the zanfelisib clinical data generated to date. After making the joint decision to terminate development outside of Japan, we and KKC began closing all ongoing zanfelisib clinical studies outside of Japan, including the Phase 3 COASTAL trial, the Phase 2 TIDAL trial, and the Phase 2 CORAL trial.

Subsequently, in May 2023, KKC decided to discontinue development of zanfelisib in Japan. The discontinuation of zanfelisib in Japan was a business decision by KKC based on the most recent regulatory guidance from the Pharmaceuticals and Medical Devices Agency in Japan and was not related to the zanfelisib clinical data generated to date.

On July 14, 2023, we entered into a Termination Agreement (the Termination Agreement) with KKC to terminate all agreements between the parties and cease further zanfelisib clinical development globally. As of December 31, 2023, activities Activities associated with the compassionate use supply were completed. completed during the first half of fiscal 2024. We anticipate completing the wind-down activities associated with the KKC Commercialization Agreement in fiscal year 2024.

KKC License, Development and Commercialization Agreement

In April 2020, we entered into the KKC Commercialization Agreement under which we granted to KKC a co-exclusive, sublicensable, payment-bearing license under certain patents and know-how controlled by us to develop and commercialize zanfelisib and any pharmaceutical product containing zanfelisib for all human indications in the U.S. (the U.S. License), and an exclusive (subject to certain retained rights to perform obligations under the KKC Commercialization Agreement), sublicensable, payment-bearing, license under certain patents and know-how controlled by us to develop and commercialize zanfelisib and any pharmaceutical product containing zanfelisib for all human indications in countries outside of the U.S. (the Ex-U.S. and the Ex-U.S. License). Also under the KKC Commercialization Agreement, we were granted a co-exclusive, sublicensable, license under certain patents and know-how controlled by KKC to develop and commercialize zanfelisib for all human indications in the U.S., and a co-exclusive, sublicensable, royalty-free, fully paid license under certain patents and know-how controlled by KKC to perform our obligations in the Ex-U.S. and were paid an initial non-refundable payment of $100.0 million. Additionally, in Japan, the KKC Commercialization Agreement included potential regulatory and commercialization milestone payments plus royalties on net sales of zanfelisib in Japan, which are tiered beginning in the teens. Prior to the execution of the Termination Agreement on July 14, 2023, KKC was responsible for the development and commercialization of zanfelisib in the Ex-U.S. and, subject to certain exceptions, solely responsible for all costs related thereto. We also provided to KKC certain drug supplies necessary for the development and commercialization of zanfelisib in the Ex-U.S., with the understanding that KKC would have assumed responsibility for manufacturing for the Ex-U.S. as soon as practicable.

As noted above, on July 14, 2023, we entered into a Termination Agreement with KKC to mutually terminate the KKC Commercialization Agreement and all other related agreements between the parties. Pursuant to the Termination Agreement:

- we regained full, global rights to develop, manufacture and commercialize zanfelisib, subject to KKC's limited rights to use zanfelisib for compassionate use (as more specifically defined in the Termination Agreement) in certain expanded access programs for the existing patients who have been enrolled in Japanese clinical trial sponsored by KKC until November 30, 2027, and for which KKC is fully liable;
- each party released the other party from any and all claims, demands, etc. arising from the KKC Commercialization Agreement, excluding certain surviving claims; and
- we are obligated to deliver a discrete quantity of materials to facilitate KKC's compassionate use activities.

As of June 30, 2023, we had $64.9 million of aggregate deferred revenue associated with the KKC Commercialization Agreement, of which $64.5 million was allocated to the U.S. License and $0.3 million was allocated to the Development Services performance obligations which were recognized based on the proportional performance of these development activities through wind-down of the associated trials. As further discussed in Note 7. License Agreements, in connection with the execution of the Termination

Agreement during the three months ended September 30, 2023, we recognized the $64.5 million of noncash long-term deferred revenue associated with the U.S. License as well as the remaining $0.3 million noncash deferred revenue associated with the completion of the underlying proportional performance activities. As of September 30, 2023, all deferred revenue associated with the KKC Commercialization Agreement had been recognized.

General and administrative expenses also include legal fees relating to intellectual property and corporate matters; professional fees for accounting, auditing, tax and consulting services; insurance costs; travel expenses; facilities-related costs, which include direct depreciation costs and expenses for rent and maintenance of facilities and other operating costs that are not specifically attributable to research activities.

Other Income (Expense)

Other income (expense) primarily relates to investment income received on our short-term investments. During fiscal 2023, other income (expense) also included changes in fair value related to our warrant liability.

Other research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries and personnel costs, share-based compensation, legal costs, and other costs not allocated to specific drug programs. Costs related to zandalisib decreased $19.5 million $27.2 million primarily as a result of the discontinuation of the program during fiscal year 2023 with lower costs in fiscal year 2024 associated with wind-down activities. Costs related to voruciclib decreased $1.0 million $0.3 million mainly due to lower recognized clinical costs in the Phase 1 study, manufacturing costs. Costs related to ME-344 increased $1.8 million $3.3 million due to higher clinical and manufacturing costs related to the Phase 1b study, study and manufacturing costs of ME-344 to support clinical and non-clinical studies. Additionally, we received interest and dividend income of $2.0 million $2.7 million for the six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to $1.3 million $2.3 million for the six nine months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023. The increase in interest and dividend income is primarily due to higher yields during the six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 compared to the six nine months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

We have accumulated losses of $360.7 million $369.8 million since inception and expect to incur operating losses and generate negative cash flows from operations for the foreseeable future. As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, we had $59.5 million $56.6 million in cash and cash equivalents, and short-term investments. We believe that these resources will be sufficient to fund our operations for at least 12 months from the issuance of this Quarterly Report. Our current business operations are focused on continuing the clinical development of our drug candidates. Changes to our research and development plans or other changes affecting our operations and operating expenses may affect actual future use of existing cash resources. We cannot determine with certainty costs associated with ongoing and future clinical trials or the regulatory approval process. The duration, costs and timing associated with the development of our product candidates will depend on a variety of factors, including uncertainties associated with the results of our clinical trials.

To date, we have obtained cash and funded our operations primarily through equity financings and license agreements. In order to continue the development of our drug candidates, at some point in the future we expect to pursue one or more capital transactions, whether through the sale of equity securities, debt financing, license agreements or entry into strategic partnerships. There can be no assurance that we will be able to continue to raise additional capital in the future.

Cash Flows

Sources and Uses of Our Cash

Net cash used in operating activities for the six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 of $29.5 million $32.5 million consisted of our net income of $45.3 million $36.2 million and $2.1 million $3.3 million for noncash items offset by $77.0 million $71.9 million in changes in our operating assets and liabilities primarily due to recognition of $64.9 million in noncash deferred revenue. Net cash used in operating activities for the six nine months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023 of $29.1 million $41.2 million consisted of our net loss of $6.4 million $21.8 million and changes in our operating assets and liabilities of $24.3 million $22.9 million partially offset by $1.7 million $3.5 million in noncash items.

Table of Contents

Net cash provided by investing activities for the six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 was $29.5 million $29.6 million as compared to $24.3 million $34.3 million cash provided by investing activities for the six nine months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023. The increase was primarily due to timing differences between the purchases of and maturities of short-term investments during the six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 against the comparative period.

Net cash used in financing activities during the six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 was $11.7 million due to the payment of dividends agreed to under the Cooperation Agreement. Net cash used in financing activities during the six nine months ended December 31, 2022 March 31, 2023 was $40,000 due to the payment of withholding taxes upon the vesting of restricted stock units (RSU) in exchange for common shares surrendered by RSU holders.

Capital Resource Requirements

As previously discussed in the overview section above, we may be required to pay a second return of capital of not to exceed $9.33 million if authorized by our Board as further described in the Cooperation Agreement.

In January 2022, we amended our facility lease for an additional 20 months through November 2029. The amended lease agreement also provided for additional lease space that we took control over on July 1, 2022. Under the terms of the lease, we are obligated to make aggregate remaining lease payments as of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024 of $15.2 million $14.6 million, excluding common area maintenance and other variable consideration due under the lease agreement. Estimated lease payments for the remainder of our fiscal year ended June 30, 2024 are expected to be $1.2 million $0.6 million, excluding common area maintenance and other variable consideration due under the lease agreement.

As of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, we have the following potential purchase obligations for which the timing and/or likelihood of occurrence is unknown; however, if such claims arise in the future, they could have a material effect on our financial position, results of operations, and cash flows.

- Under our remaining license agreements, we have payment obligations that are contingent upon future events such as our achievement of specified development, regulatory and commercial milestones and are required to make royalty payments in connection with the sales of products developed under those agreements. For additional details regarding these agreements, see the section titled Note 8—Other License Agreements and Note 6—Commitments and Contingencies to our condensed consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this Quarterly Report;

- Obligations under contracts that are cancelable without significant penalty;
- Purchase orders issued in the ordinary course of business as they represent authorizations to purchase the items rather than binding agreements; a
- Contracts in the normal course of business with clinical supply manufacturers and with vendors for preclinical studies, research supplies and other services and products for operating purposes. These contracts are cancelable and generally provide for termination after a notice period.

Our future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including:

- the scope, progress, results and costs of drug discovery, preclinical development, laboratory testing and clinical trials for our product candidates;
- the costs, timing and outcome of regulatory review of our product candidates;
- the costs of establishing or contracting for sales, marketing and distribution capabilities if we obtain regulatory approvals to market our product candidates;
- the costs of securing and producing drug substance and drug product material for use in preclinical studies, clinical trials and for use as commercial supply;
- the costs of securing manufacturing arrangements for development activities and commercial production;
- the scope, prioritization and number of our research and development programs;
- the extent to which we are obligated to reimburse, or entitled to reimbursement of, clinical trial costs under future collaboration agreements, if any; a
- the costs of preparing, filing and prosecuting patent applications, maintaining and enforcing our intellectual property rights and defending intellectual property-related claims.

Estimate Considerations Related to Macroeconomic Conditions and other Geopolitical Conditions

Due to recent disruptions in access to bank deposits and lending commitments associated with bank failures, macroeconomic and geopolitical conditions, there has been uncertainty and disruption in the global economy and financial markets. We are not aware of any specific event or circumstance that would require an update to our estimates or judgments or a revision of the carrying value of its assets or liabilities as of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024. While there was no material impact to our condensed consolidated financial statements as of and for the three and six nine months ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, these estimates may change, as new events occur and additional information is obtained, which could materially impact our condensed consolidated financial statements in future reporting periods.

Critical Accounting Policies and Management Estimates

We describe our significant accounting policies in Note 1. The Company and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, of the notes to the financial statements included in our 2023 Annual Report. We discuss our critical accounting estimates in Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, in our 2023 Annual Report. There have been no changes in our significant accounting policies or critical accounting estimates since June 30, 2023.

Recent Accounting Pronouncement

See Note 2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in this Quarterly Report.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Interest Rate Risk

Our exposure to market interest rates relates primarily to the investments of cash balances and short-term investments. We have cash reserves held in U.S. dollars and we place funds on deposit with financial institutions, which are readily available. Our short-term investments consist solely of U.S. government securities with a maturity of three to twelve months.

We place our cash deposits with high credit quality financial institutions and by policy limit the amount of credit exposure to any one corporation or bank. These deposits are in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) insurance limits. We are adverse to principal loss and we ensure the safety and preservation of our invested funds by limiting default risk, market risk and reinvestment risk. We seek to mitigate default risk by depositing funds with high credit quality financial institutions, by limiting the amount of credit exposure to any one corporation or bank, by purchasing short-term investments consisting of U.S. government securities, and by positioning our portfolio to respond appropriately to a significant reduction in a credit rating of any such financial institution.

We do not consider the effects of interest rate movements to be a material risk to our financial condition.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

(a) Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer, or CEO, and Chief Financial Officer, or CFO, has evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) as of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024. Based on such evaluation, our CEO and CFO have concluded that, as of December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported, within the time periods specified in the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, Commission's, or SEC's, rules and forms, and is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our CEO and CFO, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) of the Exchange Act) that occurred during the fiscal quarter ended December 31, 2023 March 31, 2024, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Controls

Our management, including our CEO and CFO, does not expect that our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal controls over financial reporting will prevent or detect all error and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Due to the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within our company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of a simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by management override of the controls. The design of any system of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions. Over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.

Tandem SARs may be granted either at the time the Option is granted or at any time thereafter while the Option remains outstanding; provided, however, that, in the case of an ISO, SARs may be granted only at the time of the grant of the ISO. The Compensation Committee shall establish the base amount of the SAR at the time the SAR is granted, which shall be equal to or greater than the Fair Market Value of a Share as of the date of grant of the SAR. The base amount of each SAR shall be equal to the per Share Exercise Price of the related Option, provided such Exercise Price is equal to or greater than the Fair Market Value of a Share as of the date of grant of the SAR or, if there is no
